40TH YEAR—ISSUE NO. 14,428 TWO CENTS

FRANCHISE DEBATE CAUSES SEVERAL LIVELY INCIDENTS

Voters' List Clause Leads to Attack by R. H. Butts on W. S. Fielding in House.

CHAIRMAN INTERVENES

Ottawa, May 12.—(By Canadian Press)—Again in the House today, the franchise bill held the stage. During practically the whole afternoon and evening, one clause was under discussion in committee—the clause providing for the preparation of voters' lists. Discussion ranged chiefly round a suggestion by Hon. W. S. Fielding that in Nova Scotia provincial lists would be used. The suggestion was combated by the solicitor general, Mr. Butts. He did not think the Nova Scotia lists would be satisfactory. For one reason, appeals in Nova Scotia, went to a sheriff who generally had no legal training and was not qualified to give an opinion on a legal point.

Butts Began His Desks. A rather prosaic Mr. Butts intervened with lively incidents. Early in the sitting, R. H. Butts of Cape Breton attacked Hon. W. S. Fielding. When prime minister Mr. Fielding had disfranchised British subjects. Now, Mr. Fielding was leading the cause of the alien. "You were taken by some freak of fortune into the Laurier cabinet," the chairman intervened, but banning his desk. "No, Mr. Butts called out, 'don't answer me. If you do I will drag you across to the library and show you Hansard.' Mr. Fielding paid no attention to the attack.

Reuses the Committee. D. D. McKenzie roused the committee by declaring that when leading the Liberals he had a solemn agreement with the government that a franchise act would be placed on the statute book. He produced a document and passed it across to the solicitor-general. Mr. Guthrie, reading from the document, argued that Mr. McKenzie had been taken by some freak of fortune into the Laurier cabinet. D. D. McKenzie reached Mr. Guthrie's reply that unrevised lists would be in the candidates' hands on nomination day and revised lists five days later.

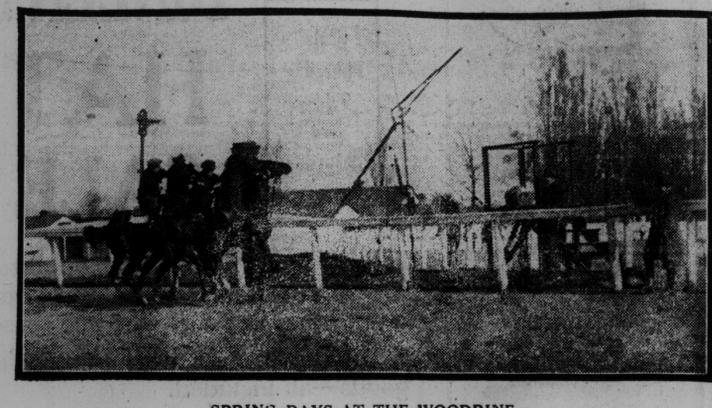

Give Municipalities Rights. Hon. Arthur Meighen secured first reading of a bill which seeks to give municipalities the same rights as hitherto enjoyed by provinces in the matter of regulating employment offices. Hon. N. W. Rowell next took up the senate amendment to the act, which provides for penalties for adulteration of honey. The senate sought to make the same provision for adulteration of food and drugs act. He wished the house to modify this somewhat, and to do this the phrase "and the clause must be amended."

Amend Supreme Court Act. When Hon. C. J. Doherty's bill to amend the supreme court act was read, Mr. McKenzie suggested that the interpretations and rulings of the supreme court were the implements of lawyers' trade, the use of which they had accustomed themselves only.

SOFT DRINKS RISE WITH SUGAR PRICES

Soda Water, With No Sugar, Also Boosted Five Cents. Per Syphon. ASTOUNDING PROFITS

It will be necessary in the future to make more whiskey with your mineral water, for the price of only one cent that soft drinks of all kinds have taken a very substantial rise skywards, and may now be added to the long list in the H.C.L. stakes. As late as Monday last it was possible to purchase a small bottle of lemon sour, ginger ale, ginger beer, lemonade and any of the innumerable variations of soft drinks for 5 cents. If you try to buy a bottle today you will be charged anything from 8 to 10 cents for a small bottle, and 18 to 20 cents for a large-size bottle. The lower prices are for soft drinks consumed off the premises. If you take advantage of the "sanitary drinking arrangements," the ice cream parlor merchants make for your convenience, and drink on the premises, a small bottle will be worth cents as large as one 30 cents. Up to and including Monday last, the price on and off the premises was 5 cents and 18 cents per bottle. The World yesterday made some inquiries into the reasons given for such a substantial rise in the summer drinks of the people. The manufacturers state the increase was necessitated by the present price of sugar, which they use extensively in the making of the syrups which form the important and expensive part of a bottle of pop.

Liberals and Labor Take Rap At Administration of O.T.A.

County Magistrates in Many Instances Not Capable of Law's Enforcement—Placing Onus of Proof on Defendant Described as Un-British.

The Sandy bill, to prevent "short circuiting," passed the committee stage of the legislature yesterday and, as is always the case when the liquor question comes up, was provocative of some strong complaints regarding the administration of the O.T.A. The principal objection leveled against the measure was the provision placing the onus of proof on the defendant. This was described as a most un-British proceeding. The county magistrates responsible for the enforcement of the act also came in for some sharp remarks because of their inexperience in law enforcement and their frequently manifested inclination to allow their personal views on the temperance question to warp their judgment. The onus and round about method of appeal, Mr. Guthrie, reading from the document, argued that Mr. McKenzie had been taken by some freak of fortune into the Laurier cabinet. D. D. McKenzie reached Mr. Guthrie's reply that unrevised lists would be in the candidates' hands on nomination day and revised lists five days later.

OVATION FOR GEN. CURRIE AT MCGILL UNIVERSITY

Montreal, May 12.—(By Canadian Press)—The arrival of an historic convocation of McGill University, Acting Principal F. D. Adams announced, on behalf of the board of governors, the appointment of General Sir Arthur Currie to the principalship of the university. Sir Arthur, rising to reply, was greeted with an ovation. In a brief speech, he said that he had already had many McGill men under him for five years during the war. "For the future," he concluded, "we have to face unrest, but we need not face it in a spirit of pessimism, provided we have a proper regard for the lessons of the war."

Big Railway Problems Are Keeping Reid Busy

Important Step in Co-ordination of Railway Systems to Be Taken This Week—Toronto Union Station Delay Considered—Conference With Beck on Radials.

Ottawa, May 12.—(Special).—Hon. Dr. Reid, minister of railways, is very busy these days with the necessary steps to get the co-ordination of the Grand Trunk and the National Railways started, and, before the week is over, or very early next week, he will have the necessary order-in-council passed for the appointment of two railway men to represent the National Railways, and two men of the Grand Trunk to be a committee to effect the co-ordination of these two systems. A chairman of the committee will also be appointed by the same order-in-council, and they ought to be busy on the work at a very early date. Dr. Reid also had his attention called by a number of the members to apparent delay in using the Esplanade at Toronto. It is believed here that the main cause of the delay is the order that the board of railway commissioners passed when they were in session last week, ordering the city and railways to elevate the tracks leading out of the station to the east elevated above the Esplanade and the very little prospect of this order being carried out at the present time from the fact that it will cost anything from $60,000,000 to $100,000,000. It has been suggested that the government ask the railway board to suspend the order for an elevated track system for some time, so that the construction of the Ontario government station for parcel express and passenger business. It is also believed that the C.P.R. are willing to build temporary bridges at the foot of Yonge and Bay streets, over the Esplanade, thereby giving the public water access to the water front, and altogether better approach for street cars and all kinds of vehicles to the new building. Dr. Reid has promised to give this question his immediate attention.

MORE COMPENSATION FOR WORKMEN IS VIGOROUSLY URGED

Minister of Labor Says Manufacturers Have No Cause for Complaint.

INCREASE IS SMALL

An explanation was given in the legislature last night by Hon. W. R. Rollo, minister of labor, of the government's bill providing increased compensation to injured workmen. The proposed increases, he said, seemed large at first glance, but it should be remembered that when the act was first brought into force the compensation fixed was $1.64 for every $100 of pay rate. There was no data available at the time, so that this was a 20-25 guess as to what would be fair in the second year of the act. This was reduced to $1.27, and further reductions were made year by year, until 1917, when it was as low as $1. In 1918 there was a slight increase over this, and in 1919 $1.22 was the amount paid.

HAS FRAMED PLANS FOR BETTER ORDER IN TROUBLED ERIN

Bonar Law Announces That Military Commander Has Already Taken Steps.

EXPECT MORE TROOPS

London, May 12.—General Sir Nevill Macready, military commander of Ireland, has framed new plans, in which he believes better order will be established in Ireland shortly. Bonar Law announced in the house of commons today that the presentations had been approved by the cabinet. The government leader's statement followed questions regarding the sensational murder of two policemen at Cork last evening and queries as to whether General Macready had taken steps to co-ordinate the police and the military forces. Mr. Bonar Law said that the military commander had already taken the most important steps, and that the cabinet meeting yesterday had proposed others, which met with the approval of the government. What these steps were Mr. Bonar Law did not say. He declared, however, that the government would take any action which, in its belief, would restore decent conditions.

MANY QUESTIONS ASKED IN CAPITAL

Borden, Budget and Sessional Indemnity Engage Parliamentarians' Interest.

Ottawa, May 12.—(Special).—Will Sir Robert Borden retain the leadership? Will Sir Henry Drayton retain the business profits tax? Will the government consent to an increased sessional indemnity? These are the interesting issues at Ottawa. Sir Robert Borden has returned much improved in health. He is in splendid spirits, and says he has come back to work. His reception on his arrival and in parliament must have been gratifying to him. So far he has made no statement of his plans, nor will he do so until toward the end of the session. Before he commits himself to any definite line of action, he will consult friends and study at first hand the political situation. It is improbable that he will participate in the budget debate, although he has already been in consultation with the finance minister on this question, and the budget will carry with it his approval.

NO MORE FAKING IN BOXING BOUTS

Unsportsmanlike Features Must Be Eliminated Under This Bill.

Designed to put an end to fake boxing and wrestling bouts, with all their attendant evils, the bill of Hon. Col. Carmichael received a second reading in the legislature last night without a word of dissent. The measure, Col. Carmichael explained, authorized the appointment of a commission to control boxing and wrestling, and generally encourage amateur sports in the province. In the past there had been a number of professional boxing bouts given by various organizations, and some of them had been very indifferently conducted. Fake exhibitions had been given, and the referees were not always what they might be. The proposed bill would put an end to all this, and raise the status of sports.

Tragic Death of Settler's Wife Breaks Family's Trip to Canada

New York, May 12.—Misfortune and misery were written tragically on the records of the Ellis Island immigration station today, when the death of Mrs. Dora King in Bellevue Hospital released from the detention quarters her husband and their four little children, the eldest just turning five and the youngest an infant of six weeks. Happy in the prospect of a life of peace and plenty on a farm in Saskatchewan, Wilfred King, 36, arrived here last week from England, accompanied by his wife and children. Elizabeth Counsel, a nurse girl, 19 years old, was also a member of the party. When the voyage was almost completed Mrs. King fell sick with pneumonia, and when she was removed to a hospital, the family was sent to Ellis Island, all but the baby. The dying mother insisted on taking her youngest to the hospital with her. When news came to Ellis Island today that the woman had died, the immigration authorities took special care to prepare for a safe and comfortable journey for the bereaved family to Canada. Red Cross nurses cooked special delicacies for the children and prepared a diet for the infant. The steamship company, according to rule, made arrangements for the burial of Mrs. King in a Long Island cemetery, and King left with his motherless family to finish his long journey.

TAG DAY FOR BLIND WAS HUGE SUCCESS

Early Calls for Fresh Tag Supply—Six Thousand Sightless in City.

The proceeds of the tag day collection of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, made yesterday, amounted to $25,697. In addition special subscriptions previously handed to Mrs. H. D. Burns, the honorary treasurer, amount to $21,538, making an aggregate total of $47,235. A number of additional subscriptions have been promised the executive and these when received will undoubtedly bring the amount well over the objective, $50,000. The collection was counted and recorded by the Bank of Nova Scotia assisted by volunteers from a number of other banks in the city.

MANY WILLING GIVERS

"Getting on beautifully" was the answer made by Mrs. Lionel Clarke, organizer of yesterday's tag day for the blind, when, late in the afternoon, she was asked how the thought things were going. It was known in advance that something handsome was expected in subscriptions, even before the taggers got to the general public on the street, and the result was not disappointing. This, added to the zeal of the workers and the good-will of the public generally, made the day a pronounced success.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

WARD 7 MEETING ABRUPTLY ENDED

Question of Joint Action With Business Men and Progressives Makes Trouble.

BLOOR ST. EXTENSION

Ward Seven Ratepayers' Association meeting at the Annette street public library last night came to an abrupt ending after a fiery discussion on the extension of Bloor street to Dundas. President W. J. Dalton deciding the meeting adjourned and putting on his hat and leaving the room.

The Progressive Ratepayers of Bloor Street, the Business Men's Association of West Toronto and Ward Seven Ratepayers were in convocation, and the end came while trying to decide the power of joint action.

The president claimed that Ward Seven had called a special meeting to learn the views of the two west end bodies, and to seek a way of co-operation. His argument was that each association must refer back to its own members. A motion had been proposed by C. Woodburn, treasurer of Ward Seven Ratepayers, and was being modified and put into writing when the end came.

The meeting was productive of much pro and con, with not a little feeling shown. J. A. L. McPherson of Islington led the debate. He argued that there were already two entrances to the city on the west, but that a third entrance would be advantageous. The Bloor road is three and one-half miles shorter; the grade is only 3 1/2 per cent, against 7 1/2 per cent, on Dundas, and the project would assist the provincial government in linking up the cities of the province by good roads. The relief of Dundas street from its congestion was also added as ground for the extension. Bloor street has 80 feet in width, while Dundas has only 66, and must be widened. Mr. McPherson was interrupted by J. Gilchrist, M. Chisholm and C. Woodburn, and put into writing when the audience appeared satisfied to allow other speakers a turn.

Claims Plan Defective.

M. Chisholm, chairman of the Business Men's Association of West Toronto, claimed that the plan submitted by the Bloor enthusiasts was defective in that it did not show grades eastward from Runnymede road to High Park and another between that and Dundas. There was only a proposition for a highway, nothing definite yet about the taking over the road as a highway. "The whole thing is camouflage for real estate," he concluded.

At this point R. Kennedy rose to declare that the "Kennedy estate," as the newspapers persisted in referring to the property on West Bloor, in dispute in the matter of taxes, had nothing to do with the Kennedy family. It belonged to the Aiken family. The speaker claimed that he himself was the first to bring the matter before the Ratepayers' Association, C. Woodburn, treasurer of Ward Seven Ratepayers, backed up Mr. Kennedy's claim.

A feature of the evening was the clever first aid exhibition by the Boy Scouts, who also staged a play entitled "The Sign of Disgrace," P. O. CROWN TIMBER AGENT STARTLES COMMISSIONERS

Sudbury, May 12.—The system of taking affidavits without administering the oath either by the Bible or lifted hand, practiced by Stonewall J. Hawkins, crown timber agent at Webwood, for 15 years, on his own admission on the witness stand, was strongly denounced by Mr. Justice Riddell at the timber probe here today. Hawkins started the commissioners and many in court when among other things he stated that cutlers and jobbers came to him and in his presence signed affidavits regarding timber cut and logs taken out which they knew absolutely nothing about.

URGES CONFERENCE ON NEED OF HOUSES

Dr. Hastings Thinks Governments Should Confer With City.

At the meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon, Dr. Hastings, M.H.O., recommended that a conference be called on the housing situation with the city and the federal and provincial governments participating.

In his report Dr. Hastings said 10,000 houses were needed in the city. "You cannot build houses for workingmen," he declared. "Ald. Maxwell, 'pieces of material are too big' to be used. The recommendation for a conference was sent on to the board of control.

Dr. Hastings' monthly report for April contained the following information:

Hospital Room Needed.

In the report sent to this board in 1917, I drew attention to the fact that of 13,000 houses inspected by the department for the purpose of ascertaining approximately the degree of overcrowding in the city, 8,000 were found to be overcrowded; 4,000 of these were four, five and six-room houses, and were occupied by two families, 4,000 by three or more families, and 4,000 by lodgers, many of whom were utilizing lodging houses because they could not obtain other habitation.

It is apparent that, if housing conditions cannot be improved, our facilities for hospitalizing a much larger number of our people is imperative. The department is pushing forth every possible effort to control communicable diseases, but we are fighting against such odds that it seems at times almost hopeless. I trust the members of the board will take this matter into their serious consideration as it is past and beyond that any further delay so far as increasing our hospital accommodation is concerned, is very materially jeopardizing the health and lives of our citizens.

We would require approximately 10,000 homes in Toronto today to house the people, they could be housed. The housing problem is one of such magnitude as to require prompt and immediate action on the part of the federal, provincial and municipal governments. I strongly urge, therefore, that steps be taken forthwith to secure a conference of representatives of these three legislative bodies for the purpose of arriving at some definite conclusion as regards the possibilities of each, in order that immediate action may follow.

During April, 1920, 646 deaths were registered, and in addition, 47 still births. The death rate, exclusive of still births, was 15.3 per annum. This is still somewhat higher than is usual for the month of April.

In 1918 the death rate was 16.3 and in 1919, 15.2. Pneumonia and broncho-pneumonia are still the chief causes of death, with organic heart disease and cancer in second and third place.

Thirty-four deaths resulted from tuberculosis inside the city, and thirteen more of Toronto people in outside sanitariums, making a total of forty-seven. Of the acute communicable diseases, measles is the most prevalent with 744 cases and 8 deaths. However, scarlet fever and diphtheria are both decreasing, although the figures are still high.

There were 135 cases of mumps in April. Encephalitis (sleeping sickness) is credited with 5 deaths, making the total number to date, 17.

A gratuity of $873.50 or half a year's salary, was passed by the board, to be paid to the widow of the late C. White, former accountant in the health department.

FRIENDS AMAZED AT BIG CHANGE

Eats Anything, Sleeps Soundly and is Full of Energy and Ambition.

"When a man has been in a weak and run down condition for seven years, as is the case with Arthur Gagnay, who resides at 108, Chartreux St., Quebec, when the Tanlac representative called to see how he was getting on with the medicine, a few days ago.

"I was in a terribly rundown condition," he continued. "My stomach was out of order and whatever I ate would lie on my chest like a lump of lead. After my meals I always felt drowsy, and yet at night could not sleep well, for my rest would be disturbed by dreadful nightmares when I would jump up and start to yell. I got so weak that I used to dread going to work and it always seemed as if the day would never end. I had no energy and my work was like a martyrdom. I can assure you I lost all hope and my case was about desperate.

"If I had all the money I spent on medicines trying to get relief during the last seven years I would be well-to-do to-day. And when I first read the statements in the papers about what Tanlac was doing I was very skeptical about it helping me, for my case was exceptionally bad. Still I decided to give it a trial, and I've been congratulating myself ever since. I did not feel that I was going to bring me new relief. I took my appetite got keen, I began to enjoy my food and found out I could digest it perfectly. I got stronger every day, and now my friends are all amazed at the great change in my condition. I am full of energy and my daily work is just a cinch. I have now got some ambition in life and feel that there is some hope in the future. I shall always be grateful for what Tanlac has done for me and I am glad of this opportunity of recommending it."

Tanlac is sold in Toronto by Tanlac Dispensing Stores and by an established Agency in every town.

RESTAURANTS STOP WASTE OF SUGAR

Paper Bag Hand-Outs Becoming Vague With Certain Firms.

It seems quite like a return to wartime conditions in many of the downtown restaurants, for the big sugar bowls which have disappeared from the marble stand on which the salt, pepper and general condiments are kept. Up to a few days back, customers of these restaurants were free to use just as much sugar as they pleased, and many "pleased" to quite half a pound. As a result, the proprietors were compelled to put an end to free-lunch on sugar. If you purchase a cup of coffee or tea, today a small paper bag containing a good supply of sugar is handed to you with your refreshment and you can either use it or have it home for the baby to play with. Evidently the day is over for the man who was getting fat on sugar in the cheap lunch parlors.

NURSES PAY TRIBUTE TO "ANGEL'S" MEMORY

Meeting in Technical School to Commemorate Life of Florence Nightingale.

Nurses from all the city hospitals gathered together in the Technical School last night in commemoration of the centenary of the birth of the "Angel of the Crimea," Florence Nightingale. Lieut.-Governor Lionel Clarke presided at the meeting, and made a short address from the chair, in which he spoke of the great work that this renowned woman had done in the cause of humanity.

Mrs. Plumtre, in her address, reviewed the life of Florence Nightingale, told how she had saved thousands of lives by her ministrations to wounded soldiers at the historic battle, and the reverence in which her memory is held. She had set a wonderful example to nurses of today, and to the Red Cross Society, of which she was the founder.

TRUCK OWNERS OBJECT TO ACT

Ontario Association Seeks Amendments to "Load of Vehicles Act."

FARMERS CHIEF USERS

A memorandum seeking amendments to the load of vehicles act has been handed to the honorable the minister of public works by a delegation from the Ontario Motor Truck Owners' Association, composed of prominent truck owners.

"The interests of motor transportation are seriously affected by the proposed amendment to the load of vehicles act (bill No. 100), by which all trucks in excess of one ton capacity are permitted to carry only 50 per cent. of their rated capacity during the months of March and April.

"The members of this association, as large taxpayers and users of the roads, are at least as fully concerned as any class of the community in protecting the roads, and while they are heartily in sympathy with the intention of the government to prevent avoidable damage, they consider that the amendment, as drafted, is drastic, and works an injustice upon commercial vehicles which operate upon pneumatic tires.

"The attached report is the result of a very careful study of the comparative effects of solid and pneumatic tires. It has been prepared by disinterested experts, who have had long experience in the field of motor transportation.

Proposed Amendment.

"In view of the facts, the Ontario Motor Truck Owners' Association suggests:

(1) That the proposed amendment of the load of vehicles act (bill No. 100) be revised to read as follows: "(4) During the months of March and April, vehicles operated upon other than pneumatic tires, or objects moved over or upon them, upon any highway, not within a city or separate town, and having a carrying capacity exceeding one ton, shall not be loaded in excess of one-half the rated carrying capacity of such vehicle or object, without obtaining a permit, as provided by section 4."

"(2) That the motor vehicles act be amended as follows:

"S. 5. (1) No vehicle, equipped with solid tires, or tires other than pneumatic tires, carrying a weight in excess of four tons, including the vehicle, shall be operated upon any such highway at a speed greater than 10 miles per hour, and no such vehicle equipped with solid tires or tires other than pneumatic tires, carrying a weight in excess of six tons, including the vehicle, shall be operated upon any such highway at a speed greater than eight miles an hour, provided that the maximum speed of any commercial vehicle shall not exceed 15 miles per hour."

Farmers Chief Truck Owners.

"In inviting your favorable consideration of these amendments, we would point out to you the following facts:

(a) That 50 per cent. of the trucks which will be sold in Canada this year are being purchased by farmers.

(b) That farmers buy trucks equipped with pneumatic tires, because with these tires the truck does not sink into soft ground, as it does with solid tires.

(c) That 80 per cent. of all trucks sold this year will be equipped with pneumatic tires.

(d) That 60 per cent. of the trucks in use in Canada this year will be of approximately 1-ton capacity.

"The executive committee of this association has arranged to hold an actual comparative test of two two-ton trucks, both carrying equal (capacity) loads, one equipped with solid tires and one with pneumatic tires.

"This test will be held on Friday morning, 14th inst., and the minister of public works has promised to be present. All members of the association are invited to be present, and notice of the exact time and place of the test will be given later.

"In conclusion, we need hardly point out that if the pneumatic tire will permit the farms and industries of the country to transport their products without serious injury to road surfaces, its use should be encouraged."

CALL J. J. MORRISON 'CANADIAN RASPUTIN'

Liberal Member for Parry Sound Resents U.F.O. Secretary's Interference.

R. R. Hall (Liberal, Parry Sound) took occasion in the legislature yesterday to roundly condemn J. J. Morrison, secretary of the U.F.O., for writing members of the legislature, asking them to vote against the bill superannuating civil servants. He described Mr. Morrison as the Canadian Rasputin.

"For the last several days," said Mr. Hall, "I have been receiving letters asking that I should vote in a certain direction, that I should vote against the hon. the premier's bill, and against the government. It seems to me a very high-handed proceeding. It seems to me there is something wrong somewhere, and after making inquiries I find that this thing emanates from one man. The key to the whole thing will be found in The Farmers' Sun, in the last issue, where we find a letter over the signature of one J. J. Morrison."

Wants Bill Passed.

"I have no desire to defeat that bill," he continued, "I have spoken in favor of it, and I am not going to retract. But there is something behind it that is important to the government. It is a matter of government or government out. Here are men who are the present government is their government, that they elected the gentlemen to the positions which they now fill, who here we have a man behind the throne, the 'Rasputin' of the Farmers' Union, a man who assumes the role of dictator, a man who is not satisfied to dictate to his own class, but who undertakes to dictate to those who are not of his class, and also to dictate to those who are farmers and who here we have a man behind the throne to obtain a livelihood. I farm for my living, and I am not going to permit J. J. Morrison to think for me."

No More for Hospitals.

The Ontario Hospitals Association waited on the provincial secretary yesterday with the request for an increased grant from five to ten a day and that municipalities be compelled to pay $175 a day, instead of $150. The request was refused, altho the hope was held out that perhaps next year something might be done.

Large Gathering at Luncheon of Former Pupils of Institution.

A most successful and enthusiastic luncheon was held yesterday at 12.30 noon at the King Edward Hotel by the De La Salle Alumni, a recently formed association of the ex-pupils of De La Salle Collegiate. Graduates were present from the years 1875 to 1915, and each member represented a graduated class during the above years. There were in all 75 members, which included some of the leading business men of the City of Toronto. Rev. Brother Rogation, a graduate of De La Salle and now superior for the Province of Ontario, was present and was the speaker of the day, also Rev. Bro. Francis, now principal of De La Salle Collegiate, and a graduate. It is the intention of the alumni to hold a monthly dinner at the King Edward and it is anticipated that at least 500 graduates of De La Salle will attend the next luncheon which will be held on the 8th day of June next.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: Honorary president, Rev. Bro. Rogation; president, D. A. Balfour; 1st vice president, Edward J. Byrne; 2nd vice president, John Lalor; secretary, William H. Artkin; treasurer, Charles Gilroy. An executive fellowship and entertainment committee was also formed.

After the luncheon, Rev. Brother Rogation explained the aims and objects of the alumni at the conclusion of which the chairman, D. A. Balfour, proposed a toast to the King. The vocal selections rendered would indicate a decidedly patriotic gathering.

K. OF C. CHOIR GIVE CONCERT OF NOTE

Two Hundred and Fifty Voices Make Their Mark in Musical Toronto.

That the Knights of Columbus Choral Society, of some two hundred and fifty voices, is meant to be a telling factor in the musical life of the city was shown in the work done at Massey Hall last night, when Dvorak's "Stabat Mater" was given its initial performance in Toronto, under the direction of D. A. Morel, the beautiful composition receiving fine treatment from all contributing to its production.

In the orchestral introduction the devotional atmosphere was given, and the audience prepared for tonal effects dramatic climaxes that formed a setting for the great tragedy of the ancient Lenten hymn. The opening number, "Stabat Mater Dolorosa," for quartet and chorus, was begun by compelling declamatory repetition of the opening word, the soloists being introduced at different phrases, and the ensemble working together most effectively. The second chorus, "Eia Mater," which was led by the basses and tenors, showed the voices well balanced, the sopranos revealing verve and brilliancy. The "Quis est Homo" was sung as a quartet by Madame Lucia de Munck, soprano; Miss Leanne Ivey, contralto; Mr. Julie Rigoni, tenor; and Mr. Henry Weldon, New York bass. Mr. Weldon sang with smoothness and ease, his high notes having effective carrying power, and the other voices well sustaining their part.

A Striking Feature.

One of the features of the performance was the tenor solo, "Fac Me Vere Tecum Fieri," by Julie Rigoni, accompanied by the basses and tenors. The soloist came in something of the nature of a surprise, his musical, vibrant voice being most attractive, while the accompanying voices did some of the best work of the program in their clean attacks and dramatic phrasing. An enthusiastic recall followed the conclusion of the number, Mr. Rigoni having repeatedly to bow his acknowledgments, and Mr. Morel and the choir sharing the honors.

The duet, "Fac ut Portem Christi Mortem," tenor and soprano, gave a chance for both artists. Madame de Munck singing her part with assurance that told of effective training. "Fac ut Ardeat cor Meum" was well interpreted, with Mr. Weldon in the leading role. Contrary to Rossini's arrangement, the "Inflamatus" is given to the alto, and Miss Leanne Ivey, whose appearance was the signal for recognition, sang the number with fervor and finish, her enunciation, voice and technique presenting the number most effectively, and winning the singer's enthusiastic and continuous applause. The "Quando Corpus Mortuum" for quartet and chorus, finished the program.

Preceding the "Stabat Mater," two unaccompanied numbers were given, and the National Anthem, which opened the evening, was sung with spirit and with several new effects. Mr. Morel is to be congratulated on the work he is doing with his organization.

GRASSETT MAY STAY

It is rumored in police circles that Chief Constable Grasset will not resign, but will be given six months' leave of absence on full pay. The name of Brig.-Gen. Blockford, former G.S.O. of the Toronto military district, is being spoken of as a possible successor to the present chief, should the latter resign.

Drury Will Be Shy.

"Let Drury do it" was too crude an attitude for the Toronto Street Railway to adopt towards its men's demand for eighty-five cents an hour.

It is suggested that, in looking for the money to pay more wages with, the company should first give tender heed to the way it used to hold the city down to the letter of the franchise.

Mr. Nixon Wise.

The provincial secretary is one of the successes of the Drury government. He has mastered the details of his department, and has shown large grasp of large questions that have come before him.

It is good to abandon the old attitude of partisan governments towards the need for administrative regeneration. It is used to be said, "This is our own affair. We are the people."

The Nixon way is better. It is: The methods of administering a complicated and difficult piece of social legislation may well be overhauled.

There is size and sanity in an attitude like that. Mr. Nixon is a wise young man—and all the better for being young.

Towards Better Education.

It will be seen whether the current legislative debate will clear the way for the general improvement in the educational system of Ontario, which every student of pedagogy has professed to desire, but which the department has seemed unable to accomplish.

Mr. Marshall, the educational expert of the Liberal party, is a real educationist; and if there is to be any sort of improving body he and other representatives of the public should sit upon it, partly in token of the ending of the idea that only men who have not won elections ought to be on constructive committees and commissions.

Mr. Marshall has made a series of suggestions, most of which are good. But he may be veering too far from the sound principle of departmental direction. It is possible to leave too much as well as too little to local initiative.

There has been too much bureaucracy in Queen's Park. Martin and worship of a system, merely because it is a system, and the pride some system-father's heart, will do anything. Given a large mind, a wide eye and a sensitive hand, and extensive, centralized powers, all right. Local boards will play up, if they are given stimulating conditions to play up to.

Glut, But High Prices Still.

Those who believe that the ruinous height of prices is maintained because various sorts of profiteers, to save themselves losses, induce the powers that be to maintain prices, will find support for their idea in a remarkable speech Sir Thomas Mackenzie, the high commissioner of New Zealand, made in London.

During the war wool was sold by New Zealand to the British government for thirty cents a pound, with a division of profits between the New Zealander and the British government. The wool reached the manufacturers at from a hundred and twenty to two hundred cents a pound.

In England too, five million carcasses of mutton are held from sale by the food controller. Mutton has gone down three cents a pound, but lamb has gone up, so that, on balance, little advantage is reaped by the public.

Montreal, May 12.—A million-dollar fund for the propaganda of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association was foreshadowed tonight at the annual dinner of the Montreal branch. Among the guests were Col. Grant Morden, Sir James MacKenzie, head of the Vickers firm, of England, and many of the business leaders of the province.

T. P. Howard, as president of the Dominion Manufacturers' Association, said that they had approached the government on the necessity for a scientific tariff board for Canada, and stated that it would be considered with the support of 1,600 labor unions of Canada as well as the manufacturers and employers.

In a defence of great industrial mergers both here and in England, Col. W. Grant Morden said that both he and his colleagues were at present giving great attention to a plan that would be announced in due course, under which "we will give our employees not only an opportunity to participate in the success of industry, but also representation on our directorate."

Some New Zealand farmers have read with appreciation of a motion presented by English postoffice employees to a convention, requesting the Labor party to bring in a parliamentary bill providing for the public hanging of good old English profiteers.

THE GIRL WHO SMILED THRU

By MARION RUBINCAM

A LONG TALK

CHAPTER 82. So the following day, which was a Sunday, she went with David for a tramp over the Highlands.

By this time Alice knew the great city fairly well—better, in fact, than most of the people who had always lived in it—as is the case with most newcomers. She had been through its museums, its parks, its large golf; she had been around its harbor and to the many seashore resorts which are within an hour of the great beating heart of the city itself.

But the Highlands, those wonderful cliffs that rise so majestically from the Hudson, were still new to her. So, rolled up in furs and wearing an old, comfortable pair of shoes, she crossed the ferry with David and climbed the road that zigzags up the rocky wall, and then turned north with him on the road that runs along the top of the cliffs.

Like many girls brought up in or near the country, Alice had never taken any long tramp. So, slinging a lunch on a knapsack over her shoulder, of wearing loose, warm clothes, and of tramping with long steps and taking long breaths of fresh air, was a new joy to her. The exercise sent her blood racing thru her; her cheeks took on their clear, bright "scaplet," and her eyes danced with content and pleasure. For a time she forgot all that had worried her in the sheer joy of the cold air and the long walk.

Sentiment goes with a stroll. It has little to do with a healthy tramp. So for some hours they chatted and laughed of impersonal things—an amusing student in the biology class, an incident that happened at a college dance Alice attended, a concert they had heard together some time before. But when they had built a fire high on a flat rock with the river hundreds of feet below them, and the city spreading out in the distance, gray and gold in the winter sunlight—then the talk drifted to more personal matters.

"I'm always so happy when I'm with you," David remarked once. "You have the nicest laugh I ever heard, or else titter. But your laugh is simply happiness. It's rather hearty for a woman, but it's awfully nice to listen to."

Alice looked over at him. They had finished the luncheon David had brought, and sat down by the dying fire, which sent gusts of warm air over them, along with the cold wind from the river. David had worn a fur-lined overcoat and a cap. The caps' deep ivory seemed to bring out his profile— even better than did the suit that he usually wore.

There was no weakness in that profile, Alice thought. His forehead was grayly high; his nose somewhat irregular, but very well formed; his mouth well into firm lines, and his chin had no hint of weakness. Perhaps it was this—she looked again, it was a little delicate, but his large nose; she liked it better for that—and his deep gray eyes were steady in expression, not wavering, as are the eyes of people with weak character. Drawn by the magnetic attraction of her look, David turned to face her, and their eyes met. And more than could be steady glances passed in that one moment.

It was Alice who turned away, and made herself watch the far-off city and the occasional boats below on the river. But she could feel David's eyes on her, and she turned back to him again. All mask of formality was dropped between them. After that they did not pretend any more.

"What are we going to do, Alice?" David asked, and Alice guessed all the unhappiness of the past year in his voice.

"I don't know," she answered. "Except this—that if we are to be friends there are certain things we must not talk about. Ourselves, principally."

"Can I tell you—can I talk frankly today, if I promise not to be personal after that?" he asked.

"You can talk about everything you want to—there is only one word you must not mention, and you know that." She did not have to speak plainly—David knew as well as she, that all talk of love was not to be.

"I want to talk about Lois—and you," he said. "So you won't think too uncharitably of me."

So they talked over the brief days of their engagement, of Lois' coming, and how hard she had said to leave, to think the feeling between David and herself was more than casual.

She had told her all she remembered of the afternoon when, as Lois insisted, he had asked her to marry him.

And he told bitterly some of the incidents of their life since, and she told him of her selfish little woman Lois had become. And Alice talked a little of the wretchedness of the days following the breaking of their engagement.

And he told her of his happiness she had had in Lawrence's devotion.

"And now, do you think we can be friends?" she asked.

Tomorrow—It Cannot Be.

If he sells at 10 cents per small bottle, and on the larger bottles at twenty cents he makes $8 1-2 cents. If you take your summer drink off the premises the retailer makes three cents on small and 6 1-2 cents on large bottles. If the retailer can make such substantial profits at the new prices, it would be interesting to know the exact profit of the manufacturer.

D.S.C.R. ENLISTS FACTORY POLICE

Possible That They Are Wanted for Steel Company in Hamilton.

Altho it is reported that there are indications of an early settlement of the strike of steam and operating engineers at the Steel Company of Canada's plant at Hamilton, the company is, apparently, still taking steps to deal with any disturbances that might arise. A few weeks ago the D. S. C. R. employment bureau at 43 King street west was asking for about 200 men to go to Hamilton on factory police duty, and on Tuesday the demand was brought in for a smaller number. Applicants for the positions were informed that the wages would be $5 per day with board, but the names of the firm were not disclosed nor would the D.S.C.R. officials offer any further information as to the nature of the work.

Several able-bodied but unemployed men stated yesterday that they refused to undertake the work on account of the indifference of the conditions and because they suspected that they would be required to do strike-breaking. They contended that if strike-breakers are required applicants for the positions should be informed of the fact. One young man applied yesterday and was told to return today as it was expected that more men would be required and that the job would probably last for two or three months. The information was leaked out that the men are required to protect the property of a certain large sized steel company in or near Hamilton and prospective applicants are somewhat puzzled by the reported indications of an early settlement. There has been a rumor to the effect that the T. D. Detective Agency were acting for the company in Toronto and the officials of the agency state that they did secure a few men for the Hamilton concern.

FIRE LIEUTENANT HURT WHILE FIGHTING BLAZE

Lieut. Arthur Kay of West Dundas street firehall was severely cut about the hands while fighting a fire which broke out early yesterday morning in the second story of a vacant house at 78 Beaconsfield avenue. The damage was estimated at $1500.

Lieut. Kay was leading his section up to the second floor when glass from the window suddenly broke, crashing down on his hands. Several arteries were severed, and after receiving first aid he was removed to the Western Hospital, where he was given an anaesthetic and the arteries closed. His condition is not regarded as serious.

"What's in a Name?"

Facts about your name; its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

By MILDRED MARSHALL

LUCRETIA.

The Lucretia was the name borne by the notorious daughter of the Borgias. It is one of the quaintest and most old-fashioned of names in this country. It is a rare name in the United States, but the name has been used in the transition with very few changes to mark the successive stages of its evolution.

There are two theories among etymologists in regard to the origin of the name Lucretia. Some contend that the name is derived from the Latin word "lucrum," meaning "gain," and for that reason Lucretia is said to signify gain. On the other hand, there is much evidence to prove that its real source was in the Latin word for light, lux. Many famous names have been derived from this root and the same word has supplied surnames without number.

It is believed, therefore, that the noted old genealogist from which Lucretia is directly descended, was only another of the derivatives of lux, "Lucretia," combining the forces under the midnight lamp, the famous old Roman tale, inspired Shakespeare to write one of his earliest poems. Despite her notoriety Lucretia Borgia probably established the name of Lucretia in Italy and in early modern times it was one of the few classical names to be revived.

France has a Lucretia which is popular and England reported Lucretia in the eighteenth century.

Lucretia's talismanic stone is the red-hearted ruby. It has the power of bringing strength of body, an invincible spirit and success in every undertaking. Tuesday is her lucky day and six her lucky number.

IN PUGILISTIC CIRCLES

WELL, if you ask me, I'll say the world do move, alright, when society in evenin' luda set in as supers alongside of them what roll their own, to lamp a squint feast watchin' the performers and the audience at the same time.

It was at Fort Lee, N.J., and I wish a bunch of news hounds, spotted the proceedings from the "beamed" cellin' and as a perfectly trained heavy, take it from me, Phoebe, that Carpenter idol mopped up a riotous hit after the third round, but before that, the Barrett "villain" shoe'd have things his own sweet way.

"Course I like Barrett good enough, but Carpenter's got a wonderful pair of pegs and some powerful body and when he kept lettin' himself get knocked out by his evasive opponent, I felt like springin' a bucket of weeps, but the last scene proved the punch, for, just as everybody got to wonderin' if both guys was bodied accordin' to director's rulin', Franchy heaved at Barrett, swatin' a beautiful right, and biff! he clouted him for full count and floored him in a sprawlin' knockout.

To me a good bout is the grandest of past-times and I never miss a movie once they start climbin'. I like to see my favorite paste the other guy east and west, and bulleve me, Carpenter, I like to see my favorite paste the other guy east and west, and bulleve me, Carpenter, I like to see my favorite paste the other guy east and west.

It was a loose-handed house and some birds handed out that the ring went to over-capacity. I dunno! It was a large evenin', but when you think of it, it was shore kinda tough grabbin' the first slant at the French guy sportin' action togs in the "silent chapter." Do you get me? Shore it was a movin' picture, but at that it was good alright, and musta' cost all of about $50,000. Not so bad for celluloid, eh, what?

BY RED COMMISSION

Warsaw, May 12.—Eighteen men and seven women were executed by order of a Bolshevik extraordinary commission in Atimir, just before the capture of that town in the Polish drive on Kiev, according to despatches from correspondents at the front, published in newspapers here. The others, it is declared, offered resistance and were killed by the cavalrymen.

RELIGIOUS ISSUE CAUSES FERMENT

Conservatives Among Socialists Object to Inclusion of Paragraph in Declaration.

New York, May 12.—The "religious issue" today plunged the national convention of the Socialist party of America into a turmoil of excited debate, out of which Conservative forces won the eradication of reference to churches from the first half of the party's 1920 "declaration of principles."

Denounced as bad politics by Victor L. Berger, unseated United States representative from Wisconsin, a declaration that a privileged few in this country own the people's churches and "regulate their souls," was voted down by an overwhelming majority.

After Berger had pronounced against the declaration, August Claassen and Charles Solomon, two of the five recently expelled New York Socialists, explained the aid which the Socialist movement had received from clergymen and rabbis through the work of arguing against the "dragging in of this thing which can do no good to prejudice the masses against us."

NAME WAR CRIMINALS

AND CITE THEIR ACTS

Berlin, May 12.—Men accused of acts of inhumanity are named in the new list of Germans accused of violations of the laws of war which has been presented to the government by allied nations. Among them are four U-boat commanders, said to have torpedoed hospital ships; Gen. Stenger, who is alleged to have ordered that wounded prisoners be shot, and officers who carried out that command. Field Marshal von Busow, commander of the second German army; Gen. von Below, Gen. von Langemann, Prince Ernst of Saxony and Gen. Kruska, commander at the Kaiser prison camp, are charged with spreading germs of typhus, while Gen. von Oven, former governor of Metz; Gen. Scholtz, camp commander at Hohenzeller; Gen. Huff and Dr. Michelson are charged with killing, ill-treating and robbing prisoners. Demand is made that they be brought before the supreme court at Leipzig.

Regina, May 12.—The officials of the provincial department of agriculture have prepared to feed the grasshoppers special tibbits in the form of bran, arsenic and molasses and have now in order, part in transit and some arrived, one thousand tons of bran, two carloads of arsenic and seven carloads of molasses.

At the Allen.

A splendid interpretation of Rex Beach's famous tale of love and struggle, "The Silver Horde," is the attraction at the Allen next week. "The Silver Horde" is a novel proved to be one of the most pronounced literary successes of the present day, not only in the volume of its sale, but also in the word of mouth notoriety that it inspired. On the screen this tale of strife and love in God's country retains all of its plot strength and interest, and is further enhanced by the convincing realism in action which only the screen can offer. To the multitudinous readers of the book it will be very thrilling to see those wonderful characters, Boyd, Emerson and Cherry Malotte, directing Big George's fight against the money-worshipping trust interests of New York, taking part on the side in a little romance which gradually eliminates the haughty Mildred Woyland as a factor and settles down to a plain case of mutual attraction between Emerson and Cherry.

Plays, Pictures and Music

"Peter Ibbetson."

The most ambitious effort ever made by any resident manager will be that of Edward H. Robbins and his Players next week at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, when for the first time on any stage anywhere by a resident company, "Peter Ibbetson," George DuMaurier's poetic drama of love and dreams will be presented. Those who saw this play in New York and later saw it again in Toronto will recall that it is the most extraordinary presentation ever staged, while those who have read the novel, but have not had the opportunity of seeing it in the dramatic form, will realize its wonderful dramatic appeal.

The story of "Peter Ibbetson" pictures the beautiful love existing between Peter and the Duchess of Towers. The first act depicts where Peter again meets Mimsey, the sweetheart of his youth, whom he has not seen since childhood. In the second he again meets the Duchess of Towers and then follows the first of the dream scenes. The third act is in his uncle's home, where he learns that his uncle has made disparaging remarks about his mother's honor and in the fight which follows Peter kills him. Then follows the prison scenes where for 40 years Peter has been confined, but his lonely cell is a paradise as well for he has learned to "dream true" and in his dreams the "mystery" of success of Towers, makes life beautiful.

"Blind Man's Buff."

"Blind Man's Buff," the first of the new plays to be presented by Edward H. Robbins and his Players, at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, will be the offering for the week of May 24. There will be a special matinee on Monday, Victoria Day.

Real Minstrels Coming.

For singing and dancing to excel the colored race, and it seems as if the cream of the colored talent has been brought into the Harvey Greater Minstrels, at least this company is establishing itself rapidly as a top liner attraction, being in the same class and character as any white minstrel organization, unless it be that it is superior. The white people, appreciating the efforts of these deserving people, are very liberal in their patronage. So far this season reported, the fact that five nights out of the week hundreds are turned away from the Harvey Greater Minstrels. This famous organization is coming to Toronto during the week matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

Rose Sydel's Famous London Belles.

Coming to the Gaiety theatre next week is one of the shows that has helped make burlesque famous. It is Rose Sydel's Famous London Belles, attired in everything new except the title. The London Belles submit a cast that is hard to equal in burlesque, which is composed of Chester (Rube) Nelson, Leo Hoyt, Geo. S. Banks, Jim McCauley, Mabel Lorraine, Ruby Lashby and Mabel Hill, not forgetting the big fastidious chorus, and as an added attraction the "Tasmanian Trio." The stage settings are the most gorgeous that prevail in any burlesque attraction and are displayed in a manner that deserves the highest praise, which shows that the author's intent has been fully realized and is a credit to any of the higher priced attractions playing at a two dollar scale of prices.

At Loew's Next Week.

Charles Ray is the bushy country boy salesman of auto trucks in "Alarm Clock Andy," another of his inimitable screen comedies which will be shown next week at Loew's Yonge Street Theatre and Winter Garden. Frank Stafford & Co., presenting a novel scenic nature production, "A Hunter's Game," headlines the vaudeville, which also includes: Days and Rich, in "Songs a la Carte"; Brown's Musical Revue, music, novelties and synecopation; Edmunds and Rogers, "Dark Spots of Joy"; R. J. and Whitman, offering "Back to School Days," and Cooke, Mottimer and Harve, introducing basketball on bicycles.

Next Week at Star.

What a young woman can accomplish when she has brains, and brains enough to use them is being demonstrated at the Star Theatre next week with "The French Follies," all new 1920 edition. Miss Prensente was formerly a member of the Winter Garden company and was impressed by the popularity of the barrel number and the manner in which the number was staged. Why can't we utilize this same idea in burlesque, was a query she put to the producers of "The French Follies." "If the Winter Garden barrel number is patented, I'll devise one for your use. It's a good idea," said the producers, "go ahead!" She took them at their word, directed the construction of the barrels that is entirely different from all other numbers, and is now one of the features with "The French Follies," and now she is drawing down each week her royalty as well as her salary.

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" at the Regent. "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" at the Regent Theatre. It is doubtful if within recent years there has been a screen production so outstanding, so remarkably entertaining. It is a remarkable story. The interpretation given by John Barrimore, the noted actor, of the two characters, Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, is marvelous in the extreme. He has the support of an excellent company. Martha Mansfield, the renowned Ziegfeld Follies beauty, plays opposite to the star. She is an actress of recognized ability. Brandon Hurst, an English actor, has an excellent role, as also have Charles Lane, J. Malcolm Dunn, Cecil Cleavelly, Nita Naldi, and George Stevens.

To see Mr. Barrymore first as Dr. Jekyll and then as the fiendish Mr. Hyde is to see a piece of acting certainly never surpassed in the annals of film production. This is a Paramount-Afterart production. Nazimova at the Regent. Next week Nazimova appears at the Regent Theatre in what many believe to be her greatest story. It is "The Heart of a Child" and is from the pen of Frank Danby. In this production Nazimova plays the part of Sally Snape, a poor little Limehouse alley, London. It whips thru a series of glorious and human adventures. "Double Speed" at the Strand. "Speed is the craze of the day. Why do people have about Carpenter? Because he has the speed of a panther." LEAGUE ADOPTS JELlicoe's PLAN

Canada Must Share Her Burden in Navy, Says Dr. Cody.

Ontario Navy League held their annual meeting at the King Edward yesterday. Dr. Cody, in a lengthy speech, deprecated the fact that Canada had never contributed funds to provide a ship in the grand fleet during the late war. He said the United States was trying to build a great fleet, the largest fleet, but they would find, he thought, a serious difficulty in getting personnel. "Canada cannot afford to take any chances," he declared. "We must be wise and have provision. We are driven to export business owing to our vast raw material. Our navy and the control of the sea is the breath and the very blood of our imperial life. Sea power never has been associated with militarism and tyranny. Sea power has always been associated with freedom."

The meeting unanimously adopted the following resolution to be forwarded to the Dominion council of the league: "That the Ontario division of the Navy League of Canada recommends for the consideration of the Dominion council of the league, acceptance of the first suggested plan of Admiral of the Fleet Viscount Jellicoe, contained in his report on his naval mission to the Dominion, November, December, 1919."

OTTAWA A BREAD PRICE

FIFTEEN CENTS A LOAF

Ottawa, Ont., May 12.—Another boost of one cent on the price of bread will go into effect in Ottawa within the next few days, making the loaf 15 cents. Such was the announcement made by local bakers this morning. The reason cited is the jump in the price of flour of $1.45 per barrel. Bakers have on hand about one week's supply of flour bought at the old rate and state bread prices will not increase until this has been used.

CHOOSE THESE TIRES FOR ECONOMY USE THESE TIRES FOR EFFICIENCY

- As a Motor Truck owner, with a desire for economy, you should investigate the following: 1. There are more cubic inches of rubber to the cross section in Dunlop Motor Truck Tires than in any other make of Truck Tires obtainable. That extra volume of resilient, road-resisting rubber means a lower operating cost-per-mile. 2. Dunlop Motor Truck Tires are made from the matchless English Dunlop formula, which has proven its worth in indisputable mileage records. 3. The wear and tear on your truck will be noticeably decreased. More resilient rubber means more buoyancy—less damage to the truck's mechanism and to its contents—as well as a marked saving in fuel consumption. 4. If you use the new "SAMSON" Tire you will enjoy a confidence born of the knowledge that your tires can bear, without injury, an occasional over-load to save an extra trip. 5. From actual tests made, Dunlop Motor Truck Tires are the lowest cost-per-mile Truck Tires you can use.

Dunlop Motor Truck Tires absolutely will not split or come loose from the steel base. You cannot chisel them off.

Beautiful Gift Lamps

For the Bride's Boudoir

Shown for the first time, in a collection of newest designs—all pink and blue and white and gold—spelling the daintiness and charm any bride might crave in a lamp to harmonize with the delicate furnishings of her bedroom. Truly a lovely gift, certain of appreciation.

The Floor Lamps have their tall graceful standards deeply-grooved and tinted in pink and with white, gray, ivory or gold—while the rich silken shades in plain, brocade or gay chintz designs take on the soft pastel lines one associates with a pretty boudoir—pastel pinks and blues, maize, rose, French blue, ivory, gray and soft green. These cleverly-tinted to give an effective combination and an exquisite shading when the lights are lit—sometimes with a hint of the Oriental in black banding or galeon and again with a ravishing glitter of old gold or antique silver tracings.

Little Table Lamps are made with standards to match, and with shades in the same softly-colorful tones, of silk or chintz. We were in raptures over one with shade of pink and blue brocade, dotted up and down and all around with French rosebuds—while very new and very attractive was one whose natural pongee shade was run round with a rose silk ruching.

Wee Candles, which are positively fascinating, are also included in this delightful collection of gift lamps. They too, have little bases in white, ivory, pink and blue, while their tiny shades are mostly in finely patterned bedroom chintzes with mono-toned silk linings and dainty edgings.

You may choose from this lovely display or have us make-to-order a lamp to match special boudoir color schemes, as you desire.
