General Intelligence

A GRATHAM MIRACLE. DR. CARL VERRINDER'S VICISSITUDES OF TORTURE AND OF HEALTH.

HE SURVIVES THEM ALL, AND RECOUNTS HIS WONDROUS DELIVERANCE FROM POVERTY AND DEATH. HIS RECOVERY TO HIS PROPERTY AND VIGOR OF MIND AND BODY—GOOD WORDS FOR THE A. O. U. W.—Chatham Branch.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC. DR. CARL VERRINDER, Director.

So sit, as did a Planet reporter a few days ago, in a very atmosphere of sweet harmony, created by Dr. Verrinder's magician-like touch was an experience that might well be envied, and one calculated to inspire the most sentimental reveries. But sentimental moodiness finally vanishes and leaves one facing the sober and practical side of life. The music ceased and the conversation took a turn leading to the real object of the reporter's call.

my possession. It was while living in London and pursuing my art with much earnestness and labor that I received a stroke of paralysis. Perhaps, here the speaker rose and stretching himself to his full height, thus displaying his well built and well-squared frame—I do not look like a paralytic. But the truth is I have had three strokes—yes, sir, first, second and third, and they say the third is fatal, ninety-nine times out of one hundred. At first you see before you a three stroke victim, and a man who feels both in body and mind, as vigorous as he ever did in his life. My ultimate cure I attribute to my testing the virtues of a medicine whose name I shall never cease sounding as long as I live, and which I shall recommend to suffering humanity as I am now constantly doing, whose knowledge of a case and can reach the ear of the patient. After removing to Chatham I had not long been there when my health further began to give way.

Gradually I noted the change. I felt it first and most strongly in a stomach affection which produced constant and distressing nausea. It grew worse and worse, I myself attributed it to bad water poisoning my system. My doctor said it was catarrh of the stomach. Another pronounced it diabetes, still another a different diagnosis. I kept on doctoring, but getting no relief. I tried one medicine after another, but it was no use. Grippe attacked me and added to my pain, discomfort and weakness. At last I took to my bed and it seemed that I was never going to get well. Nothing of a nourishing nature would remain on my stomach. No food seemed to have counteracting influence on the disease which was dragging me down to death. My wife would sit at my bedside and rub my temples with diluted spirits which was all that could be done to relieve me. Being three local doctors who gave me up, I had doctors from London and Kingston whose skill I believe in and to whom I paid heavy fees, but without receiving any help or encouragement. It is true that a stomach pump operation afforded temporary relief, but yet I felt that my peculiar case needed some special and particular compound or remedial agent which I knew not of. But, at last, thank God, I discovered it. I had been for eighteen months a miserable wreck, unable to work, unable to eat or to sleep properly. My means were becoming exhausted. My poor wife was worn out in body and spirit. I had tried every other medicine. The Pills! Yes sir! Pink Pills—God bless their inventor or discoverer!—I have received them from the jaws of death and miraculously made me what you see me today, healthy, happy, with a splendid appetite, a clear brain, a capacity for work and an ability to sleep sound and refreshing sleep—a boon that had a man who has experienced the terrors of insomnia can rightly appreciate. Fear in mind, my friend, I am no wild enthusiast over the supposed merits of this medicine. I have tested the virtues of Pink Pills and am ready to take oath to their efficacy. No one could shake my faith in them; because what a man has thoroughly proved in his own experience, and what he has heard confirmed in the experience of others—I have prescribed the pills to other sick persons and know what extraordinary good they have effected in their cases he ought to be convinced in so. I shall tell you how I came to try them.

A fellow member, the A. O. U. W. the brethren of which order had been more than kind to me during my illness, recommended Pink Pills. I was not going about what they were or what they could accomplish. In fact I am rather sceptical on what are termed proprietary remedies; but I started to take Pink Pills for Pale People, made by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville. From the very first, one a dose, I began to mend, and before I had taken more than a box or two I knew that I had found the right remedy and that the Pink Pills owed my life. In nine months I have taken twelve boxes—just six dollars worth. Think of it, my friend! Hundreds of dollars for other treatment, and only six dollars for what has made a man of me and set me again on the highway of health and prosperity. There is some noble, life-giving principle in Pink Pills which I do not attempt to fathom. I only knew like the blind man of old, "Once I was blind, now I can see by God, in the mystery of his providence, directed my brother of the A. O. U. W. to me. I took it. I live and rejoice in my health and strength. I have no physical malady, saving a slight stiffness in my right leg to gripe. I feel as well as in my prime days. My prospects are good. All this I gratefully attribute to the virtues of Pink Pills for Pale People, and now my story is done as the nursery ballad runs. If anybody should ask confirmation of this tale of mine let him write to me and I shall cheerfully furnish it. The Pink Pills were my rescuer and I'll be their friend and advocate while I live.

The reporter finally took his leave of Dr. Verrinder, but not without the professor entertaining him to another piano recital, a symphony played with feeling and execution and a soulful interpretation of the composer's thought.

Calling upon Messrs. A. E. Pilley & Co., the well known druggists, the reporter ascertained Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have an enormous sale in Chatham, and that from all quarters come glowing reports of the excellent results following their use. In fact Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are recognized as one of the greatest modern medicines—a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer—curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus dance, nervous headache, nervous prostration and the tired feeling resulting therefrom, diseases depending upon impurities in the blood, such as scurvy, chronic erysipelas, etc. Pink Pills restore pale and sallow complexions to the glow of health, and are a specific for all the troubles peculiar to the female sex, while in the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excess of whatever nature it may be.

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold in boxes (never in loose form) by the dozen or hundred and the public are cautioned against numerous imitations sold in this shape at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold make a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

MEN DELUGED WITH VITRIOL. CLOTHES MELT AWAY AS IF TOUCHED BY FIRE.

WORCESTER, August 10.—Four employees of the Washburn & Moen wire mill at Quinsigamond village were horribly burned by sulphuric acid to-day, about 3:30 p.m., and their condition is such that it is considered critical. Neither employers nor employees seem to be to blame for the accident. The sulphuric acid, or, as it is more commonly known, oil of vitriol, comes to the mill in great tanks on platform cars from the Cochran chemical company of Boston. It is handled by the Boston and Albany railroad and the Providence division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, and finally taken into the mill on a narrow gauge track operated by the Washburn and Moen manufacturing company. The acid is used for cleaning and brightening copper wire, and is forced into the annealing room through lead pipes.

The accident yesterday occurred in what is known as the "bundling room," in which the car stands while the acid is being forced from the tank. But one of the men injured was on the pump, the others waiting for the tank to be emptied preparatory to using the tank for other purposes.

Only a small amount of acid had been pumped from the tank when suddenly one side of the non-reciprocating burst out, throwing the awful fluid over the four men who were standing near. Tolan, engineer on the narrow gauge car; Olin, helper on the engine; Davies, a machinist, and Murray, a coal shoveller, were covered by the acid; and Murray, who was facing the tank, will probably be terribly disfigured. Olin was also badly burned, part of the acid falling on his face in dangerous proximity to his eyes.

All the men were burned severely on their hands, legs and bodies. The clothing of the victims was eaten off as if by fire, and the sufferers uttered heartrending screams in their endeavors to scrape off the deadly acid. Murray and Olin tore off their clothes and jumped into the river running close by the shop. At the hospital the men uttered awful cries while their wounds were being dressed, and their condition is considered very precarious.

A correspondent of the Richibucto Review says: Many of our New Brunswick friends have lately had good news to tell. Uncle Sam and rejoined us, convinced that 'the dearest spot on earth is home.' Among the arrivals since our last budget are John Hackett, jr., from Pennsylvania; Mary Flanagan, from Boston; and O. Smith Graham, N. H. More recently we notice Messrs. Charles A. and Lawrence Rainborough and Lane McDonald, all of Portland, Me.; also Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald, of Pennsylvania.

NORWICH, Conn., Aug. 9.—The steamer "City of Boston," of the New York and Norwich Transportation Line, caught fire in the Noon tonight, when within about two hours of New London. The Captain ordered the anchor dropped. Then he and his crew joined in fighting flames which had broken out in the hold. For a few minutes it seemed as if they would envelop the entire vessel. Within an hour, the fire was quenched and the steamer proceeded to Norwich. On her arrival there it was reported that considerable damage had been sustained by the "Boston" and her cargo. Just how much the loss will be no estimate can be made. Officials of the company are very confident as to the cause and the cause of the flames. They say that though many passengers were in their berths at the time the flames were discovered, they slept and knew nothing of their danger until after it had been avoided.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Ship "Thirion" just completed at Glasgow, and which was being towed to Liverpool, foundered off the Isle of Man during a heavy gale last night. Her crew and 17 men went down with her.

A later despatch from Liverpool states that the vessel had a crew of 22 men.

If the ladies would abandon cosmetics and more generally keep their blood pure and vigorous by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, naturally their complexion would be the rule instead of the exception, as at present. Pure blood is the best beautifier.

Tom—What are you feeling so blue about? Jim—I got into the habit of kissing Mary whenever she got angry at me. "Yes," said Tom, "and now her temper is completely ruined."

Shilo's Consumption Cure. This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever known, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Whooping and Bronchitis, while its invigorating success in the cure of Consumption is without parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c, 50c, and $1. If you judge we are wrong, chest or back pain, use Shilo's Porous Plaster. Sold by E. Lee Street.

Oh, What a Cough.

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of the most terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of a few cents, to use the sick and do nothing for it. It will not cure you cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold last year. It relieves cough and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest use Shilo's Porous Plaster. Sold by E. Lee Street.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Colic, up of the Food, Yellow skin, when for 75c. we will sell them Shilo's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. Sold by E. Lee Street.

Ward's Catarrh Cure.

Congressman Hays President Harrison has tried 'em plenty times to put 'em on record in force. When the President has been fully informed by agents in the Doubtful that the medicine is not a swindle, he will withdraw the endorsement of the 'Doc' call to immediately collect the discriminating tolls specified. There is no general proclamation. The first intimation will be a general enforcement of the new law. The intention is to give a swindle no more notice whereby Canadian carriers may be able to adjust themselves to the new law. The purpose being an attack on Canadian commerce unavowed.

Month's Corner.

BURDETTE'S MESSAGE TO BOYS.

My boy, the first thing you want to learn—if you haven't learnt it already—is to tell the truth. The plain, unvarnished, simple, everybody, manly truth, with a little 't'.

For one thing, it will save you so much trouble—oh heaps of trouble—that you will not want to do it. It is a terrible strain upon your memory. Sometimes—and when I say sometimes I mean a great many times—

And then it is so foolish of you to lie. You cannot pass a lie off for the truth any more than you can get counterfeit money into circulation; the leaden dollar is always detected before it goes very far. When you tell a lie it is known. 'Yes,' you say, 'God knows it.' That's right; but he is not the only one. So far as God's knowledge is concerned, the lie doesn't care much. He doesn't care what God knows—if he'd he wouldn't be a liar, but it does worry a man or boy who tells a lie to think that everybody knows.

The other boys know it; your teacher knows it; your folks know it; your mother knows it; but she won't say so. And all the people who know it, and don't say anything about it, talk about it to each other, and—lead dea—'t's; they say about a boy that is going to tell big stories. If he could hear them it would make him sick to the truth like flour to a miller.

And finally, if you tell the truth always, I don't see how you are going to get very far out of the right way. And how people do trust a truthful boy! We never worry about him when he is out of our sight. We never say, 'I wonder where he is? I wish I knew who he is with? I wonder why he does not come home? Nothing of the sort, we know that he is all right, and that when he gets home we will know all about it.

We don't have to ask him where he is going and how long he will be gone every time he leaves the house. We don't have to ask him back and make him solemnly promise the same thing over two or three times. When he says, 'Yes I will or 'No I won't' just once, that settles it. We don't have to cross examine him when he comes home to find out where he has been. He tells us at once and that is enough. We don't want to say 'sure? Are you sure, now? when he tells us anything.

But, my boy, you can't build up that reputation by merely telling the truth about half the time, nor two-thirds, nor three-quarters, nor four-fifths of the time; but all the time. If it brings punishment upon you will the lies escape; if it brings you into present disgrace while the smooth tongued liars are called; if it degrades you in the class; if it stops a week's pay—no matter what punishment it may bring you—the truth.

All these things will soon be righted. The worst whipping that can be laid on a boy's back won't keep him out of the water in swimming, one longer than a week; but he will be in memory fifty years. Tell the truth for the sake of the truth, and all the best people in the world will love and respect you, and all the liars will respect and hate you—Lady's Home Journal.

LEARNING TO SWIM.

Every boy who is old enough ought to know how to swim, but I

"German Syrup"

Martinsville, N.J., Methodist Parsonage. My acquaintance with your remedy, Roschke's German Syrup, was made about fourteen years ago, when I contracted a Cold which resulted in a Hoarseness and a Cough which disabled me from filling my pulpit for a number of Sabbaths. After trying a Physician, without obtaining relief—I cannot say how long—it was your German Syrup which cured me.

Really there is no better way to learn to swim than to take with you a swimmer in whom you have implicit confidence. Strike out according to his directions, depending on him to give you support by a hand under the chest, in case of need.—Cottage Health.

Farm and Household.

SHELTERING FARM MACHINERY.

Speaking generally, one of the most serious drains upon the farmer's purse arises from the insufficient care taken of his farm machinery, wagons and lighter driving rigs. All these cost money, and as time goes on the expense of fueling up a farm with the latest needed appliances seems to increase, while, on the other hand, the farmer's own capital invested. He should, therefore, see to it that his annual usage of machinery is so arranged that he can have it in the best possible working order, and afterwards should be housed and sheltered from the elements, particularly where his stock are at large, and not only a cow-stall, but a place for the horse, but are liable to break down. The life of a horse is a matter of deterioration, not only in the appearance and utility of machinery from exposure to the sun, the rain, and the storms of winter, but a certain shortening of its life of service to the farmer whose head stock is invested therein. It is sometimes urged that the expense of the Machinery and the cost of a horse, for example, is such that the climate has but little or no injurious effect upon exposed agricultural implements; but that plea is an old plea to ward off an objection. This plea is a statement. The very appearance of a host of binders contradicts it. A leading Manitoba implement man has said lately to the writer that the life of a reaper was only about six years, and that is no doubt what ever that with a decent care that can't be very considerably increased. The life of a horse is so much affected by the farmer. What is saved in that way is gained just as surely as getting a cent extra per bushel on an elevator of wheat. A good sized stack of lumber can be constructed at comparatively little expense, and will unquestionably prove a paying investment in the long run. It is not to speak of the greater satisfaction experienced in handling machinery that is not bound and rusted old and rickety and in premature decay. For the implements and rigging away under cover, and, indeed, be applied to a coat of prepared paint, so that next season they will come out as good as new. Do not be afraid to add to the cost of the implement. No danger of that. Machinery was a sort of quick enough to run very long, and with the increase of the agricultural population, naturally and by immigration, there is no fear about the growing demand for such machinery. Implement men themselves prefer to see their customers take proper care of what they put out, because it will do better work, which redounds to the credit of the implement man, and, consequently, business for the future.—"Farmer's Advocate."

GOING TO BED HUNGRY.

Dr. W. T. Cathell has entered a strong protest against the old-fashioned custom of going to bed hungry. He is of the opinion that fasting during the long interval between supper and breakfast, and especially the complete abstinence from food during the night, adds greatly to the amount of emaciation, sleeplessness and general weakness so often met with. It is well known that in the body there is a perpetual distillation of tissue sleeping or waking; it is, the force, natural to believe that the supply of
