Both are likely to be strengthened before the week is out by a further naval force and even by the first detachment of Gen. Buller's army corps.

AT MAFEKING.

GEN. SIR REDVERS BULLER-Now at Cape Town, South Africa, directing the movements of the British troops, turn a fresh page; and with the advance of Sir Redvers Buller's force, the British public is promised more cheerful reading. Her majesty is apparently sanguine of Gen. White's ability to pull through successfully. It is asserted that she has written to Lady White, expressing sympathy with her husband in the trials and difficulties he is now experiencing, and assuring Lady White of her undiminished confidence in his generalship. The purport of this letter has been cabled to Gen. White by the Marquis of Lansdowne.

ON THE MOVE. The most interesting news this (Thursday) morning is from Estcourt, announcing the departure of a strong force of mounted troops and artillery for a destination not given in the dispatch. Another message announces the arrival at Estcourt and Pietermaritz-burg, within the last few days, of the reinforcements from Durban, and that 3,500 troops are assembled, ready for a readvance to Colenso when the opportune moment arrives. The latter dispatch throws light on the former, and the force which left Estcourt Monday last doubtless occupied Colenso and probably is now advancing cautiously up the railroad towards Lady-smith, Gen. White's sortie of Friday, almost to the banks of the Tugela River, encouraging the commander, in the hope of joining hands.

It is stated, under Sunday's date, from Estcourt, that Sir George White received a message from Gen. Buller on Sunday. So far, however, no message seems to have been received from Gen. White regarding Thursday and Friday's sorties.

RAILWAY TO LADYSMITH. A special dispatch from Pietermaritzburg, dated Sunday, says: "It is confidently asserted that railway communication will be restored with Ladysmith within a few hours."

The Daily Mail has the following dispatch from Queenstown, Cape Colony, dated Sunday night: "The railway staff is withdrawing from all the border stations between this and De Aar. There is no cause for alarm, however, with reference to the border towns. Gen. Buller has taken effective steps to check the Boer advance. Censorship prevents particularizing, but you may expect extensive news soon.

BOERS GO BACK. The Boers who occupied Colengo

parently disheartened at the unexpected resistance, a large body their force having been detached to the south to assist in the investment of Kimberley, around which the cordon is drawing tighter.

Evidently the Boers intend to make a concentrated effort to capture Kimberley and their arch-enemy, Cecil Rhodes. The reported departure of a Boer contingent from Pretoria, with German artillery gunners, moving southward, is taken to mean co-operation in the invasion of the northern portions of Cape Colony, an undertaking which, thus far, has not progressed very rapidly. Further details from Mafeking, carrying events up to Oct. 17, say: "British fir-ing was easing off, garrison was in high spirits, and the siege was becoming a farce." Some of the people were in the habit of shouting from the house-tops, "war shells," and that rabbit farce." holes had been excavated in the town, in which the men would dive when the big gun was seen. Gen. Cronje is accused of dropping shells in the vicinity of the women's laager. According to a dispatch from Kuramen, Bechuanaland, dated Monday, Col. Plumer's column, marching from Fort Tuli for the relief of Mafeking, was at Seiger's Kop, opposite Ootsi, seven miles north of Lobatsi, on Oct. 18, and was nearing Mafeking. BROCKLEHURST'S OPERATIONS.

Estcourt, Nov. 3.-Details in regard to Gen. Brocklehurt's operations, Friday, towards Dewdorp, show that the British force consisted of the 18th and 19th Hussars, cavalry, with a battery, mounted infantry, the 5th Dragoons, Roystone's Light Horse and two batteries. At midday Gen. Brocklehurst drove the Boers from all their positions, shelled three of their guns into silence, and headed off a thousand Boers from and headed off a thousand Boers from State. AT GROBELERSKLOOF. London, Nov. 9.-Further reports of the Grobelerskloof affair tend to confirm the statement that the British were successful. A Kaffir declares that At Estcourt and Pietermaritzburg the ! fully a hundred Boers were killed on defensive works have been greatly the hill-top by the "men-women," strengthened within the last few days, which is supposed to indicate that the and they are now believed capable of Gordon Highlanders were there. Cy-Gordon Highlanders were there. Cyclists south have been since across the Tugela bridge. They saw a number of killed lying on

AN OPPORTUNITY LOST. Apparently, when the Colenso garrison evacuated that place Friday, the British troops missed a grand opportunity of carrying out an effective attack on the rear of the disconcerted Boers. The latter appear to believe that the Colenso column evacuated the place as a ruse and are lying in ambush to surprise them if they advance; hence the immunity of the town from occupation by the burghers.

PIETERMARITZBURG. Durban, Natal, Sunday, Nov. 5.-Gen. Schalkburgher, with 100 men, has arrived at Vlyheim, on his way to Swaziland. It is believed he is going to

The enrollment of the new imperial infantry is proceeding apace at Durban and Pietermaritzburg. Morris' Mounted Volunteers have left Pieter-maritzburg for the Moche River. The perparations for the defense of Pletermarktzburg are in good shape. All the strong positions of the surrounding hills have been fortified. The Natal volunteers are moving the big guns, which are not sufficiently mobile for field use, from Estcourt Pietermaritzburg, to assist in the defense of the latter in case of an attack Advices from Naaumwoort, Cape Colony, filed Monday morning, say that the Boers were relaying the rails at Norvalspont. The railway department the previous day destroyed the culvert between Arundel and Tween-BOERS LOSE 1,000 MEN. London, Nov. 9.-The Times has a delayed dispatch from Pietermaritzburg, saying that the report is con-firmed that the Boers lost 1,000 men in last week's fight at Ladysmith. The check they received caused them to retreat four miles to Estcourt, Natal. The Boers were found, by an armored train, to be in force at Pieter's Station, half-way between Colenso and Ladysmith, where they had torn up the railroad track. The Boers have not made any demonstration south of Colenso. Capt. Murray, in command here, is availing himself of the delay to strongly fortify the town.

CROWDED WITH BOER PRISON-ERS. Durban, Sunday, Nov. 5 .- Other messengers convey the statement of native eye-witnesses respecting the severity f the fighting on both Friday and Saturday at Ladysmith. The natives assert that the Boers were so cut up that they howled for mercy on the field, and covered their bodies. Ladysmith is crowded with Boer prisoners and wounded, the latter presenting horrible evidence of the swordsmanship of the cavalry. The Gordon Highlanders suffered severely in the fighting. BOERS HAVE GOOD GUNS. Estcourt, Natal, Monday, Nov. 5.— Mr. Burnard, proprietor of the Rail-way Hotel at Ladysmith, has arrived here with a companion, having eluded the Boer outposts by night, riding along Kaffir paths. He confirms the report that when Gen. White requested that the men and women be permitted to depart, Gen. Joubert replied that he would only allow them to get away under fire of his guns. Mr. Burnard views the situation gravely, and says that none of the British artillery is able to cope with the Boer siege guns.

EXTRAORDINARY WOUNDS. Cape Town, Nov. 5 .- Sir Alfred Milner visited the wounded today. They are all doing well. Some of the wounds are of an extraordinary nature. Mauser bullet makes a clean perfora-tion of bone and muscle. Soldiers shot through both cheek bones have lost the sense of smell and taste, but are otherwise quite well. Most of the wounds are in the hands and arms.

BOER TREACHERY. London, Nov. 9.—Reports of a treacherous use of the white flag by the Boers, coming from native sources, are not accepted with complete credence, but at the same time their reiteration is making an unhappy impression. One paper asks, sarcastically, whether President Kruger's reference in his mesage to Americans to "staggering humanity" meant the Boer use of the

COLONIAL LOYALTY.

London, Nov. 9.—Mr. Charles T. Ritchie, president of the board of trade, speaking in Loughton, paid a warm tribute to the "ready assistance and loyalty of the colonies displayed at a time of difficulty and danger," and to the "friendly attitude of the United States, which shows that the American cans are with us in the struggle for ing the irritating properties of ink, benthe freedom of our fellow-subjects in zine, &c., is more than kidneys can stand.

THE QUEEN'S SYMPATHY. Her majesty has written a letter of condolence to the mother of the late Commander Egerton, of the British ship Powerful, who was fatally wounded by a shell at the bombardment of Ladysmith on Nov. 2, where, as gunnery sergeant, he was struck by a shell from one of the big guns.

HOSPITAL TRAINS. Dr. Ryerson, of the Canadian branch of the Red Cross League, has been asked by Lord Wantage to appeal to ways, in which the wounded can be received, carried and removed in a repaign. A special hospital ship has also | sure of kidney trouble in any form." been fitted out for use at the Cape. Dr. Ryerson adds that the people who supplied so many comforts for our own tingent can be relied upon to assist in this act of humanity, especially as the conveyance may be needed for our own men before many days are passed.

SAFE.

London, Nov. 9 .- The war office received the following dispatch from Gen. Buller this morning, dated Cape Town, Wednesday, Nov. 8, 11:50 p.m.: Col. Kekewich telegraphs from Kimberley, Nov. 5, that all is well there, and that there has been no serious attack yet. A slight bombardment did no damage. Information from Mafeking shows that place was safe on Oct. 27. Col. Plumer had a successful engagement near Fort Tuli Oct. 26.

THE BRITISH WOUNDED. Gen. White reports by pigeon post that the wounded and some civilians from Ladysmith have been removed four miles down the railroad, by an arrangement with Gen. Joubert, to a neutral place, to save them from the

TRANSPORT IN TROUBLE. St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands, Nov. 9.—The British transport Persia, with a squadron of the Enniskillen Dra-goons, a hospital detachment and munitions of war on board, has been towed here with her thrust shaft broken and other damage done. She was picked up by a tug close to some rocks and was towed 22 miles. GERMAN OFFICERS MUST STAY AWAY. Berlin, Nov. 9 .- As a result of instructions from the emperor a mili-tary order has been issued to the commanders of districts, in which his majesty expresses his wish that no Prussian officers be granted leave to go to South Africa. The order adds that everything is to be done to prevent former Prussian officers from taking part In the conflict in South Africa, his purpose being to avoid every appearance of violation on the part of Germany of the strict neutrality, which, the em-peror says, should be observed. A BRILLIANT PERFORMANCE. Esticourt, Natal, Nov. 5.-Details were received from the armored train, which returned from Colenso today, of a brilliant little performance. The train, which carried two companies of the Dublin Fusiliers, under Captain Romer, sighted, near Colenso, the Boers in considerable force near the line. The Fusiliers immediately opened a brisk fire, which the Boers replied to ineffectually and, as they were suffering loss, they quickly retired out of sight. But, as the train cautiously advanced, the Boers were seen moving around on its left flank, their presumed object being to take the train in the rear. To avoid this the train re-It was then seen that the Boers had no intention of attacking, Several volleys, at long range, were fired on the re-treating enemy. The British also succeeded in entering Fort Wylie, near Colenso, and brought back four wagon oads of shells, provisions and stores. DR. LEYDS' CONTENTION. In the course of his remarks Dr. Leyds repeats President Kruger's assertion that if the Republice must eventually belong to England, the latter will pay a price for them which will astound the world The ver, to which the Transvaal has been

A Correspondent Writes That Dodd's Kidney Pills Have Cured Him of Kidney Disease.

Daniel Boucher Experimented With

Medicines; for Eighteen Years-Finally Persuaded to Try Dodd's Kidney Pills-Five Boxes Cured Him.

Gananoque, Nov. 8.—Mr. Daniel Boucher, of this town, suffered with Kidney Disease for eighteen years. And for the best part of that eighteen years he has been striving to get cured. Experimenting with medicines and doctors all the time, he had never experienced the slightest relief. And now after eighteen years of it he is cured by five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

The question arises, why did he not try Dodd's Kidney Pills before? The weapon has laid ready to his hand for the last ten years, why did he not use Surely he must long have known that Dodd's Kidney Pills have cured hundreds of others right in his own

It is hard to understand. Natural perversity is often the only explana-tion in such cases. Mr. Boucher may have been deceived by the pretensions of imitators of Dodd's Kidney Pills.He may have been prejudiced by some other means, but however it was Mr. Boucher came round to Dodd's Kidney Pills at last and is a healthy man in

He writes: "For eighteen years I have been troubled with Kidney Dis-I have used all sorts of medicines but could get no relief. I was persuaded to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have finished five boxes and am completely cured. I highly recommend them to all suffering as I did. I used to have to stop work for two or three days in the week on account of backache, but now I can do a day's work with anybody."

Against the Methodist Church for Reinstatement and Damages.

Cobourg, Ont., Nov. 9.—The non-jury assizes opened here Tuesday before Judge Meredith. A case that claimed considerable attention was one left over from the Fall Assizes in September, being an action brought against the Methodist Church by Mr. Ash, for reinstatement and compensation for loss of salary, etc., consequent upon his being located by resolution of the Bay of Quinte Conference, thus giving him a standing similar to that of a local preacher in that church. Among representatives of the Methodist clergy present were Dr. Galoraith, Dr. Grif-fin, Dr. Carman, Toronto, general superintendent of the Methodist Church; Rev. W. R. Young, Port Hope, president of the Bay of Quinte Conference: Rev. T. W. Jolliffe, Colborne, ex-president of that conference; Rev. S. J. Shorey, Peterborough; Rev. Caleb Parker, Napanee; Rev. C. E. McCamus, Cobourg. The clunsel for the plaintiff were E. Guss Porter, Belleville, and J. J. C. Abbott, Trenton, and for the defense, Dr. Maclaren, Toronto, and Mr. McLaughlin, Lindsay.

A number of prominent ministers were summoned as witnesses, but were

The State Elections.

There was nothing in the nature of a landslide about Tuesday's State elections, but the Republicans can fairly claim to have held their own, and if they can do as well next year, Mc-Kinley will have his second term. There was a time when Canadians welcomed a Democratic victory, because it implied better trade relations; but there are political reasons for wishing the Republicans success at this juncture. In Ohio, especially, the Democratic candidate pandered to the tail-twisting element. The party convention denounced the "secret and vicious alliance with England," though no such alliance exists, and made an open bid for the German vote, on the strength of the Administration's friendliness toward Great Britain. Jones, the "Golden Rule" and Socialist candidate, polled over 100,000 votes, but this may be attributed to his personal popularity, and not to any deep-seated revolt against social conditions or the party system.

The Republicans suffered only one reverse-the loss of Maryland-but this is accounted for by a bitter feud within the party, and by the fact that the Democrats renounced the silver issue and came out squarely for the gold standard.

The financial and commercial capital of the United States, Greater New York, still meekly submits to the robbers' ring called Tammany, despite the commission. In the remainder of the later on. State, however, the Republicans improved their position. Taking the elections as a whole, they confirm the Administration in its policy of expansion, which was the broadest issue of the contest. The anti-expansion sentiment, which has been most vigorous in Massachusetts, made no appreciable headway in that State, while in Nebraska the Fusion victory is evidently due to a local pride in Bryan as a Nebraska product. The expansion policy of the United States is identified and bound up with British interests, and for that reason a Republican victory is agreeable to British people just now.

The Growth of Russia.

Statesmen have predicted that the Pacific Ocean will, in the next century, supplant the Atlantic as the world's commercial highway. Events all point in that direction, and none more so than the great trans-Siberian railway which is nearing completion. In the November Outlook, William Durban, who has long lived in Russia, writes of this prodigious enterprise from personal experience and dilates on the vital part it is destined to play in the affairs of nations. Siberia, the greatest country in the world, at present contains only four million people, but as soon as the Siberian line is comstupendous colonization schemes will be set on foot. Peasants in European Russia are now, every winter, by millions in a state of semistervation. These will ere long stream to the new eastern land. Already towns are springing up like mushrooms in the wake of the railway. There are composite reasons for this development. The first is that the railway is running through South Siberia where the climate is deightfully mild compared with the regions further north. The next is that all the chief gold fields are in this southern region. "The Russian Government," Mr. Durban says, "is the narrowest and most exclusive in the world in most matters of administration, but in some it is actually liberal. For instance, it has thrown open the gold fields alike to native and foreign enterprise, absolutely without restriction, except that all gold gathered must be assayed at the government offices, and that ten per cent of the net proceeds must go to the crown." The writer dwells on the grand scenic features of the railway route, the inexhaustible timber resources of Siberia—the most megnificent forest belt in the world, he declares-and on the great wheatgrowing plains which will become one of the granaries of the world. Capitalists and speculators, he predicts, will soon begin to see in Siberia the most promising field left on the globe for their exploitation, and this marvelous new field will, with its railway facilities, in a very short time begin to inwite energy and enterprise in a degree never yet equaled. The great rivers and the railway will make Siberia a formidable competitor with Canada for timber; with England for iron and coal and other metals; with Egypt, the United States, Hungary, and Australia for wheat; with China and Japan for tea, which will grow well in many Siberian districts; and with all the lands on earth in many a valuable

"Who can doubt the great future of the nation now numbering over 130,to unfold the hidden resources of two continents in a way which will create universal astonishment? It is with prosadness that any one who has learned to know and love such a na-tion forms the conviction that the inatuation of its bureaucrats will impel it to incur a fearful fate. The colli-sion of the Moscovite and Anglo-Saxon races will not be avoided, though it may for years be warded off by di-plomacy. The further end of the railway is entirely finished. But meanthe Manchurian line, over which the diplomatic 'Battle of Newchang' so long raged, will be built, and this Russia will fight England with all the arts of her bureaucratic strategy. She will contend only diplomatically for a few years, but will never renounce her object, which is to control North China. And the British people, with the secret support of the Japanese, will as jealously resist the

with the people who happen to live behind the door. England can keep the door open only by controlling those behind it, and Russia can keep it shut only by asserting her paramount claim within the door. Herein lies the world's appropriate trouble lies the world's approaching trouble. Many countries will be drawn into the conflict which is coming. The Siberian railway is meantime making for peace, for it is diverting all the energies of the Russian Government, and is en-gaging that attention which was too much concentrated on affairs in Turkey, Greece, Servia, Roumania, Bulgaria and Austria."

The present and prospective growth of Russia has a direct bearing on Canada. Russia, like the United States, will become an important power on the Pacific. But so will Canada. Our Pacific commerce is a recent creation, but it is developing and will continue to develop at a rate proportionate to the growth of our population. Great Britain is now the leading Pacific power and will always remain a great factor, while Germany, as befits her, is reaching out in the same region for a larger share of influence. The Pacific is destined to become the theater of the most strenuous rivalries, commercial and political, and the present war in South Africa has its relation to the great world struggle between those nations which are, and those which aspire to be, the world empires.

The British troops have had to show the white flag in this war, but when did they ever show the white feather in any war?

Prosperity always tells in favor of a Government in any election. That was evident in the United States on disgraceful revelations of the Mazet Tuesday. It will be evident in Canada

> G. H. Mitchell, the Canadian Government agent in Liverpool, writes to the Department of Trade and Commerce requesting tenders from Canadian manufacturers for hop-poles for some English firms.

> While Great Britain does not desire a second Canadian military contingent, it is gratifying to note that the first shipment to Liverpool of Canadian-fattened chickens has proved so acceptable that there are orders for all we can send.

The stories that the Boers are makng a treacherous use of the white flag should not be credited unless officially confirmed. So far the Boers, according to official dispatches, have behaved admirably, and it is unmanly to accuse them of barbarities on the strength of

Hon. David Mills' pamphlet on the 40 only Ladies' Flannelette Gowns Alaskan boundary question has attracted widespread and eminent attention. It has called forth a long editorial from the London Times, while the Literary Digest, a very widely circulated journal in the United States, devotes two pages to a summary of it. Mr. Mills' pamphlet has done more than anything else to bring Canada's case clearly before the public mind of the United States and Great Britain.

The Boston Herald notes with satisfaction that the Bank of Montreal has arranged to accommodate Boston merchants by issuing letters of credit to importers of merchandise in that city. The Herald very graciously and justly remarks: "The Canadian banks, as a rule, enjoy and deserve a high reputation for the ability of their management and the adequacy of their resources. In their dealings with their commercial customers they hit a happy mean between wise liberality and prudent conservatism."

United States Treasurer Roberts says the treasury's receipts for the past fiscal year increased $56,553,419 from customs over the previous year, and $102.536,520 from internal revenue. Total receipts were $1,038,451,340; disburse There was a fiscal surplus of $100,791,521.

To the Crimea Great Brittain sent 26,000 infantry, 60 guns, and about 1,000 cavalry. During the Waterloo campaign she had little over 30,000 British troops, and even that included the "German Legion," which was then reckoned among them. At Waterloo itself she had only 15,000 British infantry. During the Tel-el-Kebir campaign she sent to Egypt a little over 30,000 men.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER

The Conservative Leader's Speech at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Nov. 8 .- Sir Charles Tupper opened his Manitoba series of meetings at Selkirk Hall, this city, last evening. The hall, which has a seating capacity of about twelve hundred, was well filled. Hon. Sir Hugh John Macdonald presided, and the presence of a baras band helped to enliven the proceedings. "The Soldiers of the Queen" was admirably sung by a local vocalist, after which Mr. Macdonald briefly introduced Str. Charles Mr. briefly introduced Sir. Charles. Mr.

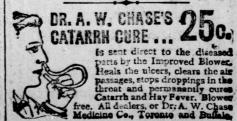

Macdonal said he had an almost unlimited admiration for his leader. Ever since Sir Charles Tupper came back from England to take the reins of government the enemy had endeavor-ed to instill into the people the idea that Sir Charles had tried to take an umfair share of the credit for the Conservative party's work at the expense of his father, the late Sir John Mac-donald, but he gave an explicit denial to this. Moreover, Sir Charles had not told the people of Canada half what he had done for the interests of the country, to which he had given the whole of his talents. Sir Charles. on rising was received with applause and was presented with a bouquet by a little girl. Sir Charles, at the outset of his speech, said that it gave him unfeigned pleasure to meet the citizens of Winnipeg, and he felt that if there was any part of the Dominion to which he could look with the deepest confidence it was this western country. He had felt from the hour of confederation that the future of the Dominion lay in this section, and he was never surer of the soundness of this conviction than now. He believed that Winnipeg was the great golden gate to this country, and was glad to find it making such progress. As he witnessed the unparalleled development of Winnipeg he felt the immense importance of the measures which had enabled this country to be developed. If Canada was to obtain a commanding position it was due to the opportunity of de-velopment given to this portion of country lying west of Lake Superior and extending to the Pacific Ocean. On the opening of the last great parliamentary compaign he had chosen Winnipeg as the point to deliver his first campaign speech of that great battle. He was not disappointed when he appealed to the people of Manitoba on that great issue. He had come back, and had no hesitation in saying that he had been correctly advised some time ago, that the government was to appeal to the Dominion again next January, and he resolved to take this opportunity of speaking to the western people and presenting his case. He was not quite sure, however, that the event was so near, as the struggle might be further postponed. He found that an energetic campaign was being carried on by members of the government in this section, and asked whether this was intended as evidence of a. coming strigugle or that the govern-ment felt it necessary to plead their cause in Manitoba. He hoped the pend-ing struggle in the Manitoba Provincial elections would have a great and commanding influence in the general election of the Dominion. Sir Charies then devoted nearly two hours of his speech in replying to a Free Press editorial published Tuesday morning, in which questions were asked regarding the tariff and other questions regarding other issues. He closed with re-ference to the Yukon and Canadian

Sir Charles Tupper claimed the Conservative party had never been de-feated by the Liberals. The latter had not a majority now, and never had. Sir John Macdonald fell through the railway excitement in 1873, and in 1890 they were beaten by Conservative not Liberal, votes on the remedial bill. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the school ques-tion was settled, but he was about the only man in the country who said so.

Local Market.

London, Thursday, Nov. 9. Everything combined to make this morning's market a good one—the clear, keen weather, the good condition of the roads, and the fact that previous markets have been small, all contributed to make better one of the largest and most satisfactory Thursday markets that have been held for some time past. Apparently there was not an over-supply in any line, and as one exchange from supplier to supplied followed stead y after another, the effect was seen on the cheery faces of the customers, and by the serene look of content that overspread the features of the farmer. As a general rule the prices of previous markets prevailed today, and seemingly they were satisfactory on both sides. Poul-try was supplied in large quantities So, also, were eggs, but a larger amount of butter could have been handled with ease, while other commodities were supplied in amounts adequate to

Terrible Outrage Perpetrated in Clinton.

An Invalid Woman Robbed and Almost Murdered by a Masked Ruffian.

Clinton, Ont., Nov. 8.-About seven o'clock last evening an unknown man entered the back door of Mr. Charles Carline's residence during the latter's temporary absence. Mrs. Carline, who is an invalid, and confined to bed from a fracture of her thigh bone, called out: "Is that you Charlie?" when the intruder opened the room door, saying: "wnere does the boss keep his

Mrs. Carline said he had it with him, and all she had vas in a purse in a bureau drawer. The man hunted up the purse, took out three 25-cent scrips and threw down the purse. He then made a rush at her, saying he would kill her for telling such a Mrs. Carline had a walking stick by her bedside, and attempted to defend herself with it, striking him a blow on the cheek. He wrenched the stick from her and struck her a savage blow on the top of the head and another on the right temple.

She cried out, "Oh, be merciful! I've been lying here for eight weeks with a broken leg."

With this the fiend pulled away the bedclothes and belabored her un-mercifully on the limbs, the injured one not being spared. Holding one hand over her mouth as she was trying to scream and give the alarm, he said: "I will hammer your brains out or smother you," at the same time taking a bottle from his pocket.

Mrs. Carline, thinking it chloroform, put her hand over her nose and mouth. The wretch poured the contents of the bottle over her hands and face. As the fumes of carbolic acid arose, he said: "I brought the wrong bottle, but I will kill you anyway."

She said: "You may kill my body, but you cannot kill my soul. It belongs

Becoming alarmed, he dropped the stick and ran out of the front door, which he had opened before entering her room. Parties just then passing, hearing the woman's screams, went in and sent for a doctor, as she was burn-ed on hands and face with the acid, and suffering awful agony from the business, as well as the nervous shock, but did not lose consciousness. The man, she says had a peak cap pulled over his eyes, and a scarf covering the lower part of his face, mask-Mr. Carline had just gone to the postoffice, as was his custom at that hour, and the fiend evidently watched him go out and knew the woman was alone and helpless. suitability in the varied climates of this country. They afford the utmost protection for children and grown people during the sleeping hours, which medical authorities have decided is the time most liable to promote sickness from exposure to cold. It makes no difference whether the children kick out of the clothes or not. More than one half the ills of children arise from becoming chilled from exposure by kicking out of their clothes at night. Large numbers of grown people catch cold from getting out of their warm bed and having their feet exposed at night. The comfort of being able to have a warm, soft garment safely brought down to cover the feet during the extreme cold of our long winters, is a comfort that cannot be obtained by any other sleeping garments. President Mills of the Silica-Barytic Company Doesn't Like Discrimination.

Mr. Walter Mills, mayor of Ingersoll, and president of the Silica-Barytic Company, was in the city yesterday. He claimed that his company, in the construction of the cement walks, south of Dundas street, this year, had lived up to the specifications to the letter. Basing his estimate on the inspector's returns, he held that they had used $1,500 worth of cement more than the contractor who laid the walks north of Dundas street. was done by each under the same specifications, and he thought the Silica-Barytic Company should be refunded the $1,500 if the council was satisfied that Contractor Graham had done the work the specifications called for. "How could the exact amount of cement used by each be shown other than by the inspectors' reports?" Mr. Mills was asked.

"By the books of the cement company. We are prepared to account for every pound of cement used. Contractor Graham could do the same.' Mr. Mills was surprised at the sudden coolness of the council in the mat ter. "That may have been an investi-gation in London," he said; "but we would not call it so in Ingersoll."

City Hall Notes.

Chair man Douglass, of the board of works, has respect for precedent. He evidently regards the board's overdraft as an established annual custom, and one not to be departed from. The cause of the overdraft this year is not far to seek. Some of the surplus expenditure is accounted for by the needless purchase of the Weld gravel pit at $600, the payment of 1/2 a cent more on the Graham cement walk contract than the Silica-Barytic Company's tender, making a deficit of $1,100 for the season, and the expenditure of $1,500 for work on the West London breakwater, for much of which two prices were paid. If the board this year had handled the usual $12,000 for plank sidewalks they would have been credited with $50,000, added to which was $3,400 remaining from the appropriation from the sewer debenture fund. Moreover, they have expended $600 less for street cleaning than was spent last year.

CHAS. ABBOTT,

178 King Street, London. Phone 1283 Local Market. London, Thursday, Nov. 9.

Everything combined to make this morning's market a good one—the clear, keen weather, the good condition of the roads, and the fact that previous markets have been small, all contributed to make better one of the largest and most satisfactory Thurs-day markets that have been held for some time past. Apparently there was not an over-supply in any line, and as one exchange from supplier to supplied followed steamy after another, the effect was seen on the cheery faces of the customers, and by the serene look of content that overspread the features of the farmer. As a general rule the prices of previous markets prevailed today, and seemingly they were satisfactory on both sides. Poul-try was supplied in large quantities also, were eggs, but a larger amount of butter could have been handled with ease, while other commodities were supplied in amounts adequate to

Terrible Outrage Perpetrated in Clinton.

An Invalid Woman Robbed and Almost Murdered by a Masked Ruffian

Clinton, Ont., Nov. 8.-About seven o'clock last evening an unknown man entered the back door of Mr. Charles Carline's residence during the latter's temporary absence. Mrs. Carline, who is an invalid, and confined to bed from a fracture of her thigh bone, called out: "Is that you Charlie?" when the intruder opened the room door, saying:

where does the boss keep his Mrs. Carline said he had it with him, and all she had vas in a purse in a bureau drawer.
The man hunted up the purse, took out three 25-cent scrips and threw down the purse. He then made a rush at her, saying he would kill her for telling such a lie.

Mrs. Carline had a walking stick by her bedside, and attempted to defend herself with it, striking him a blow on the cheek. He wrenched the stick from her and struck her a savage blow on the top of the head and another on the right temple. She cried out, "Oh, be merciful! I've been lying here for eight weeks with a broken leg.' With this the fiend pulled away the bedeiothes and belabored her unmercifully on the limbs, the injured one not being spared. Holding one hand over her mouth as she was trying to scream and give the alarm, he said: "I will hammer your brains out or smother you," at the same time taking a bottle from his pocket.

Mrs. Carline, thinking it chloroform, put her hand over her nose and mouth. The wretch poured the contents of the bottle over her hands and face. As the fumes of carbolic acid arose, he said: "I brought the wrong bottle, but I will kill you anyway."

She said: "You may kill my body, but you cannot kill my soul. It belongs to the Lord." Becoming alarmed, he dropped the stick and ran out of the front door, which he had opened before entering her room. Parties just them passing, hearing the woman's screams, went in and sent for a doctor, as she was burn-ed on hands and face with the acid, and suffering awful agony from the business, as well as the nervous shock, but did not lose consciousness. The man, she says had a peak cap pulled over his eyes, and a scarf covering the lower part of his face, mask-

Mr. Carline had just gone to the postoffice, as was his custom at that hour, and the fiend evidently watched him go out and knew the woman was alone and helpless. Up to a late hour this evening no trace of the would-be-murderer had been discov-

SURE COMFORT FOR COLD NIGHTS.

In introducing Dr. Denton's Sleeping Garments, we do so only after the most careful investigation and trial of their suitability in the varied climates of this country. They afford the utmost protection for children and grown people during the sleeping hours, which medical authorities have decided is the time most liable to promote sickness from exposure to cold. It makes no difference whether the children kick out of the clothes or not. More than one half the ills of children arise from becoming chilled from exposure by kicking out of their clothes at night. Large numbers of grown people catch cold from getting out of their warm bed and having their feet exposed at night. The comfort of being able to have a warm, soft garment safely brought down to cover the feet during the extreme cold of our long winters, is a comfort that cannot be obtained by any other sleeping garments. Inspection invited. Plaid Dress Goods.

President Mills of the Silica-Barytic Company Doesn't Like Discrimination.

Mr. Walter Mills, mayor of Ingersoll, and president of the Silica-Barytic Company, was in the city yesterday. He claimed that his company, in the construction of the cement walks, south of Dundas street, this year, had lived up to the specifications to the letter. Basing his estimate on the inspector's returns, he held that they had used $1,500 worth of cement more than the contractor who laid the walks north of Dundas street. The work was done by each under the same specifications, and he thought the Silica-Barytic Company should be refunded the $1,500 if the council was satisfied the Contractor Conden bas satisfied that Contractor Graham had done the work the specifications called for.

"How could the exact amount of cement used by each be shown other than by the inspectors' reports?" Mr. Mills was asked.

"By the books of the cement company. We are prepared to account for every pound of cement used. Contractor Graham could do the same. Mr. Mills was surprised at the sudden coolness of the council in the mat ter. "That may have been an investi-gation in London," he said; "but we would not call it so in Ingersoll.'

City Hall Notes.

Chair man Douglass, of the board of works, has respect for precedent. He evidently regards the board's overdraft as an established annual custom, and one not to be departed from. The cause of the overdraft this year is not far to seek. Some of the surplus expendi-ture is accounted for by the needless purchase of the Weld gravel pit at $600, the payment of ½ a cent more on the Graham cement walk contract than the Sillica-Barytic Company's tender, making a deficit of $1,100 for the season, and the expenditure of $1,500 for work on the West London breakwater, for much of which two prices were paid. If the board this year had handled the usual $12,000 for plank sidewalks they would have been credited with $50,000. added to which was $3,400 remaining from the appropriation from the sewer debenture fund. Moreover, they have expended $600 less for street cleaning than was spent last year.

The pair went to Buffalo, and on the way to Niagara Tucker gave Farmer $6 26 in money and one of the rings. They grew tired of Buffalo and

The Victim Dead-One of the Thieves Wounded.

Toronto, Nov. 9 .- Two burglars entered the house of John E. Varcoe, grocer, 182 Queen street east, at a few minutes before 2 o'clock this morning, and in an endeavor to rob him, shot Mr. Varcoe in the groin and right side. They then endeavored to escape, with the result that one jumped from a second story window and hurt himself badly, being found on the ground by Patrol-Sergt. Willis when the alarm was sounded. The other ran down Sherbourre street, followed by P. C. Dickson, who fired four shots at him, finally bringing him down near Duchess street. Both men were then taken to No. 2 police station in the ambu-

THE ALARM.

Varcoe was awakened about 2 o'clock by hearing noises in the hallway leading to his room. He called to his clerk. room, and as he arose from his bed a was pointed in his face. Varcoe grabbed a chair which was near the bed, and was in the act of striking thief when he received the two shots in his groin. He fell exhausted on the bed, and his assailant ran out of the door.

A SECOND MAN ARMED.

Thomas could not offer any assistance, because he was overpowered by another burglar, who also carried a firearm. After the shots were fired the thieves ran down to the next flat and through a front room to the window. The sash was fastened, and the burglars smashed the glass in their mad attempt to escape. Both jumped to the stone sidewalk below, a distance of fifteen feet.

Thomas McIntosh was stunned by the fall and was unable to rise. The other ran east on Queen street. P. C. Dickson, who heard the pistol shots. left the unconscious burglar on the walk and chased his accomplice down Sherbourne street; but, despite the policeman's threats to shoot if he did stop, the fugitive continued on the run.

WILLIAMS WAS THEN SHOT. At Britain street, Constable Dickson fired four shots, one of them taking effect on Williams' leg. This felled him, and he was quickly handed to Patrol Sergt Willis, Constable Dickson then returned to the scene of the shooting robbery and found McIntosh gradually reviving. He was also taken into custody.

Meanwhile Thomas had summoned two physicians, and Varco was removed to the hospital. COOL RASCALS.

The thieves got in by forcing a cellar window with a cold chisel. Going up into the shop, they took every thing of value. After ransacking the whole place, the thieves sat down and enjoyed a hearty meal prepared by them, using the canned goods found on the shelves. The robbers had almost completed the job when discovered They then pilfered the drawers and clothes of everyone sleeping in the premises. The money and valuables were missed after the arrest of the

London, Nov. 9 .- The absence of stirring war news and the rehabilitation in estimation of the British public of Gen. POLITICAL FEATURES OF SOUTH AFRICA, and a conflict s confidently predicted in some quarters. Lord Salisbury, at the lord mayor's banquet tonight, will outline the government's policy in regard to the future government of the Transvaal and Orange Free State, and explain that the references in the Queen's speech to "military operations" (not war), and restoring peace and good government to that portion of my empire," meant nothing more or less than that, in the opinion of the government, land Cemetery from the residence of President Kruger, by making war on

But if Lord Salisbury is prepared, at this early stage of the operations, to definitely announce his policy of the future, when apparently so many problems remain to be solved, both during and after the war, he must have reached more definite understandings with several of the powers than the public is aware of. The premier's speech, therefore, is awaited with considerable interest, and it seems certain that he will at least be able to announce that the talk of European intervention is groundless.

LITTLE NEWS FROM THE FRONT. Beyond the crop or ever recurring rumors, mostly without foundation, there is little news from the front. The official dispatch from Gen. shows Ladysmith was still in fighting trim Sunday and anticipating a recommencement of the bombardment on Monday. There is nothing apparently, to justify the triumphant utterances of the British press. While, it is admitted, there is some room for congratulation, there is, it is said,

ROOM FOR GRAVE FEAR. The announcement yesterday that 3,-000 Boers with big guns had left Pretoria on their way to the southern border is said to be merely a ruse to hide the real destination of this force, which, it is believed, is Ladysmith. Those who are best qualified to express an opinion on the subject believe that the quiescence of the Boers is ominous, and they expect shortly hear of large accessions to the Boer guns in position and a severe bombardment of the beleagured camp. The restoration of railroad communication, therefore is seemingly a matter

MOST URGENT IMPORTANCE. as probably Gen. White's most pressing need at present is a supply of ammunition for the naval gune of which several truck loads are understood to be at Eestcourt, awaiting a clear line It is considered doubtful if this will reach Gen. The constant delay in the departure of British transports, owing to the bad quality of the food supplies shipped by the contractors is occasioning a scandal and great indignation. The Arawa yesterday had to be delayed 24 hours owing to the fact that 15,000 pounds of rotten English colonial beef and mutton had to be replaced. the meat had to be taken out of the ship and dumped overboard at sea.

The best method for the treatment of the criminal is coming, rightly or wrongly, to be called the Elmira system. The Strange Metamorphosis.

But the enemy's spirit began to Blacken: one after another of the players still left to the opposite side succeeded in outrunning pursuit and touching the foremost prisoner for the time being, so as to set him free by the rules of the game. The doctor went in again, and the enemy relapsed as usual into total indifference, so that Paul, without exactly knowing how, soon found himself the only one left in goal, unnoticed and apparently for-

He could not see anything through the darkness, but he heard the voices of the boys disputing at the other side of the playground; he looked round; at his right was the indistinct form of a large laurel bush, behind which he knew was the playground gate. Could it be that his chance had come

He slipped behind the laurel and waited, holding his breath; the dispute atill went on; no one seemed to have noticed him-probably the darkness prevented all chance of that. He went on tiptoe to the gate-it was not lock-

He opened it very carefully a little way; it was forbearing enough not to creak, and the next moment he was outside, free to go where he would! Escape, after all, was simple enough when he came to try it; he could hard-ly believe at first that he really was free at last; free with money enough in his pocket to take him home, with the friendly darkness to cover his retreat; free to go back and confront Dick on his own ground, and, by force fraud, get the Garuda Stone into his own hands once more.

As yet he never doubted that it would be easy to convince his household, if necessary, of the truth of his story, and enlist them one and all on his side; all that he required, he thought, was caution; he must reach the house unobserved, and wait and watch, and the deuce would be in it if the stone were not safe in his pocket again before twelve hours had gone by.

All this time he was still within a hundred vards or so of the playground; he must decide upon some particular route, some definite method of ordering his flight; to stop where he was any longer would clearly be unwise, yet

With this intention he walked on toward the town till he came to a small terrace of shops, when he went into the first, which was a stationer's and toy-dealer's, with a stock-in-trade of cheap wooden toys and incompre-hensible games, drawing slates, penny packets of stationery, and cards of pen and pencil holders, and a particularly stuffy atmosphere; the proprietor, a short man with a fat, white face, with a rich glaze all over it, and a fringe of ragged brown whisker meeting under his chin, was sitting behind the counter posting up his ledger. Paul looked round the shop in search of something to purchase; and at last said, more nervously than he expected to do, "I want a pencil case—one which screws up and down." He thought a pencil case would be an innocent, unsuspicious thing to ask for. The man cases of every imaginable shape on the else. Mr. Bultitude saw what a fearful trap he had fallen into, and stood speechless.

"Go along with you!" said the little "Go along with you!" said the little stationer, with a not unkindly grin. "Lor' bless you, I knew your face the minnit you come in. To go and tell me a brazen story like that! You're a young pickle, you are!"

Mr. Buititude began to shuffle feebly toward the door. "Pickle, eh?" he protested, in great discomposure. "No, no. Heaven knows I'm no pickle. It's of no consequence about those trains. Don't trouble. Good-evening to you."

"Stop!" said the man; "don't be in such a hurry now. You tell me what you want to know straightforward, and I don't mean to say as I won't help you so far as I can. Don't be afraid of my telling no tales. I've bin a schoolboy myself in my time, bless your 'art. I shouldn't wonder now if I con'an't make a pretty good guess without telling at what you're after. You've bin a catchin' of it hot, and you want to make a clean bolt of it I ain't very far off, now, am I?" "No," said Paul, for something in the man's manner inspired confidence. "I do want to make a bolt of it. I've been most abominably treated." "Well, look here; I ain't got no right to interfere; and, if you're caught, I look to you not to bring my name in. I don't want to get into trouble up at Crichton House and lose good customers, you see. But I like the looks of you, and you've always dealt 'ere pretty regular. I don't mind if I give you a lift. Just see here. You want to get to London, don't you? What for is your business, not mine. Well, there's a train, express, stops at only one station on the way, in at 5:50. It's twenty minnits to six now. If you take that road just opposite, it'll bring you out at the end of the Station Road; you can do it easy in ten minnits and have time to spare. So cut away, and good luck to you!" "I'm vastly obliged to you," said Paul, and he meant it. It was a new experience to find any one offering him assistance. He left the close little shop, crossed the road, and started off in the direction indicated to him at a

He ran on, past a series of villa residences inclosed in varnished palings adorned with that medieval abundance of turrets, balconies and cheap stained glass, which is accepted nowadays as a guarantee of the tenant's culture, and a satisfactory substitute for effective drainage. After the villas came a church, and a few yards farther on the road turned with a sharp curve into the main thoroughfare leading to the station.

He was so near it that he could hear the shrill engine whistles, and the banging of trucks on the railway sidings echoed sharply from the neigh-horing houses. He was saved, in sight

Coggs growled sulkily; Coker gave a tragic groan, and said: "I don't care when you tell, Chawner. Do it tonight suspicious thing to ask to the set rows of cards containing pencil if you like. Let's talk about something cases of every imaginable shape on the else. Bultitude hasn't told us yet how

All Preparations for a Second Canadian Contingent Stopped.

[Special to The Advertiser per C.P.R.] Ottawa, Nov. 9.-The preparations for the second Canadian contingent, which were going on quietly at the militia department, were all called off last evening. Telegrams were sent to Messrs. Sanford & Co., Hamilton, Messrs. No orders were given for anything which will not be required by the mil-

Hospital Trust Will Charge Only $2 95 for Some of the Private Rooms in the New Building-A Scale Fixed.

The hospital trust has fixed the weekly rate for the 28 rooms in the private patients' pavilion at the Victoria Hospital. The rooms are graded, and the scale of prices is as follows: Eight rooms at $2 95; 6 rooms at $7; 6 rooms at $8, and 8 rooms at $10. Heretofore, in the old building, a uniform charge of 90 cents a day—$6 30 a week—has been made. Mayor Wilson says the opening of the new building will not be postponed, but will take place Nov. 15, as previously announced. Until the council formally turns the building over to the trust the patients can not be moved out of the old building, and the contractors will be delayed with their work in consequence. Th administration building will be furnished by the opening day.

COMMITTED ON FOURTH CHARGE

Herbert Wilson To Be Tried for Robbing Mrs. Smith.

Herbert Wilson was examined at the police court this morning on a charge of robbing Mrs. Margaret Smith of $15. Wilson was sent for trial. He is awaiting trial on four different charges.

Mrs. Smith said that a young man, whom she believed to be Wilson, came to her store at the corner of Waterloo and Horton streets, on the evening of Saturday, Oct. 14, and bought 5 cents' worth of candy. He offered her a $10 American bill in payment, but she would not accept it, as it was Ameriwhich was probably the result of the harrowing experiences he had lately undergone, he hit upon a plan of action. Chester Lang, a youth, who went to the store to do some purchasing, swore that he saw Wilson on the veranda in front of the store about 6:30 on the night of the robbery. He saw him about 15 minutes later walking up and down the street near the store. The magistrate, after hearing the evidence, committed the prisoner for trial.

Finally, Miss Arthur came to a dead stop in the play and ordered the currung down. She then came before the footlights, and made an indignant little speech, which, though ladylike in tone, was effective. She said she was extremely sorry that the play should be interrupted, but she was quite sure that the audience were as much annoyed as both she and her company had been by the conduct of certain persons

Everybody in the theater applauded tremendously except the occupants of the boxes. The offenders against good manners gathered up their wraps and departed. The play then proceeded.

THE COLUMBIA. New York, Nov. 9.-Unless C. Oliver Iselin and J. Pierpont Morgan change their minds, the Columbia will be sent abroad this winter or next spring. The Columbia is now dismantled and lies anchored off Hawkins' yard, City Island. Mr. Iselin, the Herald avers, has made his last American cup race. Crankshaw's Criminal Code Sy nopsis.

We have received from the publisher* an analytical synopsis of the Criminal Code of Canada and of the Canada Evidence Act, 1893, by James Crank-shaw, B.C.L., of the Montreal bar, author of Crankshaw's Annotated Criminal Code, and of the Practical Guide for Police Magistrates and Justices of the Peace. The present volume is, as it professes to be, a concise synopsis of the statutory criminal and evidence law of Canada. It furnishes, without a word of unnecessary verbiage, in a small compass, a survey of the whole field, and will be very valuable to law students, justices of the peace and police officers, as well as to members of the legal profession, especially to those of them who are only occasionally called upon for the application of the criminal law, to whom it will act as a refresher. There is no index, which is perhaps as unnecessary in such a work as it would be in a directory; although we con-fess that in this age one wants to waste no time or trouble in arriving at what is wanted. The work is in-tended to be supplementary to the statute law, and fills a want which is not otherwise attempted. We note that the Code provides that any action against any person for any-thing purporting to be done pursuant to the criminal law of Canada, provides that it shall be announced within six months and one month's notice New York, Nov. 9.—Miss Julia Arthur, white playing in "More Than Queen," at the Broadway Theater last Queen," at the Broadway Theater last the exclusive jurisdiction of the Provincial Legislatures. has done it faithfully. The author has, perhaps, in some cases, been too concise, e.g., in the Evidence Act he omits to state that the laws of evidence in force in the provinces in which proceedings are taken shall apply, when not varied, or otherwise provided by the act. This, however, does not mar the plan of this work, which presupposes that the reader has some knowledge of the law other than the Statutes of Canada.

As there are two wards in the pavilion, the question was speedily settled. Each of the philanthropic ladies will furnish a ward at a cost of $400 or $500.

WHEN GEN. BULLER WAS IN LONDON

An Old Soldier Recalls the Commander's Experience Here as Lieutenant.

General Buller, now in command of the British forces in South Africa, has an old acquaintance in London, in the person of Mr. Jerry McCarthy, of 28 Horton street. Their acquaintance dates back thirty years. To an Advertiser reporter yesterday Mr. Mc-Carthy said he remembered General Buller well as a lieutenant in the 4th battalion of the 60th Rifles, stationed in London 30 years ago. His company was No. 9, in which Mr. McCarthy was a private. In 1869 the battalion left here for Nova Scotia, en route to Egypt, where General—then Lieutenant—Buller won his first chief distinction. Prior to the Egyptian war Mr. McCarthy remembers General Buller at Fort Erie with the 60th Rifles, during the Fenian

TAXES ON MCMASTER ESTATE. Toronto, Nov. 9 .- Judge MacDougall resterday gave an important decision in the case of an appeal of the late trustees of the late Senator McMaster against the taxation of the income of the estate, which forms the McMaster University, and which, on that ground, they held should be exempt. The judge declared that money in the hands of trustees was as much a subject for taxation as in the hands of original owners, no matter to what purpose it was applied. The estate must therefore pay taxes on an annual income of $21,421.
