

Fight Between the City and Company Is Reopened

London Street Railway Asks Terms Which Mayor and Sub-Committee Could Not Accept—Committee Meets This Afternoon to Read Riot Act.

"The idea of the company's solicitor appears to be to bluff the thing over till next year, but we intend to see that what is coming to the city shall be delivered at once. The committee, at its meeting this afternoon at 5 o'clock, will see that the rights of the people are protected."—Mayor Graham.

The fight between the London street railway, which was at its height a few weeks ago, and which after a few days appeared to have been amicably settled, has broken out again, as the result of a meeting held in the city hall last night. Ald. Bradford, City Solicitor Meredith and Mayor Graham, forming the sub-committee and the special street railway committee, had a conference with Manager King and Solicitor Ivey, of the street railway, and the city and the company split clean for a battle.

In a nutshell, the company wants the city to allow it to go ahead and make what improvements it likes on the line or the streets, and also what changes it deems fit, without giving the city anything in the way of track extension.

To this the city replies that the company must give the north end extension first, and later it can talk over such matters as the double-tracking of Horton street, the Hamilton road, etc.

WHAT COMPANY ASKED.

Mr. Ivey was no way backward in his demands last night. He asked first that the company be allowed to go ahead with its plans as agreed to by the city some time ago, and that later the matter of street railway extension could be taken up.

He also asked that the city make application to the railway commission for permission to build a subway at the Adelaide street crossing of the C. P. R., to accommodate the proposed north end extension.

To both propositions the city solicitor gave a flat refusal, and the result was a deadlock, which will likely reopen the big fight with the company which appeared to have been ended some time ago.

The company wants the city to allow it to remove the Wellington street line to Richmond street before any amount is made to build the north end extension, but the city pointed out that if this were done someone might issue an injunction against the Wellington street removal and the north end extension would be held up until the case was settled.

This afternoon at 5 o'clock the special street railway committee of the city council will meet, and it is expected that it will again serve notice on the company to give the city the extensions to which it is entitled.

HANNA, TUPPER AND MEREDITH NOMINATED FOR COMMISSION

Successor to Mabey Not Likely To Be Named Until the Fall.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, June 26.—It is understood that before separating for the summer the Government considered the appointment of a chairman for the railway commission. Several names were discussed, but the ministers were unable to reach an agreement.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary of Ontario; Sir Charles Hildbert Tupper and T. G. Meredith, K.C., of London, were nominated for the place by various ministers, and some other names were suggested for the place, but on none could a unanimous agreement be reached.

BOMBS AND DYNAMITE FOUND IN GRIP OF SARNIA BAD MAN

Complete Counterfeiting Outfit and Many Coins Lead Police To Believe That They Have Made a Most Important Capture—Detective Had Close Call.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, June 26.—Frank Malton, the foreigner who shot G. T. Policeman Marshall and who was captured near Blackwell after a sensational pistol fight, in which the prisoner was shot through the neck, has been taken to the local jail. Dr. Henderson made an examination of the man's injuries and found that he had a bullet hole through the neck, one through the finger, and a serious cut on the leg. After bandaging up the wounds the doctor considered it safe to remove him to the jail.

Malton gives his age as 25 and his appearance easily indicates that this is very close to the truth. He is not at all a vicious looking character, but does his face contain any noticeable indications of criminality. Nevertheless he has proven the most desperate man the local police have had to deal with in some time.

A Bad Man's Kit. His suit case, which contained several bombs, dynamite caps, a counterfeiting outfit and a burglar's kit, suggest that he is in all likelihood a man with a bad record. It is believed by the local officials that Malton has committed some serious crime in the States, probably murder, hence his sensational but unsuccessful efforts to escape when detained by the immigration officials here.

When lying in an improvised cot in the police station today he was repeatedly questioned by the attending physicians and the authorities, but the only information gained was that a picture found in his pocket was that of his brother, whom he says lives in Los Angeles. The brother's name he refused to give. Frank Malton, the name which he gave to the police, is believed to be an assumed one.

The pistol fight which resulted in his capture was one of the most sensational affairs that has ever occurred in this part of the Province. The officers who made the arrest took appalling chances of being shot, and it was while Detective Acton in particular, who escaped death only by a hairs-breadth.

A Close Call. After succeeding in throwing the man to the ground, the fight continued with unabated fierceness, officers and man struggling together on the ground. Malton, who retained his hold on his automatic pistol, and it was while Detective Acton was kneeling over him that the Polack shot up at him. Mr. Acton jerked his head back just in time to escape the shot, but so narrow was the margin by which he was missed that the powder burned his face. He was also severely bitten in the hand during the battle. Shortly after arriving at police headquarters, the prisoner asked that a priest be sent for. His request was complied with, and Father Kennedy came and stayed with him for some time.

It is very probable that the United States secret service will be interested in the case, counterfeiting devices being found in Malton's suitcases as well as the number of bogus American coins found on his person. The money is a very valuable imitation of United States half-dollars and dollars. The authorities here have communicated with the various American cities, especially Chicago, to ascertain if possible the man's identity and record.

YOUTH DROWNED IN THAMES SWIMMING IN NORTH BRANCH

Norman Milligan, of 865 Waterloo Street, Lost His Life While Bathing in the River Near Dexter's Dam This Afternoon.

Word was received this afternoon at the police station shortly after three o'clock that a youth, named Norman Milligan, about seventeen years of age, was drowned while swimming at Dexter's dam. He was a son of Mr. H. L. Milligan, of 865 Waterloo street, cashier for the McClary Manufacturing Company.

No particulars of the accident could be learned, but it is thought that the young fellow, who was in swimming with several other boys, waded out into a hole and got beyond his depth.

before his companions could reach him.

Twenty Feet of Water.

The body is supposed to be in twenty feet of water, and grappling irons were sent out with Chief Aitken and one of the firemen.

This is the second drowning at this point in the past month, the young son of Thomas C. Cochran, Irwin street, West London, being drowned in the same spot about three weeks ago.

The lad when drowned was bathing with a chum named Johnston, and a younger brother. His father, who is a cashier at McClary's, is at present out of the city on his vacation.

PT. STANLEY PEOPLE ARE INTERESTED

Are Very Anxious That Sunday Cars to Port Shall Be Operated.

COMPANY TO APPEAL

A Meeting Being Held in Toronto Today by Directors of London and Lake Erie Company.

The judgment of Chancellor Boyd in the case of Kerlie vs. the London and Lake Erie Railway Company is of great importance to London people who have been in the habit of enjoying Sundays at the lakeside, but it is of infinitely more importance to the scores of people who are in business with the Port, and who sell food and soft drinks to hungry and thirsty visitors.

The directors of the company are meeting in Toronto today to consider the case, and Mr. T. H. Purdon, K.C., secretary-treasurer of the railway, is authority for the statement that there appears to be no doubt that the company will appeal the case.

It is said that the Pere Marquette Railway does not come under the effects of the judgment, and that the steam line will be permitted to operate cars to the lakeside on Sunday as usual.

The Company's Contentions. Though the name of William Kerlie appears in the action, it is really the Lord's Day Alliance that is behind the suit. The alliance declared that the company was violating the law in operating cars, and the company claimed that as its charter was granted by the Dominion, that part of the railway act under which the case was brought into the courts did not apply. The section referred to states that "No company operating an electric railway shall operate the same or employ any person thereon on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, except for the purpose of keeping the track clear of snow or ice, or for the purpose of doing other work of necessity."

The directors of the London and Lake Erie Company are: W. K. George, Toronto, president; Geo. B. Wood, Toronto, vice-president; T. H. Purdon, K.C., secretary-treasurer; John Milne and John Purdon, London; J. B. Holden, barrister, Toronto, and John W. Scott, banker, Listowel, directors.

Woodstock Liberals Coming

A representatives of the committee in charge of the demonstration for Mr. Rowell on Dominion Day, was in Woodstock last evening, when a meeting of the Young Liberal Club of that city was held. Further arrangements were then made for taking part in the rally on Monday. The prospects are there will be a large attendance, not only from Woodstock, but from various places in North Oxford, which is the riding represented in the Ontario Legislature by Mr. N. W. Rowell, the Opposition leader.

As the Grand Trunk Flyer, leaving here at 6:53 p.m., does not stop this side of Ingersoll, the residents of Dorchester and other stations to the east have expressed a desire to be able to leave London on the Grand Trunk train leaving here at 4:25. This is one reason the committee intends to have the proceedings start sharp on time.

MUCH MONEY COLLECTED FOR PLAYGROUNDS MOVEMENT

Ladies Who Canvassed the City on Tuesday Are Again Engaged in the Good Work—Citizens Appear Willing To Help Along the Scheme in This City.

Although no definite returns are as yet obtainable to cover the donations from the entire city, the officers of the Central Association in charge of the Playgrounds' Movement are confident that the general canvass inaugurated yesterday brought forth pleasing results. An effort was made last night and this morning to compile the results, but many of the representatives of the Mothers' Clubs of the different schools who engaged in the work, were still out in the districts allotted them.

Ready cash was forthcoming everywhere, it is said, and refusals to assist in the scheme were seldom heard. Many of the pledge cards were also distributed, and carry with them promises of the payment of a great deal more within the next few days.

Mrs. Hughes, president of Princess Avenue Mothers' Club, had obtained $160 last evening, and today expected to bring the amount up to $200.

Mrs. George Gibbons, in the business section, received donations to the extent of $50, while the reports of others were equally gratifying. (Continued on Page Ten.)

FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY KILLED UNDER HARROW

Climbed On To Seat When Uncle Stopped To Pick Up Stones.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Varna, June 26.—Samuel Murray, aged 5, was so badly mangled beneath a disc harrow yesterday that he died in his mother's arms before a doctor could arrive. The little fellow resides with his widowed mother on a farm adjoining that of his uncle, Thomas Robinson, of the Goshen line, in Stanley Township. Seeing his uncle harrowing, he ran across the field to watch the work.

Mr. Robinson got down for a minute to take a couple of big stones that he saw out of the way. The child in his absence climbed onto the seat of the harrow and frightened the horses. The animals bolted and he was thrown under the machine. Mr. Robinson rushed to his assistance, but it was too late. The child was literally cut to pieces. He remained conscious all the time and spoke to his mother many times. The boy's father died three years ago. The funeral will be held on Thursday at 2 o'clock to the Bayfield Cemetery.

Tremendous Fire Raging in Town Near City of Montreal.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, June 26.—Shortly after 11 o'clock this morning the Montreal fire department received an appeal for help from the town of Ste. Scholastique, 32 miles northeast of Montreal, where it was said a tremendous fire was raging. An engine and a force of men were at once dispatched on a special train.

Attempts made this morning to reach the town by telegraph and telephone failed, as the wires were all down at Ste. Scholastique.

MILLIONS INVOLVED IN THIS POWER DEAL

Conditions Under Which Mackenzie Secures Hamilton Plant.

[Canadian Press.]

Hamilton, June 26.—It was learned today that the basis on which Sir William Mackenzie secured the Dominion Power and Transmission Company and all its holdings was 125 for preferred stock, 110 for limited preferred, and 100 for common. Approximately $25,000,000 is involved in the deal, which will be finally closed shortly. The present management will remain in charge until all stock is paid up. It is understood that some of the large stockholders of the old company will purchase stock in the new company. A number of the big holders will draw down from $200,000 to $500,000 each out of the deal.

STRANGE CHARGE OF FARM HAND

Says His Employer Shackled Him With Chains in the Stable.

MOORED HIM TO BEAM

Declares He Secured a Pitchfork and Managed to Pry Himself Free.

A peculiar case of alleged assault and cruelty is to be tried before County Magistrate W. H. Chittick at the court house tomorrow, when Mr. Anthony Steele, a well known London Township farmer, will appear to answer to a remarkable charge laid by his hired man, Donald McMillen.

According to the story told by McMillen he was off duty for a few days last week, and on his return explained to Mr. Steele that he did not feel physically fit for work, and that he would therefore "knock off" for another day.

It is alleged that Mr. Steele thereupon became so incensed at the conduct of McMillen that he grasped him roughly and hustled him out to the stable, where he played a logging chain about his legs and fastened him securely to one of the building's supports.

Sometime afterward, McMillen claims, Mr. Steele's boy appeared and left him a pail of water. When left alone, McMillen asserts, he managed to reach a pitchfork and having loosened a smaller chain on the end of the big one with which he had been fastened, pried himself from his moorings. According to his own story he then proceeded to a neighbor's house to obtain assistance in relieving himself of the shackles. It was at first found impossible to open the padlock that held him, but a cold chisel was used with the desired effect.

McMillen claims that he still bears the marks of the chain upon his legs, but Mr. Steele's version of the affair will be heard at the trial.

COMMONS WILL SIT IN A PADDED ROOM

Changes Being Made To Do Away With Troublesome Echo.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, June 26.—When Parliament assembles again the Commons will sit in a padded room. This has been decided by the Government. The Commons chamber is now full of workmen's scaffolding, and two inches of American felt is being put upon the walls. The object is to kill the echo which has bothered speakers and auditors in the House of Commons ever since Confederation. The padding is designed to do this. It is being obtained from a firm in Newark, New Jersey. Both parties are willing to kill the echo of the speeches which they made when on the sides of the chamber opposite to that which they have occupied since Sept. 3. The work is being done by the department controlled by Hon. Mr. Monk.

CONSTERNATION IN THE CIVIL SERVICE

Clerks of 65 Years of Age or Over Not Eligible for Promotion.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, June 26.—Consternation has been created in the civil service here by the action of the civil service commission which has ruled that pending a definite regulation by the cabinet, to which the matter has been referred, no clerk of the age of 65 years or upwards shall be eligible for promotion. In the meantime the promotion of nearly a dozen capable men has been held up, and many others who have reached the age limit are on the anxious seat.

The statutes of 1870 contain a minute having down an age limit of 60 years, but this has been a dead letter for years. Commissioner Shortt, however, says the present action of the commission is not based on this but on the practice in Great Britain and the United States. The commission has wide discretionary powers in a matter of this kind. Officials throughout the country are affected.

London Celebrates Alexandra Day

[Canadian Press.]

New York, N. Y., June 26.—A London cable says: The 50th anniversary of the landing of the widowed queen of England, is being celebrated today. There will be a display of wild roses in the streets of London, the like of which has certainly never been seen before. It is calculated that ten million blossoms will be on sale.

Queen Alexandra herself will show her interest in the celebration by driving through the streets, and among the "flower girls" will be the Duchesses of Abercorn, Beaufort, Hamilton, Leeds, Marlborough, Montrose, Norfolk, Northumberland, Portland, Roxburghe, Rutland, Sutherland, Wellington and Westminster.

BRYAN MAN IS NAMED CHAIRMAN

James, of Kentucky, To Preside Over the Democratic Convention.

AND IS A PROGRESSIVE

Credentials Committee Not Ready to Report and the Convention Adjourns.

[Canadian Press.]

Baltimore, June 26.—Senator-elect Ollie James, of Kentucky, was unanimously chosen for permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention of the committee on permanent organization. He is a progressive.

Baltimore, June 26.—Whatever William J. Bryan's plans may be for the building of the party platform, what planks it may contain, or whether it will be progressive or conservative in tone, the Nebraskaian is keeping carefully concealed from his friends. Mr. Bryan had no statements to make this morning regarding either the platform or Judge Parker's appeal to the delegates to make Mr. Bryan chairman of the resolutions committee.

Returning to his hotel from a visit to the mayor, the Nebraskaian spent the early morning hours in correspondence and then went to the convention hall to attend the meeting of the resolutions committee.

"The delegates are saying below stairs that you will write the party platform," was suggested.

"But a progressive platform would be a rebuke to the convention, would it not?" was Mr. Bryan's rejoinder.

Here a newspaperman pressed close to Mr. Bryan and in a most confidential appeal for information on the platform, said:

"Mr. Bryan, I have not seen Mr. Bryan this morning. But can you tell me what Mr. Bryan believes the platform will contain?"

Mr. Bryan drew the reporter still closer to him and replied with mock seriousness:

"I have not seen Mr. Bryan myself this morning."

Mr. Bryan was told that many delegates believed that the vote yesterday indicated that the convention was progressive, and that he would be able to name the candidate for the presidential nomination.

"I think I have given the opinion that the convention would have the reactionary stamp with the qualification 'unless the delegates hear from home.' The vote would indicate that I am down."

"With the qualification that I don't mind it a bit," smilingly replied the defeated candidate for temporary chairman.

Resolutions Committee. As soon as the resolutions committee organized, Mr. Bryan moved that the presentation of the platform be deferred until after the convention had nominated a candidate for President. Senator Raynor seconded the proposition. He spoke at some length, urging a progressive platform, and particularly in reference to the tariff and direct election of senators on whose planks there was found to be a division of sentiment. The proposal would have to go to the convention if approved by the committee.

Mr. Bryan refused to accept the chairmanship of the committee. Mr. Bryan's motion that the presentation of a platform be deferred until after nominations by the convention was carried, 41 to 9. The committee will recommend this action to the convention, and adjourned until the convention should determine the matter.

Ask Adjournment. The credentials committee at 11:30 o'clock determined to ask the convention to adjourn till 8 o'clock tonight, owing to the inability of the committee to complete work on the contest cases. Arguments in the Illinois cases had not been concluded at that time.

At 12:21 Chairman Parker pounded his desk with the gavel and the sergeant-at-arms, aided by the police, set out to clear the aisles. Slowly the confusion subsided and the convention got under way.

Bishop Murray of Maryland pronounced the invocation.

After the prayer Governor Blanchard, of Louisiana, reported from the committee on credentials that a report would not be ready until 8 p.m. A motion provided that when the convention adjourned, after hearing several speakers it should be until 8 p.m. Governor Folk, of Missouri, was introduced for a speech and stirred the crowd with his rousing periods.

Plenty of Candidates. Congressman Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, after having spoken for several minutes in denunciation of Republican principles and predatory wealth, turned to Democratic prospects.

"I don't know upon whom the nomination of this convention will fall," he said.

"Underwood!" shouted an Alabama delegate.

"Clark!" shouted a man from Missouri.

"Wilson!" came in answering chorus from New Jersey.

"Harriman!" called the Ohioans.

REAUME'S VIEW OF CANADIAN SCHOOLS

MESSAGE SENT TO KING

Irish Priest Creates Sensation by Impassioned Speech Charging Persecution.

Quebec, June 25.—Two meetings were held by the French-speaking Congress today. At this morning's assembly messages were sent to the King, the Pope and the Académie Française of Paris. The last stated that the French-Canadians and Academics of Canada and the United States, united their rights when they to the Académie, the secular guardian of the tongue of their ancestors, the expression of their faithful attachment to the idiom.

Etienne Lamy, of the French Academy, received an honorary degree during the morning as a Doctor of Laval University. One of the addresses which aroused enthusiasm was that of Abbe Quinn, who spoke as a Voice from Ireland. He expressed the sympathy of the Irish race with their French-Canadian confederates. He insisted that the French-Canadians should be allowed their rights when it was a question of teaching their language. At this evening's meeting Etienne Lamy made a striking address.

Another noteworthy incident of this session was the speech made by Hon. Dr. Reaume, minister of public works, Ontario, in the course of which he said: "Before we leave this Congress we should make a vow to raise and educate our children in the French language, no matter what part of Canada we live in."

The remainder of his speech was an eulogy of the French language and the French race.

"The French language," said Sir Joseph Dube, of Manitoba, in his address, "is with the Catholic religion and the love of our country, the most sacred heritage which we have received from our forefathers. To conserve our mother tongue is for us a question of life or not to be a nationality distinct."

"Nevertheless, we are loyal, I am happy to be the interpreter of the feelings of my compatriots in saying that the French-Canadians are as much attached to the British flag as were their fathers, and that they are against the revolts of New England."

Sir Francis Langens made a statement in answer to criticisms which have been made as to the effects of the Congress.

"These who have pretended on the occasion of this Congress," he said, "that we wish to dismember ourselves of the British domination, do not know us and are ignorant of the teaching of history."

He recalled the fact that the King and the Duke of Connaught speak French perfectly. We recognize that in this country English is indispensable and it has never entered our minds to wish to banish it from our schools and colleges."

IMPORTANT ARRESTS MADE AT DETROIT

Believed To Be Men Wanted in Connection With the Vancouver Robbery.

Detroit, Mich., June 25.—In the arrest in this city last night of Martin Powell, a circus follower, and the finding of about $4,000 in Canadian currency upon his person, the police believe they have discovered one of the gang who held up and robbed the Royal Bank of Canada Branch at Vancouver, B. C., January 25, 1912. Powell answers closely the description sent out at the time of the Vancouver affair.

Charles J. Wolf, head of the local Pinkerton Detective Agency, called at police headquarters this afternoon and turned over to Captain Robert Palmer of the Detective Bureau a circular sent out by the Royal Bank of Canada branch in South Vancouver at the time of the robbery. The Pinkertons are in communication with South Vancouver and other Canadian towns. In connection with Powell's arrest, another man was taken into custody this afternoon, whom the authorities believe to be involved in the affair. His name is given as Frank Davis, also called remarkably with the description of one of the Vancouver robbers.

COLONEL WHITE TO RETIRE

Northwest Mounted Police to Loss Commanding Officer.

Ottawa, June 25.—After many years of faithful and efficient work in the civil service of Canada, Colonel Fred White, commanding officer of the Northwest Mounted Police, is to retire.

Col. White was at one time in the service of the Bank of Montreal and later fought as a private in the Fenian Raid. He became secretary to Sir John Macdonald and enjoyed the confidence of the great Conservative premier to an unusual degree. While acting as private secretary to the prime minister, he was in the forefront of the force in strength he gave his whole time to the administration he has done valuable service.

Another noteworthy incident of this session was the speech made by Hon. Dr. Reaume, minister of public works, Ontario, in the course of which he said: "Before we leave this Congress we should make a vow to raise and educate our children in the French language, no matter what part of Canada we live in."

ELOPED TOO SOON

If Romeo Had Waited Three Hours Would Have Avoided Arrest.

Montreal, June 25.—Because he did not wait three hours longer before eloping with Miss E. L. Abelle, of St. Martin, who would be exactly sixteen years old, A. Lorrain was sentenced to three months in jail by Judge Bazin this morning.

On April 25 Lorrain and the girl left for the United States. The love affair has been going on for some time, and both were waiting the day when the girl would be of age. They left Montreal on the night of April 25, about 10 o'clock. The girl would have been sixteen in a few hours.

Judge Bazin in the court of sessions this morning sent the young man to jail for three months.

STRATFORD VICTIMS

Mrs. May was before her marriage, Miss Hattie Anderson, of Stratford, and is well known in this vicinity.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Waterloo, June 25.—Henry W. Lorenz, grocery merchant, dropped dead last night at his home. He was 50 years of age and had not felt well during the night, but awoke this morning as usual and his sudden taking off was a severe shock to his friends. A widow and two sons survive.

Torpid Liver in the Spring

In the spring both the liver and kidneys are overworked in an effort to remove the impurities which accumulate in the system during the winter and in overcoming the trying effect of the changing temperature.

Once the liver gets sluggish and torpid, there are all sorts of troubles with the digestive system. Sour stomach, flatulence, wind on the stomach, acute indigestion, irregularity of the bowels and bilious headaches are among the symptoms.

The liver must have assistance. The process of restoration will be hastened if the kidneys are also invigorated and strengthened, for on these two organs depends entirely the purification of the blood. Both these filtering organs are acted on directly and promptly by Doan's Kidney and Liver Pills. For this reason there is no treatment which will more quickly rid the blood of poisonous waste matter than this great prescription of Dr. Chase. Put it to the test this spring and escape the tired, languid feelings consequent on a poisoned system.

BRYAN DEFEATED CONS. CONTROL

Looks Like the Steam Roller for "Peerless Leader."

CHAMP CLARK HAS GOOD CHANCE

Bryan's Speech Marked by Interruptions and Disorderly Incidents—A Weak Effort.

Baltimore, June 25.—William J. Bryan was overthrown in the national convention today by a vote of 578 to 506. The naming of Alton B. Parker as temporary chairman was the issue on which Mr. Bryan's downfall came. The Commoner himself, after dramatic maneuvering on the floor of the convention, entered the contest as a candidate for temporary chairman, and the showdown between the Bryan and anti-Bryan forces was, therefore, clean-cut and decisive.

Only one big issue was involved in today's struggle. It was whether William J. Bryan was again to dominate a national Democratic convention and for the fourth time to nominate himself for President. The outcome of today's battle, in the opinion of Democratic leaders, has ended Mr. Bryan's prospects of again leading his party in a national campaign. The drubbing he got on the floor of the convention, and the ordinary character of the reception accorded to him by the delegates are accepted as guarantees that his ambition to walk away with the 1912 prize will not be gratified.

A Personal Tribute.

No attempt, however, is made by the Democrats assembled here to detract from the remarkable showing of Mr. Bryan against the party organization. The 506 votes that he polled were purely a tribute to his personality and the grip he has had on the party. This Bryan vote was strong enough to insure to him a commanding voice in the deliberations of the convention, and the conservative Democrats are reconciled to the fact that Mr. Bryan will be able to shape the platform that will be adopted by this convention. They are convinced, however, that his game to garner a nomination has effectively been blocked unless the forces that carried today's contest are completely blundered and alienate some of the strength that has rallied under the anti-Bryan banner.

Fearful Bryan.

Today's vote was the first development in the Democratic situation from which fairly accurate deductions as to the future can be drawn, as the balloting demonstrated that the Democratic convention will be controlled by progressives and the likelihood is that a so-called progressive will be named for President. In the opinion of many of the Democratic leaders the situation has now narrowed down to Champ Clark and Woodrow Wilson, with Mayor Gaynor, of New York, as a possible compromise in the event of a deadlock.

White Judge Parker Seized.

While Judge Parker was being able to master a sufficient number of votes to bring about his election to the temporary chairmanship, many radicals voted for him because they were frightened at the idea of Bryan again becoming the party's nominee. These votes, added to the 506 that were cast for Bryan, indicates that the Democrats of radical tendencies are firmly seated in the saddle.

Champ Clark Did It.

To Champ Clark is due in large measure the credit for the defeat of Mr. Bryan. Mr. Clark did it by his strength in the party's nomination. These votes, added to the 506 that were cast for Bryan, indicates that the Democrats of radical tendencies are firmly seated in the saddle.

The Conservatives who advanced the candidacy of Judge Parker openly acknowledged their debt to Champ Clark, and Mr. Bryan is just as keenly alive to the hostile attitude the Speaker has assumed toward him. What the effect of today's developments will be upon the Clark boom is uncertain tonight. Many believe the Speaker has placed the conservatives of the party so strongly under obligations to him that they will be obliged to throw their strength to him after the first few ballots in the convention.

A Different Bryan.

New York political observers who heard Mr. Bryan speak today were surprised at his futile efforts to carry the convention. It seemingly was a different Bryan from the one who delivered the "Cross and the Crown of Thorns" speech in Chicago in 1896.

To men who recalled the way in which Bryan's oratorical efforts had stayed the feelings of previous conventions and held his audience tonight, today's efforts seemed feeble indeed. Instead of gripping the attention of the convention, Mr. Bryan's efforts seemed only to arouse opposition and to humiliate the speaker by being hoisted at the very climax of his well-rounded sentence. His effort was made under most trying conditions, and it was disappointing even to his friends. It was only when he availed himself of a few of his well-known catch phrases, such as the one about being seized by Bryan or bought by Belmont, that the convention rose to meet him in the old-time way.

The fact that no demonstration in the convention lasted more than a few minutes was regarded by Bryan's friends as impressive evidence that his grip as an orator is not what it once was. The Commoner was clearly speaking under a great strain.

What course Mr. Bryan will pursue during the remainder of the convention was not made known tonight. The men who voted him down today believe he will find other pretenses with which to make trouble, but after the test of strength for the chairmanship they say he will not be able to do anything to advance his own candidacy for the nomination.

The chief feature of the convention was the struggle for the temporary chairmanship, which was precipitated by William J. Bryan because of his opposition to Alton B. Parker, of New York, who had been named for the place by the national committee.

All attempts at securing harmony by the selection of a compromise candidate had failed, and when Chairman Norman E. Mack, of the national committee, announced the name of Judge Parker, Mr. Bryan retaliated by placing Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, in nomination.

Could Not Deliver Speech.

The Nebraska, in an impassioned speech, urged the selection of Kern, but he was constantly interrupted. At times the convention was the scene of great turbulence.

When Mr. Bryan had ended, Senator Kern urged a compromise, and when he saw that his overtures were not accepted, he withdrew, and the name of Bryan was pitted against that of Parker.

On the ballot that followed, Parker won by 578 to 506.

The new chairman was received coldly.

As the judge, tall and dignified, moved up the aisle to assume the chair, there was hardly a cheer raised. Even the delegations that had voted for him were mum, and the Bryan men sat sullen and silent. It was impossible to imagine a chairman receiving a chiller reception.

Judge Parker drew from the inside pocket of his frock coat his prepared speech. The bend of his elbow served as a signal for the stampede to the door. He did his best to get the attention of the assembly, but it was an impossible job. They were for the open air, and the pounding and stamping of feet and the clatter of tongues completely overwhelmed the judge's moderate voice. Norman E. Mack and others of Parker's friends quickly saw the futility of attempting to put a keynote under such unfavorable conditions, so after a whisper to the judge, the manuscript speech was refolded and restored to the frock-coat pocket, and the judge adjourned the convention to meet at 8 p.m. At the evening convention the speech was read, Mr. Bryan did not attend.

During the week old boys and girls from all parts of the continent are expected, and the week promises to be one of real pleasure for Prestons past and present.

Travers Will Not Look Like Convict When at Nesbitt Trial.

Toronto, June 25.—Not wishing to look like a convict when he appears as a witness in the Beattie Nesbitt case, W. R. Travers, former general manager of the Farmers' Bank, wrote to the minister of justice requesting permission to retain his hair and moustache until the inquiry is over.

As Travers has proven an excellent witness, and his conduct has been beyond reproach, the minister has written to the warden at Kingston according the desired permission.

Sale of 68 Embroidery Dresses Thursday Morning $3.95

SPECIAL PURCHASE FROM MAKER

We only ask you to view the display of these Dresses in Dundas street window today to satisfy yourself that it will be worth your while to make an extra effort to be here at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning in order to secure your size and choice of these pretty Dresses, and also to convince yourself, when we say this is the best purchase of the kind we have made or expect to make this season, that the values are not in the least exaggerated.

If these Dresses were shown in the window today without a price ticket, we doubt if anyone would judge them at less than $10.00, and a $12.00 or $15.00 ticket would not be out of place on some styles, as these are the prices you would expect to pay for such.

The story of their purchase is short. A manufacturer after completing the summer season and all orders filled, found a few odd lots remaining. The cool season thus far we have perhaps more to thank for these than any other circumstance, for they are all new and desirable styles, and you have the full season ahead to wear them. We will give a few descriptions, but see window display to better appreciate the values.

THE FEMINE HALF OF TOWN WILL BE TALKING ABOUT THIS GREAT SALE OF SUMMER DRESSES. SEE WINDOW DISPLAY TODAY.

Big Kirmess Celebration Is In Full Swing at Preston—Record Crowds.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Preston, June 25.—The big kirmess celebration is in full swing here and guests are pouring into town from all over the country. The celebration will continue until Dominion Day.

Last evening the town was a fete. The Preston Silver Band paraded the full length of King street, while the sidewalks were thronged with sightseers, to the rink at the north end of the town, where the real kirmess, or street fair, is in progress.

The opening ceremony consisted of a "parade of nations," in which 500 persons, all in costumes to represent the various national garbs, took part.

A feature of the event is the wonderful electrical display, which would hardly have been possible but for stamping of feet and the clatter of tongues completely overwhelmed the judge's moderate voice. Norman E. Mack and others of Parker's friends quickly saw the futility of attempting to put a keynote under such unfavorable conditions, so after a whisper to the judge, the manuscript speech was refolded and restored to the frock-coat pocket, and the judge adjourned the convention to meet at 8 p.m. At the evening convention the speech was read, Mr. Bryan did not attend.

Daily Advertiser Fashion Expert Writes of This Summer's Remarkable New Dress Material

BY MABELLE MORTIMER.

"Look here, Mary," said a man in front of a big store window today, "they're making dresses out of bath towels!"

His wife saw this was a man's description of the new Terry cloth, which is going to be the most popular material this year, they say, for out-door frocks and general utility gowns. Terry cloth is woven much like Turkish toweling and it comes in all colors, although it looks as though the white and unbleached or ecru would be most worn.

It will be made into long coats and all sorts of outing gowns.

Its fitness for a "bath gown" is practically perfect, as everyone knows how beautifully the bath towel washes. It will take the place of the heavy linen dress so much worn last season, and will have an up-to-date look, not to be obtained by the other material.

The little dress illustrated is particularly fine, for a business girl, or the maid who goes to the country for her vacation. It has many new fashioned wrinkles.

The pleated Norfolk jacket can be worn with white lingerie gowns or gingham dresses as well as with the skirt of the same material.

There is no trimming on the Norfolk jacket this year, except the pleats and bands of the same goods. However, one may be as individual as one pleases about the buttons. Those in the illustration are dark brown opaque glass, cut square in shape. Glass buttons of all colors and sizes will be used wherever possible this season. Especially is this true of the transparent cut glass buttons, which take the color of the material upon which it is placed.

Nothing could be more trim for the business girl than a gown made of dark blue Terry cloth in the simple fashion of the illustration. The skirt is perfectly plain and narrow at the top, but it is cut with a little more flare at the bottom than was the mode last year. Under the Norfolk jacket can be worn a white shirtwaist. With one of the new plain outing hats and a pair of the fashionable low-heeled lace boots, combined with

Nine girls from Oregon, daughters of farmers, recently enjoyed a trip across the United States at the expense of a Western newspaper, for whom they secured subscriptions. The outing covered a two-days' visit in New York, an excursion to Washington, and a stay in Chicago, where the Western maids attended the Republican convention.

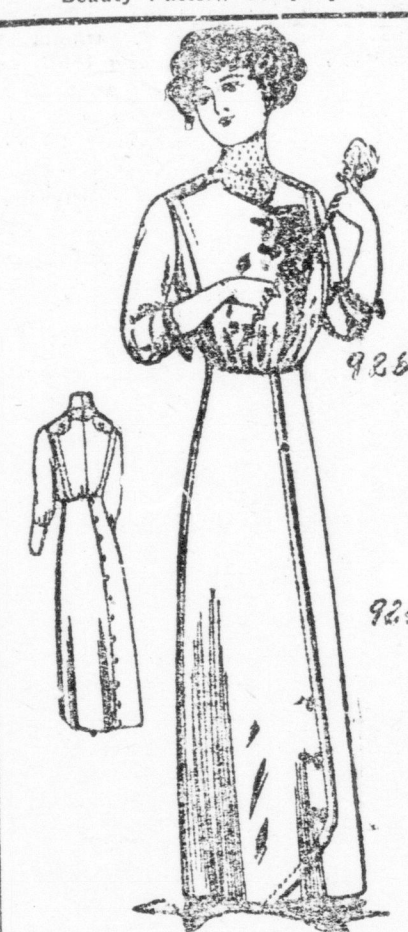

Miss Helen Keller, the deaf, blind and dumb author, has been appointed a member of the Board of Public Welfare, in Schenectady, N. Y.

Mrs. Verna Sheard, of Toronto, is the author of an entertaining novel entitled, "The Man of Lane Lake." It is a Canadian story, dealing with the hardships of isolated life in Northern Ontario, and running through the book. Another new book that will be greeted with enthusiasm is, "Chronicles of Avonlea," in which Miss L. M. Montgomery tells more about the characters, which made "Anne of Green Gables" a favorite with feminine readers.

A novel feature of a luncheon given to her friends by Viscountess Chinda, wife of the Japanese ambassador in Washington, was the introduction of several Japanese customs and dishes. One course was cantaloupe, the entire being filled with frozen buttermilk, which is said to be a favorite dish of the Orientals. A paste made of walnuts and crushed fruit was also served. The luncheon service used by the Viscountess, is decidedly quaint, being made of lacquer and gold. The attendants for the occasion were dressed in the picturesque costume of the Japanese women.

LIFE'S MAYTIME BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

(Copyright 1912.) "Enjoy thy youth, it will not stay. Enjoy the fragrance of thy prime, For, O! it is not always May." —Longfellow.

"That is true; it isn't," the old maid said with a sigh—a sigh that would call back many a slighted and unappreciated May if it could.

But the young, who believes that May (which is youth) is largely a matter of will, do not sigh. They laugh, because to them it seems that life will be always May. And because they laugh and regard their youth lightly, they fail to appreciate much that it offers them.

Failling to appreciate, they fail to make use of all that May brings. To them is lost the light-hearted and light-headedness of youth. They squander opportunities, are reckless with time, and wasteful of that which is given to them in such abundance now, and that will be measure out with niggardly exactness in the years to come.

For all of which they should not be censured. There is no more pitiable spectacle than a very old head on young shoulders, unless it be a very young head on shoulders that are bowed with age.

Don't Shorten It! It is a prerogative of youth to be thoughtless, light-headed and light-headed as well. Time will bring thoughtfulness and make the head heavy. That it makes hearts heavy is so unaffairingly the rule that one should not wish to shorten another's Maytime by even a day.

The trouble is that the older sometimes forget they were once young, and the younger show no interest in the opinions and prejudices of the old. From the outlook of the old, youth demands an absorbing interest from them in a story they read many years ago, and which they have since learned is not true.

From the viewpoint of the young, age demands they pay heed to lessons that will not have to be learned till next year.

One should never demand that one in the prime of youth be a philosopher. Neither should one demand from the young too serious consideration of the troubles of the future, many of which never happen.

Give to Others. If the young will be glad they are young, it is a great deal. If they will incorporate in this rejoicing an ambition to bring a little of the May-time of life to those who have passed it, it will be more.

They are bubbling over with enthusiasm over their own affairs. The stream of enthusiasm is exhaustless so long as youth lasts, and shows no diminution if there is a little enthusiasm given those who have lost it. All that is handed to Youth is in such glorious abundance that there is an excess of happiness to share with those whose store is decreasing.

One's May-time is lengthened rather than shortened by thoughtfulness of others. Indeed, this May-time may be stretched to cover an indefinite and indeterminate number of years by giving others pleasure. It is the only way to remain young that contains no element of selfishness.

And so I hope that the gods are kind, and that those who are young are permitted by the older to enjoy everything that belongs to youth so long as youth shall last.

Young, Be Happy. It makes age easier to bear to have been happy when young. There are few better preparations for the years than the memory of innocent and unrestrained happiness in youth.

There is little that makes a parent wiser than the recollection of one's own youth always in mind; its hopes, its enthusiasm, its ambitions, its loves and its fears.

Those who regret they once had a May are always the hardest, and the most uncharitable. And so I say to the young:

"Enjoy the Spring of Love and Youth. To some good angel leave the rest; For time will reach thee soon the truth. There are no birds in the last year's nest!"

The Future Sister-in-Law

It must be admitted that the young man who has several sisters has rather a difficult time when he comes to satisfy them with his choice of a sweetheart or wife; and for the sweetheart herself, well her part is no easy one, to say the least!

Consider how critical a sister is apt to be! Her brother may have seen no flaws in the girl of his choice, but his sisters will soon point them out, if they exist, and even if they do not, she is more than likely to be given credit for many before the young man's sisters get through with the examination.

And the most lamentable part of the proceeding is that the sisters do not hesitate to call their brother's attention to them in very plain language. It is rather difficult to say just how a girl should treat her brother's sweetheart, but she put herself in the girl's place and then map out a more considerate plan of getting acquainted than the one which leads to criticism and fault find-

A Tailor-Made Lawn

Everyone is attracted by the separate coats of silk and like materials, which are among the season's novelties.

The one sketched here is especially effective, being made of old rose percale, lined with printed pongee in ecru and colors. The braiding design is carried out in dull gold twisted cord. There is no visible fastening but a tiny hook in one corner of the back, which may be used to close the front, if desired.

ing with the first impressions. Remember that the girl is more than a little embarrassed by the first meeting with her fiancé's family, and a little woman kindness may serve to bring out charming traits of character that would never appear under trying circumstances.

Don't forget that the young lady your brother has selected for a wife must have been worthy of his respect, first, and his love, first, last and always. Surely, then, she is entitled to his sister's respect! Perhaps the love will come later on, and if so, there will be many good times aplenty for the sister and the young wife, as well.

Cynthia Grey's Many Answers

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn as they are received.]

A Foolish Girl.

Dear Miss Grey: I am in love, and another girl is trying to ruin my reputation to the man. Advise me. I am 14, and a boy schoolmate of mine tells me that I dress too old because I wear my hair up, and no dresses to my shoe tops. Should I change? M. E. D.

A.—Conduct yourself so that slander cannot touch you. 2. You are too young to wear your hair up. Dress it in as girlish a manner as is becoming to you. Nothing is prettier than the centre part, with the hair rolled at the sides and either tied at the nape of the neck or else braided and tied with a large bow. Don't try to be a young lady while you are only a little girl. By the time you are twenty, people will think you are many years older. Anyway, little girlhood lasts such a short time—so make the best of it while you are a little girl. You will not be sorry.

Troublesome Perspiration.

Dear Miss Grey: I have a great deal of trouble with perspiration, and the odor is quite noticeable. Is there anything that will cure this trouble? ANXIOUS.

A.—Of course, perspiration is necessary to good health. A cure is offensive, but with a solution of one dram of formaldehyde to one quart water. Under the arms, where the odor is apt to be most offensive, bathe with a little grain alcohol after the bath. A few drops of carbolic acid in the bath water will help, and then powder with a good talcum powder or plain corn starch. Use the best quality of shields in the waists, and wash them daily. Also change the underwear daily. One cannot be too careful, and with the proper care there is absolutely no excuse for the disagreeable odor.

Care of a Fern.

Dear Miss Grey: Is it safe to take medicine to gain flesh? 2. Please tell me how to make ferns grow and keep green? It is considered good for them to put castor-oil around the roots? JULIA.

A.—1. Yes, if it is a tonic prescribed by a reliable physician. 2. See that the roots have plenty of room. Water them well every other day. Occasionally put them in a tub, fill the tub with water until it reaches just over the top of fern pot, and let stand for 10 minutes. Never touch the ends of the ferns if it can be helped. Keep the dead leaves cut off. Many use castor-oil or tea for their plants, but the florists hoot at the idea.

Restoring a Switch.

Dear Miss Grey: I have a hair switch which was a silver-gray, but has turned to a yellowish red. What will turn it back to its original color? A. B. C.

A.—Clean it thoroughly with a bath in alcohol, comb it out carefully and expose it while it is still damp to the fumes from burning sulphur. Avoid putting it near flame.

Soliciting For Playgrounds

"The Nomad" Joins the Volunteers in Their House-to-House Canvass

Armed with a number of green-colored "Good Citizenship Pledges" we, "The Lady" and "The Nomad," stood hesitatingly yesterday at a street corner in the central part of London. We had joined the staff of volunteer solicitors in the house-to-house canvass in aid of the establishing of playgrounds for London children, and felt rather timorous at making our maiden effort to our first ring.

I was to speak first, so we had agreed, but as the door opened suddenly and a masculine-looking woman loomed before us, my tongue (usually an active member) absolutely refused to work for a second. It was most trying! However, between us we soon told the object of our visit, and with the ice once broken, as it were, we had no further difficulty in "speaking our part."

It would make interesting reading to describe accurately the people we called on, and one cannot but conjecture whether they would recognize themselves pictured in print or not. It is peculiar how human nature shows itself in a canvass of this kind, where the appeal is made for the sake of the children. One woman gave her contribution where one felt that it meant denial to her of something which we would probably count a necessity. But she gave it gladly for the sake of the kiddies who swam in the street before her house. She felt they needed some other place to play in, she said. Again, we encountered the penurious woman. Well gowned, and surrounded with many luxuries, she stated that she felt no interest in the movement whatever, even though the claims of the children running wild in the same block were presented.

And would one not rather be the wretched in straightened circumstances, yet with her heart rich in mother-love and sympathy with the needs of the younger generation than she whose heart prompted her to coldly withhold the aid which is so greatly required, and which she was so amply able to render.

One rather amusing experience we had at a fortune teller's house. Of course we were entirely innocent that such was the profession of the woman, and she, poor soul, was doubtless much disappointed when we desired a contribution and were not seeking to know whether "he" would have plenty of money and would love us always, and forever. As we merged from the house I have a lurking idea that "The Lady" was inwardly hoping no friend had seen her and surmised the purpose of her call to be that of seeking knowledge regarding her "fortune."

We found about as many varieties of door bells, yesterday, as we did of people, and it's remarkably odd how their characteristics compare with those of human beings. Some presented a very modest appearance, but when given an opportunity to speak, made noise enough to frighten one away. Others appeared to be in working order, but when one tried to press them into service, proved absolutely useless. There were pompous "knockers," up-to-date electric bells, and "turn" bells of all descriptions. No wonder the writer's wrist feels sprained today!

But nonsense aside, we worked in a good cause and with enthusiasm, and as we parted, "The Lady" and I, we each promised ourselves a swing in one of the new playgrounds, when the equipment became a reality. And here's to all the folks who helped us by greeting us pleasantly, at least. May their children reap the benefit of supervised recreation in a way far beyond even present expectations!

CONVENTION.

Attached to a slender silver ring, from which they may easily be detached, are a glove hook, a flat pencil case and a circular coin purse, all of silver and of infinitesimal size, yet quite large enough to adequately fulfil their mission. These little ring sets may be slipped into the breast pocket of a coat, into the bridge or handkerchief bag or swung from the chateleine, and they have a certain air of feminine daintiness, which is irresistible to the average shopper.

TORONTO ENTERTAINS THE LIBRARIANS

Delegates from Canada and United States on Way to Convention.
Toronto, June 26.—Librarians from the United States and from Western Canada on their way to the American Library Association's convention, which opens at Ottawa today, were entertained in Toronto yesterday. A party of 120 from the United States arrived in the city by special train yesterday morning from Chicago, and was joined by delegates from Canadian cities and from points in the Eastern States of the Union.
All were driven to Victoria College for luncheon at the guests of the college and of the Education Department of the province. They were welcomed by Hon. R. A. Pyne, minister of education, who presided, and who proposed the health of the King and of the President of the United States. Greetings were conveyed to the visitors also by Mr. Justice MacLaren and by Prof. Alfred Eaton, on behalf of the University of Toronto. After luncheon the party was escorted to the Parliament Buildings. There its members were welcomed by Sir James Whitney, in a brief and appropriate speech, and later, under the guidance of the Prime Minister, inspected the Legislative Chamber. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in a visit to the library of the University of Toronto, where Dr. Neider acted as guide, and at a garden party in the quadrangle at Victoria College.
The visitors were entertained at dinner by the board of the Toronto Public Library at the Reference Library Building. Mr. John Turnbull, chairman of the board, welcomed them, and Dr. George Locke, the chief librarian, gave them some idea of the Toronto Public Library and its equipment. Mr. Henry Legler, chief librarian of the Chicago Public Library, responded. After dinner the librarians were shown about the members of the staff, and were much pleased with the spacious reading room. They left the city at 10 p.m.

THE CHINESE LOAN
International Bankers Are Awaiting Instructions From Various Govts.
[Canadian Press.]
Peking, China, June 26.—The group of international bankers representing Great Britain, France, Germany, Japan and the United States, is awaiting instructions from the various governments in regard to China's attitude on the subject of the proposed loan of $500,000,000.
This has been practically abandoned by the Chinese Government which refuses to countenance any supervision of its finances such as is insisted upon by the foreign bankers and also rejects the proposal in reference to the reorganization of the salt monopoly urged by the leading bankers as a means of providing security of the Chinese Government.

BALL GOES TO BOSTON.
Cleveland, O., June 25.—The Cleveland President Bard, of the Cleveland American League club, announced today the sale of Neal Ball, utility infielder to the Boston club of the American League. It is said that Ball will join the Boston team at once.

The bay gelding Reckon that started at Oxford, Pa., on June 7, is said to be Dick Letcher, 2124. Identification has been demanded and the winnings are in the strong box meanwhile.
Crescent Simmons, that won a pacing race at Chatham on Tuesday, is by Crescent Route, a son of Crescent. He is good enough for almost any company and promises to be among the fast ones this year. Oddly enough, the contender in the first part of the miles was Flobee Lloyd, also by Crescent Route.

LONDON DOCK STRIKE FAR FROM SETTLED
Strikers to Secure Financial Aid From the Unions in America.
[Canadian Press.]
London, June 26.—Negotiations for the settlement of the dock strike have again failed. The employers say they have not in any way altered their position, and that more help than is needed could be obtained if a stop were put to the terrorism tactics adopted by the men.
Encouraged by promises of financial assistance, a more defiant attitude among the workers is perceptible. The strike committee said yesterday that it was telegraphing to Germany, America and the central international trade organizations for loans for the benefit of the London transport workers.
Cherbourg, June 26.—The dockers here have taken advantage of the arrival of three large steamships loaded with timber to go on strike and are now making a special effort to induce the sailors and firemen of the tenders which meet trans-Atlantic steamships to join the movement.
Should this effort prove successful the companies will suffer a heavy loss and much inconvenience will be caused, as thousands of travellers use the tenders to go from trains to vessels or from vessels to the landing stage.
The men received a raise of wages only a few weeks ago.
