THE CAUSE OF TRUANCY.

Corporal punishment in schools has often been proclaimed as a curse to educational advancement, and its presence in any Public or High school is a sign of backwardness and even barbarism. The time for "hammering in" education is long since past and the more modern method of winning through kindness and of treating scholars as human beings, worthy of being respected, has been found to be the most effective manner in which to instill learning into the minds of the young.

The Windsor Record in a recent editorial along this line advanced the belief that much of the truancy of to-day is accounted for by the scholar's acquired repugnance for school life, caused through the practice of improper and ancient methods by the teacher. In this there is a strong vein of common sense.

The school truancy evil is always present, especially in cities, and just how to remedy it is a problem that does not find a solution. It may be assumed that in most cases of truancy the cause could be traced to a dislike of the school surroundings and a frequent factor in producing this repugnance may be and probably is the personality of the teacher.

The teacher occupies a position of tremendous responsibility, for the future of her pupils turns on apparently insignificant events. The teacher by word or manner may make or mar the life of her charge and work infinite and irreparable harm. Affection is the great remedy for this perplexing evil. As a rule force defeats its own object, and here comes into view the responsibility of school-boards in engaging or retaining the services of men and women who, no matter what their scholastic attainments may be, are utterly disqualified by temperament for the high calling of teacher. School boards are thus primarily responsible for a large percentage of truancy.

The teacher by a harsh manner can make school life so repugnant to the tenderly impressionable mind of the pupil that parental authority and influence may be unequal to the task of keeping him at school. Who can doubt that terror is often mistaken for depravity or a constitutional dislike for study?

In cases of apparently incorrigible truancy the civil law should not be invoked. There is no moral relation between the two things, for truancy at its worst is not a crime. It would sometimes be fitter to send the offender and a pair of handcuffs after the teacher, who may be the ignorant or ill-natured cause of the trouble. There are some unfortunate people in the profession with whom the rod is a curfew, and while the regulations may be permissive in regard to corporal punishment, it is safe to say that the teacher who has to fight her daily way through school behind a rod had better seek some easier and less perilous calling. She is woefully out of her sphere.

Only the teacher who wins the affection and respect of the pupil can make a success in this most important of all callings.

This is the time of year in which London looks her best. Without any striking natural features she is easily the comeliest city in the Dominion when she puts on her summer garb.—London Advertiser.

Young man, don't wait for the trolley line, but jump on the steam train and travel fifteen miles south. When you see St. Thomas in the month of May (or June) you'll revise the above. London is truly a comely city, but St. Thomas is the comeliest. St. Thomas has a Queen Anne front, claimed by the Advertiser for London, but lacks a Mary Ann back, which the Tizer regrets is a possession forced on those residents of the Forest City who would like something better.—St. Thomas Times.

And don't stop at St. Thomas. Keep on coming west and bring the St. Thomas man with you. You can both get all the pointers you want on beautiful cities right here in Chatham. ANNIVERSARY SALE

Today Was a Gala Day at This Store

We extend an invitation to visit this store---to help us observe the Eighth Anniversary of its inauguration. Frankly---we expected it would be accepted---that we should greet many old friends---and some new ones.

We did not, however, expect the happy interested throng which kept the doors swinging from opening time until the hour came for everyone to go home, which swept from counter to counter, from department to department, finding new goods to admire on every side.

And, while we had planned price reductions, we didn't expect that the scissors would nip and the cash carriers click and round out one of the greatest selling days in our eight years of store history.

The sale and occasion continuing, below we suggest a few of the many opportunities for saving, as yet stocks are unbroken. We advise, however, that if you come to-morrow you may make your visit an early one.

We shall be glad to see you---whether you come to buy or simply to spend a pleasant hour or two.

Six Months in "2 in 1."

A Consulting Chemist Makes a Novel Experiment. An Unsolicited Letter that Explains Itself.

"I write to state that on account of your '2 in 1' Shoe Polish being criticised, and the charge made that it injured leather, I made this test as follows:

I mixed the contents of a box of '2 in 1' Shoe Polish, bought at a retail store from regular stock, with four ounces of water and into this mixture put a kid glove, and left the said glove in the mixture in a bottle from June 15th to December 15th, 1906—a full six months. I then took the glove out, washed it and examined it. The fine leather of the glove was not affected in the least. It was as pliable and soft as when new, and was not altered in condition, nor were the stitches affected in any way. This test, I consider, proves that '2 in 1' does not injure the finest leather.

I hereby state that these facts are correct and true.

THE FALL OF

Chatham's Crack Bowling
Rink Suffers Defeat From Hitherto Unknowns

CHATELLETS NOW FOR SALE

The star amateur players of the Chatham Bowling Club, consisting of R. G. Fleming, skip, and Messrs. Dr. J. L. Bray, Wilson Taylor and J. E. Thomas. This champion rink played a match with a rink of unfortunately dubbed inferior players, chosen as they came upon the bowling ground yesterday afternoon, this second rink being composed of Messrs. W. Robinson skip, and Messrs. J. B. Rankin, Judge Dowlin and James Gonnell.

So far as the spectators on the ground were concerned, they thought that the leading team had an easy task in the Robinson aggregation. The play began and continued for 23 ends. At the end of the eleventh end the champion rink stood 15 as against nine for the non-pretentious ones. At the end of the fifteenth end the score was still in favor of the experts—18-15. At the end of the nineteenth the pickups were still behind and the score stood 20-18. At the end of the twenty-first the champions had piled up two more, making a total of 22.

At this stage matters took a turn. The champions scored no more and at the end of the game the score stood 24-22 in favor of the unlikely lookers.

The winners were cheered by the spectators and with special enthusiasm by John Lee, ex-M. P. P., who remarked that the victors were entitled to medals or some recognition for such a brilliant victory. The former prize team then proposed challenging their successful opponents to a game in the future, but upon consultation with one another the latter responded that as they had beaten the best amateur team in the club, they, and each of them, were entitled to rank as professionals, and as professionals they could under no circumstances accept a challenge from amateurs.

Furthermore they recommended that the old time prize rink continue their practice and get in proper shape to challenge professionals, they would accommodate them with a match at the earliest possible moment.

It is currently reported on the street that there are four pairs of bowlers and four membership tickets for sale cheap—not even necessarily to the highest bidder and arranged by the purchase of any party desiring the above mentioned chattels, can be made at the bungalow by enquiring for any one of the defeated members.

IS A GREAT NUISANCE

The C. P. R. Hog Pens Now
Becoming A Big Trouble

PROMPT ACTION NEEDED

Although the G. T. R. hog-pen nuisance has occasioned much discussion in the Council from time to time, and has been strongly commented upon by several prominent citizens, very little fault has been found with the C. P. R.'s method of handling this particularly unsavory business.

The latter company, having hog-pens outside of the city, are able to minimize the trouble and little complaint has been made about their hog trade. During the last winter, however, it was found possible to use the depot hog-pens without causing the much trouble to residents of the neighboring streets, and a fair amount of business was done there.

Now that the warm weather has set in, such a practice is becoming distinctly disagreeable, and several store-keepers and others, living in the vicinity of the station, are complaining to remain in the depot all day yesterday, the result being a very bad stench which pervaded the whole neighborhood.

Several people have expressed their opinion that the attention of the C. P. R. officials should be called to the trouble at once, as the only way to abate the nuisance is for the pens at the depot to be thoroughly cleaned out and the business transferred to the outside pens until next winter, at least.

HE APPROVES OF IT

Was, Swears W. T. R. Preston, Necessary to the Completion of N. A. T. Co.'s Agreement—Jury Monday.

Ottawa, June 1.—Back on the stand in the Public Accounts' Committee yesterday morning, W. T. R. Preston was called upon to explain more vouchers. Samuel Barker produced one of Somerville's Government advertising accounts, dated May, 1904, for $2,701. It had not been certified to by Preston, but the latter explained to John Ennis in February as "a very responsible fellow" was cashing $200 cheques for the department in June. Preston could not say.

Preston was unable to say why Somerville got $2,451.15 out of cheques, two at one time, instead of all together in one and why there were four receipts instead of one.

A letter written to Lord Strathcona on the 15th of last April, in which Preston declared that he did not know who were in the North Atlantic Trading Co. brought Mr. Barker back to the personnel. Preston said that the letter was perfectly candid. He had had a suspicion as to the individuals, but not knowledge.

Another of Mr. Barker's efforts was directed toward showing from a letter written by Preston that the North Atlantic Trading Co. people were not afraid of prosecution.

"There was a pledge of secrecy all the time," Lord Strathcona's Part.

Mr. Barker then asked if it would be fair to say that Lord Strathcona organized the company without having formed the agreement without Lord Strathcona's assistance, said Preston, "not concluded it without his approval."

"Can you point to one word in writing to show that the people were afraid in writing?"

Mr. Barker wanted the letter under which Preston had been allowed to look at the names of the trading company.

"Will you produce it?" "I will not."

"Did you show the names to any member of the Government?" "I decline to answer."

Preston said that in showing the names he had gone outside of his authority.

Mr. Barker asked again for the names, and got the usual reply, notwithstanding a favorable ruling from the chairman. He then moved that the question, ruling and answer, be reported to the House.

"I second the motion," said the Finance Minister.

Aldred F. Jure will be called for the committee's Monday meeting.

Women in Our Hospitals

Appalling Increase in the Number of Operations Performed Each Year—How Women May Avoid them.

Going through the hospitals in our large cities one is surprised to find such a large proportion of the patients lying on those snow-white beds women and girls, either awaiting or recovering from serious operations.

Why should this be the case? Simply because they have neglected themselves. Female troubles are certainly on the increase among the women of this country. They creep upon them unawares, but every one of those patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in that bearing-down feeling, pain at left or right of the abdomen, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, dizziness, flatulency, displacements of the organs or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female organs, and if not heeded the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation. When these symptoms manifest themselves, do not drag along until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an operation—but remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved thousands of women from surgical operations.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy.

Mrs. Fred Seydel, 412 N. 54th Street, West Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Mollere, Scott and Homer. "As Mollere never had the heart to draw a jealous woman among all his pictures of men who knew, like himself, the torments of jealousy, so Scott never had the heart to draw a young and beautiful woman who is wicked," writes Andrew Lang. "This ancient familiar source of poignant interest he passes by, out of his great chivalry. There was nothing to prevent him from writing a romance on the passionate, wretched tale of the once beautiful Ulicia in 'Ivanhoe,' a fair traitress driven on the winds of revenge, treachery and paricide. Here was a theme for a 'realistic' novel of England after the conquest, but Scott sketches it lightly as a Thyeanean horror in the background. In his work such a piece of 'realism' stands alone, like the story of Phoenix in Homer's work (in the ninth book of the 'Iliad'). Both artists, Scott and Homer, had a sense of reverence for human things. They did not lack the imagination necessary for the portrayal of the evil and terrible, but they did not seek success in that popular region."

Ignorance may be bliss except where it is ignorance of the law.

It is the struggle to keep up appearances that keeps a great many people down.

SENATOR COX, WITNESS

Insurance Commission Hears Canada Life President.

Preliminary Queries Draw Forth a History of the Institution, and Mr. Cox Volunteered the Information to Save Time That He Practically Controlled the Stock, Himself, Family and Institutions Holding 57 p. c.

Toronto, May 31.—The Royal Commission on Insurance yesterday afternoon had its witness Hon. G. A. Cox, president of the Canada Life Assurance Co. Senator Cox, was questioned quite closely as to his position in the Canada Life by Mr. Shepley. His connection comprised almost the entire history of the company. In 1862 Senator Cox became an agent of the Canada Life in Peterboro. Five years later he became district agent, and then general manager, and later, president. While an agent he received 10 per cent. commission on first year business, and 7 1/2 per cent. on renewals. In his choice of agents and the salary paid them he had a free hand, his decisions being ratified by the board of directors.

In 1887 the Eastern Ontario branch was moved from Peterboro to Toronto. At that time Senator Cox and his son, E. W. Cox (now general manager), were in charge of that branch, under the firm name of "George A. and E. W. Cox."

Commission Increases. From 1862 to '87 there had been gradual increases of commission. After the move to Toronto was made the commission of Ontario came in, and the office staff numbered ten or twelve.

In the arrangement made at the time the company furnished the office at Toronto and paid the clerical staff. A commission of 35 per cent. on first year business, and 7 1/2 per cent. on renewals was allowed, out of which the Cox firm had to pay the commission of the field staff. On renewals paid in Toronto no commission was to be paid for four years. This was because the retiring agent, Mr. Henderson, had been given an allowance, and the company took this method of recouping itself.

At the expiry of the four years a commission of 21 1/2 per cent. were allowed on renewals. In 1892 first year commission was raised to 4 per cent., and in 1896 50 per cent. graded down.

The Capital Stock. The capital stock of the Canada Life was next. In 1847 there was a deed of settlement, and 1849 the act of incorporation. The authorized capital was $1,000,000 in shares of $100 each.

In 1848 $2,000 was paid up, and in 1849 another $2,000 was paid up, and a bonus of $1,000 was declared, which went to the capital. Similarly, in 1850, 55 bonuses ranging from $2,000 to $3,350 were applied to the same purpose. In 1856, $24,787.50 was paid up.

Said he thought that the company should have pursued the policy he did and continued paying up the capital. It gave the company a better financial position, and inspired the necessary public confidence. Mutualization at this point would have been fatal to the company.

In 1858 shareholders commenced to pay on their stock. In 1859 $125,000 had been paid in, of which $61,426.59 was realized on profits.

Call Up Unpaid Capital. A resolution was passed in 1900 calling up the unpaid capital of $875,000. Two calls were made, 7 1/2 per cent. 1 per cent. to extend over two years.

The witness said that this was done as the company needed money, as it was branching out and extending its business in Great Britain and the United States. Then again the directors thought it would strengthen the position of the company to get rid of the liability on capital stock. Further, under the new law at that time regarding reserves, if it did not do so it had the million to fall back on it would be always on the verge of bankruptcy.

Policyholders' Share. In 1900 the Canada Life business was put on a three per cent. reserve basis. The calling up of the stock did not lessen the proportion of profits paid to policyholders. Policyholders get 90 per cent. of the profits and shareholders 10 per cent. and the added capital does not matter.

From 1891 to 1899 the company paid 20 per cent. dividends yearly on its paid-up capital. Since the calling up of the capital in 1900 a yearly dividend of 3 per cent. has been paid.

Said he thought that the shareholders had been unwise in selling up capital. No shareholder had been squeezed out. The witness's own holdings were not affected.

Senator Cox then told of his individual holding of stock in the Canada Life.

Controls the Stock. Mr. Shepley wanted to know who the directors were in a certain year.

"Now I think I can save your time and mine and that of the court," said Senator Cox. "You want to know whether I have a controlling interest. I may as well tell you that myself, my family and institutions of which I am president, own 57 per cent. of the stock."

He doubted Zam-Buk's power but is now convinced.

Mr. Geo. Rhinehart, of 210 Wilton Avenue, Toronto, says:— "Last winter I had a big sore appear on the back of my right hand. I thought it would go away, but instead of doing so, it got worse. A patch of about four inches square became inflamed, then the skin broke and the sore mattered and discharged freely. Not only was it very unsightly, but it was very painful, too. In spite of my care it got worse, and to my great alarm a second inflamed patch appeared on my left hand. This was followed by a outbreak on my arm, and on the calf of my leg. The pain from these patches was terrible. At times, when they got thoroughly warm they itched until I could hardly bear. I used ointments and salves of all kinds, but got no benefit. One day I read a report in the newspapers of how a case of eczema of long standing had been cured by Z-m-Buk. I had tried so many things in vain that I doubted whether Zam-Buk could cure me. My wife advised me to try it and I did so. The first few applications gave me relief from the terrible itching, and also soothed the pain. I cleansed the wounds thoroughly once daily, and applied Zam-Buk as directed. Within a few days there was a marked improvement, and gradually the wounds began to close. The discharging ceased, and the skin began to grow again. Within a short time of commencing with the Zam-Buk treatment all the four wounds were not only closed up, but all the patches were covered with new, healthy skin. I consider Zam-Buk a wonderful balm, and shall always recommend it to my friends. If it can cure such serious skin diseases as mine was, it must be a very speedy cure for severe cuts and slight injuries sustained in one's every day work. I shall always keep a box handy."

WHAT ZAM-BUK CURES. Zam-Buk is a pure, refined balm of extraordinary power. Unlike most embrocations and ointments hitherto obtainable, it is purely herbal in nature, and contains no animal fat or mineral coloring matter. It expels disease from the system and virtually creates new, healthy skin. It is especially valuable for cuts, bruises, burns, running sores, ringworm, scalp irritation, eczema, psoriasis, sore throats, abscesses, boils, pimples, cracks, chafing, insect stings, festering sores, poisoned wounds, scalds, piles, stiffness, swollen joints, sore throat, aching feet, sprains, rheumatism, and all nerve pains. Obtainable from all druggists at 50 cents a box, or post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Colborne St., Toronto, upon receipt of price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

A Free Trial Box. A dainty free sample box of Zam-Buk will be sent to all applicants for same who cut out this coupon and forward it, with a one-cent stamp (to pay return postage) and full name and address to the Zam-Buk Co., Colborne St., Toronto. The Free Trial Box June 1, '06.

THE ENGLISH DERBY

Sir Tatton Sykes' Spearmin Wins—The King Present.

Epsom, Eng., May 31.—Thence for the Derby Stakes, 4,500 sovereigns, for entire colts and fillies foaled in 1903 (1 mile, 4 furlongs and 29 yards), was won yesterday by Sir Tatton Sykes' Spearmin, 6 to 1. Mr. Dugdale's Plover, 100 to 6, was second, and to Duke of Westminster's Troubadour, 8 to 1, was third. Twenty-two horses started.

King Edward's entry, Null Scundus, made a poor showing.

King Edward and a party of friends came down by special train in time for the first race.

Man wants but little her below, but wants that little good.

It is disgraceful to stumble three at the same stone.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE

The Directors Are Holding
The Annual Meeting
To-day

MANY ANNUAL REPORTS

The Directors of the West Kent Farmers' Institute met in the Haystack Hall this morning to transact business preliminary to holding the annual general meeting this afternoon.

H. Robinson, President, was in the chair. A few accounts were passed, after which the members adjourned until two p. m.

The directors' report, which was read at this afternoon's meeting, was as follows:—

To the members of the West Kent Farmers' Institute:

Your directors beg to report as follows:—

We have had seven meetings during the past winter, two regular meetings, one at Romney Tp. Hall, both addressed by R. S. Stephenson, of Ancester, on Dairying and by F. Sheppard, on Fruit and Farming. Speaking generally, we have had five supplementary meetings, addressed by Major James Sheppard, on Fruit Growing and General Farming, and by Anson Grob, on Dairying. The Revenue of the Farm in Five Years. Very profitable addresses were delivered by the local men on the Bacon Hog and other interesting subjects. Our only regret is that farmers have not taken more interest in the meetings. We have greater interest in the meetings. We have greater interest in the meetings. We have greater interest in the meetings.

Signed on behalf of the directors.

BOMB IN BOUQUET

Princess Ena And King Alfonso Has A Narrow Escape

Madrid, June 1.—The public rejoicings over the marriage of King Alfonso and Princess Victoria, which took place yesterday afternoon, as a bomb thrown from an upper window exploded with deadly effect near the coach occupied by the King and Queen. Princess Ena, King Alfonso and the royal party escaped by an electric wire deflected the bomb, but at least 16 persons, most of them being of the personal and military escort, and others, spectators, were killed. Many others were injured. An official statement indicates a possibility that two bombs were thrown, one exploding in the air by striking a telegraph wire, and the other falling so close to the royal carriage that a groom at the head of the wheel horses was killed, as also were the wheel horses.

THE KILLED.

Captain Barrios, commanding part of the King's escort, Lieutenant Rey, Lieutenant Padergast, six soldiers, the Marquis of Colosa, and her daughter, Don Antonio Calvo and his wife, aged 6 years, Jose Sola, 70 years of age, Luis Fonseca.

One royal groom, who was leading a horse drawing the coach carrying the King and Queen.

Several of those killed were standing on the balcony of the house from which the bomb was thrown.

The explosion occurred just as the royal couple were about to enter the palace, shaking the buildings in the vicinity, stunning a large number of people, and throwing the cortege into inextricable confusion.

King and Queen Safe.

The royal coach was brought to a sudden stop by the shock, officers and soldiers of the escort falling to the ground about the querry and the coach that had been killed. The screams of the terrified multitude mingled with the groans of the dying.

It was immediately seen that the royal coach was intact, except as it had been damaged by flying splinters. King Alfonso immediately alighted and King Alfonso immediately alighted and King Alfonso immediately alighted.

In the meantime the scene of the tragedy presented a horrible spectacle, gedy presented a horrible spectacle, gedy presented a horrible spectacle.

Miscellaneous Captured.

The place from which the bomb was thrown is a boarding house, was hurred by a man from the balcony.

Barcelona, giving the name of Manuel. When the police surrounded the house the man attempted to flee but was captured. Another man escaped over the roof of houses.

One of the injured proved to be a son-in-law of Premier Moret's private secretary.

Concealed in Bouquet.

An official statement says: The bomb which was concealed in a bouquet, a polished steel half a centimeter thick. It was thrown from a third floor window. The house is opposite the Church of the Sacramento and the captain-general's residence.

The royal procession had come to a temporary halt with the royal carriage exactly opposite the house when the bomb was thrown.

The missile fell to the right of the royal carriage, between the hindmost pair of horses and the front pair of wheels.

Courageous But in Tears.

The Duke of Corrodoles immediately pushed the carriage and helped out the King and then the Queen, who showed signs of the greatest emotion. Both, however, behaved with the utmost courage. They entered another carriage and the procession was resumed. On their arrival at the royal palace, it was noticed that the King and Queen both were in tears. They were quickly surrounded by foreign princes, each anxious to show sympathy and offer congratulations on the miraculous escape.

The indignation of the people over the outrage was great.

WHAT'S IN A COLOR?

Natural Conditions by no Means Stand Between Lovers and Happiness.

TWO UNIQUE EVENTS

The following is from the Detroit Free Press:

"Local color" will embellish two weddings in Detroit this week.

Yesterday William H. Woods, colored, procured a marriage license to wed Lillian J. Burdett, white. He is a waiter, aged 28, and lives at 193 Monroe avenue; she is 22, and has been employed as a domestic.

Balancing the racial intermarriage contracts of a single day came Charles R. Chambers, white, who procured a license to become the husband of Bernice Stone, colored. Chambers gave his occupation as that of a painter and his address 184 Elliot street. His bride-to-be is a cook, hailing from Chatham, Ont.

R. Chambers, the groom to be in the latter mentioned wedding, is a former Chathamite, as is also the bride. Both were formerly employed at the Garner Hotel.
