It is estimated that upwards of ave thousand people, some of whom came from a considerable distance, would be collected; and those who witnessed the proceedings in the room, and the procession, without one exception, were pleasingly surprised. The only question arises, for what purpose, it was intended to answer the But be this as it may, it appears from the band-bills that it was meant to represent the Queen and her Ministers of State deliberating in Privy Council, on the avening of the meeting of Parliament, on the affairs of the nation, more especially with regard to the recent manifesto of the Pops. The room chosen for this representation was the large one in the Tar Yard, which, from the liberality and munificence of some of the imbilithants of the town, was tastefully and beautifully hung with crimson cloth, and carpeted, and at the end, on a raised dais, stood the Throne, or Chair of State, for the Queen, and over it the Royal Arms. The exhibition commenced about half-past four o'clock in the alternoon, when a causings and six horses, with postillione, followed by two chaires with a pair of horses each, drove into the town. Shortly afterwards the streets in the following manner: First came the hughs men and a number of boys carrying torches and flags, then a troop of Lorsemen, intended to resemble the Queen's body plant, and drawed assich; immediately succeeding them followed the carriage, drawing get its house, its which were seated the Queen, dreused in full case. FRIDAY, MARCH 21, 1851.

The Searce Covernment.

Our able Toronto correspondent gives us an excellent account of the great Meeting at Toronto on the removal of the Seat of Government question. The point principally insisted on by the speakers, and particularly by Mr. H. Sherwood, was that the removal of the Scat of Government from Upper to Lower Canada, in the first instance, at the will of Mr. Dictator Lafontaine, was a breach of faith, inasmuch as the Upper Canadians would never have consented to the Union, had not a solemn ernment should be permanently situated in Upper Canada. At the time this we recollect rightly, of all the Montres papers, protested against that removal, not only on the ground that it was breach of faith, but because we clear breach of faith, but because we clearly foresaw that that removal would at one blow demolish all the good done, and expected to be done, by the Union. We felt perfectly convinced that British institutions could only be thoroughly and effectually worked out in the midst of British population, and the event has shown that we were correct. It was impossible to conceive that a question might not at some time arrive which would strongly excite the feelings of the antagonistic races, who share this good City of Montreal pretty equally between them, and which them, and which question might pos-sibly be transferred, as it was, from the Halls of Parliament to the streets, from deliberate discussion by the popular representatives to fierce settlement by their masters, the mob.

It is all very well to sneer at the Upper Canadians for seeking the "permanent settlement" of the Legislature as is done by the Montreal organ of the Dictator, but how will it be if a majority of Members from Upper Canada returned to the next Parliament, demand the performance of the solemn fledge given at the time of the Union, or the dissolution of that Union! We are inclined to look a little beyond the present-time, and not to consider how it may suit the views of this or that Administration, Mr. Lonis Hippolyte Lafontaine or Mr. Henry Sherwood, to have the Seat of Government permanently fixed at Que-bec or at Toronto, or alternately to visit both, like the peripatetic caravans of a showman, but how it will suit the conshowman, but how it will suit the con-venience of the people of Canada, when their eyes are once fully opened to the inconceivable folly of the arrangement, and when their pockets have felt its costlines. We do not here consider only the open had manifest expenses to be defrayed from the Fublic Treasury; the cost of transit to and from the keeping up two Government Houses ; two Houses for the accommodation of Parliament; two sets of Offices for the Parliament; I two sets of Offices for the Departments of the Government; we look at the expense which will fall on individuals, and the inconvenience to which they will be put, expense and inconvenience which must be incurred wherever the Seat of Government may be, in a country so large as this, but which will be quadrupled by its not being in a central situation. A pretty job it will be, for a man who has unavoidable business to transact with one of the Departments, to travel from

unip, when

mot identify the prisons, and an examination taken before him, was not allowed to be read. Mr. Codest, Clear of the Police, could as swear to the least of the prisoner; Mr. Stiller identifies the more nor less than the dissolution of the Union, and a possible civil war, for whenever the Upper Caundians make up their minds to agritate for Repeal of the discount of the Court; Mr. Stiller identifies the union, and a possible civil war, for whenever the Upper Caundians make up their minds to agritate for Repeal of the Outry of Yarband the Mayor thought it would be discounted in the answer to the Address of the Union, the British inhabitants of Montreal, of the Townships, and of the Ottswa country, will make a desperate of influence the popular branch of Legislature; The ultimate question, which the effort to attach themselves to their Upper Canadian fellow countrymen :

> even of this we think there is very little hope, for the Nova Scotians, and New Bruswickers, who seem to get along very peaceably among themselves will not have much desire to throw themselves into the arena of conflict.

> everlastingly going on in Canada.
> The next election in Upper Canada will have for its "cry," "Repeal of the Union," and a capital "cry" it will be. for by that time men will have prac-tically experienced the inestimable advantages of having the Seat of Government at one corner of the Province.

The Assembly addressed the Governor-General for information on the subject, which having been sent down, the House gave its assent to the measure with two conditions-that the English lan guage only should be used in the Records of Pariament, and that the Seat of Government should he within the limits of Upper Canada. The first of these conditions was embodied in the Union Act, and the latter was only omitted on the ground that legislation on the subject would be an invasion of the Royal Prerogative, while a promise was given by Thompson that the second edition laid down by the Upper Canada Assembly should be respected. Mr. Sherwood read me extracts from the official communications Mr. P. Thompson anything but complimentary the French Canadians, who (P. Thompson said) thought of nothing but cutting one anothers throats, Kingston was accordingly fixed upon as the Seat of Government, and, so long as Lord Sydenham lived, the question was regarded as settled. But under Lord Sydenham's successor Sir Charles Bagot, the French influence became predominant in the Councils of the country, and Sir C. Bagot was induced to open a correspon dence with the Home Government, treating th Seat of Government question as unsettled. The Home Government replied, that if a change must take place, if Lower Canada must have the Seat of Government, Montreal ought to be chosen That was just what the French party wanted But it was a departure from the pledge given to Upper Canada when it assented to the Act of Union. The question of removal to Montrea came before the Legislature in the time of Si Charles Metcalfe, who refused to send down to the House the correspondence with the Home ed to see the arguments that had been sent to the Home Government to induce it to depart from the understanding that the Seat of Government was to be in Upper Canada, but the correspondence could not be obtained, and to this day no one, if resolutions for moving to Montreal. We should think it would answer the purpose of some book.

Montreal was a place where public opinion was concentrated, and this would render it impossible for any outrageous act to be perpetrated. Well, the Government had learned, in a rather striking way, that there was a concentrated public opinion in Montreal—that public opinion drove these from Ship-Closing Association for a copy, in paniphlet the city. What Bill were they passing when that form, of Mr. John Leeming's admirable address public opinion was called into exercise to When an this subject, delivered in the Odd Pellows, the Parliament Houses were burnt to the ground, on this subject, delivered in the Odd Fellows', the Parliament Houses were burnt to the ground, and the Governor-General and the Upper Canada members of the Ministry, did not day to show themselves, he (Mr. S.) went to their blief, and proposed that the Seat of Government should move to Upper Canada; and they very guidly. This will be a most assumable relief to the poor, at this inclement season.

We are requested to intimate that the ordination of the Rev. A. F. Spalding will take place in the ment had left the limits of the Upper Province.

The Collection at St. Patrick's Church, on Monday last, amounted to the season of Government should move to Upper Canada; and they very guidly snatched at the offer. In his original resolutions, at automated to the House, it was stated that it was generally complained that the Seat of Government had left the limits of the Upper Province. Mr. Baldwin objected to the expression " generally," and he would not admit that it was generaily complained of, Mr. Sherwood then pro-posed to alter it so as to say that complaints have been made—to which Mr. Baldwin agreed. In requested to state, that the Prench Lecture, which should be delivered before this Society, this evening, is nestposed. A general distingt of the members of the Society, will take place this evening, at 8 o'clock; in their Rooms, over the Mercantile Library Association, St. Joseph Street.

in a position to earry out the pledge given by the Governor-General in Mr. Secretary's letter. Perhaps there was danger that if some donceur of this kind was not given to the French, they would join Papineau. If that was the case, Baldwin would say, good God! Lafortaine, if you cannot stand, what am I to fall back upon ? If you go, can't stand. Therefore, I'll support your policy. We shall break faith with Upper Can hall keep our places. Mr. Sherwood dwelt opor nces of htesches of public faith a those who are guilty of them, and cited, as an Instration, Sir Robert Peel's conduct in voting against his principles on the Slave-produced Sugar question to sastain the Whig Government, and event the return of the Protectionists to power. That breach of faith (continued Mr. S.) has been onsidered by all parties as a great stain on th utation of Sir Robert Peel. The same would be here, if the removal took place before the overnment had been in Toronto four years. He hought this was no time to quarrel about little rmalities; to set up a question, whether it was or was not respectful to address the Governor-General twice on one subject ! He did not agree speaker, came forward to move an Address on the subject which the Meeting had met to consider. with the Mayor, that we ought not to address the Gov.-General. If there was any such person present let him come forward and make his statement. [A pause ensued for some time, but no one came beward. 1 M1. John B. Robinson was opposed to address ing the Governor-General; he would rather consent to address Madame Lafontaine's poodle. He confessed he understood, from the first, that Government was to remain here only two years, and that the periods of convening Parliament in each city were to be for only two years. But why had that arrangement been departed from ? If we believed that the course which the Governnent had declared they intended to take was calculated to lead to a dissolution of the Union, why not say so ? Mr. R. moved a Resolution to the effect, that the threatened removal would be a breach of faith with Upper Canada, and tend to a issolution of the Union.

Mr. Mountjoy seconded the Resolution The Mayor renewed his objections to addressng the Governor-General after His Excellency's pinions on the subject had been fully stated. Mr. Nasmith had understood from the first that he Government was to remain here only two rears, and for that reason be could agree to neither the address nor the amendment. Of the two, he nent looked towards Annexation. He concluded by moving an amendment to the amendment, that, after next Session, Parliament ought to move to after next Session, Parliament ought to mood and James Benning Capt. Eirkland vote was taken to appropriate Parliament buildings at Quebec?

Mr. Sherwood replied that no question of the the removal of the Seat of Government was before the House last Session. He was unwell when the vote in question was taken; but had he been present, he should not have opposed it, as it was necessary to prepare the Parliament buildings for the reception of the Houses when the four years should have expired. When that time came, he hould be just as decided for the removal as he was now against it.

Mr. Peter Brown, of the Globe, supported the ddress, [much of the public printing follows the Government,] and deprecated the sentiments conained in the amendment. He could see nothing rrong or disrespectful in addressing the Govern General several times on one subject.

Mr. Alex. Dixon deprecated the disrespectful allusion of Mr. Robinson to the Governor-General. who, as the representative of the Sovereign, was entitled to our respect.

The so-called convention that Brown has managed to get, is a mere trick. It may, however, answer his purpose, to a certain extent. It will be represented as the regular nomination of the Reform party; and appeals will be made to the orthodox, not to divide the Reform ranks, but to vote for the candidate regularly nominated, as Brown is antruly represented to have been. NEW YOR, March 18.

We had a very severe storm last ngit. The effect was much selt on Staten Island. In the North and East Rivers the tide rose above the idook, and it is feared much damage has best done on the North side of the city. In the neighborhood of Rector, Albany, Washagtos, West, and other Streets, many families have loss compelled to seek rafuge in the Stand-Home Beds, bedding, and other articles, may be sea floating, about the docks, and, altogether, he scene is one that has not been witnessed for a long time.

Mr. William Bogle,—Dear Sir. For several years past,

After repeated failures of other so-called remedies, and hair, and I am happy to say that its effect has been to cause the bair to grow all over the part a setted. She bas used it oftener and more regular, I am couvinced that he growth of the hair would have been accelerated. I am,
