TENDERS!
Valuable Freehold Timber and Farm Land.

Tenders will be received at the Office of the undersigned up to 12 o'clock noon on Tuesday, May 4th, for that large piece of land situate at Maher's Sliding, on the Reid Newfoundland Railway, only 3 miles from Brigus Junction, and belonging to the Estate of the late Sir W. V. Whiteway.

This splendid tract of land comprises 8 square miles—4 of which being on each side of the track—and as the railway runs through the centre, it is easy of access, and has some splendid stretches of Birches and Spruce thereon—the Birches on one side and the Spruce and Fir on the other.

It is also an ideal spot for farming, and there would be no trouble experienced in loading produce, as there is a siding where cars can be loaded at ease.

Another desirable feature in connection with the property is that the party buying same would be the SOLE owner of all waters on the land, thereby excluding all fishing and shooting over same without license. There is good fishing in the ponds and gulches which abound on same.

It is also an ideal place for Sheep Raising, being away from the ravages of all dogs.

The highest or any tender not necessary accepted.

CHAPTER V.
A WOMAN'S WILL.

The Warren, as Miss Rebecca Goodman's estate was called, was the first on the list.

The squire had not seen Rebecca since Hugh's departure. He had felt too sore as yet to look upon the woman who had unintentionally caused the separation; but he was now glad of the excuse for calling on her.

Miss Rebecca Goodman, who was, with all the rest of the people of the place, rather afraid of the squire, received them rather uneasily. She was a pale, slight little woman, with timid, frightened eyes and a manner at once conciliating and gentle—a good little being, but not the woman to win the heart of such a man as Hugh.

"So this is Miss Grace," she said, stooping to kiss that young lady, who took the caress rather frigidly and stared about her with her dark eyes in a curious manner.

"Yes, Rebecca," said the squire, with something like a smothered sigh, "this is my niece." Then turning to Grace, who was now scrutinizing the pale face before her with unblinking minuteness: "This lady is a great friend of mine. You must love her."

"Perhaps she won't love me," said Grace, rather pertinently.

"Oh, yes, I will, my dear!" said Miss Rebecca, very much startled, and taking her hand. "We shall be very great friends, squire, I have no doubt."

"Hem!" said the squire, in his short way, feeling rather doubtful for his part of any one being able to stand Grace except himself.

"How is the gout?" asked Rebecca.

"Pretty well, I thank you," said the squire—his usual answer. "I hope your cold is better?"

"Thank you, yes," replied Miss Rebecca—her usual answer, also.

"Well," said the squire, after a little more small talk of a very broken sort, for both were thinking of the forbidden topic, "we must be going, Compe, Grace."

But Grace had taken up her position at the table and, without lifting her eyes from a large book of illustrated travels, refused to go.

"I don't want to go, Uncle Harry," she said, quietly. "I'd rather stay here."

The squire sighed. He didn't want to fight the usual battle before Rebecca.

"But you don't know whether the lady will have you," he said.

Grace looked up into the timid face of Rebecca and answered, confidently:

"Oh, yes, she will, Uncle Harry! Won't you?"

"Yes, my dear," said Miss Rebecca. "Let her stay the day with me, squire."

"But I wanted to take her to the Brantons, and her ladyship's."

"I won't go," said Grace, in parenthesis.

"Take her to-morrow," said Rebecca; and the squire, very much put out, trudged away without her.

When he had gone Miss Rebecca walked up to Grace and, putting her arm in a feeble, timid sort of way that the young girl quite appreciated, said:

"Well, my dear, do you like pictures?"

"Some of 'em," said Grace. "These are rare fine ones."

Miss Rebecca was shocked.

"You—you shouldn't say that," she said.

"What?" asked Grace, looking up with a frown of astonishment.

Miss Rebecca, who had not seen her face to so much advantage before, stopped in her intended reproof and looked away with a sigh. The dark frown was too much like Hugh's for the poor thing's equanimity.

"What's the matter?" said Grace, upon whom nothing, not the most fleeting expression, was lost. "What did you sigh for? Did I say anything wicked? Because I always am—so Mr. Dewlop says."

"Who is Mr. Dewlop?" asked Rebecca, avoiding her question.

"He's the tutor. He's gone now. I'm glad of it. I hated him."

"Hush!" said Rebecca. "You mustn't say that. It's very wicked to hate any one."

"But I can't help it," said Grace, nodding her head decidedly. "It ain't wicked if you can't help it. I hate everybody a'most."

"Oh, that's very wicked!" said Rebecca, feeling a sort of womanly pity for the poor, untalented child. "Suppose every one hated you; how miserable you would be!"

"So they do!" said Grace. "Mr. Dewlop hated me—I'm sure he did—the folks down where we lived hated me, and they called me tomboy. Mrs. Lucas—well, she'll hate me in time. Oh, everybody hates me!"

"What, the squire?" asked Rebecca, gently. "Think, Grace; your uncle does not hate you, and I don't hate you."

"Don't you?" said Grace. "Well, I like you for that."

"Oh, you don't hate me?" said Rebecca, smiling, but so sadly and mournfully that Grace, turning from her beloved picture-book, kissed her, and then, with a frown, said:

"What makes you look so sad? Has your mother died?"

"Yes," said Rebecca, flushing; "but long, long ago."

"And your father?" asked Grace, drawing a little closer.

"Yes, he is dead," said Rebecca, quietly.

"My father and mother are dead, too," said Grace, dropping her eyes thoughtfully and drawing nearer to Rebecca. "Haven't you any brothers and sisters?"

"No," said Rebecca.

"Are you all alone in this big house?" asked Grace, opening her eyes.

"Yes," said Rebecca, who had never felt her loneliness so much as at this moment.

"Ah," said Grace, "you must be dull at times; but you've got some nice picture-books!" and, evidently thinking that they went far to compensate, turned to the book again.

Rebecca rose and going to a large cabinet took from it a pile of books.

"Here," said she, "are some more. You may have them all if you like."

Grace pounced upon them eagerly, but turned away after a slight examination with an air of contempt.

"They're all rubbish," she said; "there ain't a travel book among 'em. I like travels and adventures, fights and hunting. Oh," she continued, "I'd give anything to see all the fine countries in this book"—striking the book with her little, clinched fist and lifting her head eagerly—"I'd give the world to see a lion and a tiger and an elephant! Wouldn't you? But I never shall—before Rebecca could reply—"I never shall. Only boys and men go to them out-of-the-way places. No girls do. I hate girls! I'd like to be a boy. Oh, I'd like to be a boy!"

Miss Rebecca looked more shocked than ever.

"My dear—my dear!" she exclaimed.

"But I should! I should," repeated Grace, stamping her feet and raising her flashing eyes undauntedly. "I'd give everything to be a man and to do as I like. I'd leave the Dale and take ship for foreign places. I'd work my heart out to fight a lion and build a house in the forest; I'd like to live, like Robinson Crusoe, on an island all by myself, and fight the savages and—oh, I wish I was a boy! Boys can do everything. Girls can do nothing. Don't you wish you was a boy, ma'am?"

Rebecca shook her head.

"No, my dear," she said; "they have their troubles as well as women," and she thought of the poor outcast wandering she knew not where. The reply was beyond Grace, and she returned to her book, Rebecca sitting beside her and answering to the best of her ability the torrent of questions that Grace poured out upon her.

Presently the book was exhausted, and Grace looked round for further amusement.

Rebecca, responding to the book, rose and went to the piano.

"Can you play?" she asked Grace.

"No," said Grace, emphatically.

"That is a pity," said Rebecca.

"Why?" asked Grace, opening her eyes.

"Why?" repeated Rebecca, rather nonplused. "Why don't you like music, my dear?"

"I don't know," said Grace.

And it was the truth, for the unfortunate man who had attempted to teach her music had utterly neglected to arouse her love for it by playing to her.

H.P. SAUCE

Grace, resting her elbows upon the piano, leaned her head upon her hands and fixed her eyes upon the lady's pale face.

Rebecca was fond of music and played well.

"Go on," said Grace, imperatively, as, after playing one of Mozart's sonatas, Rebecca paused.

Smiling at the tone of the request, she opened a collection of simple ballads and sang one—a pathetic old thing that had been a favorite of Hugh's, who could always be got to listen to it when other things failed to charm.

Rebecca, who had not a powerful or particularly good voice, sang well enough to enrapture this uncultivated specimen of humanity.

When she had finished, Grace remained silent for a moment, then burst into tears.

This unexpected turn dismayed simple-minded Rebecca.

"Oh, my dear!" she commenced, rising and drawing the child toward her; but Grace did not like to be pitted and stamped her feet.

"Go on!" she cried, drying her tears and frowning. "I'm not crying. Why don't you go on? I like it, I like it."

Rebecca, as much afraid of her passion as her tears, turned over the book and, thinking to please the singular girl, handed it to her, saying:

"There, my dear, choose a song for yourself."

Grace, though she knew not a note of music, took the volume gravely and commenced reading the titles.

Presently she stopped and uttered an exclamation, pointing to the name "Hugh Darrell" written on the top of one of the songs. It was one he had given to Rebecca, and, as an additional favor, had written his name across it.

Now, as Grace pointed to it, Rebecca turned rather pale and trembled.

"Who's that?" asked Grace. "Hugh Darrell—that must be Uncle Harry's son. It is, isn't it?"

"Yes," said Rebecca.

"Did you know him?" asked Grace.

"Yes," again replied Rebecca, striking the keys with trembling hands.

"What was he like?" asked Grace.

"How old was he? Was he good-looking, strong, and brave, as a man ought to be?"

"Yes," said poor Rebecca. "He was the handsomest man—boy—in Dale, the bravest and best in England."

"And he died," said Grace, thoughtfully. "Everybody seems to die that I like."

"But," said Rebecca, startled out of her tears, "you never saw him."

"No," said Grace, "course not; but I like him, though. How long ago did he die?"

"Oh, long, long ago!" said Rebecca; and fearful, lest any other question should break the back of her endurance, she rose hastily, and taking Grace's hand, said:

"Come, my dear, come, and let me show you the Warren."

(To be continued.)

RE-BUILT Piano Case Organs.

(Six Octaves.)

BY FAMOUS MAKERS.

We have in stock a number of Rebuilt Organs, piano case, six octave, by Bell, Doherty, Thomas, etc., which we are offering at the same price practically as five octave parlour organs. Every instrument guaranteed.

Owing to its limited scale the five octave organ is only suitable for sacred music. The advantage of the six octave instrument is apparent since its larger scale will accommodate any piano selection, while the finish, style and tone of these instruments should appeal to everyone.

WALTER BAKER & CO. Ltd.
MONTREAL, CAN. Established 1820. DORCHESTER, MASS.

Rebecca shook her head.

"No, my dear," she said; "they have their troubles as well as women," and she thought of the poor outcast wandering she knew not where. The reply was beyond Grace, and she returned to her book, Rebecca sitting beside her and answering to the best of her ability the torrent of questions that Grace poured out upon her.

Presently the book was exhausted, and Grace looked round for further amusement.

Rebecca, responding to the book, rose and went to the piano.

"Can you play?" she asked Grace.

"No," said Grace, emphatically.

"That is a pity," said Rebecca.

"Why?" asked Grace, opening her eyes.

"Why?" repeated Rebecca, rather nonplused. "Why don't you like music, my dear?"

"I don't know," said Grace.

And it was the truth, for the unfortunate man who had attempted to teach her music had utterly neglected to arouse her love for it by playing to her.

United States Authorities Fear May Day Demonstrations.

Federal Agents Given Open Instructions to Act -- Canadians Lulogised by High Military Officer -- Bolsheviki Badly Beaten by Poles -- The Ruhr Difficulty Still Unsettled.

MAY DAY PRECAUTIONS.

WASHINGTON, April 30. Federal agents have been instructed to "go as far as the law will allow" in breaking up May Day demonstrations. In making this announcement to-day, Assistant Attorney General Garvan said the Department of Justice officials were concentrating on the effort to protect the lives of officials, Federal and States, who are reported to have been marked for destruction, and to prevent violence generally. Surveillance of parades and similar demonstrations will be left largely in the hands of local police, but Government agents will be on hand to aid in the event that disorders coming within Federal Statutes occur.

TOWNSEND IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 30. A high tribute to the gallantry of Canadian Corps was paid by Major General Sir Chas. Townsend at a reception given in his honor by the Canadian Club here to-day. He eulogized the Canadian Corps as a fighting machine, and in the course of his address referred to the fact that of his ancestors fought in Canada during the early troubles in the days. There was enthusiasm as the hero of Kut arose to speak. He gave a graphic account of the advance on Bagdad, retreat in the face of an overwhelming Turkish force, and the subsequent prolonged heroic defence of Kut, followed by the surrender to the Turks.

A POLISH VICTORY.

LONDON, April 30. The loss of Sehitomir, 80 metres west of Kiev, to the Poles, is added to an official statement sent to-day by the Soviet Government at Moscow. The message also refers to the Polish threat against Kiev.

BOLSHEVIKS BEATEN.

WARSAW, April 30. Resistance of the Bolsheviki has been broken in south Ukraine, according to to-day's official communique, which announces that the Poles have captured Mostieva and are now moving southeast along the Dniester. The Poles have captured fifteen thousand prisoners, sixty cannon, hundreds of machine guns and seventy-six locomotives since their offensive began.

AN ALBERTA FIRE.

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., April 30. The town of Carmangay was visited by a forty thousand dollar fire which started on Friday Morning in a bedroom. Eight business places were wiped out.

THE ONLY POSSIBLE DECISION.

TORONTO, April 30. The Court of Appeal of the Methodist Church to-day dismissed the appeal on behalf of Rev. Wm. Ives, of Winnipeg, against the action of the Manitoba conference, which practically dismissed him from the Methodist Ministry last May, following his conviction as leader in the big general strike last summer.

TROUBLE IN ALASKA.

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 30. Activity of alien agitators in the vicinity of Sitar, Alaska, resulted in the despatch of the coast guard cutter Algonquin from Port Townsend, Washington, to that place.

LEVER BILL TOO VAGUE.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 30. Federal Judge Walter Evans, in the course of a case before him against alleged profiteers to-day, held that the Lever Food Control Act could not be enforced. The act is too vague and its language too indefinite, Judge Evans said, in dismissing the actions.

THE RUHR DISTRICT.

LONDON, April 30. It was officially announced in Berlin to-day that German state defence troops will march into the southern Ruhr district for the protection of public order and industrial work, according to a message from the German capital.

NEW YORK VIGILANT.

NEW YORK, April 30. William Flynn, Chief of the Investigating Bureau of the Department of Justice, conferred to-day with his New York Districts Lieutenants regarding possible May Day demonstrations here. Extraordinary precautions against possible attempts at May Day demonstrations have been taken by the police.

ATHLETIC RECORDS.

PHILADELPHIA, April 30. The new world's record defeat of England's best collegiate distance runner, three teams, including Oxford and Cambridge, left at the post in the star race and the winning of Pentastolon by Bradley of the University of Kansas, were the outstanding features of the opening day of the University of Penna relay carnival here to-day. The presence of the English University's crack team gave an international aspect to the games, and for heavy rain and an unfortunate flasco, which ruined the Medley Race, the initial day of the meet would have gone down in history as one of the most successful in the long carnival record.

SYMPATHY TIE-UP.

SYDNEY, April 30. Upwards of 12,000 miners will be idle to-morrow having decided to tie-up the coal mines as a demonstration of sympathy for the Winnipeg strike leaders now in Stonemountain prison. This statement was made by Secretary Jas. McLachlan, of the U.M.W. here to-day.

ANOTHER ALBERTA FIRE.

CALGARY, April 30. Fire is wiping out the business section of Carmangay, Alberta. The loss is reported at $100,000.

SENATE'S NEW PROPOSAL.

WASHINGTON, April 30. The state of war with both Germany and Austria would be terminated under a resolution reported to-day by the Senate Relations Committee as a substitute for the resolution to end the war with Germany alone. The vote on the resolution was 9 to 6 with all of the Republicans supporting it, and all Democrats lining up solidly in opposition. It is planned to call up the resolution for debate in the Senate next week and final action is expected within two or three weeks.

STRIKERS ENJOINED.

PITTSBURG, Kansas, April 30. The new Kansas Court of Industrial Relations law is constitutional, according to a decision announced by Judge Andrew J. Curren, in Crawford County District Court to-day. Judge Curren then granted a temporary injunction, enjoining Alexander Howat and other district local union officials of Kansas District of United Mine Workers from calling a strike.

STYRIAN LOVE FOR HUN.

GRAZ, Austria, April 30. The Styrian Diet, following the example of Tyrol, has passed a resolution demanding that the Central Government take urgent steps to cancel Article 88 of the St. Germaine Treaty and permit fusion with Germany.

LOYAL TO LIQUOR.

WASHINGTON, April 30. "Not one penny to keep liquor out of the United States" was the watchword of the House Appropriations Committee yesterday. Evidence offered by the customs service that whiskey is being smuggled in great quantities over the Canadian and other borders left the committee unmoved.

the end of this month, which, if correct, will leave quite a number of men out of employment. The trouble with the firm is said to be severe losses experienced by it during the past few months. It is to be hoped that the report is groundless.

Dr. Smith, who has been very ill for the past few weeks, is now on the road to complete recovery. There being but two doctors here during the past year or so, Dr. Smith's able services are missed greatly, and the hope is entertained that he will be about again in a few days hence, feeling none the worse for his sickness.

On Tuesday night a charity concert was staged at the Please U. Theatre here, under the capable management of Mr. A. J. Donnelly, but it is to be regretted that the result was short of expectations, owing, probably, to the short notice given. Songs and recitations and duets were rendered by local talent, and as well moving pictures were shown, which added to the attraction of the program. Mr. Donnelly is to be commended on his noble aim, to which every individual should give his or her support.

Seen From the Lobby.

House of Assembly, April 30.
The session yesterday afternoon, although not as good as that of the evening, was most interesting to one who, like myself, loves a wordy scrap. Opening with light machine-gun fire between Mr. J. R. MacDonnell and Mr. Archibald on the matter of sectarianism, begun the previous day by Mr. Archibald, Mr. MacDonnell demanded that the House go into the charge, and exonerate him. The Speaker looked doubtfully at the Minister of Justice, who got up and said something—what, nobody but himself knew. Evidently the Speaker did, however, and Mr. MacDonnell was ruled out of order.

The member for St. George's, in stating that he had not yet touched on Sectarianism, said that when he did, as he intended, "no one would need to put on his riddle cap to guess what his words meant."

Mr. Samson (Twillingate) now got up and in one breathless rush exhausted the points raised by the Opposition in connection with the Speech from the Throne, and sat down.

Mr. Samson is a young man, and spent some 15 or 16 years in the teaching profession.

Mr. Jones (Twillingate) read out a reprinted article from the Telegram. This was an article first published in a Toronto paper and re-printed from it by this paper. It dealt with the General Election and the part sectarianism had played therein. He held that the paper which would publish such an article should be boycotted and the editor thereof be compelled to go fishing.

He is probably right; but why not write to Toronto and tell the editor so? What is his idea of talking about it down here in Newfoundland? As far as I know the Toronto paper which published it has no circulation in this country and a boycott would not make much difference with it. As for the editor of a Toronto paper being made go fishing—that is genuinely funny.

I wonder if, in the back of his head, Mr. Jones thought that the paper which re-printed the article should also be boycotted, and the editor thereof made go fishing? I wouldn't be surprised.

Evidently Mr. Jones knows more about fish than he knows about newspaperdom!

Mr. Target (Trinity) got up and occupied the valuable time of the House with a very interesting speech. "Newfoundland's fish is her staple industry" was the most original statement he made.

Remarkable, what a lot you learn when you sit patiently in the Lobby as the gems of thought fall from the lips of honorable members, hit the floor and scatter to the ears of all and sundry!

Mr. Abbott (Bonavista) started in to review the war, (touching at length on sea and land fighting) explained in detail the nebular theory, exhausted Darwin's theory of Evolution, and a few other light subjects, and then ended up by being funny.

And he was funny! The House simply leaned back and roared. Some of his jokes were delicious.

He mentioned the words "camel on a cat's back." I thought that this was a little too rough on the Premier and the Minister of Agriculture and Mines.

STRIKERS CARRIED PRINCE.

AUCKLAND, N.Z., May 1.
The Prince of Wales and his entire party, with the Governor General and his staff were brought into Auckland yards in four special trains, run by striking railway men. The strikers gave the Prince an ovation. It is still hoped here that the strike will be settled in time to permit the Prince to carry out his proposed visit to the northern part of New Zealand.

FUNDAMENTAL CHANGES.

LONDON, May 1.
At the Irish Conference, attended by Premier Lloyd George, Andrew Bonar Law, Field Marshal Viscount French, Lord Leut. of Ireland, Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, and Denis Henry, Attorney General for Ireland, they discussed the situation on the basis of three fundamental changes in the Government's policy. The first change, it is understood, will provide for more severe treatment for the perpetrators of actual crimes; the second would grant the Irish almost the same freedom of speech as in England, and the third would provide official publicity of all happenings in Ireland. While it is not announced whether these provisions have been definitely decided upon, it may be stated that the intention now is that the new Irish officials will attempt to govern along these lines.

HAS TO INTERFERE.

BERLIN, May 1.
The German Government probably will have to revoke its previous intention not to intervene in the territory south of the Ruhr, because of the chief Burgomaster of Hagen has declared that we cannot longer assume responsibility for the maintenance of order there. This announcement was made in the Prussian Diet, yesterday, by Minister of Interior, Severing.

BOLSHEIES TAKE BAKU.

LONDON, May 1.
Russian Bolshevik forces occupied Baku, an important port on the western coast of the Caspian Sea and the centre of very important petroleum fields on April 28, it was officially announced this morning.

NORWEGIAN HAS NEW PLAN.

LONDON, May 1.
Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian Arctic explorer, has not abandoned his expedition, but after his impending visit to Nome, Alaska, he intends to enter the ice pack around Wrangell Island, off the northern coast of eastern Siberia and then drift across the Polar Sea, says a despatch to the Times from Christiania.

SERIOUS INDIAN SITUATION.

LONDON, April 30.
Agitation by Khalifa extremists is increasing in violence, says a despatch to the London Times from Simla, dated last Wednesday. Delhi is the focus of the movement and during the past few days speeches of marked disloyalty have been delivered. Shaukrat Ali and other leaders are advocating the migration of Indian Moslems to Afghanistan and Asia Minor.

IS NEWFOUNDLAND IN THIS?

OTTAWA, April 30.
Sir George Foster announced in the House to-night that a trade conference between Canada and the British West Indies had been arranged to open in Ottawa on May 31.

READY FOR EMERGENCIES.

CHICAGO, April 30.
Federal State and city forces to-night were prepared to combat any overt act that might grow out of the various demonstrations planned for to-morrow in celebration of May Day. Seventy more suspects were rounded up to-day.

Notes From Brigus.

A very quiet wedding took place at the Cabot Hotel on Thursday, the 29th inst., the contracting parties being Miss Lillian L. Kennedy, of Bay de Verde and Mr. Patrick F. Ryan, of Catalina. The bride was attended by her sisters, Misses Winifred and Ella, while Messrs. Stanley Kennedy, (brother of the bride) and Mr. W. Campbell ably supported the groom. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Murphy, P.P., after which a sumptuous repast was partaken of by those present. The bride party then motored around town. On Friday they were entertained for a few days at the happy couple proceeded to their future home in Catalina. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Ryan many years of wedded bliss.

During the past week Messrs. J. Gushue and E. Haseltine have been engaged in making minor repairs to the Methodist Parsonage premises.

Magistrate and Mrs. J. P. Thompson arrived home by noon train, on Monday. The former had been attending to magisterial duties in Trinity Bay. The latter attended at Government House to receive the decoration of M. B. E. which was conferred in recognition of valuable services in connection with the W. F. A. of which she was president.

Rev. Canon Bolt arrived in town on Tuesday, on a business visit.

J. W. Hiccock's schooner the "Vendetta," G. Gushue master, left yesterday to dock at Harbor Grace, where she will be cleaned and painted.

Rev. Dr. Murphy, P.P., left Monday's train on a short visit to Carbonear. He returned again on Tuesday.

The schooner "Clarence B." owned by C. A. Jerrett, left this evening to dock at Hr. Grace. There she will be hawed and caulked preparatory to proceeding to Sydney for a cargo of coal.

Owing to canker and the poor potato crop of last season, there is a great scarcity of that staple commodity here at present. As a food with many they are a thing of the past. We hear that those fortunate ones who have sufficient for their needs, and some for sale, are seeking the "modest" sum of anywhere from six to eight dollars.

Miss Gertie Clarke left for St. John's by this morning's train.

First Doctors Then a Skin Specialist—Then a bottle of D.D.D.

I will consider it a favor if you will allow me to add my testimonial to the many hundreds you no doubt have in praise of the great results effected by the D.D.D. Prescription. I was a sufferer for two years with eczema on the legs and ankles. I tried three or four different doctors and none of them did me any good. I got tired of trying their remedies. I then went to a skin specialist but he was no better than they. I was reading the Sunday paper and happened to see your ad. I am very glad that I did.

I secured a trial bottle of D.D.D. and it did me so much good that I sent for a dollar bottle, also a cake of soap. That is all I used, and I am perfectly well. I have advised several others to use it and the results have been the same. You are at liberty to use my name for I consider D.D.D. the best remedy in use.

Why Go Out Into the Rain Expecting Protection From a Sponge?

Rather a foolish supposition, you say; but nevertheless you do when you wear a raincoat in which the rain protection is embodied in the proofing of the outer cloth only, which absorbs the rain much as a sponge does, making a heavy, uncomfortable, dragging load for you to carry round.

These are the disadvantages that come with every coat that has not an oiled silk lining between the outer cloth and the cotton lining; the greatest feature in raincoat making and guaranteed rain protection that the manufacturers of

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

ECONOMIZING ON SYMPATHY.

Why is it that some people are always ready to point out the mistakes which befall their friends, but not mere unhappy chances of fate, but can in some way be linked a part of their friends' failure to do the right thing?

Here's a sample of what I mean: A woman whom I know, has three children who are very delicate. They are always having one thing or another, colds, mumps, measles, and again. You seldom call her up and hear from her that there is not something wrong with one of the children.

They Blame Her.

I have often heard her friends talk about this state of affairs, and while they sometimes say "Poor Louisa," they often they say, "It's her own fault. She has coddled those children since they were born—of course they are sickly." If the mother were to speak for herself I am sure she would say, "They've been sickly since they were born; of course I had to coddle them." As to which is right, I'm not going to say. Very likely it is one of the two, and 99 cases out of a thousand are both are wrong and both are right. But the instinctive attitude is to blame is what interests me.

Here's another instance: Did you know a woman to have trouble with her husband that some of her friends weren't ready to admit that "it is just what she should expect when she lets herself go the way she does," or is "half-trotting around to club meetings," or "spends so much time on children," or whatever there is about her that can be set upon as an excuse for putting her in the position to be blamed rather than sympathized with?

She is Just As Quick to Blame. Here's a queer thing about this tendency. One would think that anyone who suffered from it, would learn to tender to others. On the contrary, the mother of whom I spoke, has a pretty good idea how people feel about her children and resents it bitterly. Yet here is what she said to me the other day about the mother of a boy who is inclined to be a bit wild: "I don't blame him at all, I blame his mother entirely. It's all her fault for one way she has kept him tied to her apron strings. She would always be at him about this and that." Wouldn't you think she would consider her own case, and would realize that the other mother might well say, "he was always a more than ordinarily difficult child; I had to be at him?"

A Guess at the Answer. I began with a question. I will end with my guess at the answer. Our instinct to blame is a sort of protective coloration, as it were. For if we don't blame, if we admit that the thing is our friend's misfortune and not at all his fault, we have to sympathize. And many people are almost as chary of their sympathies as they are of their pocketbooks.

Now I come to read that over, it sounds awfully cynical. But I did not say everyone was like that—just some people!

Two Girls Arrested.

On Suspicion of Being Implicated in Killing of Macedonian. TORONTO, April 21.—One man and two girls, who are believed to have knowledge of events which led up to the murder and burial of Ramaden Hassan, the man whose body was exhumed from the cellar of the house at 159 Wolsley Street last Saturday, were arrested by the police last night. Genboy Irish, owner of the house where the tragedy occurred, is being held as a material witness, while Evelyn Casquet of Gould Street and Cecile is Casquet of King Street East, were arrested by Detective Sergeants Mulholland and Levitt in Ahmad Adosey's restaurant, corner of King and Widmer Streets.

The two girls, who are aged 19 and 20, respectively are cousins. It is stated that they were overheard in the restaurant discussing the murder and making statements as to the manner in which it was committed. The girls are alleged to have made the statement that the wound found on Hassan's cheek was caused by an axe, and that the body had been carried to the cellar in a blanket.

They deny any knowledge of the crime, however, and claim that they were merely discussing the probable weapons used and the means by which the body had been moved.

GENEROUS LIFE.
I have known the green trees and the skies overhead
And the blossoms of spring and the fragrance they shed;
I have known the blue sea, and the mountains afar
And the song of the pines and the light of a star;
And should I pass now, I could say with a smile
That my pilgrimage here has been much worth my while.

I have known the warm handclasp of friends who were true
I have shared in their pleasures and wept with them, too;
I have heard the gay laughter which sweeps away care
And none of the comrades I've made could I spare;
And should this be all, I could say ere I go,
That life is worth while just such friendship to know.

I have builded a home where we've loved and been glad,
I have known the rich joy of a girl and a lad;
I have had their caresses through storm and through shine,
And watched them grow lovely and claimed them as mine;
And I think as I hold them at night on my knee,
That life has been gloriously generous to me.

British Shipping Supremacy.

Hong Kong Press.—Every Briton must have been proud to read the statement embodied in a cable despatch that the supremacy of British shipping has been re-established, and that the Empire's share of the confiscated enemy shipping, added to the great output of new ships, has given us, within a year of the close of the war, a total tonnage five per cent. greater than we had before the war. It is scarcely necessary to add for the information of people whose business is with shipping that our carrying capacity is "still short of requirements." Whatever deficiency exists, however, will certainly be met in time, for every month many new ships are being launched from the yards of the United Kingdom.

HOUSES ARE SCARCE.

The town is short of dwellings of small or larger size, and so we hear the yellings of heartless f c k homeless guys; they hustle, heiter-skelter, to try to rent a shelter of some hard-hearted petter, unmoved by a l l their cries. It's hard to raise the ante, for any common gent; for he could build a shanty with what he pays in rent; but there's no builder willing to take his hard-earned shilling and help him make a killing, and hence his loud lament. I see the homeless hking around me everywhere; their bosoms they are striking, and tearing of their hair; men flaunt their rolls of kroners, and cry, "Rent us a 'back, or we are simply goners, alas, and eke slack!" Our kinds and wifes are weeping, for they must do their sleeping in barns where rain is seeping through every beastly crack! Our uncles and our grannies in cornicrib sit and sigh, while through the open cranulas the winds go whizzing by; then rent to us, my master, a house with lath and plaster, or there will be disaster, and fireworks popping high! In vain—there are no houses that they can rent on hire, which growsome fact arouses my stern patriotian ire; that men who have the plunder can't rest, a roofree under, fills me with wrath and wonder, the while I kick my tyre.

The Plot Exposed.

A great deal was made of the part sectarianism played in the election last fall, by a section of the Government press, the opposition members being repeatedly accused of raising the religious cry in various districts. Also on the floors of the House of Assembly, since the present session commenced, charges have been hurled across the floor from members sitting on the left of the Speaker, that the members occupying seats opposite were guilty of working on the denominational feelings and sentiments of the voters during their canvassing campaign. Wolf! Wolf! has been the cry of honorable members of the Government, and at length the Wolf came, but he made his appearance on their own side of the house, much to the consternation and confusion of the sectarian howlers.

In the course of the remarks with which he entertained the House and audience at Thursday's sitting, Mr. F. C. Archibald, member for Harbor Grace, with more courage than discretion and with more bravery than he responded to the Call to Arms in 1914, dealt exhaustively with the sectarian question as applied to the recent political battle of the ballots. Quite inadvertently he let the Tory Cat out of the bag, and that feline being now at large, there is no possible hope of its recapture. The real truth has been told at last, and that which everybody suspected has now received corroboration from the lips of an honorable member, who doubtless knew whereof he spoke. It would be very unlike any successful candidate for Parliamentary honors to deliberately make such a damning statement publicly, unless he had foreknowledge of the subject, as that of Mr. Archibald in which he announced that the General Election of last fall had been fought on sectarian lines, "AND IT WAS A CLEAR FIGHT BETWEEN PROTESTANTS AND CATHOLICS."

Perhaps this is the most tremendous pronouncement ever made in the hearing of the House of Assembly, and it must be true, or Mr. Archibald would not commit himself to such a slashing indictment of his leader and his party, who now stand openly charged with fighting their political Campaign on sectarian lines with the object of setting Protestant against Catholic. As Mr. Archibald was not challenged by either member on the Government benches it is safe to assume that his statement was correct, and that a plot had been hatched by the members of the Liberal Reform Party, prior to the elections, whereby they had adopted such a measure of iniquity as the leading part of their policy. Mr. Archibald was frank in making his declaration, which fell upon the House like a thunder bolt from a clear sky. No one expected it. No one had anticipated it, and the record of his spoken words stand out in letters of fire, incriminating his colleagues in a diabolical conspiracy to destroy the good will and camaraderie existing between the denominations, born of years of mutual understanding and fostered by the binding together of all creeds of the Empire in the great world war. And this spirit was to be destroyed because a few political braves craved power. The truth and the whole truth has been told, in no uncertain manner, by the member for Harbor Grace and the stigma of a dastardly act will rest upon the party with which he is associated so long as the people of Newfoundland possess memories. The continuing remarks of Mr. Archibald on the subject of sectarianism open up further avenues of discussion, all of which will be pursued at the proper time.

The SACRED CONCERT in the R. C. Cathedral will be repeated on Tuesday, May 4th, in aid of the Marine Disasters Fund.—may1,11

Editor Evening Telegram
Dear Sir,—I beg to enclose you a letter received by the Newfoundland Board of Trade from the Charlottetown Board of Trade with reference to a regular line of steamers from Charlottetown and St. John's. This may be of interest to your readers.
Yours truly,
For and on behalf of the Newfoundland Board of Trade,
ERNEST A. PAYN,
Secy.-Treasurer.

(COPY)
The Charlottetown Board of Trade,
Charlottetown, P. E. I.,
April 16th, 1920.

The Secretary, Newfoundland Board of Trade,
St. John's, Newfoundland.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of your favor of March 24th, including list of imports by Montreal boats 1919, and note that the second trip of the "Canadian Adventurer" to St. John's last season is listed from Montreal, while the trip was from Charlottetown, and all merchandise on board were shipped from this port.
With reference to a regular line of steamers from Montreal, Maritime Ports and St. John's, carrying freight and passengers, the service which will be carried on this present season does not include Montreal as a port of call, the service being from Charlottetown to St. John's, via Sydney, and direct from St. John's to Charlottetown. In this way it will be possible for Newfoundland exporters to route shipments via Charlottetown and get a quicker service to points in Eastern Canada with the exception of the South Coast of Nova Scotia, than would be possible by any other route. It would also mean that shipments for Newfoundland coming from any point west of Moncton, New Brunswick, by rail, can be routed via this port, and so save the long tie-up which usually occurs at North Sydney, as the steamer will load all freight offering at Charlottetown and then proceed to North Sydney or Sydney to complete loading.

This Board of Trade will appreciate it if you will call the attention of your members to these facts, and assure you that anything possible will be done at Charlottetown to expedite shipments, both imports and exports.
Respectfully yours,
WALLACE L. HIGGINS,
Secretary.

Not Absolute Proof.

Editor Evening Telegram
Dear Sir,—In your issue of yesterday you published a statement on the authority of one, conversant with the facts wherein it is stated that 300,000 quintals of old fish are in the country to-day. In that statement it is claimed that three harbors in Bay de Verde District hold 30,000 quintals, Port Union and Bonavista 20,000 quintals, South Shore 20,000 Placentia Bay 25,000, Green Bay 70,000, St. John's 75,000 and the West Coast 50,000.
I venture to assert that the figures quoted are about double the quantity. The West Coast and Placentia Bay do not hold 40,000 qtls. St. John's does not hold over 60,000 qtls. Port Union has not 1,000 qtls. Green Bay does not hold 20,000 qtls.; nor are there 20,000 qtls. in Bay de Verde.
Yours truly,
W. F. COAKER.

AGAIN DELIGHT SPECTATORS.

The Casino theatre was filled to capacity last evening to witness the Young-Adams Company in one of their best presentations, namely "Uncle Tom's Cabin," a beautiful story and exceptionally well acted by a capable company of artists. Miss Marie Adams as Topsy, had the audience in convulsions of laughter all through the production. Mr. H. Wilnot Young gave a masterly impersonation of the faithful old negro slave, Uncle Tom, and Miss Marguerite Young was very fascinating in the role of little Eva, whilst the remainder of the company were especially suited to their respective parts. Specialties were rendered between the acts by Mr. Donald Mack and Mr. Slimmonds which was a treat in itself.
Next week the Company give their farewell performances. On Monday and Tuesday they present "The Marriage Question," a beautiful story of a soul and love eternal. Wednesday and Thursday Broadway's biggest success "All-of-a-sudden-Peggy" and Friday and Saturday "The Great John Ganton," a play of unusual interest to employers and employees which will solve many a problem.

The petitions being circulated in the outports by the Moderate Prohibition Committee are coming in to headquarters very well signed. In fact from one place, where it was thought that the sentiment did not favor any modification of the law, the regular sheet had been filled and an additional one with many signatures was attached to it. The petitions are now being distributed in St. John's and arrangements are under way to place a copy in every place where at least a half dozen people are employed.

A New Development in Light Sixes

Before we began experimental work on our new six-cylinder motor three years ago, we made a very thorough investigation of the light six field.

We found out just what qualities car owners desired in the power plants of their motor cars and then we designed an engine to meet these requirements.

The wisdom of our method is attested by the unanimous approval given our five-passenger "Glenbrook" model. With its first appearance, it immediately won the enthusiastic support of motorists.

And, by its dependable and economical performance, it has so clearly demonstrated its high character as an investment value that our production schedule is already proving unequal to the demand.

The "Glenbrook" is a truly remarkable development in five-passenger cars. Won't you arrange for a demonstration while our dealer is in position to meet your requirements as to delivery?

House of Assembly.

(Afternoon Session, April 30.)
The House met at 3.30.
Petitions were presented by the following members:—Mr. Higgins, supported by Messrs. Fox and Vinnombe, from Pouch Cove, asking for sum of money for public wharf; Mr. Targett, supported by Mr. Guppy, from a number of places in Trinity Bay, asking for sums of money for wharves; Mr. Scammel, from Bellburnes Barbe District, asking for telephone connection; Hon. Mr. Brown, supported by Mr. Bennett and Mr. Higgins, from 200 fishermen of St. John's West, asking for a canal Freshwater Bay.
The Internal Economy Commission was announced as follows:—President, Legislative Council, Hon. R. K. Sheehy, Hon. G. Shea, His Honor The Speaker, Hon. R. A. Squires, K.C., Hon. W. R. Warren, K.C., Hon. W. Coaker.
Mr. J. R. MacDonnell (St. George's) moved the adjournment of the House for the purpose of discussing charges made by Mr. Archibald (Hr. Grace), against him on Thursday. That gentleman had made charges against him that he could not substantiate. The article of the Herald quoted was written by him, and he took full responsibility for it. But no fair-minded man could put the construction on it that Mr. Archibald had made out of the article that the report about Mr. Walsh discussing sectarianism in Placentia Bay was as true as the report that Mr. Archibald was doing certain things in Harbor Grace. Mr. Archibald had also made the intimation that he was talking sectarianism in the speech recently made by him in the House. He was discussing the H.C.L. when he made an assertion that if something was done "trouble would arise." Mr. MacDonnell said if these statements were made by Mr. Archibald with malice aforethought, then no words of his would be severe enough to express the condemnation they deserved; if they were made in ignorance then he pitied the intelligence of the man who made them, although he was a member of the House. These two charges he categorically denied, and sent a copy of the Herald containing the article in question, and also the official copy of his speech to the Speaker, and asked him to see for himself if Mr. Archibald was telling the truth.

Here Mr. Warren, Minister of Justice, very commendably tried to throw oil on the troubled waters, and effected a compromise. This attempt failed, as Mr. Archibald stated he thought that the very mention of his name in the Herald in the way that it was used was in the nature of giving the impression of truth on the report in question, and as for his speech, before he could take back anything he said he would have to read the speech through. As far as he was concerned if the House thought it well to censure him he would not mind, but would retire from the House and resign his seat and then the man that would contest it for the Government or Opposition would have something to do to get elected. He thought the editorial in the Herald of yesterday would secure his election now or in four years time.
Mr. MacDonnell then appealed to the Speaker for his ruling.
The Speaker then ruled that Mr. Archibald had not transgressed the rules of the House when he made the observations in question.
Mr. W. J. Walsh (Placentia), then took occasion to deny that he had ever attempted to use in any campaign, the sacred articles of devotion whose very name he dared not mention except under the most reverent circumstances. He hoped now that he had denied this officially, once and for all, and that he would never hear of it again. As regards the sectarian circular, he had not seen it in Placentia District, and so stated in the public press, but after writing that letter he had recalled to mind that he had seen a dodger at Trepassey on polling morning, calling the Opposition sectarian candidates. He had no hand, act or part in the matter, and hoped that he would not have to deny that story again.

What Happened One Rainy Day.

The Address in Reply was then taken up.
Mr. Samson (Twillingate), referred to the criticisms of the Opposition with regard to the Lunatic and Poor Asylums, and claimed that these could not refer to the present Government, as they had only just taken office. He assured the House that no sectarianism was used in the election campaign in Twillingate District. He thought that the source of this vile stuff was St. John's. No man deplored the use of it more than he did. He was interested in the new Department of Education, being in the teaching profession for fifteen years. The F.P.U. at its start met with much opposition, and he considered it very ill-timed and vicious. The opposition now to the fish regulations were of the same or similar nature. He thought the spending of $500,000 last year the way that it was spent was an injustice to the District of Twillingate. The F.P.U. districts had been deprived of their full share of their money, and as far as Twillingate was concerned they would demand that the money taken from them would be refunded. His object in entering public life was to make politics better, and he stood for a clean and pure public life, and would insist on the pure standard being lived up to by the party with which he was associated.

"I've got a grizzling, grousing, sneezing, sniffing cold," announced Priscilla in a tone of finality, that held a note of triumph.
"That, my innocent child," chanted her brother, "is because you don't want to go to your old office this morning; and on the whole I don't blame you."
"Well, dear, I warned you that you couldn't fall to get a cold if you would go on wearing your old shoes." This was mother's contribution, given with the cheerfully resigned air of one who has earned the satisfaction of saying "I told you so!"
Father's eyes twinkled and he consulted a note-book. "Pay-day yet to come and money all gone, I suppose," he murmured, looking at Priscilla over the top of his glasses. She, from the depths of her experience decided that a little coaxing would not be misplaced, and she stooped to flattery.
"Daddy, dear, you do look smart to-day," she remarked, guilelessly; and seeing the guilty look on her parents' face she added, "I believe you've got something new on!"
"O-oh!" groaned the family in varying tones of derision and unbelief, as a foot was gradually thrust forth, clad in the shiniest and smartest of new boots.

Baby raised her small voice: "And Daddy's got a new umbrella too," she nodded her head wisely. "I know, 'cos he was showing it to Uncle Ned yesterday, and he said it was the best value he had ever seen."
Father turned to Priscilla and said, with a smile: "If we take the umbrella with us, and you wrap yourself up enough to satisfy your mother, what do you say to a shopping trip this morning?"
Priscilla was excited but pretended to be in despair. "It's no good, Father, I haven't any money left, that's why I didn't get any new shoes."
"Ah, you extravagant girl! But I've saved a lot of money on my purchases yesterday, so I guess I can stand you a new pair of shoes and an umbrella too; hurry now and get ready. I'll take you down to the store where I got mine."
Half an hour later they were seen on Water Street, wending their way to THE ROYAL STORES.—THE GLEANER.

Mr. Targett (Bonavista) had a good word for the women of Newfoundland who did so much to assist our soldier lads when they were overseas. He thought the House should open in February so as to give every member an opportunity of discussing fully the several matters that came before it. He realized this was nearly May month, and it was time for him to be over in Hant's Hr. looking out for his summer's business. He hoped that next year this would be attended to. He thought there was no black cloud hanging over Newfoundland to-day, but there were bright prospects ahead. He believed in education and hoped to see a system introduced which would give every boy and girl in Newfoundland a decent elementary education. He deplored the airing of sectarianism both in the political campaign and in the Assembly. He hoped we had heard the last of this monster, which had gone quite far enough.

Mr. R. G. Winsor (Bonavista), then occupied the time of the House until 6.30.
Evening Session.
Capt. Gosse (Hr. Grace) Mr. Abbott (Trinity) Mr. W. H. Cave (Bay de Verde) Hon. H. J. Browning (St. John's West) and Hon. W. R. Warren (Fortune) spoke on various matters, after which Hon. R. A. Squires occupied the attention of the House. He received quite an ovation from his friends and supporters in the gallery, collected during the day and placed there for the purpose. His most interesting remarks were on sectarianism and he read out some wires which had passed between himself and some Orangemen in Toronto, in reference to his victory in the General Election. He touched on the Speech from the Throne, the Reply to which was then put and passed.

Sir J. C. Crosbie then referred scathingly to the indecent reference which appears in the Daily Star editorial columns. His remarks were well taken and received considerable applause.

Legislative Council.

—April 30.
The House opened at 4.30 p.m. and after passing of the minutes the Hon. R. K. Bishop in reviewing the address in reply said: "I notice only one portion of the speech has been criticized and that confined to one paragraph. The criticism to the Regulations was only in generalities and the opposition is making full use of Hon. Mr. Grieves attitude. I wonder does the hon. gentlemen wish the House to infer that a free hand is the best course to pursue. It is my opinion that the losses through the Regulations do not amount to 1-10th of the three millions as stated by Hon. Mr. Grieve". Further on referring to a speech made by Sir John Crosbie at a Board of Trade meeting, Hon. Mr. Bishop quoted Sir John as saying losses were invariably made on fish which he held after the end of the year. The President of the Chamber asked if the word "invariably" was used. Hon. Mr. Grieve did not think the word was used. Continuing the Hon. Mr. Bishop admitted that conditions in Portugal were bad but these were not due to the Regulations. Stocks of fish held in the city may cause anxiety but the condition will not be helped by criticism. In conclusion he quoted Lloyd George "Times are too serious for party conflict."

Hon. W. B. Grieve in replying said he regretted that part of the speech of Hon. Mr. Bishop was inaudible to him. He challenged the statement that only one section of the speech was debated. He assumed that the House was a deliberative body and not a body for silencing straws. He requested Hon. Mr. Bishop to procure the statement as made by Sir John Crosbie. The merchants are not supplying as heretofore and this is due to mistrust engendered by the throwing overboard of the law of supply and demand and substituting arbitrary prices.

Hon. Mr. Winter in opening his remarks did not agree with all Hon. Mr. Bishop had said re Sir John Crosbie's speech. In reviewing the meetings at the Board of Trade Rooms, he said: "These meetings were held continuously for three days and the situation debated fully." His understanding of Sir John's speech was that if he sold 60 out of 100 thousand qts. of codfish, he could afford to sell the balance at cost. The Government had made one mistake when making the Regulations, as they should have invited all the trade to participate in the deliberations. It was unfortunate that it did not do so, and this he thought was the cause of much resentment.

Hon. Mr. Grieve explaining the loss of between 2 and 3 million dollars due in a great measure to the Regulations said, that a fair estimate of the loss on fish already in the foreign markets would be about $5 per qt. which would on the 300,000 qts. there amount to a million and a half of dollars and the loss on what is still in the country would make up the balance. The debate on the Speech from the Throne was then concluded. The address in reply passed and will be forwarded to His Excellency.

The following orders of the day were read a second time and will be referred to a committee of the whole House.

"An Act respecting the effect and application of certain Acts subsequent to the Consolidated Statutes of Newfoundland (Third Series)";

"An Act to amend 'The Industrial Societies Act, 1917'";

"An Act to amend Chapter 41 of the Consolidated Statutes of Newfoundland (Third Series) entitled 'Of the Newfoundland Medical Board'";

The Danger of Paper Currency.

The financial conditions of to-day are remarkably similar to those of a century ago, although they are now on a vastly greater scale. During the Napoleonic war Pitt was forced to pass legislation which substituted an inconvertible paper currency for one which was based on actual cash. This step was doubtless as necessary as the similar enactments made in 1914. But in both cases the effect was to make the nominal value greater than the real, and as the Government was enabled to issue an unlimited number of notes, the currency was considerably depreciated. The natural results were a rise in the market price of gold, a loss on foreign exchanges, and a very general rise in prices. The nation was lulled into a false prosperity, and in the early years of the nineteenth century there was much opposition to any alteration of the debased currency. Francis Horner, a scientific economist, was instrumental in securing the appointment of a Committee, which reported in favour of cash payments being resumed, but their recommendations were vetoed by the House of Commons at the instigation of Vansittart, whose later record as Chancellor of the Exchequer was the reverse of brilliant. It was not till some years later that a reformed currency was achieved by the sagacity of Sir Robert Peel, who re-established on May 1, 1821, a single uniform metallic standard. The leading financial authorities of to-day are also recognizing the importance of a gradual reduction in the issue of Treasury notes, and a need for a return to the sounder methods which prevailed before the war.

United States' Cheap Victory.

On Sunday, May 1, 1898, the navy of the United States won, without any loss of life to themselves a battle against the Spaniards off Manila, a fortified city, which had been since 1571 the capital of the possessions of Spain in the Philippine Islands, in the Malay Archipelago. The islands thus became a colony of the United States, with an area of 121,895 sq. miles, whose inhabitants numbered 6,987,688, and of whom only 647,740 are wild and uncivilised. The Spanish squadron, commanded by Admiral Montofo, consisted of eleven ships, and the Spaniards showed great courage; none of them surrendered, but their vessels were inefficient, and their defenders were also in other respects. Many Spanish ships were destroyed while others ran ashore to escape capture. The American fleet, commanded by Commodore Dewey, consisted of only nine ships, and while 400 Spaniards were killed, and 600 others wounded, not a single American lost his life, nor was even wounded.

Scrap Over Seat.

LADY ASTOR CLAIMS M.P.'S CHAIR.
London, April 16.—There is war between Lady Astor and Sir William Joqueson-Hicks. It is all over a particular corner in the Commons which each covets. Returning yesterday, after an absence because of illness, Sir William found his seat annexed by the only woman member, who, it seems, substituted her card for his on the back of the seat. He forthwith appealed to Mr. Speaker, while the House rocked with laughter. T. F. O'Connor, who sits immediately above the disputed chair, interrupted to ask whether the rules were not subject to "the usual canons of good feeling" and asked: "Ought not consideration be shown to a lady member?" Mr. Speaker ruled that Sir William, technically, was right, adding "I am sure that all members will observe good feeling and consideration for one another." Sir William, amid increasing uproar, ostentatiously removed Lady Astor's card, replacing his own. He told the Speaker that long correspondences had been exchanged between himself and Lady Astor about the seat.

He afterwards told me he did not propose publishing the correspondence, but wanted it known that he had offered to permit Lady Astor to speak from the seat whenever she desired.

Asked her side of the story, Lady Astor said: "I wish he would publish the correspondence. It reflects much more to my credit than to his. Mr. Hicks has no more moral right to the seat than I, and it is open to me as to him to secure it for a day's sitting. I propose to exercise that right whenever opportunity occurs."

Every Man His Own Barber.

Since the increase in barber prices at Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, there has been a great demand for both clippers and razors. The employees of the Canadian Pacific freight sheds and roundhouses are going to combat the "high cost of barbering" and have purchased the necessary equipment with which a hair trim will be dispensed at a nominal charge to employees of these departments. "We are not wanting a millionaire's hair declared one of them. It's the slight extra for a few minutes' work like that when a workingman's will do," of nonsense to expect us to pay 75 that."

At the City Hall.

The regular weekly meeting of the Municipal Council was held on Thursday. The Mayor presided and there were present Councillors Ayre, Mulloy and Martin.

After the opening business of the meeting, it was ordered that in the case of owners of new cars, who wanted registration during the past month, the following should be their obligation—Dating from the 1st of March, last, owners of new motor cars, shall be allowed to pay one fourth of the annual Tax, and shall be liable for the full annual Tax on June 1st. Arising out of this, it is proposed for next year, that registration for cars shall be on the 1st of April instead of on 1st of June.

The Eastern Trust Co. made application for the street line of Rosseter's lane. Referred to the City Engineer.

The matter of the claims for sewerage construction and repairs, against Robinson and Co., Ltd., and Dr. Rendell, it was ordered, that without prejudice half the cost be accepted.

W. W. Blackall, for the Engineering School, asked for a service pipe for the next six or seven months. It will be given, provided an iron pipe is put down at his expense for the summer months only, with the clear understanding there is to be no waste.

A letter was read from the Public Works Department in connection with the removal of ashes from the various public buildings. It was shown on inquiry that quite an accumulation of ashes had taken place at some of these institutions. It was also discovered that $15.00 per annum for the removal of ashes is too little. The charge, henceforth, will be $35.00. The Dept. will be treated with on this basis as soon as they have removed the accumulation.

A. W. O'Reilly applied for repairs to be done to the breastwork near his residence Water Street West. Decided to ask him for original lease and title deeds of ground, and the Solicitor to look up the question of grants in these cases.

J. T. Lamb and W. G. Rendell sent in protests against a permit being given to L. M. Trask to install an electric motor. Ordered Mr. Trask be informed the neighbours are objecting and ask him to reconsider his application.

Robert Tucker, 100 Quidi Vidi Rd., wanted to know at what price a house could be built for him. Application left on file.

The following plans were approved: Union Publishing Co., for extension and garage near "Advocate" office; Albert Faulkner, LeMarchant Rd., provided he pays for sewer; Chas. Eddy, garage Prince of Wales Street; E. D. Morrissey, dwelling house.

The following permits were allowed: Geo. Tucker, build scaffold LeMarchant Rd.; E. T. Snow, to repair fence Cook Street; C. A. Pippy's proposed site for garage top of Springdale Street is to be inquired into.

W. T. Penney's letter re taking of land Merrymeeting Rd., is also to be inquired into. Geo. Skiffington's plans for houses Franklin Ave., were deferred, as he must show exact location of proposed dwellings. E. J. Woodland's plans for alterations to Shortall's Drug Store were not satisfactory; he must see the City Engineer. F. Kelley, South Side must submit proper plan.

On the report of the City Engineer the following was ordered:—He is to (1) give fuller report on land near Simms' property King's Bridge, (2) King's Bridge decking to be done, (3) Bannerman Park gates and fence to be repaired, (4) light to be placed corner of Power St., to suit application for one near Wesley Church, (5) a report to be made on water and sewerage for Clifford and Central Streets, (6) garage and dwelling can be built, Macklin Place, provided structures are raised four feet above present line and kept back.

Reports were read from the Plumbing Inspector, Impounder and Health Officer.

In the matter of Cab Taxes, it was ordered that the Solicitor be instructed to summon on the 1st of May, one from each cab-stand.

Ordered that tenders be asked for uniforms for the Inspectors.

The Reid Mfg. Co. are to be notified their sprinkler will not be required this season.

After the disposing of several minor matters, the meeting adjourned.

Talks by Tiberius.

THE SABBATH—"WORK VESRUS PLAY?"

Now that summer is coming, the notion of holidays naturally arises. Holidays are like the atmosphere, a necessity of life. Let the worker be at it, may a rest and change are needed; just as the balance wheel of a clock is needed to regulate the mere of action and consequently, the wear and tear of life. The man who works with his brain is just as much entitled to the judgment of the Most High, expressed in those words: "In the sweat of thy face thou shalt eat bread," as the man who works with his hands. There are times when each needs the other, but they need not be separated. Some are needed to do brain work, some are needed to do hand work, some are needed to do both, and some are hard to him who is compelled to do it. That is where the idea of a holiday comes in; in being compelled by circumstances to do it. Work is an ill, it is a good; life would be unbearable if men did not have a definite task to do, some interest in the production of something which would contribute to the summum bonum of the human race. The Co-operative Society in the Old Country, England, has as its motto and the picture of a Bee-hive, with the words: "Under the Hive are the words: 'Labour and walk.' Labour, hard and necessary in life's good and evil, is necessary in life's good and evil. But labour without rest would be the worst kind of slavery, and would detrimentally affect the worker if insisted upon. 'All work no play makes Jack a dull boy.' It is splendidly brought out in the idea of work in relation to play vice versa in the following:

the ground, cursed for our sakes, casts also some shadow of degradation into our content with its thorn and thistle; so that all nations have held their days "honourable" or "holy," and constituted them "Holidays" or "Holidays" by making those days of rest, and the promise, which, among all our distinct hopes, seems to cast the chief brightness over death, is that blessing of the dead who die in the Lord, that "They rest from their labours and their works do follow them."

THE ROOT IDEA OF REST.

Ruskin has given to us in the above words the root idea of rest. It is not that of inactivity; nor is it in any kind of activity. Rest is change of activity from a lower to a higher degree. Even the nerveless from locomotive needs intervals of cooling off," wrote Anna Warner, but a locomotive when cooling off is not inactive, it is performing one of its most important functions, it is increasing its efficiency. The sabbath rest is not the rest of "doing nothing." It is the rest of sanctified devotional activity. It is work, hard work if you like, but sweet work, glorified work. One sure way of punishing a naughty boy in school is to make him sit perfectly still for five minutes. One sure way of making him happy is to give him congenial work. In a higher sense we are happiest when our work is sweet to us, when we are glorified in the task. In her "Beautiful Vision" the saints render eternal and ceaseless service; "they serve Him day and night." Milton's sonnet on his blindness brings out the idea:—

"When I consider how my light is spent Ere half my days in this dark world and wide, And that one talent which is death to hide Lodged with me useless, though my soul more bent To serve my maker and present My true account, lest he returning chide;

British Columbia Woman Speaks Plainly.

Her Message is to Everyman.
Those who have found relief are the people who "wait all sufferers to know what they gained from their experience."
Mrs. E. Walters, of Sevens, B.C., writes: "I am writing you to tell you of the relief I have found in your Kidney Pills. I have been suffering for years with weak kidneys, and one box of your pills cured me. I recommend them as an absolute and reliable cure."
"I advise people who have not used your pills to try them. I have been troubled for years with weak kidneys, and one box of your pills cured me. I recommend them as an absolute and reliable cure."

THE SABBATH REST.

The labourer is justified in seeking a rest one day in seven. He is supported in his claim of that day by every canon of life, commerce, industry, or whatever man's relationship might be; he is also supported by one of the laws of the Decalogue. There can be no successful attempt to deprive him of that day. Physically, mentally and morally, he needs it. The only question which remains is: What is a day of rest? and how is he to get it? These are vital questions.

Household Notes.

A good pie is a pineapple custard. Mackerel and salmon have great food value. Save old tissue paper for polishing mirrors. Flavor junket with coffee for a pleasant change. Be sure that the baby's room has plenty of sun in it. Be sure to have a quince tree or two in your garden. Add milk alternately with the flour in cake mixing. Never use soda in washing woolens. It shrinks them. Include a generous portion of fruit in the daily menu. Dry fresh grated lemon peel to use for cakes and puddings. Prunes and carrots belong to every proper diet for a child. Always serve oyster stew in hot bowls, so that it will keep hot. Pepper grass and watercress make good "green" sandwiches. Serve grated pineapple with cold cereal, sweetened to taste. Use the drippings from the roasted meat when making hash. Canned apricots can be frozen like any other fruit for dessert. When making sweet sandwiches, see that the jelly or jam is firm. When beating whites for cakes, use a flat dish and a wire whip. The eggs being saved for hatching should be turned every day. All the trimmings of fish should be saved for the soup-stock kettle. Your cake will be lighter if you beat rather than stir the batter. Codfish, stuffed and baked, is a good main dish for a spring dinner. In most English meat pies sage has much to do with the savouriness. Leave stems about an inch long on beets, else the color will cook out. Retain the full flavor of new potatoes by boiling them in their skins. Salad plants should be planted in relays, so that there is always plenty. Egg shells are invaluable for clarifying drippings and cleaning bottles. Spiced gooseberries make a most delightful accompaniment to cold meat. An attractive salad is seasoned crab flake in tomato or green pepper cases. Butter fat is very important for growing children and for most other people.

AWARDED CERTIFICATES.

Messrs. C. E. Pope and M. G. Dalton have been granted certificates of competency, they having passed very successful examinations, as Master and Mate respectively, in the Mercantile Marine.

Wedding Bells.

A very quiet wedding took place at the Church of England Cathedral on Thursday, April 29th at 7 p.m., by the Rev. J. Brinton, when Miss Ellen Morris, daughter of the late Captain Stephen and Mrs. Morris, was united in Holy Matrimony to Captain John Gilliam of Channel. The bride was given away by her nephew, Mr. Herbert Crossman and attended by Mrs. Crossman as matron of honour. A reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Crossman, Power St. Captain and Mrs. Gilliam remain in the city for a short time before proceeding to their future home at Channel.

Promising Athletic Season.

This season promises to see more Athletic Associations in the field of sport than since 1914. The C.L.B., C.E.L. Star, B.I.S., St. Andrew's, and C.C.G. have already begun practice. It is likely that all these clubs will enter crews for the Regatta. Messrs. Duggan and Jackman, who were in Florence during the past week making arrangements for an outing to be held by the C.C.G. Old Comrades, returned to town by yesterday's train. Most of the clubs will hold outings during the season.

ERNEST SMITH TALKS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.
Quebec Man, Grateful for the Benefit He Has Received, Pays Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills.
Grand Falls, West Que., April 30—(Special).—Mr. Ernest Smith, a highly respected resident here, is one of the many who have abiding faith in Dodd's Kidney Pills as a remedy for sick kidneys.
"I suffered from my kidneys," Mr. Smith says, "and I read that Dodd's Kidney Pills were good, so I tried them. They have helped me so much that I will continue to use them when my kidneys trouble me."
The kidneys require constant attention if good health is to be maintained and serious disease ward off. The kidneys perform a most important work in the human system. They strain all the impurities, all the acids of disease, out of the blood. When they are weak and unable to do their work the system clogs and sickness is the inevitable result.
Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the best remedy for weak, disordered or diseased kidneys.

Nature's Greatest Washers

The sea washes the world—Pears' Soap washes its inhabitants!

For over a century, Pears' has been making its way round the world. Ask for it in your local store; it is there! From the Cape to Cairo, in the bazaars of India, throughout Australia, Canada, the U.S., and South America Pears' has made its way with civilization,—on merits!

Pears' Soap is transparent because it is pure; it is the most economical soap because it wears but does not waste. It cleanses and purifies the skin and freshens up body and mind.

"Pears"

is not heavily scented. Its delicate perfume comes from pure natural ingredients; the difference is important,—it means again that Pears' soap is pure.

Never be without Bovril. You are sure of being nourished if you take Bovril.

BY APPOINTMENT

Take this Power in your hand.

Pick up any Bovril bottle from the store counter, and let it rest on the palm of your hand. Then picture to yourself another bottle ten to twenty times as big.

That larger bottle would correspond to the proven Body-building Power of the Bovril actually in your hand.

BOVRIL

Independent scientific experiments have conclusively proved that the Body-building Power of Bovril is from 10 to 20 times the amount of Bovril taken.

Will You Risk Just Twenty Dollars?

A "flyer" on the New York market very often makes a tidy profit if placed in a promising stock. Here's an example:—
15 Shares
at $3.50 per share

costs $52.50

A one-third cash deposit secures and controls 15 shares. One-third of $52.50 is $17.50, and commission and exchange makes it $20.00. We expect the same stock to sell around $6.00 inside four months, netting over $35 profit besides your original investment. Ask us about it and have us suggest a stock to you.
