

0

an or or

CIHM/ICMH Collection de microfiches.

Canadian Institute for Historical Microreproductions / Institut canadian de microreproductions historiques

Technical and Bibliographic Notes/Notes techniques et bibliographiques

The Institute has attempted to obtain the best original copy available for filming. Features of this copy which may be bibliographically unique, which may alter any of the images in the reproduction, or which may significantly change the usual method of filming, are checked below.

L'Institut a microfilmé le meilleur exemplaire qu'il lui a été possible de se procurer. Les détails de cet exemplaire qui sont peut-être uniques du point de vue bibliographique, qui peuvent modifier une image reproduite, ou qui peuvent exiger une modification dans la méthode normale de filmage sont indiqués ci-dessous.

Coloured covers/		Coloured pages/
Couverture de couleur		Pages de couleur
			Ori
Covers damaged/		Pages damaged/	the Couverture endommagée		Pages endommagées	sio oth
Covers restored and/or laminated/		Pages restored and/or laminated/	firs
Couverture restaurée et/ou pelliculée		Pages restaurées et/ou pelliculées	sio
			or i
Cover title missing/		Pages discoloured, stained or foxed/
Le titre de couverture manque	$\checkmark$	Pages décolorées, tachetées ou piquées
Coloured maps/		Pages detached/	1
Cartes géographiques en couleur		Pages détachées	The sha
Coloured ink (i.e. other than blue or black)/		Showthrough/	TIN
Encre de couleur (i.e. autre que bleue ou noire)	$\checkmark$	Transparence	wh
Coloured plates and/or illustrations/		Quality of print varies/	Ma
Planches et/ou illustrations en couleur		Qualité inégale de l'impression	diff ent
Bound with other material/		Includes supplementary material/	beg rigi
Relié avec d'autres documents		Comprend du matériel supplémentaire	req me
Tight binding may cause shadows or distortion		Only edition available/
along interior margin/		Seule édition disponible
La re liure serrée peut causer de l'ombre ou de la distortion le long de la marge intérieure		Pages wholly or partially obscured by errata slips, tissues, etc., have been refilmed to	1
Blank leaves added during restoration may		ensure the best possible image/appear within the text. Whenever possible, these		Les pages totalement ou partiellement have been omitted from filming/		obscurcies par un feuillet d'errata, une pelure, Il se peut que certaines pages blanches ajoutées		etc., ont été filmées à nouveau de façon à lors d'une restauration apparaissent dans le texte,		obtenir la meilleure image possible.
mais, lorsque cela était possible, ces pages n'ont pas été filmées.
pas are minada.
 Additional comments:/
Commentaires supplémentaires:
Commentantes aupprementantes;

This item is filmed at the reduction ratio checked below/ Ce document est filmé eu taux de réduction indiqué ci-dessous.

>

The to th

> The pose of th 411----

IL ic

p fe tir 1i ht u tl ire détails Jes du modifier ger une filmage

ées

re

y errata d to nt ne pelure, çon à The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

Library of the Public Archives of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol  $\longrightarrow$  (meaning "CON-TINUED"), or the symbol  $\nabla$  (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratics. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

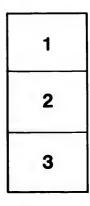

La bibliothèque des Archives publiques du Canade

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

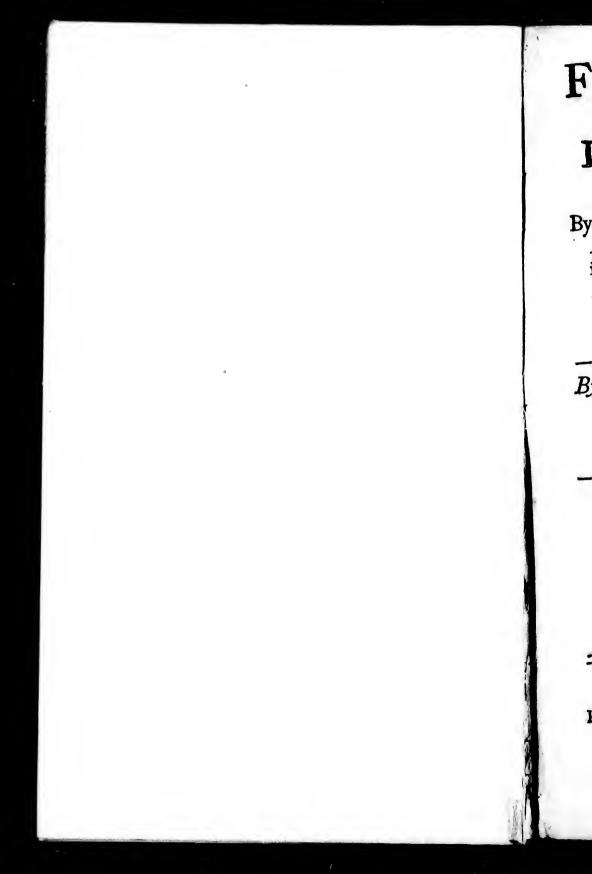

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole → signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ▼ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'Images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent le méthode.

1	2	3
4	5	6

FORGERY DETECTED

By which is evinced how groundless are ALL the CALUMNIES caft upon the Editor, in a Pamphlet published under the Name of Arthur Dobbs, Esq;

By Capt. CHRISTOPHER MIDDLETON, late Commander of his Majesty's Ship, Furnace, when sent upon the Search of a North-West Passage to the Western American Ocean.

LONDON:

Printed for M. COOPER, at the Globe in Paternoster-Row; and G. BRETT, at the Three Crowns on Ludgate-Hill. M.DCC.XLV. [Price 6d.]

ТО

ARTHUR DO BBS,

Of Castle Dobbs, in the County of Antrim, and Kingdom of Ireland, Esq;

HEN my Sufpicion of a Letter and Draught from Mr. George Axx being a Forgery, was verified, it was incumbent on me to publish fo iniquitous a Procedure to blass my Reputation; and as You, Sir, by printing and making your Inferences from this flagrant Piece of Villainy, have contributed by A 2 your

$ii \quad D E D I C A T I O N.$

your great Character of Probity, however unknowingly, to the imposing on the Public, I thought you the only proper Perfon, to whom I could dedicate the Detection of the Roguery, as your Reputation feems (to me at least) established as it is, to be brought into question; notwithstanding you have lately given fuch undeniable Proofs of an indefatigable Ardency, fuch uncommon Zeal for the Difcovery of Truth, and the having condign and exemplary Punishment inflicted on fuch as dare to contravene her facred Dictates, and hide her Beauties from the Eyes of the Public : You, Sir, who are her professed Admirer, cannot but be fenfible of an uncommon Satisfaction in reading the following Sheets, in which you will find her emerge from under a Load of infamous Calumny, Artifice, and the united Efforts of profligate Wretches, to bear her down: Wretches ! who have skreened themfelves

DEDICATION. iii

felves under your unblemished Character, under your great Name.

ve-

on

-01

ate

bur

ta-hto ave of unof

and on red om vho

but ac-

in om

ny, ron :

mves

4 where the grant of

She has often been thus oppressed, but by the friendly Hand of Time, as often broke through and baffled the Oppositions she has had to struggle with, from artful and (for a while) fuccessful Villainy; has rifen triumphantly glorioufly, and as Antaeus, Son of the Earth, gathered Strength from his Foils, fo the lovely Goddess ever appeared with a more dazzling Radiancy, proportion'd to the Wiles, fhe confounded, and the Power she had to combat, spreading Shame and Confusion over the Face of her Enemies. You, Sir, who are her profeffed Votary, cannot, I fay, but receive ineffable Pleafure in feeing her triumph over malicious and deliberate Falshood; You, Sir, who are the Friend to oppreffed calumniated Innocence, must rejoice to see Truth victorious, and by her Appearance do Juflice to the Oppressed, by throwing the Infamy defigned for his Ruin, on the in-iv DEDICATION. infamous Contrivers, aud caffing them into the Pits they had dug for others. To whom, then, could I fo properly inferibe the following Triumph of Truth over Malice, Avarice, Revenge, manifest Perjury, and undeniable Forgery, as to a Gentleman confpicuous for the Virtues opposite to these mean, these dangerous, pestiferous Vices, as much as for his public Spirit, and who has been made the Tool of wicked Men, to fight against the Deity he adores? for the World must acquit you of all Defign which can impugn your remarkable Probity, tho' it may be furprifed to find you have, once in your Life, taken an inadvertent Step, and been drawn in by Men of inferior Talents, and no Learning, to give the Sanction of your Name, and the Advantage of your convincing, reasoning upon, for the Support of Falshood; but Nemo omnibus Horis Sapit: And your Character of Prudence does by this em ers.

DEDICATION. v this Surprife upon you, verify the Saying.

rly

of ge,

orbus

an,

as ho led a-ou

bur be our nd

`a-he

.d-ng

1; nd

by nis 5

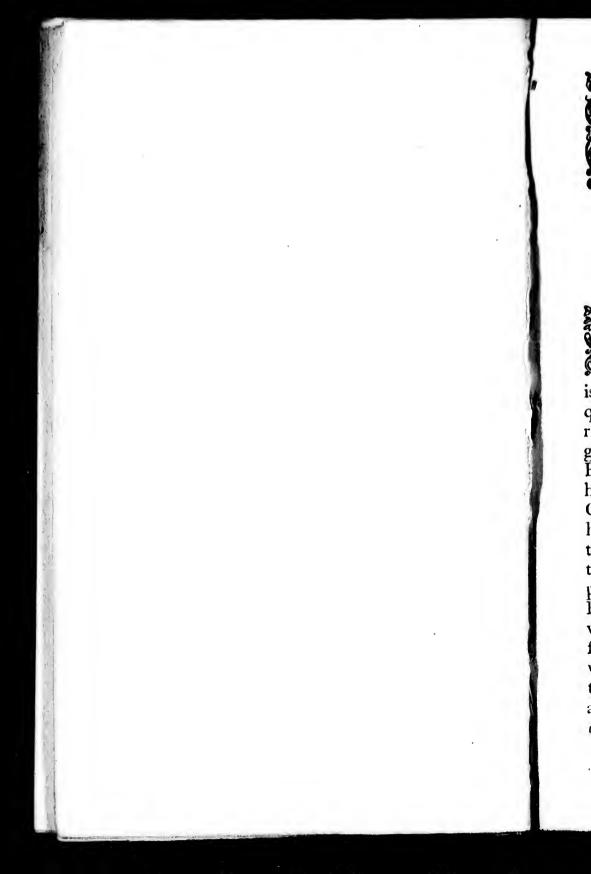

It is true that the Character of your great Probity and other Virtues I take upon Hearfay, as do most Dedicators, --- few knowing more than the Titles of the Patrons they chufe; wherefore, if the following Sheets feem any where to speak my Diffent from the Voice of common Fame, it is giving you an Opportunity to prove, that notwithstanding her Character of a common Lyar, with Regard to yours, fhe has fpoken the Truth. This, as 'tis incumbent on you, you may do by giving up the Forger, acknowledging that you nave been imposed upon ; and thus make what Reparation is in your Power, for an Attempt to blaft the good Name of,

S I R,

Your humble Servant,

Christopher Middleton.

For-

Forgery Detected.

HERE is not any Paffion fo hurtful T to others, and to even the Perfon it actuates, as the Thirst of Revenge: He, who is possefied with this Fury, is blind to all Danger, confiders no Confequence, will expose his Reputation, and hurried on by the Warmth of Refentment, neglecting to fecure himfelf while he attacks the Person who is the Object of his Anger, gives him an Advantage which may prove his own Overthrow, and the Protection of the Man he would hurt. 'Tis nothing wonderful, that this is frequently the Effect of Rage, and of the Spirit of Revenge, as Men in fuch a Temper of Mind, reject all the Remonstrances of Reafon. I fear this is the Cafe of Mr. Dobbs, whom I have unfortunately irritated, by prefering my own Integrity to his Views of Advantage to himfelf; I with I may be miftaken, though Appearances make ftrongly against him, as he himfelf in his Pamphlet, intitled, Remarks on my Defence, feems to have evinced this was br

R pł

a

of

H

lid

h

td

B

ſo

C

li W I O I

n jı

was the only Ground of his Refentment to me. He therein acknowledges his Defign to diffolve the Hudfon's-Bay Company; and that he had endeavoured to infringe their Privilege, of an exclusive Trade, by fending thither a Cargoe, clandeftinely put on Board one of his Majefty's Ships under my Command; which I prevented (as it was my Duty) being fold, in Prejudice to the Company's Charter, and abfolutely contrary to my Inftructions from the Lords of the Admiralty.

This poffibly was a Crime, in Mr. Dobbs's Opinion, which nothing lefs could atone than my entire Ruin in Fortune and Character; accordingly, the Latter he violently attacked, as the ready Means to deftroy the Former. An anonymous Letter, fhrewdly fufpected to be a Shaft out of Mr. Dobbs's own Quiver, was made the Ground of an Enquiry into my Conduct while I was employ'd by the Government to discover, if possible, a North-West Passage into the Western American Ocean. I speak from what to me is apparent in his before-mentioned Book, and am to far from having any perfonal Pique to that Gentleman, that I heartily with he may entirely difculp himielf, and the Warmth which appears in his Writing, and the indecent Language with which he has treated me, may prove to be the fole Effects of public Zeal, and Love of Truth; wherefore I shall make no farther Apology for what I shall hereafter fay in the Defence of my own Character, and the expofing the vile Means made Ufe of to blaft my Reo me. iffolve d enof an argoe, iefty's ented udice conof the obbs's than ; accked, . An be a nade duct nt to into vhat ook. ique may lich annay and far-' in exny leReputation. ----- I fhall extract from the Pamphlet published by Mr. Dobbs, the Charge brought against me in that Work, which is of a very heinous Nature; no less than a Breach of Trust, and Bribery, by which I eluded the Hopes, and squandered the Money, of the Public, to make my own private Fortune. For

[3]

I was fent out with the Command of two of his Majefty's Ship's at the Nation's Expence, to make a Difcovery, which, having taken a Bribe of Five Thousand Pounds from the Hudfon's-Bay Company, I am taxed with concealing.

It is true, that upon examining into the Validity of the Grounds on which this Accufation was raifed, and on the publishing my Defence, I was acquitted, in the Opinion of my Superiors, of having been thus guilty, tho' the Letter and Draught which occasions this prefent Appeal to my Countrymen, may possibly have fince prejudiced me in the Minds of many.

The Lords of the Admiralty, who are my proper Judges, deeming the Reafons brought againft me to prove my Corruption infufficient, did not convince Mr. Dobbs, who, anxious for the Difcovery of Truth, made the ftricteft Enquiry into my Conduct during the Voyage, among my Officers and Men, and having found Four, whofe Teftimony he relied upon, doubtlefs not believing them capable of deliberate Falfhood, publifhed the Book already mentioned, in which is printed the following Let-B 2 [4] ter, and Draught, p. 144, and 145, of his Remarks, thus introduced.

Here follows, George Axx, the Gunner's Letter, which he fent with his Draught of the Frozen Streight near Cape Frigid, which is a Duplicate of what he fent to one of the Lords of the Admiralty.

N°. XXXIX.

" Mr. Wigate.

Liverpool, April 15, 1743.

Sir,

THIS comes in Anfwer to your Letic | ter, and I have fent you the best I " " know. And as for that Place where the " Captain, and you, and myfelf, and the Car-" penter was, it is an Ifland, that I am fure of; " and it was about three Leagues from this " Island to the Main, and the Island about fe-" ven Leagues long; and as for the Height of " the Land I cannot tell, but it was as high as " any of the reft as ever you fee any where a-" bout that Place; and there is a Sketch of it. " But as to that you must excuse, because I " cannot do it no otherwife; but that is it to " my beft Opinion. Pray give my Duty to the " Captain, and be fo good to let me know " when he gets a Ship, and what Ship; and " in fo doing, you will much oblige

" Your Humble Servant,

" George Axx."

Mr.

is Re-

Letof the ich is of the 1743.

Letbest I e the Care of: this it feht of gh as re aof it. ife I it to the ow and

х." Иг. [5]

The DRAUGHT.

REFERENCES in the Gunner's Words.

1. The Ifland that You was upon with the Capt. the Carpenter, and myfelf; it is about three Leagues from the Main.

2. This was a whole Body of Ice, frozen from Side to Side, with about thirty final Islands in the Middle and Sides, and is about 7 Leagues long, and 3 wide.

3. This is the Main : Very high Land.

4. Low-Beach Point.

5. A Channel running NE.

Mr.

46

66

66

"

"

¢¢,

"

"

"

"

"

"

"

"

"

"

"

٢,

(

"

¢

Mr. Dobbs, undoubtedly, imposed upon by too great a Confidence in his Informers Veracity, with their Affiftance endeavoured to falfify my Chart, by publishing one which he thought more correct, and in which, Straits and Openings are laid down, where in reality it is main Land; real Straits are stopped up to prove the Impoffibility of Tides coming in from the Eastern American Ocean, and they are inverted to bring them from the Western; and thus corroborate the Informations given to Mr. Dobbs, whom I must doubtless acquit of all finister Defign in the Publication of this Draught, and attribute its Errors, to that of Men, whofe Characters are not fo well established; and to his own Credulity occafioned by his Concern for the Public Welfare, and Love of Juffice: And it must be unquestionably true, that the frict Enquiry he made among my Officers and Men, and the Encouragement he gave them to fpeak Truth, arole from the fame laudable Principles; for no one can fufpect that Gentleman's Probity, and he himfelf fhews us, that thefe were his only Motives, in p. 75, and feq. including Part of 78, which I shall transcribe, as every one who may read thefe Sheets may not have his Book. Speaking of me, he fays, " Now most of the Affidavits he has produced, " feem chiefly defigned to take off Meff. Thomp-" fon and Wigate's Evidence against the Cap-" tain, it being too firong to be contradicted ; " and therefore from lasse Expressions they " made use of in his Affidavit-Men's Hearing, " they

[7]

" they would alledge there was Malice and " Pique in their Behaviour to the Captain. All " that is attempted to invalidate their Evidence, " is from Wilfon's and Macbeth's Affidavits; for " Dewilde's is nothing to the Purpofe.

" Wilfon, the Master, who only feems to " push that Matter, and who fwears nothing " upon any material Article, fwears in very " indeterminate and loofe Words, that Thompson " and Wigate only wanted him to complete a " certain Purpose; that he might expect to be " employ'd in Captain Middleton's Place; and " fo brought him to me. Was there any Crime " in this, if ftrictly true? They wanted him to " declare the Truth against the Captain, who, " they were fure had mifbehaved; for if any " Thing more had been faid, he proved a very " willing Evidence for the Captain, and would " certainly here have fworn it against them. " Accordingly he came, and I have already " declared, which I shall do upon Oath, when " required, that he faid, The Water, as far as " he had been, was falt; that there was a fair " Channel, four or five Leagues broad beyond the " Islands running S. W. as far as he could fee, " between very high broken Lands, quite free " from Ice; and that be was fure, from that, " and the Whales feen, which he faid must have " come from the Westward, for they never come " in from the East Entrance of Wager River, " otherwife they must have seen then below, that " there was a Paffage. This, with feveral o-" ther Facts, he voluntarily declared to me, " up-

" upon my telling him all the Intereft I had in " it was, to have the Truth known, and have " the Whole appear; which, upon my de-" firing it, he promifed to reduce into Writing " and fign it, and Mr. Wigate was to affift him " in putting it into Form, which was the Oc-" cafion of Meff. Wigate and Thompson's wait-" ing upon him again, to have it reduced into "Writing; nor is it likely, if, as he fwears, " he should refuse to put it into Writing when " I defired him, but only refered to his Jour-" nal, that Wigate and Thompson would go to " him again to affift him in putting it down in "Writing. Upon his leaving me, the Cap-" tain gets him to his Lodgings, and there tu-" tors him and prevails upon him, either by " Promises, or out of Compassion to him, not " to come near me to give Evidence, but to " refer to his Journal and Report. Now it is " no way furprifing that Mr. Thompfon and " Wigate upon feeing him again, should be " concerned and angry at finding him [huffle, " and fay, He would reduce nothing into Writ-" ing, nor come near me any more; for he would " be the Ruin of no Man, he would beg his " Bread first; nor is it wonderful that I should " express a Surprise at the Master's acting a " Part fo contrary to what he had voluntarily " owned to me; and I believe I might fay, " What, has the Captain got him? It was very " lucky that he came here before the Captain faw " him, otherwife he would not have owned " what he did.

" Now,

1

66

"

6

6

6

4

had in have v deriting ft him le Ocwaitd into wears, when Jourgo to wn in Capre tuer by , not out to r it is and ld be uffle, Vritvould g his ould g a irily fay, very law ned

']

w,

" Now, was their bringing him to me, or " endeavouring to get him to own the Truth, " criminal in them, when they were acting for " the Public Good, in detecting the Captain's " Frauds, Neglect, and, perhaps, Corruption? " Ought they not, by all proper Methods, to " procure Evidence to support their own? " Nay, if they had given him Hopes of being " employ'd, in cafe he told the Truth, is that " any way criminal? Or was their fpeaking in " hard Terms against the Captain, if he has " misbehaved in fo shameful a Manner, a Crime, " by faying, They would have him broke, &c. " So that his principal Evidence has failed " in proving any thing against them; and " Macbeath's Evidence is much lefs to the Pur-" pofe. As to Mr. Wigate's boafting that he " would do the Captain's Bufinefs, and that he " expected to be made a Purfer, it is very natu-" ral for him to have faid or thought fo, when " he knew the Captain's Frauds and Mifcon-" duct, &c. and that he would deferve a Re-" ward in detecting him: Nor are his Expref-" fions about his Letters from me any way " material, fuppofing them true; for upon " their informing me by an anonymous Let-" ter, that there was a Paffage, (which was " concealed by the Captain through Roguery, by " making Tides and Frozen Straits where there " were none, which they would fland to, and " were willing to rifque their Lives in another " Attempt.) I answered their Letter, directing " to a feigned Name, as they appointed me; and

[ 10 ]

" and told them if they were real Perfons, and " made good what they wrote, upon hearing " from them again, I would come ftrait to " London, and affift them with all my Intereft " in another Attempt. Now, How can thefe " Affidavits invalidate their Evidence? On the " contrary, Have they not, by proper Evidence " and Reafon, proved that there is no Frozen " Strait or Tide from it, fuch as can anfwer " bis Purpofe, which being proved, makes out " every other Fact, and proves that the Tide " in the Welcome comes from a Weftern " Ocean, and all the Whales from thence ac-" cording to bis own Letters.

" As to Dewilde's Affidavit, what does it "fignify? When the Licutenant, Surgeon and "Clerk, had fully proved the Captain's Mifbe-"haviour to the Satisfaction of the Lords of "the Admiralty, I recommended them, and "told them, they would be taken Care of un-"til the Seafon offered for undertaking another "Voyage, when they would be employ'd. "Thefe Affidavits are like Men, drowning, "catching at Straws, and fhew a very bad "Caufe; for he found their Evidence was "frong againft him."

What an uncommon Zeal has this worthy honeft Gentleman shewn, what indefatigable Pains has he taken to discover Fraud? Here is nothing like tampering with Witness, the Hopes given of Preferment, that he might engage these Men in the Interest of their Country, was certainly laudable, and entirely with a View to thy able re is the entry, iew to

to the Public Good; I acknowledge I have not been always in the fame Way of thinking, and the Injury Mr. Dobbs has done me in my Character with fome few, but thank God very few, caufed a Refentment which was too prevalent for my Reafon, and reprefented him to me in a Light difadvantageous to his Reputation, for which I as heartily beg his Pardon, as I fincerely repent; but, Humanum est errare; and I own myfelf fo fallible, that I thought, little confidering his great Character, in the unhappy Temper of Mind I then was, that he had private Interest to serve, and his particular Pique to gratify, in his avowed Defign, to break the Hudson's-Bay Company; and as a Step previous and neceffary to that End, imagined, that he attacked me in the tendereft Part; but I am now convinced as much, I believe, as any Man, that Mr. Dobbs is above all fordid Views, and had nothing fo much at Heart as the Public Interest, in his Designs to lay open the Trade of the above Company; and I am the more confirmed in this Opinion, by his infinuating fo much in the above Book, as he never could be guilty of deliberate Falshood; wherefore his faying, He would give his Oath that Mr. Willon informed him of Facts, which, he the faid Wilfon, denies ; and which Facts are, in reality, pure Invention, must be attributed to either the ftrong Impressions of a Dream, or to a Failure in Memory, which has occafioned his confounding Names and Things, joining the Ma-C 2

Master's to the Fictions of some of his Witnesses. But adv qu wr gel Di

w

m

66

¢¢

$5

"

"

<

.

6

11

To return to the Letter and Draught, which I shall prove a Forgery; though far be it from me to impute such an unfair Procedure to a Gentleman of Mr. Dobbs's Virtue. I acknowledge that, at the first, it occasioned my Surprize, that a Man whom I had always deemed very honess, and had an universal good Character, should write what he knew to be false; but reflecting on the dirty Measures pursued to ruin me, and the Inconfistency of the Gunner's presenting his Duty to me, while, by his Evidence, he endeavoured to support such Measures, I concluded the Letter forged; and therefore, in p. 48 of my Reply, treated it as a Forgery. These are my Words:

" As to the Gunner's Draught, I have two Reafons to doubt its being genuine: The First, because the Man bears a very honest Character; and the Second, because he contradicts what he himself signed (being called into the Council held the Eighth of August) when it was read to him by the Clerk, in Presence of the other figning Officers."

Though I really believed the Letter and Draught a Forgery, it was what I could not prove; I was obliged, patiently, to fubmit to my Antagonist's exulting in having such flagrant Proof to detect my Roguery; and I don't doubt but this Letter and Draught made an Impression on some People very much to my Difadvantage. advantage. But I was not the only one who queftioned this Letter and Draught, faid to be written and drawn by Axx, my Gunner, being genuine, as appears by the following Letter, Draught and Affidavit, fent by my Carpenter, whofe Abfence Mr. Dobbs bewails, in his Remarks, as a material Evidence to detect me.

Sir,

Wit-

hich

from

Gen-edge that heft, ould

ting and g his en-uded 8 of my two irft,

ter;

t he ncil

ead

ber

ind

not nit

la-

n't

m-life.

٩1.

" \`OUR's of the 23d Inft. is now before " I me, and I have carefully perufed " George Axx's Letter with the Plan, and am " ashamed any one pretending to fet forth the " Nature of a Country, fhould fet it forth in " fo ftupid a Manner, it being intirely wrong; " and herewith you'll receive, as under, a just " Plan of the Frozen Straits, and the Land " thereabouts, which I took in my Journal at " Cape Frigid, and which was figned and ap-" proved of, by John Rankin, Lieutenant; " Robert Wilfon, Mafter; and George Axx and " myfelf. As to the Flood-Tides, I found " from Wager River towards Cape Frigid to " come from the E.N.E. and into Mistake Bay " from the South-East, which came through " the Frozen Straits; and that Cape Frigid is a " Joynt-Land with the Low Beach in the Wel-" come, or Main. And at the Time we were " at Cape Frigid, it being a very ftrong Run, " above four Knots; as we came off with the " Boat near Sun Sett, at almost high Water, " it drove the Ships away to the Westward on " the

" the Flood, and was like to have halled them " into the Mouth of the Frozen Straits on the " Ebb. When we went on Shore, which " was about Eleven of the Clock the next . Morning, the Water being fallen about 5 or " 6 Foot. All Flood Tides, came from the East-" ward through the Straits that flowed up Wa-" ger River to Brook Cobham. The above, Sir, " is a true State of the Affair, and the Country " is justly and fairly stated in the annext Plan. " I am just going to fail, or would have fent " you a Copy of my Journal, wherein the Ori-" ginal Plan is taken, but hope this with my " Affidavit enclosed, will be fatisfactory to you, " and clear up the vile Afperfions as have been " caft on you by your Adversaries. I am,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

Bristol, July 30, 1744.

John Hodgfon.

" P. S. I am obliged to go down to Kingroad " To-night; but, perhaps, may not fail this " Week; therefore beg you'd pleafe to let me " hear from you at the Return of the Poft, " directed for me at Mr. Kennedy's, at " the Rifing-Sun, on the Key."

ТНЕ

[ 15 ] THE PLAN.

them on the which next t 5 or Eaftb Wae, Sir, untry Plan. e fent e Orih my you, been h,

nt,

gfon.

road this t me Polt, , at

E

REFERENCES.

I. Is Cape Hope. 2. Is the Main of the North-fide of the Frozen

Straits. 4. Is the South-fide of the Straits; the narroweft Part about 4 or 5 Leagues wide, the broadeft 6 or 7 Leagues, about 16 or 18 Leagues long.

6. Is Mistake Bay. 7. Is Wager River.

5. Is the outward Part of the Frozen Straits running away South East, by true Compass.

8. Point of Cape Frigid.

The above is a true Plan, to which the annexed Affidavit refers.

John Hodgfon,

The

[ 16 ]

The Affidavit of Mr. John Hodgfon.

King's Bench.

E

o E

V t]

S

Ŀ

0 t

f

f

f

TOHN Hodgson, now reliding in the City of J Bristol, but lately Master Carpenter belonging to his Majefty's Ship, called the Furnace, whereof Christopher Middleton, Esq; was then Captain, maketh Oath, That he, this Deponent, failed in the faid Ship Furnace, from Great Britain to South America, in order to find a Paffage to the South Sea, and faith, the faid Ship Furnace, in her faid Voyage, arrived at Cape Frigid, in the North-Welt Paffage on the Main; and on fuch Arrival, a Plan was taken by this Deponent, on Board the faid Ship Furnace, at the Time the faid Ship lay at Cape Frigid, of the Frozen Straits and the Lands, in the Prefence of, and figned and allowed to be a ju/t Plan, by John Rankin, Lieutenant ; Robert Wilfon, Master; George Axx, Gunner; and this Deponent; all belonging to the faid Ship. And faith, That the Plan taken as aforefaid, was a true Plan; and that the hereunto annexed Plan is a true Copy thereof; he, this Deponent, having the original Plan in his Journal, now in bis Poffeffion, and faith, That the Flood Tides this Deponent found from Wager River towards Cape Frigid, came from the East North-East into Mistake-Bay from the South-East, which came through the Frozen Straits; and that Cape Frigid is a Joynt-Land with the Low Beach

Beach on the Welcome or Main; and faith, That on coming off the Land of Cape Frigid in a Boat, near Sun Set, it was almost high Water, which drove the Ship away to the Westward on the Flood, and was like to have balled the faid Ship into the Mouth of the Frozen Straits on the Ebb; and that afterwards this Deponent went on Shore, which was about Eleven of the Clock the next Morning, the Water being fallen about five or fix Foot; and that all the Flood Tides came from the Eastward through the Straits, that flowed up Wager River to Brook Cobham.

John Hodgfon.

On

Sworn at the City of Bristol this thirtieth Day of July, one thousand seven hundred and fortyfour.

Edward Gyles, a Commissioner.

N. B. The Perfon who drew up this Affidavit, has made a Miftake in writing South for North America. This Miftake is visible in the Sequel, by the Words North-West Passage; another Mistake is, next Morning, for the fame Morning as appears in the Report this Deponent figned on Board.

nch.

City of elongirnace, s then Depo-Great find a e faid ved at on the taken p Furbe Friin the a ju/t t Wilis De-And was a nexed onent, low in Tides wards b-Ealt which that Low Beach

4%

[ 18 ]

On the Receipt of the above I wrote the following Letter to the Lords of the Admiralty.

My Lords,

I Take the Liberty to lay before your Lordfhips, for your Perufal, the Copy of a Letter, Plan and Affidavit which I received from the late Carpenter of the Furnace. Your Lordfhips will find they agree with Mr. Wilfon's Anfwer, when examined at your Board to the 11th Query, printed in p. 177 of my Vindication; that they corroborate Obediab Satchell's Affidavit, which is in p. 90 of the Appendix to my Reply; that they confirm the Anfwer made to the 5th Query by Donalfon, Iverfon, Monro, and Gill, in p. 45 of the faid Appendix; and flatly contradict the Gunner and Clerk, and Mr. Moor, who make Cape Frigid an Ifland, and alfo the Account they give of the Tides.

As I am fatisfied your Lordship's Justice will make you find a Pleasure in every Thing which may afford you Light to do it to the Injured, an Apology for my troubling your Lordships would betray a Want of Judgment in

My Lords,

Your LORDSHIPS

Moß humble, most obedient and most devoted Servant, Christopher Middleton.

Suf-

e folalty. Lorda Letfrom Lord-Yilfon's to the ndica*tchell*'s idix to made Monro, ; and nd Mr. d, and ce will which ijured, díhips

it, ileton.

Suf-

Sufpicion, as I have faid, is no Proof; but Providence which will never defert the Innocent and Oppreffed, has furnished me with one that is irrefragable. On the 2d Day of November last I accidentally met Mr. George Axx, my late Gunner, and the supposed Author of the aforefaid Letter and Draught, and raxed him with having contradicted the Truth of what he had figned when called into the Council upon the Voyage. He feemed furprifed; and upon my explaining myfelf, abfolutely denied his having written, made, or fent fuch Letter and Draught, or either of them to any Perfon breathing; on the 2d ditto, he came to my Lodgings, but I not being at home, he returned the next Day, and by a written Paper fubscribed by himself, he again denied the faid Letter and Draught being his, but averred it was a Forgery: Which Transactions are strongly proved by the following Negation of the faid Axx, and Mr. Dewilde's Affidavit before a Master in Chancery. His pretended Letter being written out of the Remarks of my Defence, and he the faid Axx having been shewn the forementioned Draught, figned this

ATTESTATION.

" GEORGE AXX, late Gunner, on board the Furnace Sloop, Captain Middleton, Commander, is ready and willing to make Oath, that he never fent this Letter, or any of the like kind to Mr. Wigate, or to any of D 2 the " the Lords of the Admiralty; neither did he "fend a Draught of the Frozen Straits, as is "mentioned in Page 144 and 145, in Mr. Dobbs's Remarks upon Captain Middleton's "Defence; fo that I apprehend, if their Lordfhips had fuch a Letter from Mr. Wigate, it "must be of his own Forging.

Nov. 3. 1744.

" George Axx."

at

to te h

h

d

1 f

h

F

1 r

2

Witnefs,

John Dewilde.

I acquainted the Lords of the Admiralty by a Letter to their Secretary with this Detection; but being advised that I ought to have taken the Affidavit of the faid Axx; and he being gone out of Town, I applied to their Lordships of the Admiralty, for an Order to bring him up to Town, which they were fo good to grant. Hearing nothing from him, after fome Days, I wrote to his Captain, or the Commanding Officer, on board the Aldborough, of which Ship he is Gunner. After having waited fome Time, in hopes of feeing or hearing from him, I fent a Meffenger to his Houfe at Greenwich, who was told he was gone on board his Ship. I waited near a Week longer, when the Secretary of the Admiralty told me, That their Lordships had received an Answer from his Commanding Officer That the faid Axx was not to be found, but that their Lordships, if I could find him, would command him up to atid he as is Mr. eton's Lordte, it axx."

by a tion : n the le out of the ip to grant. iys, I ading vhich fome him, wich, Ship. ecretheir i his was if I p to atattend me. I then went down to Greenwich. to get Information from his Wife, who faid, That the Day before fhe had received a Letter, which the gave me to read, and in which he acknowledged their Lordship's Orders for his coming to Town to wait upon Captain Middleton, and that he would be up in a fhort Time. I waited in expectation of feeing him for about Six Days, but hearing nothing of him, I again addreffed myfelf to the Board of Admiralty, to obtain a peremptory Command for his, the faid Axx's, coming to Town; with which their Lordships indulged me : But finding that had no Effect, fome Days after I defired Mr. Dewilde to make Affidavit of what had paffed between the faid Axx and myfelf, to which he was a Witnefs; and he accordingly fwore what follows, before a Mafter in Chancery.

" John Dewilde of the Parifh of St. Martin's " Ludgate, London, Watch-Maker,

" MAKETH Oath, That on the 2d of November, 1744, George Axx, late Gunner of his Majefty's Ship Furnace, when fent under the Command of Captain Christopher Middleton, to endeavour at making a Difcovery of a North-Weft Passage to the Western American Ocean, came to his this Deponent's Dwelling-House, to enquire after the faid Captain, who is a Lodger, or Inmate with this Deponent, but the faid "Cap-

[ 22 ]

٢٢

"

66

"

"

"

"

٢٢

"

"

"

"

66

"

"

•

"

is m ci

re

h

R

B

lu R

" Captain not being at Home, he went away " and returned the next Day, the 3d Inft. the " Captain being then at Home, he, the faid " George Axx, did declare in the Prefence and " hearing of this Deponent, That he never " wrote the Letter, or made the Draught " printed (in Mr. Dobbs's Pamphlet, entitled, "His Remarks) with his Name, as Writer of " the faid Letter; farther, That he never " wrote to any Lord of the Admiralty, or to " Mr. Wigate (one of the Witneffes against the " faid Captain, to prove his Misconduct during " the late Voyage on the Discovery of the a-" forefaid Paffage) or to any other Perfon " whomever, with Relation to the faid Voyage, " to the Prejudice of the faid Captain, of " which he was ready and willing to make " Oath, and would give the fame under his " Hand, and came on Purpose with that In-" tent.

"And the Deponent farther maketh Oath, that the faid Captain advifed the faid Axx to be careful what he faid or figned, as it might ruin him, if it was not the Truth; that he might poffibly have been drawn in by Wigate to write the faid Letter, and fend it with the Draught; and if it was fo, he had better acknowledge it; that his the Captain's Name might have been counterfeited, and a Letter fent to require fuch a Draught of the faid Axx, as figned by him.

" To which the faid Axx, who acknowledged theReceipt of a Letter from Wigate and Thomp-" fon, " fon, (another Witnefs against the Captain) " anfwered in these Words, or to the fame " Purport; Sir, I tell you I never did write to " any one. The Captain then faid, Did you " never write your Name on any Scrap of Pa-" per, and leave it carelesly where Wigate " could get, and make Ufe of, it? or Words " to that Effect; to which the faid Axx an-" fwered, That he never had. The faid Cap-" tain admonished the faid Axx feveral Times " to be cautious in what he figned or fwore. " After which, the faid Axx chearfully figned " a Paper, in which he denies that he ever wrote " or fent the faid Letter or Draught, to which " his figning, he this Deponent, was a fub-" fcribing Witnefs.

" John Dewilde.

OR

" Sworn this 2.6th Day " of November, 1744, at " the public Office before

vay

the aid

nd

ver

tht

ed,

of ver

to he ng

a-lon

ge,

of

ke

his [nth,

to it

In nd

ю,

he

:r-

2

ed

p-

12,

" R. Holford."

This Behaviour of the Gunner's, Mr. Axx, is very furprifing; however, I fhall not comment upon it, but go on and fhew the malicious Defign of this Forgery of a-piece with the reft of the Evidence given in against me; for I have proved in my Reply to the Remarks, that Reports were altered, Figures in the Logg-Book changed --- * fictitious Evidence imposed * Mr. Ellis of the Victualling-Office, and Mr. Wilfon, abfolutely deny what they have been made to fay in Mr, Dobbs's Remarks. on the Public; the Lieutenant's Journal, which contradicts his own Teftimony, furreptitioufly taken away from the Navy-Office; and to corroborate what one of the Witneffes has advanced to prove my fuppofed Roguery, a Dictionary of the Indian Language is printed in that beautiful Romance with which Mr. Dobbs has obliged the Public; though unhappily the only Man in England v ho understands that Language, has given under his Hand that every Word of the aforefaid Dictionary is pure Invention.

But the World will certainly acquit a Gentleman of Mr. Dobbs's Character; and his eftablifhed Reputation thrown into the oppofite Scale of fuch base Procedures, must infallibly preponderate; though I acknowledge there is one Circumstance that staggers me, viz. the Incapacity of his Witneffes to contrive this Draught, calculated to invalidate all that I advanced, and to prove the Influx could not be from the Eastern Sea, but must come from the Western American Ocean; the Confequence of which can be no other than my having egregioufly imposed on the Public, and villainoufly concealed the Paffage which I was fent out to difcover. To prove this, I shall quote Mr. Dobbs's own Words; p. 21 of his Remarks, he fays, " That he reckons it a Misfortune that " my Men were dispersed before I fent him " my Journal," which, to use his own Words, " he delay'd, I believe, with a View that they " fhould not appear against him; for I was o-" bliged to enquire after the proper Per-" fons which tioufly o coras ad-Dictin that bs has e only guage, ord of Genestaposite allibly ere is z. the this I adot be n the ice of gregioufly ut to Mr. s, he that him ords, they as o-Perfons

[ 25 ]

" fonswhoknew most: The Lieutenant, Surgeon " and Clerk, were in London, but the Master " was in Holland, the Carpenter gone, nobody " knew where, who was a material Evidence " about the Frozen Strait. And," the Gunner, " was at Liverpool, who was wrote to", and " fent his Answer and Draught to a Lord of " the Admiralty, which is full against his Fro-" zen Strait, and his Tide and Whales coming " through it. It was but three Leagues wide, " and full of Islands, furrounding the Island " they stood upon."

In p. 34, he fays, " my Anfwer about my "Frozen Strait and Tide is all falfe, and cal-" culated to impofe upon the Public an errone-" ous Tide and Current, for without fome other " Tide to be found out from the Eaftward, I " muft of courfe allow the high Tides were oc-" cafioned by the Influx of a Weftern Ocean, and " of courfe prove, that I have feandaloufly im-" pofed upon the Public in concealing the Dif-" covery.

In the following Page he fays, "By com-" paring the Clerk's Anfwer with the Account " and Draught fcnt up by Axw the Gunner, to " one of the Lords of the Admiralty, againft " the Account he has fet down in his (i.e. my) " Log and Journal, his fpacious frozen Strait, * Though this looks like a Combination against me, as if my Ruin was defigned, and the Methods to complete it confulted with mature Deliberation, yet it is possible the Industry here used was with no other View than to discover the Truth, and Mr. Dobbs himself may have been imposed a pon.

E

" an

" an hundred Fathoms deep, is a mere Fiction, " and is dwindled into an Arm of the Sea three " Leagues wide, full of Iflands, which fur-" rounded the Ifland they ftood upon, and fe-" parated it from the Low Beach, as appears " from the Gunner's Draught of it, which ex-" actly agrees with the Clerk's Account, * &c.

Mr. Dobbs himfelf has here shewn of what Use this Draught was, to the Cause he endeavoured to support; for making the Frozen Straits imaginary, the Influx of the Eastern Tides are shut out, and by fictitious Openings+, the Tides are brought in from the Western American Ocean. And were these incontestable Facts, I must really be the vile Rascal I have been represented to that Gentleman.

As on the one Hand this Contrivance is beyond the Depth of the most artful of his Witnesses, who has but just Cunning enough to be a Rogue; and, as on the other, the Design is too villainous and too fatal in its Confequences, had it fucceeded, for a Gentleman of Mr. Dobbs's Great Probity, to be concerned in it, I know not, I must confess, what Judgment to make, and yet I am as ready to believe as any one who is thoroughly acquainted with him, that he was himself imposed upon; for none but the most profligate Wretch could (actuated by the meaness and most pernicious Passen) carry on the blackes

* I think the Detection of this Letter and Draught being a Forgery accounts for this Agreement.

†Vide Mr. Dobbs's Chart, in which an Opening is made (called Rankin's) to let in the Tides from the Westward.

and

[ 27 ]

and most dangerous Defigns: A Gentleman of his Virtue could not willfully and deliberately endeavour to blaft a hitherto unblemished Character; he would not aim at the ruining of an innocent Man and his Family, for no other Reafon but for his having ftrictly complied with the Instructions of his Superiors, and performed the Duty incumbent on him; he must be incapable, the World will think, to have a Hand in so mean, so dirty, and scandalous a Crime as Forgery; a Forgery too! fo big with Mifchief, and which could have no other Tendency (at least apparent) than to the Gratification of two Vices, Revenge and Avarice, abhorrent from the Principles of Men of Honour: A Forgery! more fatal in its Confequences than fuch as are the Effects of Necessity; they cannot involve a whole Family, and bring on inevitable Ruin of both Fortune and Character; a Man may be robbed of his Effate by forged Deeds, but they firike not at his Reputation; but the prefent Forgery was calculated to destroy my good Name, as well as to take away my Bread, to beggar me in my Circumstances, load me with Infamy, and entail that, and Want, on my poor Infants, by depriving me of all future Means for their Provision.

As a Crime of this flagitious Nature can hardly be imputed to a Gentleman of Mr. Dobbs's Figure, Character and Fortune, I may reafonably conclude, that the World deemed my treating the above Letter as a Forgery, proceeded rather from my being gravelled, and un-

E 2

hree furd febears ex-Bc. what deaozen tern. gst, Ametable have s be-Witbe a s too , had obbs's now nake, who was moft aneft ickeft ing a called ion,

and

unable to refute fuch home Evidence, than to my real Belief of its not being genuine: That the Gunner might, while under my Command, be intimidated; and for that Reafon, figned what I thought conducive to my Defence, upon an Enquiry into my Conduct; but that now all Apprehenfions, which might obftruct the Truth, being removed, he had the Courage and Honefty to fpeak it. It is reafonable for the Public to make fuch Conclusions when they reflect on the Improbability of a Gentleman in high Repute for focial Virtues, great Learning and Prudence, being guilty of a Crime fo flagrant in its Nature, fo deftructive in its Confequences.

As the World entertains this great Opinion of Mr. Dobbs, they could not, on one Hand believe him a Particeps Criminis, an Accomplice : or, on the other, imagine his Prudence was to be furprifed; and yet fo true is the old Saying ---- The wifest Man is failable; that here his indefatigable Industry to different the Truth, made him overlook the Character given him (by his own Friends, Mr. Lanrick and Gill) of two of his Witneffes, - Mr. Wigate and Thompson, who had fuch an Influence over him, that Mr. Lendrick's Confirmation of the Frozen Strait being as I have lain it down, was of no Weight. In his Letter dated from the Orkneys, Sept. 16, 1742, printed in the News-Papers, he fays, "We went o'Shore to take a Survey from " the Top of a high Mountain, when we could " tee the Sea all faft froze in one folid Body for a han to That mand, figned e, upt that oftruct burage ble for n they nan in arning lo fla-Confenion of nd bemplice; was to Saying ere his ere his Truth, n him fill) of ompfon, nat Mr. Strait of no Orkneys, pers, he ey from e could ody for a

[ 29 ]

" a Matter of twenty Leagues away to the S.E. " and finding at the fame time that the Flood " Tide came from thence, we were fully con-" firmed, that it had a Communication with " the Eafl-Sea, and that there was no fuch " Thing as a Paffage into the Weftern Ocean, " as we expected."

The Zeal which actuated Mr. Dobbs in the Search of Truth, hindered his reflecting on the Incapacit of his Witneffes to infpect into my Conduct; fo prevalent was his Love of Juffice, that it ftopped his Ears to the Remonstrances of his Friends, he gave implicit Faith to whatever feemed tending to the Detection of Fraud; and thus Excefs of Virtue laid him open to the Wiles, and made him the Implement, of wicked and defigning Men.

The Danger of Ruin is always in proportion to the Affailant; and therefore it is well nigh impoffible for the most upright Person, when his good Name is attacked by a Man of eftablifhed Reputation to get off without fome Blemish in his Character; the Improbability, nay, the Abfurdity of the Charge brought against him, the Reafons he may offer in his Defence, the natural Inferences drawn, the clofest and most rational Arguments, his Appeal to his former, and irreproachablet Conduct, the unfullied Character he has ever borne, nay the Witneffes he produces, though of undoubted good Reputation, will not fet him right in every one's Opinion, and poffibly, the voluntary Evidence of fuch as appear in his Vindication, will be made made a Handle to perfecute him with greater Calumny, by taxing him with Subornation of Perjury: This is what I have learned from fatal Experience, in the Difpute between Mr. Dobbs and myfelf.

[ 30 ]

I had Mr. Dobbs's great Character, the Evidence of this artful Draught, the Strength of his Reafonings upon it, with his captivating Inferences to combat, which may be termed a Herculean Labour; Truth and Innocence were on my Side; the Struggle was long and dubious, but Time coming in to my Affiftance, has turn'd the Scale of Victory in my Favour; and I leave Mr. Dobbs to the Tafk impofed upon him by his Witneffes of cleanfing this Augean Stable, which will not be difficult to perform, if he turns into it the River of Truth, as Hercules did that of Alpheus.

On the whole, Mr. Dobbs throughout this Affair, warmed with the Zeal of Public Good. has been fo very much unguarded in his Expreffions, that he has shewn a Junonian Rage in his Writings, which has hurried him beyond the Bounds of Decency; But on whom must I charge this Forgery? Not one of my Officers who have fided with Mr. Dobbs could be actuated by a Spirit of Revenge for any ill Ulage, while under my Command; they having often, and in different Companies, extolled me for my Humanity to themfelves and others. They could not thus endeavour to ruin my Character and Fortune from any Prospect of Gain, or Advantage, if not what they hoped from Mr. Dobbs's Intereft, reater ion of n fatal Dobbs

Eviof his ng Inmed a ere on ubious, turn'd I leave im by Stable, if he Iercules out this ic Good, Exprefe in his ond the muft I Officers ctuated , while en, and ny Huy could ter and vantage, bbs's Interest, [ 31 ]

terest, by being subservient to his Dictates. Farther, neither Wigate nor Thompson had the Capacity to invent this Forgery. But then his incomparable Character forbids my entertaining a Thought fo contrary to it. I own I cannot reconcile that Gentleman's printing and publifiing this Forgery, with his universal Reputation; and though it may feem reafonable to conclude from his own Words, and Endeavours to engage the Government to fend other Ships on the Difcovery, that he proposed to himself vast Advantages, and thought that the properest Method to induce the Ministry to make a fecond Tryal, was, if poffible, to prove I had treacheroufly concealed the Difcovery; the Anger he has expressed in his Remarks, and his avowed Defign to break the Hudson's-bay Company, might with fome refenting Men excuse me, if I attributed his Perfecution of one who never willingly offended him, to a Thirst of more, and a Spirit of Revenge for my having difappointed him in a Defign of diving into the Company's Profits by the Sale of fuch Goods as were clandeftinely put on Board his Majefty's Ship. For could Mr. Dobbs have carried his Point, we may fuppose by what is passed, he would have fent a confiderable Cargoe; and as he imagines the Company make 2,000l. per Cent. he might flatter himself with Gains immense, while the Public fupported the Charge, and ran the Hazard of the Voyage. This Way of thinking, I fay, a warm Man might excuse; but far be it from ine, to entertain a Thought, which could could not affect that Gentleman, but on the contrary, muft infallibly call my Judgment in Queftion; and I will neither believe, though he published the Forgery, that he had a Hand in the Contrivance, or was interested in its being thought genuine. He could never, though Appearances make fo very strongly against him, contrive, or encourage, such an infamous Piece of Villainy; wherefore, as I cannot, with Prudence charge him with so foul a Guilt, and on the other Hand know, his Witness too shallow to be capable of it themselves, I will form no Judgment, hoping that Mr. Dobbs will furnish me a Clew to bring me out of this Labyrinth.

As I hope never more to be under the Neceffity of troubling the Public, I beg leave to fubjoin Part of Governor Isham's Second Letter to clear myself from the Imputation of Cruelty to the Indian Linguists, with which I am taxed in Mr. Dobbs's Remarks; the Governor's former Letter takes notice of the Return of one of those Indians, and the annexed, of the other's; fo that both, by authentic Evidence, are arrived fafe.

" Sir,

" I Was in Hopes to have heard from you, and am glad to hear you are in Health as I am at prefent; I have ftaid this Year, and pleafe God I do well, I hope to fee you next Year, n the ent in hongh land in being gh Apft him, is Piece th Pruand on o shalill form vill furof this the Neleave to nd Letof Cruch I am overnor's eturn of d, of the ence, are rom you, Health as ear, and you next " Year, "Year, being refolved to return Home; Iun-" derstand, Sir, fome Persons will not give " credit the two Indians are alive that you put " ashore; yes, Sir, I can assure such, that " they are both alive, and I have feen them, " and Southward Indians have talked to them, " when I underftood they were well used, and " that they faw nothing of any great River, not " going in Land far, keeping more to the South-" ward along Shore, 'till they arrived at that " Part where their Families lay, &c. &c.

" James Ifl:am."

" Prince of Wales's Fort, " Churchill River, dated " Aug. 15. 1744."

" To Capt. Chriftopher Middleton."

Mr. Smith, Mafter of the Company's Sloop, last Summer, at Churchill River, where he has been fome Years in that Employ, is now in England, and in Town. He has feen and fpoken with both the Indian Linguists, fo that here is irrefragable Proof, that the Charge of Cruelty brought against me, was, could be, with no other Defign, than to blacken my Character, and make me odious in the Eyes of every humane Man --- Mr. Smith may be found at Capt. Spurrel's on Stepney Caufeway near Ratcliff.

F

POSTSCRIPT.

WHILE the above was in the Prefs, and too late to alter, Mr. Axx, the Gunner came to Town, on Purpofe to make Affidavit that he was not the Author of either the Letter or Draught, to which his Name was printed in Mr. Dobbs's Remarks, and is here before mentioned; which Affidavit he made before a Mafter in Chancery, as follows.

Affidavit of George Axx, late Gunner of the Furnace.

WHEREAS in a Pamphlet entitled, Remarks upon Capt. Middleton's Defence &c. published under the Name of Arthur Dobbs, Esq; there is a Letter and Draught printed with my Name, as the Author of both, in Page 144 and 145 of the said Pamphlet, which I apprehend is with a malicious Design to injure the aforesaid Captain, and is a Restlection on my own Reputation, of a North-West Paffage, under the Command of Capt. Christopher Middleton, make Oath, that I never did write the faid Letter, or make any fuch Draught as is published under my Name, or sent any Letter or Draught with Relation to Capt. Middleton, or the aforesaid Voyage, to either Mr. Wygate, a Lord of the Admiralty, or to any other Person whomever; fince my Return from the faidVoyage, as is falsly afferted in the faid Pamphlet, and that both the faid Letter and Draught are absolutely forged.

I George Axx, late Gunner of his Majesty's Ship the Furnace, when fent upon a Discovery of

POSTSCRIPT.

George Axx.

Sworn at the Public Office Ift. Dec. 1744, before T. Burroughs.

F I N I S.

The Reader is defired to obferve, that the Letter faid to be written to the Lords of the Admiralty, was, by Mistake, printed from a Copy of a Letter which was not fent, instead of a Copy of that which was fent, and directed to the Honourable Thomas Corbett, Efq; Secretary to the Admiralty, to be laid before their Lordship's; it is Word for Word the fame; only the Letter fent ended at the Words Afford them Light to do Justice: Alfo, in p. 3. 1. 10. to read, in stead of having taken; having, as it is fuggested, been offered; and in p. 29. 1. 10. to read Incapacity.

T.

he Prefs, Axx, the Purpofe Author which his which his arks, and davit he follows.

er of the tled, Re-Defence Arthur it printed in Page I apprenjure the n on my

Majefty's Difcovery of

