BRITAIN ASKS FULL INQUIRY

Light Will Be Thrown on Sinking of German Submarine.

CALLS FOR TRIBUNAL Britain Willing to Have U.S. Naval Officers Decide on Case.

LONDON, Jan. 4, 6.40 p.m.—A British official statement issued today says:

"Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, has answered the complaint by the Germans that the American embassy regarding the destruction of the coast of Ireland by a German submarine and crew by the British auxiliary Baralong by referring to various German outrages. Sir Edward Grey offers to submit such incidents including the Baralong case to an impartial tribunal, composed, say, of officers of the United States navy.

"The foreign office has presented to the house of commons the full correspondence between Ambassador Page and Sir Edward Grey concerning the case. A memorandum from the submarine includes affidavits from six Americans—J. M. Garrett of Kilm, Mississippi, Charles G. Hightower of Crystal City, Texas, Bud Emerson of Palen of Detroit, Edward Clark of Detroit, R. H. Cosby of Crystal City and James J. Curran, Chicago. The above were all multiteers aboard the steamer Nicolson and witnessed the Baralong's destruction of the submarine.

"A further affidavit from Larimore Holland of Chattanooga, Tenn., who was a member of the crew of the Baralong, was submitted. All the affidavits speak of the sinking of the Baralong as flying the American flag.

"The Daily News, in an editorial today pointing out what it terms inconsistencies in the Baralong evidence, says it is possible, and probable, that the warships since the sinking of the Lusitania and the Arabic has assumed a degree of savagery which formerly was inconceivable.

"The Germans," says the Daily News, "have torn up kindly sea traditions, and it is idle to expect that their example should be wholly unimitated. When the war is ended it will be one of the most urgent and difficult tasks of civilization to re-establish them.

"So far as the German protest is concerned, Sir Edward Grey's half-frenzied offer to submit all cases to an impartial tribunal, is a fair enough reply."

RECRUITING DRIVES CONTINUING IN FORCE

One Hundred and Thirty-Seven Men Yesterday's Offering for Overseas Service.

"PALS" ADD GOOD NUMBER

Sir Sam Hughes Found Battalion at Exhibition Camp in Good Shape.

One hundred and thirty-seven Toronto men were accepted for overseas service yesterday and 170 offered themselves. A total of 555 recruits have volunteered in the first two days of this week. Of these 333 were accepted.

Good progress continues to be made in the building up of Col. Chadwick's unit. He received 84 more recruits yesterday, which places 765 as the strength of the 124th "Pals" Battalion. The "Pals" Battalion under Major B. H. Ardagh held its first route march yesterday.

Major-General Sir Sam Hughes, minister of militia, found time during his one-day visit to Toronto to inspect two of the battalions at Exhibition camp. The 95th, Col. R. K. Barker, commandant, and the 97th "American Legion," Col. A. E. Clark, commandant, were named by his staff and the divisional officers he saw the battalions go through their drill. Both regiments made fine showing, altho the American Legion is only as yet up to half strength.

He praised the soldiers' fine appearance and said he hoped the American Legion would be one of the battalions in the overseas division which General Logan is to command. On his arrival in Toronto Sir Sam breakfasted at the King Edward Hotel with Dr. J. L. Hughes, W. F. Maclean, M.P., and the staff officers who came with him from Ottawa.

Toronto's Contribution. Official figures issued at Exhibition Camp Headquarters yesterday afternoon by Major-General Sir Sam Hughes, commandant of this division, show that 39,378 men have been recruited in the Toronto military district up to Dec. 23. This is 15 per cent. of the division's complement of 1,235,000 people. To supply its share towards the 500,000 soldiers required the proportion should be 7 per cent.

The City of Toronto has given 18,953 men to the colors. Hamilton 3,819, and the outside sections of the division 15,596. In comparison what the Toronto district has added it must be borne in mind that in addition to the men mentioned in the foregoing another 10,000 Old Country boys have also gone overseas.

Major Williams calculates that to do its share towards the new order of 5,000,000 men the Toronto district must raise 47,000 more men.

But to raise the five divisions of infantry which Sir Sam Hughes last night said he expected to see in the next few days, the Toronto district must raise 47,000 more men.

Men Wanted for C. F. A. No. 12 section of the 3rd Divisional Ammunition Column is recruiting 100 men immediately to complete its establishment. This unit at Exhibition camp, which is leaving for overseas service, is being equipped with ammunition. Its function being to carry ammunition to the batteries. Only men experienced in handling horses are taken, as a fractured leg is a serious handicap.

The men of the 12th section are interchangeable with the men of the firing battery. Only men who are good drivers and who can handle a horse are taken. This unit has a very limited time to reach a high state of efficiency. Recruits are asked to apply to the 12th section of the 3rd Divisional Ammunition Column, orderly room at Exhibition camp.

The 74th, 81st, 82nd, 85th, 95th, 97th and 98th Battalions are each to attend a special two weeks machine gun training course for officers at the school of instruction, Old Technical School, College street, starts on Feb. 14. The next examination for captain's and field officers' certificates will be held on Jan. 17 and 18. These examinations are only available for officers in overseas battalions.

THESSALONIKI'S CREW HAVE TAKEN TO BOATS. Wireless Reports to New York Indicate Abandonment of Greek Steamer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—A wireless message, which came in fragments at 8.35 o'clock tonight from the Greek liner Thessaloniki, stated that the crew had taken to the lifeboats.

"The Thessaloniki was reported in distress several days ago. A United States revenue cutter was sent to look for it, and the Greek steamer was later reported making her way slowly back to New York.

THREE-YEAR-OLD CHILD STRUCK BY TROLLEY CAR. Little Teresa Levack Was Picked Up by Fender and Escaped Serious Injury.

Three-year-old Teresa Levack, 758 1/2 East Queen street, was struck by an eastbound King car while playing near her home last evening and sustained a fractured leg. The motorman applied the brakes when he saw her on the road and she was picked up by the fender. After receiving attention in the office of Dr. Fraleigh, Broadview avenue, she was removed to the hospital for Sick Children in the police ambulance.

FRENCH GUNS DESTROY MACHINE GUN SHELTER. Operations at Front Reported as Extremely Quiet by War Office at Paris.

PARIS, Jan. 4, 2.35 p.m.—The official statement issued by the war office this afternoon reads as follows: "No important event occurred during the course of the night. Last evening our artillery destroyed in the outskirts of Andechey, in the region of Roye, a house which had served as a shelter for machine guns."

WAR SUMMARY: Today's Events Reviewed

garia, which so lightly gave hostages to fortune last autumn and attacked Serbia in alliance with the Teuton and the Turk. King Ferdinand has always had the reputation of being cowardly, like the King of Greece, if reports are to be credited. He is said to be quite capable of offering to sell out the Germans to the allies.

Unofficial despatches and letters from Canadian soldiers at the front hint at something big that is going to develop in the war, perhaps, this week. Stories of a landing attack on the whole allied positions by the Germans have not been telegraphed across the Atlantic for a week or more and officers from the front say that the British and French would welcome German offensive operations, but that the enemy has in reality been merely parading men around to make a great show as a sort of bluff, and that his lines have been worn dangerously thin at many points.

Following a prolonged spell of censorship in Russia, the French have evidently clamped on the censor also with greater vigor than ever. Official reports are now delayed 12 to 24 hours, and the same thing happens to authentic information, says that the recent Russian stringency ceases to be authentic information, says that the recent Russian stringency ceases to be authentic information, says that the recent Russian stringency ceases to be authentic information.

Enough has already come thru from Russia and Austria-Hungary to reveal the fact that the Russians are having the best of the fighting in Galicia, Bukovina and Volhynia. It is not in the Austrian statements that the important points about the offensive are stated. German statements merely report the incidents where Russian lines of the enemy on the Strypa Russians report the pushing back of the line, and against the course of the river and on the heights near Czernowitz. If one follows the course of events on the map, one will see that the main efforts of the Russians are being directed against the southern extremity of the line, and against the section in the north, which reposes on the Pripiet marshes. Attacks are being made all along the rest of the intervening front to pin the Austrians and the Germans down to their trenches, so that they cannot get away. In the north and the south of this 225-mile front, where the Russians are making headway, their objective is plainly the railway junctions at Kovel and Czernowitz. The secure possession of the lines at Czernowitz would cut the enemy off from Roumania and prevent the exportation of Roumanian wheat to the central powers. A vast amount of German railway rolling stock is reported to have been sent into Roumania for the harvest, and a stock is reported to have been sent into Roumania for the harvest, and a stock is reported to have been sent into Roumania for the harvest.

The Russians are patently forcing on him. Winter fighting is dreaded by the German and Austrian commanders, owing to the fearful amount of sickness which it brings on the soldiers. Austrian losses in the Carpathians last winter are now said by experts to be nearly a million and a half men.

Further study of the situation which is now developing in the eastern theatre of the war leads a person to the conclusion that the Russians are either fighting to continue the process of exhaustion of the reserves of the enemy or they are fighting for the purpose of forcing the enemy to give up the general battle. The movements against Czernowitz and Kovel may be the beginning of a turning movement with the object of bending back the extremities of the hostile line and the piercing of the centre, so as to force a precipitate retreat. That plan was adopted by Gen. Brusilov in the battle of Lemberg, in the early days of the war, when 600,000 Austrians were defeated with the loss of 130,000 prisoners alone, and of an army of 170,000 men that was besieged in Przemyel and later captured. In this blow five-sixths of the Austrian first line army was put out of action. A repetition of the same feat with a million men would be amply sufficient almost to decide the war. Whether it can be done depends on the number of men that the Russian line can put in their fighting line. A concentration of 1,000 men to a mile, or about 2,250,000 men, would be amply sufficient against a hostile force of two-thirds that strength.

It must be supposed that the German and Austrian submarines will be able to sink some more ships in the Mediterranean. Certain facts in connection with the operations in the Mediterranean. Certain facts in connection with the operations in the Mediterranean. Certain facts in connection with the operations in the Mediterranean.

The silence of the navy is uncanny. After a long interval it has leaked out that the great German battleship cruiser Van der Tann has been destroyed, but whether from her unfortunate experience when she and her sister ships had an encounter with the squadron under the command of Admiral Beatty in the North Sea a year ago, or whether she was prematurely doomed by the action of British submarines in the Baltic remains a mystery that will not be cleared up till after the war.

The Kaiser has cancer of the throat. This is the story which the Paris Matin, a reliable newspaper, gives to its readers with all the earmarks of authenticity. The malady has so far progressed as to render his imperial majesty speechless. As the progress of the disease is slow, the emperor will still hold the imperial scepter for some time longer. He will be the more disposed to fall into his shoes if he withdraws from the military stage. Personally familiar with the imperial household describe the heir of the Hohenzollerns as a gilded individual, who is not burdened with the handicap of a superfluous intellect, but is full of go, and whose only defect as a military commander, indicates, it is said, a reckless disregard of the impediments imposed by the principles of warfare.

FERDINAND WILL TAKE CROWN OF MACEDONIA. VIENNA, Jan. 4, 2.35 a.m.—Sofia reports that King Ferdinand of Bulgaria intends, after the orthodox Christmas holidays, to proclaim himself Czar of Macedonia and be crowned in the old royal city of Ochrida.

TELEPHONE SERVICE IS STILL INTERRUPTED. Locally a good deal of interruption still exists on the telephone and city-grip lines running out of the city north and east. Some parts of King and Vaughan Townships are still isolated from the rest of the world and up to the upper portions of York Townships and in and around Orino the wires are still down. Stouffville and Uxbridge could not be reached, but local officials of the Bell Telephone Co. look for a general resumption of business and communication today. The trunk lines to Montreal were especially hard hit and gangs of repair men have been actively engaged ever since, with the result that it was officially stated at the head offices last night that communication with Montreal would be re-established this morning. The railway lines still feel the effect of the big sleet storm and several days will elapse before the poles north and east are again up. There has, however, been little or no interruption to traffic.

BARON SERIOUSLY ILL. LONDON, Jan. 4, 9.10 p.m.—Baron Burnham, principal proprietor of the Daily Telegraph, who has been ill for some time past, is reported to be in a critical condition.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

JOHN DOUCH'S DEATH SUBJECT OF INQUIRY. Laborer Fell While at Work and Sustained Fatal Fracture of Skull.

POST MORTEM WAS HELD. Jury Finds That Injured Man Should Have Been Treated in a Hospital.

T. H. Robinson, of Kleinburg, held an inquest last night in Woodbridge, concerning the death of John Douch, of that village, who while engaged in working on the farm of William Bell, on Dec. 24, fell from a haymow, receiving severe injuries, and died at the house of James Theobald, in Woodbridge.

Yesterday Reeve Leonard Wallace made application to County Constable E. W. Phillips, for the holding of a post-mortem, which revealed the fact that death resulted from a fractured skull.

Considerable feeling was shown at the inquest as to the disposition of the dead man's effects. The body was the first one to be interred in the new cemetery, which is located near the centre of the town.

Dr. Garnet McLean, who was in charge of the case, was asked to question by Coroner Robinson and the jury as to the treatment given Douch. The man Theobald, at whose house the unfortunate man passed away, was held for criticism in connection with the expenses incurred during Douch's illness. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that Douch met his death by accident, and added a rider that in future all similar cases be sent to a hospital, where there is proper treatment.

TWO MILLION INCREASE IN CUSTOMS RETURNS. West Toronto Figures Show Enormous Revenue for Last Year.

Custom receipts of West Toronto Port for the year 1915 show an increase of over two million dollars over 1914 receipts.

Increase $2,425,412.00. The receipts for December amounted to $1,110,954.00, showing an increase of $110,954.00 above the corresponding month of the previous year. The enormous revenue collected at this office places it among the busiest and most important stations in the city.

FOUR REEVES RUNNING FOR THE WARDENSHIP. First Meeting of County Council Will See Keen Contest.

With the York County elections all over and the first meeting of the council a few days away speculation is rife among the county officers over the choice of warden for 1918. Last year the forecast was comparatively easy, the retiring warden, Jonathan Nigh, being generally regarded as sure of election. This year will witness a four applicant array in the field, supported by their friends, the outlook is uncertain.

Reeve J. G. Corcoran of Scarborough, Reeve Leonard Wallace of Woodbridge, Reeve W. J. Knowles of Aurora, and Reeve Willoughby of North Gwillimbury, will all be in the running. Who will lead the coveted honor time alone can tell.

POLICE TAKE MILITARY CENSUS IN EARLS COURT. Eighty Canada Foundry Employees Have Joined Colors.

Police officers are now busily engaged in the Earls Court and St. Clair district amongst the business people and employers of labor, in taking the census for military purposes. Over 40 employees of the Canada Foundry Co., Davenport works, have enlisted for overseas since the commencement of the war, a large number of whom are residents of the Earls Court district.

J. M. GARDHOUSE BUYS BIG SHORTHORN HERD. Well-Known Horseman Will Now Try Prize Cattle Breeding.

A notable sale of high-class Shorthorn stock was made a day or two ago when J. M. Gardhouse, reeve of Weston, bought from John Milton of the Bodega Hotel in Brantford his magnificent herd of imported and Canadian Shorthorns. Mr. Gardhouse is well-known through the county and province as one of the most successful horsemen in provincial and Dominion exhibitions, and the fact that he is devoting his attention to the Shorthorns augurs well for his success in this branch of agriculture as well.

LEAVES HOSPITAL AFTER CAR INJURY. Joseph Lee, aged 18, of 201 Vine avenue, is said to have been struck by a motor car on Dundas street on Monday night and left in a lane by the driver of the car. He was removed to the Western Hospital in the police ambulance, but was able to leave yesterday morning. The police are looking for the driver of the car.

YORK TOWNSHIP WILL MERGE ITS WAR FUNDS

Big Organization Meeting is to Be Held Saturday Afternoon.

WILL SYSTEMATIZE WORK. All Societies Will Be Invited to Help Cut Out the Overlapping.

The Township of York, thru Reeve Griffith and other members of the council, acting in co-operation with the school trustees, are planning a big organization meeting to be held in the township offices on Saturday afternoon, beginning at 1.30. The idea of the promoters is to effect arrangements that there will be no overlapping in all the activities in connection with the present great struggle. It is proposed also at this time to arrange for holding patriotic meetings at many points not yet covered. Among those who are expected on Saturday afternoon are W. F. Maclean, M.P.; George S. Henry, M.L.A.; Dr. Forbush, Galt House, North York; Rev. W. A. Clark, Griffith and others. W. A. Clark, the assessment commissioner of the township, is looking after the clerical work and is especially anxious that there should be the fullest representation not alone of the trustees but township people generally from every section.

SHIPPYARDS WILL BE SLACK IF MEN ENLIST. Interesting Letter Received From Resident of Glasgow.

J. M. Woodend, 623 Christie street, Wyehwood, civic car conductor, in receipt of a letter from a resident of Glasgow, an employee of the John Brown Shipbuilding Co., in that city. The following are interesting paragraphs from the letter: "The shipyards on the Clyde is pretty good, but it seems to me that the government is not hurrying work except in government yards."

"For the past few months a great many of our young men have enlisted under Lord Derby's scheme, and they are now waiting to be called to the colors. I am afraid that some of the ship yards will be closed for want of employees."

"Everything in the way of household goods is very high in price. The very best laces are doubled in price, and not one-half as good in quality as before. The winter here is very cold, with frost and snow; in fact it is the worst we have had for many years."

EARLS COURT DEMANDS ST. CLAIR AVE. SHELTER. Business Men Ask Commissioner Harris for Speedy Action.

Mr. Harris has promised Secretary T. James of the Caledonia Ratepayers' Association that the committee received last week, to erect a shelter for passengers at the extreme western end of the St. Clair avenue car line. TELEPHONE SERVICE IS STILL INTERRUPTED. Connection With Montreal Likely to Be Restored Today. Locally a good deal of interruption still exists on the telephone and city-grip lines running out of the city north and east. Some parts of King and Vaughan Townships are still isolated from the rest of the world and up to the upper portions of York Townships and in and around Orino the wires are still down. Stouffville and Uxbridge could not be reached, but local officials of the Bell Telephone Co. look for a general resumption of business and communication today. The trunk lines to Montreal were especially hard hit and gangs of repair men have been actively engaged ever since, with the result that it was officially stated at the head offices last night that communication with Montreal would be re-established this morning. The railway lines still feel the effect of the big sleet storm and several days will elapse before the poles north and east are again up. There has, however, been little or no interruption to traffic.

SIMON'S RESIGNATION ANNOUNCED BY ASQUITH

All Other Members of Cabinet Present at Yesterday's Session.

BILL'S PASSAGE SURE

Not More Than Forty Votes Against Conscription Are Expected.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Premier Asquith this afternoon confirmed the reports that Sir John Simon, secretary of state for home affairs, has resigned from the cabinet.

The announcement was made in the house of commons following today's session of the cabinet on the conscription question. It had been rumored for several days that Sir John had quit the cabinet because of his opposition to compulsory military service.

It was reported that other ministers would resign because the conscription policy had been adopted, every member except Simon attended today's cabinet session.

Only Forty Opponents. Before the house of commons re-assembled today the cabinet met to put the finishing touches on the draft of the conscription bill which will be introduced tomorrow.

The Press Association, which declared that Ireland would be included in the operation of the act, estimates this morning that the number of members of the house who will vote against the bill will not exceed forty, and adds that a considerable diminution of this total is likely as soon as the facts and figures in the report of the Earl of Derby, director of recruiting, are made public.

Warning Given. The London Evening News says: "Those who know Ireland have no illusions in regard to the fatal consequences which would flow from any attempt to coerce Irishmen. The thought of bloodshed in Ireland appeals us. Let the house of commons look well before it leaps."

The attitude of employers toward the measure is still nebulous. The board of trade, which is a government department, has drawn up a list of independent trades and industries, and it is presumed that men engaged in engineering, ship-building, transportation, coal mining and steel works will not be called to the colors.

EMPLOYERS OPPOSING POLICE MILITARY CENSUS

Sir John Eaton Among the Chief Objectors to Plan of Recruiting League.

GRASETT IS GOING AHEAD

Contention is That Idle Men Should Be Listed and Put in Khaki.

Chief Grasett told The World yesterday that the military census which is being taken by the police is proceeding smoothly and that the policemen were being given every assistance by the employers, with the exception of a few, who consider that the present scheme is, at best, incomplete and unsatisfactory. It is his intention, however, to take a census of the homes if the result of the present campaign warrants it. The fact that the census was not backed up by government authority left room to doubt a successful registration. He said if the government had authorized the census they would be able to make a city-wide sweep, carrying out-of-works, poolroom, dance hall, moving picture frequenters and all eligible young men before them.

Sir John Eaton Refuses. Prominent among those who object to the present method is Sir John Eaton, one of the largest employers of labor in the city, who stated yesterday that his firm was not able to allow the census being taken and that he had informed the chief constable to that effect. He does not favor the census being taken at places of business by the police and stated that it should be made with the authority of the government at the homes of the people.

Before the authorities begin to take away the young men from places of business, where they are required to register, the young men on the street who are not in employment. Let the government clean up the city of loafers, those who won't work and those who have nothing to do. Sir John said that there were many industrious young men engaged in business in the city and he thought it was only fair to allow them to retain their positions until it was absolutely necessary for them to go overseas.

The police division flatly refused yesterday to give the names, number or any particulars whatsoever of the men working at his firm. In another large office one of the directors declined to have a registration made. At factories engaged in making munitions the owners think that all men working in such plants should be exempt.

CANADIAN CAR BROKE DOWN AT MONTREAL

Headlong Slump Started Plunge Groundward Despite Strenuous Efforts to Stem Decline

MONTREAL, Jan. 4.—A headlong slump in Canadian car stocks, the common breaking 15 1/2 points, to 6 1/2, while the preferred, started apparently on a like course, was halted at the minimum after a fall of three points, exerted a disturbing influence on the local market today. Outside of Car common, the liquidation was light. Steel of Canada fell 3 to 37; Iron 1 1/2, to 47; Scotia, 1 1/2 to 10 1/2; Leominster, 90 1/2, and General Electric 1 1/2, to 112. Bridge was about the steepest of the day, group holding between 2 1/2 and 2 3/4, with last sale at the latter price, but stocks were offering at 2 1/2 at the close.

Car's break in the morning session was a particularly drastic affair. Between 7 1/2 and 8, the only transaction reported was a couple of lots, totaling 15 shares. After touching 6 1/2, forced selling, resulting from weakened margin accounts, appeared to cease, and a little buying came on the market, which rallied the price to 6 3/4. The rally was continued in the afternoon session to 6 1/2, and last sale went out at 6 1/2, leaving the net loss for the day 7 1/2. The preferred remained in the committee room offered at the 98 minimum at the end of the day. Dealings in Car common footed up 2052 shares out of a total of 5585 for the day, while 150 shares of the preferred changed hands. C.P.R. was weaker, with New York, selling at 18 1/4; Power was offered at 15 1/2, and Laurentide sold 1 lower, at 19 1/2.

BURNHAM TAKES SLAP AT LIBERALS' ADVISERS

Wants Minister of Justice to Cut Out Secret Permanent Council.

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—Capt. J. H. Burnham, M.P., has given notice of a resolution, which calls on the minister of justice to take steps to place the National Liberal Advisory Committee hors-de-combat. He thinks it is undemocratic and contrary to the spirit of the British constitution. The resolution is as follows:

"Resolved, that in the opinion of this house, the establishment of a secret permanent National Liberal Advisory Council not responsible to the people, or to this house, and yet purporting to govern the policy and archives of members of this house and representatives of the people duly and lawfully elected to transact public business, is unlawful and contrary to public policy and to the well-being of the state, and the minister of justice should take such steps in the public interest as may be necessary, appropriate and hereafter it be recognized that between the people and their representatives duly elected to the house of commons, or appointed or pretend to do so any secret permanent advisory National Liberal Council or otherwise."

WINNIPEG, Jan. 4.—Three million dollars is the value of the Manitoba Agricultural College buildings as they stand, including the site and furnishings, according to an official report made to the government by the Canadian Appraisal Co. of Montreal. The college cost the province approximately $4,000,000, and an enquiry will be commenced as soon as a commission can be secured. Justice Curran may officiate.

NEW RADIAL BYLAWS FOR FOUR TOWNSHIPS

Votes Are to Be Taken Within a Few Weeks.

Within a few weeks new bylaws will have been prepared and new votes will be taken on the hydro radials in the Townships of Waterloo, Hamshard, North Easthope and East Zorra. It is pointed out that unnecessary territory was included in the voting and that a redistribution of the territory should be made. In North Easthope, for example, the radial does not even fringe the municipality, but traverses South Easthope. Should the municipalities persist in refusing hydro radials, a new route thru this particular section may be mapped out.

Premier Hearst

Extracts from speech of Honorable W. H. Hearst in the Legislature during the debate on the Liquor License Amendment Act, March 20th, 1915: "We are laying the basis for a steady forward movement. "The policy of the Government is to minimize as far as possible the evils of the liquor traffic, and the Commission will be instructed to carry out that policy, and that policy alone. "The leader of the Opposition is well aware of the dangers of going in advance of public opinion in temperance legislation."

Hon. W. J. Hanna

Hon. W. J. Hanna, in the Legislature, March 20th, 1914: "In their temperance legislation for Ontario Mr. Hanna maintained they were keeping pace with the mind of the people, they were going as fast with their legislation and with their administration of law as the condition of things in the Province warranted."

Toronto World

The Toronto World, Dec. 16, 1915: "The nation and the Empire is not only in a gigantic struggle with the German menace, but a mightier struggle seems to be going on within the Empire and its peoples as to how the war can be brought to a successful issue. . . . And does this struggle turn, for one thing, on the drink evil? . . . The King has pledged himself to abstinence; Parliament and the bodies to whom it has delegated power have started in to regulate the habits of people to restrict the use of drink, thereby to force the entire nation, high and low, to conserve its whole resources, energies and earnings for the successful ending of war. "Is universal sobriety to be forced on everyone, from King and political chief down to laborer in the munition plant? Something portentous is under way, and the bottle may have to go."

Billy Sunday

"The saloon is a liar. She promises you good cheer. She sends you sorrow. She promises you health. She sends you disease. She promises you prosperity. She sends you poverty. She sends the husband home with a lie on his lips to his wife. She sends the son home with a lie on his lips to his mother."

Citizens' Committee of One Hundred

E. P. CLEMENT, Berlin, Chairman. JAMES HALES, Toronto, Vice-Chairman.

Getting Together for the Common Good

The war has caused a great change in the attitude of the general public towards the use of alcoholic beverages. Many people who formerly looked upon the sale of intoxicants with indifference or toleration are now awake, and realize the tremendous importance of the liquor evil.

What Caused It?

What caused this awakening? Well, the public learned from newspaper reports the grave effects of liquor on men who were working on munitions in England—how intemperance reduced the output of shells. They learned that, for military reasons, Russia had prohibited the sale of vodka and France that of absinthe, that England had reduced the hours of sale of alcoholic beverages. They saw, too, that the Canadian military authorities realized the danger of intoxicants, as witnessed by the recent restrictions put on the sale of intoxicating liquors in Ontario.

All these things, and others, combined to make people think. And to-day people are asking themselves and one another if it is not time to make a great step forward and banish the liquor traffic in the Province of Ontario.

Non-Partisan Organization

Realizing the present state of public opinion, a non-partisan organization has been formed, with the object of securing the enactment of a measure for the total prohibition of the liquor traffic in the Province of Ontario. The Citizens' Committee of One Hundred is the name of this organization, and it represents the whole Province. It numbers men on both sides of politics—men who believe that the liquor question should be taken out of politics—men who are getting together to work for the common good. The Committee of One Hundred recognizes that no one political party can claim a monopoly of temperance principles. Both parties, being responsible to the people, realize the necessity of enacting temperance legislation in harmony with public opinion. At the session of the Ontario Legislature on March 8th, 1913, the late Sir James Whitney, in speaking on the temperance question, used the following language:—

"We will stand by our pledges, as we have during the past eight years. We will never cease so long as political life is in us to do everything that reasonable men can do to minimize and make less from year to year the almost unimaginable evils of the liquor traffic."

Premier Hearst and other members of the Cabinet have from time to time declared that the Government will keep fully abreast of public opinion in temperance legislation, as in other fields. The Committee of One Hundred believe the Government to be thoroughly sincere in this stand. The Committee have confidence that the Government will move forward in this important matter as rapidly as public opinion will support them. The function of the Committee of One Hundred is to crystallize and give expression to the present state of public opinion on the question of prohibition. The Committee further believes that it can demonstrate to the Government that Ontario to-day is overwhelmingly in favor of prohibition. After doing so, the Committee intends to ask the Government for the enactment of a measure for the total prohibition of the liquor traffic in the Province of Ontario, in so far as the Provincial Government has the power to prohibit it, or to submit the same to the people for ratification or rejection.

The Committee of One Hundred asks all patriotic people to join this big new prohibition movement. The Empire to-day is demanding great sacrifices in men and money for the welfare of the nation. The colossal expenditures for liquor in Ontario should be conserved for other more vital needs—and the manhood of this great Province saved from alcohol's devastating effects. We want to hear from people everywhere who are interested.

Citizens' Committee of One Hundred

G. A. Warburton, Chairman of Executive Committee. C. P. R. Building, Toronto. Telephone Main 2246.

N. W. Rowell

In addressing the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada Mr. N. W. Rowell said: "If we have in our midst an institution which is demanding from us immense sums of money for its perpetuation, and is giving no value, but is impairing the efficiency of the men who go, as well as of the men who stay, there is one clear duty for every patriotic citizen, and that is to exert the full measure of his power, that the curse shall be wiped out."

Sir Geo. E. Foster

Hon. Sir Geo. E. Foster, in speaking at the banquet of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada, said: "I have the unemployed, we have distress in some homes in Canada. There is food enough, animal and vegetable, in this country, allowed to waste, or actually wasted, to feed every hungry mouth in the whole Dominion if it were saved, if it were conserved. I confess to you that every time I see an open bar and see young soldiers going into it and coming out of it, every time I pass an open bar and see one of the unemployed, who, perchance, has got only to get his wage and then make a bee-line for that bar—I confess my soul cries out for the closed bar in this great Dominion of ours."

Lloyd George

In the House of Commons, March 29, 1915: "We are fighting Germany, Austria, and drink, and so far as I can see the greatest of these foes is drink. . . . I have a growing conviction that nothing but root and branch methods would be of the slightest avail in dealing with the evil. . . . I am permitted by his Majesty to say that he is very deeply concerned on this question."

Toronto Health Bulletin

The above publication is issued monthly by the Toronto Department of Public Health, of which Dr. C. J. Hastings is the head. The October, 1915, number says: "Of the various habit-forming drugs, alcohol stands out pre-eminently as the greatest universal curse to humanity, and has practically no redeeming features. In the light of modern knowledge, alcohol, once once occupies a prominent place in the treatment of disease, is becoming more and more discredited every year. In the first place, through the economic effects on the home. . . . In the second place, we have the influence of alcohol on the era themselves forcefully presented to us by life insurance companies. They have demonstrated in a very clear way the influence of alcohol on the duration of life. Statistics of late years, been giving special attention to this source of danger."

WEDNESDAY MORNING JAN. 5.

Some Competition at Last

After many years the west is getting some relief in freight rates. Yesterday's World carried a despatch from Vancouver respecting the rate war in that province between the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern. The Canadian Northern is cutting rates on lumber, fish and other commodities, and the Canadian Pacific is trying to punish its ambitious young competitor by levying extortionate charges for switching and terminal services of various kinds.

Quite possibly the Canadian Northern is giving cheaper rates because of its agreements with the British Columbia Government. It is so. History is repeating itself. Years ago that system, then a small affair, made a bargain with the government of Manitoba to give lower rates to the people of that province. The Canadian Pacific had no choice but to meet these rates. Later on in the Regina rate case the principle was laid down that the roads could not discriminate in favor of Manitoba shippers as against the shippers of Saskatchewan and Alberta, and this principle was extended and applied, in the western freight rates case so as to establish an equality of rates among the prairie provinces.

We ventured to say at the time that Chairman Drayton and his associates should have gone further and declared for equality of rates between the east and the west. However, the net result of the bargains made by the Canadian Northern, first with the Manitoba Government, and later on with the British Columbia Government, has been to reduce freight rates everywhere west of Lake Superior. The western country is therefore getting some real benefit from its bumper crop.

And now comes the National Transcontinental under government control and shows how wheat can be carried at a reasonable rate by the rail route. The ten cent rate on wheat from Winnipeg to Quebec is here to stay.

Bonds Versus National Currency

Mr. J. H. Ponton of Vancouver writes to The World, protesting against any more domestic loans thru the sale of bonds by the Canadian Government to the Canadian people. The sale of government bonds abroad, he admits, is sometimes necessary in order to obtain gold from or establish credits in foreign countries. Often there is no other way to redress the balance of trade or check ruinous discounts in the matter of exchange. He insists, however, that the government should not issue interest-bearing obligations when it can obtain the same end so far as internal expenditures are concerned by issuing non-interest obligations in the shape of national currency.

Our store of gold in Canada, he says, can be reckoned to the last dollar. There has never been any gold coin in circulation in this country, and therefore none can be tempted from its hiding place by an issue of government bonds. All the gold not already in possession of the chartered banks. They have among them about $40,000,000. By selling government bonds in Canada the government will not add to its supply of gold by one dollar. What will it get?
Evidently when a popular loan is subscribed the government receives either direct subscriptions from the banks or cheques drawn upon the banks by their customers. That is to say, the government gets a credit from the banks. Upon that credit it can obtain, at most, money in the shape of bank notes, i.e. promissory notes of the banks. When you analyze the transaction according to Mr. Ponton, the government and the banks swap promissory notes.

Where the government gets the worst of the bargain, in Mr. Ponton's opinion, is in the fact that the government's promissory notes called "bonds" bear interest at five and one-half per cent, while the promissory notes of the banks called "bank notes," bear no interest at all.

To take a concrete case. The government has occasion to pay, let us say, $1,000,000 to troops quartered in Canada. It has not the money available, and therefore sells bonds to the amount of $1,000,000. Suppose a chartered bank takes the entire issue and gives the government credit for $1,000,000. The government in this way gets a credit of $1,000,000 at the bank and issues cheques against it. The soldiers take these cheques to the bank and receive therefor bank notes, i.e. the promissory notes of the bank, which at present are irredeemable, as we have suspended specie payments. The net result is that the soldiers get the promissory notes of the bank and the bank gets the promissory notes of the government in the shape of bonds. Not a dollar of gold has been added to the currency of the country, no wealth has been created or imported. The government has simply swapped credits with the bank, but the government has to pay interest upon its bonds while the bank does not pay any interest upon its notes.

Would it not be wiser, Mr. Ponton asks, for the government to issue its promissory notes to the troops direct, in the shape of national currency? The troops would be as well off, the government debt would be no larger, but the government would not have 5 per cent. or 6 per cent. interest to pay.

All this is as it may be. No doubt this country could sustain a much larger issue of national currency than it now has outstanding if issued against good collateral and kept within reasonable bounds by a percentage gold reserve. We must, however, guard against anything like an unlimited issue of irredeemable currency. What we do need, in our opinion, is a state bank of issue and rediscout.

Our views upon the subject are well known. They were reflected three years ago in the proposals laid before parliament by Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P. for South York, upon the second reading of the bill to revise the Bank Act. They have since then been singularly vindicated by the success of the federal reserve bank legislation at Washington, but those views were not inspired by any hostility to the chartered banks. The chartered banks would become stockholders in the Bank of Canada, the government bank of issue and rediscout, and in the end reap great benefit. They would have to compete more briskly for business and give a wider service, but in the end they would benefit by a radical reform in our banking and currency legislation. No banker in the United States desires to go back to the old system of contracted currency and restricted credits. They are now quite satisfied to have the government issue the currency of the country, and the people are well pleased to have their country in line with the leading nations of the world. Is it not time for us to have an up-to-date banking and currency system for Canada?

Getting After the Standard Oil

A despatch from Washington states that both the justice department and the Federal Trade Commission are preparing to investigate the rise in the price of gasoline. Government statistics just published show a slight increase in the output of crude petroleum, notwithstanding an effort "to retard production as far as practicable." The export of gasoline was less during the last ten months of 1915 than during the corresponding period of the preceding two years. The explanation of the advancing price of gasoline is therefore to be found in the fact that vast reserves of crude petroleum are being accumulated.

Mr. Ford Adding to His Information

Mr. Henry Ford has been to Europe and he has learned what he might have learned at home, that the war was not the result of the machinations of financiers and ammunition and gun manufacturers, but of the will of the people themselves.

Will the Small Nation Disappear?

An English writer who assumes the veil of a prophet believes that the future peace of the world may be assured by gigantic federations. England, France, Italy, Russia and Japan will remain allies, he thinks, under some overboard control. So will the central powers. Pan-Americanism, he says, will develop a federation almost co-extensive with the western continent.

Cost of Rubber Tires Declined After War

Canadian Charges Dropped to Meet Lower Values in New York.

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—W. B. Northam, sales manager of the Dunlop Tire Company, was a witness before the Davidson commission today. Mr. Thompson asked whether the tires supplied by his company to the Canada Cycle and Motor Company and to the government cost $100 more per set than those supplied by the Goodyear Company because there was no other company manufacturing in Canada at the time. Witness said that the order was for small quantities of mixed sizes, whereas the second order was for 800 sets. The extra rush to get the first order filled cost the firm from 10 to 12 1/2 per cent. more.

Asked what would have been the difference in price between American tires laid down L.O.B. Ottawa in August and tires supplied by the Dunlop Company of Canada, Mr. Northam said that the American tires would have cost $50 a set more than the Dunlop tires.

"You mean that Mr. Russell saved the government $50 per set by purchasing from you?"
"Yes."
"Later on in November the Dunlop Company increased its discount to meet the American price in Canada. The price per set was then reduced by nearly $100."
"Did the American price drop in November as compared with August?"
"Yes, by about 40 per cent."
"And you had to meet the American price because the American tires were being entered free of duty?"
"Yes."

T. A. Russell of the Canada Cycle and Motor Company was asked in connection with his claim in previous evidence that the American tires supplied by his firm to the government had cost $62 and the last was $47.50, because the first ones had all to be re-manufactured. He explained that this re-manufacture was washed off in the application of gasoline. This did not prove that the green was not enamel, and that it had been baked on enamel, and that special tools had been necessary to manufacture the first bicycles, and the cost of these had been charged up in the price to the government.

Mr. Russell made a statement as to his dual capacity as buyer for the government and manager of a vending firm, stating that the position had been thrust on him and that he had tried to be as just with his own firm as with others. Questioned as to the letting of a contract for motor truck bodies by the Canada Cycle and Motor Co., to the Massey-Harris Co., both firms making a profit, Mr. Russell stated that his firm's gross profit on that transaction had been only 15 per cent. and that he considered this a good deal and the best thing under the circumstances.

Big Russian Advance Made from Buczacz

Austro-Germans Driven Back Fifteen to Seventeen Miles from Strypa.
MOVING ON CZERNOWITZ
Czar's Men Plan to Gain Control of Railway Lines to Roumania.

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—The Russian official report of yesterday, at Petrograd, said:
In Volhynia—Enemy attacks repulsed with heavy losses.
In Bukovina, northeast of Czernowitz—Russians continuously advancing despite enemy counter-attacks. In which, enemy meeting great losses.
By holding the Teutonic forces on the line of Vladimir-Volynski, on the Galician frontier, while fortifying and pressing forward at some points, the Russians have checked the German attempt to advance from the direction of Kolki and improve their position along the Kovel-Railway eastward towards Sarny. North of Czartorysk the Russians drove the Germans back and occupied the town of Khriasi.

To Attack Kovel.
The very fact that the Russians are advancing along the Kovel-Rovno Railway is held by military men to be of great importance, since it indicates a concentration of the Russian forces in an important point of communication between the German and Austrian fronts. In order to relieve the pressure on the Kovel-Strypa line, the Teutons counter-attacked southwest of Kolki, but without result.

On the Galician front, it is stated in reports received in Petrograd between the rivers Sereth and Strypa, before which the Russian troops had taken up positions. The Muscovites appear to have commenced an offensive and advanced as far as the left bank of the Strypa, between Buczacz and Sokolov.

The region on the left bank of the Strypa is still held against serious attempts of the Austrians to advance. Big Russian activity appears now along the Strypa on both sides of Buczacz. Here the Russians have driven the opposing forces back from 15 to 17 miles from their positions. It is stated that the Russians continue to hold and to fortify the newly acquired territory, although the battle is still progressing.

The capture of the heights north of Czernowitz, where nearly 900 prisoners were taken, is held by military experts here to be of special importance. They predict that it probably will result in forcing the evacuation of Czernowitz by the Teutonic allies, giving the Russians a strong foothold in the centre of Bukovina, and control of the railways into Roumania.

Hockey Battery 4 T.R. & A. 3

ONE GOAL WIN FOR SOLDIERS STRONG FINISH BY T.R. & A.A.

Four Goals in Opening Period Proved Enough to Capture Senior Game for Battery — T.R. & A.A. Finished Stoutly and Came Close to Tying It Up.

Any old team that pays attention to combination and checks all the way is going to give the best of them a battle. The Battery boys in the arena this night, when the 4th Battery team were all out to stall off the belated rush of the T.R. & A.A. outfit, and just lasted long enough to win 4 to 3.

T.R. & A.A. were unable to muster a full team at the start, and playing six men a side, the soldier boys in the arena were their lot for the night.

When they got straightened away at seven a side, T.R. & A.A. were not far from winning, and then developed team play. The black and white squad came strong in the last round, and nearly walked away with the game.

The Battery team must get their team play down. They had speed and could check back when they wanted to, but the forwards rumbled all over the ice, and never once had a systematic attack.

The Battery men nearly skated themselves out of the game. They went fast, but it was wanted energy, for the combination was lacking. T.R. & A.A. were without MacLaren and Smith.

The soldiers made several changes on their line-up. James was in the nets, and MacNab was Gooch's partner in the defence. Macdonald shifted to left wing, and Mackenzie was moved over to centre. Heintzman, late of the U.C.C., worked at the rover position. It was a good team, but lacked what all teams need—combination.

Leaving Jupp did his grand work up front. It was his hard checking in the dying minutes of the contest that saved the day.

The big surprise of the night was the showing of young Trapp. The former junior went from end to end, and started all the trouble for the Battery by his tricky work at centre ice. Sullivan helped him nicely at the passing game. Bud MacLaren did yeoman service, and after the first period Mitchell played a sterling game in the nets.

Heintzman and Jupp played steady hockey on the Battery forward line. Gooch and MacNab rushed well, but opened up the defence many times. MacLaren buzzed around all night, and ended up with a bout of fist-cliffs with Sullivan. Macdonald had a barbed wire and checked sharply, but his shooting was off-color.

At the start, with six-man hockey in vogue, the Battery team tore thru at will and ran in four goals before T.R. & A.A. could get their breath. MacLaren and a green partner on the defence, and the black and white forwards were dazed with the pace.

It was all for the Battery in the first period.

T.R. & A.A. settled down to business in the second round. They checked heavily and finished in spots with some combination. Four minutes before the period ended Sullivan worked his way thru alone and netted T.R.'s first goal.

The fun started in the third period. T.R. & A.A. broke up the Battery rushes in spirited fashion and scored three goals. Sullivan worked alone and battled in one. Trapp broke up a press and set all for the soldiers' net. He carried it cleverly with Sullivan trailing. Trapp went half way thru the defence and passed to Sullivan, who had nobody to beat but the goal. Several hard checks and a couple of fights broke it up and it ended 4 to 3 for the King's men.

The 4th team had the class as individuals, but failure to get in line with the passing game was the cause of the close score. With a few practices and the players learning each other's style the Battery will be hard to beat.

The teams:

MADE HOCKEY HISTORY BRANTFORD A WINNER

Defeated Paris Intermediates — Woodstock Juniors Trounce Ingersoll—Hockey Scores.

BRANTFORD, Jan. 4.—Hockey history was made here tonight when in the opening O.H.A. game Paris Intermediates were defeated 3 to 1 by the locals. This was the first time in local O.H.A. history that any Brantford team has been able to defeat a team from Paris. The game was hard fought, but the ice was heavy, and both teams lacked passing ability.

The game, with five of last year's juniors, had one standby in Johnson, all the rest being fresh local blood. Steamin on the defence and Lloyd, Freeman and O'Connor on the offence were good. Waiters and J. Wooden were stellar lights for Paris. The Braves scored once in each period, while Paris scored their only goal in the second. The line-up: Paris (4)—Goal, Waiters; defence, C. Wooden and Gibbs; rover, J. Wooden; right, Gill; centre, Rouse; left, E. Wooden.

WOODSTOCK JUNIORS WIN.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Jan. 4.—The O. H. A. season here was ushered in tonight when Woodstock Juniors hatched up with Ingersoll. The locals won out by 6 to 3 in a game that was fairly fast. Neither team had much combination, and the shooting was only fair. The first period ended and stowed the youngsters up. Here and there some patches of good work brought the fans to their feet. First period ended a goal each. Woodstock scored three in the second to the visitors' one, and continued the third period with a 2-1 score. Final, 6 to 3 for Woodstock. Dunlop in goal was good, and Douglas and King also showed up well. For the visitors, Holland, Hansford and A. Hoppe looked best. Line-up: Woodstock (6)—Goal, Dunlop; point, Douglas; cover, Watson; rover, McMurtry; centre, Forden; left, Wood; right, King.

Referee—Fraser, Paris.

M. Mathewson Wealthy Versatile Performer

There is no man in baseball, nor has there been for 10 years, who is making the money that Christy Mathewson has made on practically no investment. He is said to be worth $150,000, and is getting richer all the time. Matty enjoys the distinction of being the only man who can do them well, than any other player in the national game. Listen to this:

Matty has been for 10 years the greatest pitcher in the game.

He's now the best golf player in baseball.

Only Bob Wallace can make things interesting for him in billiards.

Nobody in baseball can make things interesting for Matty in chess or checkers. He has toured the Y.M.C.A.'s on exhibition tours.

He plays a better hand at bridge than anybody in his profession, so good that his income from this alone is not to be spoofed at.

He's now touring the country as an expert marksman.

He can play poker so well that he'll break up a game by merely "sittin' in."

HAMILTON CHESS EXPERTS WON FROM TORONTO TEAM.

New Year's Day chess at the Toronto Chess Club had considerable added interest by the visit of a team of prominent exponents from Hamilton. A match of six boards was contested, which ended in a victory for the Hamilton club by 4 games to 2. Many years since, when regular meetings took place between Hamilton and Toronto, the contests played showed the two cities to be very evenly matched. The Hamilton players are, therefore, to be congratulated for their victory in this renewal of old-time battles.

The following is the detailed score:

ST. Mining Notes

Dick Pearce, who has spent several months in New Ontario prospecting and superintending development of properties, left for Timmins last night.

Silver made another advance yesterday to 56 1/2 an ounce and is now within 1/2 of the high price for over two years.

One of the directors of the Shamrock Consolidated arrived in Toronto yesterday from the north and brought with him several very promising samples of silver.

A shipment of high-grade ore consisting of approximately 35 tons was made from this property just as fast as it can be loaded.

There will be a meeting of the West Dome Mines in the near future for the purpose of appointing a manager for the mine.

Over 9,000,000 ounces of silver bullion was shipped from the Cobalt camp during the year of 1915.

The ore shipments for the week were lighter than usual, only six cars being shipped from five mines.

According to the Cobalt Nugget improvements recently made at the mill of the Tough-Oaks mine at Kirkland Lake have increased the capacity of the mill.

An excellent quarterly financial statement to the shareholders of Peterson Lake has been received.

With the quarterly dividend of 3 cents received by shareholders of McKinley-Duggan-Savage Mines.

Surplus October 1, 1915 (cash on hand and ore in place) $1,191,200.

At the Cobalt camp, a selling off of the features, selling up to 4 1/2.

Brokers continued to sell this stock as selling out of line with the market.

Clifford continued the bull movement started in this stock about a week ago.

The excellent quarterly statement presented to the shareholders along with their dividend checks was responsible for the strength in Peterson Lake.

They are working a vein on the old Nova Scotia property and it is predicted that some good ore will be found.

Timiskaming was again a feature, opening strong at 1 1/2, but took an advance overnight.

There were a number of traders who had profits in this stock and at every advance take advantage of it.
