worked admirably and the scholars became more accustomed to the order of things every day. "Regarding the adoption of military training in general for the schools," said Col. Mersereau, "in my opinion I think it would be a great improvement. Soon we would have no more of our young men growing up with that lumpy, that stop known as round shoulders. The physique of our future generations would be benefited materially and stronger manhood should result."

CARNEGIE BECOMING ECONOMIC NOW?

which tend to clinch the belief that Andrew Carnegie is tightening his purse strings in his old age. Several Pittsburghers who have just returned from abroad, where they went to see the Laird of Skibo on matters other than health, have brought back the news that Mr. Carnegie has become exceedingly careful in money matters. One of the party desired to get $25,000 for an object the like of which Mr. Carnegie had always considered worthy, but has considered himself fortunate to come away with $15,000. Mr. Carnegie took some of his American visitors motoring and when the ride had been finished he said: "It's an auto that I paid only $1,500 for, and it's good enough for any one. I wish some of those people back in Pittsburgh who are paying $5,000 and more for their machines would come to me and get some lessons in economy."

Affairs became lively in Letkawa for a week or two. Several would-be prophets died suddenly before order was restored, and a new regime was firmly established. It was no man's affair to discover what had become of the Nazarene slave or Beni Kall and his daughter, so no effort was put forth toward that end. Had the fugitives known the outcome of their bold deed they might have spared themselves much anxiety. But that could not be. They fled along the caravan route that crosses the Western Sahara, and looked for the dust of a pursuing kafilah. The Blue Man of El Hamra was in their thoughts, waking or dreaming, and many a league separated them from Letkawa ere their fear abated and they gave heed to the troubles that lay in front rather than to the vengeance that might be rubbing on them from the rear.

CHAPTER XII

EVELYN HAS UNEXPECTED VISITORS.

On a moonlit night in January, Evelyn Dane was sitting in the veranda of the big English-looking hotel which has brought more than a hint of Brighton to the sea-front of Las Palmas, Gran Canaria. A dance was in progress within, and the jingle of a polka music was heard continuously from the harbor. But Evelyn was in no mood for dancing. While she was dressing for dinner, the ship's name, which she learned the night before, announced the arrival of a foreign warship. Soon afterward she learned the name of the vessel, and that it was the H. M. S. second-class cruiser Valiant, present on a mission to the harbor. She had heard of the ship's name, and she was aware of the altered tone.

"You are asking too much," he said with a little laugh. "Africa does not yield her secrets so readily. I assure you, still, I have a rather complicated yarn for you. Shall we sit here, or shall I take care for a stroll in the garden? I take it we are less likely to be disturbed there."

Now it was Evelyn's turn to be puzzled. It was no diatribe to the memory of one who had once been her lover, but the absolute necessity of chaperoning Beryl Baumgartner during her mother's indisposition that made dancing a possibility that night.

"The garden by all means," she agreed, trying hard to restrain her sighs. So they walked along the dusty palms and oleanders, and Captain Mortimer told her something of the strange doings of the Blue Man of El Hamra.

"When the Valiant paid her second visit to Rabat, the Bey was inclined to be communicative. As a matter of fact, the news of the Nila Moulah's disastrous fight with the Evil One spread so rapidly it reached the seaboard within a fortnight, whereas the prophet's journey the reverse direction took three weeks. Other items filtered through the Atlas passes, and there came a man who was actually in Letkawa at the time of the dread combat. He it was who first gave definite assurance that Warden lived. When the new ruler of that disturbed city had slain every individual overtly opposed to him, and the remaining inhabitants were meditating on the divine right of kings, it occurred to someone that the Nazarene and Beni Kall were missing. A caravan from Bel Abbas reported that a European in Arab clothing, accompanied by a Houssa soldier and a negro, had ridden in there from the north, and was recruiting a kafilah to go to Taudeni and Timbuktu. The Frank had plenty of gold dust in quills, both he and the Houssa were well armed, he spoke Arabic like a native, and claimed to be the special protégé of the Blue Man of El Hamra, who had carried benevolence to the point of giving him his own particular wrap of blue cotton, which was exhibited to the faithful, not much for worship, but as a guarantee of good faith. It was noticed, too, that the kafilah used by Satan in destroying the Nila Moulah resembled one that was wont to hang at the girle of his successor, so the deduction was reasonable, provided the deductors were sufficiently away from Letkawa, that the flight of the Christian and his accomplices had something in common with the murder of the prophet and the establishment of the new regime. This, and more, the Bey of Rabat directly told to the captain of the warship. It was clear enough, in some sense, but it left Evelyn greatly bewildered. "The names of people and places are so much Greek to me," she cried. "What is the outcome of it? Is Captain Warden marching across Africa?"

Mortimer was preparing for that question. He unfolded a map, and they pored over it together. Small as the type was in which many of the towns were given, the bright moonlight would have permitted the names to be read. But that was unnecessary. The sailor knew exactly where to point while he explained matters.

SAYS WORTMAN ADMITTED SETTING FIRE TO HOUSE

Strong Evidence Brought Out at Hearing Before Judge Wedderburn in Hampton—Prisoner Seen Near Fire.

Hampton, N. B., Aug. 23.—In the case of James Wortman, charged with arson, before Judge Wedderburn today, Charles Mullett told of a confession made by Wortman to him in jail which he admitted setting fire to the buildings of Robert W. Graves at Mechanics Settlement. Graves swore he saw Wortman near the fire shortly after it started. When the case resumed today, George W. Fowler appeared for the complainant, who has returned from the United States, while he went after the preliminary trial before Magistrate Hornbrook, not anticipating that he would be required to give evidence until the sitting of the circuit court in September, which explanation was made by counsel to account for his absence on Wednesday last.

Now it was heard that a mile from the burned premises, saw the fire and thought he discerned some one moving about the fire, but could not tell if it was a man or woman.

Charles Mullett was recalled to tell of a conversation he had with the accused in jail after the court adjourned on Wednesday, 18th instant. He said the prisoner sent for him by a messenger and he was accompanied by the prisoner's father. Mr. McIntyre objected to the witness giving the conversation but, after questions as to promises or threats being given to induce a confession had been met by denial, the objection was withdrawn and the witness said he saw the prisoner in the jail on Wednesday. He said, "I know I did, and I am sorry for it. I don't know what in hell I did it for. I said, 'You put me to an awful expense.' He said, 'I know I was. I should have lands with him, bid him good-bye and, with his father, went out and down to the station.'"

Witness was sharply cross-examined by Mr. McIntyre, especially as to his movements here last Wednesday, his drinking and the meaning of his remarks to the witness. In answering the latter, witness stated he was at the house of Judge Wedderburn severely reprimanded him, and made him apologize.

LUCKY GIRL GETS GOOD LAND SITE

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 24.—Mary D. McNickle, of Chicago, may be considered one of the luckiest young women in the country, having won No. 2 in Uncle Sam's big lottery for land in the Spokane Indian reservation where only forty quarter sections of 400 acres of land will be opened to settlement and entry next April.

Miss McNickle's good luck is due entirely to the work of the Spokane chamber of commerce, which deposited a fund with Postmaster Harrison to guarantee the delivery of all unopened letters addressed to James W. Witten, superintendent of the opening. Coer d'Alene, Idaho. Her letter was one of those on which the prize was paid by the organization, she having mailed it without attaching a two-cent stamp.

Miss McNickle will have the second choice of the land opened on the reservation. Nora N. Gilbert of Seattle drew No. 17, Mary C. Manning, of Chicago, drew No. 32 and No. 39 went to Emma Schaffner, of Evanston, (Ind.) These are the only four women to secure numbers of the first forty names selected. The claims are worth $10,000 each and are adapted to agriculture.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by the use of Serravallo's Pepsin Cure. This is a natural condition of the mucous membrane of the ear. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or "ringing" in the ears. When it is catarrhal, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation be removed, hearing will be destroyed. Serravallo's Pepsin Cure is caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

It Leaves the Skin Tingling With Health

There is a wonderful difference in soaps. Have you ever noticed how one kind leaves the skin soft and white while another may leave it red and rough? Both soaps looked alike, perhaps. But the difference was in the material. Let us tell you what we put into Infants' Delight, then decide if you can continue with common soap.

Ceylon is an island in the Indian Ocean, and from there we bring pure coconut oil 12,000 miles to our factory. Then we go to France for vegetable oil, and often pay double what we might pay. But our oil is pure enough for your table.

These oils are doubly boiled and then milled by our own special process, after which they fall like flakes of snow into enormous bins.

Then they are crushed under a weight of 30 tons to press out the moisture. Next they pass through granite rollers and come out in miles of silky ribbons. Finally they are dried eight times and stamped into cake.

Could you imagine a more delightful soap than this? It lathers into a rich, creamy foam. It wears as thin as a wafer. It leaves the skin as soft as velvet and as smooth as satin. It is the best thing to make sure she will hear of the best.

The perfume is the delicate scent of the roses. We pay $100 a pound for pure Otto of Roses, but it requires 3,000 pounds of rose leaves to make a single ounce. The fragrance is so delicate that it brings the breath of a million flowers. Use a single cake and learn how delightful it really is—it costs no more than the common, so why not have the best?

BAIL FOR McDUGALL REFUSED, CASE UP AGAIN TO-MORROW

In the police court yesterday afternoon, J. C. Sherren applied for bail for C. Bruce McDougall, offering the prisoner's two brothers, Edward Harvey and James Harvey, as sureties. Magistrate Sherren refused to grant bail, and the prisoner will have to stay in jail till Friday, when the hearing will be resumed.

Mr. Sherren made formal application for bail for the defendant last Friday.

His honor explained that it was a rule in the court that if a prisoner is remanded because of some neglect or failure on the part of the crown to be ready with its case, that would form an element to be considered in the application for bail. Mr. Sherren said that he was ready and willing to proceed and the request for adjournment comes from the defence, as in the present case, no bail could be granted.

NEARLY FIFTY YEARS A HERMIT

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 24.—News has reached here of the death of Greenberry, Nelson county, of Basil Hayden, who had not stepped outside the picket fence bounding his yard since President Lincoln freed the slaves. It was not resentment at this act that caused Hayden's seclusion, for neighborly tradition is that he shut himself in a little room that day in 1863 on account of the death of a woman he loved. After that he spoke to no one except an overseer, who took care of his property until a mistake in accounting made by a bank clerk conspired with him. Then he became miserly, and he is reported to have left nearly $100,000 about the house he lived in.

E. D. C. GARDEN PARTY NEXT TUESDAY

All the necessary committees were appointed last night and on Thursday evening another meeting will be held to complete final arrangements.

THE LATE MR. TILLEY.

At a meeting of the board of management of the Seaman's Mission Society yesterday afternoon, the following resolution was passed in reference to the late H. C. Tilley:

Whereas, our beloved friend, Herbert Chipman Tilley, has been recently removed by death, we the officers and members of the board of management of the Seaman's Mission Society of St. John, remembering his long and prominent connection with and his shining interest in this institution and of our profound sorrow occasioned by his decease:

Resolved, that we record our high appreciation of his amiable qualities, his unblemished integrity, his sympathetic philanthropy and his Christian zeal for which he was so conspicuously distinguished, and our belief that in his death he bequeathed to the community the work of so many years; and that the world has been very much better by his too brief existence in it.

Also resolved, that the members of his family and the other members of his family may be comforted by the knowledge that we are commending them to our God whom he loved and served so faithfully and well.

INSURANCE FOR ABSTAINERS ONLY

Life Company Organized to Take Only Men of Temperance Principles.

Atlanta, Aug. 24.—A life insurance company that will accept risks on total abstainers only has been organized with Atlanta headquarters under the name of "The Temperance Life Insurance Company of America."

It is the only organization of its kind in the United States.

Application for a charter was filed with secretary of state Cook the incorporators being W. A. Covington of Moultrie, author of the Hardman-Covington prohibition bill, J. H. Andrews, Dr. Marion McHull, James K. Hines, all of Atlanta, and J. F. Fender of Lowndes county.

The initial capital stock is $200,000, with privilege of increasing the amount as the need arises.

Leading prohibitionists throughout the country are said to be behind the company with the intention of making it national. J. Pope Brown, state treasurer of Georgia, has been mentioned for the office of president. By insuring only total abstainers the promoters declare that the cost of insurance can be greatly reduced. They produce statistics to show that the longevity of the abstainer is from 20 to 30 per cent. greater than that of the non-abstainer. Thus, they say, the company's risk is reduced and the premiums can be made proportionately smaller.

RAISING MORE COAL AT GLACE BAY

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 23.—The official statement of the Dominion Coal Co., covering the production of coal for the month of July, is: Hoisted from pits, 6,276 tons; loaded from the banking stations, 4,823 tons; total output for the day, 11,099 tons. Dominion No. 1 colliery fell short of the 2,000 mark by only thirty tons; Dominion No. 2 raised nearly 1,300 tons; No. 3, 700; No. 4, 700; while the other collieries are all doing fairly well.

Present indications point to a very substantial increase in the production from the collieries during the present week, and the following days to the close of the month.

A number of men have gone to work at No. 2 colliery and before this week is out the tonnage hoisted from the big shaft will probably reach the 1,000 or 1,100 mark.

The company is now preparing to reopen collieries Nos. 5 and 9. A large number of men came in on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and today from Newfoundland, Inverness, Grand Narrows, Pictou county and from Montreal. About 75 per cent. of these men are practical miners and most of them at some previous time have been employees of the Dominion Coal Company.

APPLE CROP OF CANADA AND STATES ESTIMATED AT 35,000,000 BARRELS

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 24.—Thirty-five million barrels, or 12,000,000 barrels more than in 1908, is the estimated crop of the United States and Canada this season, according to Ren H. Rice, secretary-manager of the second national apple show in Spokane, November 15 to 20, who added, in giving out the foregoing: "While the quality of the product east of the Mississippi river is not as good as last year, the crop will be much larger and probably more profitable. The yield in the states west of the Mississippi is lighter than in 1908, but the fruit is of a better grade."

WELCOME RAINS

Fernie, B. C., Aug. 23.—While the large volume of smoke hanging over the arid Range caused much alarm during the latter portion of last week, there is no cause for anxiety from bush fires. The fire which started at Jeffrey has not yet reached Merrisay, being a distance of nine miles yet. However, in expectation of an impending fight with the flames, miners did not go to work Friday, and many stayed away Saturday. There is absolutely no danger. It was raining last night. The alarming reports sent east are not justified by the facts.

HILL WILL BE THERE.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 23.—J. J. Hill, of the Great Northern Railroad, has wired the Winnipeg Canadian Club that he will be present at the complimentary luncheon to be tendered Lord Strathcona on Wednesday. Thirty years ago today Lord Strathcona, Mr. Hill and Sir Stephen were all in Winnipeg on business connected with their enterprises.

REV. DR. BLACK PASSES AWAY

After a lingering illness, extending over six years, Rev. Samuel McCully Black, D. D., editor of the Maritime Baptist, passed away at 8 o'clock last night in his residence, 137 Duke street. Nineteen years ago, in the month of August, he became editor of the "Messenger and Visitor," the name of which, after the amalgamation of the Baptist churches, was changed to the Maritime Baptist. Under the new regime Rev. Dr. Black still retained the editorial chair and in fact continued to do so almost to the day of his death, the last writing he did for the paper being on the last day of July.

Dr. Black was a native of Amherst, where he was born January 28th, 1846. He was the son of the late Josiah Black and grandson of Bishop Black, the founder of Methodism in the maritime provinces. His mother was Elizabeth McCully, daughter of the late Rev. Samuel McCully of Amherst, who was one of the leading Baptist clergymen of the province. The late Hon. Judge McCully, of Halifax, a member of the first Canadian senate, was an uncle of Dr. Black and the late Senator T. R. Black, of Amherst, and J. L. Black, of Sackville, were his half brothers.

Rev. Dr. Black grew up in Amherst and received his early education in the county academy. From there he went to Wolfville, graduating with the degree of B. A., in 1874. He then entered Harvard College, receiving the degree of B. A., in 1876 from that institution. He afterwards pursued his M. A. from Acadia in 1883. Following this he took a course in Newton Theological Seminary and was made D. D. by Acadia in 1898.

SON OF EX-MAYOR.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—(Special)—Alfred E. Brown, who shot himself in a rooming house on Jarvis street, is a son of ex-Mayor and ex-Warden Brown, of Calumet (Que.) Mr. Brown, who is in his eighty-first year, and a rugged type of Canadian, came to Toronto with one of his daughters and identified the body at the morgue.

CRUSADE AGAINST VICE.

Removal of Contaminating Influences from the Young—Evil Effect on the Youthful Mind—The Help of the Press.

Dr. Daniel Phelan, surgeon of Kingston penitentiary, the Dominion of Canada's great penal institution, late president and now secretary of the American Association of Prison Surgeons, delivered an excellent address at the annual convention of that body in Seattle last week. After dealing extensively with the general subject of crime he said:—"Of all the problems that have occupied the attention of the different peoples of diverse epochs in the world's history, none have been more universally present than that of how to deal with the criminal class of the community. "There may be people today who would argue that the mentally and morally degenerate have forfeited their right to existence, and, as a conclusion they should be effaced from the earth. This theory is absolutely repugnant to the Christian religion, and it is in opposition to the laws both divine and human that obtain in the world of civilization. Every creature coming into the world from the hand of God has a right to its existence, and no human authority can possibly sanction the depriving it of that right. But while we cannot prevent them from living, we can prevent them from propagating. It is unfair to the rest of the race that the members of this dangerous class should, in the vigor of their physical life, be permitted their freedom, be turned out on the streets to perpetrate other crimes, and, after having gained strength and vitality in their confinement, be allowed to go ahead and propagate another generation of criminals and degenerates. If we desire to have a strong and healthy race of people in this country, alcoholics, degenerates, epileptics, tuberculous, insane, feeble minded, criminal, those possessing other forms of abnormalities, the dependent classes suffering from weakness and disease, and tuberculous subjects should be deprived the right to propagate their tainted species. We all know that the feeble resisting power born of alcoholic indulgence is transmitted from parent to child, and the natural result is a drunkard, and often a criminal, posterity. The fatal tendency is born with the children and often they are less able to conquer it than were their parents. There is a very close relation between intemperance and criminal tendencies. But this is a broad subject that presents a vast field of particular study.

Canadian Laws

"In the Dominion of Canada there are laws and regulations that prevent the admission into the country of degenerates and should such come in unobserved, they are at once deported to the country whence they came. This undesirable class of emigrants constitutes a danger to the community and an expense for the state.

JEROME TO SEEK OFFICE FOR ANOTHER TERM

New York, Aug. 23.—District Attorney Jerome announced tonight that he will be a candidate for re-election this fall, running independently. In a brief statement he said:—"I have been considering whether I should seek re-election. I feel that I should be guided not by my personal interest, but by the consideration of whether a majority of the electors desire that I should further serve them in this position. But as a matter of no way in which I can ascertain this except by offering myself as a candidate, I have decided to seek again a nomination by petition."

MRS. BENSON RETURNS HOME

After having been missing for five days and a half, Mrs. William F. Benson, of Belleisle Creek, Kings county, suddenly came out of her mother's barn yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The woman was in a very weak condition, and tottered to the window of the house and begged for a drink of water which she drank greedily. She was nearly famished and after eating a hearty meal she was put to bed.

SAYS HE SET THE FIRE

Vernon, B. C., Aug. 23.—A sensational letter has been received by the officials inquiring into the Okanagan hotel fire two weeks ago in which eleven lives were lost. The letter purports to have been written by the man who set fire to the building. The letter adds that by the time of its receipt the writer will be well out of the way. He left Vernon only three days ago and it is said he acted in a spirit of revenge.

CIRCUS DAY IS HERE ONCE MORE

The Greater Norris and Rowe Shows Giving Two Exhibitions in St. John Today

The Greater Norris & Rowe Circus, museum, menagerie, hippodrome and trained wild animal display arrive in St. John this morning on schedule and the usual crowd of big and little boys were at the depot to give cordial greeting and assist in unloading the wagons, tents and cages to the Shamrock grounds. The parade is a most pretentious one, and attracted a crowd that lined the curbs of the principal streets of the shopping district this morning.

There is much to amuse, instruct and entertain in this season's circus of Norris & Rowe. The menagerie is a well stocked one, and the animals, both wild and tame, look sleek and in good health. Here one may see excellent specimens of the lion, rhinoceros, tiger, giraffe, hyena, white bear, elk, moose, jaguar, leopard, panther, bear, elephants, camels, dromedary, llamas, etc.

In the big tent the show begins with a spirited equestrian novelty entitled, "Gathering of the Garlands." There are two rings and an elevated stage and the programme is made up of a number of standard circus acts. Reid, the very Beau Brummel of horsemen; Jack Albon and his funny mule hurdle comedy act; these are but the stars of the equestrian and equestrienne and there are a number of lesser lights.

Of the aerialists, mid-air acrobats and novelty acts there are a score headed by such clever circus people as the Hines-Kimball troupe of acrobats; the Sisters Dumaine, the flying trapeze; Mlle. Ebbles, trapeze, the Reno-Begar troupe of double trapeze artists, art and Nellie De-Com in an acrobatic spring act; Jennie Dupree with a thrilling swing; Melotte, LaNole Trio of high wire artists, the famous Baker troupe of bicyclists, Smith, the thrilling up-side-down man on the flying trapeze; the Albion Sisters, Human Flying Butterflies; Ben Lucier in his backward somersaults from a lofty pedestal, etc.
