U. S. NAVAL OFFICERS TOO OLD, SAYS DEWEY. The Majority of the Officers Above the Rank of Lieutenant Should be Replaced by Younger Men.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The Post prints today an interview with Admiral George Dewey in which he declares that the officers of the United States navy above the rank of lieutenants are, as a rule, too old for the grades they occupy. The admiral continued: "The nation will assuredly meet with disaster in a naval war unless younger men are given command of the ships of our navy."

He had just returned from a continental trip, and was telling his adventures. "And above all," he said, "I actually had the distinguished honor of playing whist with a king." The man in the overcoat had listened in silence up to this point, and now his lip curled scornfully, as he replied: "That's nothing. I once played with four kings."

PARIS, Oct. 12.—The French government continues silent concerning the alleged revelations of Great Britain's offer of naval and military aid to France if Germany assumed a belligerent attitude over Morocco. In the meantime the newspapers add new phases to the disclosures. The Figaro gives a detailed version even more sensational than the previous alleged disclosures of the Matin. It says that the previous report of Great Britain offering to mobilize her navy and land British troops in Germany is not correct, that the actual occurrence was as follows:

THE NEGROES GIVE MORE INFORMATION
Two Say Third Committed all the Murders

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 12.—Her sock and cabin, spotted with blood from the fearful butchery following the mutiny aboard ship early Tuesday morning, of the North Carolina coast, the four-masted schooner Harry A. Berwind, of Philadelphia, was towed into Southport today by Wilmington tugs. Aboard were the prize crew of the New York schooner, Blanche E. King, who are wanted as witnesses against the three negroes abandoned and brought to the Cape Fear quarantine on Wednesday, charged with mutiny and murder.

At the preliminary investigation before United States Commissioner Collier, of Wilmington, and Pinner of Southport today, the men who boarded the Berwind told the story of conditions on the vessel as they found them, and the three prisoners were then introduced at their request. They gave their names as Robert Sawyer, Henry Scott and Arthur Adams, all negroes and under forty years of age. Sawyer and Adams employed counsel, and both charged that Scott did the killing of the five men, with the exception of Captain Rumliff, who disappeared before daybreak Tuesday morning in a manner of which they knew nothing. Each said he saw Scott shoot the mate on the lee side of the ship and throw his body overboard. Then he killed the engineer and went down the companionway.

GOOD RESULTS FROM REDUCTION WORKS
Dog-Fish Plant at Shippegan Running Full Time—Good Fertilizer

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—The department of marine and fisheries was advised today that the dogfish reduction works at Shippegan, Gloucester county, started up this week with a plentiful supply of dogfish to keep the plant running full time. The first establishment of the kind was opened at Canoe two weeks ago, and at this point the reduction plant is grinding from five to ten tons of dogfish in an hour. So numerous are dogfish on this portion of the Nova Scotia coast that one day last week two schooners landed thousands of fish, taxing the plant to its utmost capacity. It has yet to be ascertained whether the oil secured by the reduction process can be made a marketable commodity, but there is thought to be no question as to the success of marketing the fertilizer prepared from the ground carcasses of the fish.

REGENT WEDDINGS.
SWIFT-HACHEY.

HARROUET, N. B., Oct. 12.—This morning Rev. Father Roger, at the Roman Catholic church, Adamsville, Miss Agnes, daughter of John Swift of Coal Branch, was married to Ernest Hachey of Bathurst, brakeman on the L. C. R. The bride was dressed in white silk.

HINDS-HOOVER.

The home of Joshua Hoover, Back Bay, N. B., was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday afternoon, when his youngest daughter, Emma A., was united in marriage to Charles Hinds, one of Letang's most popular young men. The house had been decorated with flowers.

Miss Blanche McKee, who was becomingly attired in white silk, with cream lace trimming, presided at the organ, and at 4 o'clock, after the strains of the Wedding March pealed forth, the bridal party entered the parlor and took their places under a beautiful marriage bell, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. G. N. Stevenson, pastor of the church at Back Bay, Letang and Marsaree.

The bride was prettily gowned in white muslin, with all-over lace and carried a bouquet of white roses, tied with white ribbon. Miss Mary Hallifax of Milltown, who was bridesmaid and wore a dress of white organdie, with blue trimmings. She was followed by Jessie Leavitt, niece of the bride, dressed in white mull, and looked very dainty carrying a basket of flowers. The groom was supported by Hill Hoover. After the ceremony, refreshments were served. The guests then drove to St. George's, where the bride was met by her father, who was a prominent Sunday school worker and organist in the church. Their many friends join in wishing them a happy and prosperous married life.

BECKWITH-ELLIOTT.
BRIDGETOWN, N. S., Oct. 11.—Providence Wesleyan church today was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when Miss Jessie Huntington Beckwith, daughter of J. W. Beckwith, became the bride of R. W. Elliott, manager of the Union Bank of Halifax in this town. The church was decorated with autumn leaves and asters, and the marriage was performed by Rev. W. H. Langille under an arch decorated with white asters, from which was suspended the letters "B" and "E". The bridesmaids were Miss Hazel Edgcombe of Fredericton, Miss Grace McKay of Sussex, and Miss Nellie McMullan of Annapolis Royal, while the groom was supported by his two brothers and Fred Beckwith, brother of the bride. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a very handsome gown of ivory crepe de chine over white tulle. The bridesmaids were gowned alike in pink tulle and carried shower bouquets of white roses, and wore the bridegroom's gifts, rose gold brooches set with pearls. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the residence of the bride's father, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott left on the Bluenose train en route to New York, and after a honeymoon trip of some three weeks will return to reside in their new residence in this town. The gifts were both numerous and costly. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful hoop diamond ring.

ONTARIO WOMAN CUTS HER THROAT
Worried Because Her Husband Had to Drop His Insurance.

PRESBURY, Ont., Oct. 12.—Mrs. William Gladstone, the wife of a well-to-do blacksmith at Donville, four miles north of here, committed suicide early today by cutting her throat from ear to ear with her husband's razor. She arose about three o'clock, and her husband, becoming anxious, started to hunt for her, finding her lying on a fence a few yards from the house. Deceased was about 55 years of age and had been in very good health until lately, when she was greatly worried over the fact that her husband had to drop his insurance. Mr. Gladstone was a member of the Royal Arcanum, and was forced to drop out on account of the recent increase in rates.

TROUBLE BREWING OVER AMERICAN FISHERMEN

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 12.—This city was seriously disturbed today by the receipt of private despatches to vessel owners from captains at Bay of Islands, N. F., saying that the cruise Flora, with the minister of marine and fisheries, has arrived at the Bay of Islands from St. John's, and had forbidden all vessels with American registers to fish for herring there, notwithstanding their hitherto undisputed treaty rights. It is believed that the success which the Gloucester cod fishing interests have met with in the past summer in spite of the retaliatory bait act passed by Newfoundland in the spring, has led to additional hostility on the part of the Newfoundland fishermen.

SCHOOL TEACHERS IN SESSION.
Interesting Meetings Held Yesterday—Large Attendance.

The afternoon session opened with a song and drill by a number of young people, which was a very interesting and pleasing feature of the programme. A paper was then read by Miss Primrose. Reading by Miss Lily A. Belyea. She illustrated the principles set forth in her paper with a class of 15 small children. In opening Miss Belyea stated there were various methods of teaching the first steps reading, all of which, however, were old. Of these she strongly preferred the word method. Following out the principles of this method she first made the pupils familiar with a number of new words, without attempting sentences. She taught the words by objects or pictures. Next she wrote sentences on the board, including the words learned along with new ones. This she claimed, was the natural method. The teacher should have two aims; first, to make the child get the thought; second, to express it.

The second stage of primary reading from the printed book aimed, first, to make the pupil familiar with the words; second, to give them the writer's thought; and third, to express the thought.

Miss Belyea strongly advocated the children should still be in the primary grades, to memorize small gems of poetry. In her own school she spent five minutes each day in small children. Miss Belyea then gave a lesson to her class, illustrating her methods. The next paper, read by Miss Ella McAlary, took up Reading in the Advanced Grades. The idea here was, first, to get a sketch of the author, and then to catch his thought from the selection read. Vocal expression flowed from the pupil's getting a proper grasp of the thought and feeling. Miss McAlary advocated repeated drill in pronouncing of words commencing with the correction of errors.

To illustrate her principles, Miss McAlary took up with her class, "The Parables in the Fourth Reader," written by Chas. G. D. Roberts. The pupils were asked to read the parables at a time in going over the lesson for the first time, and all mistakes were carefully noted and corrected. Inspector W. S. Carter acted as chairman. He announced at the opening that the chief superintendent, Dr. Johnson, who had expected to be present, was detained at home on account of illness. Also Mrs. Dr. Crocker, who had been prevented by sickness from attending.

After a selection from the orchestra, His Worship Mayor White was called on. He extended a cordial welcome to the teachers from the board, and expressed the hope that their united meeting would tend to their mutual benefit. Referring to the picture of which had been drawn on the blackboard, His Worship recalled some amusing incidents connected with this institution. He then went on to speak of the responsibility assumed by the teacher of the public school. The teacher's profession was a worthy one, and he always looked upon it with respect. In his mind the Teachers' Institute was a very useful organization.

The speaker was Dr. Steason, superintendent of the Maine schools. Dr. Steason, in opening, said: "We have had a very interesting and profitable meeting, and we are glad to have an affiliated future." He said there were four great institutions in the world, the church, the school, the family, and the state. Of these, the school was the most important. It was the school that trained the child, the young man, the young woman, and the citizen. It was the school that gave the child the foundation of his life. It was the school that gave the young man the tools of his trade. It was the school that gave the young woman the grace of her life. It was the school that gave the citizen the sense of his duty.

The fourth class were the cranks and the freaks; those were never the same thing twice, and never the same thing very long. He pointed out that this class could be ruined by the teaching doing and saying the wrong thing to him. He was hard to manage, but after all he was well worth saving. There was a way to get along with him, which the shrewd teacher would find out. "Let us be kind and sympathetic and helpful to the crank and the freak." At the close of Dr. Steason's address a solo was rendered by Mrs. W. S. Carter.

FOUR-MASTERS IN BIG RACE FOR BOSTON

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., Oct. 12.—Dashing along before a stiff south-wester, and with all sails set, three of the five four-masters that left the Cape of Chesapeake last Monday morning passed here today on what might be called the last lap of the race to Boston and a discharging wharf.

The Bath schooner Alice M. Colburn was proudly leading the fleet, going through the Sound at 5 o'clock this morning, with the Thomas S. Dennison of Thomaston an hour astern. Six hours later the Edward R. Briny, also of Bath, came up the Sound and went on without making the usual stop at the Haven. The two other races, the J. Holmes Birdall of Philadelphia and the Benjamin F. Poole of Providence, had not been sighted at dark tonight.

ENGINEER BARBOUR IS IN A MILDER MOOD.

Finds the Work at Loch Lomond is Progressing Better---Bulk May Be Finished This Year---Contractors' Reply.

The board of water and sewerage held a meeting yesterday afternoon to hear Engineer Barbour's report on the water extension. Some aldermen wanted to have his letter read over again, and others said Messrs. McArthur and McVay's reply should also be read. After considerable argument pro and con all these things were accomplished and the board adjourned.

The first matter brought up was the laying of the pipe out the Marsh road. The mayor said that 400 feet of the new 18 inch main pipe was on the ocean from Scotland. It was necessary to make the Loch Lomond service of any use, and should be laid.

Ald. Tilley wanted to know where they proposed starting the pipe. Sup. Murdoch said the pipe may be here in a day or two and arrangements should be made to have it taken to the proper place. The superintendent did not know whether the chamberlain had provided for the expenditure.

Ald. Lewis agreed with this idea. He said the work would be a useful one. He moved the superintendent be instructed to proceed with the work as soon as possible. Ald. Pickett wanted the superintendent to bring plans and estimates to the Council meeting. Ald. Lewis's motion was carried.

MAJOR WANTS TO HEAR ENGINEER BARBOUR. The mayor said the board would like to hear F. A. Barbour in regard to the work at Loch Lomond. Ald. McCulloch said there was no law suit at present, but he was satisfied that the contractors would use the city for damages.

TOMORROW'S THE DAY.

We Will Pay Particular Attention to The Underwear Needs of Men and Boys. NOT A SPECIAL SALE BUT A WINTER OPENING. UNDENIABLY THE LARGEST AND MOST VARIED STOCK IN LOWER CANADA. From 18c Garment to $5.15

Dr. Jaeger's Pure Wool Underwear. This famous make is to be had in Shirts, Drawers and Combinations. It is absolutely Unshrinkable, and possesses peculiar properties in the matter of hygiene. It is durable and belongs to that famous class of health goods made only by Dr. Gustav Jaeger, in England. We carry several qualities of this Underwear in stock.

"Wolsey" Natural Wool Unshrinkables. Here again we have a renowned product of the Old Country. It comes in Shirts and Drawers, and we cheerfully recommend it on general principles. So great is the demand for "Wolsey" underwear that we have it in Seven Different weights, Single and D. B. Shirts, also such special features as Short and Long Sleeves and Legs. Sizes, 32 to 50 inches.

The "Wolf" Brand Unshrinkables. Still another reliable quality of Underwear that is guaranteed not to "crawl up" in the wash. It has stood the test of years, and from experience at our stores it has been found to be as good as claimed. The "Wolf" goods come in Shirts and Drawers, though the weights are Medium. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches.

"Britannia" Lamb's Wool Unshrinkables. Here is a delightfully soft and warm Underclothing, with either Double Breasted Shirt, or D. B. and Double Back---a lung protector. Drawers to match. The special comfort of this make, and its fussy attention to ample protection against colds, places it in a class of its own. In sizes, 32 to 46 inches.

Good Canadian Made Underwear. That's the only kind of Domestic Underwear we will have in our stores. By process of weeding out we have hit upon the best Canadian Underwear made, and now sure of the ground upon which we are standing, we are making an extensive display. In Plain, Knitted, Union and All-Wool Makes. Fourteen Different Weights. Sizes 32 to 46 inches.

Elastic Ribbed Unshrinkables. Some people still prefer the stoutly-made Ribbed Underwear, and to them we have great pleasure in catering. It is a sound fact that such goods are the embodiment of Winter Warmth, and for wearing quality it is hard to outclass them. Therefore when we say the stock is complete we feel sure of big success. Sizes, 34 to 46.

Wool Fleece Line Underwear. While some claim that porous Underclothing is an avenue to health and happiness in winter time, there are just as many supporting the opposite view; therefore, fleecelined Goods have thousands of wearers. As an up-to-date emporium of men and boy's furnishings, we are showing an unapproachably fine line of the latter in Shirts and Drawers. Sizes, 32 to 46.

Now For the Boys' Underwear. Fleece-lined, Plain Natural Wool, Heavy Merino, Heavy Lamb's Wool, Scotch Wool and Fine Natural Wool Unshrinkables. These are strong leading lines, taking in all that is good and reliable in Shirts and Drawers for the little fellows. The sizes range from 20 to 32 inches.

MRS. MORRISON OF ST. JOHN Elected President of the W. F. M. S.

The afternoon session of the W. F. M. S. began at 2.30 yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Robert Baxter occupying the chair. After the hymn, Mrs. John Thomson read in prayer, and Mrs. McParlane read the Scripture lesson. The minutes of the last meeting were then read and approved.

Miss Carmichael of New Glasgow withdrew her resolution of the morning session and the meeting then unanimously passed Mrs. Blackwood's resolution that when an auxiliary band, or any ladies' branch, in addition to its contribution to foreign missions wishes to contribute to home missions, it shall be lawful for it to do so.

Respectfully submitted. ISABELLA McCULLOCH. A very pretty and interesting dialogue then was given by some young girls of the St. Matthew's Mission Band under the leadership of Mrs. Foster. A highly interesting though lengthy paper was then read by Mrs. McLean of Lorneville. Her theme was Success in Mission Band Work, and contained many helpful hints.

Table with financial data for W. F. M. S. including items like New Hibernia, Santa Lucia, Trinidad, Demerara, Korea, and Total. Total amount is $17.00.

TO RAISE THE STANDARD

Chief Examiner Demers Says This is Contemplated Very Soon. I. A. Demers of Ottawa, chief examiner of masters and mates for Canada, who was in the city yesterday, left last evening for Ottawa. He is going to look into the system of examination here, and inspected the rooms. Mr. Demers also took time to confer with the views of the shipping people and merchants here on the advisability of raising the standard for mates.

SENATORIAL RUMORS.

Lablitts and McClean the Favorites in the Races. The consensus of opinion in well informed circles is that the two vacant New Brunswick senatorships will go to Hon. C. H. Lablitts and Hon. A. R. McClean. It seems to be generally accepted that Mr. Lablitts will get the one to which the Acadian people feel they are entitled and the most likely candidate in sight for the other one is the sage of Riverside. While it is thought that the appointment will go to the governor, there are a good many liberals who openly say that in their opinion Mr. McClean has fared pretty well at the hands of the government, as he was one of the original senators and retained the position from confederation until 1896, when he resigned to accept the governorship. Under these circumstances it is thought that Mr. McClean should be willing to step aside and give someone else a chance to become a senator.

A HANDSOME CATALOGUE

A copy of a very handsome catalogue issued by the Boston House of Danlay, Cooke & Co., the leading fashionable Canadian furriers with houses in St. John, Halifax, Amherst, Winnipeg and Boston, has reached this office. The catalogue is from the press of New York fashion publishers, the cover being handsomely embossed, representing an Indian trapper. The firm advertises a specialty of being direct dealers "from trapper to wearer." The catalogue represents over fifty different designs in fur-lined coats, boas, mufflers, etc., illustrated in the latest American fashion, and is quite in keeping with the progressive type of this very enterprising fur house.

The fourth accident to take place on the Canada Eastern branch of the Intercolonial railway within about ten days, and the worst accident which the branch has seen for some time, was that which occurred Wednesday evening about a quarter of a mile west of the Cross Creek water tank, when seven cars left the rails and two were in such a broken up condition that they could not be put back on the rails by the wrecking crew, which worked until an early hour yesterday morning. Spreading of the rails is thought to have been the cause of the accident.

A joint meeting of the board of management and the trustees of the Y. M. C. A. was held last evening in the office of the president, L. E. D. Riley. It was unanimously decided to make arrangements for procuring an organizer to complete the work in connection with the subscriptions and the completion of the proposed new building. A committee was, therefore, appointed with power to act, to secure the services of a capable man. It is likely that a man recommended by the international committee of the Y. M. C. It is the intention, as soon as the new organizer can be procured, to push the subscription work as fast as possible, so that work on the new building can be started early in the spring.

Red Rose Tea Uniformity

A TEA that is good to-day and poor to-morrow is unreliable. Have you ever noticed variations in the quality of the tea you use? One package good, the next bitter, herby, perhaps weak and insipid.

A lack of expert knowledge by the tasters and blenders of that tea produced that result. There was a failure at a vital point, an ignorance of combining qualities in teas, poor judgment in the blending of that maker's teas, a weakness which invariably gives just such results as your poor tea.

Every chest of Red Rose Tea is tested at the gardens, again by the Eastern Red Rose shippers, then at the Red Rose warehouse upon its arrival before blending; after that an experimental blend is tested, and the final or actual blend is also tested before being packed.

That is why that "rich fruity flavor" is always present in Red Rose Tea.

Why Red Rose Tea is always uniform, why

J. McLEISH INSPECTS QUARRIES.

J. McLeish, of the section of mines and mineral statistics of the geological survey, is at the Victoria. Mr. McLeish has spent several weeks in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia collecting geological specimens and making reports on the granite and stone quarries of these provinces. He visited the granite quarries at St. John, N. B., and at Hillsboro in this province. At both of these places a large business is being done. Three or four such young people, and to carry them along an organized course of training to another plane of development. The trustees of the school were of the opinion that if there were any who taught for revenue only, they must be of all men most miserable. He observed that the personal relations between parents and teachers in the city schools were not so intimate as they ought to be, or as it is in the country. The citizens of St. John have very little control over the schools. They were controlled by the trustees and the provincial authorities and the trustees in the city were not elected as in the country. The trustees gave the most of their attention to the management of the schools, and not to the welfare of the pupils. Mr. McLeish said this was the reason why the high school was for the wealthy and the poor taxpaying. On the contrary it was the college of the poor.

LEONARD MAY GO TO PENITENTIARY

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Harry A. Leonard, the young bank clerk who took $250,000 worth of securities from the National City Bank by means of a forged check, today was indicted for larceny in the first degree. Although it was claimed by his counsel that the young man in taking the securities merely was showing how easily the great financial institutions of the Wall street district might be robbed, Leonard's indictment today means that a fight will have to be made to save him from the penitentiary. At first it was announced that the young man would plead guilty to the charge of forgery, if the charge of larceny was dropped, and that he would be sentenced to a term in the Elmira reformatory. He is still in jail, and will probably be arraigned next week.

HEARD FROM GAME BY WIRELESS

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 12.—This city was kept in touch today with the progress of the baseball game between Philadelphia and New York in the former city, for the world's championship by wireless messages from the flagship Maine of the North Atlantic battery squadron, which sent to the wireless station here the score by minutes. The Maine was the head of the wireless station which was bound from Newport to Hampton Roads, Va. She was about 25 miles out from Newport when the wireless messages were sent. The running story of the game was telegraphed from Philadelphia to the New York Navy Yard wireless plant and from there was transmitted to the battleship Maine, which in turn relayed it to Newport.

Coakley Received Poor Support in Game Against New York - St. John Football League Proposed - Sackville Shooting

BASEBALL

COAKLEY GOT POOR SUPPORT. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—It was all New York today in the third game for the baseball championship of the world between the National League champions and the American League pennant winners, the visitors scoring nine runs while the home team failed to tally. The series now stands 2 to 1 in favor of New York. Mathewson pitched another magnificent game, the Philadelphia hitting him for only four singles—the same number of hits they made off him on Monday. Only one home player reached second base.

Philadelphia . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—4. Batteries—Mathewson and Bresnahan; Powers, Coakley and Schreck. Time, 1:47. Umpires, Sheridan and O'Day. Attendance, 10,991.

NEW YORK started off with a rush in the first inning. Bresnahan got by the third pitched ball. Brown fouled out to L. Cross, who held Bresnahan at first. Donlin singled, Bresnahan got to third. McGinnis also singled, on which Bresnahan scored the first run. Then Murphy fumbled Mertzes' grounder, on which Donlin scored. Dahlen waited for four balls, filling the bases. Devlin chipped a grounder to Coakley, who threw McGinnis out at the plate, and Schreck made a quick throw to first, heading off Devlin, completing a double play. Excepting a miff by Hartzel of McGinnis' fly in the third inning, the New Yorkers went out in order in the second, third and fourth innings. The fifth inning was a distressing affair for the home rooters. Mathewson went out on an easy grounder to M. Cross. Bresnahan was given a base on balls. Murphy fumbled Brewster's grounder, Bresnahan going to third, and Brown took second on the throw to catch Bresnahan at third. Donlin was purposely given four balls, filling the bases. Then Murphy fumbled McGinnis' easy grounder. Bresnahan scoring. A single by Mertzes to right sent Browns home. Dahlen forced Mertzes at second, in which play Donlin scored, and a moment later Dahlen stole second while Coakley held the ball. McGinnis scored the fourth run of the inning on Devlin's single. Dahlen going to third. The Philadelphia signals went wrong as Devlin stole second and Dahlen slid across between the lines with the fourth run. Colbert sent a fly to third.

WRESTLING. MAUPAS AND HEDGER WILL APPEAR ON THE MAT NEXT WEDNESDAY. Arrangements were completed last night for a wrestling bout between Maupas, the French wrestler, and Peter Hedger, the German champion, to be held next Wednesday evening. The winner of this match will be challenged by Apollo, the Irish champion. The men are to wrestle according to the Greco-Roman style, which allows only the body hold, back and front, quarter and half Nelson. This style is the one that shows up the real cleverness and strength of the men. All holds shall be above the hips, and leg holds are absolutely barred from the throwing line. The following gives a few particulars of these men: Emile Maupas was born in Paris 43 years ago. He stands 6 feet 11 1/2 inches high, and weighs 190 lbs.; chest, 47 1/2 inches; neck, 17 1/2 inches; waist, 33 inches; upper arm, 16 inches; forearm, 14 inches; thigh, 21 inches; calf, 14 inches. Maupas has wrestled practically all of the best wrestlers of America, among them being Frank Gotch, Halbesma, the Russian lion, and John Punning, the Butcher Boy, Apollo.

MY CURE FOR THE HEARTACHE-WORK

MISS MARION HONEYMAN WOOD, one of the most beautiful girls in Philadelphia, a leader in the younger society set and member of one of the wealthiest old Quaker families in that city, determined that she would earn her own living. She answered advertisements for nurse girls and waitresses, was in turn a telephone operator, a seamstress, a hospital nurse and companion, and now has gone on the stage.

Miss Wood is the daughter of Edward Randolph Wood, of the Philadelphia Board of Trade; niece of George Wood, director of the Pennsylvania Railroad; niece of the wealthy Wood Brothers, of the Wood foundries; sister of Miss Juliana Wood, a Philadelphia belle; cousin of Mr. Jesse Tyson, of Baltimore, and of Edward Randolph, of New York; cousin of the illustrator, M. Louise Wood, who was a favorite pupil of the late Whistler, and cousin of Eleanor Wood, superintendent of the Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Why Miss Wood chose to be a wage-earner instead of a society girl, and what her experiences as a working girl have been, she tells in a characteristic way on this page.

Miss Wood is living plainly at a boarding house No. 113 East Seventeenth street, New York, and secretly misses the butler and other luxuries of her home at Philadelphia.

times they would talk about families I shone. Once my charge turned on me when I was in the suit with her. She chuckled fully. Often I would impulsively begin to cry and she would pat me under the water, set them straight, then remembered my incoherence just in time.

I began to grow pale and thin in the close air and long hours from 8 to 6, of Miss O'Brien's workshop, and a friend said, "You must get away from that place. It's killing you." She asked me to go away for the summer with her. I concluded to go.

Through my family or personal "pull," I appeared as Constance in the school performance of Philadelphia at nine cents an hour. I would have received eleven cents an hour if I had staid a little longer. But when I had been there four months and two weeks and had been promoted to handling intricate, long distance calls, I was offended because all of the night operators, of whom I was one, were reprimanded for sewing at the

"I was willing to work for $3 a week, $2 less than the other housemaid's wages."

"I went to Philadelphia and entered a school of acting."

ACTRESS.

How a Rich Young Society Girl, Disappointed in Love, Sought Forgetfulness as a Hospital Nurse, Then as Telephone Girl, Seamstress, Companion, Housemaid, and Actress--

By Marion Honeyman Wood.

ANY girl who did not need to work them to give her another chance, and say has been a wage earner because she thought that I had slumped a patient myself. I thought it was every one's duty to help the girl I was expelled. Had I not confessed in writing that I had purpose. I had done what is much more common than for rich girls to earn their own living, fallen in love with the wrong man. I am one of the vast army of girls who have been disappointed in love, only it hurt me a little more than most of them. I could not laugh and forget him when I found the man I had worshipped was a cad.

Six months of nervous prostration was the price I paid for my disillusionment. When I was well again I looked about to see what life held for me, and there seemed to be nothing there but a great emptiness, and I decided that to endure life at all I must take up some kind of work in which I could lose my own heartache in helping others.

That was the reason I entered the Pennsylvania Hospital as a pupil nurse. That it was no mere whim of mine, but a settled purpose, is proved by the fact that I kept my post there for two years.

Expelled for Slapping a Patient.

I was expelled at last because I slapped a patient. Don't judge me until you hear the story. The Pennsylvania Hospital is in the Second Ward, and most of the patients sent there are the refuse of the city. The woman I tried to discipline was a negro nearly twice as large as myself. I wanted her to lie down and go to sleep, and she refused point blank and called me a "dirty dog" besides.

I argued gently with her, but with every word she got angrier and angrier, and threatened about so that she nearly displaced a bandage. I tried holding down her knees, but she lunged about in bed as a child tosses about in a stormy sea. When she had wasted nearly a half hour of the time I should have given to other patients in the ward, and I had tried everything, from moral suasion to force, I gave her a sound slap on the cheek, and she quieted down, meek as a meek old lamb, and turned over and went to sleep. When the doctor made his rounds, I told him about it, and he scolded me because for making trouble. And there the incident would have closed if I hadn't months afterward turned champion for another nurse who got into trouble with the directors for slapping a refractory patient.

Because She Helped a Girl.

She came to me and begged me to intercede with the directors for her.

"You know, Miss Wood, that you have friends on the Board, and your family is influential. You have a 'pull' and I haven't."

"Prudence whispered 'No,' and I shook my head; but the nurse persisted and I knew and asked him for a character."

"I wrote a note begging and is Still "Under Treatment"

Miss Wood?

"No, but I need work," I said. "Please give me a reference."

"What kind of a reference?"

"Say that you know I am honest and sober and industrious."

"Industrious?" he grunted, but I insisted. He wrote some thing and I handed him. When I got to the corner I read it.

"What do you suppose he had written?"

"Miss Marion Wood is a charming young woman whom I have known socially for years."

Knowing that this recommendation of Miss Marion Wood would not help Mary Ann Wood, who wanted to be a housemaid, I tore up the note, thinking how dissembling the world is.

Constant Get a Proper Reference.

A Jewess on Grand avenue, who lived next door to a friend of my family, agreed to take me without previous experience, because I was willing to work for $2 a week, $2 less than the other housemaid's wages. I was to clean the ether and dress and keep the halls and parlor clean, and scrub the front doorstep. I thought what fun I'd have whitening at my friend next door over the bucket. She asked for a reference and I gave her the address of a typewriter I knew. I went to her house to ask her if that would be agreeable, but her mother said:

"No, 'siree!' The idea of referring any one to a home for a housemaid! Think of such a thing! Why, I wouldn't allow Florence to associate with such people!"

To prevent embarrassment to the typewriter I wrote the woman on Grand avenue that I had "ok."

"Too bad. For the same afternoon she called and said she would work for four dollars a week. Then she concluded that I would suit admirably, in fact, that I was exactly the girl she wanted.

I worked there for four months and the chance against my fastidiousness. So, after being a central girl for four months and two weeks at $16 a week, I resigned.

Through an acquaintance made at a hospital I was engaged as companion at $20 a month.

"Your hospital experience will serve you in good stead," said my friend. "The case is one of nervous prostration."

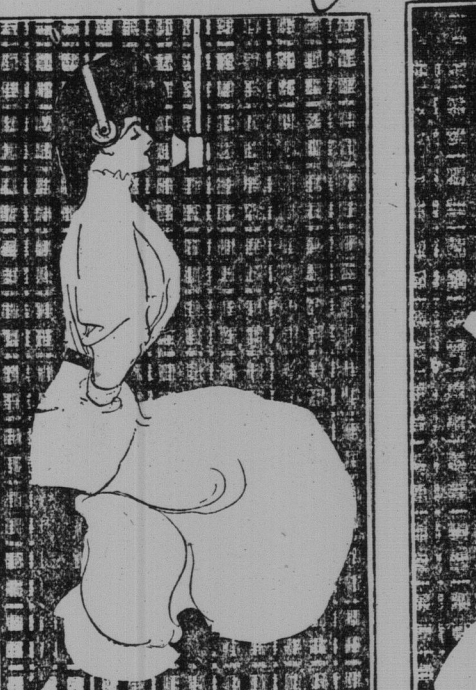

Those were six strenuous weeks when I was companion to that clouded intellect.

Part of the time we spent in a dreary, silent country home, the rest in a marsh near the business, a steam laundry.

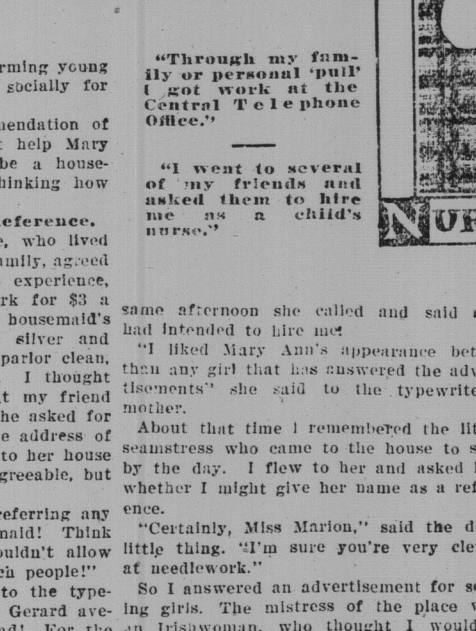

SEAMSTRESS.

"We made dresses for several of my friends and a tresson for an old chum of mine."

NURSE.

"Through my family or personal 'pull' I got work at the Central Telephone Office."

"I went to several of my friends and asked them to hire me as a child's nurse."
