

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

Municipality Committee Consider Several Important St. John Bills.

Favor Mr. McKeown's Bill Being Made Optional, to be Decided by a Plebiscite—Other Interesting Legislation.

FREDERICTON, N. B., March 22.—Mr. Burehill, for the corporation committee, reported against the bill amending the Madras School Act.

Hon. Mr. LaBallois, in reply to Mr. Poirier (Gloucester), said the question of erecting a permanent steel bridge over the main Caraquet river on the present great road line, had been brought before the government by the members from Gloucester.

Hon. Mr. LaBallois, in reply to Mr. Glazier, said the contract for building the Nason bridge across the Rusagornis river, in the parish of Lincoln, Sunbury Co., was awarded to Messrs. McKenzie and Simpson.

Hon. Mr. LaBallois, in reply to Mr. Hazen, said the contract for erecting the Coal Branch stream bridge, near coal mines, Weldford, Kent Co., was awarded to L. J. Wathen.

Hon. Mr. LaBallois, in reply to Mr. Hazen, said the government has had under consideration for some time the repairs of the washout at South Branch railway crossing, in the parish of Blisville, Sunbury Co.

Hon. Mr. LaBallois, in reply to Mr. Hazen, said the contract for a bridge across the County Line bridge, Queens Co., was awarded to M. O. McKenzie, but William Howe of Petersville was interested in the work and he built the bridge.

bridge at Kingston. As the government was about to make an entire change in system and amalgamate the great roads and the by roads, and as under the new system all would be treated fairly, he suggested that Mr. Johnston might withdraw his motion, which the member for Kent did.

Hon. Mr. Tweedie moved that the date for the introduction of private bills be extended for five days. The house went into committee on bills 41, 45 and 50, and they were agreed to with amendments. Bill 41 relates to the Hillside Branch Railway Co., and its object is to declare that the failure to hold the annual meeting shall not impair the validity of the charter of the company.

Hon. Mr. LaBallois, in reply to Mr. Hazen, said the government is aware that the bridge across the South Branch of the Oromocto River, near Smith Bros' mill, was carried away by the freshet in October last.

St. Louis bridge would be brought down. Mr. Hazen gave notice of inquiry with regard to Flewelling's wharf at Gondola Point; the Vincent bridge, in the parish of Gloucester; the Dunham wharf, parish of Kingston; and the Menard's bridge, parish of Greenwich.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley laid on the table copies of the correspondence between the attorney general and Justice James Blight of Alberta in reference to proceedings taken against G. R. Sangster and others for perjury.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley pointed out that the second section of the act made all agricultural societies that undertake to hold meetings Farmers' Institutes, and as there were agricultural societies in every county, there would be meetings in every county.

Not exactly sick; but neither are you well. Sometimes you have a headache; slight exercise fatigues you; your appetite is variable; there is a want of energy; you are easily irritated; you feel depressed and "out of sorts." That is the Spring feeling. It is easily accounted for; close confinement; indifferent or bad ventilation and want of exercise during the winter months are responsible. What you need to put you right is a tonic, and is the greatest of all tonic medicines. These pills make rich, red blood, build up tired and jaded nerves and make weak, depressed men and women bright, active and strong.

Rev. Geo. Read, Methodist Mission, Hartley Bay, B. C., says:—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been of great benefit to my wife. She was greatly run down in health, and very weak and nervous. They have made her feel an entirely new woman."

W. C. Graham, 98 Lombard Street, Winnipeg, Man., says:—"We keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house all the time and have found them invaluable as a blood builder and regulator of the system. As a spring medicine they are unequalled."

The world over, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are known as the greatest tonic medicine medical science has yet discovered. What these pills have done for others they will do for you. But you must insist upon getting the genuine with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around every box.

If you cannot get these pills at your dealers, send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and they will be mailed post paid at 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

ST. JOHN N. B. MARCH 30, 1901.

THE NEW UNIVERSITY BUILDING.

We congratulate the University of New Brunswick, and the province as well, on the completion and dedication of the new building for the study of engineering and other branches of applied science.

So far as may be discerned there is to date a decided reaction against that material view of education which disdains classical studies and intellectual philosophy, demanding only training in the broad and bitter sciences.

The University of New Brunswick does not abandon the old learning while taking up the new. Those who control her course hold to the view that more than knowledge is involved in education.

It is not a bad omen that President London, a student, teacher and explorer in the domain of physical science, and yet a sound classical scholar, should have had a conspicuous share in yesterday's proceedings.

POLITICAL MANAGEMENT OR RAILWAY MANAGEMENT.

"There is a rumor," says the Moncton Transcript, organ of Mr. Emmerson, "that one of the new chief officials of the I. C. R. started in somewhat like the lamented Mr. Harris with the very full appreciation of this independence of political interference."

These officials do not want to be interfered with by the politicians, but on the other hand the political leaders are held responsible by the general public for the management by these very officials.

Very well. Let it be assumed that the liberal party is to operate the Intercolonial as a political machine, and that the high priced officers, recently employed by Mr. Blair because they understand railroading, must not operate the line as a railway. Then why search the country over for able general managers, and capable traffic managers, and why pay them salaries of $6,000 to $10,000 a year?

Furthermore, if it is unfair to hold the government responsible for the management controlled by railway officers, it is equally unfair to blame the railway officers for the errors of political management.

POULTRY FOR EXPORT.

All authorities agree that there are great possibilities in the poultry trade of Canada with Great Britain. England is a large importer of choice poultry from the European continent, and a considerable purchaser from this side of the ocean.

A FEW LEADERS.

The following are some of the letters read in the course of the first day of the Cook enquiry:

M. C. Cameron, M. P., to H. H. Cook: "Saw your friend (Cartwright) on the matter and will have another interview in a few days. In the meantime keep quiet."

"Dear Cook—Nothing new, but I find that Mowat's friend is J. Young of Galt, and he struck to him like a burr."

"Dear Cook—Bring all the influence you can to bear on Mowat. Got your letter, though knew facts before; but do not neglect above."

"Dear Cook—I have by no means forgotten the matter, but I have not yet been able to bring it to an issue, do what I will."

"Dear Cook—You may remember that some time ago I urged your claim on the government and at one time thought I had succeeded. The cards were in your own hands, and you refused to play them, and so lost the game. I need say my mind would not interfere again."

"Dear Cartwright and others know my opinion of the matter, and no man in Ontario better deserves the position. I have three other applications similar to yours."

THE AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL.

The government bill to provide for the establishment of an agricultural school for the maritime provinces has been read a first time at Fredericton, while the corresponding measure has passed its second reading in the Nova Scotia legislature.

These officials do not want to be interfered with by the politicians, but on the other hand the political leaders are held responsible by the general public for the management by these very officials.

WHY NOT OFFICERS?

New Brunswick appears to be the favorite recruiting ground for the Baden-Powell force. The province furnished its quota, and then a supplementary group, and now is invited to send a third representation.

QUICK FORTUNES.

It appears to be settled that the United States steel corporation will take over the Rockefeller properties known as the Lake Superior Consolidated Iron Mines.

The Boer leaders, and their sympathizers have spared no pains to make it understood that the recent peace negotiations did not originate with Botha and his friends.

President Hadley of Yale University has been trying to persuade his fellow citizens that it is the duty of the best of them to take a share in public affairs.

Some of the newspaper correspondents in Africa explain that the war cannot be ended without the adoption of new methods. The methods by which a general succeeds in disposing of a thousand Boers in one series of operations cannot be called wholly unsuccessful.

Mr. Tarte's Patrie observes: "We cannot too often repeat that the Tory party is the party of hate and of discord." It is certain that La Patrie repeats the statement as often as it goes to press.

It seems that Aguinado has been captured again. This calamity has befallen the Philippine chief many times, but he has not been captured half as often as he has been killed.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

The International Lesson.

LESSON I.—April 7. GOLDEN TEXT. Now is Christ risen from the dead.—1 Cor. 15: 20.

THE SECTION.

The events on the resurrection morning before the first appearance of Jesus. Parallel Accounts—Matthew's story (28: 1-8). Mark's story (16: 1-8). Luke's story (24: 1-12). John's story (20: 1-10), together with the report of the watch (Matt. 28: 11, 12).

PLACE IN THE LIFE OF CHRIST. The resurrection, after three days in the tomb. The completion of the proof of his Messiahship, and the necessary complement of his work.

HISTORICAL SETTING. Time.—Jesus' rose from the dead Sunday morning, April 9 A. D. 30, and ascended forty days later, May 18.

THE RESURRECTION OF JESUS.—Luke 24: 1-12. An Easter Lesson.

1. (a) Now upon the first day of the week, (b) very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, (c) and certain others with them.

2. And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3. And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

4. And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold two men stood by them in (d) shining garments:

5. And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead?

6. He is not here, but is risen; remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee.

7. Saying, the Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

8. And they remembered his words.

9. And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10. (e) It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11. And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

12. Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre; and stooping down, he beheld the linen (f) clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

REVISION CHANGES. (So far as they effect the sense.) (c) Omit and certain others with them. (e) Omit and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James; and the other women which told these things unto the apostles.

LIGHT ON THE TEXT. The Burial.—Friday afternoon between four and six o'clock, in a new sepulchre near Calvary, aided by Joseph of Arimathea and Nicodemus.

The Resurrection.—Very early Sunday morning (Matt. 28: 2-4), accompanied by an earthquake and by a shining angel.

1. They.—The women who were planning to embalm the body of Jesus, —Mary Magdalene, Mary, the mother of James (Luke 23: 47). And certain others.—Including Salome (Mark 16: 1, and Matt. 28: 1).

2. The stone rolled away. The tomb was closed by a large flat, round stone like a millstone.

3. Why seek ye the living?—It admits of doubt whether the Greek expression here would not have been more literally rendered, "the living one,"—the great source of life, the life of the world.—Ryle.

4. Behold two men.—Matthew calls the one who speaks to them an angel.

5. They returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

6. He is not here, but is risen; remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee.

7. Saying (Luke 9: 22, 44; 18: 31; 24: 7). This was first spoken almost a year before. And the third day rise again.—Jesus had tried to impress this truth upon their minds for comfort in the hour of their need; but it had made but slight impression on them, for they did not comprehend its meaning.

8. And they remembered his words.

9. And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10. (e) It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11. And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

12. Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre; and stooping down, he beheld the linen (f) clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

Cures Rheumatism.

A New and Simple Remedy that You May Try Without Spending a Cent—Cured Many Cases of 30 and 40 Years Standing.

TRIAL PACKAGE FREE TO ALL.

32 years old, cured of Rheumatism after suffering 42 years.

If any reader suffering from rheumatism will write to me I will send them free of cost, a trial package of a simple and harmless remedy which cured me and thousands of others, among them cases of over 40 years of suffering. This is a grand remedy, and every afflicted reader of mine who has been what marvellous power it has, and therefore will gladly send a sample set, even though thousands of invalids should apply. Distinguishing cases of rheumatism, among them bed-ridden and crippled persons, were completely cured, of which I mention a few: A lady cured her, and all the cured 15 of her neighbors. In Lyon, Mo., it cured an old sufferer for 40 years. In Seguin, Tex., it cured a case of 11 years standing. Hon. Jacob Sexauer, of Fountain City, Wis., was cured after suffering for 38 years and after having employed seven physicians. Mr. Jas. C. Atchison, Justice of the Peace of Cape Island, N. S., states that this remedy cured his son who was to be taken to the hospital for rheumatism of the hip. In many instances could be mentioned showing that here is a remedy that can be relied upon. Write at once for a trial package, for it is an honest remedy which you can test without cost. Address: JOHN A. SMITH, 125 Germania Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

DEATH OF JAMES MOIR. (Sun's Point de Bute Correspondence.) James Moir of Mount Wholly, Westmorland, died very suddenly on Wednesday last and was buried in the Point de Bute cemetery on Thursday afternoon. Drs. Steel and Chapman conducted the funeral service. Mr. Moir was in his ninety-seventh year. A wife and five children, two sons and three daughters—survive him. Robert, the eldest son, is living in the west. The deceased was the son of James Moir, a Scotchman, who settled near Hopewell Cape in the early years of the last century. He was a man of long and engaged in lumbering and ship-building. Mr. Moir of Mount Whately was a tanner and shoemaker by trade, and did a large business in his line with the northern counties, where his name will be well remembered. He was engaged in his business and retired about ten years ago to his farm. He leaves a good property for his family.

A FIERCE ENCOUNTER. Duncan Glasier, of Lincoln, was surprised a few days ago on leaving his home to see a large wild cat walking about the barnyard. Mr. Glasier hesitated about giving battle, but finally seized a heavy loaded whip and engaged the cat, which fought fiercely, but finally succumbed. It was a pretty large wild cat, and he had evidently been preying upon porcupines, for his head was full of quills. Besides the price of the skin, Mr. Glasier will receive a bounty of $2.

Alexander Simon, one of the best known residents of the county, died on Monday evening at his home at Willow Grove, after a long illness. Mr. Simon was 62 years of age and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. Dr. W. H. Simon, V. S., of this city, is a nephew of the deceased.

Miss Mary A. Daly died Tuesday night at the residence of her nephew, Joseph H. Daly, Ellyard street, north end. She was 74 years of age, and had suffered from a complication of disorders for three months. The funeral will be held on Friday.

OUR SPRING BOOK IS READY

No greater aid to the shopping community has ever been devised than the Mail Order System. Those living at a distance and occupied by the various duties of life cannot always find time to visit the city to purchase the different articles they may desire. To them the system is invaluable. They may be hundreds of miles away, but still can purchase their goods as easily and satisfactorily as if they were to visit our store in person. A postal card directed to us will bring you our Spring Style and Sample Book of Men's and Boys' Clothing. You can then sit quietly at home and make your selection without the bother of going to the city. We supply full measuring instructions with every Sample Book, and if carefully followed a perfect fit is assured. Orders received by mail have as careful attention as customers buying in person.

CONQUEROR OF CATARRHAL DYSPEPSIA.

A CHANGED MAN. Parents and friends notice the Difference. Least thing used to trouble and annoy him. Now he is happy, more sociable and full of fun. Weighs ten pounds more than ever. Perfectly healthy.

MONTREAL, March 2, 1901. 186A Richardson St., Ft. St. Charles.

SAYS SAVED HIS LIFE. Stomach was so painful could hardly eat. Almost dead from weakness. Hands and feet like ice. Perfectly well now. happy and ambitious. "I can work like a horse now."

When Mr. Fred A. Marsh applied to Dr. Sproule for treatment he was living at home on his father's farm in Mill River. But in spite of all the advantage of an out-of-door life, he was far from well and growing steadily weaker. He had had Catarrh for about eight years, and this treacherous disease had descended and fastened upon his stomach so that his digestion was all but gone. It was only by the greatest care that he was able to keep free from pain after meals. Nearly everything distressed him, causing pain and belching of gas. Even when asleep were not present he suffered from a heavy feeling after eating and disagreeable dreams at night. Gradually his appetite failed and his strength weakened.

When he applied to Dr. Sproule he had been trying several patent medicines, but with no success. The stomach trouble had poisoned and weakened his blood and affected his liver. His legs were covered with small watery pimples, his eyesight was affected, he was extremely constipated, easily tired out, and often woke up almost as weary as on going to bed. But what troubled him most was an almost continual coldness of hands and feet, which sometimes woke him up at night aching as though turned to ice. Often change and burn very uncomfortably. This, when his hands and feet were aching and blue with cold, his face and ears seemed to smart and tingle as if on fire.

Dr. Sproule soon convinced him, and told him that the whole trouble was due to Catarrh of the Stomach, which had produced Catarrh of the Liver, with bad blood and poor circulation.

The young man followed Dr. Sproule's treatment faithfully and soon found himself a cheerful being. A letter written a year after his cure shows that the work was as permanent as thorough.

"You may depend that I have not forgotten your kindness and the rational treatment which has so fully restored me to health. It is with pleasure that I write to let you know that I am still well and strong. It is impossible for me to express my gratitude to God and you for saving my life, as I feel sure that because you have failed to get relief from physicians you have consulted personally, it is no using Dr. Sproule who cannot see you and will have to treat you by mail. One patient writes:

NINETEEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

A Greater and Grander Investment Than Any Offered to the Public, and Especially the Farmers, of Any Country in the World in Modern Times.

PROFESSOR JAMES W. ROBERTSON, COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE AND DAIRYING FOR CANADA, IN HIS REPORT TO THE HOUSE OF COMMONS FOR CANADA, AFTER GOING TO ENGLAND AND INVESTIGATING AND SENDING SAMPLE SHIPMENTS, ENDORSES THE GREAT OBJECT OF THIS COMPANY.

THE CANADIAN DRESSED POULTRY COMPANY, LTD. (TO BE INCORPORATED)

CAPITAL STOCK, $450,000

HEAD OFFICE, HAMILTON, Ontario.

PRESIDENT: MR. GIBSON ARNOLDI, Barrister-at-Law, Toronto, Ont.

MANAGER: MR. WILLIAM S. GILMORE, Merchant, Hamilton, Ont.

OBJECT OF THE COMPANY.

This Company is being formed for the advancement of Canadian trade with England, in dressed poultry, ducks, turkeys and geese, dressed meats, and any other farm products the Company may at any time deem it advisable in the best interests of the shareholders, to deal in.

THIS IS THE GREAT OBJECT OF THE COMPANY. IT WILL BE NO MONOPOLY AND IT CANNOT BE MADE ONE. ITS SUCCESS MEANS THE FARMER'S SUCCESS.

The farmer's duty is first to become a shareholder in this Canadian Company, and by so doing show his faith in his country's future, and that the means business as his money being invested, his interests and the interests of the Company are the same, and then to earn a good reputation for himself as a first-class raiser of poultry, turkeys, ducks and geese for the Company.

"WELL-TO-DO FARMERS FATTEN CHICKENS."

"I did not find the men who fatten chickens in Britain were poor farmers who had no other means of making a living. In Canada there is an idea that it is only poor farmers who can raise chickens. The people who raise and fatten chickens in England are to be found south of London, between London and the English Channel, on about the richest part of the island, with the finest situation, close to the best markets.

SMALL CAPITAL REQUIRED.

The amount of capital required by a farmer will be very small as he can begin raising them in as small a way as he likes, and as his profits grow he can increase the number, making this a grand investment for either farmer or poor health are not able to attend to the heavy duties of heavy farming. It is not necessary to employ much labor as can be seen from the following description of the "cramping machine" and the directions how to use it, it is one of the most approved methods of feeding chickens; the chicken is simply hopped over the hoop.

Table showing original cost of chickens, cost of food, cost of shipping cases, and freight, commission, etc. Total cost per pair is $1.08.

These figures show the total cost of some chickens per pair which were shipped to Mr. James Riddin, St. John's market, Liverpool, England, and which met with a ready sale at eight pence (sixteen cents) per pound. As they weighed eleven pounds per pair they were actually sold for one dollar and seventy-six cents per pair.

THE FOLLOWING TABLE shows the difference in weights of representative chickens killed before being fattened and similar chickens after being fattened for thirty-six days.

OTAWA LETTER.

Roche's arguments against Mr. Borden's issue. He considers that the liberal party has buried Sir John A. Macdonald's platform and that there is no possibility of its being resurrected. And then he goes on and says: "The honorable gentleman who spoke this afternoon laid down some of the essential features of protection, and he gave them with a certain amount of elaboration and detail. My idea of protection is, that it is the whole of the inhabitants of the state giving by their influence and by their authority, support to all the industries of the state, and support to all the employment of the people, and to do that in such a way as will employ the energies and resources of the people."

Another feature of Mr. Roche's address was his reference to the preferential tariff. Going back to 1816 (and it may be said that Mr. Roche has a weakness for ancient history), he finds that Great Britain was assailed by American reformers in order that her woolen trade might be diverted to this side of the Atlantic.

Mr. Roche is one of those people who believe that the national policy is, as argued by Henry Clay when he inaugurated the policy of crippling Great Britain, and I ask them to answer us if these considerations apply to the present exigencies, and if they will not, before they propose such a policy for the future of Canada, pause and remember that this policy originated in the United States with the endeavor to cripple the trade of England. This was before dinner.

Let us take a glance at Mr. Roche after dinner. Touching on the same subject, he could not understand why gentlemen opposite should lay such stress on the differences between British and American importations. "Is it because they wish to encourage the introduction of articles of British manufacture to replace those of American manufacture? But why should they wish to displace the articles of American production? Is not $100,000,000 derived from the trade with our neighbors to the south just as good as if derived from our trade with the English manufacturers? What has been the cause of the decline of British imports and the increase in American imports?" And then Mr. Roche goes on to tell the house that English manufacturers adhere too much to the old style of cumbersome material, and do not suit the requirements of customers. He maintains the American manufacturer has supplanted the British manufacturer in the manufacture of the world, and that Canada must buy in the market where she can get the best value. Mr. Roche declares any attempt to antagonize the United States in trade matters. He tells parliament that the people of Nova Scotia would stand aghast at anything that would tend to bring upon this country the ill-will of the nation to the south of us. He estimated the importance of Nova Scotia's trade with United States ports as being something beyond compare. Let the United States do as they like, said Mr. Roche, but let us refrain from awakening those feather heads who hold power at Washington and who may be able to do us serious injury. Therefore, do not endeavor to gain any preference in the British market, because if you do Canada will be considered to have certain privileges denied to American producers, and then the tariff of our neighbors will be raised still higher against us.

And this is the Mr. Roche who with a couple of hours took the members of the opposition to heart in regard to their want of sympathy with England. Has the junior member for Halifax occasion to remember when a member of the opposition cried down English manufactures as being inferior to those of German or American make? Is that the way he proposes to demonstrate to the world that Canada is striving to enrich the Empire? There is a suspicion down in his heart there is a comment on that old repeal policy which moved him, years ago, to favor secession from the Canadian confederation. Mr. Roche is evidently the same narrow Mr. Roche, who, in order to gain power, demanded that this nation should throw away its chances of obtaining world wide repute. How will he explain his two statements to his constituents? It will be worth waiting for four years to see the methods he will employ.

His parents still live there, and his only brother lives in Newcastle. The prisoner went to Massachusetts in 1881. Worked at Lynn for seven or eight years and in July 1889 went to work for Bailey. He went away at the end of the month, but returned last spring, and was there at the time of the murder, with which he is charged. He stoutly protests his innocence of the crime.

SERMON.

Rev. Dr. Talmage Speaks on Revivals.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—This discourse of Dr. Talmage is most pertinent at this time when a widespread effort for religious awakening is being made; text, Luke v., 6. "They inclosed a great multitude of fishes, and their net brake."

Simon and his comrades had experienced the night before what fishermen call "poor luck." Christ steps on board the fishing smack and tells the sailors to pull away from the beach and directs them again to sink the net. Sure enough, very soon the net is full of fishes, and the sailors began to haul in. So large a school of fishes was taken that the harry men were looking red in the face as they pulled, and hardly have they begun to rejoice at their success when snap goes a thread of the net, and snap goes another thread, so there is danger not only of losing the fish, but of losing the net.

Without much care as to how much the boat tilts or how much water is splashed over the fishermen rush about, gathering up the broken meshes of the net. Out yonder there is a ship dancing on the wave, and they hail it: "Ship ahoy! Bear down this way!" The ship comes, and both boats, both fishing smacks, are filled with the floundering fishermen.

"Ah," says some one, "how much better it would have been if they had stayed on shore and fished with a hook and line and taken one at a time instead of having this great excitement and the boat almost upset, and the net broken and having to call for help and getting sopping wet with the sea!"

The church is the boat, the gospel is the net, society is the sea, and a great revival is a whole school brought in at one sweep of the net. I have admiration for that man who goes out with a hook and line to fish, and I admire the way he unwinds the reel and adjusts the bait and drops the hook in a quiet place on a still afternoon and here catches one and there one, but I like also a big boat and a large crew and a net a mile long and swift oars and stout sails and a stiff breeze and a great multitude of souls brought—so a great multitude that you have to get help to draw it ashore, straining the net to the utmost, until it breaks here and there, letting a few escape, but bringing the great multitude into eternal safety.

BELIEF IN REVIVALS.

In other words, I believe in revivals. The great work of saving men began with 3,000 people joining the church in one day, and it will close with forty or a hundred million people saved in 24 hours, when nations shall be born in a day. But there are objections to revivals. People are opposed to them because the net might get broken, and if by the pressure of souls it does not get broken, then the net will close with the great multitude of fishes, and the net brake. It is sometimes opposed to revivals of religion that those who come into the church at such times do not hold out. As long as there is a gale of blessing, I think it may be said that the wind is strong, blowing then they drop into a dead calm. But what are the facts in the case? In all our churches the vast majority of the people are those who are brought in under great awakenings, and they hold out. Who are the prominent men in the United States in churches, in prayer meetings, in Sabbath schools? For the most part they are the product of great awakenings.

I have noticed that those who are brought into the kingdom of God through revivals have more persistence and more determination in the Christian life than those who come in under a low state of religion. People born in an icehouse may live, but they will never get over the cold they caught in the icehouse. A cannon ball depends upon the impulse with which it starts for how far it will go and how swiftly, and the greater the revival force with which a soul is started the more far-reaching and far-resounding will be the execution.

But it is sometimes objected to revivals that there is so much excitement that people mistake hysteria for religion. We admit that in every revival of religion there is either a suppressed or a demonstrated excitement. Indeed, if a man can go out of a state of condemnation into a state of acceptance with God or see others go without any agitation of soul he is in an unhealthy, morbid state and is repulsive and abominable as a man who should boast as a man who snatched out from under a man's hoofs and felt no agitation or saw a man rescued from the fourth story of a house on fire and felt no acceleration of the pulses.

Salvation from sin and death and hell into life and peace and heaven forever is such a tremendous thing that if a man tells me he can look on it without any agitation I doubt his Christianity. The fact is that sometimes excitement is the most important possible thing. In case of resurrection from drowning or freezing the one idea is to excite animation. Before conversion we are dead. It is the business of the church to revive, arouse, awaken, resuscitate, startle into life. Excitement is bad or good according to what it makes us do. If it makes us do that which is bad, it is bad excitement, but if it makes us agitated about our eternal welfare, if it makes us pray, if it makes us attend upon Christian service, if it makes us cry unto God for mercy, then it is a good excitement.

GATHERING IN THE YOUNG.

It is sometimes said that during revivals of religion great multitudes of children and young people are brought into the church, and they do not know what they are about. It has been my observation that the earlier people come into the kingdom of God the more useful they are. Robert Hall, the prince of preachers, was converted at 12 years of age. It is likely he knew what he was about. Matthew Henry, the commentator, who did more for any man of this century for increasing the interest in the study of the Scriptures, was converted at 11 years of age; Isabella Graham, immortal in the Christian church, was converted at 10 years of age; Dr. Watts, whose hymns will be sung all down the ages, was converted at nine years of age; the mightiest intellect that the American pulpit ever produced, was converted at seven years of age, and that father and mother take an awful responsibility when they tell their child of seven years of age, "You are too young to be a Christian," or "You are too young to sanctify yourself with the church." That is a mistake as long as eternity.

If during a revival two persons present themselves as candidates for the church and the one is 10 years of age and the other is 40 years of age, I will have more confidence in the profession of religion of the one 10 years of age than the one 40 years of age. Why? The one who professes at 40 years of age has 40 years of impulse in the wrong direction to correct, and the child has only 10 years in the wrong direction to correct. Four times 10 is 40. Four times the religious prospect for the one who comes into the kingdom of God and into the church at 10 years of age than the man at 40.

I am very apt to look upon revivals as connected with certain men who fostered them. People who in this day do not like revivals nevertheless have not words to express their admiration for the revivalists of the past, for the revivalists—Jonathan Edwards, John Wesley, George Whitfield, Fletcher, Griffin, Davies, Osborne, Knapp, Nettleton, Moody, and many others whose names come to my mind. The strength of their intellect and the holiness of their lives make me think they would not have had anything to do with that which was ephemeral. Oh, it is easy to talk against revivals!

A man said to Mr. Dawson: "I like your sermons very much, but the after-meetings I despise. When the prayer meeting begins I always go up into the gallery and look down, and I am disgusted." "Well," said Mr. Dawson, "the reason you go on the top of your neighbor's house and look down his chimney to examine his fire, and, of course, you get only smoke in your eyes. Why don't you come in the door and sit down warm?"

SIN AGAINST HOLY GHOST.

Oh, I am afraid to say anything against revivals of religion or against anything that looks like them, because I think it may be said that the Holy Ghost, and you know the Bible, says that a sin against the Holy Ghost shall never be forgiven, neither in this world nor the world to come. Now, if you are a painter and I speak against your pictures do I not speak against you? If you are an architect, and I speak against a building you put up, do I not speak against you? If a revival be the work of the Holy Ghost, and I speak against that revival do I not speak against the Holy Ghost? And you speak against the Holy Ghost, says the Bible, he shall never be forgiven, neither in this world nor in the world to come. I think sometimes people have made a fatal mistake in this direction.

Many of you know the history of Aaron Burr. He was one of the most brilliant men of this day. I suppose this country never produced a stronger intellect. He was capable of doing anything good and great for his country or for the church of God had he been rightly disposed, but his name is associated with treason against the United States government, which he tried to overthrow, and with libelism and immorality. Do you know where Aaron Burr started on the downward road? It was when he was in college, and he became anxious about his soul and was about to put himself under the influences of a revival, and a minister of religion said: "Don't go there, Aaron; don't go there. That's a place of wildfire and great excitement. No religion about that. Don't go there." He tarried away. His serious impressions departed. He started on the downward road. And who is responsible for his ruin for this world and his everlasting ruin in the world to come? Was it the minister who warned him against that revival? When I speak of excitement in revivals, I do not mean temporary derangement of the nerves. I do not mean the absurd things of which we have heard as transpiring sometimes in the church of Christ, but I mean an intense interest, all absorbing agitation of body, mind and soul in the work of spiritual escape and spiritual rescue.

COLDNESS OF THE OBJECTOR.

Now I come to the real, genuine cause of objection to revivals. That is the coldness of the objector. It is the secret and hidden but unmistakable cause in every case, a low state of religion in the heart. Wide awake, concentrated, useful Christians are never afraid of revivals. It is the spiritually dead who are afraid of having their sepulcher molested. The chief agents of the devil during a great awakening are always unconverted professors of religion. As soon as Christ's work begins they begin to gossip against it and take a pall of water and try to put out this spark of religious influence, and they try to put out another spark. Do they succeed? As well when Chicago was on fire might some one have gone out with a garden water pot trying to extinguish it. The difficulty is that when a revival begins in a church it begins at so many points that while you have doused one anxious soul with a pall of cold water there are 500 other anxious souls on fire. Oh, how much better it would be to lay hold of the chariot of Christ's gospel and help pull it on rather than to fling ourselves in front of the wheels, trying to block their progress. We will not stop the chariot, but we ourselves will be ground to powder.

summer was coming on, and the sun was getting hotter and hotter, and there was danger that the whole icefield would break up and flow away. So the tallest and the coldest and the broadest of all the icebergs, the very king of the arctic, stood at the head of the convention and with a gavel of ice smote on a table of ice, calling the convention to order. But the sun kept growing in intensity of heat, and the south wind blew stronger and stronger, and soon all the icebergs began to grind up, iceberg against iceberg, and to flow away. The first resolution passed by the ice convention was, "Resolved, That we abolish the sun." But the sun would not be abolished. The next of the sun grew greater and greater until after awhile the very king of the icebergs began to perspire under the glow, and the smaller icebergs fell over, and the cry was: "Too much excitement! Order! Order!" Then the whole body, the whole thousands and voices began to ask: "Where are we going now? Where are we floating to? We will all break to pieces!" By this time the icebergs had reached the gulf stream, and they were melted into the bosom of the Atlantic ocean. The warm sun is the Eternal Spirit. The icebergs are frigid Christians. The ocean into which everything melted is the great, wide heart of the pardoning and sympathizing God.

AN UNCONVERTED MINISTRY.

But I think, after all, the greatest obstacle to revivals throughout Christendom is an unconverted ministry. We must believe that the vast majority of those who officiate at sacred altars are regenerated, but I suppose there may float into the ministry of all denominations of Christians men whose hearts have never been changed by grace. They are all antagonistic to revivals. How did they get into the ministry? Perhaps some of them chose as a respectable profession. Perhaps some chose it as a means of livelihood. Perhaps some of them were sincere, but were mistaken. As Thomas Chalmers said, he had been many years preaching the gospel before his heart had been changed, and as many ministers of the gospel declare they were preaching and had been ordained to sacred orders years and years before their hearts were regenerated. Gracious God, what a solemn thought for those of us who minister at the altar! With the present ministry in the present temperature of piety, this land will never be enveloped with revivals. While the pews on one side of the altar are being filled with the redeemed, the other side the altar must cry for mercy. Ministers quarrelling. Ministers trying to pull each other down. Ministers struggling for ecclesiastical place. Ministers lethargic with whole congregations dying on their hands. What a spectacle!

Aroused pulpits will make aroused pews. Pulpits aflame will make pews aflame. Everybody believes in a revival in trade, everybody likes a revival in literature, everybody likes a revival in art, yet a great multitude cannot understand a revival in matters of religion. Depend upon it, where you find a man antagonistic to revivals, whether he be in pulpit or pew, he needs to be regenerated by the grace of God.

I could prove to a demonstration that without revivals this world will never be converted and that in 100 or 200 years without revivals Christianity will be practically extinct. It is a matter of astounding arithmetic. In each of our modern generations there are at least 32,000,000 children. Now add 32,000,000 to the world's population and then have only 100,000 or 200,000 converted every year, and how long before the world will be saved? Never—absolutely never.

MORE TROOPS WANTED.

During our Civil war the president of the United States made proclamation for 75,000 troops. Some of you remember the big stir. But the King of the universe today asks for twelve hundred million more troops than are enlisted, and we want it done softly, imperceptibly, no excitement, one by one. You are a dry goods merchant on a large scale, and I come to you and want to buy 1,000 yards of cloth. Do you say: "Thank you. I'll sell you 1,000 yards of cloth, but I'll sell you 20 yards today and 20 tomorrow and 20 the next day, and if it takes me six months I'll sell you the whole thousand yards." You will want as long as that to examine the goods, and I'll want as long as that to examine the credit, and besides that, 1,000 yards of cloth is too much to sell all at once! No; you do not say that. You take me into the counting room, and in ten minutes the whole transaction is consummated. The fact is we cannot afford to be fools in anything but religion.

That very merchant who on Saturday afternoon sold me the thousand yards of cloth at one stroke the next Sabbath in church will stroke his beard and wonder whether it would not be better for a thousand souls to come struggling along for ten years instead of bolting in at one service.

We talk a good deal about the good times that are coming and about the world's redemption. How long before they will come? There is a man who says 600 years. Here is a man who says 200 years. Here is some one more confident who says in 50 years. What, 50 years? Do you propose to let two generations pass off the stage before the world is converted? Suppose by prolongation of human life at the end of the next 50 years you should walk the length of Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, or the length of Broadway, New York. In all those walks you would not find one person that you recognize. Why? All dead or so changed you would not know them. In other words, if you postpone the redemption of this world for 50 years you admit that the majority of the two generations shall go off the stage unconverted and unawakened. I tell you the church of Jesus Christ cannot consent to it. We must pray and toil and have the revival spirit, and we must struggle to have the whole world saved before the men and women now in middle life part.

"Oh," you say, "it is too vast an enterprise to be conducted in so short a time." Do you know how long it would take to save the whole world if each man would bring another? It would take ten years. By a calculation in compound interest, each man bringing another that one another and that one another, in ten years the whole earth would be saved. But the organs in our churches are worn out they ought to sound the grand march of the whole earth saved. If the world is not saved in the next ten years, it will be the fault of the church of Christ. But it will all depend upon the revival spirit. The hook and line fishing will not do it.

THE COMING GREAT REVIVAL.

It seems to me as if God is preparing the world for some quick and universal movement. A celebrated electrician gave me a telegraph chart of the land. On that chart the wires crossing the continent and the cables under the sea looked like veins red with blood. On that chart I see that the headquarters of the lightnings are in Great Britain and the United States. In London and New York the lightnings are stable waiting to be discharged for some quick despatch. That shows you that the telegraph is in the possession of Christianity.

It is a significant fact that the man who invented the telegraph was an old-fashioned Christian, Professor Morse, and that the man who put the telegraph under the sea was an old-fashioned Christian, Cyrus W. Field, and that the president of the most famous of the telegraph companies of this country was an old-fashioned Christian, William Orton, going from the common table on earth straight to his home in heaven. What does all that mean?

I do not suppose that the telegraph was invented merely to let us know whether flour is up or down or which horse won the race at the Derby or which marksman beat at the latest contest. I suppose the telegraph was invented and built to call the world to God.

In some of the attributes of the Lord we seem to share on a small scale. For instance, in his love and in his kindness. But until of late foreknowledge, omniscience, omnipotence, omnipresence, seemed to have been exclusively God's possession, and it is desiring to make the race like himself, gives us a species of omniscience in the telephone and inventions all around about us, people are asking what next?

I want to tell you what next? Next, a stupendous religious movement. Next the end of war. Next, the crash of despotism. Next, the world's expurgation. Next, the Christlike dominion. Next, the judgment. What becomes of the world after that I care not. It will have suffered and achieved enough for creating men preparing in the books of eternity, like an old man-of-war gone out of service, or fit it up like a Constellation to carry bread of relief to some other suffering planet or let it be demolished. Farewell, dear old world, that began with paradise and ended with judgment consigning to the flames.

Last summer I stood on the Isle of Wight, and I had pointed out to me the place where the Eurydice sank with 200 or 300 young men who were in training for the British navy. You remember when that training ship went down there was a drift of horror all over the world. Since then there was another training ship missing, the Atalanta, gone down with all on board. By order of her majesty's government vessels went cruising up and down the Atlantic trying to find that lost training ship in which there were so many young men preparing for the British navy. Also, for the lost Atalanta, Oh, my friends, this world is only a training ship. On it we are training for heaven. The old ship sails up and down the ocean of immensity, now through the dark waves of midnight, now through the golden created wave of the morn, but sails in and sails on. After a while her work will be done, and the inhabitants of heaven will look out and find a world missing. The cry will be: "Where is that earth where Christ died and the human race was emancipated? Send out fleets of angels to find the missing earth." Let them sail up and down, cruise up and down the ocean of eternity, and they will catch not one glimpse of her mountain masts or her topgallants of floating cloud. Gone down! The training ship of a world perished in the last tornado. Oh, let it not be that the world will sink with all on board, but rather may it be said of her passengers, as it was said of the drowned passengers of the Alexandrian corn ship that crushed into the breakers of Melita, "They all escaped safe to land!"

It seems wonderful that after all these years of investigation and research the physicians are still helpless to relieve and cure one of the most common and most distressing afflictions to which men and women are subjected, itching and bleeding piles. In nine cases out of ten the doctors still recommend a surgical operation, with its expense, extreme pain and danger, as the only cure for piles.

Intense has been the suffering. This letter is but a sample of scores of hundreds of cases in Canada alone in which Dr. Chase's Ointment has proven a truly magical remedy. This letter is quoted because Mr. Duprau is well known throughout Ontario as an earnest minister of the Gospel, and one who has at heart the well-being of fellow-sufferers.

Rev. S. A. Duprau, Methodist minister, Consocon, Prince Edward County, Ont., states: "I was troubled with itching and bleeding piles for years, and they ultimately attained to a very violent form. Large lumps or abscesses formed, so that it was with great difficulty and considerable pain that I was able to stool. At this severe crisis I purchased a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, but I had little or no faith in it, as I had tried various remedies before, and to no purpose. Now, imagine how great and joyous was my surprise to find that just the one box cured me, so that the lumps disappeared, and also the external swelling. I feel like a different man to-day, and have not the least doubt that Dr. Chase's Ointment saved me from a very dangerous and painful operation and many years of suffering. It is with the greatest pleasure and testimonial as you see fit for the benefit of others similarly afflicted. You are invited to make this test and prove to your own satisfaction the most magical power of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Use it when you have it, and remember that it is guaranteed to cure any case of itching, bleeding or protruding piles; 60¢ a box, at all dealers, or by mail from Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
