Accurate. Probably more Canadians have crossed the Atlantic this summer than ever in one season before; this no doubt is due to the fact that the Colonial Exhibition now being held in London is the largest and most important yet. The present Exhibition is on a larger scale and has been more successful than any of its predecessors. The Fisheries Exhibition of '83 and the Health Exhibition of '84 and the latter was the largest yet. The Exhibition was opened by the Queen in the early part of May and has up to the present time attracted over a million and a half hundred thousand, an average of about 100,000 persons daily. The admission on ordinary days is a shilling but on Wednesday of each week is raised to 1s. 6d. and on the days of the Coronation to about fifteen shillings. The largeness of the figures I have given above for the present Exhibition is due to the fact that it is financially as well as otherwise. One of the most prominent objects displayed in the Exhibition is the fact that the Empire strikes the visitor eyes directly before him. The British Empire, as it is called, is the largest in the world. On this map the British possessions are colored red and the vast extent of the British Empire is at once apparent. In this manner. Beneath the map are tables printed in large type in which are shown the names of the various countries and imports, of all the different parts of the Empire; they show the total area to be 11,000,000 square miles, the total population to be three hundred and thirty millions, and the total area contains two hundred and fifty three millions. The population of Canada is shown to be 5,000,000. These figures are enormous figures, but nevertheless it is true that among all the Colonies Canada is the largest. It is also the largest and the general spirit of intelligence and advancement. There is no doubt, that the Empire is the greatest of all. The Exhibition surpasses any other portion of the Empire. It is the largest of all. Canada easily takes the lead in its display of those useful articles which have been produced in the various manufacturing departments Canada is especially conspicuous; it is quite a fact that many things are produced within the limits of our own Dominion. In the various departments of the Empire several Ontario firms including a display of the products of the Empire. The people who justly claim that they turn out as good work in this department as any other part of the Empire. The people of the province firm Stewart & White of St. John observe a conspicuous place they show pected the Canadian display of woollens and cottons is quite extensive. The Oxford Cotton Co. has a large collection of its tweeds and several upper province firms show up equally well. The cotton prints and knitting cotton of Messrs. Parks & Co. are attracting much notice. The St. Croix Cotton Company send no exhibit, but some of their cottons were sent here by a Montreal house having the name of the firm on the wall with the name of the manufacturer. Near to these is a small show of the cotton and cotton batting made by Mr. Gibson at the Marysville cotton mills. Mr. Fairall, of St. John, shows some specimens of his knitted shirts, drawers and socks. The two handsewn trophies in the Canadian section are an agricultural trophy and one designed to represent our furs and wild animals. The agricultural trophy is built up to a considerable height and contains specimens
