A Sad Story.—The last issue of the Panama Herald says:—

A Callao has arrived on the ship Julian, the master, mate and one sailor of the crew of the British ship Invercauld, which had not been heard of for over fourteen months.

The hardships through which these men have passed are of the most heartrending description. The Invercauld is a nearly new Aberdeen clipper; she sailed from Melbourne, May 2, 1864, bound for Callao; when eight days out, and in the neighbourhood of Auckland Islands, in a hurricane with blinding rain, the vessel was driven on a desert island. Six of the crew were drowned, and nineteen, including Capt. Delgarno, managed to get ashore. All they saved was three or four pounds of bread and as many of pork. Without clothes, shelter or food, these nineteen men lingered on, month after month for one year and ten days, living on shell fish and roots of scrub, one by one succumbing to famine and exposure, till the Julian, from Callao, having sprung a leak, put in to the very island of their captivity and rescued the three survivors. The captain proceeds to England on the Chile today.

"HAVE WE A QUEEN?"—This question is put by the Intelligencer: and really the style of articles in some New Brunswick papers would lead foreigners to suppose that there is neither a Queen, a Government, nor authorities, at the head of the nation of which we form a part. The Intelligencer's remarks are pungent and happy. We (Telegraph) quote:—

"HAVE WE A QUEEN?"—Mr. T. W. Anglin copied into the Freeman, of the 22d inst., our article of last week headed "The Queen and Confederation," and prefaced it with remarks which suggest the enquiry at the head of this article. Mr. Anglin wonders if the Editor of the Intelligencer believes that the Queen herself writes what is called the Queen's speech, or that she either wrote or caused to be written in the speech at the end of the session, the paragraph relating to Confederation. What the Editor of the "Intelligencer" believes in relation to this matter is of no consequence at all. We have a Queen, and she has her ministers of state, and whether they be wig or tory, the government of the realm is understood to be conducted according to the wishes of the Sovereign and her Cabinet. Public documents, whether they purport to emanate from a Colonial Secretary's office or from the Royal Palace, are authoritative, no matter by whom indited; and are entitled to the respect of those to whom they are addressed. No matter whether the speeches attributed to her Majesty were written by herself or her Secretary, or a Cabinet minister, they reflect the sentiments and wishes of the highest authority in the realm, and the man who would seek to undermine and denude them of that authority is a rebel against the government. When Mr. Cardwell's despatch to the Colonial Governors was received, no epithets were too vile to be heaped by Mr. Anglin upon her Majesty's minister for the colonies; no motives were too mean to be attributed to him. Surely when Mr. Cardwell was denounced by Mr. Anglin as "ignorant," "obstinately blind," "a laughing stock," and as "making himself disliked and despised by the people of the Provinces," it is no discredit for the Editor of the "Intelligencer" to be branded by Mr. A. with similar epithets. Mr. Anglin may succeed in persuading those readers of the Freeman (who like himself, wish it to be so), that the Queen has no wishes relative to the welfare of her subjects and the government of her realm; and that her speeches and proclamations have no authority, and therefore are not to be respected or obeyed; but he will not convince the "intelligent" and patriotic people of the country of such disloyal doctrines. Mr. Anglin is a member of the Executive, for which office unimpeached and unsuspected loyalty is one of the first qualifications. His sentiments as written and paraded before the public in the columns of the Freeman three times a week, viewed in connection with his antecedents, should convince his Excellency and the other members of the Council that Mr. Anglin is utterly disqualified for, and unworthy of his present position, and therefore should be called upon to resign.

AN INFANT SAVED FROM THE "WILLIAM NELSON."—An English paper says: Among the 43 rescued from the William Nelson are five women and five children, of whom one is the William Nelson, is a infant, only fourteen days old, and the sole survivor of a whole family on board. On the first alarm the two children were put by their parents into one of the boats subsequently picked up by the Lafayette. The parents afterwards endeavoured to join them by swimming but were drowned. The little orphan was carefully tended by a young woman, 19 years old, who has not since quitted her charge.

Another infant twelve months old is the sole survivor of a family of a father, mother, and seven children. Two Dutch children, one 12 the 13 years old, have lost their father and mother. Another lad of 18 years old is in the same case. His father, who has perished, had on board 27,300 francs in gold, his whole fortune.

REMARKABLE FROG-DIETY.—We learn from our Acton correspondent, that five women in the immediate neighborhood of that village have within a month past given birth to eleven children, four of twins, and one, Mrs. Nicoll, of three daughters all doing well.

What place can beat this?—[Osceola (G. W.) Advertiser.]

The relations between the United States and Europe have become so extensive in late years that the different lines of steamships, though doubled in number within a short time, are completely insufficient to meet the present demands. We see in the Belgian papers that a new line is about to be established between New York and Antwerp. M. M. de Hauteville and L. Vercken, directors of the Commercial Credit Company—a stock company of recent creation—are negotiating with the Cabinet of Brussels for the inauguration of this important enterprise.—[N. Y. Herald.]

An interesting firm of Yankee speculators who have been for some time engaged in buying up great quantities of old iron, brass and lead in Richmond, have lately extended their business and are employed in collecting human bones from the battle fields of Virginia, as well as those of horses, mules and oxen shipping them to northern button-makers. Their motto probably is "De mortuis nil a si bonum."—"we want nothing of the dead but their bones!"

GALLANT CONDUCT.—On Tuesday last, when the Tag Steamer Dobbins came to the wharf at St. Andrews—John, youngest son of Mr. John S. Magee, of that place, fell over and would undoubtedly have been drowned as he was sinking for the last time, and was some feet under water, when a passenger on board the Tag, named John Leshan, threw off his coat and jumped after the boy; diving to get him, he saved his life. Such brave and gallant conduct deserves the highest encomiums, and it is a pity that some method, like that adopted by the Humane Society in England, is not in operation in this Province to reward such gallant deeds. A purse was made by the passengers on board the steamer going up river and presented to the brave fellow.—[Journal.]

ST. ANDREWS RAILROAD.—Henry Osburn Esq., Manager of this road in order to meet the requirements of the travelling public, has ordered a new arrangement for the running of the trains: Passengers can leave Richmond Station, for Boston, every Monday and Thursday at 3 o'clock, A. M.; and for St. John every Monday at 3 A. M. and Thursday at 9 A. M. for boat next day. Trains leave St. Andrews every Tuesday and Friday on arrival of the Boston boat; and from St. John trains leave St. Andrews every Monday afternoon on arrival of boat. The fares by this route are very low. This arrangement we think will be generally approved of by the travelling public.—[Houlton Times.]

ST. ANDREWS, AUG. 2, 1865.

The preparations for the Great Festival were successfully completed last evening.—The commodious building has been tastefully decorated; the large room on the ground floor is devoted to the Ladies, whose tables to the left of the entrance extend the whole length of the room, with two at the upper end; interspersed among the evergreens are a number of fine paintings and prints, with numerous fancy shaped and coloured Chinese lanterns. To the right of the main entrance a large space has been set off for a "Museum," which contains a number of rare articles and choice cabinets of curiosities. The large upper room has been set apart for the Dining-room, where may be had all the delicacies of the season and a substantial dinner. The numerous useful and ornamental articles displayed for sale on the tables,—the winning smiles and engaging manners of the fair sex, who offer the articles so very cheap, will tempt many to relax their purse-strings, and purchase largely.—At all events we trust the sales will be large, even though the profits should be small, and that the Bazaar will be a decided success.

The day has turned out fine and warm; the Queen arrived with excursions from St. Stephen and Calsis, proceeded to St. George and brought over a large number from that place, and the Train from Woodstock arrived with a large number from the upper country, accompanied by the Woodstock Brass Band.

Among the visitors which are present at the Bazaar, we were pleased to notice, Capt. G. W. STREET, of H. M. 16th Regt., and family. His numerous friends here, where he was always deservedly popular and respected gave him a most hearty reception. The regiment is at present stationed in Canada.

From letters received by the last mail from England, it will not be surprising, if the Royal Gazette may contain a proclamation, dissolving the House. That there will be a change ere long, no one doubts; but in what way, they are equally at a loss to divine—but that the feeling is growing in favour of a Union of the Colonies is no longer doubted.

The Circuit Court was opened here yesterday, Tuesday, His Honor Mr. Justice Parker presiding. There were five causes entered for trial, two criminal cases.

Gen. Grant is on his way to visit Maj. Gen. Doyle, at Halifax whose guest he will be. These interchanges of friendly feelings among the military men on both sides of the lines will be productive of much good, and serve to allay if not check the rabid feelings of those ultra northerners who would like to kick up a dust with Great Britain. The recent meeting of commercial men at Detroit, has also been a means of coming to a better understanding with our neighbors. It has tended to a mutual respect and consequently mutual forbearance.

The officers and men who have returned from the Camp of Instruction, express themselves well pleased with their visit to Fredericton, and the knowledge acquired while at the Camp.

Notice to Subscribers. Our collector will call upon those indebted to this Office for the amounts due; when we trust they will be prepared to liquidate their accounts. Many are indebted for one year and upwards, and as we have bills to meet this month, they will oblige us by paying without delay.

CONCERT.—That celebrated and popular troupe of vocalists, the "Hutchinson Family" consisting of Asa, Lizzie, Abby, Susy and little Dennett, will give a Concert, in St. Andrews, on Monday Evening next, 7th August. Performance in the Town Hall.—The Evening Traveller says:—

"The sweetest music ever heard in Boston, comes from the Hutchinson Family. The Entertainment they give is one of the most pleasing character. We sat last evening in perfect delight as they sang their songs of 'Friendship and Freedom.' The little boy, Dennett, is a marvel, and it is worth three times the price of tickets to hear him.

We learn from a friend who heard them, that their songs are chaste, pathetic, and pleasing, and that the music is rich and sweet.

ITEMS.—People will scarcely believe the statement, but it is a fact that some days ago a woman and a mother in this City offered to sell the infant at her breast to strangers for money! This in the Nineteenth Century—in a civilized country—in St. John, New Brunswick! The woman was reduced to beggary; poverty had turned her heart to stone.—[Telegraph.]

The French Government has met with another defeat at the polls. In the same district where the Duke de Morny was returned only two years ago by upwards of 21,000 votes against a minority of 500, the opposition candidate has now been chosen by 2,000 majority.

Dr. Isaac Case of Bucksport, came to Farmington Falls about ten days ago, to visit his friends and for his health. He was found Thursday in the Sunday river at that village drowned, with a stone tied to his neck weighing about twenty pounds. His coat, hat, and cane were safely laid upon the bank of the river. He has been a member of the State Senate.—[Chronicle.]

An extensive bed of pure white marble capable of taking a fine polish, has been discovered in Sank County, Wisconsin.

Robert Da E Owen is to have two years for writing his life of President Lincoln, and his publishers pay him $3,000 when he begins his work and $15,000 when he ends it.

A difficulty occurred at the picnic at Rock Springs, Tenn., on the 8th, between Union and rebel soldiers, in the death of three and seriously wounding seven.

A gambler's epitaph: No Cards, Mr. Quilp upon cursing his nephew for bad speculations in "oil," was shocked at the retort that "the money was Well spent."

The use of the word "lady," instead of the word "wife," is vulgarly in language. We often notice it in exchange papers.—There is no better or expensive word than "wife," and we hope journalists will insist on its correct use.

A contemporary says that there are 400,000 feathers upon the wing of a silk-worm moth. Any one wanting a nice little job, and doubting the truth of the statement can easily satisfy himself by counting them.

A Portuguese shoemaker used to give his wife a severe flogging every month just before he went to confession. On being asked the reason of this proceeding, he replied that of refreshing it, as his wife, while under the castigation, was sure to remind him of all his sins.

GREAT YIELD.—Six tons of hay full weight cut one day last week on a few rods less than one and one third acres of land, in Wm. H. Hemmenway's field on Broad Street the land has recently been top dressed with stable manure. This is the largest yield of hay we ever recorded.—[Machias Union.]

The Boston papers inform us that Stewart the man who was arrested on suspicion of being connected with the murder of the Joyce children, in Roxbury, will probably be discharged for want of evidence.

It is thought the next Congress will put a stamp duty on Eggs, as manufactured articles. In anticipation of this a rise has taken place in market.

The old fashioned custom using a little Medford in haying time is still in vogue.—We saw an old fellow a few days since who had just purchased a gallon. "Awful times, these," said he, shaking his head. "Four dollars and a half a gallon for a little, some to take, and all on account of the damned nigger."—[Cor. Boston Herald.]

General Grant has frequently expressed the opinion that the French will soon be obliged to leave Mexico.

Barnes saved his fat girl and his fat seal so his fat is not all in the fire.

Cotton mills which have been idle for three years are now being started up as fast as the requisite supply of help can be secured. This will tend the fabrics cheaper.

Several small buildings at Port George, Annapolis County, N. S., owned by Mr. Jas Cropley, were burned down a few days ago; loss $500, partially insured.

The total value of real and personal property in Halifax, according to the assessor's estimate, is £4,062,168. This includes £635,681 owned by banks and companies.

—Almost every American paper we open no matter from what part of the country, contains an account of one or more riots, in which returned soldiers have demolished a liquor saloon, a store, or a police station, setting the civil authorities at defiance. In some cases lives are lost. The disturbances result mainly from drinking, or from some injuries done the poor soldiers, who appear to be considered fair subjects from which every unprincipled scoundrel can, without compunction, extort the hard earned greenbacks.—[Globe.]

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.—Three ladies were crushed to death on the lake steamer Ottawa on the 4th, while making a pleasure excursion to Put-in-Bay, the particulars of which are furnished by the Sandusky Ohio, Register:—"The shaft of the vessel is situated some eighteen inches above the main deck, and spliced in the center. From the splices a nut protruded which, in its revolutions, caught the crinoline of a Miss Whitehead, who, in her desperate efforts to extricate herself, from being wound round the shaft, caught hold of a Mrs. Montgomery with a deadly grasp. Mrs. Montgomery immediately grasped a Mrs. Fisher, and the three were wound around the shaft together, and crushed in the most horrible manner.
