The Coffin.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 5 .- Alexander III.'s coffin is of polished oak and is lined with white satin. It rests on four golden feet and is richly ornamented with gold wreaths.

Costly Insult.

China's Loan.

LONDON, Nov. 5 .- The details of the China silver loan show that the £1,600,000 issued will probably be subscribed, but no huge success is anticipated. Large exports of gold are announced from here, and the Bank of England has raised the selling price of bar gold to 77 shillings 103 pence per ounce.

A Genuine Bomb.

London, Nov. 5 .- The bomb that was exploded last night in front of the residence of Reginald Brett, son of Lord Esher, was composed of two pieces of iron pipe screwed together, and was detonated by a combination of chlorate of potash and picric acid. The infernal machine was of a style similar to those known to have been turned out by continental Anarchists skilled in bomb manufacture.

The G. O. M.'s Recreation. LONDON, Nov. 5 .- The translation of the Odes of Horace by Mr. Gladstone, the first once against discretionary pools and fruits of his leisure, will be issued tomorrow. In the preface to the work the ex-Premier says his chief excuse for the translation just completed is to show the necessity for compression, which has hitherto been neglected by translators.

The Late Czar's Remains. ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 5 .- The Prince and Princess of Wales will accompany the imperial party on the way to St. Petersburg. Moscow will be reached probably on the 11th and St. Petersburg on the 13th. The imperial family will accompany the body from the beginning to the end of the journey. Exposing the body in Livadia vesterday was abandoned because the process of embalming it had not been

Will Submit to Force Only.

PARIS, Nov. 5 .- The Temps prints a dispatch from Zanzibar saving the reply of the Hova Government to the French ultimatum presented to M. le Myre de Vilers, the French special commissioner to Madagascar, is that they will submit to force only. The telegraph wires between Antanarivo, the capital of Madagascar, and Tamatave, the chief port, have been cut. The French have departed from Antanarivo. Fighting in Corea.

LONDON, Nov. 6 .- A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company from Corea says that an engagement took place on Oct. 15 at Ah Sung, southward of Seone, between Corean and Japanese soldiers and a body of Tonghak rebels. The Coreans and Japanese attacked the rebels. The combined forces lost 150 killed and many seriously wounded. The rebel loss is not stated. The Tonghaks maintain their sway in Southern Corea.

The Czar's Fiance.

London, Nov. 5 .- The Czarewitch was deeply moved by his father's death. The Princess Alix, who long hesitated to renounce the faith of her fathers, to which she clung lovingly, was glad under these circumstances to make the sacrifice and relieve her fiance's heart. It is stated that the conversion was hurried because 40 days must elapse between the baptism and the marriage. There is now just time for the marriage before Advent begins.

Fierce Hand-to-Hand Encounter.

London, Nov. 5 .- A dispatch to the Times from Quetta gives details of the attack Saturday morning by Waziri tribesmen on the men of the escort of the political officer who is engaged in the delimitation of the Waziristan-Purjaub frontier. The escort, which was under the command of Col. A. H. Turner, had been awaiting the onset for an hour, armed and accoutered. The weather was bitterly cold. The Waziris crept up the ravine past the pickets and a hand-to-hand encounter followed. The Goork has, who comprised the escort, behaved splendidly against the superior force. Within a quarter of an hour the enemy broke and retired. The cavalry was then able to charge, not, however, before a heavy fire was poured into the camp by a body of Waziris supporting the attacking party. The tribesmen were pursued several miles and 250 of them were killed. The British loss was Lieut. P. J. F. Macauley, 21 soldiers and 23 followers killed, including 2 native officers, and a few officers and 32 men wounded. It is believed that the punishment inflicted was severe enough to deter the Waziris from further fighting.

China Wants the War Stopped. London, Nov. 5 .- The Central News says there is reason to believe that China has resolved to formally ask the powers who have immediate commercial interests at stake to stop the war. The Chinese Minister is said to have communicated the request to the Foreign Office in London this afternoon. This evening he started for Paris to seek interviews with M. Hano- 39, an employe in the mill of the Toronto taux, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and President Casimir-Perier.

Pekin China is disposed to conclude peace upon the basis of acknowledgment of the an indemnity to be fixed by the powers. The powers who are willing to support this arrangement are requested to intervene," The Daily News has information that China is suing for peace, and has instructed her envoys in Europe to submit to the powers the terms which she is willing to offer. It is a formal renewal or repetition on a larger scale of the overtures made to the British Government a month ago. The News expresses again its approval of Lord Rosebery's effort for jointinterference, and speaks regretfully of the reluctance of the powers to see the matter in the same light. No European Government, it says, can desire to see this disastrous conflict prolonged. Even the United States, despite the Monroe doctrine, must be concerned for the regularity and security of their trade cupy the mountain pass on the high road with Japan. Sooner or later, and better sooner than later, there must be an international settlement. It will be difficult to

In a letter on China's proposals for peace the Standard will say tomorrow: "The conquerors will for the first time display a lack of sagacity if they decline to accept reasonable overtures for peace. Examining Into the Alleged Aldermanic Boodling in Teronte-Startling Statements.

TORONTO, Oct. 5. - The investigation into the charges of alleged corruption among aldermen was continued this afternoon before Mr. P. McDougald. Some rather startling evidence was given by City Engineer Keating, to the effect that Mr. | knife. Wheeler, agent of the Brush Electric Light Company, of Cleveland, O., which was contemplating putting in a tender for a civic electric light plant, had asked him what amount of money it would be necessary to inclose with the tender for purposes of financing.
Mr. Wheeler had further told witness that an alderman had told him the sum of $15,000 would be required for the purpose. This sum would be divided among thirteen aldermen-$1,000 each, and the rest for the aldermen who managed the affair, counsel asking the names to be kept quiet for the

There are 24 aldermen in all. Mr. Keating was asked why he did not speak of it before. He said he did not believe Mr. Wheeler at first, and subsequently thought it was a thing he had better be out of. TEARS IN COURT.

Wanton Women Who Were Found in a Club Room.

With the Aid of a Lawyer They Soften the Magistrate's Heart and Get Off.

Jennie Riddle and Elizabeth Murray, the two young women who were found in a King street club room at lo'elock one morning last week, were up on remand at the Police Court this morning. Both of these women are entitled to write "Mrs." before their names, but as marriage was a failure in their cases in the widest sense of the word, they prefer to be known as plain Jennie and Elizabeth. Otherwise they were not plain, but decidedly good locking and well dressed. Riddle is the wife of a physician, but is not hampered by matters matrimorial to any great extent, and during the summer she cut quite a dash on the streets with her dark eyes, dark brown dress and black hair, curled short a la mode, except in rainy weather, when the curls lost their accustomed kinks. She lives in London West with her mother, who bailed her out last week. Murray, who travels under her maiden name, had been in jail a week. She is the wife of an ex-hotel-keeper's son, and like her consort she shock off the marriage ties some time ago. Eighteen months since she left town at the request of the magistrate and on suspended sentence. This morning they chatted smilingly to one another until the magistrate appeared, when an effort was made to start the tear taps, but Murray was the only one to suc-

GENERAL DEBILITY.

How to Secure Release from the Distressing Symptoms That Follow in the Train of a "Run Down"

System.

The expression general debility is frequently made use of in referring to those who are weakly or whose system is run down, and it covers a multitude symptoms that either singly or in the aggregate make life miserable, and hurry the victim to an early grave unless prompt and efficient means are taken to restore exhausted nature by building up the blood and assisting it to absorb oxygen, that great sustainer of all organic life. As a blood builder and nerve restorer Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People surpass all other medicines known to science. Their action is speedy and certain, building up the shattered system and driving out disease. Miss Olive E. Orde, Greywood, N. S., bears testimony to the efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind. She says: "When I began using Pink Pills my whole system was run down to the extent that I was unable to do any housework. My appetite was poor, I had almost constant severe headaches, dizziness and other distressing symptoms, and my friends feared I was going into a decline. I soon began to recover under the influence of your wonderful medicine, and am now as well as ever I was, and feel that I owe my present good health to Pink Pills, which I cheerfully recommend to others who may be suffering as I was." If you are suffering from any of the troubles due to poor and watery blood, or shattered nerves, do not waste precious time, or your money, in experiments with other medicines-procure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once, and you will speedily be restored to full health and strength. Sold by all dealers or sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2 50 by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. For health's dear sake, The remedy that did for me such wonders great, I beg to state that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the one thing that can and does cure the derangements of the female system. It is woman's great regulator. If every woman who suffers from diseases peculiar to her sex knew of its wonderful curative properties, a chorus of rejoicing would be heard throughout the length and breadth of the land singing its praises. For nursing mothers and debilitated "run-down" women generally, it is the greatest restorative tonic and soothing nervine known. For those about to become mothers it is indeed a priceless boon. The Rawhide Cure.

HAMILTON, Nov. 5 .- William Warren, the newspaper thief, who was to be whipped by his parents or the police, came to No. 3 police station this morning with an order from his parents authorizing the police to whip him. Mr. Douglas prosecuted, and Mr. John The Berlin Telegraph is offered for sale owing to the poor health of the proprietor, who is desirous of rest after a service of 25 Reeve defended the accused, against whom the charge of inciting to a breach of the peace, by way of incendiary denunciations of the Catholic Church, priesthood and sisterhood, was preferred, also of carrying G. T. R. through trains may run via Brantford. It is said the city will offer a onus towards a spur from Paris and Harrisconcealed weapons.

THE COMPLAINANT. James Liddy, of Harwich, who laid the charge, deposed that the prisoner Allen was speaking at a meeting in the Grangers Hall, near Bridge End, about Oct. 18. There was no chairman, and about 40 or 50 were there. He was speaking about the steamer United Empire, was drowned at Duluth Sunday night. He walked off the dock in the dark. Stauffer came from near priests, nuns and Catholic women, The particulars of this witness' testimonyare unfit to appear in print. The man Allen, he said, was armed with a club and a revolver. The statements made by the accused were of the most OBSCENE AND DEFAMATORY character, and witness declared he was going to smash him, when Trustee Mc-Cormick interfered. "If I had caught hold of him," said witness, "I would have smashed his brains out. Calling their wives these vile names would have the same effect upon all Roman Catholics." Other witnesses were Thomas Drew, John Lamb, James McCormick, Wm. Richardson, Wm. Hagan, Thomas Casey and Wm. Smith, all of the township of Harwich. All corroborated in the main the evidence of Mr. Liddy and told of the abominable charges flung by the prisoner. Some did and others did not see the revolver.

As to the second charge Mr. James Brown, reeve of the township of Harwick, testified: I saw the prisoner on the platform of the River View Hotel, at Kent Bridge. He was speaking of the abuses of the Catholic Church. The character of his remarks was such as to lead persons to believe that the conduct of the priests was very immoral, and that the inmates of the nunneries were equally so. He said he expected his remarks to anger members of the Catholic Church, and that he was prepared for violence from them; that he

The prisoner was committed for trial on both charges, and Mr. Reeve's request that bail be allowed was refused.

"If we were only living in New York, what fashionable attire we could buy, and how stylish we would look."

Some paople talk so, but they should cease grumbling. The people of New York have no better opportunities for buying than Londoners. The New York belles look stylish because they buy the styles as soon as they appear. It is not so with all the ladies of London. Some hang back and wait until a more courageous lass comes forth attired in "the latest."

Our business is to get the latest, and we do get it. Indeed, we go to the English markets twice a year to procure the fashions. There we meet the New York buyer. He buys from the same manufacturer as wedo. It's a big error for London ladies to think that they are behind in the matter of stylish Dress Goods. The ladies who secure our goods can dress as stylishly as any American. There is one store in London that keeps the fashions, and that store is ours.

TUESDAY MORNING. The sittings were opened at 9 o'clock this morning with Chief Justice Armour on the bench, the court officials in their places, a swarm of lawyers around the tables, only a few spectators on the rear benches, and the old and tattered Union Jack flying from the flag pole. The chief justice had no address to deliver, but started into the list of 21 cases which will occupy his attention for a few days. In five minutes two cases were struck off. Seth Young, of Dreaney's Corners, was burned out about a year ago, and claimed to have lost everything. He held a policy in the London Mutual Insurance Company, but the company refused to pay the claim in full, alleging that Young was charging for articles that were not destroyed, and also that he was over-valuing some of the articles burned. A DISPUTE OVER SOME LAND. The suit of the Ontario Investment Association and the Dominion Investment was in the nature of a surprise, as Rev. dulph, from the Ontario Investment Assoments for one month the mortgagors could take possession of the land. Mary could not keep up the payments and the association took charge. In the spring of 1893, the plaintiffs claim that by verbal agreement they rented the farm to Keefe for one year. At the expiration of that lease Keele went to the association and desired to rent for another twelve months, but the holders refused. Keets didn't get off the land and is on it yet, and refufes to give up possession although repeatedly asked to do so. The defendant, Keefe, claimed that in 1890 Jas. McLaughlin, son of Mary, then deceased, was in possession of the property, and made an agreement with him to rent the land for ten years from January 1891, at the rate of $50 a year and taxes. This sum was paid to the association for three years, but in August of this year the association distrained upon Keefe's goods for the rent, and now ask for full possession. Judgment reserved. T. H. Conductors Committed for Trial. MONTREAL, Nov. 5 .- The Grand Trunk conductors-Defries, Tamblyn, Stone and Mulligan-were this morning committed to the Queen's Bench for trial on a charge of defrauding their employers by means of lorged tickets.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 .- Dr. Charles Parkhurst yesterday departed from his late custom of refraining from political discussion in his Sunday sermons and launched into a denunciatory invective against Tam. many Hall, Madison Square Presbyterian Church was filled. The doctor said that unless the condition of affairs in New York was swiftly changed God would speedily wreak his vengeance on this city as he did on Sodom and Gomorrah. Mr. Mercier's Money.

MONTREAL, Nov. 5 .- The Presse on Saturday said: "Mr. Mercier was poor; he did not leave a penny. There is nothing but the furniture of his house and some debts. If his friends since 1892 had not paid the preminm on his life insurance his family would be in great poverty. Thanks to the generosity of friends, there is an insurance policy of $22,000. This is an eloquent answer to those who pretended that Mercier had amassed riches at the expense of the country." It is interesting to note that the title of Count of the Holy Roman Empire is inherited by Mr. Mercier's eldest son, who is entitled to the honor during his lifetime, but on his death it will lapse, unless specially revived.

The Idea That Bright's Disease Cannot Be Cured Proven To Be a Fallacy.

QUEBEC, Nov. 5 .- Local physicians are much gratified over the letter of Dr. A. G. McCormick, of Richmond, this Province, testifying to his cure of Bright's Disease by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Since the introduction of the remedy in this city many physicians have not hesitated to prescribe the pills, and numerous cures have been the result. This latest testimony, coming from so well known a medical man, proves that the local men were right in changing the old-time remedies for Dodd's Kidney Pills. Hence their jubila-

And Lay the Street Railway Matter Over for a Fortnight.

A New Pavement Can Be Had on Dundas Street West

For the Asking-Proposition to Have Only Four Wards-Paid Commissioners Instead of Committees-Market Bazar Matter Laid Over,

The city fathers held a business session last night after a three weeks' rest, and, strange to say, they got through their work before 11 o'clock. One reason for the good time made was the fact that the council missed taking up the electric street railway matter on a tie vote, which was of course negative. All the members were present, and Plain, regular price, 25c. Ald. Thos. Jones coming in towards the latter end of the session. Ald. Parnell was once more in his chair. There was an extra large crowd of visitors. Perhaps the most interesting portion of the proceedings was the selection of the polling booths for the coming election. There were only three objections to the official list as prepared by the ruling element of the council. Once an amendment, moved by one of the minority, happened to carry by one vote. There was an immediate call for the yeas and nays, and the delinquent aldermen fell into line with sheepish countenances and voted the straight ticket. Ald. Scarrow objected to a coal and wood office being used in the third ward, but his objection came to naught. Ald. J. W. Jones moved that a room at Tripp's livery stable be used instead of Webb's store on John street. The aldermen admitted that Tripp's was more centrally located, but could not go back on the "official" list, Ald. Parnell's motion to use Broomfield's house on the Wortley road, instead of the Grand avenue school house, was also voted

The prepared list stands as follows:

NUMBER ONE WARD. Subdivision 1, city hall; subdivision 2, George Chittick's shop; subdivision 3, Dr. O'Neil's office, 347 Talbot street; subdivision 4, Campbell's coal office, north side of Bathurst street; subdivision No. 5, E. Melbourne's house, 280 Talbot street; subdivision 6, Mrs. Johnston's house, 205 Horton street; subdivision 7, Richard Thompson, 151 Wellington street.

NUMBER TWO WARD. Subdivision 1, J. W. Fletcher, 114 Carling street; subdivision 2, Percival's, Queen's avenue; subdivision 3, Turner's carriage shop, Richmond street; subdivision 4, Mr. James Webb, 192 John street; subdivision 5, F. T. C. Richardson's house, 723 Richmond street; subdivision 6, McNeil's grocery, Richmond street north, opposite Protestant Orphans' Home.

NUMBER THREE WARD. York street; subdivision 2, W. Scott's missioners instead. house, 608 King street; subdivision 3, Thos, Atkinson's house, Burwell street; subdivision 4, Wm. Evans' house, 497 Horton street; subdivision 5, Mrs. James Lloyd's house, 346 Grey street; subdivision 6. John Coulter's house, 70 Maitland street; subdivision 7, John Gerry's house, 337 Hill street.

NUMBER FOUR WARD. Subdivision 1. Michael H. Alfred's house, 17 Queen's avenue; subdivision 2, Spencer Freeland's house, 503 Maitland street; subdivision 3, W. J. Holmes' house, 578 Colborne street: subdivision 4, James Lucas house, 554 Princess avenue; subdivision 5, Mrs. McDonald's house, 478 Pall Mall street; subdivision 6, Wm. Barry's house,

922 Colborne street. NUMBER FIVE WARD. Subdivision 1, Thos. English's shoe store, Hamilton road; subdivision 2, John Mc-Pherson's house, 495 Hamilton road; subdivision 3a, Town Hall; 3b, Thomas Sargeant's, corner of English and Dundas streets; subdivision 4, R. Welsh's, 621
Princess avenue; subdivision 5, J. A. Matthews', 921 Dufferin avenue. NUMBER SIX WARD. Subdivision 1, school house, Grand avenue; subdivision 2, Mrs. Laclair's house, 165 Bruce street; subdivision 3, Richard Harris', 36 Euclid avenue; subdivision 4, James Connor's, Bruce street, south side; subdivision 5, R. Sparrowhawk's house, Committee Reports. No. 3 committee did not report.

NUMBER TWO COMMITTEE.

Ald. Garratt read No. 2 committee's report. The first clause gave permission to Thos. S. Walls to have a switch laid across Colborne street from the C. P. R. to his

Ald. Scarrow objected that the switch was unnecessary at that place. Walls' property abutted the C. P. R. for several hundred yards, and if he chose he could use his own property for the switch. He moved no action. Ald. Parnell seconded, and spoke in favor of the amendment, which carried, and the clause was thrown out.

Clause 4 provided that if the ratepayers on Dundas street applied for a permanent pavement between Richmond and Ridout streets they should have the unexpired payments on the present pavement remitted. Ald. Coo wished the selection of the pavement to be left with the ratepayers and Ald. F. J. Fitzgerald wanted the council to decide on what pavement should be used. The clause was adopted and the pavement must be approved of by No. 2 committee and likewise the council. Clause 8 provided for a plank sidewalk on Ontario street, east side, between Queen's avenue and Dundas street.

"Where is the money to come from?" asked Ald. Parnell. Ald. Dreaney said that the sidewalk was provided for in the estimates. Six new houses had been built at this block and the sidewalk was badly needed. Ald. Scarrow moved that a sidewalk be laced on the east side of Colborne street, between Princess avenue and Dufferin avenue. Ald Garratt seconded Engineer Graydon reported that over $1,200 yet remained to the credit of the committee. Of the street appropriation $389 was yet unused, and $900 remained to be expended in street cleaning. The sidewalk will cost $150, and if there are funds it will go down. NUMBER ONE COMMITTEE.

Accounts amounting to $7,026 31 were passed. The account of E. North of $603 70 for artificial stone tile was referred to No. 2 committee to explain why the account was contracted without tenders being called. The Teachers' Association was given the annual grant of $25.

Clause 12 laid before the council an amended street railway proposition. In the matter of routes, concessions were made by the committee, as already puboatterns and lished. The line that was struck at ADKIN's, out of the street railway company's extension was reinserted as follows: "Subject to an agreement being made with the Proof Line Road Company by said railway company.'

Sub-section 2 reads: "That sections 7 and 8 be amended so as to provide that in case the city neglects to give notice one year before the expiration of the franchise the company may continue to run the railway for one year after the franchise, and if the city neglect to give one year's notice at the expiration of the franchise the company may continue to run the railway for five years after the expiration of the first franchise, and so on for each succeeding five years; and for any pavements put down for the next 25 years the company to be allowed nothing, and for any pavement put down during the last six years of the franchise the company to be allowed for the unexpired life of same, the amount to be ascertained upon the basis of the actual cost of same, provided always that the city take over the road at the expiration of the 31st or 32nd year, as the case may be."

The conditions relating to paving remained as formerly passed by the Council. Instead of being obliged to strengthen the present bridges in case of use, and the paying of one-half of all future bridge repairs, the company was given the option of extending the abutments of the city bridges and lay rails for their exclusive use or of building bridges for themselves.

"I understaed that the committee has just about come to terms with the street railway company," said Ald. Coo. "Is that so?

Ald. Judd-That is not the case. Ald. Garratt moved that the matter lay over until the next meeting of the council, and that the copies of the amended agreement be furnished each alderman. Ald. Carrothers and J. W. Jones moved in amendment that the matter be taken up at once and discussed.

In further amendment Ald. Coo and Pritchard moved the adoption of the clause and asked that it be referred back to the committee to confer with the street railway company to see whether the amendments meet their views.

The last named amendment was lost, only the mover and seconder voting yea. Ald. Carrothers' amendment was lost on a negative vote, the result of the following division:

Yeas-Pritchard, J. W. Jones, Thomas Jones, Carrothers, Dreaney, Judd, Shaw, 25 cents per bottle. Sold by druggists Parnell, Nutkins-9. Nays-Taylor, John Heaman, O'Meara, Coo, Wm. Heaman, Scarrow, James Fitzgerald, Garratt, Essery-9. Ald. Garratt's motion shelving the matter for a fortnight carried on the following division.

Yeas-Taylor, J. Heaman, O'Meara, Coo, Wm. Heaman, Thos. Jones, Scarrew, Jas. Fitzgerald, Garratt, Nutkins, Essery, Dreaney-12.

Nays-Pritchard, J. W. Jones, Carrothers, Judd, Shaw and Parnell-6. Other Business.

Ald. Taylor moved that his notice of motion to do away with the Market Bazar be postponed indefinitely. Ald. Wm. Heaman gave notice of motion to divide the city into four wards and to have prepared a bylaw to that effect to be submitted to the ratepayers at the next general election.

He also gave notice of motion to do away with the system of committees, and to have Subdivision 1, W. Skinner's house, 326 | the work intrusted to the care of paid com-

Ald. Pritchard gave notice of motion to enter negotiations with the county authorities to endeavor to have the position of the hay market changed from its present quarters to the vacant lot on the corner of Ridout and King streets.

The bylaw authorizing the rental of a room in the East End town hall to Chorazin Lodge, I. O. O. F., for a period of ten years was read and passed. The fire limits bylaw was laid aver.

While it contains a good deal that is of interest to medical men only, yet we know of no other publication where the most interesting points of the early history of our country are told in such an attractive manner. To the credit of the medical profession be it said, they took a deep interest in all the events of those stirring times, and the lives of many of them bristle with incidents that read like a romance. For spicy reading we commend the lives of Drs. William Dunlop, Charles Duncombe and many others. SHALL WE STRENGTHEN MR. HOBBS' HANDS TO GET A NORMAL SCHOOL?

One would almost infer f rom some observations by our esteemed local contemporary, that on the whole it would be rather naughty on the part of Mr. Hobbs to do his promised level best as member for London in the Provincial Legislature, after Oct. 20, to make this city as much an educational center as it is now a recognized railway center, an exhibition center, a business center. LONDON FIRST is Mr. Hobbs' motto! He rightly believes that a city already noted for public and private educational facilities -which possesses the best and biggest Collegiate Institute in Canada, several colleges, a Medical School, a University Charter, should have its educational inducements made complete by a Western Normal School for the training of teachers. Such a Government institution would make London attractive to many parents as a place of residence, and in various ways help every business interest in our midst.

As Member for London after the 20th of this month, Mr. Hobbs will be in a still more favorable position to put in his best energies for London First. We do not deny that other places will contend for the Normal School. It is only natural, and we do not blame any other place for that. But, reasoning from analogy, Mr. Hobbs' determination and success in already bringing new branches of business to this city afford a guarantee that he will at least do his level best to secure the educational prize for the city of his choice and his affection. In such things tact and a businesslike handling of affairs are of great value. and the same may be said of the negative virtue of not flying off the handle and petulantly kicking over the milk-pail just when it is nearly full.

Let us all adopt Mr. Hobbs' motto, "LONDON FIRST!" and let our citizens, irrespective of party, unite in holding up his hands. Let us get the Normal School.

NO ELECTRIC RAILWAY THIS YEAR Last night the London City Council street railway question, and then left the matter over for another two weeks. It is now over two years since the question of applying electricity to the present street railway lines was first brought forward, and since negotiations were entered into with the street railway company with that object in view. At that time Mayor Spencer was chief magistrate, and commendable speed was made with an agreement which was practically completed when he retired from the chair. The agreement was put to one side in the following February, and from that time to this the question has been kept in a state of unsettlement. Whether an agreement will soon be come to remains to be seen, but we need not say that the public are tired of the haggling, and desire to have the question settled, and the work of construction proceeded with as early as possible. London is a progressive city, and the people do not desire to lag behind in the provision of any appliances or conveniences that make for the comfort and prosperity of -Motto of Mr. Hobbs, the Citizen Candi- the people. We are confident that if a conciliatory attitude had been adopted many months since an agreement could have been arrived at that would have perof the extensions during the past summer and fall. Sir Oliver is improvement would be now under way. It is understood that even were an agreement reached at once, the season for active work -Toronto has officially-municipally it on the road has passed, and no operations you will-requested that it be allowed to could be undertaken before next year. But join its tears with those of the Romanoffs an early settlement would undoubtedly be beneficial to the company, as it could then, during the ensuing winter, get ready its supplies, and go vigorously forward with the work early next spring. We trust that the time for dalliance will soon pass.

-It is probable that before long the churches generally will follow the example of St. James' Presbyterian Church, this city, and adopt the individual communion

TORONTO CHILDISHNESS. One or two Toronto newspapers are exhibiting suspicious activity in intermeddling with the London bye-election. They traduce and misrepresent Mr. Hobbs and guments regarding the strength of the politicians in the Legislature. The World, for example, incidentally discusses the relative in the reign of Henry III. and of Edward strength of the Mowat Ministry, recently returned to power for another four years, ment, and in the reign of Edward III. six and the Opposition. Our esteemed contemporary finds it an impossible task, however, to prove that a new and untried leader like Mr. Marter, with a -To all interested in the early history following of 25, can by any means whatever secure the defeat of the veteran Premier, the most astute and experienced statesman lished by Dr. Canniff, of Toronto. It is in the Dominion. Sir Oliver has practically entitled "A History of the Medical Pro- double the followers that his opponent fession in Upper Canada from 1783 to leads, and is likely to increase the number as time rolls by, as has been the case after every general election in Ontario since his fellow-countrymen placed him in a position of trust. It is perfectly absurd and childish to assume that Mr. Marter's 25 tolowers can dominate a House of 94.

A BOON TO COMMITTEEMEN,

ALSO. Election committee men have been relieved of a great deal of trouble by the registration of manhood suffrage voters which took place last week, and which resulted, it is confidently asserted, in a clear gain of 300 votes for Mr. Hobbs. In the June election it was discovered that the voters list was far from complete, and that Mr. Hobbs fared the worst from this defect. Therefore, his friends rejoiced when, in spite of the opposition of those desiring his defeat, the registration act was put in force, and it was rendered possible for every man entitled to a vote to get on the list with ease. But there is another side to the question. Since the old list was made up, hundreds of young men, who were entitled to vote then have moved away from the city, and have thereby forfeited their right to go to the polls. Under the old system the names of these young men would have remained on the list and their owners could be sworn at the polls. Under the Dominion Franchise Act, no matter whether he has been living in the States for years, a man can be brought back to vote and his vote cannot be challenged, if by any means, fair or unfair, it is once on the lists. But under registration on the eve of an election, such as we have had, every manhood suffrage voter has to register, every man who has moved away, and thus cannot qualify, is scored off the list, while every newcomer who has resided in the city three months is admitted to the list.

The effect of this purging and the labor it saves to committeemen, can be gathered from the fact that in the first corrected list for an ordinary city subdivision that the writer took up it was found that 63 persons had been stricken off, at least 30 of whom had moved from the city, whereas over 30 had come into the city or otherwise had qualified in the short space intervening since last election ! With such results flowing from registration, one is astonished that anyone should be opposed to it. The only explanation of the opposition to it that can be discovered lies in the fact that it was known from the first that the friends of Mr. Hobbs would profit enormously by it. That is not a valid objection, but it has its effect in showing the trend of public opinion.

Castle Garden.

His Reminiscences After Forty Years' Sojourn.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 4, 1894. weather on Saturday being most delightful, a stroll was the order of the day. I landed at Barclay street, New York, and took down West street. It is a busy street. Wny there are not more accidents than there is is a wonder. All is life. There is freight and express for all ports and places, and you are right glad of a seat in Battery Park to while away an hour or two. I secured a seat in line of the Produce Exchange high tower and enjoyed a grand view of this park and the ife on the rivers and bay. This end of the city is a grand treat for visitors. To the right is old Castle Garden, where we saw the World's Fair of 1852, not forgetting the old gentleman who had the first electric bell system for hotel purposes, which he maintained he could keep in working order at a far less cost than the then mode in use, which none believed. He was not even noticed by the fair management. Why should it be always so. Look on this picture and on that-electricity now and electricity then. The brass dog exhibited by the early art of the brass founder from France, employed by Mott & Hares, of Fourteenth street, which firm has overflowed all the boundaries of prudence from the standpoint of 1852, when home manufacturing had a faint cry unworthy of note. Then the Castle Garens were used for entertainments, and Mons. Julian favored New York with some of his grand concerts, when we were not in a fit condition to appreciate talent of such merit. Then there was the emigrant headquarters, afterwards superseded by better accommodation far to the right of the bay, near the Jersey shore. Now it is being turned into an aquarium for fish and the wonders of the deep—a fitting concern for a fit place. The old Castle of No Guns, which has ceased to be, and is only in memory a fortress, and it is written shall learn war no more, but will seek honor in more peaceful pursuits. A little north is the Tophir Mill Fire Boat-which here is ready for business. Three minutes would be ample time to get water on to any fire in the neighborhood. She has 150 horse power, can get any sized stream from three and one half inches to three quarters of an inch, has three Monitor and Standard branch pipes that they can swing round with a lever and direct in any direction; any one man can work it. Each branch will throw a stream three hundred feet and could easily throw a stream over the Castle Garden. They have horizontal tubular boilers and use chestnut hard coal. There are three fire boats. To the left of us connected by a wood bridge or gangway are free swimming baths, much in

> I first paid my respects to Captain James Lawrence, to whose remains I have ever raised my hat when I have since visited New York. Every American has heard of his last order "Don't give up the ship." The plain red sandstone tomb whereen is inscribed the following inscription: "In memory of Capt. James Lawrence, of the United States Navy, who fell on June 1, 1815, in the 32nd year of his age, in the action between the frigates Chesapeake and Shannon. He was distinguished on various occasions, but especially when commanding the sloop of war Hornet he captured and sunk his Britannic Majesty's sloop of war Peacock, after a desperate action of fourteen minutes. His bravery in action was equaled only by his modesty in triumph and his magnanimity to the vanquished. In private life he was a gentleman of the most generous and endearing qualities. The whole nation mourned his loss, and the enemy contended with his countrymen as to who should honor his remains." At the end of his modest tomb is the following: "Julia Montandeyvert, widow of Capt. James Lawrence, born July 15, 1788, died Sept. 15, 1865." A walk around this ancient graveyard, among the old and weather-worn gravestones, will repay the visitor to old Trinity Church, with its beautiful bronze doors. The panels of the doors are bas reliefs and very fine. It is quiet and of a solemn aspect inside, and if you ever did pray, pray there. For a few minutes I went over the way to see how the foundations of this high-top, heavy, lightexcluding and dust-inclosing system of buildings are put in the iron columns. Their bases are soon surrounded with brick work and followed up with brick walls to two stories, when they reach the level of the sidewalk; and then there are many stories added until the danger point is exceeded. We hear of one brewer who threatens, if his neighbor adds one story to his already too high building, he will add ten stories to his, and so they look like a book standing on end, away above other lower and safer buildings. I would rather walk five miles than to the top of some of JOHN LAW. these high buildings.

DESERTED HIS FAMILY.

briefly discussed some phases of the electric The Veteran Mechanic at Disappearance of Thomas Phair, of London West.

> A Young Woman Also Leaves Her Home -Phair Goes Through His Property and Mortgages His Home.

The residents of London West are all talking about the sudden disappearance of Thomas Phair, formerly in the postoffice department, and a young lady whose parents reside on Burch street, in the vilage. Phair is a married man with a respectable wife and two bright little children, Minnie, aged 14 years, and Harry, aged 12, but the one whom he promised to cherish and love has finally broken down under the weight of care and has left for Council Bluffs, Iowa, there to seek comfort and shelter with her brothers and sisters.

The Phair homestead is situated at the corner of Kensington and Center streets, who was shot by Eurke and Wilson on Richmond street on Oct. 13, 1892. He was for several years in the postoffice department, and delivered the London West mail. He started at a salary of $400 a year; then it was increased to $600 and finally it reached $800. But like hundreds of others. Phair became a victim of drink. He couldn't keep away from it. It got such a hold upon him in time that it was necessary for the authorities to suspend him. He was taken back, but it was no use-he couldn't leave liquor alone. Phair was given chances to reform several officials to do was to dismiss him. This last resort was taken two years ago, after everything else failed. In his will Detective Phair left to his son

Thomas a cottage and lot adjoining the latter's property in London West and $300 beside. Detective Phair also left to Harry -Thomas' son-a vacant lot on the corner of the Wharncliffe road and Mount Pleasant avenue. After the death of his father Thomas hung around the city for a time, and is said to have rapidly disposed of the cash bequeathed to him. Then he mortgaged the property on which he lived and the adjoining place for $400. Mrs. Phair, however, was unaware of the transaction. Her husband left for California in August of 1893 and was absent for a whole year. Very little was heard of him, but in August last Phair returned home. He was met by his wife with open arms. He pleaded forgiveness for his many failings, and stated that he had reformed and was going to take his family to California, where he had secured a good situation. Mrs. Phair believed the story, as he appeared very sincere in his statements. Phair proposed to sell the property before going west, and the wife consented. Accordingly the places were put under the auctioneer's hammer and the two houses went to the highest bidder, place and easy of access. Farther to the eft is the custom house, and we pass the Thomas Culbert, a London West teamster. bronze monument of Captain Erickson of Monitor fame. The wife thought around them. We pass No. 29, the oil nothing of it for a few days, but she heard enter, in marble. I recollect walking f the disappearance of a young woman along here, my first appearance in New the same time, and her suspicion was York in 1850, and found that it could rain aroused. She made inquiries among her when the sun was shining brightly, Then friends and learned that a London West ady had seen Phair and the young woman together on a train in Port Huron. Mrs. Phair made inquiries at the railroad ticket offices in the hope of finding where her husband had gone, but without result.

Mrs. Phair became disheartened and decided to go to Council Bluffs, where her brothers and sisters reside, and there make a living for herself and two children. What little furniture remained in the house was taken to the market on Saturday and disposed of at very low figures. Mrs. Phair eft yesterday morning for Glencoe, where she will visit her father and mother and then continue her journey westward. A SAD STORY.

Before leaving, Mrs. Phair called on number of her friends in London West. "I would not have cared," said she, "i Tom had only stayed at home. I was will ing to keep him if he couldn't get work. while he was carrying letters very little if any of his money came into the house. It A Gretchen Dress went over the hotel bars. But what cared I for that? I had sewed for a living, and managed to keep my little home out of disgrace and poverty. It was no use, however. Tom would not reform. Then he went to California and stayed away for a year, and while he was there I was continually threatened with ejection if a mortgage on the property was not paid. I was astonished at first, but afterwards found that Tom had raised $400 on the place without my knowledge. I forgave him when he came home, but when he was selling the furniture and goods, all my jewelry disappeared, including my watch. "HE TOOK MY WEDDING RING off my hand one day when he was joking with me, and it never came back." And Mrs. Phair stepped into a hack in waiting and drove to the Grand Trunk station, where she boarded the west bound

The affair has created quite a bit of gossip in the village and much sympathy is expressed on all hands for Mrs. Phair.

The meeting has broken up. Richard North and a few of the more intelligent of the men—those who had filled the more important posts at the works-remained talking yet together. Mrs. Gass, and Miss Dallory with her basket of fresh eggs, went away together.

Women stood about with anxious faces, watching for the news. They were tired of the strike; heartsick, as some of them feelingly expressed it. Nothing teaches so well as experience; the women were as eager for the strike at one time as the men could be, believing it would bring them a tide of pros-perity in its wake. They had not bargained for what it had really brought; misery, and dismantled homes, and semi-starvation. But for being obliged to keep up as others did-as we all have to do, whatever may be the life's struggles, the heart's bitter care—there were those amongst them who would have laid down to die in sheer hopelessness. Mrs. Ketler stood at her door in a tattered black net cap—the once tidy woman. She was shading the sun from her eyes as she looked out for her husband. It prevented her noticing the approach of the ladies; and when they accosted her she backed into her house in her timid way, rather startled, attempting a few words by way of apology. The little girl who was sick—a wan child of 7 years old—was being nurse by one somewhat older. Miss Dallory looked round to see that there was a chair left, and took the mother, and a half-pint bottle of beef-tea that lay at the bottom of the basket. 'How is Cissy today!" she asked tenderly "Cissy tired," was the little one's answer.

"Has Cissy finished the strawberryjam?"

Cissy nodded. "Then let your big boy come to Ham Court for some more," said Miss Dallory, turning to the mother.

The "big boy" was the eldest. He had been employed at the works, but was of course condemmed to idleness like the rest. "Aren't you pretty tired of this sort o' thing?" demanded Mrs. Gass, who had come to an anchor on a wooden bucket turned upside-down. The woman knew what she meant by "this of it, and how hopeless were any prospects of a change.

I've heard about the master's offer, ma'am; but the men mean to reject it," she said. "Smith stopped to tell me as he went by. The Lord above knows what is to be-

"If the men do reject it, they'll deserve to starve for the rest of their lives," retorted Mrs. Gass. "Any way, I hope they'll have it upon their conscience for ever."

"It's the Trades' Union," said the woman In a low tone, giving a frightened look around. "The men can't do as they

"Not do as they would!" echoed Mrs. Gass. "Don't you pick up their folly and retail it to me again, Susan Ketler. If the men was fools enough to be drawn into joining the Union at first-and I wouldn't blame em too much for that, for the best of us gets led away at times by fair promises that turn out in the end to be smoke, or worsethey ought not to be so obstinate as to keep there. Now that they've seen what good that precious Trades' Union is doing for em, and what it's likely to do, they should buckle on the armor of their common sense and leave it. Mr. Richard North had this day given them the opportunity of doing so. Every man Jack of 'em can go back to work tomorrow morning at the ringing of the bell; and take up again with good wages and comfort. If they refuse they'll not be so much fools as something worse, Susan Ketler; they'll be desperately wicked."
"They are afraid," murmured the woman.
"They have yielded themselves by word and

"Then let'em break the bond. Don't tell me, Susan Ketler. Afraid! What of? Could the Union kill them for it? Could the men be bung, drawn and quartered for leaving it? Who is the Union? Giants that were born with thunderbolts and power from the Creator to control people's wills? -or just simple men like themselves; workmen too, once, some of 'em, if reports are true. You'd better not try to come over me with your fallacies. Facts is facts. If these men choose to do it, they could send the Trades' Unions to the right about this very day, and return, with one accord, to work and their senses tomorrow. Who's to hinder bond to the Union."

Mrs. Ketler ventured to say no more. She only wished she dared say as much to her husband and the men. But, what with common sense, as Mrs. Gass called it, on the one side, and the Trades' Union sophistries on the other, the steering in North Inlet just now was difficult in the extreme. Mrs. Gass rose from her uncomfortable seat, and departed with Miss Dallory.

CHAPTER XI.

There was commotion that day in Dallory. An offer such as this of Richard North's, coming as it did in the very midst of distress and prolonged privation, could not be rejected off-hand without dissenting voices. The few men who had not joined the Union, who only wished to get back to work, pleaded for acceptance as if they were pleading for life. Strangers also-that is, gentlemen who had no direct interest in the question-went about amongst the men, striving to impress upon them where their obligations lay, and what their course ought to be. One of these was Dr. Rune. There had been a good deal of sickness latelywhen is there not where privation reigns?and the doctor's services were in great 10 juisition. Every house he visited that day, every workman with whom he came in contact, he spoke to forcibly and kindly; urging them all most strongly not to reject this opportunity of putting themselves right with the world. It was one, he said, that might never occur again, if neglected now. Dr. Rane, whilst blaming the men, was sorry for them; keenly sorry for their wives and children. He had had a very fatiguing day. When the dusk of evening came on, he went and sat in the garden, tired and weary. Bessy had gone to spend the evening at Ham Court with Miss Dallory; and the doctor had promised to fetch her home. His ruminations still ran, as ever, on getting away from Dallory; but at present there seemed to be little chance of his doing it. Unless he could dispose of his practice here, he would not have the wherewithall to establish himself elsewhere. Had O.iver Rane been a less healthy man than he really was, he would neathy man than he really was, he would long ago have thought and worried himself into a nervous fever.

It grew darker. Dr. Rane struck his repeater—for it was too dark to see the hands -wondering whether it was time to go for his wife. No; not quite, he found; he could delay another quarter-of-an-hour yet. And he lapsed into his musings.

The seat he had chosen was under the great cedar tree at the extreme corner of the garden, close to the wire fence that divided his ground from Mrs. Cumberland's, and also close to that lady's back door. Some foliage of clematis and woodbine would have hidden him from any one on the other side even in daylight, and Dr. Rane felt as solitary as he would have felt in an African desert. From his own troubles his thoughts went roaming off to other matters: to his mother's long sojourn at Eastsea; to wondering when she mean to return home; to speculating on what the workmen's answer to Richard North's call would be.

London West Vaccination.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: In your issue of Nov. 3 I find the following: The London West School Board at a recent meeting passed a resolution favoring the vaccination of the school children. I was not compulsory, but 342 out of the 344 scholars were vaccinated, and none of the parents objected. Chairman Brown was not present at that meeting, and when the question came up again at last night's session he raised objections to the action of the board, claiming that a physician should have been supplied and the vaccination made compulsory.

Now, Mr. Editor, instead of my claiming that a physician should have been supplied and the vaccination made compulsory, I opposed the whole action of the school board at the previous meeting, and showed that section 16 of the Public Health Act respecting vaccination was purely permissive, and not imperative or compulsory. The resolution which the board passed on Oct. 5 was most decidedly compulsory, for in that no child was allowed to attend the public school unless he or she on the demand of the teacher presented a certificate of successful vaccination. Is this compulsory or not? If the resolution did not imply compulsion, why do the school board take any action. Yours

Will It Meet My Expectations?

The Answer of Thousands Is: "It Has Cured Us and Will Cure You."

Paine's Celery Compound Never Fails.

Testimony of a Well-Known Mechanical Engineer.

Shall I trust Faine's Celery Compound Will it meet fully my expectations, and give to me the health and vigor for which have so earnestly sought?

These questions are asked occasionally met failures and disappointments after using the common patent medicines of our times.

We admit that repeated failures have a tendency to weaken and destroy faith; we sincerely sympathize with those who have been duped in the past by worthless nostrums. The disappointed ones have not only lost their money, but they have been cast deeper into the mire of disease and suffering.

All doubts and fears as to the efficacy and powers of Paine's Celery Compound should at once be banished from the mind. The strong testimonials of prominent and well-known Canadians received in the past and soming in every day are the best and strongest proofs of the value of the great medicine. When trustworthy friends and neighbors are cured, and you know it, what further evidence is wanted? Surely the medicine that has cured those who were given up by physicians will meet your case, reader. Paine's Celery Compound is guaranteed cure and never fails.

Read the testimony of Mr. C. E. Robertson, Government steamboat inspector for Manitoba and the Northwest. Mr. Robert-

"It gives me much pleasure to give you my opinion of your preparation known as Paine's Celery Compound and how it acted on me. A little over a year ago, while coming through a very anxious time, first in connection with my business as an engineer, and then by the loss of my child, as well as overwork, my nerves gave out completely; I could not sleep for weeks. and could not work through the day at such work as drawing, owing to the twitching of my nerves making me blot the work. "A friend told me to try your Compound, which I did, and I firmly believe it did more for me than any doctor could do. I am now strong, sleep well, and as steady as a rock; my whole system has been invigorated by it.

"I have recommended it to a large number of people, and find it as a rule never failed to do them good. I could give you examples of a number of cases where it has been the decided cause of restoration to health."

TO AID LEPERS.

What London Workers Are Doing in This Respect.

Annual Meeting of the London Branch-Election of Officers - Scourge in India-Home for Afflicted Europeans.

The first annual meeting of the London Branch of the Mission to Lepers was held in Somerset Hall, Dundas street, yesterday afternoon. Though organized but twelve samples. You will be gratified to find | months, the mission has interested church workers generally in this city, and the membership has been steadily increasing, until now it reaches almost 100. With increased membership the work of the mission has extended, for all connected with the organization feel that the object is a meritorious one, and that much good will attend their efforts, and now a new year has been begun with great success.

The afternoon meeting was opened at 5 o'clock, with the president, Mrs. Robertson, in the chair and about 60 ladies present. The ball and platform presented a pretty appearance, being decorated with beautiful plants and foliage. The proceedings began with a Bible reading by Mr. G. W. Armstrong, followed by a talk especially applicable to the work of the society. Mise Morris presented her annual report as secretary, showing the funds to be in a satisfactory condition, the amount received from various sources being $119 63.

Mrs. Robertson read a message from Mr. Bailey, of Edinburgh, Scotland, the general superintendent, who spent about fifteen years among the lepers in India. The election of officers for the ensuing year was then taken up, and the following were chosen by acclamation:

Honorary President-Mrs. Eliza Brown. President-Mrs. G. F. Robertson. Vice-President-Mrs. I. M. Mayell.

Treasurer-Miss Morris. Secretary-Miss Bella Boon. Representatives from the various churches were appointed as follows: Adelaide Street Baptist, Mrs. Catling; Dundas Street Methodist, Miss Vining; Talbot Street Baptist, Mrs. Ryckert; St. Andrew's Presbyterian, Miss Gourlay; Birst Presbyterian, Miss Dunbar; St. James' Presbyterian, Miss McKenzie; Queen's Avenue Methodist, Mrs. Evans. Miss Lottie McLeod, of this city, who has decided to devote her attention to mis--Miss Eve H. Brodlique, whose literary style is crisp and exquisite and whose taste is never at fault, had a fantastic love story in last month's popular monthly of Leslie's, and now a charming vet equally vening years was also given. It was prepared by A. F. Leonard, a worker in Reorkee, India, and contained much in-formation both interesting and useful to the London workers.

An adjournment was then made till 8

IN THE EVENING. The evening meeting was public, and when the proceedings opened at 8 o'clock the large hall was filled by members and their friends, including several clergymen. The feature of the evening was the eloquent appeal by Rev. John Neil, of 'foronto, an energetic worker in behalf of the unfortunate lepers in India. Solos were given by Mrs. Cooper and Dr. Ziegler, and a quartet by Mesers. Harry Lewis and L. Noble and Misses Daly and Gunn. Mrs. Robertson opened the meeting with a recital of the mission's objects. She also stated that the Bishop of Huron was expected to be present, but owing to another important engagement he was unable to

The secretary, Miss Boon, presented a review of the year's labors, and an interesting account of how the London branch was begun. Shortly after the introduction of the idea in this city several interested ladies met in St. Andrew's Church, but the number was not considered sufficient for the formation of a mission. Later the branch was organized with 36 members. This number had steadily increased as the objects of the mission became understood,

The address of Rev. John Neil was of such a character that the audience was held with the deepest interest as the speaker appealed in an earnest manner in behalf of the unfortunates who were stricken with that dread disease-leprosy -and as he told in pathetic tones of those who had become martyrs in the work. Mr. Neill spoke strongly in favor of the establishment of an asylum in India for European lepers. This project was receiving the special attention of the Canadian auxiliary, for there were many European residents in India who had been efflicted with the disease. Some of them refused to go to a hospital where natives were confined, but would linger around the European quarters and expose others to the malady. It was for this class especially that the Canadians and Europeans were moving and subscribing for a European hospital. The sum of £2,000 was required, of which £300 had already been secured. At the conclusion of the address, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Neil and those who had added to the interest of the evening with solos.
