THOMAS SKALING, Schreiber, Ont., writes: "My little girl, who is now nearly four years old, and is as healthy and strong as can be, was bothered with Diarrhœa from the time she was born until she was over two years old. The doctor in the hospital, where I was when she was born, did everything he could but did not get it stopped. Just as soon as I got out myself, I got a bottle of DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAW-BERRY, and gave it to her, off and on, whenever she needed it, and I never had a doctor in the house once, for it would always check it without any bad after effects, and in time cured her altogether. I always keep it in the house, as I have never found anything to compete with it for Diarrhya.' When you ask for "Dr. Fowler's" be sure you get it, as some of these noname, no-reputation, so-called straw-Jenks, John Stanton, Parks Foster, berry preparations are being sold on the reputation built up by "DR. FOWLER'S." To insure getting the genuine, see that the name of The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont., appears on the

The Path of Furniture Economy Does Not Lead to Low-Priced, Cheaply-Made Goods

We are making a clearing of many odd lines in furniture, and some specially good prices will be found on a great number of pieces which have been reduced. Many different factories are represented in our collection, and only the best is selected. If you are starting to make a home, remember this advice: If you only put in one piece of furniture at a time, get it good, rather than fill your house with cheap-looking and cheaplymade furniture.

As you judge us by the furniture you buy from us, so people go a long ways towards judging you by your furniture. We have in mind always the satisfaction that it must give you when we buy furniture for our stock. There is not a single piece of furniture in our stock that is "under-price construction," no glued joints to take the place of dovetail, nor rough points concealed under paint and varnish.

WOMEN NEED

AND THERE IS NOTHING BETTER THAN DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR TONING UP THE BLOOD.

It is said that woman's work is never done, and it is a fact that whether in society or in the home her life is filled with more cares and man. For this reason, women are compelled regretfully to watch the growing pallor of their cheeks, the coming of wrinkles and the thinness that becomes more distressing every day. Every woman knows that ill-mother had so much faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that she bought me two boxes and urged me to take them. How thankful I am that I followed her advice. Before these were gone I began to feel better, and I continued using the pills until I had taken five more boxes, when I was again enjoying the blessing of perfect health, with a good color in my face, a good appetite, and I feel sure a new lease of life. I will always, you may be sure, be a warm friend of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

If you are weak or ailing, begin the cure yourself today with the rich, red blood Dr. Williams Pink Pills actually make. If you do not find the Pills at your dealer's send 50 cents for a box or $2.50 for six boxes to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and they will be sent you by mail postpaid.

It is more necessary that you keep Bowels, Liver and clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction. LONDON, SATURDAY, AUG. 16. DIFFERENT KINDS OF PATRIOT.

ISM. The visit of the New Zealand has been an inspiration to all Canada, excepting the Liberal majority in the Senate and their scanty supporters, to whom any stimulus to patriotism is usually either an insult or an aggravation. - Montreal It depends on the definition of patriotism. The kind the Star professes is an aggravation and an insult to Canadian pride. Even Mr. Borden makes a reluctant concession to the Canadian spirit by intimating that a policy of permanent contribution will not do, although his actions belie his words. Not so the Star. It is unabashedly for perpetual tribute. Canada, it says, has no need of a navy for local defence, because her shores are protected by the Monroe doctrine! Canada is unequal to the task of building up a naval service, and unfit to control expenditure of her own money. With such a brand of patriotism, the Star has the impertinence to sneer at the patriotism of other.

The Little Canadians profess to see a reproach to Canada in the visit of the New Zealand Dreadnought, a gift to the mother country. What would be their argument if the whole Australian fleet unit sailed into Canadian waters? To be consistent, they would be obliged to refuse it the rites of hospitality, and to point to it as a concrete example of disloyalty and separatism. The Star and its kind are neither good patriots nor good Im-

ROSEBERY ON MANNERS.

Lord Rosebery, speaking recently to the boys of Guildford Grammar School, lamented the "decay" of manners in this age. He ranged all the way in his criticism from the courtesy of public men, the bearing of the rich and educated, and the respect to women, to the attitude of boys towards their parents, masters and betters. All along the line he seemed to see degeneracy. He was particularly querulous in that he laid such emphasis on the importance, aesthetic and commercial, of manners, those things that Pope dismissed very largely as coming under "but leather and prunella." Perhaps the truth lies between Pope's sonorous superficiality and Lord Rosebery's view.

Our melancholy Jacques held up the Tudor and Stuart Englishmen, "the greatest breed of Englishmen that England has ever possessed," as the snodels of manners. They may have been "the greatest breed of Englishmen," but it is news that they were patterns of manners. So far as can be judged one way or the other they were a rough lot, those roast-beefeaters of old England. The Venetian ambassadors of the period reported them as half savage. They could also lie, as well as swear, from Queen Elizabeth and her diplomats down, so it was not a case of robust honesty The gallants of the Stuart comedies seem too swaggering and too inflated in their feelings for our taste. They could pull off their feathered hats and wave them down to their feet before a lady, and the next moment insult her maid or her in a way that would not be endured today. Lord Rosebery sees, however, a long process of decline from those glorious times. No doubt he knows very well the vulgarities of both ancient and modern fashions, and perhaps thinks that the modern quite balance the ancient. And then, besides, all important point, people do not touch their hats and bow with such readiness as of old. He sent some time in his address to the boys on the matter of touching their hats to masters, etc. As the old stilted manners have grown lowest. This is going to be another less conscious, showy and obvious, so boys are not so respectful towards their elders as they used to be. This is to Lord Rosebery a more important matter than that school boys are not trooped to witness an execution as they were 100 years ago for the profit of their souls. It may be conceded to Lord Rosebery that servants are less obsequious to their masters than they used to be, in fact, prefer to be called employees rather than servants and to discard the odious term "master" or "mistress." Similarly children are no longer lessoned to be humble in the dirt and to submit to the bulwark of Confederation and the indignities. The child does not stand watchword of anti-reciprocity? where he did 100 years ago, either in the school or in the home.

The view of Lord Rosebery and many other old men like him really rests on an assumption that there is a different set of manners for one class and another. The gentleman must be graceful to a lady, but supercilious or patronizing at best to one whom he thinks to be less fortunate than him self in family connection or in fortune.

He must, as one clear-headed critic out it, never unintentionally offend. On the other hand the "inferior" must honor himself by showing reverent attentions to his betters, as Lord Rosepery explained to the boys.

To some extent, however, his disourse is simply an outburst of pessimism. The pessimist's cry has been ever the same. "O tempora, O mores, It was so in the twelfth century, the age of monasticism and piety; the scholars said that things had all gone to the bad in their day, that nothing was respected any more but wealth and lucre. So also said the satirists of the sixteenth century, the age of greatest names. So says Lord Rosebery. His mind has got into a rut. He has fallen behind the procession Deportment is not just what it was in his salad days, therefore it is just so much the worse. As fast as the train of life goes forward, the old, worn minds travel back to the past, like he posts that seem to fly the other way as the train steams ahead.

women of polish used to "damn," and proof enough. their lords went to cock-fights. Those were good manners. And how about the great general average of the British people? Wife beating, it is feard. declines. A Frenchman is champion middleweight pugilist. The Salvation Army is allowed to carry on its work without being pelted with bricks. There are a lot of nouveaux riches outting their way into the nobility. with manners better perhaps than their erfieldian. Oh, it is disgusting that the gentle ring has got so large that nanners, in the old, proper sense as between inferior and better, are going lean to pot. How can there be any 'manners' if all are coming more or ess to equality? It is this equality that kills "manners."

A BATTLE SCENE.

The full horror of the later stages of the war in the Balkans may never be uncovered to the world's gaze. The reality is obscured by the charges and counter-charges of the Greeks and Bulgarians, though if half of what each says of the other is true, the Turks have nothing to learn from their conquerors in the science of butchery One of the most vivid battle sketches of the first war comes from the pen of Mr. G. M. Trevelyan, the brilliant son of his brilliant father, Sir George Trevelyan, the nephew and biographer of Macaulay. Mr. Trevelyan attempts no fine writing, but there is a grim power in this unvarnished description of the Turkish defence in the last ditch:

"At Monastir they (the Turks) made their last stand in Macedonia. Their position was half on the group of lower hills to the north of the town and half on the flooded plain in front of it. The whole Turkish line, on hill and plain, was defended by a river along its front. For several days the Servians attacked. fighting up to their waists in water, service which has laid up many them with pneumonia and phthisis. The Turks on their right wing were also standing in water, and, moreover, had no food. When a man was wounded, he fell and was drowned at once. Finally, the Turkish left centre on the hills near Obloko was broken after fierce fighting, and the Turkish army thereupon fled and disbanded. Only their treme left wing, under Djavid. cut their way out to Ochrida by 'fifteen bayonet charges in the night,' as a Servian officer who was there told us-certainly by a splendid bit of fighting, as the Servians acknowl-

remainder of the Turkish army fled through Monastir, casting away rifles and stripping off their blue or khaki uniforms. But one battalion still stood firm in the flooded prairie. An Englishman watched it from the town, and saw a Servian battery unlimber hard by and open fire on these brave men. He expected one else had fled, but they preferred to stand impassive until, in ten minutes they had all, in batches and then one by one, disappeared under the water. When the marshes at ler oth dried up next May, it was an ugly sight.

George Hill and Robert Griffiths Had To Be Taken to the Hospital.

George Hill, 439 King street, and

Robert Griffiths, Dundas street, were injured on Wellington street, near King, Friday night about 10 o'clock, when a horse attached to a dray, loaded with furniture, on which they were riding, ran away. When extricated both appeared to be seriously injured. There were not many people in that cinity at the time of the accident, although the horse, as it plunged across Dundas street, narrowly missed striking several pedestrians. As soon as the wagon overturned several men ran to the assistance of Hill and Gnif. fiths and succeeded in liberating them. Dr. C. S. THE ACTRESS-WRITER WILL SOON BE ABLE TO "GLOBE-TROT" TO OTHER AND GAYER PORTIONS OF THE WORLD.

Hotel Alte Wiese, Carlsbad, Aug. 16. -Contrary to the teaching of a famous beauty who advocates "mind" for every beauty ill from a corn on the little toe to jaundice, I believe that the condition of the body has a greater effect upon the mind than mind has upon the body.

We cannot separate the mind from body, and of the action of mind apart from the body we have no direct experience and absolutely no knowledge. Consequently all mental facts are first

I have had a good illustration of this in my recent illness. Pain—physical pain-is a purely animal sensation, and yet it can blot out every thought of anything but the terror of it, and the agonizing effort to allay it in some way. You cannot think when you are in pain. You can only feel.

I know now that one might be overcome with deepest grief while following the person one loves most to his eternal rest, and if one should crush one's fingers in the motor door in the descent from the vehicle at the grove every thought of grief would be swallowed up in the sensation of physical

Some people say that pain sweetens one's character, but I have the same opinion of the idea that I have of the old cry that poverty is a great character builder.

These "axioms" roll glibly off one's tongue if one has never suffered grinding, galling poverty nor agonizing

I know that pain leaves its imprint on the face. There is a little muscle that goes from the side of the mouth to the chin that physical pain draws down until one looks ten years older. This will go away in time if one tries immediately to laugh and be happy after the pain has gone.

Sir Charles Bell says of laughter: "It signifies in all points the accession of vital force. Laughter builds up." This, too, you see is a physical act, and the mere act of smiling and laughwill help one on to pleasant thoughts. From what I have written you can see that I do not believe with Whittier that "Hearts, like apples, are dry and sour till crushed by pain's re-

THE TRUTH ABOUT THAT GROUCH YOU CARRY

WHY IT IS POISON TO YOUR BODY AND HOW IT WILL KILL YOU IF YOU KEEP THE GROUCH ACTIVELY AT WORK.

BY ALBERT FORD FERGUSON.

How many times do you poison yourself with a grouch? Don't laugh and try to pass it off as a joke. We are not using "poison' a figure of speech. We're using it to mean just what the dictionary says: Any substance which introduced into the living organism directly tends to destroy the life or impair the health of that organism.'

And the grouch is a far more popular form of poison for suicide than bichloride of mercury or arsenic or laudanum. Most of the people who take it don't know they are committing suicide. They think they are exercising the God-given right of Canadian citizens to conduct themselves as they please. BUT GROUCHES KILL JUST AS SURELY THOUGH NOT QUITE SO QUICKLY AS ANY OF THOSE VIOLENT POISONS THAT HAVE BEEN

Did you ever hear of the pneumogastric nerve?

You probably have, but haven't bothered yourself to distinguish it from a new brand of soap or a breach of the mental healing industry. It isn't either and it has some of the properties usually assigned to both. It has a cleansing power, in a sense, and it is one of the more or less slender threads with which al! the mental healers hitch their extravagant claims to imperishable fact. In a word, it is the means of furnishing nervous energy to the lungs, the heart and the stomach.

The pneumogastric nerve furnishes the stomach with whatever sense of action it possesses. It isn't necessary for anyone to tell you that when you are eating-when you are filling the stomach with food-the stomach should have every opportunity in the world to do its work properly. There should be nothing that would interrupt its functions or reduce its power to digest food. Now when you try to entertain food and a grouch in the same system you do about the same thing that railroad dispatchers, in moments of forgetfulness try to do when they start two trains going in opposite directions on the same track. There is going to be a collision. You can't carry two loads along the main line of the nervous system any more than you can on a railroad track Something has got to give way.

To properly digest food it is necessary that each factor of digestion should work to its maximum efficiency. In other words, every section of the factory into which you turn your raw materials for strength and energy, must contribute its proper and exact power. Nature isn't extravagant in providing materials with which to work. She gives just ENOUGH AND NO MORE. Now, our next incarnation we may be al- chard and birds and quiet waters, but, when that pneumogastric nerve of yours is engaged in distributing your grouch lowed to be king-birds, or even pirate for me the mountains in all their over its department of the nervous system it cannot give the attention its job at the stomach demands. You probably know that in chemistry there are lots of perfectly harmless clutions or combinations that include a lot of poisons. It is the combination f several of them that makes them non-pisonous. It is more or less the same way with the organic functions of the human body, especially the functions of the stomach and digestive organs. They are secreting or expelling chemicals all the time. If a lot of these chemicals got loose in the system by themselves they would play hob. They are supposed to circulate together or with something else in just the right proportion—that is, they do when all of the organic functions are working. But-When you have been making a monkey out of your pneumogastric nerve with a grouch, those bodily functions can't all work together and some of those poisons do get loose in the system and they do play hob. They don't kill you at once. Far from it. They provide you with a nice, long, lingering, painful death.

You start in with what you call nervous dyspepsla, and then you develop neuro-gastritis and then probably gastric fever and not infrequently apoplexy You'll find a lot of high sounding, high-priced, aristocratic names for them in the dictionary. But the right name is-

Cut out the grouch and you'll put 5 to 20 years' usefulness onto the end of your life. BECAUSE CUTTING OUT THE GROUCH MEANS CUTTING OUT THE DOSE OF POISON YOU TAKE EVERY TIME YOU HAVE ONE.

A simple banana dish easily prepared is compote made of banana peeled and sliced lengthwise into six strips, each cut in two and covered with boiling water t stiffly beaten cream when the grape juice and gelatine are as thick as custard and Drain them, arrange them in a dish and sugar and the juice of half a lemon boiled or six minutes. Garnish the dish with hopped almonds.

A Vegetable Substitute. Bananas make a good substitute for regetables. They should, howeveer, be served in place of potatoes or some other starchy vegetable, and should be ac-companied by or followed by a green vegetable or salad. One way to cook them when they are to take the place of vegetables is to bake them. In some of the banana-growing ountries they are baked in the ashes in their own skins until they burst open. A better way in our climate is to re ress with French dressing move one section of the peel, free the Still another banana dish is this pulp from the rest of the skin and return it whole, cover it with the section peeled

When Urlah Simpson had courted Della Davis for three years, he began to think it was just about time a proposal was due, but how to go about it, and just what to say, Uriah was in a quandary to know. First of all, he was so bashful, that even a word of endearment had scarcely passed his lips, and to all appearances never would.

Uriah decided that he could pour forth the love in his heart better and with more effect if sent through the mail, but after many attempts to declare his deep affection, he decided that he would nerve up, and in the usual slice. manner of lovelorn swains, beg of her on his bended knees to become Mrs.

HARD ON FATHER.

Supper was in progress, and the cover them with syrup made of a cup-ful of orange juice and pulp, a cupful of father was telling about a row which took place in front of his store that morning. "The first thing I saw was one man deal the other a sounding blow, and then a crowd gathered. The man who was struck ran and grabbed a large shovel he had been using on the street, and rushed back, his eyes blazing fiercely. I thought he'd surely knock the other man's brains out and I stepped right in between them."

The young son of the family had become so hugely interested in the narrative as it proceeded that he stopped eating his pudding. So proud was he of his father's valor his eyes fairly shone, and he cried: "He couldn't knock any brains out of you, could he, father?" Father looked at him long and earnestly, but the lad's countenance was frank and open.

Father gasped slightly and resumed his supper.-Lippincott's.

BRANTFORD AGAIN LOST TO SLUGGING LONDON TEAM

Deneau Tribe Batted Three Red Sox Pitchers Off the Rubber. -Steiger Started for Locals, But Had to Retire Later in Favor of Boldt, London's New Pitcher.

Maybe it isn't just the right thing picking on this Brantford bunch just because they are away down there in the coal bin of the Canadian League, but Rube Deneau's club needs a lot of games on the winning side of the sheet in order to keep this Ottawa bunch within a respectable reaching distance, so J. Methuslah Keenan, Red Rowe and company have to take their turn being victims. They were victimized yesterday to the extent of 8 to 6 before a large and fashionable gathering, as the society reporter might put it, it being ladies' day over in the West London pasture. The ladies were present in full force. LONDON HIT HARD AND OFTEN.

The only excuse the Tecumseh Parkers can give for winning the conflict is that they hit the ball when hits were needed and they hit the old pill hard. A total of 14 bingles was collected from the varied assortment of three Brantford slant artists, while the visiting relicts were only able to accumulate a total of nine from the joint offerings of Heine Steiger and Pitcher Boldt.

The locals tried to make it a walk away in the first few spasms, but the Red Sox smelled a plot and crabbed the little doings in the sixth and seventh, scoring a total of five runs in those two sessions. The fact that London had copped a total of six run previous to this kept the locals in the lead, and they were never once threatened.

Score in Yesterday's Game in the Capital.

Ottawa, Aug. 15. - Ottawa failed to hit in pinches today and Peterboro walked away with the second game of the series by a score of 2 to 1. In the third inning both Hilliard and 'ox tripped over Robertson's head, and was only fast fielding on the part of the Ottawa gardeners that held the core down, as Kane was no puzzle to Davey Rowan's White Caps. Shaughnessy, Rogers and Dolan, the wrecking erew of the Capital City team, all failed to come through with hits when they would have turned the tide. In the ninth Dolan was advanced to third. He did good work. The Ottawas In the third, another run was added, got their only run in the third, when Shaughnessy's out allowed Bullock to race home. The score:

FORTY THOUSAND MEN REQUIRED

Year's Wheat Crop Will Be the Largest in THE HISTORY OF CANADA

The wheat crop of 1913 will be the greatest ever harvested in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, thus requiring the farm laborers of the East to recruit and assist in harvesting the world's greatest bread basket.

The governments of the respective provinces state that forty thousand men will be required for this year's harvest. These will have to be principally recruited from Ontario, and the rosperity of Canada depends on securing labor promptly. The Canadian Pacific, on which company will fall pracically the entire task of transporting he men to the West, is already making special arrangements for this year. Excursions from points in Ontario to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will be run, and special trains operated, making the trip in about 36 hours and avoiding any change of cars or transers. This will be a day shorter than any other route.

PRINCIPAL'S RESIGNATION ACCEPTED BY TRUSTEES AFTER HOT VERBAL BOUT

Effort Made To Have McCutcheon's Resignation Laid Over and an Investigation Defeated on a Vote of Five to Three—Heated Exchange Between Trustees Teasdall and Shaw.

Board of Education voted yesterday to accept the resignation of F. W. C. McCutcheon as principal of the Collegiate Institute. By a similar vote, an amendment, moved by Trustee A. M. Hunt, to lay the resignation on the table, was defeated. The session, which promised to be a more than lively one, was robbed of part of its pyrotechnies by the ruling of Chairman E. R. Dennis, who prohibited anything but the resignation to come before the Trustee A. M. Hunt, assisted by Trustees Dr. Teasdall and Dr. Mugan, led the fight to have the resignation laid over until such times as Principal McCutcheon could be cleared of the impending "charges" that hovered over him. As a matter of fairness to Mr. McCutcheon, Trustee Hunt condemned the immediate acceptance of the resignation, which would cut off Principal McCutcheon without recognition of his many years' service to the board and with a blasted professional career.

A Verbal Skirmish.

Drs. Shaw and Teasdall had a verbal skirmish. The latter charged Trustee summer. Shaw with a personal animosity. He said he was continually "knocking" the ex-principal, while posing as his friend, and objected strenvously to al statement prepared by Dr. Shaw in answer to instructions that appeared in the letter of resignation tender of by Mr. McCutcheon.

He neglects, however, to state a very important fact in this connection, namely, that 33 of these same students wrote on this examination last year. They failed and so were obliged to write again this summer. This means spending two years to do one year's work. Without them the number of successful candidates on this examination would have been very small this passed from the middle school. As a matter of fact about 130 wrote. I deplored the small honor matriculation class last year, but it is worse this summer. There were only eight candidates for this very important examination, and of these only three were successful this year. It was proved that we made a sorry showing at last summer's examinations, as compared with other schools, and in view of the glowing reports of this year's examinations, which Mr. The fact that the resignation has McCutcheon has given up, in his resignation, it might be interesting to compare the reports of the two years:

> Trustee Teasdall-I tried to induce Mr. McCutcheon to hold on till the vhole question was cleared up. He had made up his mind, however, to leave, and, therefore, felt in duty bound to send in his resignation. There can be no gain by not accepting the resignation. He does not intend to ome back again under any consideraion. We will have to accept the resignation and have someone temporarlly in charge. There is less cause to nvestigate the Collegiate now than here ever was. Dr. Shaw has not prought one figure to this board but for the purpose of knocking. He says there is no personal animosity. His very statements show that there 1 somewhere the feelings against another man's life.

Continuing, Dr. Teasdall declared that had Mr. McCutcheon not accepted another position his record, from the mere fact of the charges hanging over his head here, would have prevented him of securing a position he was capable of filling.

 That tells the story. What is it they say about "he who laughs last"?
- MAXWELL CARS WILL DOMINATE the trade for 1914 in the three big classes which command the greatest popularity.
- THE FULL SIGNIFICANCE of the line "4,000 dealers," may not have occurred to you. It means, in a word, that we not only have the cars the connoisseurs desire, but that we are now ready to manufacture them in numbers sufficient to supply the insistent demand.
- YOUR DEALER SEEMS TO HAVE a kind of sixth sense when it comes to picking the winner in the selling field from season to season.
- HE KNOWS: He has his finger on the pulse of the buyer, his eyes on the makers all the time. And he seldom guesses wrong. The successful dealer never—that's why he succeeds.
- THIS IS A FAST-MOVING, quick-forgetting business. Watching it is like looking through a kaleidoscope. It is ever changing
- THE DEALER KNOWS—and you can't go wrong by following his lead for, you see, he is looking for the same things you are seeking—only from a different angle.
- HE WANTS CARS that sell themselves.
 You never knew a dealer to go gunning for trouble, did you? Or looking for hard work?
- NOT HE. HE FOLLOWS THE TREND of fashion in design, the progress of the science of metallurgy and manufacture. And when he sees a concern leading in these, he goes hot-foot after that line of cars.
- WE HAVE CONCENTRATED our tremendous factory facilities; re-arranged and re-equipped the plants for economical production of automobiles in large quantities.
- AND EACH MODEL WILL dominate its class—because a better car—better material, better workmanship and better finish for the same or less money.
- DO YOU WONDER dealers are clamoring for the Maxwell line for 1914? They would belie their reputation for astuteness if they didn't.
- WHY, LAST WEEK we shipped the first 50 cars of the Maxwell "25" model to 50 points in the United States, and invited all dealers to come and see and try out this wonderful car.
- THEY CAME, they saw and the new "25" Maxwell conquered. It was great to see their enthusiasm when the car, carrying five dealers aggregating 1,010 pounds, sped up "Abbey Hill"—the stiffest grade on Manhattan and a double-S turn—on high gear as if it were on the level.
- OVER AND OVER AGAIN they put the car to the test—climbing the hill at all speeds down to 8 miles per hour on high gear—just a-pullin' all the time.
- BUT WE ARE DIGRESSING—so enthusiastic about that wonderful "25" we forgot our text for the moment. Let's discuss the entire line—for there isn't a dead one in it—no model that is a load on the others. Each is supreme in its class.
- TAKE THE "50-6" for example—now thoroughly tried and proven. 1913 output all sold. Deliveries of 1914 model—left-hand drive with right side drive optional—begins August 15th.

 1914 PRICE is $2,700.

THERE'S A LINE that will create consternation in the trade. They all expected it would be $3,200—in fact, we said so. That was the price we had decided on, but—

स्तान स

- PERHAPS YOU'VE NOTICED there's a wicked war on for supremacy in this class of car. We concluded that, so long as other makers had started it we would give them a real six at a real price and see how far they can go. Watch it—it will be interesting and the buyer will be the beneficiary.
- IT WILL BE UP TO MAKERS of $4,500— $5,000, yes, and $6,000 sixes to demonstrate wherein they give the difference in value.
- AND WHAT ABOUT the manufacturer who stuck to fours for one season too long? Having himself failed to progress he would stop all progress. He would sweep back the sea with his tiny whisk broom! He protests that folk will still pay $2,500 for fours—and convinces no one but himself.
- IN SEVEN-PASSENGER CARS the six is now supreme. It is not coming; it is here.
- THEN THE MAXWELL "35"—This is, we firmly believe, the greatest car ever made in the so-called intermediate price class—a big five-passenger car for that great class of buyer who wants all there is of comfort and power, at a price he can afford
- 1914 PRICE IS $1,485 without, and $1,675 with electric starter and lights. Equal this if you can—in a car of anywhere near the quality.
- BLOC-CAST MOTOR—fourth year unchanged. A motor such as you can't surpass in a $2,500 car. And all other features equally excellent. This car will lead—distance all others in its class, which is to say anything under $2,000.
- AND FINALLY THE "25"—the car the trade has been talking about, looking for, waiting for.
- and while we may not hope to supply all who want them, we will be able to appease 30,000 buyers during the next 12 months.
- YOUR ENTHUSIASM will know no bounds when you see and ride in this "25."
- THIS IS A REAL AUTOMOBILE—full 25 horsepower, bloc-cast motor; 103-inch wheel base; same size tires all 'round, 30x 3½; full 5-passenger body; 3-speed selective transmission; cone clutch; worm and sector steering gear; left-hand drive; centre control; magneto—all the features of a high-priced car.
- AND AT A PRICE no other maker has ever before been able to produce such a car—$1,025 plus the freight.
- THE RESULT OF MORE concentrated experience, engineering and metallurgical knowledge, manufacturing skill and financial resources than any other, this car justifies our efforts and fulfills our fondest hopes.
- IT WAS DESIGNED to meet the ideas and the needs of tens of thousands of discriminating buyers—not beginners, but experienced motorists—who must consult the purse, and yet who detest and decline to wear a uniform, and are willing to pay a little more for a car that is a lot better.
- WE WILL BUILD 30,000 of this model; 12,000 of the "35," and 2,000 to 3,000 of the Maxwell 50-6 in the next 12 months.
- THAT'S SECOND LARGEST in the world—and still we are not satisfied. Watch the Maxwells.

Mr. Lloyd George began by saying that those present were friends of his, but he was sure they realized that there were many people in the country who did not cherish quite the same feelings towards him. (Laughter.) Many of those people regarded him as pernicious and mischievous, many felt angry that through no fault of his own, but through the exigencies of his office, he had been the means of increasing their burden of taxation. Some of them fought tenaciously against these taxes, and they hit the man whom they regarded as being primarly responsible for putting those burlens upon their surplus wealth instead of putting them upon the food of the people. The Lords and their friends ere arrogating to themselves the right to say they declined to allow Liberal measures to pass on to the hem. They went further, and said they would resort to violence to prevent these measures being carried; and further still, that if carried they would decline to obey them. If that succeeded it meant the end of constitutional government in this country. Force would become the sole hope of liberty in the twentieth as it was in the seventeenth century. We were face to face with the greates struggle for popular liberty and right that generations had witnessed in this island. The action of the Tories was under the pretence of upholding the doctrine of the mandate. If that doctrine were carried through, as now suggested by the Tories, it would make party gov-

Mr. Lloyd George met with a tre- ing to go round Belgravia like a grocer's boy-(laughter)-ring the area will kindly ascertain what orders my lord has for the day. (Renewed laughter and cheers.) The position is becoming intolerable for Liberalism unless a drastic change is effected in the conditions under which legislation is carried on in this country. It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a Liberal measure to satisfy the Tory doctrine of mandate, and yet-will you believe it? these minute conditions do not satisfy them. The needle's eye must be altogether closed lest perchance the camel should squeeze through by some miracle. They state frankly that even if you had a mandate by means of a general election on these three bills, it would have to be made clear upon which of the three the electors had pronounced, and even then the Lords would claim the right to alter and recast the details of the measure the electors of this country had expressly approved. The peers declare they are prepared to resort to violence to prevent the House of Commons even discussing a measure of which the Lords and their friends have notified their dislike.

"What arrogance! If the Government succeeded in placing these acts of Parliament on the statute book the peers and their followers will support, foment and promote civil war and bloodshed in these islands in order to defy an act of Parliament. To Discard Freckles, Tan, Pimples, Wrinkles

The use of creams on the face sometimes causes hair to grow. You can avoid the risk of acquiring superfluous hair by avoiding cosmetics and using mercolized wax instead. There is nothing better for any condition of the skin, as the wax actually absorbs the offensive cuticle. The latter is naturally replaced by a clear, smooth, healthy complexion, full of life and expression. It's the sensible way to discard a freekled tanned over-red, blotchy or pimpled skin. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at any druggist's and apply nightly like cold creamerasing in the morning with soap and water. It takes a week or so to complete the transformation.

The ideal wrinkle eradicator is made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in the solution brings almost instantaneous results,

I have done everything; I have sought occupations: I have denied myself absolutely the pleasure of speaking about you-even to Emily; but I have been able to conquer neither my regrets nor my impatience. That, indeed, is humiliating-to be unable to control one's own thoughts, to be the slave of a regret, of a memory, the slave of a fixed and dominant idea which lords it over the mind.
