EXEMPTION "RING" IS DISCLOSED IN QUEBEC COURT

FULL FLEDGED SYSTEM OF EXEMPTING YOUNG MEN IS REVEALED IN QUEBEC COURT

Accused Man Admits That Money Was Paid Through Him to "Ring" Composed of Lawyers and Others Who Arranged Exemption For Men Liable For Service.

Quebec, June 24.—Sensational evidence in a new military exemption scandal was brought forth yesterday afternoon in the Quebec police court before Magistrate (Senator) Choquette, when Jules Latouiche of Saint Louis de Courville, near this city, took the stand on his own behalf in a case where he is charged with conspiring to defraud in connection with the granting of military exemptions. Latouiche admitted that he had had something to do with the granting of exemption cards, that money had been paid to him, and through him, for exemption cards, and from Latouiche's own testimony yesterday afternoon before Magistrate Choquette revelation of a full-fledged "system" were made. Latouiche named lawyers and others who, he said, had something to do with the granting of exemptions, Latouiche testified that when he dealt in exemptions from the military draft he was under the impression that political "pull" was the main thing to get results.

BRITISH NEWSPAPERS VIEW GERMANY'S ACCEPTANCE OF PEACE PACT WITH DISTRUST

Germans Have Proved Themselves Treacherous Throughout the War and Allies Will Have To Be Continually On Guard, Is Warning Issued by London Press.

London, June 24.—Profound distrust of Germany is the predominant note in London press comments on the German Government's decision to sign the treaty of peace. It is contended the Germans proved themselves treacherous throughout the war, the latest instance being the sinking of their fleet in Scapa Flow, and, therefore, it would be premature to celebrate peace until the treaty is actually signed. Even afterwards, it is said, the Allies must be continually on guard until the last penalty is paid.

"All evidence shows that the revolution has not changed the German misconception of a national honor," says one commentator.

TASK AHEAD MAY BE NEARLY AS GREAT AS WINNING THE WAR

Paris, June 24.—With such headlines as "Really Peace at Last" does the press of Paris express its relief at the formal end of the great war. Editorial writers embroider their text with comments in keeping with the principles professed by their respective newspapers, but none of the writers are exactly jubilant. Underlying all, is the feeling that the task that lies ahead is almost equal to that of winning the war.

"The task," says Alfred Capus, in the Figaro, "is not above the strength of this nation which come out of the war with a prestige which remains only to be converted into prosperity."

QUEBEC PREMIER'S MAJORITY IS 70

Election of Liberal in Pontiac Raises Sir Lomer Gouin's Lead.

Montreal, June 24.—With the announcement available this morning that M. MacDonald, Liberal, was elected in Pontiac yesterday during the provincial general election, the following of Sir Lomer Gouin, premier of Quebec, rose to 70. The Opposition is represented by nine Conservatives and two Laborites.

One of the most notable defeats in the elections was that of T. D. Bouchard in St. Hyacinthe. Mr. Bouchard was an advocate of compulsory education, and it was largely on account of his allegations against the school system of the province that the Catholic committee of the council of public instruction decided on an investigation.

COMMISSION WILL DECIDE IF SINKING VIOLATED THE TRUCE

Council of Three Refers Scapa Flow Incident to Experts.

Paris, June 24.—The council of three has referred the question relative to the sinking of the German fleet in Scapa Flow to a commission of experts, which will determine whether the armistice conditions were violated.

RUSHING WORK ON AUSTRIAN TREATY

Paris, June 24.—Work on the Austrian peace treaty was resumed by the council of three today. The completion of the document to be presented to the Austrian delegates is desired as speedily as possible and work on it is expected to be energetically pushed. In this process financial experts were called before the council at today's session.

PARISIANS REJOICE WHEN INFORMED OF ENEMY ACCEPTANCE

Noisy Celebration Follows the Arrival of News in French Capital.

SIMPLE CEREMONY

Expected To Mark Signing of the Treaty At Versailles.

Paris, June 23.—Long months of strain during the peace negotiations and weeks of doubt whether the Germans would accept the conditions offered or would invite by their refusal of them a further invasion of Germany, ended late this afternoon when a note announcing Germany's unconditional acceptance was delivered to the supreme council of the conference. It was not long after the reply had been received and opened before the supreme council that guns began to boom from the forts around Paris and rejoicing crowds began to stream through the streets, having been apprised by the sound of cannon that the Germans have accepted the allied terms.

A Noisy Celebration.

The celebration soon assumed a tumultuous character, and by 8 o'clock in the evening Paris seemed bent on indulging in an excited demonstration of joy. Plans for the ceremony attending the signature of the treaty were considered by the supreme council today. It is known that it will be as simple as is consistent with the nature of the event and the original plans for the conclusion of the "second peace of Versailles" have been materially modified.

The plenipotentiaries will be seated on a raised dais in the centre of the vast hall of mirrors in the chateau of Versailles, upon which will be installed the table upon which the treaty will be signed. The program does not contemplate any set addresses, but it is believed possible that both Premier Clemenceau and the leading German delegate may make short speeches.

The delegations will come to the table when called upon by Secretary Paul Dutasta to affix their signatures opposite the seals which will, prior to the event, be fixed to the instrument.

GERMANS CELEBRATE GOVERNMENT'S ACTION IN ACCEPTING TREATY

London, June 24.—News of the German Government's agreement to sign the peace terms resulted in patriotic demonstrations throughout Germany, the Exchange Telegraph's Copenhagen correspondent reports.

In Berlin, Munich and other large cities, the dispatch says, processions formed and marched along the principal streets, the participants singing war songs and cheering the generals of the old empire.

The officers' association, it is added, has asked the Duch Government not to deliver the former German emperor to the allies. In a telegram, officers of the association said: "We can protect the kaiser with our bodies, but we rely upon the generosity of the Dutch people."

CLEMENCEAU TO RESIGN SOON AS PACT IS SIGNED

French Premier Feels That He Has Completed His Task.

GOES TO VERSAILLES

Parliament Is Expected To Ratify Treaty Late in July.

Paris, June 24.—Premier Clemenceau has expressed his intention to resign from office as soon as the treaty is promulgated, feeling that he has accomplished the task for which he assumed the premiership, says Marcel Hutin in the Echo de Paris. It is expected that parliament would ratify the treaty late in July.

LEAVES FOR VERSAILLES.

Paris, June 24.—Premier Clemenceau president of the peace conference, will go to Versailles this morning to make final arrangements for the signing of the treaty with Germany.

WAITED 49 YEARS FOR HOUR, DECLARES FRENCH PREMIER

Paris, Monday, June 23.—"We have waited forty-nine years for this moment!" exclaimed Premier Clemenceau as he opened the fateful dispatch announcing that Germany would sign the treaty at the meeting of the council of three this afternoon.

"For forty-nine years," he continued, "the mailed fist of the Reitre (German trooper), who has governed Germany, has menaced the world. Whether the man's name was Bismarck or William II., it was still the same reitre of the middle ages, surrounded by soldiery and drunk with pride.

"Be careful; keep your powder dry. Be careful. Remind the world that it is living on a barrel of that powder. This reitre dogma is that might is right; that a state's only obligation is its own interest, that treaties do not exist when they clash with the interests of a state, and get rich by any means. We know from witnesses who were at the side of William II. that when he learned of the Sarajevo tragedy, he who posed as a keeper of the peace cried: 'The hour has struck! Now we shall see what an army is!'"

Germans Burn Flags Taken From French In War of 1870-71

Action Is Regarded As a Distinct Violation of Peace Treaty.

Paris, June 24.—Word of the burning of certain French battle flags by the Germans has been received here. Peace conference opinion is apparently unanimous that this is a distinct violation of the peace treaty, inasmuch as that document stipulated that the flags should be returned to France by Germany.

It is probable that a commission will be appointed to consider taking action in the matter.

Presumably the foregoing refers to French battle flags taken by the Germans in the war of 1870-71. Article 245 of the peace treaty in the original draft, stipulated that within six months after the treaty should take effect Germany must restore to France the trophies, works of art, etc., carried from France by the German authorities in the Franco-Prussian war, particularly the French flags taken in the course of the war of 1870-71.

WASTED TALENTS

(With apologies to all except the under-mentioned poet.)

If you have read the "pome" of Sergeant Young,
And then the answers, you'll ask
if John Gunn,
When sober, could such lurid
language use,
What could he do with a few shots of booze
Inside his system? Sad to contemplate—
Shakespeare his throne would promptly abdicate,
And Burns, the bibulous, so fair and bonny,
Would doff his bonnet to our little Johnny.

THOUSANDS OF ALIENS ARE RETURNING TO NATIVE LANDS

New York, June 24.—New records are being made daily in the number of aliens seeking passports here to return to their native countries. More than 3,000, mostly Italians and Greeks, applied yesterday at the customs house, and today an equal number was expected, as thousands were still in line last night when the passport bureau office was closed. According to customs officials, 75 per cent of the aliens are Italians, the second largest percentage being Greeks.

DR. VON HAIMHAUSEN RESIGNS RATHER THAN SIGN TREATY

German Delegate Designated To Attach Signature To the Document Wires His Resignation To Weimar.

Weimar, June 23.—Dr. Haniel von Haimhausen, who was on Sunday designated as the German representative to sign the treaty of peace, has telegraphed his resignation from Versailles rather than attach his name to the instrument.

MUELLER TO HEAD DELEGATION.

Paris, June 24.—Hermann Mueller, the new German foreign secretary, will head the German delegation to sign the peace treaty, La Liberte says. The Germans probably will arrive at Versailles Wednesday morning.

GERMAN DELEGATION TO SIGN TREATY TO BE NAMED TODAY

Weimar, June 23.—The German delegation to sign the peace treaty probably will be named tonight or tomorrow.

Before the national assembly voted today to sign the peace terms unconditionally fiery appeals in opposition were made by the Democrats and Conservatives, but they apparently had little effect. When the vote was called all but a few members rose to signify their affirmation of the government's decision to sign. Once the vote was taken, gloom appeared to descend upon the the assembly. The most vigorous opponents of signing were speechless and seemed to accept the inevitable with resignation.

Many wild rumors of what would happen when it became known the assembly had voted almost unanimously to accept the terms gained currency. One that appeared to get most support was that all the officers of the German army would resign if the government did not refuse to surrender German leaders, especially Field Marshal Von Hindenberg and General Ludendorff and defy the Allies to seize the former emperor. In military and semi-military circles a strong insistence has developed that the former emperor is innocent, and that under no circumstances must he be placed on trial except in a neutral court. In some quarters the threat of the officers to resign was taken most seriously on the ground that such action might pave the way for a Spartacan and communist uprising throughout the country.

WINNIPEG MAYOR WHO DECLARES LAWLESSNESS IN CITY MUST END

SHEDDEN FARMER DIES FROM HEAT

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, June 24.—The first fatality since the advent of the intense heat wave experienced during the past few weeks occurred last evening at Shedden, when Ernest Stafford, a well-known Elgin farmer and a son of the late Richard Stafford of Shedden, was overcome by the excessive heat and died suddenly while passing through the village.

Mr. Stafford was one of the best-known farmers in the country. He was in his 47th year, and had spent all his life on the well-known Stafford farm near Shedden. He leaves a wife and two young children.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday at 3 o'clock (fast time) to the Shedden Cemetery.

LORD BEAVERBROOK ANNOUNCES OFFER OF FIVE SCHOLARSHIPS

Moncton, N. B., June 24.—Lord Beaverbrook, who is on a visit to his native province, announces that he will offer five scholarships for the province of New Brunswick. The scholarships can be held at any Canadian university, and will be of the value of $325 a year for the period of the whole course, either in arts, theology, law, medicine, civil engineering, etc., but in the case of theology the scholarships will not be granted for students attending denominational colleges. The scholarships will be awarded by competitive examinations of the University of New Brunswick. Three of the five scholarships must come from the centres outside of St. John and Fredericton. The lieutenant-governor, Justice Crockett and Frank B. Ellis have been chosen to make the awards. The sum of $25,000 has been deposited with the Montreal Trust Company for the use of the committee.

WINNIPEG POLICE TO AVOID STRIKES IF GIVEN BACK JOBS

Proposition Is Submitted To Commission by Union Members.

BUT ONE AUTHORITY

Patrolmen Will Renounce All Others But the Police Commision.

Winnipeg, June 24.—A meeting of the Policemen's Union has decided to place a proposition before the police commissioners with a view to reinstatement on the force. A letter embodying the proposition of the policemen has been prepared, and it is said to contain a renouncement of all connection with the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council on the part of the Policemen's Union and an undertaking, provided the old members of the force are reinstated, to acknowledge no other authority than the police commission. The proposals also include an undertaking not to participate in sympathetic strikes. The pro-strike returned soldiers yesterday afternoon interviewed Mayor Charles F. Gray in regard to their using the board of trade building, otherwise known as the industrial bureau, as a meeting place. They were informed firmly by the mayor the reasons why they could not have it. Although the delegation was with the mayor over half an hour they were unable to shake his views regarding the matter.

MOUNTED POLICE ARREST EDITOR OF LABOR NEWSPAPER

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, June 23.—Mounted police this evening raided the office of the Labor News and seized all copy and type of tomorrow's issue and arrested the editor, Rev. J. S. Woodsworth, son of a pioneer Methodist missionary and himself a graduate of a local college.

For years Woodsworth was in charge of the People's Mission in Winnipeg located among foreigners here, and did splendid work. He left the church a few years ago and went to Vancouver, B. C., where he worked as a longshoreman on the docks.

The mounted police, with drawn sabres and revolvers, cleared Victoria Park of all strikers, who had intended holding a meeting there. No meetings are to be allowed in public places this month, and Mayor Gray again read the riot act tonight, and soldiers are guarding the city. Only five men turned up at the Canadian Pacific shops to work today. All stage hands in theatres are back. With no opportunity to hold public meetings inside or out, and no paper, the strikers are hard put for encouragement. Fifty rioters were released today on $1,000 bail and arrests were made of men who set fire to street cars and those who incited soldiers to parade.

VICTORIA LABOR MEN DEMAND THAT GOVERNMENT QUIT

Victoria, June 23.—At a meeting of some 2,000 labor men, a resolution demanding that organized labor call on the government to resign and call an election on the present issue was carried.

VANCOUVER STRIKERS TO INSIST THAT ALL MEN BE REINSTATED

Vancouver, June 24.—The likelihood that the local strike would end shortly became an improbability when it was intimated to the mayor by the business agent of the civic employees that the strike committee would not call off the strike if a single employer refused to reinstate all the strikers without prejudice to their former standing.

Representatives of the individual unions have been canvassing employers affected by the strike for an explanation of their position in regard to the status of their striking employees. These will report to the central strike committee tomorrow evening.

A delegation representing striking civic employees was informed today by the mayor that the city would not discuss the status of its striking employees until the latter came forward as a union with a definite proposal as to the time they would return to work and the conditions they expected to obtain.

The general strike in New Westminster came to an end at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by order of the strike committee of that city.

SHOPMEN RETURN TO WORK.

Calgary, June 24.—Two hundred and sixty-four men returned to work at the C. P. R. shops here yesterday. The full staffs returned at the C. N. R. shops here and in Edmonton. Metal workers returned at 88 cents an hour for a 44-hour week.

RELIEF DISPATCHED TO STRICKEN CITY HIT BY TORNADO

Latest Estimate of Dead At Fergus Falls, Minn., Is Sixty.

Fergus Falls, Minn., June 24.—Relief work proceeded rapidly today in the section of the city destroyed by last Sunday's tornado. Arrangements were made through Mayor Hodgson of St. Paul, for 2,000 loaves of bread to be shipped to this city today and 1,000 a day thereafer until the city can arrange to provide essentials for itself.

Mayor Hodgson and members of the St. Paul Association, through representatives here, are preparing an appeal to Minnesota to raise half a million dollars for reconstruction work.

Two additional companies of militia were due to arrive today to assist the small detachment which has been working night and day, searching the ruins and guarding property.

The latest estimate of the dead is 60, of which 44 have been recovered.

PENSIONS INCREASES FROM 13 TO 20 PER CENT RECOMMENDED BY THE SPECIAL HOUSE COMMITTEE

Bill To Be Submitted Without Delay Provides For Advanced Pensions To Soldiers and Naval Men and Their Dependents—Additional Expenditure Will Amount To Over Three Millions.

Ottawa, June 24.—The special committee of the Commons to deal with pensions, of which Hon. N. W. Rowell is chairman, and W. F. Nickel vice-chairman, presented its recommendations to parliament this morning. They provide for the increases in pensions to soldiers and naval men of similar rating and dependents of soldiers and naval men the same to be given parliamentary sanction under the provisions of the bill to be introduced without delay:

A.—Bonus for one year of 20 per cent to pensions of privates and corporals, who now receive $600 per annum for disability.

B.—Bonus for one year of approximately 13 per cent to pensions of sergeants, etc., who now receive $637.50 per annum for total disability.

C.—Bonus for one year of 20 per cent to pensions of widows and parents of privates and corporals who now receive $480 per annum.

D.—Bonus for one year of approximately 13 per cent to pensions of widows and parents of sergeants, etc., who now receive $510 per annum.

E—Additional pension for married members of forces who are totally disabled, from $96 per annum to $180 per annum.

F—Additional pension for the first child of a widow or the first brother or sister of a deceased member of the forces be increased from $144 per annum to $180 per annum.

G—That the pension for the first orphan child or orphan brother or sister of a deceased member of the forces be increased from $288 per annum to $360 per annum; and

H—That the addition to pension for those who are helpless and in need of attendance be increased from $300 per annum to $450 per annum.

The increases proposed in subsections A, B and E, above set forth, will apply proportionately to cases of disability of a lesser extent than total disability.

The additional expenditure for the present year on the basis of the existing number of pensioners, will be approximately $3,380,000.

Canada since the beginning of the war, has dealt more generously than any of the allied countries with those of her citizens who have suffered disability or the dependents of those who have been killed during service, and under the proposed scale, Canada's pensions will continue to exceed those paid by other countries, says the committee's report. According to figures submitted about 200 supplementary pensions would be granted under these recommendations. The expenditure for these supplementary pensions will not exceed in the aggregate $500,000 per annum.

The total number of disability pensioners, as of the 31st of Mrch, 1919, was 44,726 (not including wives and children). The estimates total possible liability for pensions, under the provisions of the proposed bill submitted will not exceed $39,000,000.

DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE INVITED TO ATTEND BIG CELEBRATION

"Canada Week" Will Be Observed in New York Next Week.

New York, June 24.—British and Canadian societies in this city joined in sending a telegram today to the Duke of Devonshire, governor-general of Canada, inviting him to come to New York to participate in New York's celebration of Canada Week, which begins July 1, Dominion Day.

The twenty local chapters of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, at a meeting last night presided over by Mrs. T. Webster Fox, national president, of Philadelphia, voted to take charge of the Canadian celebration here on July 2, "Clansmen's" day.

One feature of the celebration of Canada Week will be the showing of moving pictures illustrative of the battle of Vimy Ridge, in which Canadian troops played the vital role.

PEACE HOLIDAY TO BE DISCUSSED

No. 2 Committee Will Decide Tonight.

The question of arranging for a holiday and a demonstration to celebrate the signing of peace will be taken up at a special meeting of No. 2 committee of the city council this evening.

The meeting was called originally for the purpose of taking up the matter of oiling the Pipe Line road and repairing Mount Pleasant road, but Mayor C. R. Somerville, when the fact of the imminence of formal peace was drawn to his attention, declared that he would bring up the matter of a celebration at the meeting.

Here's a Bylaw That Has The Magistrate Beaten

Ignorant of Its Existence, But the Police Knew It.

"I did not know there was such a bylaw myself," Magistrate Graydon announced in police court when a charge was made against Nelson Adair of driving a motor car down the city section of Dundas street, with advertising pennants fastened to the car, which it transpired is a breach of a city bylaw.

When the section of the bylaw were referred to in connection with the case, it was found that no motor cars carrying advertising signs may be driven on Dundas street between Wellington and Ridout streets, or on Richmond street between Fullarton street and the Grand Trunk crossing.

Adair testified that the motor car he was driving belonged to his brother, and that two pennants advertising puncture-proof tyres were fastened to the sides of the car. It had been driven through the country without any police interference until it was brought to this city. The case was dismissed.

AVIATORS KILLED IN FALL.

Rye Beach, N. Y., June 24.—Two unidentified aviators, believed to have been army fliers, were killed when their airplane fell several hundred feet here today. The machine caught fire and the bodies were burned beyond recognition.

DEAD AVIATORS IDENTIFIED.

Mineola, N. Y., June 24.—It was announced today that the aviators killed at Rey Beach were Lieut. S. M. Watson of Rogers, Texas, and M. Ireland, a civilian mechanic of Westbury.

FRENCH DROUGHT BROKEN.

Paris, June 24.—The drought which has been afflicting Paris and virtually all France for several weeks, seems to have been broken. Rain began falling here this morning.

ITALIAN DELEGATION EXPECTED TO ARRIVE IN TIME TO SIGN

New Peace Conference Delegates To Leave Home On Wednesday.

Rome, June 23.—The new Italian delegation to the peace conference, it was announced tonight, will leave here Wednesday and expects to arrive in Paris in time to sign the treaty of peace with Germany. The delegation is composed of Foreign Minister Tittoni and three senators, Vittorio Scialoia, Guglielmo Marconi and Maggiorino Ferraris. Marquis Gorgio Guglielmo, a member of the chamber of deputies, will be secretary of the delegation.

ITALIANS SENDING NEW DELEGATION TO PEACE CONFERENCE

Paris, June 24.—The Italian delegation said today that it had been informed that a new delegation to the peace conference will arrive in Paris Friday. It will consist of Foreign Minister Titoni, Senator Guglielmo Marconi and Senator Vittorio Scialoia. It is not known if others would be added to the delegation, but it is believed likely that Signors Crespi and Ferraris will complete the mission.

NO SIGNS OF MISSING BOY WHO LEFT ORPHANAGE AS YET DISCOVERED BY POLICE

Hopes Entertained That He Will Be Found on Way to Chatham.

While officials of Mount St. Joseph's Orphanage, from which 10-year-old Peter Bykowy, a ward at the institution, disappeared on Saturday afternoon, and is still missing, are hopeful that the boy will be found somewhere on the road to Chatham, where he lived before he was brought here. No word has yet been received by them or by the police, which will trace his whereabouts.

Police instituted a thorough search for the child two days ago, and with officials of the orphanage have investigated every possible place where the child may have wandered, but have not yet discovered a single clue which leads to the missing youngster.

The boy's father is said to live in Windsor, having moved there from Chatham shortly after the child was brought here and given in the keeping of the Mount St. Joseph Orphanage. Officials today and yesterday have atempted to locate the father in an effort to learn whether the boy had reached him or had ever intimated his desire to see his father, but so far the parent has not been reached.

WARNED FRENCH THAT INTERNED FLEET WAS NOT BEING WATCHED

Paris, June 24.—Viscount Gustav de Kerguezeo, member of the naval committee of the chamber of deputies, told the budget committee of the chamber yesterday that he had warned the French Ministry of Marine previously that the German fleet interned in Scapa Flow was not being watched with sufficient care.

The budget committee then decided to ask Premier Clemenceau for further information on the subject of the sinking of the ships, and the steps the French Government proposed to take to have the loss made good.

GOODBYE, B. OF T.—While the London Chamber of Commerce has been prominent since last fall, in the background has been the old London Board of Trade upon the decision of which was undertaken the reorganization and enlargement of the commercial organization along the lines of citizenship and service. The old board of trade will cease to exist as soon as all business associated therewith is wound up, and for some time a convenient season has been awaited to hold the valedictory meeting. This has been arranged for today, the chief business to be the winding up of accounts.

REPUBLIC MOTOR CO. WILL LOCATE LARGE PLANT IN THIS CITY

Ten Acres of Ground Will Be Required For Work.

CAPITALIZED AT $2,000,000

Large Amount of Capital Subscribed in This City.

Anybody ever noticed the full page and double page advertisements of the Republic Truck Company, Inc., in the leading magazines and periodicals of the United States, and the most high priced advertising mediums on the continent?

The Republic Motor Truck Company, Inc., many times the largest company in the world for the exclusive manufacture of motor trucks, will locate Canadian manufacturing headquarters in London.

This announcement was made at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the Canadian general manager, A. C. Smith, under instructions of the president of this "biggest company of the kind in the world, F. W. Ruggles.

It was also stated that the London plant will in all probablty take care of the entire export business of the company to Great Britain and the colonies.

London Capital.

The London company will be capitalized at $2,000,000, and it is understood that a large amount of the capital has been subscribed locally. The output will amount to several million dollars annually.

Ten acres of ground will be required as a minimum for the plant, and it is stated that the London Chamber of Commerce, which has carried on the negotiations for the location of the mammoth company here, has options on practically all the available land suitable for the purpose in annexed areas, where there is fixed assessment.

Plans and organization for the plant are completed and building will be proceeded with as soon as the purchase is made of the land. The cost of the building will be in the neighborhood of $100,000, and will involve substantial contracts for masonry, carpentry work, plumbing, etc

To Manufacture Trucks.

In the meantime manufacturing of trucks will be started in the immediate future, either in the E. Leonard & Sons' plant on York street or in a large building, suitable for the purpose, which was formerly used as a munitions plant and is situated on Rectory street, adjacent to the Grand Trunk Railway tracks.

Eventually 400 or 500 men at least will be employed in the manufacture of the Republic motor trucks here, all skilled laborers, thus adding very materially to the skilled labor field in London. In addition there will be an office staff proportionate in size.

Undoubtedly the establishment of such an industry here will mean in time the location of a number of subsidiary industries, as has been the case in connection with the automobile manufacturing business in Walkerville and Windsor.

It is felt by business men of the city that the decision of the Republic Motor Truck Company to locate here is a big step in the direction of the "Greater London" of a few years hence.

The same methods will be adopted in Canada which have made the success of the Republic Motor Truck Company in the United States, and which have been responsible for a rapidity of growth phenomenal even on this continent.

Organized Five Years.

Five years ago the American Republic Motor Truck Company was organized by F. W. Ruggles of Springfield, Mass., and the parent factory opened in Alma, Mich.

The first year between 60 and 70 trucks were sold.

Last year 23,000 trucks were sold for domestic use in the United States, Canada and all parts of the world, in addition to the numbers of trucks manufactured for army purposes.

Five part distributing stations for service have been established in the United States, and such centres will be established in Canada as the demand presents itself.

In addition, subsidiary plants have sprung into existence in Cleveland, Ohio, and Los Angeles, California.

After a few hours in the city on business yesterday, Mr. Smith went on to Toronto. In connection with the announcement regarding the location of the company here, on instructions of President Ruggles, he said: "There were so many rumors going around to the effect that we were not going to locate in London that we thought it best to make the announcement and let the public definitely know our intentions."

Major L. H. Ingram, the Ontario factory representative, will be in the city all this week in connection with the sales end, with headquarters in the London Chamber of Commerce rooms, corner York and Richmond streets, and will be pleased to give information to any who are interested, and to get in touch with the dealers.

CHIPPEWA ELECTRIC PLANT WINS ADMIRATION OF THE COMMISSIONERS FROM CITY

T. W. McFarland Enthusiastic Over This Power Project.

T. W. McFarland, Jared Vining, and General Manager E. V. Buchanan, who represented the London Utilities Commission at the convention in Niagara Falls last Friday and Saturday of hydro municipalities and hydro engineers, were given an opportunity during their visit to inspect the new Chippewa power development project, and returned Monday tremendously enthusiastic over what they had seen.

Mr. McFarland stated that the new scheme would have the effect, when completed in 1921, of making possible the production of electricity at greatly reduced cost, owing to the facilities provided for producing a greater head of water. The Chippewa "ditch," he said, was eight miles long, and brought water from the level of Lake Erie to a concentration pool three hundred feet above Lake Ontario, into which it emptied. This head of water was nearly twice what was available at the present development point at Niagara Falls, where the drop was only one hundred and sixty feet.

More Power; Less Expense.

This meant that, with the same volume of water, and, therefore, the same machinery and the same expense, 180 horsepower could be produced for every 400 horsepower now developed at Niagara Falls, or an increase of 80 per cent, and the cost would be in exactly inverse ratio to this increase of power for a given volume of water.

Speaking of the work as he saw it in progress, Mr. McFarland said he was particularly impressed by the blasting operations. Into a solid mass of rock holes were sunk every eight feet to a depth of twent feet. Into every hole several cartridges were placed, and all of these, over an acre at a time, were exploded simultaneously by electricity, the result being an awe-inspiring eruption of the whole rock mass, which was afterwards cleared out of the excavation so formed by the largest electric shovel in the world.

This immense machine was capable of dipping down 80 feet, gathering up 125 cubic feet of rock, or 512 cubic feet of earth at a time, and depositing it 80 feet to the side into cars. In some cases where the rock had been well pulverized, Mr. McFarland saw this shovel pick up single masses of rock measuring six feet each way as easily as a man could take up a spadeful of earth.

For Roads and Banks.

The rock taken out was used as broken stone for roadways, and also for making an embankment to prevent landslides along the side of the canal from which it was excavated. The canal was dug several feet wider than necessary, and the surplus space was filled in with the rock, forming an absolute barrier against sliding of the banks.

The buildings where the electricity is converted into direct current to operate the machinery of the plant, where electric machinery is manufactured and where machinery and parts are stored were also visited. The storeroom was described as a marvel of system. Millions of nuts, bolts and other accessories were stored in their respective places and properly labelled, and no piece was allowed to leave the building without a proper order and a receipt for it.

Altogether, said Mr. McFarland, the visit was one which proved wonderfully interesting and no less instructive to those who were fortunate enough to be in the inspection party, which was personally conducted over the entire project.

Gained: Four Dollars Cash; Lost: His Good Reputation

Sharp Practic on Market Disgusts Buyers and Clerk.

It happened on the local market today. Two young ladies accosted a farmer who had strawberries for sale and asked him the price of his wares. "Twenty cents a box," he said. The young ladies then proceeded to select a few boxes for purchase. "Oh," exclaimed the farmer, "if you pick them out they will cost you 22 cents a box."

The two young ladies then left the scene, disgusted, and reported the conversation to Market Clerk T. Maker. He visited Farmer Skinflint, and suggested to him that he place the 20-cent berries in one crate and offer the 22-cent ones for sale separately.

"Oh," exclaimed Skinflint again, "I made $4 extra on Saturday by working it this way."

"Yes," was the comeback of the market clerk, as he, too, walked away disgusted, "and you lost about $8 worth of reputation."

BALL PLAYERS ARE ROBBED WHILE OUT AT SPRINGBANK PARK

Thieves Steal Clothes and Some Money.

NO CLUES ARE FOUND

Police Called But Their Search Revealed No Trace of Miscreants.

Harold Chapman, 71 Wharncliffe road, and a member of the Askin Street Methodist Church baseball team, had to come home from Springbank Monday wearing a baseball uniform, although he had intended changing into conventional attire at the conclusion of the game between Askin Street and the City Colored Ball Team yesterday afternoon.

While interest in the game was at its height thieves took the club bag belonging to Chapman from the stone house near the ball park, containing his suit of clothes and a pair of Oxford shoes, and other apparel. Several others members of the team who left small change in their pockets in the building returned to town poorer by the loss of from $2 to $4 each.. Police are not in possession of the names of the team members whose pockets were rifled, but are investigating the robbery of the club bag and the clothes.

Chapman's suit was of dark green cloth, with a belted coat, and the bag and its contents are valued at something over $50.

When the clothing and money were missed after the game, the owners commenced a search of the grounds, but found no clues to their stolen property. At 9:30 p.m. the police were telephoned for, and a constable went to the park to aid in the search, which revealed nothing.

IDEAL MONTH FOR OUTINGS IS CAUSE OF EARLY SEASON

No Finer June For Picnics Is Remembered.

With all the criticisms which have been directed at the too-muchness of the heat of the first three weeks of this month of June, the public has been bound to admit that there never was such a picnic weather month of June in all recollection.

Picnics have been in full swing from two weeks to a month earlier than in previous years, the invitation of shady groves and parks and the waterside proving irresistible on broiling, baking days.

The same conditions have been responsible for the fact that summer homes have been opened weeks earlier than usual, and a lively interest has been manifested betimes in summer trips and vacation boarding.

Early at Port.

More people have opened their summer homes and are visitors at Port Stanley at the present time than had congregated there by the middle of July a year ago, and the summer colony is daily augmented by throngs of people on picnic outings bent.

Ever since the summer rates were put on the middle of June, the lakeside has enjoyed an unwonted popularity for the time of year, and several large picnics have already been held there. It is stated that the port is already "booked solid" with picnics right into the month of August.

Apart from the mammoth school picnic of Friday, June 13, there has been heavy daily traffic to Springbank Park, where dozens of picnics large and small have already been held.

Other Parties.

When a few congenial-looking people are seen carrying lunch boxes and climb on a car headed for the outposts of the city, the chances are good that those people are going to ride as far as the car will take them to the city limits, then walk to a pleasant nook to enjoy a picnic party.

And, of course, there are the lucky people with automobiles, motorcycles and bicycles who are not dependent upon public conveyances for transportation and who can go wherever they choose with the world, within a radius of many miles, as their picnic ground.

About the only kind of a picnic that is denied the citizenship is the steamboat or motor launch, or even row-boat picnic down the winding Thames.

PUPILS OF MISS WALKER GIVE ELOCUTION RECITAL

Platform Manner and Enunciation Please Large Audience.

An elocution recital which attracted a large audience, was given the end of last week in King Street Presbyterian Sunday School by pupils of Miss Walker.

A most varied program was presented, the pupils revealing in each case a natural manner free from affection, care in enunciation and pronounciation, which reflected much credit upon the training received, and a nice appreciation of the dramatic or humorous possibilities of numbers.

Elocution pupils taking part were, Olive Perkins, Edith Jones, Ethel Cameron, Thelma Mantle, Mary Bolton, Mary Leff, Lillian Richards, Jean Pellow, Viola Leff, Edna Griffith, Stella Doan, Georgina Mansbridge, Eleanor McCormick, Alice McDonald, Minnie Doblyn, Agnes Richmond, Gladys Tulett, Edith Maitland.

Miss Lillian Erskine, a pupil of Miss Isobel Jackson, contributed a piano solo.

A silver collection was taken in aid of the Girls' Club of the church.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A HISTORY OF LACE-MAKING.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I am engaged with Mr. Thomas Wright upon an important work, which will deal exhaustively with the history of lace-making by hand, as carried on in Bucks, Beds, Northants and other districts.

I should be glad if any of your readers who are interested in this subject would communicate with me. They could help in various ways; for example:

1. By giving an account of the progress of the industry in their own neighborhood.

2. By sending inscriptions on bobbins or trade tokens, or any anecdotes relating to the industry.

But there are many other ways in which correspondents could help; they would be doing service, not only to me, but also to literature, and I should be pleased to hear from anyone.

The work will be a demy, 8 vo. of 300 pages, with 50 plates, and it will correspond in size and general appearance with Mr. Wright's famous biographies of Cowper, Watts and Toplady.

I am, sir, yours very truly,

SUPPOSED "MISSING" WOMAN NOW LIVING HAPPILY IN ALBERTA

Mrs. Stork Not Hiding, Says Friend.

HAS FAMILY WITH HER

Writer of Letter Blames Husband For Her Leaving Ontario.

Some time ago The Advertiser published a story about a veteran named Stork, who was supposed to be looking in vain for his wife and children whom he had left in this city before going overseas.

Now a new light has been thrown on the subject by a letter from Crossfield, Alberta. The writer of the communication says that Stork had been home and seen his wife and children three times before she left London. Moreover, the Crossfield man blames the husband for the separation, and says Mrs. Stork is not hiding her identity, but is working in that town openly and supporting her family.

The letter received by The Advertiser makes many charges against the character of Stork, and declares that the writer has known Mrs. Stork for twenty years and has always found her an honorable woman.

ROSE CROIX DEGREE GIVEN TO 25 RITERS

Beautiful Ceremony At the Masonic Hall Monday.

About 25 members of the Masonic order from all parts of the London district received the Rose Croix degrees in A. and A. S. R. of Freemasonry at the Masonic Temple here Monday. These beautiful degrees were exemplified by the officers of London Sovereign Chapter of Rose Croix in a very satisfactory manner, and were most attentively received by the class of candidates.

There was a large attendance of Scottish Riters from the district at the ceremonial, and following the conferring of degrees a banquet was served those present at the Masonic Temple.

ARGENTINE WANTS MANY OF GOODS MADE IN THIS CITY

Great Opportunities for Export, Says Trade Commissioner Visiting City.

London manufacturers are turning out many products which are wanted in the Argentine Republic, according to B. S. Webb, British trade commissioner at Buenos Ayres, who is in the city for a few days, interviewing the manufacturers of goods which the Argentine desires to import. A direct steamship line with South America is being established which will facilitate export trade from Canada.

Among the "made in London" products which may find a market there are hosiery and underwear, stoves and ranges, enamel and tinware, brass, plumbers' supplies, etc., biscuits and candy, builders' hardware, wooden handles, concrete-making machinery, steel bars, barrels, pianos, organs, threshers, tractors, bolts and hinges.

T. H. BAKER & CO.'S EMPLOYEES ENJOY BIG ANNUAL PICNIC

The employees of T. H. Baker & Co., Limited, held their sixth annual picnic at Springbank Park on Saturday, and a large attendance and ideal weather made the outing a big success. Everyone enjoyed themselves, especially the kiddies who were served with ice cream cones, chocolates, chewing gum, and supplied with paper hats, balloons and whistles.

The program, which was entirely of a novel order, created a great deal of amusement for the onlookers, as well as those taking part. A baseball match was participated in by all, and supper served, following the races.

The prize winners were:

Race, boys under 6—Clarence Dear, C. O'Hara, Gerald Seabrooke.

Race, small girls—Vera Guymer, Margaret Parsons.

Race, boys under 8—Percy Rennie, Olif Bright, Robert Glover.

DROVE MOTOR CAR PAST STANDING STREET CAR

Driver of Military Car Has to Pay a Three Dollar Fine.

The motorman and the conductor of a street car both testified n police court that Sergt. W. H. Tovell of the C. A. M. C. drove his car, on June 16, past their street car at the corner of Central avenue and Adelaide street, while passengers were alighting from th street car.

Tovell said he was half way past the street car when it stopped, and that he did not see the conductor's warning signal from the rear of the car. He was fined $3 and costs.

Other offenders who broke the motor vehicles act and traffic laws were fined, as follows: Gordon Stewart, $3; Charles H. Ward, $5; Abdul Hamseed, $2; D. H. Forbes, $2; H. Peel, $2; J. Nichols, $1; H. J. Jones, $3; J. N. McLaughlin, $5; Robert Burns, $5.

NOT THE GUILTY ONE

William Slobasky Not User of Strong Language on Street.

William Slobasky was dismissed on a charge of using "swear words" on Richmond street several nights ago. The swearing attracted the notice of a policeman, who summoned Slobasky. Both Slobasky and J. Fox testified that the swearing was perpetrated by a vaudevillian then in town.

"I suppose he is in Chicago or some place about that far away now," the magistrate remarked.

"Yes, he probably is by this time," Fox replied.

SAYS DOCTOR ORDERED HIM TO CARRY BOTTLE ALONG; HAVING IT COSTS HIM $200

Frederick Colina Brought His Irish From Toronto for Emergency.

Eleven policemen, a plainclothes constable, and the police inspector, to say nothing of the chief of police, all lined up against the walls of the police court this morning, and most of them gave evidence in hearings before Magistrate Graydon, in which breaches of traffic and city bylaws were involved.

Frederick Colina, arrested Monday by P. C. Roy Monteith in a Richmond street hotel, because he had a large bottle of Irish whiskey in his clubbag, told the magistrate that he had brought the liquor from Toronto, where he had been ordered by a physician to carry it always with him.

Felt the Need.

Colina said he felt sick and uncorked the bottle and took a drink when he arrived in London. The illness, he said, was chronic, and he did not imply that it was caused by viewing the Forest City.

The constable testified that Colina was intoxicated, and had no hat when he entered the hotel where he was arrested. He was fined $200 and costs, with the option of spending three months in jail.

Although Dr. George S. Weir, officer for the London public schools, appeared in court with an information against Albert Smith of Ealing, charging him with failing to send his daughter to the Ealing school, J. M. McEvoy, counsel for Mr. Smith, said that the girl had not lived in Ealing for several months, but had been in attendance at a school in Simcoe. The case was laid over for a few days when it will probably be settled out of court.

Had Paid for Damage.

While Joe Hislop was watching an airplane last week he ran into a woman with his bicycle on the sidewalk and dirtied her gown. She appeared in court this morning with Hislop who was summoned, but the magistrate refused to allow her witness fees since she did not testify in the case. Hislop had paid her for the damage he had done to the dress, and was dismissed.

Incivility, $1.

Incivility to a policeman cost young Reginald Gorange an extra dollar fine, making a total of $2 with costs, when he appeared in court charged with riding a bicycle on the sidewalk, and when questioned by a policeman, giving a fictitious name to the constable.

"The cop nailed me from behind and said he wanted to see me on business," Gorange explained, "so I gave him a wrong name. If he had done the job in the right way I would have told him my real name."

"That will cost you a dollar," the magistrate decided.

GAME POSTPONED.—The Manufacturers' League game scheduled for Tecumseh Park this evening between The Advertiser Job and Selaks, has been postponed, owing to the M-O League game being played there.

LOCAL NEWS

UNION BAKERY.—Regarding the wages and hours that the union bakers of the city recently obtained, there has been some misunderstanding. The men work nine hours each day. Those who do night work, are on duty for eight hours each night. The new scale of wages has $22 and $30 as its extremes.

GARDEN PARTY.—One of the excellent garden parties for which St. Michael's Church is noted will be held on the grounds of St. Michael's school Wednesday night. A five-piece orchestra has been secured and refreshments, including strawberries and ice cream, cake, etc., will be served.

NEARLY CLEAN HEALTH BILL.—Only five cases of communicable diseases were reported in the city during the week ending June 21, and of these tuberculosis claimed two, diphtheria suspects two, and chickenpox one. There were, altogether, eight people quarantined, this number including three old scarlet fever cases.

JUDGMENT RESERVED. — Judgment was reserved in the case of the Western Ontario Electric Company vs. the Lambton Packing Company, which was tried and concluded before Judge Talbot Macbeth in the county court this morning. The action was for $796.99, for work done and materials supplied.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT.—The 7th Regiment Band, conducted by Bandmaster Slatter, is giving a band concert at Tecumseh Barracks this evening for the convalescent soldiers. Following this, the Overseas Chapter, I. O. D. E., will give their usual weekly treat for the men, in this case ice cream and other refreshments, after which there will be dancing for an hour.

EXPECTED TONIGHT.—The Siberian party, numbering 6 officers and 58 other ranks for this district, 15 of whom are Londoners, and which disembarked from the S.S. Montcalm at Vancouver recently, will reach Toronto about 7 o'cloc ktonight, according to latest information. Members of this party are expected to arrive in London via C. P. R. at 9:55 o'clock tonight.

ROTARY CLUB TO ACT.—Following an address Monday by Jared Vining at the Rotary Club luncheon, in which he urged the necessity for supervised playgrounds and a juvenile court for London, a resolution was adopted referring the matter to the executive of the club for the purpose of devising ways and means of conducting a campaign of education to bring these needs before the public.

CHARGED WITH TRESPASS.—Joseph Atfield, who said he came from Brantford in a Grand Trunk freight car, is held by police with trespassing on railway property. He was arrested yesterday by Constable J. A. Hughes, who found the car in which Atfield had ridden had been pilfered. Atfield was remanded until June 28 while the case is investigated by the police.

PRESENTED WITH M. M.—Sergt. E. E. Denny of Fordwich, Ont., was presented with the Military Medal by Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown, A. A. G., at Carling Heights yesterday afternoon. Sergt. Denny enlisted in Alberta with the 50th Battalion with which unit he served in France until he was wounded shortly before the armistice. He was returned to Canada in February. The medal was awarded for gallantry in the field.

GETTING BUSY.—Having made the announcement of definite decision to locate Canadian headquarters in London, the Republic Truck Company, Inc. is immediately taking steps to bring its products to the attention of the public. Today a Republic truck is carrying out the supplies for the Rotary picnic, a banner on the side announcing that this is one of the seven models which will be manufactured in London. Arrangements have also been made for a large exhibit at the Western Fair.

FEDERAL LABOR UNION.—Several firms of the city who employ metal workers have received scales of wages from the Federal Labor Union, according to an announcement made at a meeting of that body in the Trades and Labor Council rooms on Richmond street on Monday evening. They have been asked to state to deputations from the union which will meet them on Thursday, whether they will adopt this schedule. Among the firms notified are McClarys, Beatty Bros., and George White & Sons.

THOSE ANONYMOUS LETTERS.—Apparently anonymous letter-writing is by no means a lost art, and there still are people who allow themselves to become worried or annoyed by these cowardly epistles. The Advertiser has received a letter from Mrs. Sanders of 123 Maple street, who has been bothered in this way. She says: "If the people who are annoyed by my dog will come out and fight in the open, instead of writing letters with no signatures, I might convince them the dog is always in the house at night."

Motorist's Evidence Beats That of Two Policemen

Charge of Passing Standing Street Car Is Dismissed.

Magistrate Graydon waived the evidence of two police constables in police court this morning who testified that Martin C. Folmer, assistant manager of the Canadian Life Assurance Company, with offices in the Dominion Savings Building, drove his automobile past a standing Ridout street car about 4:50 p.m. June 16.

Folmer denied that he had driven west on Dundas street as the two police constables testified he had done, at any time during the day in question. The case was dismissed.

P. C. Roy Venner and P. C. Brammar both testified that they had taken the number of Folmer's car, which they described as a seven-passenger McLaughlin touring car, and that it passed a west bound Ridout street car at 4:50 p.m., on Monday, June 16. Folmer said, "If I had been charged with the offence as happening while I was driving east at that time I would plead guilty."

From 4:50 to 10 p.m., he said, he was at a garage and was sure of the time because he frequenly looked at the clock in his car in order to arrive at the garage to keep an appointment.

NO INCREASE IN STREET CAR FARES UNTIL PEOPLE VOTE IT, IS DECISION OF COMMITTEE

Council Will Be So Advised—Members Almost Unanimous in Determination That Legal Way Must Be Observed.

No increase of street railway fares will be put into effect until a vote of the people has been taken, if the city council acts on the recommendation of No. 1 committee, which met in special session this morning to discuss the matter with the special railway committee. Moreover, if the views of practically all the members of No. 1 represent the majority view of the council, the question will be submitted to the people only if the company first binds itself by an agreement to give a service even better than is called for by the existing bylaw and to do its share of all paving work.

The committee talked over street railway matters for upwards of an hour and a half, and finally adopted a motion submitted by Mayor C. R. Somerville, to recommend to the council that a vote be taken on the question of increased fares as soon as possible, and that in the meantime the committee, in conjunction with the city solicitor, prepare an agreement on which the proposed increases would be contingent.

Ald. (Dr.) L. S. Holmes, S. Manness, F. Harley, C. G. Moorhead and F. R. Watkinson were present when the committee convened, and the mayor came in a little later, and took his place at the board. Dr. Holmes presided as chairman, in the absence of Ald. E. S. Little.

Same Old Proposition.

Dr. Holmes, in opening the proceedings, announced that the special committee had received from the company officials at the conference last Thursday, which was held in the office of Ivey & Ivey, the street railway solicitors, only a verbal proposition, and that was practically identical with the proposition which the company had been offering for the last twelve months. It was taken up by the committee clause by clause.

A clause recommending that, as the company had expressed inability to submit any purchase proposal until the shareholders had been consulted, the question of purchase be laid over for the meantime, was adopted. The clause relating to service was referred to the city engineer for a report, and the remainder of the suggestion contained in the report of the railway's company's proposition was discussed, but nothing definite was done in connection with it until the adoption of the mayor's motion at the conclusion of the report.

Company's Offer.

The company's offer, in return for a year's agreement raising fares either to the standard proposed by the trades and labor council or that embodied in the bylaw passed by the city council some months ago, was as follows:

To restore the service of thirty-nine cars and to change the schedule in accordance with the following table:

Oxford line, nine cars instead of eight, with a headway of 7½ minues instead of 8 minutes.

Normal, five cars instead of four, headway 8 minues instead of 10.

Richmond, no change.

North Belt, no change.

Ridout, five cars instead of four, headway 12 minutes instead of 15.

Ottaway (to Eleanor), six cars instead of four, headway 12 minutes instead of 15.

Rectory street stub line, no change.

To accept the same fares on both the city and Springbank lines on Sundays as on week days, with the exception that workmen's tickets would not be accepted.

To Help Employers.

To give the employees increased pay on a basis to be agreed to between the company and the men.

To agree to pave Stanley, Wellington, Rectory or Adelaide streets, and a like amount of work in each succeeding year, which would amount to $60,000 or more, the city to do the work and charge it up to the company.

To assume all liability for proceedings arising out of granting increased fare.

Ald. Holmes suggested that the company was offering only what the city, under the bylaw, could compel it to do in any event. He thought that, if fare increases were granted, something further should be demanded in return. Instead of 39 cars, 43 or 45 cars should be put on. A fifteen minute service was almost a suburban service.

No Bribe Needed.

Ald. Manness also thought that the city should not have to bribe the company to restore a service which was called for by the agreement between the city and the company. The service as called for should be restored, and if the company had to be paid to induce it to do this the meeting of the committee was a farce.

This was the view also of Ald. Watkinson, who declared his opinion that if the company had restored the original service and settled with its employees it could have asked for increased fares with better grace and more hope of success.

Said Ald. Harley: "The company has practically delivered to the council an ultimatum, declaring that it will not improve the service or do paving work unless increased fares are granted. If we settle the fare question first we can make our demands for the other things afterwards."

To this Ald. Holmes retorted: "In that event how are you going to protect the citizens by a guarantee that the company will do what is required of it?"

Ald. Watkinson thought that the company should be compelled to carry out its agreement with the city or forfeit its franchise.

The Alternative.

Ald. Harley said he did not like to be frightened into doing anything, but under present conditions of social unrest he liked still less to risk precipitating a strike.

"Who is responsible?" asked Ald. Watkinson. "That is up to the company, not the citizens."

Ald. Holmes—And they are trying to shift the responsibility on to the shoulders of the city council.

In the matter of paving, Ald. Holmes pointed out that the company offered only to do one-fifth of the work which its agreement called for, spreading over five years the work which should be done in one year.

Ald. Harley thought the paving clause was a joke. The company wanted to have the city pave Richmond street and Oxford street, and that would mean that the company would pay the interest and leave the capital charge until the end of its franchise.

Mayor's Ideas.

Mayor Somerville was of the opinion that, if the city did do the work for the company, it should do so only on condition that the company issue debentures to cover the cost.

"Cannot we force them to do this work?" asked Ald. Manness, to which Ald. Holmes replied that the city could do the work and charge it up to the company, in which event, if the bill were not met within two months, the city could cancel the company's franchise.

The committee decided that this clause must be deleted altogether from any agreement entered into as a basis for submission of a fare-increase bylaw to the people.

Ald. Harley drafted a resolution calling for an agreement on the basis of that submitted by the company, with the paving clause struck out and the service clause amended to provide a better service than that called for under the existing bylaw, the agreement to be put into effect immediately and made subject to the retroactive approval of the people at the election in January next. The resolution was not seconded, however, and Ald. Harley later saw difficulties himself and did not press its submission.

"Nothing Doing."

Alderman Holmes mentioned that Mr. Ivey, the company's solicitor, had made the statement that, if a vote of the people wer taken, ther would be "nothing doing." Dr. Holmes stated that he had interviewed the city solicitor again recently and he had reiterated his previous opinion that nothing could be done without consulting the people first. He said also that Mr. Ivey had concurred with him in this view, and yet Mr. Ivey, at the conference on Thursday, had told the committee that in his opinion a separate agreement for increased fares could be entered into legally without a vote.

Dr. Holmes also pointed out that the company's offer to indemnify the city against legal action was not binding. The company had made many statements and agreements in the past which it had failed to carry out. If Flamingan obtained an order quashing the agreement, the costs would be assessed against the city, and there was no guarantee that the company would assume them.

If Refusal Sure—

The view was expressed by Ald. Manness that, if the refusal of the electorate to sanction an increase of fares was so much a foregone conclusion, the city certainly should not enter into any agreement, since it would be going against what was believed to be the obvious wish of the people.

Ald. Holmes was very emphatic in his opinion that nothing should be done without a vote having been taken first, and the mayor declared that all the information in his possession up to date left him with the conviction that the people must be consulted before anything at all could be done in the way of making an agreement for increased fares.

His worship then moved that the city council be recommended to submit the question to the electors as soon as possible, and that the committee and the solicitor draft an agreement embodying the views of the committee in the matter of service and work which he company should be asked to perform.

Ald. Holmes suggested that the city hall and federal square propositions might be submitted at the same time, and that the board of education, if it desired, could simultaneously submit its proposition for debentures. He thought, however, that the board was in the same position as the street railway, afraid of the people's verdict.

Motion Carries.

The mayor's motion carried, although Ald. Manness thought that the recommendation should not go to the city council until the agreement had been drawn up and found acceptable to the company and the committee. What, he wanted to know, would be the use of submitting to the people a proposition which already it was believed would be defeated. If the people refused to ratify the agreement the city would be no further ahead than it was at present.

"But we shall have done the thing legally, and shall have got to know what the wishes of the people are," said the mayor.

Asked as to how long after the council had approved the recommendation it would be possible to hold the vote, the city clerk stated that it would require about six weeks for advertising the bylaw, etc. In the meantime the committee, after consultation with the solicitor, will probably hold one or more further meetings to secure the company's assent to the agreement to be drawn up, and to put the agreement into shape for submission to the council. It will also, probably, embody in the agreement penalty clauses to prevent the company from breaking faith.

Rev. A. G. and Mrs. Harris Celebrate Golden Wedding

Yesterday was the 50th anniversary of the marriage of the Rev. A. G. and Mrs. Harris of 10 Elmwood avenue London, and the golden wedding celebration was held at their home quietly, owing to the delicate health of Mrs. Harris. Only a few relatives were present who presented them with an address and a well-filled purse. F. F. Thompson, son-in-law, reading the address. Those present and taking part in the presentation were: P. D. Harris of Winnipeg, G. G. Harris of Saskatchewan, Mrs. F. E. Thompson of St. Thomas, and Miss Winnifred E. Harris of Toronto. Flowers and gold pieces were showered upon the happy couple, who have spent the fifty years of their happy wedded life within a short distance of London.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

BURIED AT WOODLAND.

The funeral of John S. Thompson, 7 York street, who died suddenly while at work on Saturday, was held Monday at 2:30 o'clock from the above residence of his mother to Woodland Cemetery, where interment was made. Rev. N. S. McKechnie conducted the services at 2 p.m

DEATH OF MRS. UTTING.

Mrs. Rosetta Utting, wife of Henry J. Utting, died at her residence, 919 Maitland street, on Saturday, in her 70th year. Mrs. Utting had resided in this city for 20 years and her illness was a long one. She was a valued member of the Maitland Street Baptist Church.

In addition to her husband she is survived by one son, L. G. Utting of this city, one sister, Mrs. J. Head of Australia, and one brother, George Bayley of Yorkton, Sask.

The funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Maitland Street Baptist Church, Rev. J. N. Norton conducted the services at 2:30 p.m., and interment was made at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

GALT NURSES' ALUMNI HOLDS A DANCE FOR MOST WORTHY CAUSE

Endowment of a Ward in Hospital in Memory of Nursing Sister Kealy.

GALT, June 23.—Under the auspices of the Nurses' Alumni of the Galt Hospital, the fine new three-story building on Melville street, work of construction on which commenced only two months ago, was opened this evening with a dance, which was very largely attended.

The building is one of the most modern manufacturing plants in the city, and as a result of tonight's affair, the nurses' alumni raised a very substantial sum for a most worthy cause, the endowment of a ward in the local hospital to the memory of Nursing Sister I. M. Kealy, a graduate of the local institution, who died from plural pneumonia while on active service. Nursing Sister Kealy, a native of England, trained for nurse here, and at the outbreak of the war was in Medicine Hat, where she enlisted. She was one of the first nurses to go from Canada. She was on service at No. 1 General Hospital, France, for two years, and was then granted a furlough, continuing her work in England. In January, 1918, she returned to France and contracted pneumonia, passing away in England. She was one of the first twelve British nurses to die on active service, for whom a special service was held at St. Paul's Cathedral. With the Kealy ward her sister nurses hope to ever keep fresh not only her name, but her great sacrifice.

AGED RESIDENT DEAD.

One of the city's best known and most highly respected residents, Mrs. Robert Malcolm, died this morning, aged 79 years. She had been ailing for three months. Deceased was born in Ireland, and came to Galt when six or seven years of age, residing here, until her marriage in 1867, when she moved to Kincardine, returning here 25 years ago. She was a prominent member of the Central Presbyterian Church. Three sons and two daughters survive.

FIREMEN RECEIVE CHECK.

As an appreciation of the good work the firemen did in preventing the McDougall plant fire from spreading to their lumber yards and works, P. W. Gardiner & Son today sent Fire Chief Keyes a check for $50 for the firemen's benefit fund. Despite $50,000 damage done by the fire, the McDougall plant was running today as usual, and the men started to clean the debris.

Word was received here of the death this morning at Cleveland of Agnes Jackson, widow of the late Rev. Dr. Alex Jackson, a former pastor of Knox Church of this city.

Another old resident of the city has passed away in the person of Elizabeth McKenzie, wife of W. E. Hall, 10 George street, aged 72 years. Deceased was born in Elora, and had lived here for 35 years. Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons and three daughters.

Unnecessary Noise!

How is it that the city bylaw which prohibits the railway companies from blowing their engine whistles inside the city limits is not enforced? Anyone who lives within three blocks of the G. T. R. must suffer untold tortures from the wild whistling, which goes on continually, but more particularly from 12 to 4 in the morning when nobody is abroad, and the whistling must just be done for the amusement or the railway employees. Doctors tell me that their nervous patients near the G. T. R. tracks are almost driven distracted, and I know of one case where the doctor has ordered his patient to sell her house and move away to another neighborhood to get away from the noise.

What a farce this is. Surely the Grand Trunk has inflicted enough on us by keeping in existence that old "Woodbox" which they dignify by the name of station without further rubbing it in with their infernal "screechowl" act.

Lady Jean Hooper, Charged With Fortune Telling, on Trial Before Judge Macbeth in County Court

Two Witnesses Heard, Both of Whom Say the Defendant Named Price of $2.50 For Her Services—Described Place Where Money Was Hidden in House Near Chimney.

Rev. Ldy Jean Hooper appeared before Judge Talbot Macbeth this morning to stand trial on a charge of fortune-telling, but this afternoon the case had not been finished only two of the witnesses having been heard.

Mrs. Jones, who at the instigation of the police, had gone to Lady Jean's home, had asked her many questions whih she answered through her alleged power. She had met her but once. The appointment was made over the telephone. After it was made, Lady Jean had told her that the price would be $2.50 she testified.

Mrs. Jones said she went to the house and was received by the accused. They sat down at a table, and Lady Jean said that in order to get in communication with some medium Mrs. Jones must place her hands, palms downward, on Lady Jean's hands, which were turned palms upward. She then told her visitor of various ailments with which she was afflicted, and how to cure them. Mrs. Jones told her that she was not concerned about her health, but would like to hear about any money that might be coming to her.

Too Far Back.

Lady Jean said, witness declared, that two or three generations back, on her father's side, there was a legacy which belonged to her. Her father should have shared in it. There were proofs that she was entitled to this. They were in an old stone church in the Old Country. "I told her that this was too far back," said the witness.

Then she asked the alleged fortune-teller if there was anything about some money that her father left. "I see four piles," said the accused, who then asked the witness if she might be entitled to one of them. She replied that she might. Through carelessness, said Lady Jean, the estate had not been settled as soon as was expected. It was her prediction, however, that the money would be given to the witness in November, 1919.

Her sister also had some money. The "shiners" (as Lady Jean called them), would be found in a story and a half house in which the sister had lived. The exact spot was near the chimney, in the attic. Mrs. Jones went to the house later and saw the people, but did not go into the attic.

The Missing Ring.

A ring which Mrs. Jones' little daughter had lost, was the next subject for discussion. The accused had told her that the little girl had left it on the left side of the piano and that another little girl had put it on her finger and taken it outside. She would find it eventually for Lady Jean could see her wearing it.

During the reading Lady Jean had her eyes closed and seemed to be in a trance. She read out the different predictions and answers to Mrs. Jones, who admitted to J. M. McEvoy, the defendant's counsel, that nearly everything that Lady Jean had told her had been true.

Mrs. White had accompanied Mrs. Jones to the house of the defendant, but had taken her reading after the other one. She is a medium herself, and resides on Askin street. Lady Jean wished to know why she had come to her when she was a medium herself. She was given a paper and a pencil and allowed to write anything that she chose. The accused then asked her to place her hands on hers in the same manner as the previous witness had done. The reason for this, she said, was to connect her spirit with that of the witness. This must be done in order that the medium could be understood. Lady Jean could see the witness' mother standing behind her in spirit form. She described her, but the witness could not corroborate the description as her mother had died in her infancy.

Had Lost Brother.

Her brother had gone away and no trace had been found of him, so the witness was curious to know where he was. The accused told her that he was in an Ohio town, for even now she could see him in a "squall" with a man and woman on a corner. Definite word of him would be heard on the 22nd of March.

Her husband would be successful in business. Eventually, however, they would be called to the west, where more of much-sought-for "shiners" would be made. Periodical visits would be made to England and they would reside in the United States for seven years.

Mrs. White had real estate in Hamilton and was desirous to sell, so she asked Lady Jean what to do. She was told that if she waited until the fall she would get half as much again as she would in the spring.

'Phone Call.

During the reading the telephone rang. Lady Jean, who was alleged to be in a trance state, groped her way to the 'phone and answered it. She told the party not to come until 4:30 p.m. and that the charge would be $2.50. The party seemed to object to the price, for Lady Jean stated that specialists charged higher prices than others. If a cheaper reading was wanted the person must go to Mary Lane, who would charge only $1.

At the conclusion of the reading, Mrs. White was asked to clasp the alleged fortune-teller's hand in order to bring her out of the trance. Then she appeared to know me again," said Mrs. White." I asked her on what authority she did this, and she said that she had divine power and an ordination certificate and that she could baptise and bury, but could not marry in Ontario."

S. R. EMPLOYEES TO GO ON STRIKE, SAYS ONE OF UNION MEN

Were Waiting Result of Council Committee Meeting.

MAY BREAK AGREEMENT

Because They Made It Confident That Higher Fares Would Come.

Members of the Street Railway Employees' Union were disappointed today when made aware of the decision of No. 1 committee of the city council respecting the proposal for increased fares. They declared that yesterday they had reached a decision to go on strike unless at the meeting of the committee some indication were given that the council would probably grant the increased fares immediately.

"We do not want to strike," declared one man, "but our present schedule of pay is inadequate to provide a living. We entered into an agreement with the company not to strike for more pay until after the city had granted the proposed increase, but when we made that agreement it was in the confident expectation that the bylaw at that time before the council would be ratified by the Legislature, and that the increased fares would be put into effect in a very short time. Now, since the company has indicated very clearly its determination not to grant the increases unless increased fares were granted, we will have no other recourse but to strike and tie up the system."

Ald. F. E. Harley, at the meeting of No. 1 committee this morning, suggested that the company wanted a strike. He asked the question: "Suppose the company does not want to operate, what would be the logical move to avoid the necessity? Would it not be to precipitate a strike?"

Mayor C. R. Somerville thought the company wanted a strike as little as the city council did, which was not at all.

OPPORTUNITIES OF TODAY BIGGER THAN EVER BEFORE KNOWN

So Grand Matron Mains Tells Eastern Stars.

A special session of the Grand Chapter, Order of Eastern Star of Ontario, was held this forenoon to consider the revision of the constitution, the changes suggested to be decided upon later in the meeting.

Reports of the grand officers and committees are the big business of this afternoon's session, which opened at 2 o'clock in the Masonic Hall.

In efficiency of methods the Eastern Stars can teach a lesson to other organizations. Everything possible is done to eliminate unnecessary detail, and for this reason the reports are printed in full for the grand officers. The reports are "taken as read," to be given thorough consideration at leisure, while the precious annual convention hours are devoted to business of outstanding importance to the order as a whole.

High Ideals.

In the course of her official address, Mrs. Robina Mains, worthy grand matron, of Toronto, said: "In passing, I would that I could impress on every member of the order that the opportunities and possibilities of today are greater far than we have ever had to make the Eastern Star the leaven for the betterment of humanity, to spread the principles of love, forbearance and charity through the land. We shall not fear for the future if we take up our opportunities and so make the Eastern Star shine forth in all its glory."

The report of Mrs. Mains refers to the war work done by the Eastern Stars in all parts of the province.

Twenty-two new chapters have been instituted during the year.

Patron Pleased.

Expressing his satisfaction over the institution of the new chapters notwithstanding the work entailed thereby, J. A. Hallman, worthy grand patron, expressed his gratitude for the support and assistance given him during the year by the W. G. M., Grand Secretary, Past W. G. M. and others.

Mrs. Laura Moore, Windsor, presented the grand secretary's report, and Mrs. Carrie E. Watson, the grand treasurer's report, the latter showing a balance in the bank of $1,573.04 for the general account and a substantial amount for the Florence Nightingale I. E. S. Home fund; $750 was invested in Victory Bonds of the latter fund.

This evening a memorial service is being conducted by the Maple Leaf Chapter of St. Thomas, led by Mrs. E. Coulter, for 50 members of the I. E. S. who have died during the past year.

THREE TEACHERS LEAVE.

Three teachers of the collegiate staff are severing their connection with the Sarnia Collegiate at the end of the present term, Miss Minnie Campbell, who has been seven years on the staff and who has been head of the art and commercial departments; Miss Lillian Campbell, B.A., who has been four years head of the modern language department, and, Miss Mary M. Gordon, who for the past year has been in charge of junior mathematics and physical culture.

SOME EPITAPHS BY MR. KIPLING

[Turner's Weekly.]

Mr. Rudyard Kipling, in spite of a full use of "the brass" in his poetic orchestra, has for mny years been inclined to despair of his country, and, when he deals with public affairs, to write dirges rather than paeans. He rhymes like an optimist, but is a pessimist at heart, as we find in such poems as "Ulster," in "The Declaration of London," in "Things and the Man," with its gloomy question, "Is there a man?"

Away from public affairs, however, he is the same cheerful Philistine as ever, with a deeper note now and then, telling of dark waters forded and of a soul into which the iron has entered sorely. For example, among his "Epitaphs" in "The Years Between," his new book, we find this:

A SON

My son was killed while laughing at some jest. I would I knew
What it was, and it might serve me at a time when jests are few.

Many of these epitaphs have the true classic ring:

A SERVANT

We were together since the war began,
He was my servant—and the better man.

BOMBED IN LONDON

On land and sea I strove with anxious care
To escape conscription. It was in the air!

There is a mixture in his new book—the first of verse which Mr. Kipling has brought out since "The Five Nations," sixteen years ago—of poems inspired by the war and others written in the years which went before. It would be more convenient to have them arranged in alphabetical order. Many are dated, which is a help, but some are left unexplained, as for instance, "Gehazi," which attacks one who walks

FOURTH ANNUAL MEET OF GRAND CHAPTER OF ORDER EASTERN STAR

Opens Session in Masonic Temple—Will Continue Until Thursday.

The fourth annual meeting of the Grand Chapter of Ontario, Order of Eastern Star, opened session here in the Masonic Temple last evening with the past grand worthy matron, Mrs. Meadows, in the chair. A large number of Star sisters filled the gallery and sides of the auditorium, the central portion of the floor being reserved for the altar and the grand chapter officers. From the centre of the stage, known to the Stars as the east, shone the great star emblem with its five points of light. Flowers and tapestries further embellished this part of the temple.

Promptly at the signal from the gavel, proceedings began, about 50 stars, all in white and carrying sprays of ferns and roses, acting as an escort for the new grand worthy matron, Mrs. Mains of Toronto, and Grand Worthy Patron J. A. Hallman of Kitchener, who were shown the way to the platform. As the escort filed back again each member left her sheaf of flowers in the arms of the grand worthy matron, which added a pretty touch to the ceremony.

Ceremonial March.

The grand chapter officers then performed a ceremonial march, which ended in the formation of a human cross above the altar, on which reposed an open Bible.

Two pretty tableaus of "Britannia" and "Canada" then followed.

"Britannia" was represented by Mrs. Pearl Havers, worthy matron of Liberty Chapter, the response being read by Mrs. Agnes Munro, P. M., Ruth Chapter, and "Canada" by Mrs. Bertha Minor, W. M., Garden City Chapter, the response read by Mrs. Mary Slipper, P. H. G. M.

The presentation of a beautiful silk flag to the grand worthy matron was made by the grand marshal, Mrs. Emma Furness, the whole assembly offering a salute, after which the flags of the Allies were escorted east between two rows of star sisters, each bearing a Union Jack. These were carried on the stage and placed about a shield, against which shone the huge star emblem, by matrons past and present of London.

Distinguished Guests.

The presentation of distinguished guests was another important ceremony which took place last evening. The following guests being presented and escorted east: Sister Ella Chapin of Connecticut, right worthy associate grand matron of the General Chapter of the World; Brother Hetherington, past grand patron of the Grand Chapter of Oklahoma; Sister Florence Babbitt of Michigan, oldest star mother in the United States; Sisters Lottie Phillips and Mildred K. Schandaeffer, past grand matrons; Sister Alice Meadows, first worthy grand matron for Ontario; Sister Mary Slipper, honorary past grand matron of Ontario; Sister Whitney of Connecticut, and Sister Hetherington of Oklahoma.

Welcome Extended.

A welcome was extended to the guests in the city by Ald. Wm. Wilson, representing the mayor, and by Sisters A. Pullett, H. Trick and A. King on behalf of the city chapters, O. E. S. Brother Furness extended welcome to the representatives of the order from the different states of the union and other parts of the world, these chapters being represented by members of the Grand Chapter of Ontario. Responses to these welcomes were made by the grand worthy patron, J. A. Hallman, Mrs. May Ralston, A.G.M., and Mrs. Selma Mason, grand conductress. Solos were beautifully rendered by Mrs. Bibby, Ambitious Chapter, Hamilton, and by Mrs. Norman Beddome. The Henderson Juvenile Kiltie Band also added to the program by a musical selection.

The Grand Chapter will continue in session here until Thursday.

CAYUGA SCHOOL PICNIC.

CAYUGA, June 23.—The pupils of the second form of the Cayuga High School held a picnic at Lake Erie on Saturday afternoon in honor of Ross Gourley and presented him with a handsome camera. Ross, who will be leaving Cayuga with his mother and her other family next month, is a great favorite among his companions, who will miss him greatly. The removal of the family to Kingston next month will cause a great blank in town. While many warm friends will feel keenly the departure of Mrs. Gourley, the removal of her bright family of six sons and one daughter will cause many sad hearts.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. M. M. Scott, who has been visiting her sister, Miss MacDougall, of the Wortley road, left last evening for Chicago, to attend the special meetings of the National League of Nursing Education, which are being held there.

LT. J. P. CHRYSTAL HAD INFLUENZA IN NEW YORK HOSPITAL

Thought To Have Caused His Temporary Absence.

COURT OF INQUIRY HELD

But Finding Not Made Public by the Military Authorities.

A court of inquiry was held at military headquarters here on Saturday to investigate and report upon the disappearance of Lieut. J. P. Chrystal, of the 1st Battalion, Western Ontario Regiment, last October, but the finding of the court was not made public.

Lieut. Chrystal, who served in France with the 18th Battalion, and was invalided to Canada, disappeared mysteriously from his quarters at Carling Heights here, eight months ago, and nothing further was learned of his whereabouts until he was found by a British officer wandering about in a dazed and penniless condition in New York last week.

The Advertiser was informed by the military authorities today that it has been learned that Lieut. Chrystal was twice admitted to hospital in New York, suffering from Spanish influenza, and at both times the hospital authorities were unaware of his identity. It is thought that his present mental condition is due to the after-effects of the above illness.

This young officer, whose home is in England, is spoken of as very capable and brilliant by his superiors, and at all times during his period of service he was quiet and reserved. At present he is receiving treatment at the Cobourg Military Hospital, being scarcely conscious. His case is regarded at military headquarters here as a very unfortunate one, and everything possible is being done to restore this popular young man to his former good health.

BLOCKADE LIKELY TO BE LIFTED ON DATE TREATY IS SIGNED

Supreme Council Met Today To Decide Question.

Paris, June 24.—The supreme blockade council met today to decide on a date when the blockade of Germany should be lifted. One element, it is understood, favors the day when the treaty is ratified, but it is believed the council will probably decide to lift the blockade with the signing of the treaty.

HIGHGATE MAN HOME.

HIGHGATE, June 23.—Sapper George Palmer of Highgate, arrived last week from overseas and was greeted by a large crowd of citizens at the M. C. R. depot.

Sapper Palmer, while in the Village of Douai, Belgium, during an air raid, and when all the inhabitants had fled, except two elderly ladies, he conducted these ladies to safety and thereby saved their lives, they presented him with a valuable old medal bearing the town's coat-of-arms and dated 1302.

BURIED AT TILLSONBURG.

TILLSONBURG, June 23.—The funeral of David E. Meharg, aged 48 years, who died suddenly in Comber on Thursday, was held on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of his brother-in-law, Wallace Birdsall, to the town cemetery for interment. The deceased conducted a standing stable in the town for many years, later purchasing the Commercial Hotel in Fort Burwell, which he resold a year ago and moved to Comber. He is survived by a widow and seven brothers. The Rev. T. F. Boles of St. Paul's Methodist Church, conducted the funeral services. The pallbearers were six brothers, as follows: Robert, Charles, Joseph, John, Nicholas, Whitfield.

BRUSSELS TO HOLD SOLDIERS WELCOME WEEK DURING JULY

BRUSSELS, June 23.—A flying machine or two will probably constitute part of the soldiers' welcome and old boys' reunion on July 27, 28 and 29.

Home-grown strawberries are slow coming to market and have been retailing at 30 cents a box.

The recent thunderstorms did damage to a number of telephones, lightning burning out the batteries.

Dr. Whitfield, formerly of this locality, has been dangerously ill at his home, Fort Scott, Kansas. His brother William went to see him in response to a telegram.

The number of June weddings have been above the average in this locality.

Brussels branch of the W. C. T. U., which does practical work, elected the following officers: President, Mrs. A. McGuire; vice-presidents, Mesdames Dark, Stafford, and Mann; recording secretary, Mrs. Robt. Oliver; corresponding secretary, Mrs. I. Parker; treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Lowry; superintendents, Mesdames Skelton, Wilson, McKenzie and Misses Smith and Buchanan. An educational campaign will be carried out on the use of the ballot.

Mrs. P. McQuarrie is quite poorly from an attack of anaemia.

This week Mrs. P. Scott goes to Toronto to attend the provincial Liberal convention as one of the delegates chosen by Centre Huron Association.

Cranbrook C. O. F. court was represented last week at the high court, London, by John McNabb.

Public school and society picnics are legion during the next two weeks.

NO OPPOSITION OFFERED.

WINDSOR, June 23.—No opposition was offered tonight by the city council to the plan of the fire committee to purchase a new motor pump at a cost of $15,000. The bylaw will not be submitted to the electors, however, until the industrial committee has prepared a bylaw granting tax exemptions to an American company which will build a factory on city-owned property. The two will then be submitted together.

WARDSVILLE SOCIAL.

WARDSVILLE, June 23.—There was a large attendance at the Presbyterian lawn social on Friday evening, when $80 was taken at the gate. A good program was given.

Germany Bends the Knee to the Allied Will

By unconditional acceptance of the peace terms Germany has come to her supreme humiliation and the beginning of a long and terrible punishment. Bluff, bluster and threat played up until the last moment, have failed to budge the Allied determination to insist upon Germany's debt to civilization being paid in full. With the confession of utter defeat, complete prostration at the feet of her enemies, Germany passes definitely from her former imperial position to one of bitter subjection and subordination.

Much will depend on his own behavior as to how long the Hun shall remain chained and curbed. At present he appears sullen and impenitent. Only by terrific pressure has he been compelled to toe the mark, forced to admit his guilt, but if in time he displays an honest desire to reform he will be heartily helped to a footing alongside the free and decent nations.

Germany's agreement to sign the peace terms means that she will be incapable of further mischief. The conditions of the treaty wreck the great war machine, scattering the parts, and ending Prussian militarism. The desire to do mischief may still be there, but the power to achieve the desire has vanished. The nations can now turn to the task of reconstructing a better and happier world forever free of the Prussian menace.

Bullets Or Bolshevism? Winnipeg's Only Choice

Out in Winnipeg, that beaming western star of cities, now eclipsed by social disturbance, the old Anglo-Saxon conception of law and order, the kind that gives us policemen who go up against mobs, and soldiers who face German hordes, is fighting with the conception of law that is backed with the kind of courage that inspires a wolf pack.

The wolf pack never moves in unless there are unequal odds on the side of the attackers. It was the wolf pack spirit that moved twenty men to attack an old soldier and to "beat him up," caring little whether he died, but ready to kick him in the face or strike him with a club so long as he was alone and helpless. But when assistance came the pack made off.

They caught other single fighters for law and order and gave them the same sort of treatment. But they would not make a fair fight of it. Finally it became necessary to disperse the people wherever they were in order that the thug element might not find safety in the ranks of the innocent.

Rifle fire was resorted to. As is always the case, many guiltless people were wounded, but their presence made them parties to a disturbance, and while riot law prevails they will be warned to keep away from such gatherings.

This salutary lesson, evidently directed at the foreign element among the Winnipeg strikers, is not an effort to break the strike. It is a determination upon the part of the mayor and the military authorities to prevent gatherings which may be the foreing beds for violence and anarchy. The whole of Canada, whatever its associations with and leanings toward labor, will support the movement that saves a city from the violence of mob government, and removes a menace that might to strike down all authority and to win by any means control for one class in the community.

The Winnipeg situation has developed not so much into a fight of labor against capital as a battle of extremists for power. Let the "red" element get control, and they would be content to let working conditions and work itself go by the board. Judging them by their actions and by the articles which appear in their "newspaper," by their muzzling of free speech and by their efforts to assassinate their fellow-citizens, these strike leaders would be quite capable of enslaving the rest of the community if the opportunity was at hand. The organized labor of other cities, prepared to proceed on constitutional methods, realizes that the Winnipeg strike is foreign to Canadian labor methods and to Canadian labor men. Even if they could win by such methods, they would not adopt them, and most of them are hopeful that the tactics resorted to in the western metropolis may not be successful.

What a pity it is that the fomentation of a few extremists have led a city like Winnipeg to a state of class warfare! No one has gained, no one can possibly gain and much has been lost. The apostles of Lenine and Trotzky are certain to be defeated because the preaching of arson and murder in Canada will never be tolerated.

Scuttling of Foe's Ships Has Lesson For Allies

The sinking by their own crews of the German warships interned at Scapa Flow, and of unsurrendered ones in German waters, is an act so essentially German that it should not amaze. Put on their honor to turn over the fleet upon the conclusion of peace, they simply violated their pledges after the best Prussian manner so glaringly demonstrated by a hundred acts preceding, during, and after the war. The amazing feature of the incident is that the Allies should have trusted them. The word of the German is worthless. He considers his guarantee good only so far as necessity or expediency demands. In themselves oath, agreement, compact, carry no weight. Foch and Clemenceau have never had any illusions on this matter. Their insistence on the peace treaty including practical conditions that for many years will enforce the carrying out of the Allied will, was due in a large measure to the belief that German honor could not be relied upon. Their stand for what some considered harsh conditions and unnecessary precautions has been strongly justified by the Scapa Flow scuttlings.

The whole business is just another proof that the Hun has not been changed by the chastening which usually accompanies defeat. He is as unreliable and untrustworthy under republican leadership as he was when imperialism ruled. Germany will require the closest watching until the last penny of her debt is paid and retribution satisfied. The sinking of the German fleet should increase the Allied vigilance against German trickery and treachery.

The destruction of the vessels removes the problem of their final disposition, a question that at times has been controversial to the point of arousing some ill-feeling between the powers intgrested. Great Britain and the United States have not desired a share of the German ships. Their own fleets are suffieiently strong. On the other hand, France, Italy and Japan have strenuously objected to their being destroyed. The sea power of these nations would be greatly expanded by addition of Germany's finest battle craft. No doubt there will be some irritation at Paris, Rome and Tokio over the affair, but as the conditions of the internment were subscribed to by all the signatories of the armistice agreement, Great Britain cannot fairly be held responsible for the enemy's violation of his promise to conduct himself decently, according to the rules.

The scuttlings may be viewed as a dramatic admission by Germany that she is through, at least in a military sense, and this final act shows the German "yellow," dishonorable, treacherous, to the very finish. It was a typical German way of confessing complete and terrible downfall.

A Plea For the Juveniles

At the Rotary Club yesterday Mr. Jared Vining, in his thoughtful address, brought before the club two very important questions affecting the young of the city.

He advocated more parks and playgrounds, arguing that playgrounds were needed very badly in the city and that they would contribute a great deal towards the well-being, morally and physically, of the boys of the city. He thought the board of education would be the proper body to take charge of the proceedings necessary to obtain the playgrounds. The Advertiser has frequently advocated the wisdom of securing parks and playgrounds. It is not too late yet.

The other question Mr. Vining referred to was a juvenile court. He praised Mr. Graydon's work as magistrate, and thought his combination of head and heart produced a first class magistrate, but that it was expecting too much of him to act as magistrate in a juvenile court. He urged taking advantage of the law and the appointment of a magistrate for that court. Much good could be accomplished.

Mr. Vining's speech was sound sense and should not be passed over. The Rotary Club has advanced many good causes, but none better than those brought again to their attention by Mr. Vining.

The Capitalist Unionizing

Generally speaking the suggestion that some day capital, taking its lead from labor, will strike, is considered as a jest. There are very real signs, however, that just such an incident as a "walkout" of capital may occur. Exasperated by repeated strikes and the rapid spread of extremist idea amongst their employees, the retail businessmen of Montreal of all lines are forming an association that aims to "combat Bolshevism and the revolutionary sentiment amongst employees." They propose to stand together in a fight against "unreasonable demands" and intend to "fight the enemy with his own weapons."

Herein lies the possibility of a new species of sympathetic strike. All retail merchants enrolled in this union will be prepared to close up business should one of its members have a struggle on its hands. On such an occasion, butcher, baker, grocer, fruitman, druggist, etc., would close the doors until a settlement satisfactory to one and all was achieved. The worker of all classes, union or non-union, would suffer severely. Such a strike would react on the manufacturer and the wholesaler, closing down their plants and bringing idleness to thousands. Of course it would be unfair to workers not directly interested, and to the general public, always the heaviest sufferers, but it would be no more unjust than the general strike idea a section of western labor is endeavoring to inflict on the nation.

Fortunately to the average man, and his is usually the deciding voice, the idea of a general strike with its personal suffering and industrial demoralization is abhorrent. He will not permit it to be accepted as a part of the nation's industrial life whether it is desired by capital, labor or any other agency.

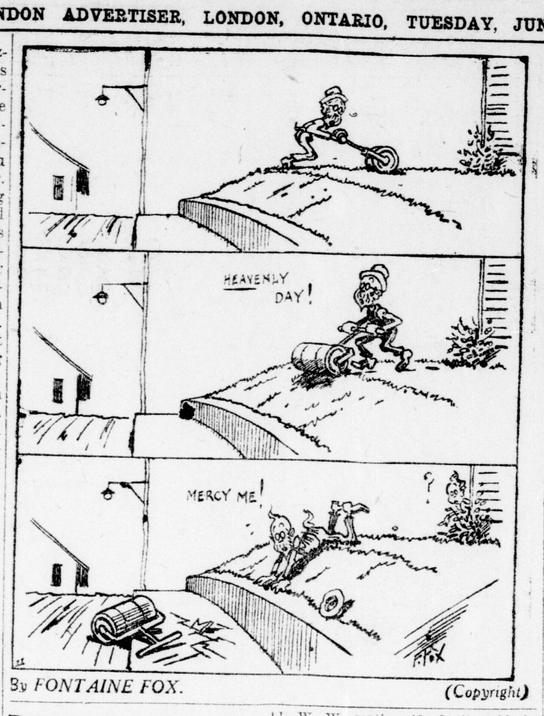

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The scuttling of the German fleet must have brought bitter tears to junker and junkman.

"Sir" John Alcock sounds fine. Nobody will begrudge that gallant gentleman his title. He got it by performance, not "pull."

A Berlin paper says Germany submits because of the stand taken by the people. Of course Foch's half million men standing to had nothing to do with it.

Vanderlip, the New York banker expresses some worry over the huge sums owing the United States by the old world. He need not worry as to Great Britain. John Bull's bill will be paid promptly and in full.

ELSIE TAKES COMMAND

By Will T. Ames.

A ferryboat load of the shipyard men piled pell-mell over the wharf, across the railroad tracks and on to the main thoroughfare of the town, at the foot of which lay the makeshift slip. They were roughly clad and grimy and strong, and, many of them, hard looking.

There had been a crap game on the boat coming over and it had not gone smoothly. Three of the men among the thousand showed the marks of it, for they were more or less bloody and still white with anger.

The three, each with a friend or two, stopped at the saloon at the foot of the street to wash off the stains of the row. The rest of the workers paid no heed but hurried on homeward. There was little laughter or joking. What conversation there was among them was unsmiling and it was plain to be seen that the yeast of discontent was at work.

At the street corner two blocks from the wharf a girl stood by the curb, watching the passing throng and looking for someone. By and by she caught sight of him, a tall, toughly-fashioned young fellow with thick hair that looked flaxen by contrast with his sunburned skin.

He spied the girl at the same instant, said a brief word to the companions of the moment and stopped beside her, automatically reaching out for bundles she carried.

The girl's eyes were shining. "What do you know, Billy? I found a place! An honest-to-goodness apartment. Mrs. Ellis heard about a couple that are going out of town—somebody she knows. She's a good old thing, after all, Billy, and she went right down there and got them to keep still about it till we could get a chance at the place.

"I've been down today and engaged it. It's an old house, Billy, but there's three rooms and a bath—and only one other family, the folks that own it; they live downstairs. I guess they've boosting the rent two or three dollars. But we should worry—with your pay. It's our lucky day, isn't it, Billy?"

But Billy Noxon didn't respond to the happy mood of his young wife nearly as she had anticipated. While Elsie lay in wait for him there she had expected that he would throw up his hat and shout. Places to live—to really live and keep house like regular civilized people—were simply unobtainable in the town. The Noxons had been "dight housekeeping" in a single room for four months, like hundreds of others.

"Don't know as there's any use in fussing about it, Chick," the boy finally replied, sombrely. "We're likely to have to get to blazes out of this man's town any time now. The gang's pretty sore, and they're likely to fix a can any time at all, to the bunch of grafters that are running the tea kettle factory over the river."

"What do you mean, Billy Noxon—a strike?"

"It'll be a heap sight more than just one strike, when the blowoff comes. The workingman has been carrying the tar end of the stick about as long as he's going to in this country. Here's you and me living like a couple of bums in a coop of a room and me sweating my hide off over there on those hulls—and a lot of loafers that don't hit a ship a lick from the time she's doped out till she's overboard, and haven't even got a dollar of their own money in the plant, pulling down millions.

"Living in palaces and dressing their wives in thousand dollar furs and swelling around in limousines and playing golf while we play on a rivet gun—and all off us! All stolen from the workingman and his family! And then, when we hit them up for a lousy dollar a day raise, to help pay for the profiteering prices on the grub we eat, they give us the hoot!"

Elsie was looking very steadily and studiously at her big husband. "Well," she said, as he ran out of breath.

"Well," Billy resumed, "it's about all over, sis. There's going to be something doing, and that right quick. I dunno's it's worth while for us to change from one room to three. Maybe we'll be in the middle of a red hot shindy in a week or two—and either have some kind of a decent share in things or nothing at all. Death's better than slavery." The boy stared gloomily at a passing touring car.

The girl was about an inch above five feet—her husband about an inch above six. Her eyes had been growing bigger and bigger as she listened to his dour speech. Now she seized him by the arm and said: "Billy Noxon, you come home with me, straight.

"And don't you speak—or even think—a word till I tell you to." The sombre face of the boy thawed into a sheepish grin as he permitted himself to be marshaled along six city blocks to the place where they lived in Mrs. Ellis' furnished second floor back.

Not until they were in their room, with the door closed behind them, did Elsie speak again. "Now," she declared taking the bundles from Billy and putting them on the table. "I've got something to say to you, you big bean! You've been listening to those darned Bolsheviks again! You sit down there and answer me a couple of questions"; and answer me a couple of questions"; limpy-legged morris chair. "First—How much money did we have after two years when we quit Roxbury and came here? We had $140, didn't we? We've been here four months, and how much have we got? We've got $450 of new money, that's what we've got. And it's clean money, Billy, honestly earned. I'd rather have that than a million that was grafted. We're not getting along so badly. Maybe somebody else is getting a whole lot more that don't deserve it half as much. But I guess those things will be straightened out if fellows like you don't go loony and spoil everything. Anyhow, you never had so much money ahead in your life, Billy Noxon, and I know it.

"Now, who's the head devil over there at the yard in getting up all this L. W. W. sentiment? Is it a black-muzzled fellow they call Saunderson?"

"Well, Saunderson's the smartest, most independent man in the yard, if that's what you mean, and not afraid to speak his mind. The fellows listen to him because he's there with the goods."

"I thought so. I sat behind him and some other anarchist in a street car yesterday, when he ought to have been at work, and I know what he thinks. I heard him tell the man with him that it was about time the boorzhwa was kept from monopolizing everything, including the 'most beautiful and desirable wives'—that's exactly what he said, Billy Noxon!"

"Well," responded Billy, rather doubtfully, "he meant that a workingman can't compete with a rich one for a girl, when he can't send her flowers and give her buzz-car rides and such things."

"Billy, you're a simp. He meant—because he said so—that the women ought to be nationalized. Understand that. Made the property of the men equally, like the food and the clothes and the houses and automobiles! He said it was too early to spring that idea yet, but it would surely come."

Billy tried to say something, but the little wife kept on. "Billy, I didn't tell you before, but twice that black devil has tried to pick me up on the street. Yesterday, when he got up to leave the car he grinned at me and winked, and he said out of the corner of his mouth as he passed, 'Pretty peach!' Billy Noxon, do you want me nationalized—for Saunderson? Are you for the Bolsheviks or for me?"

Billy Noxon found Saunderson in the yard next day and hammered him for five minutes. He told him that he'd lick him every time he saw him. Wherefore, Saunderson is now agitating elsewhere, and there hasn't been any strike in the yard. Maybe everything is not exactly as it should be as between labor and capital, but as between Billy and Elsie, Bolshevism hasn't a look-in.

When Theodore Roosevelt was governor of New York he knew quite well a farmer who lived at a house on the road where the governor, riding horseback, would always stop for a rest. "Why, what makes you think they are?"

"Well, here's a story I was just a-readin' of a man who paid $14,000 for a picture of a cow. I don't believe it."

"Why not?" asked T. R.

"Because," said the farmer, "I don't believe there's any man in New York would pay $14,000 for anything he couldn't milk."

A FICTIONAL FLIGHT.

[Exchange.]

Edgar Allen Poe is credited with being the first person to have any practical ideas concerning transoceanic flight. He wrote an imaginary story about it, because he was in need of money, and it was printed in the New York Sun, April 13, 1844. At that time there was a campaign on by the press to secure news by quicker methods. The Atlantic cable had not been laid and ships were slow. Poe seized the opportunity and wrote a wonderful story, with minute details, describing the remarkable trip of an airship from England to Fort Monroe, S. C. His mythical machine made the journey in three days traveling with the northeasterly wind, and the average speed was about sixty miles an hour. The publication caused a sensation. It was widely copied by other newspapers. Many editorials were written on it. The whole country discussed it. It was some time before the Sun announced it was only fiction.

It is a relief to turn from invective to simple humor, such as "Mary's Son," which reminds one of the always delightful "If":

And how they will clothe and feed you,
Willie, my son, don't you go to sea,
For the sea will never need you.

If you ask for the reason of every command,
And argue with people about you,
Willie, my son, don't go on the land,
For the land will do better without you.

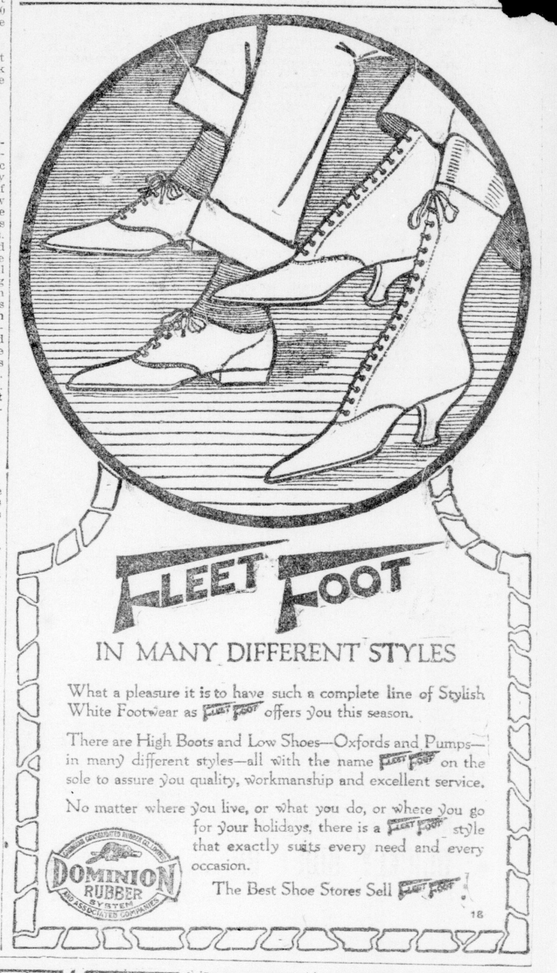

If you stop to consider the work you have done,
And to boast what your labor is worth, dear,
Angels may come for you, Willie, my son,
But you'll never be wanted on earth, dear.

It would be flattery to pretend that there is now the same irresistible lilt in Mr. Kipling's verse as there was in the days of "Barrack-Room Ballads," but there is vigor still, and he can surround a theme of the moment with an imaginative atmosphere even if he fails to achieve poetry.

CROWN COLONIES FOR CANADA?

[St. John Telegraph.]

The proposal to add several crown colonies to Canada, colonies having large populations untrained in self-government, is one most Canadians would regard with no little hesitation, and such a project would be unlikely to become a live issue in Canada unless it should be shown that it is much less complicated than appears on the surface. So much for political union. Trade is quite another matter, and Canadians for business and imperial reasons are ready to adopt any reasonable means of facilitating an exchange of products between Canada and the British West Indies. Beyond that, it is by no means certain that political union would be good either for Canada or the Islands, and until it is demonstrated that it would be good for both no one should create the impression in Jamaica or elsewhere that the question is within the sphere of practical politics.

COST OF LIVING COMMITTEE IS SHOCKED AT EXCESSIVE PROFITS MADE BY FIRMS

Ogilvie Milling Company Admits Profit of 72 Per Cent — Manager of This Concern Is Also President of Manitoba Cold Storage Company, Which Made 50 Per Cent Profit On Investment.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

OTTAWA, June 23.—The reasons for the declaration of the president of the privy council, Hon. N. W. Rowell, to the effect that it was "as impossible to decrease the cost of living as to raise the dead," would appear to have been furnished during the past week in the course of the investigations and inquiries of the cost-of-living commission. From these investigations it would appear that the Borden Government had permitted (during the most serious years of the war, when the principle of conscription of men was declared to be a righteous principle), the most inordinate profits to be made by the manufacturers and purchasers of the necessities of life.

Words, Empty Words.

The excess war profits tax, declared by Sir Thomas White to be "the greatest conscriptor of wealth in any belligerent country," does not appear to have hindered companies and concerns from making profits which in peace time would have been considered tremendous, and which in time of war should not have been permitted.

It was probably some comfort to the poor man with a family to be informed last week that one of the reasons why it costs him three times as much to clothe himself and his family as it did before the war, was because the Dominion Textiles Company last year made 300 per cent on its capital stock, and the Patton Tweed Company 72 per cent.

The housewife who has watched the price of beef and bacon soaring must have derived some solace from the fact the Manitoba Cold Storage Company last year made profits on its capital approximately 50 per cent.

Millers Make 72 Per Cent.

Further comfort was no doubt given her today by the evidence adduced in the cost-of-living committee in connection with the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company and other large milling companies. That company last year, after paying a dividend on its preferred stock and meeting all expenses, had 72 per cent left to distribute among its holders of common stock. It paid them a 12 per cent dividend and a 15 per cent bonus, and turned the rest over to reserve. And the company, which is capitalized at four and a half millions, has two and a half millions in rest, and six millions in investment. A goodly proportion of these investments were no doubt Dominion Victory bonds, TAX FREE.

In fact, many of these companies appear to have been perfect godsends to the Government in the matter of contributing money. But that money, instead of being taken in the form of excess profits taxation, was loaned to the Government at the fine rate of interest of five and a half per cent, and the borrowers guaranteed freedom from taxation on the income derived therefrom. In the spread of taxes which must result, the consumer, already hit hard by the prices charged by the companies, is once again hit.

Committee Is Shocked.

The committee was openly shocked at the extent of the profits made by these companies, and Counsel R. A. Pringle undertook to administer a rebuke, while H. H. Stevens of Vancouver intimated that the word "profiteering" might very well be applied to the business of the concerns. He declared that the company could very well decrease the cost of a barrel of flour to the consumer by 25 or even 30 per cent.

It is to be noted that these companies are supposed to have been held to the maximum profit permitted by the Government at 25 cents a barrel. Either they have not so been held down, or the profit allowed has been the merest pretence at control on the part of the administration.

The cold storage companies, the public was informed long ago, had been held down to a maximum profit of 11 per cent on the turnover; and yet the Manitoba Cold Storage Company made 50 per cent on its capital last year.

Perfect Maze of Combines.

The evidence so far adduced before the committee testifies to the fact that there is a perfect maze of combines, and affiliations in connection with such concerns. W. A. Black, who gave evidence today in connection with the Ogilvie Milling Company, of which he is manager, is also president of the Manitoba Cold Storage Company. The directors of the latter company, in addition to Mr. Black, are P. C. Andrews, who has been connected with MacKenzie & Mann, R. R. Dobell, also of the Ogilvie Milling Company, J. R. MacKenzie, son of Sir William MacKenzie, and Joseph Taylor. All these men are shareholders in the Manitoba Cold Storage Company, and Sir Robert Borden is another to the extent of $9,500.

Fine Ring Exposed.

It is also interesting to note that Sir Charles Gordon, knighted last year on the recommendation of Sir Robert Borden—and who has been connected with the Imperial Munitions Board and the War Trade Board—is president of the Dominion Textiles Company, which made 300 per cent, and a director of the Ogilvie Milling Company which made 72.

In fact, if the committee has done anything, it has adduced proof of the existence of that ring of financiers and profiteers which for the past many years has been bleeding the country and enriching themselves. As indicative of the Government's solicitude for those who compose this ring, the remark of W. A. Black to the committee this afternoon is highly significant.

"We have paid," he declared under oath, "all that the Gavernment asked us to pay."

DENIES IMMORALITY, SO HER CASE IS ADJOURNED

Two police constables testified at police court Monday against Mrs. Jean Rankin, 125 Edward street, charged by W. E. Kelly, secretary of the Children's Aid Society, with unlawfully rendering the home of her children an unfit place, by reason of immoral conduct, for children to live.

Sergt. Thomas Lucas said that shortly after midnight Saturday he saw Mrs. Rankin and Charles Tweed enter the woman's bedroom in her home. With P. C. Harold Coughlin he said he entered the house some time later, and found Tweed in the attic, after Mrs. Rankin denied that there was a man in the place. In the bedroom were two little girls, 4 or 5 years of age.

Mrs. Rankin denied the charge and the case was adjourned until Thursday, June 26.

AMONG 30,000 ISLANDS OF GEORGIAN BAY.

The 30,000 Islands of the Georgian Bay is one of the most attractive of Canada's summer resort territories, with its shaded nooks, wave-lashed shores, and rocky forest depths. It comprises some of the finest fishing grounds, where bass, pickerel and maskinonge are plentiful, and lake trout are caught weighing from ten to fifteen pounds. Among the attractions other than fishing this district offers fine canoe routes for long and short trips among the islands, and amid fascinating scenery. Excellent bathing beaches are found at all the principal points. As a health resort the region is famous, the air being pure and invigorating. The district is reached by the Grand Trunk Railway System, the trains connecting with steamer, which calls at all the important resorts. For full information apply to Grand Trunk ticket agents or C. An Instantaneous Wrinkle Remover

The average woman is always surprised to learn, after experimenting with all sorts of patent so-called "wrinkle removers," that the most effective remedy in the world is a simple face wash which she can make herself at home in a jiffy.

She has only to get an ounce of pure powdered saxolite from her nearest druggist and dissolve it in half a pint of witch hazel. Apply this refreshing lotion to the face every day for a while. The result is charming—marvelous. Even after the very first treatment the wrinkles show less plainly and the face has a nice, firm, comfortable feeling that is thoroughly delightful and lends self-confidence in one's appearance. This harmless home remedy is used by thousands of women to obliterate the unwelcome traces of time.—Advt.

TWO AUTO ACCIDENTS NEAR SARNIA; YOUTH SERIOUSLY INJURED

(Special to The Advertiser.)

SARNIA, June 23.—David Kilbreath, aged sixteen years, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Kilbreath, was seriously injured in an automobile accident on Sunday afternoon. The youth was driving a Ford runabout on the 12th line, and another car, driven by a young lady, was going in the same direction, immediately ahead. Kilbreath says he pulled up behind the other car and sounded the horn to pass. The other car pulled over to the side of the road, but instead of remaining there, he claims, without any warning it turned into a lane, and, to avoid a collision, Kilbreath swung the car hard over, the wheels dropped into a culvert and the car turned over on him. He was rushed to his home in this city and was attended by Dr. Hayes. No bones were broken, but it is believed that he was injured internally. His condition is considered serious.

ANOTHER AUTO DITCHED.

Mrs. W. J. Thompson, wife of Ald. W. J. Thompson, was slightly injured as a result of an automobile accident on Sunday. Mr. Thompson was driving out the Plank road and when near the tenth line another car swerved in front of him. To avoid a collision, Mr. Thompson was forced to ditch his car, but escaped uninjured.

FELL INTO CULVERT NEAR ST. HELENS

LUCKNOW, June 23.—A bad accident happened at St. Helens, about six miles from here, when some Wingham citizens while driving met another rig. They turned out too far, and over into a culvert which had no railing. The occupants were thrown out and badly hurt. Medical aid was summoned. The extent of the injuries is not known.

MILLING COMPANY'S PROFITS UNFAIR TO PUBLIC AT PRESENT

H. H. Stevens, M. P., Makes Declaration to Representative of Company.

UNDER EXAMINATION

Profits of Milling Firms Shown Up Before Cost of Living Committee.

OTTAWA, June 23. — The Milling companies were under examination by the cost of living committee of the Commons today. Hedley Shaw of the Maple Leaf Milling Company, was the first witness examined by R. A. Pringle, K.C., counsel for the committee. In 1913, 1914 and 1915, the Maple Leaf Company paid no dividends on the common stock, but in 1916, the dividends was eight per cent., in 1917, ten per cent., in 1918, 22 per cent. Part of the dividends in the last two years is represented by war bonds, etc.

H. H. Stevens, speaking with some heat, said to the witness that in the last four years there have been strong protests by the public regarding the cost of living. The millers had said that they would have to shut down as they were making no money during these four years on the common stock, yet a great portion of the common stock was not represented by a money investment.

The witness retorted that it was represented by assets.

Watering of Stock.

Mr. Stevens came back sharply, declaring that the company had issued watered stock. Twenty-five per cent. common stock was issued as a bonus on preferred.

Mr. Pringle brought out that the company was capitalized at five million dollars, of which half was 7 per cent. preferred and half common stock. In 1917-18 the net profits were $907,672, and in 1918, $851,090. There was also a surplus of two millions invested in securities. The turnover in 1918 was about fifty millions.

Mr. Pringle stated that before the war this company did not charge any sum to depreciation, but during the last three war years they had charged up $250,000 a year, making a total of $750,000. There was a further surplus represented by investments amounting to $2,545,937. There was also a contingent account of $457,937, making a total reserve of $3,753,713.

"On top of that," said Mr. Pringle, "you have been able to pay substantial dividends. In all candor, do you consider that a proper thing? Do you?"

The witness replied that more than the real surplus was invested. The contingent account was the only surplus in the profit and loss account.

Pringle Sounds Heroic.

Mr. Pringle—"It is for you to say so if you have not been exploiting the public."

Mr. Shaw stated that the surplus was about $2,000,000.

Mr. Stevens remarked that it looked like what was commonly known as profiteering.

At the present time, said Mr. Shaw, the price of flour was $10.80, delivered at seaboard on boat, and $10.85 delivered on track at buyers' places in Canada for cash. Ten cents more was charged, if not for cash. Flour prior to the war years was about $5 per barrel, and wheat was about 85c per bushel at Fort William. In 1915 wheat advanced to $1.50 and in 1916 ranged to $1.65, but it ran as high as $3.00. In 1917 the price was fixed at $2.24.

In England, pointed out Mr. Pringle, flour was being supplied at $5.06 per barrel, but it was being supplied at a loss and the country was bearing the loss.

Counsel said he had been advised that there was more wheat in the reservoirs of the world today than for the last eight or ten years.

"That's wrong," declared Mr. Shaw.

Coming back to Canadian prices, Mr. Stevens said: "The profits you make are unfair to the public at the present time." He added that some of the charges made were fictitious.

Stocks Have Bounded.

Mr. Pringle questioned the witness as to the market value of the stock. In July, 1914, it stood at 24% and the highest price prior to the war was 48; in 1916 it was 122, and at the present time 167.

Fears Slump in Wheat.

During the course of his examination before the cost of living committee this afternoon, Mr. W. A. Black, vice-president of the Ogilvie Milling Company, was asked to express an opinion in regard to the fixing of a price on wheat. He referred to the situation in the United States, where the farmers will receive a price of $2.26 a bushel, guaranteed by the Government. He was inclined to think that, unless something was done, there would be a considerable slump in the price of wheat. He expressed the view that the wheat trade and the banks will be afraid to purchase in large quantities, because of the possibility of incurring loss.

On the other hand, he said, if a price were fixed in Canada, even at a figure lower than in the United States, wheat could be purchased with confidence.

Mr. Black suggested another method of dealing with the situation. He said the farmer might be paid, say, $1.25 a bushel by the Government, which would handle the crop. At the end of the season the farmer could be given any additional profit which might accrue to him as the result of the sale of his wheat.

Net Profits 72 Per Cent.

The net profits of the Ogilvie Milling Company on the common stock last year were 72 per cent. The total net profits amounted to $1,956,414. After paying seven per cent. on the preferred stock there was left $1,815,414. The company paid twelve per cent. on the common stock gave a bonus of fifteen per cent. and carried forward $1,410,414. This came out in Mr. Black's evidence. He said the company was incorporated in 1902 with an authorized capital of $4,500,000, of which $2,000,000 was preferred stock and $2,500,000 common stock. He could not say how much had been paid for in cash, but the new company had taken over the old Ogilvie Company, which had been in business since 1841.

Mr. Black said that the rest account amounted to $2,500,000, the contingency account $1,536,407, and investments $6,575,149. The directors were Charles R. Hosmer, W. A. Black, Sir Herbert Holt, Sir Montague Allan, Shirley Ogilvie, Charles Chaput, Sir Augustus Nanton and Sir Charles Gordon. It was brought out that originally the common stock amounted to $1,250,000, but in 1908, this had been doubled and allowed to the shareholders of that date. Mr. Black stated that they had paid it off at par.

Would Look Like Profiteering.

When Mr. Black mentioned that the common stockholders last year received 27 per cent, Mr. Pringle remarked:

"You could have paid them 72 per cent, but that wouldn't have looked very well, would it? I suppose you wouldn't because that was profiteering."

Mr. Black demurred, and Mr. Pringle declared that these profits had been taken out of the public.

"The public has enabled you to accumulate this surplus," said counsel.

"What public?" asked Mr. Black.

Mr. Pringle grew angry. He retorted that the human race were the people out of whom these profits had been made, the men who have got to get bread.

For the year 1917, the profits of the company were stated to be $1,358,847, and the net profit on the common stock after paying dividends was 48 3-4 per cent. Mr. Black said he did not have the statements regarding the three previous years with him.

Mr. Pringle said to the witness that these large profits were causing unrest in [illegible] those profits on te[illegible]y found that th[illegible]e head of c[illegible]who had been making the very large profits.

Mr. Black—"These are very abnormal times."

Mr. Pringle—"These are very abnormal profits."

Some Sold Below Cost.

Mr. Black stated that for a great part of this year the company had sold flour in Canada at lower than cost. He said also that the margin of profit which had been talked about had never been put in force by the food board. The company had turned out 3,385,000 barrels of flour last year. Over a million dollars had been made in 1915 by selling wheat on hand. "We have paid to the Government all they asked," said the witness.

Mr. Stevens declared emphatically that these profits should not occur, and the public should get some benefit from them. This statement would help the committee in advising the Government as to what action should be taken.

"You could have afforded to drop the price of flour 25 cents a barrel and still have made a handsome profit. I think you ought to reduce the price 25 cents or 50 cents right away, and it would be a very fine act on the part of the Ogilvie Company. It would be a fine advertisement," said Mr. Stevens.

Mr. Black replied that it could not be figured down so that the public would benefit.

Public Pays the Shot.

Mr. Pringle remarked that they all agreed that the public had to pay the bill, and the public were interested in having wheat converted into flour at the lowest possible cost. It was vital to the country to have cheap foodstuffs.

ENGINEERS MEET AT BRANTFORD IN 30TH ANNUAL CONVENTION

BRANTFORD, June 23.—The 30th annual convention of the Canadian Association of Stationary Engineers opened in this city tonight. Combined with the convention is an exhibition of power plant machinery and accessories. The convention closes Thursday. It is expected that there will be about 350 delegates in attendance and the meetings will be held at the tabernacle on Brant avenue, where the exhibits are shown.

An open meeting was held this evening, but the official opening will take place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, when a welcome will be issued by Mayor McBride and President W. Walsh and Secretary Webster of the Brantford lodge. The subjects up for discussion are mostly technical, but the program also includes visits to Brantford factories, a discussion on labor by Dr. W. A. Riddell of the trades and labor branch of the Ontario Government, and other interesting features.

DATES FOR CHATHAM CORN AND POULTRY SHOW ARE ARRANGED

CHATHAM, June 23.—The annual corn and poultry show will be held in Chatham on January 13, 14, 15 and 16. These dates were decided upon at the June directors' meeting of the Ontario Corn Growers' Association Saturday afternoon.

President Tugwell of the recently organized poultry association addressed the meeting on behalf of a combined corn and poultry show, which met with the unanimous approval of the directors. The financial statement of the Corn Growers' Association, as submitted by Treasurer J. H. Coatsworth, showed the organization to be in good shape financially.

AGED AMHERSTBURG RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

AMHERSTBURG, June 23.—Mrs. Maria Gott, widow of the late George Gott, for 35 years collector of customs here, passed away at her home at midnight Sunday. She was 90 years old. Born in Ireland, she came to Canada with her parents in 1848. Two brothers, two sisters, eighteen grandchildren and six great-grandchildren survive. Funeral services will be held at Christ Episcopal Church Wednesday, with interment in Amherstburg Cemetery.

HALDIMAND REGISTRAR HAS SUFFERED STROKE

CAYUGA, June 23.—Philip Howard, registrar of the county of Haldimand, suffered a stroke of paralysis on Monday morning, affecting his speech and left side. His condition is considered critical. He had a slight warning Friday and again twice on Sunday, but not sufficient to cause him alarm.

The funeral of Jacob Strohn took place today from his home in De Cewsville. Mr. Strohn had been ill for some time and went to Toronto some weeks ago for treatment and on Saturday morning died in Toronto at the home of his son. The remains were brought home Saturday evening.

He is survived by his wife here and a son and daughter, Bert and Sadie, in Toronto. He spent his life of over sixty years near De Cewsville, where he was born, and he will be much missed by many, who esteemed him highly.

STRATFORD INQUEST ADJOURNED AFTER 12 WITNESSES HEARD

(Special to The Advertiser.)

STRATFORD, June 23.—After hearing the evidence of twelve witnesses an adjournment was made in the inquiry into the death of Mrs. J. A. Crerar, who was run down and killed by H. J. Cotty on June 17, until Thursday evening, in order to secure more evidence.

H. J. Cotty, on the stand, declared that he was only going fifteen miles an hour. This fact was disputed by one other witness, though others said that he was not going fast. Cotty could not recall having sounded his horn when he saw Mrs. Crerar crossing the road. Evidence showed that the body of Mrs. Crerar was carried about 65 feet from where it was struck. A rear wheel passed over the body.

GOVERNMENT NOT MOVING.

Ald. Gregory, chairman of the committee looking after the celebration of peace, stated today that there was a disposition on the part of many to combine the celebrations of peace and Dominion Day. Owing to the proximity of Dominion Day another holiday is not favored. "We have been waiting all along for some lead from the Government," said Ald. Gregory, who was of the opinion that when peace was signed there should be a national holiday.

PORT STANLEY LAD HURT IN RUNAWAY

PORT STANLEY, June 23.—Joe Wilson of London, who is employed by Albert Goodhue, met with an accident while driving down the schoolhouse hill on Saturday. In some manner, part of the harness became detached, allowing the rig to strike the horse's heels, causing it to become frightened. When it dashed down the hill, it collided with a telephone post. The horse was freed from the rig. The boy was thrown out and bruised, but was able to be around next day.

SWITZERLAND REJOICES THAT GERMANS ACCEPT

BERNE, June 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—The decision of the National Assembly at Weimar to sign the peace treaty was learned with relief throughout Switzerland. German exchange soared today from 40 to 51 francs for 100 marks.

RIDGETOWN PRESENTATION.

RIDGETOWN, June 23.—At a union meeting of the C. W. B. M. of Northwood district, and the C. W. B. M. of the Church of Christ held here recently, a banquet was tendered Mrs. C. A. Sharp, who with her husband, Rev. Mr. Sharp, is leaving soon. After a program of music had been given, Mrs. Sharp was made the recipient of a handsome cut glass fruit dish and vase, after which lunch was served.

ARE YOUR NOSTRILS FULL OF CATARRHAL DISCHARGE?

If So, It's Time You Got Wise to Catarrhozone, the One Certain Cure.

By no other means can you get relief so quickly as from Catarrhozone. It's the most direct remedy—direct because you breathe it to the very spot that is irritated and full of catarrhal germs. Nothing roundabout in the Catarrhozone methods. It acts instantly, clears the throat of phlegm, stops the hacking cough, relieves tight chest, removes bronchial irritation.

So healing and soothing is Catarrhozone, so full is it of curative essences that winter ills flee before it. Carry a Catarrhozone Inhaler in your purse, in your pocket, use it to ward off your little colds before they grow big. Dollar outfit lasts two months, small size 50c, trial size 25c; all dealers or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

FOREST FIRES RAGING.

Calgary, June 24.—Bad forest fires are raging again 40 to 50 miles northwest of Calgary in the Sheep Creek Valley. A forest fire is also reported in the valuable timber in the Porcupine Hills.

New York, June 24.—The prosecution opened its case today in the supreme court in Brooklyn at the trial of Gordon Fawcett Hamby, charged with the murder of two employees of the East Brooklyn Savings Bank. An alleged confession made by Hamby to District Attorney Lewis is expected to play a large part in the prosecution's case. Hamby has repeatedly admitted his guilt and expressed a desire to pay the penalty without the formality of a trial.

PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

ARISTOCRACY OF SERVICE IS ONLY ONE THAT SHOULD BE RECOGNIZED

Margery Mills Arraigns Selfish Rule of Wealth and Power and Points to Bible Truths.

A resolution in Parliament not long ago protesting against titles in this country, was passed with a substantial majority. The question was not considered as a party issue this time, the Government evidently seeing the inconsistency and absurdity of making the conferring of titles on practically anyone who could afford to purchase one, a party issue in what we call a democratic country. Though some thoughtful people have been wondering lately whether Canada really is a democracy or no.

However, a plan has been submitted to abolish titles in Canada, and we must look for a new standard whereby to classify Canadians.

Is There a Canadian?

By the way, is there such an individual as a Canadian, strictly speaking? We think not, and if our conjecture is correct, surely a change is in order when the next census is taken, which won't be long—for how the years fly!

This word "democracy" which is being used so much today—what does it mean? "Government by the people at large," "the power vested in the populace." Is Canada a democracy? Are the "people at large" fitted to have in their hands the reins of Government? These are serious questions, and thoughtful people are asking them, and are hardly able to find a satisfactory answer in these days of world-wide social unrest.

Two Different Phases.

Practical democracy and theoretic democracy are two different phases of the question.

Theoretic democracy is ideal, certain principles are laid down based upon the assumption that the people are capable of assuming the responsibility which would devolve upon them in such a system.

Practical democracy applies these principles in so far as the education of the people and the interest of the people make their application possible.

That Canada is less democratic in the administration of its Government today than those who fought for responsible government with tongue and pen, aye, and, less wisely, with sword and musket, too, hoped it would be, after these years, is due to the fact that the education of the great mass of the people along the lines of true citizenship has been neglected.

Subservient to Party Interests.

Public questions, national interests have been subservient to party interests. Party interests in their turn have been pushed aside for the interests of private corporations, and Canada has been perilously near government by a aristocracy, not of birth and breeding, but whose claim to prestige is based solely upon the extent of their possessions.

That is to be changed, and, rightly so. No system based upon false theory is or can be stable.

All Men Not Equal.

Therefore, we can build up no system on the assumption that "all men are equal." A recent writer says that few things are more apparent than the inequality of men. We see evidences of this on every side. We see brothers and sisters of the same family with presumably the same environment and the same opportunity for development, yet with different ideals, different capabilities and, therefore, widely different attainments.

Every family, every neighborhood has its members who are by nature fitted to be leaders, and in rural sections especially a person's status is based upon what he is, rather than what he has—the true standard of classification.

It is quite evident that, with better economic conditions and more liberal education, the standard of the rank and file of the people would be raised.

Still, there will be those who tower head and shoulders above their fellows and who are thus fitted to govern.

What Is?

But if the mere possession of title or wealth, or both, be not the correct standard for classification in a democracy—what is?

A short time ago this very subject was discussed in England by one of the great chaplains of the great war. He entitled his address "The Aristocracy of Service," which he declared to be the only aristocracy for which a democracy had room.

The great men and women whose natural abilities fit them for public service and who are truly great in so far as the service they render is given for the sake of serving, nor for personal aggrandizement, belong to this class.

Every man and woman who in his or her niche works with this high motive—regards himself and all he possesses as not altogether his, but the nation's, has a place in this aristocracy. But he who possessing wealth or power or station uses it for himself, be his possession ever so great or his ability however marked, is plebian, indeed.

Study Bible.

Books have been written formulating systems for social betterment by hundreds, but never yet has one so simple and far-reaching and practical been given us as the one recorded in an old-fashioned book which those of us, who are longing for a right solution of today's problems would do well to study more attentively. And the principles laid down as the basis for that system were summed up in two sentences.

"Whatsoever ye would that me should do unto you, do ye even so to them," and "If any would be great among you, let him be your servant."

Writes About "The Lass With the Delicate Air."

Copyright, 1919, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Well, she isn't pretty, no, nor beautiful—yes a girl can be beautiful who isn't pretty., and there are some very pretty girls, indeed, who will never come within a thousand miles of real beauty.

And she isn't brilliant, and she isn't even fascinating—but the other night, when she stood up in a simple little gown of saffron cloth made like a loose stole, and with her hair in soft curls, she held a bunch of lilacs in her hand, purple and white, and then she sang—what do you think—such an old, old song! Why, the room was scented with lavender and rosemary, when she sang it, and all the modern furnishings seemed to fade, and I felt myself in an old, old room, in an old, old house in England, far across the wild sea.

And we sat in the twilight by a friendly hearth, and faces long, long forgotten smiled down from the hall.

Old servants waited in the kitchen, old dogs dreamed on the heart, and at the harpsichord or spinnet sat a gracious woman and played a quaint accompaniment.

"And really, she had a most delicate air"—that was the song, "The Lass With the Delicate Air"—and the girl who is neither beautiful nor even pretty put her little, fair head on one side and sang in a sweet and trilling voice that was like the song of a meadow lark, so full it was of youth and spring, and young life and fair and lovely innocence.

Of a Different Day.

"The lass with the delicate air"—I could have snatched her, saffron gown and purple lilacs and floating ringlets and a, and carried her away to some old world garden and kept her there a prisoner with the sun dial and the peacocks.

What a charm there is in delicacy! How sweet it is to see a girl who is dainty and charming and feminine—again.

Oh, yes, I know, the other sort's the fashion just at present.

Mannish collars, smart hats, swagger suttees, golf sticks, tennis rackets, riding crops, swimming trunks—ah, no, the old-fashioned beach dress is quite passe this season; to be really in the mode the girls must leave no doubt as to the exact modeling of their youthful proportions. He would the lass with the delicate air look in a bathing suit I wonder, or even in one of the ultra smart sport frocks? And how long would she keep the delicate air—if she dressed like that?

What were her accomplishments, I wonder—the lass with the delicate air? She could make elderberry wine, I suppose, and distill fair odys from sweet flowers. Fine embroideries, too, she did, and cunning weaving, and it was her art that kept the house abloom with flowers, deftly arranged in old bowls of glowing color.

She could sing, too, and knew many an ancient ballad and quaint catch with a fol-lol and a fol-lol for a refrain. And she could brew, they say, and bake, and always she had a cosset lamb, or little wobbly calf to pet. And when there were any sick or in grief, they looked to her for comfort. Oh, she knew the realities of life—the lass with the delicate air!

But just think—she never heard a jazz orchestra in her life, or went to a cafe or drank a "pink garter" or a "yellow necktie" in all her life!

She never said, "I'll say she does," or "I get you, Steve"—how hopelessly out of it she would be in our new way of living!

Doubtless she would bore us to death and we shouldn't know what on earth to do with her if we did have her around.

They say she fainted when she saw a mouse, and wept over the death of her favorite heroine in the favorite novel. And if she had a quarrel with her sweetheart, she shut herself up in her garden and never willingly faced another marriagable man.

A Nuisance, and Yet——

It must have been a good deal of a nuisance to her family, after all—and yet, somehow, I wish there were one or two of her left, just to leaven a bit the wild frolic of our present day.

The lass with the delicate air—don't sing that to any modern young man, sweet girl in the saffron frock, with your hands full of lilacs—or he will forget all the vampires in the world and snatch you into his automobile and carry you away to the parson, as sure as fate!

HOTSON—BARNETT.

Emma Barnett, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Barnett, Mitchell road, St. Marys, and Walker M. Hotson of St. Pauls, were the principals in a very pretty but quiet wedding solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, the ceremony being conducted by the Rev. McKibbon of Woodham. The happy couple will reside near St. Pauls.

Mrs. H. A. Boomer, who leaves today for a few weeks' holiday at "The Village Inn," Oakville, Ont., desires before leaving home to thank the Ladies' Aid of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church for a donation of $12 toward the Local Council of Women fund for the decoration of Mothers in Sacrifice. This with the amount already acknowledged, brings the total amount intrusted to her to almost $500. Before her return to London Mrs. Boomer hopes to meet personally some of the National Council delegates now meeting in Regina, who may be stopping over at Toronto or Hamilton on their homeward way.

WATSON—REDDIOUGH.

A pretty wedding took place in St. Paul's Church, Stratford, when Miss Eva Reddiough of Keighley, Yorkshire, England, and Mr. George Watson, Stratford, were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. S. A. MacDonnell. The bride, just recently arrived from overseas, was prettily gowned in white duchess satin, trimmed with maltese lace and pearl embroidery. She carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her only attendant was a niece of the bridegroom, Miss Rose Watson. The bride was given away by Mr. A. J. McPherson, and the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Robert Watson. After the ceremony a reception was held at the Windsor Hotel, and later the young couple left for Niagara Falls. On their return they will reside in Stratford.

LINABURY—FOWLER.

A small but charming wedding, at which the Rev. W. J. Knox officiated, took place on Saturday, June 21, at the residence of Mrs. Mary Burns O'Meara, 377 Wellington street, when Miss Anna Maude Fowler was united in marriage to Mr. Edwin Barton Linabury, secretary of the Board of Commerce, Flint, Mich. In the room where the ceremony took place the fireplace was massed with ferns, orange blossoms and peonies, while a profusion of roses carried out the pink and white color scheme. The tea-room was decorated with a dome of daisies and white roses with ropes of daisies carried to the corners of the table and secured with bunches of white roses and white ribbon. During the signing of the register Miss Dorinda Abbott sang "The Crown" in her rich contralto voice. After a dainty buffet lunch, Mr. and Mrs. Linabury left for Detroit.

Daily Bible Question Club

UNIFORM LESSON FOR SUNDAY, JUNE 29, 1919.

ONE GOLDEN TEXT SUGGESTION.

By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.

Review — Response to God's love. Selection for Reading. Philippians iii., 7-14.

The questions for this week may be used as an original lesson, or as a review of the twelve preceding weekly lessons. The date, and title of each lesson, where found, golden text, and one question selected from each lesson follow during the present week.

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.

April 20.—Our Risen Lord. (Easter lesson).—Matt. xxviii., 1-10.

Golden Text: He is risen, even as he said.—Matt. xxviii., 6.

3. Verse 5.—Why is the ressurection of Jesus an occasion of joy and not of fear? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the club.)

April 27.—The Holy Spirit Our Helper. —John xvi., 7-15; Acts ii., 1-18.

Golden Text: If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father give the holy spirit to them that ask him?—Luke xi., 13.

4. John xvi., 7.—What reason, if any, is there to believe that the holy spirit is the same divine spirit that dwelt in Jesus?

Golden Text: I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with my whole heart.—Psalm lxxxvi., 12.

PRAISE IS A DUTY.

The Book of Psalms from which our text is taken seems almost exclusively to be devoted to praise. The writers of the Psalms record their own custom of praise, and they exhort everybody to praise. We can scarcely take up a Bible and open at random in the Psalms, but what we find an exemplification or an exhortation to praise. Praise is as much a duty as it is a privilege. We ought to praise God in our homes, and perhaps more time should be devoted to praise in our congregations. It is essential that we should sing praise to God, so as to give expression of the gladness of our hearts and of our thankfulness to God for all his mercies and benefits to us. Then, too, our habit of praising God is an example and an incentive for others to join in the same delightful form of worship.

LONDON TOWNSHIP STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.

A garden party and strawberry festival, under the auspices of Zion Ladies' Aid, will be held at the home of Mr. Frank Fitzgerald, lot 7, concession 7, London Township, on Thursday evening, June 26, 1919. A good program has been provided.

WYOMING W. M. S.

An interesting meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church, it being the fifteenth anniversary of the W. M. S. Life memberships were presented to Mrs. D. D. Anderson, a charter member of the society, and to Mrs. Robert Ewart, the president. An "in memoriam" certificate was received in loving memory of Mrs. A. Y. Anderson, the first president of the society, and a junior life certificate was presented to Miss Margaret Ewart by the Mission Band. Mrs. R. Stirrett, Presbyterial president, was present and spoke. Mrs. (Rev.) Forster of Watford very ably presented the Forward Movement charter. Solos were rendered by Miss McPhedran and Rev. Mr. McCrae.

In spite of the great heat the meeting was largely attended, a number from South Plympton being present. Refreshments were served at the close. Greetings were received from absent members. Rev. Mr. McLeod made the dedicatory prayer and Mrs. John Hunter presided throughout.

She Would Exchange.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am sixteen years old, and have attended high school for three years. I am fond of reciting, but I have great difficulty in getting recitations. Seeing that so many received help from your column, I thought I would try. I have a few recitations and readings which are suitable for school concerts and small gatherings, which I would exchange for some that are suitable for garden parties and church gatherings. I am inclosing an addressed envelope for any you have on hand or will receive.

ECUMSEHS LOOK NEW BUT LOSE AS OF OLD milton Tigers Pound Malloy, While Schettler Holds Stewart's Crowd—When Indians Start It Is Too Late.

(BY BERT B. PERRY.)

wart trotted out the London Tecumsehs over in West London last ardly anybody recognized them until Frank Shaughnessy's Hams to beat them. Then they took on the old-familiar appearance again usual result. The Shagmen annexed the game by an 8 to 3 count. Indians looked different. It is true, as far as personal appearance goes. It remains to be seen whether Stewart has an improved club. Last night's e was nothing to judge by. The Shagmen won simply because they pounded old pellet all over the premises. They gathered a total of fourteen bingles aul Malloy, who jumped the London team once, and then jumped back again. why he jumped back again is not yet apparent.

Schettler Hard at First.

d Louis Schettler, who used to pitch he days before the war, and must a hard time keeping out of the men's home these days, was on the nd for Shaughnessy. The Indians slow getting wised up to his slants, in the latter stages of the contest wasn't much of a puzzle. Perhaps lowed up when he saw the lead his n-mates were spotting him. Schet- seemed to have a full assortment his old-time speed and curves, and was always a good pitcher in this ue.

The New Indians.

he Tecumsehs presented almost a infield. "Dusty" Bullock, who is ther relic of the old Canadian gue, was on second, while Miller, a husky chap, was shortstopping. nan, a Chicago product, was on and he looked like ready money to l fans. This boy puts one in mind Louis Bierbauer at his best, and his ing brought a few spasms of joy to loyal bugs who have been starved the London players as far as hits e concerned. Newman figured promi- tly in the London scoring. He drove Malloy with the first run and later t Mitchell home with a nice clean ble, afterward scoring the third run self. The London outfield still looks if it could stand a bit of bolstering. ugh. However, the team looks as ugh it might give a fairly good ac- nt of itself if the pitching is right.

Malloy Grooved Too Many.

Malloy suffered from his old trouble grooving too many pitches. He med to lack good control, and at es he couldn't keep the ball out of place where the Hams were swing- Zinn had a big day with the stick, ting a couple of doubles and two gles in five times up. He struck out first time he went to the plate. he Tigers opened the scoring in the ond, when Lowry walked and Don- ly singled. A wild pitch advanced h runners, but Lapp fanned. Lowry d at the plate on Carlin's roller to er, but when Carlin was caught off st. Newman uncorked a wild peg to ond, and Donnelly registered. Behan de the third out.

Shag. Delivers in a Pinch.

n the third Zinn doubled with two wn, and Shaughnessy scored him with blow to left. In the fourth the Hams t a pair of runs. Donnelly walked. t Lapp fanned again. Carlin beat out grounder, and when Behan rolled to llock, Miller muffed the throw and mmed up what looked like a sure uble play, everybody getting safe. hettler flied to Mitchell, who muffed. d Donnelly came in. Carlin was nailed the plate by Bullock on O'Rourke's w grounder, but Zinn's single brought han home. Shag, struck out with the ses full.

The sixth saw the Tigers annex two ore after the first two batters were ay outs. Schettler hit for two bases, d O'Rourke and Zinn followed with gles, O'Rourke counting on Zinn's ive, though Hagel made it close at e plate. Zinn was caught off first n the eighth, Carlin's infield hit, a crifice and hits by O'Rourke and Zinn, e latter's a double, brought the sitors' count up to eight.

How London Scored.

The Indians went hitless and runless ntil the fifth, when Shaughnessy uffed O'Rourke's throw on Malloy's rounder. Mitchell fanned, and Hagel as thrown out by Lapp, but Newman ropped one over Carlin's head and alloy counted. In the sixth, Grodick nd Pittenger both singled with one out, ut Milligan and Malloy could not bring hem in. In the seventh Mitchell was afe on his hit to Schettler. Hagel had third strike called on him, but New- an doubled to deep centre, Mitchell oming all the way home. Bullock ingled to right, and Newman counted. n the ninth, with two down, Newman ingled and went as far as third, when he Hamilton infielders failed to cover econd, and Lapp threw to the outfield. ullock walked, but Zinn went out near he fence and grabbed Miller's long fly.

ELEVEN PUT-OUTS BY AN OUTFILEDER

CHICAGO, June 23.—"Happy" Felsch of the Chicago White Sox established what is believed to be a world record here today, when he made eleven put-outs of fly balls in the outfield in the game against Cleveland. Some of the chances were hard ones, but Felsch made star catches of them. The game was a regulaton nine-innings contest.

Entry List For Thistle Tourney Closes Tonight

Indications Are That This Year's Scotch Doubles Will Have Record Attendance.

The entries for the London Thistle Club's big Scotch doubles tournament, which begins on Wednesday morning, must all be in by this evening. The draw will be made tonight at 8 o'clock, and from present indications there will be from 60 to 70 rinks from all over Ontario, and one or two points in the States. The Thistle greens are in excellent shape, and can accommodate 72 rinks. All arrangements have been made to handle a record crowd, and this tournament promises to eclipse all others in the matter of attendance and competition.

Play Starts Wednesday.

There are three trophies and several other handsome prizes. Play will start sharp on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, daylight saving time. The committee in charge of the tournament include the following: A. Longford, chairman; P. B. Fetterley, Geo. Ebrecht, James Gray, A. M. Reaman, R. D. McDonald, P. C. Powell, S. L. Taylor, and L. E. Barrie, game secretary. Refreshments will be served by the I.O.D.E.

CICOTTE WEAKENS IN ONE INNING AND THE INDIANS WIN

Great Stop of a Difficult Grounded by Gardener One of Features.

CHICAGO, June 23.—Cicotte weakened in the eighth inning after holding Cleveland to one questionable hit, and the Indians bunched four hits and defeated Chicago, 3 to 2, in the first game of the series. A great stop of a difficult grounder by Gardner and a running one-hand catch by Felsch were features. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	100 000 020	3	5	1
Chicago	001 000 010	2	8	0

Bagby and O'Neill; Cicotte, Kerr and Schalk.

BOSTON PITCHERS BOMBARDED.

BOSTON, June 23.—Washington bombarded three Boston pitchers today and won, 12 to 3. Gharrity made two home runs, two doubles and a single, his first home run, off Mays, going to the centre field fence, beyond the flag pole. His other homer, off Dumont, easily cleared the highest part of the left field fence. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Washington	110 111 332	12	18	0
Boston	010 000 101	3	5	4

Harper and Gharrity; Caldwell, Mays, Dumont and Walters.

TIGERS BUNCH HITS.

DETROIT, June 23.—While Leonard pitched steady ball today Detroit bunched hits in the early innings and defeated St. Louis, 5 to 2. Shocker was unsteady at times. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	100 010 000	2	6	0
Detroit	111 020 00X	5	9	0

Shocker, Koob and Severoid; Leonard and Stanage.

YANKEES MAKE FIVE HOMERS.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Five home runs were made by home players today when the Yankees, continuing their heavy batting, overwhelmed Philadelphia, 11 to 4. Pecklnpaugh made two home runs, and Baker, Lewis and Hannah, one each. Shawkey won his eighth consecutive game. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	020 000 110	4	8	4
New York	312 102 00x	11	12	1

TILLSONBURG RACE MEET TO BE STAGED DOMINION DAY FIRST IN FOUR YEARS

TILLSONBURG, June 23.—The new grand stand at the racing park is rapidly nearing completion and the local racing association has decided to hold a race meet on July 1, the first of the popular meets in four years. The track is in first-class condition and preparations are being made for a big string of horses and a crowd of 4,000 to 5,000 horse lovers. The following events are scheduled:

2:18 trot or pace, purse $250.
2:30 pace, purse $200.
2:30 trot, purse $200.
2:50 trot or pace, purse $100.

All races are to be mile heats, except the 2:50 class, which will be half mile. Canadian National rules will govern the meet and the purses will be divided 50, 25, 15 and 10 per cent.

ELMWOOD CLUB'S BIG DOMINION DAY BOWLING TOURNEY

All Entries Must Be In Before This Evening—Draw Will Be Published Saturday.

The London Elmwood Bowling Club celebrates Dominion Day with one of the best and biggest tournaments in this part of the country. This year the club will hold the fifth event of this kind on Tuesday, July 1. There are three events and six sets of valuable prizes, including two handsome trophies. This will be the first year of the Hyman trophy, one of the finest trophies ever offered for bowling competition. This trophy will go to the winner of the premier event. The entries for the tourney will close today, and the draw will be made on Friday, June 27. It will be published in The Advertiser on Saturday morning next. Each rink will be guaranteed three qualifying games of twelve ends each. The semi-finals and final games of the trophy and the final game in the consolation events will be ten ends each.

Sixteen Rinks Battle For Trophy.

The sixteen rinks winning the most games will enter the eliminating series for the Hyman and Ward trophies. A draw shall be made, and the two rinks winning the semi-final round shall play off for the Hyman trophy and first and second prizes.

Play will commence sharp at 9:30 o'clock, daylight saving time, on the morning of July 1. The club has prepared for a large crowd, and there will be no waits for games. Each club is entitled to enter as many rinks as it desires, but there is a limit to the total number, and as soon as that number is reached the entry list will be closed. It is estimated that the qualifying rounds will be finished in good time to allow for lunch, and the commencing of the elimination series at 2 p.m.

ERNIE HAGERMAN HEADS WOODSTOCK AVERAGES

WOODSTOCK, June 23.—The official averages of the City Baseball League announced today that Ernie Hagerman, pitcher for the "Y" team, is away off in front with an average of .667. Next comes McCuthbert of the "Y" and McMillan of the Businessmen are tied for second place with averages of .400. The other .300 hitters are: Conroy, .364; Reynolds, .364; Martin, .357; Len Turner, .353; Greenley, .308, and Debrule, .300. Hagerman also shows the way in the base stealing department with eight sacks pilfered.

C-H-E-E-R-I-O

By Bert B. Perry

Londoners will have more than ordinary interest in the fortunes of the baseball team which is representing Canada at the Allied games, which commenced in Paris Monday. Major Chester Butler of this city, is in charge of the Canadian nine. He has picked a strong team from the various Canadian teams in England and France, and Canucks overseas are all looking for a victory against the Americans. The Yanks will be strongly represented, and the games should prove interesting. Most of the players are amateurs from city leagues. There are two or three Western Ontario boys on the line-up, including "Slim" Dewhurst of Windsor. F. Smith of Petrolea and A. Kaehlin of Kitchener. "Sailor" Barker of Toronto is also on the team. Barker pitched for the 180th Sportsmen's Battalion team at Camp Borden when they won the championship there. The writer caught behind the bat for Barker in many of the games the 180th played at Camp Borden.

"Well," said the Frenzied Fan, "they can call it the Mint League if they want to, but there's a whole lot of owners in it that ain't going to make a mint out of it."

* * * *

The British Jockey Club has decided to bar all Germans and Austrians from British racetracks. The Earl of Jersey, in explaining this decision, states that the Germans are not sportsmen. During the German occupation of Belgium, many valuable race horses were stolen and sold in Germany for breeding and racing purposes. Without the necessary certificates to prove their identity, they were, of course, useless for either purpose. Neither the British, French nor American turf authorities will register animals in their stud books, the breeding of which cannot be substantiated. When the Germans demanded the required certificates from the Belgian Jockey Club, they were promptly refused. The Belgian starter, an Englishman, was deported to Germany and when his release was demanded, the Germans replied that he would be sent back if the certificate of a valuable mare which had been stolen was forwarded. The offer was refused, and the fact that the German Jockey Club had identified themselves with the policy of theft and blackmail was a far more serious matter than the seizure of the horses. It renders the admission of all Germans to sporting circles impossible.

Looks like all this London team needs now is a few pallbearers and a sexton.

Musical note: Mr. "Dad" Stewart and his popular artists will render "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" at Tecumseh Park all this week. Or perhaps a more revised version would be "Locked on the Botton of the Heap."

* * * *

"Happy" Felsch of the White Sax had eleven put-outs in the outfield in yesterday's game at Chicago. It is still believed, though, that there were eight other players on the team, but why?

The rumor that the other seven teams in the Mint League will be brought down to London's strength is still unconfirmed.

With the Trotters and Pacers

The Short Ship has shifted from Mount Clemens to Bay City this week. The racing there should prove just as interesting as at Detroit and Mount Clemens.

Port Huron will entertain the Short Ship, starting the week of June 30. This should give many Canadians a chance to witness the sport on Dominion Day. Joe O'Hearne is in charge of the Port Huron meeting.

From Port Huron, the Short Ship will go to Saginaw, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids and Jackson. Following the Jackson meeting, the horses return to Detroit, where racing opens again at Dexter Park on August 4.

The season's records were established at the Mount Clemens' meeting just ended. On Monday in the first pacing heat, Symbol S. Forest made the trip in 2:05 3-4, in order to stall off the fast Grace Direct. This event went five heats before the stallion was beaten out.

The second record was in the 2:19 trot. This event went six heats before Peter Billiken took the honors. Stephen won two heats in this event, which is the longest and one of the most gruelling of the season so far.

Stratford has a meeting on Wednesday of this week under the auspices of the Stratford Agricultural Society. There will be four events, 2:25 trot, 2:20 trot or pace, 2:10 trot or pace and the 2:30 pace. Good purses are provided, and the entry list which closed on Saturday is a big one.

Aylmer races will be held on July 9, for horses eligible July 1, 1919. Three events are on the card, the 2:30 trot, and 2:18 and 2:25 pacing race. Ira Mahee and Junius Bradley are the president and secretary of the meeting.

Nervold Belle foaled a fine chestnut colt by Peter the Great, 2:07 1-4, at Laurel Hall last week. It is a full brother to Peter Volo (4), 2:02, and Volga (3), 2:04 1-2.

Zomrect, 2:03 3-4, a great disappointment for two seasons past, is working nicely and may yet make good.

Early Dreams, 2:04 3-4, the sensational trotter of 1917, has gone wrong, and will not take the trip down the big line.

The reports of the first two meetings in Ohio show that the northern as well as the southern trained horses were ready to race. Of those which showed in front, Grace Direct was the most conspicuous on account of winning over the half-mile track at Findlay and Cleveland in 2:06 1-4. She is a five-year-old by Walter Direct, and will, if she retains her present form, be seen on the mile tracks with her stable companions South Bend Girl and Double G., both of which finished behind her.

COPS ESCORT UMPIRE OFF FIELD TO PREVENT HIM BEING MOBBED

Ball Damaged, But Umpire Would Not Call It In Nor Let Manager Examine It.

READING, Pa., June 23.—Policemen had to escort Umpire Wilson from the grounds after today's double-header, in which Reading and Buffalo split even, the locals winning the first game, 15 to 0, while the Bisons took the final game, 5 to 3.

The trouble started in the eighth inning of the second game, when Reading players claimed the ball was damaged, but Wilson kept the sphere in play. He refused to allow Manager Dooin to inspect the ball. This aroused the fans, and they swarmed onto the field after the umpire. The players and police prevented any further trouble. The scores:

First game:

At Newark, vs. Binghamton—Game cancelled; to be played at later date.

At Baltimore, vs. Rochester—Today's game played yesterday.

COOK BLANKS CUSTERS ON HIS FIRST APPEARANCE

Battle Creek's Infield Blew Up in the Sixth, Which Meant Defeat.

BAY CITY, June 23.—Glen Cook, making his first appearance on the home lot in a Bay City uniform, held the Custers to four hits today and, with excellent support behind him, earned a 6-to-0 victory in the last game of the series.

The contest was a pitching duel between Cook and Ocker for the first six innings, but in the seventh Battle Creek's infield blew up, two runs counting on two hits, two errors and a sacrifice hit.

Three more tallies were registered in the eighth without the aid of a hit, three errors, three bases on balls and two sacrifices combining for the counters. The score:

ROSE MAKES HOMER; ONLY RUN KITCHENER RECEIVES

Walker Pitches Good Ball—Cully, New Brantford Third Baseman, Makes a Fine Showing.

BRANTFORD, June 23.—Brantford had the breaks in the first game of the series with Kitchener here today, and cinched the score by putting across four runs in the eighth inning. In this round two infield hits, coupled with a squeeze play pulled by Murphy and Cameron, with hits by Cully and Estelle, made a strong Brantford rally. Walker pitched fine ball and had two double plays behind him. The fine all-round work of Cully, the new Brantford third baseman, was a feature of the game. The score:

Dempsey Celebrates His Birthday With Sparring Partners

Challenger Receives Many Greetings From His Admirers — Willard Resumes Training.

Toledo, June 24.—Jack Dempsey, challenger for the world's heavyweight championship, will celebrate his 24th birthday today exchanging punches with his sparring partners in preparation for his title contest with Jess Willard here July 4. The challenger received a score of greetings from admirers throughout the country.

Willard planned to resume boxing today after yesterday's layoff. The champion said he was entirely satisfied with the progress he is making, and thought that a day of idleness would be beneficial to his condition.

DEMPSEY KNOCKS OUT HIS SPARRING PARTNER

Challenger, Stung By Criticism, Stings Giant Negro for the Full Count.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 23.—Stung by the criticism that his sparring partners had been able to connect with him rather frequently, Jack Dempsey challenger for the heavyweight title today knocked out Sergt. Bill Tate, a giant negro, while the crowd that packed his Maumee Bay training camp gasped in amazement over the power of his blows.

Dempsey boxed six rounds, two with Tate, two with the Jamaica Kid and two with Malone, the St. Paul welterweight, taking them on in rotation. Tate was fairly successful in stopping Dempsey's driving attack in the first round, but when it came his turn to face the challenger in the third round, Dempsey smothered him under a hurricane of punches.

The round opened, Dempsey dug a right hand punch into Tate's stomach, shifted and caught him on the edge of the chin with a left hook that did not travel more than six inches. Tate sank to his haunches and got up at the count of six. Then Dempsey landed a right harder to the chin, and the negro dropped to the canvas completely knocked out.

LOOKING THEM OVER

Scott will in all probability work against Shaughnessy's team this evening. Big Ed. has yet to be seen in action here in a full game. Glasier will oppose him.

The London club has signed up Catcher Witry, who was let out by Knotty Lee. Witry looked good when the Red Sox were here, and it is hard to see why Lee canned him.

It is not generally known that Catcher Frankie Lapp of the Hams, who is boosted as the best backstop in the league, gave London first chance to sign him. Joe Keenan saw him play, but only offered him $125 a month. Shaughnessy boosted the ante and got Lapp.

"Hank" Gero refuses to report to Bay City and is still with the Hamilton club. Shaughnessy has him on contract, and the first the big fellow heard of Gero being traded to Bay City was when he saw it in the papers. It is likely the deal the London owners made with Bay City will fall through.

Vermilly is still playing the bench. Miller, who short-stopped for London yesterday is a big youth, but he doesn't look speedy. He pegs nicely, but he didn't look any too good when he gummed up a double play in the fourth.

Newman is the best-looking first sacker London has had yet, and if he continues his work with the stick he should be very popular with local fans.

Stewart needs a lot of improvement in the outfield yet. Hagel is the only player who showed anything yesterday. Mitchell and Grodick, who is an infielder, were probably bothered by the sun, but at that they didn't look like the proper kind of fly-chasers. Grodick is starting to hit the ball hard these days.

HAY FEVER SUFFERER

Tells How He Found Relief—It Might Pay Others to Try the Remedy.

Millville, N. J.—"I was run down, could not sleep at night, and entirely worn out with Hay Fever. I have charge of golf links, but had to lay off for weeks at a time. My druggist asked me to try Vinol. Three bottles entirely cured me, and I am healthier and stronger than I have been for twenty years. Every person who suffers from Hay Fever should try Vinol."—Sam'l Flickinger.

RUPTURE KILLS 7,000 ANNUALLY

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificates being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But science has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known.

The PLAPAO PAD, when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place, therefore, cannot chafe or pinch. Soft as velvet—easy to apply—inexpensive. To be used whilst you work and whilst you sleep. No straps, buckles or springs attached.

Learn how to close the hernial opening as nature intended so the rupture CAN'T come down. Send your name today to PLAPAO CO., Block 618 St. Louis, Mo., for FREE trial Plapao and the information necessary.

EAST ELGIN REFORM MEMBERS DENY STORY OF LIBERAL SPLIT

Brand as False Story That Appeared To This Effect in St. Thomas Press.

ST. THOMAS, June 23.—An article appearing in the local press on the political situation in East Elgin, in which it is stated that a split in the Liberal party in East Elgin is unavoidable, is branded by local Liberals, and those directly in touch with the East Elgin situation, as a direct attempt on the part of the Unionists and Conservative supporters to create a breach in the Liberal party in Elgin County.

The article states that a new party is being formed and that S. S. McDermand, the former Liberal standard bearer in East Elgin is to become the candidate for the new party. Mr. McDermand is said in the article to have split with his party and that through this, a serious storm is brewing. When the East Elgin Liberals met recently to select their candidates, Mr. McDermand was present and tendered his resignation. When he was not re-elected, he took his defeat gallantly and congratulated his successor, W. H. Mills of Sparta, on his nomination.

Mr. McDermand has for many years been one of the Liberal cause's strongest supporters in East Elgin and inquiries made among the Liberals and former supporters of Mr. McDermand in that constituency by The Advertiser have so far failed to elicit anything that would indicate that Mr. McDermand has split with the Liberal party. Mr. McDermand himself could not be reached tonight, but his friends state that nothing regarding his candidature in a new party has ever been mentioned by him as yet.

The Liberals of both the East and West ridings of this county were never better organized than they are at the present time. They realize that the time for a uniting of forces has arrived.

J. E. Nelson, president of the local club, and Alex. Darrach, who is also a well-known Liberal here, state that the Liberal party has only one thing to fear, and that is a disruption of the Liberal forces by the formation of new parties through the influence of the opposition.

It is also stated here that C. A. Brower will head the Conservative party.

WESTERN LABOR NEWS IS RAIDED AND CLOSED BY R.N.W.M.P. OFFICERS

Acting Editor, Another Ex-Methodist Minister, Is Arrested.

WINNIPEG, June 23.—Members of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police raided the office of the Western Labor News late this afternoon and took steps to suppress further publications of that periodical.

The fifteen mounted police remained at the labor temple for more than two hours, and when they left they took away all the type and "copy" that had been prepared for the issue of tomorrow.

J. S. Woodworth, acting editor of the Western Labor News and formerly a Methodist minister, was arrested at the door of the printing office. Several years ago he gave up the ministry and took charge of the All People's Mission here, later being employed by the Dominion Government in social service work. After that he was on the Pacific coast for a considerable time until recently, where he worked as a longshoreman.

ESSEX BORDER UTILITY COMMISSION SELECTS PERMANENT BOARD

WINDSOR, June 23.—Confirming the appointment of Dr. E. T. Adams of Toronto as medical health officer for the new border health district, the Essex border utility commission has selected permanent health board under whose direction Dr. Adams will work.

Gordon M. McGregor, chairman of the commission, will preside over the new body. The other members are: Dr. C. Wt. Hoare of Walkerville; Dr. U. J. Durocher, Sandwich West, and Dr. G. R. Cruickshank, Windsor.

Until Dr. Adams takes over duties of medical health officer for the district, Dr. Cruickshank will be in charge. The present staff of health officers will be retained until August 13.

SIXTY PERSONS DEAD AND 400 BUILDINGS WRECKED BY TORNADO

Large Number of Summer Cottages Are Blown Into Lake Alice, Minnesota — 47 Bodies Recovered From Debris by Searching Parties.

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., June 23.—Telephone communication from Fergus Falls and the nearby storm-stricken territory to other cities in the state was restored late this afternoon and over the telephone Adjutant-General Rhinow gave an estimate of sixty dead from Sunday evening's tornado.

Work of searching the debris which marks the sites of nearly four hundred homes and stores, will be completed by midnight, General Rhinow said.

Many persons at Lake Alice, a nearby summer resort, were swept into the water, it is believed. A large number of the summer cottages which line its shores were blown far out into the lake.

More than 150 persons with serious injuries, are being treated at the state insane hospital and other hospitals. Late today 47 bodies had been recovered and taken to temporary morgues.

OVER 1,700 MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN CROWDED INTO VESSEL'S STEERAGE

Repatriated Munition Workers Arriving On the S. S. Canada Are Vigorous in Condemnation of the British Ministry of Shipping.

MONTREAL, June 23.—Vigorous condemnation of the British ministry of shipping was vouched when the steerage passengers of the White Star liner Canada reached Montreal today. The passengers complain that between 1,700 and 1,900 men, women and children, repatriated munition workers, bound for Canadian and United States points, were forced into the steerage of the steamer, which only has accommodation for 1,500.

When the passengers boarded the ship at Liverpool they formed a committee, which waited on Captain Devlin and refused to sail, unless changes were made. The captain did the best he could to accommodate the crowd and appeased the passengers by pointing out that the ship owners were at the mercy of the British ministry of shipping.

PEACE WILL PROBABLY BE SIGNED THURSDAY, SAYS PREMIER M. CLEMENCEAU

German's Kick at Severity of Terms to the Very Last, But Finally Agree to Sign "Unconditionally."

WEIMAR, June 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—The National Assembly this afternoon voted to sign the peace terms unconditionally, the Government having succeeded in overcoming the opposition of those who insisted on two conditions.

MAY SIGN THURSDAY.

PARIS, June 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—The signing of the peace treaty is not likely to take place before Thursday, possibly not until Friday. This announcement was made tonight by Premier Clemenceau and Secretary Dutasta.

The German note accepting the Allied peace conditions without reservation made only one typewritten page, Paul Dutasta, the secretary-general of the peace conference, had the note translated as soon as he received it and sent copies of the translation of Premier Clemenceau, Premier Lloyd George and President Wilson.

Haniel von Haimhausen will sign the peace treaty for the Germans, it appeared likely today from all information at peace headquarters.

Requested More Time.

The German request for an extension of time was delivered during the night under dramatic circumstances. A French officer reached Paris at 2:30 a.m. from Versailles with a note from von Haniel, saying that the Weimar Government had notified him it would sign the peace terms, but that the text of the message had not been decided upon and would be sent later.

This was immediately delivered to Secretary Dutasta's chief officer. The secretary was awakened, and he in turn aroused Premiers Lloyd George, Clemenceau and President Wilson. A meeting was then arranged for early in the morning.

In declaring its intention to accept and sign the peace treaty, the government of the German Republic has sent the following note to M. Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, through Dr. Haniel von Haimhausen:

"The minister of foreign affairs has instructed me to communicate to your excellency the following:

Kicking to the Last.

"It appears to the government of the German Republic, in consternation at the last communication of the allied and associated governments, that these governments have decided to wrest from Germany by force acceptance of the peace conditions, even those which without presenting any material significance, aim at divesting the German people of their honor.

"No act of violence can touch the honor of the German people. The German people, after frightful suffering in these last years, have no means of defending themselves by external action.

"Yielding to superior force, and without renouncing in the meantime its own view of the unheard-of injustice of the peace conditions, the government of the German Republic declares that it is ready to accept and sign the peace conditions imposed.

"Please accept, Mr. President, assurances of my high consideration.

(Signed) "Von Haniel."

RAILWAY SHOPMEN'S DIFFICULTIES WILL BE SETTLED SHORTLY

Montreal, June 23.—Within the next three weeks the railway labor situation in Canada and the United States is likely to be cleared up. President Tallon and Secretary Dickie of the railway shopmen's union made this statement upon their return from Atlantic City this morning, where they interviewed the international executive officers of their organization.

Messrs. Tallon and Dickie stated that the United States railroad administration has promised that the troubles of its shopmen will be adjusted, and that the Canadian Railway War Board will probably apply the terms of the settlement in Canada.

STRIKE-BREAKERS NOT TO RUN OUT CARS IN TORONTO

Trouble Feared if Railway Board's Order Is Complied With Today.

EVERYBODY IS JITNEYING

Judge Barron Agrees To Continue As Conciliator—Promises Results.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, June 23.—Late tonight it was announced that the street railway company would not offer a car service tomorrow. It was feared that an attempt to act upon the order of the Ontario Railway Board would cause trouble, and instead, another conference will take place tomorrow morning between the interested parties.

The decision of the company to comply with the order of the board was given to the chief of police, who summoned the different officials of the department to discuss the possibilities of trouble and give them instructions. The various inspectors were instructed to act as "peace" officers.

The cars were to have left the barns at 7:30 a.m., without police escorts, the police to be stationed in the vicinity of the barns to disperse any gatherings whose members seemed intent upon disorder.

Strike-Breakers Well Paid.

There are about one hundred and fifty strike-breakers in the city at the present time. They have been brought from the United States by the company, and are being paid $6 a day. The purpose of the company seems to be to live up to its agreement only. There is little chance of a service equivalent to the needs of the city by strike-breakers when the company does comply with the railway board's order.

At least, such is the opinion held by those who have taken part in the negotiations to avert the strike, in spite of the declaration of the company's counsel before the railway board this morning that it should be given more time to perfect an organization whereby it could give the service expected by the board.

The strike-breakers were provided by a private detective agency.

Union Makes an Offer.

The officials of the union today informed the Ontario Railway Board that the men were prepared to operate the cars for the board if it was willing to pay the wages demanded by the men. There was no response to the offer.

In spite of the heavy motor traffic, there were few accidents today, and these were limited to damage to property. The crowds during the rush hours were cleared from the business section almost as quickly as by car service.

Unlicensed jitneys on Sunday took advantage of the predicament of citizens to demand their "pound of flesh"—forty cents a mile. Today the board of police commissioners limited unlicensed jitneys' fare to twenty-five cents.

The city asked the Government to limit the scope of the board of conciliation, whose members, in spite of their decision to quit after the meeting on Saturday night, have decided to remain on the board. The objection to Judge Barron as chairman is that he takes the view that the public comes before the employer or the employee. With a chairman maintaining this attitude, the men contend that they can get no more than the company can pay. The men agree with the management of the railway that their demands can only be met with an increased fare.

Judge Barron held at the last conciliation that the men could obtain only what the company could pay.

It is also claimed that the railway management agreed to the last board acting, providing neither Judge Snider of Hamilton nor Judge Coatsworth of Toronto, who views are somewhat wider than those of Judge Barron, was chairman.

Police Protection Demanded.

Mayor Church was notified by the company that the Ontario Railway Board had ordered the Toronto Railway Company to operate the street railway service, and, as it was the intention of the company to comply with the order, police protection would be required. The chief of police was notified accordingly.

The striking street railwaymen were willing to run the cars for the Ontario Railway Board if allowed 55 cents an hours and granted an eight-hour day, as demanded by the men from the company, so Controller W. D. Robbins, secretary of the street railwaymen's union, announced this afternoon.

The mayor this afternoon called another meeting of representative citizens to try to find a way out of the present difficulty, and mentioned 10 o'clock tomorrow as the hour, and his office as the place of meeting.

Have Men Struck Illegally?

The question of penalty for the street railwaymen striking after a board of conciliation was appointed is being discussed in some quarters. According to the statute quoted, "Any employee who goes on strike contrary to the provisions of this act (Lemieux act) shall be liable to a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50 for each day or part of a day that such employee is on strike."

However, the men do not appear to be worrying about the possible penalty.

Judge Barron is determined to settle the street car strike, if the feat is at all possible. He is disposed to do it, even if the people have to pay the bill of the boost in the men's wages.

At the end of a three-quarter-hour session of the board of conciliation this afternoon he adjourned the board until 11 a.m. on Wednesday, and told everybody concerned that he would do his best in the role of a go-between to arrive at a basis of settlement. He proposed to pass to and fro between the men and the company, and also to consult with Finance Commissioner Bradshaw, with a view to settling the financial problems involved.

R. J. Fleming—Why not operate on the mayor?

Might Remove R. J.'s Gall.

Judge Barron—Think he would be easier to operate on than you?

Then he said he hoped to work out some solution. He had done it away back in 1910 between the men and the company, and all he asked now was a chance to do it again.

R. J. Fleming—If you can work out some plan as to who'll pay the bill—outside of us.

Judge Barron—Let the people pay the bill.

Mr. Fleming—All right.

There was a little passage between Mr. Fleming and Joseph Gibbons about the rate of wages. "Pay our men the same as the men you are going to operate the cars with and they'll be satisfied," said Mr. Gibbons, meaning this as a sly dig at the company's alleged importation of strike-breakers.

"Oh, you can't believe all you hear," said R. J., with a smile.

The judge made it plain that if the men did not want him to act he wanted them to frankly say so.

"Yesterday I got a long telegram from Mr. Acland in reply to mine saying I was ready to retire. He said he regretted it very much if I had to retire, and he hoped I would make another effort. The labor department also wished me to go on because there would be delay if another appointment would have to be made. The minister had confidence in me, so I decided to make another effort. You—Messrs. Robbins and Gibbons—remember that in 1910 when I acted, the agreement was made not so much at the board as at meetings with your men, with myself going in and out."

Ottawa Muddling Again?

His honor read the instructions from the Dominion Government. For these, he said, the board was not responsible. They were to investigate the claims and demands of either party. The present agreement expires at midnight of June 15. The employees had submitted a draft of a new schedule, asking for 55 cents an hour and time and half for overtime, and also an eight-hour day. "The Toronto railway," read the document, "is not in a financial condition to grant the short day or wages demanded."

Controller Robbins—"I don't like that statement."

P. H. Phippen—I never saw that until Saturday.

Judge Barron—I did not read this on Saturday because some of you firebrands—"

Mr. Gibbons—Oh, we're not firebrands.

Judge Barron received a telegram from Ottawa this afternoon clarifying the instructions to the board. This was a reply to the telegram sent by the controllers today asking that the duties of the board be limited to deciding the justice of the demands of the men and without taking into consideration the ability of the company to pay. "It does not limit our instructions to the one question," said the judge, "but so far as I can gather over the phone each is to be dealt with separately and independently of the other, which amounts to the same thing."

SIR LOMER GOUIN IS RETURNED IN QUEBEC WITH MAJORITY CUT

Liberal Leader's Support Is Slightly Lessened.

LABOR MAKES ITS BOW

Two Official Labor Candidates Are Elected and Nine Conservatives.

MONTREAL, June 23.—Sir Lomer Gouin goes back to power in Quebec with a slightly reduced majority as the result of the provincial elections today. His former strength was 75 Liberals to six Conservatives. His present strength, leaving out Pontiac and Temiskaming, both of which returned Liberals last time, but returns for which are not to hand tonight, is 68 Liberals against nine Conservatives and two Labor men. Labor is represented for the first time officially at Quebec, men who have formerly run under the name having been straight Liberals.

The Government lost three seats on the Island of Montreal, Maissoneuve, Laval and Dorion. In the first and last Labor replaces Liberal, in Laval it is a straight Conservative gain. Maissoneuve is the scene of Sir Lomer Gouin's speech last week. The Conservatives lost only one seat, Charlevoix-Saguenay. By not contesting St. Hines in Montreal and Lac St. Jean, they lost two others.

Outside of Montreal the Government lost five seats, Iberville, Joliette, La-Belle, Chicoutimi and St. Hyacinthe. The leader of the Opposition, Arthur Sauve, was re-elected by 600 majority, a large one for a rural constituency.

WM. DAVIES PACKING HOUSE HANDS HAVE STOPPED WORK AGAIN

Claim There Has Been Discrimination Since Award Was Accepted.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

TORONTO, June 23.—Packing house employees of the William Davies Company quit work today, acting on the instructions of their shop committees. The company recently signed the award of the board of conciliation, but the men contend that there have been cases of discrimination which can only be adjusted by the consent of the company to a closed shop. They presented their demands to E. C. Fox, who promised to adjust them by last Friday. He failed to do so, and the strike occurred. It is expected that the men will be back to work tomorrow. It is now claimed that the packers will give no more work than the agreement guarantees as forty hours a week, and are endeavoring to obtain a maximum production by speeding up. The result is friction between the men and the several companies.

Court-Martial for German Who Gave Order for Sinkings

LONDON, June 24.—Admiral von Reuter, in command of the German fleet scuttled and sunk in the Scapa Flow, will be court-martialed for having broken the armistice conditions, says the Daily Mail today. The newspaper adds that the details of the trial of the admiral will be arranged by the Allied council in Paris.

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE IS DECLARED OFF IN TWO WESTERN CITIES

New Westminster, B. C., and Prince Albert, Sask., Resume Order.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., June 23.—The strike committee of the trades and labor council at noon today declared the general strike in New Westminster at an end, effective from 4 o'clock this afternoon.

IN PRINCE ALBERT, TOO.

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., June 23.—The sympathetic strike is over as far as Prince Albert is concerned. The local expressmen, who returned last week, were followed today by the shopmen, who decided after a meeting Saturday night, which lasted until 1:30 Sunday morning, to return to work.

Superintendent Munro of the local division of the Canadian Northern Railway promised the men reinstatement without discrimination, and on this basis they returned to work. There are no other men on strike here.

Enough Food in Sight To Tide Over Liberated Countries of Europe

NEW YORK, June 23.—Enough food to provision the people of the liberated countries of Europe until their own farm crops have been harvested in the fall will be in sight by July 1, it was announced here today by the American relief administration through Theodore F. Whitemarsh, an administration official just returned from Europe.

GERMANS HAVE SUNK WARSHIPS IN HOME PORTS

Clean-Up of Fleet To Prevent Allies Getting Craft--Kaiser Had So Ordered.

WEIMAR, June 23.—The German warships, which were not surrendered to the Allies, and which have been anchored off Kiel, Wilhelmshaven and other points, also have been sunk by German sailors manning them, according to a report received here from a reliable authority.

According to the reports there were twelve German war vessels, besides destroyers, which were in German waters, not having been turned over to the Entente under the armistice provisions.

ADMIRAL ORDERED SINKINGS.

LONDON, June 23.—Although reports have stated that six Germans were killed and ten wounded when the boats of the German fleet in Scapa flow were fired upon subsequent to the scuttling of the German fleet, the Daily Mail says that others may have been drowned, and that some may possibly have reached the Orkney Islands and have not as yet been reported.

The main force of the British fleet was absent, exercising at sea, when the German ships were sunk, only some drifters, small warships and patrolling aircraft being on guard over the interned enemy squadron.

Admiral Von Reuter, in command of the surrendered German fleet, says he issued an order to sink the ships, the Daily Mail adds, and did so because at the beginning of the war the German emperor directed that no German warship should fall into the enemy's hands. He says that he believed, from newspaper reports, that the armistice had been ended.

Admiral von Reuter visited Germany some weeks ago, it being understood at the time that the reason for his trip there was that he was ill, but he soon returned, and it is understood that at that time he circulated the order to sink the German ships by evading the censorship or making signals to the various vessels, an act which the close proximity of the German ships made quite easy.

BLENHEIM CHIEF OF POLICE IS FACING CHARGE OF THEFT

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BLENHEIM, June 23.—As a result of an investigation this afternoon by County Constable George Peters of Chatham, a charge has been laid against Chief of Police E. W. Hurrell of this town for stealing articles of furniture from James Thomas' residence.

Thomas claims they were taken a few nights ago while he was away. Magistrade Whittington held a preliminary hearing, and allowed Hurrell out on his own recognizance of $500 to appear Friday morning. Hurrell was suspended from duty by the magistrate pending the result of the trial.

Hurrell claims he purchased the articles from Jess Thomas, a brother of James Thomas, and alleges that certain parties are after him in town because he is doing his duty as constable. He is a returned soldier, and has been chief since February. He has engaged Barrister R. L. Gosnell to defend him.

WINDSOR COUNCIL REFUSES TO CONSIDER APPOINTING VETERAN

WINDSOR, June 23.—The city council tonight refused to consider a bylaw appointing Major D. J. Cheyne, a returned veteran, as assistant tax collector, an amendment by Ald. F. L. Howell, referring the bylaw to the finance committee, and this move meeting with approval of majority of the council.

Major Cheyne, since his return from France, has been employed by his father, Tax Collector George Cheyne, as clerk in his office. The War Veterans' Association may take the matter up.

KINGSVILLE SERVICE.

KINGSVILLE, June 23. — Sunday evening one hundred members of the Masonic Lodge, A. F. & A. The choir rendered special music. A solo was also sung by Guy Brown.

WINNIPEG STILL UNDER MARTIAL LAW, BUT QUIET

Hon. Mr. Rowell Tells Parliament Mob Fired First Shots.

AIRPLANE IS PATROLLING

Senator G. Robertson Has Stopped Negotiation—Just Maintaining Order.

ANOTHER VICTIM DIES.

WINNIPEG, June 23.—Steve Schezerbanowez died this evening in the general hospital of gangrene as the result of being shot in both legs. This is the second death from Saturday's rioting. All the others injured are said to be progressing satisfactorily.

WINNIPEG, June 23.—Although there were not lacking evidences of nervous tension today, the city remained calm. Special returned soldier constables patrolled the city streets and the Royal Northwest Mounted Police and the military forces were "standing to" prepared to meet any emergency.

The armored airplane "City of Winnipeg" made several reconnaissances over the city.

The only man to die as a result of Saturday's rioting, M. Sokolwoski, was a registered alien, and is stated to have broken parole. Witnesses assert that he took a prominent part in the attack on the police which started the trouble.

The seriously injured are making satisfactory progress.

Number of Warrants Issued.

John Grant, returned soldier, one of those who advocated the holding of the "massed silent parade" in defiance of the edict of Major Gray, was placed under arrest today, and it was stated at police headquarters that a number of warrants had been issued against organizers of the demonstration.

Forty-four of the 100 arrested during the rioting were released this afternoon on $1,000 bail each, in a special session of the riot court. They were arraigned on charges of riotous assembly. The remainder were remanded until next week.

T. J. Murray, counsel for the strike leaders, who were arrested last week on a charge of seditious conspiracy, announced that their trial would probably be held on Wednesday.

Negotiating Has Stopped.

It was stated that the federal authorities have ceased all action which might lead to a settlement of the general sympathetic strikes. Senator Robertson, federal minister of labor, said:

"The riot act has been read in Winnipeg, and the Federal Government has turned its attention to maintaining law and order in this city. The preservation of the peace will continue until such time as the strike committee decides to call off the sympathetic strike."

The back-to-work movement went forward with renewed impetus today. Railway officials reported that a large number of trainmen and switchmen reported for duty.

HOUSE OF COMMONS HEARS REPORT OF RIOT.

OTTAWA, June 23. — Hon. N. W. Rowell, in reply to a question by D. D. McKenzie, made a statement in the Commons this morning in regard to the rioting at Winnipeg. He said that on Friday last, a mass meeting of strikers, in which there were some 500 or more soldiers, decided that they would parade the streets notwithstanding the proclamation of the mayor that parades would not be permitted. They also sent word to the minister of labor intimating to him that they intended to meet in Victoria Park at 2:30 o'clock on Sunday, and from there would parade to the Royal Alexandra hotel where the minister was staying, and that he must there address them, on pain of violence if he refused.

Tries To Avoid Trouble.

The minister of labor desired to avoid any possibility of conflict or any possibility of the proclamation of the mayor being violated, and sent word to the strikers, through the strike committee, that he would go to the Victoria Park mass meeting at 2:30 and there address the strikers.

That apparently, however, was not satisfactory to them, and they requested a meeting on Saturday morning.

There were present at the meeting the minister of labor, the mayor of the city, Commissioner Perry of the Northwest Mounted Police, and Mr. Andrews, representing the department of justice. The committee insisted that the parade should go on unless the strike were settled at 2:30, that the street cars which were already operating, must cease their operations. They desired also to be addressed in the industrial bureau.

The mayor intimated that under no conditions would the proclamation against street parades be withdrawn. The minister of labor intimated that it was not possible to secure a settlement of the strike within the time limit of 2:30, although matters did look favorable for a settlement. But he promised to endeavor to secure for them the industrial bureau in which to hold their meeting, and promised to address them there.

Mr. Andrews succeeded in securing the bureau for the committee, but before he could get back the trouble had commenced.

Insist Upon Parade.

The strikers—or this group—insisted that this parade should go on. The mayor, with the approval of the attorney-general, and in his presence, went to the headquarters of the Northwest Mounted Police and asked for their co-operation in preserving law and order.

Mr. Rowell then reviewed to the House subsequent events culminating in the charge by the mounted police. He declared that the first shots were fired by the mob, the soldiers firing in self-defence.

Mr. Cahill asked as to the truth of a statement in the press that the rioters were led by returned soldiers.

Mr. Rowell repeated his statement that the men who first waited upon the minister included a number of returned soldiers, but he emphasized the point that returned men who took part in the trouble constitute but a small percentage of the returned men.

Replying to a question by Mr. Lemieux, Hon. Arthur Meighen stated that a date had not yet been fixed for the trial of the strike leaders.

Dr. McGibbon having expressed the opinion that a speedy trial would be in the best interests of the public, Mr. Meighen explained that the matter was not one to be decided by the Government. The accused had the right to elect for a speedy trial. If they do not do so, the Government could not decide for them. "It is a question of law and not of authority," he added.

SARNIA COUNCIL LETS $115,000 CONTRACT FOR PAVING WORK

SARNIA, June 23.—At the city council meeting tonight the contract for approximately $115,000 in paving work was awarded to the Warren Bituminous Paving Company. Although the members of the board of works had threatened to resign if the company were given the contract, the meeting passed off quietly and the expected storm did not break.

Ald. Sanders of the waterworks committee, warned the council that the city is facing a water shortage, and urged citizens to economize in the use of water. A total of 6,000,000 gallons a day is being pumped and sand has been sucked into the pipes.

A. F. OF L. ON RECORD FOR A 44-HOUR WEEK

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 23.—Indorsement of the commercial telegraphers' strike was unanimously voted today by the American Federation of Labor. The convention also went on record in favor of a 44-hour week for labor generally and directed the executive council to work for that end.

VICTORIA SHIPYARDS TIED UP BY STRIKE IN AID OF WINNIPEG

5,000 Metal Workers Walk Out—Harbor Marine, Mostly Soldiers, Stick.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 23.—Union metal workers, said by their leader to number approximately 5,000, walked out here today in sympathy with the Winnipeg strikers.

The shipyards and machine shops are chiefly affected by the walkout. The men walked out at the three yards operated by the Foundation Company of British Columbia, Limited, and the yards were closed down tight.

Two hundred men walked off the Cholberg Shipbuilding Company contract, but, with the exception of about 50 men employed on sub-contracts, practically all the employees of the harbor marine, composed mainly of returned soldiers, remained at work.

What is Indurated Fibreware?

EDDY'S Indurated Fibreware is wood without any of the drawbacks which are commonly associated with wooden household utensils. It is made in one piece without joints or hoops, it will not splinter, will not fall to pieces if dropped, and is impervious to taints and odors. And with all those qualities it has all the lightness and the resiliency of wood.

Eddy's Indurated Fibreware
Washtubs, Pails, Butter Tubs, etc.

are made from wood-pulp, ground so as to preserve the long fibres intact. It is moulded to the required shape, in a single piece, under tremendous hydraulic pressure. This welds the fibres into a homogeneous mass, stronger in texture than the original wood itself.

The moulds are then dipped in oil, put into huge ovens, and baked for hours with intense heat. This produces a hard, glazed surface, which is impenetrable to liquids, and which effectively wards off every outside taint.

The next time you buy a washtub, a milk pail, a household pail or butter tub, ask for Eddy's Indurated Fibreware. You will find it much easier to lift, much easier to keep clean, and much more economical than the ordinary wooden or metal container.

MORE CIGARMAKERS QUIT TUCKETT'S AND JOIN THE STRIKERS

All Find Work in Union Factories.

PICKETS WORK QUIETLY

Police Also Outside Factory, But Everything Is Peaceful.

In addition to the thirty cigarmakers who walked out at the Tucket Cigar Factory on Clarence street here Monday morning, seven more employees decided not to return to work today. The Cigarmakers Local Union No. 278, has pickets on duty outside the factory, having posted them there on Monday afternoon, and the company also has pickets posted to induce employees to continue their work. About ten female workers, now members of the union, are also out on strike from the Tuckett factory.

H. G. Ambrose of Hamilton, vice-president of the Tuckett Cigar Company, arrived in London Monday evening in connection with the situation, and he was present with the company pickets on duty this morning shortly after 6 o'clock. He returned to Hamilton on the 9 a.m. train today. Two members of the police force were on duty outside the factory today to prevent unnecessary trouble, summoned, it is said, by the Tuckett Company.

Welcome Police.

"We are conducting, and intend to conduct, a peaceful picketing here," said Organizer Sullivan, of the Cigarmakers' Union, when interviewed by The Advertiser today. "We welcome the police on the job."

It is stated by members of the union that the Tuckett factory is now the only non-union cigar factory in London, and every man who walked out is at work in a local union shop. The men who walked out were strike breakers, a strike having been declared at the Tuckett factory on July 1, 1919. However, as these employees were receiving at Tuckett's $3 less per thousand for making 10-cent cigars than that paid in other shops in the city, they walked out Monday demanding more money, and a union shop. They immediately reported to H. Wheatcroft, secretary of the Cigarmakers' Union here, who secured them union positions and received their applications to join the union. He stated today that there are 100 vacancies in union shops here for cigarmakers.

Peaceful and Quiet.

When interviewed regarding the labor situation in the Tuckett factory today, A. McFarlane, foreman of the cigarmakers at Tuckett's, said to The Advertiser, "Everything is peaceful and quiet in the factory. Mr. Ambrose is on his way to Hamilton, and I know nothing of his actions here. We have no news whatever to give out."

There are about 30 cigarmakers on duty now in the factory, which has a normal establishment of 90. The union men state that the average wages paid cigarmakers in the Hamilton factory of Tuckett's is $14.65 per week, and it is rumored that the firm has threatened to close up the local branch unless cigarmakers can be persuaded to return to work.

Union Jubilant.

The local union cigarmakers are quite jubilant over the walkout, as it has added numbers to its ranks, and has brought matters to a crucial point at the Tuckett factory, where a strike existed since July 1, 1918. In addition, none of the strikers are out of work, there being vacancies for them all in local union shops. They state that since the Tuckett family sold their interests in the firm there has been continuous trouble in the factories operating under that name. Prior to that time the late Mr. Tuckett worked in harmony with the unions throughout the Dominion, and this is given as one reason for the great success in building up the trade, under the late owners, organized labor being used as a foundation.

FAILS TO APPEAR, SO WARRANT IS ISSUED

When Victor Bryan of 172 Grey street borrowed a revolver from Fred Smith, a neighbor, on June 19, explaining that he wanted the weapon to shoot a dog, he went up on the Traction Company bridge in South London, according to the police, and fired a fusillade of shots, then pointed the loaded weapon at John Regan, who had approached to view the shooting.

Regan hurriedly ran off the bridge and called the police from a safe distance.

When P. C. Tom Noonan arrived at the scene of the shooting at 8 p.m. he found Bryan with the revolver and summoned him to appear at police court this morning, charged with having a revolver in his possession contrary to the criminal code.

Warrant for arrest of Bryan was written when he failed to answer the charge in court. A charge against Smith for lending the revolver unlawfully was dismissed.

AGED WEST ZORRA WOMAN IS DEAD

INGERSOLL, June 23.—An old resident of West Zorra, Emmaline Bennett, relict of the late John Bennett, has been claimed by death in her 83rd year, following an illness of extended duration. She is survived by one son, Fred, and one daughter, Mrs. Howard Karn, both at home. The funeral will be held to the Ingersoll Rural Cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

VETERAN IS HOME.

Corp. Robert Hood has arrived home. At the time of his enlistment with the 168th Battalion he was in the employ of the Thomas Waterhouse Company.

PRINCIPAL DIES SUDDENLY.

NEW HAMBURG, June 23.—The sudden death on Sunday of Mr. James M. Smyth, principal of the New Hamburg High School, cast a gloom over the community. On Saturday evening he was on the bowling green and complained of a sudden pain in his chest. He went home to bed. His physician was in attendance and left him resting easily. Acute indigestion is said to be the cause of his death.

German Acceptance Has Prompt Effect Upon Wall Street

New York, June 23.—News of Germany's unconditional acceptance of the peace terms to Wall Street by way of London around 1:30 p.m., ten or twelve minutes later than the Associated Press flash from Paris.

The stock market hardened immediately, though with little show of activity. Some important stock arose above the high prices of the opening after their several reactions.

BRANTFORD TO HAVE BIG WAR MEMORIAL ONE BLOCK SQUARE

BRANTFORD, June 23.—The city council tonight indorsed a report given by the war memorial committee calling for the removal of the market, the erection thereon of an obelisk in the nature of a war memorial, with triumphal arches on the four corners and four buildings on the sides, a memorial hall, civic building, police quarters and a combined rest station and war museum, all architecture to be harmonized along Grecian lines.

Three lots in Mount Hope Cemetery were set aside for army and navy veterans. Similar action had previously been taken with regard to the G. W. V. A. Civic Holiday was set for August 11 to assist the war veterans to raise a fund through a carnival here that week to erect a permanent home.

The city and township will each pay half of the cost ($7,000) of the purchase of Connaught Park for a playground for Terrace Hill and Grandview, with Mayor MacBride as sponsor.

A bylaw was introduced to submit two questions as referendums to the people. The first is to enable the council to appoint a public utilities commission, one to administer the parks commission, one to administer the street railway system, one for the hydro commission, they, together with the mayor, to form a board of management for the public utilities named, and to be, save the mayor, permanent employees, whose expenditures should be subject to the authority of the municipal council.

The second question is: "Are you in favor of the creation of a board of control, to consist of the alderman receiving the highest of votes at each election for aldermen, and the mayor, such board of control to be elected for two years."

WOODSTOCK COUNCIL BOOSTS WAGES OF CITY FIRE-FIGHTERS

WOODSTOCK, June 23.—At the regular meeting of the city council tonight the wages of the firemen received a boost of 50 cents a day, starting from July 1.

The scheme of the military committee, outlining a veterans' day celebration here on civic holiday, the first Monday in August, was accepted. It provides for a memorial service, to be participated in by returned men from Oxford County on the Sunday previous, and a field day, with athletic sports other amusements on this holiday.

PLANS INADEQUATE.

Some few weeks ago the city council submitted to the provincial health authorities a scheme providing for an intercepting sewerage system which the council has decided to construct. Provincial Health Officer McCullough today notified the council that he could not accept the plans, as it was inadequate. The mayor and city engineer will interview the authorities at Toronto, and have the matter cleared up.

CRIMINAL RECORD.

Inquiry into the death of Nick Aiello, the Italian who was killed by a train near this city Friday, disclosed the fact that he had a criminal record of considerable dimensions. At one time he worked in Parry Sound. In 1909 he was sentenced to fifteen years in Kingston for assaulting a man with intent to kill. In 1916 he was paroled for good conduct. The inquest will be resumed next week.

HOGS BRING $21.50.

The price of hogs on the local market this week was $21.50 per cwt.

WAS WITH ENGINEERS.

Driver Will Thompson, a young Woodstock man, has returned from overseas. He enlisted in September, 1916, and went overseas in February, 1917, with the Canadian Engineers.

OBSOLETE REGULATIONS MAY FOLLOW THREAT OF FERRY COMPANY

WINDSOR, June 23.—The city aldermen are not at all satisfied at the hint thrown out by the ferry company that, owing to the fact that an increase of wages to ferry employees has just been made, a corresponding increase in ferry transportation fares will follow.

Ald. England, who is acting mayor in the absence of Mayor Winter, stated today that obsolete regulations relative to the examination inspection of travelers might be put into effect, and if this were done it would so hamper cross-river traffic that the ferry boats would be unable to operate.

HAYING NOW; WHEAT HARVEST ON SOON

PORT ELGIN, June 23. — The Presbyterians of Tiverton have been celebrating jubilee week, ending with special services, at which Professor Kilpatrick of Knox College was the preacher. Services were held every night during the week, while the church was filled to overflowing on Sunday. In 60 years there have been but five pastors. The present pastor is Rev. T. J. Robinson.

Haying is general in this district. The warm weather has brought the hay on rapidly, and farmers report that they will be in the wheat harvest immediately after hay, as the wheat is heading out rapidly.

KITCHENER CHAUTAUQUA DRAWS RECORD CROWD

KITCHENER, June 23.—Kitchener citizens have not forgotten the chautauqua, judging from the manner in which they thronged the big tent for the opening program tonight. Dr. Selwyn Evan, the noted Welsh orator, and the home singers, were the attraction.

E. C. KABEL RESIGNS.

It was announced here today that E. C. Kabel, general manager of the Dominion Tire Company, had handed in his resignation, to take effect immediately. He will accept a position with the Ames-Holden Tire Company.

LONDON DIOCESE HAS THREE NEW PARISHES

WINDSOR, June 23.—Appointments of assistant priests for parishes in this district are announced: Rev. Father H. Fallon is made assistant at Church of the Immaculate Conception, Windsor; Rev. Father M. Baillargion, St. Alphonsus' Church, Windsor; Rev. Father L. Marchand is to be stationed at Tecumseh.

Three new parishes for London diocese are also announced. One is at Leamington, where Rev. Father J. Gleeson will officiate; one at Tilbury, and one at Belle River and Tecumseh, where appointments have not yet been made.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

Cherries were offered on the market today, both in boxes and by the quart. Strawberries were plentiful, with a drop in price, and fruit predominated.

There was no wheat offered, and oats took a rise.

There was a scarcity of butter and eggs, the prices remaining firm.

Straw was dull, but there was an abundance of hay offered.

Green stuff was firm.

Dressed hogs were up in price, while hides and wool were steady.

Hogs—Fed and watered, $22@22 50.

Toronto, June 24.—A decline in the price of hogs of more than a dollar per 100 lbs. featured the morning's trading at the Union stockyards today. Prices in this line ranged from $22.25 to $22.50 per 100 lbs., with the market very unsettled. Cattle prices were steady and trade fairly active. Calves displayed a weaker tendency, while lambs were slightly firmer.

Receipts—Cattle, 328; calves, 212; hogs, 556, and 138 sheep.

East Buffalo, June 24.—Cattle—Receipts, 125; active and steady.

Calves—Receipts, 350; active and 50c higher.

Hogs—Receipts, 2,400; active, at 15c to 25c higher; heavy, $22 25@22 40; mixed and yorkers, $22 25@22 35; light yorkers, $20 50@21 pigs, $20 70@20 75; roughs, $19 50@20; stags, $12@17.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 800; active, steady and unchanged.

GRAIN.

Chicago, June 23.—Weakness manifested itself in the corn market today largely as a result of opinions that peace had been well discounted in advance. Besides, a sharp setback which had taken place in hog quotations tended to diminish the feeding value of corn. On the other hand, shorts who tried to cover on the decline found offerings light. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼c to 2¾c lower with July, $1.80½ to $1.81½, and September at $1.76¾ to $1.77¾, were followed by moderate rallies.

Oats were off with corn. After opening ¾c down to ⅛c advance, including September at 70⅝c to 71c, the market underwent a sag all around.

Chicago, June 24.—Open:
Corn—July, $1.81; September, $1.77¼.
Oats—July, 71c; September, 70¾c.

PROVISIONS.

Liverpool, June 24.—Beef—Extra India mess, 370s.
Pork—Prime mess western, 330s.

WALL STREET.

New York, June 24—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Stocks were decidedly heavy at the opening of today's session, the short interest adopting a more aggressive attitude on the prospect of higher money rates for the balance of the month. General Motors, which featured yesterday's trading at an eight-point advance soon forfeited virtually all of its gain, and losses of 1 to 3 points were made by Studebaker, Marine, preferred, American International, United Fruit, United States Steel, Crucible Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, Corn Products, Texas and Pacific, Industrial Alcohol, Utah Copper and the leading oils.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Ways to Keep Baby Safe From Some Warm Weather Dangers

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG,
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University).

DR. HIRSHBERG

A malady of childhood under any name is a serious thing. If your infant less than three years of age ails a little with diarrhoea, dysentery, intestinal "indigestion," "enteritis, cholera or summer complaint, do not be polite or handle yourself with kid gloves. Accept the sad truth that it is very likely not a visitation of Providence or of the "second summer," but your own foolhardy fault.

Heat hastens the growth of bacteria in the purest milk. Bacteria invade, infect and thrive upon tender tissues of an infant. Too much food or other particles of undigested pabulum irritate the delicate stomach and intestines of the little one. The upshot of this is to open a loophole for bacteria.

If you dismiss the matter as unimportant or due to "teething," "a little cold," "the heat," the "summer," or some other scapegoat, your little one may be a weakling for life or worse. If, however, you stop the milk for 24 or 48 hours and give only a little albumen water—very little at a time—and have the baby fast, its intestines will be given a rest and very likely help to heal themselves while they destroy the bacteria.

Reduce the Food.

The mother who keeps her baby awake "because it's so hot" is also guilty at times of initiating these diarrhoeas. No matter how hot the night or day the child is cooler asleep on a clean sheet than kept awake out doors or anywhere else. Loss of sleep and its attendant irritability, need of drinking water, night feeding and eating are mischievous imps and aids to fatal summer troubles.

Mother's milk or, next best, cool, boiled milk and boiled water, the daily bath, sleep almost all day and all night up to the baby's third year, regularity by the clock for feeding, avoidance of heavy clothes, soothing syrups, medicines, pacifiers, teething rings, gum hardeners and all such germ-laden abominations will help to prevent the dangerous, expensive and often fatal intestinal troubles of hot weather.

Promptly stop all food the instant more than two bowel movements occur in a day. No matter how much grandma, aunts and the neighbors bewail the fact "that you will starve the child to death," remember that infants have seldom been known to die of starvation even when they fastend a whole week.

What to Feed.

Summon at once an alert, strong-willed doctor who will insist that no food begiven for a day or two or more. Perhaps he will decide that two teaspoonfuls of castor oil should be administered. This is well, as it helps to lubricate and carry away some of the mischief-making milk microbes.

Plain water, then albumen water, followed by barley water and other weak rations are to be begun after the second day's fast. It may often be necessary to avoid cow's milk or the various dried, malted and artificial food milks for four months.

If mother's milk is not available, egg white, meat juice, crushed carrots, orange juice, buttered mashed potatoes, barley gruel and other non-milky substitutes will more than repair all growth and tissue needs of the child.

Finally, it is better to have a living baby, a little lean, yet strong and vigorous, than a fat, sickly, weak and seriously ill one. No greater discovery perhaps has ever been made than this one, that a day, two or more of starvation will save the lives and health of infants with summer complaints, dysenteries, "colds" or cholera.

Answers to Health Questions

R. S. V. P. Q—What can I do for constipation?

A—Take a glassful of water every hour, two glassfuls before meals, charcoal tablets, milk of magnesia, eat prunes, raisins, apples, figs, dates, oranges and other fruits at night and between meals. Slightly warmed—not boiled—milk, whole wheat, bran biscuits, oatmeal and vigorous massage of the abdomen should cure constipation. Keep your intestines open and active.

G. B., London, Ont. Q.—What can I do for freckles?

A.—Freckles are often a sign of good health and inheritance. You should be proud of them. Commonly, no matter what is used, freckles usually return. And if the skin peels it is better to stop the use of all remedies, because more harm may be done than benefit received. As a trial, 1 dram salicylic acid to 1 ounce of alcohol may aid.

Dr. Hirshberg will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. He cannot always undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest letters will be answered personally, if a stamped and addressed envelope is inclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. L. K. Hirshberg, in care of this office.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 25.

The sidereal forces for this day must be interpreted as operating adversely, excepting for those in employment who may find themselves more comfortably situated than those engaged in their own businesses. There are indications that delays, doubts and perplexities, with obstacles arising from many directions, may arise. Those conducting businesses may well not attempt changes or travel, but should conduct their affairs with discretion, avoiding risk of moneys, and signing all papers with calm consideration. Also they should give attention to their health.

Those whose birthday it is may be confronted with doubts and perplexities, but should not be disheartened by delays. They should pay attention to their physical condition, and may well not attempt important changes. A child born on this day should be trained to be regular, steady and responsible.

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND
ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE OF REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

Why Madge's Efforts To Keep Mrs. Stockbridge Amused Failed.

"Is there anything I can do for you?" Milly Stockbridge's voice was smooth and pleasant, but her eyes narrowed as she looked at me from her husband's chair. I feared that the absurd suspicion of her husband which often obsessed her was again swaying her.

"Of course, I am not Kenneth," she went on smiling in what she evidently intended to be a playful manner, but which gave instead the impression of insufferable impertinence, "but I can attempt to answer any question you have come to ask him."

I ignored the covert insolence, laughing lightly as I walked toward the telephone.

"You cannot only 'attempt,' but go to the head of the class on the question," I retorted. "I came down to use the telephone to order some ice cream for lunch. I am the only one off duty at just this time, so Miss Holcombe asked me to see to it. It's the only thing extra we can get on such short notice. If you could have let us known yesterday that you were coming we could have provided something worth while. As it is I'm afraid you will find 'slim pickings,' as the old people say, except for the good things you have brought yourself."

I took down the telephone receiver from the hook without waiting for a reply, got my connection, and gave my order with outward nonchalance but inward trepidation. What her demeanor would be when I turned round to face her I had no idea, and I dreaded infinitely the finding out.

But to my surprise and relief she had accepted my explanation without question. I surmised that her mentality had enough childishness in it to be diverted by the thought that we were planning something extra to eat in her honor. At any rate, she was the embodiment of pleased gratification when I faced her.

Childlike Delight.

"Aren't you girls lovely?" she cried. "Ice cream! We'll have a real party, won't we? But you shouldn't be so extravagant for poor little me."

"It isn't often we have the privilege of entertaining you at luncheon," I said, forcing my voice and manner to hearty cordiality, for the hypocrisy of which I loathed myself. "You must allow us a little expression of our pleasure. I only wish we could do something worth while."

She sprang up, with eyes sparkling, skipped lightly over to me and squeezed my arm affectionately. I had to put an iron restraint upon my muscles to keep from visibly shrinking at her touch, so strong was my dread of the woman.

"What dears you all are!" she exclaimed. "Come on, let's go upstairs now and begin to get ready. I suppose you eat in the same old place, the teachers' rest room? I haven't been here for an age. Kenneth is such a crank about—"

"Yes, we always have lunch there," I interrupted hastily, for I wished to give her no chance to dwell upon any fancied injustice on her husband's part. "And we have the dearest electric grill and toaster which we bought this year. They are a new kind with some odd little features that I'm sure will interest you. We're quite mad about them."

"What's This?"

I was talking against time, and was thankful indeed when my ruse succeeded. She was all childish excitement as she gathered together the bundles she had brought, but stopped abruptly, evidently at some distracting thought, before a small private desk of Mr. Stockbridge's, which stood beside the big roll-top one provided by the school.

"What's this?" she asked sharply. "Something new? I don't remember seeing this before. How long has this been here, Miss Ackerson?"

She turned abruptly to the older teacher correcting papers near the window. Miss Ackerson looked up uneasily.

"About a year," she said quietly.

"Did the school board purchase it, or is it Mr. Stockbridge's own property?"

I would have given a good deal to have signalled a warning to Miss Ackerson, but I couldn't do it without the risk of being seen by Mrs. Stockbridge. All of the teachers had gossiped among themselves about this specially-made desk which Mr. Stockbridge had installed in his office. Part of it was accessible to the teachers, and was used for school records of varying kinds. But one side of it was kept for the principal's own use, and we rarely saw him lock or unlock it. Bess Dean had once extravagantly declared her belief that he had a secret drawer hidden in its recesses, but no one had paid any attention to her words except to laugh derisively at her.

The mere fact of the desk's existence, however, was enough to excite Milly Stockbridge's jealousy.

I waited breathlessly for Miss Ackerson's reply.

MR. RED FOX TRIES AGAIN TO CATCH PETER.

After Mr. Red Fox's wife and children had pulled out all the spears of Mr. Porcupine from the lovely fur coat and vest of Mr. Fox, it took him two or three days to get well and get his spirits up.

All this time he was thinking of little Peter and planning how he would catch him while he was visiting the Snow Shoe Rabbits.

So one day in the edge of the evening, when all the rabbits were coming out of their houses and rubbing their eyes, for they had had a long day's nap, and little Peter was sitting comfortable chewing on a willow sprout, and Teddy Possum swinging by his long tail from the branch of a tree and Jimmy Coon telling a big tale of hunting to Uncle Snow Shoe, what do you think happened?

Why, of course, one of the rabbits looking up saw the handsome eyes of Mr. Red Fox peeking through the tender willow sprouts. Of course, he drummed with his big hind feet. That was the signal, and all the rabbits drummed too, and all started to run, but little Peter was left far behind.

Teddy Possum and Jimmie Coon took to the tall trees and ran along that highway where it was perfectly safe.

Mr. Red Fox certainly had a plan. He didn't head little Peter off from the rest, but he acted just as a sheep dog does when he's driving sheep. He ran left and right, and kept all the rabbits headed for the pond.

Uncle Snow Shoe sat in his front door and laughed. He wasn't afraid of Mr. Red Fox, and neither were his children. For the moment he forgot all about little Peter. If he had thought of him he wouldn't have been afraid, because Peter was smart, and Uncle Snow Shoe knew Peter wouldn't have lived so long if he hadn't been.

So Uncle Snow Shoe was just enjoying himself. Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum were worried. Who do you think ran along in the tree tops with them? Why, Chatterbox, the Red Squirrel! He had followed Jimmie and Teddy and Peter and thought he was just in time to see some fun. He wasn't worried a bit, for, of course, he was way up in the tree tops and in a perfectly safe place.

He talked all the time and told everyone just what to do. Nobody listened to him, for they all had just as much as they could do to get safely away.

Well, it was a great chase, and Peter wondered every minute when Mr. Red Fox would get his paw on him.

You Should Own Debentures

While it is absolutely necessary that you should have a savings account, it is not always wise not to use your money in other ways when your savings reach a certain amount.

The best plan to follow is to aim at saving $100, then invest them in debentures like the ONTARIO LOAN DEBENTURES. These net you 5½% per cent interest per annum, payable half-yearly.

By saving and investing you protect yourself against poverty in old age. Consult us about this matter. It will mean much to you in the years to come.

GEORGE WALSH HAS PLEASING ROLE IN NEW PHOTOCOMEDY

Comedies and Vaudeville Now Showing at the Patricia Theatre.

George Walsh in "Never Say Quit," his latest photocomedy, will be presented at the Patricia Theatre again today and Wednesday. This popular comedian portrays the character of Reginald Jones, who is the victim of innumerable, but at the same time amusing mishaps. From the beginning to the end of this comedy bad luck tags at the heel of poor Jones and gets him into a multitude of funny scrapes.

George Walsh, the star of the picture, thinks nothing of scaling walls and jumping from housetop to housetop in his efforts to dodge the jinx. But it is all in vain. Crooks empty out his pockets just the same, and friends turn out to be his enemies. He meets with one disaster after another on his ocean voyage after sunken treasure. When one of these disasters becomes his wife, he thinks he has done with the jinx forever. But even that is not to be.

A Fatty Arbuckle comedy, a Strand comedy, and Martindale and Young in vaudeville present and excellent program to be repeated today and Wednesday.

INAUGURATE SUMMER POLICY AT GRAND WITH FEATURE FILM

Variety Act, Special Picture Plays and Orchestra Selections on the Program.

Johnston Brothers and Johnston, in their vaudeville act "A Few Moments of Minstrelsy," surprised the audience at the Grand Theatre last night, who did not come with the expectation of seeing such a well-presented sketch in this "off" season.

The minstrels are a trio of singers and comedians, consisting of an interlocutor and two black-face chaps who put over clean up-to-date gags and jokes, song, dance and in short condense an entire minstrel show into 20 minutes of good amusing entertainment.

Last night inaugurated the summer policy at the Grand, at which only one vaudeville act followed by the best to be obtained in photoplays and a couple of comedies or scenic films will be presented. Special overtures by the Grand orchestra will form part of the program.

The latest Select Picture, "The Burden of Proof," with Marion Davis in the lead, a story of intrigue in connection with the United States diplomatic service after the signing of the armistice and during the sitting of the peace conference, was shown last night.

In this picture, which is directed by the notable Julius Steger, Miss Davies plays the part of Elaine Brooks, a young society girl who becomes the wife of Robert Ames, nephew of a member of the United States Cabinet. Threatened by a financial collapse, Elaine's mother, a Newport society leader, accepts the offer of a Mrs. Durand, to supply social news for a Washington journal owned by Charles Kemp.

As the plot develops it transpires that both Kemp and Mrs. Durand are German secret agents, conspiring to obtain valuable documents possessed by Ames. After the marriage of Elaine Mrs. Durand goes to her and has her write a letter of apology to Kemp, the newspaper editor, because he was not invited to the wedding. Mrs. Durand cleverly dictates a phrase used by Elaine in her letter, which incriminates Elaine when the document stolen by Mrs. Durand and slipped into the note by her unknown to the girl, is found by her husband and his uncle.

The peculiar perfume used by the woman plotter leads to her downfall and once matters have been adjusted the young couple leave on their honeymoon, which was halted by the plotting.

Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran were shown in a comedy photoplay entitled "Flenzied Film," which pleased. An interesting scenic film portraying the building of wooden ships on the Pacific coast in Canada, from keel-laying to launching, opened the program.

The Grand last night, although almost completely filled, was delightfully cool and comfortable. Last night's program continues tomorrow and Wednesday.

AILSA CRAIG MAN BADLY HURT WHEN ENGINE HITS AUTO

FOREST, June 23.—D. Robinson, a banker, from Ailsa Craig, met with a bad accident on Saturday evening while he was motoring over to Forest, on the way to Grand Bend to spend Sunday. The car he was driving and a train met on a crossing. His car struck the engine broadside, throwing him about forty feet. He was picked up and taken on the train to Ailsa Craig. The steering wheel was still held fast in his grip when he was picked up. Examination showed that he was not as badly hurt as was expected. He regained consciousness about midnight. The motor was destroyed by fire from the gasoline.

"CRIMSON GARDENIA" DELIGHTS MAJESTIC THEATRE AUDIENCES

New Orleans at Mardi Gras Time Scene of Interesting Screen Play.

Until the word "finis" was flashed on the screen, the audience at the Majestic watched with intense interest "The Crimson Gardenia," a picture which for its originality of plot has seldom been equalled. Mystery stories have been written, but few of them surpass this one, which is from the pen of Rex Beach.

New Orleans at the time of the Mardi Gras is the colorful ever-changing scene of this action. A band of expert counterfeiters furnishes the sinister element, sharply contrasted with the piquancy of a girl, who has just arrived from Paris, and the romantic masculinity of a young New Yorker eager for a carnival adventure. Emile le Duc, whose uncle is chief of the counterfeiters, has through the work of this relative been sentenced to ten years in prison for the same offence of which his uncle, who, though too cunning to be caught, is guilty. Emile escapes and swears to get even with his uncle.

However, before he does, he plans to meet the Parisian girl, his cousin, whose name in Madelon Dorette. With her is his mother, Mere Felice, who is blind, and has not heard of her son for years. The New Yorker, Roland Van Dam, is dressed in the same costume as Emile had told Madelon he would wear in order that she might recognize him in the crowd, for they had not met before. She mistakes Van Dam for Emile, and he carries out the part, but by so doing has many adventures. Meanwhile Emile is murdered by his uncle's gang. His mother, however, has met Van Dam and believing him to be her son, has realized her desire. The manner in which the story is brought to a happy conclusion is novel. You must see it today or tomorrow in order to appreciate it.

Herbert Watrous received round after round of applause when he sang the famous "Armourer's Song" from "Robinhood." His is one of the greatest bass voices in America. Too much cannot be said of his singing.

A side-slitting comedy and an overture from "Chu Chin Chow" by the orchestra complete this exceptional program.

Three veterans for this city and one lone hero for Windsor arrived here at 3:45 a. m. today off the troopship Canada. Sixty-five men were aboard a sleeping car for Chicago. These men had all served in the Canadian army in France and Flanders.

Officers aboard the S. S. Canada for London and district were: Major W. B. Butler, R. A. S. C., and wife, Caledonia, Ont.; Capt. D. R. McCall, R. A. S. C.; Lieut. F. Chalk, R. A. V. C.; Capt. R. T. Jones, R. A. V. C.; Capt. M. K. McGregor, R. N.; Lieut. C. M. McLagan, P. E.; Capt. R. C. Phillips, R. A. M. C.; Lieut. H. T. Bracton, M. G. C.; Capt. Tennant, R. A. M. C.

Troop train No. 349, from S. S. Montcalm, arrived at Canall at 10:30 a. m. Monday, and departed at 10:50. A number of men for London and vicinity are aboard this special train.

They Build You Up

It is an assured fact that some day you are going to try Tonal Iron Capsules, the new iron tonic. It is an excellent preparation for curing nervous troubles, anaemia system weakness, loss of appetite and heart weakness. You never tried anything like these capsules. They are put up in French gelatin, and are soft and easily dissolved, and as a result the ingredients are quickly taken into affected parts of the system. Their action is almost immediate. That is why they have been so successful, and why so many people are recommending them. Why not try a box now? You will be astonished at the results obtained if you are suffering from any of the following ailments: Anaemia (thin or watery blood), Impure Blood, Nervousness, Nerve and Muscle Twitching, Weakness or Palpitation of the Heart, Shortness of Breath, Excitability, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Liver Trouble, Pain in the Back, Kidney Troubles, Rheumatism, Vital Weakness in Men, Mental Worry, Cold Extremities, Numbness, Poor Circulation, Lassitude, or any form of Physical Decline. Price $1.00 a box. If your druggist does not carry Tonal Iron Capsules, mail us $1.00, and we will send a box to you

Our Business Is Expert Fitting

We don't believe that any man likes to have a shoe salesman "talk him into" any particular kind of shoes. We do not do this sort of thing here.

Our salespeople are expert shoe fitters. Their business is fitting and serving—not selling. Our aim is to give you shoe satisfaction, and that depends on proper fitting.
