John McGuire, president of the London Trades and Labor Council, corrects a false impression respect-ing the controversy still raging among the delegates to that organization. He refers to the disputed status of F. D. Burke, secretary, whose resignation is demanded by the majority of the members.

"Secretary Burke was not brought up on the carpet because he sup-ported Sir Adam Beck in the last election," the president stated. "That idea is wrong. He was charged with a breach of our constitution, using the name of the council for political purposes.

"Those who have asked for his resignation will not believe otherwise. They charge that he did exploit the name of the council. Had he done so, in support of the Labor candidate, it would still be a breach of the constitution."

Burns and Wanless Plan To Retire After Fine Career.

FOLLOW OLD

In the next few weeks one of Lon don's oldest and best known wholesale firms will retire from business and will leave a vacant place as hard to fill in the city as in the large territory through which its goods have always been favorably known. Coates, Burns and Wanless, whose office and warehouse overlooks the Canadian National station, on Rich mond street, have for more than 35 years operated a boot and shoe jobbing business through Western On tario and have maintained a reputa tion for reliability and for the quality Fourth, the severest inquiry to be of their goods that has gained them made by the Greek authorities on the a host of friends who will miss them

The firm leases their building from the London Shoe Company next door, and on October 1, after which the firm will dissolve and London will know it no more. Gave Notice.

Some weeks ago the firm sent out letters to the trade giving notice of their decision to retire from business, and it has been no secret with men in the retail boot and shoe trade. For the week of the Western Fair they will put on a special closing sale, which will be their last business transaction. For some time since the war they have been clearing out their stock, which had accumulated during the post war years, and are now ready to move out and make way for younger blood to carry on.

The firm had its inception some 40 years ago, when Robert Coates and R. B. Wanless, together with the third partner, A. Burns, decided that the district offered great possibilities for the sale of boots and shoes. Robert Coates has been the traveler and salesman of the firm, and it was Here Dorothy Dix has been trained, have Mr. Wanless, who has been book-keeper and accountant. THURSDAY, AUGUST 30, 1923.

A Liberal Organizer in Ontario.

Liberal members at Ottawa from the Province of Ontario gathered at Toronto for conference, the premier sick and nationally dead. and several of his ministerial colleagues being in Naturally the question of organization in this province was considered, the statement being made that an organizer would be appointed and his duties would commence at once.

A Liberal organizer in this section of Ontario will need to go around and do some door-bell ringing to convince people that he is real and not merely a rumor. It has remained for enthusiastic individuals and groups here and there to go ahead and do their own organizing, independent of any central committee or provincial organizer.

It is well for the Liberals of Ontario to face the fact that they are not organized. Each succeeding election brings out the statement, "Well, we did fairly well considering the organization we had."

Successful organization is the result of a knowledge of facts; when a man or woman voter is convinced that Liberalism is the best ideal for this country, then he or she is bound to be interested in the interpretation of that ideal in the realm of practical politics.

A Liberal organizer can almost shut his eyes and pick a field in which he can work in Ontario. The Liberal party is not organized, and has not been organized for years. A candid acknowledgment of that fact is one of the first steps to constructive work.

The fall and winter months seem peculiarly adapted of Canadian political history will all help to emphasize and more water used. The result can be noticed all the fact that Liberalism played a very substantial part in provincial and national development. The record written will stand investigation, and there is no surer way to organize successfully than to get the people to dig out the facts for themselves.

Depending on United States. A despatch from Calgary says that 3,000 miners are out of work in Alberta and British Columbia. There is not much demand for coal for steam or coking purposes, and the demand for domestic coal is not large. These 3,000 men might be working today were a trade in Alberta coal established in Ontario. The fact that these 3,000 coal miners are not working in Alberta makes it more certain than ever that Ontario will take what coal it can get from United States and whistle for the remainder.

It remained for a few newspapers in the early part of the year to bring Alberta coal to Ontario and show that it would burn well. Since then nothing has been done.

A Lesson for London.

There is a lesson for London in Toronto's experience about arbitrating street railway costs that London should note.

Toronto took over the Toronto Railway in September of 1921, practically two years ago. After months of ostly arbitration, an award was made at the first of this year. This was appealed, and this fall the decision may come. There may be another appeal, which will rapidly becomes modern. The administration there has delay matters, and if it goes to the privy council it may reported a deficit. be well toward the end of 1924 before Toronto hears what its bill really is.

reason is that the city was out to drive a hard bargain price in United States. with the company and the company was out to gather in the last dollar from its expiring rights.

London can well take a good look at that case and see how much more profitable it is for two parties to come together on the basis of reason and common sense.

In London both parties to arbitration are obligated to split the costs. They cannot be awarded one way or another by court, as the bylaw under which the railway operates in London makes provision for that.

Toronto has given London and the rest of the province a splendid object-lesson of the folly or arbitrating in the spirit of "we won't give an inch."

Two Sides of the Atlantic.

The Chicago Tribune finds reason to "thank God for the Atlantic Ocean." It figures out that Germany and France cannot possibly agree on what has been paid in reparations. This will cause "more war, pas-

Is United States going to be thankful in both cases? Is it prepared to stand away back from the troubles of Europe, to even speculate on when and how the next war will start, and be interested only when there is a chance to do some profitable business?

It is across this same ocean that British people are ending their backs to pay to United States the war debts contracted by the Allies.

It is across this same ocean that whole nations have lost their vision and their soul. They are bankrupt,

The vision that sees the Atlantic only as a convenient barrier between war-rent Europe and United States is the vision that fails to see that service is greater than gain.

The Wrong Done by Chicago.

Who ever gave Chicago authority to dig a drainage canal large enough to lower the level of the water in the Great Lakes? Yet that is what has taken place. to work of organization. Debates, addresses and studies and Chicago even hints that the project may be enlarged along the lakes around Ontario.

If Ontario were to dig a great ditch from Georgian Bay to Toronto it would take water from Lakes Huron, Michigan, St. Clair and Erie. It would interfere with the whole navigation and power systems of two nations on these waters. Ontario would have no right or no rusiness to dig such a ditch.

Chicago had no right to dig her drainage canal. Canada can protest to Washington and receive very nice answers, but Chicago seems to be a law unto itself, and the lake levels and the St. Lawrence levels

Series With Brantford—St. Thomas Squeezes Out Win Over

Chatham Nine Hand Saints Scare, But Latter Win 3—2

McPhee Allows But One Scratch Hit, and McCoig Provides Fine Pitching Performance.

By W. J. M. Special to The Advertiser

St. Thomas, Aug. 29.-The breaks that mound struggle in this city, when George Nethercott's Southern League champs snatched a 3-2 decision over the Chatham Briscoes Kent County winners, were not entirely unlooked for, as the opening frames un-

Something had to break. McPhee, in the best form of his career, struck out the first five batters to face him, and the sixth was an easy ground-out. Mc-Coig, while whiffing three of the first six, let a hit register to start the second, although the pop-fly should have been easily taken by Armitage Rankin or Elliott had any one of them, instead of all of them, gone after it alone. A fast double play, however, erased damage possibilities.

A tense, seething mass of cheering fans sat, stood of knelt in every vantage spot. Cars lined around the outfield until there was no available space, and the occupants elbowed their way into the park. In the first base end of the grandstand was the Chatham contingent of fans, and they were heard, in spite of the monster St. Thomas turnout

As the first inning passed along without a score, without a hit, and without an error, to be followed by the second and third, very similar, fans spoke of and third, very similar, the break that might come—that must come—a break that would be disastrous

First Break Comes. The first break came in the fourth after Doan had taken three swings. Barclay doubled inside the right field foul line, and Binns poked a single straight at Rankin, who should have had no difficulty in presenting Barcher. Barclay doubled inside the right field foul line, and Binns poked a single straight at Rankin, who should have had no difficulty in preventing Barclay scoring. Instead, Rankin let the ball roll between his feet. Barciay headed for home, Binns sprinted around the sacks, and Rankin chased the ball. Snapper Binns was held at third, but only momentarily, for Arlein, figuring, that while flies to right were good for hits, he might as well get his share, poked the third successive poke to Rankinland. Rankin let the fly drop for a single, and Binns scored. Billings doubled, and the scoring possibilities were being compounded, when Rise-borough popped out to Mack.

It was in the sixth that Danny Mc-Phee seemed to lose all sense of direction. His performance so far was beautiful—now he blew up. He hit Peters, who had relieved Rankin in right, and a moment later Dagneau stopped a wild curve with his ribs. Dagneau went down for the count but as he came to, he gamely strolled to first. Danny walked McCoig. Then, with the sacks running over with Chathamites, Danny walked Mack, forcing a run. Connibear struck out in his anxiety to do it all up with one blow, but Armitage brought a little bit of beautiful baseball into play. He upset Danny and the whole infield on a little squeeze play—a bunt that Danny fielded too late to get Dagneau at the plate. McChee tightened and fanned Morgan, and with the sacks still loaded Doan saved the Saints' game.

Doan's play was marvelous. The Chatham section of the stands in singsong way were liiting "Take him out." Take him out.—Take him out." Take him out." Take him out. Take him out. "Take him out." Take him out. Take him out." Chicked the found one. Doan's offered him a heautiful Included one. Doan's offered him a heautiful Included one. Doan's offered him a heautiful Included one. Doan's offered him a heautiful the found of the stands in singsone way were liiting "Take him out." Sansone, K.C. J. Milligan, O. J. McLeod. F. ly, and with increasing vim. Elliott at the plate had let two bad ones pass by unmolested, and had fouled one good one. Danny offered him a beautiful curve, right in his groove, and a whistling grass cutter was returned through the box. McPhee wasn't braced to even try for it, but out on the infield there was a flash of diving uniform, as Doan plunged headlong with bare hand outtretched in the direction of second base.

Sensational Save. Two runs were on the third base line, Mack being on McCoig's heels, and Armitage was dropping into a slide for second, as Doan's bare hand picked the dust and still prope drive out of the dust, and, still prone on the ground fairly pushed the ball to Risehorough at second, forcing Armitage for the third out.

Eight Chatham batter had faced Mc-Phee in that weird inning. Eight Chatham batters had faced Mo-Phee in that weird inning. Not one of them had retrieved a hit out of Danny's assortment, yet two rans had scored, and the bases were continuously full for a nerve-racking space of time. And Danny had no one to blame but himself, Doan stopped the Chatham attack, when they essayed to "take" rather than "accept" runs. After, that Danny was invincible. The only hit taken off his delivery was a scratch to Billings in the seventh, which might easily have been scored as an error.

The Saints couldn't do much with McCoig in the fifth and sixth, although they bunched a single and a walk to get two runners on after two were out in the fifth. McCoig pitched himself out of danger by fanning Barclay.

Mack, Chatham's star shortstop, eliminated some of the danger that threatened in the seventh, although McCoig later got into a hole that developed a run.

Riseborough, first up, drove to the Coig later got into a hole that developed a run.

Riseborough, first up, drove to the box, and McCoig's glove deflected the ball to the short side of second. Mack, on the run, scooped the ball with his glove hand, and threw his man out by a fraction of a second. Then McCoig walked Cabot, who promptly executed a theft of second in time to make room on first for Meredith, who also walked. McPhee bounced a choice to Mack, who touched second, forcing Meredith, and then heaved to the grandstand in an attempt to double McPhee. Cabot, who was headed for third with the crack of the bat, continued on home and scored on the overthrow.

Only in one inning was McPhee wild, and in that frame, the sixth he hit two, and walked as many. Fourteen batters struck out, facing him.

McCoig, on his own performance, had his support been up to the mark in the tight spot in the fourth would probably have taken home a win.

Simcoe Youth Is Golf Feat Hero

Special to The Advertiser.

Simcoe, Aug. 29.—Yesterday afternoon, Jim Sihler, one of the younger golfers at the local links, playing in a threesome with Dr. A.

T. Sihler and George W. Brown, holed out on number eight, a blind hole of 380 yards and the most difficult hole on the newly arranged course of the Norfolk Golf and Country Club, in two shots with a perfect drive of about 200 yards, the 17-year-old using his mashle for the second shot. It was a well-directed shot and soared straight for the pin. To his amazement, the ball was in the hole when he arrived on the green. The par of this hole is four.

Sumner Leads in Stolen Bases -Fitchett Is Fielding Star.

HAS PERFECT RECORD

All of the honors in the second series of the Inter-Club League went to the Alerts, as well as the fielding record for the whole schedule. Fitchett captures the prize of box seats at the Grand Theatre with a perfect fielding record for the ten games played.

Powell leads the hitters with .556. Sumner leads in stolen bases, having successfully negotiated ten steals. Both the above piayers win prizes offered he above players win prizes offered or supremacy in the respective batting and stealing records. Four Alerts hit homers. Fitchett's four-ply swat was the longest of the year. The other home-run artists, each with one apiece, were Arthurs. Carfrae and Baker. S. Swales of Hermits also got into the home run class with one.

One Hundred Points' Lead Record in League Used To Hair Finishes.

By JOHN B. FOSTER

100 Points.

In this memorable season of 1923—memorable so far as the American League is concerned—there are 100 points between the two top teams. Some flight between the three of 1920 and the 100 of 1923.

It is odd, too, that at the end of three of the six seasons studied the difference should have been 20. The same story repeats itself by going back further. But why go? It is more than likely that this season's difference between leaders is a record, and so far as that goes, the fact that it is a record for six years is enough.

It is certain that the American League is experiencing a sensation that is new, and one that it cannot explain to itself.

The ability of the Yankees to get a lead at the start of the season and to carry it through by a margin as wide.

The ability of the Yankees to get a lead at the start of the season and to carry it through by a margin as wide as that which now separates the champions from the remainder of the organization, has been unpleasant. The attendance has not fallen off much. New York goes on drawing about the same, but in the month of September, as the teams being to place themselves in the race, interest in the fray will assert itself more in watching the attempts of the younger players to make good than in fussing over who will win the championship.

May Go Stale.

More than 30 days will follow in which the Yankees will play only to hold their advantage. Miller Huggins is fearful that his players will go stale. There is danger of that, because when a team has the whip hand on the pennant the players don't get into the game with the zest which they have when they are on their nerve. However, it must be remembered that the Yankees have been leading for a long time, and have not fallen off appreciably. There seems to be less possibility of a drop now, because there is not contender that will wrestle the Yankees, trying to save its own place in the race. May Go Stale. Yankees, trying to save its own place in the race. Cleveland seems to have second place earned, and only a miracle could put Cleveland in first place. With second place under its belt the Cleveland players will get a little piece of the earned, and only a miracle could put Cleveland in first place. With second place under its belt, the Cleveland had just shoved Vermilyea off third players will get a little piece of the world series money, which is expected to amount to more this year than ever in the third inning to romp home with a second run to amount to more this year than ever in the third inning here today and gave before.

In fact, it will amount to more than is good for baseball if the fans of New York turn out in quantity.

It has been the boast of the Yankee League that it never has had a runaway race, but the result of 1923 has left the heads of seven clubs without an argument.

RAIN CHASES FIRPO

Associated Press Despatch.

Atlantic City, Aug. 29.—A cold, driving rain falling throughout the early part of today compelled Luis Angel Firpo to pass up his daily workout in preparation for his title match with Jack Dempsey in New York, Sept. 14.

The South American champion started out for his regular jaunt along the beach and boardwalk at 7 o'clock this morning, and had walked briskly for about a mile when rain began falling. He returned to his cottage in Chelsea and let loose for a while on the heavy sandbag, that is suspended in the garage, and then pulled the weights.

Down the Line In All Sports AS GIANTS IDLE

The Saints had such a close squeak yesterday against Chatham that the noise of the trains last night in this thriving railway center must have grated harshly on the taut nerves of the fans. A local observer seemed to think that Chatham's infield looked about as good as any he had seen in the senior ranks.

The "experts" are not experting with any certainty about the coming Dempsey-Firpo fight. Those who blithely prophesy about things fistic haven't yet recovered from the jolt at Shelby, and neither has Shelby.

New York, Aug. 29.—The New York Americans finished their games in the west with a lead of 100 points in percentage. This is something that has not happened in the American League since Adam came to town.

Go back five years and see what has been the rule in an organization that has had a fight on its hands almost from the first day of its history—for the American League has been the rule in an organization that has had a fight on its hands almost from the first day of its history—for the American League has been might fortunate with its finishes.

In 1918 at this time of year, with the war going on and baseball as unsettled as bad coffee, there were 20 points between first place and second. This time can practically be agreed upon for comparison, for it represents about the same conditions of schedule, with a reversal of cities. In 1919 when the ill-fated Sox won the American League champlonship there were 57 points between first and second. In 1920 there were but three points difference. In 1921 there 20 and last year 20.

In 190 Points.

Friends of the late W. W. Naughton, the Pacific coast expert, told him that Squires was a great fighter. As he came from the same country where Bob Fitzsimmons first began to use his freckled fist he was signed up to meet Tommy Burns. Mr. Naughton, who knew more about prize fights than anybody else of his day, decided that Squires was a great fighter. The corps of experts acquiesced. Before the fight Bill Squires, without even having received a tryout, became a 1 to 5 favorite.

Of the sporting authorities that peered at him in training, only Bud Fisher dissented from the opinion that Squires was a fighter. Mr. Fisher mustered his assets and bet all that he could raise on Burns.

The bout was held at the Colma Arnea of James J. Coffroth, just beyond the city limits of San Francisco. There was a street car strike on at the time and the customers came in all sorts of vehicles. The fight was scheduled for 45 rounds. Customers brought cushions to sit on through the long, grueling contest. Some of them decided to dally at the bar until the thing had gone a few rounds. The finish was abrupt and startling. The bell rang for the first round. Burns trotted out of his corner and swung a right high on the temple of Squires. Down went Boshter Bill. For a moment the crowd was dumbfounded. Then there was a unanimous shout of: "The big bum!" Those who brought cushions sent them sailing into the ring, and the 1 to 5 favorite was interred where he fell.

Boston, Aug. 29.—Cincinnati lost half a game in its race with the Giants for the National League pennant by losing a ten-inning game to Boston today by a score of 2 to 1 while the New York champions were idle. The winning run resulted from singles by Genewich and Felix, a sacrifice and an intentional pass to Southworth, which filled the bases, and McInnis' roller to third, which went as a hit and permitted Genewich to score. The pitching of Génewich was excellent, and fielding by Burns and Ford featured.

Friendly Graham Allows But Four Hits-Both Play

Special to The Advertiser. Brantford, Aug. 23.—Galt tied up the series with Brantford today by winning here 5 to 3. The McFadyen-McWhirter outfit played a much more effective game than they did at home last Saturday, when they lost 2 to 1 to Brantford.

Errorless Ball.

The Terriers had the edge on the Brants today in the matter of pitching and batting, but errorless ball was played on both sides, and in this respect it was one of the finest exhibitions ever played on a local diamond. Harry Smith, Brant's best twirler, only lasted for a part of the first inning owing to an old strain returning to his pitching arm, and Beemer, who took his place, was not so effective as Graham, allowing eight hits to the Galt star's four. Wilbur Krees was much in the limelight in the eighth, when he knocked the ball beyond the centerfield fence for a homer, scoring Hoffman, who was on second at the time, and making the score board read 5 to 3 for Galt.

making the score board read 5 to 5 tor Galt.

Brantford's first tally came in the initial frame by means of bases on balls to Dickie and Brown. Scott's single and Smith's fly to left field. Dickie scoring on the return throw. In the seventh the Brants tied the score when Baird and Cox both walked. Taylor, pinch hitting for McAdams, scored Baird with a neat single to right, and Cox scored when Oliver pegged to second to try and reach Taylor who was stealing, for the third out.

Play in the city tennis championships continued yesterday afternoon. Many exciting and close games were completed during the day's play. The second and part of the third rounds of the tourney will be played today.

Miss Helen Baker and Arthur Ford defeated Miss Marion Beck and L. G. Gates in two straight sets, 6—3, 6—2. Miss Baker's strong playing featured the game. Her drives were hard and to the back line, and coupled with Ford's quick play at the net they easily won from their opponents.

In the first match of the ladies' singles Miss Olga Miller, 1922 Western Ontario champion, defeated Miss Catherine Beltz at 6—1, 6—1, Miss Beltz was no match for her experienced opponent, but several flashy rallies by both players featured the games.

Miss Marion Beck had a hard time in defeating Miss Jackson. It was not until both sets had gone to 7—5, 7—5 that Miss Beck won.

In the play for The Advertiser Trophy in the men's doubles Dean and Hobbs, two Janiors, defeated Taylor and Boyd after a hard fought match. The game went to three sets. The two boys showed a reversal of form after they had lost the first set, 6—1, and took the succeeding two at 6—4, 7—5.

B. I. Williams easily beat M. Aikentead, 6—1, 6—1. Aikenhead is one of the best Junior entrants, but during his game with Williams, he was unsteady, and defeated himself with his many buts and nets.

Even Up Series For the Norfolk County Baseball Title.

Special to The Advertiser. oe, Aug. 29 .- Port Dover turned the tables on Simcoe here this afternoon mes for the Norfolk County cham plonship, winning after an airtight contest by a score of 6 to 5. Walker, for the lakesiders, and Travis Simcoe's star boxman, hooked up in a brilliant pitching duel, with honors about even. Walker struck out thirteen, but Travis was master of the fishermen except in the first and fifth inning in each of which Port Dover scored 3 runs. Simcoe tallied two in the first and came through with another trio in the fifth. Again they rallied in the ninth, but with the tying run on third the necessary hit was not forthcoming. The fielding of both nines was spectacular. A crowd of 700 enthusiastic fans witnessed the best-played game of the season. The final for county honors will probably be played on Labor Day in Simcoe or Dover, and the whole countryside will be there for the game.

London Aug. 29.—Mid-week games in the first division of the English Soccer League played this afternoon produced no surprises. Three of the eleven hitherto undefeated teams, Birmingham, Blackburn Rovers and Manchester City had their first reverse chalked up against them, but Newcastle United, Aston Villa and Liverpool improved their positions as also did Notts County, Only two teams have maintained their nets inviolate, Tottenham Hotspurs and West Ham, but neither of them was in action today. Newcastle and Liverpool are the heaviest scorers so far, each having six goals in hand, but the latter has had four registered against them to the Northumberlands' two.

Score Those Who Became Panicky Following Collapse of Home Bank.

OUR BANKS SOUND

Good Canadians Urged To Be Sane and "Stop Rocking the Boat."

The Canadian banking system is as sound as any in the world. Those inclined to uneasiness over the Home Bank failure, or who regard with foreboding the industrial and financial situation in Canada, are helping to create a lack of confidence which conditions do not justify. This, in short, is a summary of the opinions of leading industrial executives in this city. Half a dozen, questioned in connection with the business outlook of Canada, expressed sincere conviction that this country is on the verge of a new prosperity, and that its banking institutions are sounder than any in Europe or the United States.

Money on deposit in Canadian banks, they declared, was as safe as the country itself. Why the Home Bank failure, which might have occurred in a period of great prosperity, or in any country, should precipitate distrust in Canadian institutions, they could not understand. Only ignorance of the fundamentally strong and vigorous financial system which Canadian banks operate would cause the wholesale transference of deposits from one institu tion to another. This practice, local authorities state, should be discouraged, for it only results in disturbance, and in no way enhances th security of the depositor. "Stop Rocking the Boat."

Col. William Gartshore, general turing Company, appears to citizens inclined to be panicky without just "stop rocking the

"All reasonable businessmen have perfect confidence in Canada and Canadian banks," Col. Gartshore said. "Conditions are everywhere improving. I can see nothing but an encouraging outlook, and my faith in our banks is undisturbed."

A. E. Silverwood, president of Silverwood's Limited, said he considered the country and its financial organizations "absolutely sound in every restrict."

"The urfortunate feature of the

"The urfortunate feature of the Home Bank affair," Mr. Silverwood said, "is that it created distrust in the minds of persons unfamiliar with the situation. I believe Canadian banks are in a general safe and sol-vent state. It is to be deplored that small failure should depress industry and sow seeds of pessimism such pessimism is not justified in any way. I look forward to an active, flourishing period of business this fall, and I am sure it will prove to be the turn of the tide. Men who can analyze conditions say commerce and industry the next few

"There are no grounds for blue ruin talk. The future is full of promise. I see only prosperity ahead."

James Gray, head of Gray's Limited, urges public-spirited citizens to forget rumors circulated by chronic

"Business is improving, the banks are as sound as a nut, and 1924 is going to be a big year for Canada," was Mr. Gray's cheery observation. "I do not think there is a chance of any more bank failures. Every bank any more bank failures. Every bank, large and small, in Canada is in good shape. The public can do business in Ontario with every feeling of confidence, regardless of which bank they happen to have their money in."

JUDGE WARNER BACK IN JUVENILE COURT

Has Full Docket of Cases On First Morning After His Return From Vacation.

Judge G. Q. Warner, on his return to the bench at the juvenile court this morning, after a period of vaca-tion, was greeted with no small num-

Chief among these was the application on the part of the Soldiers' Aid for the children of an ex-soldier as wards. By the decision of Judge Warner, the father was given a further opportunity of providing a suitable home for his children, and as long as conditions remain suitable the children will be retained by their parent.

Judge Warner was more than satisfied with the carrying on of proceedings at the court during his absence under Major G. M. Bradshaw.

As a matter of fact, it did make

John jealous; so jealous that, fully recognizing Harry's peril, he did not in the least care what happened to him. He hoped, however, that, in the impending smashup, whenever it should take place, Ethel would not be hurt. Yes, he told himself, in spite of the manner in which she had treated him, he sincerely hoped she would escape unburt. If Harry Ben was seriously injured. John took them home in his car, of course. Barnes and John Warland should quarrel in this absurd manner it is hard to say.

Of course, Ethel and John were very miserable after they had thus parted in anger. And just how obstinate they were, too, you can imagine—how determined each was that the other should "speak first."

That there was to be no more speaking between them did not enter the heads of either party to the disturbance.

Ethel and John were two obstin—

Wallly trying to desire the desistanted, stopped, got out and, addressing Harry, said: "What's the matter? Can I help you?"

Ethel turned her back and gazed at the distant horizon while Harry answered: "I don't know, the blamed thing won't go somehow." John discovered at once what was the matter, did a few things to the mechanism of the car and had it working in a jifty. Then he entered his own machine and drove off, never once looking back at Ethel, whom he had ignored wholly in the proceedings. Ethel and John were two obstin-ite young people. The fact that they ate young people. The fact that they were much in love with each other that John had not attempted to speak predicated the final yielding of one of them. Among the other desperate things that Ethel did in the disturbance of mind caused by her quarrel with John was to buy a small car-or rather she persuaded her father to buy one for her—and to learn to drive it, after a fashion. At this stage of the game Harry expected happened. Ethel's car took on a skittish mood, evinced a disposition to climb telegraph poles, jump fences and otherwise displayed an ex-uberance of spirits quite inconsistent

Montreal, Aug. 30 .- An appeal for a greater degree of standardization in provincial legislation was made here today by Sir James Aikens, lieutenant-governor of Manitoba, addressing as president, the conference of commissioners on uniform laws. Sir James said the purposes of the commissioners were "to secure uni-formity in the lex scripta of provincial enactments governing the same activity or thing, in commercial and kindred subjects," and "to obviate conflicting decisions of courts in different provinces upon the same ques-tion arising out of identical or similar facts, and under statutes sub-stantially alike in principle or varying only in phrases expressing those

Conflict of decisions resulted mainly, he said, from a "slavish following of precedent."

"Too often," declared Sir James, "Judge-made law arises out of that unreasonable following of precedent upon precedent, and so eventually i digs the grave of statutory or remeenactment or amendment and buries it. Judges are fallible, some more so than others, and the decision of the weakest of them, while it stands, is cited and followed as precedent, and divergence thus grows."

CONSUL-GENERAL IS RECALLED TO CHINA

Considered Protest Action Against Alleged Discrimination in Immigration Laws.

Canadian Press Despatch Ottawa, Aug. 30 .- The Journal carries the following story today: "China has recalled, temporarily at least, her consul-general to Canada. Dr. Chilsen Tsur, whose headquarters have been in Montreal. Dr. Tsur received a cablegram last night from His Excellency Dr. Wellington Koo, which was the culmination of correspondence and cables upon the Canadian government's Lune legislation. adian government's June legislation barring Chinese entry into the Do-minion. The cable translated read:

You are requested to return to China to make full report.' "Dr. Tsur expects to leave in week, and stated that no staff would be left in Ottawa except Mr. Liu, His departure, he said, was in the nature of a strong protest against the Chinese immigration law, which he and several foreigners and an inn-keeper the government of the Chinese re-arraigned on a charges of violating the government of the Chinese re-public considered drastic and unfair." public considered drastic and unfair."

The Journal quotes Dr. Tsur as having said: "We can only regard it as an unfriendly act to China. Canadians call the good old pastime known in the United States variously dians enjoy every privilege in China.

GOVERNMENT OFFERS IMMIGRANTS POSITIONS

Manitoba Agrees To Find Employment For Harvesters From Britain.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Aug. 30.—The dissatis-faction which has existed among 200 narvester immigrants in this city is believed to have been ameliorated by the offer of the Saskatchewan gov ernment to take all the men and place them in harvesting jobs at $4 a day, according to Capt. Thomas H. Acheson, general agricultural agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway. At the close of a meeting of the harvesters here last night, Mr. Acheson said those who were not willing to take Saskatchewan jobs without a written contract were offered railway construction jobs at 30 cents an hour.
Alex. Crossman of Glasgow, "vicechairman." resigned his position after describing as "shirkers" those who do not want to work for what has been offered them. "We were offered con-struction work today until we could get jobs at $4, or until we could earn enough to pay our passage back," he said. "It's doing nobody any good our sitting around the immigration hall and eating what the citizens of Canada provide for us. I don't want charity. I want work."

German Court Dismisses Action When No Precedent Is Provided.

Special Cable to The Advertiser. Berlin, Aug. 30 .- When the prosecution failed to provide a precedent showing that "Seven 'Leven" is gambling, a court here dismissed as an unfriendly act to China. Canadians enjoy every privilege in China as galloping dominoes, cubical misery, —but see how Canada treats the Chinese."

Known in the Chited States variously as galloping dominoes, cubical misery,
African polo and alley tennis.

The defence lawyer pleaded that nowhere in the German gambling laws is there any reference to "Seven" Leven," so that it could be estaba friendly entertainment, such as "Authors," "Tiddledy Winks" or "Parcheesie," or whether it is something more serious. The plea won, "Reading and weeping" can now be done with impunity.

SUGAR Associated Press Despatch. New York, Aug. 29 .- The early raw sugar market was firmer, and prices were 1/8c higher, with Cubas now quoted at 4%c, cost and freight, equal to $6 15c for centrifugal. There were sales of 5,000 bags of Cubas to a local refined. Except for a slight opening decline in September contracts, a firmer feeling prevailed in the raw sugar futures market. There was covering and renewed buying for both trade and outside account, and subsequently the whole market firmed up, reflecting the firmer ruling of the spot market. Prices at midday were 3 to 14 points net higher. There was no change in the refined market, and business was only of moderate proportions. Prices are listed at $7.75 for fine granulated by all refiners. Refined futures nominal.

Dominion Vital Statistics Report But 2,650 Marriages During February.

102 DIED IN LONDON

Vital statistics of the Dominion are lways full of interesting data, and the report for February, 1923, just made public by the Hon. T. A. Low, I.P., minister of trade and commerce, has its full share of news. For instance, to begin with the marriages, February, 1923, was not one of Cupid's best, and there were only 2,650 marriages, compared with 3,654 in 1920 and 3,248 in 1922. Ontario led the way with 1,204, and Prince Edward Island came last with 31.

As regards the arrival of new Canadians, the figures show that there were 12,100 in the second month of 1923, as compared with 13,126 in 1922 and 14,585 in 1920. In this case Ontario was again an easy first, and numbered 5,476, as against the Province of Saskatchewan with 1,479 the next in number, and Prince Edward Island with 138.

The births in cities over 30,000 give Toronto 976, Winnipeg 470, Ottawa and Vancouver 239, London 107 and Victoria, B.C., 48. The mortality of children under one year is the best of proof of the care which the youngsters receive, and of the healthiness of the province and the parents. Here statistics show that in all Canada there were 115.3 deaths per 1,000 living births. Prince Edward Island leads the way this time, and has 188.4. Saskatchewan comes next with 123.7, and British Columbia last with that concerns everyone, from the medical officer to the social student, is lister as follows: (These figures are the death rate per 1,000 living births.) Again Prince Edward Island, the good old "spud island" of all true easterners, comes first with 188; then there is New Brunswick with 134, and last British Columbia with 86. Onlast British Columbia with Sv. tario has 120, and the rate for the Dominion is 115. In 1920 it was 111.7, nowing a slight increase.

The principal causes of death in 119 Dundas Street, London, Ont. children under one year were (per (,000), in the order of their destruciveness: Premature birth 290, pneumonia 289, congenital debility 133. Maternal mortality in Canada for February, 1923, was 90, the largest w is the time to place your orders occurring in the case of and have them put down. Estimates furnished free. The general mortality of grown-ups tor the month was 7,446, as compared with 5,887 in 1922 and 10,307 in 1920. By provinces the figures show: Ontario 4,332, Neva Scotia 664, Prince Edward Island 109.

Pneumonia Prevalent. These deaths were caused, in the order of their prevalence, by: Pneumonia, which accounted for 1,135, influenza with 1,106, diseases of the Scotch Doubles For Holiday agant 628, and the least disastrous of all the ills that man is heir to was naemia chlorosis, which claimed but aths in the Dominio When we come to cancer, the dread disease, we find that 381 persons were killed by it in February of 1923, of whom 203 were somen and 178 were nen. Tuberculosis took its toll of life to the number of 409 in the same period, of whom 203 were men and 206 were women. The statistics of deaths by specified iseases show the following results attention, and C. A. Towers, who is in in London: Pneumonia 22, disease charge of the greens committee, expects the heart 13, influenza 9. The total that when the visitors arrive here the death list for the city in the month

Early Darkness Halted Bill, But Events Were

Last night's twillight bicycle meet at Queen's Park, the last of the season, could not be finished owing to darkness. But before darkness overtook the riders four fast races were run off. Among the events that could not be run was the girls' half-mile.

Most of the riders who have been seen in the weekly races will be seen in action at Brantford Monday. Coles, the local boy, will defend his title to the Dominion ten-mile championship. It is expected that twenty or more crtrants will start in the ten-mile championship race.

Last night's results were as follows: Men's half-mile handicap—1, Bill Coles (scratch); 2, Gerald Davies (10 yards); 3, Frank Graham (25 yards). Time, 1:07.

Men's three-mile handicap—1, Bill Coles and G. Davies (50 yards) tied; 3, F. Graham (100 yards). Time, 8 minutes.
