LAURIER'S GREAT ORATORICAL FEAT

An Impression of His Grand Trunk Pacific Speech.

HE ELECTRIFIED THE HOUSE

Generous Tribute from Conservative Paper-Premier Rose Greatly to a Great Occasion.

[Toronto Sunday World.] Sir Wilfrid Laurier has met many fair contests of mental power and polittical adroitness, but the supreme trial came in the duty suddenly cast upon him of presenting the Government's Grand Trunk Pacific Railway policy. It was the overshadowing event of his seven years of office. He has brilliantly acquitted himself in the moulding of public sentiment born of abstract issues. He has reconciled racial animosities and toned down religious prejudices. In this work Sir Wilfrid Laurier had performed marvels with the mere magic of his tongue. On Thursday last a new task confronted him. He was thrown into the realm of the practical, where mastery of facts and statistics and force of argument were the only effective weapons. Delicately balanced seutences, flowery rhetoric, grace of gesture—all the forces that had been Sir Wilfrid's strength in his greatest achievements on the platform and on the floor of the House-he had to leave behind when he proceeded to unfold the terms of the Government's contract with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Com-

Monster Shark.

Machias, Me., Aug.: 11.-What is said to be the largest shark ever killed on this part of the coast was captured at Roque Bluffs last week by Charles and Morey Watts, who own a fish weir near Pond Cove Island. The shark was 16 feet long, of the blue or mud shark variety. When it was found in the weir it was eided by the vners to leave it and give it a chance to escape at high water. The big fish, however, failed to move out or the weir on the next tide, and as nothing would go in while the shark was there the Watts brothers returned in their boat, and killed the intruder after a struggle. When cut open the shark's stomach was found to contain a seal that it was estimated would weigh 300 pounds and which had been swallowed in three pieces. The weir where the shark was taken contains about ten feet of water at low tide, but as no attempt was made by the fish to escape the property was not damaged.

Hot Weather Beauty

The fresh blocm and beauty which is so attractive in women—the beauty of perfect health-falls an easy victim to the enervating heat of summer. The roses fade and a sickly pallor takes its place: nervous headaches leave dark shadows beneath the eyes: the eyes themselves lose their sparkle and lustre : rashes and blotches destroy the fine texture of the skin and almost without warning beauty has fled.

These troubles are but outward manifestations of the effect of hot weather upon the digestive system. With perfect digestion beauty can defy the heat.

"Nerves" lassitude, loss of appetite and the hundred and one troubles that make hot weather almost unbearable are unknown to the person with a sound digestion. Before beauty has fled: before "nerves" headaches, indigestion, constipation and bil-
