THAT TOWN HALL

Editor Reporter:

Dear Sir,—A dot, a period, punctates and now closes an epoch in the annals of Athens, and begins an era in her history—its dawn adds lustre to her already well earned fame.

Many of the citizens of Athens move in the best society, others are worthily aspiring; because a great many young ladies and gentlemen, in the years that are gone, received their first impulse along professional lines and an impetus imparted to them on and up to the Highlands of success—honor, competence—and because they felt a sincere desire to come in closer touch with the beautiful, instructive, expanding thoughts of distinguished lecturers and eminent speakers, they ventured to assume the responsibility of building a place attractive and spacious enough for such to radiate light and pleasure to all, and at the same time provide for their increasing school wants, the needs of the municipal council, and at the same time accommodate generally the corporation and the community around them.

We may here add that the dollar a seat, so cheerfully paid, was contributed by parties who had been remunerated in advance, many years before, by the high and model schools of this place.

The contour the hall presents is unostentatious, up-to-date, severe architecture. The grand auditorium may possibly seat 800, and has a stage that may accommodate an operatic company of fifty or more. The decorations displayed were simple, attractive, pleasing—all they should be. The facade on Elgin street and on Main street are varied—the hall is a credit to the architect and the wish of the community.

Well, the people of Athens decided that the opening of this fine hall was a sufficient reason for making an extra effort, so they apportioned the work and appointed, it may be, a dozen committees to represent the will and executive force of Athens, and they neglected nothing.

It was decided to have the Right Honorable the Premier of the Dominion present; so Mr. D. Derbyshire, M.P., was solicited to look after this, which he did in such an effectual way that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was promptly on hand and was welcomed by a vast concourse at the station. Mr. Derbyshire will be warmly remembered by this community for his efforts in this matter. It was remarked by one of the speakers that he doubted if any other man would have been so successful.

The Premier was entertained while in Athens, in company with Mr. A. E. Donovan and Mr. Derbyshire, at the home of Mr. W. G. Parish.

Mr. Parish's home is unique. It is almost an exact counterpart of some of the grand old intercolonial plantation mansions in the Southern States, which were projected down through the slave period till the civil war, when the destruction of many of them occurred—a form of home that pleases French and Spanish taste. They were ruled by a purple blooded aristocracy, one that would not deign to recognize, that of Europe or even encourage scions of royalty. As a Dr. of Divinity expressed it to me: "There is a hundred mile belt in the U. S., along the Gulf of Mexico, that has an aristocracy with a vengeance."

The incident of the quartette dining at the Parish residence will long remain on memory's tablet a bright spot, but, as I view it, the Premier by his presence paid as fine a tribute of respect to the humblest citizen of Athens as he did to the splendid hospitality prepared for him—an expression which I am sure Mr. Parish and the above named gentlemen will be delighted to reiterate with emphasis.

The hall was filled almost as soon as opened. True, there were vacant chairs, but they were paid for by parties at a distance who, by the force cast for inclement weather were deterred from attending. Just here we may note that an absurd, a thoughtless rumor was set afloat—"foundations were giving way, walls would fall, a most calamitous catastrophe would be precipitated." Whoever you are, no matter how emphonic your name, your evil report stamps you as inimical to Athens. Don't ever try that again. The hall was full, in spite of jealousy's green-eyed stings, and the vibrations of the crowd did no harm.

On time, Mr. M. B. Holmes, Reeve, was in the chair. He filled the position most efficiently, with credit to himself and those he represented. His remarks were acceptable and cordially received.

The local lights from Brockville and elsewhere vied with each other in paying the highest tributes of respect and welcome to the Premier. They were sincere, as all shades and stripes of politics were submerged beneath the ways of good-will and admiration. The very atmosphere seemed charged with a flow of cordial feeling and genial courtesy. There was only one little divergence, and that on the part of a titled gentleman, who was probably more susceptible to temptation than the rest—but the kind-hearted Premier skillfully and courteously removed the little sting.

Mr. W. F. Earl, by half a day's work, made the ventilation in the gallery perfect, without which it would have been very oppressive.

The band, the orchestra, the vocal music were all good. The speakers caressed Athens as a petted child. It is seldom that a number of speakers face an audience as appreciative, as fine looking, as tastily dressed.

Address read by Inspector Johnston was one of the most thoughtful and scholarly productions of its class that has been my privilege to listen to. The sentiments and diction must have pleased all, and will remain an evidence of his high attainments and sound judgment.

The pleasant melody from the orchestra was dying away, a hushed hum of voices was audible, the "Earl" light in all its power, perfection and beauty was filling the auditorium with its pure, soft, white brilliant radiance, and was falling on fair women and brave men, as the Premier arose, amidst vigorous cheering. Then followed a swift summary of ancient Grecian or Athenian history, then an epitome of legislative measures which were the basis and led on up to Canada's greatness—a powerful nation developed under the British flag—proving that "Knowledge is power." Where are the limits of her strength or wealth, when from the Atlantic to the Pacific a thousand embryos, like Athens, shall bud, bloom, and burst into great and wealthy cities. In his flight, he paused to pay a touching tribute to the memory of Sir John A.

As I listened and looked down on the transient scene before me, a vision of the future passed swiftly. I glanced down the perspective of future years, and back from that interminable vista the reverberations of the thunder of the tread of a hundred mighty nations rolled on. I saw our honored dead—I saw our heroes, statesmen, poets, literateurs, historians, scientists, high professionals, artists and sculptors—I saw the vast rainbow of promise resting on St. John's (Nfld.) in the far east, on Victoria in the distant west, its zenith centred over our fair Ontario, its apex spanning 60,000,000 men and women. I looked toward heaven and saw a brilliant assembly of our illustrious dead forming a glorious starry constellation in the galaxy of nations.

In an undertone Sir Wilfrid once referred to his own demise. I fancy such thoughts as these may sometime flash across his view. When my eyes shall be turned for the last time to behold the sun in the heavens, may I not see him shining on provinces discovered, on the fragments of a once glorious union, our flag torn and trailing in the dust; but rather may I see him shining on our banner, known and honored everywhere, as it floats over the sea and the land, bearing this motto "Union now and Union forever."

Why, Mr. Editor, on that evening the parting sun flung back congratulations to all Ontario under the arching branches of the trees in a rich flood of tinted light, and the furies painted the leaves with untold beauty, and all unseen the winds wove wreaths for the fair brow of 1905. We will see them again when we get over where the columned years in or stand. We will see them again in the grandest floral beauty.

I sometimes wonder if things in the Age to come (which is near us) is analogous to this, and what we will get in exchange for our autumnal beauty and splendor.

You will notice, Mr. Editor, that "Random notes by the way" allow me to roam ad libitum.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

INTERNATIONAL LESSON NO. VI. NOVEMBER 5, 1905

Ester Pleads for Her People. Esth. 4:10 to 5:3

Commentary—J. Mordecai and Esther (vs. 10-14). Mordecai learned of this terrible decree and sent word to Queen Esther and asked her to intercede with the king for the preservation of her race.

Without doubt that this was preliminary to a request of greater importance. The banquet was held; and yet Esther did not dare to present her real request.

Esther is the book of providence. It is a historic page. The providence of God is not manifested by a word of God or a miracle from God.

"Think not with thyself that thou shalt escape" (v. 13). Mordecai felt that Esther might be tempted to think she would be safe in the palace.

"If thou holdest thy peace at this time" (v. 14). If we fail to improve our opportunities for service, then shall there enlargement and deliverance arise from another place.

"The three days' fast" (vs. 15-17). Fast is a sacrifice of the body for the sake of the soul.

"So will I go" (v. 16). There are times when we must say with Luther in response to appeals to spare ourselves: "It is not necessary that I should live, but it is necessary that I should go."

"Ester put on her royal apparel" (v. 1) not from love of display. Upon coming a queen, Esther had shown entire indifference to worldly display.

INJURIOUS INSECTS.

ADVICE TENDERED AT ENTOMOLOGICAL SOCIETY'S MEETING.

With Proper Treatment Farmers Can Rid Their Crops of Insectivorous Pests—Society Elects Officers.

Guelph despatch: That farmers can by a little care, and by the judicious use of the proper remedies, eradicate the insects which play havoc with their crops and result in serious financial loss.

This afternoon Dr. James Fletcher, C. E. F., Ottawa, gave a short address on insects which have been injurious to crops in 1905.

The most interesting attack of the year was made by a caterpillar named Barathra, which previously was only represented in single specimens in most collections.

Dr. Fletcher drew attention to the cabbage and turnip aphid, which is doing so much harm year by year in Canada.

Amongst the papers read to-day were Notes on Some Jamaica Insects, by T. D. Jarvis, O. A. C., Injurious Insects of the Flower Garden, by Mr. Arthur Gibson, C. E. F., Ottawa; Forest Insects, by Rev. Dr. Fyles, Quebec; Some Insects of the Year, by Rev. Dr. Bethune, London; Insects as Nature Studies, by Prof. S. B. McCready, A. C.; The Advantages and Disadvantages of the Canadian Entomologist, by Rev. Dr. Fyles, and Notes on the Season, 1905 (Western Quebec), by Mr. Charles Stevenson, of Montreal.

Officers of the society were elected as follows: President, John D. Evans, Trenton; Vice-President, Dr. James Fletcher, Ottawa; Secretary, W. E. Saunders, London; Treasurer, J. A. Balkwill, London.

PLAIN OAKEN COFFIN.

RECEPTEE OF THE ASHES OF SIR HENRY IRVING

For Hours a Constant Stream of People Passed the Coffin in Baroness Burdett-Coutts' Home—Impressive Procession to the Abbey.

A London cable: The ashes of Sir Henry Irving, enclosed in a plain oak coffin, are now lying in the Chapel of St Faith, Westminster Abbey, awaiting to-morrow's elaborate ceremony of interment in Poet's Corner.

The scene was most impressive as the procession moved and disappeared among the gloomy cloisters. The silence was broken only by the footfalls of the clergy, bearers and mourners.

For hours to-day a constant stream of people filed past the casket containing the ashes in the dining-room of Baroness Burdett-Coutts' residence.

Motorman Dean, who is charged with management in connection with the death of C. O. Rockwood at Toronto, was released on bail this morning by Justice MacMahon.

KILLED GIRL WITH AUTO.

Grandson of W. H. Vanderbilt Tried for Manslaughter in Paris.

Paris, Oct. 23.—Elliott Fitch Sheppard, grandson of W. H. Vanderbilt, was arraigned to-day on a charge of manslaughter. On Aug. 28 the accused, in company with Tom Thorne, a race-horse owner, and a chauffeur, were automobileing when the car, which Sheppard was driving, struck and killed a girl.

Sheppard and Thorne testified that the auto was traveling only 17 miles an hour. They did not know that an accident had occurred until they read of it in the newspapers.

M. Poincaré demanded that an exemplary sentence be imposed. The court deferred sentence.

SHIPPING IN U. S. BOATS.

The Newfoundland Fishermen and the Bait Act.

Halifax, Oct. 23.—North Sydney is thronged with Newfoundland fishermen from the Bay of Islands, Bonne Bay and other parts of the western coast, who have come by steamer to ship as crews of the Gloucester schooners now in port.

The treaty of 1818 allows American schooners to fish, but not to buy, and schooners after schooner manned with crew from Newfoundland shore fishermen will have North Sydney to prosecute the fisheries at Bay of Islands and elsewhere.

Meanwhile the Newfoundland Government cruiser Fiona, at Bonne Bay, and it is somewhat doubtful how this method of evading the bait act will be regarded.

OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Two Grateful Letters from Women Who Avoided Serious Operations—Many Women Suffering from Like Conditions Will Be Interested.

When a physician tells a woman, suffering from ovarian or womb trouble, that an operation is necessary, it is of course, frightful to her.

Our hospitals are full of women who are there for ovarian or womb operations! It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but such cases are much rarer than is generally supposed.

The strongest and most grateful statements were made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after the doctors had said an operation must be performed. In fact, up to the point where the knife must be used to secure instant relief, this medicine is certain to help.

THE MARKETS.

Toronto Farmers' Market.

Grain receipts were small to-day, and prices show little change. The only wheat was 100 bushels of coarse, which is high at 70c per bushel.

C. C. Gilbert has his gasoline launch completed. It's a dandy.

GREENBUSH

Oct. 18.—During last week two of our oldest neighbors passed away.

Mrs. Smith, widow of the late Thomas Smith, Mrs. Smith's maiden name was Rowson. She left to mourn her loss two sons and four daughters. One, Mrs. G. Davis, had passed away some five years ago. Mrs. Smith had reached the good old age of 78 years. She was a good woman; to enjoy her acquaintance was but to esteem and respect her. She was a consistent member of the Methodist church.

Her funeral took place here on Wednesday last. The Rev. Mr. Burnett conducted the services. The pallbearers were J. C. Blanchard, W. W. Miller, A. Forsythe, George Dixon, John Davis and Almeran Blanchard.

David Blanchard had reached the advanced age of 84 years, a man respected by all his acquaintances, a good neighbour, possessed of many good traits of character that were worthy of imitation. In politics, he was a life long Reformer. He was twice married, his first wife being Almira Palmer, who predeceased him a good number of years. His second partner was Jennie Rodgers, who survives him. His funeral took place on Thursday, the Rev. Mr. Burnett conducting the religious services. The pallbearers were Clarence Blanchard, Almeran Blanchard, W. Connell and J. C. Blanchard.

On account of non completion of the new church of England, the visit of the Bishop has been postponed.

An old resident of this place, Mr. Joseph Lavine, passed away on Monday and was buried on Tuesday. The service was conducted by Rev. Orane.

The tongue is a small member but very bitter.

OLEDO

Oct. 16.—Mrs. E. J. Gray, Pt. St. Charles, Montreal, who has been visiting friends here for the past month, returned home Thursday last.

Richard Brownbridge, the well known hotel keeper, Lyndhurst, paid us a visit on Friday last. Dick is sure of a hearty welcome when he visits his friends here and at Frankville.

The stone crusher has moved from this district. The roads are in a very bad shape, owing to the careless spreading of the stones. We trust the road commissioners in the other districts will see that the stones are properly spread, so that we will have fairly good roads, instead of hills and hollows.

The box social at Mrs. Wm Healy's, Connaught Hill, was a success. Among those who came from a distance were Wm. Rogers and John Rape of Portland.

John Durriek has disposed of his farm to Jeremiah Donovan, and is moving to another farm on the road between here and Smith's Falls.

The farmer in this vicinity who is using Mr. C. A. Wood's spade, digging ditches, had better return or pay for it.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women

Are the Up-to-Date Remedy.

Medicines, like clothes, are made from different materials now than they were twenty-five years ago. Some of the materials used in making Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women had not been discovered then. You cannot get these new ingredients in the old time remedies. And yet these ingredients are used now in diseases of women by all the world's greatest physicians.

Progressive women—thinking women keep up-to-date in the matter of medicines as well as clothes. They are buying Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets, the twentieth century preparation for women and the one now recognized beyond doubt or question as the one best adapted to their special needs.

They make healthy women.

THE GATEWAY TO THE BETTER APPEARANCE OF MEN

The Most, the Newest, the Best, the Cheapest Clothing in Brockville.

To Win this Town
For our store is the work that we must do in the least possible time and at the least possible cost. We realize that to do this we must give the people uncommon values—values that will startle every one that comes to look at our goods, so that he will go and tell his neighbors, and so on.

So We Are Now Shouting to You
With all our might, asking you to have a look. We realize that we have to cut out profit largely in order to make this a busy store right from the start. We are not the kind of people that can wait—we will not wait—we must have business, and lots of it; so when you come, ask for the following goods that we mention herewith, and we will have won you once and for all. Come, do it now.

Ask to see our Men's Suits made of Bannockburn twist tweed, heavily lined with Italian lining, in up-to-date colorings, which sell for $10.00. Then take a peep at our $12.00 suit, made of the same material.

Again, allow us to show you the Cheviot cloth Overcoat we are offering for $12.00; also our black, blue, and grey Beaver Overcoats at $10.00.

Then, if your time will permit, have a look at our $4.00 suit for boys (ages 10 to 15), three piece, and see if you ever got as good for $5 or $6.

Then, if you are convinced that we are the best place, say so to your neighbor—that is all the pay we ask for giving these special values.

Excursion to Brockville—Purchase $10.00 worth of goods and we will pay you the price of ticket for coming here.

PSYCHINE

(PRONOUNCED SI-KEEN)

"PSYCHINE" possesses peculiar properties that act promptly in gaining the mastery over this disease. One element at once checks the fever, another the chills. The tightness across the chest, the heavy breathing and hoarseness, is removed by another element. Its tonic properties renew the strength, and make rich blood, the cough disappears, the "mucous" is carried away, the wheezing ceases, and after a short treatment ninety per cent. of patients are cured for all time. The disease seldom returns after you have begun the "PSYCHINE" treatment.

CHESLEY SCHELL, Ravenswood, writes: "I was out with the volunteers at London last June and I got a heavy cold, which turned to Bronchitis, and my lungs were severely affected. I had a cough all summer. PSYCHINE proved a great blessing to me. It is a positive cure for Bronchitis."

The annual clearing sale by auction of live stock, etc., at the farm of Mr. Alex Taylor takes place on Saturday, Nov. 4. The large number of horses and exceptionally fine lot of Holstein and high grade cattle will draw a large crowd.

The bacteriological department of the Ontario Agricultural College, studying the potato disease for the last year, would like farmers troubled with this disease to mail an affected potato and state at the same time if they were troubled with the soft or wet rot last year, and to what extent in the present season's crop.

An exchange tells of a man who always paid his paper in advance. As a reward he was never sick in his life and never had a corn on his toes or toothache, his potatoes never rot, his frost never kills his fruit, his babies never cry at night, his wife never scolds, and he has succeeded in serving three terms on the school board without being criticized.

In speaking of H. Ruthven Macdonald, who sings at the A. H. S. commencement on Nov. 8, the Halifax Herald says: "We think we cover the whole ground in saying, a superb voice of stupendous power, capable of a wealth of expression, an intensely artistic temperament, coupled with a striking and pleasing personality, proclaim him the first baritone in Canada."

The Rev. W. E. Reynolds will conduct the anniversary services in the Methodist church on Sunday next, morning and evening. A social gathering will be held on Monday evening, at which Rev. S. Selery, M.A., B.D., and Rev. W. E. Reynolds will deliver short addresses.

What is known locally as the Smith Jacob hunting party leave next Monday for the wilds of Frontenac. The party will consist of Dr. Malloy, Delta; L. Washburn, Soperton; J. Smith, Charleston; and S. Coon, Wm. Jacob, Harold Jacob, and Walter Smith, Athens. This party shot a fine lot of deer last year and will probably repeat the performance this season.

The home of Mr. George Sharman, Yorkton, Sask., was the scene of a very pretty wedding, Oct. 9th, when his son S. Herbert Plunkett and Miss Anna Plunkett of Ogdensburg, N. Y., were united in marriage by the Rev. H. J. Miller. Both the bride and groom have many friends in Athens, and the Reporter has pleasure in joining with them in extending congratulations and best wishes.

Asher T. Witte, born near Delta on the shores of Beverly Lake, was instantly killed a few days ago at Havelock by an electric shock. He was tinmith and was engaged in making some repairs in a store when he came in contact with the current. He was alone in the building at the time, and when found his body was suspended on a hook to which is attached an incandescent light wire. In one hand was a steel brad-awl. The other hand was badly burned. He is survived by one child. The body was brought to Lyndhurst where interment was made.

Mr. E. J. Percoll, after many years of faithful and efficient service as station agent on the B. W. & N. W., severed his connection with the line on Saturday last to take charge of the Rappell grocery on Elgin street, which he purchased a few days ago. Mr. Percoll was deservedly popular with all having business with this station, and his removal will be greatly regretted. In his new business undertaking he will have the best wishes of a host of friends in town and country.

The report of the recent visit of Inspector Tilley to the Athens Model School has just been received. It is highly creditable to the principal and staff. School Organization and Management, Principles of Education, Methods of Teaching, Spirit and Attention of Class are all graded No. 1. To the tabular report, Inspector Tilley appends the following: "All the work done in this school was of a very high order. In securing the development of individual effort among his students, which is one of the highest functions of a teacher, Mr. Mackintosh has achieved results which I have never seen equalled in any other school."

An effort is being made to revive the brass band which went out of business here a few years ago. The inspiring music it discoursed was recalled by the visit of the 41st Batt. band, and Messrs. Fred Pierce and J. P. Lamb, members of the original old Farmersville band, are acting as a committee to promote the formation of this new musical organization. It is intended that the members shall consist of boys about fourteen years of age. The instruments belonging to the old band are now being collected, and a meeting will be held on Friday evening in the town hall for organization. Mr. S. Manhardt has consented to act as instructor for a time. All enjoyed the open-air concert given by the old band, and citizens generally should cordially endorse this movement to re-establish such a popular institution.

ADDRESS TO MODELITES

It is the privilege of teachers-in-training at the A. M. S. every fall to listen to a series of addresses delivered by gentlemen prominent in educational and religious circles. This term's series was opened on Monday afternoon last, when the Rev. Mr. Currie of Perth addressed the class.

Mr. Jos. Thompson accompanied the reverend gentleman to the school room, and was called upon for a speech. He made a few remarks, pointing out the satisfaction in knowing how to do small things well, and the happiness to be derived from faithful, honest work.

Mr. Currie expressed pleasure with having the opportunity of speaking to the modelites and complimented the class on their evident good standing. He referred to the happy thought that the young begin in science and in education where the old must stop, and regarded this as a sign of the progress of civilization. He emphasized the importance of making a good beginning of the teacher's work. It was a lasting work. In the teacher's hands rested largely the making of future Canada.

Parents handed over their children to be trained by teachers, and he hoped the teachers would not fail to subordinate knowledge to character. While the teacher must have the spirit of a master, yet he must be careful to distinguish authority from conceit. He should be public spirited, and should give pupils broad views by getting them interested in reading good speeches and editorials.

Giving some practical hints to the teachers, Mr. Currie expressed himself as opposed to too much homework. He excluded children from the society of other members of the family. He regarded examinations as a necessary, evil and advocated consolidated schools as a remedy for existing low salaries. Pointed out the necessity of teacher's knowledge being far in advance of that of the pupil. Closed by wishing every member of the class unqualified success in life.

At the conclusion of the address, on behalf of the form, a vote of thanks, moved by Mr. Jones and seconded by Miss Adams, was tendered Mr. Currie for his kindness. A. M. S. EXECUTIVE

Every Movement Hurts

When you have rheumatism. Muscles feel stiff and sore and joints are painful. It does not pay to suffer long from this disease when it may be cured so promptly and perfectly by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine goes right to the spot, neutralizes the acidity of the blood, which causes rheumatism, and puts an end to the pain and stiffness. Biliousness is cured by Hood's Pills. 25c.

Teachers' Institute Officers

The Reporter returns thanks to some person for a well written report of the West Leeds Teachers' Institute meeting. It reached our table too late to be considered news. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Pres.—J. C. Linklater, Ganaoquo. Vice-Pres.—Miss Earl, Elgin. Sec.-Treas.—Miss Edwards, Ganaoquo. Executive Committee—Miss Allyn of Delta, Miss Gallagher of Newboro, Miss Carpenter of Ganaoquo, Mr. Farmer of Ganaoquo, Thos. Keegan Westport. Delegate to D.E.A.—Mr. Morton. Auditor—Miss Legg

Half a Dollar vs. Rheumatism. If you know absolutely that there was a remedy on the market which could cure your rheumatism forever in two weeks or probably a little longer, how long would you hesitate before paying 50c for this remedy. The poison that will kill one man will kill another. Similarly the remedy that will cure Rheumatism in one person will cure it in another. Tuck's Rheumatic Bone Oil has cured the worst cases of Rheumatism on record. The following unsolicited testimonial tells more than we could tell in a column of this newspaper: I tried your Bone Oil for Rheumatism, and my wife tried it also for Rheumatic Pains in the legs. Health being better than wealth, we are being thankful for our cure. Had I not received your oil just in time I would have been obliged to sell my farm from inability to work it. We can cordially endorse your Bone Oil. THOS. WILSON, Montague. Tuck's Bone Oil cures because it is powerful enough to strike at the seat of the disease. It allays inflammation almost immediately and relieves the agony of pain. Ask your druggist or send 50c for a trial bottle to THE TUCK BONE OIL CO. LIMITED, Smith's Falls, Ont.

CHAMBERLAIN THE MAN

Pen Sketch of the Ex-Colonial Secretary, Who is Now the Man of the Hour in England. The special correspondent of The Toronto Telegram writing from Birmingham on the day of the banquet there to the Canadian manufacturers on tour says: "Now that he is out of office what will become of him? Will he sink to the level of a disappointed politician or rise to the height of a great statesman?" Had anyone, who might have asked that question two years ago when Hon. Joseph Chamberlain resigned Colonial Secretary, seen and heard him here to-night, they would have been compelled to admire and applaud a great statesman still rising—the man of the hour, the foremost man in the political life.

Over 70, but looking 46, he stepped lightly from his carriage as he drove up to the headquarters of the Manufacturers bowing his acknowledgment to the cheering crowds that even in Birmingham pursue him. Unlike the many pictures of him and cartoons, Mr. Chamberlain is not a large man, but of medium height. They, however, correctly portray his general appearance—thin, clean shaven, and this constant coolness—his eyes are a deep blue. When the banquet this afternoon to the Canadian manufacturers given by the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, a great cheer went up for Chamberlain, which was repeated a dozen times when he an hour later he rose to speak. Chamberlain speaks and acts the cultured, educated English gentleman, without the slightest show of affectation. His voice is neither harsh nor musical, but pleasing, and with marvelous carrying power, as if trained in a large hall, as in truth it was—the hall being just over on Corporation street, the old and historic town hall, where, and John Bright held audiences with the magic eloquence that is Chamberlain's still.

In clearness of diction Chamberlain can have few rivals, for to-day, without apparent effort, he made every word carry to every part of a hall that has no such acoustic properties as Massey Hall. Once uttered, every word and sentence to-day held fast—no correction, no explanation, for not once was it needed. And with this simplicity and directness there is a plain sincerity that compels conviction. He has few gestures—perhaps the whole of his forty-minute speech to-day he held his feet apart, and his hands were in a course, but he still retained it in an absent-minded way. Notes—never a one, Chamberlain is a clear thinker, whether he is a correct one or not. To the manufacturers to-day it must have been an intellectual treat to hear this foremost apostle of Imperialism, as it was to others, who included leaders in financial and commercial Birmingham and surrounding cities.

No one who heard him for five minutes could doubt his sincerity. You would accept him at once for just what he is—what more than even Birmingham is prepared to prove him a man of honor, of sterling integrity, scrupulous to a degree, and absolutely fearless in the discharge of what he considers his duty, and loyalty to truth. This, or hundreds who heard him to-day know nothing of human nature. That he is not ambitious—in a personal or selfish way—he has clearly shown and plainly said, as he did to-day—shown it, because three miles out here in Moor Green he was one of the grandest homes in England, and he has a fortune with it. Birmingham therefore hopes, and little wonder, that he will reap where he has sown and is sowing. But Mr. Chamk. even though the self would be gratified even though the harvest were left for another.

How He Knew. The American in the corner of the non-smoking first-class carriage insisted on lighting his cigar. The indignant Britisher in the other corner protested and protested in vain. At the next station he hailed the guard, with hostile intent, but the placid American was too quick for him. "Guard," he drawled, "I think you'll find that this gentleman is traveling with a third-class ticket on him." The investigation proved him to be right, and the indignant Britisher was ejected. A spectator of the little scene asked the triumphant American how he knew about that ticket. "Well," explained the imperturbable stranger, "I was sticking out of his pocket, and I saw it was the same color as mine."

Fighting the Bank of England. A lady who is searching for a fortune of £1,300,000 applied to the Lord Chief Justice for an order that the Governor of the Bank of England should allow her to inspect the lists of stock transferred by the bank to the National Debt Commissioners, to whose account stock is transferred when no dividends have been claimed for ten years. The lady, Miss Sarah Eliza Collis, of Bedford, Suffolk, said that in 1790, £1,300,000 worth of stock was bought and invested in the names of John Grainger, John Collis, Edward Collis, Sr., and Edward Collis, Jr., for the benefit of the late named, Miss Collis's father who was then aged two. A further sum was invested between 1790 and 1816 for the benefit of the same person, but no particulars of it could be ascertained. All the persons referred to had died, and Miss Collis, as the sole surviving child of the last survivor, claimed the money. The bank authorities had refused to allow the list to be inspected, but it had been ascertained that in 1822 the dividends were unclaimed, and the names appeared in the list published before her held it as an article of faith that the money belonged to them. The Lord Chief Justice said the court did not want to prevent a rule being issued, but the allegations were of the vaguest character, and if counsel took a rule on the present materials it would be at his peril. "I know a great many people who go about the world imagining they have untold millions," added the Lord Chief Justice. "I cannot think this matter would have been allowed to rest for fifty or sixty years without anything being done. Take your rule, but you need not draw it up if you cannot get better affidavits."—London Express.

CLEVER COLLIES.

Conductor Geraghty, meeting some Warwick friends on the train the other day, was led by them to talk about the famous prize winning collie dogs, a number of which can be seen from the train windows as it makes its run.

Another dog is quartered at a house where the trainman serves a paper every day, and the dog meets the train and always carries the mail bag to the home.

Another peculiarity of these dogs is that they will not be boarded out at every place. They have likes and dislikes, and positively will not be boarded at some places.

Coyote Hunting.

Poisoning with strychnine is a favorite means of killing coyotes in the southwest. The poison must be carefully prepared or the bait will not be touched by the wary animal.

Another method of poisoning coyotes is to put the strychnine in chunks of meat that can be easily swallowed. A small animal—a bleeding dead rabbit is good—drizzled over the prairie and the morsels of bait left along the drag.

THRUMS.

In the prosaic nomenclature of the retail drug tables Thrums is Kirriemuir. It might better be called "Barriemuir" for the name and fame of Barrie were it found about as with a magic name.

Kirriemuir, where Mr. Barrie was born, is a charming little town, 125 miles north of Glasgow, about half way between Dundee and Aberdeen.

The magnificent hotel bar-rooms, which were a feature of Broadway a decade ago, are being driven from the field by the boudoir buffet. Rough girdles are of soft satin or taffeta, or even of metal cloth.

Rough cloths are made into Princess walking suits with an extra bolero.

Knockabout coats a l'Anglaise are made of the fine crizets and handsome chevrons.

Silk net, in a square mesh, forms the groundwork of many a distinguished trimming.

Narrow black velvet ribbons are set on one-green cloth dress in finely-laced bands.

Redingotes that form deep points in back and front are an imposing feature of the skirts flaring in graceful folds.

Blouses are dainty masses of exquisite material finely tucked, fluted and embroidered. There are folds and pipings, too.

RESCUED FROM THE DEADLY CLUTCHES

One More Cure of Bright's Disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Smith's Falls, Ont., Oct. 16.—Mr. Theodore Young, a well-known citizen of this place, is one of the many Canadians who have been rescued from the clutches of the much-dreaded Bright's disease, by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"For two years," says Mr. Young, in relating his experience, "I was afflicted with Bright's disease. The doctors told me I could get no relief. My urine was very dark and I lost considerable blood, making me so weak I could scarcely stand. I also used many medicines without getting relief."

"Hearing of wonderful cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills led me to try them, and after using the first box I found great relief. After using four boxes I was able to go to work, which I had been unable to do for some time. I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all who are afflicted as I was."

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure Bright's disease, the most advanced stage of kidney disease. How much more easily will they cure the earlier stages of Kidney Disease.

EXPANSION OF CONCRETE.

British Engineer's Experiment With a Block of Cement.

The cement pavements in many of the residence sections of the city very clearly show the effects of expansion and contraction due to changes in temperature. In well-laid pavements these movements are anticipated and provision made therefor, so that the destruction of the pavement is averted.

The amount of expansion of concrete has been very beautifully demonstrated in a practical way by an English engineer. He had constructed, a few years ago, a block of four-to-one granite concrete, 100 feet in length and one foot square, built on rollers, so as to be free to expand in any direction.

For the past three years the movements of the block during winter and summer have been noted and curiously the expansion due to absorption of moisture from the atmosphere was discovered to be as great as that due to summer heat.

Assuming a maximum range of temperature of 80 degrees, the normal expansion was found to be about 5-16 inch in 100 feet.

It is pointed out, however that masses of concrete having a larger cross-sectional area would not exhibit as great relative variation in contraction and expansion.

The Lazy Baby. Here is a curious bit of reasoning on the part of a little girl in a North of England boarding school. The examiner wished to get the children to express moral reprobation of lazy people, and he led up to it by asking who were the persons who got all they could and did nothing in return. For some time there was silence; but at last the little girl, who had obviously reasoned out the answer inductively from her own home experiences, exclaimed with a good deal of confidence, "Please, sir, it's the baby!"

Better Than She Deserved. Bishop Olmstead, of Colorado, was urging a rich man to contribute generously to the support of the church.

"Give freely," he said. "Don't lay yourself open to such a rebuke as old Mrs. Simmers got from her grandson in Bala."

"Old Mrs. Simmers was well to do, but parsimonious. She went to a Methodist chapel on Bala's outskirts. She attended all the chapel's meetings, very regularly, but the sums she put in the collection plate would certainly enrich no one."

"One Sunday morning the old lady took her little grandson to the chapel with her. The boy sat through the service very dutifully. He watched everything with bright and hawklike eyes. And he took a deep interest in the discussion that followed at the farm during dinner."

"Did Lucy Jones wear her pink muslin?" Mrs. Simmers' daughter asked. And "Was the Brown girl there?" and "Did Miss Lena Larkin have that Johnson feller again?" Finally came the question:

"How was the sermon?" "Poor," said Grandma Simmers emphatically. "Miserable!"

"But, grandma," said the little boy, "what could you expect for a penny?"

Charged With Pet Dog. A Japanese officer tells this story of the battle of Mookden: "In one of the engagements I found a pretty little Pekinese spaniel wandering about between the two battle lines. It came to me and I whistled; it evidently belonged to some Russian officer and was tame and affectionate. I am keeping it for myself. I suppose the owner is not likely to return to claim it. Once when we charged a Russian shelter trench success, the little fellow could not keep up with us with his short legs and long coat, so with my kametsu (sword) in my right hand I held the little creature, panting, under my left arm, and charged. The grave sergeant major laughed. Well he might!"

A Fierce Howling Mob Threatens the Residences of Several of the "Machine" Men.

Durham and Senator M'Nicholl Denounced as Thieves and Mob Ready for Mischief.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 23.—Under the influence of impassioned speeches directed against the organization leaders, a crowd of several thousand men angrily marched from in front of the Academy of Music to the homes of Israel W. Durham, and Senator M'Nicholl last night, following the reception of Governor Folk.

Let's move on Durham. As the Academy poured out its throngs, there was a rush down Broad street to the home of Mr. Durham, No. 1410 Spruce street, singing "Let's Hang Durham to the Sour Apple Tree" and similar songs, the mob became more dense and more terrible.

Fully 3000 strong, men and women, some of whom had rushed from the hotels and the Academy, crowded into Spruce street while the leaders of the mob denounced Durham.

Never in the annals of Philadelphia politics was such an aroused public opinion shown as was hurled at the threshold of his own home. The street was packed from curb to curb with a howling mob that would have done violence had the occasion offered.

Men and women rushed to the windows of the Spruce home and listened to the hoarse cries of disapproval hurled against Durham.

The leader of the marching army, Charles Moore, standing upon a soap box, harangued the crowd and poured invectives upon the heads of the machine.

"You hypocrites!" he cried. "We, an outraged public, have come to your very home to show you that we disapprove almost to revolution your thieving and prostituting of the public wealth. We have come to you to say that there is a just God, and that you have to repent of your evils and make restitution of your ill-gotten gains."

The hoists of the mob rose above the words of the speaker and menacing cries were continually heard. Charles Holme, of the 24th Ward, another of the leaders, ascending the impromptu rostrum, surrounded by an ever increasing throng, continued to stir up the feeling of the aroused citizens.

"Here lives a man in opulence and luxury," said he. "How did he make his money, I ask? I see you all know," as the crowd shouted, "By robbery."

"Yes, by robbing the city right and left. He lives in a house built out of the public treasury. In common parlance he is a thief and robber."

The fury of the mob was let loose when the leader lustily denounced Durham as a thief. There was a rush for the door, but some clear-headed speaker restrained the movement by saying that Durham had not yet moved into his new home.

"Lead the way to M'Nicholl's," yelled a man in the heart of the mob. A city party transparency was picked up somewhere on the line of march, and the mob sang and shouted as it hurried along to West Logan square.

The great mob stretched out before Senator M'Nicholl's mansion like an open fan, and one of the Senator's sons braved the crowd by coming into the vestibule to hear what might be said against the contractor.

"If these were the days of the Commune, my lad, would be hauled out of that house and hanged to the nearest tree," shouted the evangelist, as he waved his arms above his head and implored the mob to hear him.

"Your father, I saw a thief. The stolen from the poor, and your father will do well to prepare to meet his God," continued the agitator, who had despaired of making the mob hear him and who was addressing the boy in the hall, who was there as if to keep the M'Nicholl flag flying and to show that one soul in that house was not afraid.

From M'Nicholl's house the crowd, HELPED VENEZUELAN REVOLUTIONISTS. Evidence That Asphalt Companies Contributed to Assist the Revolution.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Amzi L. Barber, one time President of the National Asphalt Company, testified yesterday in the case of the United States of Venezuela against the New York & Bermuda Asphalt Company, that to the best of his knowledge that company contributed materially to the revolution organized in 1901 by General Manuel A. Matos against the Venezuelan Government.

Hearings in the case which have been proceeding in New York were transferred to Washington yesterday, to take the testimony of Mr. Barber. Evidence was taken before Albert Harper, an examiner in Chancery designated by the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia.

a constitution solely because he was not yet convinced that the nation desired it. M. Witte has intimated that it would be the high mission of the Duma to express the will of the people in this respect, but urged moderation so as to avoid playing into the hands of the reactionary counsellors who surround the throne.

It is difficult to foresee the success of these overtures. The Reformers are profoundly sceptical and suspicious of the Government.

SCARED BEAR UP A TREE. Held the Frightened Animal Till They Got a Gun.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 23.—The largest black bear that has ever been seen in the Nicola Valley has just been killed near Quilohana. John Collett and J. McNeil spotted the bear on the side of a mountain, and after a race of five hundred yards outflanked him and succeeded in treering him. Collett mounted guard at the foot of the tree, while McNeil rode to the ranch house two mile away to secure a gun. The bear made several attempts to escape, but Collett scared him back.

On the arrival of McNeil with the gun the bear was twenty feet up the tree. Collett put two shots in him before he fell, when McNeil put the finishing touches with a revolver. The bear tipped its scales at nearly five hundred pounds, and measured six foot ten inches. The animal was an old-timer, as shown by the much worn teeth.

HUSBAND IN HER ARMS. Woman Carries the Wounded Man Up Mountain Side.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—A despatch to the Record-Herald from Monument, Colo., says: "Up a steep declivity, bearing the limp form of her husband in her arms, Mrs. C. B. Wilson struggled a quarter of a mile to the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, where she stood on the track and made such frantic gestures that the engineer of a fast freight stopped the train and took the injured man on board."

"Mrs. Wilson, who is the wife of the station agent here, accidentally shot her husband while hunting yesterday. He dropped to the ground insensible, but the plucky woman, although weighing less than 115 pounds, carried the man, who weighs 155 pounds, up the mountainside, but when the train men came to her assistance, she fainted."

ENTERPRISE BANK. SINCE SUICIDE OF CASHIER, ITS AFFAIRS BEING INVESTIGATED.

Pittsburg, Oct. 23.—The investigation of the affairs of the Enterprise National Bank of Allegheny City, the doors of which were closed yesterday afternoon by the comptroller of the currency, following the sensational suicide of T. Lee Clark, the cashier, is making good progress. Far into last night and the early hours of to-day National Bank Examiner Cunningham as receiver, assisted by a large clerical force, labored steadily in an effort to unravel the extent of the bank's financial embarrassment.

The developments following the tragedy and the closing of the bank have been startling, involving as they do the names of several prominent citizens, who have been active in State politics.

POLICE SWAM OUT AND CAPTURED TWO MEN IN FORTY FEET OF WATER.

New York, Oct. 23.—Two arrests by policemen swimming across Pelham Bay in pursuit of two fugitives to-day were made in deep water several hundred feet off shore. The prisoners captured in this aquatic chase were Wm. Wilkins, of Greenwich, Conn., and Frederick Odell, of Brooklyn, both of whom had been stealing a ride on a freight train. They jumped into the bay when seen by the policemen. The officers swam out in pursuit, each one holding his revolver in his teeth. The race lasted several minutes and the arrests were made in over forty feet of water. In court the prisoners were put on their good behavior for three months, each one furnishing $100 bail.

GERMAN PEOPLE. Not Excited Over Betrothal of Kaiser's Second Son.

London, Oct. 23.—The World publishes a despatch from Berlin, saying the betrothal of Prince Eitel, the Emperor's second son, to Duchess Sophie Charlotte of Oldenburg has excited comparatively little interest in Germany, for which fact the disparity between the ages of the couple, the duchess being four and a half years older than the prince, is mainly responsible. Lotia, as the Emperor always calls her, has a decided passion for the sea, and has accompanied her father, the Grand Duke of Oldenburg, on many cruises. She is of a studious nature, and has shown a little inclination for court life. The betrothal illustrates the matrimonial policy of the Kaiser, who desires to strengthen the bonds of relationship between the House of Prussia and the Houses of the Federated States.

A WREATH FROM CANADA. Sons and Daughters of England in St. Catharines Sent It.

London, Oct. 23.—In connection with the Nelson centennial a wreath has just arrived from St. Catharines from the Victoria and Britannia Lodges, Sons and Daughters of England. It is to be given to Lord Strathcona at the Nelson centennial dinner given by the Fishermen's Company on the eve of Trafalgar Day and handed over to the Prime Minister, and will then be taken on Saturday to the Royal Albert Hall demonstration. It is especially requested that it be sent to the Prince of Wales in the name of the boys and girls of Canada.

READY FOR TROUBLE. FRANCE WILL KEEP THE STATES POSTED AS TO VENEZUELA.

Paris, Oct. 23.—The French armored cruiser Desaix, understood to be bound for Venezuelan waters, did not put into Brest after leaving Cherbourg, Oct. 16, as it was announced she would do, but passed the Island of Ushant, heading direct for the French Antilles. For the present the cruisers Lavoisier and Chasseloup Laubat will be held at Brest, as the situation may not require their presence in West Indian waters.

The officials here say that the published report that the French squadron would either to bombard some coastal point such as Cumana or Barcelona or else seize Venezuelan shipping, is an exaggeration, as the only decision arrived at is to have ships in readiness, the nature of the demonstration being determined on later if the attitude of Venezuela requires a resort to force. At the same time the officials are sincerely anxious to avoid the necessity of adopting force in any event. The United States will be fully advised in advance concerning the nature of any coercive measures.

EDWARD THE PEACEMAKER. King's Speech at Laying of Corner Stone of General Post Office.

London, Oct. 23.—King Edward, who was accompanied by Queen Alexandra and the Prince and Princess of Wales, to-day laid the foundation-stone of the immense new General Post Office buildings on the site on Newgate street formerly occupied by Christ's Hospital, better known as the Bluecoat School. The King concluded a brief speech by saying that he earnestly hoped the additional facilities for intercommunication would assist in binding the Empire closer "and in establishing among the nations of the world that peace and good-will which I have so much at heart."

The Canadian High Commissioner, Lord Strathcona; United States Ambassador Whitwell Reid; and Baron Hayashi, the Japanese Minister, were among the many members of the Diplomatic Corps present.

BARON FEJERVARY HAS BEEN REAPPOINTED PREMIER OF HUNGARY.

Budapest, Hungary, Oct. 23.—In an autograph letter to Gen. Baron Fejervary, gazetted to-day, the Emperor-King says that as it has not been found possible to form a new Hungarian Cabinet from the ranks of the coalition party, Baron Fejervary has been reappointed Premier so as to provide for the conduct of the affairs of state on a responsible and constitutional basis.

Referring to his declarations to the leaders of the coalition party, His Majesty says that if they are properly interpreted they will show a complete understanding between the crown and the nation regarding the independence guaranteed by the constitution.

ULTIMATUM TO VENEZUELA. France Must Receive Satisfaction or There Will be Trouble.

Paris, Oct. 23.—The Matin says that as Venezuela has given France no satisfaction for the abrogation of the French Cable Company's charter and the breach of relations with the French Charge d'Affaires, the French Government has been obliged to draw up an ultimatum, which will be presented to the Caracas Government.

The armored cruiser Desaix, with Admiral Boue de la Peyriere on board, sailed from Cherbourg on this afternoon for Fort de France, Martinique. She will be joined en route by the cruisers Lavoisier, Trude, Chasseloup, Laubat and Jurien de la Graviere. The movement is in connection with the trouble with Venezuela, but the squadron will await orders before acting.

TO WED CO-RESPONDENT. Lady Hartopp, Divorced, Will Become Wife of Earl Cowley.

London, Oct. 23.—It is announced that Lady Hartopp, who in April last was divorced by Sir Charles Hartopp after a sensational trial, has gone to Colombo, Ceylon, where she will marry Earl Cowley, the co-respondent in the case.

Lady Hartopp is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Wilson, of Warner Priory, Yorkshire. Lady Hartopp and her sisters were remarkable for their beauty, and were popular in society. In 1902 when the divorce case was heard, but in 1903 Sir Charles Hartopp filed another petition and as Lady Hartopp abandoned her defence, a decree nisi was granted.

TWO YOUTHFUL BURGLARS. Had Cleaned Out Churches, Residences and Business Places.

Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 23.—The many burglaries of churches, residences and business places, which have puzzled the police of Binghamton, N. Y., for weeks were cleared up this morning, when two precocious infants, Frank and Willie Sullivan, eight and six years old, owned up that alone and unassisted they committed the several crimes, and revealed the hiding place of the assorted booty.

KILLED WITH POKER. HUSBAND SAYS THE BLOW WAS INTENDED FOR HER COMPANION.

Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—Patrick Moon, a laborer, aged 36 years, killed his wife early to-day with a poker. Moon gave himself up to the police. He said that on returning home he found his wife attempting to strike McCormick. He attempted to strike McCormick with the poker, and his wife rushed between them and received the blow which crushed her skull, killing her instantly.

CALVES AND BABY BEEF. Baby beef is the highly finished product that sells for the highest figure because the muscles, tendons and tissues are not hardened by age and use. It is tender and juicy, like a caggy, young tree. It costs, on the average, about 3c to make 1 lb. of gain at one year, and about 7c at two years, and so on, because the digestive powers are more energetic in younger than in older stock. There should be no let up in feeding the 365 days of the year. Clydesdale Stock Food can be fed with the greatest benefit to calves, especially with Separator Milk, as it takes the place of the extracted butter fats. It prevents "scours," therefore, there is no "let up" in growth. It has the bone and muscle producing ingredients that help to build a frame on which to put the tender flesh quickly and at a profit. Nothing injurious in it, and can stop feeding it without harmful effects. Human beings can take it with benefit. We take it every day. Your money cheerfully refunded by the dealer if any Clydesdale Preparations do not give satisfaction. Try Hercules Poultry Food. CLYDESDALE STOCK FOOD CO., LIMITED, TORONTO.

WITZHOFF CONFESSES TO HAVING THIRTY-TWO WIVES.

He Tells How He Began His Criminal Career and Speaks of His Many Marriages.

New York, Oct. 23.—The Evening Journal publishes to-day the first instalment of the most remarkable criminal autobiography ever written, the confessions of Arch-burglar Dr. Geo. A. Witzhoff.

The autobiography was sent by Witzhoff to Miss Alice Bell, a young girl whom he deceived and deserted in New Cross, a suburb of London, Eng., and was obtained from her by the London Evening News, the newspaper owned by Sir Alfred Harmsworth.

In the letter which accompanied the amazing human document which he sent to Miss Bell, he announced his intention of repenting and living quietly on a Roumanian estate.

In Roumania, Witzhoff is known as F. A. Stoltz, and he signs those initials to the preface of his confession. Besides the preface, which is given below without change, he wrote the following headline for his story: "Bluebeard's True Life Story. The American Arch-burglar. The man with 32 names and 32 (married) wives. Written and told by himself."

The Preface. If all the girls and women I promised to marry and got on short pension money from, would put up it would not amount to 100, but here with I give the real facts of all my wrong-doings and have only 32 (women married) wives.

I was born in Neuchatel, Switzerland, of very well-to-do and respectable parents in January, 1864. In 1889 I came to the United States again and started a pharmacy with the money I inherited from my father at Twenty-Third and State streets, Chicago. I had a splendid income at the age of 27.

I met at my pharmacy a famous surgeon engaged in malpractice. We became friends and practiced together until 1896, when we got into trouble, and were put under $5,000 bond each. I had a friend, Signor Nicola Badillo, who gave a cash bond for me of $5,000.

I skipped away to Canada, and started a dental practice in Montreal, at No. 211 Laurier street, as Dr. C. Colby, and had a good practice. I attended Christian Science meetings and thus got a lot of patients.

One morning, at 5 in the morning, a knock came to my door and I grabbed my revolver. I opened the door, and there stood my friend, Badillo, whom I knew had scoured the country for me, and said: "Albert, I am your friend, and I will tell you how to pay me the money back. As your name is not Colby, it don't matter. I know a widow who has plenty of money and you marry her and get the money and pay your debt to me!"

He introduced me the same evening to Mrs. Russell, and we got married. Ten days after we went to Niagara Falls on our honeymoon trip.

There, one night, after indulging in plenty of wine, she confessed she had an illegitimate child in Pittsburg. I left her child, which was nine years old, in St. Louis, and went to New York with her money ($4,000) and paid my friend part of a dentist in Fourteenth street as Dr. A. R. Houser.

I went to see a watchmaker. He introduced me to two weeks at the city hall, New York.

She had all her money loaned, so I was compelled to seek another one, as Sig. Badillo was hard after his balance of $1,000. I went to Philadelphia and got a Jewish watchmaker again on Fifteenth street and Fairmont avenue, and he introduced me to a Miss Jockey as Dr. Houser.

I got $800 from her. I paid Badillo $500 and left for Springfield, Mass., where a woman answered one of my ads. I had about 12 answers to this "ad," and I picked out a boarding house mistress and ten days after she was Mrs. Westfield, and as she was a vulgar woman, I left her in two days.

She had given me $500. I returned to New York with wife No. 2, and a week after I went to St. Louis, and inserted an "ad" as previously, and got 15 answers. There I selected a farmer's daughter and married her as Dr. Doesser. I married and left her all within a week.

I went to Detroit with her money, $350, and started a dentist practice as A. Houser. In answer to my advertisement in a German paper, Mrs. Pieser came. I went to Toledo, O., five days after our first interview and we got married. I left her six days after. "I came now to Pittsburg as Dr. Wolfe, got a furnished room in Allegheny. In answer to an "ad" in a German paper a sexton's daughter answered, the ugliest I ever had. Three days after we went to the justice of the peace and got married. There I slept the first night, and on the next morning I was on my way to Cleveland, and started a nice practice with the $150 I had left, as I paid the balance to my friend, Badillo, and inserted an "ad" in the Plain Dealer. "I had 22 answers to my "ad," and selected only three, a Mrs. Moore, a nurse, and a Mrs. Kreidman. I got from the nurse $100, and was making first love to Mrs. Kreidman and Mrs. Moore when I got a letter from wife No. 3, whom I corresponded with all the time, telling her I travelled for a firm. "So I left, and as I forgot in Cleveland a paper under a tablecloth which had my addresses in Brooklyn one morning (ten days after I left Cleveland) two detectives came to the house in Brooklyn and arrested me. There was no bail for my offence (obtaining money under false pretences). I was returned to Cleveland a week after, and there I married a bad woman in jail, Mrs. Kreidman.

"She gave $200 bond, but I left four days after, as she was a bad woman. I slept only one night at her house, and three days after I went to Chicago and went to see a matrimonial agent at 55 Washington street. He introduced me to a nice Jewess, and her father gave me $400. I started an office on Fourteenth street, when a man from Philadelphia recognized me, and told her father, a rag picker, that I was a married man, just in time to prevent the marriage. "I left Chicago (Dr. A. Westen) and came to St. Louis, where I started an office on Olive street, as Dr. A. Dresser, and there I advertised and selected from a number of letters a farmer's daughter that had $1,000, and married her (Katie). Six days after I left her and left America and came to Roumania and married a Jewish girl, in Pitest, and lived in Roumania as Dr. F. A. Stoltz. "Happy six months. I got 3,000 francs and we left for Germany. There we had a quarrel, and she returned to her parents."

POTATO ROT

The November, 1904, crop bulletin of the Ontario Bureau of Industries stated that considerable rot had appeared on potatoes, especially where the crop was grown on heavy soils or on low lying land. The extent of the loss was variously estimated at from 20 to 50 per cent. This "rot" or "wet" is quite distinct from the so-called "blight." At first sight most of the potatoes appear to be sound, but on examination the skin over certain areas is found to be discolored, and on pressure the part beneath is soft. On breaking the skin a turbid liquid can be easily pressed out. This liquid may contain gas bubbles and turns black on exposure to air. The skin from affected parts easily peels away and the newly exposed flesh is watery and white, but soon discolors in the air, becoming almost black. Later the flesh softens to a white, watery pulp, with a highly offensive, with a putrefactive odor. Finally, the potato becomes a mass of black soft pulp.

The stem of the potato may or may not be affected. In the former case the base of the stems becomes colored and black, then the leaves above wilt, and the entire stem falls over. If a piece of diseased stem is cut open the fibrous strands in it (the fibrovascular bundles) will be found brown to black in color.

The cause of the "blight," which particularly affects the leaves, is a fungus, and the Bordeaux mixture, properly made and applied, will kill this disease in check, but the wet or soft rot cannot be managed by spraying with this mixture, because the disease is present in the roots and tubers and hence cannot be got at. The cause of the "rot" disease is a bacterium, a minute rod about 1-20,000 of an inch long, which grows with great rapidity in the tissue of the potato and secretes a substance which has a dissolving action in the cell walls which hold the starch walls and other contents of the cell in place, when these cell walls are destroyed the potato becomes watery and soft, putrefaction sets in and the tuber is destroyed.

The Bacteriological Department of the Ontario Agricultural College, which has been studying the disease, has found that it is like to ascertain if the disease in various parts of Ontario is similar to the one with which it has been working, and hence caused so much damage last year, and hence would like farmers troubled with this disease to mail an affected potato and state at the same time if they were troubled with the soft or wet rot last year, and to what extent the rot is present in the present season's crop.
