

MET DEATH WITH A SMILE ON HIS FACE.

Went to Death Chair With No Sign of Fear and Died Instantly.

Shot Saloon-Keeper Because He Was Refused a Drink and Put Out.

Ossining, N. Y., Nov. 18.—John W. Wenzel, the murderer of Geo. Spatz, a Brooklyn saloonkeeper, went to his death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison to-day with a smile, just as he had promised his sister he would do. The sister visited him in the death house yesterday and before her departure Wenzel said: "I will walk to the chair with a smile on my face and the smile will be for you." Wenzel went to the chair without the slightest show of fear, and as the straps were being adjusted he said good-bye to the warden and one of the witnesses whom he recognized. A moment later the electric current was turned on. Death was almost instantaneous. Wenzel had been released from the penitentiary only about a week when he killed Spatz. He had served a term for burglary. The day he left the penitentiary he visited Spatz's saloon and asked for a drink. The saloonkeeper refused to serve him, and finally ejected him from the saloon. Wenzel left the place, vowing vengeance. The following Sunday he returned to the saloon, armed with a revolver, and shot Spatz to death.

SELECTION OF A STUDENT FOR CHALMERS' CHURCH.

Meeting For That Purpose on Wednesday Evening—Has One Already Been Chosen?

When Rev. Mr. Sarkissian resigned from the pastoral charge of Chalmers' Presbyterian Church on the Mountain Top at the East End Incline, it was arranged that the congregation should hear several students from Knox College and then select by vote of the congregation the one who would take charge of the church for the winter months. Three students have already been heard, Mr. Arthurs was the preacher last evening. During the service he announced that a meeting of the members and adherents of the congregation would be held on Wednesday evening next to choose the student, who was to take charge. He asked all to be present, because if they were not they could not vote or have any voice in selecting the man chosen. He said several students had been heard with a view to taking charge but as Mr. Sarkissian had already selected the man who was to come he (Mr. Arthurs) withdrew from the contest entirely, and did not wish his name to go before the Wednesday night meeting. Later on he explained, that, in case he should be misunderstood, he might say that the congregation had selected the man, and who had consented to come, and he was sure they would all be pleased with him. From what can be learned it is understood that some of the members of the church were so well pleased with the preaching of the first student that they made up their minds that he was the man they wanted. This news found its way to Toronto, with the result that Mr. Arthurs declined to stand for the position. Whether Wednesday night's meeting will ratify what has been done remains to be seen. Chalmers' Church is doing such good work on the mountain and is altogether so prosperous that it is hoped there will be no trouble at the meeting in this connection, and it is not expected that there will be. It is admitted, however that Mr. Arthurs could have taken no other course than he did. He preached quite an interesting sermon on the temptations of Christ. The church was crowded.

THREE HORSES

Suffocated in a Fire at Thomson's Lumber Yard.

Saturday night about 8.30 the firemen were called to Thomson's lumber yard, where the stable on Napier street was in flames from an unknown cause. They were soon on the spot, and streams of water were poured in. The fire lasted quite a while. Three horses which were in the stable were suffocated. Hay, harness and other things were all destroyed, but the walls of the stable, which were of rough-cast, were not damaged. The loss will come to about $1,600, mostly covered by insurance.

This morning the department were called to 16 Charlton avenue, the residence of Mrs. McGill. Mrs. McGill had been working in the cellar with a lamp, when she went upstairs to answer the door bell. When she returned to the cellar it was in flames, the lamp having probably upset. The department was called and soon had the flames under. The cellar was scorched pretty badly, but it is not thought that the loss will be very heavy. Mrs. McGill had her hair singed and inhaled considerable smoke, but it is not thought that she will be any the worse.

The Bay Street company was called out on Saturday afternoon to attend a foul chimney at 138 Main street west, the residence of Mrs. Chevillie. There was no damage done.

TERMINAL OPENING.

Electric Cars of Three Roads Ran in To-Day.

The new terminal station at the corner of King and Catharine streets was formally opened this morning, and the passenger cars of the Radial Railway, H. G. & B. R. and the H. & D. Railway ran to and from it, and hereafter this will be the Hamilton terminal for them. The H. G. & B. cars and the Dundas cars come in from King west via Catharine street, and go out on Main street. For the present the Dundas and Radial express cars will run from the Gore street station. The tracks on Gore street will not be taken up, and the theatre specials in the evening will run right through to the Grand Opera House. The Brantford & Hamilton Electric Railway will run its cars into the "Terminal" too. The offices of the three roads mentioned, as well as the City Street Railway offices are now in the Terminal Station. There was no formality about the opening. The station yard will not be finished till next spring, as it is anticipated the tracks will sink some, they being laid on "made ground."

In connection with the laymen's forward movement for missions First Congregational Church will hold a special meeting next Monday evening. Dr. Patton, of Boston, and Rev. Hilton Pedley, of Japan, will speak after tea, which will be served in the school room. Rev. Mr. Pedley will preach on Sunday morning.

Their Majesties Leave London

London, Nov. 18.—The official visit of Emperor William and Empress Augusta Victoria to King Edward and Queen Alexandra was concluded to-day, when they both left Windsor, the Empress proceeding to Holland, where she will visit Queen Wilhelmina, and the Emperor going to Highcliff Castle, where he will spend several weeks in recuperation.

MRS. JEPPE DEAD.

She Claimed to Be the Wealthiest Woman in Windsor.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 18.—After an illness of two weeks, Mrs. Catharine K. Jepp, who claimed to be the wealthiest woman in Windsor, is dead at her home. Mrs. Jepp was the widow of William Jepp, the contractor who built the western section of the old Great Western Railway, and resided in Windsor for about twenty years. Her nearest relatives are a brother in Silverdale, Ont., and a sister in California. Mrs. Jepp was 79 years old.

AGAINST BROTHER.

Mulai Hafid to March Against Sultan of Morocco.

Paris, Nov. 18.—A correspondent in Morocco of the Matin has secured an interview with Mulai Hafid, the Sultan of the south, who declared that he was about to march against his brother, Abd El Aziz, the Sultan of Morocco. Hafid said he hoped France would not assist his brother, as otherwise he would be forced to fight her, too, and in this event all of Morocco would arise in a holy war. "God will be our leader," he said, "and neither I nor any other Mussulman will be able to control this movement."

MURDERED 63

London, Nov. 18.—In a despatch from Tokio the correspondent of the Times says that the revolt of a company of Chinese troops in Formosa resulted in the murder of 63 Japanese policemen and civilians. The incident has caused uneasiness in Tokio, the correspondent declares, as the loyalty of the Chinese mercenaries had hitherto been unquestioned.

DUMONT FAILED.

Paris, Nov. 18.—M. Santos-Dumont made an unsuccessful attempt yesterday to win the Archdeacon prize of $10,000 for the first aeroplane to complete a circle around Paris in the air. He made use of his new butterfly-shaped machine. He succeeded only in making several short flights, and it was plain that the motor was not powerful enough to drive the aeroplane.

TO VISIT CZAR.

Paris, Nov. 18.—The Matin to-day announces that President Fallieres will visit the Emperor of Russia next year.

PRINCE DEAD.

Father of Twenty-One Children and Left $40,000,000.

Rome, Nov. 18.—Prince Robert Charles Louis Marie de Bourbon, Infanta of Spain, and Duke of Parma, died of heart disease yesterday near Parma. He was born in 1848. He was deprived of his succession to the throne of the Duchy of Parma in 1860, at the age of 12 years, when the duchy was incorporated with the kingdom of Italy. The Prince was twice married, the first time to Maria Pia, Princess of Bourbon, Sicily, and the second to Maria Antoinette, Infanta of Portugal. He was the father of twenty-one children, and leaves a fortune estimated at $40,000,000. The last child, a son, was born June 17, 1905.

HAD TWO WIVES.

Women Find They Have Shared Same Husband.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 18.—A chance acquaintance made in a department store convinced two women that for five years they had called the same man husband. Mrs. Frank Scott and Mrs. Charles Scott went at once to a police station and obtained a warrant for Scott's arrest. When Mrs. Charles Scott showed a locket picture of the man to whom she had been married, Mrs. Frank Scott recognized it as that of her husband. "I married Scott eight years ago in Toledo!" exclaimed Mrs. Frank Scott. "We moved to Cleveland six years ago and have had four children."

CAN EXPLODES.

Heated Can of Tomatoes Bursts With Steam Pressure.

Albion, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Helen Nunemaker, who resides on West Academy street in this village, was seriously hurt while at work in the apple evaporator of Philip La Frois at Eagle Harbor station. She placed a can of tomatoes on a stove to warm to have for part of her dinner. The contents of the can generated steam from the heat, and when Mrs. Nunemaker removed the can and started to open it, it exploded, discharging pieces of tin and the hot tomato liquid into her face and eyes and upon her hands and arms. She was badly cut and scalded, and for a time it was feared she would lose her eyesight as a result of the explosion. Dr. Alfred Jackson, of this village, was quickly summoned, and after dressing the injuries had the patient removed to her home in this village.

LIBERAL NIGHT.

Club Will Be at the Savoy on December 5.

Thursday night, December 5, will be Liberal night at the Savoy Theatre. Manager Appleton promises a night of high-class, refined vaudeville, such as has made the Merricks street house so popular, and the Liberal Club will get a liberal share of the proceeds. Tickets are now in the hands of the members of the club executive from whom they may be had, or from the secretary at the club quarters. A large and fashionable crowd is certain. Most of the boxes have already been spoken for, and all are sure to be sold long before the night of the performance. Persons buying tickets now can get seats reserved at once for the performance.

GRABBED HER PURSE

But it Contained Little—Mink Stole Stolen.

Mrs. Aylett, 187 Caroline street south, reported to the police that on Saturday night, while she was walking near the corner of Bay and Duke streets, a man came up behind her and grabbed her purse. She thought it was her husband and made no effort to retain it, but she quickly found out her mistake when she heard the thief rapidly disappearing. The purse only contained 25 cents.

Miss McLaughlin, of Stanley Mills & Co., reported to the police that on Saturday afternoon a mink stole, valued at $75, was stolen from the cloakroom at the store. She reported her loss to the police immediately, but there is no trace of the fur yet.

RECTOR DEAD.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 18.—Rev. Charles H. Fraser, rector of St. George's Episcopal Church, this city, died on Sunday after an illness of several weeks. He was born near London, Ont., about fifty years ago, and entered the Episcopal ministry at an early age.

LONDON CONSPIRACY CASES ON TRIAL.

Judge Winchester Wanted the Indictment Changed Before He Would Act.

Big Array of Hamilton and Other Legal Talent Engaged on the Case.

Toronto, Nov. 18.—(Special)—The trial of Wm. J. Mallor, John O'Gorman, Daniel Wiley and G. M. Reed, the four Liberal workers who are charged with conspiracy to corrupt the electorate and manipulate ballot boxes, began before Judge Winchester this morning. An array of prominent counsel appeared in the case. Mr. Geo. Lynch-Staunton, of Hamilton, conducted the prosecution, assisted by Mr. John Gault, of Hamilton, and Mr. J. C. Judd, of London. The accused were defended by Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, assisted by Mr. J. M. McEvoy, of London, and Mr. D. E. Wilkie, of Toronto. For a few moments after the opening of the case it looked as though there would be another delay. Judge Winchester started to read the indictment, and when he came to the words "contrary to the peace of our Sovereign Lord and King and to his Crown and dignity," he stepped and asked if the counsel for the prosecution desired to leave that clause. "I certainly intend to leave the indictments in that form," replied Mr. Lynch-Staunton. "Then I fear I cannot try the case," said his Honor. He pointed out that he could only deal with such cases as came under the criminal code, but had no jurisdiction to try any which came under the common law. After some discussion, Mr. Staunton went over the list of alleged offenses, and it was decided that they came under the criminal code. The four prisoners were charged, and elected to be tried by the Judge, pleading not guilty. Mr. Johnston, for the defense, raised several objections as to jurisdiction. Mr. Staunton, for the Crown, said that if the objections were pressed he would simply take the cases to the High Court, where the question of jurisdiction could not be called in question. Mr. Johnston did not further press the objections. The court adjourned until 2 o'clock.

IMPORTANT WITNESS IN DUKE OF PORTLAND CASE.

Detective Huckle Discovers One In Hamilton, and Sets Legal Machinery In Motion.

In connection with the celebrated Duke of Portland case of Druce vs. Druce, which has again been brought into prominence by the criminal proceedings brought by Druce, the claimant, against his cousin, Druce, the holder of the Baker street bazaar, Detective William Huckle, of this city, has just come upon what may be a most important bit of evidence. He has found in Hamilton a professional man who was intimately associated with the eccentric old Duke, and who may be able to throw new light upon the case. This morning Mr. Huckle retained Crerar & Crerar, barristers, in the matter. It is quite probable that a commission may be issued in London to take the testimony of this witness. The suit involves a rich estate of something like 160,000 acres in rich old England, with magnificent buildings, besides the title.

IS ACCUSED OF VAGRANCY; ARRESTED AT WINNIPEG.

Detective Wells Who Worked on Barton Murder Case Is In Trouble.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 18.—(Special).—A telegram bearing the signature of Chief of Police J. C. MacRae, of Winnipeg, has been received at the Attorney-General's Department. It says that William J. Wells, late of the Provincial detective staff, is under arrest in the western city on a charge of vagrancy. Wells, who was employed on the Barton township murder case, lived in Toronto. He disappeared when on a trip to the west and recently turned up in Manitoba. Detective Wells paid many visits to Hamilton two years ago in connection with the Barton murder case. He undoubtedly did good work on that mystery, getting to the bottom of several clues. His peculiar conduct since going on the tour again has been a surprise to his many friends and his arrest will cause a good deal of surprise.

ANOTHER SUSPECT. HAD AN EXPERIENCE

Abraham Davis Supposed to Have Been Anderson's Pal.

Abraham Davis, of 206 Bold street, who was charged with vagrancy in the Police Court this morning and remanded till to-morrow, is suspected of being the second man in the purse snatching that has been going on for some time, the latest case taking place on Saturday evening. Sayers and Robson, plain clothes men, arrested him after having kept their eyes on him for some time. An endeavor will be made this afternoon to have him identified in order that he may be put on his trial with Fred Anderson, who is on remand on the charge of theft. Sayers and Robson arrested both these men.

There has been no purse snatching around Queen street steps since the first arrest was made.

SILVER PLATE.

Dr. Reaume Will Have to Wear One in His Mouth.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 18.—(Special).—Hon. Dr. Reaume, Minister of Public Works, who submitted to an operation at Grace Hospital last week, has gone to his home at Windsor. The operation was for the purpose of closing an aperture left when an affection of the roof of the mouth was affected. The attempt was not successful, and Dr. Reaume will have to wear a silver plate in his mouth in future.

SUNFIELD APPEAL.

Application for a reprieve of Jake Sunfield was made by J. G. Farmer, before Chief Justice Falconbridge, on Saturday. The prisoner was sentenced to hang on Nov. 29. Chief Justice Falconbridge did not grant the application, but he promised to keep in touch with the Court of Appeal, and if that court granted an order for a stated case he would grant a reprieve at once.

LUMBER CUT.

Short This Year Owing to Scarcity of Labor.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 18.—(Special).—The lumber cut in Ontario this year will be somewhat less than the average of the past few seasons, according to the preliminary reports received by the Department of Lands, Forests and Mines. In some instances the lumbermen have not been able to obtain a supply of labor. In other cases they are limiting their cut to keep down their expenses.

Love and Crime

But Lydia Surtees only smiles—a quiet, assured smile of triumph at her baffled foe, and the sweetest and the brightest of smiles at Lord Cardonnell.

"You honor me far above my deserts, my lord," she says, softly. "I appreciate it as highly as it deserves, this honor you would do me, and—if it will make you happy—to say—yet—"

"It will make me very happy, Lydia!" he interrupts, eagerly.

"Then I say yes, my lord," she replies, sweetly, and raises his hand to her lips; and the earl, flushing and palpitating like a schoolboy, kisses her brow.

With one swift glance of measureless contempt at both, Mrs. Mallibrane is brushing past, when Lydia Surtees boldly detains her, with her hand on her arm.

"That slim, white hand, so softly laid on the silk sleeve, has a hold like a vise. I regret to say that I have your disapproval, Mrs. Mallibrane," Lydia says, softly; "but I can convince you, in a few minutes that you are in the wrong when you utterly refuse me your countenance and friendship. If Lord Cardonnell will leave us together for a few minutes you will see, and I will be brought to acknowledge to him that you have been rather unjust. I am sure you will," she repeats, looking into Mrs. Mallibrane's eyes steadfastly.

"And I am equally sure that I never will," Mrs. Mallibrane answers, furiously, trying to shake off the detaining hand. "How dare you attempt to keep me here by force?"

"Because you would be very sorry if I let you go," retorts Lydia Surtees, smiling enigmatically. "Dear Lord Cardonnell, if you will leave us for ten minutes, for a little, confidential talk, Mrs. Mallibrane will come to a perfect understanding."

"Cardonnell! Ring the bell as I told you," Mrs. Mallibrane pants.

"Lord Cardonnell, do not ring the bell," says Lydia Surtees, "but please do as I told you, my dear lord, and leave us."

And, with an admiring glance at his courageous Lydia, his lordship, very glad to escape, bows, and hurries out of the room.

"You are an audacious woman!" Mrs. Mallibrane gasps, with dry, livid lips, and pulling at the collar of her mantle as if she is choking.

"You were just as audacious some four-and-twenty years ago!" retorts Miss Surtees, sweetly. "You—for the sake of Keith Lindsay, the Australian farmer, I—for the sake of Ruthven Lindsay, the Earl of Cardonnell. You and I ought to be friends, and not enemies, dear Mrs. Mallibrane—each knowing the other's weakness. Sit down, do—and don't give way to your temper so dreadfully; you may drop dead if you do! I fear you have heart disease, by your appearance."

Mrs. Mallibrane sits down, as she is bidden, because she is simply incapable of standing beneath this new shock of mortification and rage combined.

"Yes," Miss Surtees continues, in an easy, contemplative tone, enjoying her role of torturer, "I have dared a good deal to win what I wanted—though ambition and pride tempt me to an affection very prudently. Naturally enough, you greatly desire the rank and title of a countess, as well as a husband who is a scholar and a gentleman, and who devotedly loves me!"

"Sparks of triumph seem to flash from her dilating eyes as she smiles cruelly at her enemy, visibly cowed already."

"But you dared a great deal more, and were fifty times more 'audacious' than I have been, when you tried to win what you wanted, Mrs. Mallibrane. Nearly five-and-twenty years ago, when you were a widow over forty, and were so madly in love with Keith Lindsay, the handsome, young, colonial sheep farmer, that you actually asked him to marry you, though he was thirteen years younger than you, with neither fortune nor position, and, worse than all—a married man!"

"Was it Lord Cardonnell who told you this infamous falsehood?" Mrs. Mallibrane asks, in a low, half-whispering voice.

She looks a very old, broken, wasted woman, with her head sunk between her shoulders, as if she is collapsing in her chair beneath the weight of his discovery. The discovery that the disagree she had deemed safely hidden, near a quarter of a century ago, is common property, liable to be flung at her with jeers and taunts by everyone who knows her and hates her for her arrogance and her merciless tongue.

The disgrace of that time, when she humbled herself to the dust in her mad, blind, unwomanly passion for a handsome young fellow, who had merely looked upon her in the light of a sort of lady patroness, this wealthy, middle-aged widow, who so graciously and kindly gave him the entire of her house, and her dinner parties, and supper parties, and made his stay in London during the season so very enjoyable.

Until the fatal evening, he had come back to supper with her after the opera; she remembers as well to this hour the gown she wore—a vivid crimson silk, which became her sallow pallor and her jet-black hair and dark eyes to perfection. The fatal evening, when vanity and desire together blinded her, and she lowered herself for evermore in the eyes of a man who never, under any circumstances, could she have inspired with love for her, but who, there and then, could not conceal from her that she disgusted him, and that he despised her.

She remembers, in this very hour, with the same thrill of murderous, jealous hate and burning shame that she felt then, that he had thrust her acrossing arms away, with a look of angry repugnance in his dark-blue eyes, and a flush of angry astonishment on his proud, handsome face.

"There must be some misunderstanding, Mrs. Mallibrane—some extraordinary misunderstanding!" she exclaimed, harshly, in his agitation. "You—you can't be earnest! You are only jesting! You must know—you must have heard—I've made no secret of it—that I have a wife, a young wife whom I love, and two little children!"

"You never told me you were married!" she cried; "never! I never was told you were married—never! never! You have deceived me! You have insulted and deceived me! Do you mean to tell me you are legally married?"

"Certainly I am," he said, coldly; "you you do not—and she did not. I have forfeited her friendship, I fear, by venturing to speak against Mr. Lindsay—to warn her."

"You spoke against him—you warned her! And you say she was displeased!" Mrs. Mallibrane asks, quickly, and the "familiar" quivers in the tremor of her angry clutch.

"She was more than displeased," Miss Surtees says, with a quick sigh; "she was greatly excited—hysterical, almost. She said the harshest, angriest, cruellest things to me. I was so grieved and frightened that I fainted. I have never felt quite well since. I was shaken in that railway collision some time ago."

"That accident near St. Gray's?" questions the old lady, with a malicious gleam in her eyes. She has been "putting two and two together," and so guesses correctly enough where and how Miss Surtees forced an entrance into the Cardonnell family. "You were in that? It wasn't a collision; the coaches went over the embankment," she says, with sharp correction. "Two or three of you were killed, I believe!"

"I wasn't killed, at all events," Miss Surtees says, with a wintry smile. "Two persons were killed. Please don't speak of it. Well, as I have said, I warned Lady Christabel of the danger of an intimacy with this man—"

PASSING OF A SLANG WORD.
Once the Sign "Rubber" Provoked a Laugh, But Not Now.

"Curious how ready we Americans are to adopt slang words," said the man who had finished reading a Boston paper. "And we drop them quite as suddenly after they have penetrated into remote sections of the country and seemingly become a part of our daily speech."

"I was reminded of this while coming through on the train from Boston this morning. For a number of years I have travelled back and forth at regular intervals between New York and Boston, and have become more or less familiar with the country along the route."

"At one point the train passes close by a large rubber manufacturing plant. Abutting on the railroad a long stretch of newly kept grounds and in the centre, in full view of passing trains, is erected a sign bearing the single word:

RUBBER.

"A few years ago every time we would pass that sign there would be a mild commotion in the car. Some would turn on their fellow passengers expansive grins, as though they had just accomplished a huge joke; others would be convulsed with suppressed laughter, and once as we passed the place a man behind me poked a long bony finger into the small of my back and then chuckled gleefully.

"I was thinking of this as we approached that town this morning and took pains to note what effect the sign would have. Most of the passengers were looking out of the windows, and as a result I was able to see that the sign had no effect on them. There was no indication, however, that it received more than a passing

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST Homestead Regulations

ANY one numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the North-West Provinces, excepting 8 and 35, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person the sole head of a family, or male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for homestead entry must be made personally at any Sub-agent's office, or by proxy, made at an Agency on certain lands, or by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

An application for entry or cancellation made personally at any Sub-agent's office may be wired to the Agent by the Sub-agent, at the expense of the applicant, and if the land is in favour of father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader, the application will be held until the necessary papers to complete the transaction are received by mail.

In case of "persecution" or fraud the applicant will forfeit all priority of claim or if notice of cancellation has been granted it will be summarily cancelled.

An application for cancellation must be made in person. The applicant must be eligible for homestead entry, and no application for cancellation will be received from an individual until that application has been disposed of.

Where an entry is cancelled subsequent to institution of cancellation proceedings, the applicant for cancellation will be entitled to prior right of entry.

Applicant for cancellation must state in what particular the homesteader is in default.

A homesteader whose entry is not the subject of cancellation proceedings, may, at the request of the Department, relinquish it in favour of father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister if eligible, but to no one else, on filing declaration of abandonment.

DUTIES.—A settler is required to perform the duties under one of the following plans:

- (1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.
- (2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of the homestead, or upon a homestead entered for him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).
- (3) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line, exclusive of road allowances crossed in the measurement.
- (4) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with himself must notify the Agent for the district of his intention.
- (5) Before making application for entry the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL.—Coal mining rights may be leased for a period of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,500 acres shall be leased to one individual or company. A royalty at the rate of five cents per ton shall be collected on the marketable coal mined.

QUARTZ.—A person eighteen years of age, or over, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 100 x 100 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year up to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 per acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2 1/2 per cent on the value of the placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entrance fee, $5; renewable year.

An applicant may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each mile. Rental $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. 50c at the rate of 2 1/2 per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $100.

PAPER ON MOSES.

At the regular meeting of the Ministerial Association this morning Rev. I. Couch, M.A., B.D., read a paper, the title of which was "A Study in the Life and Time of Moses." The paper provoked quite a discussion between the "higher critics" and the old orthodox sections of the association.

MARKETS AND FINANCE

Toronto Farmers Market. The receipts of grain to-day were fair. Barley is lower, with sales of 2,000 bushels at 10 to 12c. Oats weaker, there being sales of 600 bushels at 8 to 10c. Wheat quiet, 100 bushels of Fall selling at 11.

BRITISH CATTLE MARKETS.

London—London cables are firmer at 10c to 12c-14c weight. Refrigerator beef is quoted at 10c per pound.

STRONG ON BOURSE.

Berlin, Nov. 18.—Prices on the Bourse were very strong to-day. The fact that the discount rate of the Bank of England was unchanged to-day also helped to improve the market.

DUN'S REVIEW.

Liberal receipts of gold from abroad and a large increase in the bank note circulation tend to relieve the financial stress at New York, but the interior is now feeling the scarcity of currency, which is being hoarded to some extent.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

MONDAY, NOV. 18, 1907.

TO REDEEM LINCOLN.

The Liberals of Lincoln are on the alert. At the convention held in St. Catharines on Saturday Mr. William Mitchell, reeve of Grimsby, was chosen as the candidate for the Legislature, thus ensuring a vigorous fight for the redemption of the county. Dr. Jessop has gained no strength in the last three years, and even in his own party his popularity is on the wane. Mr. Mitchell is an able and popular man, and is highly esteemed throughout the county. Messrs. A. Campbell, M. P., A. G. MacKay, M. P., P., and Mr. F. G. Inwood, General Secretary of the Reform Association, delivered excellent addresses. If the Liberals set to work now to perfect their organization and thoroughly stir up the voters to a realization of the situation, the task of placing Lincoln on the side of good government in the Legislature may be accomplished.

DON'T IRRITATE WHITNEY.

The solicitude of the two local Tory organs to protect Whitney from reflections is truly touching. When the big reputation of the faithful went to Toronto the other day to try to get from Whitney a definite promise of the Provincial Technical College for Hamilton, it failed to obtain any assurance from the Premier. The senior Tory organ's report intimated that the deputation suggested that if the Government built a technical school here the city might equip and maintain it! And to such had the promises made when we were robbed of the Normal College—to the injury of the profession and the city—shrunk! And mum's the word, or we may not get even that, cry both senior and junior Tory organs. The Times has been guilty of the heinous offence of reminding Whitney of the debt he owes the city and promises made to us, and the organs hysterically warn us that we will spoil the whole business. We may irritate and annoy Whitney, and then woe to us! Oh, yes, of course he promised us a "great technical college"—a Provincial technical institute—but he may get mad at being reminded of it and break his solemn pledge. And even if he is willing to give us only a local technical school building, which we must equip and maintain, we should be thankful, and sing small, lest he in his anger refuse even that! They fear the public does not understand what a terribly bad-tempered, vacillating, promise-breaking man the Ontario Premier is. And if we do not get the Provincial Technical College it will be all because the Times treated the matter "technically," and contrasted the meagreness of the later suggestions with the magnitude of the former promises. What an unlovely picture of the Premier the zealous organs present to the self-respecting people of the city!

BUY THEM NOW.

It is less than six weeks to Christmas, and if you would avoid the rush of the holiday trade you should make your purchases without delay. By doing this you will gain in more ways than one. You will get the pick of the stock before it is broken to choose from. You will be better served now than later on, the clerks having more time to wait upon you, and not being fagged out by overwork and worry. Then, again, this is ideal weather for shopping, neither too hot nor too hot, and by beginning now you have lots of time to see just what you really want. When people wait too long, they often have to grab what they can get and then wish after they had bought them that they hadn't. Then, another thing, the worry of wondering what you will get for this friend and that will be over and done with, and you can devote yourself to other holiday affairs that need your attention without being distracted all the time by thoughts of what you will buy, where you will buy and when you will buy. From the storekeepers' point of view, it is also desirable that you do it now. They have made great preparations this year to anticipate all your wants in Christmas gifts. The goods are now on display, fresh and bright and in most cases stocks yet unbroken. All that is wanted is for you to go and make your selections. Now your staffs are able to give you every attention and to help you in every way they can to get exactly what you want. As yet there is no particular rush; the Christmas crowds have not yet begun to besiege the stores. Later on the stores will not be able to give you the same service or attention. Then the clerks should be considered. In the holiday rush they are driven at top speed from morning till night in crowded stores. They are worried and perplexed in their efforts to serve and please everybody. Is it any wonder that they become physically and mentally unable to stand the strain and that poor service often results? Make up your minds that you at least will buy early. Not only will it be to your advantage, but it will be a great help to the store people.

The Globe's characterization of Mr. W. F. Maclean, of the Toronto World, today has probably never been equalled in severity and directness. That worthy has been yelping and snapping at every public man and newspaper and hurling slanderous charges at all and sundry who do not follow in his steps. Now he would appear to have his work out for him, if he is to justify his title to public tolerance in view of the Globe's serious allegations.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Time to plant Times ads for the Christmas season harvest.

Rev. Dr. Lyle is right. The peril of physical and moral deterioration is more to be feared than the peril of race or color invasion.

The pay rolls of the Panama Canal call for $3,000,000 a month. Does that tend to increase the financial stringency among our neighbors?

The Lancet blames "bridge" for the spread of colds, sore throats, influenza and catarrh. The cards become hotbeds of the deadly microbe. It suggests that if the ladies wish to avoid these diseases they use washable cards.

The leading Tory organ affects to believe that the existence of a surplus at Ottawa caused the financial stringency. Does it think it also caused the stringency in the United States, in Great Britain and in Germany?

The engineer and conductor of the C. P. R. train wrecked at the horsehoe curve, near Caledon, on Sept. 3rd, has been acquitted of blame for the disaster, and the verdict was cheered. The defendants were seized and carried from the court-room by a joyous crowd.

The Mail denounces the Dominion's surplus as "a disgrace and a shame." Whatever it is, it is not Tory. Tories would have bled the Treasury for "the boys" till there was a big deficit, to be made up by more taxation or borrowing at high rates of interest.

Mr. Pugsley, the minister who alleged that Mr. Borden had a campaign fund of half a million for corrupt use at the last election, now wishes to make terms and to withdraw the unwarranted allegation.—Mail and Empire.

Yes, the "terms" are that he wishes Mr. Borden to bring him into court. But Borden will not do it. Why?

One hundred and ninety-nine saloons were voted out of business in Chicago at the election the other week. Of the 100 precincts which voted on the question, 140 voted against license. There were 200 saloons existing at time of voting in these precincts and 199 were wiped out by the ballots. More than half of the area of Chicago is now said to be "dry."

The U. S. Government will issue $50,000,000 Panama Canal bonds, and $100,000,000 3 per cent. government notes, if necessary, to relieve the monetary stringency. It is believed that this move will do much toward helping business, while the cessation of the "war on capital" will tend toward such a restoration of confidence as may avert wide disaster.

Rev. Dr. Williamson is to receive a Royal Humane Society medal for his gallant rescue of Miss Butler at Grimsby last summer. This is according to the Times' suggestion and is a very proper recognition of true and practical heroism. All the grave deeds are not done under fire, and the heroes of peace are no less worthy than those of war.

The junior Tory organ has rushed valiantly to the defence of Whitney in this Provincial Technical College matter and affects to be shocked at the Times for doubting its assurances that we shall get it. We have a lively recollection that in April, 1906, it also sought to silence our protests against robbing Hamilton of the Normal College, by saying: "The Minister of Education has assured Chairman Callaghan that the College will not be removed from Hamilton." But we know what happened.

"To decide a bet" the Times is asked to say whether in the absence of competition there is any legal way of controlling the Cataract Power Company's rates. There is. The Conmee Act enables the City Council at any time to fix lighting rates, either municipal or private, by arbitration. It also authorizes the Council to deputize that power to any four ratepayers. The Dominion Government, from whom the company obtains the water for its use can also at any time effectively control it so as to prevent extortionate power charges.

The South Perth Liberals, who have renominated Mr. G. H. McIntyre, M. P., have a good man to fight for, and the electors of the riding will make no mistake in giving him their confidence. Mr. McIntyre has won the respect of the members, not only of his own party, but of the Opposition as well, by his clear grasp of business, his breadth of view, and his manifest devotion to duty. He is not a time-waster—there are too many such in the House—but he can forcibly and concisely express his views, and they are those of a true Liberal carefully promoting the interests of his constituents and seeking the good of his country. Ontario needs more such representatives.

The course of the two local Tory organs in this Technical College matter is at least suggestive, in view of the conduct of Whitney in the Normal College deal. The Spectator has, apparently undertaken to make a definite promise of a Provincial Technical College to Hamilton in terms nowhere else stated in reports of the Premier's utterances to that deputation—not even in its own special despatch. Readers may note that after it had been decided upon to rob us of the Normal College Whitney juggled words with a Hamilton deputation, but refused to say the plot would not be carried out. In the Legislature on March 8, 1906, in reply to Mr. Harcourt (Mail report) he said: "No such thing was ever contemplated." And that, too, after the Spectator had been inspired to break gently to us the robbery planned, and to hint that we might get a Normal School and a Provincial Technical Institute! Such an equivocator is worth watching. What job do the local organs seek to help him to put up now?

The engineers suggest using the extra power to pump water into a reservoir during the hours in which there is no peak. When the peak appears this water would be turned into turbine engines, which, acting directly on the motors used to drive the pumps, would enable them to be used as generators of power, which could thus be utilized to reduce the peak load. A more ingenious and actual method of lifting oneself by one's bootstraps could not be devised.—Toronto World.

That is one of the many and wonderful suggestions made to make a show of economy by buying Hydro power in Toronto. Of course, it is not to be supposed that the creation of those great reservoirs and the building and operation of the freak auxiliary generating plants would cost a cent!

Money in Thread. (Toronto Globe.) When a leading thread manufacturing concern in Britain can supply the public at the world's competitive level of prices and deliver a dividend of 10 per cent. with a bonus it does not look as if Britain was being ruined by the absence of protection.

How the System Works. (Toronto News.) Mr. H. A. E. Kent was once a Conservative candidate for Toronto. He carried the party convention against Mr. E. Sheppard. The masses of the party were so impressed that they abstained in thousands from voting, and a Liberal was returned. But a Conservative Government does not hesitate to pitchfork Mr. Kent into a useless office, where he will be maintained for the rest of his days by the taxpaying public.

Same Crowd. (Montreal Herald.) Mr. Balfour says any duties Great Britain may impose must be small and widespread, not on raw materials, but on the luxuries of the working classes. Chamberlain's friends are so to agree to that they give up the idea of taxing our flour, cheese, butter and bacon. At present all these products are threatened, out of deference to the same interest that condemns our healthy citizens as diseased.

The Usual Result. (Mail and Empire.) To what object of public ownership, when realized, did the innocent City Fathers ever intend? The water works belong to the city. Has not the history of their mismanagement been written in dilapidated pipes, in destructive conflagrations, in sewage-laden drinking water, in financial bungling? Had the Council not been criminally negligent in its duty to the water works, the engines would not have been kept pumping for years twice as much water as was used, but the leaks would have been located and stopped. It took a $200,000 fire to impress upon the Council a sense of the need for an auxiliary water plant. Even the routine effect of that disaster, the Board of Trade and Manufacturers' Association took the matter up and moved the Council to tardy action.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, George Webber. Miss D. Paterson was elected honorary member of the society, after which Mr. Ellis, of Wycliffe College, gave an address in the interests of the Canadian college mission. Gordon Dobbin was elected critic for the meeting. Miss H. Stephens gave a piano solo which was followed by an interesting debate, the subject being, "That Capital Punishment should be Abolished." The speakers on the affirmative were, G. Webber and Miss Harrison; on the negative, R. Ecclestone and Miss E. Strong. After the debate a piano solo was given by N. Barclay, while the judges were reaching their decision. The result of the debate was announced by Mr. Hogarth in favor of the affirmative. After the critic's remarks the meeting closed.

Caves of the Selkirks.

The Canadian Government has set apart as a national park the wonderful region at the summit of the Selkirks. It embraces the great glacier of the Selkirk Mountains, which thousands of tourists visit every year, scores of other glaciers and many of the loftiest mountains in the Canadian domain. A new wonder in this upper region was discovered in 1904, and it is near the centre of the park. It is a series of limestone caves whose findings have now been explored for 4,000 feet. An extensive cave area exists beyond that which has been explored. What is known to-day of the cave region is told in a long paper by Topographer A. O. Wheeler, just published in the annual report of the Surveyor-General of Canada. This cave region is to be opened to tourists. It is only about six miles from Glacier House, the nearest station on the Canadian Pacific Railroad, and the goal of so many tourists that some of them in the height of the season have to live in sleeping cars, as they cannot get hotel rooms.

A good trail has been cut and a road is to be built between Glacier House and the caves. In the caves ledgers have been placed and the roped in; plank walks are to be built across the rough places, and in many other ways the visit to the caves is to be made comfortable and convenient. It is still rough work, for steep climbing is required to reach the region, and none but seasoned pedestrians can explore the caves and make the round trip from Glacier in a day. A camp, therefore, has been established at the caves in which visitors may comfortably spend the night.

The caves were discovered by Charles H. Deutchmann in May, 1904, while he was hunting big game and prospecting for minerals. It was a feat which has been more than courage; they have taken strength of purpose and will power beyond the ordinary. Some matter of fact people would call them foolhardy. Time and again he has descended into these caves alone. He has penetrated depths of blackest darkness, illumined only by the dim ray of a tallow dip. Added to the thick darkness in which he often groped, his way was the nerve shaking and uncanny fear of subterranean torrents.

He has crossed huge cracks and made precipitous descents into pitch darkness when a misstep would have meant death. Wheeler says that now that ladders are in position and guard ropes set up it is not so difficult to enter the caves as he made his pioneer journeys in these caverns. The best light thus far provided during the surveys and explorations has been from acetylene bicycle lamps, which have proved very serviceable.

The caverns occur at this place only because here is a limestone deposit, though this rock is rare in the Selkirks. As you are walking along in the valley of Cougar Creek you will discover that the roaring mountain torrent suddenly disappears in the earth, and away below you will find the place where it returns to the surface. You will find other streams where similar phenomena occur. You will see, in the distance, a beautiful waterfall, sixty feet high, and as you approach you will be surprised to find that its waters do not flow away, but sink where they fall into a great hole and disappear into the subterranean regions.

These underground waterways are the exception and not the rule in the Selkirks. The usual rule is that the water, not like them is known in the Selkirks. As you are walking along in the valley of Cougar Creek you will discover that the roaring mountain torrent suddenly disappears in the earth, and away below you will find the place where it returns to the surface. You will find other streams where similar phenomena occur. You will see, in the distance, a beautiful waterfall, sixty feet high, and as you approach you will be surprised to find that its waters do not flow away, but sink where they fall into a great hole and disappear into the subterranean regions.

Another curious phenomenon is observed. No matter how warm the day may be as you wander among these mountains you may come to more than one place where a current of cold wind strikes you. If you look for the cause you will find a crack in the rock through which comes a draught of air like that produced by an electric fan, but much stronger. The air comes from the interior of the mountain. These air currents give the first intimation of the existence of the caves.

The streams of water for many ages dug into the limestone and were it slowly away till the great excavations became the caves of to-day. The floors of some of the caves are 250 feet below the surface. Here and there the water, swinging from side to side for centuries, were away broad surfaces, so that the caves are wide; then something caused them to flow along in one narrow track till they dug out very deep beds for themselves, and to-day they roar along, scores of feet below the general level of the floor.

Scattered here and there over the floor are enormous blocks of rock that, in the opinion of Mining Engineer Ayres, fell from the roof; but Mr. Wheeler is of the opinion that something as potent as an earthquake must have been necessary to detach them from the rock well. In places the waters excavated side channels making connections with other underground passages and some of these lateral openings are so low that they can be traversed only by crawling. Nature did not have the comfort of the tourist in mind when she dug these caverns, and a great deal must yet be done before they can be very comfortably traversed. One thing that will not be permitted is the use of explosives to enlarge passages or remove obstructions, for the effect upon the walls might be serious.

These caverns are very different from the great show caves of the United States. The decorations that make the glory of Luray are wanting. A few stalactites are found, pure white in color, but the largest is only eighteen inches long. The spectacular effects in some of the large underground openings or rooms are very fine and they have a wonderful beauty of their own. Wide surfaces of the walls have been turned to marble, now pure white and again beautified with vari-colored mineral stains.

But the finest effects were produced by carbonate of lime accumulations on the walls. As you look up at the "dome" you see an arched roof about forty feet above you lavishly decorated in this manner.

In the "art gallery" the lime accumulations of white or cream or pinkish, resembling heads of cauliflower set close together and very beautiful in the

WHITE PERIL TO BE FEARED.

Rev. Dr. Lyle Opposes Exclusion of the Japs.

Successful Anniversary at Emerald Street Methodist Church.

Erskine Anniversary—Missionary From Yukon at Ascension.

"The white peril, I think, is the great peril of Canada, and not the yellow," declared Rev. Dr. Lyle, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, last evening, in the course of a deep and thoughtful sermon on a subject of world-wide interest, "Shall Canada Exclude the Japs?"

To attack man's sin, Dr. Lyle declared, meant to offend some, but Christ had done it. The subject he had chosen was mixed up in politics. On the other hand, it was mixed up with labor, and closely allied with capital.

Canada should not, he declared, exclude the Japs for one reason, because they were God's children. Men placed themselves in a wrong relationship to God when they took the ground that the white peril was superior to the Japs.

Canadians were bound to take and not exclude the Japs because they were brethren. A good deal was said about the yellow peril. There was a good deal of the yellow peril, he said, in the deal of yellow in the so-called white.

The white peril was what Canadians had to fear. The whites Canada was getting on its shores were not the equal of the yellow man. They were worse physically and morally, if not mentally.

Another reason that the Japs were not to be excluded was because that man was the ally of Britain, of which Canada was a part. Had the treaty that treaty been honorably observed? As far as Japan was observed they had. If there was any reason why it should not exist it should be on a national basis.

world, but to found a divine society that would be His visible self, humanity, when He Himself was invisible. While His throes and a half years of ministry were wonderful in their results, Jesus Christ did not intend stopping with the results He had achieved, but that the world might learn through Him, the glory of the kingdom of God.

At Unity Church last evening Rev. W. DeLoe Smith, began a series of seven discourses on the subject of Unitarianism. Preliminary to the discussion of his specific topic of the evening, he said in part:

"I have applied this term to the series because each discourse will be interpretative from the point of view of the Liberal faith. There are those who condemn modern Unitarianism, in so far as the name is used, largely because they do not understand it. An intelligent judgment cannot be passed upon it without a true and reasonably complete knowledge of its principles. In the discussion, therefore, of the several subtleties of the principles of the Unitarian faith will be brought clearly to view.

Unitarianism is one term applied to the liberal interpretation of religion. By liberal, I do not mean extravagant or unorthodox. On the contrary, the liberal interpretation of religion signifies that which is farthest removed from fanaticism and most in harmony with the results of keen and painstaking scholarship. It is merely a fair and honest interpretation of the real messages of God to man, and not merely fanciful ones. It believes that piety may be intelligent. Unitarianism, therefore, emphasizes the natural expression of man's religious consciousness.

"I have also used the term 'modern' in this connection, because Unitarianism as a faith is so modern and final. Herein lies one of its leading characteristics. Because it recognizes the law of growth, and therefore its right to accept new phases of truth resulting therefrom, it has not been greatly misunderstood. No justice is done upon a church which requires allegiance to a creed formulated several hundred years ago, if it is judged by that creed. But to judge the Unitarian Church today by the Unitarianism of several centuries ago might be a serious injustice. Indeed within the past year I have heard of present day Unitarianism being judged by the deism of the early days of the nineteenth century. Such criticism is unfair. The Unitarianism of today must be judged by its position today—and that of tomorrow by what tomorrow will bring forth."

The speaker then took up the subject of the evening, "Authority in Religion." He showed that human nature seeks satisfaction in the ultimate authority in relation to many phases of life; that the commonly accepted authority in religion is a church as an institution, or a Bible, or a combination of the two; but that, as a matter of fact, such authority is really vested in man's religious consciousness, which depends upon God and the soul. Churches of whatever form or faith, and their Bibles, are products of the religious consciousness and not the creators of it. In the acceptance of the Bible as an authority, and development of these positive facts, the authority is made from the bondage of the religion of external authority to the freedom of the religion of the spirit.

Being drunk and disorderly on a train is numbered among the serious offences at Police Court, as was shown last week when several young men were fined heavily for being disorderly on an H. G. & B. car. This morning Magistrate Jells raised the tariff when Samuel Mahoney, Sophia street, pleaded guilty to creating a disturbance on a G. T. R. train on Saturday. Detective Farr, of that company, said the prisoner had cursed in the presence of a number of lady passengers and had wanted to fight. The magistrate fined him $20 or one month in jail.

James Fuller was arrested on a warrant, charged with being drunk and acting in a disorderly manner on October 8 in McDonald's street. He was summoned on the 10th of last month, but did not appear. He pleaded guilty, and was fined $10 or 14 days.

John Held, of Buffalo, formerly of this city, pleaded guilty to acting disorderly on Saturday night on York street. Constable Stoney said he was with the wife and baby and was in plain clothes, when the prisoner bumped against him and almost knocked the baby carriage over. When warned he said he didn't care for the whole police force. The magistrate fined him $5.

Abraham Davis, Elm street, pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly on Monday for one day, as he wished to get references that he was not a common vag. P. C. Sayers and Robson, plain clothes men, juggled him.

These two plain clothes men also arrested Andrew Wilson, no address, for sleeping in the street. Constable Rasmussen said Wilson is the man who was started for Buffalo last week. He was remanded for inquiries.

Constable L. McLean arrested William Gatehouse, no address, for vagrancy. Gatehouse is the man who was given a work at the Barton street and pile as an anti-vagrancy measure, but it did not work, as he made no effort to reform. He was sent to the Central for six months.

Charles Killingbeck, Emerald and King streets, was charged by Ed. Oakes with assault. The latter sent him on to the evening, pleading not guilty, and the case was dismissed.

Tudie Karley, Welland; John Gibbons, 221 Emerald street north, and James Arnold, of Dundas, were each fined $2 for being drunk. Peter Hastie, 9 Hess street north, neglected to come back after putting up $5 for his liberty, and was fined $5.

John Taglierino, 396 Sherman avenue north, was charged with assaulting Soch Friep. The evidence showed he hit her with a big stick, and when two men tried to stop him he threw a revolver. The magistrate found him guilty, and fined him $15 and costs.

Rev. E. A. O'Meara, an Anglican missionary in the Yukon, occupied the pulpit of the Church of the Ascension last evening, preaching an interesting sermon from the text, "We shall be like Him." At the conclusion of the service a meeting was held in the Sunday school building, where the missionary spoke at some length on his work in the Klondike. A large audience was present, the room being filled.

AFTER THEIR DEATH PEOPLE WILL EAT.

So Evangelist Torrey Says In Answer to Question at Meeting.

Many Will be Glad to Get Rid of Dyspepsia, Dr. Myers Asserts.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—"Men after resurrection will walk on this earth, having bodies similar to the present body, and will enjoy food as now," said Dr. R. A. Torrey yesterday afternoon. He had expressed this belief at the noonday meeting held in the Great Northern Theatre, and he reiterated it. At this meeting he offered to answer any questions that might be asked relating to Christian belief.

"What about dyspepsia?" asked Dr. Johnston Myers, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, whose attention was called to the Torrey belief. "I don't think our new bodies will have to wait on transportation companies," declared Joseph A. Vance, pastor of Hyde Park Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Torrey said he believed that human bodies after resurrection would not be subject to weariness, nor illness, nor pain. "I got tired in my work now," said Dr. Torrey. "I can do more work without fatigue than most men. But after the resurrection I never shall be tired. I have talked to 20,000 persons at one time on this earth. Perhaps then I may be able to talk to 500,000."

"I don't know what kind of food it will be. I don't know what kind of bodies they will be. I think they will be like those we have on this earth. When Elijah and Moses came down on the mountain they were recognized. I don't know how the spirit can express itself without a body."

One of the questions asked by Dr. Torrey was why the Bible does not say anything about the world being round. "The world is not round," said Dr. Torrey. "It is a spheroid. Besides the Bible was not given us to teach geology or geography. It was sent to teach us how to save our souls."

The noonday meetings will be discontinued at the Great Northern Theatre. The evening meetings in the tent at Chestnut and Clark streets will continue next week. Sunday evening the meeting will be for men. In the afternoon there will be a meeting for women.

BROWN ESTATE.

Isabella Garbutt Allowed $1900 For Her Services.

In the suit of Dixon vs. Isabella Garbutt judgment was given on Saturday on appeal by plaintiff from report of Senior Judge of County Court of Wentworth, upon a reference to fix the value of the defendant's services to the late Isabella Brown (of whose estate plaintiff is administrator) for February, 1903, to May, 1906. The referee allowed a sum of $3,055.50. Held, that, as a matter of intention of the appellant to pay liberally, the amount awarded was considerably more than the intestate acted upon or ought to have acted upon. Order made for judgment for the amount of $1,900. Costs of the reference to be costs in the cause. W. Laird-law, K.C., for plaintiff. G. Lynch-Staunton, K.C., and E. F. Lazier (Hamilton), for defendant.

DIES WITH WIFE.

Aged Man's Prayer for Death Answered Within the Hour.

Long Branch, N. J., Nov. 18.—The double funeral services of Asa and Mary Dennett, husband and wife for sixty years, and the oldest Methodists living in this section of the State, were held at the Simpson M. E. Church yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Dennett had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 73 years. He was also a choir leader. Mrs. Dennett was a descendant of John Quincy Adams, who united with the church 66 years ago.

Referring to the wish of Mr. Dennett that he might die and be buried with his wife, when he learned that his companion would die, Mr. Dobbins, who conducted the funeral services said: "When Mrs. Dennett met with an accident seven weeks ago which resulted in her death, Mr. Dennett was in very good health, and promised to be spared many years. Mr. Dennett prayed at the family altar on Nov. 5 that he might die with his wife. An hour after, substantially, that prayer was answered, for when Mrs. Dennett died, Mr. Dennett was practically dead."

OLD MOON OR NEW MOON?

To the Editor of the Times: Sir,—Among the paintings now on exhibition at the Hamilton Art School gallery is a pleasing little study in grey, numbered 62, which is, however, marred by being called "The Old Moon." It depicts the crescent moon, with its convex side turned to the right of the observer. The old moon never has and never will assume this position. The particular phase represented on this canvas is that of the new moon, as the bright side of our satellite is always turned towards the sun. The picture should be re-christened, or the position of the moon altered thereon. Artists and poets invariably trip when touching upon scientific ground, unless they go direct to nature for their inspiration.

SECOND COMING.

Former English Church Minister to Christadelphians.

At two well attended meetings held by the Christadelphians in C. O. E. hall, 67 James street north, yesterday, Mr. A. H. Zilmer, former Church of England minister, gave his reasons for leaving the ministry. In dealing with his first subject, "The Bible, What it is and How we Should Interpret it," Mr. Zilmer said that he was leaving the ministry. In dealing with the Bible to make it fit their theories, and that a great many have come to look upon the Bible, or certain parts of it, as a merely human teaching. He told the story of the Children of Israel going through the Red Sea on foot is not true, also that the Sea of Jonah and the great fish is only a good fish story. Mr. Zilmer explained that the Holy Scriptures were able to make wise unto salvation and that those Scriptures were the Old Testament Scriptures, known as Moses and the Prophets, endorsed by Jesus and His Apostles. Therefore it would be impossible to believe in Jesus and reject the teachings of Moses and the Prophets. Moses told the people the Lord would raise up from among themselves, a Prophet like unto him. Jesus was this Prophet, but the people would not hear Him at His first appearing. But they will hear Him when the words of the other prophets come to pass. Then the Lord shall be King over all the earth. The Bible teaches in the plain language possible that this earth will become the garden of the Lord. Will be full of glory, joy, peace and happiness. His disciples were called the Kingdom of Heaven. His friend "Ye Men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into Heaven; this same Jesus shall so come as ye have seen Him go into Heaven. Mr. Zilmer said that the earth is in a very bad state, full of trouble, sorrow, pain and death. Jesus is called the prince of peace and He will come and speak peace to the nations. Mr. Zilmer said this evening at 8 o'clock speak on how the earth will be filled with glory, in speaking of the Holy Land and its purpose with God.

BUSINESS GOOD.

Big Britannia Rink Had Great Crowd on Saturday.

The big Britannia Roller Rink, Barton street east, which has been open only a short time, has been hardly able to accommodate the crowd; in fact it was over 100 pairs of rollers short on Saturday evening, there being 700 on the main floor and the special floor, which has been put up for beginners. In the men's skating alone competition the judges were Messrs. Cameron, Beamer, James Barr, and J. Hodgson, and the selections for the final on Friday evening next were E. Patterson, W. Marvill, J. Toner, G. Edwards and Elmer Hawkes. The management is completing the steam and hot air furnaces which will be finished on Tuesday.

At the Alexandra.

The skating competition at the Alexandra to-morrow night will certainly prove quite an attraction as there are a number of couples entered which means rivalry and some nice skating will be seen. These competitions have always been interesting from a spectator's point of view and as the rink is steam heated the balcony is comfortable at all times.

SAVED FROM THE BLOCK.

German Murderer Reprieved as Executioner is About to Raise Axe.

Dortmund, Germany, Nov. 18.—The beheading of Kurzachut, convicted of the murder of a mine foreman, was stopped by a reprieve within a quarter of a minute of the time when the axe would have fallen.

LADIES' ORANGE HALL.

Hamilton Lodge, No. 1, Ladies' O. B. E., held its regular meeting in the Orange Hall, with Mrs. Hoey, W. M., in the chair, and Mrs. Macartney, D. M., in the deputy chair. The other officers were all in their respective places. Four applications were received, and one candidate initiated. A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation of an emblematic ring to Sister Mrs. McKimmon, for bringing in the largest number of members during the year. Mrs. Hoey, W. M., made the presentation, and Mrs. McKimmon, being so well pleased, promised to try to do even better next time.

The former city clerk at Telluride, Colo., who embezzled $50,000 from the city, was sentenced to from 33 to 48 months.

STOP EMIGRATION.

ECONOMIC CONDITIONS INFLUENCING JAPANESE.

Order Will Probably be Issued Forbidding All Not Fully Self-Supporting to Visit Foreign Countries—Mr. Lemieux's Mission.

Tokio, Nov. 17.—Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the Canadian Postmaster-General and Minister of Labor, who is here to consult with the Japanese authorities regarding emigration from this country, has established an office at the British Embassy and is in frequent conference with the officials of the Foreign Office.

The Minister will be entertained by the municipality of Tokio next Tuesday, and the Government is preparing an elaborate programme for his entertainment during his stay in Japan.

The Foreign Office has notified the emigration companies that 406 Japanese will be allowed to enter Hawaii this month and December. It is understood the Government intends to exercise a close supervision over those going as students and that this has escaped the scrutiny of the emigration inspector.

The Japanese Government is said to be considering the advisability of shutting off all emigration to the United States and Canada for the present, on the ground that economic conditions render it inadvisable for citizens of Japan to visit foreign countries unless they are able to show that they are amply self-supporting.

PITCHED BATTLE.

MONTREAL DETECTIVES ATTACK SUPPOSED BANK ROBBERS.

A Bloodless Pistol Fight—No One Hurt, Although Six Revolvers a Side Were Empty—Two of the Crooks Were Arrested.

Montreal, Nov. 17.—A pitched battle between city detectives and a band of supposed bank-robbing crooks occurred this evening at St. Lambert's, just across the river from Montreal, which resulted in the arrest of two of the crooks. Although there were six detectives and six crooks, all of whom were busy emptying revolvers at each other, not one of the whole party was injured, and the detectives scored a bloodless victory.

Chief Carpenter of the city detective force, was this evening informed that a band of men, supposed to be robbers, were camped near St. Lambert's, and he despatched half a dozen of his men to gather them in, guided by the man who brought the information. While on the way the detectives met four men on the road, but passed them, thinking they were not the men they were after. Later they found two of the gang sitting by a camp fire.

As soon as the detectives appeared the strangers opened fire on them with revolvers, and the detectives pulled their guns and fired back. The shots alarmed the four on the road, who were busy emptying revolvers, and they fled. The latter, however, won out, and the four decamped, leaving the original two to be arrested. The latter gave their names as John Brown and Will Hudson, but their names do not count for much, as yet.

It is thought that the gang was composed of the men who have been travelling through the Province, burglarizing banks and stores, lately.

NEW TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

Suggested by Dr. Van Floecker, a German Writer.

Berlin, Nov. 17.—The German comment on the courtesies being extended to the Emperor by King Edward is distinctly appreciative, and indicates a great deal of good-will. Many lengthy articles are being published in the newspapers on how much Germany and Great Britain need one another, and Dr. Adolf Van Floecker, formerly Secretary of the German Legation in Mexico City, and a keen observer of world affairs, discussing the visit in Die Grenzboten, develops the idea that the United States, Germany and Great Britain, belonging to the German Protestant world, should draw closer together and follow in common the same general international aims.

SPYING IS RECOGNIZED.

Regarded as Legitimate Among European Powers.

Paris, Nov. 16.—The treason of Ensign Ulmo, of the French navy, who was arrested at Toulon on October 25th, on the charge of being a spy, and who it was announced subsequently, had confessed, is now considered to be firmly established. There is no longer much doubt that he made several trips to Germany and delivered documents to the chief of the German spy service at Brussels, which will necessitate a complete revision of the French naval and military signal codes and plans for mobilization. Nevertheless, the incident is not likely to lead to diplomatic complications with Germany, as spying is a recognized institution in Europe. The French Government officially announced today that it did not demand the recall of Rear-Admiral Siegel, the German naval attaché at Paris, who is suspected of having participated in Ulmo's espionage.

Heart Palpitation at Night.

Rattles even the strongest man, but to the average woman it's nothing short of purgatory. Take a little Nervine in sweetened water and the palpitation stops quickly. Nervine tones and strengthens the heart, braces, invigorates, and thus prevents other attacks. No remedy so swift to kill pain—no treatment more prompt for headache, stomach and bowel disorders. A steady increasing demand for Nervine is attested the merit of Polson's Nervine. Better try a 25c bottle.

Perrey Hirschman Tells His Part of Story

The Case Fully Reported, Prove the Work Was Done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 18.—A well-known resident at 93 Sackville street, Mr. Perrey Hirschman, who has been in a somewhat serious condition lately, has recovered, and says: "Six months ago my appetite fell off and my health became very poor. I had terrible attacks of indigestion and often was unable to sleep at night. My poor color showed what an ill man I was. I tried numerous remedies, but the only genuine one was Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butiran. Two boxes cured my indigestion. My appetite increased and my strength came back quickly. To-day I have a fine zest for my meals. I feel as strong and healthy as a young boy. Because they are so cleansing and so tonic in their effect I think Dr. Hamilton's Pills should be used by every person. My wife used them regularly with grand results."

DOWN ON DRINK.

AGE OF SENTIMENT IN FINLAND—LEGISLATURE'S DRASTIC ACT.

Total Prohibition of Spirits, Even Wine for Communion Service Being Forbidden.

London, Nov. 17.—Finland furnished last week a striking example of the effects of universal suffrage combined with spiritual control of Socialist theories. Its Legislature consists of a single chamber of two hundred members. Fifty-six per cent. of the voters at the last election in the towns and fifty per cent. in the rural districts were women. Nineteen women were elected members of the chamber. The Socialist Democratic party elected eighty members, and it has other sympathizers. It has just passed a drastic act for the total prohibition of spirits, wine, beer and alcohol, which may be kept only for medical and technical purposes and for the use of Russian troops. Even the use of wine for communion service is forbidden. No one may keep alcoholic drinks in his house unless he can prove that they were in his possession before the Act was passed. The police have full rights of search, and the penalties vary from $20 to penal servitude for three years. There is no provision for loss of capital in breweries, distilleries or private houses. The Baroness Gripenberg, one of the best known women members, said that in dealing with a question of this vital social importance it was quite time to leave "reason aside" and let sentiment prevail. This moves the Times to remark: "There we have the true inwardness revealed of the Social Democratic revision naked and unashamed. The early revisions were content to inaugurate the 'age of reason,' and we know what that means. It was reserved for the Social Democratic resolution to inaugurate the age of sentiment, and we have yet to learn all that that means. At any rate it means, so far as it has gone in its chosen home of the Grand Duchess of Finland, one heavy blow at the 'principles of liberty.'" It is not expected that the law will ever come into operation, for the veto of the Czar is regarded as certain."

REMAINS OF WRECK VICTIMS.

Father and Son Placed in One Casket—An Ill-Fated Brakeman.

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—All that remains of Baggage man James Irvine, who was killed and cremated in the ill-fated S.O. train at Moore Lake, Friday morning, will be laid to rest today. The funeral will leave Ottawa for Carleton Place on Tuesday morning. The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will take charge of the burial arrangements. Fate seems to have haunted the deceased railwayman ever since he entered the employ of the railroads. "Five years ago he lost two fingers at Carleton while coupling cars. Later he had his foot crushed at Arrprior, and he has been in three train wrecks and sustained injuries in each. His father, too, an old railway man, is minus his left hand while at work.

COLLINS' FAREWELL POEM.

Sent Shortly Before His Execution to Mrs. Steeves.

Hopewell Cape, N. B., Nov. 17.—Just before his execution for murder on Saturday Thomas H. Collins disposed of his trinkets to friends, and sent the following poem to Mrs. I. D. Steeves, who had interested herself in his case and tried to save him from the gallows:

My Dear Mother: A brighter vision of the light, Oh, mother, dear, as from thy face, Will live in works of pure delight, For love of God or love of right.

Shot Rabbits With His Teeth.

Hanover, Pa., Nov. 17.—Although he has no hands, Abraham B. Meyers broke this season's record for a successful one-day hunt in York County, when he brought home last night 23 rabbits, 18 of which he had killed himself, while his companion, possessed of both arms, shot only five. Meyers holds his gun by a ring under the stock large enough to admit the stump of his left arm, while to the trigger a strap is attached, the end of which he grips in his teeth.

Two Austrians Killed.

Fort William, Nov. 17.—V. Obignyuk and Degio Horbuk, two Austrians, were killed instantly by being hit by a C. P. R. engine at Nesbitt last night. They were returning to their camp from the G. T. P. construction, and while walking off one track out of the way of a westbound freight train were struck by a light eastbound engine.

LABOR FEDERATION CAUTIONS.

Refuses to Endorse Government Ownership of Railways and Mines.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 16.—The American Federation of Labor by a vote of 154 to 50 today refused to place itself on record as favoring the Government ownership of railways and mines, the question having come up on a resolution of the Amalgamated Carpenters' Union, to amend the economic platform adopted at Minneapolis last year so as to include railroads and mines in the favorable action taken at that time on the "nationalization" of telegraph and telephone properties.

CALF OF HIS LEG SHATTERED.

Young St. Thomas Man Seriously Injured While Hunting.

St. Thomas, Ont., Nov. 17.—Percy Gillula, only son of J. R. Gillula, trainmaster of the Pere Marquette, this city, met with a serious accident, while squirrel hunting near Aylmer yesterday. The young man was going through the woods with three companions when a hammerless gun in his hands accidentally went off, seriously injuring young Gillula in the leg, the calf of which was shattered and almost completely destroyed. The young man was brought to St. Thomas and taken to his home.

KILLED BY BLOOD POISONING.

Alfred Ullman Turned Electric Switch and Received Current.

Montreal, Nov. 17.—Alfred Ullman, assistant superintendent of the Shawinigan Water & Power Company, was killed on Saturday morning at Theford Mills. He was making an inspection of the company's plant there, and while standing on top of a large transformer explaining matters to the engineer he unconsciously threw up the switch establishing the circuit, and 50,000 volts passed through his body. He was badly burned, and died a few hours later.

WOMAN GOT OFF.

"I AM FREE, OH, THANK GOD, I AM FREE," SHE SHOUTED.

Mrs. Mary Sladek, Accused of Wholesale Poisoning, Acquitted by Jury—Her Many Alleged Attempts.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Mrs. Mary Sladek, who was tried on a charge of murdering her mother by poison, has been acquitted. The verdict was read in a court room last night, presided over by a judge other than the one who instructed the jurors.

Mrs. Sladek was almost in a state of collapse when she heard the verdict. She had maintained an almost stoical demeanor during the closing address of the prosecuting attorney, who pictured her as cunning and remorseless, but she broke down when she heard the verdict of "Not guilty" was read. Springing to her feet, she gripped the shoulder of her lawyer.

"Oh, thank you, Mr. Burres! Thank you, Mr. Jurymen!" she shrieked. "I am free! Oh, thank God, I am free!" Mrs. Sladek was tried on the charge of poisoning her mother, Mrs. Mary Mette, at her home, 2849 North Harding avenue, Irving Park, last spring. Another indictment charges her with poisoning her father, Frank Mette. This probably will be dropped. The State declares that Mrs. Sladek had planned to exterminate the whole family. A brief chronology of the tragedy follows:

March 29—First attempt at poisoning; phosphorus placed in coffee.

March 30—Rat poison containing arsenic placed in family flour barrel and other articles of food. All the family taken ill.

April 5—Mrs. Mette died.

April 8—Third attempt at poisoning after return of family from Dunning Infirmary. Poison alleged to have been placed in father's soup.

April 16—Frank Mette died on day of wife's funeral.

April 17—Fourth attempt at poisoning. Rudolph, Charles and Joseph Mette taken ill from arsenic found in oatmeal.

Material assistance was given to the police by Joseph, Rudolph and Charles Mette, brothers of the defendant. A child was born to Mrs. Sladek after she had been incarcerated.

Emil Sladek, the husband of the defendant, who sat silently through all the proceedings, said: "I intend now to try to make some arrangement with Mary, so that we may live together again for the baby's sake."

RALEIGH AFFIDAVITS.

Attorney-General Expected to Appoint a Commissioner to Investigate.

Chatham, Nov. 17.—Chatham and West Kent will probably be afforded a special trial before the commissioner, appointed by Attorney-General Foy, of the Raleigh Revision Court case, where a number of affidavits were covertly taken from the file. Liberals desire a commissioner, and there exists a split in the local Conservative ranks it is expected the leading Conservatives will ask for a commissioner also, and the matter, which is characterized by Liberals and Conservatives alike as one of the most dignified in the country, will be thoroughly investigated.

ANOTHER TRADITION GONE.

New Said the Python Will Eat Dead Animals Readily.

London, Nov. 16.—English naturalists are greatly astonished at the results of certain experiments in the line of feeding that have just taken place in the London Zoological Gardens. It had been understood here that the great pythons at the Zoo would not accept dead animals for food, but the Superintendent of the Garden now informs the Zoological Society that he has been feeding his serpents on dead rabbits, fowls and goats, and that this food has been consumed with evident relish.

The great pythons, which formerly were fed with living creatures like the rabbit and goat, have exhibited perfect readiness to feed on the same animals dead.

EXAMINATION APPEALS.

Important Decision by Minister of Education—The Latin Papers.

In view of the late date at which the results of the annual exam. were announced, the Minister of Education has decided that those students who entered the model school pending the result of appeals shall be allowed to complete their model school course. They will not, however, be granted certificates or allowed to teach, until their academic standing has been secured. A formal notice to this effect will be sent to the schools.

At her wedding on Saturday Princess Louise of Orleans wore a superb lace veil of the finest point d'Angleterre designed by herself. It is of the Louis XVI. period. The bouquets are reproduced from a pattern worn by Marie Antoinette. These bouquets are a very distinctive feature, and not only form a rich border around the veil, but are also repeated at balanced intervals on the lower end, which will spread out over the coat of arms. The veil is five yards long by two yards wide, and being worn short in front, barely reaching the elbows, almost the full length will be a pendant ornament over the white satin folds of the dress. Above the bouquets, worked in Alencon stitches, are the arms of the bride and the bridegroom, as both belong to the royal family of France, there is little difference in the blazon. Two fleurs de lis in chief, one in base, are sewed on each shield, and above the royal crown "Fermee a cinq tentes." The different correct tinctures are indicated on the veil by the variations of the fine point stitches. The "Ogre" of the veil is slightly scalloped on account of the close setting of a conventionalized flower form. Four thousand single leaves and flowers are used to powder the whole veil.

Body of Hugh Barr Found.

London, Ont., Nov. 17.—After being missing for ten days, the body of Hugh Barr, who lived on the town line between Lobo and Williams, was found in a creek on the Nafra gravel road, near Ailsa Craig, on Sunday morning. It is supposed that he stumbled in while returning from Ailsa Craig by night. His cap was found on the shore of the creek, floating in the creek, which gave a clue to his disappearance. He was 55 years of age, and unmarried.

THE WATERWAYS.

Mr. Gibbons Contracts Report That Negotiations are Closed.

London, Nov. 17.—George C. Gibbons, K. C., Chairman of the Canadian branch of the Waterways Commission, denies the sensational story published by The Chicago Record-Herald to the effect that the negotiations between Canada and the United States were at an end. Mr. Gibbons declared yesterday: "That is a mistake. The negotiations are going ahead. There has been no foundation for any such rumors. The writer does not know what he is talking about. A meeting of the joint committee will be held in the near future." The Chicago paper's story was to the effect that preliminary communications had satisfied Secretary Root that Canada is opposed to limiting the amount of water that may be taken for power purposes from the Canadian side of the Falls; also that Canada was equally unwilling to enter into new agreements for the protection of the seal herd. The negotiations until these matters are settled, the United States would not negotiate for the limitation of lake fishing rights nor discuss the northwestern boundary question.

DEATH FROM NATURAL CAUSES.

Coroner's Jury Exonerates Fred. Scott, of Oshweken.

Brantford, Nov. 16.—A coroner's inquest was held last night at Oshweken to inquire into the cause of the death of John Baptiste, who died about a week ago. The jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death from natural causes. They could not find any charge against the prisoner, Fred. Scott, and recommended that he be released from custody at once.

Eliza Thomas, Indian, for having whiskey in her house, on the Indian reserve, was fined $30 and costs, and for being drunk she was fined $10 and costs. Chief Henry, who was found in the Thomas house, pleaded guilty to being drunk and was fined $20 and costs.

EARTHQUAKE AT MANILA.

There Were Four Sharp Shocks, But No Damage Done.

Manila, Nov. 17.—Four sharp earthquakes shocks were felt at Manila and surrounding provinces on the night of November 16th and the morning of Nov. 17th. There was no damage.

The first shock was felt at 11:25 in the evening. Governor-General Smith and party were attending a performance of the "Mikado." A panic was averted by the presence of mind of the Governor-General, who rose in his box and commanded the people, who had already arisen, to sit down. The orchestra stopped playing, but the actors continued, being undisturbed, and the audience calmed down.

KILLED THE CHICKEN THIEVES.

New York Man Shot Two Italians in the Bronx.

New York, Nov. 17.—Lymen E. King, an electrician, twenty-two years of age, shot and mortally wounded two Italians, whom he had surprised early today in the yard at the home of Benjamin Van Tassel, in the Bronx, where King is a boarder. The dead men were Bruno Peddullo, of Yonkers, and Nicholas Larosa, of the Bronx. According to King, they were chicken thieves. He said he heard them in the chicken house, and went down with his revolver. He saw the men coming out of the building, each with a heavy bundle. Instead of halting when told the men dropped their sacks and fled. King opened fire and mortally wounded both men, who died shortly after in a hospital.

New Publications.

From Cassell & Co., 42 Adelaide street west, Toronto, come copies of their widely popular "Building World" and "Work," also the Canadian edition number for November of "Cassell's Magazine" and "The Quiver," "Little Folks," "The Folks" and "The Girls' Realm." These popular publications should find a large field in Canada, now that the postal arrangements are less favorable to the dissemination of United States literature of that class. The British postal rates have recently been raised, and our people will doubtless avail themselves of more British literature.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

brish. The repertoire of the club will include Brahms' "The Dying Dances," Elgar's "Lullaby and Dance" from the "Bavarian Highlands"; an exceptionally dainty part song by Blumenthal, "Gather the Rosebuds"; McEwen's "Let the Kanakin Clink"; and "Jesu Dulcis," from old Italian music by Vittoria. The choir has better material than that of last year, and Mr. Bruce Carey, their talented conductor, is confident that their singing will be an advance on even last year's standard.

At Bennett's Theatre. Manager Driscoll has an exceedingly well balanced bill at Bennett's this week, and beginning to-night patrons of the home of all-star vaudeville in Hamilton will be a good variety of the novelty production. The variety was never more pronounced and the quality of the bill is unsurpassed. "Cissie's Dream," the pantomime act which Fred Walton and his company of English artists will present as the feature of the bill, should prove a very enjoyable act. It is entirely original, and when its presentation lies in the hands of some competent people the result is obvious. Fred Walton has a reputation which is possessed by few vaudeville artists, and for genuine simplicity the act which he is presenting is the favorite. His portrayal of child life in its most beautiful and sympathetic state is its strong point. Lind, the mysterious female impersonator, is confidently expected to be the laughing sensation of the week. He has a good act, and it will be worth noting if it does not take in this city. George Felix and the Barrys should make a big hit with the clever comedy sketch, "The Boy Next Door." They are original comedians and in this, their latest creation, they have an admirable vehicle for the exercise of their ability. The Kitamura Japs are said to be a wonderful troupe of jugglers and their performance may be counted on to please. Joe Deming, monologist; Frank Whatman, the dancing violinist; Johnson and Wells, and Charlotte Coate and Little Sunflower will contribute their share to a very pleasing bill.

George Hall Coming. The popular comedian George F. Hall will be seen at the Grand on Thursday night in his new musical comedy success, "I'm Married Now." He will be supported by the Toronto Stars, vocalists. Mr. Hall is said to have the funniest role of his career in this latest piece. Seats will be on sale to-morrow. Mr. Hall's work in "The Ragged Hero" and other successes stamp him as a comedian out of the ordinary.

"The Burgomaster." Fresh from his phenomenal engagement at the Garrick Theatre, Chicago, comes Pixley & Luder's merry musical masterpiece to the Grand on Saturday afternoon and evening. Gus Weinberg, who originated the name part, and by the way a warm local favorite, will be well along in his varied career. Mr. Weinberg has never had a part which fitted him to such a nicety as Peter Van Stuyvesant in this merry musical. Ruth White will be remembered as the original Willie Van Astorbilt, and in this year's production is extending her career. "There is Only One Street—That's Broadway," is one of Ruth White's song hits. Seats will be on sale on Thursday.

Ben. Greet's Performances. The Ben Greet Players returned to the city on Saturday and presented, at the Grand, "Everyman" and "Macbeth." A fair-sized audience witnessed "Everyman," which is recognized as the best of the XV. century morality plays. The decided novelty as a stage presentation, and profoundly impressed the audience. It was announced as having been first played in 1480, and the language and methods are markedly medieval. In those dim and distant days, when the priests could make little or no religious impression on their flocks, they gave them morality plays, usually in the form of a play, to shuffle off this mortal coil. Judging from "Everyman," such presentations ought not to have failed in their object.

With the stage set as the cloisters of a cathedral and preceded by music both vocal and instrumental, well designed to fit the mind for what follows, "Everyman" depicts man's progress to the grave, with the disappointments and delights that come to human kind on the way. God bids Death tell Everyman to prepare for his last pilgrimage. He seeks to beg off, but is unsuccessful, and he appeals in turn to Fellowship, Kindred, Cousin, and Riches, but they all desert him. He then appeals to Good Deeds, who consent to assist him. Good Deeds and Knowledge help him materially, and he is joined by Beauty, Strength, Discretion and Five Wits. As the journey progresses, they, too, desert Everyman; but Good Deeds and Knowledge remain with him to the last. The play ends with a Messenger pointing the moral.

The play was excellently given, the quaint language and strange "business" being followed with strict regard to the text. All the parts were admirably brought out and the costumes was all that could be desired. Following the Greet custom, no names of players were given on the programme.

Opportunity for Musicians. An exhibition, entitling its holder to free musical tuition for not less than two years at the Royal Academy of Music or the Royal College of Music, London, England, will in future be offered by the associated board annually to candidates in the Dominion. This exhibition will be awarded on the recommendation of the board's examiner to the candidate showing the greatest musical promise, if of sufficient ability.

The associated board has also decided to offer annually gold and silver medals to candidates in the Dominion—a gold medal to the candidate obtaining the highest honor marks in each grade of the local centre examinations, and a silver medal to the next honors candidate in each grade, provided that such honors candidates obtain at least 125 marks.

Further particulars can be obtained from M. Waring Davis, secretary, McGill University Conservatorium of Music, Montreal, or from James Muir, secretary, the Associated Board, 15 Bedford Square, London, W. C., England.

Toronto Musicians Pleasured. E. R. Parkhurst in the Toronto Globe: I am glad to be in a position to state, on official information, that the Elgar Choir of Hamilton have definitely decided to give a concert in Toronto at Massey Hall at Feb. 28. One may predict for them a most cordial reception from the musical community of Toronto. And, to continue predicting, one may safely say that the lovers of music here, even accustomed as they are to fine choral singing, will be astonished at the finished work of the Hamilton organization. The choir have engaged as their star artist for the occasion Miss. Sem-

23-8. P. C. C. were a little the heavier and showed more knowledge of the fine points of the game, working trick plays almost at will, while Brockville played a straight running and punting game. The winners tackled well, getting the man low on nearly every occasion, while the easterners invariably tackled high. The game was played on a very muddy field. Long runs were numerous, considering the condition of the field, Cronan of P. C. C. punting for 55 yards and Wedd of the same team made many runs for good gains. The latter's playing was the feature of the game. Prior, for Brockville, punted splendidly, and White tore off some good runs.

By winning this game Parkdale goes into the finals with Hamilton Y. M. C. A., the game to be played next Saturday at Diamond Park, Toronto. The teams lined up as follows: Parkdale—Back, Taylor; halves, Wedd, Cronan and Killaly; quarter, J. Dissett; scrummers, Dunca, Leonard and Addison; wings, Scully, Rose, McLean, Peterson, Thomson and A. Dissett.

Brockville—Back, Mackie; halves, White, Price and Stack; quarter, Hayward; scrummers, Hilliard, Bressman and Dalley; wings, Symon, Waldhausen, Clow, Hough, Donahue and Ringier. Referee—Bert Brown, Toronto. Umpire—Bearnace, Kingston.

LADIES' LONG WALK.

A New Departure in Athletics in Toronto.

Toronto, Nov. 18.—A new departure in athletics was tried on Saturday afternoon, when the first ten-mile walking race for young ladies, conducted by the Toronto Stars, took place. Eighty-four young women started in the contest, and Miss Rosemond Dunn, of 141 Park View Avenue, proved to be the one to beat. She completed the ten-mile distance in 56 minutes and 30 seconds, and secured such a good lead that over a minute passed before Miss Madie Peel, who came in second, crossed the line.

The first 25 at the finish as follows: 1—Miss Rosemond Dunn, 1 hour 31 min. 25-25 seconds. 2—Miss Madie Peel, 1 hour 34 min. 28-4 seconds. 3—Miss L. Miller, 1 hour 34 min. 40-4 seconds. 4—Miss Miller, 1 hour 35 min. 25 sec. 5—Miss Marion Cox. 6—Miss Lily Dewey. 7—Miss G. Hoover. 8—Miss Lily Stackhouse. 9—Miss L. M. Sheppard. 10—Miss Lavinia Florence Mansfield. 11—Miss Ethel Hyde. 12—Miss Elsie Griffin. 13—Miss E. Semson. 14—Miss Beale Anderson. 15—Miss Zera Stanley. 16—Miss M. Senior. 17—Miss Carrie Johnston. 18—Miss Lydia Duncan. 19—Miss Annie Allen. 20—Miss Phoebe Lester. 21—Miss Alma Cornish. 22—Miss Maud Thompson. 23—Miss Ellen Voight. 24—Miss Anna McKay.

ANOTHER WALKER. Toronto, Nov. 18.—Herbert Fairbrother, 47 years of age, and Miss McCully, aged 54, of McDougall's Chutes, have made a walk of 100 for an 8-day walking race in Toronto, Canada. The race was made at 8:30 a. m. Dec. 17. If not done in six days the loser forfeits $300 to the public library.

HARRIERS FAILED. On Saturday afternoon the Y. M. C. A. harriers in a relay race around the bay, tried to lower the record of the Herald race, held by the officials. The team consisted of making the distance of 19 miles 108 yards, in 1:52:10. There were ten in the team, and they each ran a distance of one and one-half to three miles. The team was composed of the following: Percy Frid, W. Kennedy, Fred Crocker, Walter Lewis, Herbert Smith, Fred James, George McCulloch, Stanley Hutson, James Moss, Edward Barclay and A. Wilson. Charles E. Cameron was the starter and the race was won by W. Kennedy, H. Taylor, A. Wilson and E. Barclay.

A PAPER CRASE. The first cross-country run of the season for the boys of Highfield School was held on Friday under a most delightful conditions. Thirty boys took part, and all finished in good style. The hares were A. L. Carpenter and M. A. Vallance, who laid the trail along the foot of the mountain going west. The senior pack took fifty minutes. The first home was G. K. Fraser, followed at an interval of about fifteen yards. A bunch consisting of K. A. Murray, G. Matheson, C. W. Gibson, and J. A. Turner. Others who finished well-up were A. Higgins, J. D. Scott, J. C. Kennedy, and F. Close.

The Intermediate, and Junior packs went off together some time after the Seniors. H. Washington won by twenty yards, in 1 hour 13 minutes. The next in were S. Nicholson, H. Hay, J. Merrick, R. Fitch, H. Wardrope, and S. Dunn, who were separated by equal intervals of about fifteen yards.

BENNINGS' OPENING.

Guardian, at 15 to 1, Won the Bladenburg Handicap.

Bennings, Nov. 18.—With ideal weather, a good crowd, a fine card and fast track, the Washington Jockey Club began its autumn meeting at the Bladenburg course Saturday. The day furnished excellent sport. There were six races on the programme, and good fields were furnished. All but a most notable exception. Guardian at 15 to 1, won the Bladenburg Handicap, a mile race, followed at an interval of one and three-fifths seconds. Comediane, an outsider, won the Columbia Handicap from Dolly Spanker in a close finish.

RACE TRACK BETTING.

Toronto, Nov. 18.—Inspector Archibald, of the Toronto police force, who assumes the responsibility for the proceedings against bookmaking at Woodbine, which came to a farcical end in the Court of Appeal last week, assured an interviewer on Saturday that, as the law allowed betting on race courses in Canada, he was going to have the law changed. "I have no doubt that strong pressure will be brought to bear upon the Government at the next session of Parliament, upon which legislation passed so as to remedy this strange state of affairs. Why, the Kempton Park decision, which was the basis of the present judgment is based, upon a conviction gained on actions which were much less harmful to the community than those at the Woodbine. Both the present decision and previous judgments make it imperative that legislation be secured as soon as possible to cover the point." Possibly the inspector may be able to accomplish what he desires, but in the opinion of the specialist who has been consulting to do with the legislation in this matter, the chance is a very small one. "It is not likely," said he, "that Parliament will abdicate its functions, or turn them over to a Toronto policeman. This is not a Toronto affair, you must understand, and the activities of a Toronto police official will weigh very little with the gentlemen of the Senate and House of Commons of the Dominion of Canada. They will probably think they are better qualified to make the laws of the nation than he is, and certainly they are elected by the people for that purpose. He is not aware of any public mandate to Inspector Archibald in the field of originating new or repealing existing legislation on any subject. It does not seem reasonable that what has been the law of the land for many years, and the operation of which in all that period has never brought forth the least objection from any of the 500 communities in which there are tracks, would be repealed on the application of a subordinate police official in Toronto. I know Parliament too well to entertain that idea for a moment. On the contrary, it will probably appear that Parliament, as it does to many thousands of his employers, the citizens of Toronto, that this is not his proper sphere of activity. When he is needed as a law-maker he can be elected a member of the House of Representatives."

SADDLE AND SULKY. Jockey McDaniel will ride for Burlew & O'Neill at New Orleans. John Smith will take Go Between and the others of his horses to California instead of racing at Washington. The officials for the New Orleans season are: Presiding Judge, Clarence McDowell; Associate Judge, William Shelly; Secretary, J. W. Maguire; Financial Secretary, John Hachmeister; Starter, Mark Cassidy; Clerk of Scales, J. B. Campbell; Entrer Clerk, Norbert J. Gault; Brown; Ring Manager, Arthur Elrod; General Manager, Matt J. Winn. Walter Miller, the most successful jockey in America this year, as last, received on Friday a cheque from James R. Keene for $12,000.33, this being 5 per cent. of the money he has won. Mr. Keene this year, including the fees from Mr. Keene, this 19-year-old boy will have earned over $50,000. Miller need certainly not fear any Wall Street panic.

Hockey Rink. To Be Erected in Beamsville at Once. Beamsville, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—From present prospects Beamsville will have an ice rink, and hockey team, this winter. It is the intention to secure the old Drift Hall, where a fine, large sheet of ice can be secured. A local promoter went out on Saturday afternoon to secure two hundred dollars to start the enterprise, and in a few hours had the required amount, and could easily have raised a hundred more. Beamsville has an interesting old splendid material yet at hand. A meeting of the stockholders will be held just as soon as some definite word is received from the Militia Department in arrangements to place a team in one of the leagues. It is not very likely, from the present outlook, that Grimsby will have either an ice rink or a hockey team this coming season.

A SOCCER GAME. The Hamilton Scots, unbeaten champions of the Intermediate Soccer League, and Westinghouse, champions of the

FOR HOCKEY LEAGUE. A meeting of all interested in roller hockey has been called for to-morrow evening at the Britannia Roller Rink, for the purpose of forming a local league.

WRECK AT MOOR LAKE. Railway Commission to Investigate Inquest at Pembroke. Ottawa, Nov. 17.—The Railway Commission has taken prompt steps to have investigated the train wreck at Moor Lake on Friday. Inspectors McCaul and Black have both proceeded to the scene of the wreck, and will report their findings to the board. A coroner's inquest was begun at Pembroke yesterday under a jury sworn in by Coroner G. E. Joseph. After viewing the remains of the victims the inquest was adjourned for a few days in order to allow time for the summoning of witnesses and the gathering of information pertinent to the inquiry. It is the intention of the Crown authorities to make the investigation a most exhaustive one.

Some Baseball Statistics. All major league records for shut-outs were broken in the National League this year, with a total of 133. The innovation introduced by the old league this year reducing the second half of a doubleheader to seven innings or less was responsible for some of these record-breaking shut-outs, as sixteen of them were of seven innings' duration or less, and occurred in the last third of the season, after the curtailed double-headers began. Without that increment, however, the number of shut-outs would have been unusual in the National League, for in the season of 1906 there were only 104 of them, and in 1905 only 87. Chicago won thirty-one out of forty-four shut-out games in which the largest took part, handing the Phillies the largest number—eight—while the Phillies only got back at Chicago's men twice. The Phillies won sixteen shut-out games and lost seventeen. There have been forty-two games with 1-0 scores, McInnity having the distinction of winning the longest of them, when he beat Cincinnati in twelve innings on May 13th. Two no-hit games were pitched this year—by Pfeffer, of Boston, against Cincinnati, on May 1st, and Maddox, of Pittsburgh, against Brooklyn, on Sept. 20th. Corridon, Pittinger, Sparks, and Morien, of the Phillies, each pitched a one-hit game. There were only two other one-hit games all season, one by Fraser, of Chicago, and the other by Camnitz, of Pittsburgh. The largest score of the season was by Pittsburgh, when they beat New York 20 to 5 on Aug. 22nd. In the American League there were fewer shut-outs this year than last, the total being 132. The Athletics won 26 and lost 12 shut-out games. Plank pitched nine shut-outs, Waddell 5, Dygett five, Bender four, Coombs one, Vickers one. There were no no-hit games in the American League. Of the seven one-hit games Dykert pitched one. The largest number of hits made in a game this season was the Boston Americans 22, off Thielman, of Cleveland, on Aug. 1st.

JAMES SIMPSON FOR MAYOR. Socialists Place a Candidate in the Field. Toronto, Nov. 18.—The Socialist party, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, placed two candidates in the field for municipal honors. Mr. James Simpson, member of the Board of Education, was nominated to make the contest for the Mayoralty, and Mr. James Lindala, a candidate for the Mayoralty last year, will seek representation on the Board of Control. President Falconer of the university, in addressing the Ottawa Canadian Club, said the newspapers should be national, rather than local or provincial, in their publishing of news material.

Prominent California Politician Then Committed Suicide. Santa Cruz, Cal., Nov. 16.—Major Frank McLaughlin, prominent politician and capitalist, shot his daughter, Agnes, in the temple to-day, the bullet coming out on the other side of her head. Soon after he committed suicide. The girl is still alive, but unconscious. No hope is entertained for her recovery.

RAILWAYMEN ACQUITTED.

REMARKABLE SCENE AFTER THE TRIAL AT BRAMPTON.

Cheering in the Court—Engineer Hodge and Conductor Grimes are Free—Story of the Wreck at the Horseshoe Curve Near Caledon.

Brampton, Nov. 16.—When the jury in the case of George Hodge (engineer) and Matthew Grimes (conductor) of the ill-fated C. P. R. Exhibition special passenger train, wrecked at the horseshoe curve September 3 last rendered a verdict not guilty to-night the crowded court room broke into a demonstration seldom seen in a court of justice.

The verdict seemed to be a popular one, and was brought in after the jury had been out about two hours. Prior to the jury leaving the jury room Sheriff Broddy asked for silence when the verdict was announced, but the temptation was too great for the spectators, many of whom sat through the trial from early morning till late at night.

When order was restored Mr. Justice Magee, in discharging the prisoners, said: "I am glad for your sake that the jury have been able to reach a definite conclusion. I hope it will be a lesson to you both in after life to exercise all possible care in the discharge of your duties."

The charge of manslaughter against Hodge was traversed till the next sitting of the Assizes, and was accepted in two sureties of $2,000 each, furnished by Peter Steele and Albert McGovern, of Toronto.

The deplorable wreck, which resulted in seven passengers being killed and one hundred injured, occurred on the horseshoe curve, near Caledon. The direct accusation brought against the defendants was negligence causing the death of David Bell and several others.

Mr. N. F. Davidson, Crown Prosecutor, in his address to the jury said the charge against the defendants was based on two counts under the criminal code, which held the men absolutely responsible in neglecting to carry out the rules of the railway company.

Mr. T. C. Robinson, K. C., in his address contended that the Crown had utterly failed to make out a case, that negligence on the part of the defendants was not anywhere shown, and that they had complied with the regulations of the company.

His Lordship in charging the jury said the railways carry thousands of lives every day, and the public relied upon the company and railway employees for protection from any danger of life, and it was in their power to give and to exercise their best caution.

GOOD SENSE WILL PRESERVE HARMONY BETWEEN BRITAIN AND GERMANY.

Emperor William Talks to Newspaper Men at London—Hopes the Press Will Continue to Foster Friendly Relations Between the Two Nations.

London, Nov. 16.—Emperor William, who came to London to-day from Windsor Castle to receive numerous deputations at the German Embassy, was specially cordial to the newspaper men, who presented him with an address. His Majesty said: "The power you wield is great and most beneficial when exerted in the direction of promoting feelings of friendship among the nations."

Your address proves that you have this task at heart. I am glad to meet you, and I hope you will continue to foster the friendly relations between our two nations, which are so necessary to the peace of Europe.

We are of the same race and religion, ties which should prove strong enough to keep us in harmony and friendship. In conversation with the newspaper men the Emperor emphasized the great influence of the modern press and the facility with which international misunderstandings were fomented in the newspapers.

He added that he thought what was needed was simply a little good sense on both sides.

OVERLOADS AND FORGERY. New York Financiers Are Civilly and Criminally Liable.

New York, Nov. 17.—In obtaining the appointment to-day of receivers for three banks and three trust companies in New York and Brooklyn which recently suspended payment, State Attorney-General Jackson declared that in the Borough Bank of Brooklyn and in the Jenkins Trust Company evidence has been found of illegal overloads, and of both civil and criminal liability.

In the case of the Borough Bank Mr. Jackson said there is evidence also of overdrafts, forged paper and other criminal transactions, all of which will be presented to the Grand Jury. Of the Jenkins Trust Company the Attorney-General declares the records show overloads to the President, John G. Jenkins, jun., aggregating $267,000.

The applications for receivers were made before Justice Betts, of the Supreme Court at Kingston, N. Y., and they were based upon affidavits of Clark Williams, Superintendent of Banking.

FAILURE BRINGS SUICIDE. A Montreal Pawnbroker Swallows Carbolic Acid.

Montreal, Nov. 17.—Hiram Ruttenberg, Jewish pawnbroker, committed suicide to-day by drinking carbolic acid. Last week his son's firm, A. M. Ruttenberg & Co., failed, and this worried Ruttenberg, sen., especially as he was responsible for about $300,000 of the firm's liabilities. To-day in a fit of despondency he took his life.

A. M. Ruttenberg & Co., fur dealers, assigned, with liabilities of about $22,000. The largest creditors are the Eastern Townships Bank, $30,000, indirectly secured; A. Vogel & Co., $12,000, and Ravillon Freres, $10,000.

MANY NEW CASES. Amount of Rheumatism Reported Everywhere is Alarming.

RESOLUTION OF LINCOLN COUNTY LIBERAL CONVENTION.

Control the Rates—A Better Way of Attaining the Government's Object—Mr. William Mitchell, of Grimby, Nominated for the Legislature.

St. Catharines, Nov. 17.—Condemnation of the Government's power policy was expressed in very decided terms in a resolution passed by the convention of Lincoln Liberals here on Saturday afternoon.

The resolution, after expressing approval of the selection of the Hon. A. G. MacKay as leader of the party in the Provincial Legislature, and pledging the Liberals of Lincoln to accord him the heartiest support, proceeded: "This convention views with alarm the policy of the Whitney Government in pledging the resources of the Province in order to introduce a power policy which can benefit at best only a small portion of the people of the Province."

COULDN'T SAVE BOY. ARCHIE BLACKWELL PERISHES IN SIGHT OF HUNDREDS.

Firemen Called Out to Rescue London Boy Who Broke Through Ice on the River—Was Finally Taken Out, But Too Late to Save His Life.

London, Ont., Nov. 17.—With two hundred people watching his efforts to climb to safety on the thin, breaking ice, eight-year-old Archie Blackwell, son of Richard Blackwell, 165 Horton street, was drowned at noon to-day. With some companions he was playing on the river bank at the foot of Clarence street, and had ventured out some distance from shore when the thin ice suddenly gave way, and he was struggling in the icy waters.

A nearby resident, seeing the accident, ran with a clothes line, and others brought ladders. The fire brigade came to the scene and for twenty minutes frantic efforts were made to save the boy.

Nothing seemed to be able to reach him, and finally he sank, just as a fireman neared him in a boat. The fireman was able to grab him and haul him into the boat. Doctors worked over the child, but life was extinct within a few minutes after he was brought out. His parents were among the crowd on the bank who watched the efforts at rescue.

NIAGARA FALLS PARK. Quarterly Meeting of Commissioners at Falls.

Niagara Falls, Nov. 17.—The quarterly session of the Board of Commissioners of the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park was held at the park offices yesterday. The Commissioners decided upon the purchase of ten acres of land of the Jennings estate on the face of Queenston Heights, fronting on the St. David's road, to round out the park there.

The Chippawa Board of Trade, through a delegation, petitioned the Commissioners to take action regarding the fares charged on the International railway between Chippawa and the Falls, which are alleged to be excessive.

In the vicinity of the power development works the improvements are most noticeable. Where the companies and their contractors filled many acres of swamp and lagoon with broken rock and built their shanties and stored materials thereon, wide lawns and shrubberies now delight the visitors, and the area accessible to the public is greatly increased.

SUFFRAGETTES' NEW CUR. If They Cannot Have Votes They Want Titles.

New York, Nov. 17.—The Sun has received the following cable despatch from London: The suffragettes now have a new grievance. Since votes for women are not forthcoming, why not at least titles for women? they ask. The list of King's birthday honors, including a celebrated singer and a celebrated actor, has aroused discussion over the question why men musicians, writers and actors should be knighted, and new women who are equally proficient in the same lines. If a Sir John Hare why not Lady Ellen Terry, since her success has been equally great? These untiring suffragettes are carrying their campaign into the police courts, when an act of women was being tried for drunkenness, eager suffragettes in the back of the court room arose and protested against her trial, as a vote had never been allowed her, and, therefore, she was not a citizen. The old woman was puzzled but delighted by the unlooked for interference, while the court, scandalized at the proceedings, ordered the instant ejection of the offending suffragettes, who were carried out still shouting "Votes for women!"

STATION ON FIRE. Prisoners at Thorold Got a Bad Fright.

St. Catharines, Nov. 17.—Fire early yesterday morning did $300 damage to Thorold fire hall. Part of the building is also used as the police station, and two prisoners, L. Macpherson and an unknown hobo, charged with attempting to break into Joseph Battle's residence, were locked in the cells. Chief of Police Shee was at breakfast when the fire broke out, and the prisoners were badly frightened, their yells being heard for blocks, and before being released they were almost suffocated by the smoke.

LOST ON WALL STREET. Professor of Botany at Columbia Takes His Life.

New York, Nov. 17.—Prof. Lucien Marcus Underwood, professor of botany at Columbia University, and one of the heads of the Bronx botanical gardens, committed suicide by cutting his throat at his country home at Redding, a suburb of Danbury, Conn., late yesterday afternoon. Prof. Underwood had some sudden illness and attempted to kill his wife and daughter, Helen Willoughby Underwood.

According to a statement made by Mrs. Underwood after the tragedy occurred, Prof. Underwood had worried to the point of insanity over losses in Wall Street during the recent slump. He lost $15,000, and was afraid that his home might be sacrificed.

HORSE PLUNGED INTO CROWD. Four Persons Injured on Market Square in London.

London, Ont., Nov. 17.—A runaway horse dashed up King street on Saturday morning and plunged into the crowded market, injuring four persons. Charles Hyde, a farmer living near Thorndale, was cut on the hand and head, and it is feared is injured internally. Mrs. Wm. H. Harey, 785 Mattland street, was pinned between the wheels of a wagon, and hurt about the back and shoulder.

Mrs. Jonas A. Moyer, 486 Oxford street, was crushed and bruised severely, and her little son, Cecil Moyer, was knocked down and cut about the head. The accident happened just at the time when the square was most crowded, and many others had narrow escapes.

THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING. One Thousand Dollars Presented to Rev. D. McCallum and His Wife.

Kingston, Nov. 15.—To-day Rev. D. McCallum, a retired Congregational clergyman, was presented with $1,000 as a gift on his golden wedding day, from friends and Canadian Congregational churches. Both Mr. and Mrs. McCallum are in fair health.

GILLETTE STILL LIVES. Albany, Nov. 16.—The court of appeals will resume sessions on Monday, when arguments will be heard on the appeal from the judgment of conviction of Chester Gillette for the murder of Grace Brown, which occurred by drowning in Big Moose Lake, in the Adirondacks, summer before last. Gillette's trial was held in Albany County. A new trial is desired for Gillette. The first three days following, probably next Thursday, the Gillette case will be taken up.

Killed by a Horse. Chatham, Ont., Nov. 17.—After being unconscious for about half an hour as a result of a terrific kick in the face sustained from a vicious horse while attempting to feed the animal, Peter McGarvin, aged about 60, part owner of a large livery barn, was found lying on the floor all but dead. He was removed to the public general hospital.

Cut His Throat in Jail. Salut St. Marie, Ont., Nov. 17.—While imprisoned in the jail last night on a vagrancy charge, a Bulgarian, arrested at Blind River, whose name is unknown, cut his throat with a razor, and will die.

BEER IS A FOOD. LAGER BEER, used with meals and before bedtime, increases digestive power, gets you more good out of the food you eat—and is itself a food.

As brewed in Ontario are so rich in the food elements of malt that they rank above milk as an item of diet, and are far purer than most milk in when city-dwellers get it.

PORTER differs from ale in that the malt is roasted (like coffee) in the brewing process, and this makes porter so nourishing that it is a real specific for anemic and run-down people.

STOUT is the richest and most strengthening of malt beers; it contains nearly as much nourishment as eggs, and digests easier. This people will find it builds healthy flesh.

LOST ON WALL STREET. Professor of Botany at Columbia Takes His Life.

New York, Nov. 17.—Prof. Lucien Marcus Underwood, professor of botany at Columbia University, and one of the heads of the Bronx botanical gardens, committed suicide by cutting his throat at his country home at Redding, a suburb of Danbury, Conn., late yesterday afternoon. Prof. Underwood had some sudden illness and attempted to kill his wife and daughter, Helen Willoughby Underwood.

According to a statement made by Mrs. Underwood after the tragedy occurred, Prof. Underwood had worried to the point of insanity over losses in Wall Street during the recent slump. He lost $15,000, and was afraid that his home might be sacrificed.

HORSE PLUNGED INTO CROWD. Four Persons Injured on Market Square in London.

London, Ont., Nov. 17.—A runaway horse dashed up King street on Saturday morning and plunged into the crowded market, injuring four persons. Charles Hyde, a farmer living near Thorndale, was cut on the hand and head, and it is feared is injured internally. Mrs. Wm. H. Harey, 785 Mattland street, was pinned between the wheels of a wagon, and hurt about the back and shoulder.

TIGERS TRIMMED ARGOS IN LAST GAME OF SEASON.

Defeated Their Old Friends By 15 to 7 on Saturday.

The New Arrangement of the Team Worked Well—Ottawa College Wins the Intercollegiate Senior Championship—Games in the Other Unions—Big Games in the United States.

Table showing game statistics for Hamilton vs Argonauts, including scores by quarter and final standing.

Hamilton Tigers wound up the 1907 Rugby championship season on Saturday by defeating the Argonauts at Toronto on Varsity oval, the football home of the Oarsmen, before a crowd of about 3,000 people, of whom about 300 were the yellow chrysanthemum and ribbons.

line was strong and the Argos were kept in their places until the kick, run or combination could be brought into play. Marriot was in better form than in any previous game this year. His man was at his mercy, and he was always on the ball. So was Lyon. Charlie Martin was on the team again and worked well. Wigle was in evidence all through the game. He has been improving steadily, and will be a most valuable wing man by next year. No more could be expected of inside wing men than Barron and Grey did. The latter was particularly aggressive, and his great strength was used to good advantage.

The scrummage had a hard task, for the footing was very bad, and their opponents were strong. In the heavy and slippery going both sides lost the ball occasionally in the scrum, but the Tiger trio held its own all the time. As usual, Ballard showed rare judgment in placing and working his men, and played a magnificent game himself, as well.

As of the Argos, one hardly had to say that Kent filled Flett's place to the full limit. He played a good game generally, punting, running and tackling well, but the high kicks were his bet noir. As long as the ball went to him on a slope he was a sure catch, but when it fell straight, or almost perpendicular, his hands were a sore, and to that the Tiger team do. In former years Hamilton was the offender in this respect, but this year the Toronto club has been behind hand. On Saturday the referee had to stop the game to put the crowd back from the touch-line, and then, strange to say, he had the boys run out, nor could the best football be expected when the star center halfbacks of the two teams were out, yet 300 or more supporters of the Tigers made the journey to Toronto and whooped it up for the boys during the progress of what proved to be an interesting game. The 300, in fact, made themselves seen and heard in the crowd that outnumbered them ten to one.

"We'll beat you five or ten points," was what the Argonaut players confidently told the Tigers before the game. They meant it, too. Their supporters were not so confident. They expected to see the blue victorious, but were not willing to risk much on the chances. There was some betting, but the Hamilton people had to give odds in every case, sometimes two to one, and sometimes only 8 to 5 or 6 to 5. At the last mentioned odds several fairly large bets were made by the dead game sports. Outside of these the betting was light. There was very little, indeed, at the grounds.

Followers of the Tigers were interested in how the rearrangement of the back division was going to work out. They had an eye to the future. With Simpson permanently out of the game and the air full of talk about the probability of others past years' back division men not being seen on the field again, they wanted particularly to see how Isbister was going to make out at centre half. They were not disappointed. Izzy's slow punt has been his one drawback, and it was noticeable in Saturday's game, but that can be overcome. If he knows that he is to play that position permanently, or any position on the back division, he will surely get the speed with practice. But Izzy showed the boys on Saturday that he did not have only his long punt to depend upon. He showed a sure pair of hands, a cool head and an aptitude for sizing up the situation quickly and making the best use of his opportunities. He bucked the line effectively and ran well, besides punting almost faultlessly.

Moore, too, showed great form. His running was of the sensational order that made the Tigers famous in the snap-back days. Time and again he gained a full quarter, a third and once or twice half the field by his zigzag runs. Burton, on left half, played a steady game. Once or twice he missed the catch, but always managed to recover, and made frequent gains by his fighting run.

Topé, especially in tight places, showed more of his old form than ever. Ere another season comes he should entirely overcome the nervousness which followed his accident of last year, and his many admirers think he will be at his very best next season. Making allowance for what fumbling was done in short passes and criss-cross combinations, the work of the back section was good, very largely because the the side line it looked like a goal, but only a rouse resulted. Hamilton 1, Argonauts 0. Kent made a bluff kick out and was downed. He kicked to Isbister, who was interfered with, and Hamilton got the ball at Argos' 30. Moore failed to pick up a short pass and Mara got the ball. Kent kicked to Topé who ran five yards to Argos' 40. Tigers lost possession in an offside. Tiger scrummage pushed the play ten yards in two downs. Johnston kicked into touch at mid field. Isbister punted in, Johnston making a long return and Isbister, again being interfered with in making the catch, the ball was taken to Argonauts' 20. Isbister gained five on a criss-cross and Marriot made eight more. Lyon dropped the ball and in recovering passed forward, Argos getting possession. McCarthy's offside gave them ten yards. Kent kicked to Burton who dropped, but recovered and ran five yards. A fumble gave Argos possession just as the quarter expired.

SECOND QUARTER. Russell kicked off for Argonauts and Isbister made a splendid return, but interference gave Argos possession at Hamilton's 35. Kent kicked in and the posts interfered with Topé's catch. Burton recovered and was downed for a rouse. Hamilton 1, Argonauts 1. Then commenced five minutes of the best football the Tigers have played this year, well executed combinations gaining the yards time and again and culminating in a try. Isbister kicked out from 45 and Kent returned to Isbister, following his own kick, but charging Isbister instead of going for the ball. That gave Hamilton 10 yards. On a short pass from Hamilton to Isbister to Moore the last named made a run that set the fans yelling. It was a clear gain of 33 yards and took the play into Argos' territory. Ballard, Marriot and Topé tried another criss-cross, but Topé fumbled. He recovered and gained the yards by a plucky fight through the line. Then he recovered the ball on a short pass and gave Moore a run more. With only one yard to make the ball, Kent failed and Argos got the ball. Kent kicked into touch at Argos' 35. From Argos' 40 Isbister made a great high kick through the hands of Marriot and Topé for a try. Isbister converted. Hamilton 7, Argonauts 1. Russell's kick off was returned by Moore to Ross, who dropped the ball, but Kent recovered at Argos' 40. Shirriff tried a pass to Sale, but Ballard intercepted it and got through for ten yards. He lost the ball in a heavy tackle. Topé received Kent's kick and Argos' 45. From this point another series of bewildering criss cross plays again got the Tigers to the scoring line. From hand to hand the ball travelled backwards—Ballard to Marriot to Isbister to Moore, who got it at Argos' 40 and ran around the end, reaching Argos' five yards, and got off to a good start in the second down, but Moore lost the ball on a short pass, and Grant took a flying kick at it, sending it into touch.

Isbister kicked in and Kent redeemed, kicking to Ballard, who was hard pressed and passed right into the hands of Argos' 35. Kent kicked and Moore marked. He returned to Kent, who kicked, and Topé caught at Argos' 45 and ran ten. Moore made five, but fell. Isbister kicked to Ross, who was downed at 45. Kent kicked into touch at Argos' 45. Gray made a splendid dash through and gained five yards, and a moment later repeated the trick for a gain of 15. Topé and Moore combined for five more. Topé and Burton made a good running combination, and the latter ran 15, reaching Argos' 25. Isbister kicked in; Kent dropped, but recovered in time to rouse Hamilton 8, Argonauts 1.

After the kick out Tigers became very aggressive again. The Argos center faked a kick and passed back to Kent, who made a long punt. Isbister dropped, but recovered. Moore, Topé and Burton made eight yards on a running combination, and Topé was good for the rest of the ten he had not yet used. However, Wigle got the ball and drove through to Argos' line, close to touch line. He ran 25 yards and got over the goal before being forced into touch. The try was allowed against the vigorous protest of the Argos, who claimed that Wigle had crossed the touch line before reaching goal. The kick on goal was missed, and the try was allowed. Hamilton 13, Argonauts 1.

By a splendid return of the kick off, by Isbister, and a beautiful run of 30 yards by Moore, the Tigers had the half within scoring distance again when half time expired.

THIRD QUARTER. When second half opened Argos became quite aggressive and their supporters demonstrative in proportion. Isbister's kick was returned by Kent to Burton, who reached mid field. Isbister's punt was blocked and he went into touch at Argos' 35. Kent kicked and Moore marked at mid field. He kicked to Johnston, who returned to Burton, who seeing no opening for a run, kicked along the ground and Argos got the ball at Tigers' 45. Kent's kick was returned by Topé into touch, for a loss. Kent kicked, Moore, who made a running pass to Topé, who missed the catch, but recovered and got out five yards. Isbister's kick was returned for a rouse. Hamilton 13, Argonauts 2.

When play was resumed the Tigers showed a little disorganization and allowed their opponents a number of gains they should not have had. Isbister's kick was returned by Kent to Topé, who was downed at Hamilton's 25. Isbister went through the line for a gain of 15 yards. Argos got the ball on an offside, but lost it again on a very bad offside charge, and the ball was carried back almost to mid field. Isbister booted to Kent and Lyon, who downed him at Hamilton's 45. Kent kicked, the ball going on a bound to Moore, who kicked into touch for a loss. A Hamilton offside gave the Argos 10. Murray stole the ball in the scrummage, but Isbister missed his kick and Hewitt got the ball at Tigers' 10. Kent's kick was blocked, but he recovered and kicked in. Topé made a fighting run out, crossing the line by two yards. There the Argos stole the ball and Grant went over for a try. Hamilton 13, Argos 7.

The great cheer which greeted this performance seemed to put new life in the Tigers, and they had the better of all the rest of the game. Isbister's kick was returned by Ross to Topé, who ran to mid field. Isbister kicked to Kent and Marriot and Lyon downed him at 35. Kent kicked to Topé, who was downed at Hamilton's 45, and lost the ball. Kent's punt went to Topé, who marked. He punted to Hewitt, who returned to Burton at Hamilton's 10. Isbister received the ball at Tigers' line and kicked into touch at mid field. In a scramble that followed Argos got the ball at Tigers' 25, but Ballard stole it. Isbister kicked and Wigle downed Kent at mid field. Kent punted; Moore missed, but recovered and made another grand run just as the quarter expired.

A good kick off by Russell was returned by Topé to Shirriff, who was downed at Hamilton's 30. Kent missed a pass and Argos lost 10, but more than made up on a long punt by Kent to Topé, who was downed at Hamilton's 40. Tigers got the advantage again on an Argo offside. Isbister kicked to Topé, who kicked into touch at mid field. Ross caught on Izzy's kick and marked. He kicked to Lyon, who marked and kicked to Ross, who fumbled, and Marriot recovered at Argos' 35. Isbister passed to Moore, who passed badly to Topé, and Crooks got the ball. Kent punted, but Argos got a chance to fumble, and the ball went into touch. Moore went around the end and passed to Topé, who made five yards. A tremendous punt by Isbister resulted in a touch in goal. Hamilton 14, Argonauts 7.

In the kick out and return Wigle and Grey forced Ross back 15 yards over the line. It was the sort of play by which the Ottawa team made most of its points in the game at Ottawa two weeks earlier, but it did not go in Toronto, for, when the rush began, Referee Lash blew his whistle and both Wigle and Grey were ruled out for two minutes. Kent kicked to Burton, who fumbled at centre, but Moore recovered. From centre, Topé tried to outdo Isbister's great kick, and succeeded in sending the ball far in, and Wigle and Isbister, who had moved a few Topé's kick, forced a rouse. Hamilton 15, Argonauts 7.

On the kick out Moore missed the catch and Mara dribbled into touch at Tigers' 25. Isbister kicked and Johnston missed, but recovered at 45. Topé made a mark on Kent's kick, and kicked to Ross, who was downed at Hamilton's 45. Kent kicked to the line and Topé fell, but Moore recovered the ball on the bound, ten feet behind goal, and made a long circuit around, reaching the 25-yard line. Ballard made a dash through the line for a gain of 30 yards, fighting every Jack Foley, trainer of the Y. M. C. A. football team, the winners of the semifinal in the Junior O. R. F. U. series, went to Brockville on Saturday to see the Parkdale-Brockville match, to get a line on the winners, who are to play the Hamilton Cubs next Saturday. He says the Parkdals worked a number of plays that were entirely new, and that the Y. M. C. A. team will have to practise hard all this week, if they can hope to win the championship. The Parkdals, he says, are heavier than the Y. M. C. A. wings.

Charlie Conkle's Unknown notified the Globe Athletic Club some time ago that he had completely recovered from the injury he sustained here while working out for his match with "Demon" Bartl. Word was sent to E. C. Finley, Bartl's manager, to fix a date for the match, but he has not paid any attention to the letter. Bartl has learned who his "Unknown" is and will not meet him now, is what Harry Mays said when he was here recently.

Walter Miller, the most successful jockey in America, this year as last, received yesterday from James R. Keene a cheque on the National City Bank for $12,000.38, this being five per cent. of the money the jockey won for Mr. Keene this year.

For the vice-chairman of the Jockey Club Miller has ridden fifty winners, of which thirty-two were of stakes, and of these eleven were won on the great colt Colin. The total money won by Miller for Mr. Keene was $245,407.75.

Including the fees from Mr. Keene, this 19-year-old boy will have earned before January 1st next not less than $30,000. He has ridden 852 races and won 224 since the commencement of the season; that would mean an addition of $11,820 to his earnings.

Wouldn't it be funny if the Argos take a spill out of the "jungle imps"? There isn't much danger of it, however, on past performances, despite the fact that one of the Hamilton rags is attempting to influence the betting, by stating that the Tigers are not in shape. —London Advertiser.

Saturday will go down in the annals of United States Rugby as a memorable one. Michigan suffered their first defeat on their own grounds, while Yale had their line crossed by Princeton for the first time in seven years.

TIGER SECONDS DOWNED DUNDAS.

Valley Town Team Beaten By a Score of 22 to 3.

Baldwin Was the Star of the Home Team in Saturday's Game, the First of the Home and Home Games for the Intermediate Interprovincial Championship.

First quarter: Tigers II, 5, Dundas 1. Second quarter: Tigers II, 8, Dundas 1. Third quarter: Tigers II, 16, Dundas 2. Last quarter: Tigers II, 22, Dundas 4.

The first of the home and home games between the Tiger II. and the Dundas team, who were tied for first place in the Intermediate Interprovincial Rugby Union, took place at the Cricket Grounds on Saturday afternoon before a large crowd of spectators, many of whom were from the Valley Town. The Tigers won easily, the score being 22 to 3. As the score of the round is to decide the championship, the young jungle kings almost have the honor clinched. In the return game at Dundas next Saturday, the Valley Town team has a lead of 10 points to overcome, and it is not at all probable that they can do that.

The weather conditions were very favorable for the sport and the teams worked hard all the time. The home team outplayed the visitors at every point and looked like winners from the start, although some of the Dundas' team supporters made wagers after the Tigers had scored. After the Tigers got into their stride they made a runaway race of it, and could have piled up a big score if they had been extended. Some of the Tigers were off for rough house work, but it was not serious. Jamieson, the wrestling kicker, was sent to the line twice for using his hands instead of his feet, and Townsend was also in the hands of the penalty timer. The game could not be called rough, however.

The Hamilton seconds played their best game of the season and showed an improvement in their work over the previous Saturday. They have got better in each succeeding game and those who saw them in the opening game at London would not think they were one and the same bunch. Manager Lawlor and Capt. Awrey are entitled to much credit for the way they have drilled the team into winning shape.

The teams lined up as follows: Hamilton II. Back: Brady. Half-Backs: Nelson, Binkley. Forwards: Loftus, Baldwin, Harrison, Awrey. Quarter: Cameron. Scrummage: Pfeifer. Wings: Laing, Parks, North, Smith, Jamieson. Referee—Dr. A. B. Wright, Toronto. Umpire—Lewis, an Englishman, attempted to commit suicide at Toronto by inhaling gas.

The game was played in quarters, the Tigers winning the toss and kicking with the wind. Capt. Nelson booted off for Dundas and Loftus returned to the Dundas 20 yard line. Binkley kicked across field and into touch. Baldwin at this stage got busy and punted over the line, but Brady quickly scrambled the oval out. After a series of scrummages, Baldwin again booted the ball over the line and it rolled to the dead line, making the first tally. Score—Tigers 1, Dundas 0.

Binkley made a nice run to the Tigers' quarter, but lost the ball. Soon afterwards Binkley punted over the line, but Smith promptly returned, and the return was muffed by Dundas, who followed up fast enough to keep possession. They failed in three downs and yet possession close to their line. Harrison attempted a drop, but failed, and the Tigers stole the ball back. He kicked over the line, but Brady got with it, but was forced back by a mass play for a safety. Score—Tigers 3, Dundas 0.

Immediately afterwards Brady was forced to rouse and Baldwin followed up with a kick over the line and Dundas had to rouse again. Score—Tigers 5, Dundas 0.

In the second quarter the Tigers got the ball on offside play and Harrison booted across the field and Smith passed to Baldwin, who kicked it over for another rouse. Score—Tigers 6, Dundas 0.

Shortly afterwards Dundas got into the game and Gillespie kicked to the dead line. Score—Tigers 6, Dundas 1.

Gillespie and Harrison gave an exhibition of booting and Dundas got the ball at the finish.

Another safety touch brought the Tigers' tally up to 8, and this ended the scoring for the second quarter.
