IRISH HOME RULERS

Fear That the Rosebery Government Will Shelve Their Favorite Measure.

The Significant Speech of a Scottish Liberal.

The leaders of the McCarthyite section of the Irish Parliamentary Party have thrown a bombshell into the Liberal camp by serving notice upon the Government, through John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, that no further dependence, in their opinion, can be placed upon the views of the Irish Parliamentary Party, unless the principles of Home Rule for Ireland are strongly re-affirmed by the Liberal Government.

The Profound Sensation which has been created in the Irish ranks by the declaration made by William McEwan, Liberal member for the Central Division of Edinburgh, in a recent speech in the Scotch capital, that the Home Rule Bill was dead, and that it would be impossible to carry the country with that measure as the first or even one of the principle issues contended for by the Liberal party.

The Countess of Aberdeen has received the permission of the Government to prevent the fall for Sir John Thompson's funeral. It will be made of white Irish poplin and cloth of gold, and is to be made by the Sisters of the Good Shepherd.

At Berkeley, California, on Monday, Mrs. Eleanor Leonte, was burned to death at her son's residence. She is sixty years of age, and was sitting before a grate fire. She fell asleep and a newspaper dropped from her lap, ignited and set fire to her clothing.

A few days since, one of the Quebec police, going into a house to arrest a man who had stolen a quarter of mutton from a farmer on the St. Roch's market, found the mutton lying on the floor and the children gnawing at the raw meat.

Mr. McEwan is not a prominent politician in the strict sense of his being a parliamentarian, but he is in a position to exert a powerful influence in the lobby, an influence, in most cases, vastly more potent than that possessed by members who are known to the country at large through their efforts on the floor of the House.

It certainly has had the effect to throw the ardent Home Rule Liberals into a state of consternation, to incense the McCarthyites and to excite the Liberal party, to plunge the Parliaments into delirium. The latter fact has all along predicted that the Ministry would break their pledge to pursue the Home Rule policy of Mr. Gladstone to the end, and the declaration of Mr. McEwan is regarded as confirming their prediction.

The usual papers for the administration of the estate of the late premier, Sir John Thompson, were filed at Ottawa, Thursday. Sir John left no will, and his estate is worth $9,727, of which $5,726 is free life insurance. It will thus be seen that he had but little of this world's goods.

The Manchester express for London on the London and Northwestern railway collided with a passenger car at Chesham, at five o'clock on Saturday afternoon. The express consisted of two engines and sixteen carriages, filled chiefly with people bound for Manchester for London to spend the holidays.

One hundred and twenty lives were lost on the English coast during Saturday's gale.

The writ for the election in Cumberland, N. S., rendered necessary by the acceptance of office of Hon. Mr. Dickey, has been issued. Nomination takes place on January 15th and polling on January 22d.

The house of William Daley at Peterborough, Ontario, was destroyed by fire on Friday, Dec. 14th, the occupants barely escaping with their lives. The fire caught from the chimney. The loss will be a heavy one as the owner had no insurance.

MR. TENNANT'S CHRISTMAS BOX.

Kindly Remembered by His Free Baptist Friends. Everybody knows that Matthew Tennant, the popular dry goods merchant is an excellent singer. Especially is his fine voice appreciated by his fellow curlers—for who has not heard him render in unapproachable fervor and sweetness the Duquenois song, but at the Free Baptist church where he leads the choir and has led it successfully for eighteen years. Mr. Tennant is seen at his best twice a Sunday and at weekly practices. Mr. Tennant is present as regularly as he says his prayers, and it was in appreciation of his splendid services that his friends of the F. B. congregation, headed by Rev. Mr. Hartley, their pastor, invaded Mr. Tennant's residence on Christmas night and presented him with a beautiful open ring with diamond settings, and a superb easy chair.

Mr. Tennant was the most surprised man in the city. He was down town when the summons came over the telephone from Mrs. Tennant that a gentleman wanted to see him at once. Sure enough, when Mr. Tennant walked into the hall the gentleman was waiting for him, but it was to usher him into the brilliantly lighted parlors where he found about forty of his Free Baptist friends assembled in their Sunday best. Mr. Tennant was quite abashed; he was a modest gentleman at all times, and when Mr. Hartley approached him and demanded his surrender—well all there was to do was to patiently submit, and watch for what was to come next. The clergyman then took a manuscript from his pocket and proceeded to read.

The Following Address: To MATTHEW TENNANT, Esq. Dear Sir,—Your friends of the Free Baptist church and congregation, desiring to give some tangible expression of their appreciation of your long continued and painstaking services in connection with the church choir have decided to ask you to accept from them the accompanying gifts. It is not a considerable number of years since you, in a moment of the church's need, consented to assume the responsible position of choir leader, through all these years you have been most faithful and presiding; when others less loyal and courageous than yourself would have been disheartened you, with a tenacity born of true devotion and love for the work, have patiently continued. You have indeed been a true friend to the church; often have made sacrifice of business calls and social pleasure to be at your post, visiting circumstances have never been allowed to interfere with your duty, and it has indeed been very seldom that you have not appeared in your accustomed place on Sabbath. Of your ability to do justice to your position the past speaks with emphasis. It speaks volumes not only of your ability as a musician, but also of your genial and happy disposition as a man that there has not as far as we know been any of those little unpleasantnesses to disturb the harmony which always should, and in this case most emphatically has and does, exist between the leader and his choir, his pastor and the congregation in general.

We trust, dear sir, that you may be long spared to retain your present position and that you may in the future, as in the past, be disposed to lend your valuable services to the best interest of the cause so dear to all our hearts, and when your days of choir singing on earth are over, as they sometime will, be may you be so highly favored as to be invited to a seat in that grand choir whose music shall forever echo round and round the throne of God.

And now please accept this chair and rug, except them in the spirit in which they are given—friendship and appreciation of true worth and worthiness. When you recline at ease in this chair or look upon this rug may you be constantly reminded of your place of high esteem in the hearts of your friends and their continued good wishes for your increased prosperity.

We may now be permitted to wish you and your amiable wife all the season's compliments. Fredericton, December 25th, 1894. Mr. Tennant, who by this time had recovered from his surprise, made a neat little speech, thanking his friends for their altogether unexpected kindness and generosity. The company then sang a song, and went about the streets of New York without an overcoat. He alleges also that he had, since their unavoidable separation, regularly corresponded with his wife, but that many of his letters to her were intercepted and suppressed to the great prejudice of the relations between him and his wife.

A law suit which is exciting a good deal of interest at Harvey, is that of James Robinson against Dr. Keith for slander, which is being tried in the Supreme Court, which opens here January 2d. Both parties are well known residents of Harvey Station. The defendant is charged with making grave assertions reflecting upon the plaintiff's character and actions, and also with undue intimacy with his wife. Mrs. Keith left her husband since the events which gave rise to this lawsuit and has been an inmate of a hospital for some time. The happy couple will take a tour through the principal northern cities of the United States before returning home.

L. A. Curry, the well known St. John lawyer, was married to Miss Mary E. Child at Jackson, Michigan, Thursday. The bride is a native of Bernardsville, and has been for most of her life a resident of Jackson, where her father is a leading business man. Miss Child is an authoress of reputation and has written much for the leading magazines of the United States in which she is a regular contributor. The happy couple will take a tour through the principal northern cities of the United States before returning home.

Sir Leonard Tilley, while in the city to-day, called on Governor Fraser and offered him the use of a car which has been placed at the former's disposal to attend Sir John Thompson's funeral at Halifax, but His Honor, fearing the exposure to his health if he took part in the function, has decided, much to his own regret, not to take the risk. Sir Leonard has also reached the same conclusion.

At the Baptist Educational meeting at St. John Thursday evening, Rev. J. D. Freeman, of this city, spoke of the duty of the pastor in respect to the intellectual training of the young in his congregation. The speaker entered very fully into the duties of the pastor in this connection showing how he should seek to develop the intellectual and spiritual life of the young people in his congregation.

The following have been elected officers of the Oranoto Coal Mining Company: Edward Moore, President; Wesley B. Nelson, Vice-President; Parker A. Mason, Secretary; Luke E. M. DeWitt, Treasurer.

Rain and sleet Christmas rendered outdoor amusements impossible, but if New Year's is fine some lively trotting may be expected. While walking to his son's funeral at Fifteen Point, P. E. I., the other day, Sylvain Arsenault complained of weakness, he was taken into a coach and expired immediately. His wife died about a month ago, and his oldest daughter about two months ago.

The funeral of the late George Fraser Sunday afternoon was very largely attended notwithstanding the very cold weather. Services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. Willard Macdonald, and the Oranogen, numbering nearly one hundred, headed by the Rural band, led the cortege to the Rural cemetery. The floral tributes were very beautiful.

INTERESTING DIVORCE SUIT.

The Applicant a Well Known St. John Society Lady. St. John people are talking much about a divorce suit which has just been entered in the divorce court here, the applicant for legal separation being Mrs. Jessie Florence Busby, daughter of the late Hon. Isaac Burpee.

Mr. Busby, the respondent, was formerly a well known figure in St. John, and was for a time an alderman of the old city of Portland. Mrs. Busby, in her libel, alleges that she married the late John Busby on the 14th of November, 1883, and lived together until the month of June, 1892, at which time defendant removed to New York, where he has since resided; that there were no children by said marriage; that during the past two years defendant has neglected and refused to contribute anything towards her maintenance and support, and has resided and still resides in New York, in consequence of which neglect and refusal to support, and residence abroad, plaintiff

Has been forced to return to, and reside at the home of her mother, where she has been for the past two years; and that on the 20th of September last, and on divers other times since the solemnization of said marriage, defendant committed adultery with certain persons or persons unknown. The libel closes with the usual prayer that the marriage may be pronounced void and of no effect, and that Jessie Florence Busby may have liberty and freedom of marriage with any other man.

Defendant, in his answer, alleges that he lived with plaintiff until 29th December, 1892, on which day he left the province by reason of business misfortunes and the withdrawal by George E. R. Burpee, plaintiff's uncle, of financial assistance, which said Burpee had promised him, he (defendant) having by advice and persuasion of said Burpee, assigned all his estate for the benefit of creditors, and having thereby been compelled to leave the province, and with the consent of his wife, in search of employment, whereby he might Support himself and maintain her. He denies that during the last two years he has neglected and refused to contribute anything towards the maintenance of his wife, but alleges that he has been wholly unable for reasons above mentioned, to contribute anything for the support of his wife, which she well knew. He denies in toto the charges of adultery. Defendant insists in his affidavit a copy of the following letter sent him by his wife from Kingston, Ont., on Feb. 28:

Kingston, Feb. 28, 1894. Dear Willie—As your mother has requested me to write you, as a personal favor to her, I will do so, though my letter can bring you no pleasure. You must know by this time that my feelings about you have changed very much, that at last silence on your part settled them altogether. Knowing as you did that through no fault of mine I was compelled to live with my family, you still did not think it worth while to write and ask the reason why you did not hear from me, even after your mother had written to tell you I had never received your last letter. Taking my things into consideration, your past neglect of me, your failure to support me in any way no matter how small the amount might be, I can draw but one conclusion: "You care as little for me as I do for you." Your mother also gives me the idea that you are under the impression my family wish for a final separation. They have never influenced me in any way, nor tried to do so, nor has anyone here. I keep my affairs to myself, but I feel every day the unpleasant position I am in. I hope sincerely you will be successful in whatever you undertake, and I am very glad you wrote to your mother so often. I can't at one time my influence over you to write to her was of no use. I hope also you are keeping well. I have been better this winter than for years, and have had a very enjoyable time. Jack and Lillie have been no good to me; in fact, I may say I never knew how to appreciate myself until this last year or so. Yours etc., Jessie. Defendant says that at Christmas he was too poor to buy clothes for herself, and had gone about the streets of New York without an overcoat. He alleges also that he had, since their unavoidable separation, regularly corresponded with his wife, but that many of his letters to her were intercepted and suppressed to the great prejudice of the relations between him and his wife.

A law suit which is exciting a good deal of interest at Harvey, is that of James Robinson against Dr. Keith for slander, which is being tried in the Supreme Court, which opens here January 2d. Both parties are well known residents of Harvey Station. The defendant is charged with making grave assertions reflecting upon the plaintiff's character and actions, and also with undue intimacy with his wife. Mrs. Keith left her husband since the events which gave rise to this lawsuit and has been an inmate of a hospital for some time. The happy couple will take a tour through the principal northern cities of the United States before returning home.

L. A. Curry, the well known St. John lawyer, was married to Miss Mary E. Child at Jackson, Michigan, Thursday. The bride is a native of Bernardsville, and has been for most of her life a resident of Jackson, where her father is a leading business man. Miss Child is an authoress of reputation and has written much for the leading magazines of the United States in which she is a regular contributor. Sir Leonard Tilley, while in the city to-day, called on Governor Fraser and offered him the use of a car which has been placed at the former's disposal to attend Sir John Thompson's funeral at Halifax, but His Honor, fearing the exposure to his health if he took part in the function, has decided, much to his own regret, not to take the risk. Sir Leonard has also reached the same conclusion.

At the Baptist Educational meeting at St. John Thursday evening, Rev. J. D. Freeman, of this city, spoke of the duty of the pastor in respect to the intellectual training of the young in his congregation. The speaker entered very fully into the duties of the pastor in this connection showing how he should seek to develop the intellectual and spiritual life of the young people in his congregation.

Rain and sleet Christmas rendered outdoor amusements impossible, but if New Year's is fine some lively trotting may be expected. While walking to his son's funeral at Fifteen Point, P. E. I., the other day, Sylvain Arsenault complained of weakness, he was taken into a coach and expired immediately. His wife died about a month ago, and his oldest daughter about two months ago.

The funeral of the late George Fraser Sunday afternoon was very largely attended notwithstanding the very cold weather. Services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. Willard Macdonald, and the Oranogen, numbering nearly one hundred, headed by the Rural band, led the cortege to the Rural cemetery. The floral tributes were very beautiful.
