THE FAIR IMPOSTOR.

It was the day of the amateur theatricals, and, though the great bell of the Grange had struck the hour of four, men in white caps and aprons were still sawing and hammering at the great saloon, where the marble statues looked on in speechless wonderment at the metamorphosis which their abiding place had undergone. For the great saloon was no longer banquet hall or dining room, but a theater, as like a theater in appearance as it could possibly be; at one end of the long apartment—in which, in times of yore, kings had been fed and ambassadors entertained—had been erected a stage,

"RUN DOWN"

Does This Describe Your Case. If so Read the Following Letter.

114 Bellevue Av, Toronto. Dear Sirs:— Some time ago I was persuaded to purchase four boxes of Dr. Bove's Iron Tonic Pills. At the time I had little faith in them, as I had been a sufferer from nervous trouble for several years. At the same time I was very much run down and out of sorts. I am now pleased to say that after using eight boxes of your pills I am entirely built up, and have to thank your company for my good health.

MRS. S. M. FLYNN. The above letter describes so well the condition of a person whose nerves are weak and exhausted that little need be added. The danger of such a state of health is sometimes overlooked by persons who do not realize that the next step is some form of paralysis which leaves one helpless in mind and body. Dr. Bove's Iron Tonic Pills are sold by all druggists and dealers at 25c per box. If your Druggist or Dealer cannot supply you send 25c (in stamps) to us direct. BOVEL MANFG. CO'Y. St. John's, Nfld., or Montreal, Can.

that looked as solid as if it had been built to last for all time, instead of for a few days. There it was, as complete as the regular thing which it imitated. Footlights, slanting stage, flies, wings, electric light, all and everything that the professional mind could have desired.

In front of it stretched a long line of comfortable, velvet seats, raised, tier on tier, almost to the music gallery itself, in which seats had been provided for the tribe of servants and retainers who were to represent the gallery.

The duke had not spoken unthinkingly when he said that his house would be turned upside down, and that confusion would reign triumphant. Not only the saloon had been harassed and discomfited, but every room in the vast place, from cellar to garret. The hall had been turned into a painting room, in which, with never flagging zeal, Gerald, in a white blouse and cap—which made him look like a French chef, has been hard at work, painting miles of scenery, and himself, and Harold, into the bargain.

For Harold had stuck to his promise—he will not act, but he is open to any other kind of work, and there promises to be plenty of it. It is he who stretches the canvas and gives it its first coat of whitewash—which invariably results in transforming Gerald and himself into a couple of millers—it is he who lifts the gigantic timbers which go to make the stage; it is he who works the size—the smell of which, the duke says, makes him sick—and it is he who climbs over the flies and arranges the ropes and wires which are to move the scenery on the eventful night.

With never-ending cheerfulness and never-flagging good temper, he 'works like a nigger,' as Gerald says, and deems himself amply repaid if Lillian, who is always backward and forward, chances to express her approval.

Rumours of the coming entertainment have penetrated far beyond even the outskirts of the country, and for a fortnight past there has been a hot struggle for tickets.

People who dreaded being left out in the cold have not scrupled to write letters imploring to be remembered; distance, it appears, would be no object. Only send them the tickets. And the poor duchess, only too good-natured to refuse, too sensible to accede, has at last turned the whole matter over to Lady Warner. 'They shan't say that I offended them, my dear,' she says naively. 'Gerald says the room will hold so many and no more; I don't care who comes—should be glad if they could all come; but the Grange is not built of india rubber, and we don't want to make a 'black hole of Calcutta' of the saloon, and so I leave it in your hands, dear Lady Warner.'

However disagreeable the task, Lady Warner could not refuse to undertake it, and, consequently, made more enemies in that one fortnight than she had done in the whole previous course of her life.

By no means the least interested in the affair was Sir Talbot, whose whole course of life and of thought had changed since the arrival of his daughter. He spent nearly all his time between the Grange and the Hall, and talked of nothing but scenery, theatrical properties and the principles of acting. It was quite delightful to see him sitting on a wooden chair, all splashed with whitewash, which came off on his morning coat and shepherds' plaid trousers, watching Gerald paint skies and flies and palace terraces, and to hear his artless expressions of approval and encouragement.

Nothing seemed to annoy him; the size might smell, the whitewash splash and the colors fly all over his hat until it looked like a prize fowl; he bore it all cheerfully—indeed,

Nerves Were Exhausted

Wants others to know of her remarkable cure by use of DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD. Mrs. Martin's condition as described in her letter below gives some idea of the extraordinary reconstructive power of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Such cures as this have placed Dr. Chase's Nerve Food where it stands today as the most popular and most effective nerve restorative that money will buy. Mrs. Edwin Martin, Ayr's Cliff, Que., writes:—'Before I began using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food I was in a terrible condition. Dizzy spells would come over me and I would fall to the floor in a faint. I could not even sweep the floor without fainting and my nervous system seemed to be entirely exhausted. 'The use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food has built up my system wonderfully so that I can do my household and washing without any trouble, and I want others to know about it.' Insist on getting the genuine Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cts. a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Ed-wardson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

seemed to enjoy it, and nodded his head with profound delight at every tree and terrace, as Gerald daubed it in.

At home, at the Hall, he was even more enthusiastic. No sooner had it been decided that Lillian was to play Juliet and Laura Julia in the "Hunchback" than he insisted upon ordering and paying for the costumes, which were to be no hired, second hand makeshifts, but were to come direct from the first Parisian artistic costumier. And, when the huge boxes came, it was he who cut the string and displayed the costly dresses.

'At least,' said Lillian, with a strange smile, 'the audience will admire the dresses, if they do not the actors.'

'But they will do both, my dear,' said Sir Talbot, eagerly; and then, for the fiftieth time, he asked her earnestly and anxiously if she was quite sure she knew her parts.

And, for the fiftieth time, she nodded and smiled in the affirmative, though no one had ever seen her with a 'Shakespeare' in her hand since the theatricals had been arranged.

'When do you learn it?' said Harold, with a smile—'at night? We shall have the Hall burnt down, sir! Lillian sits up in bed with a candle.'

And Sir Talbot laughed, easily, as if the burning of the Hall, so that it was caused by her hands, were a small matter to trouble about.

'I have a good memory,' said Lillian, 'and shall know my part.'

It certainly was very strange! She the most important member of the company, seemed to be the least concerned. She had hesitated about taking a part, had only consented with the greatest reluctance; and with having consented, the matter seemed to trouble her but very little.

The Song That Touched His Heart.

A couple of sailors just returned from a long voyage strolled into the parlour of a public-house. Above the rumble of the traffic in the street could be heard a very harsh and un-musical voice. After listening for a moment, one of the sailors turned to his companion, and said:— 'Eh, Jack, lad, it's a long time since we heard that song.'

'What song?' 'The one that fellow is singing in the street—'The Light of Other Days.'

'Stow it!' ejaculated the other, gruffly. 'That fellow ain't singing "The Light of Other Days" at all. I've been listening to him; he's piping "The Banks of Allan Water."'

Each sailor was certain that he was right, and, with characteristic contempt for money, a wager was made—a month's pay depended upon the result. 'Here, Tommy,' called out one of the men to the little son of the landlord, 'run out and get to know what that fellow is singing.'

Tommy departed on his errand, which did not take many minutes. 'Well,' demanded Jack, 'what of us is right?' 'Naythur,' replied Tommy, grinning. 'The fellow is not singing at all; he's hawking herrings!'

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"To try to measure the enjoyment of others by our own."

"To expect uniformity of opinion in this world."

"To endeavor to mold the dispositions of everybody alike."

It rather seems to me as if the learned judge must have been thrown into contact lately with the kind of person who is not happy unless he is trying to make the people about him enjoy the things he does, believe as he does and feel as he does.

If he has, I can fully understand how he happened to aim three of his "mistakes" at that type. I often wonder why he didn't make it the basis of the whole fourteen.

Is there any human being more aggravating than one of this type. You meet him everywhere.

Impervious to criticism in his armor of good intentions, he goes about trying to force his views, his likes and dislikes, his pleasures, his way of doing things, and his health fads upon all the world.

He discovers a pleasant place for a vacation, has an unusually good time there and nothing will do but all his friends shall go to that particular spot. They may have vacation haunts that they are quite satisfied with, but he is sure that nothing can possibly be as desirable as his find, and unless all his acquaintances are exceptionally strong minded he probably talks some of them into abandoning their favorite haunts in favor of his choice.

He reads a book that pleases him. His friends simply must read that book immediately. He insists upon loaning his copy to bored and busy folks who put him off, when he inquires how they like it, as long as they can, and then skim it through in rage and despair.

Something helps his rheumatism, and at once in his determination that all his friends who have any suspicions of rheumatism shall use his cure, he combines the fulsome use of a patent medicine testimonial and the incorrigibility of a book agent.

And all this for what motive?

All because of his extraordinary love for his friends and his great desire to benefit them?

That's what he thinks, but I beg to differ.

All because he is afflicted—or rather his friends are—with a mania for trying to make the rest of the world like himself.

To pass the benefit of your experience on to your friends is one thing; to force it on to them is another.

Which do you do?

Facts for Weak Women

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
It Makes Weak Women Strong,
Sick Women Well.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar affections incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages, newly revised and up-to-date Edition, sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only; or, in cloth binding for 50 stamps. ## HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

Sifted coal ashes, wheat flour and sand mixed with water make an excellent mortar for patching holes where plaster is broken.

If string beans are prepared for some hours before they are to be cooked, wash them, drain them and put them in a bowl covered with a wet cloth.

When frying the stove is often splashed over with grease. To prevent this sprinkle salt in the frying pan before putting in the fat.

Many a laundress finds that an excellent bleaching medium is made by adding a little turpentine or kerosene to the water in which clothes are boiled.

Long stiff wire with a bit of cloth on the end will be found an excellent substitute for a brush in cleaning the drain pipe of the refrigerator.

When a lemon is halved or quartered and left unused, a tumbler over it, protecting it from the air will keep it from drying or moulding for several days.

When next serving lemon sherbet, add to the sherbet an equal quantity of chopped figs, dates, raisins, and nuts. Serve in glasses tipped with whipped cream.

To make croissants for soup quickly, cut the bread into cubes and put it in a corn popper. Shake this over the fire as if popping corn, and it will soon brown.

It is wise to put sand into the bottom of tall vases before slipping the flowers into place. The weight of the sand will prevent the flowers from being top heavy.

Be sure to include borax in the toilet accessories when going off for an outing. Should the water be hard borax will soften it, so that the skin will not suffer.

Every day beat and shake the pillows. Pushing the hands in each pair of corners in turn, work the hand thoroughly through the feathers to separate them and make them fluffy.

If the varnished surface of a piece of furniture is injured by chloroform, ammonia or any other liquid which dissolves varnish, rub the spot a once with olive oil or linseed oil.

A piece of stale bread, a small lump of soda or a piece of charcoal placed in the pot will lessen the disagreeable odor that arises when cooking cauliflower or cabbage.

When cooking mush for fried mush do not cook as long as for eating, but pour into a deep pan after stirring ten minutes. When cold dip the slices in beaten egg and they will be crisp.

It is wise to wash the egg beater directly after it is used. If this is impossible, save yourself trouble later by plunging it at once into a bowl of water, so the egg cannot harden on it.

Keep a bottle of ammonia at hand to use when acid takes the color from any fabric. Apply a little of the ammonia immediately, and in almost every instance the color will be restored.

God's Acre.

Mount Carmel Cemetery, on the north side of Quidi-Vidi Lake, has been much improved and beautified, thanks to His Grace Archbishop Howley, who saw the necessity of appointing a number of gentlemen to act as a Board of Directors, and one has only to visit the grounds to see the great change made in the general appearance of the cemetery within the past eight or ten years. New walks have been made, sanded and graded, fences have been added, a very neat Mortuary Chapel has been built, a large field of over five acres purchased, hundreds of assorted trees have been planted, and I am pleased to be informed that all of this property and improvements are paid for. This proves that those of our citizens interested in Mount Carmel have contributed liberally from their limited means and are working harmoniously with the Board of Managers. During the present year management had to have erected a substantial concrete retaining wall of upwards of 400 feet long, the money for which had to be raised by loan from one of the banking institutions. They are nothing daunted over this heavy but necessary expenditure, for they know that they have the generous support of interested ones; and now for this purpose the Board of Directors for the first time during all their years in charge earnestly appeal for a substantial collection on Sunday next, 17th inst., when the annual Requiem Mass will be celebrated and an appropriate sermon preached by Rev. Dr. Kitchin, P. P. St. Joseph's Parish. It is therefore hoped that a large congregation will be present, for apart from the religious ceremonies a large concourse will show the gentlemen in charge of Mount Carmel Cemetery that their work is being fully appreciated.—Com.

Mr. Williams Gets Sad News.

Mr. J. E. Williams the Superintendent of the Slate Quarry, at Summer-Idle, Bay of Islands, who is now in town, staying at the Crosbie, received a cablegram yesterday from Wales conveying the sad intelligence that his wife had died there last night. Mr. Williams is overwhelmed with grief. The telegram extends sympathy to him in his deep sorrow. He went to England by the Siberian.

Had Eczema in Both Legs

You could scarcely imagine a more severe test of this ointment than the cure of Mrs. Clark recorded here. For twenty years she suffered all the tortures of this terrible disease and tried in vain the prescriptions of doctors, and the cures commonly recommended.

Mr. Fred W. Clark, Petworth, Ont. writes:—"My mother had Eczema in both legs for about 20 years and suffered from the dreadful itching, stinging sensations which can never be described. She doctored and tried everything for it but got no relief until she used Dr. Chase's Ointment which was recommended to her by a friend. She found that this brought relief and by continuing its use has been cured of Eczema. I do not think any one could have this horrible disease any worse than she did and can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a thorough cure for Eczema."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 50 cents a box at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co. Toronto. Dr. Chase's Recipes sent free.

What's a Bay?

As will be seen by reference to the cable message to the Daily News, which we have copied, Advocate Ewart of Canada has been wrestling with the American contention that a bay is not a bay if it is six miles wide at the entrance. The question arose apparently in 1830, when American fishermen followed/mackerel up the Bay of Fundy, claiming that they did it as of right, as the opening was more than six miles wide, and that they had a right to enter the inlet provided they kept three miles away from British land. The British, however, contended that the words of renunciation in the Convention of 1818 did not warrant such a claim, the renunciation clause being: "And the United States hereby renounce forever any liberty hitherto enjoyed or claimed by the inhabitants thereof to take, dry, or cure fish on or within three marine miles of any of the coasts, bays, creeks or harbors of His Britannic Majesty's dominions in America, not included" in certain defined limits.

The Americans read the text as if the words "bays, creeks and harbors" were not there and were meaningless. The British, however, claim these words have meaning and that Americans may not fish within three miles of the waters of the Bay, i.e., within three miles outside of a line drawn from the headland of bays.

In other words, Americans refuse to recognize as bays any inland water which has entrance more than six miles wide. The British case is prejudiced by the British relaxing in 1845 their interpretation in the case of the Bay of Fundy for the sake of peace.

But from 1854 to 1866 naval officers were instructed to keep American fishing vessels out of inland waters which were less than 18 sea miles wide. In short, Americans contend that in this connection a bay is not a bay if its mouth is over six miles wide. It will be remembered that Mr. Goelling dealt with this matter fully in a letter published in the Evening Telegram a short time ago.

In conclusion, the arbitrators are called upon to solve the conundrum: What is a bay not a bay?

Those Forest Fires.

Hon. S. Blandford this morning had a message stating that the forest fire in the neighborhood of Terenceville was quenched by the people about there yesterday. The other fire near Port Blandford, which was just inside the place, seriously menaced it for a while yesterday, but the settlement is out of danger to-day. Chief Hanger Howe reports. The fire has covered an area of 10 square miles and a good deal of timber has been destroyed.

She left Halifax that day and had thick fog to Cape Race. She has half a cargo and had 125 passengers to Halifax, 23 of whom got off there and as many more from that port embarked. ### Will go to Rama.

The s.s. Susu, Capt. W. Winsor, will leave for Labrador to-morrow evening, going as far north as Rama. She will not call at any of the Nfld. ports this side of St. Anthony. The Susu will touch in at Brandy, Quirpon, Cape Onion and Blanc Sablon. She will call at all the usual Labrador ports. The fact that the Susu is not calling at the usual Nfld. ports will mean in many cases a loss to the fishermen. ### Women's Attack on John Burns.

New York, July 4.—A special London cable to the Times says: The Right Hon. John Burns, President of the Board of Trade, came in for severe criticism at the hands of Lady Frances Balfour on Saturday at a meeting of the Freedom of Labor Defence Association. Lady Frances after saying that women were already handicapped by natural disabilities and should not be further handicapped by legislation directed against them, said: "We have one arch enemy. That enemy is John Burns, and although he is a personal friend of my own, he is a personal friend of my own, in matters that concern our society he is one of the most dangerous and revolutionary of the Ministers. He is one of that vicious class of men who are always 'trying to do good to women.'"

Standard Oil Lumber Fire.

Syracuse, N.Y., July 4.—A special despatch to the Herald from Oswego, N.Y., says:—Fire broke out to-day in the lumber piles of the standard Oil Company's big box shop, and starting in a pile of dry pine wood shavings, near the lake, burned a swath 400 feet wide and a thousand feet long through the centre of the yard. It is estimated that between ten and twelve million feet of lumber, having a value of $200,000, was destroyed. The fire is believed to have started from a cigarette butt having been thrown carelessly into the shavings by someone passing through the yard.

Mr. M. F. Murphy, the well known West End barber, has opened a new barber shop in the Osborne Building, opposite the General Post Office. He is fortunate in securing such excellent quarters—such a fine large room. Mr. Murphy is very popular and we have no doubt that he will do the combination of extreme pain, terror, and the irritant poison resulting from the stings may have been enough to bring about actual suicidal mania."—Daily Mail, June 27.

Chatanooga, July 11.—Walter White, a farmer, while aiding in lowering the body of his friend, D. N. Barkdale, into a grave, was struck by lightning and instantly killed near Tyner, yesterday. Several others of the funeral party were stunned.

Boston, July 10.—Injuries sustained when she set fire to her clothing while curling her hair several days ago resulted in the death to-night of Miss Orma A. Richardson, of Alliston, a well-known society classic dancer. She was 21 years old.

Newcastle, Pa., July 11.—The Rev. R. N. Merrim, of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Mahoningtown, advertised that he would preach in the dark last night. The lights were extinguished because of the heat. The church was crowded when the minister entered the pulpit and, more than three-quarters of the congregation were young folks.

St. Louis, July 9.—Col. Abe Slusky, a former politician, who returned yesterday from Reno, Nevada, painstakingly and tenderly moistened two porous plasters tightly stuck on his chest. From them he took $3,000 in yellow backs. It was the only safe way to carry money in Reno, the colonel said. I would have stuck it on my back, but there wasn't anyone I could trust for me. The only way for those dips to get the coin from Slusky was to skin him. In all I won $8,605.

Boston, July 10.—New England claims a toll of 13 lives on this the hottest Sunday of the year. In nearly every case the victims were seeking relief from the torrid temperatures by a plunge in the cooling waters of pond or river, and several of the accidents were marked by heroic attempts at rescue. In one case, that of Mrs. Patrick McCabe, of Lonsdale, R. I., who was found in a canal with her baby clasped in her arms, suicide was committed, but the woman's condition was due to the heat.

8557. A Pretty Little Suit.
Nothing is smarter for the little boy than the pretty little tunic suits, simply finished by machine stitching or narrow braid. Such a model is here illustrated in white serge. A shaped trimming band outlines the neck and front edges, and a deep belt is arranged the full length of the front and back, extending out over the shoulders in a very becoming manner. The little knickerbockers are shaped by the usual outside and inside seams, the fullness at the knee being adjusted by an elastic inserted in the hem. The top is finished by the inside waist band. The mode is equally suited to the firmly woven wash fabrics, such as linen and pique, as well as the flannels and woollens. For a child of 6 years 2 1/2 yds. of 54 inch material will be required. Sizes 2, 4, 6 years.

Suicide Through Bees.

Officer Kills Himself After Severe Stings.

After being severely stung by bees, Captain Hugo Frank Henry, who served with the New Zealand contingent in the Boer War, has committed suicide near his home at Bath.

Bee-keeping was Captain Henry's hobby and he rented a garden for his bees. As a result of stings inflicted on Thursday his head and face became much swollen, and his housekeeper found him dead in a summer house, with a part of his head blown away and a revolver by his side.

"Despite the fact that the poisonous action of a bee's sting has been extensively studied," writes a medical correspondent, "our knowledge of the true physiological effect is practically nil. Undoubtedly a strong irritant poison is formed in the tissues at the site of the sting, and like many other poisons which have a beneficial effect in moderate doses, this poison might easily induce serious temporary brain derangement in excessive doses."

"Animals have been known to go mad when attacked by bees or wasps. It is generally believed that this madness is not entirely due to the pain caused by the skin punctures. It is not, therefore, impossible that in this case the combination of extreme pain, terror, and the irritant poison resulting from the stings may have been enough to bring about actual suicidal mania."—Daily Mail, June 27.

Holy Communion on Sunday.
On Sunday, July 10th, the Sacrament of the Blessed Eucharist was administered for the first time to about forty children of the parish of Holyrood. For a month they had been receiving special instructions from Rev. Fr. Battcock, P.P., and the teachers to prepare them for the worthy reception of such a great Sacrament. Before Mass the children marched in processional order through the church and took their places before the Sanctuary. At the conclusion of the Mass Fr. Battcock addressed the communicants in a manner eminently suitable to the occasion on the importance of the Sacrament they had just received, and impressed upon them the advisability of keeping themselves holy, as they now were, and of making their first Holy Communion the happiest and most memorable event in their lives.

Star Feildian Match.

Stars Win by 5 Goals to 2.
The concourse of people who assembled on St. George's Field last evening to witness the match between the Stars and Feildians were not disappointed in their anticipations of a good game. It was the fastest footballing seen on the field this season, play was clean and well sustained, and though undoubtedly the best men won, the vanquished team need not be ashamed of the excellent exhibition of football they gave. A good breeze blew from the west, but the weather was excellent, and as the Feildians won the toss the choice of position was theirs and they defended the western goal. The line up was:—

Feildians—J. Vaisey, goal; H. Rendell, G. Hunt, backs; A. Tait, R. Simms, R. Tait, halves; H. Dickenson, E. Pinsent, G. Boone, E. Rendell, forwards.
Stars—P. Keefe, goal; F. Hartery, J. Carey, backs; J. Hart, T. Jackman, W. Duggan, halves; F. Brien, J. Morgan, J. Adams, A. Evoy, E. Power, forwards.

Shortly after the sphere was kicked off the Feildians became aggressive and were quickly encroaching on Star territory and Keefe was called on from one of the wings, but cleared in his usual brilliant style. A fruitless corner was conceded the boys in light and dark blue, but the Stars had the ball out of danger quickly, and working it up the wing Evoy took charge, crossed to Adams and he by skillful play beat Vaisey and hit up the first goal for Stars amidst the applause of their supporters. This rebuff neither disconcerted nor disheartened the Feildians who in a couple of moments got the leather down field, Hartery tried to block it, but Pinsent availed of a chance and sent the ball into the net scoring the equalizer, and Feildian stock quickly soared. Both teams now gave an exhibition of fast play which reminded spectators of the strenuous struggles of the days of the Saints and Stars. Keefe was repeatedly called on and saved well, as per usual; corners were conceded by both teams; but nothing resulted; fouls were given against the boys in pink, white and green, but were equally barren of result, and soon after Adams had a try for the net. When half time was announced by Referee Higgins whistle and the teams crossed 1 goal each. The ball being again put in motion Stars promptly invaded their opponents territory when Duggan placed the second of two corners, given Stars neatly opposite the goal mouth, and in a short, sharp scrimmage Power headed the leather into the net, scoring No. 2 for Stars. Brien now took a pretty shot from midfield but it hit the cross bar and was taken out of danger by the Feildians. Working it east again Brien kicked the ball which dropped down on Vaisey. It twisted when he hit it to try and clear and going between the posts No. 3 was credited to Stars amidst rounds of applause. The Feildians now threw some vim into their work, and getting the leather up against the wind Rendell scored No. 2 for his team. A long shot from Duggan hit the cross bar and rebounding the ball was taken up field and a corner was conceded but nothing came of it. The Stars once more had a look in at Vaisey, and Power passed to Morgan who successfully shot, but being "off sides" the goal scored was blanked. The Stars now played a very fast game and did some nice passing, when Brien sent the leather across from the wing, Evoy got control and passing to Adams he sent it whizzing into the net notching up Stars 4th goal. Both teams had now several trials at scoring until Evoy again getting a run down the right wing sent a scorcher to Vaisey, beating him and scoring goal 5 for the Stars. Their opponents now made determined onslaughts on the Star Goal but were successfully blocked, and the game closed:—Stars, 5 goals; Feildians, 2 goals.

A. P. C.

The following short report upon her work has been submitted by Miss Anderson, who is working in Bay of Islands for the Association. This Report shows that Miss Anderson has worked with the most unremitting energy since she came here, and that she has already accomplished much good.
Began work June 17th, 1909, as Visiting Nurse and Social Worker for the A. P. C. Method of work was by making house to house calls looking up Consumptive Cases, examining in their history and environment, their need of assistance, etc., and giving help and advice. The cases were then visited regularly in their homes once or twice weekly, and those who were ill, once and sometimes twice daily.

The great thing aimed at in the work is simple cleanliness, consisting in the instruction of the patients and their families in the hygiene of the home, the importance of open air and rest, and the value of food, proper disposal of sputum and the use of cups and napkins and the necessity for sleeping alone. If the patient is bed-ridden the family is taught how to give bed baths, and instructed in the prevention of bedsores, the necessity for separate dishes, also the proper method of dusting and sweeping the patient's room.
The following places were visited during the summer of 1909:—Gambo, Heart's Delight, Cavendish, Heart's Desire, Scilly Cove, New Melbourne, Lance Cove, Sibley's Cove, Cupids, Harbor Buffett, Branch, St. Bride's and Patrick's Cove. The total number of calls made for the year ending June 17th, 1910, was 3,447. The total number of patients attended was 298; 72 of these in St. John's and 221 in the Outports. The sputum of some of these has not been examined, and consequently the disease cannot always be positively established in such cases. Eighteen of the patients visited and helped were suffering from other diseases than consumption.
Fumigated 69 rooms in the Outports, and reported to the Board of Health 36 houses for fumigation or disinfection after the death or removal of a patient.

Given 3 lectures on the Prevention of Consumption and Care of Children Had 3 Cooking Classes and demonstrations.
One feels that there is health nursing to be done as well as sick nursing, and that this work lies in the homes of the people and covers all that can be done to improve housing conditions, as well as in the way of educating poor people up to a standard of cleanliness and to a recognition of the benefit and blessing of fresh air in providing suitable and sufficient nourishment, and in every way possible striving to make healthier bodies capable of resisting diseases and finally by controlling the infectious material or person.
Among other donations for the past year I wish to gratefully acknowledge the following:—Mrs. A. W. Harvey, money and other contributions; Miss Walker, $16; Friend, $2; Dr. Butcher, $3.50, collected at Crosbie Hotel; Mr. J. Outerbridge, $5; Mrs. Jas. How, $5; Friend, through Mrs. Brehm, $2; Miss Hayward, underclothing; Mrs. Beck, clothing; Miss A. Hayward, blanket; Dr. Brehm, 1/4 ton coal for one family; Mrs. Geo. Shea, clothing; Mrs. Geo. Hayward, child's cot and mattress; Friend, quilt and underclothing; Mrs. A. Clift, underclothing; Mrs. Dr. Rendell, blanket, shawl, clothing and shoes; Mrs. K. R. Prowse, underclothing; Mrs. Gosling, clothing; Mrs. Brehm, 2 coal tickets, etc.; Dorcas Society, sheets, pillow slips, nightgowns, etc.; St. Vincent de Paul, $1 worth of groceries, 1/4 ton of coal for family; Mrs. Franklin, clothing.

The support given by Dr. Brehm and the Board of Health Officers and by the Committee of Ladies who assisted me during the winter months in visiting and supplying fresh eggs, milk, groceries, etc., for the needy sick has been greatly valued by me. The Ladies Committee consisted of:—Mrs. Gosling, Mrs. A. W. Harvey, Mrs. M. G. Winter, Mrs. K. R. Prowse, Mrs. Blackburn, Mrs. W. C. Job, Mrs. W. Rogerson, Mrs. Morison, Miss Morison, Mrs. T. McNeil, Mrs. A. Macpherson, Mrs. Dr. Keegan, Mrs. R. G. Reid, Mrs. J. S. Munn, Mrs. C. Harvey, Mrs. Brehm, Mrs. Dr. Fraser, Mrs. Dr. Macpherson, Miss McKay, Miss Macpherson, Miss A. Hayward, Mrs. J. A. Clift, Mrs. A. F. Goodridge, Mrs. Withers, Miss M. Donnelly, Mrs. Outerbridge, Mrs. J. C. Marshall, Mrs. Dr. Rendell. All of these have been most helpful and our cordial thanks are extended to them all.
Respectfully submitted,
SOPHIE ANDERSON.

Death of a Religious.

Mother Cecilia, one of the youngest members of the community of Sisters of Mercy, Conception, was called to her eternal reward on Thursday night, July 7th, in the 33rd year of her age and the 13th year of her religious life. Her death was the result of that dread disease consumption, with which she was stricken two years ago. Mother Cecilia Joy was the daughter of Capt. Walter Joy, Sub-Collector, Holyrood; the niece of the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Veitch, P.P., Conception, and the sister of Sister Lucy, who died of consumption at the Convent of Pietou over a year ago. She early showed signs of a religious vocation by her deep devotion and piety. Having finished her education at the High School, she finally decided to give up the pleasures of this world to take the vows of poverty, chastity and obedience. The deceased sister bore her sufferings calmly and patiently and resigned herself to the will of God from the beginning. For some years prior to her death the saintly religious was Rev. Superior, where despite her failing health she was a brilliant example to all by her fervour and fidelity in the daily routine of the various community exercises. A truly edifying spectacle to young and old was the handsome, graceful, though tottering Nun, winding her way to the Chapel where it was her happiness to remain for hours keeping a vigil of love before the Tabernacle. On Sunday evening her funeral took place from the Convent to the Church, and thence to the Convent cemetery. The funeral procession was preceded by the Rt. Rev. Mons. Veitch, Very Revs. J. V. Donnelly, G. J. Battcock and R. M. Sheehan. The chief mourners were the sisters of the Convent, the members of her family and the Convent School children. The large procession included in its ranks people from Holyrood, Harbor Main, Avondale and Conception. The burial service was conducted by Rt. Rev. Mons. Veitch, and the remains of dear, gentle, noble Sister Cecilia were consigned to mother earth to await the final call.

On Monday morning Requiem High Mass and Office was celebrated for the repose of her soul by the Rt. Rev. Mons. Walsh. He was assisted by Rev. Fr. Battcock as Deacon, Rev. Fr. Sheehan as sub-Deacon, Rev. Fr. Donnelly, Master of Ceremonies, and the Rt. Rev. Mons. Veitch as High Priest. To her sorrowing father, sister and brothers, to her uncle, Rt. Rev. Mons. Veitch, and to all the other members of her family the Telegram extends its sympathy.

CAUGHT A POLLOCK.

Denis McCarthy, of Outer Cove, caught a 20 lb. pollock in his trap yesterday. He brought it to town and sold it to Mr. Piccott, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, who presented it to His Excellency the Governor. It is a graceful fish, of the cod family, and is known among fishermen as a "Job."

Shannahan on Nuisances.

He Prescribes a Remedy for the "Unloaded."

If a man wheels a wheelbarrow on the sidewalk, a policeman fires him and his barrow out in the road. If a man staggers along on the street and takes up more than his share of the sidewalk, he soon gets a chuck that brings him to his senses, and if he slings or haws he is arrested and gets three months for disorderly conduct. This is as it should be, I suppose, and all these cases come under the Nuisance Act; but there are others which are permitted day by day by a long-suffering public, and the fun of the thing is that they have been permitted to go ahead so long that now people believe they are allowed by law. First and foremost we have that prying molasses-sticky jader, who perches down alongside of you just as you are engaged talking private matters with a friend. Unfortunately you become acquainted, or, as a matter of fact, had the misfortune to be introduced to him by a friend in a thoughtless moment, and therefore he thinks he has the right to "be on" to you on any occasion. These fellows, as a rule, are a crop of late growth and consequently a trifle fresh. You don't feel like firing your hat at them for the sake of the hat, but if you had your way you'd tell them to go to Hellgoland or some other place, where north-easters don't come up twice a day. I referred to that tiresome sticking-plaster, "The Unloader," in a former article, and one could write eighty-five volumes on this nuisance, but it would be useless, for already a remedy has been found in the "running away" racket. Everyone with a grain of sense runs away from the jader now. Life is too short and you're likely to get a cold, so you move on. When the "unloader" gets turned down 70 or 80 times a week, he usually wakes up to discover he is a "bore." 'Tis a wonderful awakening, for right along he thought "all the world wondered," and when he finds out—when he discovers that people put up with him for the sake of his feelings, he generally goes in back of Hennebury's and gives himself three running lashes in the side.

A Big Event at Grand Falls.

On Monday night in the Amusement Hall the grand dance in aid of the Catholic Church at Grand Falls, took place. One hundred couple attended and the affair from beginning to end was voted by all a splendid success. The following were guests of honor:—E. A. Surham, Esq., Secretary; W. Scott, Esq., Civil Engineer; V. Jones, Esq., Superintendent Mills; H. C. Hansen, Esq., Chief Accountant, A. N. D. Co.; and their lady friends. The floor directors, chairman, J. Judge, P. J. O'Leary, A. Duggan and J. Maloney, worked well and added materially to the success of the evening. The refreshment table was ably looked after by Mrs. Frank B. Ireland, assisted by Mrs. Patrick M. Kelly to whose good catering the assemblage were very pleased. James Duggan & Co. supplied the music which was very acceptable. Quite a purse of money was realized, and it goes without saying that under the management of Chairman James Judge and Secretary J. McNamara every event of this kind held for the above purpose at Grand Falls has been singularly successful. Rev. Fr. Dwyer, the promoter, is very popular amongst the people, and when he has an event on everyone vie with one another to make it a success. If cheap rates can be got from the Reid Nfld. Co. a big number of St. John's people together with a number of paper makers, electricians, etc., will come from Grand Falls for the Regatta. A movement is now on foot at Grand Falls to secure one way rates. We hope the R. N. Co. will respond to the wishes of the Paper Mill Town's people.

Newfoundlander Drowned at Stellarton.

Stellarton Station, July 11.—A sad drowning accident occurred here Saturday evening, when a young man named Tucker, about 22 years of age, was drowned while bathing with a companion in the East River, nearly opposite the Old Fort Pit. The deceased was a native of Newfoundland but had lately resided at Westville. A number of drowning accidents have occurred within recent years near the same spot in this river, which runs along the edge of the town.

Ewart at the Hague.

(Daily News Message)

The Hague, July 14.—John S. Ewart, K.C., began his pleading today for Britain. He said that the British interpretation of the words "Three miles from the bays" in the Treaty of 1818, was simply three miles from bays. On the other hand, the American interpretation was complicated, and had changed several times in the course of the last century. The difficulty in determining the limits of the bays was apparent. Britain and America had often concluded treaties dealing with bays, but without defining the word "bay." In the Treaty of 1877 the Americans had for the first time advanced the territorial theory in contradiction to the terms of the treaty, which spoke of three miles from "bays," but not "three miles from shores of bays." For the rest, no nation recognized that the best territorial bays could not be broader than six miles from headland to headland.

Mr. John Skirving Ewart, K.C., is a member of the Bar of Ontario, and is an advocate of eminence. Presumably his special business is to speak on the case as it especially affects Canada.

Johnson Declares He Was Offered $350,000 to Throw the Fight.

Jack Johnson says he and his manager, Little, parried because the latter wanted him to throw the fight, and they had disputes over other matters. He says: "It was some days after I had settled down to actual hard work that Little came to me one afternoon. He began by telling me what a lot of money the fight was going to draw. Then he began to talk about the thousands of dollars the moving pictures would draw, and wound up by telling me that the pictures would be worth half a million dollars more if Jeffries should win than if I stopped the white man."

"He then got down to his final proposition, and that I should stall for a few rounds and then lay down." "It will be a fortune to you." "You needn't ever fight again or do anything else. You know you might possibly get licked anyway, and you might as well take what is offered and make certain of it. Then the moving pictures will be worth another fortune and you will be fixed for life."

Johnson refused to tell what the amount was that Little told him that had been offered for him to quit in the fight, but declared that it was almost too much for any man to pass. "I was told by Little that a syndicate was behind the offer," said Jack. "I did not give him a chance to tell me how they were going to get the money back, but, of course, the betting amounted to something. I stopped him just as I saw he was in earnest and wanted me to throw the fight. I won't repeat all that I said to him. I told him that I was through with him forever."

Small Pox Breaks Out Among Refugees.

Special to the Evening Telegram. CAMPBELLTON, N.B., July 14. Pestilence to-day added its horrors to the plight of the hapless people of this town. A case of small pox was discovered among the refugees in the tents and was promptly reported. Quarantine was at once established and vigorous action will be taken to prevent the spread of the dread disease. The people are cheerful, but they are just beginning to realize that the worst may yet be before them. Everyone who can is leaving the scene of desolation. Of those who remain many are huddled together in tents or shelters made of blankets or boards thrown hastily together. Others are in the open fields or woods at the back of the town without any shelter whatever and with very little food. Food in plenty is being issued in a systematic way, so that no one need suffer from hunger. Men of the Militia are trying to keep order and are doing good work, but there ought to be many more on the spot to protect persons and property and prevent looting, which has already begun. Someone started selling liquor yesterday at the back of the town and an armed guard went out and seized the stock and destroyed it. One of the Militia men on guard last night was struck on the head and knocked down. The most pressing need seems to be clothing of all kinds. There are about 40 tents when there ought to be 400.

Chinese Pirates Dislodged by Gunboat.

Special to Evening Telegram. HONG KONG, July 14. The guns of the Portuguese gunboat Watira to-day dislodged the Chinese from the fort of Colowan Island. Many of the Chinese were killed during the bombardment. Two junks loaded with Chinese who were attempting to escape were sunk and all of their occupants drowned. The Chinese gunboats stationed here watched the operations. Trouble between the Portuguese and the Chinese on Colowan Island grew out of an attempt of a force of Portuguese soldiers to rescue several Chinese students who were held captives by pirates upon the island. The pirates showed fight and were reinforced by natives from Chinese villages of the interior. The resistance was so effective that the Governor of Macao sent a gunboat to bombard the pirates village and the fort.

Murderer Wanted. A Woman's Body Found in Cellar.

Special to Evening Telegram. LONDON, July 14. All the machinery of Scotland Yard has been set in motion to effect the capture of Dr. Hawley Crippen, the battered body of whose wife, known under the stage name of Belle Elmore, was found buried deep in the clay in the cellar of their home at Hildrop Crescent, North London. Crippen has been missing since Saturday last, when he could no longer offer explanation for the death of his wife, which was alleged to have occurred months ago in California. Then it was that the police in making a thorough examination of the empty cellar came upon the body, mutilated and burned beyond recognition by quicklime which had been thrown upon it. The thick clay by which it was partly surrounded to some extent slackened the action of the quicklime and so frustrated the intentions of destroying the body entirely.

Maynard Will Run.

Special to Evening Telegram. AMHERST, N. S., July 14. The interest in Saturday's 15 mile race overshadows all events of old home week sports. In addition to Cameron, C. Maynard, champion long distance runner of Newfoundland, now in Truro has entered. Maynard is calculated to make the best show of speed yet. All the runners are in fine condition.

Want International Railway Rates.

Special to Evening Telegram. WASHINGTON, July 14. An International Railway Commission with supervisory authority over the railroad of the United States and Canada probably will be the result of action taken to-day by the Government in the appointment of Chairman Martin Knapp of the Interstate Commerce Commission as the Representative of the United States to confer with Hon. J. Mayhew, Chief of the Railway Commission of Canada. The intention of the conference is to effect an agreement by which a common basis of freight charges and transportation arrangements shall be made between this country and Canada. Many railroads in the northern part of the United States operate in Canada and on the part of some of the Railroads of Canada run into the United States. It is the desire to adjust the rates and transportation privileges as to render them practically common as between the two countries.

Fireman and Engineer Scalded.

From letters recently received from some of the crew of the s.s. Bonaventure we learn that the second engineer of the ship and one of the firemen were badly scalded while at work repairing some of the pumps. They are so badly injured that both men were put in hospital and will be laid up for some time. The heat is intense on the West Indies run and sometimes the thermometer reaches as high as 140 degrees in the engine room. The rest of the crew of the vessel are well and the only trouble with them is the intense tropical heat.

Quitting the Fishery.

The schr. Melba, Capt. Barbour, arrived to-day with lumber from Dog Bay. The captain says that the fishery in that section for trawls and punts has been an utter blank. When leaving there the people were taking up their trawls, and puntmen were abandoning the fishery in despair. A number of the men had gone to Bell Island, the Branch Railway and Sydney and Grand Falls to seek employment, and few if any will see the fishery to a finish.

P. S.—People here are wondering what has become of the old man, Robert Moss, late C. W. Lightkeeper of this place, who was put out of office to make room for a supporter of the present Government. ### Bell Island Regatta.

Preparations are being made for the Bell Island Regatta, which will take place in August. It is likely that two new boats will be sent into the competition this season. The Bell Island sports are also talking of sending crews of amateurs, tradesmen and fishermen over here to compete in the Regatta.

Annual Road Race.

E. Robinson won first place in the road race of the Rovers Athletic Club held last Wednesday evening. His time was 15 minutes and 30 secs. for 2 miles and 980 yards; R. Maund-er came second, making the course in 16 minutes, 17 seconds; P. Curtis took third place with 19 minutes, 42 secs. The annual sports will be held the last week in August.

ONLY ONE ARREST.—The police made one arrest for drunkenness last night.

Shamrock and Crescent Excursions.

Pressure on our space yesterday prevented reference to the Shamrock and Crescent excursions. The Shamrock excursion to Brigus was attended by about 150 persons. Tuesday night an enjoyable dance was held, and next day sports. In the football match the City defeated Brigus by 3 goals to nil. Power's Band furnished the music and all thoroughly enjoyed it.

The Crescent Club with over 200 people went to Bell Island in the "Mary" and had a good time. Football, cricket, etc., was engaged in during the day, and at night a very successful dance was held to the music of the T. A. Band. All present thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Siberian Arrives.

The Allan liner Siberian, Capt. Hamilton, 5 days from Philadelphia, arrived here at 1.30 p.m. yesterday. She had fine weather all the way except for some fog Wednesday night about 100 miles to sea, and she had to run slowly for a while and this caused some delay. The ship made a good run and her officers say that the weather is exceptionally hot in Philadelphia, where several prostrations have recently occurred. She brought 250 tons cargo and her passengers were Drs. Taylor and Oliver, who are on their way to England; Rev. Fr. Galway and 2 in steerage. The ship sailed for Glasgow at 11 last night with these passengers:—Mrs. Colley, Hon. S. Milley, J. R. Stick, L. A. Coaker, N. T. Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Tucker, H. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Dodd, Mr. Mark, J. Jackson, J. E. Williams, C. G. Dodd, Mr. Digale and 4 steerage.

Football Possibilities.

The Star team has now to play the Casuals and B. I. S., and if they defeat these they win the season's championship and cup. Should St. Bon's go through and win the rest of their matches and the Stars make a draw with either the Casuals or Irish, then Stars and St. Bon's tie. The St. Bon's and Feildians are yet to play, and if the winners of that match win the remainder of their matches and the Stars draw with either of the teams they are to play, then the winners of the match alluded to must play off with the Stars.

Breaking Down Fences

Mr. Edward Berrigan has a nice field on the Cove Road which is surrounded by new wire fencing. He is always glad to allow picnickers to go there, but of late he finds that some who frequent the place tear down the fencing and commit other depredations. When spoken to about it jeering answers have been given, and unless these people conduct themselves properly in future they will be denied the use of the place.

Fishing Parties Return

Messrs. F. Bradshaw and F. Alderdice arrived here by last night's train from Salmoner where they had very good salmon fishing and secured 25 fish. Mr. Gale, of Government House, was also there and secured 20 fish, and is having an enjoyable time. Messrs. C. P. Eagan, S. Ryall and Mr. McInyre also came back from Fulford's. They got some good salmon also, but say that up to the time they left sea trout were scarce.

A Formal Presentation

To-night the new Major of the C. C. C., in the person of Mr. J. Fergus Donnelly, V.S., will be presented formally to the Battalion of the C. C. C. Major Donnelly who is one of the pioneers of the Corps, is very popular with the lads and will make an efficient officer. The new senior or promotion company of the Corps held its first drill last night. Seventy young men, members, were in attendance and were put through drill by Lieut. Howlett and Capts. Kent and O'Brien.

Child Badly Scalded.

A little girl named Sullivan, of Carter's Hill, was badly scalded at her residence last evening. One of her sisters accidentally tilted a kettle filled with boiling water on the stove, and the greater portion of the contents went over the little one's side and arm. She suffered intense pain, and a doctor had to attend her.

C. L. B. Outing.

The members of the Church Lads Brigade go into camp at Topsail for 10 days this summer, and will leave here on the 10th of August to do so. The lads always look forward to this as a pleasurable experience and nothing will be left undone this year for their comfort and enjoyment.

Don't Trample on Another to Advance Yourself.

Editor Evening Telegram:
Dear Mr. Editor.—I may seem a small thing to a candidate for political honors at election time to put his heel on another man's neck in order to advance his own interests and reach the goal of his ambition; but, sir, that man will not escape the penalty decreed for such inhumanity.
Last week we saw the departure of Mr. Solomon Colbourne and his large family from his native land to seek a home in Canada. Mr. Colbourne was mercilessly thrown out of the position of lightkeeper at Double Island, Labrador, by the present Government last year, and that without rhyme or reason, politically or otherwise. On Labrador he could not, and did not, take part in politics. He did his work, so far as we know, at the station faithfully and well. It was a heartless thing, then, to thrust him out of office without a moment's warning with a large and helpless family and no means of support. I said it may seem a small thing, and few may give such treatment a passing thought; but just watch for the end of the political candidate who, in order to get votes, promised Mr. Colbourne's job to another, and also mark the end of the other mean creature that took Mr. C.'s position—yea, the bread and butter out of his mouth. The day of retribution is coming—coming on!

The keen observer of men and things has much food for reflection here at present. Last week we witnessed a prisoner who is sentenced to a term of punishment in Twillingate jail working on Magistrate Scott's ground or premises, and the public with one voice began to ask, "Why is this? for our history has no record of the like before." We know it is customary for prisoners to be employed on Government property, but we doubt the propriety and justice of asking or ordering them to labor on private property, for then they become public servants under the dictation of many masters, some of whom may be very cruel. If a prisoner is required to work on the Magistrate's property, or on a candidate's property, any other private citizen can, and should have, the privilege of employing him. Does the sentence of imprisonment "with hard labor" mean the employment of a prisoner by the public to earn money for some department of the Government? Or should it only be interpreted to include work on Government property? This question should be settled at once, as well for prisoners to meet the ends of justice.

Are there no repairs to be done on Government property here; no fencing to be done; no painting required, at which a person could be employed? Or are those jobs to be kept for favored citizens, who are in the profitable running for such work?
The fishery outlook here is not encouraging and times are dull, and would be more so but for Manager Hodder, who seems determined to create a mining industry in our midst. He has landed considerable machinery here for working one or two mining properties, and is building a large loading wharf at Sleepy Cove, where some mining has been done. I don't know anything about mining myself, but I have the opinion of an expert in the work who says that Twillingate has picked up the vein of copper ore that has made Till Cove historic—a part of the same lode.
All our Labrador men are gone. No caplin in yet and our fishermen doubt their appearance this year.
Thanking you, Mr. Editor, in advance, I am,
Yours truly,
