A THORN REMOVED.
ROME, To-day. Monte Santo, the side of which has been scarred by many struggles in the last two years and which is known in the armies as the spot where many a hero has fallen, was taken by the Second Army Corps under General Capello, who crossed the zone at Ancona and swerved around the base of Monte Santo, there cutting off the Austrian line of retreat and completely isolating the mountain, which for so long had been a thorn in the side of the Italians.

FIRST MEETING OF RUSSIAN STATE COUNCIL.
MOSCOW, To-day. The State Council, which promises important results to the National Life of Russia, opened at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Grand Opera House with that solemnity and old Russian pomp characteristic of Moscow. Despite a one day strike proclaimed by the Bolsheviks in protest against the Council as a counter-revolutionary expression, the city is quiet. A few attempts by the Bolsheviks in the street to organize demonstrations were similarly suppressed by the crowds. No serious incident occurred; precautions were taken against disorders of all descriptions and the Council's threats show a rigor in this respect unknown even in anti-revolutionary days. The building in which the Council is meeting is surrounded by a chain of soldiers with an officer every few yards, the soldiers being picked men from regiments of Signal Corps or Cadets training for officers. The Chambers under the building are occupied by soldiers with fixed bayonets. Members and invited guests before being admitted have their tickets examined by nine different military posts. Premier Kerensky and other members of the Provisional Government occupied the stage and were faced by General Alexioff and Brussloff, former Commander-in-Chief of the Russian Army, and other military officers in the Emperor's box. There was much comment over the presence of General Korniloff, present Chief of the Army, but it is expected he will attend the Council to-morrow. The proceedings began with a speech by Premier Kerensky lasting an hour and a half, pronounced in a nervous and resolute voice which aroused tremendous applause, mainly from that part of the theatre occupied by democratic organizations and members of the Cabinet, but Duma members and Moscow Industrial Deputies at times participated. He spoke resolutely, emphasizing the part he played in recent events and his determination to play in events in the future. The Premier was greeted with wild applause when, early in his speech, speaking of the dangers from the extreme left, he declared that all attempts with armed force against the people's power will be crushed with blood and iron. Much applause greeted him when, hinting at counter-revolutionary military conspiracy, he exclaimed: "Let them be warned who think the time has come when, relying on the bayonet, they can overthrow our revolution." The audience rose and cheered this expression for five minutes. Kerensky rebuked the Finlanders and other seceding nationalities, his words evoking enthusiasm. There was a menacing note in his voice when he declared that their pretensions proved the success of the revolution. The Premier's speech indicated that the Government expects further attacks to-morrow by the Military Duma and Moscow Deputies, which he denounced in advance. The Premier said that the destructive period of the revolution had passed, and that the time had come to consolidate the conquests of the revolution. "For this reason we ask you citizens whether you feel within your hearts the responsible sacred fire for the attainment of this object, whether you consent here in Moscow the nation-trench which is necessary to assure prosperity to the country or will you give the world and us another sign of decadence? A little time ago we indignantly replied to the proposal to conclude a separate peace. A few days ago we witnessed another attempt equally base directed against our Allies. The latter was rejected with equal indignation, and in the name of the great Russian people I say to our Allies that it was the only reply we expected of them." At this point the delegates arose and cheered the diplomatic representatives of the Allied Powers. The Premier paid a tribute to the Roumanians, saying that if they were forced temporarily to abandon their country they would find hospitality in Russia. Notwithstanding the none too friendly attitude toward the mother country of certain nationalities of the Russian state, the Premier continued, Russian democracy would give them all it promised through the Provisional Government, all that the constituent assembly might yet decide to grant, but when the limit of tolerance was passed, or where there was a desire to take advantage of the nation's difficulties in order to violate the free will of Russia, they would cry hands off. The Premier said the Government would prevent by force the reopening of the dissolved Diet in Finland; he hoped the country would approve this decision. His statement was cheered. The Government will endeavour, the Premier said, to protect the army against the subversive influence which deprived the soldier of all sense of military duty, and will struggle energetically against the Maximillians, against any attempt by them to corrupt discipline. He said his colleagues would describe the widespread disorganization in the country, adding in order to remedy it, we must make all sacrifices, abandoning our personal and party interests. M. Avskenteff, Minister of the Interior, and Prokovich, Minister of Trade and Industry, followed Kerensky. The Minister of Interior described the task of organizing the provinces, the Minister of Trade and Industry the cost to Russia of the war. The first year of war, he said, cost Russia 5,300 million rubles; the

Watch Out For Anonymous Shoes

AN expert recently offered to tell the REGAL Shoe makers how to cut down the cost without effecting the appearance of the shoe.

The Head of the business said "My friend, we are not interested in taking something out of REGAL shoes—but in putting more into them."

The REGAL business grew from a small beginning. It was built on a knowledge of shoe leather—a study of shoe style and shoe service—of human feet and how to fit them, not in study of price tags and eye effects—not on a knowledge of wax and finish and leather substitutes.

Note the above illustration. This shoe is photographed with a foot in it—not stuffed with paper or filled out with a wooden form. It will look just like this on your foot, if you let the REGAL salesman fit you properly.

We call this shoe the Rugby. It is made of sturdy Oil Grain Russia Leather with full double soles of white-oak tanned leather. Made for all weathers and finished as neatly as a glove—perforated tip over a medium city toe, invisible eyelets half way up, hooks for the upper lacing, broad backstay from heel seat ending in the serviceable leather pull strap.

A lot of men buy "window shoes"—an eye full of shoe and price tag. Window style is not foot style. REGAL Shoes are all for the foot—good style and good shoe-sense. A hard combination to beat when you consider these new and wanted leathers, selected hides, special tannage, in Russets, Mahoganies, Blacks and Two-tone effects.

There never was a time when it was more important in buying to know who made the shoe—the men back of it, their idea, their purpose, and how much they are thinking about you.

Think for a moment of REGAL as an institution—the stake it has in the good-will of its two million customers; its forty REGAL stores in the Metropolitan centers; its thousand REGAL Special Agents in other towns and cities. Every REGAL Shoe is signed with the REGAL name, and the price stamped on the sole of the shoe.

An anonymous shoe is like an anonymous letter—it evades responsibility.

It is our aim to deliver the best shoe-value in America for the money.

Good leather is scarce. The shoe situation is serious. Nobody can make the kind of shoe we think you ought to wear for $4 any more.

We advise you to get REGAL Shoes if you can.

second, 11,200 million rubles; the third year already 18 billion rubles, while the total revenue for 1913 was 16 billion. Regarding the question of food, he said the country's position was extremely difficult. There was actual scarcity in several provinces and a minimum in Petrograd and Moscow. He was trying to nurse such industries as remained. He considered it necessary to control the profits of manufacturers in order to prevent them from becoming rich at the expense of the populace.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

LONDON, To-day. British troops to-day made an advance of half a mile along a mile front east of Magricourt, north of St. Quentin, storming and capturing strong points at Cologne and Malakoff Farms according to an official report from British headquarters in France last night. The statement reads: Early this morning we attacked and captured enemy positions east Magricourt on a front of over a mile. Our troops penetrated to a depth of a mile, carrying by assault the enemy's strong points at Cologne Farm, Malakoff Farm, and have established themselves on the ground won. We captured 135 prisoners in the course of the operation. Under heavy bombardment the enemy attacked early this morning in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Menin Road using flamethrowers, and succeeded momentarily in occupying the northwest corner of Inverness Copse. His troops were immediately driven out by our counter-attack. Our positions were re-established. Fighting of a local character also took place this morning southeast of St. Julien, where we advanced our line slightly. During the night the enemy, under cover of a heavy bombardment, recaptured a post taken by us on the night of Aug. 24th and 25th west of Gelstide Creek, and southwest of Lombaertzyde. Hostile artillery has been more active than usual in the Nieupoort sector. Owing to stormy weather there was little aerial activity yesterday until evening when successful artillery work was carried out by us with air-planes observation. Some fighting took place. Three German machines were brought down and four others were driven down out of control. Two of our airplanes are missing.

THE BRITISH GERMAN.

LONDON, To-day. The British Socialist Party has prepared a statement on the war for presentation at the Inter-Allied Socialist Conference on Tuesday and Wednesday. The statement declares there is common responsibility for the war and that consequently reparation must be from a common fund and contributed by all belligerents. Other conditions laid down by the Socialists are that there must be no action on the part of other countries to cap-succeed in dispelling his doubts and the commander started for Moscow.

"When is it proper for a man and his wife to use joint cards?" asked Mrs. Grey.

ITALIANS' GOOD WORK.

ROME, Aug. 26. Italian troops on the Isonzo front are marching to complete victory. At Udine, Salvatore Barzilai, Civil Governor of the Austrian territory occupied by the Italian army, when informed of the complete victory of the Italians exclaimed: "At last our soldiers have achieved this magnificent thing, they have freed our soil from their ancient enemy." The final success of the Italians in winning their greatest battle in this war is thrilling the country as never before. Both the army and civilians now see the result of their two years' suffering and economic hardship. The victory came unexpectedly notwithstanding the encouraging bulletins of the last fortnight. It is General Cadorna's rule never to announce an event until certain that his troops are able to hold their new positions.

The Italians have made a further advance on the Isonzo front, north of Gorizia, closely pursuing the Austrians. The war office announces that Austrian counter-attacks on the Carso have been repulsed and the number of prisoners has been increased to more than 23,000, in addition to which a great amount of booty has been captured. The statement follows: The action north of Gorizia from Aug. 19th onward, may be summarized as follows: Troops of the Second Army, after having thrown 14 bridges across the Isonzo under fire of the enemy, passed over the river on the night of August 19 and 20, and proceeded to attack the Bainsizza plateau. Directing themselves toward the Jenkik front they went around three enemy defensive lines, Sommer, Kobelk and Madont. They attacked the same lines from the front and broke through despite the enemy's most stubborn defence. The consequence of this manoeuvre was the capture of Monte Santo. Our troops are now continuing their advance toward the eastern border of the Bainsizza plateau, hotly pursuing the enemy, who is making violent resistance with large parties of machine gunners and with light artillery. On the Carso yesterday the battle came to a standstill temporarily. Our small advances recaptured the captured positions which were consolidated, and the enemy's attempted counter-attack failed under our fire. Prisoners thus far number 600 officers and 23,000 men. We have captured 75 guns, including two 305 millimetres, numerous mortars and many guns of medium calibre, a great number of horses, an airplane in perfect order, many trench mortars, machine guns and all kinds of war material including some mortar tractors loaded with munitions. The enormous difficulty of sending supplies to our troops across a zone in which there are no roads, has been surmounted in part because of the large supply depots abandoned by the enemy during his retreat.

The battle between the Italians and Austrians still rages, with the Austrians stubbornly retreating at many points, including the Lower Carso. Numerous messages from the front received by ministers indicate that the Italians are making swift strides for victory. When asked for an expression of his opinions on the result thus far achieved in the battle, Lieut.-Gen. Count Cadorna, Commander-in-Chief of the Italian forces smilingly replied, "we are doing nicely." The official statement on the result of the battle shows the demoralization of the Austrian troops is in part due to the extraordinary aerial and artillery work of the Italians which has destroyed not only the lines of communication but has resulted in the burning of all the main supply food stations of the Austrians, who for the past week have been starving at many points between Tolmino and the sea. This accounts for the unusual number of prisoners and wounded prisoners taken on the left. Austrians from all causes are reckoned at nearly 100,000, the most important of which, in the Carso region, have not yet been officially announced. It is said that among the losses of the famous 12th division, popularly known as the Iron Division.

FRENCH VICTORY.

PARIS, Aug. 25. The French scored a new victory on the Verdun front last night, north of Hill 304. The fortified works near Bethincourt were captured. The statement follows: In Belgium there were rather violent artillery engagements in the region of Bixchoote, South of St. Quentin our detachments penetrated a German trench yesterday evening, and brought back thirty-one prisoners. Another raid west of Pantheon also, resulted in the taking of prisoners. In the Champagne the artillery fighting became intense in the region of the heights. Enemy surprise attacks near Vauquos and northwest of Avocourt were completely repulsed. On the left bank of the Meuse, our troops made new progress north of Hill 304. In a brilliant action last night they carried three fortified works in the vicinity of Bethincourt. The number of unwounded prisoners taken on the left bank of the river yesterday was 450. This brings up the total to 6,101. The night was calm on the remainder of the front.

CAPTURE OF HILL 304.

LONDON, Aug. 26. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.) Reuter's representative at the French army headquarters telegraphing on Saturday says the attack yesterday morning which added Hill 304 to the list of positions captured on the left bank of the Meuse was over in less than two hours. The men had to charge through marshes in the valley of death in many places up to their waist in water, but neither water, gas nor high explosives could stop them. This advance brings our line up to the natural frontier on Norges Brook and deprives the enemy of what was practically his last effective observation point on the left bank of the river. It is symptomatic of the determination of the Germans to hold out on the line of heights captured on the 20th and 21st that the proportion of officers and prisoners is almost 50 per cent higher than usual. Among the 7,500 prisoners captured in the first two days there are 291 officers. On the 15th of December when over 11,000 prisoners were made the haul included only 298 officers. The Brandenburg reserve division was practically wiped out as a fighting unit. Of its three regiments 69 officers and 2,794 men, well over one-third of its entire bayonet strength, were captured. A whole divisional organization with its cooks, cyclists and even its band, fell into our hands. The band had been sent into the front line on Goose Hill to take their part in the battle as fighting men and were captured on Monday morning with all that was left of the division. The long locks of the musicians distinguished them at 100 yards from the rank and file of German prisoners, whose heads are shaved like those of convicts in England, and it was their unwonted profusion of having adorned which led to the discovery of their real business as soldiers. In order to prevent a recurrence of the wholesale surrenders of the 15th December the German command had done their utmost to inspire their men with a dread of being made prisoners. A little brochure was distributed among the men of the front line purporting to have been written by a German captured on the 15th December, giving the most horrifying accounts of the suffering of German prisoners of war in France, describing imaginary wrongs and insults heaped upon them by the French and the general state of starvation and misery in which they live. Some eight thousand of the enemy nevertheless preferred capture even on these terms to a longer sojourn within the range of the French guns. Few of them in the crowded prisoners' camps behind the front seem to regret the change.

tion of the enemy occupied a part of the trenches in the region of Marinerka, but a counter attack restored the position. On the Romanian front the Romanians repulsed enemy attacks in the direction of Ocna. South of Smergen, our artillery brought down a German airplane.

RELIEF FOR BELGIANS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. The Belgians will get food quickly and neutrals will have some of their wants supplied through an arrangement entered into yesterday by the Food Commission and the governments of neutral countries. It was decided to let thirty or more Dutch ships sail at once from an Atlantic port, carrying grain owned by the Netherlands government, on the condition that the greater part of the cargoes shall be used for the relief of Belgians. It was also announced that the Swedish mission had sold at cost 552,000 bushels of wheat in this country to Belgian relief. The wheat was bought by the Swedish government last January, and has been held in elevators ever since. This will go forward immediately in ships to be secured by the Belgian relief commission and will take cargo space of several large freighters. In return the Swedish Government will be allowed to ship 270,000 bushels of rye, of the forward immediately in ships to be

TO-MORROW NIGHT'S GAME

The last but one game of the season will be played to-morrow night when the Wanderers and B. I. S. will try conclusions. The former must win to have a chance of the pennant while should the Irish lose and the Lions win their game with the Cubs, then the Hillz crew are champions. The result of the game therefore has every bearing on the championship.

STARTS EARLY.

Umpire-in-Chief Chesman has ordered that owing to the shortness now of the evenings, to-morrow night's game will start at 6.15. So players, please take notice.

THE WANDERER REFRAIN.

I remember—I remember—one year ago to-day,
When we were rushing to the front along the winning way.
But now it gives us little joy,—in fact it makes us soar,
To know we're getting farther from the pennant every hour.
I remember—I remember—our rose embowered fate,
When Punky in a happy vein was winning his games straight.
Alas! them were the happy days! alas! and then slack!
For now the other three Ball clubs are roosting on our back.

INTERTOWN BASEBALL.

The St. John's League has received a challenge from Grand Falls to proceed there for their annual Sports Days on September 8th, to compete for the trophy so kindly presented by Mr. R. G. Reid for inter-town competition. It will be remembered that last year when the City team visited the Paper Town only one game could be played owing to the weather conditions and the balance of the series had to be abandoned, as in accordance with the donor's conditions governing the trophy it must be won by the best two out of three games each season. Last year the St. John's team were enabled to visit Grand Falls through the kindness and courtesy of the Reid Newfoundland Company, who so generously provided free transportation to and from. As very little time remains to decide it, a meeting of the League will be held this week in order to consider the challenge.

It is understood that Bell Island has a bird of a team now. Charlie Archibald's arm still retains its cunning, and Manager Geo. Harvey thinks their aggregation has power enough to wrest the cup from St. John's. Burnham and Tommy Winter are also with them. All is wanted now is a challenge from the "Iron-men."

POST MORTEM.

The batters come, the batters go,
They pop 'em up and ground 'em out.
They know the pitcher's going to blow.
But still they fall to get a clout,
They bungle when they try to bunt;
They biff the ozone when they swing;
And when they fan, you hear 'em
"That poor old guy ain't got a thing."
The batters grin and then they swear,
They find the pitcher has them stalled.
They try to shop, and miss for fair;
And when they wait three strikes are called.
They fall to slam his slow ball toss,
And hate to hear his fast one sing;
But on the bench they'll tell the boss
"Why, gee! that guy ain't got a thing!"
The batters come, the batters go,
They hurry up and amble back,
They get nine doughnuts in a row,
And none gets by the second sack,
They've been stood on their ears a day.
From lead-off man to clean-up king
But they're shut out, still they say
"That bird ain't got a doggone thing."

Marshall Bros

Feud Lovers.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

"Hatred is the vice of narrow souls; they feed it with their littlenesses."—Balzac.

What silly things feuds are! To take some little offense, some divergence from your notions of good taste, and to build out of it a barrier of dislike a habit of hatred, is surely as Balzac says "the vice of narrow souls."

And yet how many people there are who really enjoy these petty feuds. I do verily believe that there are people who enjoy meeting someone with whom they have such a feud and passing by on the other side of the street with averted head, more than they enjoy meeting a friend.

The Butcher Who Wouldn't Advertise In Her Church Paper.

There is one woman in our neighborhood who has not enough to occupy her mind and consequently makes a great deal of such feuds. She has a long list of them tumbled in her mind. There is the butcher who refused to advertise in her Church paper ten years ago. She withdrew her trade from him and never loses a chance to speak slightly of his standing as a butcher and a man. There is the neighbor whom she fancies herself above her. There is another neighbor whom she declares once tried to get a maid away from her. And other similar offenders too numerous to mention. To all these people she does not speak. But she more than makes it up by speaking about them.

One Shouldn't Bother With Her.

Now of course it is natural that one should not love a neighbor who tried to get one's maid away from one. But why bother oneself too much in entering into such a relationship. One need not go out of one's way to meet her but neither should one go out of one's way to avoid her. That is too much dignifying her position in your life.

As for "not speaking" that is a childish trick which fully matured people leave behind in childhood.

We Can't Like Everyone Alike.

Every now and then I catch myself cherishing a feud and I am ashamed. I cannot like everyone equally (and I don't want to) I cannot help hating wrong and injustice and meanness (and I don't want to) but I can keep from descending to petty feuds. And I certainly want to.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

Gentlemen,—Ever since coming home from the Boer War I have been bothered with running fever sores on my legs. I tried many salves and liniments; also doctored continuously for the blood, but got no permanent relief, till last winter when my mother got me to try MINARD'S LINIMENT. The effect of which was almost magical. Two bottles completely cured me and I have worked every working day since.

Yours gratefully,
JOHN WALSHE.

CANADA.

Canada is a prominent member of the John Bull family which lies just north of the United States, where it can peek over the border and observe the matches, rapid-fire action of our divorce laws. It is bounded on the north by the aurora borealis, on the east by the Maine drug-store, on the south by the American grip germ and on the west by several thousand miles of pure, fresh air. If fresh air could be sold for $1 a million feet, Canada would have enough money to finance the European war and repair all the red inner tubes from Baffin's Bay to Buffalo.

Bound on the north by the aurora borealis, on the east by the Maine drug-store and on the south by the American grip germ.

Canada was first discovered when a mere infant by the French, who were looking for a new form of climate. When they ran into the Canadian climate during the winter of 1604, which is well remembered by many of the older residents, they did not look any farther, but sat down listlessly in the snow and examined each other's feet for traces of the surrptitious chilblain. In 1760 England decided to annex Canada and use it as a buffer state between Doc Cook and the North Dakota land shark, despite the fact that the French were there first and had become able to use their feet nine months in the year.

The principal products of Canada are No. 1 wheat, the mild-faced milch cow and the American landsheer. There are thousands of Americans in Canada. Most of them went there to make money, while others took somebody else's money with them and joined the church on arriving. One of the greatest shocks an American can have is to go to Canada and see a horse thief arrested, convicted and punished before the trial jury dies of old age. Canada lacks the ability to raise the American grape juice and Fourth of July ortolan, but it has a set of double-acting penal statutes which nobody has ever stepped on twice in succession without exhibiting deep remorse in the nearest jail. As a result, Canada is one of the poorest places in the world to commit crime and hope to die a natural death.

Canada ought to belong to the United States, or vice versa, and if she keeps on growing as rapidly as she has in the past twenty years she will have a stout vice versa on hand for immediate use.

Your Boys and Girls.

Nearly all children have a tendency to suck their fingers. Try this method and see if it doesn't work out successfully. Buy one half yard of surgeon's plaster at a drug store. It comes on a spool about two inches wide; then cut a strip about one quarter inch wide, or wider if the child's fingers are broad, then cut this half yard strip in short lengths; then take one and stick right over the top of the fingers and cover the nail, then another strip and put right round the first strip and down to the knuckle.

The surgeon's plaster will stick and be firm. Do this every night before the child goes to bed, for one month. She may try to suck the plaster at first. If so, put on another piece in the morning, making sure never to let the child's finger be without the plaster.

In cooking very sour fruits, put in a very little salt, and much less sugar will be necessary.

Chilled water is generally safer than ice water—unless one is certain of the quality of the ice.

Iced tea or iced coffee can be served two or three times a week in excessively hot weather.

When making cakes, etc., with soda, remember to sift the soda very thoroughly with the flour.

THE MEEK GERMAN.

WALT MASON

"This war," the German statesmen say, "was forced on us, against our will; we tried so hard to dodge the fray! It grieved our hearts that we must kill. 'Tis true we built a war machine, the greatest ever known to fame; but we contend we didn't mean to use it with a warlike aim. 'Twas just a thing of pomp and state to use upon occasions gay; with it we hoped to celebrate the German Fourth and Grounding Day. We looked upon the martial psalm as one would look on sounding brass, and Mary's famous little lamb, for meekness, wasn't in our class. 'Tis true our navy grew apace, through many years we built it up; but we were planning for a race with England, for a silver cup. We had no purpose to eclipse the British might, despite reports; our only thought in building ships was just to boost all manly sports. We only wished to go our course in quietness, year after year, and whoop for peace until too hoarse to whomp for anything but beer. But no, they would not let us be, to earn in peace our bed and board; they climbed our frame on land and sea, and so we had to draw the sword. And so we asked the world to note, and to recall on that dread day when we have lost our Wilhelm-gest, that we were forced into the fray."

The Gas Range!

The Gas Range means comfort for the housewife; shorter kitchen hours for her, and a cleaner kitchen. It is a great mistake to think that cooking with gas is expensive.

Whenever a woman becomes used to gas for cooking, thoughts of a coal or wood stove fill her with gloom. A Gas range is so much easier to operate, so efficient for all kinds of cooking, and so much cleaner, that the idea of going back to the old style methods is decidedly unpleasant. Yet in winter many housewives think they must use a coal or wood stove, because there is no other way of heating the kitchen. THERE IS ANOTHER WAY AND IT IS FAR BETTER THAN THE OLD. Thoughts
Upon the Times.

(By PATRIOT.)

By Saturday's express there arrived another batch of our country's wounded heroes. They were met at the station by the usual crowd of relatives and friends and formally welcomed home by the Premier and the Minister of Militia. By the way it would be an act of charity if, during this hot weather, our worthy politicians condensed their addresses of welcome and refrained from inserting the thin edge of politics. When one sees the usual bunch of heebers so anxious to give the lusty "three cheers for the Premier," one is led into being critical. One could not help being sympathetic for the poor lads who after a long and tedious railway journey had to stand in the sweltering heat listening to the "wordy" Premier on Saturday. It was no wonder that one of them fainted under the ordeal.

The cry from the fishermen in the outports is give us "more salt and still more salt." Apart from the supplying merchants on Water Street very few people in St. John's realize what it means to the country to be without a supply of this necessary commodity. It is a serious matter to be without salt and still more serious to require such large quantities of it. It means, of course, our fishermen have secured an extraordinarily large fishery, and strange as it may appear, a large fishery just now may do more harm than a poor fishery. The Tonnage Committee must be having a hard time these days trying to secure vessels for the requirements of the trade. The continued prosperity of the country will depend in a large measure upon the success of their efforts.

I just happened upon a copy of the Evening Advocate of June 25th last. To show the inconsistency of Editor Mews, I will quote part of his editorial against a Coalition Government. "The Opposition representatives in a Coalition Government would find themselves blocked at every move they wished to make in the inauguration of the reforms that they consider necessary. Personally we do not think a Coalition Government in the best interests of the country. We doubt the sincerity of the present Government, and we have witnessed too many of their actions to respect their intentions." Thus spake Mr. Mews three months ago. Was Mr. Mews sincere then? If so, is Hon. Mr. Mews sincere now? By such means public men and titles are made cheap and vile in the sight of the public.

What truth is there in the report that Controller Bonia and his staff are kept busy these days? There is no epidemic in the city. It is claimed by many that it is a very easy matter to get a script and easier still to have it filled. Is there a Vigilance Committee in existence?

Annual Flower Service

Preacher Speaks on Child Welfare.

There was a large gathering of people at the Church of England Cemetery yesterday afternoon to attend the annual flower service and to decorate with beautiful flowers the graves of the faithful departed. Rev. H. Uphill, Rector of St. Mary's, officiated and also delivered an impressive address, whose words will live long in the memory of those who were present. The preacher availed of the opportunity to speak for a few minutes in favour of the Child Welfare Movement recently inaugurated by Mayor Gosling, and in doing so paid a high tribute to the mothers of the country, of whom he said that none had greater love for their offspring, but there was a great lack of knowledge as to the manner in which their children should be brought up. There were far too many little graves in the sacred ground on which he stood and he urged all present to do their utmost to assist and conform with the rules and regulations that may be instituted in the interest of the Child. The occasion was most opportune and we feel certain that the preacher's timely words fell not on deaf ears. The financial condition of the cemetery was in a very bad state and a disgrace to so wealthy a people as the Church of England in St. John's. The C.L.B. Band attended and furnished the music for the occasion. A collection was taken up in aid of the cemetery fund and a handsome amount realized.

Topsail Ladies Aid.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church at Topsail, held a highly successful tea in the Orange Hall, on Wednesday evening, August 22nd. The affair was remarkably well patronized, the ladies serving tea were kept busy until a late hour. These in charge of ice-cream, refreshment and candy stalls were kept equally busy. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with small trees, woodland moss, ferns and trailing greens, by the young ladies of the church, who showed much good taste in the treatment of arch and platform. A few gracefully draped flags greatly enhanced the effect. Tea was daintily served on small tables, restaurant fashion, each table, with its pretty bouquet, daintily linen and china, proved tempting alike to eye and appetite. The sincere thanks of the Ladies' Aid are due to the following: The L.O.A. for the free use of its fine hall, our summer visitors from St. John's and elsewhere, our friends of the C. of E. and all others who so kindly sent donations of money or cake; the gentlemen who faithfully kept a good supply of boiling water on hand, and those who helped in other ways; and to all who so generously patronized our tea, amongst whom we would specially mention the Bell Island excursionists to whom we owe a large measure of our abundant success. The splendid sum achieved was $182—a result unprecedented in the annals of Topsail Methodism.—Com

A Contradiction.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Please allow me to contradict an item which appeared in your issue of the 23rd instant, stating that the girl who stole the money from the residence of the Soper family was afterwards located at the Central Hotel. Now this is a falsehood. I am the proprietress of Central Hotel, and I want the general public to understand that my house is not open to all who might come this way. I am very particular with regard to the sort of persons I admit, and therefore it is very unlikely that Central Hotel could become a refuge for robbers. The obliging informant should be more cautious as to the light which such an assertion is liable to throw on the reputation of an hotel. As far as I can learn, the thief was found at the West End Hotel, the proprietress of which is Mrs. Tucker.
Yours truly,
(MRS.) MARY FITZGERALD.

B. I. S. Pass Resolution of Condolence

On Death of Late Rev. Bro. O'Hurley.

The B. I. S. held its quarterly meeting yesterday, Hon. J. D. Ryan presiding. The following resolution was moved by Mr. J. C. Pippy, 1st Asst. Vice-President:—
Whereas, this society has heard with sincere regret of the demise of Rev. Brother Patrick O'Hurley, who for over forty years was a faithful friend of this institution, ever manifesting the deepest interest in its welfare and advancement;

And whereas, Brother O'Hurley was a kindly and courteous gentleman, respected, esteemed and loved by all who knew him; and as an educationalist his noble and self-sacrificing work, during the many years he laboured in St. John's, is a perennial monument to his sainted memory;

Be it resolved, that this Society place on record its sentiments of profound sorrow at the great loss sustained by the Brothers, the society and the Catholic community, through the passing of this gifted scholar, devoted teacher, and true and loyal friend;

Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Rev. Brother Whitty, Superior General of the Order; to the Rev. Brother Ryan, Superior of the American Province; to the Rev. Brother Ryan, Superior of Mount St. Francis; and that a copy be inserted in the minutes of the meeting.

Patriotic Football.

A stiff contest will be witnessed this evening when the B.I.S. and Star will meet. The former team is leading in the race for the championship. It is conservatively estimated that one thousand dollars in receipts will be taken by the end of the season for the series of games. This amount will be handed to one of the patriotic clubs, the ball being set rolling in connection with the playing of a return match between the old fellows who started in 1901. The game is being arranged for next Thursday week.

Man Run Over

NOW IN HOSPITAL.

About 10 o'clock on Saturday night an elderly man named Walsh was run over by Mr. M. Kelly's horse on Water Street, opposite Mr. W. H. Jackman's store, and as a result now lies in a critical condition at the General Hospital. The victim, who is over 60 years of age, attempted to cross the street when he was struck in the head by one of the shafts and thrown violently to the ground. He was picked up and brought to Mr. P. O'Mara's pharmacy where he was attended by a doctor who inserted five stitches in a scalp wound and ordered him to the Hospital in the ambulance. Mr. Kelly is held blameless by those who witnessed the accident.

NOTICE!

War Office,
London, S.W., 1.
Competition for Designs for a Memorial Plaque to be Presented to the Next-of-Kin of Members of His Majesty's Naval and Military Forces who have Fallen in the War.

INFORMATION FOR COMPETITORS

1. The memorial is to take the form of a bronze plaque, with an area of as near as possible 18 square inches; e. g. it may be a circle of 4 1/4 inches in diameter, or a square of 4 1/4 inches, or a rectangle of 5 by 3 3/5 inches.
2. The plaque is to be produced by casting from a model, which should be finished with precision.
3. All designs submitted must be actual models in relief in wax or plaster of the size indicated in paragraph 1. No models on a larger scale will be considered, and no competitor may submit more than two models.
4. The design should comprehend a subject and a brief inscription. It is suggested that some symbolic figure subject should be chosen, but the following inscription has been decided upon:—

He Died for Freedom and Honour, and must form part of the design. Since the surname of the person commemorated and the initials of his Christian name are to be engraved on the plaque, the design should be arranged so as to leave space for the name within the dimensions mentioned in paragraph 1. In the case of a rectangular design, this space should be left at the base; if the design is circular, a margin surrounding or partially surrounding it should be left free. Competitors are reminded that the design should be essentially simple and easily intelligible.

5. Prizes to an aggregate amount of £500 will be awarded (in proportions to be subsequently decided), for a limited number of the most successful models. The award of such prize may, if the Judges think fit, be made conditional on certain modifications being made in the design. If none of the models submitted is, in the opinion of the Judges, of sufficient merit, no prize will be awarded. The names of competitors will not be revealed to the Judges, nor will the names of any but the pre-mentioned artist or artists be published.

6. All competitors must be British-born subjects.
7. No framed models can be accepted, but each model should be packed in a small box and delivered to the Director, National Gallery, Trafalgar Square, W.C. 2, not later than 1st November, 1917. The model must not be signed, but should be marked on the back with a motto or pseudonym which should also be written on a sealed envelope containing the competitor's name and address. No other communication should be attached.
8. The models to which prizes are awarded shall be the sole property of the Government, who will arrange for the appearance of the artist's signature or initials on the finished plaque.
9. Further copies of these instructions may be obtained on application in writing to the Secretary, War Office, or to the Secretary, Admiralty, aug25.31
