CHAPTER III.
"Oh, Mademoiselle Yolande!" his mother goes on carelessly, with a good-natured smile. "She is a non-entity at present, a virgin page, white and unwritten, character, figure, and mind alike totally unformed. Poor dear child, we shall mould her into something very different by and by!" "I dare say we shall," Dallas muttered under his mustache.
"She has small bones, fortunately," Lady Nora adds, in a tone of satisfaction.
"Small bones?" repeats Dallas, staring.
"Yes," says Lady Nora, smiling, but speaking very seriously. "It's such a blessing to a girl of—well, the class of nouveaux riches—when she has small bones! She can be modelled and moulded into a good figure, taught to pose nicely, and never gets the horribly vulgar, portly appearance that a big-boned, broad-shouldered woman is apt to get when past her first youth. I noticed our dear mademoiselle very closely, I assure you, Dallas," Lady Nora adds, with a self-congratulatory laugh. "She has small bones and long, slender limbs, and good eyes, and fine, dark hair. I shouldn't wonder at all if in a year or two she was transformed into a most graceful, symmetrical figure, with a face not handsome, you know, but peculiar, striking looking—some people say that is far better than the ordinary everyday sort of beauty," Lady Nora adds, reassuringly; and a trown of scornful impatience darkens Dallas Glynne's clear, gray-blue eyes.

"It is comforting to hear of such delightful possibilities," he rejoins, frigidly; and Lady Nora laughing nervously, discreetly decided to change the subject.
"Of the family group there remains only mademoiselle, the French governess, to be accounted for," her ladyship adds.
"And, if I were Miss Dormer's confidential friend, as you appear to be, madame mta," Dallas says, coolly, "I should make mademoiselle, the French governess, account for herself, and very closely, too."
"Nonsense, Dallas!" responded Lady Nora, smiling maliciously. "What has the poor woman done? Have you been flirting with her, you bad boy?"
"No. But that is not mademoiselle's fault," Dallas retorts, sourly; and Lady Nora laughs heartily.
All the troubles of her life—and they have been neither few nor light—have not spoiled the music of Lady Nora's gay, sweet laugh.
"Poor Mademoiselle Glover—no, Gantier! I am so sorry you don't like her, Dallas!" she says, gayly. "I am delighted with her. And she will be a most useful, agreeable person to me, I have not the slightest doubt."

CHAPTER IV.
At three o'clock on the following day, in the golden warmth of the fair autumn afternoon, Lady Nora Glynne and her party meet at the Pont de Neque. She is looking deliciously cool and fresh, and wonderfully pretty in a dress of cream-tinted mousseline de laine, with a gleam of crimson satin here and there, and a big rustic chapeau of rough straw smothered in creamy lace and clusters of red currants. Her aide-de-camp, poor Mr. Dormer, is hot and anxious already, and his large white handkerchief comes into play every few minutes as he delightedly receives her ladyship's most radiant smiles and sweet little compliments, and trots about untiringly on her behalf. For Lady Nora had made up a little party of her own "set" to help to get through the afternoon with the Dormer "set," as she confidentially tells Dallas.
Mr. Dormer has entreated Lady Nora to allow him the pleasure of "ending on a few things for a little hit of a picnic luncheon," as he modestly phrases it; and Lady Nora has generally allowed him the pleasure. Consequently the worthy man has had a hot, busy morning in giving directions to the hotel-keeper and orders to servants, and in holding distracting conversations with shop-keepers who have not a word of English, as he has not a word of French except mercy—as he pronounces it—and Bong Jour!

But he has succeeded in hiring a luncheon tent, and has sent on to the appointed rendezvous, in an old orchard by the mill, a hamper of wine and another of cold fowl, galantine, tongue, rolls, salad, and pastry, enough for twenty people.
"I'll do the thing in style, Keren, while I'm about it," he says to his sister. "We'll show these grand folks we know what's what as well as they do."
So he has hired glass and silver, and damask and waiters, and gone to the expense of a dinner party for those whom, in his honest British toadyism, he calls "nob's."
Lady Jeanne Ormond and her brother-in-law, handsome George, are of the party.
"He is always so kind and attentive to his invalid brother's wife!" Lady Nora tells Miss Dormer, lest that simple old lady should see a little too clearly through her spectacles.
And there are a couple of military men as well.
"Brother officers of my boy's," Lady Nora explains, with her sweetly-maternal air.
One of them, however, is a colonel of fifty-five, and an old admirer of Lady Nora herself, the other a fortune-hunting Irishman, a major of forty, who has a heavy bet on winning an heiress before the spring meeting.
"So thoughtless of Dallas!" Lady Nora muses, vexedly. "I dare say he angled for an invitation when he knew this Dormer girl was coming. All the same, it is very tiresome; and I shall have to look after the man all the afternoon, and then Colonel Majilton will be as sulky and jealous as he can possibly be!"
And her ladyship sighs anxiously, and thinks what a good mother she is, and tries the effect of a tiny knot of crimson velvet in front of her chapeau, just over her hair; but she removes it the next minute, and decides for the dark, rich curly hair and delicately-tinted brunette face created by the soft, yellowish lace only.
"The 'sincerity' of the effect is perfect," Lady Nora says, well satisfied with the artistic appearance of her chapeau.
She is better satisfied than ever when she meets her friend, Lady Jeanne, who is a tall, coarse, showy blonde, loud voiced, laughing, loose lipped, and dressed in a fast-looking, unbecoming costume of blue and yellow plaid, with crumpled ribbons and laces. Lady Nora looks like a little tea rose beside a common overblown dahlia.
"Really Jeanne Ormond does not look quite proper!" Lady Nora murmurs to herself, with the severity of flawless virtue. "I thought George Ormond was too fastidious to allow her to adopt such bad style! He looks dreadfully envious—and no wonder!"

A sleeveless jacket of bright red suede, bound with bias bands of white flannel, is worn with a printed silk overblouse in red and white and a skirt of white French flannel.

ficially—McLachlan and Living-

PARIS, July 11.
The report that the statement on reparations which Premier Baldwin is to make in London to-morrow will include the acceptance of the German proposal for an impartial international commission to examine into Germany's capacity for payment is indicated by French officials as indubitable.

FRENCH RATIFY TREATY.

The French Senate this afternoon ratified the Washington Treaty for the limitation of armaments without reservation, by a vote of 287 to 3.

autumn. He will go in a private

ABOUT LEADERS OUT ON BAIL.

HALIFAX, July 11.
The Livingstone District President
and J. B. McLachlan, District Secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, the two strike leaders arrested at Glace Bay last week on charges of spreading false information, were to-day released on bail by Mr. Justice Chisholm, following their production in the Supreme Court of baleas corpus proceedings. Bail was fixed in the sum of $2,000 each and two sureties of $2,000 each. The men are to re-appear in the Supreme Court Tuesday morning of next week at 10 o'clock when the matter will be further argued before the full bench, the Attorney General giving an understanding that the men will not be arrested during this procedure.
The preliminary hearing scheduled for to-morrow must be adjourned until a decision is reached by the full bench of the Supreme Court. Bail had been refused in the Magistrate's Court. C. S. Harrington, K.C., of Sydney, to-day joined the defence.
Sureties were Dr. A. C. Hawkins and Charles Melver, both of Halifax.

BRIGHTER HOPES FOR SYDNEY.

SYDNEY, July 11.
The high light of the proceedings of the Nova Scotia Coal Miners and Steel Workers strike during the twenty-four hours ending at midnight, was the announcement that the miners of Springhill had rejected the sympathetic strike movement by an overwhelming vote in favor of remaining at work, at a mass meeting held during the evening, and largely attended. A confirmative vote will be taken by ballot later in the week, but general opinion seemed to believe the vote of the meeting indicated the feeling of all the miners in that local. There was no doubt of the sympathy of the miners for their comrades but, at the same time, they declared their unwillingness to abandon what they had gained in the way of organization by going against the instructions of their international President. Encouragement was also found in the announcement that the international representative, Rupert Curtis of the Steel Workers had interviewed Premier Armstrong and the Government at Halifax to-day, and that as a result Premier Armstrong would visit Sydney to-morrow night and give his services in effecting any mediation between steel workers and employers that might be possible. The Conference with the strikers' representative was said to have been wholly harmonious and encouraging. In the strike theatre no untoward happenings marred the peaceful progress of the struggle in spite of the entry of the armed forces into strongholds in Glace Bay.

RECALL OF TROOPS DEMANDED.

OTTAWA, July 11.
The immediate recall of troops from the Cape Breton strike area, and if necessary, the calling of a special session of the Dominion Parliament to deal with the matter, is asked in a letter sent by the Executive Council of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada to Premier Mackenzie King. A copy of the letter was sent to Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labour.

STRIKE INCIDENTS.

SYDNEY, July 11.
John MacPherson, one of the maintenance workers at No. 1 Colliery Dominion, was beaten by strike pickets early this morning while on his way to work. No other clash with pickets is reported. The total number of men at work in the steel plant is about 1800, a slight increase.
At the order of U.M.W. officials four small independent mines operating in North Cape Breton were closed down last night. The officials of the local unions of the coal districts met at Glace Bay this morning and considered calling out the maintenance men at the Waterford Plant if the Company did not permit a continuance of the water supply to Birch Grove. Mounted police prevented the picketing of the Sydney steel works this morning.

MANY WARRANTS ISSUED.

SYDNEY, July 11.
The chief interest in the strike situation centred to-day in the scheduled meeting of the Executive of the Mine Workers at Glace Bay to consider the request of International President John J. Lewis that they return to work, and in the possibility of the Coal Company making an effort to move coal from the 185,000 ton pile at No. 2 Mine, Glace Bay.
This pile is heated in places. Should there be coal trains used they will carry military guards over the 15 miles to Sydney. Large numbers of warrants have been sworn out for arrests on charge of unlawful assembly of men said to have been the prime movers in the early disturbances of the strike.

PICTONIAN MINERS WALK OUT.

NEW GLASGOW, July 11.
Over seven hundred men were added to the ranks of Pictou County strikers here to-night by the walkout of Westville local members, who declared in favor of a sympathy strike, as a protest against the presence of troops and police in the strike area, and in demand for the release of Mc-Lachlan and Livingstone.

GERMAN PUNISHMENT.

ESSEN, July 11.
The Germans in some sections of the occupied territory have adopted nocturnal raiding parties methods towards such of their fellow countrymen as have dealing with the French, riding them out of the country in automobiles and on horseback.

NORTH ATLANTIC CLEAR OF ICE.

WASHINGTON, July 11.
The U.S. Hydrographic office has notified the shipping lines engaged in the North Atlantic trade that ice no longer constituted a menace to the normal summer lines, and that ships might revert to the usual routes, which are considerably shorter than these now being utilized.

PATRONIZING THEIR OWN SHIPS.

NEW YORK, July 11.
United States ships are to be given preference in the transportation of mails to Europe, it was announced to-day by J. J. Kelly, Assistant Postmaster at New York. Instructions from Washington were to the effect that mails should be delayed twenty-four hours, if by so doing it was possible to send them by United States ships. When the Lavitshian sailed last Wednesday she carried 7,479 sacks of mail, much of it held over from the previous Sunday. The British liner Aquitania which sailed a day before carried 107 sacks.

CAPE BRETON ELECTIONS.

SYDNEY, July 11.
The Conservative convention at Sydney Mines sprang a surprise yesterday afternoon by nominating Robt.
H. Butts, ex-M.P. to contest Cape Breton north in the bye-election of July 30th. Major J. W. Maddin, up to BRANTFORD, July 11.

Hon. H. Nixon, Provincial Secretary in the Dewey Government, was elected by a fifty-two majority over J. M. Patterson, Conservative, in recent elections in North Brant. This decision was given after a re-count of Nixon's votes. This is a difference of four all told, accounted for by the fact that two Patterson votes had been credited to Nixon in error.

SCHER. CAPSIZED; TWO DROWNED.
HALIFAX, July 11.
The auxiliary schooner Arequipa, struck by a monstrous sea, capsized fifteen miles off Liverpool buoy this afternoon and two of a crew of five were drowned. Others, including Capt.
McLean, were picked up and landed near Port Monton by the Red Cross steamer Rosalind. One of the boats and both masts were carried away by the sea, which capsized the craft, and left it a menace to navigation. One of the seamen, who managed to get a dory afloat, picked up two comrades, but the others went under with the overturning of the craft and were not seen again. The drowned were Sir-clair Thorburn of Shelburne and Harold Merson of Liverpool. The saved were Captain McLean of Port Saxo, J. Thorburn of Shelburne, brother of the drowned man, and Calvin Doane of Roseway.

AN ARCTIC OFFICER DROWNED.
QUEBEC, July 11.
News reached this port yesterday that Wilfred Caron, third officer on the steamer Arctic, bound for the far north, was drowned off Crane Island.
The officer fell overboard shortly before ten o'clock on Monday night and although the vessel turned and used her searchlight no trace was seen of the man. The victim was an experienced navigator and had accompanied Captain Bernier on previous voyages to the Arctic.

PUTS HEALTH AND VIM INTO WOMEN

So Says Mrs. MacPherson of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brantford, Ontario.—"I was always tired and the least exertion would put me out for a day or two. I had a pressing pain on the top of my head, and when I stooped over I could not get up without help, because of pain in my back.
I did not sleep well and was nervous at the least noise. I keep house, but I was such a wreck that I could not sweep the floor nor wash the dishes without lying down afterwards. A friend living near me told me what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for her so I began to take it. With the first bottle I felt brighter and got so I could wash dishes and sweep without having to lie down. Later I became regular again in my monthly terms. I have taken ten bottles all told and am now all better. I can truly say that your Preparing the Crystals.

Put some of the crystals into a few drops of cochineal or carmine.

Shake well at intervals for half an hour, then add a little more of each ingredient and shake often.

Crowds Visit Gothenburg Fair.

Gothenburg, Sweden.—Fifty thousand visitors a day, many of them from far corners of the globe, are seeing the Jubilee Exposition in Gothenburg.

What impresses the visitors most aside from the architectural beauty of the exposition buildings, is the iron, steel, and machinery section of the Expert Exhibition. Never before at any fair has the story of steel in all its various aspects been so graphically represented. From the mining of the ore, represented in an artificial mine, through the various processes of steel making, and into such typical Swedish manufactures as ball bearings, micrometers, fine cutlery, cream separators, turbines, oil motors, artillery, etc., the story is illustrated with great vividness.

Mind Mystery.

Why is the subconscious mind of which we have lately been hearing so much? There is perhaps no subject in psychology about which there is greater difference of opinion. Not the least difficulty lies in deciding what we mean by the "unconscious."

HEMORRHOIDS

We are only fully conscious at any given time of those factors in our surroundings upon which our attention is directly focused and partly conscious of many other which we speak of as being on the outer fringe of our consciousness. Further, in concentrating on any given action, such as playing golf, we repress all other factors which tend to interfere with our play—we concentrate on the ball. We speak loosely of being unconscious of that part of our surroundings on which our attention is not focused. Thus people are commonly heard to declare that they did a thing unconsciously, when they mean that they did it without paying attention, and such actions can usually be subquently recalled. The term unconscious is better reserved for experiences which have been repressed and cannot be remembered in the ordinary way, but only emerge from the subconscious under conditions such as sleep, hypnosis, or psycho-analysis. This subconscious mind is full of memories, ideas, and wishes of which we are totally unaware, but which may nevertheless powerfully affect our opinions and behaviour. We call these acts "automatic," which, though voluntary in the beginning, have been so frequently carried out that they can be performed without arousing attention, or subconsciously. Everyday life provides us with many examples, and walking, winding up a watch, and even turning out the light at night are all acts which may be performed automatically. Automatic or unconscious writing is the power which some individuals possess of letting their hand write while their attention is focussed elsewhere. Such writing is often senseless, but some people acquire the power of writing in prose, verse, and even in foreign languages. The subject matter of such writings cannot be put down to "spirits" until it is proved that it is not being derived from the buried stores of memory. Sleep walking is another example of unconscious action, and so, too, are those actions which are carried out owing to hypnotic suggestion.

"THAT'S GRATITUDE."

A business man I know is planning a rather unusual advertising campaign based on his knowledge of human nature. He makes a certain article of which the quality has always been justly famous. He faces at present the necessity of raising the price or of lowering the quality. He does not want to do either. The only way out is to decrease the overhead by increasing output. And his plan is to put this whole situation up to the users of his article, tell them that that is the only way to prevent price going up or quality going down, and ask them if they don't want to help him keep the price and quality the same by recommending the article to their friends.

Let Them Be Creditors.
 He bases his hopes of this plan partly on the idea that people will readily see that that is the only way to keep the price of this high quality article down, and partly on his belief that if they do help him they will have a kindly feeling for him just because they have done something for him. "There's an old idea," he says, "that to make people like you, you should do something for them to win their gratitude. Nothing to it! People don't like to have to feel grateful! It makes them feel uncomfortable. It's a much better stunt to let them do something for you. Then they will like you. People love to feel they deserve gratitude." It will be interesting to see how his campaign comes out.

End of English Betting.

STILL SEEMS FAR OFF.

London.—The special committee appointed to help the government decide whether it will pay to tax betting, held another public sitting recently and examined several police officials. Their testimony was against it. Mr. Caldwell, police superintendent of Liverpool, said the betting law was very difficult to enforce and very unpopular. Its inconsistencies and loopholes were so numerous that in practice it amounted to one law for the well-to-do, who could bet on credit without incurring any risk of getting fined or imprisoned, and another for the poor, who, because of their poverty, had to confine themselves to ready money betting which meant street betting and were liable to get into trouble if they were caught at it. In Liverpool $40,000 a year was spent in efforts to enforce the law against betting, and the result had been a total failure.

Thevor Bingham, assistant commissioner of the metropolitan police, said a striking development of late years had been the increase of betting among women of the poorer classes. London was so riddled with street betting that to deal with it effectively would require a very much larger number of police than could be made available without prohibitive expenditure. The police felt, he said, that even if the repressive law were enacted in a clear and more drastic form it was almost certain, having regard to the strength and extent of the taste for betting, that some means of evading it on a large scale always would be found.

Mr. Bingham's views on betting are entirely at variance with those expressed by the majority of the spokesmen of various religious bodies that have appeared before the committee. A most attractive summer dessert is a fruit pie in a ring mold filled with fresh fruit. A large upper crust should be allowed for a fruit pie so that the juices can be well sealed in.

business value, and from the point of view of his philosophy. Mind Versus Heart. I have heard somewhat similar ideas expressed about gratitude before, and the older I grow the more I come to agree with them. I think gratitude, as an emotion, is one of the least common of the virtues.

When I say, as an emotion, I mean to draw a distinct line between an emotion that fills the heart and an idea that fills the mind. People may know in their minds that they ought to feel gratitude and yet not really feel it with their hearts at all. It is very hard to forgive the person who puts us under an obligation.

Who Likes Debts? The familiar phrase, "a debt of gratitude," testifies to the way we feel about gratitude. It's a debt. And debts are irksome things. People who have reasons for being grateful to other people are apt to be extra critical of the conduct of those others toward them. Why? Because they want to find some offense which they can claim cancels the debt. They know they ought to feel grateful, they don't want to frankly admit that they have no such feeling, and so they rationalize their lack of the emotion by finding fault with the people toward whom they ought to have it.

"Those who make us happy," says a French writer of the old days, "are always thankful to us for being so; this gratitude is the reward of their benefits." Somewhat different from the conventional ideas about gratitude. But I can't help thinking it is the kind of gratitude which is the most commonly and keenly felt.

THE GREAT ISSUE.

Was Darwin wrong? Was Darwin right? And was the ape our brother? Now valiant men go forth to fight on one side or the other. Great men who might be framing schemes to benefit their neighbors, devoted are to idle themes, to vain and useless labors. If they would go and preach on thrift (since they must talk or perish), they might their fellowmen uplift, their throbbing words would cheerish. This country's curse is surely waste, and here the spendthrift rages; and our besetting sin is haste in blowing in our wages. The scheme of learning how to save deserves our high devotion, but orators, severe and grave, pass up so sane a notion. The speller, with his words of fire, emerges from his villa, and thunders loudly that his stre was not a cheap gorilla. And he might thunder for a year, and keep the walkin reeling, nor would a useful fact appear in all his frenzied spilling. It cuts no ice from whence we came, from what we are descended; our duty is to play the game and make our record splendid. And if we keep our girls supplied with hats and shoes and ribbons, it should not jar our wholesome pride to know our sties were gibbons.

Mr. Caldwell, police superintendent of Liverpool, said the betting law was very difficult to enforce and very unpopular. Its inconsistencies and loopholes were so numerous that in practice it amounted to one law for the well-to-do, who could bet on credit without incurring any risk of getting fined or imprisoned, and another for the poor, who, because of their poverty, had to confine themselves to ready money betting which meant street betting and were liable to get into trouble if they were caught at it. In Liverpool $40,000 a year was spent in efforts to enforce the law against betting, and the result had been a total failure.

THE SUMMER DAY.

Oh, the blue sky above
 And the singing birds I love,
 And the breezes gently blowing
 Over hills and valleys fair,
 Picking up along the way
 From the blossoms of the day
 A perfume that is sweeter
 Than the scent that women wear!

It is summer, and I stand Hearing duty's stern command
 And the city's best and clamor
 With the constant tramp of feet;
 And I shake my head and say:
 "Turn me loose and let me play,
 Let me linger in the sunshine
 Where the shore and river meet."

"Let me stay and dream a while
 Where the water lilies smile,
 Let me hear the big trees whisper
 Kinder words than humans know;
 Banks of steel and stone are cold,
 Stored with silver and with gold—
 It's a river bank I'm wanting,
 Where the friendly willows grow."

"Let me turn my weary eyes
 To the beauty of the skies,
 Let me try to catch the meaning
 Of the chatter of the birds;
 Let me dream and let me play,
 Let me sing this day away
 Where there is no strife for glory
 And there are no bitter words."

The Miners Strike.

We quote below the Editorial of the Halifax Chronicle, which deals with the cessation of the coal and steel operations in the mines of Cape Breton. Indications all point to the spread of the strike not only to the other mining centres in Nova Scotia, but to Ontario and to the provinces further west.

Our interests are so closely associated with those of our Sister Dominion in this connection, that the results of the strike upon Canada cannot but effect Newfoundland in a similar manner, if not to the same extent.

Were the causes of this action due to a real grievance, or to some hardship inflicted upon the miners as a whole, the public would not be slow to show their sympathy, and to exert their influence to have the grievances redressed. Such, however, is not the case.

Blind to their own personal interests, forgetful of the distress they are causing in the homes of their fellow-countrymen, forgetful too of the injury they are inflicting upon industry generally, they allow themselves to be influenced by a few self-styled democrats whose sole idea of the meaning of Democracy seems to be to destroy everything which is constitutional, and which helps to hold the fabric of our social life together.

And what have they to suggest to take its place? They themselves know not.

A RUINOUS COURSE.
The Cape Breton strikers, under the leadership of men who have shown, not only by their words, but by their acts, that they are utterly without concern for the interests of the Province, have again gone the limit. They have allowed themselves to be led into a position which is not only ruinous for themselves and their families, but is directly opposed to the public interest.

Not only have they stopped all the coal and steel operations, and upset completely the greatest industrial enterprise in Eastern Canada; they have removed the maintenance forces and abandoned mines—up to last year an unheard of thing in this Province. This is bad enough, but it is not all. The strikers have not only compelled the withdrawal of the men required to keep the mines free from water and gas; they have prevented officials of the Company from entering the collieries for the purpose of manning the pumps and saving the property of the Province from irreparable damage and loss.

This is more than a mere strike against their employers; it is a strike against the public: it is an act of war against the whole people of Nova Scotia whose property the delectable Mr. McLachlan would let go to oversteering perdition, so far as he is concerned. This is not an attack on the "capitalists," as the Reds tell their dupes; it is a crime against the public, and nothing less.

We do not believe that honest, self-respecting mine workers, realize the position in which their mad and reckless leadership has placed them. The result of the strike, ballooning with its small majority and the large vote unpolled, indicates that many of them are opposed to the present outbreak precipitated by irresponsible and self-seeking agitators, and that many more have no heart for the outburst of venturo against the orders of their international organizations, into which the McLachlans and their ilk are scheming to drive them.

There is in this fact some promise that the great body of the wage-earners in the coal fields, who are lay-able and respectable men, will assert themselves and put an end to the strutting demagoguery which is causing them untold losses in their personal affairs, and is a menace to all that Nova Scotians hold dear. If they take this stand they will not lack public support.

In Passing.

The House meets this afternoon when Finance Minister Cave will sponsor the estimates for the coming fiscal year.

What About It?

By the demonstrations that have recently been given of the up-to-date fire fighting appliances with which our Fire Department has been equipped, the public have retired at night with a greater sense of security, confident that under the capable direction of Inspector General Hutchings our force is to be trusted to deal with any emergency.

Those demonstrations have had another effect as well. Policy holders have been anticipating daily a notification from their Insurance Company to the effect that their premiums have been considerably reduced by reason of the greater efficiency of these expensive engines. So far their anticipations have not materialized.

What about it, Gentlemen of the Fire Underwriters' Association?

RESCUED VICTIMS OF ACCIDENT ON FRENCH BANKER.
The French hospital ship Ville-d'ys arrived in port from the Grand Banks this morning bringing a number of the crew of the three mast banker Basilou of St. Malo who were rescued after their vessel had taken fire following a gasoline explosion. The accident to the Basilou occurred on July 5th when a gasoline tank connected with a hoisting engine exploded. Two sailors were badly burned. The Ville-d'ys and a Banker proceeded to the rescue and just in the nick of time managed to save the 34 men who comprised the Basilou's crew as just one hour afterward she sank. The Banker took 17 of the shipwrecked men and landed them at St. Pierre. The other 9 including the two burned sailors were taken aboard the Ville-d'ys. Yesterday one of the injured men, Joseph Daguette died, the other, J. Guyonier, who is burned about the back arms and head did not need a stretcher when taken ashore this morning. He has been moved to hospital and after a few weeks it is thought will be as well as ever. Joseph Daguette was a married man and leaves a family at St. Malo. His funeral takes place this afternoon from the King's Wharf. Interment being at Mt. Carmel Cemetery. The Basilou had about 2,000 cwt. fish on board when she sank.

Visitors Spent a Busy Day.

Lord Amthill the Pro Grand Master of the Grand Masonic Lodge of England and the other distinguished Masonic visitors spent a rather strenuous time yesterday. In the morning they visited the General Protestant Cemetery and placed a wreath on the grave of Patrick Tasker, the first District Grand Master of Newfoundland. At 1.30 they attended the luncheon given by the Prime Minister, after which they spent a short while at the G.W.V.A. Sports. At 7.30 they were dined by Mr. J. R. Bennett at his home, Monkstown Road. At this function His Excellency the Governor and the Prime Minister were the guests. The visiting brethren also attended a function at the Masonic Temple last night when at 8.45 the St. John's Lodge No. 459, was opened in due form. I.P.M. Dr. C. MacPherson, C.M.G., presided owing to the respectable absence through illness, of the W.M., Mr. E. S. Pinstone. There was a large attendance of members of the Craft. The meeting was brief, but the Lodge did itself honour by making the Pro. Grand Master, Lord Amthill, and the members of the Grand Lodge accompany him, honorary members. The Pro Grand Master delivered an excellent address to the brethren and his words will long be remembered.

Pepps Behind the Scenes.

HIS DIARY.
July 11.—It is now many months since I have written in this journal, but being reminded of the fame that had come to my great ancestor who lacked neither energy nor wit in the recording of the events of the time, it did seem to me that I should try to carry on the reputation he did earn for all of our name. To-day I tope in my motor coach, and to visit the good rector, Mr. Pittman, who takes me over his farm, discussing all the while of the divers things to be found there. He shows me also many strange relics of his ancestors, which did interest me mightily. So home, after a most pleasant visit. I did daily awhile before journeying back to the city, that I might see the men of Topsail to take captiv on the beach, which there is great quantity. A great pity that these fish cannot be put to a commercial use, for it seems to me there would be much money in it. Home betimes and to bed, being mighty tired in mind and body.

Taxi Drivers Protest.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—We, the Taxi Drivers on the East End Stand, would like to place before your numerous readers the unjust manner in which we are being treated by the Municipal Council.

Up to a fortnight ago we were allowed to park our cars on the north side of Water Street, near the Evening Telegram office, which was of great convenience to our customers and of great benefit, from a business standpoint to us. Since then new regulations have been made. We are now forced to park our cars on Duckworth Street and in consequence our business has been ruined. It seems hard, Mr. Editor, that we should be forced to pay the heavy Municipal taxes and then be put out of the way of making our living.

The West and Central cabmen have had stands built for them at great expense, but we of the East End have got nothing. Seeing that there is a large stretch of ground, just east of this office, known as the Clapp property, which has been unoccupied for the past 31 years, we would suggest that the authorities take this over as a stand for us or if this cannot be done to let us go back to our old stand near the Telegram office.

We hope the Council will take the matter up and thus encourage us in our efforts to make a living for ourselves and families.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR LEAVES FOR CANADA.

At Smithville, yesterday, the Prime Minister, Sir Richard Squires gave a luncheon in honor of Lord Amptill, which was attended by more than one hundred guests. On behalf of himself and his associates he expressed appreciation of the reception given them since arriving here. A photograph of the gathering was later taken in the grounds by Mr. J. C. Parsons, which will make an interesting souvenir of the occasion. Lord Amptill and his associates left by express to-day en route to Toronto to attend the communication of the Grand Lodge of Canada which takes place on July 13th. The Grand Lodge of New York and other grand lodges will be officially represented at the communication in Toronto. Grand Lodge will meet in Massey Hall. Chinese Laundry Gutted.

FIRE CAUSED BY GASOLINE EXPLOSION.
Due to the explosion of a gasoline tank the Chinese laundry on Cochrane Street, owned and operated by Kam Lee, was completely gutted by fire yesterday afternoon. The fire started near an ironing machine and within ten minutes the whole of the building fronting on Gower Street was a mass of flames. The Chinese occupants of the laundry had to make a hurried exit, having only sufficient time to secure their cash boxes. In the excitement there was some delay in ringing in an alarm, although the fire was located only three yards from the door. The firemen from the Central and East End stations responded quickly and both the pumper and new aerial ladder were brought to service. After a little while a full stream of water was directed upon the burning building, but it took over half an hour of strenuous work by the fire fighters. A house owned by Mr. Jas. Lee adjoining the laundry on Gower Street was badly damaged by smoke and water. Mr. Cole, however, has about $1800 insurance on his home. The residence of Mr. Charles S. Stranger, which adjoins the laundry on Cochrane Street, also suffered from smoke and water. Mrs. Stranger, who is not enjoying the best of health recently, received quite a shock and had to be removed to a neighbor's house. The machinery and contents of the laundry are completely destroyed and the $2,000 insurance covered will not nearly cover the loss.

Animals Fears Another War.

CAPTETOWN, South Africa.—General Smuts, speaking recently at the Union of South Africa government, said the British Empire as a coupling of free states held together their common allegiance on terms of freedom and equality, and operating on a basis of consultation. The famous South African leader said it was quite possible that another European calamity might arise, and he therefore urged that the position of the British Empire be defined. The European war, he said, arose from the fact that the position of some of the great powers was not clearly defined.

New Stamp Issue.

BADLY DESIGNED AND PRINTED.
The new issue of postage stamps promised for so long was permitted to see the light of day on Monday, and as monuments of ugliness in stamp designing, the twelve engravures which make up the set will remain forever in stamp catalogues in marked contrast with the splendour of the issues which have gone before.
This appears to be a very stern criticism, but the least observant person who has ever taken notice of former issues can see at a glance all the ugliness or lack of anything in the designs of the new stamps.
Newfoundland has always been famed for the beauty of her postal labels, and although the last two issues have not maintained that reputation, they were far above the new issues both in design and printing. What the object of the new issue is remains doubtful, for there is nothing to commemorate this year.
The only solution to this problem seems to be that the new stamps are meant to bring to the notice of the people of Newfoundland, and the world at large, the passage through the House of the Humber Contract. This would seem to be proved by the fact that several beauty spots on the Humber River are depicted on stamps of the new issue. What one cannot understand is why portraits of the past and present Minister of Posts do not also appear.
The one point in favor of the new issue is that the stamps are of small size and are convenient for use on cheques. There are twelve values, and each value bears a different design. The one cent green, according to the label at the bottom of the central design, bears a picture of the Twin Hills, Tor's Cove. At first glance the stamp looks like nothing on earth, but after careful inspection something faintly resembling the famous beauty spot of the Southern Shore becomes visible.
The two cent stamp is a brilliant cherry red. The stamp looks like a small piece of paper which has been painted over with a lip stick, and impressed in this is a seagull, purporting to represent the South West Arm, Trinity.
The three cent chocolate is the best of the lot. It depicts the Bowring Park Memorial, "The Fighting Newfoundlanders."
On the four cent violet, a smudgy background of hills, and a boat with its sail up in the foreground, present the designer's idea of a quiet nook in the Humber River.
But why go on? One stamp is as bad as another, and those who buy them will soon see their defects. The remainder of the issue is as follows:
Five cent, ultramarine. Coast scenery, Trinity.
Six cent, black. Upper Steadies, Humber River.
Eight cent, Blue. Quidi Vidi.
Nine cent, slate green. Caribou crossing lake.
Ten cent, purple. Humber River Canyon.
Eleven cent, olive green. Shell Bird Island.
Twelve cent, Mount Moriah.
Save us from future issues like the present one, should be the prayer of all Newfoundlanders, philatelists or otherwise.

Wedding Bells.

CRANFORD-FEEHAN.
A very pretty wedding took place at the R. C. Cathedral when Mr. Geo. Cranford, son of the late Wm. and Mary Ann Cranford, was united in the bonds of matrimony to Miss Bride Feehan, daughter of Patrick and Mary Feehan. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Dr. Carter. The bride wore a dress of blue crepe de chene, with hat to match, and was attended by her sister Gertie, while the groom was supported by Mr. Robert Feehan, brother of the bride. After the ceremony supper was served at the residence of the bride's parents. Th numerous friends of the bride and groom wish them many years of happiness.

Last evening about 8 o'clock a motor accident occurred at the junction of Parade Street and LeMarchant Road when a motor car driven by Mr. E. The impact, which was very heavy, damaged the steering gear and mud guard of the latter car considerably. Mr. Collishaw's car escaped with a few scratches.

Whitbourne Notes.

Quite a few of our family men (and young men) have left Whitbourne since the spring opened, and are now making a living in Canada and the United States, where their families are likely to follow them in the autumn if employment is as easily had and as lucrative as at present. Among those who have gone from our midst are the following:—Albert and William Barrett, Richard, John and William Gosse, John Gushue, Aaron Hutchings, Peter Petipas and W. Sinnott, all of whom are a loss to a small community.

Much disappointment was felt by those men, who were sanguine of obtaining work at the Humber industry this summer at the non-arrival of passes to that distant part.

Some desultory work has been done on the roads, as usual of late, but the money granted is never sufficient apparently to get the roads in really good shape.

Mr. Levi Sparke's dwelling house has been put thoroughly in repair and nicely painted up by the late Reid N.M. Co. of which the above is foreman on the railway here.

Many of the public buildings and homes would be greatly improved by the same treatment, and as "example is better than precept," others may follow suit.

Our two teachers of the Church of England and Roman Catholic Schools respectively organized a picnic on Wednesday, 27th June, when the children enjoyed tea and races in a field on the Brigus Road—lent for the occasion. Unfortunately at 6 p.m. it began to rain, and the visitors after snatching a hasty tea had to hurry home. A thunder and lightning storm followed and put an end to everyone's enjoyment for that evening.

Mr. Chafe, C.E. School Inspector, arrived here from Brigus on June 20th, and proceeded to Blaketown, where he examined the School under Mr. A. J. Sharpe, returning to Whitbourne the following day, when the C. E. School in Miss Morgan's Class were examined in the usual subjects.

A long hoped for visitor and no less a personage than his Lordship the Bishop of Newfoundland came to us by express on Sunday, 24th June, St. John the Baptist Day, to dedicate a Lectern Memorial Bible presented by the branch of the C.E.W.A. to the Glory of God and in remembrance of the gallant men of the congregation who laid down their lives in the Great War. The officers and members of the C.E.W.A. attended the Service in St. John Baptist Church at 6.30 p.m. The service began with the Dedication ceremony by the Bishop, assisted by the Incumbent, at the end of which the Dead March in Saul was rendered by the Organist (Miss M. Jeffery) while the congregation remained standing. Then immediately followed Evensong with hymns suitable to the occasion. The Bishop's touching and impressive address on "The Unforgotten Dead," brought to a conclusion a service not soon to be forgotten by the large congregation present. The names of the brave men thus honoured and inscribed in the beautiful Bible, are as follows:—Joshua Clarke, Pte.; Thomas Reid, Pte.; Nathaniel Jones, Pte.; Edward Jeffery, Lieut.

The flowers on the altar (white and red Carnations) were in remembrance of Lieut. Edward Jeffery, and presented by his mother. Sweet scented lilies (Jonquills) and pink and white daisies in vases adorned the foot of the Lectern, and were given by the sisters and friends. After the service the President and one of the officers waited on his Lordship in the vestry, and there made a small presentation, which the Bishop graciously accepted and proffered his thanks to the Association for the useful gift. On Monday at 9 a.m. Bishop White returned to St. John's.

Monday and Tuesday of last week were extremely warm days, the thermometer registering 88 in the shade. Since then another cold spell has intervened with rain and gales of wind. Plants and seedlings are struggling to grow, but seem more backward than is usual in July.

Rev. C. Jeffery left for Blaketown on Saturday, 7th inst., and spends Sunday at that place.

Miss Beatrice Sharpe, C. E. Teacher of Humbermouth, accompanied by her sister, left last week for Sydney, C. B. where vacation-time will be spent with friends.

Misses H. and A. Leslie arrived on Friday, 6th inst., on a long visit.

The sudden and unexpected death of Mrs. Robert Suley took place on 25th May and was a shock to all her friends and pathetic in the extreme, as six young children are left motherless. General sympathy is felt for Mr. Suley in his bereavement.

There is much regret expressed over Rev. J. Reay's sudden and serious illness and departure for the General Hospital last week. His friends here hope that under Divine Providence the skill of the doctors may avail to pull him through. Mr. Reay being of a singularly robust constitution.

Since writing the above the news of the new Editor of the Evening Telegram, Mr. C. E. A. Jeffery, has come to hand. Heartiest congratulations, Mr. Editor, and good success in the new undertaking.—COR.

Whitbourne, July 9, 1923.

Every Woman is a Critic

when it comes to judging face powder. Ladies know just what a good face powder means, for they have learned by experience that many so-called cheap powders are most expensive in the end. Three Flowers face powder costs a little more than many inferior powders but it has that lasting fragrance and goes much farther in use than cheaper powders. You can now get the Three Flowers Face Powder in compact form too, with a dainty mirror and puff attached in a beautiful and artistic gilt container. To use this retreating face powder is a sign of good taste and to-day all particular women are insisting on Three Flowers for they know it is correct. Three Flowers odor is obtainable in Perfume, Face Powder, Vanishing Cream and other toilet delights. You should use Three Flowers for perfect pleasure.

The Shoe Men

Life for a Life.

Solomon Islanders and Whites. Frenchman, Captain Hillen, cured by a British soap firm as a result of labour and commander of small steambath the Hawk, which recruiting native labor on the west coast of Malaita Island—note for its malism and the general ferocity. Its inhabitants—has been attacked two natives armed with knives very severely wounded. Captain Hillen struggled gamely with his naked assailants till one of the native "boys" hearing the sounds of the fight, ran up with a crowbar and split open the head of one of the Malaita men—the other diving overboard and getting clear away. A hurried return was made to Tulagi—the capital of the Solomon Island group—where Captain Hillen was placed in hospital. The prisoner was subsequently sentenced to a long term of imprisonment.

This attack, though apparently unprovoked, has its origin in the ancient law of "An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth." During the past 12 months three Malaita natives, working on plantations in other parts of the group, have been killed by white men—either shot, or so roughly man-handled that they have died later. The white men involved have since been tried and exonerated. The dead men's relatives in Malaita, therefore, are now "out" for the heads of three white men in revenge, and the attack on Capt. Hillen was an attempt to obtain the first. It matters not whether the white man be known to the Malaita natives or not—his head—any head—is what they intend to obtain.

Riches in the Corsets.

Our little community was afforded a thrilling spectacle when the Defence—a 600-ton 4-masted schooner—lying fully loaded with copra in Fast Harbour, suddenly broke into flame, and in spite of the efforts of the crew and the few local inhabitants was burnt to the water's edge.

The captain, his wife, and the crew, escaped in the dinghy, and a touch of humour was supplied when the captain's wife, after foundering ashore, suddenly began to bewail the loss of her corsets, which, in the confusion, had been left behind. Her anxiety for the recovery of this intimate garment was explained by the fact that a safe-deposit receipt for £3,000 worth of jewellery was secreted therein. The gallant captain retrieved the corsets amid loud and prolonged cheering.

A Miraculous Infant.

The dying-out of native races in the Pacific is illustrated by the case of the Island of Gomal, which lies 4 miles away from Faist. In years gone by a thronged and thriving centre of native life, it is now reduced to a bare 50 inhabitants.

During the past twelve months 6 of these have died, and recently occurred the only birth that has been recorded in 27 years! The house of China—the father of the child—is thronged daily with interested natives of both sexes, and it seems unlikely that the miraculous infant can possibly survive the frequent exhibitions and fondlings—London Daily Mail.

Imagination at Bridge.

By A. E. MANNING FOSTER. Imagination certainly comes in at auction bridge. But it must be cultivated, curbed and restrained, tempered by knowledge, reason, and deduction.

The brilliant player uses his imagination. He forms swift mental pictures of the cards he cannot see. He visualizes them. Coupled with intuition, which is often an accompaniment of the imaginative faculty, amazing results are produced. It is almost as if the player, in some uncanny fashion, can see through the backs of the cards.

There are many excellent players who will never be quite first-class because they are devoid of imagination. They make few mistakes. But they plod on where the card genius soars. They play by rule of thumb, but they are never "inspired." In fact they frequently resent the idea that there is more in auction bridge than skill and knowledge—a psychic quality which cannot be explained exactly.

Failure in imagination is a fault of most weak players. They cannot imagine that their partners are silent because they like the opponents' call, and they blunder into some silly bid of their own instead of leaving well alone. They cannot imagine that a good "no-trump" bid may be had as support of a suit call, and they are equally at fault because they cannot imagine that their partners may have a good double although it does not fit their hands. The unimaginative bridge player is one who cannot conceive possibilities beyond his own cards.

On the other side are players who have too much imagination or in whom the quality runs riot.

We all have experience of partners who imagine their hands are better than they are or who are led to bid by secondary calls or to double on the strength of them.

TO-NIGHT'S FOOTBALL

The Star and B.I.S. will be the contestants in to-night's game and a good clash is assured. There will be no changes in either line-up from their last appearance.

POSTPONED GARDEN PARTIES

The likelihood yesterday at noon of continued showers induced the committees in charge of St. Patrick's and the Methodist Orphanage garden parties to postpone both events until this afternoon. The sports programs at each will be carried out as intended.

VETERAN SPORTS A GREAT SUCCESS

At 9 p.m. yesterday the threatening rain clouds all dispersed and Old Sol shone forth in all his glory. As the result an unusually large number turned out to see the G.W.V.A. Sports at St. George's Field. There was a little delay in starting as certain preliminaries had been overlooked by the Committee but once started under the leadership of Mr. W. J. Higgins the various events went off with machine-like precision. Amongst those present were His Excellency the Governor, and Lady Allardice, Baron Amptill and suite, the Prime Minister Sir Richard Squires.

TRACK EVENTS

The 100 yards dash was a bit of a surprise. On the crack of starter Cullen's pistol the whole line made a very poor start. S. Parsons got the lead and held it to the finish. Close behind him were Gerry Halley and Jim Herder in the order named. Time 11 seconds.

Only two teams entered the Junior Football Relay Race, viz.—Collins, Kent, and Halley for the B.I.S. and Richardson, Russell and Phelan for the Cadets. One lap each was the distance. The lead secured by Collins for the Irish lads was maintained by his mates.

There were four starters in the mile run, viz.—Fleming, the two stone boys, and Skirving. The former was given three-quarters of a lap and G. Stone a quarter. C. Stone was started at scratch. At the fourth lap, Skirving had the field moved down and finished in brilliant style in 4:53. A heavy westerly gale was blowing which militated greatly Skirving's efforts. The time made therefore was really surprising.

In the 320 yards, Halley had the lead at the first flag and kept it to the finish. Herder was second and Parsons third. Time 26 seconds.

Burnell, O'Neill and Wylie were the starters in the mile walk. The former was in good condition and at no time was pressed. He had a long lead all the way through. Wylie was second for over half the distance when he relinquished it to O'Neill and was unable to pick it up again.

Three troops entered the Girls Guides' Relay which was won by 1st St. John's (Spencer) by Misses Selars, Goldstone, and Bailey. Girls' Friendly secured second place.

The best race seen for some time was the quarter mile. There were seven competitors and all got away well. Halley led until the final stretch was opened when he was passed by both Herder and Skirving. Time 57 1/2 seconds.

NOVELTY EVENTS

Messrs. Graham and Hanlon entered the 100 yards crutch race. At half the course the latter dispensed with his crutches and hopped the remainder of the distance. The result was a dead heat. In the run-off, Graham easily outdistanced his opponent.

The Knee Football was most diverting. Tommy Delahunty won easily. Second place was secured by Nolan who created much amusement by waiting to the strains of the band. Three crews started in the Mercantile Relay Race, viz.—Harvey's Wharf, Office, Baiters, and Harvey's Wharf. Just after turning the buoys the wharf crew collapsed. The remaining crews were coming along almost neck and neck, when Harvey's bow oar caught a crab and upset the crew. The splendid silver shield was therefore won by Baiters.

The Band Race was also most amusing. They started in a straight line walking and playing their instruments until half the course was completed when the crack of the pistol permitted them to drop their instruments and run. It was won by E. Cranford with Tom Pottles 2nd.

Delahunty won the football Place Kick with 176 1/2 feet.

The Tug-of-War went to the C.C.C. by default.

FOOTBALL SIXES

In the semi-finals the Guards vanquished the B.I.S. and the Cadets the Fieldians. The Cadets defeated the Guards after a pretty exhibition and thus hold the Governor Harris Cup for the 1923 season.

10 MILE ROAD RACE

The conditions were ideal for the long distance race. The heavy showers in the morning had allayed the dust whilst the fresh westerly breeze greatly aided the runners. The course was kept free of traffic by Messrs. J. M. Tobin, R. Stick and J. P. Crotty in the pilot car. The judges were Messrs. M. Chaplin, W. O'Neill, J. P. Moakler and A. H. Thomas. Before leaving the field all the entrants were examined by the Medical Officer, Dr. Knight and pronounced fit. At the Octagon the following lined up:—Jack Bell, D. E. Joyce, G. Kelly, W. Dodd, R. P. Redmond, T. Myron, A. R. Rendell, P. Dunphy, J. Ralph and J. Willar. They got away at 3:45 with Mr. C. Ellis as starter. Bell started at a fast clip and by the time Donovans was reached he had a long comfortable lead on the rest who were trailing along in a bunch 300 yards behind. At Brookfield the champion was leading by a quarter of a mile. Entering St. George's Field he was given a great ovation and at the completion of the required two rounds he finished in a burst of speed which evoked great applause. His time was 57:27. At one point on Topsall Rd. near Morris's Bungalow he was obliged to slacken his pace owing to a newly made portion of the road being sticky after the morning rain. Ralph had his revenge on Dodd when he finished second, thereby reversing their positions in the C.L.B. Road Race. Kelly, Dunphy and Willar also finished the course in good time. Bell's prize was the magnificent gold watch presented by Mr. H. D. Reid.

VICTOR LUDORUM

When the points had been tabulated it was found that Jimmy Herder and Gerry Halley had tied with 9 points each. Between them they decided to settle matters with a 100 yards dash. It was a brilliant effort on both their parts, Herder (who has developed into a remarkable sprinter) winning by less than a foot in 10 2/5 sec.—a most remarkable effort in view of their strenuous evening's running. The prize was a magnificent gold watch.

PRIZES PRESENTED

At the conclusion of the programme Lady Allardice graciously presented the prizes and added words of encouragement and congratulation to the winners. Cheers were then given for His Excellency, Lady Allardice and the G. W. V. A. The rendition of the National Anthem brought to a close another successful event in G. W. V. A. annals. The C. L. B. Band was in attendance during the afternoon and rendered some delightful selections. The Ladies' Auxiliary did splendidly with their refreshment stalls. Corporal Mike Smith and his now famous donkey kept the kiddies greatly amused and their antics were enjoyed by all.

A PECULIAR OMISSION

The fans were greatly surprised and rather disappointed that there was no half mile race on the programme. Friends of Skirving claim that had this item been there it is most likely he would have secured the Victor Ludorum. As it was he had eight points to his credit at the close of the programme. The Vets wish us to state that there was no particular objection to his being left out in some manner this event was inadvertently omitted.

Propeller of Halifax Steamer

STIRRED UP HARBOR RUM ANCHORAGE

North Sydney, July 6.—A few days ago a story started that there was rum at the bottom of the harbor near Farquhar's wharf and since then the demand for grappling irons has been very great. It is true that when the Halifax steamer Stella (Marie, Capt. J. R. Renouf, which was lying at the wharf loaded deep, backed out from the wharf on her way to Newfoundland, her propeller stirred up seven five gallon kegs of the finest rum ever shipped from St. Pierre. Men working around the wharf noticed the kegs which were wrapped in burlap and two were rescued from a watery resting place before they sunk. Grappling irons were secured in a hurry and two more were brought to the surface and turned over to the captain of the revenue cutter Vagrant, which happened to be at Voight's wharf nearby. The work of combing the bottom continued and two more kegs were salvaged and turned over to the customs authorities making six in all. The seventh was brought to the surface but something slipped and it returned to the briny much to the disappointment of the men who brought it to the surface. Grappling for this keg was continued, but it is not known whether the keg has been retrieved or not. All the kegs were anchored securely with large stone and some with fire bars.

It is known that on the trip to North Sydney before she was held by the customs authorities, the s.s. Pro Patria had taken twelve kegs of rum at St. Pierre. Five of these were seized by Customs Officer Cameron as they were being smuggled ashore a couple of weeks ago. The seven kegs of Saturday's incident, would account for the rest.

Household Notes

A sweet pepper sauce is very good with lamb cutlets. Add a little grated cheese to the cream sauce of cauliflower. Crushed raspberries are delicious served with vanilla ice cream. Fishballs of kippered herring are an excellent breakfast dish. Currant jelly makes an attractive garnish for a ragout of liver. A little grated cheese gives a savory flavor to baked omelets. A few chopped mushrooms are delicious in a chicken liver omelet. Store tea in an air-tight container if you wish it to keep its flavor.

Fatal Accident

Yesterday.

CHILD STRUCK BY MOTOR CYCLE DIES ALMOST INSTANTLY

About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon little Mollie, the four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Humphries, 85 Cabot Street, was run down by a motor cycle on Cornwall Avenue, near Shaw's Lane, and died almost instantly from the injuries received. The machine which struck the child was driven by Mr. Charles R. Tuff, of Scott Street, who was proceeding to Topssall in company with four other cyclists. The particulars of the accident as gleaned are as follows: Miss Lillie Hussey, a servant of Mr. and Mrs. Humphries, left home during the early afternoon to go for a walk. She took with her three little children: Hilda, aged seven; Mollie, aged four (the victim), and a little tot in a baby carriage. Everything went well until near Shaw's Lane, and as there is no sidewalk in the locality, they walked along on the right side of the road. Mollie crossed to the left, while the others continued on the right. As the cycle approached within a few yards, Mollie attempted to cross back to her sister whom she had left but a couple of minutes before. The driver had no idea that the child would recross the road and consequently was upon her before he had time to apply the brakes. The force of the blow threw the child heavily to the ground rendering her unconscious. A number of eye witnesses who were close to the scene of the tragic happening stated that Mr. Tuff did all possible to avoid the accident. He immediately rushed to the little girl's assistance and picking her up held her until Mr. Baird's motor car arrived on the scene, when she was driven to St. John's Hospital. The unconscious little girl was first taken home, and upon being removed to O'Mara's drug store she soon expired. Sergt. O'Keefe, who was present, took care of the little body, which was tenderly removed to the Morgue, while the driver of the machine, Mr. Tuff, was shortly afterwards taken to the station by Sergt. O'Keefe.

The tragic happening cast a gloom of sadness all over the city yesterday. The little child who left home with the protective thoughts of an afternoon enjoyment was soon cut short, and the blow to the bereaved parents cannot adequately be expressed in words. The father of the child is Mr. Thomas Humphries, accountant at Ayre & Sons, and to him, his wife and family universal sympathy is extended.

Pineapples Advance in Price.

Honolulu.—Increases in the prices which the large pineapple canners in Hawaii will ask for their pack this year are expected to raise the territory's gross revenue from this commodity from $19,000,000, the amount in 1922, to approximately $24,268,000, it has been estimated.

The increases, announced already by the Hawaiian Pineapple Company, the largest packers of the commodity, and the Pearl City Fruit Company, one of the smaller concerns, average about 25 per cent. They are made necessary, according to the firm's announcements, because of the increase of the prices of sugar, cans, boxes, and the raw pineapples. The price advances approximate 40 cents a case of one dozen cans.

Germ Killed by The Million.

The Electric Lamp.

A lamp of simple construction which can focus violet rays to the merest speck of intense light is being used with effect against pyorrhoæa germs, which die off under the treatment in millions in little more than four minutes. Pyorrhoæa is the most prevalent and destructive dental disease. The device is known as the Pashler tungsten lamp. It is the invention of Mr. F. Forbes, of West Kensington, and is installed in the surgeries of a number of prominent dentists, one of whom is Mr. R. Hodgson, a dental consultant at the Royal Waterloo Hospital.

The Electric Lamp.

"I cannot yet state that the lamp can cure pyorrhoæa in all stages," he told the writer, "but it is certainly the most effective treatment I know. One patient, aged fifty, was suffering from pyorrhoæa, and I regarded him as a hopeless case. The patient was anxious to retain his teeth, so I decided to try the lamp.

"In two days he returned. The teeth were much firmer, and the gums in an infinitely healthier condition.

Foot Covering Old and New

Men's Tan Low Shoes.

The sandal is the most ancient foot covering of which we have a record, and samples of very ancient manufacture, taken from Egyptian mummies, are preserved in public collections. In medieval times shoes with long, pointed toes were worn by the high-born, and toward the end of the fourteenth century the points became ridiculously elongated so that there appeared to be a strap projecting from each foot. Different kinds of half boots were worn by the Anglo-Saxons and Anglo-Normans, and in the reign of Edward IV. if not earlier, the boot proper with tops and spurs, was established as an article of knightly dress. Half boots were cut out by machinery, and the uppers are seen by various sewing machines and soles and uppers are fastened together by machine. The factory trade in boots and shoes since 1860, undergone a remarkable development.

Would Utilize Japanese Tides.

Kobe, Japan.—Dr. Okada, of the Kobe Marine Observatory, believes there are great possibilities in the utilization of the rushing tides of the inland sea for commercial purposes, and has asked the government to establish a tide station here. The complicated conformations of the land cause strange irregularities in the tides about the coast of Japan, and these Dr. Okada says never have been thoroughly investigated.

A Reply to the "Guardian."

Dear Mr. Editor,—I have been informed that in a recent issue of the "Bay Roberts Guardian" the Editor of that paper in objecting to the present Motor Tax, stated that the Act "representing the Improvement and Maintenance of certain Public Roads" passed in 1920, was put through at the instigation of a few people in St. John's, and apparently, in the Editor's opinion, the "Act" should not be binding on motorists in the outports. Now, this is not a fair statement. The Editor of the Bay Roberts Guardian to make, and certainly does not represent the spirit which animated those who have endeavoured during recent years to bring about the movement for better roads. I want to say right here, and I would like our good friends on the north side of Conception Bay to believe it, that the good road movement now being executed by the Newfoundland Road Commission is not a class, sectional or party matter.

For the information of any one who has not perused the Act, I might say that its scope embraces every main road on the Peninsula of Avalon, and I feel sure that the Editor of the Guardian is too broadminded and just to expect that with the limited means at the disposal of the Road Commission that all the important roads in that section could be rebuilt in the course of two or three years.

The main objective of the Road Commission has been to put a first class road from St. John's to Carboneau, which is about 67 miles. To date we have completed 30 miles of that road. I leave it to the judgment of any person using the road from St. John's to Holyrood to judge whether the work done does or does not merit the support of all motorists, as well as the drivers of all other classes of vehicles.

I would also point out for the special information of people residing on the north side of Conception Bay, particularly those who own motor cars, that the attention and work of the commission have been divided between the different roads radiating from St. John's, namely, Portugal Cove Road, Pouch Cove Road, the road to the Goules and Ferryland, as well as the road to Carboneau.

If the Commission could have concentrated upon the one main highway round Conception Bay we would today have a boulevard built to Carboneau. Now, as to the objection of Conception Bay motorists to paying their tax. While personally I am not favourable to excessive taxation of any kind if available, yet I do not think that the motorists of Conception Bay have any cause to complain of the payment accorded them by the Road Commission since its inception. In the summer of 1921 the amount received as motor taxes from Conception Bay motorists was $75.00. The Commission that year spent $200.00 on the north side of the Bay. In 1922 the three taxes paid by motorists on the north side of the Bay amounted to over $300.00; the Road Commission expended about $250.00 there. To date this year there has been approximately $400.00 paid by motorists north of St. John's, and this amount, I understand, is paid under protest; the Commission has already expended $2,000.00 in that section.

If the motorists in the districts of St. John's, Harbour Grace and Port de Spain want roads fit to drive a car, they must in all fairness be prepared to bear their proportional part of the burden, and if I judge the spirit of those gentlemen correctly, they will not expect the motorists of St. John's to pay taxes to build a decent road around Conception Bay for them to drive their cars over without distributing in a direct way to the benefit of the district.

were appointed, and have justified their existence on the Commission, particularly Mr. Soper, who has rendered great service to the Commission during the last three years without a thought of remuneration for the very valuable services rendered.

An erroneous impression seems to prevail regarding the collection of motor taxes by the Municipal Office in St. John's. The facts are as follows: The Council having the machinery and expert knowledge of the work, has been empowered to continue the collection of taxes since the Road Commission came into power, as hitherto, the city retaining $5,500.00 of the taxes on cars and cycles and the balance is passed over to the Newfoundland Road Commission. In addition to the amount named above, the Council retains the taxes on all trucks, which at the passing of the Act was considered as operating almost exclusively within the city limits. If the total taxes amount to $29,000.00 the Council would retain $5,500.00, the balance, $14,500.00, would be spent by the Commission on outport roads. Therefore there is no cause for prejudice in this connection.

In conclusion, may I ask my good friend of the Bay Roberts Guardian, as well as all motorists in Conception Bay, to lend us a hand and co-operate with us, and in doing this to get the good-will and active co-operation of the members for the various districts.

Our aim is to eliminate politics and apply business to the improvement of our road system. We want less controversy and more work, as the disputes and misunderstandings of today will be forgotten to-morrow; but the permanent work, performed in the way of giving people a decent road to travel over, whether he drives a motor car or sits on the bar of a springless dray cart, will remain and be appreciated perhaps long after we have passed from our present sphere of activity.

Sincerely yours,
R. HIBBS,
Sec. Nfld. Road Commission.

Clara Kimball Young and Elliott Dexter.

COMING IN DRAMA OF MYSTERY AND THRILLS.

"The Hands of Nara" is the next photograph in which the brilliant Clara Kimball Young will star. It is announced for the Nickel Theatre on Monday next and it should prove one of the season's most entertaining photographs.

Richard Washburn Child, the present Ambassador from the United States to Italy, is the author of this very successful novel, which ran for many weeks as a serial in Collier's Magazine. In its book form it has had a wide sale, and it is considered one of the best sellers of the years.

"The Hands of Nara" makes an admirable picture, and it provides the talented Miss Young with an extremely effective character to portray. The story has its setting first in Russia, where several of its most dramatic scenes take place during the revolution. Next the scene shifts to New York, where, against the background of the famous Ghetto and, later, of the luxury of Fifth Avenue, the gripping action continues.

Miss Young plays the part of a beautiful young Russian girl who escapes the revolution and reaches New York after many hardships. Many adventures befall her, but none more interesting than the revelation to her that her hands possess a remarkable healing power. Her newly-found gift brings her temporary fame, but it almost causes the loss of her lover.

Miss Young is surrounded by a very capable cast, headed by Elliott Dexter. Others are Myrtle Steadman, Vernon Steel, Margaret Looms, Count John Orloff and John Milner.

"The Hands of Nara" was produced for the Samuel Zierler Photoplay Corporation by Harry Garson. Metro is chief distributor.
