SCHOOLS NEED-ING TEACHERS

The regular opening of Schools is Monday, August 23. Forty-five schools are still needing teachers. These schools would gladly pay from $25 to $100 above the minimum salary. As Permissive Licenses are not to be granted except to those who attended the Inspectorial Institute, and as the supply of teachers is about exhausted, it looks as if by next year these schools will understand the true value of a teacher's service.

LAST WEDNESDAY'S CRICKET GAME

Bridgetown Defeated Wolfville At Bridgetown More Than a Whole Inning

The Wolfville team arrived early and after hearty greetings were soon on their job. They went to bat first but were retired with only 32 runs to their credit.
Bridgetown now followed and ran up a score of 57.
The Wolfville boys again tried the willow, but with even poorer results thus giving the game to Bridgetown by a whole inning and two runs.
Quite a number of spectators were on the grand stand who wished to see more playing. It was yet early in the afternoon, everybody was in the best of spirits and Bridgetown being asked to go in again, did so cheerfully and put up a score of 97. Gill and Bothamley were the first at bat in this innings and Gill made a score of 44, which added to his score of 6 in the first innings, made an even 50, or five less than the whole score made by the visitors in both innings.

The ladies served luncheon as usual and Mr. Whiteaway, the popular manager of the Annapolis Valley Cyder Co., sent over several cases of his well known "Evangeline" brand. The editor can vouch for the quality of the goods and the way it was appreciated by the visitors.
Bridgetown plays Kentville at Bridgetown today. Bridgetown plays Windsor at Windsor to-morrow and Annapolis plays Bridgetown at Bridgetown Saturday.
The old game is fast gaining in popularity and is attracting a lot of attention throughout the province.
Mr. Angus Hirtle has moved in his new house at West Paradise. He has also set up his threshing machine for the season and is now ready for business. Mr. Eugene Poole occupies the house recently vacated by Mr. Hirtle.

VALLEY BASEBALL MAN AFTER GAMES

Secretary Bath Endeavoring to Arrange for Crescents to Play Middleton in Bridgetown

HALIFAX, August 18—F. E. Bath, secretary of the Annapolis Valley baseball league, is in the city, endeavoring to book the Crescents ball team for two games against the Middleton club, to be played at Bridgetown, Labor Day. Mr. Bath held a conference with Manager Shields and Captain Hanlon and should there be no games scheduled for Halifax on the "holiday," the offer of the Valley man will likely be accepted. When asked if Frank Whelan, whose right to play with the Crescents, is disputed by Amherst, was properly released by the Annapolis club, Mr. Bath, stated that Whelan was released June 21, and as far as the Valley League is concerned, the popular local boy, is eligible to play with the Crescents. Mr. Bath asked why such a promising young player as Whelan, happened to get away from the local clubs, and was informed just why Frank went to Annapolis.
"We are pleased to note that Mr. Bath succeeded in obtaining the G. W. V. A. which will play against Middleton in Bridgetown Labor Day."

RECKLESS DRIVING

The Way Accidents Occur, and Then the "Railway is Always at Fault"

An automobile was going south last Thursday morning while a freight train was making a shunt across south street. As the car approached the railway track the driver put on "some speed," considerably above the 12 mile limit, and crossed the track just ahead of the moving freight cars. If he had been killed it would have been "the fault of the railway (?)" and if he had escaped with his life and smashed his car, no one could make more noise about it than himself.

We would think that after the number of accidents which have already occurred at this blind crossing, said to be one of the worst on the road, that the least an experienced auto driver could do would be to take necessary precaution instead of trying to "beat" the freight.

FISHERIES REORGANIZED

The fisheries branch has severed its connection with the department of the naval service, and has again become attached to the marine department. The life saving service, which since May, 1914, has been operating under the department of the naval service, is also returned to the administration of the marine department. Prior to May 1, 1914, these services were connected with the marine department, and after more than six years during which the fisheries were linked with the naval service, the combination has not been found satisfactory.

Deputy Minister G. J. Desbarats, C. M. G., remains deputy minister of the naval service, while the fisheries now come under A. Johnson as deputy minister of marine and fisheries.

A. W. Found, who under the previous organizations was general superintendent of fisheries, now becomes assistant deputy minister of fisheries.

Lachute, Que. 26th Sept 1908
Minard's Lintment Co. Limited
Gentlemen—Ever since coming home from the Boer war I have been bothered with running fever sores on my legs. I tried many salves and liniments: also doctored continuously for the blood, but got no permanent relief, till last winter when my mother got me to try MINARD'S LINTMENT. The effect of which was almost magical. After two bottles the sores completely disappeared and I have worked every working day since.

Yours gratefully,
JOHN WALSH

CAMOUFLAGE

He was dining alone and had much time to puzzle over an unusual phenomenon he had noted.

"Why, is it Sam," he said, addressing the waiter, "that poor men usually give larger tips than rich men?"

"Well, suh," rejoined the woolly-headed knight of the napkins meditatively, "looks to me like de poor man don't want nobody to find out he's po' an' de rich man don't want nobody to find out he's rich."

DITTO

Every clerk on the staff of a certain Winnipeg bank is required to sign his name in the morning and if late must give the reason therefor. The chief cause of tardiness is usually street car hold ups and the first man to arrive late generally writes his name and those who follow write "ditto" One day, however, the first late arrival gave as his reason, "Wife had twins," and twenty other late men mechanically signed "ditto" underneath.

Agriculture

PREPARING GRAINS FOR FALL FAIRS

(Experimental Farms Note)

It pays to advertise. There is no better advertisement than to be a prize winner at the Fall Fairs and no crop in the farm can be exhibited to better advantage than the cereal crop. To attain the best results, a special plot should be maintained and kept thoroughly clean, free from weeds and all impurities. Harvesting should be done by hand, keeping the sheaves as neat and straight as possible.

First and foremost the grain in the sheaf must be weathered, it must be perfectly dry and good colour. The best results are obtained by the use of slightly immature straw, as it will be found to be less brittle and easier to handle. The straw should be spread in thin layers in the sun to dry; the sun will bleach the straw as well as dry it. Use only straight, uniform straws to make the sheaf; two or three sheaves should be collected in the field to allow for waste.

The majority of persons have the idea that all the straws should be the same length and the heads all placed on the same level. This would give us the square head in which, when tied, the majority of the straws would break off below the head. The ideal sheaf has a rounded head with a gradual curve. This rounded head is procured by allowing the central straws to stand a little higher than the surrounding straws and each layer of heads that are added, to gradually slope away from the centre. The large sheaf may be conveniently formed by first making a number of small sheaves and then placing them together as though they were individual heads, gradually sloping them off in the same manner. To finish the sheaf a layer of individual heads should be placed around the whole producing a finished exhibition sheaf. All the loose leaves should be plucked off the outside of the sheaf with a jack knife leaving only the white shining straws, and all heads that do not conform to the symmetry of the head may be cut off, leaving a perfect sheaf. Coloured ribbon about 1/2 to 3/4 inches wide may be used with good effect to cover the binding strings.

The remainder of the plot should be threshed by hand. This will form the bulk sample for the Fair. If the plot was kept pure in the field there will be very little that will need to be done to the threshed sample. A good fanning mill will remove all shrunken and small kernels, all chaff and dirt. The fanning mill must be clean, many an excellent sample has been ruined by a dirty fanning mill. Thoroughness is the secret of a good sample, the fanning mill should not be spared even if it means fanning away 50% of the original sample.

The bulk sample may be double bagged for shipping to the Fair. The sheaf should be shipped in a box 3/4 inches longer and 1/2 inches broader and deeper than the sheaf. The sheaf should be wrapped in paper and tied, fitted into the box and kept in position by supports.

With our present day standards always improving, great care must be taken in preparing the exhibits for our Fall Fairs. No prize will be won by the farmer who puts up a rough sheaf or a poor sample. The secret of success is thoroughness.

White spruce seed ripens in September and the cones should be collected just before they open. If picked too early, the seeds will be immature, and if left till the cones open, the seeds will have dropped out. The increasing attention being given to reforestation has developed a large home market for tree seeds. In addition to the various governmental and commercial nurseries, several of the pulp companies, including the Laurentide, Abitibi, Spanish Rivér and Riordon, have nurseries. There are also good markets in the United States and Great Britain for Canadian tree seeds. Heretofore, the nurseries on this continent have had to depend largely on European seed, owing to the limited amount of native seed collected. The European seed has not been entirely satisfactory for our climate

A GOOD REASON

"Herbert" said a school teacher, turning to a bright young Trail Ranger, "can you tell me what lightning is?"

"Yes, ma'am," was the ready reply of the boy. "Lightning is streaks of electricity."

"Well, that may pass," said the teacher encouragingly. "Now, tell me why it is that lightning never strikes twice in the same place?"

"Because," answered Herbert, "after it hits once, the same place ain't there any more!"

PALLID CHEEKS MEAN ANAEMIA

New Health Can be Obtained by Enriching the Blood Supply.

When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and dainties do not tempt her appetite you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anaemic. Many mothers as the result of their own girlhood experience can promptly detect the early signs of anaemia and the wise mother does not wait for the trouble to develop further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renew the blood supply and banish anaemia before it has obtained a hold on the system.

Out of their experiences thousands of mothers know that anaemia is the sure road to worse ills. They know the difference that good red blood makes in the development of womanly health. Every headache, every gasp for breath that follows the slightest exertion by the anaemic girl, every pain she suffers in her back and limbs are reproaches if you have not taken the best steps to give your weak girl new blood, and the only sure way to do is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

New, rich red blood is infused into the system by every dose of these pills. From this new rich blood springs good health, an increased appetite, new energy, high spirits and perfect womanly development. Give your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and take them yourself and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes at $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HEAVY CROP OF SPRUCE SEED THIS YEAR

The Commission of Conservation has received reports from a number of points in Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick indicating that this is an exceptionally heavy seed year for white spruce in eastern Canada. There promises to be a good yield of white pine seed as well. Last year there was practically no spruce seed in eastern Canada. Heavy seed years for spruce and pine usually occur only every fourth year, therefore those who wish to collect the seed should take advantage of the abundant crop this year.

White spruce seed ripens in September and the cones should be collected just before they open. If picked too early, the seeds will be immature, and if left till the cones open, the seeds will have dropped out. The increasing attention being given to reforestation has developed a large home market for tree seeds. In addition to the various governmental and commercial nurseries, several of the pulp companies, including the Laurentide, Abitibi, Spanish Rivér and Riordon, have nurseries. There are also good markets in the United States and Great Britain for Canadian tree seeds. Heretofore, the nurseries on this continent have had to depend largely on European seed, owing to the limited amount of native seed collected. The European seed has not been entirely satisfactory for our climate and hardy native stock is preferred when obtainable.

During the last few years the demand for tree seeds has always exceeded the supply and this spring $10.00 per lb could be secured for white spruce seed. This, however, is exceptionally high $5.00 being considered a reasonable price. The cost of collecting and preparing the seed for the market varies with the local conditions, but in a good seed year it should not exceed $2.00 per lb.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF RHEUMATISM

Entirely Well After Six Weeks' Treatment With "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. AMEDEE GARCEAU

"I was for many years a victim of that terrible disease, Rheumatism. In 1915, I was laid up for four months with Rheumatism in the joints of the knees, hips and shoulders and was prevented from following my work, that of Electrician.

I tried many remedies and under the care of a physician; but nothing did me any good. Then I began to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and in a week I was easier, and in six weeks I was so well I went to work again.

I look upon this fruit medicine, 'Fruit-a-tives,' as simply marvellous in the cure of Rheumatism, and strongly advise everyone suffering with Rheumatism to give 'Fruit-a-tives' a trial."

AMEDEE GARCEAU.

WOODEN VESSELS
NOT IN DEMAND

U. S. Government Can't Find Per-chases For Wooden Shipping.

A Washington despatch says: Disposal of more than 1,600,000 tons of wooden shipping—406 vessels of various types—built as a part of the government's war time merchant marine program is one of the most difficult problems facing the shipping board. Twenty one of the craft, aggregating 32,000 dead weight tons,
were offered recently, but no buyers
were found.

Only 194 of those wooden craft are now in operation. Seventy three are tied up at various ports under managing caretakers and 139 are in storage yards. One hundred and seven of those in "storage" are finished hulls while 32 are converted barges.

Officials of the board say that when the serviceability of the wooden fleet has been demonstrated little difficulty will be experienced in turning it over to private ownership at about $90 a ton.

ALMOST A BAD BLENDER

The apartment house owner called up the apartment house dweller and asked him to come and see him. And the apartment house dweller obeyed
the summons with fear and trembling.
When he arrived in the office, the owner said:

PREVENTION

In a little town out West there lives a man whose sagacity and foresight are almost beyond belief.
Several years ago he bought a fine large umbrella. His first act on reaching home was to open up his purchase and paint on it in large glaring letters, "Stolen from B. B.
Booth."

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand the baby
may be beyond all human help
before the mother realizes he is ill.
Summer is the season when dysentery and colic are most prevalent.
Any of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated.
During the summer mother's best friend is Babys' Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy.
The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SUCH MEN ARE NOT PLENTIFUL

Sir Edward Kemp, now minister without portfolio and formerly minister of the overseas forces of Canada, has written the Finance department,
returning unopened all cheques amounting to $75,249, received by him for ministerial salary during the war period. He has also refrained from drawing any of his seasonal indemnity for the last four sessions of parliament.

TWENTY YEARS OF TROUBLE ARE OVER

Howard Clattenburg Says Tanlac
Is Grandest Medicine in The World.

"Since I started taking Tanlac I am enjoying good health for the first time in twenty years and have gained ten pounds in weight," said Howard
A. Clattenburg, Hawthorne street, Dartmouth, Canada, while telling of his experience with Tanlac recently.
"I am thirty eight years of age," continued Mr. Clattenburg, "and ever since I was eighteen I had suffered with rheumatism and stomach trouble.
The rheumatism was mostly in the muscles of my shoulders, arms and legs and there was always a throbbing aching pain in them. My shoulders and arms hurt me so bad and became so stiff I could not raise my hands above my head and every move I made caused me intense pain. Every joint in my body was stiff, and especially those in my shoulders and arms, which felt just like they were breaking in two every time I moved them. The muscles in my legs just seemed to draw up in knots and every step I took caused me intense pain. Often at night I suffered with cramps in my legs until I would have to jump out of bed and put my feet on the floor before I could get relief, and at times even my toes would draw up until I could hardly put on my shoes.
Every morning of my life the muscles of my whole body hurt me so bad it was all I could do to get out of bed.
Why, sir, I don't remember a single day in all these years when I was free from pain, and there was one whole winter I was not able to get out of the house. All my stomach and I suffered so with indigestion, I dreaded to eat a thing, and when I did manage to eat a little something I would bring up gas and have such inter-minating pains in the pit of my stomach I could hardly stand them. I had lost a great deal in weight, and between the rheumatism and stomach trouble I was in terrible shape and just about past going.

THE NERVEST MAN

"Mr. Brokesley" said the grocer to the nonpaying customer who was planning to move secretly from the locality. "I don't believe you will ever pay me what you owe me. It isn't worth while to sue you for it, and you have nothing I care to attach.
I will simply give you a receipt and call it paid."

THE MEASURE
OF A MAN

Not Judged by His Regular Attendance Every Sunday at Church

The place to take the true measure of a man is not the forum or the field,
not the market place or the amen corner, but at his own fireside. There he lays aside his mask and you may judge whether he is imp or angel, king or cur, hero or humbug. I care not what the world says of him, whether it crowns him with bays or pelts him with bad eggs; I care never a copper be; if his robes dread his home coming and his better half swallows her heart every time she has to ask him for a five dollar bill, he's a fraud of the first water, even though he prays night and morn till he's black in the face, and howls hallelujah till he shakes the eternal hills. But if his entire rush to the front gate to greet him, and love's own sunshine illuminates the face of his wife when she hears his footfall, you may take it for granted that he's true gold for his home's a heaven and the humbug never gets that near the great white Throne of God. I can forgive much in that fellow mortal who would rather make men swear than women weep; who would rather have the hate of the whole world than the contempt of his wife—who would rather call anger to the eyes of a King than fear to the face of a child.

Today is a time of retrenchment. The extreme high cost of all that pertains to the business and social life has advanced to such an extent of late, that everyone must, in order to exist and pay his or her bills, eliminate whatever is unnecessary or not imperative to their comfort and happiness.

There will be racing and sports at the Ayleford track on Labor Day. The event promises to bring out some fast speed and the entries cover horses from all over the province.

It is reported that school commenced in some of the districts Monday in school houses which had not been opened since school closed.

WEDDING BELLS

MacNINTCH-EATON
The United Baptist Church at Granville Centre, was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday morning, Aug. 11th, when Miss Leta Grace Eaton, became the bride of Mr. Robt. Edward MacNintch, of Moncton, N. B.

Why is it, it is often asked, that people in small towns can find no better business than prying into other people's business, and then exaggerating the truth in regard to the same.

Our idea of a good citizen, and we are glad there are many in this community, is one always ready to give according to his means, to community enterprises. He takes stock in them all, and don't lose his faith if an occasional venture proves bad.

Fire at Inglesville

Fire at Inglesville last Saturday destroyed Mr. Ambrose Whitman's barn together with its contents, consisting of valuable farming machinery, two horses and a large quantity of hay.

Mr. V. Arnold Eaton, she was tastefully attired in white silk gorette, a coronation pleated skirt with satin over dress, and bridal veil in cape effect with orange blossoms carrying a beautiful bouquet of white lilies, sweet peas and maiden hair.

OLIVIA WADE
The death of Miss Olivia Wade which occurred on the morning of Aug 9th, at her home, removes one of Granville Centre's oldest inhabitants at the advanced age of eighty six years.

Upper Picture.—Students' Residence, University of Saskatchewan. Live Stock Pavilion in the background.
Lower Picture.—"Better Farming Train," showing how instruction is carried to the farmers.

Long after the ivy peered in at the upper windows of such splendid universities as Oxford, Cambridge or Harvard, such an institution as the University of Saskatchewan had not even been imagined. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who laid the corner stone of this new university July 29th, 1910, was a student poring over his books few but Indians had stood on the height of land which is the site of the buildings shown in the accompanying photographs, and watched the waters of the South Saskatchewan River gliding swiftly and silently northward.

Although the prairie soil was as rich and the river as broad and full then as now, the City of Saskatoon was unoccupied. Even as late as twenty years ago, where now stands a city of 30,000 people on three lines of railway, there were not one hundred men, women and children and these were housed in a few tents and shacks. The wildest enthusiast would hardly have dared to prophesy that one day a university would grow there—yet there it stands!

The buildings of the University of Saskatchewan crown the height of land north east of Saskatoon and the site could hardly have been more fortunately chosen. It includes half a mile of well-wooded river front and altogether embraces 1,333 acres of rich land, 223 acres of which are set aside for a campus, 150 acres for purposes of agricultural experimentation and 880 for the Agricultural College farm. The plan provides for the eventual accommodation of 5,000 students. The present buildings consist of an administration building, containing a hall and offices for the different departments as well as class rooms, two students' residences, one containing a spacious dining hall and the other a gymnasium and swimming pool; an engineering building; livestock pavilion and up-to-date model farm buildings. All the buildings conform to the preconceived plan and will, like those already erected, be of stone in the Gothic style. Work has just recently begun on a new science building. There are also several private residences on the campus, the two principal stone ones provided for in the architect's plan being those of the President of the University and the Dean of Agriculture. The buildings of Emmanuel College, a church of England Divinity School, the first of its kind in Saskatchewan also occupy a part of the campus. The University grants sites of from three to five acres to such affiliated colleges at a nominal rental. Eight thousand dollars has already been subscribed towards a beautiful structure which will be the home of the Presbyterian College.

The university provides degrees in Arts, Science, Law, Agriculture, Civil Engineering and a Diploma in Pharmacy.

The present enrolment is between 1,400 and 1,500, including returned soldiers who are retraining in various branches of skilled work, particularly engineering. Scores of promising returned soldiers have been turned out as capable motor mechanics. Steam engineering and the handling and repairing of farm tractors are also taught. Agricultural students, principally the sons of farmers, are training in livestock handling and judging, and even in the care and management of poultry.

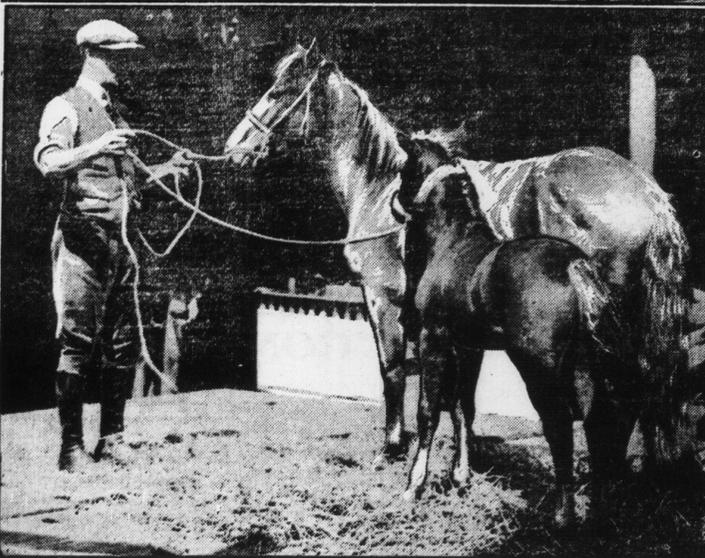

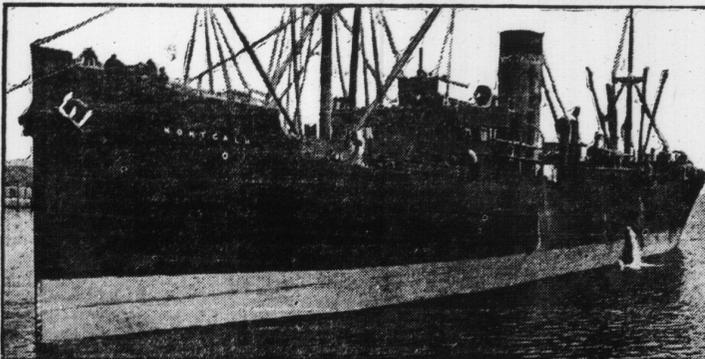

An important feature of the work of the University of Saskatchewan has been its Extension Department consisting of short instructional courses at seasonable times for farmers and farmers' wives. Each year a special train is fitted out and a regular course of instruction mapped out including lectures to farmers. This train is widely advertised as the "Better Farming Train." It makes a tour of the Province, stopping at all important points and the farmers drive in for miles to examine the exhibits, talk over their problems with experts and hear the lectures. Realizing that the average busy farmer cannot so to the University, an effort is made to take the University to him and to let him know at first hand the results of experiments with special varieties of grain, the latest information about methods of soil tillage, and the like.

During the recent winter evening lecture courses have been given at a nominal fee for the benefit of city residents. Some of the best educated people in the community have attended these classes.

From an educational standpoint Saskatoon offers as great opportunities as any city in Canada. Complete training from Kindergarten to University is provided through a fine set of public schools, thirteen large public schools, which ranged in cost from $115,000.00 to $156,000.00 at pre-war building prices. An accompanying photograph shows two of them in one block in the working class section of the city. The enrolment of pupils in the public schools is now well over 4,000.

The Collegiate Institute, which provides the intermediate stage between the Public Schools and the University, has an enrolment of about 2,000.

WE know the sale of the Chevrolet Light Delivery Wagon depends on the satisfaction it gives in actual service. We also know that its valve-in head motor eliminates fuel waste and delivers fullest power, that its ample bearings cut friction to a minimum, that its perfect balance—strength without weight—insures stability and makes a maximum of power available for actual hauling.

These are only a few of the obvious reasons for Chevrolet ability, durability and economy.

AUNT SADE

"Emily, don't you hear me?" Emily roused herself from her contemplation of Flora's dimpled fist. The recently acquired infant was a daily revelation to the girl who had spent her days in the business atmosphere of a grain office. "Yes, dear, I don't regard her as a regular rose petal pink?" Bob's crisp blue eyes rested briefly on the baby. "Yes; say, I can't find a collar button and—" "Oh!" The tone was both leisurely and vague. Bob tapped impatiently upon the top of the bureau, which they used in common. "My things have been moved from this left hand drawer, which I have always had— Emily, I shall be late!" "Oh, well, can't you pin it? I'd better get your coffee on or you'll be rushing away without your breakfast again." Reluctantly she deposited the youthful Flora in her beribboned crib and went absently into the kitchenette, returning almost immediately to readjust the lace-trimmed pillow under the tiny, black head.

The table was spread with a rumpled cloth and the dishes were thrust upon it with careless haste that did not tend to increase appetite. The coffee boiled over and the liquid spurted before the man who glanced anxiously at his watch was cloudy and weak. The toast, made from stale bread, was the tasteless product from a small nearby bakery and the oatmeal was burned.

"Somehow the food has lost relish," commented Bob, pushing back his chair and reaching automatically for his hat.

"Will you stop in and get me some pink baby ribbon in your luncheon hour? I want a bolt to make rosettes for her shoulders," said Emily dreamily.

"Got any money? I have only enough for carfare and lunches until Friday."

"Why, no, Bob, where would I get any? Surely you don't begrudge a bit of ribbon for Flora? Get a smaller lunch."

The man reddened. He was liberal to a fault and the inward stinginess cut him. He started to say that if Emily had not spent an almost fabulous sum for the wicker baby carriage with the luxurious fur rug which they had just paid for they would not have been obliged to scrimp. He checked himself, however, as he looked at the rapt face of the mother who stood behind her costly crib watching the infant smile in her sleep. After all, Flora would conceivably outgrow the helpless stage in the course of time and he would then be the recipient of some small amount of attention from his wife. "All right, give me a sample and I'll get the young woman what she demands," he said.

He took a glass of milk and a scrap of his luncheon and spent 85 cents for a bolt of broadened wash ribbon to bedeck the little shoulders of his daughter. When he inserted his latchkey he listened hopefully for the tinkle of china which would presage dinner.

Emily tiptoed out across the polished floor with a warning gesture. "She has just fallen asleep. Shall I start dinner now? Are you hungry?" she asked.

Bob tried nobly to repress his impatience. He had worked very hard at the office and the thin milk and sinner eaten at noon had not increased his endurance perceptibly. He craved something hot and satisfying. Looking about the untidy room he sighed. "Take off that wrapper, Emily, and we'll go out and get something at the cafe. I'm too hungry to wait for things to get started," he concluded.

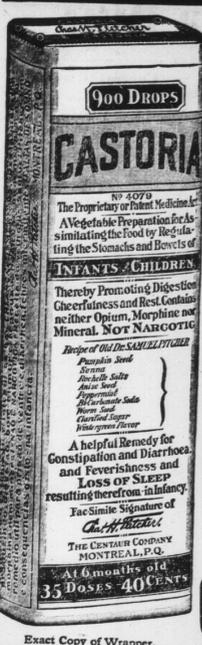

She looked at him in amazement. "Go out and leave that precious baby alone? Where is the money to pay for any such extravagance, anyway? Remember, we are poor people." She unrolled the expensive pink ribbon and looped it over her finger admiringly.

"What have you for dinner?" This time the tone was filled with exasperation. Ribbon, when he craved beefsteak and potatoes!

"Two bolts would make them fuller. I adore that shade of pink. What did you say, dear?"

The not too gentle closing of the front door was the sole reply. She rushed to the window and saw Rob stalking stubbornly down the street. She sank down in the rocking chair and burst into a storm of sobs. She was not aware of the source of her discomfort. "If this is a sample of married life I don't care much for it."

noisy. She could bear no more. Next evening Bob, who had gone without luncheon, spent all except Friday's carfare on a cluster of sweet peas for Emily. "Many women don't care at all for their babies. Her father was pretty sore on her. I'll get paid to-morrow night and then we won't have to scrimp so." Some of the tenderness as he visualized Emily's rapt face bending over Flora still lingered in his crisp blue eyes as he entered home.

Emily, wearing a dainty white gown and with her hair waved, and dressed high the way he liked to see it, came toward him radiantly.

"Rob you brought me flowers when I faltered; then went on determinedly. 'I shall own up, I've been unacceptably selfish, but I'm not going to be like Aunt Sade.'"

She was in his arms before the end of the little burst of confidence and the man's eyes rested upon the shining linen of the dinner table. "Dinner's ready," he commented, "do I smell home made bread?"

She nodded yes. "And home made pie. I'm going to show results."

IT PAYS TO QUOTE FIGURES

The advertising that counts is the advertising that tells the customer what he wants to know—not only what the dealer has for sale, but also what the prices he offers. In fact the latter is the important point. The average person knows what articles are for sale in a drug store, grocery, hardware or dry goods store, or any other store, but he does not know the prices. This is the cheapest interest. This is the knowledge that brings the customer to the store.

Royal Yeast has been the standard yeast in Canada for over 50 years, and it is a well known fact that bread made with Royal Yeast possesses a greater amount of nourishment than that made with any other.
