

SIX DAY SEASON OF GRAND OPERA

National Opera Company Will Be at Royal Alexandra
This Month.

GIVE SEVEN OPERAS

Orchestra Will Number Sixty
—Large Chorus and Ballet Support the Cast.

Lawrence Solman announces the engagement of the National Opera Company of Canada for one week's season of grand opera at the Alexandra Theatre beginning Monday evening, Jan. 26. The organization will appear in Toronto intact and exactly as it appeared during its eight weeks' season at His Majesty's Theatre in Montreal. The people of Toronto can be assured of a week of grand opera which cannot be surpassed in any opera house in the world.

The operas to be given throughout the week are as follows: "Sampson et Delila," "Lohengrin," "Madame Butterfly," "Thaïs." The exact days and dates for each and every opera have not yet been decided upon as yet, but it will be announced by the end of the week. The company is one of the most famous, including as it does such well-known artists as Rosa Oltzka, who appeared here at Toronto's great musical festival; Marie Classen, who also appeared on two occasions at the festival here; Giovanni Martinelli, Jose Segura-Tallies, Natalie Cery, Pietro Angeli, Enrico Rossi, Alfredo Graziani, Pietro Di Biasi, Enzo Slezak, Marie Rappold and one hundred and twenty others.

None But the Best.
The National Grand Opera Company of Canada is without doubt the largest organization that has ever played in this country. Moreover, it engages nothing but the finest obtainable material for its productions, the like of which have never been heard outside of the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, and Covent Garden, London, Eng. The orchestra includes 60 of the finest musicians under the direction of Agostino Jacchia. Among other features will be the wealth of scenic and costumes, together with the large chorus and ballet.

"In Old Kentucky" is the attraction at the Grand Opera House this week. This spirited drama, always a welcome visitor in this city, is one of the strongest drawing cards on the American stage and has made a name for itself as a meritorious dramatic offering second to no other play before the public. As theatre-goers know, "In Old Kentucky" abounds in exciting scenes, in thrilling situations, in realistic episodes, in genuine comedy and in true characterizations. It is a deft weave of laughter and tears, skilfully constructed by the playwright, Mr. C. T.

"I've passed by your store—and not noticed it often," said a man who wanted to sell me signs. A gentleman's dress is not obtrusive, nor is he intrusive. The quiet and distinctive atmosphere of this store front reflects the quality of Semi-ready Clothes.

I may gleefully shout about the "Lonely" Sale, for it is an event in a store where actual values are good values the year round.

But the real opportunities in genuine Semi-ready Tailoring and in Tooke Men's Wear, do not call for a noisome noise.

I have some "Lonelies" left at half-price; $20 for $10; $25 for $12.50, and I have thousands of other Suits and Overcoats which offer savings of from $3 to $10.

Tooke Furnishings, including Shirts, Collars, Underwear, Silk Mufflers and other winter comfort wear, at 20 per cent. off regular prices.

Daisy. It stands for all that is admirable and praiseworthy in stage entertainment, and above all, in this era of unclean plays, it is wholesome and sweet. The drama develops quickly from the first curtain. There is a cleverly developed series of incidents leading up to a really thrilling horse race with real Kentucky shorthorns on the stage. A pickaninny band of musically-inclined youngsters give an animated and realistic scene of plantation dancing and singing and render inspiring music as a complete brass band. Altogether the play-actor gets his money's worth in "In Old Kentucky," and that's reason enough for its long-continued career on the American stage. The company this season is said to be unusually strong. Headed by Miss Maude Parker, a very charming and talented actress in the role of Madge, history, the daughter of the heroine, the cast includes George M. De Vere, Andrew Glasford, James Cooper, William Hedge, Scott Moore, Alice Enders and Lesleya Arnest. A magnificent scenic production is provided, as always with this offering.

"Taxi Girls."
A burlesque entertainment of a great variety and at the same time of utmost magnificence comes with Joe Hurling's new "Taxi Girls," an aggregation of merry folks who will throw the audience of the Gayety Theatre in convulsions of laughter during this week.
The offering has three distinct parts, consisting of two clever farces and a vaudeville olio. The particular star comedienne is Joe M. Fields, one of the best favorites in burlesque. Second honors on the program are allotted to Princess Luba Meroff, better known as "Princess Beatrix," her charm is not all that will win admiration, neither is it her noble birth. The princess is one of the most versatile entertainers that ever entered this country. As a singer, musician and dancer she compares favorably with the best seen in the vaudeville stage. Her act is one of beauty, harmony and novelty and wins not only applause, but sincere admiration.

Ward and Bohlman, two excellent entertainers, Lynn Cantor, a captivating chameleonette, the ever-winning Edna Green, that screamingly funny girl provoker, Frank Harcourt, and Charles Jansen, Maude Harris and Nellie Lockwood, three other favorites will make up the cast of the principals engaged to support the star. Of course Joe Fields is a whole show by himself, and in the Murtig armament of burlesque celebrities he has surpassed all of his previous efforts. An attractive and engaging performance, and above all "the real goods" will make the new "Taxi Girls" a most noteworthy offering.

Toronto Symphony Orchestra.
Of the different numbers that Mr. Weisman is presenting on his orchestral program on Thursday night of this week at Massey Hall, the suite by Sir Edward Elgar, "In the South," will perhaps make the strongest appeal to the audience. The different movements are a reminiscence of Elgar's visit to Italy, and his contrasting the barbaric life and splendor of the early Roman in the glory of victory with the present beautiful and simple pastoral existence. The work is a recent composition, written after the great "Dream of Gerontius," and as an orchestral setting is considered one of the greatest efforts of England's greatest present-day composer. The Wagner numbers have all been played by the Toronto Symphony before and should make instant appeal. The Siegfried Idyll, a beautiful and light summer, placed as it is in the centre of the program, will stand out in pleasing contrast to the other brilliant and heavy items. Mr. Weisman is also giving the incidental music to Siegfried's Death from Wagner's "Disk of the Gods" (Götterdämmerung), the "Tannhäuser" overture and Richard Strauss' great tone poem, "Tod und Verklärung." The sale of seats is now open at Massey Hall.

A Number of Spring Suits Have Arrived

MOREOVER many of them have already been sold, seized upon with delight by persons getting ready for the South. And such chic, interesting little costumes as they are, the coat with Eton fronts and postilion back being well-nigh universal. Skirts show a strong partiality for the two and three tier effect, the pleated tunic appearing in several of the models of lighter fabric. Crepe serge and gabardine are two of the new materials which by charm of weave are warranted a sure popularity. Here are some of the models in the showing:

Smart suit in black and white Shepherd's-check—coat with Eton front, and pointed back, skirt with short two-tier effect over hips. Price $55.00.

Wonderfully chic little costume in crepe serge, in tang shade, the short coat cut with full blouse back and wide collar of white satin. Price, $55.00.

Cream Bedford cord suit, fashioned with smart box coat and skirt with hip-length flounce. Price $45.00.

Frenchy model in navy blue serge, the Eton coat showing soft hood-like collar of black satin, and the two-tier skirt finished with girde of Roman stripe silk. Price, $75.00.

Beautiful model in amethyst silk moire, designed with the fashionable short coat, fine lace falling from the sleeve. Price $95.00.

Smart suit in navy blue gabardine—a finely ribbed fabric of fairly hard finish—made with short, full-back coat with kimono shoulder, the skirt plain. Price $55.00.

You Were Inquiring?

Readers have at their disposal the services of the "Shopper," one well versed in matters of dress and stylish house furnishings, who will personally make selections of any item of merchandise desired. Letters will be answered by mail if the correspondent so prefers. Mark corner of envelope "The Shopper" or "The Scribe."

E. L. R.—Not all grey lamb caps for little boys are light in color any more than all lambs have "fleece" as like Mary's renowned quadruped. Some of the caps at three dollars are distinctly "medium" grey in shade.

Margaret.—One of those dinner sets described the other day should end your search. You must get into the habit of reading the centre of the page as well as this column at the side. I shall be inclined to doubt your avowal if I cannot induce you to do so. In this case you missed the story of a crack in the finest china that your aristocratic fancy could picture. The dinner set that I think you would like is in English china patterned with a fascinating little china design of plants and corollas. The dishes are very delicately shaped, including cream jug, sugar bowl and other tea things. The set has 113 pieces, and is priced complete at $22.50.

Crackers.—What an extraordinary predicament! Would the cracker not crack, or could you not find the cracker among the caps and mittens, or was it that the person who held the cracker did not know how to crack it? Your letter seems to hint at the latter as the cause of the confusion. No directions accompany the crackers because—well—because it is taken for granted that I should imagine that everybody who has ever heard of Santa Claus or Christmas knows how to crack a cracker, one person pulls one end of it and another person pulls the other, and the "crack" is the result of that what you intended as a box full of fun turned into a package full of failure.

CHICKENS THRIVE ON ELECTRICITY

Treatment Makes Them Grow Twice as Fast on Half Usual Food.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—(Can. Press.)—Raising fowls on electricity has proved a profitable experiment with T. Thorne Baker. Under electrical treatment he declares that chickens can be grown at twice the usual rate with half the usual food. On the farm where the experiments were conducted an intensive poultry house was electrified. The current was applied for ten minutes every hour during the day. Six chickens only out of a total of 400 died, showing a mortality of only 1.5 per cent, when the usual mortality is 50 per cent during the summer season. The chickens were ready for market in five weeks as against the usual three months.

The vitality of the treated chickens was remarkable. Instead of running away when one approached the screen they would peck vigorously at an extended hand every peck giving a distinct shock to the owner of the hand. But apparently the electricity was not felt by the chickens. Sparks flew from their beaks, but this caused them no concern.

MILLION ACRES SURVEYED.

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 4.—The report of the lands department of the year 1913 indicates over a million acres of land were surveyed for the government during the year, which is 200 per cent. more than surveyed in any previous year. The greatest provincial revenue ever paid into any treasury during a single year was received by British Columbia. During 1913 revenue from forest surveys amounted to more than three million dollars.

DISCOVERED RACE OF NEGRO GIANTS

British Missionary Returns From White Nile With Interesting Story.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—(Can. Press.)—The Rev. C. Lee-Wilson, who conducts a mission in the district of the White Nile, a thousand miles south of Khartoum, has arrived in England with interesting facts about a race of negro giants, who inhabit the Bahr-el-Ghazal, two hundred miles west of the river. These natives practice neither cannibalism nor human sacrifices and have some admirable traits. Unlike their neighbors, they are never cruel to women or children, and their habits of decorating themselves are somewhat akin to the people of civilization. For reasons unknown even to themselves the adults all have six of their lower teeth removed. Of those remaining, however, they take the most scrupulous care, cleaning them daily with a native brush and wood ash. They take much pride in dressing their hair powder their faces and wear ostrich feathers. They believe in a supreme being to whom they make sacrifices thru their chiefs or witch doctors.

GERMAN PRINCES ARE GIVEN CANDID ADVICE

Told to Ask Kaiser to Give Alsacians Free Treatment.

PARIS, Jan. 4.—(Can. Press.)—While the newspapers were full of the Zaber troubles two grave personages in evening dress were seated on a night at a table in one of Paris' most fashionable nocturnal cafes, conversing quietly in German. Their appearance attracted the attention of another reveler who, after staring at them with an instance that seemed to make them very uncomfortable, came across and said in a dour voice, "when you get back to Berlin, you might tell the Kaiser to treat the Alsacians a little better; what has been going on at Zaber is disgraceful."

Without answering the two men hastily called for their bill, and making a sign to two detectives seated behind them at another table, quitted the establishment as quietly as possible. The two Germans were Prince Adalbert, son of the Emperor, and Prince Henry of Prussia.

SHOT WHILE HUNTING.

With a bullet in his left leg, which he had freed in the woods outside the city, Fred Meloski of 48 Uxbridge street walked four miles to the residence of Dr. Tomlin, at 1478 Dundas street, yesterday afternoon to have the bullet extracted. Meloski was out shooting at the time of the accident, and when climbing thru a fence accidentally discharged his rifle.

KING GEORGE ENJOYED GOOD WEEK'S SHOOTING

LONDON, Jan. 4.—King George concluded an excellent week's shooting yesterday at Castle Rising. He was accompanied by the Prince of Wales, Prince Albert, Lord Farruhar and other guests.

Springlike weather prevailed and the sport proceeded briskly, a good bag of partridge and pheasants resulting.

ARMY OF ULSTER NOT FORMIDABLE

Men on Parade Carry Wooden Guns and Drill Like Schoolboys.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—So much talk has come out of Ireland about the Ulster movement and the "determination" to adopt desperate measures for armed resistance against home rule that the experience of a former sergeant of the Royal Artillery, who offered his services as drill instructor to the Ulster volunteer force, is interesting.

The officer returned to London disgusted and full of ridicule. He says he found absolutely no excitement in Belfast and went to Bangor, where, he says, "I saw about sixty men on parade, with wooden guns of no use to anybody. Some of these extraordinary weapons had wooden stocks, iron barrels and tin trigger guards while others were all wood, stock, barrel, trigger guard and everything."

"The men were about as well drilled as the average schoolboy and knew nothing of extended or company formations. I saw fifty members of a ladies' ambulance corps give a much smarter drill than the men."

YARMOUTH LODGE S.O.E. 167.

Bro. Tew, D.D.G.M.P., will install the officers of the above lodge on Tuesday evening, Jan. 6, in the lodge room, Weywood Hall, Acland avenue. Visitors welcome.

VARIETY ACTOR DEAD.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Peter Bijou, one of the best known entertainers on the variety stage, died yesterday at his residence, in Brookwell Park Gardens, Herts Hill aged forty. He was operated on some time ago for kidney trouble, but suffered a chill from which he died.

Very Latest Fancies in Fashions Meatless Menus Solve Cost of Living Problem

By Eleanor Ames

THE new generation of housekeepers and the problem of reducing the expense of the table without lowering its standard and less difficult than their more experienced seniors. Their study of household economics has taught them food economy values that their mothers have been forty years learning less well. For example, they accomplish the same amount of nourishment with fewer dishes. They also have discarded the idea that pastry and rich desserts are necessary to each and every meal. They know that the presence of two starches on the same menu, as rice and potatoes, or spaghetti and rice, or macaroni and potatoes is superfluous. And what is perhaps the greatest of all economical aids at the present time they know any number of substitutes for meat, as well as how to make the cheaper cuts, which their mothers never dreamed of buying, as palatable and nutritious as the choicest and most expensive ones.

A clever young college woman, who is a bride of a year and whose husband's income from his newly established law practice does not permit any carelessness in figuring household expenses, quite astounded her mother and aunt when they paid her a recent visit. The two older ladies were bewailing the price of meat. They declared it made them sick every time they went to market, or looked over the weekly bills.

"Why do you eat meat?" asked the bride.

"What shall we eat?" they queried.

"Lots of things. You won't get much meat here and I don't believe you'll miss it."

At dinner that night there were delicious corn chowder, mock sausages, baked potatoes, lettuce and tomato salad, and for dessert a most delectable concoction which they were assured was "bread pudding in disguise."

For breakfast there were baked apples and cream, real Scotch oatmeal that had been cooked for hours and French toast and coffee.

The three women being alone for luncheon and none of them caring for a hearty menu there were scalloped tomatoes, quick, hot biscuit, tea and sponge cake.

Dinner the second night started with black bean soup, then came nut roast, candied sweet potatoes, Brussels sprouts, endive salad and baked custard. That evening mother and aunt got out their note books. "Before you give us any more surprises," they begged, "let us know how to make what we have already had. And keep right on. Don't give us any more!"

Here are the recipes:

CORN CHOWDER.
Cook one small onion in the fat which has been tried out of one thick slice of fat pork, diced. Boil three cups of sliced potatoes until they are slightly soft. Put them in the pork fat, from which the onion slices have been removed. Add the water the potatoes were cooked in and be sure it is boiling and does not measure over a cup and a half and when the potatoes are soft add a cup of corn, two cups scalded milk, salt and pepper and lump of butter the size of an egg.

MOCK SAUSAGES.
Soak one-fourth of a cup of dried lima beans over night. In the morning drain off the water and boil until soft. Rub through a puree sieve. Add to this mixture almost as much bread crumbs and three tablespoons of butter, half a teaspoonful of sage, some salt, pepper and an egg. Mix thoroughly and form into cakes, or roll in the shape of sausages, dip in egg, dust with crumbs and fry quickly in fat. Apple sauce is a delicious accompaniment to this dish.

NUT ROAST.
Rub half a cup of peas through a puree sieve and mix with it a little more than an equal portion of bread crumbs and half as much chopped English walnut meats. To this add one egg, pepper, salt, two tablespoons melted butter and a generous half cup of rich milk. Bake in a slow oven from a half-hour to forty minutes, keeping covered all the time.

CANDIED SWEET POTATOES.
Peel the potatoes which have been previously cooked in boiling, salted water. Rub through a puree sieve. Arrange in layers in a buttered baking dish, sprinkling each layer with sugar. Then pour over melted butter in proportion to the amount of potatoes. Bake slowly for an hour and three-quarters. The bread pudding was varied by the fact that the sugar was caramelized and it was served with whipped cream.

AN ADVOCATE OF "NATURALNESS"

Amelia Bingham in "The New Henriette"

Some Practical Advice to Beauty Seekers

BY MAGGIE TEYTE

Prima Donna of the Chicago-Philadelphia Opera Company.

I HAVE heard so much about the rainbow-hued wigs the fashion-makers of Paris are wearing that I have been on the lookout for them here. The nearest approach to discovery has been some heads that have been so persistently hennaed in an effort to escape grayness that they range from cerise to purple and rose pink. But I am very sure there is no direct intent on the part of the owners to attempt the launching of the ultra fads continuing their range from cerise to purple and rose pink. But I am very sure there is no direct intent on the part of the owners to attempt the launching of the ultra fads continuing their range from cerise to purple and rose pink.

last emphatic for the beauty of naturalness. Recently she declared before a gathering of professional women: "We cannot improve on Nature, but we can imitate her. We sacrifice all beauty rights, however, when we outrage her."

Speaking of hair, Mrs. J. K. L. writes me to ask if I advise keeping her little girl's hair short in the hope of having it beautiful later. It is a difficult question. Some mothers believe in this. On the other hand, I have heard it said that a child's hair was coarsened by confinement. It all depends on the hair and the state of the little girl's health. I would take the advice of some expert who has a chance to look at the child.

face powders are excellent. They need to be carefully applied, for the evidence of make-up which we see all around is to be deplored. Yes, the violet and mauve shades of powder are very good for evening. They should be well chosen and the effect studied. They give a whiteness to neck, face, arms and shoulders, that under the electric lights is quite dazzling.

MAGGIE TEYTE

GRACE AND JANE.—Indeed I do think that fifteen minutes a day devoted to beauty culture is worth while. Fifteen minutes of concentrated thought and effort each day for a year will accomplish wonders. If I had but that time to give each day, I would give it to deep breathing and exercise. And all the time that I was working or breathing I would think all the beautiful thoughts that I could. Thought is reflected in the face.

ELEANOR MINER.—Here are the names of the "quartette of beauties" I think you refer to: Empress Agrippine, Diane de Poitiers, Madame de Pompadour and Nisón de Mécènes. The history of famous beauties is most fascinating and you can find plenty of material about them in any public library.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By LEONA DALRYMPLE

Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a $10,000 prize by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges. Copyrighted, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service.

The truth, plain and unvarnished, about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with growing interest.

"Following the engagement 'Peter' begins to be disillusioned; the flurry of a fashionable wedding is distasteful to him, and he rebels madly against the exactions of his bride."

misdirected energy women are capable of.

There was no suggestion of sewing in the girl room to-night.

A bored policeman sat by the window guarding the spectacular array of china and silver and glass upon the tables.

"Great Scott, Mary," I exclaimed, "I'm only a private secretary and this is a display for a millionaire."

It was indeed, and it made me most uncomfortable. Our future home was to be a tiny cottage in a pretty lane on the outskirts of town, and how we could use this aristocratic array was beyond me. And there were duplicates and duplicates—which to me represented untold trouble for Mary—telephone calls, notes, exchanges and chatter—other notes of thanks, and heaven knows what not.

There were seven sets of dinner gowns. There was a cut glass punch bowl fine enough for the King of Siam. We could at no time afford to entertain regally enough to match the punch bowl or the bouillon cups heavily engraved in gold. I wondered, I would have been delighted if some enterprising burglar had gotten away with the more spectacular things and left us merely sufficient silver and glass for a tastefully appointed table.

For no matter how we arranged the stuff, it was going to make our little dining-room ostentatious and over-weighted with glittering baubles. I suspected Mary of consulting a catalogue—she was so glib. Such is the price, I presume, one pays for a fashionable wedding. It isn't worth it.

"If we dress up the house to match the wedding presents," said I, feelingly, "I might as well go into bankruptcy at once and save future trouble. If we are going to prune the presents down to fit the house, we'll have to pack away a cardbox. And, Caesar's ghost! dear, it binds us to a lifetime of wedding obligations. All these people will certainly get back at us some time or other."

"Peter," said Mary, "how perfectly horrid and mercenary!"

And then with that delightful inconsistency of which some women seem utterly unaware, she added, "Peter, would you think Nan Carey would dare send me that horrid little glass dish after I spent nearly fifteen dollars on her? That was one of the reasons I wanted to leave the cards on the presents—just to show up some of these people who are so horribly stingy."

I was shocked, but I was already learning wisdom, and so I said nothing. Mary and I had nearly quarreled a few days before about the good taste of leaving cards upon the wedding gifts, and Mary had been stubborn until the end. I wondered now what had finally induced her to permit the display to be impractical—for there were no cards visible.

"I thought you were going to leave the cards on the gifts, Mary," I said, at length.

"I was," she said, "but Ruth Morton's just back from Washington, and she says none of the big society people leave them on. It isn't the style now."

My diffident suggestion of a catalogue had lost out on days before. Fashion, at Ruth's suggestion, had won the day. Weddings and women are curious things.

How to Avoid Faultfinders

From a Letter by Benjamin Franklin

THERE are two sorts of people in the world, who, with equal degrees of health and wealth, and the other comforts of life, become, the one happy, and the other miserable. This arises very much from the different views in which they consider things, persons, and events; and the effect of those different views upon their own minds.

An old philosophical friend of mine was grown, from experience, very cautious, and carefully avoided any intimacy with pessimistic people. He had, like other philosophers, a thermometer to show him the heat of the weather, and a barometer to tell him when it was likely to prove good or bad; but, there being no instrument invented to discover, at first sight, this unpleasant disposition in a person, he for that purpose made use of his legs; one of which was remarkably handsome, the other, by some accident, crooked and deformed. If a stranger, at the first interview, regarded his ugly leg more than his handsome one, he doubted him. If he spoke of it, and took no notice of the handsome leg, that was sufficient to determine my philosopher to have no further acquaintance with him.

Everybody has not this two-legged instrument; but every one, with a little attention, may observe signs of that carping, fault-finding disposition, and take the same resolution of avoiding the acquaintance of those infected with it. I therefore advise those critical, querulous, discontented, unhappy people, that, if they wish to be respected and beloved by others, and happy in themselves, they should leave off looking at the ugly leg.

The Kind of Girl a Man Likes

BY NORVELL ELLIOTT

The Sweet Girl
I.
MY bachelor friend and I sat over our tea and cups and chatted, as we usually did of everything which had transpired since we last met.

"I spent the morning with Ruth Gale," I remarked and was ready to launch forth on a bit of gossip. But my bachelor friend stopped me suddenly.

"Ruth Gale?" he exclaimed, a far away expression in his dark eyes. "Now Ruth Gale is certainly a man's kind of girl. I really believe she is a bit of a home somewhere with her as the center of it all. Personally I always associate sweetness with the blonde type of femininity, sun-kissed hair, adorable, little ducky curls and all that sort of thing."

"But I guess Dicky Manning doesn't agree with me. Dicky's dead gone on a certain little girl, declares she's the sweetest girl he ever set eyes on, and incidentally she is a brunette. Dicky and I were talking not long ago and we came to a mutual agreement that sweetness was one of the first requisites we would require in a wife."

"I'm wondering if you ever really met a sweet girl, outside of Ruth, who is mortgaged," I said laughing. "Surely not or you would not now be my bachelor friend!"

"Yes, I have met sweet girls, numbers of them, lass, but the trouble is Ruth is the only one who rings true. Most of them are like Gladys Rich—perfectly sweet and cozy, but as brainless as an ostrich. They haven't any depth, or any ideas of their own, or any originality, or anything else to commend them to a man as a life partner. I'm not so dead stuck on sweetness that I'm willing to overlook every other virtue under the sun in the woman who is to become my wife. Now, for instance, there's the considerate girl—that's a quality I believe every man wants his wife to have."

"THE CONSIDERATE GIRL" will be the subject of Miss Elliott's next article.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

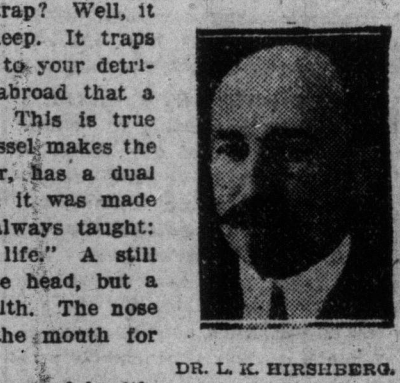

Your Mouth Is a Trap For Detrimental Germs

By Dr. Leonard Keene Hirschberg

A. B., M.-A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

(Copyright, 1914, by L. K. Hirschberg.)

DO you believe the mouth is a trap? Well, it is a trap and a dangerous one. It traps germs and it imprisons them to your detriment. There is a facetious notion abroad that a wide mouth means a noisy dinner. This is true for the very reason that an empty vessel makes the greatest sound. The mouth, however, has a dual purpose. It was made to open; and it was made to close. Indeed, Dr. James Bovell always taught: "Close your mouth and save your life." A still tongue may or may not mean a wise head, but a closed mouth usually means good health. The nose is meant by nature for breathing, the mouth for eating and speaking.

DR. L. K. HIRSCHBERG.

An open mouth is an abomination to good health, to good sense, to good taste. When a child or grown-up sleeps, snorts and breathes with his mouth agape, it means enlarged tonsils, spongy tissue in the back of the nose—called adenoids—and a beehive of unwelcome guests such as microbes which invite themselves to nest in the scarlet-lined cavern.

Be the cause of an open mouth what it may, rout-out that cause forthwith. The easy and rapid elimination of large or faulty tonsils and those cauliflower masses of spongy, nasal tissue—adenoids—is now a safe and simple procedure. Every day a thousand children are thus conserved in mind and body. No honest teacher to-day permits a mouth breather in her school; no observant parent ever gives her the chance to decide to.

Maladies of the buccal cavity are often extensions from sick teeth. Really, the teeth—except in the first two years of life when they are falsely blamed for coughs, colds, dysenteries, fevers and tears—have in later life an uncanny way of escaping all accusation. Yet there is a whole phalanx of pernicious activities traceable to the teeth. If your teeth and gums have been removed, seek ye further.

Some Approved Methods
Internally the medicine with the gigantic name HEXAMETHYLENETETRAMINE should be taken five grains to a glass of water three or four times daily. This popular drug will soon be as familiar to you as is quinine or iron. It, of course, must not be taken to excess.

Crushed ice is always a valuable aid to health. In germ-ridden chests, as well as upon inflamed tongues and infected gums, it allays pain, freezes the ultra-micro-bacteria and tones up the blood to fighting strength.

The use of too much highly spiced foods, hot dishes, steaming drinks, strong tobacco, and, yes, even too much kissing, must be taboo. If a whitish scum appears, this may be merely from the irritation or it may be due to a little white mold. A lotion of glycerine and borax usually removes this trouble.

Pains Quickly Allayed

Sore throats are only little brothers of sore mouths. Your oral cavern continues into the throat, and thence into the windpipe and lungs. A nest of germs in the hollow of your cheeks, in the saliva glands, in the crevices of the tongue, the tonsils—here they are branded tonsillitis in the abysses of gums and teeth slide only too easily a few inches beyond, there to lodge in the palate, or on the windy way, the throat.

Nowadays the anguish of an irritated, feverish mouth is quickly remedied by means of harmless disinfecting mouth lotions.

Never use that poisonous bichloride of mercury as a home antiseptic. It should never be taken into a house. There are a legion of harmless, sure and cheap disinfectants that may be used to destroy disease bacteria. These may even be employed to cleanse the mouth. They may be swallowed with impunity.

Wick the malicious microbe has manifested its presence in any part of the speaking cavity, the free use of one of these trustworthy washes should be at once made. Boric acid water, hydrogen peroxide, saline water and compound tincture of benzoin are all certified.

Answers to Health Questions

E. D. H.—When should a baby over a year old be weaned from its bottle?

At once. Children over twelve months of age, particularly in the winter, should drink milk from a mug and take orange juice and cereal pap, white potato and fresh fruit juices from a spoon.

H. B.—What is good for dry hair which always falls out?

Use red vasoline in which five grains of roscinone have been added to each ounce and massage it into the scalp three times a week. Massage the scalp with plain sweet oil twice every day for fifteen minutes.

Dr. Hirschberg will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygiene and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. He will not undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest letters will be answered personally if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. L. K. Hirschberg, care this office.

Daddy's Good Night Story

By GEORGE HENRY SMITH

"WE are going to have a skating party to-night," said Mister Squirrel to Mrs. Squirrel one afternoon, as they sat on the limb of a tree eating hickory nuts.

"Are there going to be any races?" asked Mrs. Squirrel.

"Yes," said Mister Squirrel, "I promised to skate a race with Brer Rabbit."

"Well," said Mrs. Squirrel, "you will have a hard time beating him at 'here is any wind'."

"How is that?" asked Mister Squirrel.

"Well," answered his wife, "he has such big ears that the wind will carry him along twice as fast as you can go."

That night when the moon was shining brightly on the ice near Mister Squirrel's home, he and his wife with the children and Brer Rabbit and his family were seated around the fire waiting to begin the race.

Mrs. Rabbit was working hard to fasten the skates on Brer Rabbit's hind legs.

"Now, my dear," she said to him, "I have fastened your skates on backwards and all you have to do is to face the wind when you start and your big ears will catch the wind and push you along backwards faster than you could ever skate forward."

At that moment Mr. Squirrel shouted out that they were ready for the race. He told Brer Rabbit that they were to skate down across the river and back again.

Brer Rabbit and Mister Squirrel started across the lake, but Mister Squirrel was skating and Brer Rabbit was going over the ice hippy-hopp, yet he managed to keep up with Mister Squirrel.

When they reached the other side Brer Rabbit turned right around and opened his big ears like two sails and he came back with the wind. Mister Squirrel stuck his bushy tail up as far as he could, but Brer Rabbit was way ahead of him.

Brer Rabbit had almost reached the finishing line when a little stick struck his skates and his head hit the ice with a great big "BUMP!" He was going so fast that his ears slid over the line before Mister Squirrel.

"Hooray! hooray!" shouted Billy Bunny and Jack Rabbit. "Pop has won."

"Yes," said Mister Squirrel, "his ears are so long no wonder he won."

OTTAWAS PERFORM COME BACK STUN

Hand Wanderers Promise
Beating—S. Cleghorn Out With Broken Nose.

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—The Wanderer team trucked a snag Saturday night when they tackled the Ottawas in the second leg match of the N.H.A. season. The St. Catharines accomplished the much-promised hub-and-buck and gave Sam Lichtenheld a 2-0 to 3 beating. Wanderers were on the hunt until the middle of the third period, when the Ottawas took a 3-0 lead and ran in for the victory in 15 minutes. They led by 2-0 at the close of the first period, thanks to good work by Ronan and Shore, and in the second Darragh made it 3-0 after an end-to-end rush. Wanderers began the scoring with Roberts at the commencement of the first period, but the Ottawas' defence was rallied and scored four in a run. Wanderers took two on shots by Kennedy and Hyland, and Ottawa landed the third when Hyland carried the puck down the ice. It tipped over to Darragh, and the Ottawas had the better of it in the first period. The match was more absolutely even in the second, and towards the close of the match Wanderers were again victorious. The Ottawas literally shot themselves out of the game with wonderful rushes. The crowd was hurled into a frenzy and finished with claps and elation.

Play was very fast from start to finish, and while Wanderers were not able to score, they were having put some team ahead with an unexpected right from the face, they four goals were scored, and the fouls and penalties were numerous. Ross here served fifteen minutes with a suspension, and both Cleghorn, Smith and Merrill were also banished. Wanderers were hit hard early in the first half, and when the Prague Cleghorn, who broke his knee in a collision with Darragh. In the second half, Ross scored a goal for Wanderers, but the machine-like attack of the Wanderers was shattered when the regular goalkeeper, Cleghorn, was injured, and George refused to play without him, as they feared the regular goalkeeper would not be able to handle the influences caused by Darragh to decide the game.

Summary:

Increases Stake Money

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—Connaught Park Jockey Club will increase its stakes by nearly $10,000 for this season. General Manager Robinson announced yesterday that this would be the case, the large increase being mainly due to the new $2500 Merchant's Stake and the Directors' Futurity, with $3000 hung up. The Merchant's Stake race is to be put on during the spring and fall for the purpose of attracting the entries in the big $25,000 Derby to Ottawa. The amount of the American turf will be seen in the big race at Dorval, and many of the entries list from the big race will likely start here in the Merchant's Stake. There will be five stakes at each meet this year.
Outside of the two new stakes the purse and handicaps will be increased in the first race, which will be a 1000 yard race. It has been arranged by Manager Robinson to have one stipendiary each day in both spring and fall meets, and he will leave on Feb. 1 for Charleston and Juarez to obtain subscriptions and round up the horses for both the first racing and the jump. Mr. Robinson is paying particular attention to the jump and last year he was credited with securing the largest entry list on the Canadian circuit for the year.

QUELPH DEAT BERLIN.

QUELPH, Jan. 4.—Berlin intermediates squeezed out a 3 to 2 victory Saturday night in the first game played on Quelph ice this season. Although not in the best of condition both teams played a fast brand of hockey. The game was nip and tuck all the way, the Germans having a shade the best of the argument. Allen, the Quelph rover, was easily the best man on the ice and played a splendid game. Solomon, Berlin's centre, was also good.
The line-up was as follows:
Berlin (3): Goal, Boettger; point, Hibbert; rover, Traub; rover, Boettger; centre, Solomon; right wing, Le-roux; left wing, Timms.
Referee: Allan Kinder, Preston.

Wins Unfinished Trot at Hillcrest Park, Lowering His Own Time on the Ice Tracks—Results.

Dr. Black's King Bryson proved much the best in the unfinished 2 1/4 trot at the closing event of the Toronto Driving Club's ice races on Saturday afternoon. He won the sixth and seventh heats in fine style, and incidentally made the fastest trotting time for the mile ever made at Hillcrest.

In the first heat the betting favored King Bryson on account of his performance in the last heat on Friday, and Vaster was second choice. Bryson took the lead and was always ahead, winning by three lengths. Vaster and Monarchical Lady driving home second and third. Time 2:10.

CREEKSIDE GUN CLUB.

The regular weekly shoot took place on Saturday, and some good scores were made. In the seventh shoot for the Stevens Trophy, J. Platt and F. Christie third, with 148, and seven others close up. Next Saturday is the final shoot for the Stevens Trophy, and all members who catch the leader, but Bryson was not to be denied and came home two lengths ahead. Vaster being second money and Monarchical Lady third.

The regular weekly shoot of the above club was held as usual on their grounds, Eastern avenue. Taking into consideration the stormy day and the high wind some good scores were made. O. E. McDow, the president, won the spoon with 20 out of 25.

OFFICERS' OPEN
INDOOR SEASON

Body Guards and Grenadiers
Win First League Baseball Games at Armories.

Indoor baseball was officially inaugurated Saturday night by the Officers' League at the armories before a large crowd of enthusiastic and delighted spectators, who thoroughly enjoyed the first night's offering, which was of a very high calibre, and looked as if there had been some secret practice going on in preparation for the opening.
Governor-General's Body Guard and Highlanders put on the curtain-raiser. The Kitties started in to make a run, away by scoring six runs in the first innings, but they could not hold the pace, and faded towards the finish, showing a poor start, came strong in the final innings, to win easily, showing snappy fielding and baserunning.
The second game brought together the Ontario Grenadiers and the Army Medical Corps. The Grens were always the better, winning handily. A.M.C. had a very peculiar delivery, that is puzzling to the batters. He is also a good hitter. This looks like an interesting and closely-contested series of games, and worth going to see.

STEAMSHIP PROMOTION

Walter Haglett of Kingston Takes New Position at Montreal.

(Special to The Toronto World.) KINGSTON, Jan. 4.—The man who committed suicide by jumping overboard off a ferry steamer between Windsor and Detroit a couple of days ago, who is yet unidentified, John Turner, aged 25 years, of Kingston.

John Turner, the young man in question, is the son of Thomas Turner, who lives with his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Howland, at 196 King street. He left for the west on Nov. 18, but the last letter received from him was dated Nov. 26, when he was around Windsor. Nothing has been heard from him since, and on seeing the dispatch about the suicide in The Whig, relatives feared it might be him.

In his letter Turner said that he had secured work and would start on his job in a day or so. He was a baker by trade. He was unmarried. His sister has sent a description of the young man, also a photograph, to the chief of police of Windsor in an endeavor to have the mystery cleared up. In his last letter Turner stated that he expected to be home in two weeks.

BROCKVILLE HAD FINE POULTRY EXHIBITION

Egg Display by Live Stock Branch of Dominion Department of Agriculture a Feature.

(Special to The Toronto World.) BROCKVILLE, Jan. 4.—The annual exhibition of the Brockville Poultry and Pet Stock Association, just closed, was one of the largest and most successful in the history of the organization. Larger quarters were secured this year at the armories of the Brockville Rifles, and these were found none too commodious for the exhibits, which came from all points of eastern Ontario.

In addition to the poultry show proper, there were a number of other exhibits incidental to the industry. One of the best was the egg exhibit of the live stock branch of the Dominion department of agriculture, in charge of J. R. Lee of Ottawa and J. C. Stewart of Delmar.

The star feature of the poultry exhibit was that made by Fletcher Bradley of Ottawa. It comprised five hens and a cock of the White Leghorn strain, the winners of the first international egg-laying contest held in Vancouver, B.C. The birds are of the same strain as the hens that have won eight out of ten international contests of the past ten years.

Figures just issued show the volume of legal business transacted in the Counties of Leeds and Grenville for the past year. SUPREME COURT BIBLE'S INTERESTING HISTORY

Book Upon Which All Chief Justices of the United States Have Taken Oath.

The United States supreme court Bible is a little book which has a most interesting history. It is only five and a half inches long and three and a half inches wide. It is bound in bright red morocco, with the word "Bible" printed in diminutive gold letters on the back. But one does not see the red morocco cover, says a writer in The Christian Herald, unless he removes the black leather slip which protects it.

Long ago the little red Bible began to show wear, and then the black leather slip was made to protect it—long ago, in fact, that fifteen of those covers, made to protect the venerated little volume, were worn out in service. It is without doubt one of the oldest Bibles if not the very oldest Bible connected with the government, and certainly the most historical.

It is the book upon which, since 1800, every chief justice—with the single exception of Chief Justice Chase and every member of the supreme court has taken the oath of allegiance when accepting the appointment to the highest tribunal. More than that, every attorney who has practiced before the supreme court since that date—1800—has pledged his allegiance to the book. All of those of those in favor that it will carry. For the reversion the ratifiers will choose between Councillors Coles and Harrison.

The council, consisting of Heather, West, Clarke and Cottom, who declares that this election will be contested by H. P. Stewart, whose candidature was protested by two of his opponents on the grounds that he drew at the nomination meeting. The question as to whether he should have been allowed to run raises a legal point in municipal elections. Authorities on the question interviewed by The World, including ex-Secretary of Mimico, admit that Mr. Smith can draw the election between himself and those elected by acclamation, as his qualification papers were filed well within the allotted time.

With a seating capacity of 3000, Salt Lake City claims to have the largest motion picture theatre in the world.

More than 1200 of the 2000 typewriters imported into North America, in the last year, were made in the United States.

BEN B. BLIZARD HELD IN OTTAWA

Arrested at Cornwall on a Charge of Obtaining by False Pretences.

REPUTED MILLIONAIRE

Claimed to Be Interested in Patents and Created Big Stir in Factory Town.

(Special to The Toronto World.) CORNWALL, Jan. 4.—Acting on telegraphic instructions received from Chief of Police Ross, of Ottawa, Chief Smyth arrested Benjamin B. Blizard on the arrival of the Ottawa and New York train from Ottawa on Saturday night. This morning Detective Jos. P. Downey of the Ottawa police department arrived with a warrant charging Blizard with obtaining by false pretences from Thos. A. Black, insurance and real estate dealer, of Ottawa, in August, 1912.

Figures just issued show the volume of legal business transacted in the Counties of Leeds and Grenville for the past year. In the surrogate court the real estate involving amounted to $358,122, with personal estate valued at $655,526. One hundred wills were probated and 61 administrations granted.

Taken Back to Ottawa.

Blizard was in Ottawa on Saturday but his presence was not known until he was on the way back to Cornwall when the local chief of police was communicated with. Blizard's wife and little daughter were with him when Chief Smyth made the arrest. He was taken back to Ottawa on the afternoon train today.

Blizard came to Cornwall about a month ago and secured furnished rooms with a private family in the Glenary block. He represented himself as being interested in various patents and said he was going to Europe shortly in connection with these patents. He appeared to have plenty of money, and it is asserted that Mrs. Blizard claimed to have $20,000 in stocks and bonds in her own name. The report was current that they were to buy a farm on the East Front, on Pelée Island and erect a $40,000 residence.

Apparently Well-to-do. It is thought Blizard purposed making a get-away from Cornwall very soon. During their stay here the family drove about almost all the time in a fine hack, and were apparently well-to-do people, in fact the rumor had got about that Blizard was a millionaire.

Thorold Board of Trade Objects To Proposed Change by C.N.R.

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 4.—The Thorold Board of Trade has decided to object to the change in the route of the Canadian Northern Railway from the original plan to run thru that town and go thru St. Catharines, thru which city the company has already purchased right of way. A deputation will be sent to Ottawa to appear before the railway committee. The ratepayers of St. Catharines will on Jan. 28 vote upon a bylaw to grant the company a bonus of $100,000.

EARLY FORECASTS OF MODERN INVENTIONS

Writers of Long Ago Describe With Uncanny Exactness Discoveries of Today.

It is interesting to note the uncanny exactness with which some of the literary works of far later times describe inventions of far later times. For instance, in the "Prolusions of Strada," published in the year 1617, there is found what might be described as a crude description of wireless telegraphy.

Strada represents two friends as carrying on a correspondence by means of a certain loadstone which has such virtue in it that if it touches two needles, when one of the needles begins to move the other, at the same time and in the same manner.

In 1674 Robert Hooke published a work wherein he observed that, as glasses improve the vision, so ways might be found to improve the other senses. "It is not impossible," says he, "to hear a whisper at a distance of a furlong, and perhaps the nature of the thing would not make it impossible, altho that furlong should be ten times multiplied."

This seems to be a fair forecast of the telephone.

It was more than 1700 years ago that Lucian gave an account of the manner wherein the inhabitants of the moon drank air squeezed or compressed into a goblet so that it formed a kind of dew. This clearly suggests liquid air.

The same writer in "Vera Historia" humorously and at some length describes an aerial ship, the sails of which were inflated by a whirlwind thus impelling it thru space to the moon.

TEMPERANCE FORCES BUSY IN BROCKVILLE

Sunday School Pupils Paraded the Streets Headed by Regimental Band.

REPAIRING TRACKS.

(Special to The Toronto World.) BROCKVILLE, Jan. 4.—Quite a novel feature was introduced this afternoon in the local option campaign by the temperance element which organized and carried out a big street parade of the Sunday school scholars of the town, carrying flags and banners with inscriptions urging support of the by-law. Many adults joined in the procession. The local optimists led Ben Spence and the local pessimists led Ben Spence. The parade was a success. The temperance forces were busy in Brockville.

BERLIN'S MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

Keen Battle for Mayor's Chair and Many Candidates for Aldermen.

(Special.)—The result of the municipal elections tomorrow is awaited with keen interest. Mayor Euler has a stout contestant in ex-Ald. McKay. Twenty-two citizens are seeking aldermanic honors, eleven of whom sat on last year's council.

The deficit of 1913 will be one of the hardest problems for the 1914 council to grapple with, and it is possible that some of the older members may be left at home.

MISSION OF METHODISM.

"The Mission of Methodism" was the subject of a very interesting address delivered at the Broadway Tabernacle last night by Herbert Casson of New York. Mr. Casson is a delegate to the convention to be held here in June by the Publicity Association of the continent. Rev. Mr. Casson impressed the large audience with the absolute necessity of clear teaching of Methodism. He dealt with the question in its many phases and pointed out the differences of belief which occurred in many religious sects. Mr. Casson thought that religious teachings should have publicity in order to do the most good. Rev. W. R. Young occupied the pulpit.

RADIUM STOLEN FROM HOSPITAL

Hundred Dollars Reward Offered for Recovery of Precious Product.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(Can. Press.)

The disappearance of a disk of radium valued at $1800 from the Hahnemann Hospital was reported last night. The supposition is that it has been stolen. The radium is the property of Dr. William H. Dismore, who had taken it to the hospital for the purpose of treating patients.

A reward of $100 has been offered for the return of the radium and the hospital authorities sent out a warning to the medical profession not to purchase radium before its ownership was proved.

RATEPAYERS WILL GIVE A BANQUET

North Toronto Association Will Entertain Mayor and Officials.

DISCUSSED NEW PARKS

Committees Appointed to Look After Parallel Street
Extensions.

While there was no debate to speak of at the North Toronto Ratepayers' meeting on Saturday night, a number of questions were quietly discussed which will need attention in time, so that the money required may be included in the city estimates for 1914.

Just before the town of North Toronto was annexed a number of connecting links in cross streets were purchased by the town council, but these have not been graded yet. The association will, therefore, go into the matter and make a list of places where similar improvements are needed, and try to have the whole work included in the estimates.
The following were appointed a committee to lay the matter before the city authorities: D. D. Reid, Frank Howe and W. G. Ellis.

O. O. Thorn, A. H. Parford and E. H.
Hodgson were appointed a committee to look after the interests of the district in the matter of parks. They will go over the various properties available and make some recommendations.

An entertainment committee was also appointed to arrange for a banquet to take place in a few weeks, when invitations will be extended to the mayor, board of control, the aldermen for Wards
Two and Three, and some of the civic officials. A. H. Klesberger, R. McGarry and E. V. Donnelly are the members of the committee.

Meeting Tonight.
The usual monthly meeting of the North Toronto Conservative Club will be held this evening, although ladies' day has been postponed.

STOUFFVILLE.

The bylaw to purchase the electric light plant owned by the estate of the late Mr.
Dyer is the source of considerable discussion. Those objecting to the purchase are not opposed to public ownership, but are simply dubious as to the real value of the plant, especially as a hydroelectric power line will reach Stouffville soon.

In conversation with the World yesterday, Dr. W. A. Sangster, who was recently returned by acclamation as reeve, said: "It was no doubt that the coming of the hydro-electric has depreciated the plant some, but the price allows for that. The plant was valued by the hydro engineers themselves at $5000, and I don't think we would pay for the transaction more than $5000 for it."

In addition to the voting on the bylaw today there will be an election for three school trustees. Two former trustees are seeking re-election. One is a doubt that Thos. Williams, and there are three new candidates (J. Heise, Isaac Rayman and Abraham Stouffville).

NEWMARKET.

Everyone is getting down to business briskly in Newmarket. The absence of an election this year has saved the citizens a good deal of trouble and the municipality some money, and everyone seems as well pleased as if there had been the usual excitement.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. took place at the home of three o'clock at Mrs. Marshall's house, Joseph avenue.

North York's second annual poultry show will be held at Newmarket, Jan. 19 to 22.

SCARBORO JUNCTION.

The choir of the Church of the Messiah, Toronto, will render the new Christmas cantata by F. W. Pence, entitled "Morn of Glory," on Tuesday evening, Jan. 6, at eight o'clock, in the new building of the church of the Epiphany Mission, Scarboro Junction. Soloists:
Miss Jessie Flaxton, Miss E. Mitchell,
Mr. Edgar Barker, Richard A. Stapell,
R. G. Stapell, organist and choirmaster.

DANFORTH AVENUE.

Residents in the Danforth avenue district are complaining bitterly of the small earthquakes which are taking place there the blasting in the storm work.

Mr. Hanna, secretary of the North Riverside Ratepayers' Association, said the World last night that the dynamiting of the day in the sewers has done considerable damage, and that the ratepayers are asking for a special interview from the city authorities to restrain the use of these explosives.

"Unless something is done by the city officials," said Mr. Hanna, "the dynamiting will be rendered necessary to call a mass meeting of the ratepayers, as the work only just commenced, and it continues all along the street goodness knows what will take place."

ORIGIN OF PETROLEUM PROBLEM FOR GEOLOGISTS

Principles Governing Mode of Occurrence as Yet But Frag-mentarily Grasped.

The principles governing the origin and mode of occurrence of petroleum and natural gas are as yet but frag-mentarily grasped by geologists. Every oil field examined in detail contributes its data for use in the eventual interpretation of the problems, and each pool is studied with keen alertness for the discovery of a key, which may aid in the co-ordination of the data, which sometimes, according to the region and conditions, seem, on account of our lack of knowledge, even to be in conflict.

The observations made by the geologists of the United States geological survey in the oil and gas fields of California and Kentucky promise to further the solution of some of the problems, and by pointing out the relations of oil and gas occurrence to the geological structure of the regions examined they have rendered important scientific aid as well as economic aid in the widely separated regions are possibly still far from view.

A cave-in on a sewer under construction last night resulted in the death of three Italian laborers employed by the Ontario Construction Company, who are the contractors for this section of Ward Seven's new sewer system.

The three men—Tony Moore of 224 Te-

Russo of 132 Leppin avenue, all of Runnymeade, were taken in spears' motor excavating at the bottom of the trench, when the walls slid in on them from the bottom, pinning them there they stood. Their companions working nearby rushed to the rescue, and after nearly twenty minutes of frantic shoveling succeeded in extricating them.

Russo and Russo were found unconscious and were taken to the High Park Sanitarium.
Here Dr. Williams and Dr. McCormack restored them to consciousness. It was found that Avery had his shoulder and some ribs broken. He was taken later to the Western Hospital, and the other men to their homes.

DISTRICT VOYERS TALK DELIVERIES

Railways Claim That Cartage
Can Settle Delivery Limits.

NEWS OF EARLS COURT

Fine New School Soon to Be Opened at Fair-bank.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Earls Court District Voters' Association was held in the Dominion Bank Chambers, corner Dufferin street and St. Clair avenue, President Holmes presiding.
The subject of delivery in the district by the cartage companies was discussed, also the delivery of freight by the railway companies. The secretary reported that the companies had done nothing in the matter, and he promising by letter to give the matter their immediate attention. This applied to the Dominion, Canadian Northern and Canadian Express Companies.

Five weeks have now elapsed, and the members of the executive committee think sufficient time has been taken by the companies to come to some decision in the matter, and the secretary was instructed to write the different companies to that effect.

Delay Phones.
Another matter discussed was the delay in the Bell Telephone Company in installing the telephone in the district to people who have placed their orders in advance, and who have paid it over to the telephone company.

It was decided by the executive committee that a letter be forwarded to Manager Dunstan of the Bell Telephone Company asking for an explanation of the delay and other matters complained of.

Goodwood High School and all the schools in the district reopen today. Special attention will be paid to truancy this year. This truancy officer will see that all children of school age attend the various schools in the district, regularly, and that the children who are being neglected are brought under the control of the school authorities.

Special services were held morning and evening at the Royal George Picture Theatre, corner St. Clair avenue and Dufferin street, by the Salvation Army, for the territorial staff band being present at each service.

Cartage Companies.
The secretary of the Earls Court District Voters' Association in receipt of a further communication from J. Macdonald, Northern Ontario Steamship Trunk Railway System, with reference to cartage into the Earls Court district, which he studies and will further endeavor to your letter re cartage of 15th December. As you are possibly aware, the cartage companies in the district of cartage in Toronto changed, effective Jan. 1. Under these circumstances, any modification of the cartage rates in respect to the cartage limits is a matter that largely rests with the cartage companies themselves. The cartage companies are not in a position to make any change in this connection, you communicate direct, so far as our company is concerned, to the Wm. Hendrie Carriage Company."

Andrew Watt, chairman of the school board, in conversation with the World, contrasted the school accommodation in the district with the present situation. The old Fairbank school and the present handsome, six-room, solid-brick building, which is the new school, is equipped with every modern convenience, the lighting and sanitation of the most modern type. The new school is at the time by the residents and some of the council members, when Mr. Watt said that it was not necessary, but the infelix of people to the district, and under conditions have justified the petition.

There will be an entertainment in connection with the opening of the new Fairbank school, which will take place some time in February. Preparations are at present being made, and an entertainment committee of the ratepayers has been appointed. The persons entitled to be present are: Mr. Watt, Mr. Watt, Prior, Chas. Barsley, James Gray, Fred
Hewitt, T. Hood and Robt. Lyons.

Meetings of the North Earls Court and Fairbank ratepayers will in future be held regularly on the first and third Fridays of each month, and arrangements are being made to hold the meetings in the basement of the new school.
Prof. M. H. Michael, M.A., Toronto University, conducted the men's own meeting in the afternoon, which was largely attended.

The new election of officers of St.
Clair's Branch, Holy Name Church, will take place next Sunday evening in St.
Clair Church, which will take place on Friday, Jan. 9, at eight o'clock. The Members of the executive are: Messrs.
Watt, Watt, Watt, Watt, Watt, Watt, to be present.

Epiphany, the mass at St. Clair's Church will be celebrated at 9 a.m. instead of at 8 a.m. on Friday, Jan. 9, 1914.

Earls Court Rink is being well patronized at the present time by the residents of the district. It is well illuminated at night by the powerful electric lights placed conveniently around the rink.

An invitation has been extended to St.
Clair Lodge, the Elks, to attend the Beach Lodge, which meets in Balsam avenue hall on next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. The business of the evening will be the installation of Officers, after which the remainder of the evening will be given over to a social entertainment.

St. Clair Lodge, the Elks, initiated three new members at their meeting, held in Little's Hall, Earls Court, on the eleventh day of December, 1913.
The annual congregational meeting of the Dufferin Street Presbyterian Church takes place on Wednesday evening, at 7.30. The election of managers will take place, and the work for the coming year will be prepared, and delivered to the members of their claims and of the securities, if any, held by them, on or before the 25th day of January, 1914.

And take notice that after that date the executors will proceed to distribute the assets of the said estate, and will not be liable for any claims of which I have not been notified by the 25th day of January, 1914.
Dated the 20th day of December, 1913.
