A GLIMPSE OF BOHEMIA

By H. Westbrook.

One fine afternoon in early October I happened to spy my Cousin Maurice strolling quietly towards the bay. Maurice Fletcher has an elder sister, and thinking of her at that moment, I felt a strong presentiment that she would have young fellow to dinner with me. I accordingly did so, though I find his loquacity particularly distasteful, and his sticking power that of a roving midget.

I greeted him warmly, but had no chance of uttering another syllable until we were sitting at dinner. In the meantime I had gathered from his talk (delivered with incredible rapidity and precision) that he was spending a few weeks in New York before returning to College. "And how is my Uncle John?" I inquired, as he paused momentarily for breath.

"Oh, father," answered John Maurice, with renewed animation. "Wonderful for his age isn't he? By the way he's coming to town."

"His news that John Fletcher was reading a descent on the town was electrifying. The position was that Uncle John is a widower, Maurice, Muriel and myself, and he has allowed me to infer I have what is known as expectation. Throughout the dinner Maurice talked incessantly."

"I've always heard you're a regular every one to be a regular. 'Know all sorts of queer places where the artists and literary people go. Funny boggans, ain't they? Long hair, bow ties, and all the rest of it. I'll get you to take me, eh? What could get out of a word he was well into a description he had once read of the Quarter Latin. After dinner he accompanied me to a dining parlour, because he and one of the company once travelled together for a short distance in the same railway car."

of all people! His florid brow was troubled. "I must explain. I must warn them. I turned hastily to my uncle. 'I shall rebuke those lawless,' I said, severely, and advanced to meet them. Lettie came first."

"There were four candidates, however. At the commencement but three were on the platform—Ald. McArthur, Wellington Green and H. M. Sprague, later Edward Sears, James Hunter, F. E. McManus, R. P. Patchell and H. L. McGowan made their appearance."

James Sullivan, the president, occupied the chair and first introduced Ald. McArthur. The latter said he had been urged by the city, and he had become the death of the former representative, Thomas Millidge. Efforts had been made to get someone else, but he had declined inducements to retire, but he would stay in Dufferin. Some were endeavouring to raise side issues as a hindrance but he trusted they would be guided by the sense at stake. He said he was against the two year term."

As to the men should he read the resolution he moved and which was passed by the board of works to the effect that a committee investigate the wages of employees in the departments so that where inequalities were found they might be remedied. The Daily Worker's editor said, "I will see to it that every man gets an equal justice. He thought the city laborers should receive more."

Uncle John and Maurice retired, arm-in-arm. Neither had any definite charge to bring home to me, yet somehow I did not join them. Nor did they wait for me. My kind conspirators gave me their breathless (but unaffected) congratulations, and one by one I shook their hands. It was their unselfish triumph, and how could I disillusion them? And yet at one time it has crossed my mind that the doors and has dictated a codicil in his will.

CITY LABORERS HEAR A FEW CANDIDATES

The public meeting in Berryman's hall last night by the City Laborers Union to hear candidates for mayor and aldermen as to the wages of the union men employed by the city, was well attended, the auditorium being completely filled.

There were four candidates, however. At the commencement but three were on the platform—Ald. McArthur, Wellington Green and H. M. Sprague, later Edward Sears, James Hunter, F. E. McManus, R. P. Patchell and H. L. McGowan made their appearance."

had been wasted was in paying outside men to do work that should be done by the city's officials. He referred in this respect to the water works extension and the new wharves. "Why," said Mr. Green, "they have two engineers in the employ of the city that could look after the inspection of the Carleton wharves and still they want their doctor's bills then laid up and not being protected the city's interest on the other side. He thought $110 was little enough for the older men and $150 for the younger harder work. He was in favor of paying fair wages."

James Hunter said he was not sure he would be in the field. He was not well versed in city politics but if he should decide to run and be elected he would see that no man should be more. He was also in favor of more pay for the police. They should get sufficient to pay their doctor's bills when laid up and not be compelled to ask for half time. He thought a relief fund of some nature should be established for this purpose."

E. M. Sprague the next speaker, thought men could not live on $110 when there was but three days' work in the week. "I think the rate should be more," he said, "and if elected I will see that they get it if I have the power to give it to them." He did not think the city should ask any man to take pick and shovel for $110 a day. It was possible that some were not worth more and he would therefore favor a sliding scale."

R. P. Patchell said it was easier to find fault with the present council than to find the remedy. He was in thorough sympathy with the laboring men. As a corporation the laboring man was his best customer. If a higher wage was paid the men it would improve both his and the condition, as the men could live much better. He was strongly in favor of the city rate of wages."

Edward Sears, who received warmly, referred to the taxidermy shops by leaps and bounds. It is with the men governing the city that he thought the wages of the city should be raised. He was in favor of a higher rate of pay for the city laborers. He said that the honor of being a member of the committee of the master painters who met the journeymen painters and arranged to pay the wages asked for. He was sorry they had not been able to pay more than had been asked by the men. Mr. McGowan spoke of the handsome accorded him before and asked that it might be as large this time and if so he would be elated."

WEDDINGS

Humphreys-Sherwood

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Sherwood, 130 Leinster street, Wednesday evening, at eight o'clock, in the presence of a number of relatives, Miss Katie E. Sherwood was united in marriage to Guilford E. Humphreys, of the Pender Mill Works. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Hughes, vicar of the room. After a wedding supper the bride and groom left for their beautiful residence at Torribara. The bride received many beautiful gifts, and their many friends join in wishing them a long and happy life.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Opening next Monday the Myrtle-Harvey Stock Co. will begin the final week of their engagement by presenting "The Tide of Fortune," for Monday and Tuesday evenings. This play has been prominent in the repertoire of this company and will receive the proper scenic treatment. For Wednesday and Thursday "A Quaker Tragedy," one of the most novel plays ever staged, the last act showing a reproduction of a "Quaker Wedding."

OPERA SEASON SEATS ON SALE

The seat sale for the opening of the opera season in New Brunswick Monday was opened this forenoon at the box office, and of course was large. Seats which the New York Company will present at the opening is an old-time opera, but one that never grows stale in the estimation of music lovers. Among comic operas it might be termed a classic. The Little Duke, and other pieces have been added to the company's repertoire since they left St. John, and will be heard here during the engagement.

ALL BUT THE BOOTS

J. N. Harvey, the Union Street Clothier and Furnisher has the Rest--A Six-days' Sale.

Five years is not a long time in the life of a man or a business house, but when the man and the house have achieved a success as marked and as continuous as that of J. N. Harvey, the Union Street clothier, it is worth while to mark the end of the period by a review. From a small store on an enlarged store, and then two stores connected by a sidewalk in the combined stores in the Opera House block all he requires except boots or shoes.

Last fall the Times told of the taking in of the second store, and the enlargement of the gent's furnishing department. Since then Mr. Harvey has made further improvements and has for several weeks sold out of entirely new goods--old stock.

In the clothing department he has added a cabinet of his own design, extending over thirty feet along one wall, for the convenient and attractive display of ready-to-wear goods. It is an improvement upon the glass front cabinets. In this department Mr. Harvey displays a special line of ready-to-wear clothing, made by wholesale tailors who, he claims, have no superior in Canada. Suits are shown finished except as to length, and are fitted by his own tailor; or a suit will be made to order at the same price. Men of all sizes can therefore get suited at ready-to-wear prices for made-to-order clothing.

In the gent's furnishing department has been placed a large glass case, and hats are shown there from English, American and Canadian makers, in the new styles. A specialty is the two-dollar hat, both in soft and hard makes. As all who pass along Union Street know, there are no better lighted stores in St. John than Mr. Harvey's. To his close attention to every detail, and to a strictly cash business and fine margin of profit, he attributes the rapid growth of his trade.

In today's Times Mr. Harvey tells of the great six days' sale which begins tomorrow, to close the day before Easter.

SQUEEZE IN MONEY

Money jumped to 10 per cent. bid in Wall Street Wednesday afternoon at 13 per cent. The banks here reported as before close. Bankers generally expect easier money by the third week of April, and the flurry in rates yesterday is believed to have been caused by the influence of the wires of lenders, and another cause is given as being due to brokers seeking to get loans on unobtainable collateral, on which it is necessary to borrow money several times before they will find a lender who will take the securities.

Earnings of the Grand Trunk Railway system from March 22 to March 31 show an increase of $67,332 when compared with last year's figures. Particulars are given below:

TWENTY YEARS IN BUSINESS

Dowling Bros. Observe Their Twentieth Anniversary Today.

Dowling Bros., the well-known King street dry goods merchants, complete twenty years of successful business life today. A score of years ago, on April 6th, 1886, Benjamin J. Dowling and Thomas Q. Dowling formed a partnership and commenced business in the store on Charlotte street now occupied by Charles A. Clarke. The store had a frontage of 12 feet and extended back 30 feet. After four years spent in these quarters it was found that the larger premises would have to be secured in order to provide for their rapidly increasing trade and they removed to their present stand, No. 45 King street, with an extension on the second floor to No. 101 King street. At first only the front store was occupied, but later an addition was built on the rear and subsequently the upstairs portion was added. The total area of floor space now used to carry on their business covers over 2,000 square feet.

For some years Dowling Bros. have had the reputation of doing the largest retail business in the maritime provinces in ladies' coats and blouses and their sales room upstairs where these goods are shown is one of the brightest and largest in the city. In other lines of ladies' wearing apparel they have a good display. The dress goods department is deserving of mention as well as the department of fancy dry goods, ladies' neckwear, etc. The trade in all these departments has grown very considerably during the past few years.

About two and a half years ago, the firm suffered very severely from fire and were practically out of business for three months, but, with commendable energy and ability they overcame their difficulties and in the work of repairing a number of improvements were made in the premises.

Measrs. Dowling command the highest respect from all who know them and honest dealing, fair prices and courteous treatment of their customers has won for them a good share of the trade of St. John and vicinity.

Their business is gradually increasing and they look to the present year as a banner year in their history. The Times extends hearty congratulations and best wishes for the future.

BILL RELATING TO ROYAL ARCANUM Assessment Measures Before the Legislature of Massachusetts This Week.

The most important of the four assessments now being heard by the Massachusetts legislature this morning, was House bill 767, which seeks radical changes in the present laws governing the insurance companies of the State. The bill accompanies the petition of S. W. Reynolds, and is an echo of the disturbances which have taken place in the Royal Arcanum due to the increase of rates of assessment. The bill provides in part that the business of general corporations shall be conducted on the lodge system with a representative form of government, that five persons shall be chosen from the membership, their successors and associates, or the officers and ex-presiding officers, to represent them, and these five persons, as chosen, together with such persons as may be admitted as elected representatives from grand or subordinate lodges, shall be the supreme or governing body, with power to create subordinate bodies by the grant to applicants thereof of charters authorizing incorporation to be conducted on a subordinate lodge and to admit members after their organization, in accordance with such ritual as the supreme or governing body may prescribe.

Section 2 seeks to prevent the summary suspension of members; section 7 provides for the number of assessments that may be held and collected by a fraternal corporation, and section 4 refers to the adoption of mortuary assessment rates which are not lower than those indicated as necessary by the National Fraternal Congress mortality table.

John B. Leahy was the first speaker in favor of the bill. He pointed out the experience of the Royal Arcanum, and as he said, because it was unique, but because it pointed the moral of the tale that he had to tell. He said there was a tendency to keep the dominant force in these corporations within the official class. In the ranks of the Royal Arcanum the affairs are in the hands of thirty-eight. His bill, therefore, seeks to place a limit on the official class by limiting the number of representatives of this class to five, although the actual number is not material so long as the majority of the governing body is of the popular, rather than the privileged order. Section 3 of the proposed bill, he affirmed, was of the greatest importance and should be changed at once, as it bears on the relation of the officers to the members and the manner of collecting assessments. If members are to pay the price of straight life insurance they also should enjoy all the privileges and benefits of that system. The fraternalists would like not to conduct their business in line with regular life insurance methods, but the time is too late for fraternalists to make this readjustment without failure.

Mr. Reynolds, the petitioner of the bill, told the committee he was chairman of a large committee of the Royal Arcanum which has been opposed to the mandates of the supreme council. After he had given the committee some specific idea of the alleged arbitrary powers of the grand officers the time for adjournment arrived and the hearing was continued until a week from today. In the interests of this bill there was a large number of gentlemen present, including ex-Attorney General Parker and John H. Butler, who are to appear in it at the proper time.

Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation

While the Corporation does not do a speculative business of buying and selling Stocks and Bonds, and about 90 per cent. of its investments are in mortgages on real estate, it maintains an unusually large percentage in proportion to its deposits in a form immediately available to meet the demand of its depositors. It held on the 31st December, 1905, in Cash and Immediately Available Assets $2,393,970.47, equal to about Twenty Per Cent. of its deposits.

THE RIVER STEAMERS

Repairs are being made to the steamer Springfield and it is reported that she will be placed on the Warrington route till further arrangements have been made. The Hampstead will leave Indiantown on Saturday for Public Landing. She will be the first river boat to cover the route this year. Clear water is reported at Carter's Point, and although the ice has not run out at Grand Bay there is a channel through.

C. P. R. EARNINGS

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company's return of traffic earnings from March 22 to March 31 show an increase of $12,000 over the corresponding period last year. The figures are as follows:

ADULTERATED LIQUORS.

The question of adulterated liquor is before the civic authorities in Montreal. The Star says: "City Attorney Ethier is about to prepare a report to the City Council as to whether or not the city has the right to appoint inspectors who shall go to the fronts of the hotels and saloons and ascertain whether or not adulterated liquors are being sold. Some weeks ago a statement was made in the city council by Ald. Gallery that he believed a very large amount of liquor was sold that was so badly doctored as to be dangerous to human health. The statement was also made that so impure were certain liquors which were sold in the city that a large amount of crime could be directly traced to them. The conclusion of the discussion in council was that the city had no right to appoint liquor inspectors, but it had to appoint health inspectors, etc."

A SERIOUS DRAIN.

It is a significant fact that in an excursion party of Ontario people which left Toronto for the far west this week were 37 school teachers—29 ladies and 8 gentlemen—who will settle in the west. They said to the News that they were going because the effort to get a fair salary in Ontario was useless. One lady who held a first-class certificate and had taught nearly five years had only received $440 per annum, and was offered more than twice as much as a beginning in Saskatchewan. These western folk are wise. They want the ideal, the culture and the teaching ability of the east, and they are willing to pay for them. In one sense this is well for Canada, but the less to the east is made up by the gain of the west. The only remedy is for the east to pay each salary as well attract and hold good teachers. Ontario is being drained by the farther west. There were in all 2,000 persons in the excursion party which included these teachers. There were scores of farmers who had sold out and were taking their families west. For six weeks, says the News, these excursions have been running regularly, and the station officials estimate that they have averaged 2,000 Ontario passengers.

A party of young Irishmen arrived in Montreal this week to settle as farmers in Quebec province. The Witness says: "Canon Renaud was at the station to meet this party, and the young Irishmen not only had a warm welcome, but found all arrangements perfected for their getting into work at once. One of the party stated that Canada is arousing great interest in the Emerald Isle and the party would undoubtedly be followed by many others. Of late years the United States had been getting the majority of the Irish immigrants, but he thought the tide would now turn to Canada."

The strike in the bituminous coal regions is much less formidable than expected, as many of the operators have agreed to return to the wage scale of 1903. With regard to the dispute in the anthracite regions, the prospect of settlement is not at present very promising, although the operators may agree to a reference to a board of conciliation of some of the questions at issue. They will not be likely to consider the propositions of a closed shop and the collection by the operators of a probable future strike fund for the miners.

The Toronto News says: "Mr. George A. Kingston returned this morning from Cobalt and Hallsbury. He reports remarkable activity in the mining centre. Seventeen mines are shipping ore. The rush has already commenced," said Mr. Kingston, "and it is estimated that from 50,000 to 60,000 people will come in there this spring."

The Maritime Merchant notes that the wholesale trade of Halifax is endeavoring to secure a better steamer service, and that arrangements are about completed for a weekly service to Louisbourg, Glace Bay and Sydney, while another to Camo.

From printed reports of the speeches in Berrymans' Hall last evening one gathers that the various speakers would be pleased to receive the vote of those present at the meeting. It is perhaps easier to say that wages will be increased or other expenditures made than to discover a way of getting the money. But that problem does not come up until after the elections.

The Montreal Witness is not favorably impressed by the conduct of the new British government. It says: "We cannot well look for a long life for a combination government like the present one in Britain, which has, as is liable to be the case with Liberals, so many minds—if you please, so many great minds—that it does not know its mind."

The news from Natal is not reassuring. The Zulus are a very warlike race, as England has grim cause to remember. If there should be a serious outbreak there would be hard fighting and a difficult campaign. It may be, however, that the rebel chief will not be able to rally to his support any considerable body of the natives.

The new wharf structures are to be carefully examined and compared with the specifications by a man who is believed by the committee to be well qualified. For chief question to be determined is whether there have been departures from the specifications, and by whose authority.

There are still several days in which eager citizens can get into the running for seats in the city council, but the time is growing short. The Citizens' League has not been heard from.

The value of winter port exports for this season is nearly $10,000,000, and there are steamers at all the berths today. The total for the season may run close to $25,000,000.

MR. HILL'S PROJECTS. (St. Paul Pioneer-Press.) James J. Hill is preparing to build a railroad between Winnipeg and Vancouver. Five hundred miles of the line is already in process of construction and the plans call for a total of 1800 miles. An exciting railway project soon to start between the Great Northern, the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk railroads. The plan is to build a line which will be almost as short as the Canadian Pacific route. A number of leaders for the Canadian Transcontinental line are building from points in the United States, one going an outlet through Hibbing, Minn., to Duluth and the Great Lakes.

Some interesting announcements were published by the Star yesterday concerning James J. Hill's intentions in respect of railway projects in the northwestern portion of Canada. It will be noticed that these plans do not contemplate operations east of Winnipeg. Mr. Hill's present eastern outlet is Duluth, from whence the products of the American northwest are carried to Buffalo and New York. There is nothing being said to indicate that Duluth will not serve the same purpose for Canadian products. No doubt, under various guises, Mr. Hill's auxiliaries and allies will seek substantial provincial and federal aid. The motto should be in this connection, "No Canadian aid to railroads which plan to build up American ports." The approved intentions of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Mackenzie and Mackenzie systems are to seek Canadian ports. A fourth line, advancing other intentions, should be allowed to put them in force at its own expense.

CHURCH QUARRELS. (Toronto News.) For many years eminent students of psychology have delved into the phenomena of church quarrels. So far, there has never been a really satisfactory explanation of the cause of such ecclesiastical strife, nor has any investigator been able to give reasons why these struggles engendered such bitterness. It is generally accepted as an axiom that a church quarrel is worse than any other kind. Men can fight, and even, navvies can smite one another with picks before noon and at night, and even ghetts together with beads filled with fraternal blue, politicians may call one another traitors and knaves, even toothless vipers, and by dinner time allow the sunshine of friendship to beam from their eyes. But if a church develops trouble among its members there is no "let-up." From Sunday to Sunday the flame of discord burns brightly, being afforded fresh fuel by the idle gossip retailed to both parties at the regular services.

We believe we have found a solution to this problem. Church quarrels are so bitter because the members have no vocabulary suitable for such occasions. The whole tendency of church membership is to suppress that sort of language which forms as it were, the safety valve of life. If a man loses his collar-button under the bar or hits his thumb with a hammer, his wife may find it necessary to take away the children, but the man himself soon emerges with a sun-clear countenance and a happy smile. But tell a churchwarden that he is an infidel because he is shy on Jonah and the Whale, and what can he do? If he were to turn on his accuser and let his real opinions go he might recover, but he cannot do that. He must needs swell and fume and fret like a boiler carrying a 300-pound head of steam. When half the membership gets in this condition it is no wonder that there are happenings. For instance, one portion of the church of their love because of the actions of the other portion. The seconds met on the next Sunday and one of their number preached from the text, "My house shall be called of all nations a house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of thieves." This sort of thing may be effectual in its way, but it is not direct enough. If the nature of Christianity demands that church quarrels must occur surely the strictures against suitable language might be lifted, at least temporarily.

There's a lot of people so perfectly good they cannot give the rest of us a chance even to be pretty good.

POLICE HELD UP

It is not very often that St. John policemen are held up at the point of a revolver; but this was the unpleasant experience of Patrolmen Totin and Lucas at an early hour this morning. They were going up Princess street, and on passing the entrance of the Bank of Commerce, as is the custom, tried the door and were very much surprised to find that it was open. Seeing no light inside both officers walked in to investigate. They were still more surprised when suddenly told to stop and were also hastily informed by the "boss" behind the door that he would shoot if they failed to do so. The bluecoats in a match and found themselves looking down the barrels of two .32-calibre revolvers in the hands of the messenger and one of the clerks of the bank.

Needless to say the bank men were also much surprised as they had in the drive never supposed the intruders to be prowlers. Explanations, however, soon straightened matters out. It appears that a safe had been moved from the bank to the quarters during the evening and through an oversight the door had been left unlocked, though the men remained on guard. Manager Taylor said this morning that it was a narrow escape for the policemen as they were challenged twice by the watchmen who came within an ace of shooting. Had the men on guard not exercised great caution they would have fired when no reply was vociferated to their first challenge to stop and declare themselves. Mr. Taylor thinks the police should be furnished with lamps for night duty and he also said that in future the watchmen would be instructed to keep a light burning.

BOGUS LORD ARRESTED IN BOSTON HOTEL

Boston, April 5—Charles F. Richards, also known as William Griffin and Lord Leighton, who has secured several sentences in both English and American prisons, for extensive and clever swindling, was arrested here tonight on suspicion of having passed worthless checks. The arrest was made by Inspectors Burke and Sawyer, of the Boston police department. The man was located at the Hotel Touraine, and was taken into custody while dining with several friends tonight. He at first denied that he was Richards but later admitted it, the police say. Richards is said to have operated extensively in this country many years ago and more recently has been in England, from which country he came here about three months ago.

According to police records, Richards was born in 1843, at Totnes, Devonshire, England, being the son of a timber merchant. At an early age he showed unusual ability in penmanship and engraving. When a young man he was employed as clerk in the Bank of England and later went to China in an official capacity for the bank. He came to New York later with considerable money and gambled extensively. In that city and other places he was later charged with many forgeries, swindles and counterfeiting, and in most instances he evaded arrest. At the time John L. Sullivan was in the ring Richards posed as a baker of the champion and swindled many well-known sports. Perhaps his greatest venture was the flooding of Canada and America with forged letters of credit on banks in London, in 1878. A gang of men under the leadership of "Lord" Leighton, as he then styled himself, spread over the country, Richards going west. In San Francisco he was accused a public reception, the city was illuminated and he was cordially received. After his departure about $500,000 worth of spurious notes, letters of credit and other documents were found to be in circulation in the city. Two years later the "Lord" was arrested in San Francisco and sentenced to eight years imprisonment. After serving three years he was released, his physician declaring that he was dying of consumption. A more recent charge against Richards was the obtaining of $1,474 from a Bos-

Magold, Black Forest, Germany, April 3—Fifty-two persons were killed and seventy persons were dangerously injured today by the collapse of the Hotel Zehn Hirschen (the stag hotel). The building had not been fully completed and the catastrophe is attributed to the non-observance of proper precautions. The roof of the building had been put in place only this morning, an event which, in accordance with German custom, was celebrated by a feast. The guests are reported to have engaged in a dance, and this, together with the large number of persons on the floors, was probably what caused the building to collapse.

SOLE SURVIVOR OF BORODINO TELLS WONDERFUL TALE

St. Petersburg, April 5—(Special)—An able seaman and the sole survivor of those who were on board the battleship Borodino when she was sunk during the battle of the Sea of Japan, May 27, 1905, has returned to St. Petersburg with a remarkable story of his escape. He says he was in the turret when the ship turned turtle. He tried to reach a portable lat, the suction of the water forced him back. He finally found a slight air space under the roof where he managed to breathe and there he remained. After the ship sunk he located the port gun with his feet and pulled down, coming out of the surface of the water. He clung to a piece of wreckage until he was picked up by a Japanese boat which took him a prisoner to Japan.

Mrs. Percy Bourne's many friends will be glad to know that she is improving rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald P. Bolyea have returned from California.

The Lenten season is now fast drawing to a close and only a few days remain in which to prepare for the festivities of Easter-tide, when society will be in full swing. A number of interesting events have been planned, for which preparations are already in progress. Last week's events, while comparatively few in number, were nevertheless most enjoyable, and several interesting functions will take place within the next few days.

Last Tuesday's Gingham Commercial says: Charles Robinson, who has been in the employ of the Snowball Co. for several years, left here yesterday for St. John, where he will manage a business for a St. John firm. His fellow employees presented him with a leather travelling case and an address.

Mrs. Robinson and family will remain in Gatham for a few weeks.

Mrs. R. B. Clarke is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benham, at Fredericton.

Miss Elsie Taylor was hostess at a very delightful gathering on Thursday evening at her home, King street East, the occasion being the last meeting of the Bridge Club. There were ten tables, and the first prizes were won by Miss Vera Robinson and Fred E. Taylor, and Miss Alice Davidson and Harold Robinson carried off the second prizes. Light refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing.

The bridge party to be given by the St. John Tennis Club at the York Theatre to be the most interesting event of the kind that has been given here for some time. There will be about one hundred tables in all, and the event is being looked forward to with a very great deal of pleasure.

Mrs. A. E. Wilson gave a very enjoyable whist party at her home, King street East, on Monday evening last. There were five tables, and the first prize was captured by Mrs. H. D. McLeod, while Mrs. Fred Spencer carried off the second. During the evening light refreshments were served.

Miss Nora Knight, who has been attending Newberrow Ladies College at Robtsey, is home for the Easter vacation.

Among the interesting events of the week, was the closing of the York Theatre Whist Club which took place at the assembly rooms on Wednesday evening. This is the second season of the club, and the event, which was most enjoyable, took the form of an informal dance. Besides the members of the club there were many invited guests; the gathering numbering about one hundred and twenty-five. There were seventeen regular and three extra dances, the music being furnished by Jones' orchestra. An excellent supper was served in the large dining hall and all agreed that the affair was the most successful in the history of the club.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Gates leave for Westmount this evening.

Mrs. William Burnham, of Moncton, is in the city visiting relatives.

Her of her friends last evening at a very delightful bridge party. There were six tables and Mrs. A. Y. Braumcombe won the first prize and the second was captured by Mrs. John Vaughan.

Announcements have been received here of the wedding of Miss Josephine Hall of Grandville Ferry, to Atwood Boggs, of Boston. The ceremony was performed at Boston, where the bride has been staying for some time. Mrs. Boggs has a large number of friends in St. John, who will wish her every happiness in her new life.

There will be a pleasant gathering at the Union Club on Monday evening at which C. E. McArthur, D. P. A. G. P. R. will be the host. It will be given in honor of an interesting event on Wednesday next in which Mr. McEwen will form one of the central figures.

The marriage of Miss Elsie Smith, niece of Sir Sanford Fleming, to Laurence Jennings Taylor, is announced at Ottawa, to take place shortly after Easter.

Miss Annie Snowball, the youngest daughter of Lieutenant-Governor Snowball, has been undergoing treatment for tuberculosis at a sanitarium at Saranac, N. Y.

Mrs. J. Butcher and Mrs. F. S. Merritt, of Middleton, N. S., are the guests of Mrs. L. G. Crosby, Germain street.

Mrs. L. G. Crosby entertained a large number of her friends at a farewell to her daughter, Miss Lovell Crosby, whose marriage to Dr. Charles W. Kelley, of Boston, is to take place on the 12th. Mrs. Crosby was assisted in receiving by Miss Crosby and Mrs. McIntosh, of New Brunswick. The house was prettily decorated in green and white and the guests numbered about a hundred.

Miss Crosby will entertain the young ladies who assisted at this evening.

AT OTTAWA.

The Ottawa Evening Journal of Tuesday last reports: "Mrs. W. L. Scott entertained a delightful little tea for young people yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Frances Brown. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Norman Guthrie, Miss Grace Ritchie and Miss Robertson.

Mrs. R. L. Borden was among the Maritime Province guests at a bridge party given on Monday evening by Mrs. Allan Roberts.

Mrs. Laurence Fortescue will occupy Mr. Soper's delightful house at Rockcliffe Park, during the summer.

Mrs. Charles Fitzpatrick entertained at a bright and enjoyable tea yesterday for seasonal people, mostly married ladies. Among the guests were Mrs. R. L. Borden and Miss Edith Fielding.

Miss Elsie Smith is having a tea on Friday.

PRINCESS ENNA'S GOWN.

Princess Ena of Batzenberg will have a gown for her marriage with King Alfonso of Spain which will be symbolic not only of her adopted country but of the religion she has embraced says the Boston Advertiser. The gorgeous fabric of the robe is noose, embroidered brocade, as now being woven in Spain. After the ceremony which changes the English Princess into a queen the wedding garment, according to the usage of the Spanish court, will be dedicated to the blessed Virgin. This article is one of peculiar beauty and significance.

For the rest Princess Ena's trousseau will be of English manufacture. Miss Lansbury of Hanover square, who makes a specialty of employing English working girls only, has the entire order and will supply a bewildering array of gowns. Among them will be many morning and afternoon gowns of the latest fashion to meet the heat of the southern summer. These will be elaborately tucked with insertions of lace, some of which are heirlooms in the possession of Princess Henry of Batzenberg, who received them from her mother, Queen Victoria. There is in addition, a magnificent collection of rare lace for the peignons and petticoats of the royal bride. Several so-called Assos tulle for the trousseau are a mass of fine lace and the finest of gauze. A number of cloth and cashmere gowns are included in the number. The lingerie is of colored tissue and is all hand work, the stitches being so small as to be barely perceptible even with a magnifying glass.

The most expert needle women have been employed on it.

THOMAS R. HILYARD TO RUN IN LANSDOWNE

Thomas Kichham, Also, Named as Coming in Prince—Other Possibilities.

Civic candidates still continue to present themselves, and with four more days still remaining before the time for nominations close, others may appear. Thoas R. Hilyard was waited upon last evening by a delegation and has reconsidered his former decision not to run. He will enter the field against A. M. Rowan and E. M. Sprague, in Lansdowne ward.

Thomas Kichham is reported to have come out in opposition to Aid Sprout, and R. T. Green in Prince ward, and there was a rumor that another attempt was being made to induce a Chamberlain to accept a nomination for Dufferin Street talk yesterday named N. Cameron for Duke, but Mr. Cameron said last evening there was no truth in the report. James Hunter is considering nomination as alderman at large.

OBITUARY

Walter A. McCorkle

The death occurred in Beachmont, Mass., yesterday, of Walter A. McCorkle, formerly of this city. He had been ill with typhoid pneumonia for but a short time, and his death came as a severe shock to his many friends. He was 39 years of age.

Robert N. Spence.

Robert N. Spence, a native of this city, who had lived in New York for the last twenty-five or twenty-six years, died at his home in that city on the 1st inst. He was a carpenter by trade, and in recent years he formed a partnership and became a contractor. His wife and seven children survive. While in St. John Mr. Spence took an interest in temperance work, and was a member of Portland Division, S. of T. He was fifty-two years old.

Mrs. Robert Thomas.

Mrs. Margaret Thomas, wife of Pilot Robert Thomas, died Wednesday, after an illness of only twelve days. She was aged fifty-six years. Mrs. Thomas was twice married, her first husband being the late Thomas Littlejohn. Besides her husband, four sons and three daughters survive. The children are Daniel, James, Alexander and Thomas, Annie and Mary Littlejohn, at home, and Mrs. Margaret Dime, of Montreal. Her death will be heard of with regret by many friends.

SHELburne SCOTCH WHISKEY WAS FATAL

Shelburne, N. S., April 5—(Special)—A death occurred here last night which caused considerable excitement and some are wondering if there was any foul play. On Tuesday evening a man named William Oakley, a workman in a stone quarry, was about town and had drunk from a bottle supposed to contain Scotch whiskey. Shortly after he took ill and died last night after intense suffering.

Dr. Burns attended him and says death was caused by poisoning. An inquest was commenced this morning and adjourned until Saturday. Drs. Burns and Morton conducted a post mortem and removed the man's stomach which will probably be analyzed. One man, a foreigner, from whom, it is said, the liquor was purchased, was arrested this afternoon.

EYESIGHT DESTROYED

Amherst, April 5—A peculiar and painful accident occurred on Monday evening to the six-year-old daughter of Burton Chappell, at Tidnish (N. S.). The little one went out about a week ago to feed the poultry, when a game cock flew at her, making a most vicious attack, driving a spur into her head immediately over the corner of the eye.

The spur penetrated through the bone, he also drove the spur through the eye, totally destroying her sight.

The little one is in a precarious condition.

NOVA SCOTIA LUMBERMAN SERIOUSLY INJURED

George T. McNutt, Manager of Alfred Dickie, Fell Down Steamer Duncan's Hold.

Sharnbrook, N. S., April 5—(Special)—Geo. T. McNutt, the manager of the Alfred Dickie Lumber Company here, met with a very serious accident yesterday. In looking over the steamer Duncan, which arrived in the morning at their mill for lumber, in company with the captain and steward, Mr. McNutt fell through an open hatchway, landing on his head, which is cut very badly, one arm is sprained and some ribs injured. He was unconscious for several hours and it was impossible to ascertain the full extent of his injuries. Today he is resting quietly and the doctor has good hopes for his recovery.

An aged Italian man who came here on one of the C. P. R. steamers a few days ago to make a home in the new land, reached only the border of the country which had called him to find rest in his declining days. He was stricken with pneumonia, was cared for in the immigration hospital in Charlottetown, where he died yesterday morning. He has only about enough money to meet the expenses of his burial.

The concert in the Seaman's Institute last night was in the form of a farewell entertainment to the winter port mariners. Alexander Fleming of the Virginian, occupied the chair. The programme was attractive and most of it was supplied by men from the ships.

F. A. Barbour, C. E., is in the city.

WHERE THE GIRL WAS FOUND IN SALVATION ARMY HALL

The seeming will-o'-the-wisp pursuit which Mrs. Joseph Stevens, of Hilyard street, has been following since Sunday last, came to an end early last evening when she located her daughter, Nellie Little, in Brindley street Salvation Army barracks.

The girl, who is aged thirteen years, spent Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights in three different homes, and Mrs. Stevens says that she has handed to the chief of police the names of the three families in question—Mrs. Thos. Wilson, of 129 Chesley street, John Bushara, an Assyrian, 31 Hanover street, and Mrs. Sullivan, whose home is said to be in the neighborhood of Haymarket square. This morning Mrs. Stevens says she may lay information against the families on charge of harboring her daughter.

There are several peculiar points about the case. The girl, it was alleged, had charged her mother with abuse and neglect, but when questioned last evening by a Telegraph reporter as to the truth of this statement, denied ever having said so. Mrs. Stevens feels that she has justification for believing that her child was deliberately persuaded to remain away from home. Two of the families mentioned affirm that they sheltered the girl throughout the night under the impression that her mother knew of her whereabouts, and with some indignation assert that they never attempted to influence the girl against her parents.

THE WHARF INVESTIGATION

The wharf investigation committee last evening decided to appoint an independent expert to examine the construction work and answer a series of questions. A. S. Jones, wharf builder, of 119 Main street, has been chosen. The hearing of evidence was concluded, S. Herbert Mayes being the only witness called. Mr. Mayes said that Contractor Clark told him Ald. Baxter had carried on the negotiations between Gerson S. Mayes and D. C. Clark for the sale of the timber owned by the former. He swore that Mr. Clark said he wanted to butt the pier in No. 2 crib, and in consequence he threatened the engineer for permission. He repeated his statement that the director knew two diaries were being kept.

Mr. Clark and the director made brief statements with reference to points raised by Mr. Mayes. Ald. Holder occupied the chair and Ald. Pickett, Frink, Vanwart, McArthur, McGoldrick and Spruell were present at the inquiry, with E. L. Brittain, the city hall stenographer. He had only a small attendance of citizens. At the opening of the proceedings the chairman said he knew of no other witness who wished to be called. He had asked the director, city engineer and Mr. Mayes and they all said that they had no further evidence to bring forward. In reply to Ald. Pickett, Mr. Mayes said he wished to make a statement if no further evidence was to be given. Ald. McArthur said as soon as the hearing of witnesses was closed the committee should meet and consider the desirability of having an outside expert appointed to examine the wharf.

In reply to the chairman, Mr. Clark said he had no one else to bring forward unless it was Ald. McArthur and Vanwart, who had been over and examined the wharf. (Laughter.) Mr. Mayes asked if he had been right in considering his boss, that he ought to write what the engineer wanted him to write, and make any change if he was told to make them. With regard to the director not knowing about the two diaries, he would state positively that he told the director in his office. "Mr. Cushing swore I did not," continued the witness, "but I swear most positively that I did. When he was speaking to me about noting any departures, the engineer might make from the specifications, I held up two fingers and said two books."

INCREASE IN WATER RATES IS SUGGESTED

At a meeting of the treasury board yesterday a recommendation was made for the issue of a 4 per cent loan for $721,000 to replace the bonds now held as collateral by the Bank of New Brunswick to retire 6 per cent debentures falling due and to provide for a new issue of $207,000 for the payment of the South Rodney wharf contract and the Marsh road main. It was suggested that as soon as the extension of the water rates should be made for the purpose of street improvement, Ald. Bullock occupied the chair and Ald. Tilley, Holder, Baxter, McArthur and Meeker were present with the chamberlain and common clerk.

The chamberlain submitted the following statement of bonds now held by the Bank of New Brunswick as collateral for the loan of $207,000, bearing interest at 4 per cent and of the other requirements for which a new issue would be necessary:

There will be a considerable saving to the city in commissions and other charges. A meeting of the common council will be held on Thursday, April 12, to take up the recommendations and give the necessary authority. Ald. McArthur said it would be well at an early date to take up the question of increasing the water rates. The increase would go against the large reductions in insurance rates which would follow the adoption of the single service system and should be devoted to improving the streets. He did not believe there would be any objection on the part of the citizens generally.

MODEL OF BRONZE DOORS FOR THE U.S. NAVAL ACADEMY

NEW YORK, March 31.—The model of Mrs. Evelyn B. Longman's prize design for the bronze doors for the chapel at the United States Naval Academy is intimated, and which are the gift of Colonel Robert Means Thompson, was placed on exhibition Thursday in the rooms of the National Sculpture Society.

MITCHELL OFFERS TO ARBITRATE

New York, April 5.—Having failed to come to an agreement with the hard coal miners of Pennsylvania, through their representatives, today proposed to the operators that all matters in dispute be referred to a board of arbitration for settlement, the tribunal to be composed of the board of competition which was created by the award of the anthracite strike commission in 1903, and Judge George Gray, of Delaware, or any person he may appoint as chairman and umpire.

law forbids that this right should be asked with impunity. It is vain to say that the man who remains at work while others cease to work or takes the place of one who has abandoned his work, helps to defeat the aspirations of men who seek to obtain better recompense for their labor and better conditions of life. "It should also be observed that Mr. Mitchell's committee abandons the proposition to see that the agreement, and gets an agreement, the term of which would expire on April 1, 1908, a presidential year—thus affording a great opportunity to make this great industry the football of politics. The operators had already offered, it will be remembered, to extend the anthracite coal commission until April, 1907.

CARIBBEE HAD A ROUGH TRIP

West Indian Steamer Reached Port Last Night—She Met Heavy Weather.

The West Indian steamship Caribbee, Captain Saunders, arrived last night from Bermuda, Windward Islands and Demerara with 21 passengers, including seven Chinese. The steamer has on board a large quantity of molasses and other general cargo for this city and Halifax. The trip up to the port from Bermuda was a very rough one, with high seas and bad weather.

The following is the list of the Caribbee's cabin passengers: Mr. Morrison, from Demerara for Amherst, N. S.; Mrs. and Miss Bowman from Demerara for Sydney; C. B. Dean Gilpin, Mrs. Crossberg, from Barbados for Halifax; Mrs. Grist, from St. Lucia for Halifax; Mr. De Wolfe, from St. Kitts for Halifax; Mrs. Banner, Frederick Kaiser, from Bermuda for Halifax; Mrs. Antos, W. Coleman, Mr. Townsend, Mr. Foster, from Bermuda for this city.

SAILORS WERE TROUBLESOME

Drunken Mariners are Cause of Police Visiting S. S. Oriana.

About thirty drunken sailors caused quite a commotion on the Oriana lying at the I. C. R. wharf last night.

Between six and seven o'clock last evening a telephone message came to police headquarters to send a couple of officers to the steamship, as the drunken sailors were creating a trouble on the ship, and refused to work. When Officers Crawford and Ross arrived, the captain informed them that the steamer was to leave port at eight o'clock, and that the sailors had refused to ship with her. At that time the drunken steamer were fighting among themselves and the officers experienced some difficulty in restoring peace and quietude. It was necessary for them to remain on board the boat until she sailed in order to keep the sailors in subjection.

STOCKS SHOWED MARKED WEAKNESS THIS MORNING

MONTREAL, April 6—(Special)—The stock market developed a marked weakness this morning, and prices generally showed a decline. The causes were found in the reaction from the recent high level influenced by Wall St. The foreign list showed the following: Montreal St. Ry. 257; Dominion Iron, 33 1/2 to 33; Lake of the Woods Milling, 93d, 113; Detroit, 100 to 93 3/4; Michigan, 84 3/4.

FUNERALS

The funeral of the late Mrs. Robert Thomas took place from her residence, 1000, Britannia St., at three o'clock this afternoon. Rev. Father Chapman conducted the burial service in St. John the Baptist church and interment was in the new Catholic cemetery.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE

The Times had a personal item yesterday stating that J. B. Cowans and Mrs. Cowans arrived from Boston the previous day. The lady was Mrs. Mrs. Capt. Tom Martin, daughter of A. W. Martin of this city, who was coming to spend the summer in St. John. Mrs. Martin and maid had come via Philadelphia to Boston and on to St. John, being a fellow passenger from Boston with Mr. Cowans, an old friend of the family.

CIVIC PAY DAY

Chamberlain Sandall this morning paid out the following amounts in civic salaries: Streets . . . . . $1,008.55 Water and sewerage . . . . . $44.96 Ferry . . . . . 134.96 $2,088.47

POLICE COURT

Thomas Nickerson was fined $8 in the police court this morning for drunkenness. Officer Ian Perry found Nickerson standing against a building at the corner of Britannia and Sydney streets last night singing one of the latest songs.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 6—Only small variations in prices shown at the opening today and many stocks were unchanged from the previous day. The market was conspicuous for a decline of 1/2 in Ontario and Western, but the rest of the list were small changes. Interest was languid and business on a small scale. The market opened irregular.

THE CLERK CAME LATE

But He Objected Strongly When the Time Lost Was Charged Against Him.

MONCTON, April 5—There is more trouble in certain departments of the I. C. R. office.

One of the senior clerks in the office who is in the habit of coming in late in the morning and thus beginning below the "red line" that marks the prompt and tardy clerks, found his pay somewhat short of the usual amount last month. The clerk in question had never paid much attention to the new rule with regard to the "red line" and this was the first occasion a deduction had been made in his pay for time lost. He not only refused the amount tendered, but report says he indulged in some vigorous language as to the head of the department and the chief clerk. For a time only the calmness of the officials prevented violence being done. The scene was, to say the least, one of the most boisterous the clerks of the department have yet witnessed and legal proceedings are threatened. The clerk was suspended, but influential friends have temporarily patched up the trouble and the refractory clerk returned to his desk this morning.

W. F. Taylor, general storekeeper I. C. R. has been making inquiries into the recently reported case of theft and black mail that occurred in connection with the seaman's department.

Two of the parties whose names figured in connection with the affair were brought before Mr. Taylor, but gave versions of the affair that did not correspond with the story that first leaked out. The opinion is that the parties concerned patched the matter up and decided to screen each other rather than have all hands get into trouble. The I. C. R. engineer who was taken in for fifty or a hundred dollars appears to have been the only sufferer in the case.

Tim Anderson, a well-known I. C. R. North Shore workman, recently established a very fair walking record. One day last week an accident happened to No. 40 freight train, and Drakeman Anderson, in order to cause as little delay to traffic as possible, found it necessary to walk back to the next station, a distance of over four miles. This distance he covered in forty-five minutes, which trainmen claim to be a good walking record.

The Canadian Order of Foresters tonight tendered a farewell supper to B. S. Kilham and Joseph Weldon, two members of the order, and former well-known employees of the I. C. R., who are leaving tomorrow night for the Canadian west to locate.

REV. DR. GATES GOES TONIGHT

Popular Pastor of Germain Street Church Will Leave for His New Charge in West-mount.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. G. O. Gates leave this evening for Westmount, where Dr. Gates will assume the pastorate of the First Baptist church. Dr. and Mrs. Gates have many friends here who will wish them every success in their new field of labor.

Dr. Gates has been the pastor of Germain street Baptist church here for nearly twenty years, and during that period has endeavored himself to the people of that church and outsiders as well.

KILLED AT VANCEBORO

R. J. Giles of Lepreau Fell From a Train to His Death Last Night.

R. J. Giles of Lepreau fell from a train at Vanceboro last evening and was instantly killed. Giles was employed as a brakeman on the G. P. R. and was on duty on a special freight train at the time of the tragedy. The accident occurred in the railway yard at Vanceboro about ten minutes before last night. No one saw the man killed but it is supposed he fell from the top of the first car of the train on which he was traveling and was instantly killed. He was a comparatively young man and had many friends. The members of his family will arrive this evening from Lepreau to receive the remains.

MYSTERIOUS MR. GILT EDGE

(Continued from page 1) that I was. Still up to the present I had not received a challenge today. I spent much of the afternoon around King square and walked out King street east, up around the court house and on several of the streets which I did not know.

Tapped Wrong Man

"By the appearance of things the chase is getting very warm and it is amusing to me to see anxious searchers tap other people on the shoulder when they could just as well put their hand on me. "Now I must tell you of the dangerous minute I had during the day. While I was down around the Eastern S. S. Co. wharf there were some of the men around the entrance of the shed and I heard one follow say "Do you suppose that is Gilt Edge. If I thought it was I would like to knock the head off him." So I thought I had better move before I got hurt.

"I spent the evening, as usual, all around the town, down to the depot, back Union street, had lunch at the night owl and then on home. "I was stopped five times tonight but I guess it is getting to be a bad, I don't see the documents so I laugh it off by saying "I'm an Edge but not much Gilt to it."

New York Styles for Little Boys

Canadian Made Suits and Overcoats on Very Latest Lines. The ingenuity of American designers, sterling worth of materials and Canadian workmanship of a high order is the combination that places our Fancy Suits for little boys in the very foremost position.

The models are the same as are seen in the best Child Outfitters' in the city of New York, but the clothing was made in Canada and therefore costs much less than imported duty-taxed American clothing. Purchasers get better wares for less money.
