Organizations Choosing Conditions For Miss St. John Carnival Contest

Many More Entries Have Been Received by Times and Rush Yet to Come—Halifax Queen Has Been Chosen.

Several of the local ladies' societies and mercantile establishments, in a quiet way, are lending a helping hand to the Evening Times in its effort to select the most attractive of St. John's daughters for the Queen of the Carnival next month.

CANDIDATE NO. 3. CANDIDATE NO. 4.

It is important that Miss St. John should be the finest type of young womanhood in the city, for St. John can hold its own with any of the cities in Canada in this respect, and the Miss St. John who goes to Montreal to measure her charms with the fairest from all over the Dominion, she should be the most beautiful young lady which the city has the honor to claim.

As the contest progresses, more and more entries are being received daily, but the influx is not expected to reach its height until Friday or Saturday, when the bulk of the new pictures now being turned out by local photographers will be ready.

Miss Helen Mitchell, formerly Miss Helen Mitchell, was chosen this morning. Mrs. Ora Doherty, formerly Miss Helen Mitchell, was chosen this morning.

"Without Compromise" is the title of a William Fox production starring William Farnum, the popular portrayer of screen heroes, at the Queen Square Theatre.

Judging from the reception accorded this splendid photoplay last night it fully meets the requirements of William Farnum admirers. To say that it merited the praise of the most capricious seeker after dramatic suspense and thrills, is simply to do justice to a really excellent picture.

The locale is a frontier town of the northwest. As a two-fisted sheriff who maintains the morals of the community without resorting to his shooting-irons, Wm. Farnum has opportunities for displaying an intensive histrionic talent that places him in a niche all his own. No actor of the screen knows better than Wm. Farnum the enhancing value of the dramatic power of restraint. This picture will be shown for the last three times today.

TWO MORE CLINICS TO BE OPENED

It is expected that with the passing of the Board of Health estimate for the dental and refraction clinics these two will soon be opened at the local health centre. Arrangements for the pre-natal and nutrition clinics are well underway. The classes for girls under Miss Greta Farris have been very successful. Home nursing and infant care is taught the pupils at this class.

The first class assembled at the centre on January 10 and its members may claim to have made history, in that they were the pioneers in a new branch of health endeavor in St. John. The members of the class are as follows: President, Miss Florence Wardell; secretary, Miss Edythe Mitchell; and Miss Rita Dykeman, Miss Audrey Rankins, Miss Isabelle Walker, Miss George Springer, Miss Jean Dearborn, Miss Margaret Gilmour, Miss Eileen Branscombe, Miss Dorothy Evans and Miss Frances Campbell.

The second class received instruction at the health centre yesterday and during the afternoon was photographed on the steps of the building. The second class is composed of members of the Y. W. C. A., whose ages range from ten to fifteen years and there are between fifteen and twenty girls in the class.

Another Y. W. C. A. class will commence its course today and the members of this class are aged eighteen years and upwards. It also has about fifteen or twenty members. On Friday afternoon the first C. G. I. T. class will commence the course, and it is hoped later to enroll many of the C. G. I. T. groups in the city. The class which will assemble on Friday afternoon is the "Polyanna" group of Centenary church, of which Miss Faith Henderson is the leader.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, O. K. Johnson, 246 Craig St., W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 day's FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

To prevent chapping—the method women use where winters are most severe

Wind and cold actually whip the softness out of an unprotected skin

TWO things are essential if you would keep your skin naturally soft and smooth through the trying changes of winter weather. Your skin must be kept regularly and carefully supplied with just the amount of oil it needs. And especially it must be given unfailing protection whenever you go out.

To meet these two needs, Pond's developed two different creams. Women all over the world where winters are most severe are using these two creams today to prevent chapping and insure beautifully supple skins:—

First, to supply the needed oil

Every night give your skin a cleansing with the cold cream that contains just the right amount and kind of oil to work in and out with no danger of clogging—Pond's Cold Cream. It is rich enough to give the skin just the suppleness you want, yet light enough to wipe off and leave it fresh and clear.

And then, the famous outdoor protection

Before going out, always apply the delicate vanishing cream which women in almost every country have found an unfailing protection against winds and damp chapping cold—Pond's Vanishing Cream. It contains a famous ingredient that skin specialists know as the most effective means of softening and soothing. And it is so beautifully proportioned that it is absorbed with no possibility of clogging.

Use these two creams that so many women depend on and see how soft and fine they will keep your skin all winter. Both these creams can be bought in jars or tubes at 50 cents each at all drug and departmental stores. Of course, they contain nothing that encourages the growth of hair. PRESBYTERIANS
REPORT A YEAR OF PROGRESS

Annual Meetings of Several Churches Held Last Night—Much Raised for Missionary Purposes—Bright Prospects.

Very satisfactory and successful reports were made at the annual meetings of the various city Presbyterian churches last night. Progress had been made in all departments of the church activities and, in many cases, good increases in membership were reported. There had also been noticeable increases in the building funds and in the regular church financial receipts. A great deal of money had been raised for missionary purposes and for objects outside the actual church confines. There were good attendances at all the meetings and enthusiasm was shown for the coming year.

The annual meeting of St. David's congregation was one of the most largely attended in the history of the church. A. Morrison, chairman of the trustee board, presided and James MacFarlane acted as secretary. Reports of an encouraging nature were received from the session, the board of trustees and the societies in connection with the church. Trustees elected for three years were: E. H. Cameron, F. W. Girvan and Neal Smith. I. Frank Archibald was re-elected the congregational treasurer. The Memorial hall committee submitted a report in connection with the construction of the hall, but consideration was deferred until an adjourned meeting to be held in the near future. The lateness of the hour prevented discussion last night. During the year Rev. J. A. MacKerlean had resigned, and a call to Moses Jaw and his place had been taken by Rev. Hugh Miller.

The session reported an increase in the families in connection with the church and also an increase in church members. The Women's League during the year had raised $2,171.92, and a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the league in view of the amount it had contributed to the reduction of the church debt.

The financial statement was as follows:

Receipts:
Balance on hand January 1, 1922 $10,106.46
For congregational purposes $11,451.52
For interest on mortgage 2,000.00
For missions and benevolence 3,995.96
For forward movement 35.00
For Memorial hall 2,044.21
For reduction of mortgage 2,679.22
For other purposes 821.86
Total receipts for year $23,615.23

Expenditures:
For congregational purposes $11,451.52
For interest on mortgage 2,000.00
For missions and benevolence 3,967.19
For improvements and equipment 250.57
For forward movement 35.00
For other purposes 797.92
Total expenditures $20,803.23
Balance in bank and bonds, 12/31/22 12,918.61
Grand total $33,721.74

REV. HUGH MILLER,
Minister of St. David's Church.

Note:—Of the balance shown above, the amount of $11,000.00 is for the Memorial hall account.

Alice Nickerson. The building fund report showed that a considerable sum had been contributed by the members of the congregation to this fund and that already there was a substantial sum in the bank. The following were elected members of the trustee board: R. T. Coleman, Charles F. Stevens, R. G. Carson, G. D. Sinclair, W. A. Nickerson, W. A. Priddle, H. L. McFarlane, G. A. Thompson and J. W. McCarthy.

At a subsequent meeting of the new board the following officers were elected: Chairman, Charles F. Stevens; vice-chairman, G. D. Sinclair; secretary, J. W. McCarthy.

First Church, W. E.

The First Presbyterian church meeting was opened with devotion, led by the minister, Rev. Dr. J. A. Morrison, and following the devotions A. W. Fraser was elected chairman and James Scot secretary. Favorable reports were presented by the various organizations. During the year much outside repair work had been done on the church and the inside had been entirely redecorated. The outside work had been done with money raised by subscription among the congregation and the Ladies' Aid of the church had assumed responsibility for the inside decoration. In view of this heavy expenditure, the reports presented were very encouraging. The trustees elected were as follows: J. S. Williamson, Fred Ring, A. W. Fraser, Arthur Best, David Allen, W. A. MacAulay, Thomas Jones, Harvey McAfee and J. Anthony and the members of the audit committee, Thomas Rippey and George Corbett, a membership increase was reported also.

St. Columba, Fairville.

Gale; Sunday school treasurer, Miss Margaret Long; Sunday school secretary, William H. Stinson; Y. P. S., J. Harper Henderson; Ladies' Aid, Miss A. E. FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis
Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

Lesson No. 209. THE END TURN SWITCH.

If a tuning coil, in the antenna system of a radio receiver, is designed for operation on wave lengths ranging from 200 to 3,000 meters, it is evident that although the full number of turns may be necessary at the higher wave lengths, the shorter wave lengths will require only a portion of the coil, thus leaving a number of unused turns.

Unless some provision is made for removing these unused turns from the circuit there will be a considerable loss in energy due to the distributed capacity or "self-capacity," as it is commonly known, of the coil. Self-capacity results from energy being stored up between the turns in the form of electrostatic lines of force during the flow of oscillations and, although this capacity is small, it is comparable in value to capacities which perform important functions in other parts of the radio circuits.

The unused portion of the coil, therefore, possesses both capacity and inductance and consequently has a definite period of oscillation which may be in resonance with the part of the coil which is in active service. Under these conditions the unused portion of the coil absorbs energy from the unused portion and the resulting transfer of energy reduces the efficiency of the circuit to a considerable degree.

In Fig. 1 the antenna circuit contains a large coil which is tuned to a comparatively low wave length, leaving the unused turns (D) which should be removed from the circuit in order to reduce the amount of energy absorption to a minimum. In Fig. 2 is illustrated a type of "end turn" switch which effectively removes the effect of the unused turns from the circuit by short-circuiting two sections (S) between the used and unused portions of the winding. This switch has two arms placed at such an angle to each other as to rest on the contact points two sections apart, thus short-circuiting the intervening turns and eliminating to a great extent the "dead-end" losses.

In Figs. 3 and 4 is shown the construction and connection of an "end turn" switch which removes unused end turns from circuit. As shown in Fig. 4 this switch is of the drum type consisting of a cylinder of hard rubber on which is mounted brass or copper segments. The sections of the coil are connected to small stationary metallic brushes resting on the segments. Turning the knob causes the segments to rotate and their position is regulated as to permit a gradual increase or decrease in the number of turns connected in circuit. In Fig. 3 is shown how the various sections of the coils may be added in the "taps" circuit while the circuit is being tuned to the higher wave lengths by regulation of the knob controlling the "taps" switch. Three or more segments may be provided for dividing the winding, depending upon the various bands of wave lengths to which it is desired to tune, these wave lengths ranging from the amateur wave length in the vicinity of 200 meters to the 2,500 meter wave on which time signals are transmitted, with provision for receiving the broadcasted signals at 300 and 400 meters respectively.

It is apparent, therefore, that the application of an "end turn" switch provides a simple method for eliminating to a considerable degree any transfer of energy between the active and inactive sections of the tuning coil and permits the construction of a large tuning coil adaptable for efficient long and short wave reception.

Announcement

January Clearance Sale at London House Begins Saturday 20th to 31st

Our store wide disposal of all remaining Winter Merchandise, as well as many clearing lots from the manufacturer.

The time has come when every remaining article of Winter Goods must go, regardless of price. Progressive merchandising methods demand it. Our policy insists upon it. It's a clearance sale that combines a true business principle and a well defined purpose, namely, that every six months a thorough store-wide cleaning must take effect to insure the starting of the new season with new stocks. Every department has contributed its share to this sale. You will make worth while savings.

Many special clearing lots of first quality merchandise have been brought in from the manufacturer. This is a feature that will make our January clearance sale more popular than ever before.

Women of St. John and vicinity would do well to come early and often and get their share of all the good things we will have to offer them. It's an annual bargain time.

NO SYMPATHY
FOR GERMANY

Writer Calls Germans Rep-

Profiteers.

Quotes What Dr. Muchon
Said They Intended to Do
if They Won the War—
A Stinging Arrangement.

William L. McPherson in New York (Tribune)

The Ruhr is the citadel of German industry. Its area—thirty-two miles east and west and about fifteen miles north and south—is the heart of modern industrial Germany. This basin is the centre of a vast intensive production of coal, iron, steel, salt, machinery, implements and textiles, organized on an interlocking basis.

There are 867 stock companies operating in the region, with an invested capital of nearly $1,000,000,000. They have been combined into thirteen corporations, at the head of which are these individual managers or companies: Hugo Stinnes, Krupp, Haniel, Kloekner, the Lehringens, Hoesch,
Mannesmann, the Phoenix, Roehling,
Stumm, Thyssen and the Rheinische, Schlumberger.

These groups function together.
They control the German markets and the German government. They have dictated a domestic financial policy
by which they have been largely relieved of the burdens of taxation.
They have declined to help the German government to balance its budget or to pay treaty reparations. They are, in fact, the chief obstacle to any genuine German effort to meet the Versailles obligations.

The Real Defaulters.

It is easy to see why the French, Belgians and Italians have decided to answer German defaults by establishing economic supervision in the Ruhr.
Germany's creditors are trying to come to close quarters with their real debtors—the debtors who are behind the defaults. These men and companies were war profiteers. Since the armistice they have gone on amassing colossal wealth. Stinnes is the typical Ruhr multi-billionaire.
But there are many others who have become fabulously rich in the wild exploitations of the last three years.

These people now find a debt collector at their heels. They must laugh in their sleeves at the innocent sympathy expressed in foreign countries
by their hard-hearted despoiler.
He is charged with committing a political blunder, as well as a moral outrage, in sending reparation accountants after Stinnes, Krupp and Thyssen. Is he really persecuting the humble and the righteous? One might be led to think so from the unctuous compassion showed in many quarters for these poor coal, steel and iron kings. But these kings have their own notions when Germany hoped to win, of the accounting to be exacted of a defeated nation? Did their hearts ever bleed for the victims of an unsuccessful war?
Fortunately they have told us what they would have done if victory had ever put them in the position in which the French and Belgians now are.

If Germany Had Won.

They fomented the war and rejected
it as an opportunity to aggrandize themselves at the expense of others. In their councils in 1914, however, sat a clean-headed man, without any prejudice taint. He was Dr. Wilhelm Muehlon, a director in Krupp's, whose soul revolted at the crude cupidity of these Rhenish magnates.

In September, 1914, Dr. Muehlon set forth indignantly in his diary what the Ruhr industrialists were planning to do to conquer France and Belgium.
He wrote:

"Once more a conversation over the distribution of the booty after the war.
It occurred in a most intimate circle of the most distinguished iron and steel robber barons. I still quiver with shame. These modern German industrialists are nauseating. If the English pursued the politics of a nation of traders, then the Germans, according to the view of the masters of the iron and steel industry, must outdo them in amplifying spoliation. Even foreign private property must not be spared, in so far as coal and iron deposits and great factories and enterprises are concerned.

"The gentleman argued very earnestly that Germany should at once annex Belgium, as Italy recently annexed Tripoli, in order that the Belgians proprietors should be excluded entirely from future peace negotiations. At the same time he favored an unqualified and very extensive appropriation of all the big industrial and private establishments. In the terms of peace France should be obliged to assume the obligations of indemnifying those who had been despoiled.

"This speaker strongly emphasized
the fact that his industrial colleagues,
like Thyssen, Stinnes and Kirdorf, were using all their influence to put through the drastic policy outlined by him. These gentlemen had already taken steps with the Imperial Chancellor to have an industrial expert attached to the German government in Belgium, who should inspect all industrial establishments and inquire into all industrial values in Belgium and note what Germany could use for herself.

"The enthusiasm shown by his friends and colleagues induced the speaker whose remarks I have been reporting to present the following proposition, namely, to make a hurried effort with the Imperial Chancellery to procure the appointment as industrial expert in Belgium of a gentleman belonging to this shark's own concern, and thereby secure a special interest in the firm of Cockerill, in Seraing.

"In order to prevent the possibility of any further competition for Cockerill, it should be agreed secretly to acquire control of a majority of the stock of that concern."

Here, apparently, were the beginnings of the prechant for collecting "souvenirs" in enemy territory, which was to become a ruling passion for the next four years with every German who could get anywhere near the front.
"We must seize as much territory and as much private property as we can hope to digest," said another Ruhr king, according to Muehlon. But a third shied at too extensive territorial annexations. He preferred special economic advantages in France and Belgium, and a French war indemnity of 50,000,000,000 marks.

The entry in the diary concludes:
"There was nothing in their conversation or in their thoughts but force, material wealth, new territory to develop, discipline and methods of exploitation. No idea which would justify an extension of German rule, no benefits and no consideration to be bestowed on the conquered. In short, magnanimity. They want to lie in the beds of other people and don't mind being called barbarians for wanting to do so."

Yet these are the people who are dodging, not a punitive war indemnity,
such as they intended to impose on France, but payment even for damage done by Germany's armed forces on foreign soil. They have not changed.
They have not repented. They are as odious and incorrigible now as they were when Krupp's director painted them gloating over anticipated victory and booty.

SOVIET REVISES
SHAKESPEARE;
HAMLET A "RED"

London, Jan. 17.—To the Bolsheviks
nothing is sacred—not even Shakespeare. Having nationalized about everything they could lay their hands upon, they are now going to make literature safe for Communism, and the Bard of Avon happens to be the first to fall under their pruning knife. Perhaps that is a Bolshevik way of getting even for British rejection of Russians' demands at Lausanne.

Anyway by order of the Commissariat of Education, the State Institute of Theatrical Art is rehearsing a new version of "Hamlet." The Prince of Denmark is to be converted into a champion of Communism fighting against the tyranny of the capitalist system. His species are to be given a Marxian flavor, in order that Moscow audiences may imbibe the true principles of Sovietism. All this is to be done in order, says "Ivinskii" solemnly,
"that the text of 'Hamlet' may be revised and adapted in accordance with the modern spirit of the times."

The actor who is to take the part of Polonius will be made up to resemble Lloyd George, and will quote excerpts from speeches made by the former premier during the last few years.

The London Morning Post, commenting upon the Bolshevik "reform" of Shakespeare, suggests that it is rather unkind, considering that Lloyd George has been the "good friend of the Bolsheviki ever since the glorious days of Prinkipol and Mr. Bullitt." This newspaper, which has consistently opposed Lloyd George as a menace to the British Empire, also remarks that the Bolsheviki version of "Hamlet" is "unfair" to Polonius. The "oldhand" opin says that "the venerable old coun-tiller may have been a foolish old man, but he certainly gave utterance to some very wise sayings."

But reports of Bolshevik revisions
of the great dramatist are not interfering with London's intention of celebrating in 1923 the tercentenary of the publication of the first folio of Shakespeare's plays. Efforts will be made to get America to join in this celebration.

SUNDAY SCHOOL
TEACHERS ELECT
NEW OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the St. John Denary Sunday School Teachers' Association was held in the Church of England Institute on Tuesday night with the president, Rev. Canon R. A.
Armstrong, presiding and an exceptionally interesting programme was given. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Rev. Canon
R. A. Armstrong; vice-presidents, W.
E. Anderson and Miss Iddolls; secretary-treasurer, Miss Nellie Upham;
additional members of the executive committee as follows: Mission church, Rowland Frith; St. Luke's, Mrs. Leonard Lingley; St. Paul's, Mrs. Barber;

Mary's, Mrs. Harry Coleman; St.
James, Mrs. Violet Gregory; Trinity,
Miss Nellie Upham; St. Jude's, Mrs. A. B.
McLellan and St. George's, Herbert Fuwett.

The subject for the programme was
"Christmas treats," and a representative from each of the Sunday schools gave an account of the way in which the Christmas treat was carried out in that school. Many new ideas were presented and the discussion was animated and full of interest. It was felt that each school had something well worth while to hand on for emulation and imitation. Those who spoke and the schools they represented were as follows: St. Mary's, Mrs.
Harry Coleman; St. Jude's, Mrs. A. B.
Edwards; St. Paul's, Mrs. Fleming;
St. Luke's, H. Usher Miller; Stone,
Rev. A. L. Fleming; the Good Shep-

The Ford Motor Company has made a genuine attempt to give the public automobile transportation at a price within the reach of all. It has carried out the ideals of the inventor of the Ford car, Henry Ford, and has placed the Ford Motor Company in the position of performing a public service to the people of Canada.

It has definitely made Ford products a national institution—being such, the Ford Motor Company believes it is justified in telling the public it serves how the present low price of Ford Cars can be maintained in 1923.

How the present low price of Ford Cars can be maintained in 1923

We are absolutely frank with the public when we say that the present low prices are not justified by present production but only by the production it is hoped will result from them.

The present low prices for Ford Cars are based on maximum production only. Today's market on steel and other raw material that goes into the manufacture of Ford Cars will not warrant these prices except at peak production.

Ford prices must go up unless they are justified by increased production.

BEAUTY OF LUXOR
RELICS AMAZING

Couch and Jewel Box of Tutankhamen Removed from Tomb.

(Special Cable to the New York Times and Montreal Gazette.)

Luxor, Jan. 16.—There was an exhibition of artistic beauty at Tutankhamen's tomb this morning so exquisite as almost to hurt. The objects brought out were a large couch, a box containing the king's jewels, a miniature alabaster vase and a collection of bows and arrows and walking sticks. Among the last-named the only one worthy of mention in comparison with the other articles was the largest stick of all, which was notable because the handle represented the figure of an Asiatic captive. It was evidently one of Tutankhamen's official staves. Its significance lies in the fact that every time Pharaoh grasped the staff he held Asia in the hollow of his hand. The couch is almost the size of an ordinary bed. The seat is made of cane covered with white plaster. The gilt feet are shaped to represent lion's paws, while the foot and head of the couch bear carved figures of lions, some rampant, while others appear to be supporting the top of the couch. The frame work of the couch seems to be made of wood covered with a thick layer of pure gold. The whole effect is heightened by golden hieroglyphics at either end, describing Tutankhamen as Lord of the Two Lands, King of Upper and Lower Egypt, giver of all life, stability, happiness and strength. The prevailing colors of the couch are white, gold and black, but other hues amid the hieroglyphics introduce a quieter color scheme.

But the greatest sight today was the jewel box. It was about 14 inches long by 12 wide and deep. It is also of gold, on which are working in the most artistic fashion the king's cartouches and the images of the sacred serpent and the sacred hawk, or the god Horus, with the emblems of both the Upper and Lower Kingdoms of Egypt. It is a magnificent example of decorative art. Yet when one looked into the box one forgot the box itself in contemplation of the priceless dazzling array of gems and jewellery.

CABARET COMES TO STAY

Corollary of Theatre, Says George Crossmith.

London, Dec. 20.—(By Mail)—To congratulate Mr. George Crossmith and Mr. J. A. E. Malone on their entry into management the O. P. Club entertained them at dinner at the Hotel Cecil on Sunday. There were present as guests the principal members of the "East of Suez," "The Cat and the Canary," and "The Cabaret Girl" companies. The chair was taken by Sir Ernest Wild, who was supported by Lady Wild, Lord Dunsany, Mr. Dennis Neilson-Terry, Miss Meggie Albanes, Miss Mary Glynn, and General Sir Charles Townshend.

when a theatre was like a clock—once you had wound it up you could rely on it going. Now it was more like a barometer. In a theatre at present it was double salaries, double fees, double taxes, county councils, and, worse still, strikes, political upheavals, and various other almost abysmal difficulties. Despite all these troubles, however, he and Mr. Malone were fortified with the idea that not for many years in the history of the stage had the English theatre been on such a high level. Then came the corollary of the theatre, the cabaret. "Don't turn up your nose at the cabaret," he continued. "It has come to stay. The cabaret is going to do much to brighten London and help to attract foreigners."

CAPE BRETON HELPS AMATEUR SPORT

Sydney A. A. A. Opens an Office for Registration—Starting to Rebuild from the Ground Up.

(Sydney Record.)
The Amateur Athletic Association is now all ready to begin business in earnest. A. L. Mercer, secretary-treasurer of the association, opened an office in the McLeod block and he will be there in the evenings to receive applications under the Maritime branch of the Amateur Athletic Association of Canada.
At present applications from only the intermediates and senior athletes will be received as it has not been definitely decided by the local association at what age amateurs will have to be registered. Mr. Mercer will be on duty at the Association building in the McLeod block from five to six o'clock in the evenings and any persons wishing to get in touch with him throughout the day can do so by calling phone number 1496.

It is expected that many of the amateurs of the city will file their applications within the next week or so, as all playing in the city intermediate hockey league will hereafter be required to show their amateur cards. Application forms will be supplied by the Sydney Amateur Athletic Association.

TORONTO BOXER IN NEW YORK FOR FEATHER BOUTS

To add to the festive merriment that seems to have New York ring fans in a giddy condition, a new fighter blew into our midst yesterday and made the double-barreled announcement that he was going to make New York City his home henceforth and was going to make a lot of trouble in the featherweight division. His name is Benny Gould and he comes from Toronto.
The fighters that Benny says he is going to make miserable are all in the featherweight division. There is no doubt whatever in Benny's mind that he is going to win the featherweight championship of the world in the course of the next few months. That Gould is a very considerable person and a boy not to be sniffed at is indicated by the fact that on the evening of December 25 in Toronto he won a scholastic victory over Jack Kid Wolfe, of Cleveland, who needs no introduction to New Yorkers. That fight took place before 18,000 persons, and young Mr. Gould went into it with only two hours notice.
Having knocked over all the best featherweights in the Dominion that could be induced to meet him, Benny shook the snows of Canada from his heels and headed for this city.
However, Benny's manager, George Fagnoli, beat him to our turbulent town and went to the offices of the Boxing Commission on Saturday with a certified check for $2,500 and a challenge to any featherweight or junior featherweight in the United States. When he arrived there he found that William Muldon, high executioner in the kingdom of sweat, had departed with all his trusty lieutenants. There wasn't a soul there who had the authority to accept the check so Mr. Fagnoli said that he would return on Monday morning. At Madison Square Garden yesterday Mr. Fagnoli stated that he would place the check in Muldon's hands today and at the same time would inform the commission that his aim is to have Gould take on some of the lesser lights in the featherweight division, to prove that he is really a top-notch, and then would aim at Johnny Kilbane or any other fighter Gould is twenty-one years old, and has been fighting professionally for two and a half years. During that time he

N. B. AND P. E. I. HOCKEY LEAGUE

(By J. D. Black)

The New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Hockey League with its fourteen clubs playing in three sections is the most pretentious amateur hockey organization the Maritimes Province has ever known, embracing the territory from St. Stephen, in the far western end of New Brunswick, to Summerside, P. E. I., and extending from Campbellton, in the far northern end of New Brunswick, to St. John on the Bay of Fundy.

All of the fourteen clubs have already been in action in league fixtures with the exception of the Marysville club of the Western Section, who were recently admitted to the league after retiring. Marysville has been a factor in amateur hockey for twenty years more and has constantly maintained its membership in provincial leagues, even in face of serious handicaps such as the present absence of a rink in the Nashua town, necessitating their playing all their games in Fredericton.
But the games so far have not served to show what may be expected in the races to decide which club will represent the three sections in the play-off for the championship of the two provinces and the right to meet the title holders of Nova Scotia for the Maritime Amateur Hockey championship. Last year's title between the Sussex club and the Abegweit club of Lunenburg was never finally settled and followers of both clubs are looking forward to their meeting again in the final this year; the third competitor last year was Chatham.

This week will pretty nearly tell the tale as to the chances of Sussex being in the finale for they start a swing around the western section which will be the acid test of their strength. They have three games scheduled in as many days, playing St. Stephen on Wednesday evening, with Fredericton on Thursday and finally meeting Marysville at Fredericton on Friday evening. If the Sussex machine can clean up that trio of games then the Abbies better get ready to meet their old rivals again. The addition of the third game in a row, however, will make a terrible test for the Dairy Kings and they will find the Marysville team a hard-checking aggregation to meet after a speed battle the previous night with Fredericton.
The past week marked the return of has lost only one decision, and that was to Joe Burman, in recent battles he has beaten Bad News Ever, Teddy Joyce and Frankie Edwards, all of whom are capable youngsters.
Unless Chatham's team develops

St. John to the arena of provincial hockey and it was most auspicious that the winter port team should start off with a win after an absence of so many years from complete activity in the sport. The unhappy difficulty which developed respecting several of their players and resulted in their suspension by the guardians of amateurism in the Maritime Provinces has not deterred St. Stephen from continuing its membership in the league, after an absence of a period of years also, and the team from the St. Croix Valley has been fighting gamely in the face of handicaps which some who evidently didn't know the fighting spirit of the Border Team feared might cause their withdrawal.
The standing of the teams of the western section of the league to date follows:

strength to successfully battle their old rivals again which is not unlikely the title of the northern section may be pretty definitely settled this week when Bathurst journeys to Campbellton on Wednesday for their return game with last year's runners-up. Campbellton beat Bathurst at the Gloucester shire-town by a single tally in their first meeting and if they repeat this week their chances in the northern section will be regarded as exceptionally bright as they are a husky, rugged, well-matured machine.

match between Dempsey and Willis. Possibly it has been found impossible to stage such a bout because of the racial question. Johnson is too crude and so, also, is Firpo. Gibbons is too small, and the same handicap is attached to Greb. There being no others, Willard's chances for another bout are enhanced.
It is doubtful, however, even if a Dempsey-Willard bout is arranged, that it will be held in New York State. Willard first would have to establish his age within the stipulated thirty-eight years placed as a maximum for a boxer by the State Athletic Commission. Then Willard would be compelled to have one or two trial bouts before being permitted to box here, a prospect which holds no appeal whatever for the former champion. New Jersey, however, has no age limit, and unless the commission across the Hudson declined to sanction the bout, it could be held in Riker's huge arena across the river undoubtedly and before a great crowd.

WILLARD POPULAR WITH RING FANS

(New York Times)
Unless the unexpected happens in boxing, Jess Willard will get another chance at the title he lost to Jack Dempsey. The beating he received in the memorable battle at Toledo in 1915 is a dim memory to all outward appearances. The former champion is going quietly about the task of preparing himself for the contemplated rematch with Dempsey, regardless of opposition to the match because of his age.
If popularity is to be the determining factor in the question, the Willard is assured of another meeting with Dempsey. The former champion right now is riding high on a wave of popularity, greater than he knew in his days as champion. He was one of three aspirants for Dempsey's title in the ring at Madison Square Garden last Friday night. Floyd Johnson and Harry Wills were the others. Of the trio Willard is admittedly past the crest, as ring usefulness goes. Willis is believed at the top of his form right now. Johnson is a ring beginner who has been weakened by further derisions to Boston and some other players have gone to Bathurst, where the pulp and paper mills have opened up some good employment possibilities. However, Chatham's team is a fast aggregation of young players who have so far shown marked scoring ability and they will give the older and more experienced players a real battle.

GENESESE VALLEY HAS DRIFTS 25 FEET DEEP
Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Residents of the Genesee valley who are digging themselves out of one of the largest snow storms in many years, expressed fears of a big flood in the spring unless there is a gradual thaw. Farmers in the vicinity of Mount Morris, a village near here, virtually snowbound since early in the month, report drifts to a depth of 25 feet in some places. Several houses have been covered from view.

MANY HEARD IN OAK HALL CASE

Visit of J. J. McAuley to Fredericton Told of.

Testimony in Matter of the Theft of Clothing from King Street Establishment—Prisoner Himself Giving Evidence.

Hearing was continued this morning in the case of the King against John J. McAuley, charged with theft from Oak Hall, in the circuit court before Mr. Justice Berry.

John O'Leary a conductor on the Montreal train leaving St. John at 4.30 said he recalled that on December 7 he had had some trouble with three men on his train.

B. A. Sinclair, night watchman at Fredericton Junction, said the accused was one of three men who had been in a C. P. R. coach at Fredericton Junction. He was positive the accused was one of them.

Walter Bratney, C. P. R. engineer between St. John and McAdam said that on Dec. 9 at Welsford he got out of his engine and when he returned there was a man in the engine and the fireman was giving him a lunch.

Oscar Westberg, cook at St. John drydock, said he recalled the accused on December 6 at 8.30 at night. He had called at the camp at Courtenay Bay to get James Drake's clothes. He had left at 10.05.

Mr. Ryan he said the accused was wearing a dark green overcoat. Henry Ellsworth, Salvation Army officer, said that on Thursday, Dec. 7, he had been at the McAuley home about 9 o'clock. He had not seen the accused then or for a week before.

Mrs. Katherine Drake said she knew the McAuley family and had seen him accused in May. She had seen him on Sunday night December 8 and again on Saturday the 9th. On Saturday about 2 o'clock while she was at the McAuley house the accused and two others entered. The accused was wearing a dark green coat. He had told his mother that he did not know about the break into the store, saying that he had just come in from Fredericton. He said he would go right up to Mr. Smith and report what he had done. He said he would be glad to bring witnesses to show he had been in Fredericton.

Mr. Ryan he said the Drake previously mentioned in this case was no relation to her or her husband. The latter's name was George B. Drake. One of the men who entered the house with John was Dupre. The third man had a peculiar eye. She asked Dupre if he knew anything about the trouble and he said "No."

Mrs. John Scott said she knew the McAuley family. She identified a coat produced as one like her husband's which she had given to Angus McAuley. She produced from a parcel trousers to match the coat. She had given him a pair of boots some time before. She had gone to see Mrs. McAuley. Three men entered, John, Dupre and a man she didn't know. His mother had asked him why he had come home, saying he would be arrested. He said he knew nothing about it. He would go down and report to the Chief of Police. She was saying that Mrs. McAuley in her trouble. She heard that papers had been found with the name McAuley on them.

Fred Scott, electric welder with the N. B. Power Company, said he had worked with both Angus and John. He identified a cap produced as one Angus had been wearing about four o'clock on the afternoon of December 7. He identified a coat as one Angus had worn.

Mr. Ryan he said he saw Angus at the Union Station about four o'clock in the afternoon. He had been wearing a dark overcoat. The cap was very similar to the one produced in court.

Accused Testifies. John McAuley, the accused, described the plan of the ground floor of his home. He identified papers produced as his. He had put them on the mantelpiece on Thursday afternoon, December 7. He was going to Houlton, Maine, and intended taking them with him. He and Drake and Dupre had gone to Gilbert's second hand store in Dock street and then to the station where Drake checked his suitcase and that of the witness to Fredericton. They bought one first class ticket. The witness had been wearing a green overcoat which belonged to Dupre. Dupre had a lighter green coat on. The witness had left his own coat at home. They got on the train and after passing Fairville the conductor came around. Drake gave the conductor the money for the fares. They were going to Houlton via Fredericton because Drake said he could get some money from some people he knew. The witness had told the conductor his name was Jack McDonald. When they got to Fredericton they were passing along the street when a woman ap-

ICY GRIP ON CITY IN EARLY MORN

Fourteen Below Here at 8 O'clock This Morning

Fredericton had it 32, Hampton 30 and Woodstock 40—Quick Rise in Temperature and More Snow Comes—Reports from Outside.

According to the reading of the thermometer at the Meteorological Observatory on Douglas avenue, the minimum temperature was reached at eight o'clock this morning, when it stood at fourteen below zero. Other thermometers about the city registered all the way from ten to eighteen degrees below. Reports from Hampton placed the reading there at thirty below at six o'clock this morning, with an even lower temperature in Sussex. The temperature here rose rapidly and was ten above zero at noon, with more snow being added to the already bounteous supply.

The Western Union reports temperatures elsewhere as follows: Edmundston—Cloudy; 22 below. Grand Falls—Thirty below at 8.30 a. m. Woodstock—Forty below early this morning.

St. Stephen—Twenty-six below; snow starting. Moncton—Clear; 25 below. Sydney—Fine; thermometer zero; wind east.

Work was not held up on any of the boats loading in this port by the ice. The ice was broken up by the men on the pier following the storm of last week can be judged when it is known that seventeen men were needed to clear No. 15 dock from the shed to the waterfront. The snow was drifted from the edge of the wharf to the roof of the shed, though a large chute had been built there. The ship loading was not held up, as she was loading grain, but it was necessary to clear the wharf before the rest of her cargo could be put on board.

Fredericton, N. B., Jan. 18.—From a succession of the heaviest snowstorms of years Central New Brunswick has been plunged into the coldest weather of the winter. From a maximum of 17 above zero yesterday afternoon the mercury nose-dived to 32 below the zero last night. February 18, 1922 was Fredericton's coldest day yet recording 98 below zero on that day. That exceeded all records since January 27, 1912, when 86 below was also recorded. The only lower temperatures shown on the old records are: 41 below on Feb. 6, 1904 and 44 below on Jan. 15, 1905.

Amherst, N. S., Jan. 18.—Coldest weather set in here last night, and during the early hours of the morning the mercury dropped rapidly until it reached 24 below zero. At eight this morning the thermometer remained under this figure. There is no wind.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 18.—The coldest weather of the season came to Halifax at five o'clock this morning when the thermometer on Citadel Hill registered six below zero. At Bedford the lowest reading, early this morning, was twenty-two below.

Sherbrooke, Que., Jan. 18.—The thermometer registered to 20 below in the city early last night, but the wind gradually changed to the south and this morning the temperature had moderated to a point or two above zero.

Western New York Gets It. Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Western New York yesterday shivered in the coldest weather of the season, the mercury dropping to the zero mark early in the morning and at night of high winds and snow. NEWS OF OTTAWA
MOURN PATRIARCH

Moses Bilsky, First Jewish Citizen of Capital, Passes Away.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 17.—(Canadian Press)—By the death of Moses Bilsky here, Ottawa Jewry sustained a profound loss. As the first Jewish citizen of the capital, Mr. Bilsky, who had attained the age of ninety-four years, was known for many years as an ardent worker, in fact his career was one of the most interesting and possibly the most romantic in the capital. Coming from Russia with his father, Ely Bilsky, when only fourteen years old, he first settled in Montreal. When his father returned to Russia a few years later, young Bilsky then went down to stay with relatives at Brooklands, N. Y. Of an adventurous spirit he decided to strike out on his own and returned to Canada. After staying only a few months in Montreal, he came to Ottawa in 1867.

Answering the call of gold from the north countries, he started out for the Cariboo gold fields in 1861, a journey which undertaken before the steel had been laid across the country, had to be made by rail and water via New York, the Panama Isthmus, San Francisco and Victoria. The journey took six weeks. Not satisfied with the conditions of things upon his arrival, he started back on horseback and on foot. Arriving in San Francisco, he enlisted in Uncle Sam's army, in '68, during the time of the Civil War. He served as trooper in "Prisco" at the time that Abraham Lincoln was assassinated. The city was placed under martial law, and he was kept on duty patrolling the streets. During this period he had a lively time helping to subdue rioting and received a slight wound in the leg.

After an absence of six years from Ottawa, Mr. Bilsky returned and started up in the jewelry business. In the '70's he opened up his first jewelry store on Rideau street, near Mosgrove. This was the parent company of the present great business. Soon after 1900, he took his sons in the business, then situated at its present location, under the name of M. Bilsky & Son, Ltd.

In 1915, after forty-five years of business as a jeweler, he retired from taking an active interest in the firm and it was re-organized under the name of Bilsky, Ltd. Business friends have always held him highly in esteem. Although a clever business man, he was known as a big hearted person and was always willing to help deserving charities. Mr. Bilsky, besides being the first Jewish citizen of the capital, was also the inaugurator of the religious life in the Jewish community of the city. He started the first synagogue on the site, now located at 104 Rideau street, shortly after his return from his adventurous trip to the gold fields and in the U. S. army. He was also one of the leaders of the Zionist movement in the city, and took a prominent part in the Jewish celebration in Ottawa at the granting of a mandate over Palestine to Great Britain and the promise of the formation of a Jewish state in Palestine. His mind and all his other faculties were of the best until the very last. He had a wonderful memory and often recounted his many adventures on the Cariboo gold trail or when with the U. S. army. He could even remember the names of the vessels in which he traveled on his way to the Arctic.

"YOUR MONEY OR KISS," HE HISSED

15-Year-old Osculatory Bandit Who Accosted Orange Women, Held as a Delinquent.

New York, Jan. 17.—Victor De Bellis, the fifteen-year-old "kiss bandit" who has been identified by three Orange, N. J., women as the highwayman who accosted them on dark streets there recently with demands for "money or a kiss," will have to stand trial in the Newark Juvenile Court on a charge of delinquency. Victor, who lives at 386 Central Avenue, Orange, is large for his age. He is over five feet nine inches tall and weighs more than 160 pounds. He wears knickerbockers. The fact that he chose as a site for his demands Fuller Terrace, where Mrs. Eleanor Louise Brigham was murdered in her home two days after Christmas, struck terror to the hearts of the fair ones he encountered.

Judge Bianchi released him under $500 to insure his presence in the Children's Court, Victor's three intended victims, who all escaped without delivering the requested loot related their experiences. Mrs. Frances B. McConnell of 805 Fuller Terrace, Orange, the first to identify De Bellis, said he stopped her in front of her home and commanded, "Your money or a kiss." She became frightened and ran into the house. Victor displayed more diplomacy on his second alleged quest of the elusive Miss Anna McGovern of 715 Emory Street, Orange, in recounting her meeting with him, said he first asked her if he could get under her umbrella.

Not knowing exactly how to refuse him, she acquiesced by silence. They walked along together a short distance, then Victor, she said, asked her to give him a dollar. As she started to run he called after her, "Or a kiss." In Miss Helen Ogden of 463 Highland Avenue, who saw service overseas as a U. S. A. worker, De Bellis encountered some resistance. When Miss Ogden told him she had no money and no valuables with her he said: "I'll have to have a kiss, then." "Don't be ridiculous," Miss Ogden replied. Victor watched her walk away. Victor's actions are attributed by his father and his sister to a fertile imagination, stimulated by too frequent attendance at the movies and to home-made wine.

LEVERHULME'S TRIBUTE TO WIFE

London, Jan. 4.—(By Mail).—Princess Beatrice opened the Lady Lever Art Gallery, Port Sunlight, and Lord Leverhulme announced his intention of transferring the building and priceless collection to trustees to control it, with a sufficient income for its maintenance free of cost to any individual, or the firm of Lever Brothers. Lord Leverhulme said his late wife was always part of his life. They were born on opposite sides of the road, attended the same school when five years of age, and she accepted him when he was 21, when his visible and reliable income was $6 per week exclusive of tips. Apart from that, he got 30s. and a ticket to the Isle of Man for an annual holiday, and spread it over two

She was a womanly woman, and wives who wished to hold their husbands should make them feel they had every confidence in them. A man who was fortunate to win the love of a good woman had won everything life could give. Art had always appealed to him as stimulating and uplifting.

PUNISH MASTERS FOR PUPILS' DEED
London, Dec. 28.—(By mail).—Schoolmasters must be punished for the misdeeds of their former pupils! This is the startling opinion of Sir James Castle, the famous surgeon, in a lecture on "The Pupil, the Pedagogue, and the Parson." STATESMEN WHO DID GOOD WORK

A Halifax Welcome to Hon. Messrs. Fielding and Lapointe.

(Halifax Chronicle)

Halifax will be proud of the honor which it has of extending to Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance and Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, a cordial welcome home on their return from their European mission. They have been engaged for several months, first as representatives of the Dominion in the Assembly of the League of Nations, and subsequently in negotiations with the Governments of France, Belgium, Italy and Spain, in promoting the national and trade interests of Canada abroad, and the results of their efforts, we believe, will be fruitful in benefits for our country.

Mr. Fielding is a veteran in international diplomacy. He holds an acknowledged place as a world statesman a quarter of a century ago, almost to the day he came back from overseas where he had been engaged in similar enterprises and similar efforts on behalf of the Dominion, and during the intervening period he has been ceaseless in and out of office in his efforts to advance the interests of the country, to extend its trade relations and to provide freer and wider markets for its products.

The time spent abroad has been an exceedingly busy period for the Canadian Ministers. After the conclusion of the sessions of the League of Nations they entered into negotiations with the Government of France and succeeded in negotiating and completing the Anglo-Canadian trade arrangements, which promise to operate to the mutual advantage of both countries in stimulating the interchange of trade and providing larger markets for Canadian products. They also succeeded in negotiating a similar trade agreement with Italy. Subsequently they conducted negotiations with the Governments of Belgium and Spain, and although trade treaties were not actually concluded, tentative agreement was reached, and London cables indicate that substantial progress has been made towards establishing freer trade relations between those countries and Canada.

In addition Mr. Fielding and Mr. Lapointe had the great satisfaction of securing a finality in the negotiations for the removal of the long-standing grievance with regard to the embargo on Canadian cattle, and, while they were in the Old Country, of witnessing the enactment by the British Parliament of a statute which removed that obnoxious prohibition.

Mr. Fielding, as we have stated, is an old hand in conducting important negotiations of this character, but he has had a valuable aid in the young and brilliant Minister of Marine. Mr. Lapointe especially made a fine impression in the Assembly of the League of Nations, and a Toronto gentleman who recently returned to Canada bears testimony to the fact that Mr. Lapointe was a place of distinction in that gathering of statesmen representing most of the countries in the world by the statesmanlike character and the broad-visioned sweep of the addresses which he made in the Assembly.

Mr. Fielding and Mr. Lapointe have represented Canada not only with great credit, but with high distinction abroad, and it is not too much to say that the prestige of our Dominion has been enhanced by reason of their personal contact with the representatives of other countries, and by the dignified and able way in which they have spoken and acted for Canada on every occasion.

Nova Scotians will take a peculiar pride in welcoming Mr. Fielding's return in good health and spirits, but they will be none the less cordial in their greeting to Mr. Lapointe, whom we have grown to know and to admire. They come back to enter immediately upon the important duty of preparing for the meeting of Parliament, but they do not come empty handed. They have substantial results to show for the time they spent in Europe. They were worthy representatives of Canada, they did much to promote her interests abroad, and Canadians will be proud to join in congratulating them upon the success which they achieved and of bidding them a hearty welcome back to the homeland.

(Moncton Transcript) The executive of the Moncton Home for Women at a meeting held in Moncton last week placed upon its records their appreciation of the splendid gift of one hundred dollars for that institution by the Bonar Law Chapter I. O. D. E. and also of their pledge for an annual contribution of fifty dollars per year for five years. At the same meeting intimation was received that the Home Mission Board of the Presbyterian Church offers to advance the sum of eight thousand dollars to conclude the purchase of the eight thousand dollars, over three thousand dollars of which have been subscribed in Moncton. The prospects are bright for the opening of this much needed institution in the near future.

Mrs. H. LeFevre of Medicine Hat, Alberta, always gives her little girl Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, and Mrs. May Stephen Sharpe of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., is never without it in her home. Your druggist will supply you, and it costs only a cent a dose. Try it in constipation, colic, biliousness, flatulency, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. TAKE DR.
