Boston, Jan. 11.—Joe Dugan, former Philadelphia third baseman, obtained by the Red Sox in a trade which sent Roger Peckinpaugh to the Washington club, probably will be transferred to shortstop for next season's play, Manager Duff said today.

With Eddie Foster to cover third base, Boston is protected at that corner, but got left by the recent transfer of Everett Scott to New York is the one which Manager Duffy said he expected to have Dugan.

The fact that Boston chose Frank O'Rourke, regular shortstop of the Washington club, as the other player in trade for Peckinpaugh caused considerable local sport writers of the possibility that Manager Frasee had another trade in mind.

New York, Jan. 11.—Roger Peckinpaugh, former Yankee captain, who will assume the management of the Washington club this season, will be the fourth active player in charge of a team in the big leagues. The others, who will assume a dual role in the 1922 campaign, are the Speaker of last season, as Ty Cobb of the Tigers, and Bill Killefer of the Chicago Nationals.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "have you and watered stock, you would care to dispose of?"

"Well, then," said the reporter, "do you know where I could pick up a block or two?"

"Must be lots of it layin' round," said Hiram. "I guess most everybody's got some. I might be able to help myself on Hanner barked again it. What you think about it?"

"I was looking for a safe investment," said the reporter. "When stock is properly and judiciously watered the public has great respect for it. Nobody would do anything to weaken its market value. For example, if I held some watered stock and you learned that for some reason I was not getting my customary fat dividend you would send me a check, and also ask the neighbors to help."

"Oh!" said Hiram. "I would—would 'of course you would," said the reporter.

"Well," said Hiram, "if that's your opinion of me and the neighbors I guess I'll run along. Ever seen that sign—'Be careful of your pocket'—you ought to have one on the door—By Hen!"

GETS REVENUE BUT MAKES DRUNKARDS

(Canadian Press.) Montreal, Jan. 11.—As a revenue producer the Quebec liquor law has brought millions into the treasury of the province and as a publicity measure thousands of visitors have been drawn to the city, but from the standpoint of sobriety drunkenness is evidently increasing, and although the high water mark of 1914 has not yet been equalled, it seems to be coming dangerously near it.

This declaration is from the interim report on the present liquor system of the province presented at a meeting of the presbytery of Montreal here yesterday. It is stated in this report that figures of drunkenness for 1914 were 14,151, and in 1920, 9,092. In Toronto the figures are 14,247 for 1914, and 3,483 for 1918, while in 1920 they were still less. In Winnipeg the figures are 1,002 in 1919, and 1,000 in 1920.

The report objected to the Quebec liquor law in that it took control out of the hands of the people and as being, for that reason, undemocratic.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost magical. It takes but a moment to prepare and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can clarify the money usually spent for cough preparations, and give you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant. You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out, and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, cough, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated extract of genuine Norway pine compound, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "25¢ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

ACCIDENT DELAYS TRAINS. Traffic was held up more than two hours on the Canadian Government Railway two miles east of Amherst yesterday afternoon when a wheel on a first class coach of the Maritime express, which left St. John at 1:40 p. m., came off, causing two of the trucks to straddle the rails and tearing the track up for about 100 yards. A wrecking crew from Amherst went to the scene and the track was cleared at 3:40 p. m. The Halifax express, due in St. John last evening at 8:35, did not arrive until 8:25, nearly three hours behind time. The express due at 9:50 p. m., arrived only a few minutes late.

5TH AVE. FOX CHASE CAUSES JAIL TERM

Furrier Sentenced to Two Days' Imprisonment and to Pay $100 Fine on Cruelty Charge—Tried a "Publicity Stunt."

(New York Times) Two days in jail and a fine of $100 was the punishment imposed yesterday by Magistrate Corrigan upon Avrom Kosofsky, President of the Hudson Bay Fur Company, who pleaded guilty to a charge of cruelty to an animal in releasing a fox in the Fifth avenue traffic as a "publicity stunt."

"Never has the public indignation at an act of cruelty to a dumb animal been aroused as in this case," said Magistrate Corrigan, who was sitting in a Court of Special Sessions, so that the trial could be hastened.

The magistrate said that the winding of a twine muzzle through the animal's mouth, partly cutting off its breath and causing pain, was enough to convict the defendant. Testimony also was that one of the animal's forelegs had been broken under the wheel of a limousine.

In pleading guilty, Kosofsky said that he was ashamed and that he had no intention of causing the animal any pain. Before leaving the court he told officials of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals that he wished to donate $200 to the society's fund, but they told him they would refuse his money.

Herbert Barry, counsel for the society, told the court that the animal taken to the Zoo Central Park was not the fox released at Central Park was not the same fox.

IMPORTANT LIQUOR DECISION BY THE P. E. ISLAND COURT

Charlottetown, Jan. 10.—That section of the Prince Edward Island liquor act prohibiting any person having in his possession any liquor unless purchased from an authorized vendor and bearing the vendor's label on bottle or container was declared unconstitutional by the court in a decision handed down yesterday by Chief Justice Matheson, delivering the judgment of the provincial superior court today in the ceremonial case of Raymond Flood, convicted in the lower courts of having liquor in his possession not bearing a vendor's label.

The court held that section 82 of the act, which was in question, was so broad that it in effect prevented inter-provincial trade in liquor and would suppress even the importation of liquor from one province to another or a foreign country.

The result of the decision, which is understood to be the best of its kind in Canada, is far-reaching.

TO LOCATE CASES OF TUBERCULOSIS

The grave need for organizing a case-finding campaign to discover the number of cases of tuberculosis in St. John was forcibly presented to the Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis at its meeting yesterday afternoon by Dr. H. A. Farris and the society decided to hold a special meeting next week to launch the campaign.

A BRIGHTENING OUTLOOK

Mr. De Valera should endeavor to avoid the risk of being rated as a common scold. The Daily Eireann has passed him by and is going on to build up the Irish Free State.

UNTO THE HILLS

While the west is assumed to be in need of ministers of the gospel, the ministers continue to go into politics. The Manitoba Free Press says:

SOME VALUABLE EVIDENCE.

So much comes out of the United States about failure to enforce prohibition and a changing sentiment in favor of a return in some sort to the sale of liquor under proper restrictions.

"Canada has long been our best customer, last year taking our exports in the amount of about a billion dollars—products which we are well fitted to produce and must find a market for."

"The time is opportune for a move in the direction of better trade relations between Canada and the United States."

"The Progressives of Alberta are not disposed to make way for the return of Hon. Charles Stewart as a member of the King's government, and those of Grenville, Ontario, have decided to oppose Hon. Mr. Meighen, although the Liberals are willing to let him go by acclamation."

"The progress being made in developing community singing in St. John is a source of satisfaction to all music lovers. There is here a great field for concerted action of real benefit to the social life of the city."

THE DEATH OF TERPESCHORE.

Such words as "Chimney Corner," "Ingle Nook," suggest ancestral halls of long ago; Grim suits of armor, and the family "spook," Gay sporting squires, and dames who curtsied low.

The mistletoe and holly deck the wall, The mistletoe, and the party dancers glide; While, type of Shakespeare's sad "Last scene in a forest,"

But Terpeschore is dead on "Avon's Will." No more we see the smiling partners set For sprightly country dance, or smart quadrille, Cotton's grace, or stately minuet.

The dancing-master's art has reached an end, Now any corner pal can "put you down," Go dress and act immediately, my friend, Then hug, and squirm, and wriggle, and you do it all.

HOPE A. THOMSON.

THE SEER.

(Rev. George Scott) He saw so many lovely things, Our endless eyes may never know, In budding flower and soaring wings, In sunrise, and in sunset's glow.

And he could hear bewitching tones, Sung by the aspen's quivering leaves, Interspiced with the mystic runes, The stars write on the harvest sheaves.

He knew the secret that the fides Were whispering to the public bench, The touching eloquence that bides Behind a poet's raptur'd speech.

He stood beside our common ways, The light of gladness in his eyes, For in the drabness of our days He saw the world's self sacrifice.

He saw so many lovely things, In forest or in crowded street, The sweet divinity that clings To whoever man shall set his feet.

I know not why this man should see, Or why his ears responsive be, To music when our own are sealed.

But I rejoice when he is glad, Because his spirit's overflow, Makes sorrow's self not so sad, And gladness takes a warmer glow.

He saw so many lovely things, Our duller eyes may never see, The heaven-born dignity that clings, And glorifies the soul of man.

LIGHTER VEIN.

The Usual Way, "Hallo, Fred! How did you get on in Scotland?"

"Oh, fine, Jack! We did grand, was there all the time. By the way, do you know, I heard a funny thing when I was there."

"Indeed?" said Jack. "What was it?" "Well, they told me that they didn't hang a man with a wooden leg in Scotland."

"That's queer!" said Jack. "How's a rule?" "Oh, they hang 'em with a rep as a rule!" was the reply.

Trouble Brewing, The Editor—What's wrong with our report? I wrote it myself and said that you, being considered the fittest member, were elected president of your club.

Mrs. Ponderous—The paper says "the fattest member."

Never Touched Her, A negro woman was on trial in a police court, charged with assaulting another negro. The victim did not appear, being in the city hospital, all January, having been diving off a porch on to a granite-paved court.

"Luella Washington," said the police judge, "you are charged with striking Mandy Gobbett on the head and throwing her over the railing of her own porch. What was it for?"

"Judge," Luella replied, "Ah, mevah struck that woman, an' mevah toiled her. Ah had reprimanded her for throwing garbage out back, an' she kept right on doin' it, an' it was mevah! Ah reprimanded her again. Judge, Ah come down from mah flat up above, an' was holding up an eight and jest like the State of Liberty, jes' like Ah'm holdin' up mah right hand now, reprimandin' her, and as Ah come close to her, she charged with strikin' Mandy Gobbett on the head and throwin' her over the railing. Ah mevah toiled her."

"A hatched, judge!"

ENTHUSIASTIC OVER LILY LAKE

Prominent Citizen Writes of Skating Championships.

Comments Y. M. C. I. for Transfer to Rockwood Ice to Ensure Notable Meet in Canadian Classic and Calls for Strong Popular Backing.

The decision to hold the Canadian Skating Championships on the picturesque saucer-floor of Lily Lake, Rockwood Park, sent thrill No. 2 through the sporting blood of the community.

My advice is just watch these croaking birds. It is the fellow with the lack of public spirit, blizzard announcement of what get-togethers means; man whose vision is bound by his hat-rim that shouts calamity in advance, who runs ahead and hollers 'hold your horses the elephant is coming!'

The executive behind this international tournament have taken a big bold step! They could be assured of a splendid revenue by holding the meet on the East End grounds. Bleacher accommodations could be erected to make it a self-sustaining proposition and the fencing would shut out deadbeats. And they had practically decided to go ahead with this plan, but—

I tell you that little word "but" looms big in this case. It means that in spite of the surety of making expenses on the small with much seating built up already, they felt there was something in the nature of the grand sportsman that demanded greater free scope. This was to be an all-Canada meet, not a little sport affair of our city-own. In fact there would be Yankees and possibly foreigners here to strive for our national laurels and if so we must make them fight them under real Canadian conditions.

What could be more typically Canadian than lovely Lily Lake, sunken between the wooded hills of Rockwood? More ideal for a winter skating haunt than any other place in the East.

It is so true that little word "but" looms big in this case. It means that in spite of the surety of making expenses on the small with much seating built up already, they felt there was something in the nature of the grand sportsman that demanded greater free scope.

LLOYD GEORGE GOING WARILY ON ELECTIONS

Sees "Wee Frees" Cross Current Gaining Strength.

Stock Stands High—Premier at the Top of Prestige, But He Lacks Political Machinery.

(Special Cable to the New York Times and Montreal Gazette.)

London, Jan. 8.—When Premier Lloyd George returns to England at the end of the week he will have to deal with a domestic problem which, in its way, presents problems almost as complex as those before the Cannes conference. This will be the vexed question of a general election in Great Britain.

Mr. Lloyd George's stock in the electoral market probably was never so high as it is at present. Great Britain has breathed a deep sigh of relief over the transference of Irish troubles to Ireland, at least in part, and for an uncertain period. Some of the satisfaction experienced over the results attained at Washington has been reflected on Mr. Lloyd George and his initial success at the Cannes conference in putting the economic reconstruction of Europe in the forefront of the agenda—no matter how many obstacles still remain to be overcome before actual form can be given to his plan—has further enhanced his prestige.

At first blush it might look as if Lloyd George could go to the country and get any majority he wanted. The reality is very different from appearances. It is more than likely that before he left England the prime minister had about half made up his mind to have a general election in February. Various kites were flown in the press, and at first they flew high and steadily in a favorable wind. But cross currents have now made themselves felt and the political atmosphere is in a very disturbed state indeed. Some observers, in fact, detect the approach of a barometric low which may wreck Lloyd George's ship unless he handles her very carefully. There are signs of incipient revolt on the part of the Conservative section of the Coalition against the continued "dictatorship" of Lloyd George. The prime minister wants an early general election, but unless he can persuade his Conservative colleagues into full agreement with him he will hardly risk it.

For a British prime minister, Mr. Lloyd George occupies the anomalous position of being a leader without a party, using that term in its accepted meaning in British political phraseology. He is the head of the Coalition Liberals, who speak derisively of the Independent Liberals, headed by Mr. Asquith and Sir Donald MacLean as "Wee Frees."

But two hard facts stand out. The "Wee Frees" possess both the Liberal party chest and the Liberal party organization throughout the country. Mr. Lloyd George's followers in the last few years have made every effort both to collect funds and create electoral machinery of their own, but they are a long way yet from being as well equipped in either respect as the so-called "Wee Frees," to whom Lord Gladstone has just given the prestige of the great name he inherited by attempting the direction of their electoral campaign.

High as Mr. Lloyd George's stock may stand, there are few of his supporters who would advise him to challenge the Independent Liberals in a straight contest with the Conservatives and the Labor party standing apart and fighting for themselves. Personality is one thing, electoral machinery is another.

A coalition of one sort or another is necessary for the triumphant success which is Mr. Lloyd George's ambition. Personal success he could certainly get under any circumstances, but good judges estimate that, standing alone, Mr. Lloyd George and his special following would at best be returned in numbers barely sufficient to constitute a strong third party.

There are some who would urge Mr. Lloyd George to dare all and risk all, arguing that at the head of a relatively small but solid minority he would hold the balance of parties. The assumption in this argument is that a strong section at least of the present Coalition-Unionists would rally to support the man who has had charge of their fortunes these past six years. Political gratitude, however, it is not a thing Mr. Lloyd George is likely to bank upon.

Thus it is that the decision he will make as to whether to return from Cannes is one likely to have an important bearing upon the prime minister's political future. If he can persuade his present colleagues that the continuance of the Coalition is wholly desirable, he can have a general election any time he pleases without fear of the result, but that would do little to prolong for a time what the best observers here hold to be a provisional arrangement, contrary to the spirit and traditions of the British political system.

The Coalition was formed for the purpose of war; it was continued to cope with the difficulties following the war. The difficulties still continue, and the country would willingly see Mr. Lloyd George remain at the helm. His trouble is that he has not got control of the machinery which drives the ship.

Will your "Good Morning" last all day?

Easy to start from the breakfast table with zest and enthusiasm, but how easy is it to keep on?

Does ambition last, or lag, as the day develops?

The afternoon "slump" is a factor to be counted upon, in business or social life.

Usually, there's a reason.

Nerves whipped by tea or coffee won't keep on running, and they won't stand constant whipping.

Many a man or woman who has wished the afternoon would be as bright as the morning has simply been wishing that the nerves wouldn't have to pay the natural penalty for being whipped with the caffeine drug.

Postum gives a breakfast cup of comfort and cheer, without any penalties afterward. There's no "letting down" from Postum—no midday drowsiness to make up for midnight wakefulness; no headaches; no nervous indigestion; no increase of blood pressure.

Think it over. There's full satisfaction in Postum—a cup of comfort for anybody (the children included), any time.

You can get Postum from your grocer or your waiter today, and probably you'll begin to have better tomorrows, as so many thousands have had, who have made the change from coffee to Postum.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

FUNERALS

The funeral services of D. C. Fisher were held yesterday afternoon and were largely attended. Thorne Lodge, I. O. G. T., of which he was an active member, conducted a service at his late residence, 60 City road, at 1.45 p.m., preceding a short service conducted by Rev. Taylor McKim, St. Mary's church.

The late Mr. Adams has for many years been a member of the Beaumont Street Methodist Church, and of Dominion Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 141. He is survived by his wife, one son, Walter Adams, of this city, two brothers, David and John A. Adams, of West St. John, and two sisters, Mrs. B. Rafter, at Bellisquam and Miss Nellie Adams, at Cambridge, (Mass.). Three grandchildren also survive.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from his late residence after service there at 2.30 o'clock.

MUNITIONS IN CEMETERY.

Turin Carabinieri Find Artillery Hidden There by Communists.

Turin, Jan. 11.—(Associated Press).—The Turin carabinieri discovered large quantities of munitions buried in a cemetery near here. The stores included machine guns, bombs, rifles and several small cannon.

The planting of the munitions was traced to a number of Communist agitators, they said, some of whom were arrested.

164-YEAR OLD BIBLE FOUND

Goshen, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Miss Caroline Vail has just found in her home in Montgomery, Orange County, a Dutch book printed 164 years ago in old Holland and Dutch language. It was believed that her ancestors brought it to this country. The book was a Dutch Bible, printed in 1758. The name of Miss Vail's great grandmother, Sarah Brett, was inscribed on a leaflet, and it had been handed down from generation to generation along with other old relics of Revolutionary and Colonial days.

C. N. R. SUBURBAN TRAINS CANCELLED

Halifax Expresses Will Make Local Calls—Valley Train to Run Three Days a Week—Quebec Express Via Valley Road.

C. N. R. railway operators here have been informed that beginning next Monday, the suburban train to Hampton leaving here on week days at 10:30 p.m., excepting Saturdays, when it leaves at 11 p.m., is to be cancelled.

The Halifax train leaving here at 11 p.m., will make local stops and handle the traffic of the suburban train.

No. 9 Halifax train, arriving here at 6:05 a.m., will make local stops between Hampton and St. John. No. 23, from Sussex, due here at 8:35, will be the next local, the early suburban train from Hampton being cancelled.

Valley railway trains, 47 and 48, now running daily, will, it is said, run three days a week, the passenger train leaving here on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and arriving on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The mixed passenger-freight train will run as usual, leaving here on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and arriving on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The local passenger department had received no official information of the changes yesterday, but were aware that such alterations in the railway schedule were contemplated.

Advice from Fredericton is to the effect that there will be inaugurated the much talked of through express train service from St. John to Quebec via the Valley railway to Fredericton, thence by the Canada Eastern to McTavish Junction, and the transcontinental division to Quebec, the change to come into effect on January 15.

The proposed new service will not conflict with the present Canada Eastern service.

METAGAMA MOUNTBANKS.

For the second time this season the Metagama Mountbanks entertained a good house last night at the Seaman's Institute, and proved themselves popular favorites.

The first part of the programme was filled by the troupe, and the witty sallies of Aife Dean and Stan Wills, the end men, provoked much laughter.

In the second part the players assisted in a miscellaneous entertainment by Miss Slater, male impersonator and Miss Sloan, vocalist, both of whose numbers were well viewed.

Those who took part in the programme were C. Olden, R. Beas, A. Deane, F. Brooks, S. Wills, V. Thomas, Miss Sloan and Miss Slater.

STAFF OF M. R. A. ENTERTAINED BY MANAGEMENT

From the very youngest and newest office boy to the oldest employe of the company from the busiest manager to the last enrolled member of the staff, all the employes and members of Manchester Robertson Allison, Limited, and their wives, mustering some 350 in all, assembled last evening for the social dance and entertainment held in the large halls of the Germain street building.

The entertainment had been planned as a means of bringing the various members in touch with each other and fostering a spirit of friendship and good-fellowship, and its success in this respect and in all respects surpassed all that had been hoped for.

It was the first occasion on which such a gathering had been held and a very happy precedent was established. The whole affair was informal and delightfully social.

There was first an excellent musical programme, then many games were played upon a programme of ten dances enjoyed. Supper was served in the dining hall of the establishment and everybody was sorry when the hour of midnight had passed and the time came to sing Auld Lang Syne to mark the close of the evening.

There had been busy preparations in the building anticipating the big event. Entering from Germain street the guests found the carpet department as by magic had been transformed to a cosy sitting room with chintz curtained windows and gay flowers and many standard lamps to give bright light everywhere.

In this attractive setting cards and games were played by those for whom dancing had not an irresistible appeal. The opening programme was given in the spacious rug room above the carpet room and there the flags of all the Allies made a gay decoration overhead while the oriental rugs hung upon the walls added a touch of warm richness.

The chairman for the evening was Robert J. Dibble, who has been longest in the employ of the company, having served with it for forty-six years. It devolved upon him to announce the members of the programme, which were as follows: Orchestra selection; song, "O Canada," by Douglas Thomson and chorus by everybody; male quartet, E. E. Thomas, W. Drake, David Higgins and Mr. Corringham; reading, Miss L. Heffer; comic sketch, Tom Stuck, and D. Higgins; solo, D. Thorne; Indian club swinging, Miss Cathie Cox; reading, Miss Star; McAlpine, solo, Miss Gladys Tweedie. Each number was heartily enjoyed.

The programme had been arranged by a committee consisting of Mrs. Fenwick Fraser, Miss Edna Brown, Miss Katharine Blanche, Harry Dunn and David Lynch. A. Morrison was the general convener for the whole entertainment and W. G. Tapley was chairman of the games committee.

The chairs were quickly removed after the musical programme and dancing was commenced with an orchestra discouraging enticing numbers. J. Howard was the floor manager.

Supper was a dainty repast and was served in the large lunch hall, which occupies the entire upper story of one of the Germain street buildings and was for many years used by the Knights of Pythias. The hall lends itself to decoration, with its lofty ornamental ceiling of dark stained wood, its broad deep windows with pretty curtains all along one end and its pale tinted walls. Large flags were hung from cords which crossed overhead and made a brilliant setting while on the walls Christmas greetings tied with bright red bows gave an added touch of brightness. Red poinsettias ornamented the many small supper tables.

The very efficient convener for the refreshments were Miss Lilian Berwick and Miss Heffer. The decorations throughout were in charge of David Lynch and Mr. McKenzie.

The lunch room had been in use for nearly a year and is in charge of Miss Berwick, who gives all her time to looking after the serving of the meals and the welfare of the staff.

There is a compact and most convenient kitchen and its adjuncts of pantry and cupboards all well fitted up. Opening off the lunch hall is the rest and recreation room for the women of the staff. The rest room is furnished as a very comfortable sitting room with long couches, upholstered easy chairs, writing desk and sewing table. It is made good use of daily and there Miss Berwick, who has been mainly in charge, tends any cases of illness or accident which may occur.

Miss Berwick also visits any of the girls and women of the staff who are ill. In the lunch room hot dinners or cold lunches are served at cost to the members of the staff or they may bring their own lunches and have coffee or tea given them free of charge. The lunch room has been a great boon and during Christmas week 1,000 meals were served there.

On the walls are hung photographs of special features which the company has arranged and which have attracted public attention, such as special exhibits. There are also groups of members taking part in various activities, the roll of honor with fifty-seven names, and the notice with the life insurance to which every employe is entitled after six months' service.

The company has recently inaugurated an educational course for all its employes which will cover a period of one year and give a more thorough knowledge of salesmanship. The course has been inaugurated as tending towards the greater interest and appreciation on the part of the employe. In its initial stages it has been very well received and very successful. But perhaps no better means of stimulating pride in the company and a regard for its affairs and success could have been devised than the happy gathering of last night. It marked a new era in co-operation and appreciation.

The total enrollment was 475 with an average attendance of 208. The treasurer's report showed that the school had collected $667.76 for all purposes during the year. There was a balance on hand of $132.28.

The following officers were elected: Honorary superintendent, L. A. Belyea; superintendent, H. S. Wannamaker; associate superintendents, C. J. Stammers, W. W. Chase; secretary-treasurer, Lee Collins; assistant, Harbey Craft; auditors, Ernest Allwood, W. Belyea; pianists, Miss Gladys Dykeman, C. J. Stammers, W. Belyea. The superintendents for the different departments are: Frisling, Mrs. Gordon Sancton; Chinese, Mrs. R. D. Christie; Junior, Miss Maud Stillwell; home, Miss A. Brundage; Mrs. H. H. Downey; cradle roll, Mrs. George Scatlun.

The chairmen for committees were named as follows: Temperance, John L. Collins; programme, Archie Gillies; decorating, W. E. Campbell, assisted by Ralph Merrill.

The superintendent, in his annual address, said that the year just finished was one of the most successful in the history of the school and, with such an excellent organization back of him, he was confident that the year now beginning would prove to be the best the school ever experienced.

Quick action is the only hope when kidney disease appears. There is a whole train of dreadfully painful and fatal ailments which soon follow any neglect to get the kidneys right.

Others are rheumatism, lumbago, Bright's disease, hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure. In Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you will find a treatment which is both quick and thorough.

Mr. C. E. Raymus, Lindale, Alta., writes: "I was a great sufferer from kidney disease and lame back for more than a year. A friend of mine one day told me of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and acting upon his advice I tried them. NEW YORK DOCTORS OBEYING DRY LAW

12,500 Physicians in the State Issue 946,700 Liquor Prescriptions During 1921—Average is 76 for Each.

(New York Times.)
Figures made public yesterday by Ralph A. Day, federal prohibition director for New York state, show that during 1921 there were issued in this state a total of 946,700 liquor prescriptions by practicing physicians holding permits to prescribe liquors for their patients. There are 12,500 physicians in the state who have such permits, therefore the average number of prescriptions for each physician in seventy-six, which is considered decidedly small.

General Prohibition Agent O. A. Greager, of the staff of E. C. Yellowley, who is in charge of the permit division of the prohibition office, prepared the statistics for Director Day. Mr. Greager said that in the city 9,000 physicians hold permits to prescribe, while in the state outside of this city are 3,500 more, a total of 12,500. The number of physicians holding permits was more than doubled during the year.

Charles R. O'Connor, then prohibition director, reported last January that for the year ended December 31, 1920, there were in New York City 3,034 physicians holding permits and 2,180 physicians in the state outside of the city, a total of 5,214.

Under the regulations each physician is entitled to a prescription book containing 100 blanks every ninety days, which gives him 400 blanks a year. Had all the physicians used in 1921 all the prescriptions to which they were entitled, the number would have been 5,000,000 instead of fewer than 1,000,000. In the opinion of government officials the record is one that the physicians as a whole may well feel proud of.

Contrasted with the record in Chicago, where a total of 2,880,000 prescriptions were issued last year, the officials here consider the record of the New York state physicians as especially gratifying.

Each prescription is written for a pint of liquor and no one patient may receive more than one pint in ten days. Figured on a basis of $3 a pint, the druggists who filled the prescriptions in this state took in a total of $2,840,100. If the physicians who wrote the prescriptions received an average of $2 a visit, they received for this service $1,250,000, a total for medicinal liquors of $4,090,100.

"I will tell you," said one prohibition agent, "what I think is one reason the physicians wrote so few liquor prescriptions, comparatively speaking. It is notorious that it has been much easier to obtain good liquor in New York through bootleg channels than in Chicago, for instance. Therefore, it was not necessary to pay an additional fee to a physician for a prescription. Besides, those who want the stuff for beverage purposes find that the limit of one pint every ten days is inadequate for them, and having to make connections to obtain a supplemental supply they find it just as easy to obtain the whole amount required from the bootleg source."

"Of course, we found many instances where a physician used only a few blanks for the entire year and in some cases no blanks at all were used. On the other hand, there were some who used every blank permitted under the regulations and some endeavored to obtain more than this number. However, upon the whole, we found that the physicians in this state were endeavoring to live up to the requirements of the law."

"Our figures will show to the public," said Director Day, "that the doctors are not issuing 'hooch' prescriptions at random."

Officials of Bellevue Hospital said yesterday that during 1921 there were 2,162 persons treated for alcoholism in that institution. They said there were eleven deaths directly due to alcohol poisoning, but added that many persons who fell and fractured their skulls because of alcoholism, and died were not included in the "alcoholic deaths."

WAS CROWNING TRIUMPH FOR LLOYD GEORGE

Brilliant Success on Eve of Irish Disaster.

King's Congratulatory Telegram Expresses the General Feeling in England—The Scene at Downing Street as the Great News Became Known.

(From our own correspondent.)

London, Dec. 8.—The king's congratulatory telegram to the prime minister on the Irish settlement, which must, of course, be applied to all who engaged in the Irish negotiations, well expressed the general feeling in England. But no one doubts that the Irish concordat, almost a miracle in the light of past and present history, because the genius of his personality, never can statements have lived through a more intensive strain. I believe Lloyd George is almost overwhelmed with relief.

At the very last moment a brilliant success was snatched on the ominous verge of disaster. He is the very first to pay warm tribute to the policy and temper displayed, not only by his colleagues but also by the amazing personalities who voiced Sinn Fein. The agreement does not differ materially from that which was reached after Ulster rejected the All-Ireland Parliament. The Irish Free State, which Ulster is free to join up with or stand aloof from as sentiment or practical policy may dictate either now or in the future, becomes a dominant power with complete control of home affairs, including finance, but formally accepts communion with the empire and loyalty to the king, while contenting such naval rights to Great Britain as are vital to our sea strategy.

Really final. His authority I am able to say that the settlement terms now arrived at and which bear the signature of the Sinn Fein plenipotentiaries from Dublin as well as of the prime minister and his cabinet, may safely be termed in the negotiations, may safely be taken as final.

The House of Commons will not seriously question them. Even the "Die-Hards" can have no grievance where Ulster has none, and presumably will not question a form of Irish allegiance which pleases King George V.

In spite of all the allings and arrows of outrageous political fortune, the big concern in the Irish negotiations, by whom one means to indicate chiefly the prime minister, the Lord Chancellor, Arthur Griffith, and Michael Collins, have all along remained personally in a mood of buoyant optimism. However gloomily they might talk or however still distinctly hopeful. The London newspapers have been full of reports of the negotiations, but both sides have exercised almost superhuman self-restraint and there has been practically no loose chatter. It may be remembered that Mr. Churchill is a brilliant talker and gets about in fashionable drawing rooms, or dining rooms, more than most cabinet colleagues. Mr. Chamberlain is a regular scold of official secrets; Lloyd George never goesip; and Michael Collins, the lord chancellor is a lawyer accustomed to the habitual raucousness of the bar. As for the Sinn Feiners concerned in these negotiations, they have held their tongues outside the council chamber.

The Drama. A little group of London journalists shared a wonderful vigil on Monday night with an impassive policeman and a night watchman. Outside the portals of No. 10 Downing street. None of those who watched and waited with great interest and curiosity all the time of the intensive workings of Destiny inside the sombre doorway. It was a long and weary wait, but it had dramatic episodes and the denouement was a national elation. Everybody knew that the issue of a wonderful peace or a peculiarly disastrous war was at its crisis.

His selection for this post may recall to mind the part he played in the "Golovin affair," a ridiculous episode following the prime minister's consultation with the king, with his colleagues engaged in the negotiations, the sitting of the cabinet and the cabinet's share in it coming as a surprise to those who did not know his deep concern for the unhappy victims of Bolshevism. His interest in them, and still is, purely humanitarian, and arises from the natural horror of a cultured man at the thought of many thousands of men and women of his degree being driven to the extremities of mental labor and subject begging by people of the Lenin and Trotsky type.

This post of deputy high commissioner which he has accepted will be no sinecure. All over Southeastern Europe making a speech without knowing the language, and aboard ships in eastern harbors. We get few enough accounts of their sufferings, but if anyone wishes to get some idea of the fiasco of war and revolution, let him read Stephen Graham's latest book "Europe—Whither Bound?" which is far better than its title might suggest. The vast majority of the Russians are the remains of the old empire, and they are not to be trusted in the promises of France, but are now paying the penalty of falling in with the Bolsheviks, being forgotten. It is to our credit that Britain did her best to discourage the futile attempt to make the Soviet power, and the responsibility is not ours; but we cannot help feeling pangs in the fact that the League of Nations has asked an Englishman to assume the burdensome task of helping these unfortunate people to reconstruct their lives in countries other than that of their birth.

you no more than one else—if you know your mind, and refuse to be misled by a cunning and expensive special mixture—you will be kept right up to date about everything pertaining to this particular form of human vice. Last time I visited his beautiful shop-to-roughly understand my habits and desires and, therefore, as I have explained more than once to that West End tobaccoist, indispensable—he insisted that I should have a pipe with me. I was legitimatedly proud of them, and I found that, if you want to get a satisfactory pipe, you can get just the very thing. It is a neat little bag of quite good quality, suitably turned in the round which at the junction with the bowl, there is a small hoop of diamonds. The price is only thirty guineas—a real bargain. I told him frankly that the only reason I had for not buying one was that I had a diamond hoop ring. He assured me I ought to have been interested in a diamond hoop ring. He said that he had a diamond hoop ring. He said that he had a diamond hoop ring.

Princess Mary's Engagement. Immense popular interest has been aroused by the announcement of the engagement of Princess Mary, the monarch's daughter, to the prince of Wales, the Earl of Harewood, who is just under forty years of age and is a captain in the Grenadier Guards, with temporary rank of lieutenant-colonel, served with great distinction, winning the Victoria Cross, and is a member of the Order of St. Michael and St. George. The society gossip here for some time has been such an announcement as this, as was hinted pretty plainly in this column some weeks ago, but no one would expect that the princess would be the first of her family to wed. We should probably have heard this news in the latter part of the year, but for the disturbed state of politics in England, and the fact that Princess Mary's engagement is an interesting and popular precedent of English royalty, and is not a matter of English history.

WELCOMED PASTOR'S FAMILY. Rev. J. A. Swetnam, pastor of the Waterloo street Baptist church, arrived in the city last evening accompanied by his wife and two boys, Hubert and Gerald. They were met at the depot by John W. Mott and F. Coggin who accompanied them to their new home, 358 Union street. On entering the house, the surprise of Mr. and Mrs. Swetnam, the ladies of the church, had formed themselves into a welcome committee to meet the new pastor's wife. Mrs. J. W. Mott introduced the ladies to Mrs. Swetnam. Miss Florence Kierstead furnished the occasion. The entire gathering then sat down to a bountiful repast provided by the welcome committee. A social time was enjoyed during the latter part of the evening.

Fast Ones in Sussex. Maple Avenue speedway was the chief attraction in Sussex on Monday afternoon. A large crowd of interested spectators lined the street and railway crossings there were several lively exhibition heats. Dr. McAllister held the ribbon behind the old and reliable "Victoria"; Fred Cameron had "Pera Hai"; Bert Fenwick drove his handsome colt, "Eng Pot"; and George Patterson drove "Alice Mac," a cracking good one, a bay mare recently purchased from Thomas Hayes, of St. John. There was a good hour's sport from 2.30 to 3.30 o'clock and at times excitement ran high. George Patterson's new one showed up in great form and carried off the honors of the afternoon. The sport was greatly enjoyed by the large gathering.

Moore and Jewraw. An article published in the New York Herald about the races held in Binghamton, N. Y., recently says that Joe Moore, international champion last year, has been defeated by Jewraw, a title he coveted greatly by an alleged foul committed against Paul Forman in the 220 yard final when he cut in front of the Trenton rink skater. Moore was one yard ahead and at the time and therefore a disqualification was placed on Jewraw's victory was in sight. Had he won second place he would have clinched the championship for the premier honors. The meet fully illustrated the sporting qualities of Jewraw.

The closest and most exciting race of the afternoon was the 100 yard sprint in which Jewraw nosed out the international champion by a margin too minute to describe. Moore was the favorite, but he was out of the race in the first few laps. Moore lay back in fifth position and Jewraw following him closely. The race was a close one until the last few yards when Jewraw came through with a rush five yards from the line that gave him a victory by inches. Both skaters crossed the finish line with Moore's head overlapping Jewraw's speeding form. It was a spectacular finish and more than 5,000 persons lined the rink and filled the grand stand for the event.

POWER BOAT CLUB IS AUDACIOUS BUT FEASIBLE SCHEME

London to Capetown Without Changing Cars a Possibility.

London, December, 10.—(By Mail)—To be able to travel or to send goods from London to Capetown, South Africa, without changing conveyances at any stage of the journey—to do this by means of a tunnel under the sea would link up Europe with Africa at the Straits of Gibraltar—may strike the imagination as a conception impossible of realization, yet the scheme is practicable. A tunnel is an old project and regarded as practicable. In conjunction with a tunnel under the English Channel, which engineers regard as a trivial undertaking in comparison with the Gibraltar scheme, the latter would make it possible for the Capetown passenger to go through in the car in which he would be conceived audacious, but it is technically sound, writes a Paris correspondent of The Observer, at its lowest level would be 1,284 feet below the surface of the sea, a much greater depth than would be required for an English Channel tunnel. The work would be prodigious, but the scheme is practicable. The shortest crossing which is possible at the Straits, having regard to the character of the sea bottom, is about twenty-four miles, but this is not the narrowest part of the Straits.

TOO MUCH HOME BREW ON P. E. I. Charlottetown, Jan. 10.—The grand jury today found true bills against G. W. McKinnon, Ernest Essary and George Purse for breaking into and stealing from Reddin Bros. store last October, and no bill against George Moore for alleged attack on the grand jury committee that the grand jury recommended that the provincial government co-operate with other maritime governments with a view to establishing a home for delinquent boys.

Stewards of Grand Circuit Arrange a Schedule and Make Recommendations. The stewards of the Grand Circuit yesterday adopted a schedule for 1932 harness racing, opening the season at North Randall, Cleveland, the week of July 8, and at Atlanta, Ga., the week of October 16. The application of Kentucky, Ind., for a date March 2, was announced by the stewards. The remainder of the team, led by Manager Hugh Duffy, will leave here March 11. The stewards appointed Secretary Sheppard of Columbus, Ohio, to present to the joint rules committee of the American National Trotting Association and also to the rules committee of the Union Trotting Association the recommendations regarding heat races, to take immediate effect.

Ignorance of Columbus Race. The Knights of Columbus do not care whether or not Columbus was a Jew, as stated by the Chicago Tribune. The Knights of Columbus have never considered the patronship of Columbus from a racial angle, said Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty. The two indisputable facts that Columbus was a Catholic and that he discovered America are the basis upon which his patronship of the Knights of Columbus rests.

Fastidious Cubs. Chicago, Jan. 11.—President William Veech of the Chicago National League baseball team believes that the way to a ball player's heart is through his stomach, especially on the spring training trip. BASKETBALL. The Lads (Mc) team, one of the fastest amateur teams in the neighboring state, has been booked for appearance here against the strong Y. M. C. A. Seniors during the week of the Canadian National championships.

Those who have charge are of the opinion that the Y. M. C. A. gym would be unable to accommodate the spectators who would be in the city at the time and who would attend.

Consequently, the military authorities have been approached in regard to using the Artery on the night of Wednesday, January 18, and they have given consent for the staging of the contest there.

This is the first time in several years that an opportunity has been afforded to the fans to see a team from across the border stacked up against the finest St. John can produce.

They are reputed to be an aggressive aggregation, playing a clean game. The Seniors will present their strongest line-up and make every effort to maintain their unbroken string of victories.

Strengthening Teams. Washington, Jan. 11.—Clark C. Griffith, president of the Washington Club, declared last night that the coming of Roger Peckinpaugh to his club would make it a first-line contender of the pennant race.

He expressed the utmost enthusiasm over the three-cornered deal.

WHERE LIGHT IS CHEAPER
A citizen of Toronto, who occupies a nine-room house and uses electric light freely, told the Times yesterday that his highest monthly bill for light in the darkest month of the year, was $1.39. The monthly rate had gone as low as ninety cents. This included a fixed monthly charge of fifty cents. He said there are cities in Ontario where the cost is lower than in Toronto. This is a result of the use of the hydro-electric. Before it came his bill for light was much larger, although much greater economy was practised in the use of light.

WILL PROCEED HOME
Three Spanish legionaries, William J. Ball, William Carlson and Peter Donnelly, who arrived in St. John on the steamer Canadian Raider some time ago, have succeeded in obtaining sufficient money to enable them to reach their homes in Toronto, through the efforts of the Navy League and Seaman's Mission. They will leave on the Montreal train this afternoon. A St. John man, James E. Burns, arrived on the steamer with them.

FIRST SESSION ON 1922 ESTIMATES

Finance Committee of County Council Deals with Reports of Municipal Home, Board of Health and County Hospital.

The finance committee of the municipal council this morning started consideration of the estimates for 1922. His Worship Mayor Schofield was in the chair and others present included Wardens Ballock, Councillors Fink, Jones, Thornton, Donovan, O'Brien, Golding and Anderson. Drs. S. H. Macdonell and H. A. Ferris, of the St. John County Hospital board were also in attendance. In response to an invitation from the mayor, the boards of the institutions which received the support of the council submitted itemized statements showing amounts of material used and the costs in the various departments, and the committee was engaged today in examining into the details of these. Consideration of the statement of the Municipal Home board was completed, and that of the board of health was returned to the secretary, T. M. Burns, for further information at a later date. The committee was examining the report submitted by the St. John County Hospital when adjournment was made for lunch. The meeting will be resumed this afternoon.

CENTRALIZATION IS BAD FOR MARITIMES

Conference of Lower Province Business Men Advocated.

Claiming that the present tariff and railway policies of Canada are promoting an industrial and commercial centralization which makes Ontario with her unique industrial position, the dominant partner in Confederation, and which is incompatible with the healthy growth of the East and the West, John McKee, business man of Halifax, urges in a letter to the press a conference of prominent business men of the maritime provinces and their representatives in parliament, not to bind the latter to any line of action, but simply that they might better interpret the sentiments of the business community with the healthy growth of the East and the West, which is likely to remain the settled policy of the country, but claims that the tariff is now made in the interests of the controlling central provinces, and that there should be fiscal readjustments designed to promote the balanced development of the Dominion as a whole.

"Our purely maritime aspirations and attitudes are gradually being quenched by a process of centralization," Mr. McKee declares. "Perhaps no better moment of this decade can be seen than the rusty frames of the Halifax terminals. Never in our history has there come such a chance for the East and the West, with substantially the same drawbacks, to assert their claims. While it is true we can only have one tariff, it is equally true it can be so adjusted as to have more regard for the East and West trade needs. A measure of decentralization is also needed with respect to the railways."

GOING SOUTH

Moncton Times: Rev. Father Savage, rector of St. Bernard's church, left on the Maritime Express yesterday morning for Halifax, from which city he will sail for the B. W. I. Rev. Francis Walker of Riverside, A. C., accompanied Father Savage.

NORTH END MAN GIVES A BIT OF HISTORY

In Connection with the Lighting of St. John—The Company Won.

In connection with the question of the distribution of the hydro-electric current through the city, a north end citizen told the Times an interesting story yesterday. He said that up to about thirteen years ago there was a electric plant at the foot of Fort Howe which lighted the north end. It had three circuits, covering the territory from the foot of Main street, beyond the March Bridge, to Indiantown, taking in Mount Pleasant, Strait Shore, Adelaide Road, Douglas Avenue and all the territory embraced in that area. The city had its own poles everywhere except on City Road and Main street. It had, he estimates, six or eight miles of posts and fifteen miles of wire. At that time the St. John Railway Company lighted the eastern section of the city. He thought the cost of the street lights was about $80 each. The company offered to make the rate $80 if they were given the whole city. A counter proposal from another source was to take over the north end plant and make the rate $70. The company then came down to $70 and got the contract. The interesting statement made by the north end man is that the company at once took over the city's poles and wires, and so far as he knows he has no adequate compensation. He says further that about fifteen years ago it was proposed to erect a new plant at the foot of Simonds street, on the water front, where a wharf could accommodate schooners with coal, saving enough on the coal to make the expenditure profitable, but that this was abandoned on the advice of an engineer who was brought from Montreal. A couple of years later the street railway company had its way.

OBJECT TO THE CANCELLATION OF SUBURBAN TRAINS

Some opposition has developed amongst the people living along the C. N. R. between this city and Hampton in connection with announcement that the suburban train arriving here from Hampton at 7.50 a.m. and that leaving the city at 10.30 p.m. would be cancelled on Monday next.

One prominent suburban resident said this morning that the people would not object to a train reduction, but that it would be against the interests of the railway and the future growth of the suburban district to take off the work-ers' train, such as this has always been. He said that many of those who work in the stores and whose occupations begin between eight and nine o'clock have bought residences between St. John and Hampton and live there the year round. He thought that the suburban train which comes into St. John at 2.10 p.m. might be more easily dispensed with, as the Maritime express taking the traffic also the return trip leaving here at 6.15 could be cancelled, the traffic at that hour being cared for by the Montreal train leaving at 6.10 p.m.

At present the suburban train makes three round trips a day between St. John and Hampton, arriving at 7.50 a.m., 2.10 p.m. and 8.30 p.m., and leaving at 12.15 p.m., 6.15 p.m. and 10.30 p.m. It is understood that the idea in cancelling the first inward trip and the last outward trip is to shorten the day for the crew on the train and thus save in wages.

The local office of the C. N. R. said this morning that there was no official word of the change, but they understood that if the train was taken off in the morning the Halifax train, now due here at 6.05 would be delayed 50 minutes at Moncton and make up the suburban stops on its way to the city.

It is understood that the matter will be taken up with the Moncton office today.

MAYOR'S VISIT LIKE A SUMMER BREEZE

At Andrews' Chief Executive Cheery and Optimistic Over Town Conditions.

Frank Kennedy, Mayor of St. Andrews is in the city today on business. He is very optimistic in regard to business conditions in that town. He says that there is plenty of work and no unemployment. There is considerable building and repairing going on among the summer colony. The Tilley summer home has been purchased by C. E. Harvie and extensive repairs and improvements are being made. Edward Maswell, an American, is building a large cottage. The creamery belonging to the Van Home estate, which was destroyed by fire last summer, is being rebuilt. The fishermen are looking forward to a banner year, with a good price for their catch. The electric light and water plants, which were installed last summer, are giving satisfactory service, and much improve the value of property in the town.

RED CROSS WORK

Report of Extreme Cases of Destitution in City.

The executive and relief committee of the local Red Cross met this morning. Plans were made for dealing with cases in which appeals for help have been made. Some are reported desperate cases of destitution. It was said that the people have responded to the call for boots and clothing, but the committee wish to emphasize the need for children's boots and clothing, and they also wish to announce that yarn can be procured at the depot for the purpose of knitting mittens and stockings for the children, a large number of which articles are needed. The work of the Red Cross is wholly in connection with the families of returned soldiers, in providing them with clothing and food.
