Allies Fight With Success In Sight; Germans With Violence of Desperation

Both Sides Thus Bid Fatigue Away and Struggle Grows Worse

French and British Still Gain Ground—Enemy Risks Almost Everything to Prevent Disaster to His Right Wing

New York, Sept. 28.—A London cable to the Tribune says:—The Central News today received the following despatch from its Paris correspondent: Both the allies and the enemy, far from being exhausted after more than a fortnight of continuous fighting, appear to be throwing increasing vigor into their operations. Exceptionally fierce engagements are now being fought, particularly on the allies' left.

"It is impossible, owing to the rigorous press censorship, to divulge all the information whereon the opinions of your correspondent are based, nevertheless one cannot help expressing the view that the Germans are fighting with the violence of desperation and the allies with the energy of those, upon whose sight the dawn of success is beginning to break.

"The movement of the German troops on the left of the center to support the menaced right wing, reveals in itself the policy of desperation—an attempt to achieve victory at a staggering cost. This movement, however, appears to be completely failing.

"Our men, despite the enemy's reinforcements, are still gaining ground, and if the essentials of generous spirits and excellent organization count, they will continue thus to gain.

"Only a first class organization could have made it possible for the Germans to reinforce their right wing, but this does not obscure the fact that they have deliberately courted serious danger, risking almost everything on the outcome. The most serious difficulty encountered by the enemy is that of provisioning, which increases daily and may yet spell disaster.

"The pronounced retirement here is calculated to produce a state of chaos in the lines of communication on which the Germans are relying for supplies. The heavy autumn rains are now harassing the enemy on flanks and rear, and will seriously hamper the mobility of the armies, as well as serve to depress the spirits of the soldiers.

"It is surprising that, simultaneously with the transferring of the troops from the left to the right of the German line, that there should be an increase of activity on the French right wing, apparently the enemy's operations have not been taken seriously. Nobody seems to be keen that any real danger lies in the German offensive in the rear of the allies.

"In fact, the German's preparations at the region of Metz, are opposed to such a theory, and it is regarded as more than likely that the German activity in this region is designed to divert attention from the more vital points."

ONLY FEW HUNDRED YARDS APART London, Sept. 28.—Telegraphing from Bordeaux, under date of Sunday, the Times' correspondent says: "The rival armies are now close to each other. A few hundred yards separated trenches yesterday. Everywhere the German fury was unrelenting, and the close of the day found the allies leaping upward still further north.

"The battle has become, to some extent, a race between the enemy to shake off the tightening grip of the allies of the Oise and the north of the Somme was accompanied yesterday by a renewed attempt to smash the center. Here was massed the flower of the army—the Prussian guard—which distinguished itself from the outset of the campaign by its ability to give and take hard knocks.

French Recover Lost Ground "Farther to the right, the German offensive at first met with some success. The attack was launched in the morning through the hilly, wooded country between the road from the Somme to 'halons and the railway from St. Menes to Vouziers. At the end of the day the French had recovered the lost ground."

BELGIANS CHECK GERMAN FORCE London, Sept. 28.—The following official statement issued at Antwerp yesterday has been received by Reuters' Telegram Company: "Yesterday (Saturday) a detachment of German troops, comprising one brigade of infantry, two regiments of cavalry and two heavy and

RUSSIANS PURSUE THE ENEMY NOW INTO HUNGARY

Kaiser Said to be in East Prussia Directing a New Movement of Germans

London, Sept. 28.—"Many, if not a majority of the German troops concentrated on the Russian border," says the Petrograd correspondent of the Times are field corps, while the armies remaining in France and Belgium are mainly composed of reserve corps, moreover, it is beyond doubt that the emperor himself is in East Prussia.

"The official bulletins show that the Germans have moved toward the Nieman more than 25 miles in two days, but according to the latest news, their advance has been checked and, judging from the speed of their movements and the relatively narrow front of their deployment, which does not exceed fifteen miles, General Rennenkampf has not to deal with a movement of first rate importance.

"The tendency here is to regard this advance as a demonstration to cover a more important action elsewhere, most notably in a direction where the Germans feel themselves more vulnerable, namely, the line from Kalisz to Cracow."

Over the Carpathians London, Sept. 28.—"Pursuing their success, the Russians have pushed over the Carpathian mountains and captured Uzsok, (Hungary), near the source of the river Ungh, with numbers of guns, artillery, and prisoners," says the Petrograd correspondent of the Morning Post. "Thence the Russians have descended into the plains of Hungary."

Petrograd, Russia, Sept. 28.—The following official communication has been received from the staff of Grand Duke Nicholas commander-in-chief of the Russian forces in the east: "An engagement near Sopotskin on the Nieman River in Russian Poland and other places in the direction where the enemy has been retreating, has resulted in a great victory for the Russians."

"The enemy has approached Oswosk from the north and has begun the bombardment of the town. In Galicia we have occupied Dembica on the railroad, sixty-five miles east of Cracow and between Rzesow and Tarnow. "A numerous column of the enemy is retreating from Przemysl in the direction of Jaroslavl, thirty-eight miles southwest of Jaroslavl. In their flight they abandoned artillery and automobile transports."

"At Kolonjok we defeated a detachment of the enemy and captured his artillery and many prisoners. Continuing the pursuit, we entered Hungary. "The French embassy today received the following despatch from the foreign office of the Austrians in the south of Przemysl continue their retreat toward the west. The attempt of the Germans to assume the offensive to the east of Suwalki and south of Grajewo, were repulsed."

SEVERE FIGHTING IN BELGIUM PROBABLE London, Sept. 28.—The Ostend correspondent of the London Standard in a dispatch dated Sunday says: "People arriving from Ghent report severe fighting at Termonde up to last evening. The Germans attacked in great force but were driven off with heavy losses. It is evidently their intention to force their way through to St. Nicholas, if possible, and complete the ring of investment around Antwerp. Their bombardment of Antwerp must be deferred, however, till their big guns arrive near the town. The British army, passed through Moncton today for England, where they will be shipped to England. The first lot passed through yesterday; another shipment is en route."

HORSES TO HALIFAX FOR SHIPMENT TO ENGLAND FOR ARMY Moncton, N. B., Sept. 28.—The second lot of western horses, to be used as mounts for the British army, passed through Moncton today for England, where they will be shipped to England. The first lot passed through yesterday; another shipment is en route. The Belyea-McMahon shooting case was today adjourned until Sept. 30.

To Attend Funeral Quebec, Sept. 28.—Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of Quebec, and Hon. Peter MacKenzie, provincial treasurer, left today to attend the funeral of Sir James Whitney.

Joseph E. Gay Dead Boston, Sept. 28.—Joseph E. Gay, former president of the Mohawk and the Wolverine Copper Companies, died at his home in New York today. He was eighty-two years old.

NEW CAVALRY REGIMENT It is proposed that a new cavalry regiment should be formed, to be known as Borden's Horse. One squadron would be recruited in Montreal, where Lieut. Col. Smart is the moving spirit, a half squadron from New Brunswick, to be raised by Lieut. Col. H. H. McLean, and a half from the west, Major Edgar of Regina having charge of this part of the organization.

BURIED TODAY The funeral of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Till was held yesterday afternoon from her late residence, 19 Orange street. Services were conducted by Rev. G. A. Khuring and interment was in Fernhill.

ROGERS ADVISES EARLY ELECTION

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 28.—There will be a general election this fall if Hon. Robert Rogers can convert his colleagues to his view that the hour has come. It is understood that a majority of the cabinet are reluctant to make the appeal just now and feel that the election can be safely put off until spring.

INSIDE RANGE OF GREAT GERMAN GUNS AND FORCE HAND-TO-HAND FIGHT

Joffre Appears to Have Carried Out His Plans Again—Berlin Admits Allies' Gains -- Battle Now Most Near Critical Stage Paris' Sept. 28.—The prolongation of the reason on the two long lines of fire and death fronting each other on the Aisne must have become insupportable to the Germans since reports indicate that they have changed their tactics and attacked with the bayonet. The opinion is expressed here that General Joffre's master hand is shown in this and it is believed he has succeeded in pushing his lines inside the range of the deadly heavy German guns, and forced the enemy to hand-to-hand fighting.

Since the attacks have been repulsed over the whole line, according to the official communications, the military experts here cannot see now what resources the German Emperor's generals can call on to retrieve their fortunes. The Matin expresses the opinion that the new troops which the allies found fronting them on the left were not from the German left wing, but part of the forces detached after Charleroi and sent to East Prussia, but now brought back in haste.

NEW KING FOR ALBANIA; TROUBLE ALREADY THREATENS

THE WHEAT MARKET Chicago, Sept. 28.—Wheat advanced in price here today notwithstanding lower quotations from Liverpool. Although there was a slight dip here at the start, buying on the part of the expert houses led to a decided upturn. There was a gossip that the Canadian offerings had not proved satisfactory to the purchasers in Europe and that the Russian official crop report was adverse.

POLICE COURT INCIDENT Six prisoners were before the magistrate this morning charged with being drunk. All were arrested on Saturday. One man, who is not a frequent visitor to the jail, was fined the full penalty, $8 or two months imprisonment. His wife was in court to plead that her husband be released with the promise that he would do better. The fine was struck and she opened her purse and poured its contents on the clerk's desk. She then walked out of the court-room without waiting for the money to be counted. The full amount of the fine with the exception of a $2 bill was all in small change, apparently representing a portion of hard-earned savings.

BAPTIST MINISTERS The weekly meeting of the Baptist ministers was held this morning with Rev. A. J. Archibald in the chair. Others who were present were Rev. Messrs. Porter, McPherson, Dennis, Hayward, Camp, McIntyre and Hutchison. Rev. D. J. McPherson was welcomed to the meeting. An interesting paper was read by Rev. Mr. Porter of the moral significance of an ancient abey. A resolution was passed expressing regret that the ministers would not be able to attend the laymen's banquet and missionary conference as had been arranged for the same dates as the Maritime Baptist convention which the ministers will be obliged to attend.

BRITISH CRUISER ON WATCH OUTSIDE NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 28.—The fifth day of the watch maintained on New York harbor by the auxiliary British cruiser Coronia, found the cruiser still at her post almost directly in the pathway of incoming and outgoing ships. No other warships were in sight. Not far from the Coronia, but protected by the neutral waters of the United States, lay the North German Lloyd liner Barbarossa at Stapleton, whither she was a week ago from her pier in the Hudson River.

Y. M. C. A. WORK

A conference held by the leaders of the Boys' Work division of the Y. M. C. A. held at Ray Pond's summer camp at Grand Bay yesterday proved a great success. In spite of the rain on Saturday about thirty young men went out on the afternoon train.

Plans were discussed for the coming winter. H. G. Bonk, physical director, said he intended to resume lecture classes in the senior and intermediate and junior classes to meet once a week, and whose aim will be to extend Y. M. C. A. work as much as possible. He also planned on Bible classes to be carried on in connection with the physical work.

P. J. Legge announced that Bible study class groups would be organized and the boys' honor roll would be used, encouraging Bible study and daily readings so that boys would be eligible for the Canadian standard efficiency test for physical, mental, social and spiritual standing.

J. Willis Jones read an excellent paper on social work, and suggested broader work among high school boys, and suggested a club to be organized if permission of the authorities could be secured to include all high school boys.

Arthur M. Gregg presided at the conference, and proved an excellent chairman. Fred Myles was vice-president, and Arthur Willett was secretary. Mr. Gregg read a paper on leadership, and emphasized the need of true Christian character being developed in boys.

T. H. Hutchinson, general secretary, and W. C. Cross, chairman of the boys' committee, and others also gave helpful addresses. The party returned to the city this morning.

MISS O'REILLY SEES LOUVAIN BURN AND GETS STORY OF HORROR

Special Correspondent an Eye-witness of Civilized War's Most Dreadful Horror

Priest-Professor From American College at Louvain, Who Was Saved by U. S. Minister Whitlock, Tells Whole Story of Louvain Slaughter and Destruction

(By Mary Boyle O'Reilly)

The Hague, Sept. 2.—Two days after the Prussian commander decreed the destruction of Louvain, five American journalists were stalled for hours in the railway station of that city. A thousand wildly excited Uhlans crowded the platforms. A camp commissary slaughtered an ox under our car windows. A firing squad marched down the boulevard to execution. It was the very center of war. Prussians on a troop train the historic town. A prisoner, I was sent to Holland. But I knew there was a world story at Louvain and I determined to go back. An accommodating German consul at Maestriet gave me a pass, not knowing that I was an American newspaper woman.

Thirty hours later I sat amid the ruins of Louvain. On Saturday, August 29, the south-west was still standing. North, east and west stretched miles of desolation. Spires and pinnacles yet unshattered showed dark sparks. From the flat roof of two squat church towers sharpshooters watched the deserted streets.

On the central grass of the boulevard thirty bodies lay as they had fallen. Eleven were the bodies of women, six showed gray hair, all were shot or bayoneted, the clothing of nine was undeniably slashed from behind. Other bodies were said to be lying in the Place de la Station. These I did not see, the capital Place being a large open square. I did see what seemed to be a bundle of ragged human being in a pill box, the body of a woman being fired by petroleum.

Watching the Completion of Destruction Through the sunlit, deserted streets scolding parties of three men marched abreast on patrol. This was in the district not yet destroyed, and I watched the work with awful fascination. Sometimes the three would peer into a cellar window, to confer with rifles cocked and to fire a test volley into the dark.

Behind them came the raiders, picked soldiers of the Ninth army corps. First the scouts, slim, dapper men in civilian clothes, their faces practically masked by motor goggles. Each scout carried a small notebook and a piece of chalk. Consulting his memorandum, he selected certain houses, inscribing upon them "Bon gens" (good people), "Germans" or "Stons schenon" (spare the house). The scouts passed on. Files of two soldiers lined up in chosen streets. Each man was told off to a doorway. A group of men from the pavement and twenty axes broke open twenty unroofed houses. Everything useful to the army must be carried quickly to waiting carts. What remained must be burned.

How the Burning was Done Again they lined up. Prussian officers, men from gentle homes, educated and refined, but under orders, strode up to inspect the result. Everyone was smoking—some playing with swan-hill or moustahe. From them came the final order. At a word each sapper seized a bomb and a box of fuses, ran to the doomed house, placed the bomb, sprinkled the coal oil and dashed out to watch the result. This proceeded, street after street, this great war crime, until on August 26, 27, 28 and 29 the growth

Petrograd—Russians have captured Ussck and Santans and are approaching Tarnow, 50 miles east of Cracow, and have captured Przemysl, but Austrian garrisons at some of the forts continue to hold out. London, Sept. 28.—An epidemic of typhoid fever is reported to have broken out in the German army. Field hospital care crowded with soldiers. Vienna, Sept. 28.—The Austrian fleet at Pola will soon give battle to the Allies' fleets. Antwerp, Sept. 28.—Forts at Antwerp reported bombarded. Belgians drove off German cavalry five miles from Antwerp forts. Ninth, Sept. 28.—Servians claim another decisive victory over 300,000 Austrians along Dina. Chiasso, Switzerland, Sept. 28.—The last class of Austrian reservists, consisting of aged men, have been called out and sent to the front in Galicia. Stockholm, Sept. 28.—The Russian cruiser Oleg is reported to have been wrecked off the coast of Finland. Manila, Sept. 28.—British warships bombarded the town of Lai, on the island of Yap, in the Caroline group, destroying the German wireless plant and burning the town. bidden to leave the house; forbidden to nurse the sick and so forbidden to hang out a Red Cross sign. The tension was becoming unbearable. "Then, on the evening of Tuesday August 24, a dispatch rider brought in word that the Prussians fighting before Mechin had been repulsed by the Belgians—mark that, the Belgians—and were falling back. Instantly the garrison began preparations to evacuate the city. Officers' kits and soldiers' knapsacks were piled in a convoy, troops lined up, only a feeble garrison left. "The convoy started at 8:30 p. m. Before nine it met disorderly divisions hurrying toward the city. Their gray-green uniforms were undistinguishable in the dark. The moon was hidden by the gunsmoke from Tirlemont. The city lights were extinguished.

In a Terrible Mistake "Each fired upon the other, assuming that they met squads of the enemy. "The convoy, driven, ran amuck, dashing through the streets, crashing into house fronts and lamp posts. "The mistake was discovered. Non-commissioned officers grew alarmed. German court-martials are proverbial. To save themselves the non-commissioned officers lied—said that the citizens had organized an attack. "It was ten o'clock when the report reached headquarters. The staff had been dining. In an outbreak of passion, the commander ordered: "Raze the town!" "Before midnight—in less than three hours from the time when the mistaken clash began—Uhlans had forced the inhabitants from their houses. By two o'clock the roar of flames and of heavy rifle fire was continuous. "Towards dawn the soldiers had taken possession of the entire city to the suburbs. At daybreak artillery came up to shell buildings. "By Wednesday noon the middle of Louvain was gone. "The mistake was stated in a statement made at the first uproar a machine gun opened fire from the third story of a hotel opposite the railway station. The place was a well-known rendezvous for German university students, most of whom, being socialists, were bitterly opposed to war. But, be that as it may, citizens of Louvain cannot justly be held responsible for the irresponsibility of foreign students in a foreign hotel. A Day of Terrible Slaughter "Wednesday, August 26, was the day of terror. "Everyone who left the house was shot dead. Three hundred civilians were captured and slaughtered in the boulevard Von Tienen. Men and women hostages, hands bound and necks roped together, stood all day in the Place de l'Universite. For every soldier reported shot ten men and women suffered death. At sunset the mayor, the police chief, and the principal of the university and two professors were publicly executed. THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE You Buy Service When you buy a watch, you buy service—valuable service—for time is money in the busy world and the man who has no watch handicaps himself unjustly.

Why deprive yourself of the money-making services watch gives you when you can buy a good watch for a small sum? The service a good watch will render you will gain for you in actual dollars and cents many times the cost of the watch. If that were not a fact, watches would still be luxuries and only the wealthy would buy them.

A watch is a necessity to men and women who make the most of their time. If you are not an idler, you need a good watch. Come in and see our watches.

RAISED CHECK FROM $54 TO $54,000

Montreal Real Estate Man to be Sentenced This Week

Montreal, Sept. 28.—James A. Birchough, real estate broker, was this morning found guilty of raising a check from $54 to $54,000 on October 6 last. He will be sentenced this week. Following the verdict, he was taken to the cells and locked up, a fate he has escaped since his arrest, having been out on bail. The result of his application for new bail will be announced on Thursday. Birchough was given the check he was charged with raising by Mrs. Thomas Sonne, in payment for a small piece of property. The check reading for $54,000 was deposited by him in a bank as security on property he was intending to purchase. The case has aroused great interest here, as Birchough was well known in the business world and had figured in about the largest real estate deals in the history of the city.

THE WAR

ATTEMPT TO MINE GUERNSEY HARBOR? New York, Sept. 28.—An unsuccessful attempt to mine the harbor at Guernsey, England, said to have been made by a disguised German cruiser, which had on board 1,000 German marines and enough explosives to blow up a dozen warships, was reported today by Miss Margaret Daniels, a missionary of the Baptist foreign missionary society, upon her arrival aboard the French liner Espagne from Havre. The vessel, according to Miss Daniels, was disguised as a Dutch merchantman. The Dutch flag flying at the top of the mast aroused the suspicion of the British authorities. The ship was accordingly surrounded by torpedo boats and a search revealed 1,000 German marines hidden below decks. The marines were arrested and sent to a detention camp.

U. S. LEGISLATION. Washington, Sept. 28.—Whether a bill for a government-owned manna shall be pressed at this session of congress or abandoned will be determined at a White House conference today and a meeting of the house Democrats tonight. President Wilson said he had not changed his opinion of the necessity of such a bill and indicated he would use his influence for its passage. Facts presented in the conference, he said, however, might change his view. There is some opposition in congress. He expressed the opinion that an adjournment of congress in October was likely.

Under Rule of Iron "We now enter upon a period of iron rule. Proclamations came daily. "All carriage and street car traffic must stop. No newspapers. No mail no telegrams should be delivered. All sign wires were cut. We lived in the midst of alarms—in a macabre of rumors. "The military governor ordered all people into their houses at eight o'clock and all lights extinguished at that hour. The city was in darkness. We detected our guard by the rattle of rifles, the stamp of iron-shod feet. "An order came that house doors must be left open, curtains raised, lights kept burning. Three times a day Prussian search parties invaded homes seeking refugees. Pickets fired into the lighted rooms to learn if they were empty. "Verboten" from Germany "We had a severe taste of the word the German people themselves languish under in Germany—the everlasting word "verboten" (forbidden). We were forbidden to read the news. We were forbidden to write. We were forbidden to speak. We were forbidden to think. We were forbidden to feel. We were forbidden to hope. We were forbidden to love. We were forbidden to live.

An appreciative remembrance of his services as moderator and while the pulpit was vacant, was given on Saturday to Rev. Gordon Dickie by the members of the Moncton Presbyterian church when they presented to him a pair of gold cuff links. Bad Complexions Peeled Off At Home

Now, as a matter of fact, more women spoil their good looks than improve them with cosmetics. The practice certainly is unbecomingly wax as a beautifier have become known. It has been found that skin to flakes off in minute, almost imperceptible particles, so gently, gradually, as to go unnoticed. The lines, freckles, pimples, blotches, moth patches and other blemishes, which are the result of a poor complexion, are actually removed. The skin is left clear, smooth, youthful, healthy, and free from all blemishes. It is a simple, safe, and effective method. It is applied to the face in the form of a cream, and is used in the evening. It is a great help to the complexion, and is a great help to the complexion, and is a great help to the complexion.

MANSLAUGHTER IS VERDICT IN BRAMAN CASE

After deliberating for three hours and forty-one minutes on Saturday evening the jury in the case of John H. Braman, charged with the murder of Special Policeman Frank O'Leary, brought in a verdict of manslaughter. The prisoner was remanded to jail until next Friday, when sentence will be delivered. He took the verdict calmly and apparently without a great deal of concern.

At the opening of the afternoon session the attorney-general resumed his address. He urged the jury to disregard the plea of sympathy, but to judge the case clearly on the evidence. Judge Crockett commenced the charge at 2.30. He defined murder and manslaughter. By the mere fact that Braman attempted to escape from lawful custody, and in so doing inflicted injuries which he should have known were likely to endanger the life of the officer, he was guilty of manslaughter. If the evidence went to show that he shot the officer intentionally and with disregard of what effect it would have, he was guilty of murder. His Honor carefully and very clearly outlined the points of law involved. From his charge he gave it to be understood that because of the fact that O'Leary was an officer taking Braman into lawful custody, acquittal was out of the question—on the mere ground that the shooting was an accident for which the counsel for the defence asked for it.

WITH BRITISH EMPIRE

Germany, having grasped her sword, is laying about her with a high hand. She is playing the outlaw against western Europe. Her ultimate purpose in violating international treaties is clear. If she could have beaten the armies of France and Russia, with Britain holding aloof, she would have attained the complete dominance of Europe and become a menace to both American continents. Thinking people in the United States are with the British empire of freedom and liberty against the German empire of autocracy and suppression.—New York Evening Post.

THE WAR TODAY

Sixteen days of such stupendous military combat as the world has not seen before have passed, and yet the gigantic armies of the Allies and the Germans continue the combat at the Aisne.

Undoubtedly success attends the Allies' operations against the German right, while a new and cheerful factor is the report of a decisive victory over the famous Prussia Guard in the centre of the long battle line.

The Germans had made some progress in the Woerpe district last week and the latest despatches do not tell us anything further as to what has transpired there.

It is now believed that General Joffre's plans have been well carried out, that he has pushed his lines inside the range of the steadily German artillery and thus forced hand-to-hand fighting, in which the Allies have proven masters.

The names of French and Joubert-Plenaar have figured in war despatches before. These men fought each other in the Boer war and now the noted South African general is joining French's staff.

There is wisdom in the view expressed by Mr. T. M. Burns, secretary of the Board of Health, relative to child mortality and certain conditions in St. John. The garbage problem and the fly danger are too serious to permit inaction.

At the time O'Leary was shot, coroner's jury called public attention to the failure of justice in many cases of minor offences or of felony, and intimated that too great leniency had produced a bad effect upon young men and boys in this city.

During this trial there were attracted to court many young men whose interest in the proceedings was the same interest created by cheap literature.

In a private letter from London under date of September 17, a St. John business man who is now in that city, writing to a friend in St. John, says: "With everything closing down at 11 p. m., and all lights dimmed, London is not the London of old, and it makes us feel that war is not so far off."

tion has been made to defend the city in every possible way from such perils; but while London sees the preparations and is fully aware of their significance, it goes about its daily business as usual.

London does not know how long the war is going to last, but it feels absolutely certain that victory will crown the British arms, no matter how terrible the sacrifices may be before the final day comes.

There was a winter touch in the air of Saturday and Sunday nights and the mind not unnaturally turned to thoughts of the soldiers fighting waist deep in flooded trenches and to campaign hardships as the cold weather comes.

He pays a tribute to the calmness and grim determination with which the greatest city in the world faces war conditions and the prospect of a long campaign. This feature of London in war time has struck every visitor, particularly those from the United States, and week after week, American writers in the magazines and weeklies dwell upon the calm resolution with which London has confronted the situation from the very first. Many people in London expect attacks by airships, and preparation has been made to defend the city in every possible way from such perils; but while London sees the preparations and is fully aware of their significance, it goes about its daily business as usual.

LINES DEDICATED TO A SOLDIER'S WIFE

(By Mrs. John Archibald Morrison) He's gone! It seems as if the world stood still. Time's lost its rhythm, lengthening hours too long.

Belgium's famous anthem. Fled the years of servile shame! Belgium, 'tis thine hour at last.

Stripes, nor seek discharge at length. Hold thy courage as thy crown. God, who keeps thee in His strength.

Poes, that were our friends of old. Are returned to love at last. All the free we prize as gold.

Belgium, Mother, thus we vow. Never shall our love abate. Thou our hope, our safety thou.

"Tell me, honestly," said the novel reader to the novel writer, "did you ever see a woman who stood and tapped the floor impatiently with her toe for several minutes, as you describe?"

A teacher asked her class to write an essay on London. Later she was surprised to read the following in one attempt: "The people of London are noted for their stupidity."

Some time ago the keeper of a museum was engaged in placing some new curios that had just arrived from Egypt, when he noticed the perplexed look of his attendant.

"What's the matter, Smith?" he queried, going to the assistant. "Is there anything you don't understand?"

"Yes," answered Smith, "there is a paper on the wall here which is indelible. How shall I class it?"

"Let me see," returned the keeper, examining the curio. "Just call it a doctor's prescription in the time of Pharaoh."

A MATERNITY DRESS.

Figured cotton voile is used to develop the practical, yet stylish, maternity dress. To make it requires 4 yards of 44-inch material with 1/4 yard of 18-inch all-over lace for the vest. The collar and cuffs are of linen, made to be adjusted to any frock.

Simplicity marks the construction as well as cutting. First, the upper edge of the lower front section of the waist is turned under on slot perforations; then lapped on upper front section to small "o" perforations, notches even. Stitch, then turn under edges of side front and back on slot perforations and baste. Gather upper edge of side front between double "T" perforations, sew to back as notched. Adjust front to position, lapping folded edge of side front and back to line of small "o" perforations.

CONSTRUCTION GUIDE 5737

Patented April 24, 1910

The simplicity of this model makes it very desirable, and it is inexpensive if carried out in cotton voile. It is made without a lining, with the drooping shoulder effect and elbow sleeves.

Pictorial Review pattern No. 5737. Size 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust. Price, 15 cents.

Stirring Tale Brought By Priest From The Battlefield

Gallant English Joke and Pray as Leaden Wave Sweeps Ranks—Terrible Times at Mons

New York, Sept. 28.—A tale of warfare from the British camp in France, vivid with description of the way the English forces faced death on the battlefield, of the jokes they cracked and the prayers they said with the bullets sweeping their ranks, was brought to New York aboard the steamship Mauretania by Rev. Fr. James Molloy, a native of Trenton, N. J., who served as chaplain for several weeks with one of the British regiments in France.
"In a modern battle there is an overpowering sense of unreality," he said. "The business of seeing men kill each other seems mechanical because of the preponderance of the machine element in the affairs of the human element simply bleeds and dies, but the machines continue in their perfection of their work."
"The conduct of the English and Irish soldiers in the trenches was surprising. There those men stood behind shoulder-high mounds of dirt, facing level sprays of a death in front yet cracking jokes and singing snatches of music hall ballads between volleys. Stupendous bravery, I call it, or stupendous absence of nerves."

Sang Under Crushing Fire

"I've heard men under the crashing fire of the terrible German guns, and with comrades dropping all about them, unite in roaring 'It's a Long Road to Tipperary,' as if they were in barracks. Sometimes I'd hear a big Irishman call out to a neighbor in the trenches: 'Well, I winged that Dutchman, all right! The business of killing, with them, seemed to partake somewhat of a sporting event.'"
"But how the Germans did pound that British line at Mons! They came on and on, and on, never stopping, never faltering. It was like the waves of a blue-gray sea rolling up through the fog. One wave would break and die away, but another would be right behind it, pushing on inexorably. The German commanders threw their men into the face of British fire with absolute recklessness, counting on the sheer weight of numbers to overwhelm us."
"To see through glasses those German lines move forward was like watching regiments of toy soldiers pushing across a table. You'd see a long row of blue blocks, topped with spiked helmets, break from cover and come rushing at you."
"When a British gun would speak, a shell would drop right in the midst of that blue block, a great hurling up of smoke and soil sent the block wobbling, gone, nothing left but a few little men madly running back through the haze of powder smoke."

Retreat One Long Nightmare

"But the German shells kept coming and coming. They are terrible, those shells. I've seen one shell enter a little hill and there explode, carrying away the whole top of the hill. I have seen a company of British wiped out by the explosion of a single shell."

"Perhaps the night fighting is the most weird and terrible to see. In this the forces of the Allies had the superiority through their preponderant supply of aeroplanes. The allied forces on the retreat from Mons to Senlis had thirty-four aeroplanes, which were busy day and night, but particularly at night."
"You would hear a whirring of invisible propellers overhead, and by straining your ears could trace the direction of the night flyer over the German positions. Gunners stand ready behind their pieces, keyed up to a wire pitch of efficiency."
"Suddenly a spark appears in the heavens; it falls. The airman has discovered a German battery and his falling torch makes the range and the position. Instantly the British guns roar and a shower of shells soars up to follow the line of that falling star."
"The retreat of the British from Mons to Senlis was one long nightmare. No sleep for any one; no rest from the harrying of the Germans guns and cavalry."
"Yet so stubborn was the spirit of the soldiers in the trenches that they rebelled against the order to retreat, falling to understand that the slow falling back in the face of the German advance was in connection with prearranged plans of the French and British."
"Sir John French even explained to some of the private soldiers the reason for his orders to retreat."

Battle News Favorable to The Allies

For three long days without cessation the Germans have hurled their masses against the French and English along the entire front in northern France. The French official view is that these operations, the fiercest that have yet taken place, are by high command, meaning possibly direct instructions from the emperor himself.

This purpose has been to break through the allied lines, but both French and British official reports say they have failed. From Paris it is announced that not only have the Germans not been able to achieve their object, but they have lost a flag, guns and men taken prisoners in the attempt.

"The British, as usual, are laconic. 'The situation is satisfactory,' they say, 'and the counter-attacks on the British front have been beaten back with heavy losses to the enemy.'"
The French claim appreciable progress on the left wing and a decisive victory over the famous Prussian Guard in the centre. Of the Woevre district, where the Germans have made gains in the last two or three days, little is said.

One remarkable thing is this great battle, which has now entered upon its sixteenth day, is the spirit maintained by the troops.

In the Far East, according to Japanese reports, the Japanese have defeated the Germans on the outskirts of Tsing-Tau, capital of the German protectorate of Kiao-Chow. Though the battle lasted fourteen hours, the losses so far as known were small.

The German Emperor is now reported to be suffering from inflammation of the lungs. Only a day or two ago his fifth son, Prince Oscar, was obliged to withdraw from his regiment and is now being treated for a heart affection, the result of over-exertion in the field. The emperor's youngest son, Prince Joachim, has just recovered from a bullet wound.

From Petrograd comes an official statement from the Russian general staff that the German attempts in Russian Poland have been repulsed and that the Germans are in retreat.

Berlin, Sept. 27, via London, 9:10 p. m.—The total German casualties in dead, wounded and missing, as officially reported to date are 104,589.

The casualty list announced today adds a total of 10,527 casualties to those previously announced.

WAR HITS NEW YORK WOMEN STENOGRAPHERS

Estimated That 5,000 Are Out of Work in New York

New York, Sept. 27.—"If the female stenographers in New York city now out of work paraded two by two up Broadway the line would reach from the Battery to a point near 42nd street," declared a representative of one of the big typewriter exchanges.

Some estimates place the number of stenographers who cannot get places, though they have hunted for months, at 5,000. Other estimates run as high as 7,000 to 8,000. Many of the young women, and, sad to relate, very many who no longer are on the sunny side of 40, are on the verge of starvation. Never before in the history of the epoch in the city's commercial history since the stenographer and typist entered the field has such a condition prevailed.

Two reasons are given. The first is the shutting down of importing and exporting houses and firms connected with the Wall street district. Another is the oversupply of stenographers turned out of schools, both public and private, in the last few years. Added to these two causes is the influx from the country. Thousands of young women who live with their folks and don't have to worry give up their jobs in June and have a good time at mountain and seashore, while the weather is propitious. In the fall they flood the town, looking for jobs and are competitors of their less fortunate sisters who have been seeking positions in vain all summer.

At the headquarters of one of the standard typewriters one day last week there were in the neighborhood of 500 applicants for jobs. About twenty-five were placed. At another there were at least 250 applicants. Of this number twenty-seven were placed. The number of applicants grows daily, while the number placed decreases. This condition is uniform in all the big agencies. Hundreds of stenographers have written to the agencies that they expect to lose their jobs in October and want to be considered on the waiting list.

The big typewriter companies are very careful in the matter of recommending stenographers. As one of the managers said "the winter garden variety needs' apply."

Most of the applicants are young, refined and well dressed.

Canadian Commissioner to Holland Says Strict Neutrality is Being Preserved—The Army Mobilized

Ottawa, Sept. 27.—A report to the Trade and Commerce Department from J. T. Lithgow, Canadian trade commissioner in Holland, states that grain and food supplies are now passing as freely as the limited shipping facilities will permit from Rotterdam up the Rhine to Germany, the Netherlands observing strict neutrality and interfering with traffic to and from Germany only so far as reserving the right to seize any food-stuffs, military stores, raw material, etc. that may be directly required for Dutch defence.

The freedom of the Dutch ports to German imports or exports, however, says Mr. Lithgow, is practically of no consequence at the moment as practically no grain ships and few of any kind, were entering at the date of his report, namely, September 1.

At Rotterdam, he says, some 60,000 men are out of employment in consequence of the interruption of the transit trade.

The Dutch troops called out prior to September 1 totalled 240,000 men. The soldiers of the Lanston numbering about 150,000 men have also been notified and "a state of war" exists in all the districts along the frontier. The field army is on duty near the boundary and the coast is protected by a special coast guard. The whole army is on a war footing.

BURIED YESTERDAY

THE RING. Carpenter Wounded in Battle. Paris, Sept. 26-Georges Carpenter, the white heavyweight champion boxer of the world, called the ideal of France, has been seriously wounded while fighting in the battle of the Aisne.

News of the Boxers. Eddie McGoorty is being advised to quit the middleweight class and enter the light-heavyweight division, for he loses much strength making the middleweight limit.

Young Saylor, who has just returned from Australia, brings back a fine recommendation from promoter, Snowy Baker of the Antipodes. The latter says: "Saylor has undoubtedly been the best and most consistent drawing card I have ever brought out here, and he has proved himself not only a great fighter, but a thorough gentleman outside the ring. We are anxious to see him back in the near future. The Saylor-Slugger return match proved a points win for Saylor after a grand go."

Kid Lewis, ex-featherweight champion of England, has arrived in New York and little Jimmy Johnston, who will manage him, will get him plenty of bouts.

Mickey McIntyre, a Glace Bay, N. S., middleweight, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Boston, expects to meet Mike Gibbons in Winnipeg soon.

A Tribute to Gibbons. Bill McKinnon is back in Boston, after giving Mike Gibbons a great battle in Covington, Ky., the other night. "I like to box those clever fellows," says Bill, "for you learn something about the game. I have been in it for some years, and I find that the most I learned about boxing I gained by going against clever fellows. They may outpoint me, but at the same time they are giving me pointers I could not get boxing men of my own class."

"Watching Gibbons in action and standing before him in the ring are vastly different. You have got to take your hat off to him, for he is certainly a wonderful boxer. You admire his work while sitting on the outside of the ring. When you are boxing him you get an inspiration that does not come to you when you are boxing fellows who are no cleverer than yourself, and if your mind is set on learning more of the game, you can-

Kolehmainen Back Again.

New York, Sept. 27-Hannes Kolehmainen, the world's greatest amateur distance runner, who returned to his home in Finland four months ago, unexpectedly returned to this country last week. The little Finlander's return did not become known until he reported to Coach Lawson Robertson of the Irish-American Athletic Club, under whose colors he ran while competing in his native country.

Kolehmainen, who is eligible for the Russian army, had a difficult time getting out of Finland, and came here without bag or baggage and little money. He was obliged to go through several escapades with a friend who accompanied him as rubber and assistant trainer. As Kolehmainen himself said, he "established a new record from Finland to Sweden. He traveled to England via Stockholm. In London Hannes met his brother, Willie, recently winner of the one-mile championship, and was supplied with funds to continue his journey here. Though overweight, the little Finn declares he can get ready to run in two weeks, and perhaps may represent the Irish-American A. C. in the senior championships next Saturday.

While abroad Kolehmainen ran in sixteen races and won them all, making four records and beating the Finnish hour mark by half a mile.

Kolehmainen may have a brother Finn as a club-mate soon in Willie Kyronen, late of the Kaleya A. C., whose application for change of registration to the unattached list has been received at A. A. headquarters. Kyronen, who appears to be second only to Kolehmainen as a distance runner, has not signed his intention of joining the Irish club, but his choice lies between the Winged Furies and the New York A. C., and Bernie Wefers, trainer of the Mercury Footers, recently said Kyronen would not join his squad.

ATHLETIC

Back to the Cinder Path.

New York, Sept. 27-C. D. Reipath, who has not been seen in competition in the metropolitan district since he won the Olympic 400 meter championship, will compete in the senior championships to be held at Celtic Park on October 3. The former Syracuse runner will wear the winged foot of the New York A. C. and will compete in the 100 and 120-yard runs. He may not be able to outfoot Alvah Meyer in the short dash, but should have a great chance in the furlong race.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

SPECIAL ORDER CUSTOM TAILORING

Suits Made to Measure on a Four-Day Schedule-Fine British Woolens at $18 and Up.

Made to measure suits, tailored to order by the best artisans, have always been a feature of the Semi-ready Special Order department.

It would be impossible for every Semi-ready store to carry a thousand different cloth patterns in stock, and a quick, prompt Special Order service was devised.

A four-day tailoring schedule was worked out in the Semi-ready tailoring shops. Physique type measuring forms are sent direct to the house, each one giving a physical photograph of the customer.

Over 300 imported British fabrics are shown in suitings and overcoatings, also dress, suitings, scarves, vicunas and uniform cloths. The prices range from $18 up to $85 and $90, and the best examples of the English weaver's art are shown in the higher prices.

John P. Condon invites you to review these Special Order samples. His store at 54 King street is equipped for good service, and for the prompt attention and satisfaction which men like to get.

"I can deliver a made-to-order suit in St. John within a week," said Mr. Condon.

SYSTEMATIC CAMPAIGN OF GERMAN ATROCITIES

Protest Filed With Signatories Of Hague Convention THE TREATY VIOLATED

France Places Matter Before United States-The Wounded Killed, Non-combatants, Including Red Cross Nurses, All slain

Washington, Sept. 26-The French Ambassador, Jules Jusserand has made public the summary of ten documents drawn up by various officials accusing the German soldiery of a systematic campaign of atrocious crimes. Copies of the documents which were placed in the hands of Acting Secretary Lansing of the State Department, were delivered to all signatories of The Hague convention.

With the documents a letter was delivered which explains that the French government did not take the step with the view of demanding any action on the part of the United States, but merely to report to this country as signatory of The Hague treaty evidence of how the treaty was being carried out.

The statement made public by the French ambassador is as follows: "By order of the government of the French republic, a series of official reports as to the way in which the present war is being carried on the French territory by German troops have been communicated to the powers who signed The Hague convention, the United States being one of them. "These documents, 10 in number, show that the destruction and assassinations which have taken place here have been systematic and performed in accordance with orders from the officers and not as the result of an accidental lack of discipline.

"The facts quoted are given only as samples and not as complete enumeration; they cover, moreover, only the first three weeks after the beginning of hostilities (two weeks of actual warfare), and worse deeds have been committed since.

"Such as they are, they show among other things, that wounded soldiers have been finished in large numbers by shot fired right against the face of the wounded; that Pont-a-Mousson, an open and undefended town, was bombarded, the hospital, which is an historical building, having especially suffered; a number of villages, among them Paraul and Afeville, have been methodically destroyed house by house, soldiers being, as it seems, supplied with implements enabling them to perform that kind of work with a minimum of trouble; nurses bearing conspicuously the badge of the Red Cross, having been assassinated; numerous inhabitants have been put to death without pretext or provocation (among whom, at Badenville, the wife of the mayor, in some cases, notably at Bolly, on August 10, the German troops, when they marched out of the place to charge the French, the women and children walk in front of them).

"Says Germans Violate Own Article III of the Convention of The Hague, which, as proposed by the German delegates themselves, states the belligerents who might cause such destruction as those mentioned above would be bound to indemnify the interested parties, and would be responsible for any acts committed by members of his army.

"In the second place, even if civilians had taken arms upon the invasion of French territory by the Germans, which was nowhere the case, they would have been within their rights and the killing of them wholesale would have been indefensible for Article IV of the same convention reserves to the population of a nonoccupied territory, the right, on the approach of the enemy spontaneously to take arms and repel the invading troops.

"Appended to this convention, besides the signature of the United States, France and many other countries, is to be found that of Germany.

The sardine fishermen reaped a great harvest in the waters about the city on Saturday and Sunday. The harbor and Courtenay Bay were visited by school after school of fish and during Saturday night and Sunday night a good catch was taken. Yesterday afternoon when the tide was high in Courtenay Bay the sardines could be seen by the thousands swimming close to the surface of the water, where their silver backs shimmered in the light. The sea dogs also profited by the visitation and several hundred sea dogs were to be seen chasing the fish.

MAYOR'S REPORT ON THE FUNDS

His Worship Outlines Working of Canadian Organization—St. John Application

Mayor Frink this morning made a report of his visit to Ottawa in connection with the question of the absorption of the local patriotic fund with the Canadian organization. The report was made to the executive of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Patriotic Fund committee, but no action was taken, it being decided to defer the matter before a meeting of the full committee of one hundred on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The mayor's report outlines clearly the relation that will exist between the two bodies. A vote of thanks was extended to him by the executive this morning.

The report of the mayor concerning the central Patriotic Fund and its methods is as follows:

As a member of the executive committee I beg to report that I visited Ottawa for the purpose of obtaining information concerning the working of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, along with other civic business. It is quite apparent that as far as this committee is concerned we have been living under some disadvantages in the distribution of relief and in the course of my enquiry some points were made clear, previously obscure. To begin, it is essential that a complete list be obtained covering all the men who have enlisted from the province and the city of St. John together with the particulars of their service. Such a list has been prepared at Ottawa in Hon. Mr. Ames' department. I saw this list but it was impossible for me to obtain a copy. The only one available was being sent to His Honor the Lieutenant Governor. I have written him today to be good enough to have a copy made for the purposes of this committee.

In other large Canadian cities a permanent secretary has been appointed under pay, who devotes his time to the business of his office and to at once call upon those who are entitled to relief to present themselves if possible to the office to give all the information which the form demands. This being completed will prove a great service.

A complete set of books will be necessary to take the account and history and condition of not only the soldier himself but his dependents may be obtained in detail. I attach a printed form of relief which is used in Montreal which appears to have a good deal to commend it.

It has been the practice here in St. John since the fund was opened to give applicants, groceries, coal, etc., and in a few cases a money grant has been made for rent. The ladies auxiliary committee are alone made for these receiving it, and I am of the opinion that this course should be pursued as far as the work of this committee is concerned; such payments to be made regularly or as the merits of the cases demand. While the investigating committee will have their work to do on practically the same lines as at present, the real burden of the work will fall upon the secretary.

The investigating committee will meet with the executive at stated intervals agreed upon. The ladies auxiliary committee found indispensable as they can more easily come to accurate conclusions in regard to the wives of soldiers and families and their needs. In other cases affiliated with the Canadian Patriotic Fund, it is simply a matter of writing a letter to the honorary secretary, H. B. Ames, M. P., Ottawa, as provided in the act. This having been accomplished, all moneys are to be deposited to the credit of the fund. The ladies auxiliary committee, at Ottawa in any bank which the organization may choose, and there is no objection to the organization retaining a certain percentage for use in cases of emergency or any unforeseen conditions. An accurate accounting, however, will have to be made of these expenditures. The ladies auxiliary committee the general account or final account as the case may be.

But the principle underlying the distribution of the Canadian Patriotic Fund is this—That the local organization will make out each month the amount of money required to maintain each individual family and then make a requisition on the general fund through the honorary treasurer for the amount required. He will in turn issue his check. When the check is received it shall be deposited by the local branch organization and can be checked out at their discretion.

This shows quite clearly that the information which has been already supplied to His Honor is not complete. (Since writing this report I have had from His Honor, the completed lists for New Brunswick, which will be immediately made and supplied the executive.) It is a matter of indifference where money is kept, as far as the bank is concerned, it must be deposited to the credit of the Canadian Patriotic Fund and all deposits received forwarded to the head office at Ottawa.

Soldiers' Pay

There has been some difficulty in determining the distribution of soldiers' pay. Any soldier going to the front is not obliged to give any portion of his pay to his wife or dependents. If man does allow a portion of his pay to his dependents, the fund ignores it. Separation allowances are provided by the department of militia as per the schedule submitted and all separation allowances have been paid by the militia department. His Honor who has not received her allowance is requested to write to Hon. Mr. Borden. If widows can show that their sons are their sole support, they will also receive the allowance as well as the wives, when the application of the widow is certified by her clergyman that he is her sole support.

Provincial Organizations

It was stated at headquarters that there is no objection from the Canadian Patriotic Fund's standpoint to a provincial organization being formed affiliating with the central fund or any local organization can join the Canadian Patriotic Fund as a separate unit. Information was given me that in the Province of Ontario, there is as yet no provincial organization. The chief benefit to be derived in my opinion from the provincial organization is this—That it would be a sort of clearing house for the whole province, that is to say, that if the counties themselves from their municipal councils appointed committees and organizations for the purpose of collecting relief, their

HIS TEAM CHAMPIONS

Philadelphia Americans Qualify For World Series—Arrangements to be Completed on Next Wednesday

Philadelphia, Sept. 28—Now that the Philadelphia American League baseball team has clinched the championship of that organization, officials of the club are making preparations for the world series. The Athletics and the Boston Red Sox, still have eight games on their respective schedules. If the Athletics lost all eight, their percentage would be .625, while by winning all, Boston would have a percentage of .621.

The victory of the Athletics in the American League race gives Connie Mack his sixth championship, a new major league record. Under his tutelage, they won the league pennant in 1902, 1905, 1910, 1911, and 1913 and in the latter three years, they also captured the world's championship.

FRED. ST. C. PENDER DEAD

Many friends about the city were shocked today by the death of the late J. Fred St. C. Pender, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Pender, who passed away suddenly about 3:30 o'clock this morning at his home in Orange street. He was well known and for some years had been engaged in business with his father in the mail manufacturing business conducted under the name of James Pender & Co. The young man had been ill only about two weeks, and had been out just last Thursday, so that his death was a painful surprise to his friends.

MACLAREN HOUSE SOLD

The fine brick residence owned and occupied by the late Doctor MacLaren, father of Doctor Murray MacLaren, situated on the east side of Charlotte street near the corner of Princess, has been sold by Allison & Thomas to a local purchaser. The property is freehold and the house is a very large structure, built of solid brick, with expensive interior finish. There is also a barn and coach house in the rear.

A COAL MATTER

Manila, Sept. 28—Fears of a coal famine here, through the threatened re-exports of Great Britain to Japan to permit its import without guarantee of exportation have been averted. Japan has instructed local merchants not to sell coal without exacting a bond for twice its value and also insists upon consular inspection. The suspicion that German vessels load here to supply warships at sea, still exists. Today the steamer Elms horn, carrying 6,000 tons of coal, put back from Corregidor Island, having sighted a British cruiser outside.

JAMES MASSON ILL

Many friends not only in Lancaster but in the city learned with regret on Friday of the serious illness of James Masson, carriage manufacturer of Fairville. Mr. Masson's illness came quite suddenly. It is reported, and on Saturday he was removed to the hospital, where an operation was performed. Today he is resting as easily as could be expected under the circumstances.

Francois Joubart-Pennar, one of the leaders of the Boer forces against General French in South Africa, has arrived at Bordeaux, France, on his way to join the staff of the English leader at the front.

A German aeroplane yesterday dropped four bombs in Paris. Only one of which did much damage. It blew a man's head off and crippled his little girl. A cow was killed by another.
