Expenses to and from Ottawa, with passage to London, and personal outlay to 25th November.

The correspondence proper opens with a letter dated London, 3rd December,

1878, from Sir Leonard Tilley to the Secretary for the Colonies, in which he asks the assent of the Imperial Govern-

.00 ment to Sir A. T. Galt's undertaking a mission to France for the purpose of securing a relaxation of the duties on certain 1.00 Canadian products. From the corres-1.25 pondence, it appears that the assent was 75 given a letter of introduction to Lord Lyons at Paris explaining his mission. Lord Salisbury's communication to Lord Lyons states that,

Yes brief our parting words shall be, And few our parting tears, The Lord shall watch twixt thee and n Through all the coming years; His eyes shall be our guiding light Wherever we may roam, Like beacon tires that burn at night To lure the wanderer home.

We will not fear that time or change Our perfect trust can dim, Or shadow of a wrong, estrange The hearts that rest in Him. But should they for one hour forget, For one faint hour be cold The Lord shall watch between us yet, His love our love shall hold.

Beloved when we reach apart The valley lone and dread, Which side by side and heart to hear We once had thought to tread, His faithful rod thy staff and mine ough all the ways shall be, The comfort of His grace a sign Still between me and thee.

The House resumed business on Tuesday, with an evident determination to go on with the work of Legislation. The Budget debate was the order of the day. It was understood that several members from New Brunswick, with others from various provinces, were yet to speak. The Citizen, the Government organ, had announced that the discussion would close with a general reply from the Minister of Finance, which would be his parliamentary right, though if it were to be no more effectual than his reply to the New Brunswick members last year he had better, for his own sake, omit it altogether.
