

IMPORTANT FROM HAYTI.—The New York Express has the following highly interesting intelligence from Hayti:—

By the arrival of the brig Echo, Capt. Rice from Port au Prince we have advised down to May 27.

Several large Spanish war frigates were off Port au Prince when the Echo sailed, threatening to bombard the place, and all the vessels in the harbor were prepared to leave as soon as the bombardment should commence.

The Commodore of the Spanish squadron had demanded the evacuation of Hincha, a fortified town on the old French boundary between Hayti and Louisiana. President Buchanan refused to accede to his request until the ships had been ordered to leave and the Commodore of the Spanish squadron had demanded the evacuation of Hincha, a fortified town on the old French boundary between Hayti and Louisiana.

There was also another trouble brewing in the island, which was likely to embarrass the Government. The "Free Press" had been edited there by Gifford, things were different from what they represented by Redpath and his associates. They were compelled to work two days in the week for the government until their passage out some $125 was paid. They were only allowed $300 for their families, which is equal to about 25 cents of our money. They were also put in the army, and being marched to the frontiers the Haytiens took good care to put them in the front ranks.

A person arrived in the Echo a friend to the free blacks, to stop any further emigration. Commercial affairs were quiet, dull, and business generally was quiet, dull.

The London correspondent of the Leeds Intelligence, alluding to the betrothal of the Princess Alice to the Prince of Denmark, says:—The marriage has been hurried on, I believe, and will take place a good deal sooner than was first intended.

Her Majesty's very delicate state of health is the cause of this. It is believed to be a matter of the first importance that something should be done to rouse her from the morbid melancholy into which she has fallen since the death of her mother. Apropos to this a curious statement was made to me in the beginning of the week, namely, that her Majesty's state of health was used as an argument against turning out the Government in the lobby of the House of Commons for a few days before the great division. It was said that if all the anxiety and worry incidental to a change of Ministry were thrown upon the Queen at the present moment, the consequences might be too serious even to speak of. There was really a good deal of force in the argument, and I had weight of mind under the weight of three men, who consequently abstained from voting.

FOUND DROWNED.—The Head Quarters published at Fredericton has the following:—The body of the young man M'Naughten, or M'Norton, who was reported lost Tuesday morning, has since been found in the river, suspicion was prevalent at the time that he had met with foul play from the Indians at the French village, with whom he and a party of lumbermen had been wrestling and boxing, and the marks of violence discovered on the head, after the corps had been dragged from the river, seemed to warrant that suspicion. An inquest was held over the body by the Justice of the Peace, when a verdict was brought in "found drowned." Dr. Brown of Kenwick, who was called in to examine the body, gave evidence to the effect that the injuries on the head were not sufficient to cause death.

FROM CENTRAL AMERICA.—The last news from Central America, says the New York World, indicates an increase of activity in all the branches of the government, a desire upon the part of the authorities to do all in their power to develop the wealth of the country, and a genuine interest in the welfare of the population.

A MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.—The Boston Herald says that a few days since, a small coffin was discovered floating in a creek near the Brookline line, Cambridgeport. It was taken in charge and carried to the Police Station. The top was removed, and the coffin was found to contain the body of a beautiful male infant about three weeks old, laid out in a white robe. A post-mortem examination was held. There were some marks upon the head which indicate some foul play connected with its death. It is stated that the guilty party resided in Boston, and will speedily be brought to justice.

SHIP TIMBER.—This article is rapidly advancing in price in Boston. The proposal of the U. S. Government to have built immediately forty or fifty gun boats has thrown the timber market into quite a commotion, and in some classes of timber the price has jumped up five or ten dollars in a single day. Hard pine is quite scarce, and those who have a stock on hand are quite fortunate. In oak timber there is also a large increase in price, and a further advance is expected.

PRINCE OF WALES CUP.—His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor announces through the Royal Gazette that he has received the Challenge Cup which His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has been pleased to present for competition by the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of the Militia, volunteering for Drill and Exercise.

The place is now at which His Royal Highness's Cup is to be competed for, and the regulations respecting the competition, will be announced by His Excellency in a few days.

MR. RUSSELL'S LETTERS YESTERDAY.—A despatch dated from Cairo, June 19th, contains the following:—

W. H. Russell, the correspondent of the London Times, arrived here to-day. He is a man of high standing in the world of letters, and his letters to the London Times, which have been translated into Arabic, and are being distributed in the army, and being marched to the frontiers the Haytiens took good care to put them in the front ranks.

The Despatching Ship, Pyramus, which has been ordered to the Naval Yard for the last time, is now being towed down the harbor, and is expected to arrive at the mouth of the harbor, whether British or Foreign, may be thoroughly searched for deserters. Should any person be detected in secreting or collecting deserters, he will be summarily dealt with, as has been seen by referring to our advertising columns.—Halifax Chronicle.

The ship Wm. Singer, which sailed from this port for St. John, N. B., a few days ago, had on board ten deserters from H. M. S. St. George, who showed themselves away on board without the knowledge of the ship's officers. On information being given at the Duck Yard, the Hydra sailed day before yesterday in pursuit. We learn that about 150 men have been deserted from the ship in part within the last few days.—Halifax Chronicle.

The question is often asked, what is a "stand of arms?" Properly speaking, it is a complete set of arms for one soldier, which would include the bayonet, musket, and its appendages.

A man was fined four dollars, in Summers, N. H., the other day, for kissing a girl against her wishes. If he had kissed her against her lips, perhaps she wouldn't have sued him, and he might have sued her.

Communication.

For the Standard.

Ralph Waldo Emerson says, "there is no den in the wide world, to hide a rogue." And somebody else had said—"let a lie alone, and it will run itself to death." Had the Editor of the "St. Croix Herald," been less skeptical in regard to these maxims, he might have been spared the contempt which he has drawn upon himself, by the dishonest course which he has pursued in the late Election of this County.

I have no personal conflict to wage with Mr. John S. Hay; he is too good a man to be private assailler, in St. George, will, no doubt, return to him that measure of profit, which is met for such scavenger work.

But as an Editor of a public journal professing to be the exponent of a party, and as such, assumes to make platforms, define men's politics—form tickets—select local Candidates—assign causes of re-quit—and predict future action &c., with as much authority and assurance as one worthy of a greater fame; the good of society seems to demand that a more extended knowledge of the true character of the man, should be given than is afforded, whereby the limited circulation of the organ of John McAdam's and in order to the full enlightenment of the public mind, I will propose a few questions, suggested by the perusal of the "Herald" of the 21st inst.

From what source, Mr. Hay do you gain your knowledge that Mr. Stevens is a Liberal—of the right stamp? Is it from his card to the Electors—his requisition—or his speech at the Hostings? An extract from the latter, will perhaps aid you in answering the question—it was signed, both by Liberals and Conservatives.

Another reason why he had been induced to come out, was owing to the resignation of Geo. Thomson Esq. When that gentleman resigned, he was anxious that he (Mr. S.) should come out. "He felt proud of this, as he respected Mr. Thomson very highly. If elected he wished to go to the House free and untrammelled? "Party spirit had been the curse of the Province."

Which of the Candidates from St. Andrews were supported by the Liberal party in St. Stephen? You say "if the party had been united we should also have had a liberal from St. Andrews, and a liberal Representative from St. George." What place do you assign to the Hon. Jas. Brown, and in what respect do you "regret" his "defeat?" And do you not know you lie, when you insinuate that he was snubbed by the friends of Mr. Gillmor? He was not the return from St. Stephen's intention to your account the possibility of any lack of fidelity towards that honest man—the nominee of the Liberal party; and that the opposition to Gillmor, and Brown, in St. Stephen, and St. George, was from the same source?—What are your reasons for classing "Gillmor" with the "doubtful?" Is it because he and his friends were true to their promise to support Mr. Brown, and Mr. Stevens? nor can it ever be said, with truth, that they have ever acted otherwise in their pledges made to Candidates of their friends. What do you mean, by it being "evident" that Mr. Gillmor, and Dr. Thomson were running together?" Was such an inference drawn when they occupied a similar position on the poll, at a previous Election?

And lastly, for the present, please inform the County who were Mr. Hibbard's Liberal supporters in the parish of St. George, and how many of them voted for Dr. Thomson?

When these questions are all truthfully answered, I think your motives of honesty, will be as transparent as is you intransigent placing the name of Mr. Gillmor the lowest among the members returned for Charlotte County.

Yours, A. C. Q. N.

St. George, June 24, 1861.

The Standard.

ST. ANDREWS, JUNE 26, 1861.

The Election is now over, in another place will be given the vote cast in the Parish. It is plain that no party ticket would have carried; the three Liberal Candidates elected Messrs. GILLMOR, GRIMMER and STEVENS received the support of all parties, as did Mr. BOYD who is just as liberal as need be; it is widely known that these gentlemen did not pledge themselves to support any party—in fact Mr. Stevens said "party spirit had been the curse of our Province." It is somewhat remarkable that Mr. Gillmor who has been elected at the head of the poll—within a few votes of 100 over Mr. Grimmer the second on the poll, did not receive as many votes as Mr. Chandler, who was the fourth man at the last election, and had 1124 votes, this serves to show how much the interest was divided; the seventh man at the election in 1857, had more votes than Mr. Stevens received. The defeated Candidates polled quite a respectable number of votes; they must "try again." It is not true that two Candidates ran together—there are facts and figures to prove this.

Dr. Thomson it was generally supposed would be elected; he lacked but a few votes. The Standard was the first to call out Mr. Grimmer, and he has good reason to feel satisfied with his St. Andrews friends, who supported him handsomely. Mr. Whitlock, though not elected, was placed at the head of the poll in his own Parish, and received the largest vote ever cast in it. Before closing this brief notice, we refer to the vote given in St. Andrews Parish, as being the most liberal and generous in the County, no attempt was made to secure their Candidates at the expense of the others—the figures indicate that the votes were distributed fairly. The ballot system works admirably.

DECLARATION DAY.

At 3 o'clock, on Tuesday 25th inst., a large assemblage of persons from various parts of the County met at the Court House, to hear the result of the election at the several polling places, and the declaration of the Polls being chosen. The Sheriff had seats erected for the Ladies which were filled by the beauty and fashion of the County. The Sheriff then opened the Poll Books the votes were counted, and before announcing the result, he thanked the gentlemen who had assisted him in holding the election—stating that no breach of the peace had occurred, and that the ballot system had worked well. He then declared the following gentlemen elected as Representatives for this County:

A. H. GILLMOR, G. S. GRIMMER, JAMES BOYD, J. G. STEVENS.

The members elect, and Candidates present then addressed the assemblage. Mr. Gillmor was the first speaker, and was received with most enthusiastic rounds of cheers. He thanked the electors in appropriate terms; felt most gratified for the very handsome support they had given him, and for the third time placing him at the head of the Poll, was most pleased to see so many ladies present, spoke of the influence of woman, remarking that the mothers of New Brunswick who sent out intelligence and virtuous sons do much for the benefit of the Country, that he was elected without pledges—would do his duty honestly and independently, declared himself a Liberal, and challenged his greatest opponent to meet him and discuss his political conduct.

Mr. Grimmer in appearing before the Electors felt the very great honor done him in placing him second on the poll—alluded to the beneficial influence the presence of the ladies had upon the speakers—expressed his determination to profit by the experience of brother members who had been in the Legislature—trusting that the electors would have no occasion to regret their choice of him—that he would discharge his duty honestly and to the best of his ability—was willing to drop all personal feelings, and hoped that the members elect would work together harmoniously—that the course he would pursue was indicated in his card, and otherwise. Mr. Grimmer was loudly cheered at the close of his remarks.

Mr. Boyd, knew that the people wanted him—he trembled for the Sheraton, he offered and saved it from being without a member—could have been in the House the last four years had he changed his political principles, but did not consent to do so—he was a conservative—thanked the people of St. Stephen and St. James particularly for their support—had issued his card but had not asked one man to vote for him—felt proud of his position and would perform his duty independently. [Cheers.] The Band played "Auld Lang Syne."

Mr. Stevens only wished that the spirit of that old song might live—alluded to the high compliment paid to Mr. Boyd which he was justly entitled—mentioned that although Mr. Stevens had come out at the election near the last horse on the course that he had been handsomely whipped in—made particular mention of St. George and Grand Manan for the vote he received at those places—thanked the electors generally—was liberal in his views—said that there was no politics in the Province—that the terms liberal and conservative were mere claptrap. Mr. Stevens' speech was very witty and frequently elicited applause.

Mr. Chandler thanked the electors, particularly the 407 who had voted for him bowed with submission to the will of the majority—was not deceived but felt disappointed. Had it not been for the personal popularity of Mr. Boyd, St. Andrews would have no member—that Mr. Boyd's canvass was most honorable to him, that he had taken the proper course of his issuing his card minding his business and leaving the result in the hands of the electors.

Mr. Whitlock thanked the electors for the support given him, that altho' not elected he had been placed at the head of the poll in his own Parish—that the County would be well represented as it ever was—about one half the promises made to him been fulfilled in the other Parishes he would have stood in a very different position.

Mr. Hibbard thanked electors—believed in the principles that the will of the majority should rule—that he had been shipped to the extent of 549 votes—but hoped that the next election whipping he had would whip him in—believed that this government would not last for four years, and that he would offer again, when he trusted he would be elected.

Mr. Donald was the last speaker—he wittily showed by what influence the members were elected, spoke of his independence—could not be bought off, and that he would offer again.

The remaining Candidates were not present. At the conclusion of each speech the Band played an appropriate tune. Thus has ended the Charlotte election for 1861.

Those who travel on the St. Croix, must have often observed, sitting about the steamers, one of those specimens of humanity, the sight of whom inspires a feeling of disgust, at the grovelling instinct which their look betrays. The individual alluded to, sauntered through the cabin, stares at ladies, and although shunned by all respectable persons of all classes, evidently esteems himself an important personage. This is the self-same person to whom was despatched from Head Quarters the "Leather Medal" bearing the impress of his indescribable features—to whom the "brown osper address" was unanimously voted—this is the veritable John S. Hay—editor of that renowned journal the "St. Croix Herald," the most contemptible, degraded, and withal most sublimely impudent of excoombs. Kicked out of Mr. Fenety's office, he was hired as a trumpeter for a certain individual, to do what his predecessor Lorimer, disinclined to do, to herald forth his master's virtues and be dragged in the dust at his feet, the obsequious slave of an unscrupulous master.

Because of his insignificance allowing his temerity to go unrebuked, the chicken-hearted fellow has belohed fourth slanders against men who would not endure his presence for an instant. Himself the most obsequious conductor of a hireling press, supported by the lumber lords of Milltown, yet bought and sold at will, this ineffable purveyor of yankee slang, has the insolence to accuse us of subserviency. Our paper has never condescended to the abuse of any man, but we have ever striven to maintain that honorable feeling towards each which should always characterize the members of the Press. But when a man regardless of all decency and decorum, weak after week, huris forth the most unprovoked calumnies against our principles and our conduct, to a certain degree we feel bound to recriminate. On the day of Nominations, when writing under the lash of Mr. Gillmor—when exhibited in his true light by a man who distained his paltry accusations—who did not loath the bold editor, as quaking with fear he withdrew himself from the gaze of a hooting crowd, to take notes behind the shelter of a post! Yet this inflated being poured forth in his issue of the 14th instant, a tirade of the most violent abuse because we opposed the cause of a man, whom we believe will prove a credit to the County. We have borne with him, until forbearance has ceased to be a virtue, and now with a feeling of contempt rather than anger, we would admonish him that should he pursue the course towards us which he has entered on he will find us ready to give him "ear-roland for his Oliver."

We understand that the survey of the Branch line from the N. B. & C. Railway to St. Stephen, will be completed during the present week, and that the Engineers have succeeded in obtaining a more direct route than that previously surveyed. This line is located with a view of being made a part of the extension of the E. & N. A. Railway from St. John to the Boundary line, and will dispense with the necessity of constructing a special branch from our Road to the Ledge as at first contemplated—a branch from the Ledge to the St. Stephen line will however be more practicable, and as it cannot exceed two miles in length or thereabout, we imagine the prospects of the road to the Ledge to be much better secured by the construction of the road now being located to St. Stephen.

Obituary.—It becomes our painful duty to record the death of Capt. Thomas Moore, of Campbell. He entered the service in 1803 as ensign—joined the Royal Fusiliers in 1807, was at the taking of Martinique—served with them in America, Spain, Portugal, Netherlands and France; was present at every engagement in Spain and Portugal from 1810 to 1814; was wounded in three places at Albuera—was at the capture of Ciudad Rodrigo and Badajoz, where he was severely wounded in several places; was at the battles of Busaca, Furatas, Guimada, Salamanca, the taking of Madrid, the surrender of France, and served with the army of occupation in France; on his return to England he retired, and was transferred to the Royal Veteran Battalion. Capt. Moore was universally respected, and his death is regretted by many friends.

The grass crop throughout the Country promises an abundant yield this season. Even now, the grass is better than it was in the middle of July last year. Wheat, oats and barley look thickly; potatoes are also coming on rapidly. The fruit trees however are almost destitute of blossoms, particularly cherries and plums—of which it may be said there will be very few; the frosts in the early part of May having destroyed the buds.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE.—We have received from the publishers, Messrs. L. Scott, & Co., New York, the June number of Blackwood the contents of which are:—

The Book-Hunter.
Mons. Bremer in Switzerland and Italy.
A Cruise up the Yonkston in 1857—59.
Savered.
Hades.
From the Fatherland.
Norman Sinclair: An Autobiography—Part XVI.

I'm Very Fond of Water—A new temperance song.
Memoirs of a Tory Gentleman, Index.

We have received from the agent, Mr. Finley, parts 11 and 12 of the Altar of the Household. It is one of the best devotional works published.

THE INSTRUCTOR.—We have received the May number of the "Instructor," a useful and interesting publication devoted to Education, Agriculture, Emigration, &c. We regret, however, to observe that with this number its career terminates.

WE observe by our Canadian exchanges that they have two polling days at their elections, instead of one, as with us.—[N. Br.
