a Majority of Five.

Ottawa, Sept. 9. - The first division in the new House of Commons took place last night at 10:45. It was upon the question as to whether the Government was censurable in having availed itself of the Governor-General's warrants to pay salaries and discharge other current obligations. The Government was sustained in its action by a majority of 34, the vote being: For Foster's amendment, 69; against, 103. Strange to say upon this the first division since the election, and upon a question claimed by the Opposition to be of paramount importance, there were 32 members of the House paired, while six unpaired members failed to vote. The six were Messrs. Angers, Ethier and Fiset, Liberals, and Messrs McGillivray, Pope and Robinson, Conservatives. All but Mr. Ethier were absent. The member for Two Mountains entered the House while the amendment was being read, but not having heard the whole question put was unable to figure in the division. The result, however, was not altered by the failure to record these half dozen votes, as they offset each other. The which is sure to be captured by the Liberals, making the straight Liberal vote over all 27. The Government majority being assured the Independents will likely generally support the new administration.

The debate was carried on by Messrs. Haggart, Charlton, McMullen, Henderson, Caron, McNeill and Monk. Mr. E. B. Osler (West Toronto) de-livered a speech which was alternately cheered from the Government and Opposition benches. He said the debate had been unduly prolonged, and that the Liberals had got into power not from their own virtues, but be-cause of the misdoings of the Conservatives. He promised the Government support if they did right.

Young Graham Will Go to the Penitentiary.

prisoned in the Provincial Penitentiary for three years," were the words addressed to James E. Graham, the young man who has fallen into distemptation to abstract money from letters at the London East postoffice, where he was employed as clerk. Mr. McKillop charged the prisoner under sub-section "D" of the Criminal Code, which reads as follows: "Every one is guilty of an indictable offense and liable to imprisonment for life, or for any term not less than three years, who steals: (a) a post letter bag: or (b) a post letter from a post letter bag or from any postoffice, or ada or from a mail; or (c) a post letter containing any chattel, money or valuable security; or (d) any chattel.

out of a post letter." As young Graham stood up in the dock the expression on every face, or about Aug. 4, of taking $16 from one letter; and then again of taking $1 from another and $4 from a third.

Are you guilty or not guilty? Geo. C. Gibbons, Q.C., was counsel for the young man, and said he had hesitated over a week as to whether he should plead guilty or not guilty. He felt sorry it was the magistrate's painful duty to carry out the instructions of the law in this case. In this case, as in many others, there were extenuating circumstances. Temptation had been placed in his way, and no doubt the authorities had sinned against him as much as he had sinned against the authorities, and in his opinion the punishment did not fit the crime. His character previously was above reproach. However, they had concluded to plead guilty, and try later on to bring before the proper authorities all the circumstances of the case in the hope that the punish-ment might be mitigated. The magistrate then passed the sentence, and young Graham sat down and wept, while the whole court maintained a rigid silence for a minute or two, as the fact dawned upon them that spending three years of a young life among hardened criminals was a most serious thing to contemplate. Graham evidently felt his position keenly, as did his highly esteemed relatives.

Wm. Ashton, a vagrant, charged with being drunk, said he was a cigarmaker from Dundas, and was here to collect $15, a debt on a horse deal. He pleaded hard to be let go, and his request was complied with. John Harris, a colored man and an old frequenter, had been promised a long term the last time he came up, but the police magistrate gave him one more chance and again warned

Sarsaparilla Sense.

Any sarsaparilla is sarsaparilla. True. So any tea is tea. So any flour is flour, But grades differ. You want the best. It's so with sarsaparilla. There are grades. You want the best. If you understood sarsaparilla as well as you do tea and flour it would be easy to determine. But you don't. How should you? When you are going to buy a commodity whose value you don't know, you pick out an old established house to trade with, and trust their experience and reputation. Do so when buying sarsaparilla.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been on the market 50 years. Your grandfather used Aver's. It is a reputable medicine. There are many Sarsaparillas but only one Aver's. It

The base running contest was won by McDonald, of the Hamilton team, who covered the distance in 15 seconds. The second and third money was divided between Hoff. ner and Cockman, who made the dis-tance in 16 seconds. Gallagher, of the Guelph team, won the first prize in the ball throwing, sending the sphere yards, 7 inches. Pfenninger, of Hamilton, was second, with 116 yards, and Cockman third, with 108 yards.

THE FICKLE PUBLIC. Chicago Post: Today a hero, tomorrow a faint recollection, is about the best a ball player gets from the fickle public. It does not take long for a favorite to sink into oblivion not so long as it requires for a player to become a popular favorite. Take Latham, for instance. When it was found that the Cincinnati club intended getting rid of the "dude," a horrible howl went up from a large num-ber of patrons of the game, many of whom deckared that never again woud they attend ball games in Cincinnati because the Cincinnati management by trading off Latham, had removed from the team its one draw-ing card, and that the man who was to take his place was not good enough for Anson, and that what was not good enough for Chicago certainly was not good enough for Cincinnati. over Irwin as ever they were over Labham, and it is only when Irwin fails to reach on an attempted steal, or is caught napping—which has not occurred recently—that they make a baur family about "Locie." He stated that the story of his marriage was a joke started by a business rival in St. Louis. Asked if he was going to marry soon, he raid he had no intention of that kind.

The first baseball game of a series of three for the champlenship of Lamb-ton was played at Petrolea on Tues-day between the Point Edward and Point Edward 5.

Anderson's 21 put-outs out of 27 at first base for Brooklyn in the Louis-ville game of Aug. 26, is the record of the record made by the Bostons against the Browns, and two of the contests were not played to the limit on account of darkness.

Treasurer Henry Pulliam, of the ouisvilles, says that Klobedanz has more curves than a set of Populist 1, John whiskers in a Kansas cyclone, or a 1:03 3-4.

Manager Hanlon says that while it was true that Donnelly had not done himself justice in the Cleveland series. Fourth race, he attributed it very largely to the fact that the crowd had been calling time and again for McGraw, and that disconcerted Donnelly and made him

Abbie Johnson, of London, who has been playing so brilliantly all season with Augusta, Me., has reached the top notch in the profession, and play with Boston next year. He will finish with Louisville this season. LAWN BOWLING.

THE TROPHY WON. Another beautiful day favored the bowlers yesterday, and a large ga-thering of the lovers of the sport were in attendance. The championship tro-phy was carried off by E. T. Light-burn's rink, while each of the members-F. Lightburn, K. H. Cameron, and A. H. Baines—gets a pair of bowls as a bonus. The Londons did not have any show in this competition, and realized this on Monday afternoon, when they consoled them-selves with the idea that things had been made as even as possible, the strong men of the team not having been grouped against the weaklings, and were going along smoothly. No brilliant scores were made in the championship race, but much brilliant

The consolation match, doubles and singles, are now in progress, and in these London is inclined to come up smiling. J. Pritchard and C. Weld did up everything in their way yesterday, and are laying low for those pewters.

One of the most brilliant plays of the tournament was the second round in the doubles between S. Taylor and H. W. Givins (skip), and Weir and Pickard (skip) of Seaforth when the former defeated the latter 15 to 0 The World Hose-Reel Racing Record in 5 ends. The Londoners are youngsters and the Seaforth team old skips. The youngsters are booked as sure winners, and are encouraged by the older members of the club.

E. T. Lightburn was the drawing card, as he sent in the last shot, and totaled up 22 shots. The enthusiasts sent up a hearty cheer, while many bowlers crowded round him to offer their congratuations. The Lightburns and Scott, of Toronto, are becoming famous, having won the Ontario Bowling Association trophy at Niagara for two years. Lightburn car-

The annual tournament of the Toronto Lawn Tennis Club concluded on Monday evening, with the finals in the handicap and novice doubles. Foulkes beat Avery, his partner, in the doubles, in the handicap, and so met Ware in the final. The latter owed 1-4.15, and as Foulkes so nearly defeated him in the open singles, it was thought he would win on the allowance. Ware, however, played a faultless game, and won the match in straight sets. In the finals of the doubles, Ware and Sheldon beat Foulkes and Avery, 6-1, 6-1, 6-4. CRICKET. A PECULIAR INCIDENT A peculiar incident happened durthe international cricket match recently played at Philadelphia. The Americans had lost nine wickets for 26 runs, when Ralston went in. Laing's first ball clean bowled him, striking Mackintosh, the wicket keep-er, on the pads, jumped back and hit the wickets again. The American umpire gave Ralston not out, and 26 more runs were added before the inning closed. Laing at that time had wickets for 8 runs.

KILLED HER LITTLE SISTER.

Terrible Tragedy C used by a Child Being Sent to Chop Wood.

New York, Sept. 9.—Three-year-old Maggie McGowan was killed by her 8-year-old sister Kate, Thursday, with an axe. The children, daughters of Wm. McGowan 976 West Twenty-first place were in the yard of their home, when the tragedy took place. Katie was attempting to chop wood with a heavy axe, and little Maggie was watching her and was much interested. She leaned too far forward when the axe was lifted, and when it came down it struck her.

Mrs. McGowan, the mother, was busy at the time, and while she knew what Katie was doing, paid little attention to the girls, thinking Maggie would be all right. The child, however, was so anxious to see all that was being done, that she kept creep ing closer to her sister. Katie did not notice how near the baby was to her, and raised the axe as high as she could. As she did so, Maggie threw her head forward, and the axe struck her just above the forehead, and almost in the center.

The child fell without a cry, but Katie screamed wildly for her mother who rushed to the spot and picked up her baby, trying to stop the flow of blood. The mother carried the child indoors and neighbors went for a doctor. Before he came the girl

An inquest was held in the evening and the jury, after hearing Katie tell how the affair happened, rendered a verdict of accidental death.

It is a well-known fact that a great many mines have been worked and large quantities of ore brought to light, but continued development was impossible, owing to a lack of necessary funds. These properties can be bought at prices much below their commercial value, so that profit on the investment is assured at the outset, and, as your product is money as soon as produced, gold mining, if properly managed, may be looked upon as bringing in the quickest and largest returns of any business which is en-

> Last night the Heights were a scene of great activity. Baggage was being dier birds were all building their little nests and making trial crawls into them. The distribution of blankets caused great anxiety. Each man got three from the supply tent but before three from the supply tent, but before they had been out half an hour some had only one, and others six or seven, through some silent shifting process. It is an old trick, and those who have traveled furthest and fared the hardest know best how to work it, and still more to appreciate it. Among the 1,000 men under canvas it is only reasonable to expect that there will be found some so utterly selfish as to care little how their comrades pass the night so long as they are comfortably rolled up in somebody else's blankets.

The camp police have been chosen Ladies' Black Sateen Corsets, the from the barracks, and are under the charge of Sergt. Cranston, who is price we are sure will please bound that as good order shall prevail in camp as in the barracks.

They are for Alma, Sebastopol, Turkish long service, good conduct, and the Reil rebellion in Northwest. Corp. Millie, R. R. C. I., has been appointed his assistant, and has been given charge of the gun. "Yes," said a comrade, "Millie is just the boy for that. He's kept the whole barracks awake before now, and with 1,000 men in camp he'll 'wake up' and 'to sleep' with five pounds of powder for every two that's required." As only one battalion is red-coated, the camp loses much from a spectacular point of view.

NEW RIFLES SERVED. Lee-Enfield rifles have been issued for the corps in camp. With the new weapon there goes out 25 rounds per man of the cordite-loaded, nickel-cased bullet ammunition. It is the intention to have 20 shots fired by each man in independent firing, and where it can be arranged, an addition five rounds in volley firing. There will be no magazine practice this year, but it is said to be the intention of the department to have that included in next lungs, and was given up by physiyear's course. Very specific instructions as to the care of the new rifle are being given out, too, and the procedure arranged for allows of small chance for the rifles to be injured by want of proper care. A sufficient number to put one corps through the firing exercise and rifle practice go to each camp. These have practice go to each camp. These have been issued to the corps detailed for that duty each day, and will be handed over from one to another good."

This is a year of political wonders over the border. A son of the late President Grant, now living in California, has turned Populist. He has hitherto been a strong Republican.

Let us have more divisions at Ottawa, and let Parliament adjourn. The supplies cannot be withheld on the ground that the new Government does not have the confidence of the

There is a wide range in the ages of the Democratic Presidential candidates. Bryan, "the boy orator of the Platte," and the silver candidate, is scarcely 40 vet, while General Palmer, the candidate of the gold wing of the party, is a jolly old fellow of 80.

A Russian is said to have discovered a method whereby distance makes no difference in the distinctness with which sounds are heard over a telephone wire. This is important, if substantiated. Anything else to win?

The test case as to the respective rights of the Dominion and of the Province to appoint Queen's Counsel is now being argued in the Court of Appeal. Two questions are before the court: Since March 29, 1873, has the Lieutenant-Governor the right by letters patent to appoint Queen's Counsel, and has he the right to grant patents of precedence in the courts of Ontario? 2. Whether such patents are valid? The Province is relying mainly on its contention that by a decision of the English courts it has the right to confer by act of the Legislature these powers on the Lieutenant-Governor. The probability is that in this case, as in all issues of the kind which he has contested, Sir Oliver will be proved to be in the right.

11 11-11 Says the Montreal Witness: "Mr. Mills, the Liberal statesman, who is a recognized constitutional authority, was triumphantly declared by the Conservative press to have advised Mr. Laurier not to accept the responsibility for the Governor-General's course in declining the advice of the Tupper Government. The Conservative press professed to regard Mr. Mill's opinion as of the greatest weight, and they declared he had declined to enter Mr. Laurier's Government because of his views on this question. When, therefore, the Conservative press is told by Mr, Mills that there is not a particle of foundation for the story, it will surely come to the conclusion that Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Foster are pursuing a mistaken and bad course in forcing a quarrel over the Governor-General's action with the Liberal party."

The new Government, though holding that no precedent could be made of its action, under the extraordinary dircumstances in which the country was placed by the assembling of a sixth session by the late Administration, after the Parliament was practically defunct, maintained that it was warmanted in getting the Governor-General's sanction to the payment of those ordinary debts of the country.

How little ground there was for the complaint voiced by Mr. Foster's tremendously long motion of censure discussion. It was not contended that one cent of the money was wrongfully expended; the only complaint was that wages before Parliament had formally voited the supplies.

While drilling for gas at the residence of G. W. Smith, at Sombra, Monday, the drill struck some hard substance at a depth of 150 feet, which would not be penetrated. The drill was removed and a lead line dropped in the well, which came to the surface, covered with a fine grade of copper ore.

Andrew Mallott, a Tilbury East young man, has just served fifteen days in jail on a judgment summons for contempt of court, and is going back to sojourn in jail for another term. An insurance company secured a judgment for about $70 against Mallott on an unpaid note. He refused to pay on the ground that the policy was secured by false pretenses, and preferred to go to jail.

Wm. Emmetit, of St. Thomas, is now serving a sentence of 23 months in the Central Prison for bigamy, it being shown he was married to three different women. The regal wife of the bigamist is now circulating a petition for his release, though he has served only a few months of his term. During the trial this woman was very faithful to the prisoner, and pleaded hard for the judge to be lenient.

An aged colored resident of the 3rd con., Harwich, named Cephas, about 70 years of age, met his death Saturnight in a mysterious manner. He had been out plowing during the day, and when last seen was alive in the field. He and his feeble wife, it is said, lived alone upon the farm, and the old lady was much alarmed at his absence. Search for Cephas was instituted, and resulted in the finding of his body, cold and stiff in death lying in the corner of the barn. The physician who was summoned inclines to the hellief that heart was the cause of death.

Exhibits at the Western Fair Are Now Coming.

The Main Building Will Be Crowded-Great Display of Horses and Cattle Promised.

The hum of industry is becoming louder at the Western Fair grounds. Tomorrow the Fair will be nominally opened, without the slightest ceremony, and the secretary will take up his office on the grounds. Exhibits are pouring in, especially in the main building. Mr. George Taylor, the chairman, says he finds great difficulty in securing space for several late displays on the ground floor. In quality and tastefulness, the palace show will be equal to any in former years.

The new buildings have already had their effect on exhibitors. "We will have the greatest field of horses in our history," said Secretary Browne today. "Live stock entries to date are greatly in excess of last year. On Monday night we had twice as many cattle entered as on the same night last year. Everything goes lovely." Western Fair representatives are in Toronto looking after the exhibits, which will be brought to London at the latter end of this week. Mr. Dan Ferguson is looking after the horses; Charles Trebilcock, the cattle, and Mr. Allan Bogue, the poultry.

The carriage building is already be ing filled with beautiful vehicles. Exhibits are also entering the machinery hall. The agricultural hall display is also coming in.

Men are busy rolling the race track. Over thirty tons of fodder have been placed in the caltile sheds. The main building resounds with

SOSTMO.

Among Mrs. Strong's recollections of Stevenson in Scribner's Magazine are certain stories of Sesimo, the native who took such good care of him and ruled his affairs with so firm a hand. Stevenson had a topaz stud that was somewhat difficult to put in his shirt, so he gave it to Mrs. Strong, who laid it away in her trinket box. When first she wanted to wear it she was dismayed to find it gone. Sosimo had missed the stud, discovered it in her box, and carried it back to Louis'

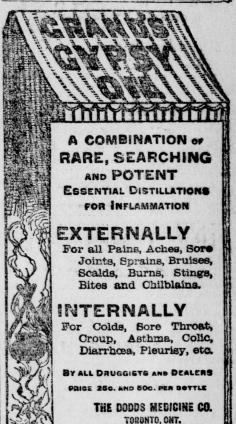

"I kept up the fight," she says. "for some time, trying to secrete it from Sosimo by putting it in out-of-the way places, but it was invariably found in Louis room, wherever I had hidden it. When Sosimo came up from the ship by which he and his master had taken a trip to a neighboring island, he put Louis' valise down on the veranda, and carefully abstracted from his mouth the precious stud he had carried there for safety. I gave up then, and the stud becan Louis' own. "One day I went into Louis' room and found him and Sosimo very busy clearing up and sorting papers.

"'Did you tell Sosimo to do this?"

I asked 'No,' said Louis, with his arms full of books. 'He told me.' Another day the cook was away, and Louis, who was busy writing, took his meals in his room. Knowing that there was no one to cook his lunch he told Sosimo to bring him some bread and cheese. To his surprise he was furnished with an excellent meal-an omelette, a good salad and perfect coffee. "Who cooked this?" asked Louis. in Samoan. "I did," said Sosimo.

"Well," said Louis, "great is your wisdom " Sosimo bowed and corrected him: "Great is my love."

TORONTO.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Cattle market was quiet today. Hogs were ic easier for choice; other live stock was steady. Receipts were 70 cars including 1,251 sheep and lambs, 40 calves and 1,700 hogs. Cables were steady. There was fair demand and prices were steady, but the quality was not up to the mark. Best cattle sold at 4c, but some sold from 3jc up to that price. Butchers' cattle were in fair demand, at 2c to 3c, and a few choice sold at 3j per lb. Seven cars were taken for the Montreal market.

Sheep were steady; export sheep selling at 3jc per lb. Lambs were steady, at $2 to $2.50 each. Butchers' sheep were not wanted.

Hogs were easier for best bacon hogs and 4c per lb. was the top price paid; 3jc for thick fat and 3jc per lb, for light; stores were not wanted.

LIVERPOOL

Liverpool, Sept. 7.—There was an unsettled feeling in the cattle market and prices were somewhat irregular. Choice States were quoted at 11c to 11½c; Canadians at 10½c to 10½c. The market for Canadian sheep was stronger, and prices advanced ½c since this day week to 11c, while Argentines and Americans were lower at 10c on account of the inferior quality.

were to 11c, while Argentines and Americans were lower at 10c on account of the inferior quality.

A private cable from Liverpool stated that Canadian cattle were selling badly on account of heavy supplies of Irish.

LONDON.

A private cable from London quotes choice States cattle at 11½ and Canadians at 11c.

Another private cable from London reported a sale of pretty good Canadian cattle at £14, 5s per head, which is equal to 10c.

Messrs. John Olde & Son, live stock salesmen of London, England, write Wm. Cunningham, live stock agent, of the Board of Trade, as follows: The supplies at Deptford today were considerably shorter, only 1,234 head of cattle were for sale, which together with a better demand in the dead meat markets and cooler weather caused the prices to rise a strong ½d. Good States cattle made 5½d to exceptionally 6d for small choice cattle. Canadians 5½d to 5½d. For sale were 1,137 States cattle and 97 Canadians; especially prices for middling cattle has improved as no South American cattle had arrived.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Sept. 7.-At the East End abattoir the offerings of live stock were 600 cattle, 500 sheep, 500 lambs and 150 calves; there was no improvement in the tone of the market, and prices were about the same as on buyers was better, and a more active trade was done. There was no demand from shippers, no suitable stock being on the market for this trade. Really to 2 3-4c; common, 2c to 2 1-4c; and inferior at 1 1-2c to 2c per lb, live weight. There was a good demand for sheep for export; bulk of offerings taken at 3c per lb, while butchers paid $2 to $2 50 each. An active trade was done in lambs, at $1 to $3 50 each. The supply of calves was small and de-mand only fair, at $2 to $7 each. At the Point St. Charles cattle market there was a fair run, mostly of butchers' stock. There was some demand for export cattle, and two loads changed hands at 3 1-2 per lb. There was a firmer regling in the market for hogs, and prices were 10c per 100 for one small lot of choice lightweights. In regard to ocean freight rates the market is somewhat unsettled. Rates on horses to Liverpool have advanced 10s to f4, and to Glasgow f1 to f5 per head. The shipments of cattle last week show a decrease of over 1.500 head, and sheep over 4,800 head, as compared with the previous week. GLASGOW HORSE MARKET. A sale of American horses, both United States and Canadian, was held on the 26th August by Messrs. Macdonald, Fraser & Co. (Limited), in their horse bazar, Glasgow, when 85 animals were catalogued, but of that number 20 had not arrived in time for the sale. Those presented consisted of a very good selection of matching and carriage ing or for posting and hiring purposes, while a few of a heavier class were suited for cart, van or light lorry serand harness horses is now practically horses of the quality of those presenttained for a 5-year-old chestnut trotting cab horse, standing 14.3 hands high, and which was warranted to trot horses for light carting or van purposes changed hands at from $75 to $137 50. A number of horses were withdrawn, the reserve price not having been reached. The firm since last sale by auction have disposed of close upon 300 horses by private treaty. These consisted principally of nice matching horses, and a number suitable for 'bus and posting use. Prices realized for the best being from $175 to $275, with others from $125 to $175. A portion of those sold were intended for the London and French markets, and higher values could have been obtained for them had not the supply exceeded the demand to a great extent.

Topics of Today.

The papers relating to the Military College at Kingston, laid before Parliament, show that the board of expert visitors appointed by the late Government reported that the college was in poor shape, and that its welfare demanded the removal of Commandant Cameron and several of the staff. On this report, suppresed by the late Administration, the new Government promptly acted. For dispensing with the services of Gen. Cameron, the Administration has been censured. But it is easily seen the action was in the public interest.

Sir Oliver recommended that no commissions meanwhile issue because there was doubts as to the right of the Dominion to appoint. He asserts that Burritt, Mitchell, 8. the list submitted by the late Government is disapproved of even by some named in it, and that the selections were not made upon the basis of personal or professional merit. Furthermore, he contends that the wholesale and indiscriminate selection would be a degradation of the office and a grievance as regards the bar generally, instead of being a well-merited honor to those receiving it. The Government has indorsed Sir Oliver's decision.

The Prizes Won by the Seventh Battalion Team Here-A Credit to Them.

On Monday, Major Hayes received from Ottawa the prize won by the Seventh Battalion at the recent Canadian League rifle matches. The prize is a handsome solid silver salver, valued at $60, and very finely engraved. The team was composed of Major Hayes, Capts. Watt and Daw-son, Color-Sergts. Freeland, Galbraith, Jacobs, Hayman, Sergt, Erskine, Corporals Robson and Ross.

Although this is but the ninth prize, the men deserve great credit, as in the contest were 140 battalions, some of which entered three and four teams, while the Seventh had only the one team. The Seventh have now a fine array of prizes won at the annual contests. In 1893 they stood first, in 1894 they were second; last year they took in the same position as this.

On the night of De Vries' return there was a great gathering at Van Heemskirk's house. No formal invitations were given, but all the friends of the family understood that it would be so. Joris kept on his coat and ruffles and fine cravat; Batavius wore his blue broadcloth and gilt buttons, and Lysbet and her daughters were in their kirk dresses of silk and camblet. was an exquisite summer evening. and the windows looking into the garden were all open; so, also, was the door; and long before sunset the stoop was full of neighborly men, smoking with Joris and Batavius, and discussing colonial and commercial affairs.

In the living room and the best parlor their wives were gathered-women with finely-rounded forms, very hand-somely clothed, and all busily employe ed in the discussion of subjects of the greatest interest to them. For Joanna's marriage was now to be freely talked over, the house Batavius was going to build described, the linen and clothing she had prepared examined, and the had brought her wondered at and

Then there was a short pause, and the says to these elder sons, "There is no need of your coming up here any more for corn unless you can bring Benjamin, your father's darling." "No use of asking me," said the father. "I cannot, I will not, give up Benjamin." The fact was that the old man had lost children, and when there has been Elder Semple and madam arrived; and the Elder, as usual, made a de-cided stir among the group which he

The conversation interrupted by Semple's entrance was not resumed. It had been one dealing out unsparing and scornful disapproval of Gov. Clinten's financial methods, and Clinton was known to be a personal friend of Semple's. But the Elder would, per-haps, hardly have appreciated the conversation if he had divined it, for he dearly loved an argument, and had no objection to fight for his own side single-handed. In fact, it was so natural for him to be "in opposition" that he could not bear to join the general congratulation to De Vries on

There was something so frank and persuasive about the elegant stranger that Joris could not refuse that courtesy she asked for herself and her ephew. And, having yielded, he yielded with entire truth and confidence. He gave his hand to his visitors, and made them heartily welcome to join in his household rejoicing. True, Mrs. Gordon's persuasive words were only seconded by causes which she had probably calculated. The Elder and Madame Semple were present, and it would have been impossible for Joris to treat their friends rudely. Bram was also another conciliating element, for Capt. Hyde was on pleasant speakng terms with him; and as yet, even Neil's relations were at least those of presumed friendshin. Also, the Van Gaasbeecks and others present were well inclined to make the acquaintance of a woman so agreeable, and an officer so exceptionally handsome and genteel. Besides which, Joris was himself in a happy and genial mood; he had opened his house and his heart to his friends, and he did not feel at that hour as if he could doubt any human being, or close his door against even the stranger and the alien who wished to rejoice with him. Jacob, the father, has the last report from the flour bin, and he finds that everything is out and he finds his sons: "Boys, hook up the wagons and start for Egypt, and get us some-thing to eat." The fact was, there was a great corn-crib in Egypt. To that crib they came from the regions around about—those who were famished-some paying for the corn in money; when the money was exhaust-ed, paying for the corn in sheep and most of the world's sympathy among his shoulder, and he raised his own to clasp it. Famine, famine in all the earth; not for seven years, but for six thousand. But, blessed be God, there is a great corn-crib. The Lord built it. It is in another land. It is a large place. An angel once measured it, and as far as I can calculate it in one phrase, that corncrib is fifteen hundred miles long and fifteen hundred miles broad, and fifteen hundred miles high; and it is full. Food for all nations. "Oh," say the people, "we will start right away and get this supply for our soul." But stop a moment; for from the Keeper of that corn-crib there comes this word, saying, "You shall not see my face except your brother be with you." In other words, there is no such thing as getting from heaven pardon and comfort and eternal life unless we bring with us our Divine Brother, the ord Jesus Christ. Coming without him we shall fall before we reach the corn-crib, and our bodies shall be a portion for the jackals of the wilderness; but coming with the Divine Jesus, all the granaries of heaven will swing open before our soul and abundance shall be given We shall be invited to sit in the palace of the King, and at the table and while the Lord of Heaven is apportioning from his own table to other tables, he will not forget us; and then and there it will be found riches and honor and glory and pow-I want to make three points. Every frank and common-sense man will acknowledge himself to be a sinner. What are you going to do with your sins? Have them pardoned, you say How? Through the mercy of God. What do you mean by the mercy of God? Is it the letting down of a bar for the admission of all, without respect to character? Be not deceived. There is no mercy from God except through Jesus Christ. Coming with him, we are accepted. Coming with-out him, we are rejected. Peter put it right in his great sermon before the high priests, when he thundered forth, "Neither is there salvation in any other. There is no other name given under heaven among men whereby we may be saved." O, anxiwhich can easily be removed by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the best known stomach, liver and bowel regulator and cure for sick headache from whatever cause arising.

Am I right in cailing Jesus Benjamin? Oh, yes. Rachel lived only long enough to give a mame to that child, and with a dying kiss she called him benom. Afterward Jacob changed his name, and he called him Benjamin. The meaning of the name she gave was "Son of My Pain." The meaning of the name the father gave was "Son of My Right Hand." And was not Christ the Son of Pain? All the sorrow of Rachel in that hour when sorrow of Rachel in that hour when she gave her child over into the hands of strangers, was as nothing compared with the struggle of God when he gave up his only Son. And was not Christ appropriately called "Son of the Right Hand." O Benjamin—Jesus! Son of pang! Son of victory! The deepest emotions of our souls ought to be stirred at the sound of that pomenciature. In your sound of that nomenclature. In your prayers plead his tears, his sufferings, his sorrows, and his death. If you refuse to do it, all the corn-cribs and the palaces of her the palaces of her the palaces. not see my face except your brother be with you." My text also, suggests the reason why so many people do not get any real comfort. You meet ten people;

nine of them are in need of some kind of condolence. There is some thing in their health, or in their state, or in their domestic condition, most of the world's sympathy amounts to absolutely nothing. People go to the wrong crib, or they go in the wrong way. With the swift feet the wrong way. With the swift feet of prayer go direct to the corn-crib for a heavenly supply. Here, Oh Lord, crusade for bread has arrived. Jacob are the wounds of my soul, and I bring with me the wounded Jesus. Let his wounds pay for my wounds, his be-reavements for my bereavements, his loneliness for my loneliness, his heart-break for my heart-break. Oh, God! for the sake of the Lord Jesus Christ-the God, the man, the Benjamin, the brother—deliver my agoniz-ed soul. Oh, Jesus of the weary foot ease my fatigue. Oh, Jesus of the aching head, heal my aching head. Oh, Jesus of the Bethany sisters, roll away the stone from the door of our grave." That is the kind of prayer that brings help; and yet how many of you are getting no help at all, for the reason that there is in your soul, perhaps, a secret trouble. O, troubled soul, I want to tell you that there is one salve that can cure the wounds of the heart, and that is the salve made out of the tears of a sympathetic Jesus. And yet some of you will not take this solace; and you try chloral, and you try morphine, and you try strong drink, and you try change of scene, and you try new business as-sociations, and anything and everything rather than to take the divine Mr. Neil Semple will hav de honor of bereavement in a household, and a child taken, it makes the other child it says, "You shall not see my face companionship and sympathy sugfirst negro violin, there was a sudden silence; and Neil rose with a low bow, offered the tips of his firstory of the farming of the farming the farming of the farming the farming of the farming the infer from that all the people will go the condition of getting into heaven is our bringing our divine Benjamin along with us. If Jacob's sons, coming toward gardens and orchards and aquariums exhausted to the corn-cribs of Egypt and aviaries are brought there, and and it had been found that Benjamin was with them, all the storehouses would have swung open before them. And so, though by fatal casualty we may be ushered into the eternal world; though we may be weak and exhausted by protracted sickness-if, in that last moment, we can only just stagger and faint and fall into the gate of heaven—it seems that all the corn cribs of heaven will open for our need and all the palaces will open for our reception; and the Lord of that place, seated at his table, shall pass a portion from his table to ours, and then, while we think of the fact that it was Jesus who started us on the road, and Jesus who kept us on the way, and Jesus who at last gained admittance for our soul, we shall be glad if he has seen of the travail of his soul and been satisfied, and not be at all jealous if it be found that our divine Benjamin's mess is five times larger than all the rest. Hail! anointed of the Lord. Thou art worthy. My friends, you see it is either Christ or famine. O. will you live or die? Will you sail into the harbor or drive on the rocks? Will you start for the Egyptian corn-crib, or will you perish amid the empty barns of the

Mr. Frederick Zeigler is well known in and around Seaforth, where he has lived for many years. His prolonged and terrible suffering from rheumatism and la grippe is also well known to most of the physicians of that town, having been treated by them for years without any relief. Mr. Zeigler writes for the benefit of the readers of the Huron Expositor:

"Fourteen years ago I was seized with rheumatism. I have suffered terribly with it, the pains at times being almost unbearable, I tried several of the best doctors, but to no avail. about four years ago I was taken with la grippe. I then doctored with five of the best doctors for five months with little or no relief. I paid over $150 in doctors' bills and medicines of various kinds. I at last procured three bottles of Williams' Royal Crown Remedy and Pills, and by the time I had used one bottle I began to feel better, and when I had used two and a half bottles I was completely cured, and have remained in perfect health ever since. I believe it to be the best medicine ever introduced in or about these parts."
