BRANTFORD DAILY COURIER

LAST EDITION

FORTY-FOURTH YEAR

BRANTFORD, CANADA, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1914

ONE CENT

A three day Campaign to raise $100,000 war relief fund will be conducted next week. The money is to be spent in Brant County to relieve suffering caused directly and indirectly by the war during the coming months. The soldiers are fighting our battles at the front---they are doing their share: What is your duty in this crisis of the British Empire?

SIXTH DAY---BREAK MUST COME SOON TERRIFIC CONFLICT

Immense Strain Beginning to tell on Both Armies--Can the Allies Break Line of Communication of the Germans--The Situation.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
LONDON, Sept. 19.—10.28 a.m.—The battle of the Aisne, now in its sixth day, and beginning as a rear guard action, has developed into the supreme conflict of the French campaign.
The latest official news sets forth that there has been a lull in the titanic artillery duel. This is taken to indicate that to-day's struggle may be marked by a tremendous advance of infantry, such as made the battlefield of the Marne a scene of indescribable horror and desolation.
A French officer who has just returned from the battle front, is quoted for the statement that the strain on both sides of the line in France, promises soon to get beyond human endurance. He likens the antagonists to two exhausted pugilists, and says that soon they will be unable to inflict further punishment on each other.
If this situation develops, the way is possible for the allies to prevent a weary and disheartening winter campaign, it is argued here will be a successful assault on the German communication.
Such an assault, it is admitted by the allies, will not be an easy matter. The Belgian army, in a hasty despatch of any great part of the German army now occupying Belgium to reinforce their communications in France, the Belgian forces are not strong enough seriously to interfere with communications, while the allies must break through some part of the line, or turn the German right before they can effectively threaten the communication of the invaders.
Petrograd reports that General Rennenkampf has definitely arrested the German advance.
The Austrians, in a persistent effort to save remnants of their army and re-establish it as a fighting force, have, according to reports received here from Vienna fortified their extended new defensive front from Drobobycz, southwest of Lemberg, to Gracow with the center on Przemysl. An attack on the Przemysl fortress is expected at once from the Russians under command of Generals Ruzsky and Brussloff. One report which reaches London from Galicia declares that the Austrian cavalry has been entirely wiped out. This may account for the fortification of the Austrian line instead of its continued retreat towards Gracow.

From many points in the dual monarchy comes disquieting reports. Pola, the naval base on the Adriatic, is said to be in revolt, while the people of Vienna, refusing longer to have their attention diverted towards the west are demanding news of the situation in Galicia, from which district hordes of refugee Poles and wounded Austrian soldiers are pouring into the capital daily. Violent scenes outside the ministry of war at Vienna are reported.
The most cruel aspect, from the British standpoint of the terrible battle raging in the western arena of the war now, is the dreadful apprehension with which the British public awaits the publication of the casualties of last week's fighting. Many of Great Britain's most famous regiments are reported to have been in the thick of the terrible assaults on the heights held by the Germans above the River Aisne. The German pugilists, and says that a shock in this regard, for the battlefields already swept over give evidence, according to reports received here, that the famous Prussian Guard corps has been virtually wiped out.
ARE TREATED WELL.
PETROGRAD, Sept. 19.—Letters sent to their respective countries are unanimous in testifying to the good treatment that are receiving from the Russians. They complain however, that they have not received any letters from their families since the beginning of the war.
SAIL FOR AMERICA.
LONDON, Sept. 19.—Six steamers, carrying 5,000 passengers, left Britain today for the United States and Canada. This makes the total of departures during the week 15,000. Among the passengers sailing today are Andrew Carnegie and Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson.

TREMENDOUS LOSSES, ALLIES 50,000 WHILE GERMANS LOSE 100,000

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
PARIS, Sept. 19, 3.20 a.m.—The official communications issued thus far have neglected the question of losses, which, in a fight such as the battle of the Marne, covering a front of 130 miles, are almost impossible to estimate even approximately.
Some unofficial reports have placed the allies losses at 50,000 and those of the Germans at 100,000 in the series of engagements comprised in the great clash of arms. How near these figures are to the truth no one will know until the official figures are compiled. However, the impression derived from individual accounts of wounded soldiers and from prisoners, the only unofficial source of information at present would indicate that these estimates are conservative.
The losses certainly are the greatest on record and, perhaps the proportion for the Germans is greater than two to one in dead at least.
If the press bureau communications are silent on this subject the order of the day for the army gives eloquent hints of sacrifices made to gain advantage and shows how murderous is modern warfare and how regardless of personal safety are the officers and men. The latest order given out last night is full of details of the greatest heroism and at the same time indicates what the cost was of the recent successes and previous reverses.

Lieut. Naquet of the 258th infantry reservists, is among those mentioned for bravery. Although wounded, he continued the energetic direction of his company of which all officers in this section had been killed or wounded.
Adjutant Dete, of the 69th infantry, led his section on under the most violent fire until all his men were wounded. Then he grabbed a gun from one of his soldiers and while the section retired continued firing until he was killed by a fragment of shell.
For the great proportion of French officers killed or wounded two explanations are given—the zeal of the officers and the orders given to the German riflemen to pick them out.
Besides those already named, yesterday's order mentions General Mangin, who achieved fame in the Moroccan campaign; General Batille, who was killed on September 8, after showing the utmost bravery and sangfroid; Brigadier of Dragons Voituret, who when mortally wounded by a shell, cried for help: "Vive La France; I die for her; I am satisfied," and died trying to sing the Marseilles, and Lieut. Blanc of the 2nd of the Havas agency, mentioned for brilliant conduct in battle on August 29.

THE ENTRY OF THE FRENCH TROOPS INTO BELGIUM

This picture, which was drawn at the front by F. Mantania, special artist for the London Sphere and this paper, shows French soldiers removing a barricade to allow of the entry of French cavalry into a Belgian town.
During the delay experienced by the German troops in front of the Liege forts the French forces effected contact with their Belgian allies round Namur. The entry of the French into Belgium rendered necessary the removal of various barricades which had been erected by the Belgians to prevent the raids of parties of German Uhlans. Across the village streets obstacles had been improvised to impede and delay the advance of invading cavalry. The above drawing shows one such obstacle being removed by the French troops on their entry into a Belgian town. A heavy, bulky farm cart was placed across a bridge, blocking the road into the town. A number of brushwood and earthen barricades were also erected.

BRITISH BEAR BEST OF BATTLE

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
PARIS, Sept. 19.—Fragments of news from the front confirm the serious character of the combat on the Aisne. Some of those wounded on Thursday, who have arrived here declare that the fighting was even more violent than on the Marne and say the losses on both sides must be heavier. The British, as on the Marne, are bearing the brunt of the counter attacks and are conducting themselves brilliantly.
After a four days' constant hammering the German artillery slackened its fire last evening during a heavy downpour of rain which lasted all night. The trenches must have been nearly filled with water, diminishing greatly the advantage of the defense works prepared by the Germans and at the same time adding to the sufferings of the wounded.
Returning confidence is shown in the return to Paris of many who took refuge in Bordeaux and other provincial towns on the approach of the Germans. Some of the newspapers temporarily at Bordeaux are getting ready to publish in Paris again. The Daily Mail comes back to-day. The government, however, will probably remain until the war is practically ended.
Messrs. A. W. Wright, Niagara-on-the-Lake, and G. A. Kingston, Toronto, have been appointed to the Provincial Workmen's Compensation Commission.

After the British Army of General French Again Signalled Out by Germans for Destruction.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
LONDON, Sept. 19.—A despatch to the Times from Bordeaux dated Friday says:
"Throughout the whole front was engaged, the fight again the hottest on the left flank, where the turning movement is becoming defined. The enemy made a series of vigorous counter-attacks."
"General French's army has again been signalled out for the enemy's particular attention, but their three attempts to get home upon it have been in vain."
"While the fighting is hard on the eastern half of their front, the Germans are digging hard in the centre from Rheims to Argonne, and this probably will form the pivot of the battle."

Morale of Germans Is Broken Apparently As These Documents Show

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
BORDEAUX, France, Sept. 19 (9.20 a.m.)—There has been given out officially here the following information concerning incidents of the fighting and personal experiences, which has been furnished by German prisoners or obtained from documents seized by French troops. It relates particularly to the fighting around Rheims between the 15th and 16th of September.
A German artillery officer wrote:
"Modern war is the greatest of follies. Companies of 250 men, in the 10th army corps, have been reduced to 70 men, and there are to-day companies of the guard commanded by volunteers of a year, all the officers having disappeared."
The following is taken from a letter written by a German captain of infantry:
"We were surprised by the French, and I lost my company searching for it in a village I was made a prisoner. Now my fate is in the hands of God."
Another German officer, who was captured at Rheims said:
"For tactical reasons the guard had to retreat. We had many killed and injured. The first battalion of the guard has not another officer. The French artillery defiled so well that we could not discover its sight. General Von Schack and the colonel of the second regiment of artillery of the guard are among the killed."
"With what grief we learned each evening of the death of our comrades," this officer continued to one of his captors. "It is necessary to have lived the battle and to find one's self in the evening without food and with only the hard earth for a bed, to appreciate the value of life."

GERMANS IN THE EAST ARE ADVANCING INTO POLAND WITH FORCE

Information About Battle in France is Still Withheld at Berlin--French Aviator Pulls Off New and Surprising Trick.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
BERLIN, Sept. 19.—12.30 a. m. via London, 4.15 a.m.—The German eastern army continues its operations in the district about Suwalki, Russian Poland, according to a statement issued by the general staff to-night.
The army is now advancing on the fortress at Oschurov, 45 kilometres (about 30 miles) southwest of Lyck (Eastern Prussia) on the railroad between Lyck and Bieostok (a town on the borders of Lithuania and Poland). This fortress guards the River Boker which elsewhere cannot be crossed, owing to swamps, and forms a natural barrier before the advancing army.
The German headquarters announcement still give no definite information regarding the position of the battle line in France, containing themselves with speaking of it generally as located between the Oise and Meuse rivers but not mentioning what part of this large region the Germans occupy.
Lieut. Warner Von Bibeau, one of the best known German aviators, has been killed. He was mortally wounded while reconnoitering a hostile position on September 4, but clung to the steering gear until he and his observer had safely landed within the German lines. He then collapsed. As a result of the trip the observers were able to deliver a valuable report.
The well known sculptor, Friedrich Pfannschmidt, of the Fourth Foot Guards, was killed in a battle near Chalons.

The twenty-eighth casualty list just published, shows 1,036 dead, 4,039 wounded, and 1,049 missing. The total losses as given by all the lists is now 7,483 dead, 28,584 wounded, and 9,900 missing. The list just published seems to include the casualties from the recent battle at Tannenberg, East Prussia.
A shower of steel arrows released by French aviators over a mile high in the air, is the most modern terror of war, according to accounts of Germans wounded, printed in the Munich medical weekly. The arrows, which are of pressed steel, from four to six inches long, and a quarter of an inch in diameter, have a heavy pointed head and a skeletonized shaft. The arrows seem to have caused more surprise than actual damage. Only one man was killed, by a head wound in the attack described, the others causing merely flesh wounds.
The regiment "45" which the wounded belong, resting in close battalion formation, paid little attention to two aviators circling a mile overhead, until the novel projectiles suddenly rained down scattering far and wide. Men were wounded in three companies. The battery in the rear, at first non-plussed, later realized the source of the missiles, and as many as possible crawled under the wagons and escaped another shower of them.
Prince George and Prince Frederick Christian of Saxony, have been awarded the iron cross.

HEROISM ABOUNDS IN THE TRENCHES WHERE BRITISH ARE BRAVELY FIGHTING

Story of a Private at the Battle of Chantilly This Week--Fierce Battles Have Been Waged Incessantly For Days.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Times correspondent from a point behind the lines at Senlis and Chantilly, under date of September 16, writes:
"The Allies succeeded in crossing the line Sunday after a most desperate struggle. On the north bank the Germans were able to reform their lines and obtained large reinforcements.
"On Monday, a second and greater battle opened all along the line. Details are scanty, but there is every indication that the struggle has been, possibly, more terrible and greater than the struggle on the banks of the Marne.
"General Von Kluck's defence demanded the Allies' utmost strength and determination. Smashing attacks have been made and sustained in a manner that will make this battle one of the most momentous of the whole campaign. I have heard narratives of how columns went down again and again to the blazing death in the valley, and how the men worked in this inferno."
"In the trenches likewise there are tales of heroism. A wounded private told me:
"We lay in the trench, my friend and I, and when the order to fire came we shot and shot till our rifles burned up. Still they swarmed on towards us, and then my friend received a bad wound. I turned to my work again, continuing to shoot slowly. Then I rose a little too high on my shoulder. Do you know what it is like to be wounded? A little sting, pierced my arm like a hot wire, too sharp almost to be sore, and my rifle fell from me. I looked at my friend then, and he was dead."

All Ireland Rejoicing

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
DUBLIN, Ireland, Sept. 19.—For the first time on record followers of John E. Redmond and William O'Brien have joined in a popular demonstration. This occurred at Millstreet, County Cork, the cause of which rejoicing was the passage of the home rule bill. Headed by a "all for Ireland" band, a battalion of Irish volunteers paraded the streets. Speeches were delivered by local leaders, who exhorted the volunteers to join the Irish brigade and at once tender their services to the war office.
Col. H. C. Lowther, former Secretary to the Duke of Connaught, is reported in London as wounded. The German troops, with the exception of two army corps around Antwerp, have abandoned Belgium.

Despatches from the front amongst the worlded, Lt. Col. Lowther of the Guards, Colonel Lowther was military secretary to the Governor-General and visited the Indian Reserve with the Duke of Connaught a year and a half ago. He is a splendid type of the British soldier. Many Brantfordites who had the pleasure of meeting him will sincerely regret that his wounds will not prove fatal.

A very pleasing event took place on Friday evening, at the home of Miss Annie Smith, when the members of St. Mary's Sodality assembled and presented one of their number, Miss Gertrude Slattery, who left this week for St. Joseph's Hospital, London, with a beautiful ebony comb and brush set. Miss Slattery, while taken by surprise, was able to make a suitable reply, and expressed her appreciation at the gift. After the singing of "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow," the gathering broke up, wishing her every success in her new undertaking.

Hickory Lodge, Echo Place was the rendezvous on Thursday afternoon last of a happy gathering when the young ladies of Mr. Chamberlain's Dept. E. B. Crompton & Co. met to bid farewell to Miss Virginia Lamb who departed for Toledo, Ohio this morning, and presented her with a handsome dresser set. Later on in the evening the L. A. L. Club arrived and by the large camp fire, roasted corn, marshmallow, and enjoyed all the delicacies of the season. Miss Lamb was made the recipient of a silver card tray as a token of the great esteem in which she is held by the members, of which she is a popular member and her endearing qualities won an everlasting affection of all who knew her, and her many friends wish her success in her new home.

Team Captains Get Together

A meeting of the team captains of the Brant Patriotic and War Relief Association took place last night in the Y.M.C.A., when the utmost enthusiasm prevailed, and the general optimism augured well for the success of the campaign. They had little doubt that the $100,000 would be raised. The team captains reported for service were:

W. H. Whitaker, A. S. van Westrum, Geo. Kippax, G. Breerton, Roy Secord, William Miller, C. Cook, Arthur S. Pitcher, Jas. J. Hurley, J. A. Sanderson, J. M. Young, Jos. Ham.

It was definitely stated that twelve and the names selected by each captain, and the idea of fifteen was dismissed. Some of the captains had already lined up their ten workers, and everything is well ahead of schedule.

A meeting will be called next Tuesday, when the list will be gone over and the names selected by each captain. There will be no overlapping, and an agreement was come to last night whereby every worker will confine himself to his own territory.

Dr. F. C. Crichton of Moosejaw, Sask., is sojourning with friends in Brantford to-day.

C. W. Kelly is a visitor to relatives in the city. He comes from Smyrsk, U. S.

R. H. Vian of Detroit left the city this morning for his home after a brief visit with friends.

Miss Marguerite Hunka and Miss Eva Fish leave the city to-day to spend the week-end in Oakland.

Mrs. A. Scruton left to-day for Detroit to visit her daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) G. E. Gullen.

Mrs. Jas. Loney and Mrs. W. L. Hutton have returned from Halifax, where Capt. Hutton sailed for Bermuda.

Mr. Charlie Laing, St. Paul's avenue, is visiting with friends at Saranac, Mich., the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kenwick.

Mr. J. Burbank returned last night from a visit to Cincinnati, where he attended one of the largest gatherings of the National Association of Life Underwriters that has been celebrated.

Prof. J. H. Farmer, D.D., Dean of Theology in McMaster University, Toronto, is the guest of Rev. Thos. E. Richards over the week-end. Mr. Farmer is the special preacher in connection with the re-opening of the Riverdale Baptist Church, to-morrow.

The choir of Wesley Church held an enjoyable corn roast at the farm of Mr. Joe Waterhouse last night, when corn, pumpkin pie and watermelon were the special features of the occasion. Over 50 who had assembled. A torchlight procession back home concluded a very happy occasion.

The engagement is announced of Dr. Edith Beatty, Superintendent of Grace Hospital, to Mr. R. B. Liddy, M.A., of the Rev. J. E. Hespeler. The marriage will take place on Saturday, October 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Beatty, Fergus, Ont.—Toronto Globe.

Despatches from the front amongst the worlded, Lt. Col. Lowther of the Guards, Colonel Lowther was military secretary to the Governor-General and visited the Indian Reserve with the Duke of Connaught a year and a half ago. He is a splendid type of the British soldier. Many Brantfordites who had the pleasure of meeting him will sincerely regret that his wounds will not prove fatal.

A very pleasing event took place on Friday evening, at the home of Miss Annie Smith, when the members of St. Mary's Sodality assembled and presented one of their number, Miss Gertrude Slattery, who left this week for St. Joseph's Hospital, London, with a beautiful ebony comb and brush set. Miss Slattery, while taken by surprise, was able to make a suitable reply, and expressed her appreciation at the gift. After the singing of "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow," the gathering broke up, wishing her every success in her new undertaking.

Hickory Lodge, Echo Place was the rendezvous on Thursday afternoon last of a happy gathering when the young ladies of Mr. Chamberlain's Dept. E. B. Crompton & Co. met to bid farewell to Miss Virginia Lamb who departed for Toledo, Ohio this morning, and presented her with a handsome dresser set. Later on in the evening the L. A. L. Club arrived and by the large camp fire, roasted corn, marshmallow, and enjoyed all the delicacies of the season. Miss Lamb was made the recipient of a silver card tray as a token of the great esteem in which she is held by the members, of which she is a popular member and her endearing qualities won an everlasting affection of all who knew her, and her many friends wish her success in her new home.

Team Captains Get Together

A meeting of the team captains of the Brant Patriotic and War Relief Association took place last night in the Y.M.C.A., when the utmost enthusiasm prevailed, and the general optimism augured well for the success of the campaign. They had little doubt that the $100,000 would be raised. The team captains reported for service were:

W. H. Whitaker, A. S. van Westrum, Geo. Kippax, G. Breerton, Roy Secord, William Miller, C. Cook, Arthur S. Pitcher, Jas. J. Hurley, J. A. Sanderson, J. M. Young, Jos. Ham.

It was definitely stated that twelve and the names selected by each captain, and the idea of fifteen was dismissed. Some of the captains had already lined up their ten workers, and everything is well ahead of schedule.

A meeting will be called next Tuesday, when the list will be gone over and the names selected by each captain. There will be no overlapping, and an agreement was come to last night whereby every worker will confine himself to his own territory.

THE SITUATION

The present big battle is a draw at last, according to the latest news. Both sides are fighting in a determined manner, without present advantage to either.

The average condition of the principal field crops, as expressed in percentage of the standard representing a full crop, was returned on August 31 as follows: Spring wheat 75, oats 76, barley 74, rye 79, peas 74, beans 82, buckwheat 80, mixed grains 87, flax 63, corn for husking 77, potatoes 76, other roots 78, alfalfa 72, corn for fodder 85, sugar beets 79, pasture 67, and hay and clover 71.

LIBERAL TREATMENT. The Canadian Order of Foresters has taken a most liberal position in connection with the Insurance of those of its members who have enlisted for active service in the present war.

CROP ESTIMATES. A bulletin issued by the Census and Statistics Office gives the usual preliminary estimate of the yield of the principal cereal crops in Canada, according to reports of correspondents made at the end of August.

RHEIMS ON FIRE. Germans Three Miles Away Throw Shells Into the Town. LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Paris correspondent of The Daily Mail describing the great battle, says: "The Germans have held their ground three days, their heaviest guns hidden in the woods and the French artillery has not yet obtained a mastery of fire over them."

DESPERATE FIGHTING. LONDON, Sept. 19.—Earl Durham received a letter on Friday from his brother who is on the front. The letter, written two days ago, said that for the four previous days there had been desperate fighting in which the British army more than held its own.

CARRIED WRONG FLAG. PARIS, Sept. 19.—A Marseille dispatch to the Havas Agency says: "A French crew brought into port yesterday a cargo boat that had just been captured in the Mediterranean. The ship flew the Roumanian flag when captured, but in reality is a German vessel."

BRITISH SEIZE THEIR POSITIONS REGARDLESS OF WHAT IT COSTS. Famous Regiments Suffer Unflinchingly in Slow Progress Against Germans' Stubborn Defences.

ON THE BATTLE FRONT, via Paris, Sept. 18.—The fighting in the great battle now in progress does not consist of one sustained and combined movement, but in reality of several combats proceeding incessantly at the strongest points of the German defending line along the River Aisne.

ALLIES PURSUE ADVANTAGES. It is impossible to learn from any one portion of the line what is occurring at other places, but an inclination to recede slightly seemed evident on the German side, although they offered the most obstinate resistance and fought as though made of iron.

HEELS OF THEIR RELUCTANTLY RETIRING. At a point where the bulk of the British troops formed part of the allies' line the fighting was furious yesterday and the day before, and some of the most famous English, Scotch and Irish regiments, including the Guards and the Highlanders, suffered severely.

HEALS OF THEIR RELUCTANTLY RETIRING. At a point where the bulk of the British troops formed part of the allies' line the fighting was furious yesterday and the day before, and some of the most famous English, Scotch and Irish regiments, including the Guards and the Highlanders, suffered severely.

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND GO WITH FIRST FORCE

Ten Thousand Men to Remain as Nucleus of Second—Mobilization of Another Contingent Likely to Follow Shortly After Departure of First.

VALCARTIER CAMP, Que., Sept. 18.—Twenty-five thousand men will go with the first contingent of the Canadian expeditionary force, and, according to the declaration of Col. Sam Hughes, the probability is that they will leave "within a very short time." The men are eager to get to the front.

NEW BATTALIONS OF QUEBECKERS. The Militia Council met here yesterday, when final arrangements for the departure of the troops were made. All the principal officials of the Militia Department are quartered here.

ONTARIANS GRASP ESSENTIALS. All the men from Ontario, with the exception of the 48th Highlanders of Toronto, were engaged yesterday in a sham battle, and so well were the tactics exercised carried out that Col. Morrison, head of the artillery brigade, declared that the Ontario boys had shown a better grasp of the essentials than any of the troops that have been engaged in sham fights during the last few days.

TWO MORE Y. M. C. A. MEN. The Y. M. C. A. has been granted permission to send two more workers to the front with the first contingent, making a total of six. The names of those previously appointed have already been announced.

WILL PRESERVE IDENTITY. The Minister of Militia made the interesting statement that the Canadian troops would preserve their identity at the zone of hostilities and be split up and brigaded with Imperial forces, as was supposed some time ago.

HEALS OF THEIR RELUCTANTLY RETIRING. At a point where the bulk of the British troops formed part of the allies' line the fighting was furious yesterday and the day before, and some of the most famous English, Scotch and Irish regiments, including the Guards and the Highlanders, suffered severely.

AUSTRINIANS FORTIFIED. LONDON, Sept. 19.—A despatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph Company says: "Despatches from Vienna state that the Austrians on Friday fortified an extended new defensive front which will reach to Cracow. General Boveritz will command the right wing, with his center resting at Przemysl, the center will be commanded by General Von Auffenberg with Tarnow as his base, and the left wing will be commanded by General Dankl with the Germans supporting his extreme left."

Canadian Order of Foresters. The position of the Canadian Order of Foresters with reference to those of its members who already have or who may hereafter enter the active service of Great Britain, or any of Britain's allies, in the present war, is as follows: 1. The Insurance and Sick and Funeral Benefits of all members admitted to the Order prior to August 1, 1914, will be good and valid, notwithstanding that they serve in the armies or navies of Great Britain or of any of Britain's allies in the present war.

After all had partaken of the luxuries provided, Miss Lamb was presented with a handsome dresser set by the girls of the Department. While all were sitting around the huge camp fire the members of the L. A. L. Club and their escorts numbering about thirty five presented themselves on the scene and entertained the bunch to a corn roast. After music and singing by all present the club presented Miss Virgie with a beautiful silver car tray. One of the gentlemen, on behalf of Miss Lamb, responded very fittingly. After thanking the host and hostess for the most enjoyable evening spent the party returned to the city on a late car.

The Courier Bulletin News

Those watching The Courier bulletin boards, and there are thousands during the week, should be reminded that this paper, continuing the policy it has adopted since the war broke out, is putting out only authentic and reliable news. For the past few days there has been scarcely no change in the situation. The press censorship has been inexorably strict. Consequently The Courier has bulletined neither victory nor defeat. When something breaks this paper will have it, and the news will be given to its readers in complete form over the authenticated Associated Press Wire. The Sunday service from 10 a.m. to 12 a.m. and 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. will be continued to-morrow as usual.

MORALE OF GERMANS

preciate the truth of the words: "Warm was the day and bloody the battle; cold is the evening and calm is the night."
The following is from a letter written by a lieutenant of the 26th German artillery:
"The Tenth corps has been constantly upon the breach since the opening of the campaign. Nearly all our horses have fallen. We fight every day from five in the morning till eight at night, without eating or drinking. The artillery fire of the French is frightful. We get so tired that we cannot ride a horse, even at a walk. Toward noon our battery was literally under a rain of shrapnel shells and that lasted for three days. We hope for a decisive battle to end the situation, for our troops cannot rest. A French aviator last night threw four bombs, killing four men and wounding eight, and hitting no horses and wounding ten more. We do not receive any more mail, for the postal automobiles of the corps have been destroyed."
An officer of the Prussian regiment said:
"My regiment left for the front with 60 officers; it counts to-day only five. We underwent terrible trials."

AUSTRIANS BOMBARD TO COURT-MARTIAL MAYOR. LONDON, Sept. 19, 1:10 p.m.—A despatch received here from Strassburg says that the former mayor of Colmar, in Upper Alsace, is being tried by court-martial on the charge of treason. The mayor's property has been seized by the authorities. He was a member of the first legislative chamber of Alsace-Lorraine.

JAP TROOPS LAND TOKIO, Sept. 19.—The Japanese imperial troops, co-operating with the Japanese fleet, landed at Loashan Bay September 18, according to official announcement made to-day. The cavalry on September 17 captured Kiao Chow station and seized a train. Among the passengers was the president of the Shan-Tung Railway, who was made a prisoner.

REPRIMANDED PRINCE. GENEVA, via Paris, Sept. 9.—Advices received here from Germany state that Emperor William, who is still in Luxembourg, has reprimanded Crown Prince Frederick William for needlessly exposing himself and his staff to the military fire of the enemy in his eagerness to watch operations closely. Several of his staff were wounded by shrapnel fire.

A BATTLE OF WORDS. ROME, Sept. 18, 9:55, via Paris, Sept. 19.—A duel of words is being carried on between the German and Russian ambassadors to Italy. H. de Flotow, the German ambassador, in a statement issued Thursday, denying the intention of Germany to make peace, referred to the "war ignobly imposed upon" the German people. To-day the Russian ambassador, A. Kropenski, made this reply: "This passage contains as many lies as words. All the powers recognized that Germany was the aggressor, and the word 'ignoble' is the only one applicable to the German procedure before and during the war."

EMPLOYEES GIFT MONTREAL, Sept. 19.—The Grand Trunk employees in Montreal have decided to contribute the sum of $12,000 to the local branch of the patriotic fund. This will be but a portion of the contribution made by the men of the big railway system, as smaller gifts are being arranged for at the various traffic centres along the line, the money donated passing through the local patriotic funds. With the Grand Trunk employees' operation, the amount contributed by the patriots and general staffs will probably reach a total of nearly $100,000.

What Will You Do? Answer the Question Before Campaign Starts

Brantford is going to show real backbone next week. This city, allied with the Township of Brantford, proposes to raise $100,000 as a patriotic fund. The campaign will be a whirlwind affair, lasting three days, and will start on Wednesday morning. What is your duty in the matter? To those who have, it is not a duty to help to take care of those innocents, wives and families who will be forced to suffer through no fault of their own, directly and indirectly, as a cause of this great war. Patriotism may be displayed in many ways, but "care of your own" is one of the best forms of patriotism for Brantford just now. It is the care of our own, our workers, our families, the wives, and little tots who are the hopes of Canada, the care of these from the distress of a winter that necessitates an appeal being made. The $100,000 to be raised will be distributed locally. Brantford is not selfish in this regard, but it is recognized that scarcely anywhere in Canada is a patriotic endeavor such as the campaign next week more justified for entirely local needs. What will you do? Ask yourself that question over and over until next Wednesday morning. Then whatever you do, do it quickly and handsomely. The patriot who has and who will be the patriot who will come forward. Don't wait to be seen. A prompt effort for three days next week will prevent a struggling effort during the long winter months of the winter. It will mean system instead of pronounced overlapping in the work that has to be done. Do your share, and do it now. Here are the team captains: W. H. Whitaker, A. S. Van Westrum, Geo. Kippax, G. Brereton, Roy Secord, William Miller, C. Cook, Arthur S. Pitcher, Jas. J. Hurley, J. A. Sanderson, J. M. Young, Jos. Ham.

Germany's Powerful and Runaway Wonder Ship

The battleship Goeben which ran away from battle and is reported to have been since purchased by the Turkish government, was looked upon as Germany's wonder vessel. When the order was given for her construction, it was understood that she and her sister ship, the Moltke, were to embody, even at the expense of average comfort, everything that the most advanced engineering might be regarded as ideal. She was to have speed; the steadiest fighting platform that could be made; a minimum of superstructure; and an absence of all materials of an inflammable nature. These instructions were carried out to the letter. Behind the deception of a nominal horsepower of 50,000 engines were built into her which on their six-hour mean trials developed over 84,500 horsepower and gave her a speed of 28.7 knots. To secure an exceptionally steady gun platform she was fitted with Frahm anti-rolling tanks. No ventilators were built on deck, and sheet iron replaced wood even in the cupboards and shelves of the officers' rooms. The ward room was entirely without pictures, armchairs or sofas. As an additional precaution against disablement in battle, the Goeben was fitted with two rudders and two separate steering compartments.

The battleship's armament consists of ten 11-inch guns, twelve 5.9 inch guns, arranged so that eight can be fired astern, a controlled from two armored towers amidships, and are hand loaded, wooden rammers, with coiled-spring heads, being used for seating the projectiles. Although these guns can be loaded at any arc they have to return to a fixed elevation for this purpose. The fact that each crew to a two gun turret consists of 70 men suggests that greater reliance is placed upon manual labor than upon the usual loading machinery. These crews are reported to have carried out the whole cycle of loading operations in five seconds. The armor of the Goeben consists of an 11-inch belt of Krupp steel amidships, 10 to 12 inches on the turret bases, eight inches on the funnels, four inches at the ends and three inches on the two deck amidships. Under normal conditions the Goeben carries 1,000 tons of coal. Under exceptional conditions she can carry 3,300 tons, 200 tons of oil, and an additional 600 tons of coal on deck. The loss of the Goeben to the Germans in the Mediterranean is enhanced by the fact that she had only the heavy fighting ship against her (the Indomitable) that could approach her in reputed speed. The Indomitable has a complement of 800 men; that of the Goeben was 1,107. The German ship's total cost is given as $11,000,000.

GERMANS LEAVE TOWN.

ANTWERP, Sept. 19, via London, 2:30 p.m.—The Telegraf reports that the towns of Dendermonde (Termonde) and Londerzeel have been evacuated by the Germans. This is the first time that these places have been free of the invaders since the removal of the Belgian capital from Brussels to Antwerp. The street lights of Antwerp are lighted every evening from 7.30 to 8 o'clock.

CRUISING THE ATLANTIC.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The British cruisers Lancaster and Suffolk continued to-day to patrol the entrance to New York harbor. For several days past they have steamed back and forth just outside the three-mile limit, hailing incoming and outgoing ships and occasionally halting a ship and sending bluejackets aboard to examine her papers. The cruiser Essex, which had been with the Suffolk and Lancaster, apparently steamed away during the night, as she was not visible to-day to observers ashore.

Kayser Silk Gloves

The silk glove that fits—that fits so accurately that it looks as though "painted on"; doesn't interfere with freedom of movement of hand or fingers because it fits!

The silk glove that wears. The finger double tips will outwear the rest of the glove. If they don't, you are entitled to a new pair. Keep the guarantee ticket that goes with every pair—it isn't likely that it will be called on, but if it is, it is good for the second pair.

Short Kayser Silk Gloves at 50c to $1.25. Long Kayser Silk Gloves, $1.00 to $2.00. —Annex, Queen and Colborne Sts.

Plaids and Stripes in New Silk Fashions

As a contrast to plain silks they are used for draperies, trimmings, linings and girdles, and by themselves they are used for entire dresses or most charming blouses.

PALATIAL NEW C.P.R. STEAMSHIP.

In keeping with the spirit of progressiveness which characterizes all proceedings of the C. P. R., that Com many announces the completion of another Trans-Atlantic ship of magnificent proportions and equipment.

The name of the new marine monitor is the "Mississauga". She is 590 feet in length and 64 feet in breadth, has a displacement of 18,000 tons and a gross tonnage of 13,000 tons, with a passenger-carrying capacity of 1720 people.

The dining room, smoking room, card room, drawing room and lounge were specially designed by George Crawley, the eminent London architect. The general scheme of decoration is of the Georgian period, the furnishing being executed by the well known firm of White and Letcher of Glasgow.

Official Note Shows Little Change Yet

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—An official Bordeaux despatch to the French embassy to-day says:

"The battle continues on the whole front from the River Oise to the River Woivre during the 18th, without any important change in the situation at any point."

"At the left in the battle of the Oise we occupy Menarques, Carlepont and Cuts. On the heights to the north of the River Aisne, we have advanced slightly in a few places. Three attacks attempted by the Germans against the English army have been checked at Troyon between Soissons and Craonne by heavy repulsed the counter attack executed during the night. The enemy tried but has not succeeded in taking the offensive against Rheims."

"At the centre from Rheims to the Argonne Mountains the enemy is retreating in the situation by important fortifications and taking an attitude merely defensive. On the east of Argonne and in the valley the situation is unchanged."

"At the right in Lorraine and Vosges, the enemy occupy positions defensively organized close to the frontier."

ESCAPED CAPTURE LONDON, Sept. 19.—A despatch from Lourenco Marques, East Africa, tells of the trip of the German-Austrian steamer Zieten and her efforts to escape capture. The Zieten sailed from Australia for South Africa with 185 passengers, of whom 145 were British and some Americans. She was conveyed by the German cruiser Koennigsberg as far as the coast of Arabia. The Zieten then proceeded in a zigzag course to Mozambique and there were placed on the Zieten, which arrived in Lourenco Marques.

Government Keeps Many Under Watch

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

LONDON, Sept. 19.—In the great steel and glass pavilion known as the Olympia, where only a few months ago fashion and nobility gathered for the annual military tournament and the horse show, there are now detained some six hundred Germans, Austrians and Hungarians whom his majesty's government think best to keep under key until the end of the war camps in the country.

The number often passes six hundred but the daily arrivals are reduced by drafts being sent to the detention camps in the country.

Neither the British government nor the officials working in the German-Austrian departments of the American embassy consulate known the number of the "alien enemies" in the United Kingdom. Estimates range from fifty to eighty thousand, including women and children. Most of the better class have received police permits to remain at liberty, reporting at stated times to the police stations.

Some of these many continue in employment, although the discharging of clerks, teachers, governesses and servants is becoming more common as the war feeling grows. The women, who are required to register with the police, are supported by charitable funds or out of the 200 marks ($50.00) appropriated by the German government for the relief of subjects in England.

But the vast majority of unemployed are penniless, who are a charge on society and a source of concern to the police, have been gathered into various detention camps.

There are a number of these camps in England. The one near Aldershot has over 2,000 inmates. They live in a tent city within a barbed wire enclosure and are an extra inducement to remain inside the barbed wire, the prisoners are deprived of their shoes.

Other large companies are at Liverpool and Manchester. It is expected that the prisoners will soon be put to work in the fields, just as the detained aliens have been in Germany.

BURFORD FAIR Will be Even Better Than Ever This Year.

People hereabouts are commencing to count the days to the great Southern Fair at Burford.

That great annual gathering of city and country folk, has become a recognized institution. It constitutes an aggregation of fine exhibits, attractive special features and chances to meet everybody you know or ought to know in this section of the hemisphere.

The dates are Tuesday and Wednesday, October 6 and 7. On the second day there will be a special second day for the accommodation of Brantfordites, leaving the Market St. station at 1.10 p.m. and Colborne St. station at 1.10 p.m. The 88th Battalion band will also be in attendance.

You, your neighbors and children, are cordially invited to attend the religious service at Bell View Assembly Hall to-morrow evening, at 7 o'clock. The theme will be "The Functions of Conscience," based on the text Acts 24:16. (Read it right now.) The following six propositions will be amplified: 1. Conscience is the voice of God in the soul. 2. The inherent sense of accountability to God is the motive for obedience to conscience. 3. The consciousness of being true to conscience is a possibility of duty. 4. The function of conscience is to be true to what the judgment declares to be right. 5. The judgment may be wrong, but the voice of conscience is always right. 6. Each person may be conscious that he is true both to God and man.

These services are growing in interest and are attended by persons of all shades of religious opinion. Come once and you will come again.

That Son-in-Law of Pa's

(Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service)

War Realising Prophecy

The present war recalls two passages from Disraeli's speeches in the British Parliament in 1868, which have a remarkable appositeness at the present moment. They show both insight and foresight in a high degree. In the first speech on February 18, he was discussing Cobden's claim that free trade would give us the blessings of perpetual peace. That Disraeli said, was no new idea. War was produced, "not by the Powers which are contented and satisfied," but "by the race of the prince who agitates for a position." The second speech on April 10th dealt with the dispute between Germany and Denmark over Schleswig-Holstein and shows that Disraeli long before his countrymen in general awoke to the real meaning of what was passing before their eyes, realized the vitally important fact that Germany had embarked on a policy which would eventually make her a great maritime Power, the rival of England in the North Sea. These were his words:—"Germany is the centre of Europe and has no reason, one would think, to complain of the territorial advantages which have been allotted to it. Its broad and rich lands are watered by the three most considerable rivers of Europe—the Rhine, the Elbe, and the Danube. But Germany, which possesses almost every other advantage, is not a great naval Power, and Germany wants a coast. This is the real reason why Denmark, supposed to be weak, is to be invaded in this age of liberty on the plea of nationality. It is to gain the harbours of the Baltic and to secure the mouths of the Elbe that the plea of German nationality is put forth."

Plea of Nationality "Hitherto, in the Baltic, Russia and the Scandinavian peninsula have prevented this project of Germany; while Holland and Great Britain have intercepted in the North Sea its maritime development. But now, under shelter of the plea of nationality taking advantage of the fact that the King of Denmark possesses in Schleswig perhaps 150,000 subjects of German race, his dominions are to be invaded, and may be conquered, notwithstanding the valor of his few but determined subjects, in order that Prussia may suddenly appear as a great maritime Power.

I do not wish to argue this case with respect to the interests of England. I do not wish to say anything about whether it is or is not the interest of England that a new naval Power should spring up among the nations of the Baltic or the Northern Seas. But this I wish to lay down as a principle—that it is for the interest of England, and not of England alone, but of all Europe, that peace should be maintained. And peace cannot be maintained if the policy of Prussia be permitted to pass unnoticed and uncensured."

The dismemberment of Denmark was prevented in 1848; but it was effected in 1864, and was immediately followed by the defeat of Austria in 1866 and the crushing of Prussia in 1870. The rapid growth of the German mercantile marine and the passing of the famous Navy Laws have followed in due course.

Sixty years ago when the only dangers apprehended came from Russia and France, Disraeli appreciated the true spirit of Prussian policy, and for saw, at least in a measure, the development from which the world is now suffering.

The Provincial Government has appointed a commission of five to construct the proposed Toronto-Hamilton concrete highway.

A scene from the weird, wild and wonderful fantasy of the sea, "Neptune's Daughter," wherein the world-famous swimmer and diver, Annette Kellermann, plays at the Grand Opera House, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 21, 22, 23, twice daily.

GERMAN VERSION OF THE ALLEGED WAR ATROCITIES

Civilians' Acts Responsible for the Burning of Louvain.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19—A cable to the New York World, from the headquarters in the field, of the Ninth Imperial German army, Chteau-La-Fere near Renaix, Belgium, says:

Three weeks ago the Government of Belgium requested me to place before the American people through the medium of New York World, a list of specific, authenticated atrocities committed by the German armies on Belgian non-combatants.

General Von Boehn, commanding the Ninth Imperial Field Army, and the mouthpiece of the German General Staff, has asked me to place before the American people the German version of the incidents in question.

The General began by asserting that accounts of atrocities perpetrated on Belgium non-combatants were lies "Look at these officers about you," he said. "They are gentlemen, like yourself. Look at the soldiers marching past on the road out there. Most of them are fathers. Surely you do not believe that they would do the things they have been accused of."

"Three days ago General," I said, "now is but a ghastly, blackened ruin." "When we entered Aerschot," was the reply, "the son of the Burgomaster came into a room, drew a revolver and assassinated my Chief of Staff. What followed was only retribution. The townspeople got only what they deserved."

"But why wreak your vengeance on women and children?" I asked. "None have been killed," the General said positively.

"I am sorry to contradict you, General," I asserted with equal positiveness, "but I have myself seen their mutilated bodies. So has Mr. Gibson, Secretary of the American Legation at Brussels, who was present during the destruction of Louvain."

"Of course," he replied, "there always is danger of women and children being killed during street fighting, if they insist on coming into the street. It is unfortunate but it is war.

"But how about a woman's body I saw with hands and feet cut off? How about a white-haired man and his son whom I helped bury outside Sempstad, who had been killed merely because a retreating Belgian had shot a German soldier outside their house? There were twenty-two bayonet wounds in the old man's face. I counted them. How about a little girl two years old who was shot while in her mother's arms by an Uhlan and whose funeral I attended at Heystoppenberg? How about an old man hung from the rafters of his house by his hands and roasted to death by a bon fire being built under him?"

"The General seem taken aabck by the exactness of my data. "Such things are horrible if true," he said. "Of course our soldiers, like the soldiers of all armies, sometimes get out of hand and do things which we never would tolerate if we knew it."

"At Louvain, for example I sentenced two soldiers to twelve years' penal servitude each for assaulting a woman."

"Apropos of Louvain," I remarked, "why did you destroy the library?" "We regretted that as much as any one else," answered the General. "It caught fire from burning houses, and we could not save it."

"But why did you burn Louvain at all?" I asked. "Because the townspeople fired on our troops. We actually found machine guns in some of the houses. And smashing his fist down on the table. "Whenever civilians fire on our troops, we will teach them a lasting lesson. If women and children insist on gettin' in the way of bullets, so much the worse for women and children."

"How do you explain the bombardment of Antwerp by Zeppelins?" I queried. "Zeppelins have orders to drop their bombs only on fortifications and soldiers," he answered.

"As a matter of fact," I remarked, "they destroyed only private houses, innocent civilians and several women."

NEW ATHLETIC CLUB

A new organization, to be known as the Brantford Bowling and Athletic Club, has been organized with headquarters in 93-95 Dalhousie street in the buildings recently occupied by J. S. Hamilton & Co. The spacious premises have been remodeled and decorated and present a bright and cheery appearance.

Eight new pocket billiard tables of the latest design have been installed, and the number will be increased as business demands. Plans are also being made for the installation of a four bed bowling alley which, when completed, will be one of the finest in the country.

The club will be under the management of Mr. David Wilkes, who is well known in the city, and is the possessor of thoroughly capable qualities.

Without doubt, this centre of attraction in Brantford will be largely patronized.

The 9th Mississauga Horse received a gift of machine guns from several officers.

BELGIANS BEAT GERMANS

LONDON, Sept. 18—Reuter's Antwerp correspondent sends the following official communication issued by the Belgian Government, Thursday evening: "Wednesday evening German troops from Brussels marched against Termonde and during the night maintained a ceaseless cannonade. To-day the Belgians repaid and an artillery duel developed between the Germans and Belgians defending the northern outlet from the town. German infantry attacked at the bridge which had been destroyed by a murderous fire from the Belgian machine guns and fell back in disorder."

A Budget of News For Those Interested in Labor

By G. A. M.

Cleaned From the Exchanges and Other Sources

Spectacular Patriotism

Time Has Come For Plain Talking— Best to Call Things by Their Right Names.

The following is taken from the "Industrial Banner," Toronto: "A great deal of comment is being caused in the city at the present time by the action of several so-called patriots whose names have been heralded in the public press as generous donors to the patriotic fund, but the same press keeps silent when these same business concerns turn around immediately afterwards and reduce the wages of their employees and in some cases lay them off without pay. It is also worthy of note that during all the destitution that prevailed in the city last year, when hundreds of the unemployed had to depend on public charity for the food to keep body and soul together, there is no record whatever where these same patriots contributed their money to help to succor them in their distress."

"The Banner has all due respect for the men and business concerns who are aiding the patriotic fund from a sense of duty, and there are many of them who are so doing, but we have the heartiest sort of contempt for the concerns who are securing cheap advertising in the general public by publishing the names of these patriotic patriots who are masquerading under false colors and expect that the advertising to be derived from a contribution to be taken out of the hides of their employees is cheap and effective. Some people ought to be shown up, for they richly deserve it. Why hide their light under a bushel? The above, no doubt, will not be very palatable reading to those of the class to which the article refers, in Toronto, and, perhaps we here in this city are not altogether free from such vile tactics, if the truth was known. The employer of labor who reduces the wages of his employees or discharges them altogether at the present hard times, under the lame excuse of economizing (in some cases) and then making a great spurge by making a "generous" donation, is not living up to true citizenship by any means.

The Tribute

Not by the valour of Belgium, nor the lightning sabre of France, Not by the thunder of Britain's Fleet, and the Bear's unchecked advance, Not by these fears, Lord Kaiser, tho' they shatter a tyrant's lust, Is your heart most darkly troubled, and your soul brought down to the dust.

But by the great affirming of the lands we have knit as one: By the love, by the passionate loyal love, of each separate freeborn son, Canada cries "We are coming!" and Australasia "We come!" And you scowl that no Boer is rising at the beat of your German drum.

And the sons of India bear witness— We have grumbled, but now no more: We have shared your plentiful righteous Peace, we will share your righteous War.

Trust us to guard your Honor, one with yours is our breath; You have dealt us an even justice, we are yours to the gates of Death. Here in these rain-swept islands where we fought for the things of peace, Where we quarrelled and stormed in factions, at a stroke all factions cease. And there in the vast dominions, more free than your Prussian lords, The women are shouting for England, and the men are drawing their swords.—Harold Begbie.

World of Labor

Carpenters in San Antonio, Texas, are demanding a minimum wage of $3.00 for an eight-hour day and recognition of the union.

The sailors union of the Pacific has voted a liberal appropriation to be used for organization work on the Pacific Coast.

Samuel Compers of the A. F. of L. gave the Labor Day oration at Plattsburgh, N.Y., Vice President Duncan spoke at Barre, Vt., and Secretary Frank Morrison at Madison, Wis.

Suspender workers in New York City affiliated with the A. F. of L. have just secured a splendid new agreement with their employers which concedes recognition of the union.

Machineists in Norfolk, Va., are solidly organized and have succeeded in securing new agreements from their employers, that concedes many valuable concessions and better working conditions.

The Pittsburg, Pa., plant of Brown & Co., has resumed operation and signed the scale of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, whose officers are hopeful for greater gains in the near future.

The Printing Pressmen and Assistants have organized a union in Terre Haute, Ind., and it is now proposed to form an allied printing trades council. The city is now splendidly organized and labor is making rapid headway.

International Representative Diamond of the United Mine Workers, notifies all locals in the Trinidad, Colorado, section that the miners on strike will be no party to a movement started to re-call Judge McHendrie.

The union officials say that no attempt will be made to interfere with individual members on this question, but the union, officially, will take no part. "We are influenced in taking this position in the interest of our work," they have no desire to be drawn into a fight of this kind and thereby reflect directly against the main issue involved," says the unionist.

Street railway employees of Cumberland, Md., are on strike for higher wages. They demand 26 cents per hour in place of 23 cents for conductors and 25 cents for motormen as paid under the old scale.

The San Francisco Labor Council has indorsed the wage scale proposed by the Pacific Car and Electric company. It is charged that the company pays lower rates in other localities.

The locals of the Journeymen Barbers International Union in Washington have decided to organize a state federation of the craft. A convention for that purpose has been called to meet in Tacoma in September, during the present week.

The Los Angeles, Cal., county board of supervisors is in favor of an eight hour day. The test came on a resolution which provided that workmen on a new bridge could labor more than eight hours a day. The proposal was rejected.

Ranchers, farmers, lumbermen and fruit growers in California are organizing to oppose the proposed eight hour law which will be voted on at the November election. The arguments used—"will destroy business"—are of the stereotyped kind.

Laborers in the cordine factories of Eastport, Me., are on strike for higher wages, their demands are for an increase from 20 cents to 25 cents per hour, claiming that, owing to the high cost of living the former scale is entirely inadequate to maintain a man and his family.

The immense increase in the number of Trades unionists in the United Kingdom may be gleaned from the fact that absolutely reliable government statistics show that the various Trades organizations now have a membership of practically four millions or in actual figures of 3,993,769 an increase over 1904 of 109 per cent.

Through the efforts of President Gallagher of the San Francisco, Cal., central body, dairymen from every part of California have promised to co-operate with the Milkers' union to secure improved working conditions for men employed as milkers.

At a conference in this city between these workers and representative dairymen it was agreed that changes in the working conditions were necessary and the long workday will be shortened.

Industrial Canada

The C. P. R. carmen are voting over the entire system upon the advisability of calling off the biennial meeting of the joint protective board until times become more settled than at present.

The town of Transcona, Man., is vigorously pushing its various public works chargeable to capital, and the major portion of them are being constructed under the day labor system in order that the work may be given to unemployed residents.

Field, B. C., is for its size one of the best organized places in Canada. It is an important point on the C. P. R. system, all the main engines work here on the big mill and it requires a lot of labor to keep them in proper repair. Every machinist, boiler-maker, blacksmith and helper on the job carries a union card.

In order to show that the Canadian Pacific has been able to make things go despite the falling off in business during the prevailing depression, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, recently issued the following statement: After the payment of all fixed charges and dividends, the company entered upon the new fiscal year, July 1st, with thirty-six million dollars in cash and fourteen million dollars in equipment, securities, after having spent upwards of thirty million dollars on railway and steamship construction, for which four per cent consolidated debenture stocks have been authorized, but not put on the market.

After nearly eleven months on short time the C. P. R. shops at Fort William, Ont., have started up on full time again. Only 25 per cent of the old force however are employed and there is a general feeling that before putting the reduced staff on full time fewer hours should be worked and more men hired.

There is an opportunity to earn a little to help keep the wolf away from the door. The employees favor this method of letting the work go round so that the many insteep of a few should all have an equal share, apparently, however the management "had reasons."

Master Plan

We Cannot Sense the Master Plan. Nor Could the Children in the Wilderness, nor the Martyrs of the Colesium, nor Joan D'Arc.

(Herbert Kaufman in Reynolds.)
Once more Mars has wrenched the pen from the fingers of Civilization and dipped his blade into the heart of Europe, and is writing history with the sword-point. War is raging. Reason lies mangled under the iron heel.

Mankind, on the threshold of Humanity's mightiest epoch, is hurled aside from the highways of Progress and Enlightenment, and the universe is forced to mark time, while a continent spews its ancient steams. Imagination is for once impotent before fact.

The earth reels dizzily at the impact of mountain loads of lead and steel.

We shall wear the scars of this disaster a hundred years, but out of the appalling woe mightier and stronger races will emerge, and staggering for an instant under the load of grief and the burden of loss, will turn aside from the pathways of the Caesars and seek the roads to true power.

Meanwhile, our souls are steeped in

And then congratulations began to pour in. Was ever marriage so fortuitous? The Coles' farm joined that of the Days', and the union between the two only children would cement the friendship between the families. The fact that Uncle Bart was a joiner, Cephas a palster and Abel Day a mason and bricklayer made the alliance almost providential in its business opportunities. Phoebe's Massachusetts aunt sent a complete outfit of gilt dress nor the martyrs of the Colesium, nor Jeanne d'Arc.

GET RID OF HUMORS AND AVOID SICKNESS

Humors in the blood cause internal derangements that affect the whole system, as well as pimples, boils and other eruptions, and are responsible for the readiness with which many people contract disease. For forty years Hood's Sarsaparilla has been more successful than any other medicine in expelling humors and removing their inward and outward effects. Get Hood's. No other medicine acts like it.

and furnished plumage so captured his senses and stirred his heart, but his longings had changed with the quality of his love, and he glowed at the thought of delivering the girl from her dreary surroundings and giving her the tenderness, the ease and comfort the innocent prygys, that her nature craved.

"You won't fall me, Patty darling?" he was saying at this moment. "Now that our plans are finally made, with never a weak point anywhere as far as I can see, my heart is so set upon carrying them out that every hour of waiting seems an age."

"No, I won't fall, Mark; but I never know the day that father will go to town until the night before. I can always hear him making his preparation in the barn and the shed, and ordering Waitstill here and there. He is as excited as if he was going to South instead of Milton."

"The night before will do. I will watch the house every evening till you hang a white signal from your window."

"It won't be white," said Patty, who would be mischievous on her deathbed. "My Sunday-go-to-meets' petticoat is too grand, and everything else that we have is yellow."

"I shall see it, whatever color it is, you can be sure of that!" said Mark gallantly. "Then it's decided that next morning I'll wait at the tavern, and when I see the white signal, I'll come and pick you up, and we'll be off like a streak of lightning across the hills to New Hampshire. How lucky that Riverboro is only thirty miles from the state line! It looks like snow, and I wish it would be something more than a flurry, a regular whirling, whirling storm that would pack the roads and let us slip over them with our sleigh bells ringing!"

CHAPTER XXI.
Love's Young Dream.

IT was not an afternoon for day dreams, for there was a chill in the air and a gray sky. Only a week before the hills along the river might have been the walls of the New Jerusalem, shining like red gold. Now the glory had departed, and it was a naked world, with empty nests hanging to boggy trees, long ago abandoned, and green with summer.

Young love thought little of nature's miracles, and hears that beat high and fast were warm enough to forget the bleak wind and gathering clouds. If there were naked trees were there not full barrels of apples in every cellar? If there was nothing but stubble in the frozen fields, why there was plenty of wheat and corn at the mill all ready for grinding. The cold air made one long for a cheery home and fire-side, the crackle of a hearth log, the bubbling of a steaming kettle, and the bubbling of a steam-trunk as they walked along, making bright images of a life together, sung, warm and happy.

Patty was a capricious creature, but all her changes were sudden and enduring ones, captivating those who loved her more than a monotonous and unchanging virtue. Any little shiver with Patty always ended with a rainbow, that made the landscape more enchanting than before. Of late her little coquetry and pettinances had disappeared as if by magic. She had been melted somehow from irresponsible girlhood into womanhood and that, too, by the ardent affection of a very ordinary young man who had no great gift save that of loving Patty greatly. The love had served its purpose in another way, too, for under its influence Mark's own manhood had broadened and deepened. He longed to bind Patty to him for good and all, to capture the bright bird whose fluttering wings

CHAPTER XXI.
Love's Young Dream.

IT was not an afternoon for day dreams, for there was a chill in the air and a gray sky. Only a week before the hills along the river might have been the walls of the New Jerusalem, shining like red gold. Now the glory had departed, and it was a naked world, with empty nests hanging to boggy trees, long ago abandoned, and green with summer.

Young love thought little of nature's miracles, and hears that beat high and fast were warm enough to forget the bleak wind and gathering clouds. If there were naked trees were there not full barrels of apples in every cellar? If there was nothing but stubble in the frozen fields, why there was plenty of wheat and corn at the mill all ready for grinding. The cold air made one long for a cheery home and fire-side, the crackle of a hearth log, the bubbling of a steaming kettle, and the bubbling of a steam-trunk as they walked along, making bright images of a life together, sung, warm and happy.

Patty was a capricious creature, but all her changes were sudden and enduring ones, captivating those who loved her more than a monotonous and unchanging virtue. Any little shiver with Patty always ended with a rainbow, that made the landscape more enchanting than before. Of late her little coquetry and pettinances had disappeared as if by magic. She had been melted somehow from irresponsible girlhood into womanhood and that, too, by the ardent affection of a very ordinary young man who had no great gift save that of loving Patty greatly. The love had served its purpose in another way, too, for under its influence Mark's own manhood had broadened and deepened. He longed to bind Patty to him for good and all, to capture the bright bird whose fluttering wings

A SUNDAY SERMON BY PASTOR RUSSELL

THE PURPOSE OF THE MESSIANIC KINGDOM

Earth Created for Man's Everlasting Home.

THE DESTINY OF HUMANITY

Parabolic Description of the Work of the Millennium—Earth's First Judgment Day in Eden—Decision Unfavorable to Humanity—Earth's Second Judgment Day—Basis of Judgment—Two Lines of Character-Development—Restoration of the World—Order of Awakening—Divine Power Exercised in Answer to Prayer—Fire of God's Righteous Indignation.

Sept. 13.—Pastor Russell took for his theme today the Parable of the Sheep and the Goats. His text was, "These shall go away into punishment, but the righteous into life eternal." (Matthew 25:46.)

The Photo-Drama of Creation depicts the subject of the destiny of humanity, and greatly assists the public to understand the proper usage of the words Sheol and Hades, so long misunderstood and misrepresented. The Pastor said: God has stated times and seasons for every feature of His great Plan for the Salvation of Mankind from sin and death conditions.

The Pastor then discussed the subject of punishment for sins committed in this life. He showed that it will be equated as just for God to punish the sinner as he punishes the world as a whole.

This does not mean, however, that justice will be ignored. In the case of the Church, the sins of youth often leave their scar and sting to the end of their lives.

Some may reason that if conformity to the Divine Law in an outward way will bring blessings to all, there still may be an inward difference between people, some coming heartily into accord with the Father and others merely assuming an appearance of harmony because this harmony will be the way to perfection.

Then follows a description of the work of the Messianic Age: "Before Him shall be gathered all nations." All the people in the world, except God's holy nation, His peculiar people, the Church of Christ, will be gathered before the great white Throne of Divine Justice, Mercy and Love.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson XII.—Third Quarter, For Sept. 20, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xxv, 31-46. Memory Verses, 34-36—Golden Text, Matt. xxv, 45—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

To understand this lesson as to the interpretation of it, the time when and the parties concerned, we must notice carefully the first verse and the words, "When the Son of Man shall come in His glory and all the holy angels with Him, then shall He sit upon the throne of His glory."

Both sheep and goats claimed to have no knowledge of such special cases. But the answer was, "Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these, ye did it to me."

Then the Pastor explained who these are respecting whom there will be a test upon the sheep class and the goat class, and how it is that there will be sickness, poverty, hunger and pain during the Messianic Kingdom.

Those who take pleasure in this work will thereby demonstrate that they have the Spirit of God. All these will be the sheep. But those who are careless respecting their Vow, and merely enjoy the Millennial blessings themselves, will mark themselves as goats.

The Pastor referred to in the parable of the sheep and the goats, which will be the sheep, but those who are careless respecting their Vow, and merely enjoy the Millennial blessings themselves, will mark themselves as goats.

It is simply, as the record says, a judgment of nations, as such, by their respective armies, and the question is their good or ill treatment of the people of Israel.

After that "Israel shall blossom and bud and fill the face of the earth with fruit" (Isa. xxv, 9; xxvii, 6). Then shall the saved nations who shall inherit the kingdom when the kingdoms under the whole heaven shall have become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ and shall walk in the light of the new Jerusalem and bring their glory and honor into it (Rev. xxi, 24).

Any one who denies the truth of everlasting punishment, according to the last verse of our lesson, must reflect the plain words of the Lord Jesus in this passage and elsewhere, as in Mark ix, 43, 45, 47.

In this last verse of our lesson the same word is applied to punishment as to life (revised version). I have endeavored to show the teaching of the Bible concerning the judgments in a tract entitled "The Four Judgments," which may be obtained from Mr. Fred Keller, box 216, Harrisburg, Pa. If you send for it ask also for "The Secret of Missionary Interest" and see how God honors the simple exposition of His word.

If this lesson does not refer to the Church, except as seen with the Lord on His throne, where is the heart lesson for the believer? Here is one, at least, the great "man-much" principle, which always holds good. Whatever any believer does in His name He counts as done to Himself and will reward it accordingly. Opportunities missed will bring us loss.
