HAIL AND FAREWELL! GREAT MILITARY TATTOO BY THE 125TH. DREW THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE

In Front of the Grand Stands in Agricultural Park, Companies of Men of the Brant Battalion Gave Brilliant Exhibitions of Close and Extended Order Drill, Machine Gun and Signaling Practice, and Physical Exercises—Vaudeville, Midway, Crowds, and Good Nature Made the Day a Wonderful Success.

Exhibitions of various kinds of drill given by 125th, both afternoon and evening.

Thousands upon thousands of people at both performances. Grand attack at night of a fort held by Germans on the dyke with its capture and demolition.

Midway and vaudeville features strongly in evidence. No disorder of any kind manifested during the day.

Grand parade from Victoria Park to grounds afternoon and evening.

Five bands, including 133rd Battalion band, and every military man in Brantford in attendance.

If there is such a thing as seeing the real thing, without that horror, then Brantford was privileged to witness such things yesterday. Under the auspices of the Women's Patriotic League, a grand military tattoo was held at Agricultural Park, afternoon and evening, as a species of farewell to the 125th Battalion, soon to leave for Borden Camp.

Military Exercises. The function took the form of various military exercises performed by the companies and platoons of the unit. The performance in the evening was a duplicate of the events of the afternoon, except that a grand display of fireworks was held, and the whole function was concluded by a brilliant spectacle attack and capture by a number of soldiers of a strongly defended German fort erected for the occasion upon the dyke.

Tremendous Crowds. An incidental phase of the day was the devotion of the proceeds of the two performances towards the purchase of a field kitchen for the battalion. That Brantford was proud of the 125th was shown by the magnificent crowd which honored the tattoo by its presence. It is years and years since such numbers have gathered within the precincts of Agricultural Park. Thousands of people and hundreds of motor cars, together with the smart uniforms of the soldiers made the whole scene animated and picturesque.

The Midway. In addition to the main "performance" the enterprising men of the battalion erected a Midway, thoughtfully placed so that on entering or leaving the grounds the crowds had to pass through it. Tents having within them all manner of unique and unusual sights were advertised by khaki-clad "sellers" who made known the merits of their attraction in no uncertain or modulated tones.

Did Throwing Business. The business they did was thriving and if on any occasion their performance did not live up to their promise— which there is no evidence to show— as a dissatisfied customer they were like the genuine "midway" of more pretentious road companies.

People Everywhere. The grand stands were literally jammed with people at both performances to see the exhibitions given on the grounds— on the old baseball diamond, in fact— by the soldiers. The march past of the entire parade, which started in both the afternoon and the evening from Victoria Park, was splendidly impressive. Five bands played and Lt. Col. Howard took the salute. Following this was an exhibition of signalling by the Signalling company, and then company drill by James. The men went through their manoeuvres smartly, and a feature was the volleys they fired of blank cartridges. They were true volleys, every rifle not sounding every occasion.

Physical Drill. A unique spectacle of "A" company under Major Shultis doing physical drill was afforded the audience, which applauded liberally. All the various movements of the calisthenic exercises were gone through with a snap, a precision and a unity which was splendidly spectacular.

Machine gun tactics, with the stretcher bearers showing how they got wounded men back from the firing line and extended order drill with more volleys of blank cartridges entertained the crowd.

Just Like Verduin. Bombs, star shells, a heavy rifle fired from defenders and attackers, served to make the whole affair vividly real and spectacular. Finally enough to make the final grand rush, and cheering wildly, they dashed up the side of the dyke and with the bayonet took the fort, which then was in flames, and a few minutes later was burned up entirely.

The bayonet attack, of which an exhibition was given earlier in the evening, was a thrilling affair, and roused the crowd to cheers. A further display of fireworks and the "last post" concluded the performance of the day.

Many People Down Town. The parades from the city to the park drew hundreds to watch, and the 125th showed up in splendid style. The 133rd battalion band of Simcoe was present, while the 215th and 216th men were there individually to see the fun.

A feature of the parade was the 125th scouts, on bicycles, their first appearance on wheels. Many people, not knowing the men individually, thought they were some of the Simcoe battalion, but they belonged to the Brants.

No Disorder. A pleasing feature of the whole affair was that there was no display of any kind, afternoon and evening passing off without mishap. With the exception of a slight delay prior to the attack on the fort of the preceding one, and there were no vicious waifs.

A Very Smart Battalion. In all the drills the men looked fit and smart, and when Battalion 125 arrives at Borden Camp, the other units will have to hustle to keep up the pace.

Weather Ideal. The weather, which had been wet during the morning, was fine and clear, and Old Probs could not have treated Brantford better. Although the temperature was a little low for June during the evening.

IN THE AFTERNOON. Enormous crowds thronged the streets along the route taken by the procession in the afternoon, and a still larger gathering was already assembled at Agricultural Park when it was reached. Seldom, indeed, in the history of Brantford has so large a crowd ever gathered for such an event.

The March Past. Following immediately on the arrival came the march past of the entire procession, with all five bands parading before the grand stand, which, by now, was filled to its utmost capacity, and unable to accommodate many more spectators who were obliged to stand during the entire afternoon, leaning upon the fences surrounding the field.

Signalling. Next followed an exhibition in signalling by the signal section of the 125th battalion, under Lieut. Thorburn, a splendid showing being made by all, and a very high state of efficiency appearing to have been reached by the section. Company drill was engaged in by B Company of the 125th, under Major P. E. James, with most excellent results in all the various formations. Vaudeville was furnished at this juncture by a regiment of clowns of every type, nationality and sex (1) Physical

Between times a company of clowns and the "awkward squad" drilled and acted, doing some highly diverting turns. All the units marched on and off the field to band music and when the clowns moved off, one of them dressed as a girl, danced impromptu to the music. The dancing was brilliantly done, and a career on the stage would not be impossible for such a person, when peace ends soldiering.

The Big Fight. The culmination of the evening's performance, was a grand attack and capture of a German fort. The fort was erected on the Dyke, and it was just dark enough to make fireworks effective when the assault was launched.

The Germans attacked in force on both banks of the Meuse after the usual heavy bombardment. An attack on the south slope of Dead Man Hill was checked, by grenade detachments, according to the official statement.

On the right bank of the river there were violent engagements west and south of Fort Vaux during which the Germans gained a footing in a corner of Fumins wood, but were immediately expelled. Later they returned to the attack when some trenches were captured. A German grenade assault north of Hill 321 was stopped by the French fire.

The official version of the clash says the Americans attempted to capture the railroad station at Carrizal, and were engaged by General Carranza, who was in command of the Carranza garrison. General Gomez was killed in the battle. It is announced that among the prisoners was the American interpreter, who confessed, it is claimed, that the American commander was the aggressor. The prisoners were sent to Mexican headquarters at Chihuahua City.

ALLIED FLEET PATROLING ABOUT PORT OF PIRAEUS

By Special Wire to the Courier. Paris, June 22.—An allied fleet has been ordered to cruise before Piraeus, the port of Athens, according to a Havas despatch from Saloniki. It is said the fleet eventually will be supported by a landing party.

The fleet, made up of squadrons of the allied nations, will be commanded by Vice-Admiral Moreau. The despatch says the action of the landing party "will depend upon events."

Piraeus, the second largest city of Greece, is five miles southwest of Athens. It is 200 miles below Saloniki, the base of the allied forces in Greece.

WHY WERE U.S. TROOPS SO FAR AWAY FROM HOME?

That is the Question Mr. Carranza Puts to Mr. Wilson.

"THE BATTLE OF CARRIZAL"

Mexican Newspapers Full of Defeat of the American Troops.

Washington, June 22.—An official communication from the Mexican foreign office announcing the clash between Mexican and American troops at Carrizal and saying the defeat of the American troops, found it difficult to understand why the American force should have been so far away from their base, was to-day delivered to Secretary Lansing to-day by the Mexican ambassador.

Nothing Official. Bulletin, Washington, June 22.—Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, to-day called on Secretary of State Lansing and asked for an explanation of the action of American troops in approaching the town of Carrizal.

Secretary Lansing had no official information on which to discuss the Carrizal affair and according to Mr. Arredondo, also was without knowledge of whether Mexican towns actually had been occupied.

DEMANDS OF ALLIED POWERS ON GREECE ARE ACCEPTED; NEW CABINET FOR GREEKS

Non-Political Lines to be Followed in Making it up—Demands Included Complete Demobilization of Grecian Army.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Athens, Greece, Wednesday, June 21, via London, 22.—Greece has accepted unconditionally the demands made by the Entente powers. This decision was communicated to the French legation by M. Zaimis, the former premier to whom the formation of a new cabinet is reported to have been entrusted.

Non-Party Lines. The new cabinet will be made up on non-political lines, even including one or two adherents of former premier Venizelos.

Late to-night the sound of a heavy explosion drew a crowd to the home of M. Venizelos, owing to the groundless fear that an attempt on his life would be made.

The ultimatum of the Entente powers was delivered to the Greek legation at noon to-day (Wednesday).

What the Demands Are. The demands presented by the Entente powers to Greece, according to the newspaper Nea Hemia were as follows: 1.—Complete general demobilization.

"No. 2—Removal of the chief of police of Athens.

"No. 3—Popular pro-Entente sentiment not to be suppressed.

"No. 4—Deportation of agents spreading German propaganda.

Chamber May Be Dissolved. While dissolution of the chamber of deputies also was desired, the newspaper says, it may not be directly demanded.

The foregoing version of the nature of the Entente demands are said in diplomatic circles to be substantially accurate.

Zaimis New Premier. After a protracted session of the crown council, presided over by King Constantine, former Premier Zaimis agreed to-day for an attempt to form a cabinet to deal with the situation which has arisen from the presentation of the demands of the Entente powers.

The highest authority in Greece, when asked for his opinion in regard to the demands said: "It is useless to discuss demands when the reasons given therefor in the document itself are devoid of truth from beginning to end."

Lloyd-George was requested to undertake the conduct of the Irish negotiations by the urgent desire of his colleagues in the cabinet. Now before his task is completed, some of his cabinet colleagues seem anxious to hamper his beneficent activities. It would have been better not to have embarked on negotiations than that they should be impeded now in mid-career after high hopes had been raised and great decisions taken.

Baron Wimborne Has Resigned. Lord Lieutenant of Ireland Has Been Allowed to Step Out.

STATEMENT ON THE BLOCKADE. Irish Settlement Tangled Up Yet, But Situation is Easier.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, June 22.—3.5 p.m.—Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons to-day that the resignation of Baron Wimborne as lord lieutenant of Ireland, tendered shortly after the suppression of the recent Irish rebellion, had been accepted.

Still Subjudice. Commander Carlow Bellairs, Unionist member for Maidstone, in the House of Commons to-day what changes it was intended to make to strengthen the blockade as a result of the agreements reached on his recent visit to Paris. Sir Edward Grey, foreign secretary, replied that the question was still subject to negotiations between the allies. It was not in the public interest, he said to make a statement at present. He hoped, however, to make one shortly.

To Ask for Mercy. Widely circulated reports that Sir Roger Casement, who is being held for trial on a charge of high treason in connection with the recent Dublin revolution, would throw himself on the mercy of the government, after making an important statement to-day, was denied by Michael F. Doyle of Philadelphia, Sir Roger's attorney. Mr. Doyle declared that the case of client would be fought out on very different lines. He declined, however, to say what would be the defense.

The Irish Situation. The Chronicle's parliamentary correspondent writes: "The tangle over the negotiations for a settlement of the Irish problem is not yet straightened out, but the impression prevailed in the lobby yesterday that the situation was easier. Sir Edward Carson is understood to be anxious that negotiations should be allowed to proceed. It is not he who has taken alarm at them, but three members of the cabinet, Lord Lansdowne, Walter Long and Lord Shelborne. The two first named ministers always have been closely associated with the south of Ireland Unionists.

Too Little Compromise. "It is one of the ironies of the situation that after both the Ulster Unionist and Irish Nationalist parties had shown and are showing an accommodating spirit, trouble should threaten from quarters far less vitally interested.

Hun Submarine Arrived at Cartagena, and is at Anchor.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Madrid, via Paris, June 22, 11 a.m.—A German submarine arrived to-day at Cartagena. The officers disembarked and left for Madrid with a confidential letter for King Alfonso.

The arrival of the German submarine, U-95 at Cartagena was officially confirmed. The submarine is anchored alongside the Spanish cruiser, Cataluna. The secretary of the German embassy at Madrid has left for Cartagena to receive an autograph letter from the German Emperor to King Alfonso, supposed to be thanks for a reception given in return from Kamerun. The submarine came from Pola, the Austrian naval base.

ARMAGEDDON IS NOT YET

Not in This War, Says Adventist Speaker, But in a War to Come.

The subject of "Universal Peace" was considered by Elder McComas, of Washington, D.C., on Wednesday afternoon at a conference of the S. D. Adventist Conference, now being held on Colborne St., East, near Rawdon Street. Taking for his text, Isa. 9: 5, 7, he reasoned from this and other Scriptures that permanent universal peace can never be brought about under the present human arrangements extant among the governments of earth; that the time for universal peace can never be realized until Christ comes and puts an end to human kingdoms and establishes one of his own, called in the Bible "The Kingdom of God."

Mr. McComas pressed from inspiration that after this present war a brief interval of peace would follow and then would come the battle of Armageddon.

The evening service was conducted by Elder M. N. Campbell, of Oshawa, the topic being "God's great plumb-line." From this he developed the idea that God's eternal law, the ten commandments of Sinai was the great measuring line of all, that by it we are to be judged. He said this law was perfect and that nothing therefore should be taken from nor added to it. But notwithstanding this men have sought to change that law, particularly in the fourth or Sabbath command. This precept, he said, enjoins the observance of the seventh day, or Saturday instead of Sunday, the first day of the week.

American Cavalrymen Caught in a Trap by Mexicans; Many Killed

Decoyed, It Is Said, by a Flag of Truce, American Troops Were Brought Within Range of a Machine Gun, Which Did Much Execution—Mexican Losses Also Heavy.

Washington, June 22.—A despatch from El Paso, Texas, received last night says: A detachment of American cavalry clashed with Carranza forces at Carrizal, about 90 miles south of El Paso, early yesterday, both sides suffering heavy casualties, according to unofficial reports received by Mexican military authorities in Juarez last night.

According to the report, which the Mexican authorities are investigating, 40 Americans were killed by machine gun fire in a surprise attack. The Mexican casualties were said not to have been so heavy, but Gen. Felix Gomez is named as being among the Mexican dead.

The American command is said to have been part of a scouting patrol from Guzman, returning to Gen. Pershing's line of communication.

Later General Francisco Gonzales, Mexican commander at Juarez, gave out a statement, in which he announced officially that the Mexican command had taken 17 American prisoners. He also said that General Gomez's death had been confirmed, but said he had no official reports as to the number of casualties on either side.

General Funston's Report

General Funston reported last night that he had received official confirmation of a clash between Carranza and American troops early yesterday near Carrizal, Mexico. He transmitted to the war department the following report from General Bell at El Paso:

"There was a clash yesterday morning at Carrizal, near Villa Ahumada, between Carranza and American troops in which Gen. Gomez and other Mexicans were killed. Number of Americans killed or wounded unknown."

Gen. Gomez sent a captain with an order to the American commander to go back, but the American commander said he was going to Villa Ahumada and opened fire on the Mexican captain, wounding him. Americans attacked Gen. Gomez, but were thrown back.

"Prisoners were sent to Chihuahua."

Gen. Garcia says this was telephoned at request of Gen. Gonzales.

"An American who was on the main yesterday, passing Villa Ahumada at 2:30, saw several dead Mexicans put on his train, among them a dead Mexican general. There were also several Mexican wounded, but he did not see any of them. He said that the light was with American cavalry 30 miles west and that the Americans were decaying into a command and a Mexican flag of truce, and they were then shot upon by machine guns. Reports state our troops engaged were the Tenth Cavalry."

MUSICAL TREAT GIVEN LAST NIGHT

Brilliant Recital by Wilmot Goodwin and Assisting Artists.

MANY SELECTIONS WELL RENDERED
Not Since Cherniavsky Bros. Has Brantford Heard Such Music.

Not since the Cherniavsky brothers visited Brantford, has such a general musical treat been enjoyed by Brantford music lovers as the recital given last night in Victoria Hall by Wilmot Goodwin, assisted by Maurice Warner (violin), and Lee Cronican (pianist). They were responsible for a perfectly balanced programme, perfectly rendered.

Mr. Goodwin, the baritone, is a Canadian born in New Brunswick, and he is a musical credit to his native province, and the Dominion. He is the possessor of a dramatic voice of a most even range of over two octaves, and has had the advantage of studying under some of the best masters, both in this country and in Europe. Perhaps his most ambitious number was "The Prologue from Il Pagliacci." This was given with rare good taste, and stamped Mr. Goodwin as an artist of more than ordinary calibre. The popular "Bedouin Love Song" has seldom been heard here to better advantage. It was given with an admirable swing and rhythm. The lilting ballad, "The Rose Jar" was a delightful bit of work. So, too, the Irish ballad, and the "Yeoman's Song" from the "Plains of Love Consumes," from the French opera by Bizet, was very cleverly rendered, depending as it does so much on facial expression as well as on the voice of which Mr. Goodwin has in a marked degree.

Mr. Goodwin was for some years associated with the Albion Grand Opera Company, while for the past two years he and his assisting artists have been touring every city in the United States and Canada, ever since they have met with unqualified praise. Mr. Goodwin's numbers throughout the evening met with great applause, though following the recital, he would give an encore. The beautiful tone of the Nordheimer accompanying piano, lent for the occasion by T. J. Barton and Co., enhanced the enjoyment of the recital.

Mr. Maurice Warner, the talented violinist of the trio, is a pupil of Professor Auer of St. Petersburg. He has studied in St. Petersburg under this well known master of the violin. Mr. Warner plays on a "Guarnarius" violin of wonderful tone, and every note he played for the last evening were admirably adapted to his brilliant execution and round clear tone. In the aria from "Contra Altus," by Gounod, his command of the bow was shown in a marked degree, while La Precieuse "Coppertin Kreisel," played on the muted strings was an exquisite little piece of music, followed by "Monsieur," which followed, was of a more sprightly character and was also well received.

In his second group, Mr. Warner announced that he would play "Capriccio Viennois" by Kreisler instead of Serenata Napoletana and in this number the young artist quite exceeded his previous efforts, playing the capriccio in a manner which would do the famous Kreisler himself justice.

The following numbers, "Two Hungarian Dances 'Brahms-Jochim'" were very much enjoyed, and though repeatedly recalled, the artist following the usual rule, would respond to the encore.

Mr. Lee Cronican, the pianist, is a musician of very decided ability, both as a solo player and accompanist. His opening number "Faust Valse," (Gounod-Liszt) his brilliant technique, as well as pure singing tone, was quite noteworthy, while "The Rose Jar" by F. Schubert, were most artistic, followed by the dainty, little studies—by Poldini. Throughout his solo numbers, Mr. Cronican played with perfect ease and apparently without effort executed the most brilliant passages, as well as the more thoughtful themes.

As an accompanist, Mr. Cronican leaves nothing to be desired, accompanying throughout the entire evening from memory. His numbers met with deserved applause.

This evening's trio of genuine artists will again delight Brantford music lovers. An entire change of programme will be given and all who have not heard these artists should avail themselves of the opportunity this evening.

The concert is given, under the auspices of the Daughters of the Empire.

AMAZING STORY FROM GERMANY

A YOUNG Pte. Harry Saunderson Captured in to Ruheler, La Put to Work-Away Failed.

London, June 22.—How many months of imprisonment Germany has escaped after attempts had proved fruitless, related yesterday by Private B. Saunderson of the Eighth Battalion of the British-American Motor Company, Winnipeg. Saunderson was captured on April last year with many other Canadians who were likewise lost to their tallions. He was taken with his rades to Ruheler, where they placed in a church for the purpose of Courtrial, part of the they being done on foot, part on scenery. They were later put on a train to Munster.

Shelled by British Airman. One incident of the journey thither was that of a British plane, which came over the line dropped bombs which so damaged the line that the further journey of the Canadian prisoners was considerably delayed. On the journey, the German guards were most unscrupulous in their treatment. "They would have done us up right," says Saunderson, "if it had not been for their officer. He had had put up a very good fight, but he was not treated as a proper man. There was a stay of three weeks at Munster, then with Corp. Muenster, then with Corp. Muenster, Privates Alderts, Cha and Langstaff, and other Canadians. Saunderson was taken and where they were asked to work the mines. They refused, saying of them had been used to work underground. After some delay was agreed they should work on the surface. He worked there until September.

First Attempt to Escape. It was during the journey that he made his first attempt to escape. Saunderson's companion in this enterprise were Archibald Christie, 5th, and S. G. Wood, Western valley. The attempt came off first Sunday in September. Saunderson got away from the neighborhood comfortably and covered about 100 kilometers, living on apples, which were picked on the ground. There were several incidents in attempt to escape, which if possible would have resulted in a grossing reading.

Beaten With Wire Cable. However, Saunderson found himself back at his old place of guard. Next day the other sharp enterprise were also brought back. "That night," he says, "seven of the guard came and took us out of our cells, first Wood, then Christie, and lastly myself. One beat us with a piece of wire cable, another meanwhile held some over our mouths so that we could not shout. There was a Sergeant charge of the men who did this. AMAZING STORY OF AN ESCAPE FROM GERMAN PRISON TOLD BY A YOUNG CANADIAN SOLDIER

Pte. Harry Sanderson, 8th Batt., Winnipeg Captured in April 1915 and Taken to Ruheler, Later to Muenster, and Put to Work—First Attempt to Get Away Failed.

London, June 22.—How after many months of imprisonment in Germany he escaped after previous attempts had proved fruitless, was related yesterday by Private Henry Sanderson of the Eighth Battalion, clerk in the British-American Elevator Company, Winnipeg.

It was during that time that he made his first attempt to escape. Sanderson's companion in this enterprise were Archibald Christopher, 8th, and S. G. Wood, Western Cavalry.

Beaten With Wire Cable However, Sanderson found himself back at his old place under guard. Next day the other sharers in enterprise were also brought in.

When the case was last before the court in December, 1915, Mr. Drexel contested the jurisdiction of the English courts owing to the fact that he was a resident of France.

Mrs. Drexel separated from her husband in 1911 while they were living in London and it was announced that she proposed to institute divorce proceedings.

Mrs. Drexel filled a suit for a divorce in Paris and stopped the allowance to his wife. The present suit was the result of this action.

THE SITUATION.
The Germans are now making a desperate effort to check the advance of the Russians, and they are operating with seasoned troops along a front of some hundred miles. On the previous occasion when they turned their attention to the victorious troops of the Czar they had a comparatively easy time in the enforcement of a halt, for the reason that they vastly over-matched the foe in big guns and ammunition. The conditions this time are different, and a fierce struggle is in progress, especially on the River Styr.

Both Petrograd and Berlin claim successes and the capture of many prisoners. Meanwhile Brusiloff continues in fierce pursuit of the other large body of Austrians whom he has entirely cut off from the main force in Galicia. His bag from June 3rd to June 15th, inclusive, is officially given at 3,350 officers and 169,134 men, not to mention guns and enormous military stores.

The Huns have made renewed attacks upon Verdun, but without results, and the Italian reports continue to be more encouraging.

The official announcement that there has been a clash in Mexico between Carranza's men and U. S. forces probably marks the introduction of our neighbors into the war summaries for some time to come. Uncle Sam has a nasty task ahead, and he is not well equipped for it. However, it should have the effect of jolting him into a state of needed preparedness, not alone with regard to his southern neighbors, but also with reference to his own self-interest.

NOTED BACHELORS.
The fact that the late Lord Kitchener was never married brings to mind a long list of noted men in the Old Land who have deliberately chosen to remain single. All kinds of stories have been current that Kitchener was brusque to the point of rudeness where the fair sex were concerned. That, of course, was sheer nonsense. He was a well-bred man and composed himself as such. The further yarn that he preferred to have single men about him may also be put in the same class as the alleged incident that when he reached his war office quarters the first thing he asked was, "Is there a bed on the premises?" A writer in an Old Country paper, who evidently knew him well, says: "He was always courteous to the fair sex, but apparently did not take any great interest in them—certainly in no one. His whole mind seemed to be engrossed in the stern business of life, in which he had so large and prominent a part."

Britain's outstanding bachelor statesman is, of course, the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour. One of the Cecils, his mental capacity is notable even for a member of that remarkable family. In addition to his vast public services, he has found time for the production of deep philosophical works. As a debater he is the acknowledged peer of the British House, and in social life is described as one of the most charming of men.

Britain's outstanding bachelor philosopher, and one of the world's greatest thinkers, Herbert Spencer, was at one time supposed to be interested in Mary Ann Evans ("George Eliot"), the most famous of all women writers, but nothing ever came of it, and he stuck to his bachelor quarters while she formed her alliance with George Henry Lewes.

Britain's outstanding bachelor artist was Sir Frederick Leighton, President of the Royal Academy. Painter, sculptor, linguist, one of the wisest after-dinner speakers of his time, he was one of those brilliant geniuses who excel in all they undertake, but he never sought a life-partner.

Britain's outstanding bachelor Empire-builder, Cecil Rhodes, has left a name of achievement as imperishable as the mountain-side in which, at his own request, his body was finally laid, but in all his notable career his name was never associated with any matrimonial venture.

Britain's outstanding bachelor composer, Sir Arthur Sullivan, was the man to whom, in collaboration with Gilbert, we owe the finest series of light operas ever produced. His melodies will live for ever, but he never

A Workingman's Reasons For Voting "Yes" on the Hospital By-law Next Week

A few reasons why working men should vote for the Hospital By-law.
1st. A general hospital is essentially a working man's institution. The rich, in times of sickness can, if necessary, turn their homes into hospitals, employing trained nurses at a cost of $13.00 or $20.00 a week, but can receive medical treatment, scientific nursing, and medicine supplied, in sanitary up-to-date fire proof buildings, equal to any similar institution in Canada, and we can receive this for a comparatively small weekly charge, or if we are unable to pay it is free.

For this reason we owe it to our families and to ourselves to vote for the by-law on June 26th.
2nd. The Board of Governors, no matter in what walk of life they may be, have one supreme object, namely, to make the General Hospital a blessing to the sick of this city. Shall we as working men help them in this good work or shall we turn them down?
3rd. Sometimes you may think our hospital costs are too high. The totals may look large, but if you will accept the invitation of the Governors and visit your hospital, see its various departments, its up-to-date equipment, and look into the cost of fire-proof buildings, and hospital equipment, etc., I feel assured you will be satisfied the citizens' money has been wisely and well spent.

If you have any doubts, visit the institution before you pass final judgment on June 26th.
In conclusion, let me quote the last clause of the resolution passed unanimously by the Brant Medical County Association: The hospital, as it stands to-day, is a public building of which every citizen can be justly proud, and to which he can turn, should the necessity arise, secure in the knowledge that within its walls he or his will be cared for by as competent a staff of nurses and in as commodious and well-equipped surroundings as may be found in any similar building in the Dominion.

I think you will agree with me that these men should know whereof they speak.

H. J. SYMONS, Trades and Labor Council's representative on Hospital Board.

Britain's outstanding bachelor of commerce, Sir Thomas Lipton, has had a career at many points of which most people would have imagined that the kindly interest of a helpmeet would have been most welcome. He has never seemed to think so, and the only ambition to which he is wedded is the lifting of that cup.

Here we have seven leading men in the business of war, statesmanship, philosophy, Empire-building, art, music and commerce, not one of them married, and yet, as the world views the matter, with lives of remarkable completeness and accomplishment. Can it be doubted, however, that the voices of little children would have made all else seem not so adequately worth while?

NOTES AND COMMENTS.
Now, if a levy could only be put on the rain in connection with too much teeming, what an excellent idea that would be.

The 125th did themselves proud, and no mistake.

In one of the Western States where the suffragettes have successfully suffrageted, there is a lengthy law suit in progress, and the jury, comprising six married women, is being locked up nights. Meanwhile six distracted huddles are doing there level best to keep six infantile funeral rosettes off six front door handles, but they have their doubts.

There is a marriage epidemic in Detroit. From the first of June until Saturday last the total number of licenses issued was 1,075, and applications still coming strong. The explanation is probably to be found in the high average pay of automobile workers in that city. Asked as to whether there were any indications of leap year, License Clerk Egan, replied in the affirmative, stating that for about one in every four licenses the woman paid. And now comes the question, is any man like that worth the price?

PRESENTATION TO MR. MOSS

Pupils and Teachers Honor Principal Who is Going to Serve the Empire.

Paris, June 21.—Yesterday afternoon the pupils of the public schools paid their highly esteemed principal, Mr. Moss, a pleasant surprise at the close of school, by presenting him with a handsome military wrist watch and a $50.00 gold piece. Master Howard Bonner read a very appropriate address, showing the high esteem in which Mr. Moss was held by all the pupils. While Miss Purley Mann made the presentation, the pupils then sang God Save the King, and gave three cheers for Mr. Moss.

After the pupils were dismissed, all the teachers assembled in the domestic science room, where a dainty repast was served, and later Mr. Moss was presented with a pocket writing portfolio, a fountain pen and a $10.00 gold piece from the teachers. Mr. Moss thanked them, one and all, for their kindness, and assured them he would carry away fond recollections of the pleasant days spent in Paris.

Mr. Moss, who has been the principal of the Paris public school for the past 5 years, is leaving next week to assume his duties as a Lieutenant in the 235th Battalion, at Bowmanville.

Much sympathy is extended to the Rev. D. A. Armstrong in the death of his sister, in Ireland. Mr. Armstrong received a telegram this morning announcing her death.

Dr. Goulds for Overseas
Dr. W. J. Goulds, who offered his services as a medical officer for overseas some months ago, is leaving here the 1st of July for the military camp at London, prior to going overseas. Dr. Goulds is to be Captain in the 11th Battalion of Galt.

The marriage took place this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hicks, of the eldest daughter, Lottie L. to Mr. Walter Roy Nash of Hamilton, the Rev. J. C. Nicholson officiating. The bride who was given away by her father was crowned in white crepe de chene and carried a bouquet of white roses. Only immediate relatives were present. Miss Irene Nash, sister of the groom, played Lohengrin's

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sayles have returned home after attending the annual Coalmen's convention, which took in a delightful trip among the Thousand Islands.

Mrs. Frank Wilson and little ones of Woodstock, are visiting with relatives in town.

The members of the Brant County Medical Association who are in daily touch with the Hospital and its needs have unanimously passed a resolution saying that the Governors could not have done less than they have done and are merely asking for permission of the people to meet absolute needs. The members of the Medical Association, knowing the facts, earnestly advise property holders to vote for the By-law.

The A. B. C. of The Hospital By-Law
Questions Answered and Matters in General Explained

Question—When is the Voting?
Answer—On Monday, June 26th.

Question—What hour?
Answer—9 a.m. to 5 p.m., noon hour included.

Question—Who can vote?
Answer—All men and women on the Voters' Lists as owning property.

Question—Suppose the same name is down for more than one Ward—what then?
Answer—Such an owner can have a vote in each ward—5 votes if on list in 5 wards.

Question—Why should any man or woman have more than one vote?
Answer—It is the rule with regard to all money By-Laws, as it is citizens owning property who would be ultimately liable in connection with any Municipal financial deal.

Question—How much is it the Hospital needs?
Answer—Sixty-five Thousand Dollars.

Question—What for?
Answer—There is $54,367 now owing on new buildings and their equipment. This is money spent.

Question—The Governors went ahead of the moneys in sight?
Answer—Yes. They were faced with stopping the job two-thirds done or making it right, and they chose the latter plan.

Question—Who are the Governors? and how appointed?
Answer—The Governors are twelve in number—two nominated in the Stratford bequest—C. H. Waterous and Geo. Stratford; the Mayor and Geo. Kippax, chosen by the City Council; Warden and R. Sanderson, chosen by the County Council; Dr. Secord, chosen by the Brant County Medical Association; H. J. Symons, Trades and Labor Council; George Watt, by the Board of Trade; A. K. Bunnell, by the Women's Hospital Aid; and two named by the Ontario Government, John Sanderson and F. D. Reville.

Question—Do the Governors receive any fees?
Answer—None whatever. The time devoted to the affairs of the Institution is gratuitously given.

Question—You have said that $54,367 is for money already expended, and you are asking $65,000. What is the difference for?
Answer—There are still some immediate things to be looked after, including the re-arrangement of the old building so as to add to the number of paying wards; plumbing renovations, and so on.

Question—Could the Governors have requested the Municipality to meet the $54,367 obligation in a one-year payment?
Answer—Yes, they could have made the money, but considered that spreading the sum over a period of twenty years, with a little more added for absent requisites, was the easier and more business-like plan.

Question—What about the County?
Answer—They have acted most generously. Their offer is to put up $7,000 of the $65,000 if Brantfordites would carry the $58,000.

Question—If they don't?
Answer—Well, then, it is good-bye to the $7,000 offered by the County.

Question—What will Interest and Sinking Fund mean in each of the 20 years of the proposed Debentures?
Answer—The amount will be very small in each year—to be accurate, 17.9 per head of population.

Question—What is your summing-up to be for the By-law?
Answer—Just this: By voting for same the rate-payers of Brantford will wipe out all present indebtedness of the Hospital, very necessary to the outcome of the Hospital, very necessary to none in the Province. There has not been one cent expended in extravagance or on frillings. The buildings, though attractive-looking, are plain, commodious and up-to-date equipment having been the first consideration. For every dollar spent there has been a dollar's worth in value, and citizens have indeed every reason to feel proud of this great and beneficial institution which is their property.

Fashionable Wedding at Zion Church

A society wedding of more than usual interest took place Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock in Zion Presbyterian Church, when Nora Mackenzie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace, Nelson St., became the bride of Graham Mackenzie Stratford, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Stratford, of Toronto, formerly of this city, the Rev. Mr. Woodside officiating. The church was most artistically decorated with white peonies, spring, and white daisies. Large bunches of the latter tied with white satin ribbon to the pews designated for the invited guests. Promptly at five o'clock the stately young bride entered the church on the arm of her father, Mr. John Wallace, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mr. Wright, the organist of Zion church. The bride wore an extremely handsome gown of georgette crepe and white satin, with trimmings of silver tissue and pearls, with court train, and conventional veil with wreath of white blossoms and wheat sprays, and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of mauve orchids and lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Gordon Scarfe, as matron of honor, who looked very pretty in a lovely gown of mauve silk, with large white hat, and carried a "round" bouquet of pink roses. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Harold Stratford, while Mr. Gordon Scarfe and Mr. R. G. O. Thompson acted as ushers. After the short, but impressive ceremony, the bridal party went to the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding music, and repaired to the home of the bride's parents, on Nelson St., where the reception was held. Mrs. John Wallace received the guests, wearing a charming gown of black lace with large black hat and carrying a bunch of pink roses. Mrs. Joseph Stratford, mother of the groom, was becomingly attired in black chapeau, and wore a large black hat.

The house was decorated with pink and white peonies and orange blossoms. Coles of Toronto, did the catering, and after the bride had cut the cake and the usual toasts proposed, speeches were called for and responded to by Judge Hardy, Mr. R. G. O. Thompson and the Rev. Mr. Woodside.

Before leaving the house, the bride threw her bouquet from the top of the stairs to a waiting group of girl friends below, and it was caught by one of the fair guests in a happy general moment. The bride's travelling dress was a very chic bronze silk with hat, feather boa and smart bronze boots to match. The young couple left last evening for Montreal, via the Grand Trunk, and will take a trip up the Saguenay River. On their return they will reside for the summer months at the Island, Toronto.

Brantfordites, bear in mind the fact that the Hospital demands upon them have been much lighter than in other places. The reason for this is the large grounds and the building were a direct gift to the municipality.

DESTROYED FLOWERS.

Someone, bent upon doing mischievous damage, recently destroyed a bed of dwarf nasturtiums at the Brantford Public Library. The plants had been set out in the form of a border round the library grounds, and this morning were found rooted up completely, and lying upon the ground, there being scarcely a root left in the soil. As there is a severe penalty against such deeds, vigorous prosecution will follow if the offender is found.

A REFRACTORY TEAM

By Will Nies

SOMETIMES it does happen that a team doesn't drive QUITE true. To all appearances it may be finely matched—just to sell 'em you couldn't imagine a better team—but appearances sometimes ARE deceiving. Take this pair, for example. If you had met them when they were cantering through the sweetest days, prancing with the joy of FINDING their mate, proudly galloping together everywhere, you'd never have dreamed that THEY could be refractory. But they are—so for yourself—let it may be the weight of the HARNESS. Oh, if only they could get that and not run away to the wreck called divorce! This is Cupid's task—to get them safely past the dangers till the harness weight becomes bearable. Then they'll settle down with gladness to a joyous trot through life together.

How She Made an "Easy" but Charming Dance Frock.

WHEN I opened my eyes this morning and became conscious of the fact that a robin's song had awakened me, I knew that it was going to be a wonderful day. After breakfast I went to the sewing room to make the dance frock that I am making for Cicely. Then I remembered that we were going to have old-fashioned strawberry shortcake for lunch and ran over to ask "Mrs. Jimmy" to drop in about 1 o'clock and help eat it.

Just as I came through the hedge I saw the expressman struggling up the walk with a long, narrow box which seemed to be filled with lead. I imagine my curiosity when I found that the box was addressed to me! It required the combined efforts of the gardener, cook, expressman and myself to bring to light the mysterious contents—a sun dial and ribbon!

The owner of this loveliest gift was none other than the Editor-Man. He is the most knowing creature on earth, for no one else would have guessed that I wanted a sun dial.

It has for a metre those well known lines from Browning's "Rabbi Ben-Ezra":

"Grow old along with me,
With a worn and wrinkled face,
You did not mention that there is a sun dial
In your garden at the cottage. You did not forget the path of stepping-stones
To the door."
I could hardly tear myself away from the sun dial and get back to work, but I remembered that Cicely had begged me

Five Selected Recipes

By ANN MARIE LLOYD

Rice Jelly.
A pound of rice boiled in three and a half pints of water. When ready, beat through a sieve, and it then should be when cold, a solid clear jelly. When required for use it may be warmed up with milk or cream, but a nice way is to mix milk or cream with the jelly in a cup, and then when nearly cold mix in enough sugar for each person. Sugar and salted lemon may be served with the jelly.

Cottage Jelly.
This jelly is often enjoyed by invalids, and is a pleasant and usually harmless stimulant. Prepare some clear coffee—allowing two good dessertspoonfuls to half a pint of boiling water. Soak half an ounce of gelatine in half a pint of water for an hour or so, dissolve and add the coffee. Add a very little brandy if desired, sweeten to taste, and allow to set.

Hot Plum Cake.
An excellent method of making this is to take about two pounds of large blue plums, one cupful of flour, one cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one teaspoonful of melted butter, one quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, one egg, half a cupful of sugar. Sift the flour, baking powder, salt and two tablespoonfuls of sugar into a bowl, add the milk, egg and melted butter, mix well. The plums should be washed and cut in half, remove the stones, place in the dough, mix with your hands, cover with half a cupful of sugar, put in a moderate oven for 35 to 40 minutes. The cake should be served hot.

Gravies.
Distinction should always be made between gravy and fat. Gravy for serving with roast beef should not be peevishly thickened with flour, but should be made with a sufficient thickening of butter to make it about the consistency of cream. Chicken and duck gravies may be elegantly thickened, but not as much as those for other meats.

Pickled Carrots.
Carrots, washed, some sliced carrots and cut them into two or three pieces.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

By ADELE GARRISON

Why Madge Hesitated to Give Miss Sonnot "Her Chance."

"Oh! Then you must be his Mar-aret!"
"At the words left Miss Sonnot's lips she gazed at me with a half-frightened little air as if she regretted their utterance."
"I beg your pardon, Mrs. Graham," she said contently. "You must think I have heard so much about you."
"From Mr. Bickett?" My head was whirling, I thought. I knew almost every thought of my brother-in-law's, and yet my mother-in-law's nurse had a photograph of him in her scrap book, and evidently knew him well enough to receive his confidences concerning me.
"I had never heard him speak the name 'Sonnot.' Indeed I would never have known he had met her, save for the accidental opening of her scrap book to his picture when she and I were searching for chaffing dish recipes."
"Oh! That is his loss then. He would think so if he could see you now."
She laughed contently while the rest of her cheeks deepened.
"I must explain to you," she said simply. "I have never seen Mr. Bickett, but my brother, in one of his friends. They used to correspond, and I enjoyed his letters as much as Mark. I think his is a wonderful personality, don't you?"
"Naturally," I returned, a trifle dryly. The little nurse revealing more than she dreamed. There was romantic admiration in every note of her voice. I was not quite sure that I liked it.
"Mark used to be much in his confidence, and she would tell me 'they were together for a year on a dangerous expedition some time ago, and that he was in the Philippines for two years, which they otherwise might never have spoken. I know Mark told him a lot about me, for Mr. Bickett was kind enough to send me several little souvenirs of the trip, and he told Mark about his foster sister, Margaret, who meant so much to him."
"Mark Earle's Sister."
She stopped, then spoke hastily:
"You will forgive me if I tell you, I always imagined you would be Mrs. Bickett some day."
"There was a palpable relief in her tones that I was not. I saw what the little nurse herself did not suspect that this claim of her brother's had been a figure of romance in her life.
"I never mind that," I smiled to hide the indignation of the words. "But I am puzzled over one thing. I thought I knew all the companions of those awful trips of Jack's, but I do not recall the name 'Sonnot.'"
"Of course not, for my brother is only a half-brother, and his name is not Sonnot, but Earle."
"Mark Earle?" And you Mark Earle's little sister, Kathleen?"
"The same!" She smiled at the mischievous look on my face.
"I know you very well indeed," I returned. "For three years ago when Jack returned from the expedition which Mr. Earle started, he could talk of little else but the wonderful qualities of Mark Earle's sister, Kathleen."
"Mark's sister, saying he had seen her letters and her photograph, and would like to meet her. But of course I had the impression that her name was Earle."
"I told her nothing save the truth, but I did not tell her all the truth. I had a very distinct impression, indeed, of these days, I had had no inkling of

Secrets of Health and Happiness

How Your Blood Moves, Bringing Life to Your Body

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B. M. A. M. D. (Johns Hopkins University)

THE blood, like man himself, is not perfect. Man has made some things and has improved others, but he cannot create a red blood corpuscle or see his own soul.

New tissues and new materials are made and brought to their proper positions in the anatomical whole by the so-called Arterial and Venous blood. Arteries transport higher and higher and carry it by the veins to the sea, called kidneys.

In the simplest, microscopic anatomical work, the blood is the only globe of living stuff, is not called "circulation of the blood," because there is no strictly different structure such as blood, and no channels marked off from the whole mass. Higher animals have definite tubular vessels, elaborated into networks, through which blood flows, and the blood flows.

It is of the building blocks along the pathways of tubes which convey the blood. It is still maintained erroneously by many doctors that "the passages of the blood through the veins, arteries and heart is controlled by purely mechanical factors."

The Vital Spark.
A little experiment with a rattlesnake's heart or the heart of some other animal, such as a chicken that has been served at dinner will disclose the all-important "vital spark." If the heart of such an animal is separated from the veins and arteries and placed in a glass dish, it will be allowed to wash or bathe in it, the heart will continue to beat as of yore. Moreover, a bit of heart muscle placed up and kept properly in an incubator will continue to thrum away to beat in the same way. It will also grow and multiply. Despite these facts, some doctors, chemists and physiologists persist in calling the heart action "mechanical" and "physico-chemical."

"Grow old along with me,
With a worn and wrinkled face,
You did not mention that there is a sun dial
In your garden at the cottage. You did not forget the path of stepping-stones
To the door."
I could hardly tear myself away from the sun dial and get back to work, but I remembered that Cicely had begged me

Three Minute Journeys
WHERE A BOARD ON A HORSE IS A BUTCHER SHOP.
A YEAR ago few of us in this country could not have told where Salonica is. It was the occupation of Salonica by the soldiers of the Allies that brought the village and capital of the same name back to mind.
But had any one been asked where Thessalonica was he would very likely have dimly recalled that it was somewhere in central European Turkey. Furthermore, he might have remembered that St. Paul's Epistle to the Thessalonians was addressed to the inhabitants of that interesting town. Indeed, all through the ages this little country and its most interesting capital has been under the shadow of war. Every foot of its ground and every street of the city has been fought for and won, and lost and won again. If there is a city of the earth where wars and rumors of wars have done their best and their worst it is this historic city of Salonica.

tration shows the shop in its entirety. It is a simple horse equipped with a V-shaped board hung over its back. On

ADVICE TO GIRLS

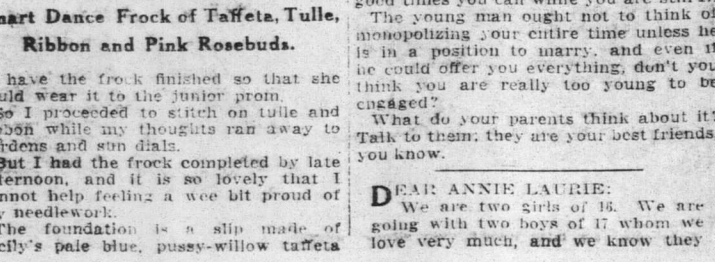

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a young girl of 17, and have two young men friends. One of these young men objects to the attentions I receive from the other young man, and says he will not come to see me any more unless I agree to have no other callers.
I like both of the young men and want them both to come to see me. My parents do not seem to either of them, as they are both nice fellows.
Would you go with just one of them or to both? Please advise me what to do.

AN ANXIOUS GIRL.
AN ANXIOUS GIRL: Don't you think you're pretty young to think of settling down and having just one friend? These are golden years, little woman, and you ought to have all the good times you can while you are still it. The young man ought not to think of monopolizing your entire time unless he is in a position to marry, and even if he could offer you everything, don't you think you are really too young to be married?
What do your parents think about it? Talk to them; they are your best friends, you know.
DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
We are two girls of 16. We are going with two boys of 17 whom we love very much, and we know they love us, because they told us they did. They asked us to be their wives. We thought we were too young, and so they told us they would wait until we were older. If we would marry them, we would like to smoke all the time. We told them we would marry them if they used to smoke all the time. We did not like it, and because we did not like it they quit smoking. Do you not think they love us?

Will you please advise us what to do, as our mother and father are too young to go with the boys.

CHUMS.
CHUMS: Your mothers are right, girls. You are too young to think of being married for several years. The boys may like you, and I hope that you will like them, but you should not be so sure that they will love you, and you ought not to think of being engaged unless there is a possibility of marrying.
It was splendid of the boys to give up smoking to please you, and quite a test of their loyalty, too. I am glad you use your influence in helping the boys to overcome bad habits.
I hope you will always remember that your mothers are your best friends, and that their advice will never lead you any way but the best one. Try to be good girls, won't you? Remember, you will only be little girls for a short time now. Why don't you have all the fun you can while you're young?

Survivors of the Into the Amb Heard From— in Washington Averted.

By Special Wire to the Courrier.
Washington, June 22.—A preliminary report from General Pershing on the Carrizal fight, based on reports told by stragglers reaching headquarters of the American expedition, and on Mexican rumors, taken to the White House early day by Secretary of War Baker.

Not an Official Report
The secretary said General Pershing himself did not regard the report as an official statement of what had happened, and indicated that attempt to decide the course to be pursued by the United States would be made until a complete account had been received. In the meantime the preliminary report will not be made public, although it is understood to be substantially in accordance with the version given in both press despatches.

Nothing from Survivors
Officials are greatly worried of the delay in getting news from surviving officers of the tenth cavalry detachment which engaged a force of Mexicans. According to Mexican official accounts there were about seventy six Americans, seventeen of whom were taken prisoners. Capt. Charles Boyd, Lieut. Henry R. Adams and ten men are said to have been killed. Of the remaining 47, a few stragglers are reported to have been received. In the meantime the preliminary report will not be made public, although it is understood to be substantially in accordance with the version given in both press despatches.

Nothing New
Senator Newland, chairman of the foreign relations committee called the state department early today to get a report from Secretary Lansing. There had been no new developments. Mr. Stone said congress would do nothing in the crisis that might result from negotiations between the state department and the Mexican government.

Hope for No War
"Hope persisted among officials here today that war against Mexico would not become necessary. Gen. Pershing's headquarters yesterday and today there had been no word from the two cavalry troops sent to get in touch with the abandoned command. General Pershing said he hoped to have a report from surviving officers by courier during the day.

Report Expected To-day
Army officers looked to-day for a report from the abandoned detachment which engaged a force of Mexicans. According to Mexican official accounts there were about seventy six Americans, seventeen of whom were taken prisoners. Capt. Charles Boyd, Lieut. Henry R. Adams and ten men are said to have been killed. Of the remaining 47, a few stragglers are reported to have been received.
