THE CITY BERNSTORFF MISSED

(1) A Water Carnival (2) Dry Dock, Halifax, N.S.

COUNT VON BERNSTORFF and his party stayed longer in Halifax than they would have wished, and saw less of the town than any other tourists on record. For while the neutral passengers on board the "Frederick VIII" were allowed to promenade on deck, the German passengers, deprived of their hundreds of suits of pyjamas and their thousands of phonographic records, were condemned to gaze at each other in wrath, or stare Halifaxward at the dock wall through a mere porthole.

And this despite the fact that some of the very best of the original settlers at Halifax were Germans—born to be sure before the Kaiseristic taint had entered the good old Teutonic blood.

Government promised free passage, free grant of land of fifty acres, freedom from taxes for 100 years; free acres, agricultural, fishing and building implements and free food for twelve months. To an officer above the rank of captain the land grant swelled to six hundred acres, with additional grants for every member of his aristocratic family that he could induce to follow him.

In two months' time 2,576 adventurers had signed on—men, women, children and suffragettes—thirteen thousand of them. It took them a month to reach Nova Scotia, but the day they landed they got to work to turn the forest into log cabins and the situation into a city. Timbers and boards for the most pretentious buildings were brought from Massachusetts.

Russia's Great Service to the Allied Cause

LONDON, March 22.—Premier Lloyd George today telegraphed to the Russian Premier saying he believed the revolution in Russia was the greatest service the Russians had yet rendered to the Allied cause, and that it was sur promise that the Prussian military autocracy, and only barrier to peace, would soon be overthrown.

The text of the telegram follows: "It is with sentiments of the most profound satisfaction that the peoples of Great Britain and the British Dominions have learned that their great ally, Russia, now stands with the nations which base their institution upon responsible government."

"Much as we appreciate the loyal and steadfast co-operation which we have received from the late Emperor and the armies of Russia during the past two and one-half years, yet I believe that the revolution, whereby the Russian people have based their destinies on a sure foundation of freedom, is the greatest service which they have yet made to the cause for which the Allied peoples have been fighting since August, 1914."

"It reveals the fundamental truth that this war is, at the bottom, a struggle for popular Government, and for liberty. It shows that through war the principle of liberty, which is the only sure safeguard to peace in the world, has already won one resounding victory. It is a sure promise that the Prussian military autocracy, which began the war and which still is the only barrier to peace, will, itself, before long, be overthrown."

"Freedom is a condition of peace, and I do not doubt that as the result of the establishment of a stable constitutional Government within their borders, the Russian people will be strengthened in their resolve to prosecute this war until the last stronghold of tyranny on the continent of Europe is destroyed, and the free peoples in all lands can unite to secure for themselves and their children the blessings of fraternity and peace."

Bonar Law, member of the British War Council, on moving in the House of Commons this afternoon a resolution of greeting to the Russian Duma said:

"Events in Russia have been following one another with such startling rapidity in the last thirteen days that they have arrested the attention of the whole world, even amidst the greatest convulsion ever brought upon the earth by the action of man."

What happened in Russia reminds us of the early days of the French revolution. It is too soon to say all danger is over in Russia.

"It is too soon to feel confident that the new Government already has laid a foundation upon which, in the language of Burke, 'liberty will have wisdom and justice for her companions, with prosperity and plenty in her train,' but it is not too soon for the Mother of Parliaments to send greetings to the Parliament of our Allied country. It is not too soon to send a message of good will to the new Government, which is formed with the declared intention of carrying the war to a successful conclusion, and which has undertaken the arduous task of driving out the foreign aggressor and establishing freedom and order at home."

"It is not for us to judge or condemn those who have taken part in the Government of an allied country," continued Mr. Bonar Law, "but I may be permitted to express a feeling of compassion for the deposed Emperor, who for three years was our loyal ally and had laid upon him by birth a burden which was too heavy for him."

VARIETIES OF VEGETABLES FOR THE HOME GARDEN.

In selecting varieties of vegetables for the garden it is well in many instances to make use of both early and late kinds. On account of our short seasons only the earliest varieties of corn, tomatoes, celery and onions (from seed) are likely to come to maturity or to give their maximum yields. With some other vegetables, such as cabbage, carrots, beets and peas the planting of early and late varieties provides for a succession and lengthens the season during which these vegetables may be had fresh from the garden. This succession is sometimes obtained by planting early varieties at different dates but the later varieties of some vegetables, such as peas, pole beans and beets are of better quality than the early varieties. The late varieties of cabbage keep better in storage than the early varieties.

Usually the dwarf varieties are early and the taller growing kinds late. The former take less room between the rows, the latter generally give large yields. The tall growing peas and beans require support and hence are not favored by some people. But this is to be regretted because of the good quality of these vegetables. Short rooted beets, carrots and parsnip are earlier than the long rooted kinds but do not give as large yields.

The following varieties of vegetables are recommended as some of the best for growing in the home garden:

BEANS

Wardwell's Kidney Wax. Extremely early; straight flat pods Improved Golden Wax, early; pods nearly straight and flat. Refugee Kidney Wax. One of the best round podded wax, good quality.

Canadian Wonder, Early; flat greenpod, good quality. Extra Early Red Valentine. Early; round pod good quality use where young.

Refugee or 1000 to 1. Very Prolific; quality good, quite fleshy, used extensively for canning about 10 to 14 days later than any of preceding.

For a good winter bean, use Yellow Eye.

POLE BEANS

Golden Cluster; Excellent snap and Golden Butter; shell beans. Scarlet Runner. Good snap and green shell bean.

BEETS

For early sowings use any of the following: Crosby's Egyptian Model Eclipse For mid season and winter use sow: Crimson Globe Detroit Dark Red (an excellent variety for canning rich deep color) Edmonds Blood turnip. If long beets are wanted use Long, Smooth Blood or Dainty.

BRUSSELS SPROUTS

Not extensively grown in this Province but a very desirable vegetable. Use some of the following: Ideal Matchless Aighurth Anager Giant

CABBAGE

For the earliest cabbage, and succession up to time of harvest for winter 1st Earlies—Early Jersey Wakefield (Acconical variety. Copenhagen Market. (A ball head.) 2nd Earlies—Early Winnigstadt (Conical shape) All Head (Drumhead Type).

MAIN CROP

Succession and Surehead and all seasons.

These last three are also good for winter. Sown later than 1st and 2nd earlies.

CAULIFLOWER

For early use: Early snow ball, Early Dwarf Erfurt are two good varieties. Early Autumn Giant is mostly used for fall use, being a very good variety. A good variety for fall use.

CARROTS

One of the Earliest is Scarlet Horn which may be followed by Chantenay and Danver's Half long, two very popular varieties and good keepers, suitable for winter use. The long varieties are also good but take deeper ground and a little harder to harvest.

CELERY

For most sections of Nova Scotia the early varieties are best for use these are called self blanching but very often blanching is hastened by the use of boards. Those recommended are White Plume, Paris Golden Yellow, Chicago Giant Self Blanching. The first two are very popular varieties. Those desiring a variety for winter storage should try Winter Queen and Boston Market.

SWEET CORN

For early use Golden Bantam (yellow-variety) is one of the best, being very early. Three good white kernelled varieties are Peep O' Day, Extra early Cory and Early Malcom. For the western parts of the Province some of the later maturing varieties should succeed, those being Potter's Excelsior, Stowell's Evergreen and Country Gentleman.

CUCUMBERS

For slicing, it is hard to beat good strains of White Spine; Davis Perfect or Arlington White Spine. The English varieties are good but take considerably more care. Picklers pick small sized fruits from the first two, but for best picklers use varieties of the Black Spine group the best being Boston Pickling. The West India Gherkin is very popular for small pickles.

KOHL-RABI

A desirable vegetable, (sometimes called the lazy man's cauliflower). White Vienna, Purple Vienna.

LEAKS

A mild flavored onion, among the good varieties are Musselburgh, Giant Carentan, London don Flag.

LETTUCE

Here we have a large list, but only a few of best are given. For loose leaf or cutting sow, Grand Rapids, Early Curled, Simpson, Boston Curled. Head or cabbage varieties, Deacon, May King, All Seasons, (three Butterhead types), Brittle Ice, Hanson and Iceberg (three good Crisphead types, and somewhat better for hot weather than the butter head type.)

ONIONS

The Yellow Cracker (a flat onion is one of the earliest, but not quite such a good keeper as Yellow Globe Danvers, which is an excellent keeping onion. Southport Yellow and White Globes are other good onions, but somewhat late in maturing. For picklers use Adriatic Barletta or Silver Queen. For early green and early ripe onions Yellow and White sets are used.

OYSTER PLANT OR SALSIFY.

An excellent vegetable and should be given a trial. Use Mammoth Sandwich Island

Variety.

PARSNIPS

The three leaders in this vegetable are Student, Abbott's Hollow Crown and Maltese. All good varieties.

PARSLEY

Used for flavoring soups and meats, and garnishing, Moss Curled, Champion Moss.

PEAS

There are quite a few varieties of this vegetable. For succession use, Early Medium and Late varieties one or all of each heading.

—Earliest, Alaska or Earliest of All 2 feet high; First Best 2 1-2 feet high.

2—2nd Early or medium sow 7 days later than first. Gradus or Prosperity 3 feet high. Stratagem 2 feet high. Market Garden 5 feet high.

3—Late sow 7 to 10 days later than 2. Duke of Albany 4 to 5 feet, Telephone 4 feet. Champion of England 5 feet.

POTATOES

Mostly a field crop, but a home garden may have room for a few rows. There is quite a number of varieties to select from. In particular sections some varieties may do much better than in others.

Among the best are found:—Early Rose, Early Ohio, Irish Cobbler, Beauty of Hebron, Dreer's Standard, Green Mountain, Carmen No 1.

PUMPKIN.

For pies, Sugar, Winter Luxury and Cheese varieties.

RADISH

Crimson Globe, Non Plus Ultra and Icicle.

SPINACH

One of our best and earliest greens or pot herb, for round sowed varieties, Victoria, Round Thick Leaved; or a thick leaved variety, long season, Long Standing. Spinach Beet or Swiss Chard use Swiss Chard Lucullus. New Zealand Spinach (tender perennial) is a good kind to grow where a continuous supply is required for the season.

SQUASH

For summer use plant Summer Crook Neck and Golden Custard. These lack the fine quality of the fall and winter squashes, and are not often planted in this Province. For fall and winter use, in order to succession, plant Boston Marrow Delicious, Green and Golden Hubbard's. All excellent varieties.

TOMATOES

In order to secure most ripe fruit, only early varieties and their strains should be used in this Province. Some such varieties would be Eurliana, Sparks Eurliana, Alacrity—the last being the earliest.

TURNIPS

For early summer use the soft varieties should be sown. Some of these are: White Milan, White Egg, Golden Ball. For winter use and keeping qualities, the Swede or winter turnip is best. Among good varieties of these are: Holborn-Invieta, Corning Harleys Bronze top.

Persons interested in the subject of vegetable gardening can get leaflets from the Horticultural Division, Agricultural College, Truro, giving suggestions on the planning of a garden, preparation of the soil and culture of the different crops.

Cable communication from Buenos Ayres to London, via the Azores, was suddenly cut off early on Friday. Officials thought it might be due to an earthquake, but it was believed there that the line had been cut by a German raider.

40 MORE VILLAGES FOR BRITISH

London, March 21—The capture of forty more villages on the front in France is announced in the official statement from British Headquarters tonight.

The communication says: "South and southeast of Peronne we have advanced rapidly during the last twenty-four hours and reached points some ten miles to the east of the River Somme. We have occupied another forty villages in this area."

"Between Nurlu and Arras the enemy is beginning to develop considerable resistance at a number of places. Nevertheless his rear-guards are being steadily driven from their positions, and our progress continues."

"We carried out successful raids during the night east of Arras and northeast of Neuville-St. Vaast. A hostile raiding party east of Neuville St. Vaast was repulsed."

"The enemy blew a mine this morning southeast of Ypres, damaging his own trenches."

"There has been considerable artillery activity during the day by both sides in the neighborhood of Armentieres and Ypres"

Neil MacCall

Valiquette of Boston, Mass.; and Mrs. G. I. Marchant of Manitoba; Mr. MacCall was born at Kingsville, Cape Breton and came to Kings County when only a boy. He was an honest and upright man. Windsor local papers have adopted the $1.50 a year rate for their weekly issue. The Hants Journal in its last issue says: "Both the Amherst News and Digby Courier have adopted the $1.50 subscription rate. There are very few weeklies in the Province that can now be obtained at the dollar rate, if such exist there are but two reasons—either that their managers have more cash than they know what to do with or that these same publications feel that their weekly effort is not worth the price."

ORDER RESTORED IN RUSSIA

London, March 21—Prince Lvoff, the new Russian Premier, receiving the Russian newspapermen at Petrograd, outlined the progress in the creation of new Russia, says a Reuter despatch from that capital. The southwestern and western fronts, said the Premier, were entirely on the side of the people. There had been some excesses on the northern front, but the commissioners sent thither had found on their arrival that order and discipline had been restored.

The whole Baltic fleet was with the Government continued Prince Lvoff, and all disturbances had ceased. Finland also was unanimously on the side of the Government. Nowhere was there reason for anxiety. The Government was in constant contact with the works delegates, and did not expect serious discussions. The work of renovation was immense; nevertheless, the convocation of the constituent assembly was only a question of months.

JACOB COHEN, Canning

The Canning Advertiser Business at Canning.

The Advertiser Editor confesses to having neglected the business interests of Canning during the last three years. A serious illness for two years culminating in two periods in the hospitals of Boston, and a period of recovery from a serious operation kept us almost entirely confined to our office work at Kentville. Now with entire recovery of health, we felt quite a stranger as we lauded at Canning on Saturday noon to again enquire into business conditions in this town of much promise. A few conversations with the leading business men soon convinced us that Canning was not hibernating but had experienced a good winter's trade, and was full of life and promise to bud forth this spring with the tender blades of the grass and the opening of the leaves and blossoms. A conviction soon became a certainty that Canning was ready for more legitimate booming, more publicity, more advertising of the quality of the goods for sale here and the cheapness of the prices compared with other towns.

To meet this demand in this issue and hereafter every Tuesday, this page of our journal will be entirely devoted to Canning's business interests and the local news of this place and the immediate vicinity.

A full page, we say, every issue for Canning and the quiet and prosperous villages and county districts in its immediate vicinity. It is not too much to expect this. Associated with Canning, for a time at least, will be Kingsport, Pears, Delhaven, Blomidon, Scott's Bay, Sheffield Mills, Baxter's Harbour, Arlington, Canard and Hillaton. Canning is the natural trading centre of all these places, and in this page citizens of Kings County will soon see signs of an awakening, which will be a surprise to all.

We want all the news that is news in this section, let every resident take an interest in this page and see that every news item of interest is telephoned or mailed to "The Advertiser" not later than Monday noon for insertion in Tuesday's issue.

Yours for Publicity, Push and Promotion
H. G. Harris

What We Saw in Canning Stores

The harness shop and store of G. W. Parker is always a place of bustle and work. Mr. Parker was at Kentville on Saturday, but three competent assistants were busy.

Stanley Robinson made no mistake when he purchased the business here. He appears never to lack patronage during business hours, and with the improvements made in the store and other changes to follow, he will be able to compete with all comers in quality and prices of goods. Mr. Robinson was formerly with the late R. D. G. Harris when he was in business, and so is well known in the community.

A. M. Lockwood said that trade had been good. Just now he was caught with a very short supply of feet, owing to long and prolonged delays in arrival of cars, and the factures of the railways to deliver cars. Shipping points, was quite serious, as farmers had from 5 to 50 or 100 head of cattle fattening in their barns, and were liable to lose the work of months by failure to obtain feed just now to hush off the cattle before the Easter market.

We wish to draw your attention to Mr. A. S. Burgess, add in this paper. Mr. Burgess now owns and conducts business in the Brick Block at Canning, one of the most up-to-date stores in the Province of Nova Scotia. Mr. Burgess who travelled for a number of years covering the ground between Toronto and Sydney for a large Montreal Concern was induced to enter business in Canning nearly twelve years ago. He formed a business then known as the Cornwallis Trading Company. After the fire in 1912 he built for his company the store he now occupies afterwards purchasing it for himself. The store consists of several departments and besides contains a large refrigerator equipped for handling butter, eggs, fish, meats and green groceries. The store is well lighted and fitted with up to date lavatories for the public use. The citizens of Canning and surrounding country are fortunate in having a store like this in their community.

The Canning Advertiser Mrs. Covert left for St. John last week, where she will be with her husband until he leaves with the Medical Unit for Overseas.

Tenders are being called for the repairs of the Canning school house. Floor and Table Oilcloths and Linoleum at A. S. Burgess.

Canning Board of Trade has not been as active and aggressive in forwarding the interests of the town as it should. The time has now come for everyone to unite in maintaining the town's interests, and in promoting improvements and increased trade.

Cutting Saws, Bees Wax and Resin at A. S. Burgess.

One of the most prosperous and interesting institutions of Canning is its Division, S. of T. The membership is about 150, and most interesting meetings are held weekly with excellent programs and matters of interest to the order.

We want your Eggs and Butter. Highest prices paid. A. S. Burgess.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Newcombe, who have been at Halifax this winter, arrived in Canning on Saturday to visit relatives here. Mrs. Newcombe will remain here for a while, and may again go to Maine for part of the summer. Mr. Newcombe is with the firm of Gordon & Keith, and has but a short vacation.

Extra values in Sheet, Longcloth Grey Cotten A. S. Burgess.

Mr. William Melvin has been very ill for the last seven weeks. There is a very little improvement in his condition, which is hoped to be more marked as the late spring weather opens.

100 pairs of Mens Pants at less than Man'g prices at A. S. Burgess.

Mrs. Lewis Ellis, of Kentville, spent Saturday in Canning visiting her sister Miss Edna Cox who has been quite ill.

Mr. Scott Blenkhorn went to Halifax on Friday morning in a hurried trip with his little three old girl Barbara, who playing with a copper she swallowed the cent and Dr. Miller advised her being taken to Halifax before any painful symptoms of inflammation occurred.

Buy your Easter Goods early at A. S. Burgess.

Mr. Fred Lyons has been in Kentville several days taking charge of R. T. Caldwell's meat department during a short absence of Mr. Brooks.

The Women's Institute of Canning, wish to acknowledge two donations to the Red Cross Fund. First, $33.60, donated by the friends of Dr. Covert at the meeting given in his honor last week; second, $28.00 from the young ladies in Medford, the result of a Pie Social. The Institute at its meeting, Monday, passed a resolution that a hearty vote of thanks be extended to all those who contributed to these generous donations.

Some excellent bargains in Silks now at A. S. Burgess.

Realizing Leather goods would advance we bought very heavy of Boots and Shoes and now offer some extra values at old prices. A. S. Burgess.

Dr. A. C. Borden who has had a most successful pastorate at Canning will become pastor of St. Stephen's Methodist Church Kentville after the meeting of the Conference, both Dr. Borden and his wife will be greatly missed here.

Dr. Carl A. Shaw having left his practice in the West Indies to come home to offer his service to the country and finding himself ineligible for military duty has consented to act as "locum tenens" for Hon. A. M. Covert who has left his practice for overseas duties. Dr. Shaw will be found at Dr. Covert's office at Canning.

The Maritime Province Troops Now Divided Into 2 Regiments for Better Administration

Ottawa, March 20.—The details of the Organization of infantry reserves of the Canadian expeditionary force in England have now been completed and a statement issued by Sir Edward Kemp shows how these infantry reserves have been formed into territorial reserve battalions and regiments connected with linked battalions at the front and with recruiting areas in Canada.

The establishment of each of these infantry reserve battalions is not limited to the usual number, but such reserve battalions will take care of all drafts sent forward from the areas of the military districts in Canada which they respectively represent.

It is intended that these reserve battalions and linked overseas reinforcements to certain specified overseas battalions with which they are linked, and that such reserve battalions should in turn be reinforced from Canada by drafts coming from the same part of Canada.

Also to further ensure the territorial association between Canada and the linked overseas battalions being maintained and for facility of administration in the handling of personnel and documents, the regimental system has been adopted to the extent of grouping together into one regiment the reserve battalions to which such reserve battalions are supplying reinforcements.

The troops from the maritime provinces are divided into two regiments, the Nova Scotia regiment and the New Brunswick regiment.

The Nova Scotia regiment will be composed of the 17th and 26th reserve battalions, the 85th, 185th and 25th overseas battalions and the Royal Canadian regiment.

The latter, however, may get recruits from all over Canada, and the 85th and 185th may also get drafts from New Brunswick as they recruited also that province, but the 25th from Nova Scotia only.

The New Brunswick regiment will be composed of the 13th reserve battalion and the 218th and 104th overseas battalions, the former having been recruited in New Brunswick only, and the latter in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. These regiments will have a regimental depot in England for the care of the personnel and records and for other administrative purposes.

Hon. P. E. Blondin Resigns From Cabinet To Fight For Empire

Ottawa, March 20.—P. E. Blondin, postmaster general, has tendered his resignation. Sir George Foster has tabled it to Sir Robert Borden.

Mr. Blondin has resigned for the purpose of enlisting in the overseas forces. He has written a letter to the minister of militia and defense in the following terms:

"Ottawa, Mar 20, '17
Dear Sir Edward,—I must inform you that I have put my resignation as postmaster general in the hands of the acting premier in order to offer my services in the overseas forces. I am willing to put myself at your orders, and consequently I apply for enlistment in the overseas forces of Canada.
Yours truly,
(Sgd.) "P. E. Blondin."

Sir Edward Kemp said tonight that he proposed to ask Mr. Blondin to recruit a battalion for service at the front as a part of the Canadian expeditionary force.

Mr. Blondin's offer to serve overseas and his resignation have caused a sensation here. His enthusiasm, however, in the cause of the allies since the war began has been very marked, and has been one of the very best recruiting speakers in the country.

Charges That Czar's Palace was a Nest of German Spies

Petrograd, March 21st.—The Russia Volia in a long unsigned article, exposes what it terms the treason of the court clique and alleges that Tsarskie Selo was a nest of German spies. The paper says that a special committee has been appointed to investigate the crimes of former Ministers during the last bacchanalian nightmare years of dynasty, on which Rasputin put the final touches. The article says in part:

The first crime was treason and espionage and had its nest in the palace. The court was partly and chiefly German and the pitiful role of Stumer in its efforts to draw Russia toward a separate peace was known everywhere. The press of our allies accused Russia of giving Germany, Russian military secrets.

Alexis Khivostoff, who was dismissed as Minister of the Interior, because he aimed to divorce Nicholas and Alexandra and kill Rasputin, declared to friends that he had documents showing the connection between the Court and Berlin and that Rasputin was surrounded by German spies who were sending out military secrets easily learned from the drunken monk. Khivostoff, himself, one of the band of dark forces, did not try to hinder the treason at Tsarkoe Selo.

Refused England's Offer

We know from the letter of General Goukhoff, Minister of War, to General Alexeff, that Starmer and Belaieff refused England's offer to give half a million rifles to the Russia army. Similar facts have been collected by the defence committee of the Imperial Duma. We know the consequences of General Soukomiouff's doings when he was only Governor of Kiev and when he surrounded himself with spies. His nearest friend was commander of the Austria spy organization. Our military secret service knew, but could do nothing. The result of his treason was a Russian defeat, costing million of lives. What are we to do now? Allow Nicholas to live in beautiful Livadia amongst flowers he was so fond of and among the conditions of freedom he always denied others?

Allow him to do this so that he may organize other dark forces for the establishment of the Romanoff's?"

London, March 22nd.—All the members of the former Russian Dynasty have been placed themselves at the disposition of the Provisional Government, according to a Renter despatch from Petrograd. Grand Duke Cyril has resigned his command of the naval Guards.

Greatest Battle Since the Marne Has Begun and Fighting is Open on Devastated Land

(By Arthur S. Draper)
(Special Cablegram to The Halifax Herald and Evening Mail)
LONDON, March 23—Along the entire front between the Scarpe and the Aisne, in France, and allied and German troops come to grips today. At some places the battle, waged by infantry, cavalry, and artillery attained the biggest proportions of any engagement this year. Standing before the Hindenburg line, from the region of Arras to Laon, the Germans launched attack after counter attack at the advancing French and British forces and the losses of both sides were enormous.

Some observers here see in the developments of the last two days signs that Hindenburg intends to fight a decisive battle over the despoiled and desolated country stretching from the Somme to the Aisne and from St. Quentin to La Fere. If such a battle should develop it will probably be the greatest struggle in every way that has been fought in this war, not excepting the battle of the Marne, and with it, Hindenburg will reveal his strategy and the prime reason for the great German withdrawal.

The most desperate encounters of the day took place along the French front south of St. Quentin where less than two and a half miles separates Nivelle's troops from the enemy's defensive system.

One struggle surged around St. Simon, along both sides of the Somme Crozat canal, and slightly north, near the villages of Artemps and Seracourt Le Grand. Here the Germans delivered a violent counter-blow that almost swept the French of their feet.

Advancing quickly, however, the Allies rushed forward and drove the enemy back some distance. The Germans report that the French suffered sanguinary losses, and lost 230 prisoners in this operation.

Shortly afterward the French launched a wide offensive in the same region, and in the face of stubborn resistance, pressed the Germans back to the northeast of St. Quentin canal to a depth varying from one and a quarter miles to a half mile. North of Soissons and along the Aisne river, two other mighty engagements were fought. In the former, closer to the west and south of Marquennes, the French scored successes. In some sections of the front, the Germans hurled entire regiments at the French ranks, but their artillery operating at every turn checked but again and again they were mowed them down on the spot.

CANADIANS MADE SUCCESSFUL RAID

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS, IN FRANCE, March 23—(By Stewart Lyon, Special Correspondent of Canadian Press) The civilian population behind the Canadian front is jubilant over the display of "Voluntary elasticity" by the enemy. On that part of the Western battle line between Noyon and Arras the enemy still holds his trenches here and there. It resulted in the capture of a number of prisoners with a minimum of loss.

A dramatic incident is reported from a part of our front on which, early in the war, stubborn battles took place between the French and the Germans. Some Canadian soldiers searching the field quarters noticed a grass grown mound of curious shape, penetrating the mound they discovered the entrance to a dugout in which were four German officers seated at a table where sudden death had overtaken them. Their equipment was still hanging on a wall. The cause of their death was asphyxiation either from gas entering the dugout or from the closing of its entrance by shell fire. If the latter, knowing there was no hope of escape, the officers must have sat there around the table waiting the end. Many other tragedies may be discovered later.

The other day a Kentville man said: "You can't start a manufacturing business on a small scale these days and make a success of it, the big concerns would crush you out, you can't compete with them." Yet right here in Kentville there's a business that was started only a few years ago on a capital of less than $50, which last year earned a profit large enough to pay, if it were an incorporated company, 6 per cent on a capitalization of $35,000, and this business has, from its inception successfully competed with a $7,000,000 Canadian Company manufacturing and pushing a similar product. We refer to Sure-Pop Corn Cure, manufactured by F. C. Mulloney. This cornure is too well known in Kings County to need further mention. Mr. Mulloney makes every effort to sell the dealer a dozen packages. He never asks for another order. They come to him unsolicited. He has never lost a dealer customer since he sold the first dozen. That's a good indication of the quality of Sure-Pop, and positive proof that "good goods can be made in Kentville." In addition to his corn cure Mr. Mulloney makes "Zintola," which he calls "a message of comfort to aching heads," and also Zintol-Quinol, a positive cure for dandruff. He is now preparing to place a new remedy on the market. This will be known as Lax-O-Gin, and will be offered to the public in the firm belief that it marks a new era in medical science. Mr. Mulloney and the men who will shortly be associated with him feel certain that, eventually, Lax-O-Gin will be the largest selling proprietary remedy in Canada. We trust that their expectations will be fulfilled.

The death of Mrs. Joseph Horton took place at Whitney Park, Mattapan, Mass., on February 14th. She will be remembered here as Minnie Thorpe of West Cornwallis, and for some time a compositor in the office of "The Advertiser." Her death took place after a very days of illness. She left Kentville about ten years ago and has since been residing in the United States since that time. She leaves a husband at Mattapan and relatives in this County. The burial took place at Mount Auburn Cemetery.
