

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., NOV. 10, 1893.

Meeting of Town Council.

The regular monthly meeting of the town council was held on Tuesday evening. There were present the Mayor, councillors Thomson, G. W. Borden, Starr, Sawyer, and C. B. Borden, and the Recorder.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved. The com. on water-works reported recommending the purchase of a strip of land near the reservoir to prevent it being settled upon to the damage of the system.

The com. on water-works reported recommending the purchase of a strip of land near the reservoir to prevent it being settled upon to the damage of the system. The report was adopted and the committee empowered to purchase the land, providing it can be had at a reasonable price.

Street com. reported that College avenue extension had been graded and put in feasible order, and general repairs had been made where most required. The mayor called the attention of the com. to the necessity of other repairs being made before the winter sets in.

Com. on the old school building reported recommending that, in view of the urgent need of a room for the council meetings, as well as an office for town clerk, and work-shop and store room for fup of streets, etc., the old building be fitted up for the purpose. They also recommended that, providing the consent of the school board can be obtained, the building be turned around to front on School street and allowed to remain on the school land. The report was adopted and the com. was requested to make arrangements with school board or other persons for acquiring land on which to place the building.

Mr. L. E. Duncanson was present and addressed the council re his slaughter house, agreeing to remove it before warm weather comes again, if allowed to remain in the present location for the present.

It was resolved that Mr. Duncanson be allowed to remain until Jan. 1st, providing he guarantee to prevent its being a nuisance and to pay all costs of the action recently taken against him.

United States Finances. In marked contrast with the Canadian returns, which show a small increase in revenue and a considerable reduction in expenditure, are those which come from Washington. A despatch says the Treasury official statement of the comparative receipts and expenditures of the United States, issued on the first of the present month, shows that for the first four months of the current fiscal year the expenditures have exceeded the receipts by $24,000,000, or at the rate of $72,000,000 a year. The receipts are $27,000,000 less than for the corresponding four months of the previous fiscal year, and the expenditures are nearly $1,000,000 greater than for the same period.

The greatest falling off is shown in customs, which have declined nearly $19,000,000 in the last four months, as compared with the same months in 1892. During the month of October the receipts from customs were $2,000,000 less than the receipts from internal revenue, an anomaly in government. The falling off in the total revenue in October was slightly larger than the average for the previous three months, showing that any improvement to be noted in the business situation has not yet reached the national treasury. The falling off of revenue will probably render necessary an issue of bonds to meet current expenses, an event unprecedented in times of peace in the history of the neighboring republic.

Our Public Schools. Principal Seaman reports our public schools to be in a very encouraging condition. The percentage of attendance in the different departments for the quarter ending Friday, Nov. 3d, was as follows: Advanced, 90.7; intermediate, 85.2; 2d primary, 83.9; 1st primary, 76.1. The percentage would have been considerably larger had it not been for a number of pupils who were registered during the last two weeks of the quarter. The above showing we consider remarkably good, and speaks volumes for the efficiency of our schools. Principal Seaman reports that the attendance has increased so much as to make the addition of another department necessary in the near future. As it is the attendance in Miss West's and Miss Burgess' departments now numbers upwards of 65.

The College Y. M. C. A.

One of the pleasing features of the College Y. M. C. A. is the holding of monthly devotional meetings, at which the public are invited to be present.

These meetings in the past have been highly helpful to the students. The Association arranges each year with several prominent preachers to be present on these occasions and address the meetings. In this way opportunity is given to the students of hearing many powerful discourses during the academic year and of receiving much benefit. This together with the excellent music furnished by the college choir attracts large numbers and Assembly Hall at these monthly meetings is always well filled. The first of these meetings of the new term was held on Sunday evening last at the close of the regular church service. President McCurdy occupied the chair and the college choir were seated on the platform. Rev. Dr. Sawyer offered the opening prayer. The address was given by the Rev. D. J. Fraser, B. D., pastor of the Presbyterian church of the town, and a powerful discourse it was. The theme was "Character" and the text, Proverbs xxiii, 23—"Buy the truth and sell it not; yea, wisdom and instruction and understanding." The speaker took the word truth to mean stability of character, and interpreted the text as virtually saying: "Get at any price and keep at the sacrifice of everything—the true manhood. True character must be bought. Virtue is not acquired merely by the asking for it. Only by renouncing self do we begin to live the life which is eternal. Why at such a tremendous cost should Solomon ask us to buy the truth? First, the preacher said, because of its own inherent value, the truth is the highest good of humanity. Man's highest aim should be character, not as a stepping stone to a place called heaven, for character makes heaven, but because a character firmly built on the eternal principles of love and justice is the greatest thing in the world. We can never develop the highest type of christian character until we cease being selfish simply because it is the best policy. Never can we be truly strong in christian manliness, ready to stand by our convictions and live the truth even at the risk of opposition and persecution, until we have bought the truth simply for its own sake, until with lofty purpose and firm endeavor we make the resolve—I will get wisdom because wisdom is the principal thing. The second reason the preacher gave why we should be willing to give so much for the truth is, that the pursuit of character alone will yield the highest happiness. Any other aim in life is sure to lead to disappointment, to wretched untappiness. This was demonstrated in the life of the author of the text. That happened to Solomon which happens to every man who makes enjoyment the chief aim in life. Pleasure is simply the accompaniment of exercise; and therefore from its very nature it is to be attained not by pursuing it directly but by actually forgetting it altogether in our pursuit of those objects which are calculated to give us pleasure. Pleasure as an object must defeat itself, and therefore we find that those who make pleasure the supreme good of human existence, invariably become disappointed. Just because Solomon sought pleasure, pleasure fled from him. Had he aimed at wisdom then happiness would have been his lot; for happiness is the necessary companion of virtue. We are far more responsible for carrying out the injunction of Solomon, than those to whom it was originally addressed. We have no longer the abstract, but the historic truth. We have no longer the personified, but the incarnate wisdom. If we would obey the injunction to get wisdom and instruction and understanding we can do so only by learning the lessons of meekness and lowliness of heart in the school of Christ, by taking His yoke upon us and thus become broken in to His way of living. In concluding the speaker addressed the students in substance nearly as follows:

Gentlemen, students of Acadia University, whatever else you learn in this institution, see to it that you learn to be true men. While you grow in secular knowledge, make corresponding progress in that wisdom whose beginning is the fear of God. Aim at the all-round development of a perfect manhood. Training which is entirely physical develops the body; mental refinement alone makes the intellectual prig; culture exclusively spiritual produces the sentimental pietist; only that education which is physical, intellectual and spiritual makes the man. This university exists not so much to turn out scholars, to graduate those whose minds are stuffed with facts, as to send forth men of character, of loyalty to duty, whose minds have been trained for the reception and in whom has been inspired the disinterested love of truth. If she has failed to do this, then she has missed the purpose of her existence. Upon you, young gentlemen, rather than upon your professors and benefactors, rests the responsibility of following your Alma Mater to fulfil the purpose of her creation. You are those to whom her supporters will look for the apology for her existence and for the proof of her usefulness. If you do not leave her walls better men and truer than you came, then you yourselves, the world at large, your university, can not fail to suffer. Lay well to mind the advice of Ruskin—"Your hearts are, if you leave them unstarred, as tombs in which a god lies buried. Now yourselves crumblers that red earth that sacred sepulchre." Not your learning, not your athletic skill, not the wealth you may acquire or the honorable reputation you may gain in future life, but your character, it is which shall determine your historic value.

But of all these, the most useful, the most indispensable, the one whose knowledge is the most effective, is the Bible. I am considering it now, not as a religious book, but as a manual of utility, of professional preparation, and of professional life for a journalist. There is perhaps no book whose style is more suggestive and more instructive, from which you learn more directly that sublime simplicity which never exaggerates, which recounts the greatest event with solemnity, of course, but without sentimentality or affectation, none which you open with such confidence and lay down with such reverence; there is no book like the Bible.

We observe that Mr. Dana, in connection with this branch of his subject, offered the following good suggestions:—When I advise you to make yourselves familiar with those glories of English literature, I do not say that those writers of English literature should be taken as models. Do not take any model. Every man has his own natural style, and the thing to do is to develop it into simplicity and clearness.

Another Word from the Capital. Dear ACADIAN:—The sad occurrence of yesterday by which three lives were ushered into eternity has been the absorbing topic of conversation. Much sympathy is felt for the relatives of the dead woman. Her destiny seemed to be in the hands of a ruffian who counted human life cheap. Grand Division is now in session. The official organ makes a good showing in comparison with other years. Only $380 has been paid from Grand Division to run the paper in addition to its own income. The agency work is the great question now before Grand Division. The trend of opinion is that District Divisions are now doing a large part of the work formerly done by the agents and at very much less expense. These two facts form an argument against continuing our agency work on its present basis. Before this is in print there is no doubt a decisive re-arrangement will be made.

Our naval fleet is daily growing less on this station. Four of the ships have gone to Bermuda. Three remain here still. The Dumard will have extensive repairs made which will take some weeks yet. Business is quiet. Not nearly so much western trade as in former years.

The resignation of Hugh John Macdonald, his father, was a natural born politician, and nothing delighted him so much as the turmoil and excitement of political strife. Hugh John, the son, has such a distaste for that kind of thing that the utmost solicitation of his friends has not succeeded in prevailing upon him to retain his seat till the close of the present parliament. He has been urging his resignation upon the government for the last two years, and only recently it has been accepted. He is a lawyer in Winnipeg. He makes the excuse that he desires to attend to his legal practice, but it is well known that the real reason of his resignation is his distaste for political life. And, indeed, there is little reason to wonder at this resolve on his part. Public life has many vexations and annoyances, and the rewards are but few and precarious at best.

John A. Masters has been transferred from Windsor station of the Windsor & Annapolis Railway to the charge of the freight department at Kentville.

Shooting Match. Last Friday afternoon a clay pigeon match was shot on the grounds of the Wolfville Gun Club, between teams from the gun clubs of Kentville and Wolfville. The teams were made up as follows:

Wolfville: D. R. Munro, Dr. Harvey, G. W. Munro, O. D. Harris, Harold Tufts. Kentville: Dr. Moore, W. E. Webster, J. F. Neary, Mr. Ellershaw, E. T. Bassett.

The wind was high which prevented good scores being made. The best scores on the Wolfville team were made by D. R. Munro and O. D. Harris the former getting 13 birds and the latter 10 birds. For Kentville the best scores were made by Dr. Moore and J. F. Neary, each getting 9 birds. The total stood: Wolfville, 45; Kentville, 35. The fact that the last three matches between these clubs resulted in ties made this one of special interest. We understand that there is some talk of another match in the near future.

Mr. Hitt has introduced a measure in the United States House of Representatives to handicap Canadian Railways any part of whose lines run through the United States. It is proposed to compel such railway companies to take out license in the States, under terms of which license they bind themselves to carry out the very stringent regulations, especially designed to obstruct traffic. How ridiculous it would have sounded ten years ago to be told that it would be necessary to protect the great roads of the United States against the railways of poor meek little Canada.

A lively scene is that, near Milton, where one hundred and fifty men are at work, with horses and carts and steam-power, preparing the grounds for a large pulp mill. Football. Considering that only eight men that played on Acadia's fifteen last year have returned, the team shows good prospects for the coming season. Notwithstanding also that the career of the Dalhousie team this year has discouraged nearly all the sympathizers of Acadia, yet the Acadia boys themselves are not disheartened. The team played one game with the Kings College boys on Oct. 28th, defeating them with a score of 6-0. A return match is expected to be played in Wolfville on Nov. 11th. Mr. Elliott of the team is confined to his bed with pneumonia and will not be able to play. This weakens the team some. The Acadia-Dalhousie match takes place this year in Halifax, on Nov. 18th. The team is not yet picked out but will probably be composed of the following:

Of ex-Presidents of the United States few are now alive but the one, Ben Harrison. The most remarkable ex-Premier ever recorded in his day is Gladstone. He has been Premier four times. During each interval he was, of course, ex-Premier.

The Teachers' Recital. The recital given by the teachers of Acadia Seminary in Alumni Hall last Friday evening was a most enjoyable affair. The attendance was large, the hall being seated to its fullest capacity. The programme was of a high order, and its rendition proved the efficiency of the teaching staff at the Sem. Miss Graves is to be congratulated on the selection of her present staff of assistants.

Special mention should be made of the opening duet by Miss Sawyer and Fraulein Suck, as well as the Mozart sonata, by Miss Fitch and Fraulein Suck. Much might justly be said in praise of the technical skill displayed in the execution of these pieces.

Miss Treby's name appears only twice in the programme, but in response to her name, the soft, pleasing quality of her voice and the evidence of voice culture are points of criticism mentioned in connection with the performance of her part of the programme.

The reading from Dickens presented some of the painful but true phases of human experience. "Christie" is a typical piece from Browning. "The Witch's Daughter" is an excellent representation of New England rural life, and also of Whittier's homely human sympathy. Miss Barnett's rendering of these selections was much applauded.

After the audience had retired, Mrs. A. E. Shaw, (formerly Miss Wallace) in response to the eager solicitations of her former pupils, gave several readings, much to the gratification of those who had received instruction from her, and to the pleasure of those who were hearing her for the first time.

Minard's Liniment cures Diphtheria.

People whose time is money have no difficulty in passing it.

Garfield Tea is sold by all druggists.

Mr Crimmonback—Isn't it hard work minding the baby? Nurse girl—Not so hard as trying to make the baby mind me.

Minard's Liniment cures Distemper.

The man who frets about to-morrow is only a shade more sensible than the man who frets about yesterday and the day before.

Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Cows.

Is the boss at home? Housemaid—No, Tuesday is bargain day, and she never gets home until real late in the afternoon.

Geo. F. Baird, M. P. for Queens Co. N. B., says: I have used Hawker's Catarrh Cure in every case for attacks of this kind.

Mister, gimme a dime, I'm a victim of the Indiana train robbery. How were you a victim? I didn't get any of the stolen moneys, see.

If you do not know how good a remedy Garfield Tea really is for constipation and sick headache, send a postal card to D. Denmore & Co., 271 Queen Street, East, Toronto, for a free, trial package.

What makes the men love Mary so, The jealous maidens cry; Oh, Mary doesn't sing you know, And more she doesn't try.

Testing His Honor. Your druggist is honest if when you ask him for a bottle of Scott's Emulsion he gives you just what you ask for. He knows this is the best form in which to take Cod Liver Oil.

An editor's excuse for discontinuing the publication of his paper was that everybody else stopped the paper and so he thought he would.

We are glad to learn that the "PAIN-KILLER" is having so large a sale in our city. We have every reason to believe it to be an almost never-failing cure for pain, and it is a medicine that no family should be without. Guly 26c. for a big bottle.

Mrs Brown-Jones—So he married you after all? Mrs Brown-Smith—Yes, after all I had—but he didn't get it.

M. J. Henry, of Toronto, Ont., says: I have been a great sufferer for years with Catarrh, and have tried every remedy I heard of without obtaining relief, until I tried Hawker's Catarrh Cure, which gave me immediate relief and made a permanent cure. I heartily recommend its use to all who suffer from this annoying complaint.

Sometimes when a man tells you, "Now, here's the whole question in a nutshell," you think afterward that he must have meant a cocoon shell, at the very least.

Catarrh. There is no complaint so offensive, disagreeable and unhealthy as Catarrh. The offensive discharge from the disease poisons and irritates the blood, disturbs and sicken the stomach and in many cases induces fatal lung troubles. If affected do not trifle with it. Hawker's Catarrh Cure is a perfect and positive cure, try it. Sold everywhere, only 25 cents.

"Were you calm and collected at the battle of Sedan, Major?" "Well, madam, I was calm enough, but I wasn't collected. With a leg in one part of the field, an arm in another and my left ear in a third place, collection was difficult."

A Neglected Cold in the Head leads to catarrh, perhaps consumption and death. Why neglect with such a safe, speedy remedy as Nasal Balm at hand? D. Derbyshire, president of the Ontario Creamery Association, says: Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application. All dealers or by mail, post paid, at 50 cent and $1 large size bottle. Address G. T. Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

One of the strikers that had drifted out of the Plaisance into the newspapers is said daily at regular intervals for the natives. A pious woman passing accented a young Oriental and chatted with him, finishing with a nod toward his prayer house and the remark:—"I hope you go to church every Sunday, like a Christian." "No," was the quick reply; "I go every day like a Turk."

C. C. RICHARDS & Co. My son George has suffered with neuralgia round the heart since 1881, but by the application of MINARD'S LINIMENT in 1889 it completely disappeared and has not troubled him since.

A schoolmaster tells the following story: "I was teaching in a quiet country village. The second morning of my session I had leisure to survey my surroundings, and among the recent furniture I espied a three-legged stool. "Is this the dunce-block?" I asked a little girl of five. The dark eyes sparkled, the curls nodded, and the lips rippled out: "I suppose so; and teacher always sits on it." The stool was unoccupied that term.

A YOUNG LADY'S ESCAPE.

An Interesting Story From Norfolk County.

General Debility and Chronic Neuralgia Made Miss Lizzie Bentley's Life Miserable—Her parents feared She Was Going Into Consumption—Brought Back From the Brink of the Grave.

From the Simcoe Reformer.

Miss Lizzie Bentley is the daughter of Mr Ira Bentley of Waterford, a former well-known resident of Simcoe. It is well known that Miss Bentley was long and seriously ill, and it was recently reported that she had fully regained her health and strength. Her case has excited considerable interest in Waterford, and coming to the ears of the Reformer we felt more than a passing interest in the matter for the reason that for a period of nearly three years, there have been from time to time published in our columns, particulars of alleged cures of various serious cases of illness that have been effected by the use of a remedy known as Dr Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

The scenes of these cures have been located in widely scattered portions of the country, it might almost be said of the globe, for some of these stories come from the United States and some from England, to such great distances have the proprietors extended the sphere of their usefulness.

It is of course the common idea that the age of miracles has long passed, and thousands of people who would not rely on a classification among "doubting Thomases," and who are quite ready to believe any long story, so that it does not trespass upon their preconceived notions, and what old line physicians tell them of the limits and capabilities of the medical pharmacopoeia, as laid down by the schools, hear with a shrug of the shoulder and a smile of incredulity, of case, the evidence of which is of so certain a character that no court or jury in the land would question it. Take one of the best known and striking instances of the efficacy of Dr Williams' Pink Pills: We refer to the case of Mr John Marshall. Could any evidence be clearer, or more convincing even to a sceptic. Mr Marshall is a well known citizen of our large city as Hamilton. He was paid by the Royal Templars of Temperance the sum of one thousand dollars, that being the sum paid by that institution to its members who are proven to the satisfaction of its physicians to have become permanently incurable. Every fact in connection with the case was investigated by the Hamilton papers and vouched for by them. Not satisfied to take its evidence at second hand, the Toronto Globe sent a representative to Hamilton. The result of these investigations was the publication in the Globe of an article in which every claim made by Mr Marshall and the proprietors of Dr Williams' Pink Pills was fully conceded, and the "Hamilton Miracle" unreservedly endorsed by that great Canadian newspaper.

In a way it reminds us of the story of the great lawyer who attended a prayer-meeting. His own views of religion were of the most heterodox character. He went to be amused; he came away with all his preconceived ideas changed. He said: "I heard these men whose word was as good as the Bank of England, get upon their feet and tell what religion had done for them, not theoretically, it was their own personal experience of it. Were these men in a witness box I would not have the slightest inclination to doubt their word; as a consistent man I was unable to doubt them anywhere else. I have doubted, now I believe."

The man or woman who will give an hour's attention to the evidence that the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company have to submit, must, if able to reason at all, concede that their Pink Pills contain wonderful properties for the amelioration of human ailments.

All these reflections are introductory to the case that has come under our notice. Mr Ira Bentley is widely known in this district, where he has carried on business as a pump and windmill manufacturer for years. He formerly lived in Tilsonburg, afterwards in Simcoe and now resides in the village of Waterford. A representative of the Reformer visited Waterford not long since to interview Mr Bentley as to his daughter's recovery. For he understood this journal is a little prone to be carried away by fair spoken or written words as the rest of humanity, and as we had heard that Miss Bentley's cure was due to the use of Dr Williams' Pink Pills, we were anxious to investigate, that we might add our personal testimony, if possible, to the many who have already spoken and written on behalf of this great Canadian remedy. The result of the writer's journey to Waterford was eminently satisfactory. We failed in finding Mr Bentley at home for he was in Caledonia that day setting up a windmill, but Mrs and Miss Bentley who were the immediate beneficiaries of the good effects of Pink Pills proved quite able to give full particulars. Miss Bentley was apparently enjoying the best of health, and we were more than surprised to be told that it was she who first of the family had experimented with Dr Williams' Pink Pills. She told us that a couple of years ago she had been grievously attacked by rheumatism, and had after solicitation by some friends sought relief in Pink Pills. The result had been eminently satisfactory as any observer could see. It was, however, to become acquainted with the case of Miss Bentley that we had gone to Waterford. In answer to our enquiries Mrs Bentley told us that her oldest daughter, Lizzie, was nineteen years of age, that from her infancy she had been a sufferer and that her chances of growing to womanhood had never been considered good. She early became a victim of acute neuralgia, that for weeks at a time racked her body, and made life a burden. She would at times go down to the very brink of the grave; she was in appearance a mere shadow, thin, pale and weak, unable to do anything. After finding how Pink Pills had benefited her mother she began to use them. No change from sickness to health could have been more rapid, no cure more complete. "You can say," Mrs Bentley said to us, "she is a well girl, that Dr Williams' Pink Pills cured her and we are willing to tell the whole world that such is the case."

Desirous of seeing Miss Bentley herself, we next repaired to the Waterford telegraph office, where she is employed as a telegraph operator. We had known Miss Bentley when she lived in Simcoe. We remembered her pale delicate face as it was then. One glance at the bright young girl before us, her cheeks aglow with ruddy health, was sufficient. The days of miseries were not gone. The happy subject of one-stood before us. Her story was a repetition of the one told us by her mother, only with an added depth of thankfulness to the mess of her recovery. We came away from our interview with Miss Bentley fully satisfied that we now know of our own knowledge of at least one marvellous cure to be credited to Dr Williams' Pink Pills.

An analysis shows that Dr Williams' Pink Pills contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood, and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of influenza, palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, all diseases depending upon vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppression, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood, and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature.

Dr Williams' Pink Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold in boxes (never in loose form by the dozen or hundred, and the public are cautioned against numerous imitations sold in this shape) at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr Williams' Medicine Company, from either address.
