BEAVER FLOUR

combines the rich gluten of Manitoba Spring wheat and the lighter, but equally important, properties of Ontario Fall wheat. The two combined form a perfectly blended flour that makes bread light, white, nutritious and extremely palatable, while pastry made with Beaver Flour has a crisp, flaky texture that brings many a compliment to the cook.

You don't need to be an expert in baking to attain the best results with BEAVER FLOUR.

But if you are an expert, you will readily recognize its incomparable qualities.

Your grocer has BEAVER FLOUR, and will recommend it.

CHAPTER XX.

IN THE PRISON CELL.

She soon told him of Edgar's wish to have the marriage postponed until he came.

"But he is sure to be here," he returned.

"But if not?" she asked.

"You must see for yourself, Lynette, that it would be very unreasonable to postpone the marriage at that late hour. Why, the people who live at a distance will already be on their way to the house. Every plan will be disarranged to humor the whim of one person whose good judgment was impaired by his illness."

"But perhaps you would consent just to please me?" she urged.

"Smilingly, but firmly, and with fulsome compliments, he refused her request."

Lynette did not urge it further, but sat pale and quiet, her red lips curled in a contempt that was so keenly irritating he could not bear it long, but rose to go, saying tenderly:

"I must not rob you of your beauty-sleep, for I want you to look like a fresh-blown rose at your wedding."

She bowed coldly, without a smile, and he was gone, angry but triumphant, fancying that she had accepted her fate, and too madly in love with her beauty to pity her sorrow.

She went straight up to her room after that, and Vida, coming out of the sewing room, where she had been packing the two trunks followed her, saying:

"I have packed your trunks, for I thought you would be too tired to do it to-morrow. Nothing is left out but the going-away and wedding-gowns."

"You are very kind," Lynette returned; but there was no heart in her voice.

She stood by the fire, with her arms resting on the low mantel, and the pale despair of her beautiful face was enough to move the most stony heart. But Vida took the greatest delight in torturing the poor girl.

"We shall have a busy day to-morrow," she said. "The men are to bring in a load of cedar, and the Ball girls are employed to come in and help decorate the parlor, hall, and dining room. They are very tasty, you know. There are loads of chrysanthemums, too, and I shall arrange them myself. It will be a chrysanthemum wedding."

Lynette laughed very softly. It was the only reply she made.

"Oh, I thought you would be pleased!" cried Vida, smiling at her victim's agony, for she knew how unnatural the laugh was.

"Well, I wanted to have everything to please you, since I am to be the bridesmaid."

Lynette only looked longingly at the door, murmuring:

"Aren't you afraid you'll love you beauty-sleep?"

"Oh, no; and I was thinking that perhaps you would like to go in and open your bridal presents now, because you see, dear, they ought really to be on exhibition at the wedding."

"But, Vida, I don't intend to have a single thing opened until the day after the wedding."

"What apity! Because every one will be dying of curiosity to see them."

"I do not care," Lynette returned doggedly.

And then she turned beseeching eyes on her tormentor, and said impatiently:

"Vida, do go away and leave me alone, won't you?"

"I thought maybe you would like to have me stay with you to-night—your last night with us, dear."

"I can remember it, Vida, without having you stay to remind me of it. Now go, please. I am tired, and wish to be alone."

Vida thought she had better go, and departed, hurrying back one Parthian shot:

"Good night, dear, and pleasant dreams!"

Lynette flew across the room and shot the bolt into its socket.

"No more intrusions to-night!" she cried, and sank upon the rug, with her face in her hands.

She was so frightened, so wretched, she knew not what to do, and in this crisis she gave herself up for a short time to prayer.

And in the solemn stillness that brooded over the house and through the room, it almost seemed as if an angelic presence hovered round the place, gazing in pity on her despair.

When the low prayer had faltered from her lips, she arose and began to pace the floor up and down, and her hands locked before her, her upraised eyes seeming still to petition obdurate Heaven.

"To-morrow is my wedding-day!" she cried, just as Stephen Belcourt was saying it to himself at the same moment in his prison cell, and with the same despair.

"My wedding-day," she repeated bitterly; and added: "Ah! how happy I should be were it Belcourt I was to marry instead of the man I loathe!"

A flood of burning tears came to relieve the cruel tension about her heart. When it was over—their temp of grief—Lynette flung herself down at her writing-desk.

From among the lavender sachets she drew pen and paper, and began to write a letter. The pen seemed to fly over the paper, and the color crept to her pale cheek, and fire into the dull eyes that for days had been so heavy with tears. Now and then a deep, deep sigh heaved her breast; but it was rather one of relief than sorrow, as if she had thrown off a burden. She seemed to be pouring her very heart into that letter.

At last it was finished, enveloped and sealed, and Lynette stole through the dark and slumbering house, out to the servants' quarters.

Creeping the yard, she met Erastus skulking out, and stopped him, asking:

"Where are you going?"

"Please, ma'am, I was stealin' out ter line ole Wilkins in a coon hunt. But don't tell Mammy Tildy, or she'll skin me!"

She drew the lad aside and whispered:

"I won't tell on you, but you can't go on the coon hunt to-night. You must do an errand for me."

"Cert'ly, miss; an'ting to 'bleege you."

"Very well, 'Rastus; you are to take a letter from me to Lewisburg right now, as fast as you can ride Uncle Jack's saddle-horse fly. Do you hear?"

"Golly! but I've glad ter git er chance ter ride dat horse ter Lewisburg."

"But you're not to kill or cripple him, mind—only ride fast as possible, and get back before daylight, and never let on you went anywhere, and to-morrow you shall have five dollars to spend Christmas. Now listen, and obey my instructions carefully."

where the merry men and maidens were to dance to the music of violins welded by the best darky fiddlers in the neighborhood. Wilkins, too, was to bring his banjo, and his wife said proudly:

"'E! I do say it mys'f, my ole man picks de banjo de sweetest in de hull country."

Even the clerk of the wedding-day was smiling on Lynette's wayward. The sun shone out grandly, the air was just bracing enough to be pleasant. Everything went merry as a marriage-bell, and every one was busy but the poor little bride.

EXECUTED

The Evening Chit-Chat

By EVELYN CARROLL

"I had rather stretch my arm or rise from my chair than be served by one who does it not for love."
—Emerson.
The maid problem was on the tapis.
One woman with a family of three complained bitterly that she paid her maid five dollars and a half a week, put out all the washing, did all the upstairs work herself and even then received very poor service.
Another indignantly related how a domestic sent out by the employment bureau to look her over, calmly refused to engage herself because there were two rooms with carpets instead of hardwood floors, and because the family was too large. The family consists of herself and her mother.
A third disconsolate house mother, with the abnormally large family of four, told of her absolute failure to get any maid at all, although she offered six dollars, puts out all the stretched things and does some of the cooking herself.
The social worker came in at this stage of the conversation. She said she herself lives alone but has a very large, old-fashioned house and a pack of company." She pays her maid fifty cents a week less than any of us, puts none of the washing out, and does absolutely nothing about the house herself. Her maid, besides the regular three meals, often serves afternoon tea or chocolate to evening guests. And she has a thoroughly capable, efficient and good tempered maid, who has been with her for three years, and who was recommended to the place by another maid, who served the social worker for five years and left to enter a convent.
The social worker related this state of affairs.
It was hailed as a miracle.
"I don't see it," said the social worker.
"You pay fifty cents less than any of us and you get very much better service. What do you do?"

The social worker thought a moment. "If there is anything I do which is different, it's this," she said. "Besides giving my maid her board and wages, I try to share with her some of my interests, and to take a kindly interest in her affairs. I have a good many unusual experiences, you know, in my work. Well, if I am alone, I often talk to Mary about them when she is serving me or when we are looking over the pantry and the ice chest together, and planning the work, or in the evening. Several times she has helped me when I have had to investigate to do which required two persons.
In return she tells me about her beaux and her family in Ireland, and shows me her sister's picture with her four children in her lap, and her husband standing beside the chair with his feet crossed, and asks my advice about her plans for the future and so forth.
"But doesn't she take advantage of your kindness and get presuming and impertinent?" broke in the lady with the inefficient maid.
The social worker smiled. "I don't think dignity and kindness are incompatible," she said, "and I try not to have them so. My maids have always been most respectful."
"Well, that may do very well with Mary," said the lady with the abnormally large family of four, "but I think she's an unusual girl. Isn't she the kind that would stay anywhere if any one was halfway decent to her?"
"She was in five places in two months before she came to me," said the social worker.
"Oh," said the lady with the abnormally large family and then—"Oh, look, there goes the L's new touring car. Why, I thought it was much larger than that from all I'd heard about it."
And the servant problem was off the tapis for the day.
Although the social worker's recipe for getting efficient service at a reasonable price did not seem to appeal to those who solicited it, others may perhaps appreciate it.
To their attention it is respectfully submitted.

Long satin coats cut on the same slender lines as heretofore apparently but with subtle differences that clearly mark them of the last word, have their edges that slope back from the bust, trimmed with three or four-inch wide shirred bands of silk, and show a sleeve that appears as a decided novelty. Gathered over fine cords to a small, plain cap, a few inches in depth, it is gathered again into a much wider space at the lower edge, and both edges are finished in a tiny frill, making a novel sleeve.

The new fashions have much in them which recalls the fashions of that brilliant French period under Louis VI. The lines of that day were slender, straight lines, suggestive of a delicious femininity in the clothes which when used in the present day modes give us delightfully simple lines.

"I say," said the funny one: "what made them build the station so far away from the village?"
"I don't know," replied the porter. "Unless they thought it would be more convenient to have it down here near the railway."

Several commercials were travelling on a train to the North, and had to change at a roadside station, far from any signs of refreshment.
One of the number whiled away the time by chatting the solitary porter. He had been at this game for some minutes, when the porter's opportunity came at last.

HEALTH RESTORED TO THIS FAMILY

Wife's experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food led to husband's cure.
"Since childhood I was afflicted with biliousness and sick headache," writes Mr. A. K. Van Wyck, Park Hill, Ont., "and as all the doctors' medicines and prescriptions failed to do me any permanent good, I had lost faith in all medicines. It was by accident that I came to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for it had been recommended for Mrs. Van Wyck and did her so much good that she wished me to try it.
"I did so, and was surprised at the results. It is now three years since I discontinued the medicine and I have not had an attack of the old trouble. I hope that others may benefit by my experience.
"The cure effected by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has lasting benefits. It builds up the system and removes the cause of trouble. 50 cents a box, 4 for $2.50; at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

The most conspicuous features of autumn millinery are the great height of the tall-peaked crowns, appearing on all sorts and conditions of hats, and the trimming, which is also employed to add its quota to the lowering effects.
New blouses and gowns show either a closing directly in front, or one lapped to one side under three large buttons; and whether the buttons are large or small they are conspicuous for their beauty or for their decorative quality.
Spanish and Chantilly laces are fashionable, the Chantilly in black and the Spanish in cream, white and dyed tones. Dyed Eucurl laces are well spoken of for winter and a novelty lace shows a combination of silk and wool dyed in brilliant colorings.
The new fashions have much in them which recalls the fashions of that brilliant French period under Louis VI. The lines of that day were slender, straight lines, suggestive of a delicious femininity in the clothes which when used in the present day modes give us delightfully simple lines.

Premier Laurier Goes Down to Defeat.

The American-Canadian Reciprocity Pact has been rejected decisively by the Canadian people, and the decision carries with it the downfall of the Laurier administration which has had an unexampled career of fifteen years duration. Not only is the defeat remarkable for the defeat of candidates supporting the Cabinet, but it is peculiarly significant from the number of Cabinet Ministers who have suffered defeat at the Polls. Almost every Minister, who had a seat in the Cabinet, exclusive of the Premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, is among the rejected ones. These are Sir F. Borden, Minister of Militia, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, Hon. W. Patterson, Minister of Customs, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Minister of Labor, Hon. W. Templeman, Minister of Mines and Inland Revenue, Hon. C. P. Graham, Minister of Railways, Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, and one other Minister whose name we have not received at the time of writing. The full significance is seen in the defeats of Ministers Fielding and Patterson, who were the chief promoters of the Reciprocity movement.

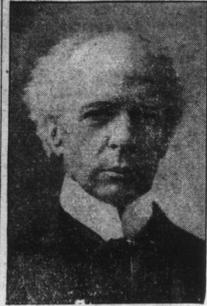

The latest information, we have at hand, shows that 132 Conservatives have been elected and 84 Liberals, with five seats yet to be heard from. The details of this information has been supplied to us by the courteous Superintendent of the Anglo office, the genial Mr. R. Smith, who was supplied by the Western Union and the Anglo with full details as they came to hand from the time the earliest bulletins were sent broadcast throughout Canada, and by last night it was known here that the Laurier Government had suffered a debacle, and that the promoter in chief of the Reciprocity Pact was amongst the slain.

Up to midnight the returns showed as follows:—

- Ontario, 10 Liberals, 62 Conservatives.
- Prince Edward Island, 2 Liberals, 2 Conservatives.
- Quebec, 33 Liberals, 23 Conservatives, 1 Independent, 1 Nationalist.
- Nova Scotia, 10 Liberals, 8 Conservatives.
- New Brunswick, 4 Liberals, 5 Conservatives.
- Alberta, 2 Liberals, 1 Conservative.
- Saskatchewan, 4 Liberals, 3 Conservatives.
- Manitoba, 8 Conservatives, no Liberals.
- British Columbia, 5 Conservatives, no Liberals.

Peeping From a Roof.

Last night as one of the servants at Mr. Poole's restaurant, Adelaide St., who occupies a room on the upper flat, at midnight was surprised as she glanced out through the window at the rear to find a man on the roof of a shed adjoining the house peeping through her window. The blind of which was up. She screamed for help, and when Mr. Poole and other servants rushed to her room and she told what had occurred, the police were called but the man had vanished. The place will be closely watched in future.

McMurdo's Store News.

FRIDAY, Sept. 22, '11.
The reports we hear of Sanident Tooth Paste seem to justify in the amplest degree our good opinion of this excellent tooth cream in introducing it. It has undoubtedly caught on to the favor of the public, and it is likely to remain in favor. The reason is, of course, that it has good quality behind it. It really cleanses and polishes the teeth well. And being easy to use and very pleasant to the taste it pleases in every respect. Price 25c.
The Sanident Tooth Brush is its mate. They go splendidly together. Price 35c.

The Amazon Here.

The Church ship Amazon, Capt. Randall, arrived here this morning. She had been down north as far as the Straits of Belle Isle, and coming back was at St. Anthony, Herring Neck and Seldom Come Bay, where she had to remain several days owing to a severe storm which raged for several days. She will now be laid up for the winter and will have her foremast taken off as she is too lofty at present and rolls too heavily. Other necessary repairs will also be given the ship.

Fine Local Apples.

Some fine local apples reared on Mr. W. R. Warren's place, on Waterford Road, were shown us today, and undoubtedly they are a credit to him. His orchard is prolific of these and they vie with anything we have seen around here in recent years.

Fishery News.

Carbonar—Travis 1/2 to 2 qts. Fog—Boats 1/2 to 2 qts. The Nina Pearl arrived from Labrador with 450 qts.
Bonne Bay—Skiffs from Rocky Hr. secured from 4,000 to 10,000 lbs. of cod yesterday. Cod is very plentiful but bait is scarce.

People's Candidate Wins

Over Five Million Voters Register Their Approval of His Platform
Votes Cost on Average Over $5.00 Apiece

CONTRARY to all precedent, but rightly, the voters themselves paid for these Five Million votes.

Each man, by laying down $5.00 or upwards, voted his approval of the shaving system developed and perfected by King C. Gillette, and declared his intention of following this system with the Gillette Safety Razor which he received in exchange for his cash.

The principles of personal cleanliness and comfort, made possible by the quick, efficient little Gillette Safety Razor, were first laid down by King C. Gillette in 1904. When the last General Elections were held, in 1908, over Two Million had subscribed to them. Since then they have been adopted and practised by Three Million more clear-headed voters—practical men whose time is worth money.

The Gillette Safety Razor has freed Gillette's constituents, the world over, from dependence on the barber-shop—has conserved their time—preserved their tempers—and, for them, has transformed shaving from an irksome task into a pleasant incident in the morning toilet.

"William," asked Mrs. Peckham, sweetly, "did you ever stop to think that someone might steal me while you are away?"
"Well," responded the poor henpecked husband, with a faraway look, "I was a little alarmed when a horse-thief was prowling through these parts last week."
"A horse-thief, eh? Might I state that I quite fail to see the point of your absurd answer?"
"Yes," continued the henpecked one, as he edged towards the door, "I heard

The Next Best Thing

For miles the clutch had been working stiffly, and somebody had forgotten the oil, so at the first cottage the car pulled up.
"Hello, kiddie!" cried the proud owner to the small boy who stood at the door. "Run in and ask your mother if she has a drop of oil. Any kind of oil will do—even castor-oil."
After a short interval the boy returned.
"Please," the boy stammered, "mother says she's got no castor-oil, but will you step in, an' she'll give you a dose of salts."

One Woman and Her Rights.

Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Rafferty were exchanging ideas across the shabby fence which separated their respective domains. The conversation turned on the subject of woman suffrage.
"Are ye taking much stock in this attempt that a lot iv the wimmin are making to get the vote for us, Mrs. Rafferty?" asked Mrs. Kelly.
"I ain't bothering me head about it," declared Mrs. Rafferty. "I'm satisfied to let Mick an' the boys do all the voting in me family. But I do think a lady shud get a man's pay."
"Well," replied Mrs. Kelly, "all I kin say is, Mrs. Rafferty, that I get one man's pay, or know the reason why, I'very Saturday night."

Laurier Government Beaten.

Nine Cabinet Ministers Defeated. Borden will Have a Big Majority.

Special Evening Telegram.
HALIFAX, Sept. 21.
Election returns now indicate the defeat of the Government. Three Cabinet Ministers are defeated—Fielding, Sir Fred. Borden and Paterson. Conservative net gain in the Maritime Provinces is 2. The Leader, Mr. Borden, is elected for Halifax by 92.

Special Evening Telegram.

HALIFAX, Sept. 22.
At midnight (1 a.m. Newfoundland time) with returns from the Dominion almost complete, the figures show that the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been defeated by between 40 and 50 majority. Nine Cabinet Ministers have been defeated, and in the Province of Ontario the Liberals have elected only 6 out of a total of 86. The defeat of the Liberal Party is crushing and complete. The new Conservative Government will have a majority in the new House of between forty and fifty. Nine Cabinet Ministers are defeated.

Many Sports Out.

Mr. W. D. Edwards of Bowring Bros. Hardware Department, who spent an enjoyable 2 weeks at Red Indian Lake returned here by last evening's express. He did some shooting up in that country, but only secured one deer as caribou were scarce and are still in the thick forest. Partridges are also scarce, though there are many sportsmen after them. Dr. Keegan is at Millertown with other sports, but found deer and partridge scarce. From Bishop Falls to Whitehouse there are camps all along the line of railway, containing sportsmen who are after partridge and deer. Quite a number the past few days went out to the Gaff Topsails where the section men report caribou very plentiful.

Police Court News.

Today 5 drunks were discharged. A disorderly for the third time this season was fined $10 or 30 days. A loose and disorderly character, in for the ninth time, was sent down for 9 months.
The steward of the Geo. B. Cluett was up for stealing the captain's binoculars, valued at $12, and also being drunk and disorderly on the ship, was fined $5 or 14 days. Though he admitted to the police that he stole the glasses, he pleaded to-day that he was drunk and did not know what he was doing. The captain would not press this charge and he will take the man on the ship again. A drunk, the third time, was fined $4 or 14 days.

First Bell Rung.

Sunday last the first church bell heard at Millertown was rung and could be heard for a radius of several miles. The church there is used by the Anglican, Methodist, and Catholic people and they imported this bell which weighs 810 lbs. and hung it a couple of weeks ago. It is a fine article, very sonorous, and the people take a great pride in it.

Will Buy South Side Premises.

We understand that the new firm which has taken over the premises of C. F. Bennett & Coy., which will go into the fish business there, on a large scale, are now negotiating for the purchase of Prowse & Sons premises on the South Side, just west of Baint Johnson's sealing place. These wharves contain the seal factories and it is said the new firm will go into the seal fishery business also.

September Rod & Gun.

The large and ever-growing army of game bird hunters will find ample variety in stories dealing with their favorite recreation in the September issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor Limited, Woodstock, Ontario. From Newfoundland to British Columbia there is a wide range and all is included in this one number, the differences in the sport enjoyed in the various Provinces being pleasantly conveyed in a series of stories dealing with actual occurrences in the field. Further variety is given by a finely illustrated story of the Cruise of the Papoose, a camping story, and some excellent verses. Geese, ducks and prairie chickens afford the very best of sport and their devotees tell of the complete enjoyment experienced in a way to make their confederates resolve to make similar trips with the same object in view. Wing shooting is a sportsmanlike occupation there should only fair conservation there should be ample opportunities for all sportsmen in Canada to enjoy some of this fine recreation for an indefinite time to come. A more interesting number of this fine Magazine has never been issued.

Cable News.

Special Evening Telegram. ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 21.

An enquiry into the assassination of Premier Stolypin of Russia, with particular reference to the revolutionary and police elements involved, is being conducted. Already there are indications of many ramifications, and of complicity on the part of prominent officials. Greater sensations than those so far published, are promised. The body of the murdered Prime Minister has been transferred to Pechersky Monastery, amid sympathetic demonstration of the whole populace. Roses were strewn over the streets as the funeral procession passed. Behind the coffin walked his widow, followed by a long procession, composed of the general public. Crowds lined the streets, and knelt as the coffin passed.

Special Evening Telegram. MANILA, Sept. 21.

The danger of famine in the Philippines on account of the failure of the rice crop, has become so threatening that the Governor-General has decided to order the purchase by the Government of an entire shipload of the cereal at Rangon, the cargo to be sold to the people at cost.

Special Evening Telegram. PARIS, Sept. 21.

Interviews that the French Ambassador held with the German Minister of Foreign Affairs, yesterday, have confirmed the French impression of the conciliatory disposition of the German Government, and heightened the prospect of an early arrangement regarding Morocco.

A Fine Road.

Generally after a period of wet weather Pennywell Road was impassable as it was filled with mud inches deep, and the moral position of the unfortunate who were compelled to traverse it, owing to the vocabulary of the situation the Inspector found right at hand a large quantity of rock, which was easily broken, and setting to work he utilized this material with sand and gravel, had this properly pressed with the steam roller, and the side drains attended to and gave it such a grade at the centre and sides that the water runs into the drains and is carried off quickly, while the road bed is so hard that it looks as if it were macadamized. Inspector Bambrick's work on this was not alone well done but was economically accomplished, and he has proved himself to be a past master in the art of road making.

Hurt By Fall.

A couple of nights ago a resident of Queen's Road on reaching his home fell into a cellar at the rear of his dwelling and was severely hurt. He fell a distance of about 12 feet, was unconscious for a long while and was badly hurt about the back while his face was badly bruised and cut. Dr. Paterson was summoned and did everything possible for him, but it will be some time before the man gets over the effects of the fall.

York Harbor Mine Abandoned.

The mine manager at York Harbor received a cable, Monday, from the Secretary of the Company, London, stating that they were relinquishing the option on the property. The reason given for the abandonment of the enterprise, is that they do not see their way clear to make it pay. The mine now reverts back to the Western Copper Co., and its future is problematical. The mine manager has been ordered to sell at once all the property at York Hr. owned by York Hr. Mine (Nfld.) Ltd.—Western Star.

Larceny of a Ring.

Detective Byrne has been on the search the past few days for the party who stole a valuable ring from the trunk of Mr. R. Breaker, blacksmith, who was a boarder at the British House. The trunk was broken open and the ring taken. Detective Byrne has a clue which he believes will lead to the arrest of the guilty person.

Trinity Notes.

The last contingent of summer visitors has just bid farewell to the Ancient and Loyal town of Trinity. The number of tourists visiting us this season far outnumbered those of any previous year, and everyone expressed himself or herself as delighted with the place and impatient for the time when another visit can be made.

Trinity is without doubt one of the "beauty spots" of the Colony and has many attractions not to be found in any other of the outports. This is realized by all who have once paid a visit and it is not surprising to see so many and such a good class of tourists visiting the little town of Three Arms.

Most of the Trinity Blight schooners have returned from the Labrador with good fares, and, with a shore fishery above the average and plenty of employment, the coming winter should have no great amount of "hard times" to mark it.

Partridge are reported plentiful on all the barrens in this section of the Bay, and sportsmen of the shooting persuasion are having the time of their life. Much powder and shot is being used and an occasional bird accounted for. The stories told savor a little of high lights—probably due to kind of game.

MUCH DRUNKENNESS EVIDENT.

—Yesterday afternoon there was much drunkenness evident on Water Street and the police were kept pretty busy for a while. By 8:30 they had 10 prisoners jailed, all of them drunks and disorderlies. Not a bad record for an ordinary week night.

Annoyed With the Government.

Mr. John Diamond, who lives on the White Hills, says that owing to the digging of a drain opposite his house and only a few feet from it, and which, owing to the peculiarities of its construction, became choked, his house, in the floods caused by the rain of Tuesday night, became inundated and he suffered much loss. He had to drill holes in the floor to let the water drain through, his furniture and effects were saturated, he had to remain up all night to try and free the domicile of the water which poured in and had to take his children from their beds to keep them from getting wet. Of course the drain was dug by the employees of the present apologetic Government, who care as much about the people as their masters. Graft and boodles are their water-walk, but they will soon receive their just deserts at the hands of the people who are wise to their conduct.

Stole Valuable Glasses

Yesterday morning the captain of the mission ship Geo. B. Chett reported to the police that a pair of binoculars worth $12 had been stolen from the cabin of his ship, which is lying at Job Bros. premises. The steward, a man named Burge, told the captain that about 4 a.m. he had found a man who he thought was on board the ship all night asleep in the chart room, and he put him ashore quickly. He described this man to the captain, but there were certain circumstances surrounding the case which led the police to believe that the steward himself was the thief. About 7.30 p.m. the captain again came to the station stating that his steward was drunk and disorderly on the ship and asked that he be arrested. Sergt. Mackey and another officer took him into custody. Coming up to the station the man admitted that he had stolen the glasses and that he had sold them in a shop across the street for $5. The police will try and find the glasses.

Municipal Lighting of the City.

St. John's May Soon Control Its Own Lighting System—Power Will Come From Mobile River and Ponds. We understand that some time ago the municipality of St. John's acquired the right to use the waters of Mobile River and the ponds and lakes which feed it for the purpose of supplying to the city its own lighting system, municipally controlled. For the past two or three weeks at different intervals Engineer John Ryan of the City Council has been up in that section, assisted by Messrs. John Holden and Wm. Ryan, and has taken a complete survey of this large river and the lakes and ponds adjacent to it and also securing locations and doing other necessary work on behalf of the Council. Big Pond at Mobile is a splendid sheet of water, four miles in length, and its greatest width is 1 1/2 miles, while there are other ponds near which are very large and contain a great volume of water. A dam erected at the foot of Big Pond will back up the water there to a depth of 75 feet, and we learn it is proposed to use this water to the merits of the Order and its claims for our earnest support. Every candidate applying for admission into the mysteries of Freemasonry declares himself actuated by a favorable opinion conceived of the Institution, a desire of knowledge and a willingness to be serviceable to his fellow creatures. Every Mason declares his belief in the Great Architect of the universe, and is bound to be true and faithful to the laws of his country. St. Joseph's Society Holds Meeting.

St. Joseph's Society, of Bell Island, composed of Catholics of the Maronite rite, met in their hall on Sunday last and held their annual meeting. The Society is comprised of all the Syrians on the island, and is affiliated with others in different parts of the island. Rev. Fr. Svab is the Spiritual Director, and comes here annually to minister to those people. The reports of the Society presented at the meeting were very satisfactory and show a good balance to its credit. The officers elected for the year were:—President, Mr. Garbage; Secretary, Mr. J. Kazine; Treasurer, Mr. Naconle. A good working committee was also formed. The Society is doing much good for the Syrian people.

Consecration of Botwood Lodge

A. F. & A. M., No. 3512. Yesterday the Masonic delegation returned from opening a new Masonic Lodge at Botwood. The delegation left town on Sunday and had a most enjoyable time, being entertained royally by their hosts. The delegates arrived at Norris' Arm on Monday morning and were met by a number of brethren and taken across the Arm to Botwood in a large motor boat, and provided with homes and entertainment. At night the Botwood Lodge was consecrated under the registry of the Grand Lodge of England by the District Grand Master, W. Bro. J. A. Chitt, K.C. He was assisted by W. Bro. James Stott, D.D., G.M., as Senior Warden; C. S. Pinesent, P.D.D.G.M., as Chaplain; S. G. Collier, D.S.G.M. as Junior Warden; W. J. Edgar, D.G. Secretary, as Secretary and Director of Ceremonies; W. Barker, D.G. Steward, as Inside Guard; and Bro. W. N. Gray as Organist. Some forty Masons took part in the ceremony. These included representatives from Lodges in St. John's, Grand Falls and Twillingate. The ceremony in due and ancient form was impressively conducted by the District Grand Master. He also delivered a short address and congratulated the brethren on the consummation of their desire to have a Lodge established among them, and his great pleasure at the privilege of consecrating it. He impressed upon them the responsibility of making the Lodge a success. Chaplain Bro. Pinesent delivered the Oration, as follows:—

ADDRESS BY P.D.D.G.M. PINSENT.

Right Worshipful District Grand and Brethren:

The purpose for which we are now assembled is one which must stir in our hearts enthusiastic feelings as Masons.

While we are thankful for the progress which Freemasonry has made in Newfoundland in the past, we may yet hope that, with the increasing growth and prosperity of the Colony, the opportunities will be afforded for the further advancement of the work of the Order. The pleasing duties which we are called upon this evening to perform justify that hope, and we may well congratulate the brethren of Botwood upon the Masonic zeal which has prompted them to take the necessary steps for the formation of a new Lodge. May they in the near future see the reward of their labor in a large and prosperous Lodge fully engaged in carrying on and extending the good work for which it was formed.

And this leads us to say a word as to the merits of the Order and its claims for our earnest support.

Every candidate applying for admission into the mysteries of Freemasonry declares himself actuated by a favorable opinion conceived of the Institution, a desire of knowledge and a willingness to be serviceable to his fellow creatures.

Every Mason declares his belief in the Great Architect of the universe, and is bound to be true and faithful to the laws of his country.

Touching the antiquity of Freemasonry a word is at this time well supplied. Some writers affirm that it has a being "ever since symmetry began and harmony displayed her charms." It is traced by many to the building of King Solomon's temple; and it is said the architects from the African coast brought it into Spain, about the 13th century. "The Freemason" says "Freemasonry, in its present form, is the result of many modifications, and the lesson of its progress can best be learned by a careful study of its own allegories and emblems. Like the stone, "rude and unpolished, which passes into the hands of the expert workman, and finally receives the polish of perfection from the master's skill, so our Order has been handed down to us; good in its ori-

When You Feel Cross

And are worried and irritated you can get the liver right by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Life is too short to be cross and grouchy. You not only make yourself miserable, but also those about you. Don't blame others. Blame yourself for not keeping the liver right. There is nothing in the world which will more promptly afford you relief than Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. This statement is true. A trial will convince you. Mr. Theo. Sedard, Lac aux Sables, P. Que., writes:—"I have found Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills the best treatment obtainable for indigestion and impure blood. They cured me of indigestion, from which I suffered for four years. This certificate is given without solicitation, so that others may not waste their money buying medicines of no value when they can get Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I am convinced are the best." gin as a friendly and brotherly association but better in its expansion as a humanitarian principle and noble throughout the length and breadth of the earth. As we have said before, the true power of Freemasonry is to be found in its principles, and however much we may venerate antiquity, we had rather admit that the Order was founded in 1717 than allow a lot or title of those great principles to be obliterated or destroyed." One of the leading principles of Masonry is the cause of charity. In this connection we, in Newfoundland, have two important funds, namely, the Tasker Educational Fund, and the Masonic Benevolent Fund. Last year the Educational Fund supplied the means for the education of 43 children. The Benevolent Fund, too, has many calls upon it, and is doing noble work. In addition to these two benevolent funds, there is the Masonic Life Insurance Association, which is a valuable organization and is availed of by many of the craft. And here it may be mentioned that the charitable and benevolent institutions of the Order throughout the world are of such a character and magnitude as to elicit the admiration of those who are not members of the craft. Time would not permit at present of an extended reference to such work, and so we shall merely give a few facts in connection with the three great charities of the Grand Lodge of England. The oldest of these is the Royal Masonic Institution for Girls, and was instituted in 1788. At the Centenary Festival of the Institution held in the Royal Academy Hall in 1888 the collection amounted to over £51,000. The income last year exceeded £24,000, and there were 430 girls on the roll. The Royal Masonic Institution for Boys was instituted in 1798. At the Centenary Festival held in the Royal Albert Hall in 1898, the collection amounted to upwards of £141,000. Last year 555 boys were on the roll and the income was £48,000. The Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution for Prisoners and their widows was established in 1835. Last year there were 900 annuitants on the roll and the income was over £43,000. The Masonic Fraternity may well rejoice that such figures can be quoted as an illustration of what is being done by the Order.

But we must be careful not to regard our Order as a benevolent society only. It is a great moral system, illustrated by symbols borrowed from the ancients and from the operative craft, conveying instruction to the Freemason, for the formation of the character, the guidance of the conduct, and the improvement of the mind. Let us now enter a Lodge. We see before us in the East the seat of the Worshipful Master. In the West that of the brother next in order, the Senior Warden; and in the South that of the Junior Warden; then there are the places appointed to the other officers of the Lodge. The symbolism of the three principal seats is thus described by Hemming: "The sun rises in the three stages of its diurnal progress, first in the east to open the day, and dispenses life and nourishment to the whole creation. This is well represented by the Worshipful Master, who is placed in the east to open the Lodge, and who imparts light, knowledge, and instruction to all under his direction. When it arrives at its greatest altitude in the south, where its beams are most piercing and the cool shade most refreshing, it is then also well represented by the Junior Warden, who is placed in the south to observe its approach to meridian, and at the hour of noon to call the brethren from labor to refreshment. Still pursuing its course to the west, the sun at length closes the day, and lulls all nature to repose; it is then fitly represented by the Senior Warden, who is placed in the west to close the Lodge by command of the Worshipful Master, after having rendered to everyone the just reward of his labor, thus enabling them to enjoy that repose which is the genuine fruit of honest industry."

ROYAL HOSPITALITY.

The city visitors speak with the highest appreciation of the courtesies and hospitality extended to them. On Tuesday a banquet was tendered them in the Orange Hall, and about forty guests were entertained sumptuously. The toast list was honoured appropriately, and with the chiming of eleven o'clock and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," the banquet was brought to a close. Falkenburg House, the residence of H. J. Crowe, Esq., was placed at the disposal of the visitors, and a dance was held for them there.

On Wednesday the visiting brethren left Botwood, carrying away with them the warmest feeling of admiration for the homely welcome extended to them. They visited the works of the A. E. Reed Co., at Bishop Falls and saw the plant at work and the extension already being made. They then proceeded to Grand Falls where they visited the extensive power works of the A. E. Reed Co., where they cut, grinding, and paper plants and the settlement which houses the staff and employes.
