SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1917

PROVINCIAL HOSPITALS
Very rapid progress has been made in the administration of the Municipal Hospitals Act passed at the last session of the legislature. Already eight hospital districts have taken the preliminary steps toward organization, and plans for various models of hospitals have been prepared by officials of the department. This is excellent progress within six months
of the passing of the bill.

But this progress has revealed
some serious difficulties in administration which demand the attention
of the government immediately.
These difficulties are chiefly due to the awkward organization of departments and the placing in different departments of various officials charged with the execution of certain details.
For instance, the minister of municipal affairs is directly responsible for the administration of the act and has
charge of the laying out of districts,
organization of boards and the provision of plans, information, etc. But in order to provide suitable plans,
this department must call in the services of the provincial architect and
the sanitary engineer from the public works department, and the medical health officer from the department of the provincial secretary. In the further development of the hospital
system, the provincial medical health
system, the provincial medical health
department should and will have an important directing influence; but this has previously been under the ministry of agriculture. As recently as last week a reorganization was effected whereby this was transferred to the provincial secretary, but the provincial secretary has no more concern with the hospital act than the minister of agriculture.

If the hospital system devised in the Municipal Hospital Act is to be a successful and important instrument
in safeguarding public health, it must be wisely co-ordinated with every other agency for the conservation of health, under provincial control.
Hospitals must be directed as a part of the general health machinery of the province and have a logical place
in a broad, carefully constructed policy of health conservation. Public health is the biggest responsibility
of this province for the next twenty years, and it is ridiculous to have the public health machinery scattered through all the departments of the government.

One minister must be made responsible for this policy and for the administration of all health legislation
and the control of all officials in any way serving this end. The board of health must be either abolished or brought under the direction of this minister; the provincial medical health officer and his staff must be transferred likewise; the sanitary engineer belongs here rather than in the department of public works; there should be an office of superintendent
of hospitals, newly created to take over the work now being done as a part of the duties of the deputy minister of municipalities. Medical inspection in public schools, the care
of the feeble-minded, and even the management of neglected children
should belong to such a department.
Consequently, the provincial veterinary department belongs here rather than
in the department of agriculture.
Certainly the first-aid trains for mining districts belong here rather than in the department of public works.
Green such organization, the development of hospitals will be immeasurably assisted and much more intelligently directed.

When such organization the plan of action necessary is clear. The organization of hospital districts will become not merely the work of a surveyor, but the joint work of a surveyor, the municipal authority and a medical health officer with a comprehensive knowledge of conditions of health throughout the province, and a clear understanding of the different
requirements of farming communities,
mining communities, urban communities, etc. There follows the necessity of carefully studying the needs of each individual district to determine the kind of hospital. For instance, a hospital to serve a mining district
obviously requires special surgical equipment, rapid ambulance transport, close connection with first-aid stations
at points of vantage, special equipment for the treatment of certain occupational diseases; while a farming
community probably requires a more general institution with special attention to maternity welfare. Careful and detailed investigation must be made by competent medical authority
to determine all this. It is not enough that an architect shall design a sanitary cottage to cost a specified number of dollars for a certain land area.

Again, careful investigation must be made to ascertain general health conditions, and the need for specialized institutions in larger centers, the best methods of medical inspection of school children and others to prevent disease, the need of cheaper and
greater facilities for dental and ocular treatment. These facts may be obtained comparatively quickly by cooperation with the university, by an intelligently directed inquiry from medical men in both rural and urban practice, and by inquiry of municipal authorities and local boards of health.
When a general policy has been laid down, based on this information, the hospitals must be planned not only
to meet immediate need for accommodation of distressing cases, but to provide facilities for care of school
children, dental, ocular and other
special service, and all such preventive measures as are devised.

All this must be begun at once before thousands of dollars are wasted
on institutions chaotically devised.
The cabinet minister who undertakes
this will have the biggest responsibility of any member of this or any other provincial government.

SOME SAFEGUARDS

The action of the government in letting down the bars to oleomargarin
is not exactly surprising, when
one considers the skillful campaign
that was put up to influence public opinion and the government.

In justice to the government, however, it must be admitted that proper safeguards have been placed about
the sale of it, to prevent fraudulent sales. Coloring is prohibited, and licenses are given for the manufacture of it.

In public places the fact that the stuff is being used, is noted conspicuously by signs.

If a man wants oleomargarine he can get it, but precautions are taken
so that if he wants butter, he is not to be supplied with a substitute.

The Albertan cannot understand
how the manufacture of oleomargarin
will in any way conserve food.
It is doubtful if the change will very greatly injure the dairying interests. Good butter will still be in demand at very good prices. Poor
butter may be chased off the market,
which would be no serious misfortune.

The serious matter is that a product
has been introduced which will in no way conserve food, will not reduce
the cost of living to any great extent,
and will reduce the standard of food.

The only union the Edmonton Bulletin favors is a union depot, remarks
the Lethbridge Herald.

The fuel dealers say there is not a
fortune in the sale of black diamonds.
The fuel controller endorses this statement by an order-in-council fixing the margin of profits.

The Italian defeat, doubtless much exaggerated by the German reports, is bad enough. The Italians have fought a hard, strong battle, and were
on the verge of final and decisive success.

With Pugsley and Macdonald getting behind the unionist government,
except for Quebec, the only illustrious Liberals in Canada are Frank Oliver, C. W. Cross and John A.
Irvine.

The information coming from Quebec, that large numbers of influential Liberals of that province are declaring for the union government
and a win-the-war policy, while surprising, is most gratifying.

The frequent accidents upon the
one-man cars should be thoroughly investigated by the city council. The somewhat remarkable interviews of
the superintendent might also at the same time be investigated.

After Superintendent McCauley's
numerous interviews with the victim
of a one-man car accident, one cannot place great faith in the figures
submitted by the superintendent during the one-man car controversy.

The Who's Who on Tax Certificates
is a volume of great worth. Several persons mentioned, who have not been credited with wealth during the last few years, are at least credited
with being in a position to owe considerable wealth.

GERMANY'S WAR AIMS —New York Tribune.

WAR VETERANS AND CONSERVATIVES ARE FOR UNION GOV'T

Agree on Three Vancouver Federal Seats; Veterans Will Have Representative in the Field

Winnipeg, Oct. 26.—The wholesale grocers of Manitoba and Saskatchewan have pledged themselves to loyally support Food Controller Hanna and to co-operate in any movement eliminating waste, and for the conservation and economical distribution of food. A committee representing the wholesale grocery trade of the west will in all probability visit Ottawa next week to confer with the food controller. The wholesalers, however, do not see eye to eye with Mr. Hanna in the recent regulations affecting packers cereals and have asked that the order be suspended at least until after a delegation has been given the opportunity of presenting the case of the wholesalers to Mr. Hanna.

FELL FROM GRACE

Winnipeg, Oct. 26.—Harry G. Gardner, a former Toronto clergyman, whose wedding was suddenly interrupted Monday by a city detective, pleaded guilty to obtaining goods under false pretence. "I was at first in the ministry," he told the magistrate in explaining how he came to go wrong, "but the amount of money received was not enough to keep me out of debt. I tried teaching and that was but little better, and I yielded to temptation after coming to this city." He was remanded for sentence till Saturday.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. E. Vickers wishes to announce to his acquaintances and patrons of the past five years in Glengarry, Crescent Heights, Parkhill and Ogden that he has opened at 703 First street east (opposite the Salvation Auditorium), the A1 Shoe Repair Shop.

Having had over thirty years' experience at the shoe trade, Mr. Vickers can guarantee work to suit the most fastidious.

Any work left at the above address or at 411 Eighth street west will receive personal attention.

GERMAN PRESS IS PREPARING WAY FOR A GENERAL RETREAT

Military Experts Explain How Huns Will Make Victorious Advance to the Rear; Are Bolstering Up Hopes

Copenhagen, Oct. 26.—The possibility of a German retreat from the Aisne front is mentioned by Lieut. Gen. von Ardenne, military expert of the Tagblatt of Berlin, in discussing the French victory there. He says the attack of the French undoubtedly will be repeated and that although their chances of ultimate success are slight, it is well to remember that the German plan of defence does not forbid voluntary abandonment under proper circumstances of territory not essential to the great tactical plan, so that losses may be reduced.

"Even the loss of Leen—although this is in no wise impending—would not alter the strategic situation of the Germans," he writes.
He draws attention to the fact that Leen is still 13 kilometres from the front and is protected by new field fortifications which the French will find difficult to overcome.

REBATE DONATIONS

Ottawa, Oct. 26.—Sir Robert Ames headed a delegation from the Canadian Patriotic Fund, which waited on the prime minister and the minister of finance today. The principal suggestion made by the delegation, it was stated afterward, was that where a contribution has been made to the patriotic fund in 1917, it should be rebated as income tax.

CAPITAL OFFENSE

Fort Snelling, Minn., Oct. 26.—Several deserters from the United States army faced court martial at a general hearing here this afternoon. Because of the fact that desertion is regarded as a capital offense there is wide interest in the outcome of the cases.

BIG LAND DEAL

Lethbridge, Oct. 26.—The Mendonhall ranch, south of here, comprising 10,000 acres was sold yesterday to a local purchaser for a quarter-million dollars.

FRENCH NEWSPAPER SCANDAL CREATES CONSIDERABLE STIR

Paris, Oct. 26.—The arrest yesterday of Pierre Lenoir and William Desouches, charged with trading with the enemy, has again brought scandal to the fore in the French newspapers. L'Action Francaise, the newspaper of Leon Daudet, who recently obtained much prominence because of the charges made in the Bolo Pasha case, asserts that the case of Lenoir and Desouches is more important than that of Bolo Pasha. The newspaper connects the man with Prince Hohenlohe-Cherhingen, chief of the German espionage system in Switzerland.

The Matin, although it only prints two pages on Thursday, devotes five columns to the case, exclusive of the 150 lines that had been excluded by the censor.
According to other newspapers, the money received by the men amounted to 10,000,000 francs and that it came from Switzerland and in such a manner that the customs authorities could not examine it.
The newspapers also say that Lenoir held a position in the censor's department dealing with foreign telegrams, enabling him to communicate with Switzerland without restriction.

GIVEN LIGHT SENTENCE
Mankato, Minn., Oct. 26.—A. L. Sugarman, St. Paul, Sodalist, was convicted today of making scurrilous remarks tending to cause treason in military service and disobedience of military orders, and was sentenced to three years in federal prison, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. The jury was out 40 minutes.
KILLED IN FUN
Frederickton, N.B., Oct. 26.—Early today at Melrose Hill, five miles from here, Grace McVaughan, 3 years old, was shot and instantly killed by her brother, two years younger. He snapped the trigger of a loaded gun in fun.

Makes Wrinkles Go "As If By Magic"

Want to banish every wrinkle—from face, neck, hands—quickly, completely? Try the famous axoite formula. Nothing else so nearly meets every requirement. Why? Because it is correct in principle and really, truly assists nature. Possessing remarkable astringent and tonic properties, it both tightens the skin—thus naturally smoothing out the lines—and improves capillary circulation and nerve conduction, tending to strengthen loose tissue and bring about a healthy condition. Get your bottle of axoite today! It won't harm your skin in the least. And it's so easy to get the inexpensive ink-jet formula! Just dissolve one ounce powdered axoite in one-half pint witch hazel—that's all. Bathe your face in this—immediately every wrinkle and crease is affected, even the deepest. You are perfectly safe and delighted with the result. You took like you've lost years from your age!

The Calgary Branch of the Military Y.M.C.A. now located at Victoria Park Barracks, urgently requires a piano for use in connection with their winter program of entertainments, etc.

RATEPAYERS' MEETING The special meeting called by the Federation of Ratepayers' Associations will be held in the council chamber on Tuesday evening. The meeting is called especially for the purpose of considering the nominating of representatives for the various civic boards.

Jewelry Will Surely Be Individual If Bought at Black's

Occasionally one will find a piece of jewelry that is just suited to someone, a part of his personality. It must have an individuality about it that makes it impossible to be easily duplicated. It must be of modern design, of unquestioned quality, and it must be sufficiently attractive to show its worth. Such a collection of individual gifts we have prepared with great care and expense to show the Gift Seeker. We design and manufacture a great many of our finer pieces on the premises. We do not make duplicates, therefore you have the added assurance of not finding your purchase on display elsewhere in cheaper quality. May we not show you some of these suggestions in Rings, Pendants, Brooches, Earrings, etc., and if you are pleased with it, we will lay it away for you until nearer Christmas?

OSTEOPATHY

The success of Osteopathy in the treatment of chronic diseases cannot be questioned. It is reasonable to suppose that any method successful in diseases of long standing would prove more successful in diseases of recent occurrence, where the vitality is not low and the recuperative power is active. FITZ GAVE HIM WHAT HE ASKED

Police Constable Asked Fitzsimmons to Hit Him; He Did and Copper Took a Sleep

On one occasion, a few years back, Bob Fitzsimmons was making a tour of the small cities and towns of British Columbia giving exhibitions of boxing that were mere shadows of his former prowess. In one place, which shall be nameless, the police constable who fancied himself as a scrapper and who was in reality an exceedingly husky individual entered the ring against the one-time champion. Said champion played with him, sort of took pity on him and treated him gently.

BENNY LEONARD IN U.S. UNIFORM

Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, is in Uncle Sam's service. He will teach the soldier boys the art of self-defense in one of the training camps. Benny has already received his appointment as a boxing director, but he has not yet received his assignment. The photo shows him in his uniform. The boxing directors are being selected with great care; only the best men are being appointed to train the soldiers. Recently in New York Leonard beat Jack Britton, ex-welterweight champion, one of the most skillful boxers in the ring. Britton has fought many of the best fighters of his weight in the business, and has never been knocked out. Usually, like Leonard, Britton escapes unmarked, but he was cut up a bit by Leonard.

OLD-TIMERS WIN FIVE-PIN GAME

Defeat Club Cafe Rollers in a Strenuous Battle

The "Old Timers" won from the "Cafe" bowlers in a close ten-pin game. The "Cafe Boys" won the first game by one pin, but the "Old Rollers" came back strong and won the next two by a good margin.

NEW YORK FOR WINTER SPORTS

Hotel Ice Rinks Preparing to Open for a Big Season

New York, Oct. 26.—With the advent of heavy overcoats for the men and low-neck furs for the women, New York's outdoor public is sharpening its steel runners and beginning to raise a feebly appetizing for the greatest of all winter amusements—skating. For the first time in years promoters of popular rinks have anticipated the desires of sport-loving Father Knickerbocker, and there will be no lack of icy surfaces for him to glide about. Amateurs with one or two or three or a multitude of his favorite daughters and sons, New York is to have every facility for the enjoyment of skating this winter, both indoors and outside.

The St. Louis Americans during the season of 1916 made a profit of about $25,000. The loss of the club during the current season is expected to equal that figure making an "even break" on the two years.

Phil Ball, chief owner of the club, whose ambition has been to give St. Louis a winning team, has spent about $600,000 in baseball since he first invested in the St. Louis Federals. This sum, of course, includes his losses.

He said he will stay in the game, however, and already he has spent $27,000 for new players for next year.

What with his salary as a baseball player and his interests in business enterprises, poor Ty Cobb, the Detroit diamond demon, only makes $50,000 a year. His salary as a player is $20,000 per season. Who couldn't play good ball for that kind of a salary!

Grouchy Gus says: Bucking the line—football and Hindenburg—seems to be the universal and most popular pastime just now.

As our old friend Bill Shakespeare said: "The play is the thing." But then William never saw a crew of athletes fight for a world's series purse.

THE LATE BOB FITZSIMMONS As he appeared on the stage recently.

RINKS ARE OPEN AT THE COAST

Skating has already begun for the season in the artificial ice rinks at the coast. Vancouver's big arena was opened on Wednesday night of this week and Seattle ushered in the season last night. It is not settled as yet whether professional hockey will be played this winter, as, coupled with the business depression of the past two or three years, which has not as yet improved, to a sufficient extent to insure the required support, the clubs that the teams may be depleted through the draft now in course of drawing. Possibly a semi-professional league, composed of the best of the amateur and professional players of Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster may be played this winter.

THE "SPREAD" PROBLEM
Winnipeg, Oct. 26.—The regulation of the spread between the price paid for live hogs by packers, and the price for bacon paid by consumers, is a problem which is being worked out by Hon. W. J. Hanna, the federal food controller, according to an announcement made this morning by Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of agriculture.

PRISONERS STILL MISSING
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 26.—Department of justice agents last night had been unable to find a trace of Lieut. Harris Berg and nine other German prisoners who escaped from the detention camp at Fort McPherson Tuesday night through a tunnel they dug from their sleeping quarters. Several false trails were run down during the day.

PREMIER OF POLAND
Copenhagen, Oct. 25.—The Warsaw newspaper Dziennik states that the German authorities have approved the candidacy of Count Adam Tarnowski von Tarnow, Austro-Hungarian former ambassador to the United States, for the post of prime minister of Poland. The Germans hitherto had objected to the appointment.

HOW FITZ MADE THE GRADE; FOUGHT FOR A SHOWING

Great Old Battler Worked Up to the Champ Class by Hard Work; Robbed and Destitute, But Not Beaten, He Forced Corbett Into a Battle

San Francisco, Oct. 26.—When Fitzsimmons first arrived in this country from Australia in 1890 it became necessary to fight his way into popular favor. He had suffered defeat at the hands of Jim Hall in four rounds at Sydney, but he advised later that he had thrown the fight for a paltry consideration. To win the confidence of the Americans, Fitz met the localised Dempsey at New Orleans and knocked him out in thirteen rounds. But Dempsey, who weighed less than 160 pounds on that occasion, was a shadow of his former self, so that ring followers refused to regard Fitzsimmons as a first-class pugilist.

THE ENEMY OF CIVILIZATION. Kaiser Wilhelm, the man who set the world afire with the war, as he looks today. He is thinner than he was before the war, and the lines in his face show that he has suffered some of the pangs that he caused humanity. His figure has lost some of the military carriage of his former bearing and in this photo, unlike those of the past, he is making no effort to conceal the short left hand which is hidden in most of his portraits.

HUGGINS TURNED DOWN BIG MONEY

Was Offered $10,000 and a Chunk of Profits to Stay With Nationals

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—Branch Rickey, president of the St. Louis Nationals, said today that he offered Miller Huggins who yesterday signed a contract to manage the New York Americans, a salary of $10,000 a year and 10 per cent of all profits if he would remain with the St. Louis club next season.

We have not signed anyone to take Huggins' place," Rickey said. "I do not expect to make an announcement as to management for some time."

SITE OF FLOUR MILL

It was found that the strata underlying the property on the Pearce estate, on which the large flour mill will be erected, was not suitable on which to build, so that the site of the mill has been changed to Bonnybrook subdivision. Yesterday about 50 teams were busy on the work of excavation. The mill will be rushed ahead as fast as possible.

HAMILTON CITIZEN DEAD

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 25.—R. T. Steele, one of Hamilton's most prominent citizens, died today, aged 53 years. Mr. Steele was born in Scotland. He came to Hamilton in 1871. He organized the old Hamilton Rowing club and was a great supporter of the Tigers and a familiar figure with them on all their trips.

MUCH THEIVING BY ALBERTA GRAIN ELEVATOR HELP

Farmers Are Either Tools of Crooked Operator or Getting a Rake-off; Employe Given a 23 Months' Sentence Yesterday

A case of interest to all elevator companies throughout Western Canada is that of Oscar Kleason, formerly employed by the National Grain Elevator company of Vulcan, which was burnt down about a year ago. The case was tried before Mr. Justice Simmons in the supreme court. Kleason was charged with issuing bogus grain checks, suspicion falling upon him shortly after the burning down of the Vulcan elevator.

So epidemic has become this fever among employes that 24 arrests and 10 convictions of dishonest employes have been made in the past six months by one operating detective agency. To put a stop to this practice, the companies have been to great expense in hiring detectives to run down these men and no stones have been left unturned to bring the guilty ones within the scope of the law. Besides the guilty employes of various elevator companies, in several instances farmers have been implicated in the theft.

JURY ATTACH NO BLAME TO OTHER C.P.R. EMPLOYEES

Inquest on Death of J. H. Howe, C.P.R. Brakeman at Gleichen; Was Rushed to Calgary, But Died on Arrival

A coroner's jury empaneled by Coroner Wright, last night, after an inquest into the death of John Hamilton Howe, of Medicine Hat, who met his death at 6 o'clock Thursday evening at Gleichen, returned a verdict exonerating the train crew from blame.

The verdict found that: Death was due to hemorrhage into the lung tissue, injuries to the right iliac region, fracture of the pelvis and both ankles and shock from these causes, received while at work as brakeman on C.P.R. train No. 5049, extra, at Gleichen, on this train's run from Medicine Hat to Calgary, and was accidental and there is no blame attachable to the other railway men.

America Locks World's Pantry Against the Kaiser

The newspaper press of America, as shown in the very comprehensive article which occupies the leading place in the issue of THE LITERARY DIGEST for October 27th, is generally concerned with the thought that the absolute embargo now jointly decreed by England and the United States against Germany's neutral neighbors is, in the words of the New York Sun, "the deadliest of all weapons for the destruction of Germany," and one which she fears, according to The Tribune, New York, "even more than the drum-fire of the battlefield." The war is now "blockade against blockade," declared Deputy Lemery, of the French Parliament, a few days ago, and at the recent Allied conference in London it was stated that the new blockade formula, if strictly applied, "will make it impossible for Germany to continue the struggle."

"Digest" Readers Don't Have to Guess the Facts--They Know Them
When you discuss politics, or the war, or literature, or art, or science, are you able to do so intelligently and broad-mindedly? Do you think for yourself on all these questions or are you simply an echo of your pet editor, a pale reflection of the opinions advanced in the columns of your favorite newspaper? If you are not already an independent thinker, weighing facts for yourself and drawing impartial deductions from them, it is high time that you became one. No periodical will help you to this so well as THE LITERARY DIGEST. This greatest of modern news-magazines gives you, in their own words, the views of all the principal publications, at home and abroad, thus setting before you the great issues of the day from every angle of view and in the most readable form. It makes no attempt to influence your judgment. It simply offers you an impartial record. The rest is up to you.

KITCHENER And Other Poems

By
R. J. C. STEAD

Robert Parker gave us
poignant scenes in his tales of Pere; Mrs. McClung and Ralph Connor have added to
the literature of the prairies,
and Robert W. Service has been the Kipling of the Yukon.
In their various spheres these authors have made valuable contributions to Canadian literature, but it remained for Robert J. C. Stead, a quiet Calgary
author, to write books and poems that make Western
readers involuntarily exclaim,
"This is the living truth, and a story of mine own people."

Many of the poems included
in this, Mr. Stead's new volume, have appeared in the leading newspapers in Canada and England. The title poem,
"Kitchener," is already well-known wherever the English language is spoken. It was reprinted by the London Spectator, was reprinted by English
publishers for distribution in the army hospitals, and subsequently found its way around the world in the press of east and west. It is probably the only poem by a Canadian
which was ever included in its entirety in a telegraphic news service.

QUEBEC MUNITIONS PLANT WIPED OUT BY SWEEPING FIRE

C.P.R. Train Crew Face Exploding Shells and Rush a Trainload of Explosives Out of Danger

Montreal, Oct. 26.—The shell loading
plant of the Canadian Explosives Company, Le Ferret, near Verdun, Que., was destroyed by fire and explosions this morning with a loss of $1,000,000. The fire
was started by a spark from an electric motor. A small explosion gave the 1,500
operatives working in the plant a warning, which was at once heeded. There was no loss of life, two men, E. Mc-Nabbett and P. Lavassuer, being slightly injured.

The fire began at 7 o'clock this morning, just after the hands had begun work.
The first explosion wrecked the part of the plant where it occurred and the high wind threw burning fragments to adjoining buildings and storerooms. In the latter were stored a large number of loaded shells and a quantity of powder. These exploded with tremendous detonations
which were heard miles away. The exploding shrapnel splintered the woods
nearby in which the operatives had taken refuge and many of them had narrow escapes. Windows in farm houses within a radius of three miles, were broken.

Help in the shape of fire engines and teams was rushed from Montreal, but the burning plant could not be saved and was practically consumed to the ground by the flames.

Pumping Station Burns

The fire brigade of the Canadian Explosives plant tried to cope with the situation but the steam pumping house soon
caught fire and the water tank ran dry soon after the first explosion occurred.

An act of gallantry was performed by a Canadian Pacific railway switch crew comprised of Engineer J. Pulpie, Conductor S. Branford, Fireman E. Gauthier
and Drakomen Sprule and T. J. Boulier.
They ran their train close to the blazing
storehouse, coupled on to a train loaded
with completed shells and pulled them to a place of safety.

This crew also removed 30 cars of miscellaneous material and took in empty cars
so that additional material could be loaded. All the time powder and shells were exploding, some shells being hurled into the river St. Lawrence and bursting amidst a tower of spray.

SOLDIER MINGLED BY MOTOR WAS MADE WHOLE AGAIN

An Army Feat in Surgery; Instant Action by Medical Corps Saved Man's Life

Pittsburg, Oct. 26.—By an unprecedented bit of daring surgery, Dr. John C. Calhoun, of Pittsburg, now one of the officers in charge of the base hospital in Montgomery, Ala., has saved
a life for Uncle Sam and has written a new chapter in the history of war
surgery.

Last August the left side of the chest of Pte. Harry McKensie of an Ohio regiment, was torn open, his lung pierced, one of his ribs torn loose and his heart exposed as the result of a motor car accident. He had been riding on the running board of the car
and was squeezed between two machines. In addition to his injuries,
which were considered fatal, his left arm was shattered.

Operated On at Once.

The mangled soldier was taken to a hospital in Montgomery and Lieut.
Calhoun was summoned in consultation.
The Pittsburg surgeon decided on drastic action. The lung was sewn up and the broken parts set. Now the soldier is walking about the streets of Montgomery waiting for his arm to heal
before resuming active service.

"When an operation of such delicacy
can be performed at a base hospital,"
a southern newspaper quotes a Montgomery surgeon, "it is safe to trust
the American soldier to Uncle Sam in sickness or in health."

The army maintains a ward at St.
Margaret's hospital, at Montgomery,
where operative cases and serious illnesses are treated. This ward is in charge of Lieut. Calhoun, pending the completion of the base hospital, which will care for 300 men.

Dr. Calhoun was one of the first Pittsburg physicians to answer the call to the colors. He took his training in Port Oglethorpe, Ga. When there
he was detailed to assist Major Haig,
the regular army officer in charge of the base hospital at Montgomery. The Montgomery newspaper quotes him as saying:

"Army Surgeons' Standard High."
"There has not been as much opportunity for lung surgery," he said, "as in most other branches of surgical work, and I have never handled such a case as that of McKensie before. The cut was a peculiarly ugly one, three-
cornered and measuring eight inches.
The lung was bleeding and the bones
badly broken. I do feel proud, not so much of the result, but to have been able to meet the occasion when it came
up. This was one of the few cases which require the most delicate and instantaneous manipulation of the knife.
It gave us a task that we were delig-
ted to be able to master."

"The army has the best of the medical and dental talent of the country," Lieutenant Calhoun continued. "The average of those preparing with me for the medical reserve was 40; the average time in practice of the reservists
was 15 years."

EIFFEL TOWER DID ITS BIT

Important German Mes- sages Were Intercepted Early in War

Paris, Oct. 26.—General Clergerie,
who was chief of staff to General Gal-lieni at the battle of the Marne, has recalled some crucial events that turned the tide of the war. To begin with,
the Eiffel Tower played a useful part,
and those who never admired the 300-
meter iron monument are now reconciled to it.

The German commanders, apparently, under the delusion that the French had decoded, but half the time the Germans did not even take the trouble to use cypher. Thus among other interesting pieces of information, General
Clergerie learned that General Von Marwitz, commanding the cavalry in Von Kluck's army, informed Von Kluck
that his men and horses were spent
and could not move for two days; that

The Business Side of Winning the War

THE WAR can be won only by a combination of Men and Money
co-ordinated into invincible organization by the patriotism of all the people.

The most devoted patriot army could not fight twenty-four hours without money and the support of those things which money alone will buy.

Our soldiers must have food, clothing, arms, munitions and transport,
or be vainly sacrificed in battle.

So, no matter how brave our soldiers may be, nor how self-sacrificing they are, unless we back them freely and generously with money, their bravery
and their sacrifices will be all for nothing.

Money is the coupling pin between Canada's fighting men and victory.

TO CARRY on the war Canada must be prepared to produce and sell on credit to Great Britain
and our Allies, hundreds of millions of dollars worth of supplies.

Cash must be paid to the producers of those supplies.

The war is not only a terrific struggle of men
and guns, but it is also the most tremendous business
of producing, selling and financing the world has ever known.

And to successfully carry on this war, money is as indispensable as it is in operating a railroad or a private business.

The war is therefore a combination of commerce
and fighting, of business and patriotism.

So, to keep on producing as well as fighting, the very highest commercial efficiency of Canada must be maintained.

And it is Canada's privilege to take a man's part
in that combination of patriotic producing, financing
and fighting.

Also it is Canada's duty as well as her privilege
to so conduct that business that she can continue to produce and sell and finance on a still greater scale.

GREAT BRITAIN has advanced to our Allies five and a half billion dollars. The United States has advanced to Great Britain and our Allies nearly three billion dollars. These advances of course are not in actual cash, but in credit.

When Britain lends billions to France and Italy
she does not lend the actual cash, but she gives those Allies credit.

The British munition worker and coal miner who produce the supplies for France and Italy are paid in cash with the money borrowed by the British Government from the British people. But the money stays

in Britain, and helps to maintain for British workingmen conditions of the highest productive efficiency.

NOW, because of the tremendous burden of expenditures which Great Britain is bearing at home and has made abroad in the past three years,
and because of the billions of credits she is financing
for the Allies, it is impossible for her to send out of Britain any more money in cash.

For her purchases in Canada and the United States she must have credit. And that credit must be established by the people. What the Government of Canada lends to Great Britain must in turn be borrowed
from the people of Canada.

So Canada's Minister of Finance comes to the people of Canada for a loan which Canada promises, in the form of Canada's Victory Bonds, to repay at a stipulated time, with interest.

Canada's Minister of Finance sells Canada's Victory Bonds to the people and the people pay him their money, which he uses to pay the farmer, the miner and the wage earner for the products which Great Britain needs and must have.

The producers in turn circulate all this money for food, clothing, furniture and other necessities, thus contributing to the business prosperity of the whole country.

So, by buying Canada's Victory Bonds we are not only helping Great Britain to win the war but we are also helping to maintain in Canada those conditions of material well-being which again are essential in maintaining at a high level the productive efficiency
of the nation.

Thus the purchase of Canada's Victory Bonds
completes the cycle of National effort in winning the war, in which every man, woman and child should take a part.

That is the Business side of Winning the War— Your Part in that Business is to buy Canada's Victory Bonds

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee
in co-operation with the Minister of Finance
of the Dominion of Canada.

the men fell asleep with exhaustion
on their saddies, and that nearly all
the horses wanted re-shoeing.

Another useful message tapped by the Eiffel Tower was one, September 3, from Von Kluck himself, saying that he was retiring with his first army,
and in fact, telling the other army
commanders bluntly, "You must hurry
up; I am clearing out."

General Clergerie also gives the first
authentic account of the historic taxicab day of September 7. A new division arrived that day to join the Paris
army, but how to get it out to the front, nearly forty miles away, in time?
Railway transport, it was found, could carry only six thousand men. How were the remaining six thousand to be got out?
Clergerie had an inspiration, and de-

ecided to risk using taxicabs. Gallieni approved. Clergerie had one hundred taxis permanently at his disposal, but wanted six hundred. Each taxi could carry five men, and thus in two journeys six hundred could bring six thousand men to the front. They must be ready by 6 o'clock. A requisition order was sent out at 1 o'clock. The news spread like wildfire in the taxicab depots, and, as Clergerie says, it was a dramatic sight to see many chauffeurs
driving fares in the Paris streets suddenly stop on hearing of the order, turn
the fare out and start off at once "to go into battle," and by 6 o'clock the
six hundred taxis stood ready at Gargy,
just outside Paris. They were inspected by Gallieni.

Two routes, going and coming for
the double journey, were mapped out,

relief cars with tires and petrol drove
at intervals in the procession, and stores were also placed at points along the road. The taxis, each carrying five men, started twenty yards behind one another, and in two journeys the six hundred taxis had brought six thousand men by daylight, ready to go into the battle of the Ourcq, and win it,
which they did.

COLD-BLOODED MURDER

Christiania, Oct. 26.—The Seamen's association of Norway has adopted a resolution against the German massacre of defenceless Norwegian seamen in the recent attack, which, in part, says: "The civilized world is horrified in spite of the submarine war horrors. Here there was no question of a war measure, but of murder
of such a degree as would have brought a blush to the cheeks of barbarians of the middle ages."

CORRESPONDENTS WITNESS START OF RUN DRIVE

Germany Bring Up Heavy Reinforcements and Guns to Try and Save Trieste for the Austrians

Army Headquarters Northern Italy, Oct. 26 (By the Associated Press)—The correspondent was given an opportunity today to see Gorizia after a rain of shells from nearby Austrian batteries and to look out from a castle dominating the city on the vast scene of military operations which Gorizia is the strategic center of. The visit was made at an opportune moment, just as the Austrians and Germans were inaugurating their heavy offensive from the north in an effort to redeem their recent losses.

A heavy artillery bombardment had initiated the movement, with the Italian batteries responding, along a front of 20 miles running across the Bainsizza plateau toward Tolmino. As the correspondent passed along the road from headquarters shells were falling freely three miles outside Gorizia, and there was a steady rain of guns of all calibres from the big batteries to the rattling quick-firers.

Such offensive had been anticipated for several days as information reaching headquarters showed that the enemy was preparing for the supreme move in the north, where they were no longer required against the inactive Russian armies, had been sent to this front. At the same time the German general staff had awakened to the possibilities of the Italian front, and for the first time Bradenburg troops were identified along this nearby front, and shells from large calibre German guns were falling for the first time from the enemy position on Monte San Gabriele and around Monte Ronco.

Thus, with the fury of the German drive, made it evident that the enemy would seek to regain the vast Bainsizza plateau, which the Italians recently took, with 80,000 prisoners, as the Italian strip on the plateau opened the way for them to sweep over the Carso range back of Trieste and thence after the Austrian defenses of Trieste. It was therefore to protect Trieste and force back the Italians to the old line of the Isonzo river that the enemy forces were tripled, picked Bradenburgers, Saxons, Bavarians and others were added to the Austrian force, and the opening stages of the offensive were developed today.

IN SUBMARINE ZONE Montreal, Oct. 26.—Edward Heide and R. Stevenson, sailors, and Charles Baker, gunner, part of the crew of an ocean-going vessel, were given a month in jail for stealing whisky while in the submarine zone.

MINERS DEMAND DISMISSAL OF THREE MINE OFFICIALS Men Responsible for Accident in Mine Will Have to Go or Miners Will Quit Work

Sydney, N.S., Oct. 26.—The dismissal of at least three of the Dominion Coal Company's officials at No. 12 colliery, New Waterford, whom the miners' association declared were responsible for the condition of that mine prior to the explosion there in July last, when 86 lives were lost, has been demanded by the Amalgamated Miners of Nova Scotia. Not only does the Amalgamated Miners of Nova Scotia demand their dismissal, but the government is called upon to cancel their mining license. In the event of the company failing to comply with the demands the A.M.S.W. calls upon the miners of Nova Scotia to remain idle on Wednesday and Saturday of each week.

MINING UP POB UNION Montreal, Oct. 26.—A meeting of the miners of the Saltoona federal riding here today of those who were formerly active in the organization of the Canadian miners, and it was decided to discontinue as a party organization. A resolution was passed endorsing the union government and declaring for a win-the-war candidate for Saltoona. D. H. McDonald of Fort Qu'Appelle, and George Hart of Melville, were delegates to meet a committee from the Liberal association and to arrange for a unionist convention at an early date to select a win-the-war candidate.

Warned This Captain That the Kidneys Were Responsible for His Pains and Aches—Freed of Pain and Suffering by a Well-known Medicine.

Hereford, Que., Oct. 26.—Captain Peabody is well known all through this section, and his cure by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has aroused great interest in this great medicine. The Captain had been suffering for a long time, and would never get any relief until he began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Captain A. Peabody, Hereford, Que., writes: "For years I suffered from indigestion, rheumatism and neuralgia. Lightning-like pains would shoot all through my body, and I also had severe pains over my left kidney and through the hip. I was doctored for years and tried all kinds of remedies but the only relief was money spent without result. At last I read in Dr. Chase's Almanac of his Kidney-Liver Pills and decided to try them. One box made such a change that I sent for five more. Before I had finished them the pains in my kidney, hips and back had disappeared, and I was clear of those sharp, annoying pains through the body. I will take these Pills occasionally to keep my bowels regular, and would not be without them for anything. I can also speak highly of Dr. Chase's Cathartic Powder and Laxative and Turpentine. The former cured me of catarrh in the head, which I had for several years, and the latter completely cured of this now, and breaks freely with a boy. The laxative and Turpentine proved of great benefit for a bad cough which bothered me for several years. Last winter I took one bottle of the Laxative and Turpentine, and have not been bothered with a cough since."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Don't be misled in accepting anything said to be just as good. Imitations and substitutes only do harm.

BIG GAME PEOPLE WILL SPEND VERY STREAMING WINTER

No Fuel, Shortage of Vegetables, Shoes With Wooden Soles and, Worst of All, No Cloths for Skirts

Copenhagen, Oct. 26.—Some of the prospects which the German people are called upon to face the coming winter are officially announced in the German newspapers as follows: There is only enough shoe leather for the use of miners, fishermen, canal workers and a few allied trades. The manufacture of leather footwear for the rest of the population will soon be suspended. They will have to get along with wooden soles and cloth uppers.

There is a big shortage in vegetables and no hope of any material improvement in the fresh vegetable supply. The turnip must again be one of the mainstays of the German diet this winter, although to a less degree than last year. Problem Not Solved The fuel problem has not been solved despite all the efforts made for its solution, and the city populations may expect to notice the results of this fact keenly. The coal commissioner prophesies that the pinch will be felt here and there within the next days.

The railway administration of Saxony announced that railway travel will not be allowed without a permit. Soldiers in the home camps are limited in their week-end furloughs, and Saturday and Sunday are to be given to the military to see the boys in camp and to order to cut down railway travel. The Prussian railways will probably follow suit.

Finally, after the fashion plates for winter are out, the government has decreed that women's skirts must be made with a reduced amount of material, which will necessitate their being made both shorter and tighter.

Macleod Candidate Today's Favorite

MISS MARGARET MCCARTIN Macleod, Alta. (District 3)

If no other evidence was available, the fact that Miss Macleod has led the contest in number of published votes today would be proof sufficient that she is able to hold her own as an active candidate. Macleod and vicinity has always had the name of being loyal to their home candidates in affairs of this kind, and Miss Macleod is leaving no stone unturned to get all the support available. Her friends say "It's a car for Macleod this time." Miss Macleod is a real western girl, her parents being genuine old-timers here, her father coming to this district in 1882 and her mother two years later. She has named the Red Cross Society of Macleod as her choice for The Albertan's $100 patriotic money if, at the close of the contest, her votes entitle her to one of the automobiles.

CONTEST NOTES Returns since last Tuesday at the contest prove that candidates are keeping right at subscription. The closing of the special prize and the last of the 100,000 extra-vote ballots, instead of causing a slump, has had the opposite effect. The call for more receipt books continues—and in some instances from sources where there has been little activity for some time. Wonders can be accomplished in four weeks—and less time than that, too. Subscribers have their minds made up by this time and are ready to place their subscriptions where they will do the most good. Everybody loves a winner—and the energetic in this contest are winners in the making. So many did it remarkably well the past three weeks that the fact of not carrying away the $50 special prize has little bearing on the case. This prize was awarded on the cash only—votes were not considered. Subscriptions turned in before October 8 were not counted. Without violating the secrecy of the amounts turned in for the special prize, the records as announced by Mr. Crossfield show only $2 and 43¢ difference in a couple of instances. In one case there was only 75 cents between two good workers and in another $1.00.

At the close of the contest the relative standing of a half-dozen of the highest will be given. At this time it would not be fair to give the amount of money turned in by the winner. It is well to remember that the best vote-getting period of the contest is likely yet to come—at least with many who have not yet covered their field. Filling in or adding to the small subscriptions should be looked after now. For three months new candidates received 6,000 votes, but by getting the remaining nine months, thus completing the year, the candidate will get 34,000 more votes, making 60,000 all told for the year. One new candidate entered a couple of days ago, and is already in the running so far as the vote in the paper is concerned. Further nominations will be accepted. It is not our purpose to bar anybody from the opportunity to win one of the 27 prizes offered in this contest. The best workers will get the best prizes, regardless of the time the contest is entered. Get after the 95,000 extra-vote clubs just a little swifter than you ever tried for clubs in the weeks gone by. Don't let a single club escape you. There is no limit to the number one candidate may secure—a half-dozen up to next Tuesday would help a lot.

Extra Votes For the next three weeks, the size of the club required each week to get in on the extra votes will be $25 in subscriptions. All left-over or surplus from last week will be counted in the clubs this week. No extra votes will be given for less than a complete club, except the last week of the offer, as shown below. Note the number of votes and the ending date of each: $5,000 EXTRA VOTES—Week ending October 30. $10,000 EXTRA VOTES—Week ending November 6. $15,000 EXTRA VOTES—Week ending November 13.

During the last week of the extra votes offer, after the first 125 clubs, 3,000 extra votes will be given for each dollar of an incomplete club. NO EXTRA VOTES WILL BE GIVEN THE LAST WEEK OF THE CONTEST. Subscriptions taken during the early part of the contest may be extended at any time during the campaign and votes will be given the same as if the payment had been made on time. You can extend your own collection or that of another candidate. Mark these subscriptions "Second Payment" in order that the benefit of the first payment may be given.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD SHIPPERS

Lehigh Valley Ry. Co. Officials Held on 51 Counts for Breaking State Laws on Concessions and Discriminations

New York, Oct. 26.—Indictments against the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, charging conspiracy to violate the Elkins interstate commerce law, prohibiting freight rate concessions and discriminations, were found by the federal grand jury here today.

The indictments, six in number, containing 51 counts, allege willful failure to observe strictly the tariffs filed with the interstate commerce commission on the part of the railroad and Fred E. Sigmund, general eastern freight agent of the railroad, and charge the grain firm of Charles Schaefer & Son of this city with soliciting and accepting concessions on hay shipments between October, 1915, and October, 1917, during all of which time an embargo on that commodity was in force. The personal defendants were held in $5,000 bail each.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the ear passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should be given especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your Druggist 1 ounce of Farnint (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Farnint used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a slight tonic action that facilitates obtaining the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh should give this treatment a trial. —Advt.

WINNIPEG COUNCIL OF WOMEN HAVE ENDORSED UNION

Their Services Are Placed at Disposal of Food Controller as a Move to Help Win the War

Winnipeg, Oct. 26.—The executive of the local council of women, comprising the presidents of 73 affiliated organizations, today passed the following resolutions:

"Realizing the great need for conserving beef, bacon and wheat for our soldiers, and food for the allied nations, the council does hereby offer its services to Dr. Robertson to assist in organizing the womanhood of the city for the accomplishment of this end."

"That this council expresses its great satisfaction at the formation of a union government, and gratitude to the men who have been willing to stick party differences in the services of the country, and that we further urge upon all the women of Winnipeg the duty of giving to this government their support and influence and ready response to any demand which it may make upon them."

SIR SAM STATES HE WILL SUPPORT UNION GOVERNMENT

At Toronto Meet Ex-minister of Militia Announces That While Not Believing Union Necessary, He Will Support Government

SOME OPPOSITION

Believes All Liberals Nominated Not in Favor of Prosecuting the War Should Be Vigorously Opposed

Toronto, Oct. 26.—Rumors to the effect that Lieut.-Gen. Sir Sam Hughes would declare himself as opposed to the union government at the meeting of the Toronto Liberal-Conservative club tonight proved to be without foundation. To the contrary, Sir Sam, in a lengthy speech, which was mainly a historical review of the war and a justification of his work as minister of militia, announced he would support the union government. He made it clear that he had no intention of interfering in any contest and made no reference to Archie Brainin, who occupied a prominent place on the platform and is said to have aspirations for a seat in parliament from Center Toronto. Dr. Norman Allen acted as chairman and declared that the present government was not a fusion of the two parties and was not intended to last during the war. Sir Sam was presided by a number of speakers, who spoke on the present situation.

Sir Sam, after stating emphatically that he was a supporter of party government, said that in his opinion seats now held by Liberal-Conservatives should again go to the party. New seats created by the redistribution, which were admittedly strongly Conservative should be conceded to that party, while in cases where the win-the-war Liberals would again appear for election, he said that no opposition should be raised.

In this connection he mentioned such seats as those for which Hon. Hugh Guthrie and P. F. Pardie have been nominated. Sir Sam stated, however, that the Liberals not in favor of prosecuting the war should be vigorously opposed in the coming election. Sir Sam, while he declared there was no necessity for a union government, announced that now it was former he would give it hearty support. He thought, however, that the Conservatives should retain a majority in the next house.

ALLIES USE SILK TO PREVENT ALL WOUND INFECTION

Tremendous Shipments of Silk to France Now Accounted For; Will Prevent Infection From Wounds

New York, Oct. 26.—The fact that troops of the entente allies are wearing silk as a protective armor against blood poisoning from wounds, has partially accounted for the huge shipments of American silk fabrics abroad since the beginning of the war, in the opinion of silk trade authorities who have just returned to this country from France. The destination and use of this silk here heretofore been regarded as a trade mystery. It was learned early in the war, according to these authorities, that if soldiers wore silk next to their skin, there was less danger from blood poisoning if the silk were driven into the wound than in the case of cotton or woolen fabrics. This discovery resulted in the manufacture of a special silk, prepared by a secret process, which is now generally used by the allied armies.

Silk was also found to possess, when woven and prepared in a certain way, extraordinary resistance to certain German explosives. Powder bags and cartridge belts are also protected by a non-inflammable silk.

RUSSIAN BELIEF

Washington, Oct. 26.—Most popular information in Russia on the United States is based on German fostered reports that America is in the war for financial gain and is virtually a British vassal, President Wilson was told today by Dr. Frank Billings, head of the Red Cross special commission to Russia, who has just returned.

WITHDRAWS HIS CHARGE

St. Louis, Oct. 26.—Champ Clark, speaker of the house of representatives today withdrew his charge that a "ring of New York financiers" had been hampering the sale of the bonds of the second Liberty loan in order to force a higher rate on interest on the next issue of bonds.

PRAY FOR VICTORIOUS PEACE

Asuncion, Paraguay, Oct. 26.—The inauguration today of an art exposition here for the benefit of Belgium and French relief funds was made the occasion of a great socially demonstration. In his opening speech, the president of the exposition declared Paraguay's prayers were for a speedy and victorious peace to the allies.

THE POLISH LEGION

Washington, Oct. 26.—Approval has been given by the war department of Gen. Paderewski's project of raising a Polish legion in this country for service in Europe. In announcing this today, Secretary Baker explained that the force will not be articulated directly with the American army, but rather to give any further information, saying the plan was wholly that of its originator.

SOUTHERN VETERAN DEAD

Toronto, Oct. 26.—E. J. Hovendon, a civil war veteran, died here last night at his home here, aged 85. He came here from Dublin, Ireland, in 1864, and at the outbreak of the war enlisted in the Confederate army, after seeing some fighting in the grey-coated ranks. He was transferred to the navy and served until the end of the war, principally in blockade running. Since 1865 he has lived in Toronto.

LEADERS CENTER

Regina, Oct. 26.—The Hon. J. A. Calder and Donald MacLean, who will succeed Mr. Willoughby as leader of the opposition in the provincial legislature, are in the city today. They held a conference regarding the basis of representation in the province, but declined to give out anything for publication. Mr. Calder had no statement to make as to the constituency in which he would run.

HELPED IN RED CROSS DRIVE

SLAV SOLDIERS CONDEMN ACTION OF PETROGRAD RADICALS

Advocate Delay Until Constituent Assembly Meets; President of Workmen and Soldiers' Council Declares for Armed Revolt Against Government

Petrograd, Oct. 26 (Thursday).—The Russian soldiers on the southern front are petitioning their councils against the plan for the meeting of the central council of soldiers' and workmen's deputies in Petrograd on November 2. They declare the meeting of the constituent assembly should be awaited. Leon Trotsky, president of the executive committee of the Petrograd council of soldiers' and workmen's deputies, speaking at a meeting of the council of the northern Petrograd district of that body, declared that soldiers' and workmen's organizations hitherto had contented itself with a defensive attitude against the provisional government, but that it now must take the offensive. He accused the government of planning to leave Petrograd at a moment of peril.

LECTURE No. 18

Having seen how loss of compression might occur and thus cause trouble, let us take up another of the "Three Essentials," and see how and where there may be trouble due to it.

While I have not yet shown you how to adjust a carburetor, I want to say that the best advice that I can give you with reference to the carburetor is, once adjusted properly, to let it alone.

The adjusting screws of the carburetor are always locked, so that they cannot of themselves move. Therefore, if the mixture was right last week, it will be right this week, as far as these screws are concerned. Unfortunately, the person who knows little about his engine will, when something goes wrong, immediately play with his carburetor adjustment, as he cannot get a shock from it, and those screws are so handy. It is extremely seldom that the poor running of an engine, which ran well a short time ago, is due to the adjustment, while the sudden stopping of the engine is practically never due thereto.

Let me again say, therefore, and say with as much force as possible, that "once your carburetor is adjusted, LET IT ALONE."

Mixture trouble may, however, develop, due to trouble in the flow of the gasoline to the carburetor; to extra air getting into the mixture, between the carburetor and engine; or to water being in the gasoline.

As to the extra air, while this is an unusual trouble, sometimes the bolts holding the carburetor to the manifold, or the manifold to the engine loosen, thus allowing air to get in at these joints and so weaken the mixture. It is a good plan, therefore, to test and tighten these bolts once in a while. By pouring oil around the joints, you can see if there is leakage, as if there is, the oil will be sucked in.

As to trouble due to the flow of the gasoline to the carburetor. The ways in which this might be effected are as follows: You may be out of gasoline; the gasoline may be turned off; the feed pipe may be stopped up; your carburetor may be higher than the level of the gas in tank; if you are on a hill, and have a gravity-feed system; you may have leakage of your air pressure; if you have a pressure-feed system; there may be trouble with your vacuum tank; if you have a vacuum-feed system; the gasoline strainer in the line may be dirty; the float valve of the carburetor may be stuck or clogged.

The illustration shows the spray nozzle, the float and float valve of a carburetor. Later you will learn that the level of the gasoline in the carburetor must always be about 1/16 of an inch below the nozzle. This is accomplished by placing a float, made either of cork or hollow metal, in the liquid in the gasoline chamber, and having this float work a valve.

By referring to the illustration you will notice that, when some of the gasoline is drawn out of the gasoline or float chamber, as it is called, through the spray nozzle, A, the float will drop and thus raise the needle B, and so permit gasoline to enter and take the place of that drawn off. In this way the level in the chamber is always maintained.

This float-valve mechanism can go wrong and thus affect the mixture. The float itself if of cork might become saturated with gasoline (it is protected by shellac), or if of metal might be punctured and fill with gasoline, and thus become too heavy. This would cause the level of the gasoline in the chamber to be raised, and so make the mixture too rich. The float valve arm, C, might stick, either causing the valve to remain open or closed, the mixture thus being too rich or too lean, respectively. Dirt might get in the float valve, thus stopping the flow of the gasoline into the carburetor.

Let us see, by referring to the illustration, if there is not some way by which we can quickly tell if the flow of gasoline has been stopped. When the engine is not running, if we pressed down on the rod E—called primer and sometimes tickler—the needle B would be held in a raised position and gasoline would flow into the carburetor until it overflowed. Thus, if we saw the gasoline coming out through all openings, we would know that the flow was not stopped and, therefore, would be reasonably sure that our trouble, in case of stoppage of the engine, was not due to mixture. On the other hand, if it does not flood, then we know that the trouble is in the feed of the gasoline.

Water in the Gasoline

Water in the gasoline may cause the engine to stop suddenly, but usually the stopping is accompanied by a "popping" in the carburetor and a loss of power. Sometimes the water will cause the engine to sputter a moment, then speed up and again hesitate.

The remedy for water, when the engine has stopped or fails to start due to it, is to drain the carburetor after gently tapping it.

If you know your spark is O.K. and that your feed line is all right, suspect water.

Every Owner Should Know Workings of Storage Battery

Millions of Dollars' Loss Every Year Due to Not Understanding Electric Starting and Lighting Device; Chemical Solution Should Be Looked After; Distilled Water Needs Frequent Replenishment

The fact that the average motor car owner in America does not understand the construction of his storage battery and the care it needs, is responsible for millions of dollars' loss every year through premature failure of this important unit of the automobile's equipment. The average life of a storage battery in actual service is 15 months. With proper care this length of service can be raised to 20 months or more. Suppose we try to see why and how.

There are several different kinds of storage batteries in use today. The most common is the lead storage battery, the same type with dry electrolyte and the Edison nickel-iron battery, being those commonly encountered. In motor car equipment the lead storage battery with liquid solution is the prevailing type.

The automobile storage battery is an electro-chemical unit, containing plates of a lead composition submerged in a solution of sulphuric acid, known as electrolyte and having a specific gravity of 1.30 at 70 degrees F. The plates in the battery are of two distinct kinds, known as positive and negative. The current leaves the battery by way of the positive and returns through the negative. The battery plates are made in the form of grids, the spaces being filled with a special composition of lead. The positive plates have a filler consisting of peroxide of lead, reddish brown in color. The negative plates employ a spongy composition of lead.

These plates are separated by strips of specially treated wood, or sometimes of other materials. The elements, positive and negative plates, which are filled, or nearly so, with a solution of sulphuric acid. Each of these jars is known as a cell and a battery may consist of one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, or more cells, according to the power needed.

Chemical Action Never Stops

The word "storage" in connection with the electro-chemical battery conveys a false impression. The storage battery does not store anything. The actual work of the battery consists of a chemical action between the acid solution, and the active material contained in the plates. Now this chemical action is always going on within the battery, even when it is not actually giving out current. But when the part is being called upon to deliver power, the violence of the chemical action is enormously increased.

When electrical current is generated and dispatched on its way as directed by the driver of the car—to start the motor, light the lights, or what not—the chemical action within the battery which produces the current also produces a substance known as lead sulphate which is deposited on the plates. This sulphate is a white substance and its presence on the plates weakens the action of the battery because its formation has actually withdrawn acid from the solution or electrolyte. Thus, if this condition reaches its ultimate stage, the plates would be thick with sulphate deposits and all the acid would be withdrawn from the electrolyte, leaving plain water. In this case the battery would be able to produce no current whatever.

Now when electrical current from an outside source is sent into the battery it causes a reaction to take place, which is exactly the reverse of the former as it breaks up the sulphate deposit on the plates and drives it back into the liquid in the form of acid. When this operation has been completed and all the deposit has been removed the battery ready to begin its chemical action again and produce electric current.

Must Keep Water in Battery

It is obvious that the liquid with which the battery cells are filled, in the course of time, will suffer evaporation. This is doubly so because the chemical action of the battery produces a certain amount of heat, which hastens losses due to inevitable evaporation. To make up for this and keep the liquid up to the proper level, distilled water must be added at regular intervals, once a week in warm weather and once in two weeks during the cold season. Filtered water may be bought at any drug store or general store, or rain water or water made by melting ice may be used. When the liquid has been reduced by evaporation obviously its acid content is just the same, and all that is necessary is to bring it up to the proper level by adding the plain water.

On the other hand, if any of the liquid has been spilled or has leaked out of the jars in any way, acid has also been lost, so that in replenishing it will be necessary to add acid and water in proper amounts, that is to say with a specific gravity of 1.30 F.

Whenever the owner opens his battery to refill the cells with water he should test the electrolyte with an instrument called a hydrometer syringe. This is a large glass cylinder with a rubber bulb at one end and a small graduated cylinder inside. By means of the rubber bulb a quantity of the liquid is drawn up into the cylinder, and by its depth indicates the specific gravity of the fluid. If this is 1.28 to 1.30, or thereabouts, the battery is fully charged; if it falls to 1.15 the battery is discharged and should be recharged at once.

Modern Car Reduces Work

The modern car strives to remove much of the work of caring for the battery from the shoulders of the owner. A generator is installed to recharge the battery as the car runs. This is a great convenience, but it may also be incorrectly adjusted and overcharge or undercharge. The driver will have to find out what the recharging is demanded by his particular form of service and have the charging rate set to meet that condition. Also remember that even though the generator may be perfectly attuned to the needs of the operator, keeping the battery perfectly charged all the time, it will not put water in the cells. The car owner must do that with his own hands, if he wants to be sure the part is properly maintained.

If the battery is kept properly charged there is no need to worry about the electrolyte freezing, as the acid prevents that occurrence until 40 or so degrees below zero is reached. When a persistent breakage of cells occurs it may be set down to an improper mounting of the battery. The clamps holding the part in place should be tightened occasionally. If the battery discharges with undue rapidity, short circuits should be looked for, and the wiring system should be inspected at intervals for this trouble. The terminals must be kept clean and bright and it is well to grease them occasionally to prevent rust and corrosion.

GERMANS USE ROPE FOR AUTO TIRES

Rubber Not to Be Had at Any Price in Germany and Austria

The only automobile in Germany running on pneumatic tires is Kaiser Wilhelm's. Even the crown prince is denied the luxury. Along with von Hindenburg, Ludendorff, von Mackensen and the other dictators in the German crown, the crown prince humpers along to the front on tires filled with rags, compressed cork and paper. These observations form but a small part of the anthropology of facts gathered by Victor Vander Linde, special technical representative of B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company, who just returned from Europe after a long study of the conditions abroad. In some countries tires are not to be had at all, except at a fabulous price, and only a dozen or two high government officials have had one on the witness stands for weeks, literally speaking; gasoline is worth more than champagne and is obtainable only with government consent, and nine-tenths of the automobiles are not running.

"German scientists have tried to improve for the scarcity of rubber by compounding what they call synthetic rubber," said Mr. Van der Linde, "but in this they have been unsuccessful. There is not an ounce of crude rubber in it at all, and therefore it is devoid of fibre. Then again it has cost about 15 times more a pound than the vegetable.

"Most automobiles have ground away their shoes and move about on rims bound with rope. I was fortunate to find a taxicab in Berlin—a taxicab is rare there now—and experienced the sensation of riding in a machine having nothing but rope bound around the wheels. It was just like riding on a wagon. Every time the car struck a cavity in the road you were jolted clear through.

"There isn't a bicycle tire left in Germany outside of those on military bicycles. Balde by the wholesale were conducted on shops and residences and all bicycles tires seized. These have been reduced to permit their remaking as automobile tires. In fact, everything in rubber has been reclaimed for the construction and submarine battery cells.

"The cargo of the Deutschland on its last trip was almost exclusively rubber, but so pressing was the demand for the use of rubber in dirigibles that none of it, with the possible exception of enough for the building of tires for the royal family, was allowed to go into tires.

"Single sheets of rubber were sent in letters from the United States until Great Britain opened these and confiscated the contents. After this channel had been closed she purchased large numbers of automobiles in this country and had them shipped to Sweden. There she stripped the automobiles of the tires and abandoned the brand new machines to the Swedes. But now Great Britain permits no cars shipped to Sweden with tire equipment."

Mr. Van der Linde gave the prevailing price of tires in the following countries:

Germany—None to be had.
Austria—None to be had.
Sweden—$650 for a tire if you have a permit from Royal Automobile Club.
Norway—$480, with permit.
Denmark—$320 for a tire if you can find one and give written assurance to government that it will not go to Germany.
Holland—$850 for a tire with government guarantee.
Russia—$100 for one tire.

Great Britain—$90 for one tire.
France—$80 for one tire.
Italy—$100 for one tire.
Spain—$125 for one tire.

"In Sweden," continued Mr. Van der Linde, "there are 10,000 automobiles. There are 1,000 in operation and 9,000 tires from which has disappeared all semblance of the original casing. Tires hold 20 and 30 patches. Sweden has been placed in this predicament because of the number of tires that have gone to Germany from its ports.

"Gasoline," Mr. Van der Linde said, "is as big a problem as tires. In no country can you get it without government permit, and in Germany the prices are practically prohibitive. A pleasure trip of 200 miles would cost the average German $200 in gasoline alone."

This is the European scale of prices of "gas":

Germany, $6 a gallon; Austria, $4; Great Britain, $50; France, $115; Sweden, $175; Holland, $150; Denmark, $185; Italy, $1; Spain, $110; Greece, $150.

L. S. LAMPS PROJECT

70 Feet of ROAD LIGHT

THROWS A PERFECT ARC DOUBLE THE WIDTH OF CAR FOR FULL 70 FEET—10 FEET WIDE—AND AT 70 FEET THE RAY OF LIGHT IS ONLY 12 INCHES FROM THE GROUND.

L. S. Lamps do not necessitate a complete change of lenses. Your old ones are all that is necessary.

L. S. Lamps work on a fundamental principle; all obstructions on the lens detract from the driving light.

L. S. Lamps have no obstruction on lens or reflector.

100% efficient for any car using electric lights. Full compliance of all headlight laws.

81% of light on the road for first 60 feet, balance of light thrown in soft non-glare rays for full three-quarters of a mile.

Installed in 15 minutes.

To break an expensive lens means a big loss, besides probably having to wait several days for a new one. One extra L. S. Lamp can be carried in tool box and at the most will only cost you a small sum.

Provincial authorities have given hearty endorsements to L. S. Lens after very exhaustive tests.

No matter what car you are driving—if it has electric lights—try a pair of L. S. Lamps. They have surprised the most skeptical in their efficiency.

20,000 cars in Alberta must be equipped with a non-glare headlight. To get the very best for our money is human nature—then drive your car around to L. S. Garage and let Nick show you his perfect light.

FLASH DRAMA IS FEATURE ACT OF NEW ORPHEUM BILL

Third Episode of "The Retreat of the Germans at the Battle of Arras"; Bill Opens Monday Evening

The leading attraction at the Orpheum next week will be Miss Emily Wellman, who will appear in "Young Mrs. Stanford," a flash drama written by Edward Eisner. For her debut in vaudeville, Miss Wellman has been fortunate enough to secure a vehicle that is distinctly different. "Young Mrs. Stanford," in its presentation, is as unique as was "On Trial" and every bit as satisfying.

Arthur Deagon, musical comedy star, will present his "Songs and Stories." Mr. Deagon is one of the most entertaining singers in vaudeville. In musical comedy he is equally popular. He has been the principal comedian at the New York Hippodrome, and with various important musical comedies. The two parts that have brought him the most recognition were probably in "The Belle of New York" and "The Telephone Girl," but regardless of what he is playing and where he plays.

Max G. Cooper and Irene Ricardo will be seen in a comedy singing skit, "Ah, Gimme the Ring." Miss Ricardo is an eccentric comedienne of the highest type, and Mr. Cooper is an adequate foil. Together they provide a quarter of an hour of first class entertainment.

Frank Burt, Ed. Johnston and company will present their comic oddity, "Bluff." "Bluff" is such a common term in everyday life that all of us use it so frequently that it is not necessary to say more than that Burt and Johnston will show what "Bluff" in vaudeville means.

Tuna Edwards and Olga Maxwell will appear in their spectacular skit, "Mr. Dikane Does Not Alternates."

A vaudeville mixture, according to Lloyd and Britt consists of dance, comedy and several costume changes. Whether these are the necessary ingredients or not doesn't matter, because they are sufficient anyway to serve the purpose of these two vaudevillians, pure and simple.

The skating bear, Lotzke, will put on an

A GREAT AMERICAN DRAMA COMES BACK

"In Old Kentucky" Revives Memories of 20 Years Ago; at Grand for Three Days

It has been a season for melodrama in the theaters and the poor world has been tremendously strained to cover all the different kinds of shows that have had to be included in this all-embracing title. We have seen modern detective melodrama, society melodrama, English melodrama, humorous melodrama and half a dozen variations. It remains for "In Old Kentucky," however, to bring the real old-fashioned American melodrama, the kind that packs the big theaters, the kind that old people—as we of today call them—go to see again and wipe their eyes not so much at the pathos of the actors as at the memories the old play revives.

But the newer generation of theatergoers should not imagine for a moment that "In Old Kentucky" is not a delightful entertainment even in these blasé and cynical days. Doubtless there are certain crossnesses of construction that would not be tolerated in a modern play, doubtless there is often an overemphasis on certain emotional situations, doubtless the actors from necessity, and because it is part of the play, declaim certain lines in a manner to make the worldly-wise auditor smile at and not with the speaker; but the love of excitement and the love of lovers is ever present, and the couple, "True hearts are more than cofinets," etc., always gets its answering thrill, even from the man who has never stopped to think what the words mean. Many people who have forgotten that a man named W. D. Howells ever existed still read Fenimore Cooper. There are plenty of women who openly admit their addiction to periodical doses of Jane Eyre, and men who would do the same if they told the truth.

And so Joe Jorey, the young moonshiner, has the sympathy of the audience when he makes love to Madge, the flower of the mountains, even though everyone knows his suit is hopeless. One waits in expectation of roller skating. She is a mammoth Russian bear.

The third and last instalment of the British government official pictures, "The Retreat of the Germans at the Battle of Arras," will close the bill, and is also one of the features of the program.

THE FAMOUS PICININNY BAND WITH "IN OLD KENTUCKY" AT GRAND NEXT WEEK

A tense silence while he shoots away the bridge over which she must come to help young Frank Layson, lying unconscious, and there is a vast sigh of relief when Madge swings herself across the chasm by the severed rope and throws the spluttering bomb into the gutter before it explodes. It is hard not to begin wondering what would happen if she were ever too late and the bomb burst in her hands.

And again good old Colonel Sandusky Doolittle quite wins the hearts of his auditors today as he did twenty years ago, particularly when he foresees attendance at the race tracks and limits himself to three juleps a day—"on the honor of a Kaintuckian, mam"—at the behest of the lady it took him twenty years to propose to. And it is the same with the homely humor of Neb, the old family servant, who dates from "befo de wahn," and the villainy of Horace Holton as black as his whiskers.

Everybody knows exactly just how that race is going to come-out and everybody knows who the jockey is and so forth, but it all holds its excitement and the man who doesn't find it amusing and interesting and even a bit touching in keeping himself bliss or "highbrow" out of pure obstinacy. Then there is the picnicking band which is always welcome and which plays as if it couldn't get out of swing if the earth blew up, and the skidding of the "niggers" in the beginning of the second act which always brings its roars of laughter.

"In Old Kentucky," along with a few others—very few—of the old time plays, is an institution. It's something like the "sulle plur an' lasses" our grandmothers used to prescribe in the spring. Perhaps we don't heed it every year, but its good for us to have it every once in a while and it still better than many of the new-fangled stage "cakes for the bees."

The present production is well staged and the piece is presented by a cast of excellent ability will be seen at the Grand next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with matinee Saturday.

ALFRED BROWN SHOWS IN PLAY, "LOVE OF A KING"

Will Be Welcomed by Calgary Playgoers in the New Romantic Play

That Albert Brown will shortly pay one of his always welcome visits here, will be good news to local playgoers, and an added interest will attach to the engagement through his presentation of the new romantic drama, "The Love of a King," which will give to Mr. Brown opportunities to display his

An important addition to Mr. Brown's supporting company this season is Miss Lenore Phelps, who, according to the press is both beautiful and highly talented, and is perfectly suited to the role of a Quakeress, with whom the Prince of Wales falls in love.

Year-Round Sedan—Two Sizes and Two Styles

19 New Creations

By Mitchell Body Designers
The Big Array of Motordom

There are 19 new-style bodies in the Mitchell line this fall. All designed by Mitchell artists and built in Mitchell shops.

All of them exclusive. All with many features which no other like type offers. There was never before so wide a choice of up-to-date designs.

Our New Supremacy

A year ago our new body plant gave us the chance for which we long had waited—to excel in body building.

So we employed famous designers—men who had made their mark. And we told them to make the Mitchell line supreme in variety and beauty.

The result today is 19 new designs. Each is a master creation. Together they cover every popular variety of absorbing springs. And on countless unique attractions.

Nothing has been overlooked. The first step in our designing was to examine over two hundred late models, so not a wanted feature would be missed.

The favorite types are our year-round cars. That is, Sedans and Coupes which combine open and closed cars. These are ideal types for any season, any weather. The Mitchell Club Sedan will appeal instantly to those desiring something different.

The Car of the Day

The Mitchell is the car of the day. It is built to the standard of 100 per cent over-strength, to make it a lifetime car. It has 31 features which many cars omit.

It typifies the results of factory efficiency. It is built under John W. Bate, the efficiency expert, in a factory which he designed. The millions we save in this way go into extra values. Come see this car in some of the new-style bodies.

THE NEW L. S. LAMPS

With the new provincial laws coming into force compelling negligent car owners to protect themselves and other cars by using non-glare devices for their headlights, comes a new idea for the farmer. The acres in the L. S. Garage, is a genius in the mechanical line, and now he has applied his active brain to the solution of finding an inexpensive non-glare headlight. He has very admirably done so.

He applied common sense, an attribute a few of us have, to the subject in hand and now we find him with endorsements from very prominent provincial authorities attesting their hearty approval, both for its simplicity and actual efficiency.

Mr. Lenon fronts one-half of the electric lamp, giving the driver the same result as if he had spent many dollars on a very expensive lens. That the car owner has a driving light of 70 feet in front of his car that is not over 13 inches from the ground, and is read to the other side of the car one-half of the car's width. Thus for one-half to three-quarters of a mile he has a beautiful soft light that is absolutely safe.

SHOULD CONSERVE MANPOWER BY USE OF MOTOR TRUCKS

Motor Vehicles Destined to Play an Important Part in Helping to Relieve Labor Shortage Problems

Never before in the world's history has such a responsibility rested upon any one class of people as that which now rests upon the farmer. The acres in their keeping—and these acres alone—can furnish the ammunition of food which is to decide the future of civilization.

It is imperative that every ounce of manpower be conserved that our acres may produce the necessities for our army and our civilians.

Motor vehicles are destined to play an important part in helping to relieve the problems of labor shortage brought about by the war. The call for men in the war has resulted in the enlisting and drafting of many men who drove delivery wagons and did other kinds of teaming. As a modern farmer is a business man—being forced to make use of some method of hauling that will enable one man to do the work of two and sometimes more. One truck may perform the work of three horse-drawn wagons and thus one man can take the place of three, releasing two for military or other service.

This condition is not peculiar to the city alone. In the smaller towns and to just as great an extent on the farms, the same holds true. With farm labor scarce and high-priced, the ability of a truck to release two men for military or farm service is a considerable item, particularly when it is considered that at the same time in each case twenty-five acres of land are released for the production of food for humans.

It requires five acres of tillable land to support a horse; three acres to support a man, each year. If each motor car took the place of only one horse, of the 4,000,000 old motor vehicles release 40,000,000 acres of land for the production of food for more than 15,000,000 men—the total force now employed by the allies.

Now is the time when we should look to a solution of the problem of supplying men, and there is no better place to begin than by motorizing every movement where it is feasible. It does not take a far-seeing man to understand that motor trucks and motor cars make possible an amount of work being done by one man and a truck double, triple, yes, in many instances quadruple that of a man and team.

RETURNED MEN TO QUALIFY FOR DRIVING MOTORS

A Large Number Studying Motor Mechanics With That Object in View

Ask ninety per cent. of the men who return to Canada from the front disabled for their former occupation, what they would like to do, and they'll ask for a course in motor mechanics.

Tommy's feet up on a workbench. He has tramped all over France and England and he's done with "hoofing it." The mechanical part he knows little about, but the idea of sitting in a closed car bolted with fourteen-inch upholstery and his foot on a brake looks pretty good to him.

The interviewers of the military hospitals commissioner who takes a man's vocational history and hopes on his return to Canada, find that the demand for motor mechanics' courses is far in advance of the need Canada will ever have for motor drivers or menders.

The interest is manifest not only by the men who are to learn new trades in the vocational training centers of the M.H.C., but by those who have worked for many years at other trades entirely unrelated. Any number of men with skill in another job would throw it over to take up motor mechanics if they were given the opportunity.

ducting the society's work with all thoroughness in Calgary. Eighth avenue and Center street will be the dividing lines for four districts and each district will be under the supervision of a vice-president, as follows: Northeast, Mrs. Cooper; northwest, Mrs. Lawson; southeast, Wm. Pierce, and southwest, Mrs. Gilker.

ANGEL OF MARNE AND ITALIAN FRONT NOW IN AMERICA

Countess Chiquita Mazzuchi Won an Officer's Rank; Has Twice Been Hit and Gassed Once

(From the Detroit News) Blue fire flashed from the eyes of the Countess Mazzuchi, angel of the Marne and valiant friend of the soldiers on the Italian firing line, as she told of what her "children" are enduring "over there."

Her hands, now work hardened, were bejeweled once, for Countess Mazzuchi is the daughter of a Spanish ambassador and an English woman, the niece of Cardinal Vaughan.

ABDUCTION CASE Montreal, Oct. 26.—Charged with abducting a 10-year-old girl, Theodore Senebian, a blind beggar, appeared in the police court this morning and was remanded. The little girl, Germaine Fance, was allowed by her parents, who reside in Longueuil, to act as Senebian's escort. Several days ago the couple were missing and were found at St. Hyacinthe.

Sign That Gas Service Contract Now NOTICE AFTER NOVEMBER 3rd, 1917, owing to the approach of winter, the Calgary Gas Company, Limited, cannot accept orders for service installations, where it is necessary to open pavement to make the connection. Proper repairs cannot be made by the City Paving Department after frost has entered the ground. The present schedule of prices for service installation will also be withdrawn on that date. CALGARY GAS CO., LIMITED

For a Kicker's Breakfast! Most men are critical about coffee. They travel around among the best hotels and taste coffee prepared by expert chefs. Now Red Rose Coffee was produced especially to meet the critic's keen, educated taste. It is a blend of the richest coffees, and is crushed—not ground. Some men, whom we know to be real kickers, have been kind enough to say that the flavor is equal to that of any coffee they have ever tasted. If you are a kicker, have your wife make you a cup and then tell us what you think of Red Rose Coffee. The same price as it was three years ago. ESTABROOKS RED ROSE CRUSHED COFFEE

SALE OF TAX CERTIFICATES NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Treasurer of the City of Calgary, at his office at the City Hall, Calgary, on and after the 21st day of November, 1917, will sell to the first applicant Certificates of Delinquency for unpaid taxes levied or assessed prior to the 1st day of January, 1916, on the land included in the list—printed copies of which may be had on personal or written application to the Treasurer or City Clerk, City Hall, Calgary—if such taxes with interest and costs are not sooner paid.

A Memento of the Marne. But there is a bullet still in her body, a memento of the part she played in the Battle of the Marne. She came off with broken ribs from a blowing up on the Italian front and she has a bad, disconcerting cough which was started by "gas" and which makes one wish that she might take the time from grating fenders to the soldiers to get a little rest and sunshine.

"Oh, that cough!" the countess says lightly. "It must get rid of it before I go back, or at least I must get better or they won't let me go up to the Second Army."

Discipline in a Hospital "I was racing along when a bomb struck my bicycle and I was blown up and thrown forty meters back. My ribs were broken, but I quickly got to the hospital."

"When I entered the hospital I found that some of the men had been carried to the cellar and that the five attendants also had gone to the cellar, leaving many wounded entirely uncared for. Men with grave wounds had crawled under their little iron beds seeking a measure of protection, and were lying on the broken glass, which was splintered all over the floor. Many of them had one or both legs cut off or were otherwise incapacitated. I don't see how they managed to get under the beds."

"I called the five attendants up from the cellar. Then I called them down." These are the words I said to them: "My children, you went to the cellar when the shelling began. Here the men with grave wounds uncared for. It is when there is danger that these wounded men need us, not when it is safe. Tomorrow all five of you shall start for the firing line."

DON'T MISS SATURDAY'S HERALD

There's good, live news in every issue of the HERALD, but Saturday's special, exclusive features give you ample good reading and news for over the week-end.

Mystery Adventure "Arthur B. Reeve is well and favorably known to magazine readers all over the American continent. He is the creator of Craig Kennedy, the scientific mystery detective, and his stories have appeared for a long period in the Cosmopolitan. The Herald has now arranged for a series from the pen of Mr. Reeve. The first of these, entitled "The Treasure Train," will appear in Saturday's issue.

"Abe" and "Mawruss" Reprove "Count" Bernstorff POTASH AND PERLMUTTER will be with us again in their mirth-provoking dialogue about current affairs. This week they will hold a lengthy discussion about Ambassador Bernstorff's expense account, together with realistic imaginings about the calling down he received from the Kaiser when he got to Berlin for his bungling of things in America. More clever illustrations will be reproduced with this feature.

Modern Medical Marvels in the War DO YOU KNOW anything about the great work the Military Hospitals Commission is doing to restore to normal health and mental attitude our maimed and wounded soldiers as they return from France? Have you heard about the wonderful medical and scientific instruments and apparatus that is being used to this end? Are you aware how a man paralyzed from the waist down is gradually taught the use of his limbs again? A full-page article on this subject will be found in Saturday's issue. It is both interesting and instructive and is handsomely illustrated.

Will Alberta Have Another Oil Boom? QUITE RECENTLY a big oil strike was made at Peace River Crossing in the far northern part of Alberta. The Herald has obtained some very interesting exclusive photographs illustrating this strike. They will appear in Saturday's issue together with a brief account of the drilling operations which resulted so successfully.

Current Fiction and Book Gossip THE SATURDAY literary department will be as full of interest as ever. The fall fiction season is now in full swing and a number of the new books will be reviewed. In addition there will be the regular gossip literary letter from London, of which Hayden Church is the author this week; also "Leaves From a Reader's Diary," containing comment on current literature.

Home and the Children FOR THE WOMAN who is interested in her home or for the parent who likes to delight the little ones with timely children's stories, The Herald Home Magazine page furnishes articles and illustrations of interest in great variety. "The Little Children of Mother Goose Village" are with us weekly and make splendid bedtime stories for the junior members of Herald families.

The Stage Auto News Dogs HAVE YOU A HERO or heroine of stageland? In the dramatic page you will find reliable news of their latest achievements. To those who know what it means to "get out and get under," the auto news is of special interest. Dog lovers turn naturally to the Saturday Herald for the latest news in the canine world.
