

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Behring Sea Seizures in Violation of International Law.

Thinking as the Existing Law—Higher Official Salaries—Beveridge's Proposition—The Fishery.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 23.

One of the most important questions under consideration in Washington today is undoubtedly the fisheries question. Upon it hinges a very large measure of the maintenance of international law between Great Britain and the United States, as well as the welfare and prosperity of the people on either side.

There seems however, to be good reason to believe that while the United States will adhere to its announced policy in respect to the fisheries, it is prepared to admit that the seizures of fishing boats were in violation of international law.

This session of Congress promises to be one of investigation and reform. Several hundred hunters are already on the war path, and a resolution has been adopted in investigation into the management of the public printing office under the direction of Mr. Benedict.

There is a large number of discharges from the army and navy, and a large number of honorably discharged soldiers and sailors have been dismissed by Mr. Benedict in the House of Representatives.

The meeting of Mr. White of Indiana on the ground of his not being a naturalized citizen of the United States will naturally excite the political complexion of the House. Mr. White is a Republican and it is confidently anticipated that upon his being unseated a Democrat will be elected a majority of the House.

The tariff is still the absorbing question in political circles, and every other congressman seems to think it his duty to introduce a tariff or to amend the tariff.

Everything that pertains to the tariff is at present under the consideration of the committee on ways and means, but the committee on the tariff has also reported in some way or another the existing fiscal laws.

That we are moving in the direction of higher official salaries is manifest. From time to time the salaries of the various officials have been increased.

The Revival Meetings. These interesting meetings have been held every evening this week in Wesley Church, Pandora avenue. Fair meetings are in attendance at each meeting and much good has been accomplished. The meetings are conducted by Revs. Starr and Wadman. The first few evenings there was but a small number present, but as the meetings have proceeded a deep interest has been created in the people, and of late the meetings have been exceedingly large.

A Keenly Fictive. There has been a note in the window of Jamieson's book store for several days past a crayon portrait of Mrs. G. L. Milne, but her features are not those of the real Mrs. Milne, of Toronto. The crayon was drawn by a photographer, and is a remarkably accurate portrait of Mrs. Milne. The artist is one of the leading artists of Canada and during the past several years has obtained distinguished recognition wherever his oil and crayon work has been exhibited.

Extensive Smuggling. A gentleman who claimed to be well informed, made the following statement in a reporter of the Victoria Colonist: "The number of Chinamen in the port of Victoria is increasing rapidly. I also claim to have positive information that 1,227 came over the line from British Columbia in the last week. I am sure that this is not a small number, and that the number of Chinamen in the port of Victoria is increasing rapidly. The Submerged Locomotive. Further particulars have come to hand regarding the sinking of the locomotive No. 1103. It is ascertained that on Wednesday night the locomotive came from Spauk pushing ahead of her train consisting of a passenger car, a freight car and three box cars. All went well until the train was within a few hundred yards of the depot and the engineer commenced slowing down, when all at once the trouble began to give way under the heavy engine. As it went down the engine broke through the surface of the water into the water except the locomotive. It now lies on a soft bottom about 100 feet below the surface. The engine was owned by the Victoria Railway and Transportation Company. The engine was owned by the Victoria Railway and Transportation Company.

An original blunder. An eastern express contains the following: "Green Victoria must be used. It is understood that the water crossing at Baton street has been suspended for the present, owing to the damage done by the work not being up to specification."

The second item in the dinner bill of the Chung Ching and Lee Man, on the evening before, the first day of the Chinese New Year, was attended by several leading men of the city. It is said that the Chinese of Toronto appreciate a good thing.

The clerk informed the board that he had received a contract from Drake, Jackson & Helms. This was read and His Worship called the attention of the council to a mistake in the contract. The water commissioner's name appears, when it should be the contractor's name. The mayor and city council.

Coun. Braden said a rumor was being circulated that the Albion Iron Works would receive 90 per cent. at the first payment. This was not correct, as the contract price would be paid in four equal instalments, like any other contract.

Coun. Styles moved that the contract drawn up by Messrs. Drake, Jackson & Helms be accepted, and that the city clerk sign the same and attach the seal of the corporation.

Coun. Conaghan seconded the resolution, which was not put, as an agreement was had that the council go into committee of the whole. A motion was made to close the meeting and the contract was taken up clause by clause.
