Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol → (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ▼ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entiraly included in one exposure are filmed baginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Library Division
Provincial Archives of British Columbia

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les examplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole → signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ▼ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents.
Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

The Association will take reasonable precaution to ensure the safety of articles sent to the Exhibition, but the owners themselves must take the risk of exhibiting them, and should any article be accidently injured, lost or stolen, the Association will give all the assistance in their power toward the recovery of the same, but will not make any payment for the value thereof.

At the close of the Exhibition exhibitors must remove their exhibits as early as possible. Any article or stand left in the buildings or grounds after this time will be at the risk of the owner.

Horses must be shown uncovered, and in such a manner as Judges may require or allow and if exhibitors refuse to submit to the proper requirements of the Judges, their animals will be ruled out, but exhibitors will have the privilege of showing their animals in harness, to bridle or under saddle, as they may prefer.

All animals competing for prizes must be brought out for the inspection of the judges or for exhibition whenever called out by the official appointed to attend to that duty.

Exhibitors who desire to take their animals home at night will be allowed to do so on depositing $5 with the Secretary as a guarantee for the return of the animal next morning. If the animal is not returned by 9 o'clock next morning, the amount deposited will be forfeited to the Association.

Exhibitors can ascertain from the superintendents of the several departments when the Judges may be expected to examine their animals or articles. No complaint or appeal based upon the statement that the Judges have overlooked animals or articles will therefore be considered by the Directors.

It is particularly requested that the Judges will not enter into argument with exhibitors as to the merits of their exhibits.

Judges will please sign and hand in their awards to the Secretary or his assistant as soon as possible, and make their more extended reports afterwards, making such recommendations as circumstances or their experience may suggest.

The Judges are particularly requested not to leave the grounds of until they have ascertained from the Secretary that there are no protests against the awards in the class that they have judged.

In the absence of competition in any section, the Judges will award only such premiums as they think the articles deserving of. They will exercise their discretion as to whether they will award the first, second or any premium. In no case are premiums to be awarded unless exhibit is worthy.

It does not follow that because a prize is offered for any particular animal or article that it must be a varded, unless there is a proper competition, or unless the exhibit is really of sufficient merit to warrant the award being made. The JUDGES ARE PARTICULARLY REQUESTED TO NOTE THIS FACT.

In addition to the stated remiums offered for animals or articles in the list, the Judges may a. o distinguish such animals or articles as they consider deserving of notice, but which have not received prizes, by tickets with the words "Highly Commended" upon them. These tickets will not entitle the holder to any money payment.

In awarding prizes for breeding cattle, sheep or pigs, Judges are especially instructed not to take into consideration their present value to the butcher, but to decide according to their relative merits for the purpose of breeding.

The ages of all live stock will be computed from the 1st of January of the year of birth.

In judging blooded stock, regard will be had to the purity of breed established by pedigree, size, form, action and general characteristics of the various breeds, making proper allowance for age.

No animal will be allowed to enter or compete in more than one class, or section, except for the medal for the best of any age in its class, and in Special Prizes and Herds.

class, and in Special Prizes and rierus.

Each award must be written in a plain, careful manner, on the blank page opposite the number of the entry, with the name of the exhibitor. See clauses 2 and 3, page 29.

The Judges are expected, in the execution of their duties, to be careful to act with the most rigid impartiality, and make their entries in a clear and conspicuous manner; in all cases of doubt or difficulty referring freely to the Secretary or to the Committee of the Association in charge of the department.

For further information see instructions under entries.

MISCELLANEOUS.

If any person, through ignorance of regulations, shall bring things to the Exhibition without having entered them at the proper time, the me may, in the discretion of the Superintendent in charge of seve al departments, be allowed to be brought upon the grounds, and so placed that they may be examined by the public, but shall not be classified, nor shall any official examination of them be made or premiums awarded.

Where space 1 is been awarded to any exhibitor, the Board of Directors reserve the right, in case any exhibitor shall fail to make or maintain a creditable display, to declare the space allotted to him, or any portion thereof, forfeite. Exhibitors must arrange their exhibits in as neat and attractive a manner as possible, and neatly fit up the space allotted to them, in default of which the Directors may cancel their entries and require the removal of the goods.

. Lastructions have been given by the Directors that no bills will be recognized by the Society unless incurred by order of the Secretary. The parties will please pay particular attention to this fact.

The Board of Directors reserve the right to prescribe the dimensions and regulate the position of all signs, and generally to direct the management of articles on exhibition, so far as the same may be necessary to secure harmony and an attractive appearance. Exhibitors will not be allowed to distribute about the grounds or buildings hand-bills or other advertisements that may cause a nuisance. Neat cards for that purpose are recommended, as they are more likely to be kept by visitors and not thrown on the ground.

No exhibitor or attendant will be allowed to make unseemly noises, that may be considered a nuisance, in calling the attention of visitors to his exhibits; and any exhibitor or attendant that may be guilty of distributing any advertising cards or other notices that may be considered immoral or objectionable by the Board of Directors, shall forfeit his space and all other privileges, and shall be removed from the Exhibition ground.

The parties supplying refreshments at the restaurants must lay in their supply before 9 o'clock, a. m. each day, unless under special unavoidable circumstances, when permission must be obtained from the Secretary.

If any person wilfuly injures or destroys any property within the Exhibition grounds of the Association, or hinders or obstructs the officers or servants of the Association, or any policeman or constable duly appointed, in the execution of his duty, or gains admission to the rules of the Association, he shall be prosecuted according to law.

No award of a prize not offered in the list will be paid unless sauctioned by the Board of Directors of the Association.

The officers of the Association have the power to enforce these rules and to prohibit and prevent all kinds of gambling: to regulate or prevent the huckstering or trafficing in fruits, goods, wares or merchandise, on the Exhibition grounds; and any person who, after due notice of such rules, violates the same, shall be liable to be removed by the officers, policeman or constables of the said Association, and be subject to the penalties.

FIRE AND POLICE PROTECTION.

The most careful and thorough arrangements possible have been made to guard against fire. A telephone attachment will be had with the fire hall; and with the precaution taken of having watchmen on during the whole night, the danger of the occurrence of fire is very remote; but exhibitors desiring insurance must give it their personal attention.

An ample police force, detailed for the purpose by the city, will be on duty night and day during the continuance of the Exhibition. But exhibitors are expected to exercise constant capervision over their articles on exhibition, as the Association will not be responsible for loss or damage by theft, fire or otherwise. Small and valuable articles should be exhibited in show cases, which may be securely locked when desirable.

Imperative instructions are given to the gate keeper that he will not recognize any authority but the pass issued by the Secretary bearing the presenter's name and address in full.

Tickets will be sold for 25 cents. Every individual entering the grounds will have to pay 25 cents each time of entering. Membership tickets will, of course, entitle the party whose name appears upon them to admission, but not through the turnstiles.

In the cases of both of these, all other occupants will be charged the usual entrance fee of 25 cents.

Gate keepers will be instructed to be on the grounds not later than 8:30 a. m. each day, and will remain upon the grounds until permission to leave is granted by the Secretary.

PRESINCIAL ARCHOUS OF B. J.

The Pacific Coast Province of the Dominion of Canada has an area of over 330,000 square miles. The principal industries are lumbering, salmon fishing, salmon canning and drying, coal, silver, and gold mining.

Halibut fishing also forms an important branch of the trade, and is yearly increasing.

Cattle raising in the interior is carried on extensively, and vast tracts of land are used for this purpose exclusively, returning a large revenue.

The provincial output of lumber has reached an average of over one hundred millions of feet per annum.

The output of coal is over 1,500,000 tons per annun.

Nearly $100,000,000 of gold has been experted since the year 1858.

The exportation of salmon, halibut, and other fish, has reached an average of over $1,000,000 per annum, exclusively of the Provincial markets, and the carload shipments to eastern markets, of the fresh fish, has become a most important branch of the trade.

Until the last five years of its brief history, covering a period of less than half a century, British Columbia has been known to the world only for its great lumber products, its famous brands of preserved salmon, its gold mines, and its stupenduous mountains. From the year 1860, the year in which the Royal Agricultural and Industrial Society was formed, dates the career of this young Province as a producer of agricultural products, fruits, and the staple varieties from which the market gardiner reaps profitable returns for labor and money expended on the land.

It is true that in the year 1875 the B. C. Agricultural association was formed; at that time the greater part of the agricultural, as well as the commercial interests of the Province, were centered in Victoria. The capital had been removed from Westminster there, and the Provincial fairs were invariably held in the new capital. In the meantime the rapid increase of the population of the rich townships on the Mainland, the settlement and clearing for agriculture, fruit growing and stock raising purposes of the valley of the Fraser River, from the Delta to Yale, together with the inconvenience of Victoria as a centre, were causes which gradually led to the formation, by the ranchers and residents of the Mainland, of the young society, with headquarters in the City of Westminster, the natural center and distributing point of the land products, not only of the District of Westminster, but also of the Province generally.

A meeting was held in the old City Hall, in the fall of 1890, representative of the entire Mainland membership of of the pioneer society. A resolution to form a new society was recorded without a negative voice, and the present institution was, after much discussion, finally decided upon. Every agriculturist present, including a number of Vancouver Island men, became members, and the first exhibition of the Royal Agricultural and Industrial Society was held in the Royal City with results far above the anticipations of the most sanguine promoters.

Since then the membership has steadily increased, the benefits of the Society to the farming interests of the Mainland being apparent to every rancher, and the advantages of the easy facilities of communication with the port of Westminster, from nearly every farm along the course of the Fraser by steamer, and from the interior ranges by rail, have finally established the city as the permanent distributing point of the premiums of the Society, and the headquarters of the agrarian interests of the Mainland of British Columbia.

Immediately surrounding this port are the pioneer municipal divisions of British Columbia. The Delta, with a population of over 4,000, bounded by the Gulf of Georgia, the Fraser River and the Township line of Surrey, with 120,000 square miles of land, nearly all of which is capable of the highest cultivation. Its specialties are hay, fruit, oats, wheat, and all kinds of roots, and dairy products. The oats of this district being especially in demand all over the Dominion for rolling and grinding purposes. The Delta holds the distinction of possessing one of the most extensive fruit farms in the Province.

It is besides the chief salmon packing point on the greatest salmon river in the world.

Surrey has an area of 120 square miles, and a population of about 2,500.

It has a large population, and many improved farms, nearly half of which is prairie.

The Great Northern Railway runs through the District from the International Boundary to the City of Westminster, and an hourly service of steam ferry connects with the Surrey and Railway traffic and Brownsville and South Westminster.

OFFICE: Powell Block, 510 Columbia Street, Cor. Lytton Square,

The soil is especially adopted for fruit raising, and has produced a great yield of root crops. It is intersected by two gnavigable streams, the Serpentine and the Nickomekl Rivers.

Surrey is bounded by the Fraser River, Semiahamo Bay, the Delta line, the Langley line and the International Boundary.

A channel survey of the Fraser has been made, with a view to protect the banks from the washing away by the swift currents of the river.

The Mud Bay canal will open another outlet for produce from the rich lands verging on the Delta.

It would be difficult to select a better opening for settlement than that afforded in the uncleared lands of the municipality of Surrey.

Chilliwack has an area of 180 square miles, and containes a population of about 7,500. Lying 50 miles distant from the port of Westminster, it is the nearest district to the coast in which gold is found in the sand bars of the Fraser. This district contains undeveloped silver ledges and coal seams, limestone quarries and good brick clay, and is a famous locality for various kinds of game. This district produces some of the best samples of grain in the Province, and is famous for its fine production of fruit, roots and improved stock, and has the advantage of water and railway communication.

Langley covers an area of 100 square miles, and has a population of 3,000.

It enjoys the distinction of being the oldest settled municipality on the Mainland, and one of the oldest forts of the Hudsons Bay Co. in the Province. The soil is rich, and produces all kinds of grain and fruit grown in the Province, being especially adapted for apples and roots and, like most of the Fraser districts, abounds in large and small game. It has easy communication with the port of Westminster by way of the Fraser River and Great Northern Railway.

Richmond is most advantageously situated between the cities of Westminster and Vancouver, and the Fraser River, and with its inexaustably rich lowlands, and its famous facilities for marketing produce, is destined to become the Holland of America. Large tracts of its richest alluvial lands have been reclaimed within the last four years, and what was then under water is now in fine garden order, and is especially adapted for meadow lands. Maple Ridge has an area of 50,000 acres, and a population of nearly 3,000. It has a frontage of nearly 20 miles on the Fraser River, and its western boundary, the eastern line of Coquitlam, is about 17 miles from this port. It has the Fraser on one side and the Canadian Pacific Railway through its centre, and nearly every point of settlement in the district has a daily mail. It is drained by the Little Lillooet River, is well stocked with valuable timber, and contains some of the richest grain and meadow lands in the Province. The completion of the Pitt Meadow dyking works will open to agriculture a large tract of most valuable land.

Coquitlam has a population of about 150, and is a young and enterprising municipality; it has been gazetted about two years, and is making creditable progress in the matter of a opening up its broad area for settlement. Its southern boundary is the Fraser River, and its further confines are the city lines of Westminster, the lines of Burnaby, Port Moody and Maple Ridge.

It is drained by the Coquitlan River, which is navigable general miles from its mouth, and is one of the finest trout general in the Province.

Its settlements have easy communication with this city by mail and water, and with the seaboard at Vancouver by the C. P. R. The Coquitlam Dyking Commission are engaged in an important work of reclaiming a large portion of its rich meadows, which will be settled by farmers in the near tuture.

In the centre of the district lies the source of the water supply of the Royal City, claimed to be the purest water in the Province, which is forced by immense natural pressure through eighteen miles of what has proved to be the most efficient water system in the Province.

Burnaby District is destined, perhaps, to become one of the most important corporations in British Columbia, situated as it is directly between the twin cities of Vancouver and Westminster, and although one of the latest municipal divisions has already a population of over 400. The old roads are being improved, and new ones cleared and graded. Through the western portion of the district runs a most efficient system of electric railroad, connecting the cities by little over 30 minutes' time.

The B. I. & F. V. line; a continuation of the Northern Pacific railway system, now under construction, crosses the central part of the township, between the Fraser Valley and Burrard Inlet, and taps the timbered section.

The vast advantages of the suburban situation to the corporation are already manifest; and as the cities prosper and spread, the lands of Burnaby will become proportionately valuable, not only for farming and gardening purposes, but as desirable residence lands for business men of the cities.

North and South Vancouver and Dewdney Municipalities are the youngest division of B. C. North and South Vancouver are suburban districts of the Terminal City and, with it, are striding ahead with sturdy steps, as difficult to impede as the tides of Seymour Narrows, and with the advantages of their position with regard to markets at home and abroad, will naturally become important sections of the coast country.

Dewdney has yet to be heard from, as the baby municipal divisions of the coast lands of the crown. She has the mighty Fraser for a roadway to the sea, and is less than 40 miles from the port of Westminster, and since her declaration of municipal independence is making heroic efforts at settlement.

It is a fact, becoming every year more apparent from actual experiment, that British Columbia is especially adopted for hop culture, which is born out also by the report of Prof. Sharp of the Agassiz experimental farm.

The officers, directors and members of the Agriculture Society, with the true interests of their new country deeply at heart, have earned, without laying claim to it, the undisputable reputation of having made the organization a beneficial institution, and a marked success and have been the means of infusing a healthy spirit of friendly emulation in agriculture in all its various branches, as well as in Provincial manufactures and arts, into the constituents of the Society and the community at large, which has already yielded a hundred fold in the fruits of beneficial results.

The City of Westminster is the natural distributing center of the coast divisions of British Columbia, and is in touch with all the agrarian interests of the Province.

It was, therefore, a wise move on the part of the pioneers of the Society, to sink all sectional sentiment, and for the common good to locate the Royal City as their permanent headquarters, and the point of Provincial exposition.

It was a result of common accord that ample and commodious buildings were erected in the largest and most happily situated park in British Columbia. Additions to building and yard conveniences have since become necessary and have been made with the liberality which has, from its inception, been characteristic of the Society, and of the people of Westminster in their dealing with it.

Westminster, with its healthy situation, its splendid water supply system, electric lighting, which compares favorably with any on the continent, its position as the point of intersection of the three great transcontinental railroads, the Canadian Pacific, the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern railways, with a near prospect of a railway and general traffic bridge over the Fraser River, the easy facilities of communication by water from end to end of the most fertile parts of the country, is most advantageously located as the hub of industry, and the ceutre of agricultural business. Added to its other advantages Westminster has a safe and rapid hourly communication with Vancouver, the future metropolis of the North Pacific Coast, and the commercial port and forwarding point for the trade of the Orient and the Australias. There are still further important advantages of Westminster harbor. Fresh water removes barnacles from ships, enabling them to make the best time. The tide does not inconvenience ships from loading. The teredo does not spoil wharves, and there is little wear and tear on them, and the city owns the water front, the water and lighting systems, and the ferrying trade of the Fraser. She controls also the affairs of the public market. Among her institutions are a handsome public library building, well furnished and equipped by extensive purchases and numerous donations. Large parks and recreation grounds, the largest and most attractive lacrosse field in British Columbia, and last, but by no means least, one of the finest bands west of the city of Toronto.

The Society hope to make the Fair of September, 1893, a greater success than they have heretofore attained, and the executive officers are working like heroes to mark this year in the annals of the Society as the opening of a new and progressive era in its history.

Their efforts certainly deserve to be rewarded by success. While pay ig a grateful tribute to the invaluable services of the late Secretary, Mr. T. R. Pearson, in the past, it is only fair to say that this important and responsible office is being ably filled by Mr. A. B. Mackenzie, the present Secretary, who is most ably assisted by the officers and directors for 1892.

It is the intention of the celebration committee, now fully organized, to offer e. considerable sum of money, in prizes, to be competed for during the three days of the Exhibition.

The programme, which will shortly be issued, will contain a complete list of events, and the respective committees.
