LARGE U-BOAT IS SUNK BY BRITISH FREIGHTER

Brisk Engagement Off East Coast of France Eight Days Ago.

An Atlantic Port, Sept. 30.—The sinking of a large German submarine in a battle with a British freight steamship was reported on the arrival of the steamship here today. The battle occurred 150 miles off the coast of France eight days ago. The submarine's gunnery was poor, most of her shots going far over the steamship. After twenty minutes of firing the British gunners scored a hit. Finally a shot from the British vessel struck its mark fairly, and the U-boat disappeared. Officers of the freighter said that the submarine was one of the latest type, and that her guns were of large calibre. Her designating number was hidden from view.

Three Enemy Machines Reported Brought Down in Sunday Night's Attack—Eleven Persons Killed, Eighty-Two Injured in Saturday Night's Raid.

London, Sept. 30.—London was attacked by German aeroplanes tonight following a raid on Saturday night. There is a circumstantial but unconfirmed report that three enemy machines were brought down tonight. While there was a bright moon there also was a slight mist and the raiders were invisible to persons on the streets, but from the sound of the anti-aircraft guns in action the indications were that the raiders were moving over various parts of the district. Field Marshal Lord French reports that two groups of enemy machines, followed by others flying singly, crossed the Kent and Essex coasts between 4.0 and 5 o'clock tonight. They came toward London. About ten penetrated the outer defenses, but only four or five got thru to London itself.

Bombs were dropped in Kent, Essex and London. No details of the damage or casualties have yet been received. Streets Quickly Cleared. The anti-aircraft firing ceased firing shortly after 9 o'clock. In expectation of the air raid the streets of London were much less crowded tonight than ordinarily. A majority of the people got early to their homes and the services in the churches were held at five o'clock instead of seven. Hence, when the warning was issued, the streets were quickly cleared. There were the usual scenes in the tubes and other shelters, but the police and special constables had less difficulty handling the crowds than on previous occasions.

Saturday Night's Raid. Eleven persons were killed and 82 injured in last night's air raid, announced officially. The material damage was not great. Four groups of German aeroplanes attacked Kent and Essex in the course of last night's raid, but most of the machines were driven off. Bombs were dropped in the northeastern and southeastern districts of London and at various places in Kent and Essex. The followings official statement was given by the war office: "The raid on Saturday night was a determined and simultaneous attack made upon London by three groups of aeroplanes. The first group, which approached from different directions, was broken up by anti-aircraft gunfire, and only two or at the most three, penetrated the outer defenses. Bombs were dropped in the northeastern and southeastern districts of London. A fourth group of enemy machines which attempted to approach London was driven off, some of the raiders penetrating the outer defenses of the capital. Bombs also were dropped at various places in Kent and Essex. Full reports of the casualties and damage have not yet been received, but are believed to have been comparatively light. Hostile aeroplanes crossed the coasts of Kent and Essex in groups of eight and nine o'clock. Several attacks were made upon London, and some bombs were dropped on the northeast and southeastern districts. Bombs were also dropped at various places in Kent and Essex. No reports of casualties have yet been received. An Amsterdam despatch of yesterday's date, says: A German airplane of the Gotha type descended near Sas Van Gent, in Zealand, this morning. One of its three passengers was severely wounded. The two un wounded passengers attempted to escape to the frontier, but were caught and all three will be interned. The machine was armed with three machine guns and had aboard six bombs. Likely to Retaliate. There are the best of reasons for believing that the continued German air-attacks on England, with the plain purpose of killing civilians, will not pass without retaliation. The idea of killing women and children is repugnant to the British mind, but just as the army was forced to use poisonous gas against the German soldiers, or be in the position of fighting with one's hands tied behind his back, so the British will be compelled to fight the German air force with bombing German cities, according to the belief now generally held here. They have the necessary means for this, but preferred to use them solely against the fighting men on the battlefield. The defenses of England against attack have proved so strong as to be effective against aeroplanes as they were against zeppelins, which have practically disappeared from business since their invention. But the fact that aeroplanes can scatter bombs is more difficult to deal with. This is shown by the experience of one British squadron in France, which has carried out 113 raids in five months and has lost only four machines. The method of attacking an aerial straggler barrage around London with numbers of heavy guns firing continuously.

Kingston Road Garage Proprietor Opens Bombardment With a Shotgun.

SUPER-SIX ABANDONED

The police are searching for five men who stole a big super-six motor car from a garage on St. George street early Saturday night and after an exciting chase drove it into Dufferin Park race track on Dufferin street, abandoned it. The thieves were chased in a motor car thru the country, and fired at several times with a shot gun. Shortly after Saturday morning five motor thieves drove the stolen car up to Moristia's garage on the Kingston road. J. Moristia, the proprietor of the general store, was awakened by the noise of the men breaking into his garage. By the time he had awakened his sons the car was started and broken open the gas tank and had started to fill the tank of the stolen car. When they saw Moristia and his two sons coming they jumped into the car and sped away. The Moristia got their motor car and, armed with a shot gun, started after the higher powered car. They followed the stolen car to West Hill, and as they made for the Rouge River Hill the proprietor of the general store fired several shots at the men in the car. This, however, did not stop the thieves, who continued toward Pickering Village. Suddenly they swerved off the road, onto one of the concession roads. The proprietor and his sons then gave up the chase and decided to return to their home and notify the city police.

CLIMAX REACHED; MEN ON HOLIDAY

Refuse to Go to Work Monday Under Commissioner Wilson.

STANDS ON HIS RIGHTS

Official Says Employes Have Been Led by Old Trouble-Maker.

A climax in the trouble with the street cleaners and garbage men was reached Saturday morning when the following letter was sent to Mayor Church:

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Wee, the committee appointed by the street cleaners department to place in your hand the decision of the men arrived at in placing before them the refusal of the board of control and city council to give them justice, inform you that (and it is with a great deal of reluctance we do so) the men have unanimously decided to refuse to work under Commissioner George Wilson after this (Saturday) evening at 7 o'clock.

The men agreed to leave the city clean for Sunday, but after that they will not receive any orders issued by Commissioner Wilson.

The men wish to say that they realize that the fault is not yours, as you have endeavored in every way to avert their decision, and they appreciate your efforts.

We remain respectfully yours, (Signed) C. J. Mitchell.

On behalf of the street cleaning department.

The mayor Saturday morning stated that he did not know anything about a strike, but when informed that the men had decided to go out on strike maintained that the board of control will deal with the matter at its next meeting. "It is not a matter for this office," he said. "The men have some rights, and when they come down they had a right to be heard."

"The city is not in the habit of having any trouble with its men. A little tact on the part of everybody would be a good thing. The men are not dictating as to how the city shall be run. Nobody has ever dictated to me in any shape, manner or form. I have never been influenced by anybody in making appointments, and we have made the appointments of the heads of several large departments. The lowest paid men in the city's service have rights as well as others."

Commissioner's Statement.

Commissioner George Wilson, under whom the men refuse to serve after 7 o'clock Saturday, made the following statement:

"I stand absolutely on my rights to administer the affairs of my department. As a body, and it is almost the great majority of the men in my department are willing to go ahead quietly and attend to their work. They have been led into this by a man who was disappointed because he was not promoted to the post of foreman and by a man who has always given trouble to the department."

"These two men," he added, "are in turn being used by a government employee who is attempting to interfere with the administration of the department. The men are being deluded by a would-be boss who wants to use the city hall for his own base purposes. The attack is not only upon me; it is an attack on the heads of all the departments."

In conclusion, he said: "The question is—Are the citizens going to allow the gum shoe business at the city hall?"

It is estimated that the strike—or as the men themselves have called it, a "holiday"—will affect about 614 men, classed as follows:

Drivers 162
Extra drivers 128
Cleaners 222
Hired carts 105

614

A special meeting of the committee representing the men was held Saturday afternoon in the Victoria Hall, when the question of placing pickets, was decided. The general plan for action will also be outlined. The committee is composed of the following: Messrs. W. Kennedy, chairman; C. J. Mitchell, secretary; T. Black, C. Willie, R. Whiteley, F. V. Sheppard, C. Lamey, S. Luck, S. McMurray, M. Lester, W. Robson, and J. Lawrence.

"We are not going on strike," declared Secretary Mitchell, when asked by a reporter from The World. "We simply refuse to work under Commissioner Wilson, and absolutely refuse to go back until he has been removed."

Mr. Mitchell also wished to contradict a statement that appeared in The Telegram on Saturday, in which it was stated that Mr. Wilson removed a small Union Jack from a garbage truck, placed there by the men, and decorated, and the men resented this action and threatened to strike if Mr. Wilson were not dismissed from office. "No such orders had been received from Mr. Wilson," declared Mr. Mitchell, "until after the flag incident on September 17. As a matter of fact, on Friday last Commissioner Wilson issued orders thru the same man, J. Lawrence, to have the flags removed from his trucks, and the order was obeyed."

A special meeting of the men's committee was held in Victoria Hall, Saturday afternoon, when final arrangements were made for the prosecution of their demands. It was agreed that the stable men be allowed to stop on the job and look after the horses. They will assist in unloading the fodder. Also that all night watchmen will stay on their jobs in order to protect the animals that may be about and might prove a menace to health. It was emphatically stated that with this exception nothing else will be collected.

Will Place Pickets.

In order to protect themselves from probable strike-breakers, it was decided to place pickets at the following yards: East End, West End, Yorkville, Davierville, Lansdowne, Dufferin and the Junction.

C. J. Mitchell, the secretary of the special committee, when asked what steps will be taken should the commissioner bring in strike-breakers, would give no statement, simply saying that they rely upon Toronto to be patriotic enough for its citizens to see that this is not allowed. At each stable pickets of eight men will be placed first thing Monday morning should it be thought necessary.

O. B. SHEPPARD

The matter of strike pay was also discussed, but on this matter Mr. Mitchell also refused to say a word, but it was intimated that there is enough money on hand to carry the men over. At the meeting it was also decided to send a statement to each individual alderman and member of the board of control, and they were forwarded by special delivery on Saturday.

Denies Interference.

The statement that appeared in the Saturday evening papers to the effect that Mr. Wilson stated that some of the men are being used by a government employee who is attempting to interfere in the administration of the department, was emphatically denied by W. D. Kennedy, the chairman of the meeting. "We wish to emphatically deny that any outside man has anything to do with our decision," he stated. "It is a matter that is being fought by our own men and them alone. We also contradict the statement of Mr. Wilson that this is an attempt to introduce 'boss rule' in the city hall. We have made no attempt to do this, and do not intend to do so. Neither do we wish to interfere with any other department. If our department was run in the same manner as others there would never have been any kick. It is purely a fight by our men for their own rights, and the men are absolutely united and will stand fast by one another until they win."

It was stated that in the event of a settlement being arrived at at any moment the committee will in close touch with the men, and it will be possible within half an hour to get 500 men out.

J. Mitchell and W. D. Kennedy are established at the men's headquarters in Victoria Hall, where all the business in connection with the strike will be transacted, but the men anticipate a long-drawn-out fight, as they are of the opinion that some action will be taken.

Burns the Garbage.

It is understood that should the worst come Mr. Wilson will probably ask the citizens to burn their garbage for the time being, as this will help to some extent. Mr. Wilson himself was unable to say why a faction will be taken to fill the places of the men who quit on Saturday, but according to a statement made by one of the men themselves, it will be impossible to get men to fill the places, as it is claimed there has been about a 40 per cent. shortage in man power for some time past. The men are making any complaint in regard to their pay or the hours they work.

At the present time they receive a wage of $18 per week, a half day off per week, sick pay for a period of one month in the year, compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act, an annual vacation of two weeks and work nine hours a day. According to the men themselves, they are striking because the commissioner has made their lives a misery and their work a slavery.

Regarding the possibility of the people being asked to burn their garbage it was stated that there is a law against this. When questioned the city solicitor said that he knew of such, but the public health regulations prohibit the keeping of material on the premises dangerous to public health, and the M.O.H. has given the opinion that in garbage there is no danger whatever from a health standpoint, as the danger comes from the breeding in it of flies, which disseminate diseases, which, of course, would not apply in cold weather.

KINGSTON'S FIRST SEMI-READY STORE.

Kingston has its first real semi-ready store. David J. Will of Huntington is opening a new store on Princess street. Every garment in his store will be a genuine semi-ready with the price label in the pocket.

It has been demonstrated that men's fashion shops, selling only these high-class goods, can be profitably maintained in other than the largest cities. The margin between cost and the label price in the pocket is so small that many merchants are prejudiced against semi-ready clothes and say they cannot handle them unless they are also allowed to sell clothes that do not bear the maker's price label. In all the twenty years of semi-ready tailoring no merchant in Kingston could see the profit of featuring the best clothes.

Returned Men Were Treated To Motor Trip to Hamilton

Nineteen amputation cases from the Davierville and College street military hospitals were yesterday treated in the shape of a motor car trip from Toronto to Hamilton, where they were received by Mayor Booker of that city, who stated in his little address of welcome that he thought that this was one of the most ideal ways of entertaining the returned men. Dinner was then served for them at the Royal Ontario Hotel, where they received a great reception, everything being done for their comfort.

The cars belonged to George Lawrence, Albert Lawrence, Robert Lawrence and G. Kelly, who were enthusiastic as to the success of the day's outing.

Great Sales Through Quality Demanded Greater Production

Permanent business is builded through quality and value alone. Permanent, indeed, is the business that marks its progress by such a factory as that we have just occupied at New Toronto.

Seven years of growth have seen the Goodyear factories at Bowmanville, Ontario, become inadequate to meet the demand for Goodyear products. Seven years ago we did not picture even the Bowmanville plant as it is today. And yet Goodyear worth is now recognized to the extent of this great, new, additional home where we will build pneumatic tires.

The story is not one of combining established factories. It is merely the story of a sincere and efficient organization laboring earnestly to maintain an unusual business ideal of value and service to you the consumer.

Even greater than the increase in motor cars has been the increase in the use of Goodyear Tires.

Goodyear features of construction, Goodyear quality of materials, Goodyear service through over a thousand Goodyear Service Stations, all have combined to win economical, shrewd tire buyers to Goodyear Tires.

Expansion is also going on in the bicycle and motorcycle industries. As riders now demand improved machines so they demand improved tires—Goodyear tires.

That youthful giant, the motor truck industry, has made its demands on Goodyear, too. Goodyear S-V Pressed On Truck Tires and Goodyear S-J Hand Attachable Truck Tires are making mileage and economy records that cannot be disregarded by truck owners.

It was inevitable that this present period of special attention to efficiency and economy in industry should see multiplied sales of Extra Power Belting.

Then there is Neolin—that great, new shoe-sole that marks a new era in the industry. It is an advancement over leather as leather is an advancement over wood. Its advent makes every Canadian a prospective Goodyear customer.

The Wingfoot Rubber Heel is also setting a new standard of wear and comfort.

And so it goes through the whole line. Goodyear quality has created great sales, demanding greater production. Hence two Goodyear factories in Canada; the new one at New Toronto for pneumatic tires and the old one at Bowmanville for Neolin, Solid Tires, Wingfoot Heels, Belting, Hose, Packing and miscellaneous mechanical rubber goods.

Allies Decide to Enforce Blockade More Rigorously

London, Sept. 30.—A still more vigorous blockade of Germany is to be enforced by the entente allies as a result of the conference of Lord Robert Cecil, British minister of blockade, with the French minister of blockade, yesterday the King signed a proclamation prohibiting the exportation of certain articles to Sweden and Holland. The King's approval also was given to other measures to make it more difficult for the enemy to obtain supplies thru neutral countries.

TUG FOUNDERED NEAR VANCOUVER.

Vancouver, Sept. 28.—The Vancouver tug Alford has been considered in Agassagot Channel, one of the entrances to Jervis Inlet according to news which reached the city today. The tug was towing a boom of logs when it is presumed she ran on a reef. All hands are reported safe.

WILL NOT GIVE HELP.

Edmonton, Sept. 28.—That the Dominion Government take over the responsibility for raising the Patriotic Fund, and that no action be taken in the meeting towards next year's fund was the decision of the board of management of the North Alberta Fund, at the semi-annual meeting yesterday.

MONDAY MORNING OCT. 1

The Hidden Hand in Canada.

A gentleman who came into the World office yesterday from Cobalt, confirmed our impression as to the state of mind of the miners and operators of the entire Cobalt district in regard to the legal proceedings about to be brought by the Minerals Separation North American Corporation upon the strength of its Canadian patents. This company claims to control the basic patent for the process known as "flotation." That process is of the greatest value in the treatment of low-grade ores, and the visitor from Cobalt is authority for the statement that most of the big silver mining companies are now using the process in working out the tailings that have been accumulating for years.

Someone may ask why the mining companies, if they are using a process protected by Canadian patent, do not arrange to pay a reasonable sum for its use. But here comes in the rub: This Mining Separation Company, whose sole agents on the American continent are the notorious pro-German blacklisted Beer, Sondheimer & Co., do not want to do business either with the producers of precious metals or war metals in the United States and Canada. What they apparently want to do is to curtail production. They might be earning big royalties in both countries as a business enterprise, but they prefer to harass the producers of copper, zinc, silver and other metals by writs of injunction and outlandish claims for damages.

One of the leading lawyers of Canada, and one thoroughly familiar with mining law and the mining business, told The World the other day that the Minerals Separation North American Corporation was pro-German, and that fact sufficiently appears from its close and intimate connection with Beer, Sondheimer & Co., of 61 Broadway, New York City. The latter firm was blacklisted by the British admiralty for getting over copper, nickel, and other war metals to the enemy since the commencement of the war, and the United States Government has it placarded as the American representative of the Metallgesellschaft, the big German metal trust, with headquarters at Frankfurt-on-the-Main.

Why should not these pro-German patents be canceled by the Ottawa Government? Should they be allowed to prevent this country from furnishing the allies with war metals so badly needed, and with the precious metals as well? How long would a Canadian company, with a basic patent for the zepplin, or for some of the Krupp machinery, be allowed to hold up the German army by curtailing production of war supplies in Germany?

The Desolation of Armenia.

No place in the whole extended theatre of the war has suffered like Armenia. Belgium, we know, and France, we know, and the horrors of German brutality and destruction have enabled us to realize of what hellish deviltry the depravity of intellect is capable. But all this in France and Belgium only serves as a standard, a unit of malignity, by which to measure the staggering awfulness of the Armenian tragedy. There are two million people in western Asia now on the brink of starvation, and for the six months of winter coming at least $30,000,000 is needed to provide bare subsistence to those who can be reached. Half as much more is needed for repatriation and rehabilitation.

The deportations, the massacres, the destruction of property, the effort at extermination which has been so nearly successful in the case of the nominally Christian population, have created conditions that more than fulfil the prophecies—"for there shall be great tribulations, such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever shall be." In Syria, and in all parts of the near east that have come under the thrall of German-Turkish rule, the same policies of murder, massacre, deportation, which is only another name for slow death, are carried out in the most ruthless, heartless, inhuman manner.

It is not the least of the tasks of the entente allies to establish such conditions at the end of the war as shall make such things for ever afterwards impossible. The German design of making an imperial pathway thru all this territory of Asia Minor, Armenia and Mesopotamia to the Persian Gulf, has been translated into the vulgar tongue of the Turks, and there has been nothing like it elsewhere. Kultur has accomplished this and is responsible for it, and Germany has vowed to impose this kultur on the rest of the world. This dream of infamy has not yet been abandoned. The latest peace terms promulgated by the German war party include the retention of Belgium, and a more moderate proposal includes such domination of Belgian trade and government as would reduce the country to a German dependency.

The whole world looks forward to the subjugation of the German militaristic party as the first essential of peace, and the triumph of the entente allies is a necessity to a peace which will restore life and liberty to the little nations. We must not forget this when the pacifists talk about our selfish promotion of interests peculiar to ourselves. Even were Belgium and Poland and Serbia to be ignored, the blood of Armenia appeals to the heavens for justice on the manslayer.

Via Vancouver and the Canal.

The arrival of the first shipment of prairie wheat at Vancouver for export via the Panama Canal calls attention to another great outlet for the commerce of Canada. There seems to be no reason why a great part of the wheat grown west of Moose Jaw should not find its way to Europe via Vancouver. If wheat can be sent in bulk from Argentina, there is no reason why it cannot also be carried in bulk thru the Panama Canal.

The Vancouver World admits that the scarcity of tonnage has made wheat shipments via Vancouver almost out of the question, but with the great ship-building campaign now going on there should soon be an abundance of ships to carry food supplies to the allies. It further complains that discriminatory freight rates have militated against the Pacific route. It claims that the rate should be on a mileage basis, so that wheat may flow at an equal cost either east or west from a point midway between Fort William and Vancouver. But even with discriminatory freight rates a great volume of wheat should go to the Pacific coast for export. It is no further from Battleford to Vancouver than from Battleford to Fort William, but when the wheat gets to Vancouver it goes on an ocean ship. When it gets to Fort William it has a thousand-mile journey to tide water at Montreal.

The milk in the cocoanut, we think, is to be found in the fact that only the Canadian Northern can carry wheat to Vancouver. The Canadian Pacific has prohibitory grades to overcome, and the Grand Trunk Pacific finds its terminal at Prince Rupert, 500 miles to the north, altho it ultimately may be able to reach Vancouver over the Pacific and Great Eastern.

The Canadian Northern, however, has all the best of it when it comes to hauling grain for export via the Panama Canal. This Sir William Mackenzie and his associates contended when they built the expensive mountain section. The result would vindicate their judgment, but the benefit will largely come to the people of Canada. The Canadian Northern will soon belong to Canada, and we may expect to see proper rates for wheat from western Saskatchewan and Alberta to Vancouver.

The Vancouver World hails the nationalization of the Canadian Northern as a solution of the problem, and looks forward to seeing a large percentage of our western wheat crop find its way to Europe via Vancouver and the Panama Canal.

Other People's Opinions

What a Liberal Thinks.

Editor World: The Liberals of Toronto are delighted their own representative newspaper, it is some satisfaction to find a journal like yours not endeavoring to hide the Globe-Star-Rowell conspiracy to deliver the Liberal party to the big interests, under an apocryphal plea of win the war. The World as something of a people's paper, no matter what party is hit. A Liberal.

Belated Interference.

Dr. Charles Sarolea in Glasgow Herald: I submit that even loyal but independent Catholics will feel little disposed to welcome the peace proposals of the Pope. They will consider his intervention as untimely and ill-considered. The time for his Holiness to interfere was when Belgium was invaded, when the citizens of Louvain were massacred—the time to intervene was when a hundred thousand Belgians were deported as in the days of the Assyrians and Babylonians, and when the energetic resistance to German tyranny. No one then would have called the Vatican would have been of infinite value to my eminent friend, Cardinal Mercier, in his heroic resistance to German tyranny. No one then would have called the Vatican would have been of infinite value to my eminent friend, Cardinal Mercier, in his heroic resistance to German tyranny.

The questions which are at issue today are complicated and delicate questions—questions of strategy, of international relations, of the rights of the neutrals and the belligerent nations themselves are alone competent to decide. The questions which were at issue then were simple questions of eternal and elementary justice—questions which the Common Father of Catholicism was supremely qualified to pronounce. It was not even necessary to denigrate the criminals by reminding all the belligerents of the laws of civilized warfare.

The "Revolutionary Ferment."

Editor World: Your editorial on the "revolutionary ferment" in England, which appeared in your issue of the 27th, is very timely and well written. Your recognition of the underlying motive is most opportune and cannot but have a salutary effect on the political situation created by the world war. The time has come when the world must be compelled to adopt more human methods of adjusting international difficulties. How far-reaching the effect of the "revolutionary ferment" in England, which is centered in London, is upon the attitude of the capitalist and ruling classes of the entente nations towards the view that is undoubtedly gaining ground that the main difficulty arising from the war is not the "peace talk" but the "peace talk" is premature. That all depends upon what basis the "peace talk" proceeds upon. If it proceeds upon the assumption that it will be possible to begin at peace with the Prussian ruling class, it is not only premature, but should be treated as a seditious. If "peace talk" proceeds upon the basis of an arrangement with the German and Austrian people apart from the military rulers, it is not premature, but is the best possible propaganda to deal with the situation.

Germans Found Canadians Easy.

Editor World: As an inmate of a hospital in which there are officers from all parts of the empire, it makes anything but cheerful reading—the accounts of the opposition to conscription in Canada. It makes one almost ashamed of one's nationality to read of the mayor of the largest city in Canada making a statement on a public platform, to the effect that Canada had already done enough in the war and should not make any further efforts. Everyone knows that Great Britain has two and a half times as many soldiers as Canada, in proportion to the population, and still manages to carry on most of the usual peace-time industries. If Canada were a German dependency, which is apparently what a large number in Canada are striving for, it would have to maintain just four times the army it does at present.

If the anti-conscriptionists are so fond of Germany and hate Britain so badly, why do they not enlist in the German army and meet the loyal soldiers of Canada openly in the trenches, the same as the Bavarians and Wurtembergers do? I suppose it is because they know they can do Germany more good and Canada more harm by stabbing us in the back as they are doing now. Surely no one not hopelessly blinded by German gold can believe the foolish statement that this is not Canada's war? It is as much and more Canada's war than any other nation on earth. Territorial expansion is, after all, the real aim of Germany, and the defeat and subjugation of Russia, France, and Britain were after all but means to an end. The British colonies and the South American republics were the real prizes and of these Canada, being the most valuable, was what Germany wanted most of all.

It was my fortune shortly before leaving France to meet a German officer prisoner whom I had known as a draughtsman in an engineering firm in Montreal. He had been, of course, an agent of the German Government and he confirmed what I had long believed, that the present opposition to conscription and general disloyalty to the empire which is so rampant in this country is the outcome of carefully prepared German propaganda and underground work. He related with great gusto the ease with which this work was done and stated that while in Russia, China, and all other countries, traitors were bought only by the liberal expenditure of German gold, in Canada, so fruitful a soil did they find in which to sow the seeds of disloyalty, the required results were obtained with a minimum of expense and trouble. It may interest Messrs. Bourassa, Lavergne & Co. to know they are the cheapest traitors in the world.

THE LATEST ATTEMPT

FAMOUS EXPERT WRITES OF FRENCH AVIATION.

BY PAUL ROUSSEAU.

Copyright, 1917.
It is particularly difficult at the present moment in the midst of war to give a very precise and exact idea of French aviation, because its situation, we might say, its superiority, is made up of a total progress realized chiefly during the war and accomplished under the control of military authorities. Consequently many improvements are not known, many are secret, but many others have been revealed to the eyes of the public in consequence of certain patent facts which it has been possible to announce, and it is interesting to set them forth and remark on them.

Before considering to what point or to what degree of advancement French aviation has attained at this moment, we must first return to the beginning of the war and see what was the position of French aviation then. Toward the end of July, 1914, all motor constructors and engineers were preparing to dispute the trials of the great aviation meeting of Rheims, which was to be organized by the Aero-Club de France in August, 1914. The French constructors were working to conquer once again the Gordon-Bennett Cup, which was to be run on the plains now occupied by the Germans. There had been no great aviation meeting in France since the famous meeting in France and this one was to be the great event of the year. Needless to say, it did not take place and all that had been hoped for in the way of increased speed, altitude and endurance records remained unrealized.

Nevertheless, and with regard to the point of speed, the swift machines of that time—we speak of only the racing machines competing for the Gordon-Bennett Cup—were flying more than 200 kilometres per hour.

Then came the invasion of Belgium, and aviation for sport disappeared before war-aviation. War found France with an organized aviation service, but with a small number of machines. Naturally, at the beginning, we had to grope in the darkness. Aeroplanes were used which often served for reconnoitring, for training the adherents of the military theories already had worked out the different special types of machines which in the future were to be constructed for the various special purposes.

To be more precise, altho we started the war with a few squadrons of aeroplanes devoted primarily for sport, it was quickly perceived that it would be necessary to realize for fighting purposes: (1) swift machines; (2) machines of great altitude; (3) machines of great endurance; (4) machines easily managed.

Our constructors took up the task. Motor builders forced up their production and progress was realized. Then there were the great quarrel between the adherents of the rotating motor and those of the fixed motor. At a given moment—it is now no secret—the army authorities decided to suppress the use of the rotating motor in the French army. Other than to get the number of the motor more fully recognized, without abandonment of admiration for some of the qualities of the fixed motor.

The rather slow airplanes were replaced by swift machines, by small biplanes, which were much more easily manageable than the great machines of 1914, and while all this progress was being realized there was behind the lines some anxiety as to the question of the motor. It was created at Pau, at Avord and at Casau schools for improvement in pilots' training and for teaching shooting. The departments for aviation and for the direction of the aerostationary balloons were merged into a single entity. Hundreds of pilots were turned out each month, and at the present moment there are thousands of soldiers in the French army capable of performing in search of their physical and moral improvement.

The operations of the thieves have proved new to the detectives, and they say that some of the robberies which will be charged against the three men, are the most daring committed in Toronto in years. Lusty was the first of the trio arrested. He was picked up at midnight Friday by Acting-Detective Elliott while driving in a stolen motor car. The arrest of the other two men took place Saturday and Sunday.

According to the police, the bandits would first steal a number of motor cars, then set out on a tour of stealing cars. When they would steal a motor car they would attach one of the stolen licenses to it and thus hinder the police to a great extent in tracing them. During the daytime they would go from door to door representing themselves as tea merchants. Lusty, it is charged, would approach the people when they answered the door and if they found a house where the occupants did not come to the door, the trio would break in and ransack the house.

Most of the theft charges against the men are for stealing money and jewelry. They are charged with stealing a number of motor car rugs, and it is said that at night they would drive out into the country and sleep in a stolen car.

L. N. McMillan, druggist, at the corner of Vaughan road and Ellisworth avenue, identified the men at defective headquarters as the men who held him up in his store on September 16, and robbed the cash register.

McMillan declared that at about 10.30 on the evening of September 16 three men drove up to his store in a motor car. One got out of the car and asked him if he could direct him to Booth avenue. While he was directing the enquirer the two other men entered the store with a revolver and masks drawn over their faces. They held McMillan up at the point of the revolver, and after ordering him to open the cash register threatened to take his life if he attempted to chase them when they left the premises. Other than to get the number of the motor car, McMillan could forward very little information that could assist the police in locating the men.

Dominko Coppwani was handed over to the police of No. 7 division last night by the county police. It is alleged that the prisoner stabbed two people residing just outside of the city limits. No particulars of the case were given the Toronto police last night.

Petrograd, Sept. 28.—(Delayed.)—Premier Kerensky has issued an order to the criminal investigator to employ the militia to arrest Nikolai Lenine and M. Zinovieff, his assistant, in the Maximalist agitation. The warrant reads:

In view of the fact that the aforementioned persons are in Petrograd, you will see that they are discovered and brought before me in the character of accused prisoners.

"Maybe her Canadian courts will stop der mineral supplies to der Allies dot my U. boats can't stop?"

THREE ARRESTS IN MOTOR THEFT CASES

Trio of Alleged Bandits Will Face Many Charges Thru Police Activities.

In the arrest which occurred during the last two days of Charles Lusty, 22 St. David's street; George Allen, 4 McDermott place, and Lloyd A. Grogan, 394 Meagher avenue, the police believe that they have rounded up three of the worst motor thieves and robbers that they have had to deal with in some time. Twelve charges of house-breaking and four of stealing motor cars have been already laid against the trio, and other cases, in which the prisoners are thought to have had a hand, are being carefully gone into by Detective Mulholland and Acting Detective Elliott.

STABBING IS ALLEGED.

STEAMER TANAGUA SUNK CREW BELIEVED SAVED

Boston, Sept. 29.—The Associated Press says: The British steamship Tanagua, formerly the Den of Omaha, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine off the coast of Nova Scotia, according to private cables received yesterday by local importers. It is believed the crew was saved. The Tanagua was bound from Glasgow to New York and carried a general cargo, including merchandise for exporters here. She was built in Glasgow in 1910, and was valued at $1,000,000. Her gross tonnage was 11,000.

All Tubes Are Not Alike

There is as much difference in tubes as there is in tires. True, a tube is only to hold air. The casing bears the pressure and wear. But the work of the casing depends on the work of the tube.

To combat this expensive inefficiency use good tubes—honest tubes—loyal tubes—Goodyear Tubes.

For by lamination, the quality-giving Goodyear way, is the right way to build good tubes.

Tiny flaws that spoil tubes can only be detected in sheets of transparent thinness. So we roll high quality rubber into tissue-thin sheets for inspection.

So Goodyear Laminated Tubes are extra good—good for long service, great satisfaction, saving tires.

If an inspection of your equipment suggests new tubes—get Goodyears.

Goodyear Tubes, along with Goodyear Tires and Tire-Saver Accessories, are easy to get from Goodyear Service Station Dealers everywhere. GOOD YEAR MADE IN CANADA TUBES

N. H. A. Directors Determined

Montreal, Sept. 30.—Ottawa was not represented at the meeting of the directors of the National Hockey Association in this city on Saturday, so definite action as to the N. H. A. operating this winter was postponed, the report of representatives of Toronto, Quebec, Cincinnati and Wanderers decided in favor of doing so. The next meeting will be held on October 29, when officers will be elected and arrangements for the coming season forwarded to some extent.

President Frank Robinson definitely announced his retirement from active service in the association. The directors are determined to have a new manager for the Toronto club. A co-operative scheme for the Toronto to share profits and losses during the remainder of the war is proposed.

He held the Ham team to no hits, struck out 18 and threw three runners out of first. One two ball went to the outfield, Price managed a star catch in centre out of the hands of the pitcher. Stringer having a perfect batting average with a home run, two doubles and a single out of four times at bat. JUSTIN STAYED IN TOO LONG SATURDAY

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 29.—Larry LaJole's bat gave Pitcher Justin a three-run lead in the third inning of today's game between Toronto and Indianapolis. It was not enough, however, as the Canadian hurler weakened after this round, and the Hoosiers grabbed off the frazzled LaJole's lead. The big plot of Pillingim's swift ones and cleaned the paths with a three-base blow, but made the mistake of keeping Justin in the box too long. The locals did not get his number until the fourth, when they counted twice, but after they made it merry for the visiting fielder, the Indians a chance to score until the fourth, an infield hit being all that was needed to share profits and losses during the remainder of the war is proposed.

QUEEN CITY BOWLERS WIN FROM HIGH PARK

Played Eighteen Rinks a Side for Rice Flag—A Presentation.

One of the most enjoyable club contests that have taken place on the lawn of the High Park Bowling Club was held on Saturday afternoon between eighteen-rinks of the Queen City Club. Favored by good weather and green greens, the one hundred and forty-four bowlers had a great field for the ending of the bowling season. Mr. Rice only had two and a half years' experience as a prize to the winning club, and in providing this event for the two clubs he has shown his good sportsmanship and interest in lawn bowling.

The members of the High Park Club took advantage of the occasion, and the presence among them of Lieut.-Col. G. S. McVicar, to present him—as they have done to all the members on their honor roll—with a brace of pipes suitably inscribed. The lieutenant-colonel is home on a short furlough after serving for about two and a half years at Salonica and Macedonia. In replying to the presentation and address made by Mr. T. Orr, the lieutenant-colonel said that the splendid fighting spirit of the British forces was the thought in a great measure to be attributed to their well known good sportsmanship—they knew how to take a defeat as well as a victory. He reminded the bowlers that if he had members from our fighting front at the front, it was that they needed support, that while the war was not in doubt, our forces must have this support in order to finish the war the more quickly. It was very noticeable that few bowlers present would be eligible for the reception, but the enthusiasm of the lieutenant-colonel left no doubt where their hearts were.

BY GENE KNOTT

A short time ago I received a letter from a former Edgewater caddy, who now is in the business world, but still contrives to mix a little golf with his business. He is also interested in three friends—youthful folks whom he induced to take up the game—but he told me that these friends were greatly handicapped by their inability to get proper instruction. There is no doubt that very many golfers are without access to competent instruction, and for that reason many prospectively good golfers are spoiled at the outset.

Public links' golfers have no chance as a rule for instruction, and even men in private clubs frequently suffer in the same manner, not being able to get the services of the "pro" at the time when they can spare time from business.

Golf books of instruction are full of detail, all right in itself, but confusing and discouraging for the beginner. Personally, I think there is too much detail that may not be precisely applicable to the other man's game, but will suit yours exactly. These are the best instructions I could give to the golfer just starting.

First—Learn to grip the club in the fingers, never in the palm.

Second—Use square stance for full shots, open for half and shorter.

Third—Learn to let your club-head form its right angle with its imaginary

CANADIAN CRICKETERS BEAT OLD COUNTRYMEN

An interesting game was played at Rosedale on Saturday, on a first-class cricket, between a team of Canadian-born cricketers, skipped by W. Garrett, and a team of Old Country-born players under the captaincy of H. Roberts, which resulted in a win for the Canadians by 75 to 44.

The Old Countrymen batted first and made a very poor showing against the bowling of McKinnon and J. Colborne, the former bowling for 17 runs, J. Colborne took the stumps of seven really good batsmen, and also got another caught; eight wickets fell for a total of 21 runs, two falling as the result of a spectacular fielding by McKinnon.

SUGGESTIONS INVITED

Toronto World Calls its Readers to Help Good Work Along.

Will you be among the number of interested women who will visit the Regent Theatre today to witness the World food demonstration...

As a good Canadian citizen and friend of the brave boys overseas you are interested in the big effort to conserve wheat, flour, beef and bacon...

Quite aside from any pleasure you may experience in visiting these moving pictures, the World wants this to be a really "get together, helpful movement."

How Germany Does It. Among the ten commandments which Germany early in the war published with regard to conservation were the following:

Consider bread sacred. Use every little piece. Dry bread makes good soup.

Use milk and cheese. Boil potatoes with their skins on. Many people in Canada have long adopted the latter advice as a sensible and more nourishing measure than the old way.

Both bread and milk uses will be demonstrated in today's picture. Visit the first showing and send in your ideas afterwards.

BROADER CHURCH WORK OR MERE SOCIAL CLUBS

Preacher at St. Alban's Tells of Need for Elimination of Selfishness in Religious Institutions.

Rev. A. E. Ribourg, D.D., preached Sunday evening at St. Alban's Cathedral on "Who is My Neighbor?"

"The selfishness that does exist in certain Christian individuals and in certain churches is one of the most useful facts of our modern life. The church of God is a meeting place for souls, therefore a place where social distinctions are not supposed to exist."

FARM MANAGEMENT SURVEY CONDUCTED

Start to Be Made in Caledon Township October First.

Special to The Toronto World.

Guelph, Sept. 29.—Quite frequently during the past few months articles have appeared in both the farm and daily press regarding the advisability of conducting agricultural surveys throughout the country, for the purpose of determining actual conditions in the farming sections. The advocates of such a scheme, and, in fact, all persons interested in agriculture, are interested in knowing that work along this line has been started already in Ontario. The movement has been under consideration for some time, but no appropriation of funds was made until May, 1917. The work is controlled by the department of Ontario Agriculture, Mr. A. Leitch being the man directly in charge. Actual field operations are to be commenced on October 1 in Caledon Township, Peel County, which area is considered typical of the general mixed farming sections of the province.

From one hundred and fifty to two hundred farmers in the district will be visited, and, with their co-operation, a complete record of the business of each farm for the twelve months preceding October, 1917, will be taken. The question blank to be used by the field men deal with every detail of the farm business—total acreage owned or rented by the operator, acreage under each crop grown, yields per acre, amount of cash income, all live stock on hand at the beginning and end of the year, together with purchases and sales during the year, current expenses, and inventory of all farm equipment and real estate. Besides this, questions dealing with the various phases of the management of the business are included. None of the questions are of such a nature that the men interviewed are likely to decline an answer. No farm will be visited if it is either particularly poor or particularly good. All kinds are to be included.

From the data so gathered numerous conclusions may be drawn. In the first place the total farm incomes and the labor incomes of the operators will be calculated, and an estimate formed of the average labor income of the farmer under present circumstances. Then the factors which have a direct bearing upon the labor income will be determined. With a hundred and fifty or more farms under consideration the factor of the individuality of the operator will be largely eliminated, and the farms will divide into classes, determined by outside conditions. For example, farms which are in a more generally profitable, the small farm with a relatively larger amount of labor or the larger farm with a relatively smaller amount of labor. Again, the influence of capitalization may be determined—the relationship to labor income of over-capitalization, and the effects of pure-bred stock, the growing of suitable varieties of crops, the practicing of a suitable rotation, and the use of fertilizers and manure may be worked out. As no work of this kind has yet been done in Canada it is impossible to give other than a very brief outline of what the data may show.

Cover More Districts.

As the work progresses representative areas of the more civilized districts, beef raising districts, fruit growing districts, etc. Each section will be visited by several consecutive years, in order to offset the influence of peculiar weather or other conditions upon the results. The data so gathered upon the final conclusions which will be drawn.

Each year when the conclusions from the work have been reached by the department whereby the information in the province may be benefited thereby. Also means are being devised by which the information may be presented and explained to those interested at local meetings throughout the province.

THE MARKET PROBLEM

SEND IN YOUR OPINIONS.

The editor will welcome any suggestions you may have to offer in regard to the market problem.

This is a public matter of the most pressing importance. Do not neglect your opportunity for service. There are many vital questions to be answered concerning market conditions.

"Does the producer secure full value for produce sold?"

"Are our methods of transportation good? Transportation is a very important factor; does it interest you?"

"Are our roads in good condition?"

"Do the railways co-operate with the producer in all respects?"

"Is the location of the market place adequate to meet the demands of the exhibitor?"

"What is the best method for grading and packing products for the market?"

These are a few questions to meditate over. Let us hear the voice of the producer.

RURAL SCHOOL FAIRS APPRECIATED IN DURHAM

Ten, Held Annually in County, Exert Favorable Educational Influence on the Children.

Special to The Toronto World.

Bowmanville, Sept. 29.—Ten rural school fairs are held in Durham County annually. They have been very successful this year in every place in each township usually. Maple Grove in South Durham was held yesterday with large attendance. G. A. Williams, B.S.A., district representative for Durham, and R. K. Stratford, assistant, conducted these fairs. Darlington Association. The program was well carried out. Six schools paraded with flags, each school school having special display, or patriotic song was sung by each school. Maple Grove school won first prize for milk-making. Shaw's second and Power's third. The exhibits in a large tent were very excellent, all cookery—fruits, vegetables, and cookies, flowers, collection of weeds, insects, (John Found showed 23 live insects, worms, etc., in as many jars at work on the vegetables and fruits), art, writing, essays, school lunches, carpentry, needlework, barn plans and models of machines, Plymouth Rock chicks to the number of 60, and a patriotic song was sung by each school. We have a market for all classes of horses, as well as all ages, from foals to aged mares or geldings. If you have anything in the line of horses which you can do without or do not wish to feed until old enough for the sale, we can give you a prompt and satisfactory return. We sell by private sale every day and by auction every Wednesday.

SMITH'S FALLS.

Sometimes there is a little sunshine on the editor's path. And this week we are thankful to Mrs. Agnes Fraser, 90 Elizabeth street, for a basket of nice tomatoes. Not just ordinary tomatoes; quite the biggest grown in Smith's Falls this summer, so far as we know. The basket was full, although there were only seven tomatoes, and the total weight was 6 pounds, 6 ounces. The largest one weighed 1 pound 8 1/2 ounces.—Smith's Falls News.

CARLSRUHE.

The frost on Sunday morning damaged corn potatoes to quite an extent in low places. This has started the farmers cutting their corn. Altho it's not matured it makes good feed.

SUTTON FAIR GREAT SUCCESS.

Both in point of view of attendance and quality of exhibits the Sutton fair for 1917 excelled the fair of 1916 and the fairs for some years back. The weather was all that the hearts of the directors could desire and this no doubt accounted for the presence of an unusually large crowd. Sutton was in gay attire and flags and bunting decorations greeted the eyes of the visitors as they proceeded to the fair grounds. The tidy streets, the well-kept lawns and beautiful display of flowers were all to be congratulated. They will be encouraged to go on and plan for a bigger and better fair next year.

COLDWATER.

Thomas Love dug up a hill of potatoes for the market, which was filled to capacity with the rigs of market gardeners, some of whom had to take to the road. The market in Armer is proving to be a wonderful success, and is better patronized every Saturday. Last Saturday saw many lady buyers for farm stock, implements, etc. Mr. Bessey has sold his farm to Mr. Gray, of Calton.

LOGAN.

The harvest is past and some of our town friends have not yet acquired any blisters on their hands. However, there is yet the silo filling and so they still have another chance. The concrete foundation for George Bickmeier's new drying shed has been finished. The building is to be 24x46 feet with 12-foot posts.

CLINTON.

There is not much of a market in Clinton for potatoes just now, or indeed for any sort of "garden stuff." Most people having had a garden of their own from which their tables are being supplied. Potatoes are selling, when they are being sold, at about $1 per bushel, but dealers do not feel like stocking up at that price.

ARMOW.

Charles Matheson and George Jarrell sold the first hawks of cattle last week and no doubt realized good sums. The farmers are being "making good" these days, with such high prices for everything they sell.

PROGRESS.

Joe Ibbotson and Tom Scott have purchased a threshing outfit.

THE AUCTION SALE; ITS RELIABILITY

An Old Ontario Auctioneer Outlines its Functions and Effects.

ABUSE OF PRIVILEGES

Legislation Considered Desirable to Satisfactorily Protect Buyer and Seller.

By "Auction."

Publicly disposing of property by auction sale in a method which has been in use for many years as a legal manner of getting the market price for any article.

In order to carry out the transaction in an equitable manner, however, every possible means of making the sale known to the public must be resorted to. If the auctioneer is anxious to get full value for the goods he is to sell, he must make every effort to let the people know (1) what he is going to sell (2) where he is going to sell (3) when it is to be sold. If this is thoroughly attended to the work of the auctioneer is simplified and the owner of the property may feel that the price he gets of a fair price being paid.

Many auctioneers have abused their privileges to such an extent that the business has been discredited, and it is becoming more difficult to conduct successful regular sales of merchandise.

Reasons for Selling by Auction.

To legalize the sale and satisfy interested parties, that there is no possible chance of any bribery or corruption, and that the best possible price has been obtained.

To dispose of large quantities of goods in a short time in order to close out estates or transactions which would otherwise hang fire for months or years waiting for private sale.

To dispose of the annual accumulation of live stock systematically, especially in large breeding establishments which may not wish to place the responsibility of fixing prices upon a manager who may overestimate the value and not sell at all, or who may not be able to size up the market requirements and sell lower than the correct market value.

All companies whose financial position is so strong and their business integrity so well known and acknowledged that their announcement to sell inspires confidence may rest assured that they are safer with an honest, unreserved auction sale than in any other way, as the competition is immediate, and all estates come into live stock, merchandise or real estate which should be wound up as quickly as possible.

The quickest and most equitable way of disposing of it gives those interested the privilege of buying individually anything they want, and the public the chance of paying a fair price for what they want.

In all cases of insolvency stocks of merchandise or of live stock will bring their full value at a fixed price.

Impressions of the Recent Tractor Demonstration Received by an Automobile Party From Fergus.

Editor's Note: This newsy account of the trip by motor car to the Industrial Farm and back is republished from The Fergus News-Record as an example of the interest taken in the event by farmers throughout the province.

Through the kindness of O. W. Thompson, the local Ford dealer, a representative of The News-Record was able to take in the provincial plowing match, where farm tractors of all shapes and sizes were shown before an admiring audience.

Early in the morning, or at least early for us, a Ford car left Fergus garage with four passengers bound for the Toronto Industrial Farm at Thornhill. The car did not contain a single wheel, however, although it was a garage man and another reporter. The other two were prominent farmers from near Fergus, Messrs. W. K. Barnett and W. E. Atcheson.

Our first excitement came just after we left Fergus, when we hit a hen. So great damage was done either to the hen or the car, and both were able to continue on their way. Near Matville we saw a hen lying dead on the road and far from the main road, watching the road as if he expected a certain auto to come back that way.

Shortly after eight we reached Orangeville and stopped a few minutes at the Ford garage there before going on thru the town. We then turned south, going up the Caledon mountain and coasting down the other side, passing thru Caledon Village as the children were going to school.

A straight road took us right to Brampton, where the Ford car again stopped for a rest before attempting the last lap. Fifteen minutes later we were going east again in the direction of Woodbridge, where they held the Donnybrook Fergis fall. Beyond that we reached Yonge street, turning south soon came to the farm.

The Thornhill Industrial Farm consists of almost a thousand acres, spread around a hill. On top of the hill are the new brick farm buildings. The Metropolitan electric line runs past the farm along Yonge street. Near the road were several dozen other automobiles. A noise as from a boiler factory filled the air.

At the gate we were held up. A man wanted a quarter to check our car. We had no sponsor except from him than we were held up again. A big ugly noise, such as "huh, huh, huh" with a "Thank you, sir" then two pretty girls with red crosses on their aprons surrounded the matter. They asked us to buy a flag for the Red Cross. We can resist white men or negroes, but not pretty girls. The other men were married and they fell too.

The first tractor we saw was a bright yellow one, no doubt intended to be a bright spot in some farmer's eye. It was a three-bottom plow thru the hardest ground we ever saw and making a good job. The soil was clay, baked hard and came up when we saw it every tractor we saw that day seemed to be doing good work.

We wandered around the rear parts of the farm, where the heavy tractors in the front fields, and twisting our necks to watch the aeroplanes which were continually passing over our heads more time, so that delays in setting up affairs of this kind are avoided.

Regulations Desired.

In order to establish the auction business as a legitimate and safe business, the law should be amended so that a very heavy penalty should be paid by any auctioneer who permits for sale or who is directly or indirectly expecting to benefit by selling to any particular bidder, or if by the enactment of legislation both the buyer and seller at auction sales could be protected against the methods of unscrupulous auctioneers. Then the auction method of selling would greatly facilitate the operation of many lines of business.

The auctioneer applying for a license should be compelled to furnish a certificate of character to character and business habits, as well as bonds to insure financial responsibility. The fee on the amount of the license should be a percentage of the amount of the applicant for a license is of great importance.

LINDSAY.

Peter Hawkins conducted a big sale of stock and implements at Reabro, on the farm of Silas Calvert. Cows brought $110, horses $142, and other articles sold correspondingly high. The total sum realized was over $2700.

At the late Central Exhibition held in Lindsay Joseph Hickson, the popular ex-warden of Durham and Northumberland Counties, had a remarkable showing in roots and once more secured successfully. Out of seventeen entries the exhibitor carried away 12 first and eight first prizes were awarded him by the judges for potatoes. Mr. Hickson is one of the largest growers of tubers favorably known as the Potato King. This year he planted five acres, which was a modest sowing to that which he has planted in previous years. In other branches of agriculture Mr. Hickson also excels, and everything done on his large, well-tilled farm is a symbol of prodigiousness.

WEAKNESS DOMINANT ON TORONTO MARKET

Selling Only in Small Volume But the Market Makes a Poor Resistance.

Weakness was the main characteristic of the Toronto market at the close of the week-end. Trading was in limited volume on Saturday morning, and the offering of speculative issues was immediately followed by lower prices. Maple Leaf was not helped by the bonus, the shares promptly falling to 16 and would easily have gone lower on any further selling.

C.P.R. EARNINGS IN AUGUST DECREASED

Net Earnings for Eight Months Also Smaller.

Montreal, Sept. 29.—The August statement of the Canadian Pacific Railway issued yesterday showed a decrease in the gross earnings as compared with the corresponding month in 1916, of $865,530, a decrease in net of $1,800,000, and an increase in the working expenses of the company of $794,818; but, with the exception of the price of the stock, a record for that month for many years, while the net earnings of $3,817,538 was a normal increase of $819,544, while the working expenses of the company, which during the past year have been extremely heavy, exceeding in fact a million dollars, left the net for the eight months at $28,574,944, a decrease of $811,817.

ENCOURAGING WORD FROM OPIR MINE

As forewarned in these columns, says Homer Gibson in his review, two weeks ago, a special meeting of shareholders was held on September 24 for the purpose of considering a proposal to increase the capital stock from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000, with the object of providing funds for the development of the very promising veins now being worked upon.

SOFTNESS IN MINES IN CLOSING SESSION

Drop in Price of Silver Unsettling Factor in Cobalts.

The week ended rather unsatisfactorily in the mining market, prices on Saturday generally showing material declines from the high levels earlier in the week. This was brought about primarily by the drop in the price of silver to below 81 per ounce.

Although indirectly affected by the slump in silver, the weakness spread to the gold stocks. Pressure on Big Dome which emanated from New York, was attributed to inside manipulation, causing a sharp decline in Dome about midweek to a new level at $8.40.

SINKING RESUMED AT LUCKY BALDWIN

Sinking operations at the Lucky Baldwin property, at Kenogawabie, have been resumed, the contractor having been let to Hugh Baldwin for the sinking of the shaft from the present 100-foot depth to the 300-foot level.

PROMISING LOCATION OF KIRKLAND PORPHYRY

H. B. WEIS, in his market letter, says: "The main lode in the Orr vein apparently will be found on the Kirkland Porphyry. NEW YORK STOCKS RESIST PRESSURE

Bears Have Only Moderate Success in Raids on Rails and Speculative Industrials.

New York, Sept. 29.—The shorts made several ineffectual efforts to depress prices in the stock market today, concentrating their attacks upon rails and speculative industrials. Reactions of one to almost three points were recorded during the first half of the session, but prices rebounded when it became evident that support was forthcoming.

U. S. Steel's reversal of 1-1/8 points was succeeded by a net gain of 1/8 point, moderate fraction, and initial losses in copper and equipment gave way to a moderate advance in other sectors.

HIGH CATTLE PRICES ATTRACTED SELLERS

Washington, Sept. 29.—Receipts of cattle at the principal stock yards of the country for the first eight months of 1917 show a substantial increase, but this is due largely to the increased cost of feed and the drought in the southern section of the country. Last year an unusually large number of hogs and sheep were marketed in response to high prices. Receipts show for this year are taken to represent rather a return to the normal movement than a distinct falling off in the supply.
