KUROKAWA'S TASK OF HEADING HIM OFF

Horrible Plight of the Tentless and Shelterless Soldiers Follows Retreat From Liaoyang.

There is a lack of specific information regarding the exact situation in Manchuria. The Russian general staff, lacking details, is unable to speak authoritatively. The only reliable news comes from the Japanese press, which is established that the Russian army is safe at Mukden, and that retreat was accomplished in good order, in spite of the harassing Japanese, and the fact that the Russian army is still in contact with the Japanese.

REVOLT AGAINST RUSSIANS TO-DAY HEAVENS CELEBRATE 5665TH YEAR OF CREATION

Incendiary Proclamations, Printed in England, Scattered Broadcast in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 10.—(10-50 a.m.)—Intense activity is being displayed by anti-Russian revolutionary organizations abroad, which have united in an effort to appeal to all the discontented classes in Russia. Incendiary proclamations have been smuggled across the border and distributed broadcast, especially in Polish and Jewish centres, calling upon the population to take advantage of the government's preoccupation with the war to overthrow the autocracy.

Such propaganda in Russia always results in an increase of violence. The proclamations are addressed to the Jews in particular, but the appeals are made to all the heterodox sects, workmen and socialists. Special appeals are made to the soldiers and peasants.

Many of the proclamations have been seized, and it is proved that they have been printed in London. Until now they have met with little response in Russia proper, but there have been several manifestations in various parts of Southwestern Russia, where the population is largely Jewish. The largest demonstration, it is understood, took place at Grodnow, Poland, where 500 persons have participated.

The ministry of the interior seemingly does not attach great importance to the proclamation.

12,000 RUSSIANS CUT OFF. LITTLE HOPE OF ESCAPE. General Meyndorff with 80,000 Men Holds Kuroki in Check 12 Miles South of Mukden, and on Him Everything Depends.

London, Sept. 10.—The Daily Express claims to have trustworthy information that the Russian army is divided into five columns. The first has reached Tie Pass, forty miles north of Mukden, and is preparing to defend that place against the Japanese. The second is between Mukden and Tie Pass. The third is at Mukden. The fourth, consisting of 80,000, under Gen. Meyndorff, is holding Gen. Kuroki in check by hard fighting, twelve miles south of Mukden.

GOVT. TOLSTOI A MEMBER OF TORONTO FRIENDS' ASS'N

Arrangements Made for Another Great Meeting in Normal School Next Month.

Leo Tolstoy, the great Russian philosopher, philanthropist and literary man, is a member of the Friends' Association of Toronto. This interesting fact was revealed to the members by President W. Greenwood Brown at the regular meeting of the association.

Count Tolstoy signified his desire to become a member some two or three months ago in an autograph letter to the secretary of the association, Mr. Brown, in reply to the gentleman's invitation to the aims and objects of the association. The fact was not made public during the recent conference, though the members had been made aware of the fact.

The announcement of Andrew Carnegie's membership and substantial interest in the normal school for the deaf, has already been made. An effort will be made to procure his attendance at the next meeting to be held on Oct. 13 in Toronto. The premier, Hon. G. W. Ross, has granted the use of the normal school for the occasion, and a delegation of English and American speakers from the Boston meeting will be invited to attend.

The treasurer has stipulated that the meeting shall be non-sectarian, non-partisan, and not anti-British, and it is possible that his honor the lieutenant-governor will preside.

Rev. A. C. Courtice, secretary of the association, read the report of the committee on military organizations. Prof. Curdy spoke on the moral influence of the military organizations, and distinguished from military organizations. The idea that military drill formed a part of the schoolboys' education was combated, the "setting-up" exercises for soldiers being regarded as a disgraceful relic of the past.

The speaker's report showed a satisfactory balance on hand. Delegates will be sent from Toronto to the Boston meeting.

SEES 50,000,000 BUSHELS. After Personal Inspection of Wheat Area There Happen Predicts. Winnipeg, Sept. 9.—(Special.)—Weather continues warm and fine, giving a great impetus to harvest operations throughout the west.

THE HERALD ADMITS THAT THE HAMILTON STREET RAILWAY COMPANY IS VERY TENACIOUS OF ITS RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES, AND VERY BOLD AND AGGRESSIVE IN ITS ATTEMPTS TO ENCRUSH UPON THE RIGHTS OF THE PUBLIC.

Rights of People Betrayed.

The abuse of the Toronto World by The Hamilton papers is the best proof of the betrayal of the rights of the people of Hamilton. Hamilton is served up to the Gibson electric merger, and it is lured into that position by The Spectator, The Times and The Herald.

These papers indulge in a lot of horseplay in their columns, apparently at the expense of one another, the proprietors meet in secret and agree to remain blind to propositions that the city is asked to tie itself up to. Once the press is chloroformed, aldermen and municipal officials can be induced to support almost anything. The greatest enemy of the municipal rights of the people of Ontario is Hon. J. M. Gibson of Hamilton, attorney-general of the province, and yet The Hamilton Spectator, supposed to oppose him politically, has never said a word against him on this score.

Neither has the Conservative opposition in the Ontario legislature ever gone after him as the one man who was paid and sworn to protect the municipal rights of the people, and was the most unprincipled of all municipal raiders.

Ottawa had a narrow escape from the fate that has overtaken Hamilton. The electric ring got two of the papers in that city, and thought it had the third. The electric ring of Kingston tried the same game. Some of the newspaper share owners of Hamilton are big shareholders in the electric ring, and it is common rumor that on the volume of job printing that flows into the Hamilton newspaper offices depends the policy of these newspapers on certain questions.

The Herald cannot understand why The World, in attacking the Hamilton Street Railway Company, should make no mention of Hon. J. M. Gibson, president of the Cataract Power, Light and Traction Company, and as such, is he not directing the attack against the City of Hamilton today? What further justification should the World require for placing on Mr. Gibson the responsibility that rightly belongs to him?

Is it not Hon. J. M. Gibson, president of the Cataract Power, Light and Traction Company, who is attempting to deprive the people of Hamilton of the eight-for-quarter tickets? Is it not the same Mr. Gibson who is seeking by this means to induce the City of Hamilton to forego the mileage and percentage, which is now yielding a handsome revenue to the city? If these acts do not leave Hon. J. M. Gibson fairly open to attack in the sight of The Hamilton Herald, that journal has a very poor notion of its duty to the people it pretends to serve.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, as president of the Hamilton Power, Light and Traction Company, is attempting to deprive the people of Hamilton of the eight-for-quarter tickets? Is it not the same Mr. Gibson who is seeking by this means to induce the City of Hamilton to forego the mileage and percentage, which is now yielding a handsome revenue to the city?

But Mr. Gibson, as president of the Hamilton Power, Light and Traction Company, is attempting to deprive the people of Hamilton of the eight-for-quarter tickets? Is it not the same Mr. Gibson who is seeking by this means to induce the City of Hamilton to forego the mileage and percentage, which is now yielding a handsome revenue to the city?

Even less worthy than the open chicanery of Hon. J. M. Gibson by The Times and The Herald, is the Hamilton Spectator's position, without revealing the part that Hon. J. M. Gibson is playing in the sacrifice of Hamilton's interests. For sufficient reasons, The Spectator does not desire to criticize Mr. Gibson. It appears him at the cost of betraying the interests of the City of Hamilton, and regardless of the political prestige which, as a party organ, it might be expected to be anxious to earn for the Conservative party.

GUESSES AT ELECTION DATE CAMPAIGN SHORT AND SHARP

Probable That Polling Will Take Place Before or on Day of Presidential Election.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—(Special.)—The signs that make for general elections almost at once are multiplying. It is stated by Montreal Liberals who are supposed to know whereof they speak that a dissolution of the present parliament will come about within the week. So specific a statement as that the announcement will be on Thursday next has gone out from Liberal members of the present house.

It is well known the Liberal candidates in St. Ann's and St. Lawrence have engaged committee rooms, that Liberal organizers have been actually engaged and are now working and that the work of checking up voters' lists has been entered upon. Voters' list are being rushed at Ottawa and a lot of this work has been apportioned to printing offices in Toronto and Montreal. So much for work preparatory to elections.

As to the date of polling, Liberals have been heard to say that "everything will be over" by the end of October. In other quarters the middle of November is the date set for the polling. At any rate it is the general opinion that the election is on, and that the resultant campaign will be short and sharp. The probability is polling will take place the day before, or perhaps the very day of the presidential election.

A speech to The Herald from St. John, N. B., says: Hon. W. S. Fielding, finance minister, has gone to Bangor, Me., and Hon. J. M. Gibson, attorney-general, while the opposition leader will proceed to Quebec. Privately the cabinet ministers warned their friends that it was well to be ready for an election, and publicly Mr. Borden declared that there will be an election to-day both Liberals and Conservatives in St. John are convinced that the next few weeks will be the most important in the province in any public move being made by the nomination of candidates. Conservatives who were here representing different counties cheered their leader by promising supporters in the next house. Liberals are equally sure of success in the case circumstances.

YOUNG HUSBAND COMING HOME. Formal Treaty Signed in Apartments of the Daldal Lama. Lhasa, Sept. 9.—Col. Younghusband, head of the British mission, and the Tibetan officials signed a formal treaty to-day in the apartments of the Daldal Lama at Potala. The ceremony was simple and was conducted amid quiet and picturesque surroundings.

The terms of the treaty were read out only in the Tibetan language, and its details will be published later by the foreign office at Simla. The proceedings closed with a short speech by Col. Younghusband.

The Daldal Lama is now supposed to be well on his way into Mongolia, and the officials insist that his action amounts to abdication. The administration is now carried on by a council of regency. It is believed that the Tashi Lama will eventually be recognized as the supreme religious head.

Arrangements for the return of the British mission are complete.

TWO LIGHTS ON A DREARY WASTE

Perish the thought that the respondent in the North Perth election trial cut short the proceedings to avoid ugly revelations. Such base suspicions cannot live in the face of Mr. Aylesworth's noble refusal to take advantage of the saving clause in the statute.

One charge was proved. True, if no further evidence of corruption could be brought to light, John Brown would retain his seat. But Mr. Aylesworth was not thinking of statutes, and saving clauses therein. He was thinking of the 50 Ontario Bank bill that thought a vote for John Brown, and then was convinced, and the Ross government was convinced, and the Globe was convinced that the rest of the bill of particulars was so much empty slander, he gallantly consented to have the election voided.

Few acts in the political history of Ontario can compare with the virtuous resolution and spirit of self-sacrifice that marked the collapse of the North Perth election trial. Yet, there is one chapter of which the people of Ontario may be equally proud. It stands for the everlasting credit of Hon. E. J. Davis.

An election protest hung over Mr. Davis for a long time. Suddenly Mr. Davis resigned his seat. Furthermore, to show that there was no hard feeling, he paid the petitioner's costs. There were evil-minded people on that side who maligned Hon. E. J. Davis and the Ross government, just as John Brown and the Ross government are being maligned to-day. They said Mr. Davis feigned the revelations of an election trial. Mr. Davis indignantly denied the insinuation and pointed out his sole object in resigning his seat was to avoid the hard feeling engendered by an election trial. He was a man of peace, on the noble altar of which he was prepared to sacrifice his seat and his cash.

We hear very often these days of the degeneration of political ideals in Ontario. A good deal of it is true. But once in a while over the weary stretch of selfish act and sordid endeavor we are cheered by just such little deeds of lofty patriotism as spoke in the North Perth election trial and in the resignation of Eilhu Davis.

A TEMPERANCE SERMON.

It may be that The Sturgeon Falls Advertiser does not pose as an advocate of prohibition. Yet it preaches a good temperance sermon in a very simple way in this paragraph:

A workman was relieved of his earnings recently. A few drinks with boon companions and the victim the poorer by $90. The moralist can say that with two banks in town the man was foolish to carry that sum with him when patronizing the bars, but the chilly comfort remains to the victim that in making a good fellow of himself on a holiday outing he enriched someone not as fond of work as himself. Perhaps the experience will be worth the price, and perhaps not. A companion accused of the theft was discharged, the evidence being conflicting. Frequent vigilance on the part of the authorities, but the man behind the bar and the licensee can do more to put a stop to this business of thieving than all the agencies in the community. The licensee and commissioner should insist on the license holders giving better protection to their patrons. The law requires this, and common decency demands it.

The licensee authorities or the hotelkeepers might do a little more, but no law can protect a man who, with several months' earnings in his pockets, walks into a place where he is quite likely to meet with criminals, and deliberately deprives himself of his wits, which are his best protection. No matter how good the law may be, nor how honest the hotelkeeper or bartender may be, they cannot protect a man, flourishing a roll of bills, from the thieves that infest him. These thieves may behave in the hotel in an exemplary manner that no hotelkeeper or inspector could complain of them, while the honest fool may have so unprofitably got to be thrown into the street, where he may thank his stars if the police get him through the thieves.

DECLINE OF DEBATING.

There can be little doubt of the correctness of Mr. Alexander Smith's opinion that the quality of public debate has declined; but this is an effect rather than a cause, and the evil could not be remedied by young men studying the questions of the day and training themselves as debaters, useful as such training might be. We have heard some skillful debaters who devoted their whole energies to showing that one party was more honest, more capable and more patriotic than the other; and to the contest might be amusing, the subject of discussion being silly and idle. The stream can rise no higher than its source. There can be no great debating without great questions.

At the risk of being described as a plagiarist of past times, one may affirm that there have been great issues even in this new country, such as the introduction of responsible government, the establishment of religious equality, confederation, provincial rights, the building of the first transcontinental railway, the question of protection as against free trade or reciprocity. As a rule, politicians are afraid of these questions. See how they fight shy of prohibition, and how cautiously they approached the subject of government ownership. In 1873 protection was a real issue; the protectionists won, and now we find their old opponents trimming on the question.

Of course, issues cannot be made to order, and it would be absurd to deplore the fact that a question has been settled, if settled rightly, and is no longer a subject of debate. But often the settlement of great questions does not bring peace. The parties fight as furiously as ever over matters of little public concern. Yet debate is not really free. Public men do not express themselves spontaneously on the merits of questions as they settle before-hand they are to take as settled before-hand by the government or the caucus. There is a certain hollowing and insincerity in a so-called debate carried on under these circumstances; we all know that it will seldom change a vote in the house, and that if momentum were to yield to some powerful argument advanced by an opponent, he would be branded as a traitor by his own side, and praised by the other, merely because he helped to keep their own ranks intact.

Debating, which is not free, which avoids great questions, and which is not expected to convince, can hardly rise to a very high level.

OUR FLAG AND HOW TO FLY IT.

Britons, unless under special circumstances, are not much given to flag worship, at least to the ridiculous length affected by the people of the United States. The loyalty is just as real and the pride just as great, and when occasion calls, no people show their national emblem with more availing hearts than do the citizens of the empire, round whose varied climes "day and night perpetually flee, yet ever rest perpetual."

What is it not necessary to complain of any lack of patriotic zeal, it is a matter of comment that the zeal when visibly manifested is too often not according to knowledge. That is to say, in a very large proportion of cases the national emblem when unfurled to the breezes of heaven is flown upside down and becomes a signal of distress, not of joy and triumph.

Toronto is no exception to this reversal of the Union Jack, also by no means more guilty of it than other cities, including those of the British Isles themselves. It is not an uncommon thing at all in Britain even on public buildings to see the Union Jack in a topsy-turvy condition, just as it has appeared during the past ten days of the entrance gate of the Industrial Exposition. And on any Toronto festival out of the many Union Jacks that make their appearance, only a few are wrongly quartered, and of those which are rightly drawn a very large percentage are upside down.

It is not to be supposed that a citizen who hoists the Jack is indifferent as to its being rightly or wrongly done. Although the Jack is a little complicated as a casual observer may think the matter either way, there is a distinct historic reason. Every Briton may be supposed to know the original national flag of England which blazoned the red cross of St. George on a white field and which is still the distinguishing flag of the royal navy.

"In every clime from sea to sea the red cross flag is seen— The herald of Old England's name, wide ocean's peerless queen."

It is still distinctly in evidence in the Union Jack—being the only complete cross in the flag—a visible token of England's position as predominant partner. At the time of the union of Scotland the flags of the two nations were combined in the first form of the Union Jack. Scotland's flag bore a white St. Andrew's cross in a blue ground, and blue therefore became the ground of the present flag, the white cross being drawn from corner to corner and a thin strip of white being added as a field for the red cross of England.

When union with Ireland came the cross of St. Patrick—a red diagonal cross on a white ground—was added to the flag. But had it been drawn in the exact centre of the white cross, St. Andrew's, the latter would have appeared simply as the field for the Irish emblem. To avoid this and also to indicate the relative seniority of Scotland, the red cross of St. Patrick was drawn in the cantons nearest to the staff, a little nearer the centre of the white St. Andrew's cross, thus leaving a broader stripe of white on the upper side. In the fly of the flag the position was reversed and the red St. Patrick's cross drawn slightly above the centre of the St. Andrew's cross.

The hoisting of the Union Jack correctly is thus a simple matter. All that is required is care to see that the broader part of the white diagonal cross be kept uppermost in the cantons next to the staff. It is worth attention, for no flag of any western nation has associations so honorable and so venerable. Great attention should be given to it in the public schools on the eve of imperial holidays and festivals. The flag of the clustered crosses is one of which Britons have every reason to be proud, and to know its meaning is to know the history of the United Kingdom in epitome.

APPROPRIATE COMMENTS MISPLACED.

DOESN'T IT STARTLE YOU?

the bottom, and nothing criminal was discovered sufficient to void the election.

In North Perth, a veil was thrown over the surrender of the respondent's hasty surrender of the Globe seems to have got these children mixed. Of North Perth it says:

The corrupt act seems to have been one of those so frequently brought to light in election trials, the rendering of a bribe by an influential worker for the purpose of procuring the success of his candidate. There was nothing to show that it was part of an organized scheme of corruption, or that Mr. Brown's expenditure was suspiciously lavish.

The respondent in this case did not ask for the benefit of the saving clause of the election law, which provides that an election shall not be set aside if the acts of corruption are so trifling in character and extent as not to affect the result of the election. The majority was about 200, so that the result could not have been affected by corruption, except on a large scale.

The respondent, by his conduct, admits that it was on a large scale. The Globe's comment on North Perth would have been appropriate in Muskoka, where the judges decided that the corruption was so trifling as not to affect the result of the election. The majority was about 200, so that the result could not have been affected by corruption, except on a large scale.

While no general corruption was unearthed by the trial, it is important to note that, on the testimony of Mr. Mykema, the secretary of the Provincial Conservative Association, the sum of $180 was sent to the Muskoka, to be spent in promoting Mr. Mahaffy's election. As the candidate for Muskoka, the sum of $180 was sent to the Muskoka, to be spent in promoting Mr. Mahaffy's election. As the candidate for Muskoka, the sum of $180 was sent to the Muskoka, to be spent in promoting Mr. Mahaffy's election.

The latter part of this comment would have been singularly appropriate to North Perth, where the judgment means that there was corruption on a large scale. As to the amount used in Muskoka for expenses, that fact was before the judges, and they did not regard it as evidence of extensive corruption. We trust the Globe is not so stupid as to mislead on the subject on which it discussed in an edifying manner during and after the Gamey investigation.

AGREEMENTS THAT ARE WORTHLESS.

Mayor Finch of Toledo is authority for the statement that Toronto has the very best street railway system of any city on the continent. Whatever place the street railway service of Toronto may hold in point of excellence among the cities of the continent, very little can be said in favor of the contract.

The Street Railway Company does not have a satisfactory record. It has every device yet adopted by a usually weak-kneed city council and a weak city engineer have failed to secure for the city the service which, under the street railway agreement, it has the right to expect. Other Canadian cities have a standard experience. Hamilton is now in the throes of a struggle with a street railway company that has repudiated an important clause in its agreement. Kingston a few months ago found how difficult it is to compel a company to live up to the most essential clauses of its contract.

An appeal to the courts usually ends with a judicial pronouncement to the effect that the courts will not require specific performance of contract. This means that if a company gives any kind of service it need not worry about minor obligations to the public, no matter how important those obligations may be.

The lesson of it all is that one contract with a street railway company is about as good as another. The company will give the minimum service it will earn the maximum of dividends for its shareholders. It will laugh at powers vested in the city engineer, whether those powers relate to overcrowding, to the number of cars to be placed in service, or to the quality of the cars.

The experience of Ontario municipalities and street railway agreements has been a bitter one, but it has left a lasting impression on the public mind. Municipalities having found that there is no security for them in the strictest agreement that legal talent can devise, now see the wisdom of owning and operating their own street railways.

Will no kind native inform General Kuropatkin that he is taking a roundabout trip to Tokio.

It is in order for Mr. Ross to declare that he does not care a F-I-G for North Perth and Muskoka.

Kuropatkin did not tarry at Mukden.

He had such a dislike of the place that he didn't want to be found dead there.

The water supply at Fort Arthur has been cut off.

This means that hotel licenses will sell high in the beleaguered town.

Remember Ross, says the Globe, which shares Hon. J. Stratton's suggestion that people may chance to forget some things.

Reflecting on North Perth, the Ontario government consoling itself with the familiar quotation: "Sine Patiente Bore Disgrace"

Little did the government think when it introduced the statute of remedial work into the schools that it would be swept up by the election trials.

The Mayor of Toledo might have some more nice things to say about the Toronto Street Railway if he had not stopped long enough in town to be hit by a fender.

Attorney-General Gibson is likely to feel the effect of the Hamilton Street Railway Company's new regulations.

Mr. Gibson is not a workman. He is a corporation artist.

FREIGHT DISCRIMINATION AS SHOWN IN THE WEST

C.M.A. Transportation Expert and His Trip With the Railway Commissioners.

W. H. D. Miller, manager of the transportation department of the C. M. A., who has returned from accompanying the railway commission on its investigations thru the west, said yesterday that one of the foremost cases presented was regarding lumber and shingle rates from Vancouver. It was claimed that the railways charged the same rate for cedar and fir lumber to the boundary line of Manitoba, from the interior British Columbia mills, but from Vancouver, New Westminster and other coast mills to Manitoba, cedar was discriminated against to the extent of ten cents. This, the C. M. A. contended, was purely because of an arrangement with the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, and not, as the millowners in the mountains, in making the agreement, the C. P. R. apparently failed to take account of the fact that common cedar, with regard to which the principal complaint is made, is not shipped from the U. S. Pacific Coast mills, the timber that should be converted into common cedar being manufactured instead into cedar shingles.

Size of Ocean Steamers.

The average length of ships has increased some 50 to 60 per cent, during the last quarter of a century, says a writer in Cassier's Magazine. The 455 feet of the Britannic of 1871 seem almost insignificant compared with the 702 feet of the latest White Star liner Cedric and the 760 feet of the projected Cunarders. The 1000-foot vessel will assuredly not be long in coming. Berths are even now being devised to accord with this standard, and entrance locks and graving docks are also being strengthened. A few years back 500 feet was considered an extreme dimension, nowadays this is deemed very moderate. The length of an entrance lock does not, of course, absolutely limit the size of vessels.

Predicts 50,000,000 Bushels.

T. C. Irving, general manager of The Bradstreet Co. has just returned to the city from a western trip. He comes back full of hope for the great wheat harvest of the future. He predicts that the wheat crop will total 50,000,000 bushels, and declares that the damage from rust is slight. Thruout the west, the crops and business are fine. Winnipeg is making steady progress. It is expected that the number of healthy children everywhere present.

My New Obesity Food Quickly Reduces Weight to Normal Without Dieting, Exercise, or Any Effort Whatever on Your Part, and is Absolutely Safe.

Trial Package Sent Free to All Who Write, by Mail, Postpaid, in Plain Wrapper—Write To-Day.

The Above Illustration Shows the Remarkable Effects of This Wonderful Obesity Food—What It Has Done for Others it Will Do for You. Excess fat is a disease. It is caused by imperfect assimilation of food. Your food for reducing flesh is one that I can tell you should go into muscle, show, bone, brain and nerves, and not pile up in the form of superfluous fat, not blowing like a porcupine, was miraculously removed from my thin and might have dropped dead any minute. I used your food diligently for seven days and was underweight, but that's what I could breathe naturally; in fourteen days I tipped the scales at 145 lbs. and in twenty days I weighed 120 lbs. I am six feet two high and of large frame, and to get down nearly 30 pounds is remarkable. It takes of you a genius; I really am the wonder of the age, and I heartily endorse your treatment. Send your name and address—no money to-day to Prof. F. J. Kellogg, 609 Kellogg Bldg., Battle Creek, Mich., and receive the trial package in plain wrapper free by return mail.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

Some men are so mean about their mothers-in-law that they won't even take their recipes for the damage from rust is slight. Thruout the west, the crops and business are fine. Winnipeg is making steady progress. It is expected that the number of healthy children everywhere present.

What to Call Them.

Now that the college year is about to open, it may be doing the "trouble" and the "soph" a kindness to tell them that to refer to the kind-hearted man who is very likely the one who is to have to pay for their schooling as "the gov'nor" or "the old man" is not good form. A recent authority on forms of parental address answers the inquiry of one seeking light on this subject as follows: "If you wish to appear well among persons of culture and education do not refer to or call your parents 'pa' and 'ma'—call them father and mother. 'Pop' and 'mom' are unparagonably vulgar, and like 'pa' and 'ma' and 'paw' and 'maw' are provincial. 'Father' and 'mother' are alone dignified and respectful, altho it is not out of place for small children to say 'papa' and 'mamma', but the tendency now is among people who are worth copying to train children to say father and mother from the beginning."—Boston Herald.

What has become of the old-fashioned vases that always appeared in pairs?

A woman doesn't look half as bad in scrubbing dress as a man looks in base ball clothes. Give a girl child of ten a pretty picture and she will regard it as no more than to some day go to housekeeping with. The present summer was not only very pleasant, but it was very short. It is easier for a girl to take part in a play than a boy for the reason that a girl naturally thinks she is something else. There are lots of things to be done around the house that should be classed under the name of athletics, to begin with. If a guest is very polite she makes the day after she arrives to talk of going home, and that her hostess may coax her to stay.

Toronto Firms Get Contracts.

Will Stand Government Revealed.

The Ontario government have announced that the decision of Justice MacMahon regarding the status of the Christian Brothers as teachers in the separate schools will stand unless reversed, and the government will bear the total expense of an appeal if it is taken, in order to clear up a most important issue.

Shipments increased 280,000. The Modern Miller was a repetition of last week, stating that weather conditions continue to favor sowing of winter wheat and that the movement of winter wheat to market is moderating, as farmers are holding for higher prices.

Corn—Values declined about a half cent on a tip that to-morrow's report will be bearish. Local receipts heavy at 740 cars, and primary receipts were 1,000 cars. The non-appearance of frost has discouraged the bulls for the time being.

Wheat—Smaller Argentine shipments and higher cables caused some early strength and covering shorts which were dissipated during the morning by liberal selling on the part of a prominent elevator interest. This selling led to general liquidation by scattered holders, notwithstanding that the news was bullish. Minneapolis reported threshing returns from Minnesota ranging from five to eight bushels per acre of very poor quality.
