BANDIT SUICIDES AFTER ARREST FOR STEALING MOTOR

Police Believe He and Companion Planned Robbery of Bank.

ANOTHER ROBBED

Bystander Grapples With Criminal and Recovers $2,000 Roll.

(By Canadian Press.)

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 2.—One bandit dead, two under arrest, a $2,000 payroll recovered and a city-wide search now under way for another man, believed implicated, is the story of a two-hour crime wave in Winnipeg yesterday. The dead man, Mike Kolson, 25, committed suicide after he had been captured in possession of a stolen taxicab. The police refuse to divulge the names of the men arrested, but they were taken into custody following the robbery of A. F. Henderson, an accountant for a local manufacturing company, who was carrying a bag containing $2,000 in currency.

Kolson, who had been married only three weeks, before leaving his home yesterday left his bride a note, saying: "If I do not return you will find the car at the General Hospital and I will be no more."

The Driver to Tree.

Kolson and a companion hired a taxi at the General Hospital, drove to a suburb, and forced the driver out, trussing him to a tree. They returned to the city and while driving at a terrific rate of speed were apprehended by a motorcycle patrolman.

Kolson's companion escaped, but Kolson was taken to a nearby house and while the officer was telephoning for the patrol wagon, he whipped out a revolver and shot himself through the head. He died just after admittance to the hospital, which he had left only a few hours before. Police decided the two men were bank robbers and had evidently planned to hold up a bank during the noon hour. The car contained masks, guns and jewellery. Kolson was a druggist and a graduate of the University of Manitoba.

Accountant Held up.

Shortly after the suicide the police were called to the warehouse district in the centre of the city where the accident had been reported. A man shoved a gun in Henderson's face and grabbed the satchel containing the money. He was followed by a bystander, who after a struggle, forced him to drop the bag. The robber, however, broke away and escaped. He is believed to have been accompanied by another man. Later, the police arrested two suspects.

R. M. A. ORGANIZES IN MEMRAMCOOK. Moncton, Aug. 1.—Miss F. P. Alward, of St. John, provincial secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, and E. M. Trower, of Ottawa, Dominion secretary, were in Moncton today and left for St. John. Miss Alward last evening visited Memramcook and organized a branch of the association there. A further meeting will be held next month. The president at Memramcook is James P. Sherry, the secretary N. LeBlanc. The other officers will be elected at the next meeting. In addition to the regular business those present at the meeting were addressed by C. M. Leger, former M. L. A. Business in the Maritime Provinces appears to be slightly on the upgrade, Mr. Trower said. This fact, however, is not peculiar to this part of the country, he added. The depression has been widespread and it would be difficult to point out one part of the Dominion which has suffered more than another.

Has Ankles Trimmed by Surgeon

Mrs. Marion Tyler O'Conner, who had surplus flesh trimmed off her ankles by a surgeon. Drawings show an artist's conception of such an operation and the ankles "before and after."

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 2—Blessed with wealth, beauty and social prominence, Mrs. Marion Tyler O'Conner, Omaha divorcee, had almost everything she wanted of life except shapely ankles.

Now, thanks to surgical skill, she has those. In an operation, said to have cost $10,000 and much discussed in medical circles, trim ankles were chiseled out for her by the knife of an Omaha surgeon.

A long incision was made on the outside of Mrs. O'Conner's legs. The extra flesh was "chiseled" out and the wound stitched up. It healed in 10 days and the ankles are now quite slender.

The incision was made at the base of the ankle and reached about midway to her knee. Both ankles now taper quite gracefully and are really "nice to look at."

So far the operation has been a complete success, but in the near future she will again go to the hospital and have more fat removed by means of incisions on the inside of both legs.

Mrs. O'Conner is a member of one of Omaha's wealthiest and socially prominent families and divorced wife of a major now stationed at Fort Omaha. She admits the operation is worth every cent the doctor charged.

CAR RUNS INTO HYDRANT

While being driven along Wall street, just a short distance from the Wall street bridge last evening, automobile No. 15016, owned by John Wright, 35 Carleton street, became unmanageable on account of a defective steering gear and crashed into a fire hydrant about 10 feet to one side of the bridge. A wheel of the car was dished and a bumper torn off. After being untangled from the fire plug the car was able to proceed to a shop for repairs. Nobody was hurt.

DEATHS

P. J. Quinn

P. J. Quinn, one of St. John's most respected and well known citizens, passed away at his home, 18 Wellington Row, yesterday afternoon after a comparatively brief illness. The late Mr. Quinn was one of New Brunswick's veteran commercial travelers up to recent years and had connections with some of the largest business houses in the Dominion. His wife and two daughters, Mrs. H. McCullough and Miss May Quinn, both of this city, survive. His death will be regretted by a wide circle of friends. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from his late residence.

CITY MECHANICS HAVE TRYING DAY

Catch Basin Cleaner, Motor Flusher in Trouble—Steam Shovel Breaks.

Yesterday was an off day for things mechanical and a lucky day for the unemployed in the city. Two of the most mentioned diggers were out of commission for a time and human agencies had the task of setting the machinery in motion once more as well as the task of carrying on the labor in which mechanical means had failed.

The steam shovel on the site of the Admiralty Hotel broke down in almost total failure and 30 and 40 of the unemployed who had been asking for work and gazing at the shovel, were taken on to push the work forward until repairs were made. A crew of workmen from the shop of the St. John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company, Limited, was at work last night repairing the shovel. The other famous digger which got into trouble was the city's new suction cleaner for catch basins, a vehicle weighing 14 tons. The suction cleaner was being dumped at the North End Improvement League grounds when the huge truck toppled out of position, slid down the bank and got stuck in the mud.

This slide from the path of rectitude soon assumed a serious aspect as the greater the effort to extricate it the deeper did the machine plunge in the mire. It canted over at a most disreputable looking angle and there it was lodged solidly.

An S.O.S. call was sent for the city street flusher, which arrived in triumph, a sporting mechanical friend completely expecting to extricate its colleague with all speed. But the facts were sad again. The flusher stuck fast in a soft spot on the bank. As a poet might have said, "Like Leviathans aground" lay the city's trucks on the mud. Flanks were brought and jacks were applied to hoist the mighty flusher out of the mire.

The flusher spent only a few minutes in her ignominious position but, once freed from the clinging mud, she moved off in state and did not venture in again.

OPERATORS WILL CUT LESS LUMBER

Overhead Too High for Profit, They Say—35-50 Per Cent. Reduction.

The resolution of the New Brunswick Lumbermen's Association to curtail its production of lumber 35 to 50 per cent in the coming season, passed at the meeting of the association in Bathurst on July 30, had the hearty endorsement of the 22 members present at the meeting. The resolution is supported by lumbermen throughout New Brunswick, it is believed. The 22 present at the meeting represented all of the large lumber companies and many of the smaller companies.

It was stated by lumbermen who were interviewed last night over the long distance telephone, that the reduction in lumber production was made necessary by the fact that a great deal of the lumber cut this season was unsold and could not be profitably sold because of the high rates of Government stamptage in New Brunswick and the high charges under the Workmen's Compensation.

The resolution passed at the meeting of the association was moved by J. B. Snowball, of Chatham, and seconded by W. H. Miller, of Campbellton, and was as follows: "In view of the market conditions and overstock of lumber, it is the consensus of opinion of this meeting that our production of lumber during the ensuing year should be curtailed 35 to 50 per cent."

Mr. Snowball said last night that his firm, J. B. Snowball & Co., of Chatham, had cut 17,000,000 to 18,000,000 feet last year and if the company went into the woods at all this year—and it was quite likely that it would not go into the woods—it would curtail its cut to eight or nine million feet. He said there was a great deal of last year's cut unsold on the North Shore. The lumber companies were piling the deals in their yards with very little prospect of finding a market for them.

There were a great many contributing factors in the situation, Mr. Snowball said. Chief among them were the charges for workmen's compensation and the high Government stamptage rate in New Brunswick. The workmen's compensation levy last year had been eight per cent, to be spread over a period of three years. This year the tax would be four per cent, a tax which would be too greatly to the cost of production. The Government stamptage charge of $4 in New Brunswick contrasted with the stamptage charge of $2.70 in Quebec, saying that the higher charge made it impossible for New Brunswick lumbermen to compete in the open market.

LADIES' AID MEETS. The Ladies' Aid of the Carleton Methodist church had an enjoyable picnic at the summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Tippet at Pandene on Thursday afternoon when 83 were present. The afternoon was spent in games and sports. The hostess served dainty refreshments. The members returned to the city in the evening, having spent a very pleasant time.

RENFORTH PLANS NEW TEA PAVILION

At a meeting of the Renforth Tennis Club held last evening in the clubhouse of the Renforth Athletic and Outing Association, it was decided to start work immediately on the building of a tea pavilion where the club members and their visitors could be entertained. It is hoped to have the work of erection so well commenced by fall that the finishing touches can be put on in the spring and it will be ready for use next season.

The pavilion will be near the courts but will be in such a position as not to interfere with the possible addition of a fourth court. It will be 40 by 30 feet with a ten-foot verandah running the full length. Inside there will be dressing and locker rooms on each end and a space of about twenty feet square will be left for the serving of meals. The club members were enthusiastic over the prospect of the pavilion at the meeting. James P. McInerney, the president, was in the chair.

QUEBEC MINISTER LOSES HIS APPEAL

Privy Council Rules on Income Tax Payment by Crown Officials.

London, Aug. 1.—The appeal of Hon. J. E. Caron, Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Quebec, to the Privy Council, from a judgment of the Canadian Supreme Court in the case of Caron vs. The King, over a question of income tax, was dismissed today by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. Hon. Mr. Caron objected to the paying of the Dominion Income Tax on the salary paid to him as a Minister of the Crown, hence legal proceedings were begun, carried through the Canadian courts, and ended here today with the dismissal of the appeal.

TO PLAN GARDEN PARTY.

The New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage is to be officially opened in the course of the next two or three weeks, and in connection with the opening the directors intend to hold a garden party. A meeting will be held in the Orange Hall, Germain street, next Monday night, when the matter will be discussed and committees will be appointed to carry out the arrangements.

HE'S FROM ST. JOHN

David Robertson Doig is Making Good Name in Brandon.

The Brandon College Quill is a college magazine more pretentious than most of its class. In the June issue, in a class history, is found the following about David Robertson Doig, a native of St. John: D. B. Doig. "Bob" hails from the land of schooners, fish, and high tides, but he has long been a resident of our land of Fords, wheat and low temperatures. St. John, New Brunswick, was the place of his birth but Brandon has been the scene of his entire school life. Here, he received his early education in the public schools and collegiate and in the Fall of 1919 entered Grade XI at Brandon College to matriculate the following spring. Deciding to continue his education further he became one of the charter-members of Class '24 in the following autumn.

The characteristic which, more than any other, makes Bob stand out from his companions, is his industry. His chosen field of study is political economy and his ability in this line was demonstrated by his winning the scholarship for economics in the third year. It might be mentioned that Bob is somewhat interested in home economics as well. The fact that, throughout all his time at college, Bob has kept his connection with the business world, is additional evidence of his capacity for work. In emphasizing the industrious side of Bob's nature we must not overlook his individualistic character. He has thought out his own ideas about many things, and when the occasion presents itself for expressing them he is not at all reticent about doing so. Bob's business efficiency has been recognized in his being chosen to serve as secretary-treasurer of the class in

HOUSE DESTROYED AT HARVEY BANK

Residence of Capt. Arthur Edgett is Prey to Flames.

Hopewell Hill, Aug. 1.—A disastrous fire occurred at Harvey Bank today when the two-story residence of Capt. Arthur Edgett, river pilot, with the large barn nearby were burned to the ground at about 9 o'clock in the afternoon. It was difficult to understand just how the fire originated. It is supposed that it was due to a defective flue. Flames first were discovered in the bedroom above the kitchen between the walls and near the chimney. Mrs. Edgett was alone in the house at the time, Captain Edgett being out in the bay field. A large crowd gathered but all efforts to save the buildings were fruitless. The furniture was removed. Although it is understood there is some insurance, the loss will be heavy. The residence was one of the landmarks of Harvey, being the former homestead of the Wells family and at one time having been owned and occupied by the late Sheriff Wells. Several buildings near were in considerable danger but fortunately the wind was blowing away from the burning structures and these flames were not carried to the nearby dwellings, otherwise the village would have suffered greatly.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Relief When Other Medicines Failed

Port Mann, B. C.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was tired and run-down. I had headaches and no appetite and was troubled for two years with sleeplessness. I tried many medicines, but nothing did me any real good. While I was living in Washington I was recommended by a stranger to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am stronger and feel fine since then and am able to do my housework. I am willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial." Mrs. J. C. GREAVES, Port Mann, B. C.

Feels New Life and Strength Keene, N. H.—"I was weak and run-down and had backache and all sorts of troubles which women have. I found great relief when taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sensitive Wash. I am able to do my work and feel new life and strength from the Vegetable Compound. I am doing all I can to advertise it." Mrs. A. F. HAMMOND, 12 Carpenter Street, Keene, N. H.

Sick and ailing women everywhere in the Dominion should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. should say so. Why, how could he get in without money, I'd like to know? The worst of it is just because he's so big for his age, Mister Zip charges him full fare. And he's two weeks younger than his cousin, who always gets in for half."

FABLES ON HEALTH

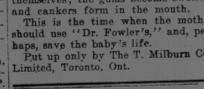

Return to Boyhood

"You know it isn't altogether the necessary, fishing, that matters," said the physical director to Mr. Mann, when the latter started on his summer vacation. "Whether you follow a trout stream or sit in a boat, fishing is a means to a healthful end."

"Suppose you go trout fishing. You're all right to land one of the babies, aren't you? And you start following the stream. Your mind is on walk and walk—and lose all track of time and distance. Without knowing, you cover seven or eight miles. Now suppose you had stayed at the hotel or camp? You would have lollered around, and your mind might have wandered to affairs at home; and the flies would have bothered you, and maybe you would have found a newspaper and been bothered by a market report."

"Instead of that you are out in a primitive occupation, you return literally to boyhood—and that's what you need on a vacation. If you go trout fishing, you are likely to get the exercise of rowing and the relaxation of lying in the sun waiting for a bite. It's hard to beat a fishing vacation!"

WHEN THE BABIES ARE CUTTING TEETH THE MOTHER SHOULD USE

During baby's teething time, especially in the hot summer months, the bowels become loose and diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps, etc., manifest themselves; the gums become swollen, and cankers form in the mouth.

This is the time when the mother should use "Dr. Fowler's," and, perhaps, save the baby's life. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Wilson and A. Gordon Leavitt, secretary Report on Sites.

Mr. McIntyre gave the report of the sub-committee on sites, explaining that, on the advice of the directors of vocational education for the Dominion and the provinces, it was believed necessary to have at least four acres of land and, if possible, eight acres.

The sub-committee had considered many sites and it favored the one mentioned because it was easily accessible, was sufficiently large and was located in the section of the city where about 12 per cent of the school population resided. The site, it was said, had water and sewerage connection and was of a type of land which would not be costly for excavation.

G. G. Murdoch's report had been obtained and it stated that the cost of a three-foot basement excavation would be $21,000, while the cost for a three-foot basement on a perfectly level ground, half rock and half soil, would be $20,000.

Mr. Hennessey remarked that it was not desirable to have any basement and that it was intended to have the building on the ground level.

For the sub-committee on plans, Mr. Hennessey reported that architect, E. Neil Brodie, would have ready on Tuesday the sketch plans and estimates which embodied suggested alterations of the plans previously prepared.

The meeting adjourned on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock to hear the further reports with regard to a site and to plans.

Government Grants. The construction of the new school would add $250,000 to the city's building programme of this season as the estimates for approximately that figure. Work on the Admiral Beatty Hotel, Protestant Orphan's Home, St. Patrick's school, John and the St. John Infirmary has been started. Altogether, with work already under way and planned, St. John has a $5,000,000 building programme.

The Government grants for vocational education will contribute 25 per cent of the expenditure for the building; 50 per cent on the equip-

The city of St. John has been lagging behind in the matter of vocational education as practically all of the large cities in the Dominion have well equipped vocational schools. The need of vocational training to round out the educational system in the city has been more and more realized by those who have studied the situation. A recent survey of the city made by F. S. Rathford pointed out the great value which such a school as that being considered, would be to the community in training citizens for useful and productive life work.

CONSIDER SITE FOR VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

North End Location Favored—$350,000 in New Construction Involved.

The St. John vocational committee yesterday favorably considered a site in the north end of the city, six acres in extent, with frontage on Dufferin Avenue and adjoining the North End Improvement League grounds. This site was recommended by a sub-committee and the sub-committee was asked to confer with the owners of the property, Armstrong and Bruce Ltd., with regard to the price and to report back to the committee later. The sub-committee was also asked to make recommendations with regard to other sites which might come under its observation and be suitable for the vocational school.

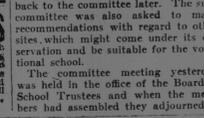

The committee meeting yesterday was held in the office of the Board of School Trustees and when the members had assembled they adjourned to successful winners receiving prizes. A shooting gallery in charge of Thomas Kerr and team boards in charge of Fred Watts were well patronized. The annual Sunday school picnic of the Silver Falls Methodist church, held on the grounds of Samuel Watters, Loch Lomond road, was a decided success. SILVER FALLS NOTES

A very successful picnic social under the auspices of Silver Falls Methodist church was held on Monday evening in the school house. William Arthur was the auctioneer. The sum of $70 was realized. There was a brief programme of choruses, recitations and readings. Friends from the city assisted with the numbers. The social part of the programme was much enjoyed. Coffee and ice cream were served with the pies, the purchases of the pies sharing them with the original owners.

The Anglicans of Silver Falls held their annual picnic on Tuesday on Ryan's field, a beautiful spot on the Hickey road. The day was ideal and there was a good attendance. The pastor, Rev. W. C. Follette, assisted in directing the amusements of the children. The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Wm. Kerr and Mrs. Thomas Kerr. Tea and coffee were made by Mrs. W. J. Bambrury. The ice cream booth was presided over by Miss Florence Simmons. An efficient committee of ladies assisted in serving the meals. The classes all engaged in racing, the as possible. Hand painting on gauze is greatly in vogue, and designs suggested by the painter may be portraits of notabilities, landscape scenes, Oriental characters forming a verse of a poem, and so on.

Most curious of all is the play made with large insects. Not only is the decorative dragonfly, poised airily on some creations, but the fat green caterpillar also may be seen crawling up the crown of a large white straw hat. Realism, in fact, is the note this season.

For wear with tailor-made the small helmet hat still holds its own. Studied often with brass, or adorned with the dagger brooch, which is newer than the arrow, these small hats have a novel note in the embroidered or beaded heraldic bird or beast. A few models have been launched in Paris bearing the wearers' coat-of-arms and the motto. The motto carried out in original fashion in small mother-of-pearl buttons is still often seen.

For bathing there are rubber hats in large picture-shapes, elaborately adorned with rubber fruits and flowers, while waterproof satin lends itself to this seaside headgear also.

RECKLESS DRIVERS SHOULD BE CURBED, SAYS T. P. REGAN

President of N. B. Automobile Association Favors Licensed Operators.

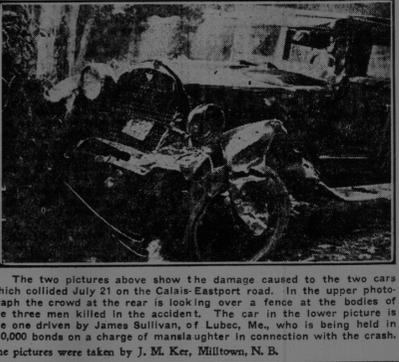

Speaking last night of the recent automobile accident in which three men of Calais, Me., lost their lives on the Calais-Eastport road July 21, when their car was in collision with a large sedan, the driver of which was accused of manslaughter, T. P. Regan, president of the New Brunswick Automobile Association, said that there was every need of care at all times on the roads. There was too much reckless driving and disregard for lives and safety of others at the present day, he said. In the accident in question, a small touring car, driven by Bert Spilney, 18, of Calais, was completely wrecked and Spilney and two others in the car were killed when they were struck by a large sedan driven by James Sullivan, of Lubec. The sedan was said to have been making between 50 and 60 miles an hour and the driver was brought into court in Calais to answer a manslaughter charge. He pleaded not guilty and was bound over in the sum of $10,000 to appear before the superior court.

Advocates Curb. Mr. Regan said he regarded it as a frightful accident. He had been in St. Stephen the day it happened and observed the result of another collision on his way back to St. John. He believed that people were becoming generally more careless about their driving and thought it would be a good thing for the public at large if some steps were taken to check up the reckless ones. He said he thought the system in vogue in some of the United States, that of issuing licenses to drivers after a thorough examination and revoking them in case the drivers later did not appear to be proper persons to hold them, was a good one. Hon. J. L. Perron, Minister of Roads for Quebec, had threatened to take drastic steps to stop speeding in his province, Mr. Regan said. He had admonished drivers that their first infraction of the laws would bring them a warning, their second would result in a fine and their third would mean the cancellation of their licenses. Mr. Regan went on to say that he had complaints every day of local drivers traveling at a reckless pace along the roads. It was not only the young and irresponsible drivers who were being reported, either, he said, but people presumed to have reached years and positions of discretion.

Cost and Carelessness. He thought a lot of trouble was caused by the increasing cheapness of the automobile. Cars could be bought cheaply, especially second-hand cars, and the drivers were not so careful of them as they were in the days of higher prices. Their carelessness about their own property often made them forget that others might think more of theirs and was the cause of many accidents, he thought. In many cases he had observed the drivers of cheaper cars holding to more than their own share of the road, apparently not worrying about the possible results of a collision, while others were forced close to the ditch to avoid accident. He thought very drastic steps should be taken to prevent the operation of cars by men under the influence of liquor. He believed that, in the great many accidents, one or both drivers involved had their faculties hampered by the results of drinking. Some bad driving was the possible result of sleepiness and fatigue on the part of the operators, who were too tired to give the required amount of attention to their tasks. Speeding was a great danger to the lives and safety of the public, he concluded, and should be discouraged in every possible way.

Grim Warning To Speed Demons

The two pictures above show the damage caused to the two cars which collided July 21 on the Calais-Eastport road. In the upper photograph the crowd at the rear is looking over a fence at the bodies of the three men killed in the accident. The car in the lower picture is the one driven by James Sullivan, of Lubec, Me., who is being held in $10,000 bonds on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the crash. The pictures were taken by J. M. Ker, Milltown, N. B.

MANY ARE BARRED BY NEW U. S. LAW

Two Hundred Thousand in Cuba Had Hoped to Get In.

Havana, Aug. 2.—The new American immigration law which became effective July 1 has barred the doors to approximately 200,000 persons from every land under the sun who had come to Cuba expecting to go to the United States, according to Vice-Consul T. M. Fisher in charge of passports in the American consulate general here. The sharp decrease in quotas from Asia and southern European countries and the change in regulations make it improbable that more than one per cent of the would-be immigrants can legally get into the United States during the next 12 months and many declare openly that under these conditions they will take almost any chance of being smuggled over to Florida or to any port. A few say they will go to South America, but the majority decline to do so, and will eventually return to their native lands. Nearly three-fourths of the men, women and children who gather daily by the thousands and clamor for passports vises to "The States" are Spanish. The next largest element consists of Jamaican negroes of whom there are approximately 40,000, while Mr. Fisher estimates that there are 10,000 Jews of various nationalities and about 300 to 500 each of Germans, Greeks, Russians, Poles, Turks, Syrians, and Armenians, and scores of Rumanians, Czech-Slovakians, Jugo-Slavians, Persians and a few Chaldeans and native African negroes. "I have never heard of a nationality that is not represented," he said. In addition there are some 60,000 Chinese and a scattering of Japanese in Cuba whose only hope is to be smuggled into the United States. The Spaniards fit well into Cuban life and are represented in most of its industries throughout the island, while the Chinese in the last few years have started truck farms in the suburbs of Havana and are supplying the city with fresh vegetables or are operating small stores here, but most of the other immigrants appear to be living from hand to mouth and declare they cannot settle down and save anything in a country where common labor makes $1 to $1.50 a day and where "floating labor" is lucky to find a job in the dull summer months. A few immigrants peddle small articles in the streets or work for a few dollars a week for residents of their own nationality, and a Jewish aid society extends what help it can to persons of that faith, but, according to Mr. Fisher, "literally thousands are being supported by relatives in the United States or are living on their savings."

Many of the immigrants have lived for years in the United States without taking out naturalization papers and on visiting their native lands overstayed the time limit and now cannot return. Most of the immigrants are persons who were refused American passport vises in their own countries and came to Cuba hoping to get into the United States under the provisions of the former immigration law which allowed free entry to Europeans after five years' residence here and permitted a dash across the Florida straits to get in on their respective quotas after a year's residence. The new law contains no such provisions.

Russia Has a New Proposal for Britain Moscow, Aug. 2.—After a series of hurried conferences with the Government respecting the present status of the Anglo-Russian conference, M. Rakovsky, principal Soviet delegate, left yesterday for London by airplane. In collaboration with the Council of Commissioners he has formulated a set of new proposals for submission to the British Government, which, in the opinion of responsible officials here, removes the obstacles which hitherto have hindered to a successful outcome of the conference.

THINKS THE KLAN COUNTS FOR LITTLE

Clergymen Believe Law Abiding People Will Pay Little Attention to K.K.K.

That the KuKlux Klan would make very little change in the politics of the United States was the opinion expressed last night by Rev. Andrew Haughey of Ardenmore, Me., who arrived in the city yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Haughey on his way to Chester, N. S., for a holiday trip. He said he believes that the law-abiding people of the country would not be influenced by the Klan activities. There had been a branch of the Klan in Ardenmore, Rev. Mr. Haughey said, and a policeman had been killed during a riot at one of their meetings. He did not think that their power was really very great. Mr. Haughey was a native of Ardenmore, in the north of Ireland, and went to the United States about 16 years ago. He is now rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church in Ardenmore, a suburb of Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Haughey were due to leave on the Express this morning for Digby and to take train there for Chester.

MAY RUN IN NEW FEDERAL SEAT

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 1.—Opinion in political circles today seems to point to the possibility that Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, may shortly announce his candidature for the new federal seat of West Edmonton, which covers considerable territory in the Stoney Plain and St. Albert District. Mr. Stewart was elected a member of the House of Commons for the seat of Argenteuil, in Quebec province, at a by-election held March 2, 1922. The Minister of the Interior is at present in Alberta, and is spending a few days on his Killam farm before returning to the city, when some definite announcement may be made.

THREE CHILDREN DIE ACCIDENTALLY

Casualties in Montreal Reach a Total of Four in One Day.

Montreal, Aug. 1.—The body of seven-year-old James Martin, who has been missing from his home since last Thursday, was found in the Lachine Canal this afternoon. He had last been seen playing on the canal bank. When he fell from a second story window at his home in Vint street here today, John Duhane, three, suffered a fractured skull and died at the Western Hospital several hours later. Harry Ridge, 19, of 1617 Ontario street east, died of a fractured skull at the Royal Victoria Hospital this afternoon. He was working on a scaffolding when he missed his footing and fell a distance of 20 feet. Six-year-old George Albert Bertrand, of 518 Beaulieu street, died at the St. Justine Hospital today from internal injuries suffered when he fell from an automobile at Cedar, near here, last Monday.

MORE FREIGHTS ARE OFFERING

Montreal, Aug. 1.—Despite adverse conditions at the beginning of the season, McE. Duff, manager of the Canadian Pacific Great Lakes Steamship services, said this morning that the freight movement is picking up. There was a very heavy movement in export flour, and he was satisfied from his experience that Canadian millers were getting a very strong hold on the world's flour markets. "This," he added, "is bound to have a good effect in the very near future, because it means that more money is being left in the country, and that there is more work for Canadian workmen. Flour handled on the "Canadian Pacific Great Lakes Steamships recently has been billed to points practically all over the world, but particularly," said Mr. Duff, "to the West Indies, Mediterranean ports, England, France, Holland and Scandinavia. The milled stuff handled for export by this line last year exceeded by 50,000 tons the previous year's handling and this year a further increase is expected."

NEWS NOTES GATHERED FROM THE WORLD OF STAGE AND SCREEN

Scandal Promoters Find Easy Prey in Hollywood

(By JACK JUNGMEYER.)

Hollywood, Aug. 2.—The most pernicious camp of gossip mongers and scandal promoters in America has grown up about the motion picture studios of Hollywood.

Babblers and baiters from all quarters of the globe and every station of society, seeking to ingratiate themselves for self-advantage with successful producers, directors and actors—picture parasites.

It is not necessary, in writing of these things, to wield a whitewash brush for all members of the picture industry. Hollywood is spiced with two "is" not one, in its middle. I know how many cheap minds and undisciplined spirits it houses among its decorous and stalwart majority. And it is inevitable that many should reflect in private life that emotional emphasis in which screen folk deal as a profession.

Fully half of the now diminishing "scandal" scandals of Hollywood, however, have been fomented by the screen camp followers, for sheer spleen or for a perverted delight in human wreckage. Also for that self-advertisement which in Hollywood has become a fine, if not a refined, art.

Let me turn over a few explanatory paragraphs to Conrad Nagel, featured actor with the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer organization—Nagel who is regarded as the Sir Galahad of the cinema.

"Parasites," says Nagel, "are the same the world over, but particularly bad in filmland. "Because, as a whole, picture people are generous and easily approached, as well as being interesting targets for colorful publicity designs, the promoters have become especially prevalent and dangerous.

"Their attacks are various, but their chief purpose is to have their names connected with that of film celebrities. The industry has had more harmful reaction from these people than from any other source.

"In many sensational divorce cases, picture people have been named primarily to add sensation to the action—brought in by court necessity, but in such a way that screen celebrities might be attached to publicity.

"One of the most dangerous of the parasites is the gossip, probably the commonest type in Hollywood and New York. Usually the gossip wears wild stories out of whole cloth. These tales are avidly propagated and usually are of such nature and in such form that the traduced player or director has no means to controvert them.

"Heroic measures will have to be taken to eliminate the scandal promoter, the vicious movie camp follower, in the interest of more wholesome production conditions."

Wally Reid was a victim of their favor. Arbutck's wreck was completed by them.

Mabel Normand has been one of their favorite targets. Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and Harold Lloyd have been dragged into lawsuits of which they knew nothing.

Charlie Chaplin's name has been used time and again.

Pity the Trainer as Well as His Animals

(By JACK JUNGMEYER.)

Hollywood, Aug. 2.—In the periodical hue against asserted cruelty to animals in motion pictures, the trainer, subject often to innate savagery of his wards in the patient process of schooling, is completely lost sight of.

The recent and almost simultaneous death of two celebrated movie animal trainers, "Chick" Morrison, killed by a horse, and "Curly" Stecher, mortally tusked by an elephant, provides tragic emphasis.

No organized effort to eliminate the quadruped from the screen on the general charge of maltreatment has included the trainer as his object of consideration. He is commonly presumed to get what he deserves in the perilous profession of making wild beasts tractable.

Probably not one in 10,000 movie goers had ever heard of Morrison or Stecher or any other man of their calling, but their wit and work went into many pictures. Men of a breed whose prototype curbed the first wild steed and the fractious camera performer for "The King of Wild Horses."

Morrison trained horses and dogs for Hal Roach. It was he who, through infinite patience and animal psychology, converted the outlay stallion "Rex" into a tractable camera performer for "The King of Wild Horses."

A stallion is never "broken," but Morrison virtually living with the horse for months gained a confidence which enabled him to direct "Rex" a quarter mile away. This made possible the remarkable shots of wild life in the picture.

"Chick" was schooling an Arabian stallion to support "Rex" in the next picture when the horse stumbled, pinned the trainer and killed him instantly.

Stecher worked with lions, leopards and elephants for Universal. His body bore many scars. Several cats almost did for him. But his most fickle ward was "Charley," a roving elephant, who had played havoc in several circuses and had the reputation of a killer when Stecher took over his training.

"Charley" was a periodical rogue. For weeks and months he would brood heavily in his shed at Universal studios, rocking above his stabled chain. Then he'd pull the chain from its cement socket and crash from the elephant house on a jungle rampage.

It was in one of these moodish, apparently mistaking Stecher for someone else whose clothes the trainer was wearing, that he stamped and gored "Charley." The elephant was executed.

aid Barker, at present engaged in filming "The Great Divide" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

In this picture Miss Terry has been cast as Ruth Jordan, a feminine lead made famous by Margaret Anglin in the stage play. Opposite her in the cast will be Conway Tearle—a combination of stars hitherto untried. In fact, personal introduction of the two was necessary shortly before the cameras started registering the first scenes of the picture.

"The plot, portraying as it does, a development in character, will give my biggest dramatic opportunity," comments Miss Terry. "Not that I was or am dissatisfied with my former roles, but this, being distinctly different from them, naturally catches my fancy as new things will.

"Much of the dramatic action in 'The Great Divide' takes place between two of the characters—Mr. Tearle and myself. This, technically known as a two-person story, also is new to me."

Thus explained to them, Terry fans, who formerly complained of the meagerness of their favorite's film footage, may await completion of this picture with no less expectancy than Miss Terry herself.

ALICE TERRY.

given us, big dramatic scenes have been largely to others—for so it chanced.

Now, for the first time since he took charge of her film career, Ingram has consented to his wife's appearance under the directorship of another, Reginald Barker, at present engaged in

Alice Terry Leaves Ingram Temporarily For New Film

(By A. H. Frederick.)

Hollywood.—Strange inconsistency of the movies is this: One may be a star for years and yet not star.

So it has been with Alice Terry, one of screenland's prettiest and well known to cinema followers as the heroine of the "Four Horsemen," "Scaramouche," "The Prisoner of Zenda" and other of Shadowland's most startling productions.

The case of Miss Terry is symbolical of the two schools of theory dividing Hollywood—that which claims the star as the chief magnet that lures the half dollars and that which contends "the play is the thing."

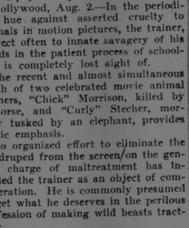

Whoso can answer the riddle will render inestimable service to the motion picture magnates, sorely puzzled through it in the region of their pocket-books and maximum returns thereto.

Proponent of one school is Schenck. Ample close-ups, multitudinous personality scenes are allotted a "laimadge" in all his pictures—story be what it may.

Subordinates Actors. Perhaps foremost advocate of the other theory is Rex Ingram, under whose directing Miss Terry has been for some four years, or since the industrially revolutionary "Four Horsemen." This theory subordinates actors to story.

Among his many claims to fame Ingram lists this, that he is the husband of the pulchritudinous Miss Terry. But when directing he recognizes neither relatives, friends nor celebrated strangers as entitled to one jot or tittle more of film footage than is called for by the script and the action.

Consequently, while Miss Terry has had the leading feminine parts in the great productions which Ingram has some months ago, and his victim died more recently from the effects of that attack.

Cruelty to animals? The phrase as commonly spoken means the use of nothing save the honeyed word in dealing with creatures. Kindness to jungle-bred brutes and range-reared stallions, knowing only savage survival, requires heroic forbearance and courage far beyond the average person's, while the trainer is placating primal rage and terror.

Apropos, I recall two incidents. "Curly" Stecher refused to punish a tiger which had badly wounded him, because he discovered that she had been maddened by a bee sting. It took him a day to discover that. He wanted to be just, to understand why the cat had attacked.

"Chick" Morrison stood his ground, unarmed, when "Rex" without apparent provocation, charged him with flattened ears and falling hoofs—stood on the brink of death with nothing but a kind word for defense, while I, with less faith in kindness, shined up a convenient ladder.

As long as the world is interested in trained animals, I bespeak equal consideration for man and beast when cruelty is discussed.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO RENO RUPERT HUGHES inside story of divorce A GOLDWYN PICTURE

"Why I Wrote This For The Screen" —Rupert Hughes. "Why marry at all if only for a while?" might well be the query of the young man and woman of our time. Divorce is increasing by leaps and bounds and in communities where divorce is not practised, separations have multiplied twenty-fold. The contradictions of the laws are a further confusion. No problem of our life is more important or more poignant than the relation of men and women and children. Love, home, religion, happiness, success, are all involved. Where could there be a better field for the moving picture, which reaches so many more millions than any other form of expression? So I have taken as my heroine a young woman whose husband deserts and divorces her and her two little children and who married again, only to find that the laws of the United States are in a hopeless tangle. She is married to one man in one state, to another in another, to neither in another, and a bigamist in another. In one state her children are not legitimate. This is not an artificial, but a real situation, and it seems to me intensely dramatic and vital. The theme of the picture is the chaos of the forty-eight divorce laws of our forty-eight states. I take no sides in the problem, but simply present it as vividly and powerfully as I can. ALSO REPEAT ENGAGEMENT ROSSLEY DUMBELLS JR. IN THE MARKET.
The country market presented a very pleasing appearance this morning and the housewife had a good variety from which to choose for Sunday dinner. In addition to strictly utilitarian exhibits there was on sale a large quantity of flowers and these made the building look like a fairy chamber with their wonderful tints. All the produce shown this morning was native, with the exception of tomatoes, and there was a plentiful supply of all. Pears and beans sold for 40 cents a peck, strawberries were selling for 20 to 25 cents a box, potatoes, new, 30 cents a peck, Lamb sold for 20 to 30 cents a pound by the quarter. Cucumbers were 10 cents each.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "if you see me going through The Settlement in a car this afternoon don't get excited and drop the pitchfork."

"He you gonto git out o' town!" said Hiram. "Aint nobody in' wrong?"

"All's right with the world," said the reporter, "and with me."

"Well, now I look here," said Hiram. "You jest haul up at my place an' git a good drink o' butter."

"You jest haul up at my place an' git a good drink o' butter. An' if you hev time I want to show you the finest field o' potatoes they is this side o' Weststock. If you hev time to stay over we'd take a run out to the lake an' try fer a trout. I'd take a half-day off to go round with you—an' Hanner shed love to show you her garden an' let you sample her blueberry pie."

"Nothing would I suit me better," said the reporter, "but time will not permit. What I appreciate most is your restraint. You have not even suggested that you would like me to bluster my hands in the hayfield or turn the grindstone. That is very noble of you, Hiram."

"If you come too often," said Hiram, "I might. I aint above doin' it with some folks—when they stay too long—no, sir."
