HANGMAN PUT UNDER ARREST

Ellis Flourished Revolver In a Montreal Theatre

DRUNKENNESS CHARGED

Very Indignant When Taken by Police and Spoke of "The Idea of Degrading One of My Position"

(Canadian Press)

Montreal, Jan. 23—Arthur Ellis domination hangman, will appear in the recorder's court today, charged with drunkenness and having a revolver in his possession.

The last turn of the night was in progress at the Orpheum Theatre last night when a man, partly bald, tall, slim, wearing spectacles and bearing the general appearance of a dignified scholar, put his hand to a belt strapped tightly about his waist and produced a 38-calibre Smith and Wesson revolver.

An usher hurried to the door and met Lieutenant Clearent and Constable Robitaille of the police. He described the man and the officers, hearing that he had tired of the performance, waited in the lobby. Ellis stepped forth and Lieutenant Clearent laid his hand on his shoulder.

"Don't put your hands on me," said the man.

A quick move and the gun was beyond his reach, then the trio went to the station.

"Arthur Ellis, Dominion executioner," said the prisoner proudly, when asked his name.

Ellis gave a lengthy oration on the indignities to which he was being subjected.

"The idea of placing me in a position like this," he exclaimed, "The idea of degrading one of my position. This is terrible. This is an injustice. Some person will suffer for this. Chief Canpeau never consent to my being treated in this grotesque manner. It is simply preposterous, ridiculous."

When Ellis was searched, ten cartridges were found in his belt, also papers authorizing him to visit Bordeneau jail this morning.

To Hang Negro Tomorrow

Arthur Ellis was fined $5 for carrying the revolver without a license. Sentence was suspended on the drunkenness charge.

After the hangman had paid his fine, he had only eight cents left, and Sheriff Lemieux had to make arrangements to have him looked after until morning, when he will be paid for the execution of Campbell, a negro.

THE BOARD OF TRADE AND THE BAY OF FUNDY

Some doubt having been thrown upon the action of the board of trade in relation to the false statements made concerning the navigation of the Bay of Fundy, the facts may be set forth a little more fully for the public benefit.

In the first place, the board applied to the local marine department for the record that was necessary to make out such a statement as had been made out by the board in 1888 and 1887. The matter was referred to Ottawa and the department there replied that the information could be got in the reports.

These reports were then taken and carefully gone over, but as they relate to the shipping of all Canada the task was somewhat tedious. It was also found that they did not, as in former years, give full particulars about the tonnage and the percentage of loss.

In an application was made to Lloyd's, but the tonnage could not be learned, and then inquiry was made at the customs house, and the officials readily consented to examine the records there to see if the necessary information could be got.

If it could be secured there, then the board of trade must apply to Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine, and ask him to get the information from the records of his department at Ottawa. It was also found that the most citizens that it should have been the work of the marine department and not the board of trade to have got the information in the first place.

FRANK AVOWAL OF TORY PRINCIPLES

D. Nicholson, M. P., Urges Increase in Bounties and Protection and Bigger Expenditures—Government's Extravagance Scored

Ottawa, Jan. 22—"What's the use of proclaiming in favor of protection if we don't stand for it. Let us have bounties for industries and good protection all round. We don't want any reduction in the debt. Let's dash away and spend the money."

Thus frankly and outspokenly Donald Nicholson, of Prince Edward Island, proclaimed the policy of the Borden government to parliament tonight. The plain-spoken Conservative was greeted by applause from the government benches.

Mr. Nicholson's declaration was the second indication for the day as to the government's position. It was preceded by Dr. Schaefer's practical renunciation of the claims of the Manitoba legislature for free wheat. "Let us have no provincialism," exclaimed the Manitoba Conservative. But rumor hath it that his eyes were upon the senate rather than upon his province.

Messrs. Hughes, Kings (P. E. I.), and Turgeon, Gloucester, the two Liberal speakers of today, further emphasized the purpose of Liberalism to seek relief from strained and serious economic conditions by removing tariff restrictions on foodstuffs and lessening the burden of taxation on the farmer.

Mr. Hughes scored the government's reckless extravagance on militarism and Colonel Sam Hughes' European jaunt, while Mr. Turgeon pleaded for better representation of the maritime provinces and vigorously championed the cause of reciprocity.

Mr. Nesbitt, North Oxford, moved the adjournment of the debate.

EVANGELIST IN NORTH END

The first of the evangelistic meetings in Victoria street United Baptist church, under the leadership of Rev. A. Edwin Burrows, D.D., of Ohio, was held last evening, there being many present.

In the course of his earnest address, interspersed at times with humorous references, the evangelist spoke of the optimism of Christ, whose example, in that respect, might well be followed by the men and women of today, some of whom were often too much concerned with forms, ceremonies, schisms and other ills.

The address was listened to with marked attention and the speaker's words created a deep impression among those who were present.

Daily Hints For the Cook

Quaker Muffins
 One cup scalded milk poured on 2-3 cup rolled oats. Let stand five minutes, add 8 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lard or melted butter. Sift in 1 1/2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder. Mix thoroughly, add one well-beaten egg. Bake in hot greased gem pans 20 to 25 minutes.

Poached Eggs
 Allow 1/2 cup milk for each person, put it on to boil, then wet 1 level teaspoon sifted pastry flour with 2 teaspoons milk, break in 1 egg and beat with spoon just enough to mix it. Add 1/4 teaspoon salt. When the milk boils stir the egg mixture into it, and stir until it begins to thicken, cooking slowly, then turn out gas, cover the dish and in a few minutes stir again. When "set" like custard it is done, and like custard it will be watery if cooked too long or too quick. Delicious with hot gems for breakfast, or sometimes you may butter bread and turn the egg on it. Sprinkle with pepper and serve.

BLACK BEAN CLUB

One Who Draws it Must Wed Within a Year

(London Ideas)

There are many extraordinary clubs in existence in London today, and an idea representative was introduced to one of the most eccentric of them all the other evening.

Another strange club is known as the Black Bean Brotherhood. Membership is strictly confined to forty persons, and the entrance fee is $10, with an annual subscription of the same amount.

The club meets only once a year, when a bag is handed round containing thirty-nine white beans and one black one. The members who draw the black bean is bound to get married during the ensuing twelve months.

An interesting lecture on domestic science in relation to the school curriculum was delivered by Miss K. R. IMPERIAL TONIGHT AND TOMORROW

Those who were prevented from seeing Miss Cecilia Loftus and the Broadway Company of players in "A Lady of Quality" at the Imperial yesterday will be privileged to enjoy this unusual treat tonight. The remarkable film-play will be produced at 7 and 8.45, along with the vaudeville novelty and Miss Ashe, soprano. The play has been held over at general request and because many could not gain admission to the theatre last evening. The matinee this afternoon is largely attended.

Tomorrow the new programme is as follows—"The Mysterious Wax" by the Selig Co., "The Lost Diamond" by the Lubin Co., "A Corner on Popularity" by Lubin and A Day in Jerusalem by Edison. The specially fine feature for the boys is "The Capture of a German Spy," an English war melodrama featuring the cadets and officers of the British Navy.

A Motor Razor. A safety razor, connected to a motor by means of a flexible shaft, is the latest invention to simplify shaving, says the Electrical World. The blades are actuated in such a way as to cut the beard by impact or blows. The blades, therefore, do not need to be so sharp as in hand-shaving. No soap is necessary, wetting the skin being sufficient and a clean shave can be accomplished, it is declared, in a very short time. The after-effects are described as being those following a mild massage. A plug is provided for attaching the razor to any lamp socket.

PECULIAR AFTER EFFECTS OF GRIP THIS YEAR

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 70c. and $1.25. For sale at all druggists in Canada. Be sure to mention this paper.

After 28 Years

A curious and interesting case of a lost letter coming to light happened a few days ago, when John Henderson, town-clerk of Fortrose, Scotland, received a letter which he had posted more than twenty-eight years ago. The letter was addressed to Captain Campbell, of the schooner Viking, of Fortrose care of Lloyd's agent, Elsinore, and the Fortrose post-mark is 28th September, 1885. It had apparently got to Denmark, though it seems doubtful when this could have been, as the next post-mark is Helsingor, 2nd October, 1908. Then there is another blank space till London, 17th December, 1913. It would be interesting to learn how the time was divided. A pathetic touch is given by the fact that about twelve or fifteen years ago the Viking was wrecked near Loozemouth, and Captain Campbell was drowned. The letter showed that the town was bad that year for harvesting, that trade was dull, and freights very low.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., JANUARY 23, 1914.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Cassebury Street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co. Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

OUR LOVING NEIGHBOR

With that fine quality of the higher journalism which characterizes all its utterances the Standard this morning describes the Times as 'an exponent of gutter journalism' and 'a deliberate liar.' Certain statements concerning Mr. J. M. Robinson, president of the board of trade, which appeared in the Standard's article, relative to the Bay of Fundy controversy, cannot be discussed by this paper because of Mr. Robinson's absence from the city, further than to say that Mr. Robinson told the editor of the Times that he had informed a representative of the Standard that the board of trade asked for information relative to the sailings of vessels in and out of St. John, and the losses sustained, and that they were awaiting this information.

Despite the Standard's assertions, the board of trade applied to the local marine department and is preparing a statement although that should have been prepared by Mr. Hazen's department by his order as soon as the falsehoods concerning this port were uttered.

THE COAL TRADE

The relations between capital and labor in the bituminous coal fields in the United States is the cause of some concern in that country. The wage agreement expires on April 1, and the Coal Age says that the miners are instructing their delegates to insist on a "mine run" basis, which it says the operators will refuse to consider.

The Coal Age, in its issue of January 10, which is a magazine of more than one hundred and fifty pages, and deals exhaustively with the coal trade of the continent for the past year, notes the fact that the total output of coal in the United States last year was 562,000,000 tons, compared with 534,000,000 tons in 1912; while there was also some increase in the production of coke.

The changes in the provincial cabinet still leave St. John without representation other than that Hon. John E. Wilson is retained as a member without portfolio.

"Let us all pray for peace in 1914. That accomplished we will have the most prosperous year in history."

The review of coal mining in Canada, which is a feature of the issue, notes that the production of coal in Nova Scotia last year was about 8,400,000 tons, a record output and exceeding that of the previous year by about a half a million tons; and it is said that the present year promises to be another record-breaker.

Great must have been the horror of the tory strife-mongers in Great Britain yesterday when Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Winston Churchill left the cabinet conference arm in arm.

Any citizen of St. John who believes that the city can provide itself with necessary institutions without paying for them is too simple-minded for this practical age. One of the methods of providing all necessary institutions without a heavy burden upon any citizen or group of citizens would be to adopt a modern system of taxation.

more rapidly the city will grow, and the less complaint there will be about heavy taxation.

The Bank of England has again reduced its rate. The Bank of Germany has followed suit, and that of France is expected to do the same.

The municipal councils of Westmorland and Carleton counties have each dismissed the Scott Act inspector.

The Municipal Council and the St. John Railway Company have come to an agreement relating to the extension of the street railway through East St. John to Lee's brickyard, and out the Marsh Road to Goldbrook.

The Municipal Council yesterday authorized the warden, county secretary and Councillor Shillington to close up the road houses, concerning which there has been some vigorous correspondence in the Times of late.

We are told that though there is likely to be a reduction in the estimates at Ottawa this year, there will be no cut in the militia expenditure.

Mr. Donald Nicholson, M. P., of Prince Edward Island, in his speech in parliament yesterday endorsed protection, declared we did not want any reduction in the tariff, and added a cheer-ful sentence which we may well believe was heartily applauded from the government benches.

If Secretary Daggert continues long enough to assert that the embargo against Canadian potatoes was a blessing in disguise, he will finally come to believe it himself; but to accept that view of the case would be a sad reflection upon the department of which Mr. Daggert is the secretary.

The changes in the provincial cabinet still leave St. John without representation other than that Hon. John E. Wilson is retained as a member without portfolio.

"Let us all pray for peace in 1914. That accomplished we will have the most prosperous year in history."

Any citizen of St. John who believes that the city can provide itself with necessary institutions without paying for them is too simple-minded for this practical age.

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABILITIES

FRIDAY, JANUARY 23. A veteran Senator, Robert Jeffrey, of Toronto, who is eighty-two today sends out these words of counsel as a birthday message to his fellow countrymen: "We have a great country, great undeveloped resources, and prospects ahead of us that may make any Canadian feel proud of the possibilities of his country."

THE COST OF LIVING

Maine Women's Clubs Take Up Problem

SPEND TO ADVANTAGE

Home Economics Training Declared of Inestimable Value—Study of the Income and How it May Best Be Divided

At the meeting of the Federation of Maine Women's Clubs in Augusta this week the closest attention was given an interesting paper on The Cost of Living by Miss Cornelia Palmer, professor of home economics at the University of Maine.

"So much has been said in regard to the cost of living that we are becoming weary of the phrase and more weary with the struggle to reduce the cost within the limits of our various incomes," said Miss Palmer. It has been said that man earns and woman spends. This is largely true of the family, although there are exceptions and both contribute to the income by outside labor. Because it is a woman's function to a great degree to spend the money for the maintenance of the family it is important that she understand economic conditions and thus be enabled to spend more wisely. There is no doubt but that a woman understands the value and purchasing power of money much better if she has had an opportunity to earn money by her own labor. If she has never had this privilege then it will be necessary for her to study the problem more closely if she is to be fitted to spend to the best advantage.

"Our problem is not learning to live on the very smallest amount of money possible but learning to spend all we have to the very best advantage. This does not mean that we should not save if our income is sufficiently large to warrant it, but that we should provide for those under our care in such a way that they shall be most efficient and best able to fill their place in the world. Economy is not spending as little as possible but is spending thoughtfully and wisely. One person may wish to spend less on clothes in order to have more with which to buy books. Another may wish to live more simply in the home in order to travel. What is economy for one may not necessarily be for another. We must choose and decide what things are going to give us the best and most of life and what things we can afford to do without.

Training of Value
"This is where home economics training is of inestimable value. It teaches us how to live the big, free, useful, happy life. No matter what we do, happiness is our chief aim. We earn money that we may have it to spend in ways that will give us pleasure. Life and service is our chief end. And the better we are fitted for living—the greater service can we render and the larger our share of happiness will be.

"We have thought sometimes that ignorance is bliss, but no longer does that appeal to emancipated woman and even the men who have feared our intelligence are beginning to realize that a woman works with a well intentioned plan and understands the problems with which she has to deal. We are beginning to realize ourselves that 'Knowledge is power' and if we are wise we shall regenerate society, and if we are foolish, hasty and undisciplined, we shall lose more than we gain.

"A study of the income and how it can best be divided to serve the best purpose helps very materially in deciding how best to spend the means available. Estimates have been made (material having been gathered from various places) showing how various incomes have had to be divided in order to care for the families under investigation. The amount spent for food cannot vary to such a large extent as expenditures in other lines if the proper nourishment is secured.

"A few figures will bring the problem before us: According to Ellen H. Richards the ideal division of the income should be food 25 per cent.; rent, 20 per cent.; operating expenses, 15 per cent.; clothing 15 per cent.; higher life, etc., 25 per cent. However as the income becomes less the percentage for food becomes higher and less remains for other things.

Division of Income
"For a family of two adults and two or three children (equal to four adults) the division of an income of $4,000 would be according to Mrs. Richards, as follows:
"Food, 25 per cent, equals $1,000, equals 23 cents per meal; rent, 20 per cent., equals $800, $66.66 per month; operating expenses, 15 per cent., equals $600; clothes, 15 per cent., equals $450; higher life, 20 per cent., equals $800.

"The division of an income of $500 would show quite a change in percentage: Food, 60 per cent, equals $300; 7 cents per meal; rent, 15 per cent., equals $75, $6.25 per month; operating expenses, five per cent., equals $25; clothes, 10 per cent., equals $50; higher life, 10 per cent., equals $50.

"The medium income of $1,000 would show the following: Food, 30 per cent, equals $300; rent, 20 per cent., equals $200; operating expenses, 10 per cent., equals $100; clothing, 15 per cent, equals $150.

"We can easily see that if the ideal division were applied to the $500 income and 25 per cent. were spent for food we should have for the year only $125 or a little less than three cents per meal, which would be inadequate for any kind of efficiency.

"Statistics tell us that about 75 per cent. of the male adults in our country are earning less than $600 per year. Therefore we must consider their problem as well as our own.

$150; higher life, 25 per cent, equals $225.

"We can easily see that if the ideal division were applied to the $500 income and 25 per cent. were spent for food we should have for the year only $125 or a little less than three cents per meal, which would be inadequate for any kind of efficiency.

"Statistics tell us that about 75 per cent. of the male adults in our country are earning less than $600 per year. Therefore we must consider their problem as well as our own.

"At the University of Maine and other places where home economics is taught, the students learn the value of foods, prepare menus which shall come within a certain definite limit. This can be done in any school or home, with very little thought and planning. Our girls need this kind of training if they are to be efficient citizens.

"The time will come when there will be a sequence of home training from the kindergarten to the university. The women's clubs will be a large factor in bringing this about. They have done much already—there is vastly more to do. Let us get a vision of this opportunity which is before us and help to lay the foundation of better and happier homes. Let us lay aside the traditions that have bound us to petty things and use the great power, which we have in regenerating society through the home. We do not need the ballot in order to do this, but we do need honest, earnest, pure, devoted women who can see beyond the needle and the frying pan, the real meaning of home economics and who will use their knowledge and influence to secure the kind of training for our girls which will best fit them for the most efficient lives."

CONDON SAYS HE IS ON RIGHT SIDE OF STREET

Further Emphasizes the Causes of Speed in Getting Ready For His New Toodle Line

"I am on the right side of the street," said P. Condon, when somebody advised him that a store with such high-class goods should be on the other side of the street.

"A man who is looking for something really good will wear a path to your door, no matter what side of the street one may be on. I grant that more people pass along the north side of King street, but they get a better view of my store—and I repeat that the average man is not timid about passing cars and vehicles. He comes right across.

"My business this year shows a substantial increase over last year. I am cheerful and optimistic and have reason to be.

"The opening up of a new men's furnishing store—the installation of new fixtures for it—requires more room than I have at present, and this is the sole reason for my half price sale this season.

"Never before in the history of Semibrady tailoring have prices been cut square in half. And mind you, these are actual label prices—not just pencil or pen marks made by the usual price-juggling methods.

"I am including all my garments—even the dress suits and serges, for I don't want to disappear a single customer. I want to make new friends for my men's furnishing store when it opens in April."

LABOR MEN WILL PLACE CANDIDATE IN THE FIELD Want Representative in Common Council—Ladies Ask Support For Women's Suffrage Movement

At a mass meeting held last evening in Keith's Assembly rooms, it was announced by E. J. Tighe that there would be a labor candidate in the field at the next civic election. The meeting was under the auspices of the Trade & Labor Council and J. L. Sugrue presided. During the meeting the commissioners were severely criticized by several of the speakers. A resolution was passed sympathizing with the Vancouver Island miners, asking that the dominion government investigate the circumstances surrounding the strike, that the imprisoned strikers be released, alleging that their sentences were unjustifiable. Copies of the resolution will be sent to Premier Borden, Premier McBride, Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, Hon. W. T. Crothers, minister of labor, Hon. J. D. Hazen and Hon. Dr. Pugsley.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. Sugrue and Mr. Tighe on the matter of the miners' situation and ex-Alderman C. T. Jones criticized the action of the commissioners in removing the teamsters from King Square.

Mrs. E. A. Fiske and Mrs. L. A. Currie spoke, asking that the labor men support the Suffrage Association should the question of votes for women be put on the ballot at the next civic election.

THE DUTY OF THE SCHOOL DOCTOR Dr. Mumford, who is the medical officer of the Manchester Grammar School had as his subject at a recent conference of teachers in Bradford, England, "Some physical factors, necessary in higher education." He expressed his sense of the value of medical inspection in the elementary schools, one important result of which, he said, had been an immensely increased sense of responsibility on the part of parents. The duty of the school doctor was to find out what amount of driving-power there was in the child, for a great waste occurred when the teacher endeavored to make the child do something which it had not the physical force to accomplish. It was the experience of most medical officers of public elementary schools that the greater proportion of disability, inefficiency and backwardness in children was due to the effect of insufficient nourishment, insufficient sleep, and incomplete recovery from many ill prevailing and preventable diseases. Inadequate mental deficiency accounted for less than 2 per cent. of the backwardness; incompletely cured disease for from 30 to 50 per cent. of it.

Coming then to the central subject of his paper, Dr. Mumford said that though theoretically higher education, or formal education, during adolescence should be free to all, yet practically many children were so unfit physically, as the result of home and other conditions, that they were more likely to be injured than to be benefited by a prolonged course of indoor study for three or four or more years after the age of thirteen. It was doubtful whether as many as 7 per cent. of the present school population was capable of benefiting by a course of study extending through adolescence.

Dr. Mumford emphasized strongly the need for good home conditions. If, he said, we wanted to increase the 4-1-2 per cent. of children now passing from elementary to higher education, the first requisite was to improve the home and widen the interests and outlook of the parents.

COMMITTEES OF ANGLICAN SYNOD

Close of Important Series of Meetings—Rev. A. W. Teed Commended—Plans For Mission

A very successful and interesting series of quarterly meetings of the boards and committees of the Anglican Synod was concluded yesterday afternoon with the meeting of the synod executive committee. Among the faith-out-works members in attendance were Bishop Richardson, Dean Schofield and Canon Smithers of Fredericton; Archbishop Forsyth of Chatham; Archbishop Newnham of St. Stephens; Canon Neales of Sussex; Rev. Canon Hanington of Norton; Rev. A. W. Daniel, B. C. Boyd, J. H. Fairweather of Rotsey; Rev. M. C. Sheven Kingscler; Rev. W. J. Wilkinson, Springfield; Rev. G. C. Lawrence, Kingston; Rev. G. E. Tobin, Campbell; Rev. C. H. Fullerton, Prince William; Rev. A. S. Hazel, Woodstock; Rev. F. J. Leroy, St. Martins. The committee passed a resolution of appreciation of the work of the synod executive. In the resolution, Mr. Teed was congratulated upon his advancement to a position of great usefulness, and the committee expressed its good wishes extended to him in his new sphere of labor. On motion of Archbishop Raymond, the Rev. R. P. McKim was elected a member of the executive committee in the place of Rev. Mr. Teed. Archbishop Newnham presented a report from the Board of Missions, showing a balance of $1,088.86 on hand, over expenditure for the year 1913. This balance is chiefly due to the care and pains displayed by the board of finance in securing higher income from the invested funds of the synod. The board was complimented by Bishop Richardson upon its able and efficient management of the funds. Through the added income the treasurer had been able to pay in full the accumulated deficit of several years and to start the new year with a balance of $480 in hand. The contributions for Canadian and foreign missions for 1913 amounted to $4,898.81. A missionary campaign has been arranged for the city of St. John beginning this month. There have been secured for the campaign, in addition to the bishop and other speakers from different parts of this province, Dr. Archer of India; R. W. Allen, of the M. S. C. C. staff, Toronto, and D. M. Rose, general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement.

In connection with the missionary work for the evangelization of the Jews, it was decided to give more support than had been done in the past to the work lately undertaken in Canada at Montreal and elsewhere, and the bishop was requested to write to the clergy respecting the disposal of Good Friday collections which are devoted to the promotion of Christianity among the Jews.

The bishop reported that Rev. C. K. Whalley had removed from the parish of Burton to Halifax, N. S., and that Rev. F. J. Wilson had been placed in charge of the parish. Rev. J. H. Doune had been appointed to Southampton and Queensbury, and Rev. Wm. Tomalin to Trinity church in St. Stephens. A grant of $10,000 has been made to the parish of Simonds. Rev. Canon Smithers reported that the parish of Harwick had been placed in charge of the building of the new church in Harwick in offering to become self-supporting on the $900 balance of stipend, thereby releasing $275 to the mission board for work in the city.

The report of the Board of Church Literature referred to the probable removal of the book room to the new Church Institute building in the city street, and recommended that if possible arrangements suitable to its accommodation be made in any reconstruction of the building. The board spoke warmly of the appreciation of the church, of the generosity of a St. John layman in presenting the building to the church, and of the commendable moderation, and that of the synod, and a resolution of thanks was unanimously passed by the executive committee to the generous donor of the building. It was understood that the price paid in the vicinity of $10,000. Subscriptions amounting to nearly $2,000 have been received for the building, and needed alterations in the building as a home for the Church Institute. Archbishop Raymond from the committee on statistics and state of the church, presented a very interesting report embodying the returns of the recent dominion census as regards the Anglican Church and comparing number of the Church of England people in the various periods with the previous census in 1901 and with the annual returns made to the synod. It was ordered that the report be printed.

A certificate of membership in the clergy, widows and orphans fund was ordered to be granted Rev. H. A. Cody. At the close of the meeting a meeting of the rectors of the parishes in St. John was held in consultation with Bishop Richardson to discuss arrangements for a united city mission to be held about the end of next November. The mission will be along lines similar to the very successful mission lately held in the Denary of Halifax and in eastern Nova Scotia.

WELL, HE WILL NOT RUN FOR GOVERNOR

W. Allen White Takes Unique Method in Announcement

HE WRITES HIMSELF UP

Kansas Newspaper Owner Gives Himself a Humorous Raking Over and Knocks His Own Candidacy Sky High

The European Gazette, owned by William Allen White, has the following on the suggestion that Mr. White become Progressive candidate for governor—

"A number of Progressives at Lakin, more kind than considerate, yesterday resolved in favor of this man White of Kansas for governor. They wanted him to run as a Progressive candidate.

To which the Gazette says no—a thousand times no. For we are on to that man White, and without wishing to speak disrespectfully of a fellow townsman, who, so far as we know, may be at least outwardly decent in the simpler relations of life—perhaps he pays his debts when it is convenient, and he may be kind to his family, though that is not to his credit, for who wouldn't be—and he may have kept out of jail one way or another for some time without, as we say, desiring to speak disrespectfully of this man, we know that he is not the man either to run for governor or, if such a grotesque thing could be imagined, to serve as governor.

His Ideas are Dangerous

"He can't make a speech. He has a lot of radical convictions which he sometimes comes into the Gazette office and exploits, which are dangerous. He has been lawing politicians for twenty years until he is a common name and has set up his so-called ideals so high that the Angel Gabriel himself couldn't give the performance that this man White would have to advertise on the bills.

"So, in the words of the poet, nix on Willyum Allen. The Gazette's nose is hard and cold on the proposition to make him governor. He is a four-flusher, a ring-tailed, rip-snorting bell ringer, and a grand-stander. He makes a big noise. He yips and howls around a good deal, but he is everlastingly and pre-eminently N. G. as gubernatorial timber—full of knots, warts, wood-pecker holes, and rotten spots.

"He would have the envy of more men who have walked the plank politically than any other man in Kansas, and his candidacy would issue an irrevocable charter in Kansas for the Progressive party to be the official minority report, without end.

"Men and women would be trampled to death at seven o'clock election morning trying to get at the polls to cast the first vote against him, and at twelve o'clock, freshly good citizens, kind fathers, and indulgent husbands would risk a jail sentence to get in at least ten votes against him as repeaters. It may be that the Progressive party needs a goat, but the demand doesn't require a Billy goat.

Has the Political Pinkeye

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party. "But this man White, a shoulder-galled, sore-backed, hamstrung, wind-blown, string-halted, stump-sucking old stager, who, in addition to being no good for draught and general purposes, has the political hots, blind-stargers, leaves, pinkeye and episodic. Moreover, he is loosed and has other defects. People in the state may be fooled by the doped gait and fancy steps of this man White. But we know him.

"And if he is a candidate for governor or any other office, we propose to tell the truth about him—how he robbed the county with a padded printing bill, how he offered to trade off his support to a congressman for a government building, how he has blackmailed good citizens, and has run a bulldozing disreputable newspaper in this town for twenty years, and has grafted off business men, and sold fake mining stock, and advocated anarchy and assassination.

"These are but a few preliminary things that occur to us as the moment passes. But if his fool friends insist on playing up this self-advertising game for him any longer, we propose to abandon twenty years of guarded innuendo and prattling subtleties, and come out with the real facts. We shall speak plainly hereafter.

A word to the wise should gather no moss!

THE SKIN TROUBLES OF CHILDHOOD

School Records Show Much Time Lost From Eczema.

Chafing and skin irritation, whether from changing temperature, rough winds, strong soap or the action of the clothing, naturally develop into eczema, spread over the body and defy ordinary treatments.

Most doctors do not give much attention to skin diseases, and, consequently, it is necessary for parents to select some treatment which has proven a cure for such ailments. If records of cure can be obtained, then you can turn to Dr. Chase's Ointment with fullest assurance that in this you will have the means of controlling itching skin diseases.

Under his administration three substations have been opened in residential districts of the city, an independent electric alarm system installed connecting every beat in the city with the central office, half a dozen patrol wagons, ambulances, and other automobile equipment acquired to increase the rapidity with which officials might reach the scene of an accident or a crime and the several women policemen added to the

DIED IN VANCOUVER; WERE FROM MARITIME PROVINCES

Chief of Police Mulhern a Woodstock Man; C. D. Rand a Native of Canning

(Woodstock Press.) Vancouver, Jan. 8.—Vancouver's two most prominent citizens in their respective walks of life passed away yesterday and early this morning in the person of Chief Mulhern of the Vancouver police department, and C. D. Rand, first president of the Vancouver Stock Exchange. The former was a native of Woodstock, N. B., and the latter of Canning, N. S. They were both pioneers of this city.

Chief Mulhern probably had more to do with the moral construction of Vancouver than any other official in it and to him is due the credit of making the local police department second to none in the Dominion. Born in Woodstock 45 years ago, he worked as a woodsman in his native province for some years before coming west. After working on C. P. R. construction in British Columbia in the early eighties, he went back to the woods again, and at length joined the Vancouver Police Department on October 13, 1894, as a patrolman. The force then numbered sixteen men.

As a detective, to which rank he was shortly afterwards promoted, he introduced the fingerprint system in Vancouver and subsequently established an identification bureau among the best on the continent. In 1906 as inspector of detectives the whole management of the department was entrusted to him and two years later he was appointed inspector of police with further supervision over the patrolmen. In 1910 he was appointed deputy chief of police, having virtual control of the entire police force of the department and exactly a year ago he was the first choice of the police commissioners as head of a department which has now over 250 men in it.

In 1909 he entertained Chief Clark of the St. John department when that official was president of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada and last July he went east to Halifax where his advice was sought by the heads of the Winnipeg, Montreal and Toronto departments as a man who had visited Europe and studied the methods of world departments in his efforts to increase the efficiency of the Vancouver constabulary.

Pendulum Again Swings To Canada

London Reports Indications That End of Investment Slump is in Sight

(Times Special Correspondence.) London, Jan. 12.—A close perusal of all the complaints as to Canada's financial conditions and the hundred and one cures advocated leads to the conclusion that what Canada is chiefly suffering from, on this side, is an unhealthy variety of criticism. Just as twelve months ago financial writers as a matter of course wrote of Canadian conditions with optimism, so up to recently it was the custom to consider the fact that whatever may be the general attitude towards Canadian issues, there is no check in the amounts of capital that is being privately invested in Canada. The important delegations of people from this country who toured Canada found the country so prosperous that investment opportunities were never so attractive as they are today. The present money restriction has made tempting opportunities available and many transactions of considerable magnitude are being quietly made by these men and their associates. These are among the signs that during the coming year the pendulum will again swing toward Canada.

THAT TIRED FEELING Suggests Grandmother's Remedy

It's true, the season is here with its sudden changes, and the old idea that we need a blood medicine is not without reason. Too much heavy food has caused a torpid liver, sluggish blood, and a weak, tired feeling.

Sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses are the ingredients of a remedy, but long ago been displaced by Vinol, a combination of the two most world famous tonics, namely, the medicinal quality of the cod's liver, without oil, and iron for the blood.

Vinol builds you up, makes you eat more and digest better, makes your blood rich and pure—puts healthy color in your cheeks.

N. G. Clift, of Opelika, Ala., says: "Last spring I was all run down, no strength, no appetite. I took Vinol and was greatly benefited by its use, as I soon felt strong and well as ever."

I guarantee Vinol to satisfy you and refund your money if it does not. Chas. R. Wasson, Druggist, St. John.

of the "Augustine" themselves jumped into the raging sea to save the hapless crew of foundering Greek steamer, and their bravery excited universal admiration at the time. So impressed with it were they that the Greek government subsequently informed the Imperial Merchant Service Guild that they had decided to confer upon Captain Forbes and the officers of the "Augustine" the decoration of the Order of the Redeemer of Greece. In due time the order not being forthcoming, the guild made official enquiries of the British government.

It was then elicited that in deference to the desires of the Board of Trade and the Foreign Office, who had officially decided not to approve of such distinguished awards being granted in such cases, the Greek government had modified their decision and, instead of the order, were substituting silver medals. These were very respectfully declined by those upon whom they had been conferred, not from any want of appreciation of the kindness of the Greek government, but as a protest against the extraordinary step which has been taken by our own government.

No doubt the medals are still in the hands of the Board of Trade. This case of the "Gregory," and others, prove to us that, no matter what officers' discourteous the captains and officers of the mercantile marine may have to face, it will not deter them from doing deeds of conspicuous bravery at sea of which we have had so many instances of late.

I merely mention these two cases feeling sure that under the new regime and with more sympathetic disposition towards our seafarers on the part of the Board of Trade such a regrettable case as that of the "Augustine" will not occur again.

Your faithfully, T. W. MOORE, Secretary.

Eat and Get Thin

This is turning an old phrase face about, but modern methods of reducing fat have made this revision possible. If you are overt and also averse to physical exertion and likewise fond of the table and want to reduce your excess flesh several pounds, do this: Go to your druggist (or write the Marmola Co., Farmer Building, Detroit, Mich.) and give him (or send them) 75 cents. For this modest amount of money the druggist will put you in the way of satisfying your ambition for a nice, trim, slim figure. He will hand you a large case of Marmola Prescription Tablets compounded in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription, one of which you must take after each meal and at bedtime until you begin to lose weight at the rate of 12 to 16 ounces a day. That is all. Just go on eating what you like, leave exercising to the athletes, but take your little tablet faithfully and without a doubt that flabby flesh will quickly take unto itself wings, leaving behind it your natural, neatly clothed in firm flesh and trim figure.

MILLION AND A HALF FOR SANITARY WORK IN MANCHESTER, ENG.

Manchester, like most other cities, was originally drained by various conduits into rivers and streams. In 1886 a scheme for the interception of these sewers and the conveyance of the sewage to outfall works at Darylville, five miles to the southwest of the city, was prepared by John Allison, at that time surveyor of the city. The area of Manchester then was 5,687 acres. The city has been extended from time to time until the present area has reached 21,688 acres. The sewers provided in 1886 have (as already reported) become totally inadequate, and a comprehensive scheme was prepared by the present City Surveyor Mr. de Courcy Head, M. Inst. C. E., and was submitted to and approved by parliament in 1911. This scheme provides for the drainage of the city and adjoining districts, and is of sufficient capacity to meet the estimated requirements for 60 years hence.

Many miles of work are in progress, and the value of contracts let under the corporation staff amounts to more than £200,000. The estimated cost of the whole scheme is about £1,800,000. The total area included in the scheme is 39,100 acres, and owing to the special design of the works they will be capable of serving a still greater area in the future should further extensions become necessary.

At the conclusion of the address, which created a strong impression, Mr. Barracough was tendered a hearty vote of thanks, moved by Rev. Dr. Crowell and seconded by J. F. Ring.

Negotiations Completed For Street Railway Extension

Lines to Little River and Coldbrook—County Must Pay For Lunatics—$500 a Year For Secretary Kelley's Legal Services—To Close the Road Houses

Discussion of the proposed agreement between the county and the St. John Railway Company relative to extension of tracks from Kane's Corner to Mount Pleasant avenue, and thence to Little River and Lee's brickyard, was the chief business dealt with by the Municipal Council at an adjourned meeting yesterday afternoon. The agreement was adopted by the council for ratification by the provincial government. A similar agreement for extension of the tracks to Coldbrook was also approved.

The county secretary brought up the matter of paying the cost (nearly $877) of the trial of Viola Reid who had been charged with murdering her infant child and been acquitted.

Warden McLellan remarked that Northumberland county had refused to pay its part in the maintenance of dangerous patients at the provincial hospital, which had previously been paid by the government.

The county secretary brought up the matter of paying the cost (nearly $877) of the trial of Viola Reid who had been charged with murdering her infant child and been acquitted.

The council had represented to the attorney-general that the child had died in Sunbury county and that therefore St. John was not liable for the cost of the trial.

A communication from the attorney-general was read in which he informed the council that he would not permit any county to question the judgment of the department, and that the trial had shown the child had died in St. John.

After discussion it was decided, on motion, that the cost of the trial be paid by the county.

A communication from the Trades and Labor Council asking for the insertion of the fair wage clause in county contracts was received. The warden said the fair wage clause had already been adopted by the city as well as the dominion and provincial governments.

On a motion the communication was received and laid on the table for further consideration.

The returns (namely receipts of $1,841.50) of the registrar of deeds, on motion, received and filed.

Appreciate His Work. The county secretary, in giving some account of the large amount of work he was called upon to do, said that during the coming year he believed the matter of payment of taxes, etc., would be cleared up throughout the county. This would involve a great deal of work.

Several members of the council spoke highly of Mr. Kelley's services. Councillor Smith moved that the county secretary be appointed solicitor to the General Public Hospital, the Municipal Home, and the parishes of Lancaster and Coldbrook, etc., at a salary of $300 a year.

The motion, being seconded, was carried unanimously.

Other Matters. A letter from Messrs. Smith & Turnbull asking the council to consider the firm's name in case of the employment of an engineer by the county for looking into the matter of the street railway extension to Coldbrook, was, on motion, laid on the table for consideration.

Relative to a claim on the part of J. H. Brittain, a Lancaster tax collector, that his telephone charges of $29 be paid by the county, the matter was considered and it was decided that the parish of Lancaster was liable for the expense.

A request from the guards of the chain gang for an increase of wages was laid on the table.

Lloyd George Speaks On The Troubles of Political Life

(London Morning Post.) Mr. Lloyd George took the chair at a social gathering held at Cricketh last night in aid of a movement to obtain funds for the establishment of a liberal club in the place. He said it was with some reluctance that I accepted the kind invitation of the committee when I understood that it involved a speech. I was told that by the very terms of the kind of gathering it is a political one, and that I must not touch upon politics altogether from the purview of what I have to say, so I have come to the conclusion that I will make a few non-political remarks on politics.

On exposed golf courses they are now everywhere erecting shelters for players suddenly overtaken by bad weather, but a short holiday like this is the only shelter which the poor politician enjoys in the course of his stormy life, and he ought to make the most of it.

Defence of Politicians. In spite of attacks on politicians individually and as a class all sensible persons know that they are an essential part of the machinery of good government in every democratic state.

Trade men have their worries and anxieties, but supposing if, in addition to their ordinary troubles, they found a constant mob standing outside their doors, some doing it for hate and some for hire—(cheers)—yelling into every customer's ears as he enters their shop, "Don't go there, whatever you do. You will be robbed and cheated and at every turn if you do business with those fellows they will rob you, cheat you, and ruin your business." (Laughter and cheers.)

How Long to Sleep. A proper amount of sleep is absolutely essential to continued good health, and if it is not properly attended to it is a matter which will regulate itself.

Bad Blood is the Direct Cause of Pimples. Pimples break out on the face and body, and it is impossible to get rid of them unless you cleanse the blood of all its impurities.

Burdock Blood Bitters is without a doubt, the very best medicine for this purpose.

This old, reliable medicine has been in use for nearly forty years, and has a reputation unequalled by any other preparation for removing all the impurities from the blood and banishing the pimples.

Mr. Edward Paquette, Navan Centre, Ont., writes:—"One month ago my face was covered with pimples and a rash. I had tried a number of these so-called blood purifiers with no avail. Seeing an almanac of yours in which you strongly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, I decided to try a bottle, and after I had taken it I could see a decided change, and after using three bottles more all the pimples had completely disappeared."

SOCIETY LEADER VICTIM OF THEIF

The Duchess Brings Confession From The Culprit

Rosslyn at Monte Carlo

Making Another Assault on Fortune There and is Having Luck—Royal Household Members Forming Exclusive Club

(Times Special Correspondence.) London, Jan. 10.—Society is as benign to its thieves as are the big business firms which will not willingly show them up for the world.

An elderly party who died a few years ago left three daughters by no means well off, but being clever, married fairly well. The Duchess of Portland, who is noted for being very kind to people of good birth, but not blessed with the world's good things, was especially good to one at Watlington Abbey she met some morning. It looked very cold and a man who eventually became her husband. She was included in house parties at the abbey and being an old friend had access to the duchess's rooms when she pleased.

Lord Rosslyn became so demoralized after his third marriage that the public and his own family were beginning to lose sight of him. He even went so far as to take out his children in the perambulator and a friend who was in the way and snap-shotted him as he wheeled the youngsters.

But his love of the "tables" has again claimed his attention, and he has tremendous influence with him and he is keeping in him from the tables was the amazement of every one. All the same he has not lost his sense of duty to stay him longer she helped him all she could with the new system with which he is confident that in the next six or seven years he will be a fortune.

If the statements that he writes to his friends here from Monte Carlo are true he is having some sensational wins. In the past he has lost so heavily that the authorities of the tables declared he would not have him in the rooms again.

A letter from Monte Carlo tells me the earl is a real "sport" and is the best loser that ever stood in shoe leather. His family are all furious with him, but he snaps his fingers at all except the Dowager Duchess of Sutherland, who has always had a soft corner in her heart for him and helped to get him out of many a scrape. He and Lady Warwick, his other wife, are very much alike in character, with the same grit and capacity for getting themselves out of trouble.

Royal Club. There is great excitement over the newest of the many new clubs which are being started in London. This latest one will be unique for, according to present arrangements, it will be made up of various members of the royal household with Lord Knollys, if he consents, as president. It has not yet been decided whether or not ladies may be members. The king is understood to be an honorary member and the Prince of Wales is to be very much to the fore in the affair.

One of those interested in the new club tells me that if only the snobs could get in they would be willing to pay subscriptions running to five or six figures. The executive have hundreds of letters by every post from would-be members who put forward the most absurd claims to the rights of membership. Exclusiveness will be the hallmark of this body, yet the subscription is to be a mere $50.

One of the prettiest debutantes of the season at hand will be Lady Doris Blackwood, a daughter of the Marchioness of Dufferin and Ava. Recently I heard Lady Dufferin say "I think it is wicked to bring up a girl in ignorance. I consider she ought to know everything." Lady Doris has been allowed to read all the English classics including Fielding and Smollett. "And why shouldn't I pray?" says the fair dame. "Supposing I were to have married a year ago when I was seventeen—by the way, I might have done if I had wished—wouldn't I have the permission of the world to read exactly what I liked, but because I happen to choose to remain a spinster for the present everybody but my wise mamma thinks I must remain ignorant." The eighteen-year-old girl shook her head and said how utterly absurd the world was.

She would really have liked to go on the stage, but the marquis would not think of allowing such a thing. She is a clever amateur actress and sings charmingly, her voice being very much like her mother's. She speaks French and German well though occasionally a touch of Irish brogue will break out with the quaintest effect. Lady Doris says she intends to make a stir in the world. She has the interests of the suffragettes at heart and would give much to sell papers for the "cause." But against the stupidity of the world she is determined.

Many references were made to the generosity of J. B. Learmont of Montreal, who purchased Quebec House, the birth place of General James Wolfe and presented it to the Canadian people at an anniversary dinner held at the George and Dragon inn, Westchester, last week. These annual dinners instituted soon after the death of General Wolfe were first arranged as gatherings for the Wolfe family and those associated with him in his various campaigns. They were discontinued for some years and resumed three years ago when the gathering was remarkable for the fact that a descendant or family connection of each of the prominent officers who accompanied Wolfe to Quebec was amongst the guests.

Many distinguished people left town to be present at the marriage of Lady Elizabeth Northcote, second daughter of the Earl and Countess of Iddesleigh, to Robert Randolph Bruce of Windermere, B. C., son of the Rev. Charles Bruce of Glenrimes, which took place at Upton Pym in Devonshire this week. The pretty old parish church of St. Mary's was beautifully decorated and the full choral service was conducted by Rev. the Hon. Frederick Northcote, uncle of the bride, and Rev. Arthur Hillyard, rector of the parish. Lady Elizabeth Northcote was in a grand-damning blue and white dress, and her bridesmaids were in a cascade of silver lace on the skirt, and the bridesmaids wore dresses of pale blue crepe de chine with vests and collars of Chantilly lace and touches of cerise on the bodices. Their hats in tete-de-negre velvet were trimmed with shaded blue ostrich feathers.

The little son of Sir Beithon and Lady Whitehead made a picturesque little page in a Charles II. costume. The honeymoon is being spent in Algiers and Mr. and Lady Elizabeth Bruce will leave in the spring for Inverness on the banks of Lake Windermere, B. C. Among the Canadians who sent gifts were Lord and Lady Mount Stephen, a diamond necklace and silver inkstand; Sir Richard and Lady McBride, silver cigar box; J. H. Turner, agent-general for British Columbia and Mrs. Turner, carvers; Mr. and Mrs. J. Murray Gibson, of Montreal, Russian bowl; Doctor Mrs. Bruce of Montreal, silver dish; Mrs. and Miss Lawson-Johnson of British Columbia, gold coffee service.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Franklin Jones gave a farewell dinner party to Sir Frederick and Lady Williams-Taylor and Friday evening at the Savoy Hotel. Sir Frederick's dinner party was a farewell dinner, the invitations for which were issued by J. G. Colmer, C. M. G., and the managers of the Canadian banks in London, H. V. Frank in Jones, W. N. Dotsford, J. Haydn Horsey, and F. W. Ashe, Sir Frederick will sail on Jan. 21.

Right Rev. Isaac O. Stringer, Bishop of Yukon, expects to remain in England until the early part of the summer.

Lord Rosslyn became so demoralized after his third marriage that the public and his own family were beginning to lose sight of him. He even went so far as to take out his children in the perambulator and a friend who was in the way and snap-shotted him as he wheeled the youngsters.

New United States Tariff Benefits Cotton and Woolen Trades

The reduction in the tariff of the United States is apparently having a marked effect upon the exports from Lancashire and Yorkshire, says the Manchester Guardian.

The new cotton tariff came into force at once, but its effect has not hitherto been so marked as it is now. The Manchester Guardian returns which we publish below shows that the exports of cotton piece goods, which in December, 1913, were valued at $26,440, went up last month to $28,290, and cotton velvets, fustians, &c., advanced from $5,640 to $5,771. Cotton yarn and thread showed a decrease of over 24,000, but that was perhaps to be expected. Other goods in which there were notable increases included iron, machinery, hides, leather, and chemicals.

The woolen clauses of the act only came into force on New Year's Day, but those concerned in that trade have apparently been on the alert to make instant use of them, for Bradford's exports to the United States in December were the largest it has had since 1909. The total of the month's exports of $247,251, which is an increase of $220,884 on that for December, 1912.

A quiet, patient little man had been pushed about and trodden on by the other passengers on a crowded street car. For a long time he suffered in silence. Then, in a meek voice, he addressed an awkward youth standing next to him.

"Young man," he said, "I hope you will not think me rude, but may I ask your name?"

The youth started at him for a moment, and replied, "Eighteen."

"Eighteen," repeated the little man, softly. "Now really young man don't you think that you are old enough to stand on your own feet?"

IF MEATS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapiesin" Ends Stomach Misery, Indigestion in 5 Minutes

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas, eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they best lieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapiesin" is harmless, tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapiesin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gas, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get yourself, now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.

The struggle for life. A story of poverty was told at Westminster, when Mrs. Elizabeth Williams of Aylesford street, Finchley, gave evidence at the inquest held on her husband, William Williams, aged sixty-seven. She said that her husband was formerly a gas stoker, but for the last sixteen years had been totally blind, as the result of his work. He had no pension and during the period had done no work, his wife keeping him by churning work. Her earnings, however, were very bad, and at times both she and her husband were in want of food. She had occasionally to obtain outdoor relief.

On Monday she went to work as usual, and on returning was told by her husband that he had fallen out of bed, where he had been obliged to remain for the last four years. On Thursday, when she returned home, she found he had been taken ill and next day while she was out he died. The jury returned a verdict of "Natural death."

MATTY'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

BY CHRISTY MATHEWSON THE GIANTS' STAR PITCHER

"I'd want to see the money in the bank if I was going to join the Federals," declared Tesreau the other day. "A ball player would be a sucker to take a chance if he didn't."

But, considering the money that the Federals already have tied up, there must be a bunch of capital behind the new league. At this writing at least $200,000 in cold cash must have been disposed of for players, leases on park sites, etc. According to the announced plans and raids, much more will be spent. It does not seem as if the new organization would take a chance on sinking all that money if the backers were not sure of its going through.

Many ball players "winter" on the Pacific coast. It is a great place to "winter" and most of them "winter" well. The days when ball players did not know where they were going to get their next meal from in the off season are practically past. McGraw tells a story of how the club owners used to keep a fire going in the stove in the clubhouse of the old Baltimore team for the accommodation of the players who did not have any other place to "winter." Most of them had their bank roll all spent by the first of January anyway and were making overtures toward a little advance on the next season's salary.

But the ball players on the coast are "wintering" well, as I have said, some of them playing ball, some attending to their orange groves, others, like "Chief" Meyers, dickering here and there for a piece of California property, and others, like myself, just loafing and playing golf, which is the same thing. The first question which one ball player asks another when they meet at the spring training camp is "How did you 'winter'?" That formula is almost as old as the big leagues, and, as far as I can see, all the players in the Pacific coast part of the country can make only one reply: "I wintered fine."

In fact, the players out here have been "wintering" so well that the offers of the Federal League have not attracted any of the men with whom I have talked since this organization broke out. Tesreau told me only the other day that, in spite of offers, he was going to stick with the old show.

"Even if I thought the Federal League had a chance, I wouldn't throw McGraw down now after the time and money he has spent sticking to me and developing me as a pitcher," he said. "How about you, Matty?" I told Tesreau that there was no chance of me leaving the Giants as long as they wanted me, and that I had done very well and had received excellent treatment since I had been with the New York club. From this point on, the Federal League, in my opinion, is going to be up against a tough proposition in getting big league players for the reason that the promoters set a bad precedent when they announced that the money to cover the salaries of both Tim Lincecum and Knabe for three years had been deposited in the bank to their credit. Of course, it was necessary to put up the coin to convince Tinker and Knabe of the reliability of the league because they are two smart players and expert financiers, but it should have been kept a secret. I don't blame Tinker and Knabe a bit for insisting, but see the way it works. Every big league player sought by the federal now will insist on the money to cover the term of his contract at the salary figures mentioned being deposited in the bank to his credit. If the promoters object, the obvious answer is—

"Well, you did it for 'Joe' Tinker and Knabe, why not for me?" In this way, the promoters of the league are going to have a lot of money tied up in players if they make the raid which they threaten before they ever open their gates. Also, the moral effect of Tinker and Knabe jumping is lost because smart big leaguers realize that it was the money put up and not their faith in the league which first enticed them. Now, if the money had been put in a bank, but the fact concealed so that other players would believe that these two wise birds had joined because they knew the league was to be a go, the new organization would have grabbed off more stars. As it is, I don't believe they are going to get very many unless they go far in excess of the present major league salaries in their offers and post the money. The ball players I have heard talk declare that they would not listen to propositions unless the money were deposited to their credit and the contracts had more than a year to run. They don't want to give up a sure thing for a fiver, and paper salaries will buy little besides snow balls.

Johnson Likes $30,000

(FROM T. S. ANDREWS)

Milwaukee, Jan. 21.—Jack Johnson wants the modest sum of $30,000 for his end to visit Mexico and fight Gumbout Smith for the championship. Once upon a time Tommy Burns gave Johnson a chance for the title while he (Tommy) held out for $80,000 of a $85,000 purse, which Hugh D. McIntosh put up for the match, something almost unheard of those days. The figures which Burns worked out became so deeply imbedded in Jack's brain that he has never been able to think of any other since that time. Every time a promoter suggests a match he immediately accepts on one condition—that the price of his bit be put down at $30,000. He might take part of it in stage money, as at Las Vegas, but the original amount must be with the word "thirty" leading. There is a possibility that after he gets through in France he may be able to think of some other figures besides $30,000.

Battling Levinisky, after resting for at least two days, after his contest with Bob McAllister, met Porky Flynn of Boston and from all accounts handed the Boston man a beating. It is evident that Porky has gone back or else Levinisky must be getting good. He is meeting all the hopes, big and small, and not one of them has been able to stop him or even get anything on him, with the exception of McAllister, who beat him to the punch every time. Whether Levinisky can give away weight to a man like Gumbout Smith and hold his own remains to be seen.

SIR OLIVER LODGE SAYS WE MAY GAIN SOME CONTROL OVER WEATHER

London, Jan. 20.—Sir Oliver Lodge, a distinguished physician and principal of Birmingham University, in an address before the Institute of Electrical Engineers last night, suggested the possibility of obtaining some measure of control over the weather. If clearing weather, he said, were due to electricity, it might be imagined that man could acquire some control over the electrification of the atmosphere.

If it were desired to produce rain, why not send up a kite to reach the clouds? He believed that if enough electricity were discharged into the clouds the drops would behave there as they did in the laboratory. They would coalesce and, once that had happened, the process might be repeated and cause a shower.

When rain was wanted, the lecturer said, negative electricity would be sent up, and if fine weather were wanted, positive electricity.

THE POLICE COURT

A case against Alexander Robins was resumed in the police court this morning and after taking the evidence of Louis Goldberg the prisoner was remanded. Mr. Goldberg said that Robins went into his store on last Thursday and presented an order to pay the bearer $10, which he owed to Garson. He said he gave the prisoner a check for $10 and was adjourned until Monday for further witness.

Four prisoners charged with drunkenness were remanded. Two of them, arrested together in Brittain street, were told that they were liable to nine months in jail for being common vagrants, as well as having been drunk.

John Beckwith appeared to answer to a charge made against him by William Laird, that of assaulting him in Brussels street on January 17. In a warrant sworn out against the prisoner Laird alleges that Beckwith in company with Samuel Orr stopped him and assaulted and beat him. Laird was not in court this morning and Beckwith, who gave himself up to the police this morning, was remanded.

TRAIN ROBBERS ONLY PARTLY SUCCESSFUL

WANT CITY TO PROVIDE WORK

Marble Cove Sewer Might Be Begun—A Demand That Council Take Action

A sober and industrious citizen who represents a family of eight persons called at the Times office this morning. He had been idling for quite a long time, and has been scouring the city for work of any kind. He can do carpenter work or mend furniture, and would tackle any kind of a job. His summer savings have been taken up. He wants work. There are many idle men in the city at present. Owing to the falling off in steamship business, most of the longshoremen are idle nearly all the time. It has been urged that under such conditions the city should begin work on the Marble Cove sewer or some other public work, even at some additional cost, and even, if necessary, employing two crews, each getting half a week's work, in order to spread the benefit and enable more families to better to work over next two months. The city council is expected to give this suggestion prompt consideration.

Better Here Than Elsewhere

"Conditions in St. John are vastly better than in Upper Canada and business men there fully recognize this fact. This was the remark of a local business man who has just returned from Montreal and Toronto.
"While business has been slack, employment scarce and real estate values dropping in Upper Canada, conditions in St. John have remained almost normal and this city has been shown the substantial character of the depression which has visited the city during the last few years. The fine showing of this city during a period of widespread business depression has strengthened the confidence of investors in the future of St. John and I know of several men with large sums of money behind them who are planning to visit St. John during the spring to look for investments in local real estate.

"The reverse side is shown in Toronto where the business depression has thrown large numbers of men out of work. From a window in the hotel I noticed a short street, about 100 yards long, solidly packed with men fighting for the first chance to get the afternoon edition of a newspaper to get an opportunity to be the first on the spot to answer advertisements for employment."

BEARS NICE MARK OF SCRATCH WITH HATPIN

It was just an ordinary, plain, unornamental, but sharp-pointed hatpin. It probably did not cost more than a couple ofoppers to the lady whose hat it was helping to keep on her head "straight," or whichever way she wanted it, and she was no worse than any other lady for wearing it. "But she might not have been so badly engaged in conversation (gossiping, it is called by the cynical men), or if she did so, it should not have been necessary to turn around and twist, so that the eyes of an unfortunate young man standing in the same crowd had to be kept constantly upon that glaring point as it bobbed and weaved, in and out, at least that was what he thought as he stood meekly by, too polite and courteous to ask the fair dame, who was flashing the hatpin in her hair, to stop from her moving about. This was last night while the usual crowd was waiting admission to see the programme at a local "theatre" theatre. (This morning with a careful grin, the young man is explaining to his friends the meaning of that pitiful scratch along the side of his cheek, stretching at least two inches, and wishing anything but good fortune to the makers of hatpins, while to the wearers—well, somehow there's always an excuse for them, but he feels that some regulation should be made to protect their kinsmen from the point of the pin for the common safety, as has been recently done in Massachusetts.

A WONDER THEY ESCAPED

S. C. Hurley Tells of I. C. R. Accident in Which He Figured—He Gives Praise

S. C. Hurley, who was a passenger on the train wrecked this side of Amherst on Wednesday morning last, returned from Halifax on the C. P. R. last evening. Mr. Hurley was in the fullness of his mind at the time of the accident. He is at a loss to account for the escape of all hands. He speaks in the highest terms of the manliness displayed by his fellow passengers and says much credit is due the porter, William Thomas, and Conductor Driscoll for their assistance. Mr. Hurley escaped with a few small bruises.
