DOG KEEPS BOY AFLOAT UNTIL HELP ARRIVES

Larry Conley, Boxer, Saves Terrier's Little Master and Another

Boy's Chum, Attempting a Rescue, was Himself Imperilled—Dog Releases its Grip Only When Owner is Pulled to Safety.

Boston, March 6.—"Fox" is only a little terrier, but he proved a real hero in a double rescue in Dorchester Bay, off the Strandway, South Boston.

Thomas Radcliffe, his 8-year-old master, fell into the water while trying to pull out the dog, which had broken through the misty ice a moment previous.

Young Radcliffe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Radcliffe of 322 East Eighth street, South Boston.

"Fox," jumping up and down in his excitement, fell through an open place in the ice, and the boy, leaning over the edge, young Radcliffe tried to reach the animal, but was unsuccessful and plunged in himself.

The dog, as if realising his new responsibility, scrambled out and, bracing his four feet, grabbed the boy by the sleeve.

"You're all set up. Been fired by the editor."

"No, sir," said the reporter, "but my liberties have been interfered with. I went up to the Market on Saturday night a little after ten o'clock to buy my Sunday dinner and I was not allowed to enter. This is an outrage. What are we coming to?"

"Don't the market close at ten o'clock?" queried Hiram.

"Well, suppose it is," said the reporter, "Am I—a citizen like me—to be denied the right to buy my Sunday dinner?"

"Where was you afore ten o'clock?" asked Hiram.

"I was at the theatre," said the reporter.

"Aha!" said Hiram. "You was able to go to the theatre but you couldn't get to the Market. You wasn't thinking about the fellows in the Market or the delivery boys. An' when you couldn't buy your own way you wanted to smash the law—like a fellow that wants another drink. I hope you had bread an' water for that Sunday dinner—yes, sir."

Many Hurt When Montreal and Ottawa Trains Crash

Steel Construction of the Coaches Saves Occupants from Death

Passengers Hurlled from the Berths, but Panic Averted—Car Inspectors, Lying Under the Stopped Train, Most Seriously Hurt.

Cobourg, Ont., March 6.—Ignorant of the fact that the Ottawa train stood on the main line of the Canadian National Railway, just ahead of him, Engineer J. Reid, piloting the Montreal train to Toronto, swung around the curve into Cobourg early today and pitched into the rear end of the Ottawa train.

Scores of passengers were injured, several of the train crew were hurt. Two of the coaches were stove in. Had the coaches not been of steel construction the accident might have been more serious. Nobody was killed.

Reid asserts that he was unable to see the Ottawa train in time. A difference of only a few minutes separates the two trains on the time schedule, but on account of trouble with the steam hose, it is said that it stood eighteen minutes in front of the station. Reid says he had received the clear signal at Belleville and was not warned after the porch, steps, windows and small roofs under the windows.

Sensing trouble before the meeting, a squad of southern district police under Lieut. Granville Bosman went about the crowd trying to keep order. The lieutenant shortly found that his force was inadequate and he was obliged to call for an extra squad and a detail of motor cycle patrolmen. While violence was kept down the police were able to do very little in maintaining order during the meeting.

At the end of the meeting Mrs. Jackson was escorted to a waiting machine by Lieut. Bosman and several police-men and two motor cycle men were told to accompany the car through the streets.

Among those who were most seriously hurt were: Frank Smith and F. Navin, both of Cobourg. They are both car inspectors and were lying under the Ottawa train, repairing some steam hose which had burst, when the crash came. Smith is believed to be suffering from a fractured skull. He also has other injuries. Navin received a nasty cut over the head. Both men were taken to their homes.

Miniature Engine Derives Its Power From Rays of Sun

New York, March 6.—A miniature engine whose power was generated by the sun's rays, was successfully demonstrated yesterday in the laboratory of the College of the City of New York by Bernard Grossman, a graduate.

A parabolic copper mirror caught and focused the rays upon a tube of water, the heat causing steam, which in turn operated the tiny motor at a high rate of speed.

Grossman said his invention could be used in office buildings to provide light, heat and power, while the sun motor could be utilized to operate motor trucks. He will build a larger model to prove his theory.

Something New For Quinsy

Mr. Joseph Haley of 199 West Milk St., Bradford, Ont., says: "My wife has suffered with quinsy for years, but Vicks Vaporub must have prevented it, for she got through the winter without a single attack. We sent part of a jar to a neighbor, whose boy was very sick with a cold or grip. He also got relief. Vicks surely should be in every home." They used to treat colds externally with tallow, goose grease and kumhar. Recently, internal dosing has been the habit and people naturally doubt the value of a salve. For this reason, Canada suggests introduced Vicks Vaporub, the vaporizing salve for all cold troubles, last winter by giving away dozens of jars to responsible families and every jar sold was on 30-day trial. The above report is just one of a great many received from enthusiastic Canadian families. With such endorsement and a positive money-back guarantee, every household ought to give Vicks a thorough trial as the home remedy for croup, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, catarrh, neuralgia, cuts, burns, bruises and sores. At all drug stores 50c. a jar. For a free test size package, write Vicks Chemical Co., 344 St. Paul St., W., Montreal, P. Q. The Vicks is new in Canada; it enjoys a remarkable sale. Over 17 million jars used yearly.

HIGHER TEA PRICES EXPLAINED

The Salada Tea Company, the largest distributors of tea in Canada, recently announced an increase in price on each of their blends. This course was forced upon them, according to information received about the situation, in order to maintain the quality of "SALADA" Tea, when paying the highest prices ever recorded on the primary markets for the unblended leaf. The story of riots on the tea plantations, dock strikes in Calcutta to delay shipping, and the difficulty to obtain Ceylon labor to pluck the tea from the bushes, all bring home to us the fact that the social unrest that has been everywhere apparent since the war has spread even to the remotest tea gardens in India.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Highlands, N. J., March 5.—"Rum row" is working feverishly to get its bargain counters ready for the expected spring rush. Considerable activity in the fleet, notably three arrivals of approximately 2,000 tons, and the arrival of supply tugs from New York were observed today. The most imposing of the new arrivals is the row is a two-masted tanker of approximately 2,600 tons, and she apparently is loaded to the plimsoll marks. The other arrivals were schooners of the Bahama type. One of the local bottle fishermen who ventured out to the fleet last night and returned, it is said, with a small cargo—less than 100 cases—was asked what the new arrivals had aboard. "Well," he replied pointedly, "Tain't Panama hats." One of the departing vessels was a palatial steam yacht, said to have formerly been the property of a New York millionaire. She now flies a foreign flag and is reported in the Bahama trade. This yacht had been on the row for some weeks, and what was left of her cargo was transferred to some other vessel this morning. The weather still is unfavorable for extensive running to the shore and bottle fishermen on the Jersey coast are waiting until the wind blows right. They declare there is no use running risks, that the rum will stay there until they go after it. Several Long Island boats put out to the fleet today, however. The rum-runners along the shore are getting rich and with the coming of wealth they are growing sort of uppish. They resent being called "bottleleggers."

A GREAT PLAY NOW AT IMPERIAL

"Kick In," Featuring Betty Compton, Bert Lytell and May McAvoy, Pleased Large Audiences. Presenting a remarkable stellar cast, George Fitzmaurice's superb Paramount production, "Kick In," based on Willard Mack's successful play, is today being given at the Imperial theatre and created very favorable comment yesterday. While it is admitted that in some pictures too many outstanding players might give a "crowded" effect, nothing like this is possible in "Kick In," because of the fact that while the production contains eleven persons of stellar and near-stellar rank, the scenes are so divided that the players appear in groups. The featured players are Betty Compton, Bert Lytell and May McAvoy, while others in the cast include Garth Hughes, Kathleen Clifford, May McAvoy, John Miller, Walter Long, Robert Agnew, Jed Prouty and Carlton Kling. Two pathetic kid crooks are May McAvoy and Garth Hughes, who made a big success in "Sentimental Tommy." Walter Long, the beetle-browed detective, scored heavily in "Blood and Sand," "Moran of the Lady Letty" and "To Have and to Hold." The foolish, silly, be-painted little-kid mother has been a specialty with May McAvoy for years. For "Frou Frou," a Kello, tempestuous "jazz" dancer, Kathleen Clifford was chosen. Miss Clifford has been a vaudeville and appeared in the Winter Garden revue, "Business Before Pleasure" and "A Pair of Queens." Jed Prouty has the role of Jimmy Monahan, a typical man-about-town. Jed has done that sort of comedy for years in "Miss Springtime," "The Velvet Lady," "Seeing Things" and "The Pink Lady." And, of course, there are the two main roles of Chic Howes, a reformed crook, and Dolores Brandon, the District Attorney's daughter. Betty Compton and Bert Lytell were considered ideal for the two parts because it was in crook parts that they were their first great successes. Bert in "Alias Jimmy Valentine," Betty in "The Miracle Man."

MONTREAL EXPECTS VERY BUSY SEASON.

Montreal, March 6.—All docking space has been leased for the 1923 season and shipping companies are ready for an early opening of navigation. M. P. Fennell, general manager of the port, said that applications were received for four more sheds than the harbor possesses. This is due to the fact that many lines will operate enlarged fleets during the coming season. Improvements are under way which will, when completed, afford ample facilities for these additional vessels and also for any new lines which may locate in Montreal, Mr. Fennell stated. "Considerably enlarged grain elevator accommodation will also be provided to take care of the increased business which will be brought here by the large numbers of new lake vessels now under construction for operation between Buffalo and Port Colborne and Montreal."

ANOTHER SUCCESS AT QUEEN SQUARE Mae Edwards Players Score Hit in "Dope"—A Strong Moral Appeal. "Dope" the play of the hour, scored big at the Queen Square Theatre last evening and Miss Edwards and her splendid company were greeted with a capacity house, in fact many turned away, and the S. R. O. sign was hung up early in the evening. Miss Edwards as Innocence, was delightful, a role she interpreted with delicate shading and exquisite finesse. Jack Werner Corbin cast for the part of the "Devil" was excellent and gave a wonderful performance. In fact that entire company was seen at its best, and the stage setting striking, while the stage lighting was very effective. "Dope" is a play that will and ought to play to capacity houses for a week, it has a strong moral lesson, yet told in such a manner that one really enjoys the play. The first half of this week's programme can honestly be designated one of the best entertainments offered here this year by this popular company. Try to see "Dope," you owe it to yourself, your family and your country, it is worth while.

A shoe to fit the foot not the foot to fit the shoe. For how many years have people spoken of "breaking in" a pair of shoes, i.e., suffering tortures till the foot had, in time, shaped the shoes to fit the foot? But now Arch Defenders have banished all that over hot or cold cereals, the shaped-to-nature insole of the shoe like a glove to the hand. Note also how different and happy is the last upon which Arch Defenders are built compared with the old style. In addition to the concealed Spring Steel Support and the special foot-form insole, the lasts upon which Arch Defenders are built, with their cupped heel and foot-contour sole, are so different from the flat shapless lasts of ordinary shoes.

THE DEATH ROLL.

The citizens of St. John read this morning with profound regret the news of the death of two men, one a native of the city and the other for a period of years the rector of a city church.

His friends had hoped that the recent recovery of Rev. G. A. Kuhring from a critical illness would be permanent and that he would be spared for many more years of service, but death came to him in Toronto yesterday. During the years of his ministerial life in St. John, Rev. Mr. Kuhring took an active interest in all that pertained to the city's welfare. He was especially interested in the welfare of the poor, and of all benevolent organizations. He was deeply interested in the Canadian Club, and a member of the executive from the date of its organization. When the war broke out he at once volunteered for service and went overseas as the chaplain of the 6th Mounted Rifles. He saw much service, and on his return was deeply interested in the welfare of the soldiers. Whoever was closely associated with Mr. Kuhring learned to value his fine character and deeply sympathetic nature. The best wishes of every citizen went with him when he removed to Toronto, and his passing is sincerely mourned. To Mrs. Kuhring, whose splendid service in so many of our public capacities has been so highly appreciated, and to the deepest sympathy goes out in this time of bereavement. The writer remembers a memorable day at Valcartier when the old 6th swung out from camp on the first stage of their journey to the front. Chaplain Kuhring, watching the cheering soldiers form up for the march to the train, expressed his feelings in the terse sentence: "They are the salt of the earth." Many of those cheering lads "went west" before the war was over, and now their chaplain follows them.

In the death of Major William C. Magee a familiar figure passes from the streets of the city where he was born nearly seventy years ago. He, too, would have gone to the Great War but that the age limit prevented him. Major Magee was well known in business circles throughout his life, and apart from that his chief interest was in the militia. From an early age until his retirement in 1906 he was a member and officer in the 6th Battalion, and in more recent years the Cadet movement and took up a great deal of his time, and was in the end the cause of his lamented death. The boys entertained for him the highest personal regard, and apart from the immediate family, there are no more sincere mourners, now that his busy life has reached its end. In all ranks of life he was popular, and the courage which was a strong feature of his character sustained him in cheerfulness in his last days of weakness and pain. Major Magee was a worthy son of St. John, who has left a record of good service to his fellows along the line of those useful activities which most appealed to him.

THE LATE BOURKE COCKRAN.

More than thirty-five years have passed since the late W. Bourke Cockran first entered the House of Representatives at Washington as a member from the State of New York. In the years since he has been in and out of Congress, but always a notable figure in New York politics. Great changes came with the years but Mr. Cockran, as the New York Tribune puts it, retained his picturesque quality to the last. He was like a classic actor still holding his own on a stage yielding to realism and decadence. The Tribune says further: "The veteran Congressman was above all things, an orator. He had the oratorical and histrionic temperament, and that helped greatly to keep him what he always had been. He and Tom Grady contended for more than a generation for the distinction of being known as Tammany Hall's premier orator. He frequently exiled himself from the Hall, which Grady never thought of doing. But he had a broader culture and far more distinction of manner than Grady had. He could change his political opinions with more facility. He felt able to do without Tammany, if need be, but Tammany never could reconcile itself very long to doing without him."

Of Cockran's greatest triumph as an orator we are told: "At the Democratic National Convention in 1892 he accomplished the seemingly impossible. Grover Cleveland was about to be nominated for the third time. A night session was in progress in the hazy old convention building on the Chicago lake front. The rain dripped through on the stage and many persons held umbrellas. The galleries were packed with Cleveland supporters, who wanted action and bowed down speakers trying to nominate other candidates than Cleveland. Mr. Cockran appeared on the platform to nominate David B. Hill, the villain in the Chicago drama. Nobody thought that he would be allowed to finish his speech. He did not try to placate the Cleveland worshippers. But something in his loquacious manner and mellow voice impressed the crowd. He disarmed the galleries, if he did not convince them. The tumult of the rest of the evening died away into respectful, eager silence. The crowd wanted to hear Mr. Cockran, even though he spoke as an enemy. It was a marvelous tour de force."

Mr. Cockran, as the Tribune says, was not averse to changing his political views. In one campaign he supported Bryan, and in another opposed him. He quarrelled with Croker and Murphy of Tammany fame, and was reconciled. Always he was in the thick of the fight for Irish freedom, and lived to see the Irish Free State established. He was for a generation a forceful personality, and one of the greatest orators of his time.

Quite full reports of the speech of the Prince of Wales at the dinner of the American University Union in London last week have been called to the New York papers. It is noted that American Ambassador Harvey paid tribute to him as "the white prince," and Lady Astor said: "The Prince of Wales is one of the best Americans I have ever met. He knows how we talk what we mean. There is no greater link between England and America than His Royal Highness, in fact, no greater link between all countries."

The three hundred guests included graduates of Yale, Harvard, Princeton, and Columbia. The President of Williams College was there and the jazz band of Nebraska University. The Prince was given a very notable reception, and in the course of his remarks touched very tactfully upon the subject of Anglo-American relations. "I believe," he said, "you will agree with me, that when we get together like this we bring out all each other's many good points and we come out better Anglo-Saxons than we went in." Touching upon the value of a university education joined to overseas experience he said: "The men of this generation in your country and mine have got to learn to be men of the world in the true sense of the term. We have got to cure ourselves of any small feeling of remoteness from our fellowmen across the seas. As that great ambassador, that great gentleman, Walter Hines Page, once said, 'We have got to drop that word remote from our vocabulary and our thoughts.' To this end nothing will help more surely than the system which your union is building up. We want a union to provide the world with a great landlocked harbor, as it were, which international progress may ride forever in peace and security, no matter how stormy the weather may be outside."

The prince here quoted the words a British statesman wrote to Ambassador Page years ago: "If I have been fortunate enough to draw close to the smallest degree to drawing close, no matter that unite our two countries I shall have done something compared with which anything else I may have attempted counts in my eyes as nothing," and added that they suggest an ideal which was a very real thing to his generation in Great Britain.

The Prince added: "From what I have seen and from friends I have met I feel that the ideal is no less real to our contemporaries on the other side of the Atlantic. We shall have many opportunities of furthering this ideal, and we must lose none of them." Paying tribute to Cecil Rhodes as the pioneer of the union movement he declared: "We in this country must follow up the trail he blazed not merely by extending to your graduates and undergraduates our hospitality, but by encouraging our own university men to take advantage of yours."

The Prince of Wales sets an example that is worthy of him and of a British statesman and the people at large. Whatever pin-pricks there may be from time to time to irritate the British or the Americans, we cannot blind ourselves to the fact that in Anglo-American co-operation lies the hope of the world. It is possible that the people of Great Britain and Canada do not sufficiently take into account the enormous foreign born population in the United States, to whom our ideals do not yet appeal, and the difficulties that surround the efforts of the real friends of Anglo-American unity of purpose. The leaders of American thought see, as the Prince of Wales sees, the need of dropping the words remoteness and isolation from their vocabulary, and the logic of events will eventually bring about the desired full co-operation in relation to world affairs.

The word kodak is a trade name made up for use in advertising. If man was comparatively as strong as the ant he could lift forty tons.

WHAT'S WHAT

By Helen Doole
With an increasing number of women in professional and business life, new codes have been developed for their special benefit. In Mrs. Sherwood's one authoritative book of etiquette, published some forty years ago, it was laid down as an immutable law that no woman should use a card without the prefix "Miss" or "Mrs."

All this is changed. Miss and Mrs. remain the social prefixes for all women except those who are doctors. Other professional women have two sets of cards, one set bearing the social name, say Mrs. Carlton Forbes Grant or Miss Beatrice Manning Grant, the other set without prefix, as shown in the above illustration.

DAWN.

A thin white line on the ocean's rim,
And the leaping seas between,
A dawn wind hot from the darkened west,
That makes the ship career.

A dawn wind hot from the distant land,
To the little ships that pass,
With a smell of palms and of moist black earth,
And orange groves and grass.

An albatross in the whitening wake
A dolphin school ahead,
Topsails, galleons, royals, change
From a purple black to red.

The second mate on the scuttle lid
A belaying pin he whacks,
"Eight bells below! D'yer hear the bells?
"Gut up from off yer back!"

"Up on the lid of her, every one,
"Per' I'm a-carrying on!"
Then there 'ems 'em to for to scrub the deck,
And so the day began.

Amherst News:—The above reproduced from the Chicago Tribune is from the pen of Leonard Mason, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Allen, former well known residents of Amherst. The composer, who was a casualty in the Great War, and is still a very young man, has won much favorable comment for his literary productions and has had many flattering offers from leading publishers in the United States.

A SPECTACULAR RACING DRAMA AT THE UNIQUE

"Queen of the Turf" is a romance of the race course. It is a story of the fascinating group of characters whose experiences have been woven into a turf drama that recalls the memorable "Cheekers" that grand old story of the turf that thrilled the whole world more than a decade ago. It is the current attraction at the Unique Theatre.

The outstanding theme, among several of undoubted dramatic value, is the race episode in which two sleek thoroughbreds outdistance a field of sprinters and finish with an absolute dead heat. The frenzy of the spectators who jam the towering grandstands, the milling throngs in the betting ring where thousands of dollars change hands, the paddock where the horses are given their last minute preparation for the big event and many other scenes give a note of realism to the production that will thrill even the most calloused of race goers.

U. S. MAYOR WANTS STRICTER SPEEDING LAWS

Philadelphia, March 6.—Stricter laws for the punishment of reckless motor car drivers will be urged by Mayor Moore as the result of the "accident Friday" morning in which the person sitting in a trolley car in West Philadelphia was struck and killed by an automobile.

The Mayor in a statement made public recently, "but one of the chief difficulties arises from the ease with which reckless and sometimes drunken drivers are able to escape through the magistrates' offices."

GVERNOR A "SONG PLUGGER"

Albany, N. Y., March 6.—Governor Smith told callers recently that he had become a successful "song plugger."

To support his statement, he read a letter from Charles E. Lawlor, author of "The Sidewalks of New York," stating that the Governor had brought the ballad back into popularity and that as a result the author, who had been unable to get a vaudeville engagement to sing the ditty after a long period of unemployment.

WANTS TO PEDDLE MARKS; TOLD TO GET JUNKMAN'S LICENSE

New York, March 6.—Fritz Schneider, old Detective Sergeant Scribner's associate in the Missing Persons Bureau at Police Headquarters recently that he represented a syndicate of Germans in the United States and he wanted a license to sell German marks in the streets of New York.

"Why don't you go to the License Bureau?" asked Scribner. "I went there," Schneider replied, "and they told me it was a junkman's license I wanted. They said I should go to Police Headquarters, so here I am."

Scribner advised Schneider to go back to the Bureau of Licenses.

WHY THE PEOPLE ARE EATING FISH

(The Canadian Fisherman)
DURING the last three or four years we have had occasion and opportunity to scrutinize the effectiveness of our system of distributing fish throughout the country. Frequently we have observed that fish shipments from the coast go to inland centres for circulation among the population within a comparatively small radius of the centres. Our producers have an eye only to the concentrated population and little or no effort has been made to attempt to solve the problem of supplying the less populous parts of our country.

One could quite readily understand the reason for this. The main centres of population are located practically at the base of the coast. The population of the city of Fredericton, the capital of New Brunswick, which is illuminating. This centre has a population of about 8,000 people. It is located on the St. John river, eighty to ninety miles from the Bay of Fundy, and has steamship communication with St. John, except in winter. It has rail communication with St. John, via two roads, it is connected with fresh fish distributing points in Nova Scotia via the Trans-continental with transatlantic service, and with Miramichi with considerable population and within a comparatively small radius are communities of size.

The above is an ideal market. But observe what our informant, one whose business it is to note these things, remarks: "With reference to your letter of recent date. Ernest Howe only remained in the fish business a few months. The market has been out of business for more than three years, and the Hygienic Fish Market changed hands several times and finally closed its doors. The above firms all stated that they were unable to get a satisfactory supply of fish."

Of numerous cases throughout the Maritime Provinces and eastern Quebec. As things stand, there is no organization of any sort to seek a solution. Each producer and distributor is on his own drive. There is an urgent need for increased local consumption of fish to replace markets lost abroad by a spay-turvy exchange. No one can perform miracles. Are producers waiting for someone to wave a magic wand?

It is a million people wanting fish. Stores eighty miles from salt water. It is a million people wanting fish. Stores eighty miles from salt water. It is a million people wanting fish. Stores eighty miles from salt water.

OLD AND NEW ROADS

(Toronto Globe)
Now they are going to light two great highways in the Province of Quebec, and to connect them by a road into a modified Great White Way. These roads— from Montreal to Quebec, and from Montreal to Ottawa, the public boundary— bear an enormous burden of traffic, but until recently they were just rural highways, winding through pine woods and deep mud, on the clean sweep of permanent way will be dotted with lights, giving, let us hope, a measure of safety for horse-drawn vehicles and pedestrian from speeding motorists.

An earlier generation would turn in its grave at such progress. Good roads, also, meant more money for the tax-payer. But the new roads, wherever they are possible, will add to the uplandization of country life. They are a striking change from the days of deep mud, on a rainy night, horses plunging through the dark, now on the road, now in the ditch, speed two miles an hour in a mud-slicker with mud on their harness and wishing they were anywhere else in the world at that moment. Perhaps they had a lantern, and it was extinguished by the wind or the mud. When he got home there was darkness everywhere; now the electric light of the house and in the stable.

Even the picture of pre-highway days is a great improvement on the conditions of the pioneers. In Lord Dufferin's famous report on conditions in Canada in 1878 there is this illuminating statement by the Chief Agent for Emigration in Upper Canada: "In 1834 I met a settler from the township of Warwick, on the Carleton Place, returning from a grist mill at Westminster with the flour and bran of 18 bushels of wheat. He had a wagon of oats and a horse attached to his wagon, and had been absent nine days, and did not expect to reach home until the following evening. Light as his load was, he assured me that he had to unload, wholly or in part, several times, and after driving his wagon through the swamps, to pick up a road or gullies were fordable, and to carry the bags on his back to replace them in the wagon."

"Supposing the services of the man and his team to be worth $2 per day, the expense of transport would be $20. As the freight on wheat from Toronto to Liverpool (England) is rather less than 2 shillings 6 pence per bushel, it follows that a person living in this city could get the same wheat ground on the banks of the Mersey and the flour and bran returned to him at a much less expense than he could transport it from the rear of Warwick to Westminster and back, a distance of less than 90 miles."

Australia's wheat crop is low this year, owing to drought in wheat sections.

AN OBJECT LESSON

(Fredericton Mail)
Some months ago an aged citizen who had become incapacitated from work suffered a stroke of paralysis and was admitted to the Victoria Public Hospital for treatment. His case did not yield readily to treatment and was finally pronounced incurable with the result that he was eventually transferred to the Municipal Home.

It seems that he has a married daughter living in the United States and not having heard from him for some time she became rather anxious and this week made a journey to the city to investigate. She was not long in ascertaining the facts of the case and in a remarkably short space of time after her arrival here there was a vacant berth at the Municipal Home. The old gentleman was taken to the house of a friend, and the same evening left by the Boston train for the United States, his daughter having assured him that he would have a home with her as long as he lived. "My father cared for me when I needed help," she remarked to a friend, "and I am not going to leave him an object for charity in his old age."

RADIO DIGEST
Practical Pointers Concerning Wireless in All Its Branches.
The Indoor Aerial
Less static comes from an indoor aerial, but it requires more amplification to produce loud signals.
Units in the Electrical Circuit.
Volt—The unit of pressure.
Ampere—The unit of current.
Ohm—The unit of resistance.
Sensitivity of Microphone.
The microphone, an apparatus which first takes sounds for broadcasting, is so sensitive that even a whisper near the instrument is sent clearly through the air.
Wind Often Causes Noise.
On a windy night, old electric power lines will vibrate, causing poor connections to spark and make noise in the receivers, especially if the electric lines are nearby.
Standard Wave Lengths.
Wave length for broadcasting entertainment is 360 meters. Daily weather market and crop reports and other official and semi-official announcements are sent out on a wave length of 485 meters.
To Eliminate Noise From Dials.
The scraping of dials on the panel of a radio set can be corrected by cutting a piece of felt one-eighth of an inch thick and gluing it on the inside of the dial. The revolving of the dial will then work smoothly and without noise.
A Definition.
Radio-frequency amplification is the building up of weak currents that are received by the aerial until they are sufficiently strong to be passed through the detector tube, so that the instrument can function satisfactorily and efficiently.
Glass Panels Give Satisfaction.
Some amateurs are making receiving sets with glass panels. They make a fine appearance and the workings can always be seen. Holes can be put in the glass by placing a little moisture on or sand just over where the hole is to be made and press a round piece of wood, the size of the hole to be, down on the glass through the clay; then pour a little melted lead into the hole in the clay, and the glass will drop out without chipping.
Coil Construction.
When making home-made coils for the receiving set, some consideration should be given to the tapping operation. If the taps are taken too far apart, tuning will be difficult and perhaps impossible. The station which is wanted is probably located between two taps, and that is one reason why sig-

STATUTES OF IRELAND.
Frederick Mull—Fred Lyons, a local carpenter, while tearing down an old ramshackle building on Westmorland street known as the Lockhart house, this winter, came across an ancient volume of considerable interest. It is entitled "Statutes of the Parliament of Ireland, Volume IX, from the twenty-ninth year of King George's Reign, 1788, to the Thirty-third year 1788." The volume is bound in leather and although it bears evidence of having had considerable rough usage all of its 816 pages are intact. Should any Irish historical society want this book Mr. Lyons would probably be willing to part with it on reasonable terms.

REGRET DEATH OF
REV. G. A. KUHRING

Former Rector of Stone
Church Died in Toronto
—Was Overseas Chaplain
During Late War.

The many friends in the city and in New Brunswick will read with regret the death at Toronto yesterday of Rev. Gustav A. Kuhring, former rector of St. John's church from June, 1905, until he resigned and removed to Toronto in August, 1921. Rev. Mr. Kuhring remained steadily in his parsonage here from 1905 until he joined the Canadian overseas forces as a chaplain. He spent some months on the Gallipoli peninsula and later served as senior chaplain in some of the British hospitals.

After his return to his pastorate, Rev. Mr. Kuhring displayed a deep interest in the problems of the returned veterans. He was for a time a member of the executive of the local branch of the G. W. V. A. Since his removal to Toronto he has been engaged in carrying on important philanthropic work in co-operation with the Bishop of that diocese.

Rev. Mr. Kuhring was born in Quebec in 1859. He was graduated from Wesley College in 1881 and served as assistant in the Church of the Redeemer, Toronto, and then as rector of the Church of the Ascension in that city for nine years. Before entering holy orders he acted as secretary to the Y. M. C. A. in Ottawa for two years. He was chaplain of the New Brunswick Dragoons from the reorganization of the regiment after the war.

He was president for two years of the Associated Charities and a director of the Seaman's Mission. Rev. Mr. Kuhring was a most devoted pastor and one who took a deep interest in the moral, spiritual and intellectual welfare of his flock. His illness developed suddenly some weeks ago and he immediately underwent an operation, which for a time was apparently suc-careful, but during the last week word was received in the city that he was sinking rapidly. News of his death today, however, will be a shock to his many friends in the city.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Mary F. Wilson, of Quebec; by one daughter, Miss Grace Kuhring, who has just completed her nursing course at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, and by three sons, Gustav, in Montreal; Paul, of Ottawa, both of whom are married, and Malcolm, at home. Both Paul and Gustav saw service overseas during the war.

MAJOR W. C. MAGEE
DIED THIS MORNING

Was Accidentally Shot Recently During a Cadets Practice.

Despite a brave fight which he put up since he had received the injury several days ago, Major William C. Magee died at the General Public Hospital early this morning. He was accidentally shot during a cadets practice when a .22-calibre bullet perforated his abdomen. His brother John B. Magee and his two nieces were at his bedside.

Major Magee was born in St. John in 1855. He was a son of the late John Magee, who was a well known merchant and conducted a wholesale dry goods business in Prince William street on the site of the present Bank of Montreal building, up to the time of the great fire. Major Magee with two brothers, John and Arthur, the latter serving in the present Bank of Montreal building, up to the time of the great fire. Major Magee with two brothers, John and Arthur, the latter serving in the present Bank of Montreal building, up to the time of the great fire.

He was very active in military circles. In 1871, at the age of sixteen, he joined the 62nd Battalion, with which unit he was identified most of his life. He passed through all ranks and was advanced to major, being placed on the retired list with that rank in 1908. During the Great War he was anxious to go on active service but his age made his doing so out of the question.

Major Magee was very active in the cadet movement, both before and after going on the retired list. Almost twenty-five years ago he organized the first cadet corps in the city, the St. Andrew's Corps, which is still in existence and has been under his direct charge ever since. After his retirement he was appointed inspector of cadets for the entire city. In this connection he supervised the organization and training of all the St. John corps, and on several occasions took them under his command to the camp at Sussex.

He was always greatly interested in rifle shooting and was one of the oldest members of the Provincial Rifle Association. He was particularly active in the same way locally and was for many years a member of the 62nd Battalion Rifle Club, of which he was secretary at the time of his death. During the year he was also secretary of the Provincial Association.

Major Magee was unmarried. Three brothers survive—John B., bookkeeper with Manchester Robertson Allison, Ltd.; T. Walter, Middleton, N. S., and Fred P., Blackwood, Alta. There are several nieces and a nephew.

He was always very popular with his associates, both in military and civilian life, and had a wide circle of friends. At one time he was connected with the Odeffoules fraternity.

YESTERDAY IN PARLIAMENT

(By Canadian Press.)
Ottawa, March 5.—A resolution that the Federal Government co-operate with the various provinces with a view to forest conservation against fire and insect pests was adopted by the House of Commons yesterday.

Today in Parliament.
The House of Commons today will be in committee of supply of estimates of the Department of Public Works. The Senate will sit in the evening.

Says Largest Circulators Not Best.
Ottawa, March 5.—Adoption of measures to encourage the publication of Canadian magazines and periodicals was advocated in the House this afternoon by H. C. Hocken, Conservative, Toronto West, who moved a resolution to that effect.

Mr. Hocken declared that there was no country in the world in which there was so much material for good writers as in Canada. Yet American publications had a very strong hold on the Canadian market, nor was it the best of them which had the largest circulations. The American publisher was at an advantage in having all his overhead covered by his domestic market, leaving his surplus for disposal in Canada.

He suggested the government should place a duty on the advertising sections of American publications coming into Canada. If a duty of fifteen cents a pound were applied, the Saturday Evening Post would pay more than $7,000 on a single issue and the Ladies' Home Journal more than $16,000.

E. W. Robinson, Liberal, Kings, doubted whether Canada could produce a national literature either by means of shutting out other literature or by means of cheap paper.

Mr. Meighen asked whether Mr. Robinson was aware that many Canadian writers had gone to the United States because they could not get a market in Canada and their writings were now coming to Canada through American channels.

Mr. Robinson said the point was to create a demand for something better than the cheap American magazines. He wished to protest against any policy that would shut out reading material that would benefit the country.

T. W. Caldwell, Progressive, Victoria-Carleton, agreed that it was desirable to exclude certain American magazines, but he did not favor Mr. Hocken's remedy. He would rather see the duty on paper removed, and also that the export of pulpwood logs be prohibited or placed under a heavy tax.

THE RIDDLE OF THE SPINNING WHEEL

Being An Exploit in the Career of Hamilton Cleek, Detective
By MARY E. AND THOMAS W. HANSEW

And as it disappeared Cleek turned upon his heel with a deep-drawn sigh. "Gad! what an inheritance!" he mentally commented as he crossed the threshold and entered the portals of the inn itself. "Enough to fight for, indeed!" Mr. Narkom, old friend, this is one of those subtle things which your middle-class upbringing could never understand. One of those things which belong to the few and the chosen. Heigho! And Esau bartered his birthright for a mess of pottage. She'd fight for it—and so would I! Cleek swung into step behind him and mounted the wide shallow oak stairs of the place to the tune of Mr. Fairnish's deep-pitched voice calling for "Mary! Mary!" In the fullness of time "Mary" appeared, and rested herself into a box, high boomed, rosy-checked Highland lass, whom Mr. Fairnish had taken to wife (the second for him) last January. She appeared almost as garbally as her husband, and while she showed Cleek his room—a long, low, cavelled bedroom overlooking the Castle and with windows across one end of it—the regular host with tid-bits of gossip of neighbouring parts, and incidentally added to his already plentifully filled store of knowledge of the "Castle-folk" the fact that Miss Duggan herself was secretly engaged to a Captain Macdonald—one of the poorest landlords of those parts—who, because owners of his poverty, was forbidden the house by Sir Andrew, and promptly sent about his business.

NEW PRESIDENT OF ST. JOHN R.M.A.

Stanley L. Emerson Heads the St. John Branch of the Retail Merchants' Association—Interesting Address by Secretary of British Columbia Branch.

Stanley L. Emerson was elected president of the St. John branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of New Brunswick at their annual meeting last evening in the assembly hall of the New Brunswick Telephone Company.

Mr. Emerson, the new president, took his place, and after making a short address expressing his appreciation of the honor which had been conferred upon him, called upon George H. Hougham for an address.

Mr. Emerson, in his address, complimented the new Brunswick branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada on the fact that they were the only branch which had paid their dues to the Dominion board.

Seasonal price adjustments in the case of a number of commodities, for the most part in a downward direction, have slightly outweighed the rise in price of other commodities, with the result that our monthly index number of wholesale prices has fallen in the case of both imports and exports, the index of the former declining from 165.20 to 163.11, and that of the latter from 161.97 to 160.70.

There has been since January some improvement in the price of wheat, oats, corn, and of beef and wool.

ONE DAY FOR PARROTS BOARD TOO HIGH, OWNER TELLS COURT

New York, March 6.—"I know that the cost of living has gone sky high, but I don't think it costs a dollar a day to feed a parrot," said Magistrate Moses C. Rytenberg in Jefferson Market Court yesterday to Miss Josephine Millett of 37 Perry street, who had been summoned to court on the complaint of Mrs. Ella Higgins of 155 East Twenty-ninth street.

Mrs. Higgins was preparing to leave the city Feb. 1, and left her parrot with Miss Millett until, she said, she could find a buyer. When she went for her parrot Wednesday, she said that Miss Millett demanded $28 a day for the bird. She refused to pay it and Miss Millett held the parrot. Magistrate Rytenberg told Mrs. Higgins her remedy was in a civil court. Miss Millett still has the parrot.

BREAK CHEST COLDS WITH RED PEPPER

Ease your tight, aching chest. Stop the pain, break up the congestion. Feet that had cold loosen up in just a short time.

"Red Pepper Rub" is the cold remedy that brings quickest relief. It cannot hurt you and it certainly seems to end the tightness and drive the congestion and soreness right out. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into colds, congestion, aching muscles and sore, stiff joints relief comes at once.

EASIER DIVORCE IN ENGLAND.
Bill Allowing Wife to Charge Infidelity Expected to Pass.

London, March 6.—It is likely soon to be just as easy for a woman to get a divorce in England as for a man. The House of Commons recently by a vote of 281 to 28 passed the second reading of a bill under which it will no longer be necessary for a wife to allege cruelty or desertion in addition to infidelity. Under the existing law the husband only has to establish infidelity.

No Trouble to Keep Skin Free From Hairs

(The Modern Beauty.)
There is no need for any woman to countenance superfluous hairs, because with a paste made by mixing some powdered detache with water it is easy to get rid of them. The paste is applied for two to three minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This treatment will rid the skin of hair without leaving a blemish, but care should be taken to see that you get real detache. Mix fresh as wanted.

New York, March 6.—Frederick Schneider, wealthy contractor, who was shot to death in his automobile on a lonely road in the Bronx, lived in constant fear of assassination and entertained similar fears for Mrs. Minnie Schneider, his wife, who was warned repeatedly during the last three years to be on her guard constantly.

Simple Way to Get Rid of Blackheads
There is one simple, safe, and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this, get two ounces of peroxide powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The peroxide powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

"I Was a Fright!"
"Nothing I Could Take Made Me Any Fatter."

"Up to the time I was seventeen years old, I believe that I was the most miserable and unhappy girl that ever lived. Honestly, I was a sight. I was the most ungainly looking creature you ever saw. I was thin and scrawny—straight up and down. My height was five feet nine inches and I weighed exactly ninety-one and three quarter pounds. No matter what kind of clothes I put on I looked like a fright. I was clumsy and awkward. I used to stand before the glass and study my features. I found I had a good nose, good eyes and a good mouth, but my cheeks were sunken and my face looked like a skull with a piece of parchment stretched over it. But nothing I could do or take made me any fatter. Men rarely even glanced at me. When they did, they merely gave me a casual, unexpressed or pitying look. An expression which I am sure meant, 'Why is a being like that allowed to ever live?' I used to lie awake at night for hours at a time wondering why there were so many beautiful girls in the world and I was so hideous."

MOORE AND BECKER
SKATE DEAD HEAT

Finish Even from Scratch in Exciting Two-mile Race at Iceland Rink. New York, March 6.—One of the most exciting skating races of the winter at Iceland rink ended in a dead heat between Joe Moore of the 181st Street Ice Palace, the national indoor champion, and Wesley Becker of Iceland. Both men were content to follow the pace in the early laps of a two-mile handicap race, both starting from scratch. As the next from the last lap started Becker sprinted into the lead and it was only a phenomenal last-minute dash by Moore that enabled him to work his way into a tie at the finish. Raymond Schwankamp was contender all the way, but was disqualified for cutting in front of George Pickering in the next to the last lap. Pickering landed a second place. McLaughlin and Louis Morris, the early pace-setters, were left behind at the finish.

Stomach Trouble
"Indigestion"
Relieved By
Burdock Blood Bitters

The sufferer from dyspepsia, indigestion or other stomach troubles who has to pick and choose food is the most miserable of all mankind. Even the little that is eaten causes much torture, and is digested so imperfectly it does but little good. Before you can eat heartily and enjoy your food, you must put your stomach right so that it will manufacture its own digestive ferments. Mr. Wm. Kruschel, Morden, Man., writes: "Some time ago I had quite a serious case of indigestion, indigestion. I could scarcely eat anything, outside of some light food, and even then I generally had pains after each meal. I tried many different medicines, but without any improvement, and had almost given up hope of ever being relieved. I can honestly say that B. B. B. has done wonders for me after all other medicines failed." B. B. B. is put up only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

HER HEART SKIPPED
EVERY THIRD BEAT

Mrs. James Burchell, 348 King St. E., Chatham, Ont., writes—"I think my duty to let you know what Millburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I suffered for years with palpitation of the heart, and was very bad, and I could not be left alone at any time. I doctored for over a year, and the doctor said my heart was very bad, and I should expect to die. I gave up, just at this time, and then my mother advised me to try Millburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, saying that her brother had been relieved by using them when he was very bad with his heart and nerves. I got a box and started to take them, and when I had used it I felt a lot better; would sleep a little and felt stronger. I continued taking them for about three months, and felt better than I had for me. When I think of the misery and suffering I went through before I started Millburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I feel like letting everyone know what they did for me." Price 50c. a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ANNIVERSARY OF LANDING OF THE FIRST SCOTS IN N.S.

"During the week of July 18th next, the people of Pictou County, Nova Scotia, will celebrate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the arrival of the ship "Hector" with the first of the Scottish immigrants to settle in that county. The late Dr. Patterson in his history of Pictou county describes with a graphic pen the early trials and struggles of those sturdy Scots, who, after a long and trying voyage in a small and ill-found vessel, landed on the shores of what was then a wilderness. Their hardships in the biting cold of their first winter, in hastily constructed log houses, without sufficient food or clothing, have been the subject of many a tale handed down by the older people to their children, and their children's children to the present day. Their experiences were perhaps no different from those of other earlier settlers in other parts of Canada, but their achievements are worthy of commemoration by their descendants, and all who boast of Scottish blood in their veins. The interest in religion and education, which is a tradition among Scotsmen, was a strong factor and has tended to bring out the qualities which distinguish them wherever they are found. It has been said that no county in Canada can show so many men, prominent in the religious and intellectual life of the Dominion, as Pictou County. The St. Andrews Society, New Glasgow, has taken in hand the erection of a bronze statue in the town of Pictou to commemorate the arrival of the "Hector" in 1773. It is expected that His Excellency, the Governor General, will unveil this memorial during the week of the celebration and the society has asked the members of sister societies in Canada and United States to join them in doing honor to the memory of those brave men and women who helped to lay the foundations of our Canadian civilization. The St. Andrews Society of St. John has asked A. R. Melrose to receive and forward to the committee in charge any contributions to the fund, which Scotsmen or their descendants in St. John wish to give to this memorial, and those whose ancestors were among the passengers on the "Hector" should be especially interested in helping the worthy efforts of the New Glasgow and Pictou Scots. It is hoped that anyone wishing to contribute to the fund will do so at an early date, so that it may be closed up and the money remitted to the New Glasgow society as soon as possible. GIRLS ASSOCIATION MEET. The Girls' Association of St. John's (Stone) church at its annual meeting last night extended a resolution of sympathy to Mrs. G. A. Kurling in her recent bereavement. Miss Edith Skinner presided and the resolution was wired to Mrs. Kurling. Miss Clara Ward, the secretary reported on the year's work. Miss Skinner in her address thanked the members for hearty co-operation during the year. Miss Margaret Bolton reported receipt for the year totalled $271.36, expenses $222.18 with a balance on hand of $49.18. Miss Grace Estey reported for the flower mission committee, Mrs. George F. Smith spoke on "Individual Responsibility." Miss Skinner presented a bouquet of flowers on her reelection as president. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Miss Edith Skinner; first vice-president, Mrs. Ernest Fleming; second vice-president, Mrs. Fenwick Fraser; secretary, Miss Clara Ward; treasurer, Miss Margaret Bolton; flower mission convener, Miss Grace Estey; delegates to the diocesan annual meeting, Miss Edith Skinner, Miss Annie Farmer and Miss Grace Estey. WATERVILLE, ME., HAS COSTLY FIRE. (By Canadian Press) Waterville, Maine, March 6.—Fire which started early yesterday in the sales and office building of the Central Maine Power Co., here, caused damage estimated at $125,000. ### McINTYRE IN BOUT IN PORTLAND, ME.

Will Meet Jimmy Cox, of Athlone, Ireland, There Tonight.

Johnny McIntyre, well known here, will box Jimmy Cox, in Portland, Me., tonight. Of Cox, a Portland paper published the following:
Worcester sports writers are inclined to think that Jimmy Cox, the welter-weight who fights Johnny McIntyre on the Eastern A. C. bill next Tuesday night, is a real contender. They think the boy from Athlone, Ireland, is better than he has been showing in Bay State rings, and yet he has been winning by a comfortable margin over his opponents. McIntyre who has lost but three decisions in 109 battles is a very modest boy, but he says that he won't give Cox any chance to hold back. The Worcester boy will have to show everything he's got.

May Be Playing Possum.

"Has Jimmy Cox been holding back his real ability ever since he came to Worcester in the hope of pulling some of the local headlines into a bout with him, and then jumping into favor by coming through with a knockout?" asks the boxing writer of the Worcester Telegram.
"Of course Cox has shown plenty of ability whether he has been holding back or not," continues the writer. "But it is really much faster than he has uncovered." For instance when Cox fought Billy Shannon, he gave the Boston boy such a thrashing in one round, that they stopped the fight. Shannon had been moving along very fast until that night, and never before had been in danger of a knockout."

Made French Look Foolish.

"Again Cox met Tommy French. For several rounds he made French look like a novice and knocked him to the floor several times. Then he appeared to slow down. Was it because he was tired or rather was it for fear that he would reveal himself as too good a boxer and therefore be avoided by the Worcester boys?"
