BULGARIAN ARMY NOW FLYING FROM GREEKS

Banks of the Struma Scene of War's Most Decisive Conflict.

GREECE REFUSES TO SIGN AN ARMISTICE.

Bulgars Totally Routed Now Anxious for Peace—Settlement of Terms Expected to Prove Lengthy and Difficult Undertaking.

Athens, July 11.—General Ivanoff's army, together with three divisions of the Istip force, aggregating 112 battalions, made its last stand in a strongly entrenched position near Demirhisar, on the left bank of the river Struma and on the adjacent heights of Intrina, which were well defended with siege artillery. The heavy guns effectually delayed the advance of the Greek infantry, and as the Greek artillery was outranged the battle was indecisive for a considerable time. Under cover of darkness, however, the attack was renewed and in a brilliant charge the Greeks dislodged the Bulgarians from the heights and drove them across the Struma. In their retreat the Bulgarians destroyed the railway for some distance, again checking the Greek advance.

The Greeks then directed their march along the right bank of the river, supported by mountain batteries and compelled the Bulgarians to leaving behind four heavy guns and a quantity of ammunition.

While this battle was in progress the Greeks attacked and dispersed the Bulgarian forces from Istip, advancing towards Petrich by way of Strumitza, capturing twenty guns.

By these two victories, the Greeks are considered to have annihilated finally General Ivanoff's forces, whose rout had been complete. The Greeks occupied Demirhisar on Thursday, when the Bulgarians evacuated the town.

Bulgaria Wants Peace.

London, July 11.—Having failed in her hazardous coup, Bulgaria is now showing herself anxious for peace. No formal armistice has yet been arranged, but it is believed that hostilities are virtually ended. It is feared, however, that the settlement of the peace conditions will prove a long task, many new elements having entered to complicate matters. Bulgaria's decision not to oppose Roumania's occupation of Silistria and the strip of territory she desires removes one difficulty. But other developments, such as the Greek occupation of Kavala to which Bulgaria is expected to offer bitter resistance, are calculated to lead to troublesome negotiations especially as both Serbia and Greece, on the outcome of their campaign, will be certain to demand possession of the territory they occupied previous to the war.

Russia is already taking steps in the Balkan capitals to arrange for a cessation of hostilities.

Atrocities at Seres.

Saloniki, July 11.—A deputation from Seres arrived here today and appealed to King Constantine to despatch Greek troops to occupy the town. The deputation asserted that before evacuating Seres the Bulgarians slaughtered a large number of prominent Greeks who had been imprisoned since hostilities began.

Among those killed were M. Pappalova, director of the gymnasium; M. Stamoulis, manager of the Orient Bank, and Dr. Charroviere.

Another City Captured.

Vienna, July 11.—A Belgrade rumor says that the Serbians have captured Kustendil after two days fighting.

Greece Refuses Armistice.

London, July 12.—An Athens despatch to the Daily Telegraph says that Greece refuses to agree to an armistice.

Moncton, July 11.—George Skeffington, former chief of I. C. R. police, has been appointed special inspector to travel on immigrant trains on the intercolonial for the protection of young women and girls against agents of the "white slave" traffic.

The intercolonial is the first railway in Canada to appoint such an official and this action will be generally commended as in line with the action of many ecclesiastical bodies in Canada and as carrying out Premier Borden's pledge at the last session of Parliament.

PUT OIL OF CEDAR IN HER HUSBY'S FOOD

Ontario Woman Committed for Attempt to Poison—Bail is Refused Because of Nature of the Crime.

Belleville, Ont., July 11.—Mrs. Nelson Shaw, of Point Ann, was today before Police Magistrate Mason of this city, committed to stand her trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction on a charge of attempting to murder her husband by placing oil of cedar in his food.

His Worship contended that a prima facie case had been sufficiently made out to warrant this being done. Owing to the nature of the offence the magistrate was powerless to grant the application for bail.

WALK THROUGH THE CITY AND CONVINCED YOURSELF THAT ST. JOHN IS BOOMING

More Building Activity in City Now than for Many Years—Government Doing Much Work and Large Number of Private Contracts Under Way.

SCENE OF ACTIVITY AT SUGAR REFINERY—SINKING ONE OF THE FORTY-TWO FOOT PIERS FOR THE MELTER HOUSE.

A trip through the streets of the city any day will reveal the marked building progress which the past year has brought forth. The building rate shows an immense increase and dispels any doubt that may have existed as to the advance which St. John is making in this respect.

The building work is very varied in its nature, ranging from the erection of the ordinary two or three story dwelling houses to industrial plants consisting of docks, wharves and piers. For the first time in the history of the city there has been such activity in the building line, and in a short time months has brought forth makes the future of the waterfront city a decidedly rosy one.

While there has been done, and in progress a very large amount of construction by the government, there are also under way several important projects by private concerns and corporations. Among these one of the most important is the construction of the Atlantic Sugar Refinery at the Ballast Wharf.

For the past few months this has been the scene of great activity. Day and night crews of workmen have been busy, and if to the casual observer little has been achieved as yet, the visitor to the scene of the operation who carefully inspects the work will realize that much has been accomplished.

As yet the foundation is all that has been attempted. In the construction of a building of the proportions of the refinery proper and piers connected with the plant this part of the operations is an important one, the progress which has been made is most satisfactory and those in charge of the work are thoroughly satisfied with the manner in which the work has been carried along. Under the direction of John Buscher, foreman of the Foundation Limited, the work has been brought along rapidly and thus far nearly one hundred and seventy-five piers have been sunk.

The magnitude of this feature of the work cannot easily be estimated by the uninitiated. The successful laying of these is a big factor in the construction which is now being put up on the waterfront. In connection with the work of laying the piers may be guessed from the above picture.

For this phase of the work the most modern machinery has been brought on the scene. Buffers, hoisting engines, ordinary derricks, ejectors and pumps of various descriptions have been requisitioned, all of them made evidence of another change which the past year or so has introduced into St. John, that is, new methods of construction with thoroughly modern equipment.

The piers, numbering nearly a hundred and seventy-five are of concrete, and a large concrete mixer has been used in preparing the material. The depth of the piers varies from thirty-five to forty-two feet. Of these piers a hundred and seven are what is known as the man and siller house. For the machine shop twenty-four piers have been sunk. There is the boiler house which requires seventeen piers. The boiler house, which is to be erected on the site of the refinery, is a comparatively small structure. All of these piers have been sunk, which speaks well for the efficiency of Mr. Buscher, who has been in charge. In the picture above a good idea of the magnitude of this portion of the construction work may be obtained.

With the laying of the piers the ground is cleared for the starting of the work on the superstructure, and the middle of the present month should see a beginning made.

The steel for this has been ready for some time and is expected to arrive in the city in a few days. About the strength of this month, unless unforeseen difficulties arise the work of putting up the steel framework of the different structures will be undertaken and the sugar refinery, a long cherished hope of the citizens, will begin to take a more tangible form.

On the main building the erection of the steel work will be no small undertaking, but all things favorable, it is expected that this will be completed about the last of September.

The force of workmen at present employed numbers about one hundred and thirty. These are divided into day and night crews. In a few days, however, the intention is to increase the number. With the beginning of the work on the superstructure this crew will be further augmented, and the site as a vacant lot will find a wonderful transformation characteristic of the new era of progress upon which St. John has entered.

Already the change in this locality of the city has been great, a few months more and the walls of another great industry will be rising, announcing to the emigrant or visitor visiting the harbor that at last St. John is alive to her opportunities and is laying the foundations for a city of the future.

SURPLUS OF $56,500,000; CUT IN DEBT $20,000,000

Splendid Results of Conservative Rule at Ottawa Shown in Fiscal Year Statement by Minister of Finance.

Ottawa, July 11.—Final figures for the last Canadian fiscal year were announced by the Minister of Finance today.

A heavy increase in capital and consolidated expenditures is offset by expanding revenue and there is a surplus of $56,500,000 on current account. There is a reduction of twenty millions in the public debt.

On consolidated fund the revenue totalled $168,600,000 compared with $138,108,217. The previous year's expenditure was $112,000,000 as against $88,161,948.

The total of capital and special expenditures was $32,300,000 including five millions in railway subsidies. Outlay on the M. T. R. amounted to $13,500,000. On public works $4,000,000 was spent and on railways and canals $7,250,000.

AIR-WATER BOAT AIDS IN RESCUE

Buffalo, July 11.—A hydro-aeroplane assisted in the rescue of a man and one in the Niagara River this afternoon played a prominent part in the search for the bodies of the five canoeists who were drowned off Windmill Point last Sunday. The flying machine rapidly eliminated outlying territory for the necessity of further search, and boatmen confined their efforts to a comparatively small stretch, with the result that three bodies were recovered.

The bodies found were those of Carl Goodrich, Reginald MacMahon and Albert M. Kaynor, all of Niagara Falls. Two were found in the lake and one in the river. The body of Thomas Brophy, recovered yesterday was today identified. The body of Edward Ketcher is missing.

COL. HUGHES THROWS HOT SHOT IN HALIFAX

Lectures Officers of Permanent Force for Idleness and Neglect of Duty—Permanent Corps Officers Merely Military School Masters—Minister Has No Sympathy for Pink Tea Officers, Idlers or Profligates.

Halifax, July 11.—Col. Sam Hughes, minister of militia, entertained the permanent and active militia officers of the Halifax garrison at dinner tonight and created somewhat of a sensation by roundly lecturing the regular officers for idling and neglecting their duties. He declared that the permanent force were no place for men who desired to spend their time in idleness, profligacy and social savagery, and any man who failed to do their work could look for very little sympathy. He referred to friction which had existed between the active militia and the permanent forces all over the Dominion, and defended his policy of appointing men from the active forces to positions which men of the permanent corps were qualified to fill.

Col. Hughes said this condition had been met with all over Canada, but he had refrained from speaking of it until he could do so in Halifax, the largest Canadian garrison. He impressed on the permanent corps officers that their force existed purely for instructional purposes, and they were nothing more than military schoolmasters.

Sir Ian Hamilton, inspector general of the overseas forces, paid high compliments to the local militia, declaring that the Halifax regiments were fully up to the standard of the best corps throughout the Empire.

STONE TOWER OF BIG MUSEUM IS FALLING

Relic of Old Government's Regime Tottering—Disregarded Expert Advice and Now Lives of Many Endangered.

Ottawa, Ont., July 11.—The second of the take-down towers erected by the Laurier government is threatening to go the way of the first. This is the stone tower of the Victoria Memorial Museum on McLeod street which has been slowly but steadily parting company with the rest of the building ever since the completion of the structure two years ago. It will be remembered that Contractor Goodwin, who built the museum, protested to the late government that the plans provided insufficient footings. Goodwin disclaimed responsibility for following the plans but the government took no action and the tower was put up.

Hon. Louis Coderre, who is now Minister of Mines, has a number of his departmental officials housed just about where the big stones will drop off when the tower falls. Mr. Coderre visited the museum today and came away much impressed with the dangerous condition of the tower. It is probable that on the return of the Minister of Public Works from the west, arrangements will be made for taking the whole tower down and rebuilding on better footings. The museum cost the country nearly a million and a quarter.

AUTO DRIVER ARRESTED FOR MAN'S DEATH

Pretended He Found Victim Dying by Roadside—Confronted with Evidence Admits His Car Ran Man Down

Vanover, July 11.—The police tonight arrested Seymour McDonald on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Thomas G. Proctor.

Proctor was run down and fatally injured Wednesday night by an automobile. The police were telephoned by McDonald, who assisted them, pretending he had found Proctor dying on the roadside. Tonight the police confronted him with evidence which he confessed to being the driver of the car which struck Proctor.

CANOE UPSET GIRL DROWNS

Companion Tries to Save Her and is Rescued in Exhausted Condition—Third Violent Death in Family.

Montreal, July 11.—Bertha McMillen, 15-year-old daughter of the late Mr. Robert McMillen of Lachine, was drowned near the C. P. R. bridge tonight when a canoe in which she was paddling with Brian McConnell, residing near Highland Station, overturned in the swift current.

McConnell, after striving to save the young woman, was taken in an exhausted condition to the shore by Mr. Rae, who hearing the cries for help, put out in a row boat. The victim's body has not yet been recovered.

The death of Miss McMillen last night marks the third violent death in the family in the past four years.

QUEBEC BEER IS A PUZZLER

Because Beverage Makes One Sick Instead of Drunk Quebec Judge Says 'Tis Temperance.

Quebec, July 11.—The inland revenue department authorities are not satisfied with the recent decision of Judge Langelier in regard to what constitutes temperance beer. In consequence it has instructed its attorney to take the necessary proceedings to have an appeal against the decision entered. It will be remembered that four grocers were brought before Judge Langelier in the court of sessions on the charge of selling liquor without a license.

The defence claimed that the beer was not alcoholic but temperance, and after hearing witnesses, including Dr. Vallee, who testified that the beer did not contain sufficient alcohol to intoxicate, one could drink enough of it to make himself sick, but not drunk. Judge Langelier dismissed the accusations.

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY AVERTED

Dynamite Bomb with Burning Fuse Found Under Christ Church Barracks.

Wellington, New Zealand, July 11.—A large quantity of dynamite with a burning fuse attached was discovered yesterday under Christ Church barracks just in time to prevent the destruction of the building.

The attempt is ascribed to some of the fanatics connected with the anti-militarist faction. All boys between 14 and 21 are required to attend periodical drills at the barracks and fear is entertained that another attempt to destroy the building may be made.

There was a visitor at the summer White House at Windsor, Vt., in the person of Mr. Francis B. Sayre, the fiance of Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Sayre was met at the station by Miss Eleanor and Miss Jessie Wilson. When they arrived at the summer capital Miss Jessie Wilson and her fiance, disdained the half dozen automobiles at their disposal, strolled about the estate, and finally went for a rambling drive in a little umbrella covered cart, drawn by a bay horse. Country folk discovered them in various sections of the winding tree covered roads, utterly oblivious to the rest of the world.

MISUSE OF AID FUNDS IS CHARGED

Money Subscribed for Relief of Strikers and Families in Lawrence was Not Devoted to That Purpose.

Boston, July 11.—Misuse by Industrial Workers of the World of funds contributed for the relief of strikers and their families during the great textile struggle at Lawrence is alleged by William Trautman of Chicago in an affidavit filed with the Supreme Court in his own defense today. Industrial Workers of the World, newspapers, men who needed bail money, and a newspaper man are among those alleged to have been benefited. Trautman, Joseph Bedard and Joseph Shafan composed the strikers relief committee, and are accused by the attorney general of having used $10,000 of the fund for purposes other than for which it was intended. In this affidavit Trautman says that he never handled the funds and that many payments were made without the consent or knowledge of the committee and for which none of the three should be held liable. One of these payments for a draft of $3,500, a portion of which went to a newspaper man for alleged services rendered and $500 to another person.

CLERK STOLE JEWELRY AND FRAMED TALE

"Hold Up" of Office Attendant in New York's Maiden Lane was Faked.

WOUND ON HEAD SELF-INFLICTED

Giant Accomplice Landed by Decoy Telegram—Love of Flashy Clothes Proved Undoing of Louis Freeman.

New York, July 10.—Breaking down under a rapid fire of questions in the office of George H. Dougherty, Deputy Police Commissioner, in Police Headquarters, after having withstood a scathing cross-examination for several hours, Louis W. Freeman, a clerk who was found bound and gagged in the offices of Louis Stern and Co., jewelers, No. 15 Maiden lane, on Monday, told the police that he had engineered the crime. Details of his confession developed the fact that the wound behind his ear, which he had said had been inflicted with a blackjack wielded by the robber, was self-inflicted. At eleven o'clock Tuesday night August Secha, nineteen years old, of No. 163 East 107th street, was arrested as Freeman's accomplice at Ninety-eighth street and Madison avenue. Freeman, who is nineteen years old and lives at No. 71 East 104th street, was well dressed when he appeared before Commissioner Dougherty for examination. Evidence of Lavishness. Freeman's attire proved his undoing. His suit, he hesitatingly admitted, was purchased last month and cost $25. Inquiry disclosed further lavishness, and Freeman's self assurance gradually disappeared after an account of the happenings immediately prior to and succeeding the alleged assault and robbery. The police said that Freeman was innocent of any complicity with the robber, and he was led to believe that they regarded him as innocent when they asked for further details. He tried to bluff his way through his original story when flaws were pointed out, and finally broke down and cried. "I took $91 last month," he is quoted as saying, "and a big fellow up around Five Ave. asked me why I didn't get more. He put me up to the stick-up game."

SENATE TO DEBATE TARIFF NEXT WEEK

First Gun in Debate Will be Fired on Monday by Senator McCumber From North Dakota.

Washington, July 11.—Discussion of the Underwood-Simons tariff revision bill, with its lengthy free list, greatly reduced rates on all commodities and its new system of ad valorem instead of specific rates will actually begin in the Senate next Wednesday at noon. On Monday, however, the opening assault on the Democratic measure will be made by Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, who will speak on the tariff schedule. The finance committee agreed that he should be given the floor ahead of the formal opening, because he is obliged to leave Washington Monday night. Chairman Simmons speaking for the Democrats at the finance committee today, said he thought the bill could be concluded in five weeks, and Senator Smoot, of the minority, agreed with him, declaring that the Republicans had no intention of purposely prolonging the debate.

Dissolution Suit Against Moving Picture Trust Adjourned Until the Autumn to Hear Witnesses for Defence.

New York, July 11.—The government rested its case today in the dissolution suit against the so-called moving picture trust, and the hearings were adjourned until Oct. 1, when the defence will present its case. More than one hundred witnesses have been examined by the prosecution. The Eastman Kodak Company of Rochester, N. Y., recently sued the government as a trust, was brought into the case today by the testimony of Herbert Miles, an independent manufacturer whose licenses were cancelled by the Motion Picture Patents Company. He said that in 1910 he had been notified by the Eastman people that they had agreed to manufacture only "licensed" films, controlled by the alleged trust, and that they would be unable to do any work for him because his license had been cancelled.

HISTORIC FIGHT COMMEMORATED BY HALIFAX TABLET

Interesting Ceremony Conducted by Sir Ian Hamilton Yesterday.

Battle Between Shannon and Chesapeake Memorialized by Tablet on Cannon Taken from Famous British Ship.

Halifax, July 11.—Tradition saith: That this cannon was used on board H. M. S. Shannon, in the historic Sea Fight between the Chesapeake and the Shannon, June 1, 1813. It was used as the noon and evening gun, 1822-1905. The Nova Scotia Historical Society. So reads the memorial tablet, which was unveiled by the distinguished general, Sir Ian Hamilton this afternoon, on one of the cannon used on H. M. S. Shannon in the Provincial Building grounds before an exceptionally large crowd of interested spectators. Archdeacon Armitage, the president of the society, made reference to the fact that Halifax was happy to have on that occasion such a distinguished visitor whose name was renowned all the world over. The Nova Scotia Historical Society were pleased that the tablet immortalizing such an event as the fight between the Chesapeake and the Shannon was to be unveiled by such a distinguished soldier. "Brave Broke he waved his sword crying now my lads aboard, and we'll stop them playing Yankee doodle-dandy oh."

In ringing tones the gallant general opened his speech prior to unveiling the tablet with the above quotation. Those standing by greeted the quotation with applause. Preceding Sir Ian told the story of that memorable fight in Chesapeake Bay which took place just one hundred years ago. Accompanying General Sir Ian Hamilton were: Colonel Sam Hughes, Colonel Rutherford and staff and officers of the garrison and many prominent men of the city. Prior to the unveiling of the tablet

UNIONIST LAND REFORM POLICY.

At a recent meeting of the West Derbyshire Unionist League the Marquis of Lansdowne detailed the Unionist party's policy of land and rural housing reform. In view of the fact that Mr. Lloyd George, on behalf of the Government will start his land campaign in the Autumn, Lord Lansdowne's speech has attracted considerable attention in England. Before outlining the proposals of the Unionists Lord Lansdowne in referring to agriculture as the country's only inexhaustible source of national wealth, pointed out two obvious facts which stared them in the face—one was that they ought to get more out of the land than at present, much of the land being badly farmed, and the other fact was that the population had been steadily increasing but the amount of land under cultivation had steadily diminished, there being about 3,000,000 acres less under cultivation than thirty years ago. Lord Lansdowne expressed the opinion that it was not beyond their power to bring about an improvement in this condition of things.

As to the means to be adopted to accomplish these reforms Lord Lansdowne's statement giving a review of the policies proposed by the two parties is worth quoting. "At this point," he said, "we find ourselves in entire disagreement with our political opponents, as we favor a policy of small holdings, while their policy is a policy of tenancy as distinguished from a policy of ownership. Their idea is to make your small holder a tenant of a public body, saddle him with a good, stiff rent, swollen by expenses of administration, instalments, or sinking fund, and so forth; and then, when he has held his farm, let us say, forty or fifty years under these conditions, he finds himself just as far from actual ownership as he was when he started at the beginning of the race. He buys his farm, but he does not buy it for himself. He buys it for his County Council, which is a very different thing. To that policy we desire to oppose the policy of actual and complete ownership. We believe that ownership is better for the man, that nothing will make him so independent, so self-reliant, will give him such an interest in his farm, and such a sense of citizenship as complete ownership of a few acres of land. We believe ownership is best for the whole community, because it will place the social structure on a firmer and more solid basis; and we believe, lastly, that it is good for the land itself, because we consider that nothing will induce a man to take the same interest in his land and to cultivate it well as the feeling that it is his, and that he can hand it down to those who come after him."

The main proposals of the Unionist party for complete ownership of the land, as outlined by Lord Lansdowne, may be summed up as follows:

THE WAR IN THE BALKANS.
 The treachery of Bulgaria in attacking the other members of the Balkan League in a greedy attempt to obtain more than a fair share of the spoils of the late war is meeting with the fate it deserves. Having been signally defeated by the combined forces of Serbia and Greece, Bulgaria is now faced with a declaration of war from Rumania. That Austrian intrigue has been responsible for Bulgaria's campaign there can be little doubt. By setting the members of the Balkan League at war between themselves Austria hoped to gain territory she coveted.

With the forces of the three other members of the Balkan League in arms against her, Bulgaria realizes that she has no alternative now but to sue for peace. She is reported to have placed herself unreservedly in the hands of Russia, with the view of bringing about a cessation of hostilities, and France has undertaken to negotiate with Serbia and Greece on behalf of Bulgaria to ascertain what terms of peace can be arranged. The final stage of this senseless and sanguinary conflict appears to be in sight, but much still depends upon the action of the Powers.

The Crop Report.
 (London Free Press).
 Whatever may be the character of the crop reports that come day after day from the West in varying tones there is one outstanding fact, that the crop acreage this year is greater than ever before. In the three prairie provinces there is this year a wheat area of 9,014,800 acres, which is a considerable increase over last year and the same is true of the acreage of oats and barley. And, in addition, there is more mixed farming, in Alberta particularly, than ever before.

Bulgaria.
 (Toronto Mail and Empire).
 Turkey has been forced out of Europe, practically, and the fight in the Balkans now over the territory she left behind her. Bulgaria promises to take Turkey's place as the greatest nuisance, after Austria, on the continent.

PRINCE JOHN.
 Little Prince John Charles Francis, the "baby" of the British royal family, will celebrate today his arrival at the merriment of eight. The youngest of the six children of King George and Queen Mary was born July 12, 1905. He is described as an unconventional and democratic youth, who objects to being called "your royal highness," and prefers having even the servants address him as John. In his infancy he was rather more delicate than his older brothers, but an open-air existence promises to transform him into a sturdy and athletic youth.

VICTORIA COUNTY COURT.
 Andover, N. B., July 10.—The adjourned session of the Victoria County Court opened here Tuesday. In the case of Elizabeth De Merchant vs. Harry H. Tibbitts, executor of Stanley estate, the jury found a verdict of fifty dollars for the plaintiff and in Campbell vs. Harry H. Tibbitts, executor of the same estate, the verdict was for the plaintiff for one hundred and twenty-eight dollars. T. J. Carter, K. C., for plaintiff and F. B. Carvell, K. C., for defendant in both cases. The non-jury cases went over to next term.

DIARY OF EVENTS

HISTORIC DAYS IN CANADA

CANADIAN IMPERIALISM.
 That the Dominion should send troops to the aid of the mother country in the event of a serious war in South Africa was first urged officially by Lieut. Col. Sam Hughes, who introduced the subject in the Canadian Parliament fourteen years ago today. Col. Hughes expressed the opinion that not less than 5,000 Canadians would volunteer for service in case of need. No immediate action was taken but on the last of the month the House of Commons expressed sympathy "with the efforts of Her Majesty's Imperial authorities to obtain for the subjects of Her Majesty, who have taken up their abode in the Transvaal, such measure of justice and political recognition as may be found necessary to secure them in the full possession of equal rights and liberties." Soon after the passing of this resolution "the battle of the diamonds" of both parties, Col. Hughes sought to raise a regiment for foreign service, but in this project clashed with the heads of the military, who were opposed to the sending of a thousand men sailed away from Quebec. These and subsequent Canadian forces played a gallant and heroic part in the war, and their victories were greeted with patriotic enthusiasm all over the country.

FIRST THINGS

ORANGEMEN'S DAY.
 The first observance of this date as Orangemen's Day was in 1796, the first lodge of Orangemen having been formed at Armagh late in the preceding year. The organization of the Irish Protestants resulted from what was called "the battle of the diamonds" fought at Diamond, a hamlet in Armagh, North Ireland, in 1795, between the "Peep-Boys" and the "Defenders." Many of the latter were killed. To commemorate this conflict the Orange Lodge was formed soon afterward, and it was decided to observe the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne, July 12th, as an annual holiday. The "battle of Diamond" originated in a quarrel between a Roman Catholic and a Presbyterian at Market Hill in July, 1784. Each was soon aided by a large body of friends, and the neighborhood was divided into religious factions—distinguished as Defenders and Peep-Boys. The latter were far from friendly visits to the homes of the Defenders just before daybreak.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

SIR WILLIAM OSLER.
 Sir William Osler, the celebrated Canadian-born physician, who is honored by his professional brethren as one of the foremost living diagnosticians, and who is known to laymen as the author of the doctrine that men should be clothed in their own skins and put out of their misery is himself well past the fatal mark, since he will pass his sixty-fourth milestone today. As a matter of fact, although why should we bother with facts when fiction is so much more interesting?—as a matter of fact, Dr. Osler died, as he said, He did remark that "man's best (preparatory) work is done before forty," which is a statement that few will deny. He also observed that men have a tendency to become "set" in their opinions, and that the "chloroform" of life started as a joke, but Sir William is now inclined to think that it has gone quite far enough.

THE WAR IN THE BALKANS.
 The treachery of Bulgaria in attacking the other members of the Balkan League in a greedy attempt to obtain more than a fair share of the spoils of the late war is meeting with the fate it deserves. Having been signally defeated by the combined forces of Serbia and Greece, Bulgaria is now faced with a declaration of war from Rumania. By setting the members of the Balkan League at war between themselves Austria hoped to gain territory she coveted.

ANOTHER PLAYGROUND FOR THE YOUNGSTERS

West Side Recreation Spots Open this Afternoon—Exercises at 4.15 O'clock on Account of Funeral.

On account of the funeral of the late Senator Ellis, which takes place this afternoon, the opening of the West Side grounds will take place at 4.15 o'clock instead of at half-past two as was previously intended.

With the opening of the playgrounds in West Side the chain of playgrounds throughout the city will be completed and the youngsters will have a couple of months of real fun stored up for them. Equipment has been added during this week to the Bentley and Alexandra playgrounds of the North End, which were opened this summer, and on next Monday they will contain their complete accommodation for the amusement of the children.

The Playgrounds Association under whose supervision the recreations for the children are being conducted, extended their work this summer to the North End, and the little tots are daily showing their appreciation of the efforts of the association by attending the playgrounds in large numbers. From morning until late in the evening all the appliances for amusement are in constant operation, and the children enjoy most delightfully every hour on the grounds.

THE LIFE OF A MARTYR

Was in Agony for Years and Nothing Gave Him Relief Until He Used "Fruit-a-lives", the Famous Medicine Made from Fruit.

ALFRED FERRIS, ESQ.
PENETANG UISHENE, Ont., Mar. 4th, 1913.
"I want to inform you of what your remedy "Fruit-a-lives" did for me. For years I was a martyr to Dyspepsia and Constipation, often having to leave work from the agonizing pains of Acute Indigestion. Doctors treated me continually, but without satisfactory results. It seemed to me that I tried every advertised medicine on the market, and got no relief. On one of the days that I was compelled to absent myself from work, a neighbor came to my house to whom I told of my suffering, and he said to me that all I had to do, if I had Dyspepsia, was to take "Fruit-a-lives." They would cure me. He had cured himself. I immediately procured a 50c. box and continued taking them until cured. I suppose I took in all about eleven boxes and I am glad to be able to say that I have been free of Indigestion for nearly two years. They cured the Constipation also. They were worth their weight in gold to me and I will be glad to have you publish this letter, along with my photo, if it will induce another dyspeptic to take the right road to a permanent cure."

Yours truly, ALFRED FERRIS.
Don't suffer any longer. Today—right now—get "Fruit-a-lives" and cure yourself. "Fruit-a-lives" will sweeten the stomach—strengthen the stomach muscles, increase the quantity of digestive juices, regulate Kidneys and Bowels, and make the digestion as sound as a bell. "Fruit-a-lives" will positively cure every case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Belching Gas, Bloating, Pooling after eating, and all other disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

GOVERNMENT TO BUILD THE GRAIN CONVEYORS

Hon. J. D. Hazen Again Shows that He is Ever Alive to the Interests of St. John—Word Received Yesterday.

The President of the Board of Trade has received a letter from the Deputy Minister of Public Works stating that as a result of representations made by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries the government has instructed the department to prepare estimates of the cost of constructing grain conveyors to No. 5 and No. 6 berths on the West side. The C.P.R. has definitely refused to bear any portion of the cost of constructing the proposed grain conveyors.

The action of the government in deciding to have estimates of the cost prepared would seem to indicate a willingness to proceed with the work of constructing the grain conveyors. The city authorities are urging the government to do the work even if the C.P.R. will not share the cost. The question is considered a burning one in some quarters, though extra grain conveyors are only needed for a few months during the season of navigation.

VIOLET REID N. B. MEDICAL SOCIETY WILL CASE HEARD YESTERDAY OPEN TUESDAY

Witnesses on Stand for Prosecution Bring Out Little Additional Evidence.

In the police court yesterday before Magistrate Ritchie, hearing in the case of Violet Reid, charged with infanticide, was resumed, two sessions being held.

At the morning session of the court two witnesses for the prosecution were heard, Dr. A. E. Loggie, who attended the prisoner while she was in the Evangelina Home, and Mrs. Beattie Beeson, matron of the institution.

Dr. Loggie in his testimony told of treating the patient for peritonitis. This he stated in reply to P. A. Guthrie, counsel for the prisoner, who is the only illness for which he treated Miss Reid. In reply to Mr. Gerow he said that the illness resulted from confinement.

The prisoner had told him that she had sent her child to Michigan. The reason, she told him, why she did not give Detective Rideout the true history of the case, was because she did not wish the fact that she was mother of a child to become known in the neighborhood where she lived.

The next witness, Mrs. Beeson, matron of the Evangelina Home, sworn, said that she saw the accused for the first time on May 25th. She was called Annie Cameron then. She left the home in the morning about 11 o'clock. She returned shortly afterwards the same day and told of giving the baby to her cousin at the Union depot. Her cousin had gone to Michigan.

She saw the prisoner again, she testified, on June 4th, at Fredericton Junction. She told what happened if a baby found dead at that place was hers she did not put it there.

Court resumed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when Mrs. Beeson was recalled by Mr. Gerow.

William Williamson was the next witness called. He said that he was employed as a coachman and in April last, about the middle of the month, was called to the Evangelina Home.

When he arrived at the Home he asked where she wished to be taken and she told him to the Dufferin Hotel. He drove her there to the ladies' entrance. She had with her a suit case and a baby.

Arrived at the hotel he gave her the suit case inside the hall of the hotel. A boy came and took the suitcase from her and she said she wanted to wash and change her clothes.

Witness could not describe how the baby was dressed at the time. He had not seen her since that day. She looked like a young person, but he could not say that the accused and the lady he drove to the hotel were the same person.

The next witness called was Lillian Fear, sworn, who said that she has been at the Evangelina Home for the past five or six months. She remembered some of the clothes and identified some of the garments. She said that the prisoner told her she was going to take the baby to Sackville to give to her cousin.

As these were all the witnesses which the prosecution had ready this concluded the session.

The case was then adjourned until Tuesday morning, July 22nd.

MAY SELL CITY BONDS TO LOCAL INVESTORS

Civic Authorities May Adopt Method which has Worked well in other Places.

Owing to the need of issuing bonds to the amount of $200,000 on a market where money is about as tight as it can be, it is said that the city authorities may try to sell the bonds in small denominations to the citizens; a plan which has worked out with considerable success in some other cities.

Out West quite a number of cities have abandoned contemplated works rather than issue bonds at the prices now obtainable; in fact it is said some Western cities have found it prudent to suspend their plans to dispose of their bonds. And there seems no immediate likelihood of any improvement in the bond market.

It is estimated that Canadian cities are ready to throw at least $300,000,000 of bonds on the market at the earliest moment there appears to be a good chance of selling them. In view of this circumstance the St. John civic authorities may adopt the plan of selling city bonds in small denominations to local investors.

MRS. JORDAN WILL SPEND MUCH MONEY

Founder of Sanitarium to Provide Building for Non-paying Patients—Twenty paying Patients now in.

"Good work is being done at the Jordan Memorial Sanitarium," said Dr. A. R. McAvaney to a reporter last evening. "There are over twenty paying patients at the institution. At present it costs to run the institution about $14 per week per patient. The patients pay $7 per week and the Provincial Government make up the difference of $7. Of course when there are more patients the cost to the Provincial Government will be reduced."

Dr. McAvaney is much impressed with the interest Mrs. Jordan is showing in the institution. Not content with starting the institution and fitting up some of the buildings, she is now spending $10,000 in providing a building to accommodate patients who are not able to pay for treatment. Mrs. Jordan is also bearing the expense of building a dam at River Glade, which will form a lake in front of the Sanitarium and provide water power for lighting and power purposes about the institution. Another project she has in hand is to build a new road from River Glade to the railway, which will greatly reduce the distance which now has to be travelled to get there. It is said that before Mrs. Jordan's plans are completed she will have spent $100,000 or more.

Asked what arrangements had been made for the care of free patients, Dr. McAvaney said that it was proposed to form a fund out of which the expense of patients not able to pay for their accommodation would be met. The new quarters which Mrs. Jordan is providing will accommodate about 50 free patients. To provide for the maintenance of this feature of the work of the Sanitarium it is proposed to raise a fund by popular subscription or some other method.

James Morash Let Go by Magistrate and Told to Get Indoors at 9 p.m.—Other Cases.

In the police court yesterday afternoon following the hearing of the Violet Reid case, a number of remanded prisoners were brought before Magistrate James Morash who was arrested some weeks ago for wandering about and not giving a satisfactory account of himself, and who was also under suspicion of being connected with the incendiary fire, was brought into court. He was given a short lecture by the Magistrate and allowed to go. In liberating him His Honor told him if he was seen on the street after 9 o'clock at night he would be arrested again, and cautioned him to be careful in the future.

A man named Gregory, who claimed Montreal as his home, was brought in. He said he was on his way from Halifax when arrested. The Magistrate let him go and told him to get the next train out of town, and the man lost no time in departing.

Fred Wiers, a man with unusual initials, was remanded until this morning, and a young man named Furlong was fined $22 for four months the fine being allowed to stand.

Man Sell City Bonds to Local Investors

Civic Authorities May Adopt Method which has Worked well in other Places.

Owing to the need of issuing bonds to the amount of $200,000 on a market where money is about as tight as it can be, it is said that the city authorities may try to sell the bonds in small denominations to the citizens; a plan which has worked out with considerable success in some other cities.

Out West quite a number of cities have abandoned contemplated works rather than issue bonds at the prices now obtainable; in fact it is said some Western cities have found it prudent to suspend their plans to dispose of their bonds. And there seems no immediate likelihood of any improvement in the bond market.

It is estimated that Canadian cities are ready to throw at least $300,000,000 of bonds on the market at the earliest moment there appears to be a good chance of selling them. In view of this circumstance the St. John civic authorities may adopt the plan of selling city bonds in small denominations to local investors.

CORONER'S JURY DECIDES THAT JOHNS IS INNOCENT OF THE CRISPELL MURDER

Sweetheart of Girl whose Body was Found in Harvey Lake, Exonerated — Question now is, Who Killed Her?

WHAT WAS REVEALED BY THE SEARCHLIGHTS OF AUTOMOBILE

Who was the Man in Dark Clothes who Watched Johns and Crispell Girl the Night She Met Her Death?—New Mystery in Famous Case.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 11.—The coroner's jury, late Thursday, exonerated Herbert Johns, who has been under arrest in connection with the death of Alice Crispell, the 18 year old farmer's daughter, whose body was found last Monday on the surface of Harvey's Lake. The jury found that the girl had been murdered, but declares the guilty party is still at large. The testimony at the inquest failed to throw any additional light on the mystery surrounding the girl's death.

In connection with the above case which has aroused much interest the following despatch to the New York Herald, of July 10th, tells of a new mystery injected into the strange death of Alice Crispell:

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 10.—"As we passed the Weckesser boat house going to Lehman's Centre the powerful searchlights of my automobile revealed a man in a dark suit crouching beside a pile of logs nearby. At the same place on my return half an hour later, I saw a man in a gray suit leading a woman, clad in a blue dress. The woman seemed to be drugged or drunk. As I came to the log pile I saw the same man in the dark suit crouching and apparently watching the couple."

This statement, which State Police-man Freeman said was made to him late this afternoon by Saphanah I. Reese, an automobile dealer and proprietor of a machine shop at Plymouth, Pa., near here, has deepened the mystery surrounding the death of Alice Crispell, seventeen years old, daughter of a prosperous farmer, whose body was discovered Monday morning floating in Harvey's Lake, eighteen miles from here. Miss Crispell was last seen after eleven o'clock last Friday night in company with her sweetheart, Herbert Johns, whose arrest followed the finding of the body and an autopsy which led officials to believe she had been murdered.

Seemed Drugged or Drunk.
"Mr. Reese told me that the girl seemed to be drugged or drunk," Freeman said. "The man was leading her by the hand. Mr. Reese sped by them and there, crouching beside the logs, was the man in the dark suit, apparently watching the unsteady couple."

The automobile dealer sped by so quickly each time that he did not have an opportunity to scrutinize the man. Johns has admitted since his arrest that he wore a gray suit and a Panama hat. When the girl's body was recovered from the lake she was dressed in a new blue silk dress, which she had purchased especially to wear on her holiday with her sweetheart.

The couple were last seen alive on the night of the murder.

SUFFRAGETTE SKIRT HAS ARRIVED

"Alice, dear, I guess I can't help it. I can hardly wait until the fourth to see you again. Maybe we can meet sooner." Then followed a description of the kind of houses they would live in, the furniture and the expense. It was the letter which postponed the date of the proposed wedding, it is said.

THREE LONG RACES PLANNED.

Los Angeles, July 16.—Three races, two of which probably will be run simultaneously, will make up the program of the 1913 Santa Monica automobile road race meet August 2, according to an announcement today. The list of events follows:

No. 1.—For cars of 250 cubic inches or under piston displacement, 101,000 miles.
No. 2.—For cars between 250 and 450 cubic inches piston displacement, 202,000 miles.
No. 3.—Free for all, 303,012 miles.

It is planned to start events No. 2 and No. 3 at the same hour, provision having been made for those who enter both contests by permitting cars that finish in the shorter race to continue in the free-for-all. Half of the gross receipts will be used as prizes.

Fishermen Make Discovery.

It has always been stated by the harbor and Bay of Fundy fishermen that salmon would not go after bait but, to be captured, must be taken by nets. Messrs. Galbraith and Ewart, the fish dealers on Guilford street, West End, who know well the ways of the fishery, have always held to this argument until yesterday. They received a consignment of salmon caught in the bay by Lorneville fishermen, and when one large salmon was cut open they found it contained a herring which measured exactly twelve inches.

The salmon had swallowed the herring tail first, which shows that it was not swallowed by accident but that the salmon had captured the smaller fish while chasing it. It had always been said by fishermen that a salmon could not swallow only very small articles owing to a small throat, but the fish dealers' latest discovery will give both old and young fishermen something to talk about.

PHIL FRANCES

The "suffragette skirt" has arrived. Miss Frances, who arrived from abroad, landed with one on. It looked something like Turkish harem trousers. It has two pockets, one on each side, and is hooked up under the left hand pocket. There is a wide belt attached to the skirt, which is all of one piece. It is exactly opposite to the hobbie and the gill skirt because it gives plenty of room to move about in.

GENERAL RIVA SHOT.

General Riva, Chief of Police of Cuba, who figured prominently in Cuba's struggle for freedom, was assassinated by Colonel Albert, Governor of the district of Havana, while General Riva was arresting a man for violating the law. General Riva fell with a bullet in his head and another in his abdomen. Some fears are entertained in Havana that friends of General Riva will attempt to wreak vengeance on Governor Albert, for whose arrest a warrant was issued.

GONE TO ENGLAND TO PURCHASE AIRSHIP

Manager for Montague Chambers Will Procure Craft for Flight Across the Atlantic.

H. F. Hackman, manager for C. S. Montague Chambers, who is to attempt a flight across the Atlantic, was a passenger yesterday morning on the steamer Cordacan. Mr. Hackman is on his way to England where he hopes to arrange for the purchase of the machine in which the flight across the ocean will be made. A cablegram in reference to the machine is expected to be received by Chambers today.

Within a month's time it is expected that he will have this machine landed in the city. A flight from the city to Digby will probably be included in the first flight previous to the attempt at crossing the Atlantic.

LADY SACKVILLE IS TRIUMPHANT IN HER FIGHT FOR MILLIONS.

The jury spiritualized the will made by Sir John Murray Scott by which nearly $5,000,000 was left to Lady Sackville. The jury found an undue influence on the part of Lady Sackville. When Sir Samuel Thomson Evans, the presiding judge, took his seat the court was again crowded with representatives of aristocratic families. Lady Sackville, however, was not present. Sir Edward Carson at once began to address the jury on behalf of Lord and Lady Sackville. Frederick B. Smith, counsel for the plaintiff, said the jury had the choice of two views of the case. "One is Lady Sackville's own view, expressed by herself, that she would have liked Sir John just as much if he had not a penny, and the other view is that she followed up this chance acquaintance in order to exploit his wealth and to obtain as large a portion of it as possible for herself and her family."

HOSPITAL EXTENSION DOUBTFUL

County Council will Dis- cuss Matter at Meeting On Tuesday.

HOPE TO HAVE SANITARIUM PLANS

Addition to General Pub- lic Hospital will Require Permission to Borrow Money.

Whether the work on the construction of the proposed hospital for tuberculosis patients is started this summer will depend on whether the architect's plans are in shape for submission to the meeting of the County Council on Tuesday.

H. B. Schofield, chairman of the commissioners of the St. John County Hospital, said yesterday that there had been considerable delay in making up the plans, but every effort would be made to have them ready by Tuesday. The plans have to be approved by the County Council. It had been intended to call for competitive plans, but this was abandoned, as it was found that it would not have been possible to get to work on the hospital this year if the competitive idea was carried out.

If the Council approves the plans on Tuesday, tenders will be called for the building of the hospital on Morris street as soon as possible. Another hospital matter to come before the County Council meeting is the report of the special committee appointed to look into the question of acquiring land on White street between the hospital and Waterloo. The committee was instructed to see what the lands desired could be purchased for; if the price is not satisfactory the county has the power to take expropriation proceedings.

Whether the plans for the extension of the General Public Hospital are carried out this year seems doubtful. When the matter of building an addition was first brought up by the hospital commissioners, it was proposed that $200,000 would cover the cost, and an act was put through the Legislature empowering an issue of bonds to the amount of $30,000. As the question of the extension was gone into by the County Council, it was discussed which it is said would involve an expenditure of over $100,000. Before it can carry out the larger plans the county will have to get authority from the Legislature to borrow more money.

Competition Not Wanted. (London Advertiser.)

Canadian exhibits have been barred from the fall fairs of North Dakota. This is almost equivalent to giving Canadian exhibits the first prizes.

BULGARIANS ROUTED BY WILD CHARGE OF THE GREEK CAVALRY

Graphic Story of Battle of Doiran Told by Greek Of- ficer—Overwhelmed Soldiers Surrender, and on Knees Await Fatal Thrust—Others Throw Down Rifles and Make the Sign of the Cross.

New York, July 11.—A special Athens cable to the Herald says: "Cavalry Captain Manetas, who arrived here this morning, having been wounded at the battle of Doiran, gives a vivid account of the fighting which led to the occupation of the town by the Greeks and the repulse of the Bulgarian army."

"After the battle of Kilkis," said Captain Manetas, "the enemy retired along the valley, the rear guard supported by artillery in position on the neighboring hills and covering the retreat of the main body in the direction of Doiran."

"The Greek cavalry division was ordered to charge the Bulgarians, who offered a desperate resistance. Our officers, headed by Colonel Mihailis, galloped in front of their men, while awaiting the fatal thrust. The majority, however, fought like heroes until cut down. It was impossible not to admire their courage."

"The Bulgarian infantry opened fire at a range of 700 metres (753 yards). Men fell at every yard, but the gaps in our ranks were immediately filled from the reinforcements galloping in the rear."

"The Bulgarians were forced to abandon their lines and flee in disorder. The artillery on the hills also ceased firing and began to retire."

"The Bulgarian main army now was seen in the distance, and the Greek artillery opened fire, but night was falling rapidly and thus rendered further pursuit impossible."

"Meanwhile the Bulgarian rear guard in the valley had been decimated by our cavalry. Many of the soldiers threw down their rifles and surrendered, and others fell on their knees and made the sign of the cross, while awaiting the fatal thrust. The majority, however, fought like heroes until cut down. It was impossible not to admire their courage."

Harlan I. Smith, of the Geological Survey of Canada, who is travelling through the Maritime Provinces visiting the different museums, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and will visit the Natural History Museum here today. In connection with the convention a map showing the coal areas of the world will be published and it is expected to prove of much interest and value.

RITCHIE STILL CHAMPION.

On the back of the cup are the following verses:
"Here's to the Maple, entwined with the Heather,
Emblems of nations no factions can sever,
And here's to the curlers both countries can boast,
May their friendship ne'er fall, that's the Scots' Curlers' boast."

The bonspiel held last winter by the New Brunswick curlers was won by the Thistle Club, consequently this organization holds the cup for a year. Under the conditions of the gift the trophy must be won three years.

The gift is a magnificent one and will give an added interest to the game in this province.

Lecture on Japan.

A large congregation was present last evening in the Main street Baptist church, when the Rev. E. H. Jones, formerly of this city, but for the past few years located in Osaka, Japan, was heard in a very interesting and instructive address. To add interest to the lecture a hundred stereoscopic views were used as illustrations of different descriptive portions of the address. The lecturer gave interesting descriptions of the island empire and discussed at length the life and customs of the Japanese.

A Municipal Home Story.

There was a story in circulation yesterday to the effect that at the county council meeting on Tuesday a prominent citizen would make an offer of $100,000 for the Municipal Home. The gentleman whose name was connected with the story denied any intention of offering anything for the home.

"Willie" Ritchie is still lightweight champion of the world. In a bitterly fought contest he knocked out "Joe" Rivers, of Los Angeles, challenger, in the seventh round of a scheduled twenty round bout at San Francisco. A left uppercut and a right to the jaw gave Rivers his quietus. There was very little betting at the rigside and no change in the overnight odds, which favored Ritchie at 10 to 7.

YOUTHFUL, WRINKLELESS SKIN FASY TO HAVE

(Elberta Reid in Woman's Tribune)

You who desire to regain a youthful appearance will do well to make the acquaintance of the two simple, but valuable, prescription here given. To make an effective wrinkle-remover, mix an ounce of powdered axolotl with a half pint which base. Rub the face in the solution—immediately every wrinkle is affected. It acts wonderfully on sagging facial muscles, also, the lotion possessing remarkable astringent and tonic properties. To get rid of an aged, faded, freckled or discolored complexion, buy an ounce of common mercuric iodine, mix with soap and water. This will slowly absorb the undesirable surface skin, revealing the younger, brighter, healthier skin underneath. I know of nothing to equal this treatment as a facial rejuvenator.

For the INDUSTRIOUS NEEDLEWOMAN

By ADELAIDE BYRD

A BULGARIAN COLLAR

designed by Betty Lynne

Jacobean Embroidery

THE needleworkers of the present are favoring the methods used to produce the exquisite antique embroideries, so we have those who are striving to reproduce the old tapestries; others who are equally interested in Richelieu or mosaic embroideries; and the latest addition to the list of revivals in needlecraft is the Jacobean embroidery.

IN LINE with the emphasis which fashion has placed on Bulgarian styles in dress comes the same note in accessories, and here is a collar to be worked on heavy or sheer linen, scrim or net with bright colors. It is particularly good with a plain linen frock or with a white voile blouse. The bright tones are oriental in contrast and can be as varied as you wish. They can also be worked in one tone if you prefer to carry out a color scheme of a dress.

The blues, greens and reds—all in bright tones—are favored for this design. If you wish blue to predominate, make the red in the small crescents and shield at the corners and in the small ovals at the back. Blue in one or two shades can then be used for the rest of the design. A touch of gold or yellow can be given by outlining both the blue and red forms or by sprinkling French knots over the surface.

The whole design is effective in solid colors, but an outlining with black and a filling in with colors is a clever idea which has been used by many embroiderers with much satisfaction. Be sure to get a black thread that will wash and then, to make assurance doubly sure, try it in soap and water.

Some effective collars have a relief of fllet or lace placed as a backing for the design. In the motifs at the sides, between fronts and back, this can be done easily, for there is a continuous double outline around a crescent shape. This inner crescent can be fllet and the double line can be worked solid in wallachian stitch or regular over-and-over stitch, the center being cut away afterward. The shield and oval in the center of the back can also be filled in with lace if you like this relief. A contrast of bright colors is the effect that most decidedly carries out the Bulgarian idea. Gray with bright blue and red is good; pinks and blues, yellows in different shades with brown and gray, or pale green with vivid greens and blues make stunning combinations.

For the Guestroom

THE housewife who is interested in her home and desires to have it homelike makes many articles to contribute beauty and comfort to her guestroom.

THE SUMMER PILLOW

The Outline Stitch Used

THE ambitious needlewoman always desires to have an artistic collection of washable covers for her pillows during the summer. The art needlework shops are displaying many new and attractive designs. The background used is either white or cream linen of a medium coarse weave, and most of the embroidery is done with colors of the palest tints.

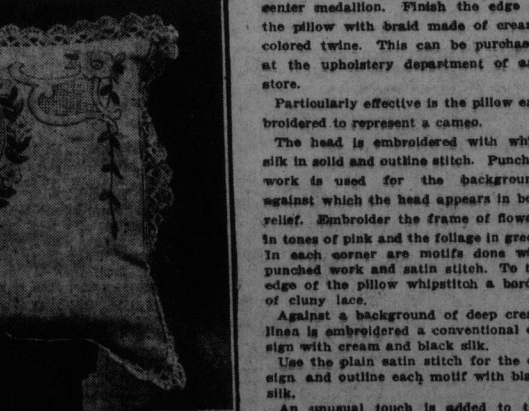

Punched Work and Satin Stitch

One of the loveliest pillows displayed can easily be duplicated if you are familiar with punched work and the so-called satin stitch. The clusters and wreaths of tiny blossoms are done with tones of rose silk, shading from the palest pink to the deepest rose.

Trimmed with Fringe

Punched work is used to form an effective background for the wreaths and clusters of flowers and the serrated frames are done in the long-and-short stitch with white silk thread.

Embroidered in Colors

With a deep shade of soft blue, surrounding this are conventionally shaded flowers, and these should be embroidered with an outline stitch in tones of delit blue. Work the centers solid with a dark tone of blue. Framing the entire design is a row of dots, and these should be embroidered to match the center medallion. Finish the edge of the pillow with braid made of cream-colored twine. This can be purchased at the upholstery department of any store.

Particularly effective is the pillow embroidered to represent a cameo. The head is embroidered with white silk in solid and outline stitch. Punched work is used for the background, against which the head appears in bold relief. Embroider the frames of flowers in tones of pink and the foliage in green. In each corner are motifs done with punched work and satin stitch. To the edge of the pillow whipstitch a border of slaty lace.

Against a background of deep cream linen is embroidered a conventional design with cream and black silk. Use the plain satin stitch for the design and outline each motif with black silk. An unusual touch is added to this cushion by stitching a strip of linen

Embroidery

There is nothing more interesting to the needleworker than to thoroughly study the needlecraft of the past. Gain a knowledge of the styles prevailing at different periods and master, as far as possible, the methods adopted by the embroiderers of other days. This does not mean that you need to cramp any...

originality you happen to possess. A fuller knowledge of ancient needlework tends to widen your variety of expression and gives a greater scope to your originality. The name Jacobean is applied to the wool embroidery done in the Tudor and Stuart days and also to the crewel work of the eighteenth century. These characteristics distinguish it from a plain background, the embroidery being done in blue, green, red and black predominating, while yellow, purple and gold are used in the crewel work. Many brilliant colors are combined, the blue, green, red and black predominating, while yellow, purple and gold are used in the crewel work. How to Transfer Here are suggestions for transferring the pattern before you start to work. Perhaps the easiest way is the "window-pane" method. This is successful when the material is thin fabric, batiste, etc. Pin the sheet of paper on the material, together and hold them up against the light of a window. With a sharp pencil draw on the material the design, which can be easily seen through the paper. If one-half of the design only is given, unpin the paper and turn the other side to the fabric. The strong light behind will make it plain.

God's Workmanship Shown in Mankind

Forceful Sermon by Rev. H. Bell, of Summer Ave. Church, Brooklyn.

MAN THE OBJECT OF GOD'S CONCERN

Ample Assurance of God's Abiding Love for the Creatures of His Own Creation—Objects of Divine Interest and Endeavor.

In the Summer Avenue M. E. Church yesterday morning the pastor, the Rev. Dr. John Henry Bell, preached a sermon on the theme, "God's Workmanship."

There is a sense in which these words simply express one detail of a vast generalization. What has God not made? What is there that does not bear the mark of His workmanship? "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth His handiwork." Elsewhere he says, "The sea is His, and He made it; and His hands formed the dry land."

There are two things which inferences to be drawn from this word to which I wish further to direct your attention. It is to be seen that we ourselves are the objects of God's chief concern. Not our service but ourselves. For that we may enrich Him but for that He may enrich us. We are of account to God. All of us, any of us, the least of us if there is any least.

What a piece of work is man! How noble in reason! How infinite in faculties! In form and moving, how express and admirable! In action, how like an angel! In apprehension, how like a god! And when it is asked who wrought this wonderful piece of work, there is no adequate or satisfactory answer to give but reverently to point upward to God. Carlyle, speaking of Frederick the Great, remarks how fittingly inconceivable was to him as to all of us that man's faculties could have been put into him by an entity that had no organs.

But the true sense of these words is to be understood not in relation to our natural endowment, but to our spiritual possibilities. It is not the natural man but the spiritual man, it is not the old creation but the new creation by which we are "created in Christ Jesus after good works which God hath before-ordained that we should walk in them."

Now it is easy to see how we may have been God's workmanship when He first created us. But it is not so easy to see how in any sense we may be His workmanship now that we are living and working, shaping and determining things for ourselves. But the matter may be illustrated in many simple ways. The children of our homes, parents, are largely our workmanship. Their manners, their temper, their words, their conduct, their character—have we had no share in shaping and molding all these? Ah! these children of ours are not so independent of us as they seem to be. With all their power to speak and think and act for themselves it is chiefly by what we say and do that we influence them.

Take the vast body of students that are coming out of our schools and colleges. Later on, that generation on commencement day. That oration is to a very considerable degree the work of the teacher of English, and the teacher of diction, and the teacher of history, and in fact, all other teachers besides. They speak through the student. The work which he does is not more his than theirs, in a very real sense he is their workmanship. Why do young people, who think they have discovered some artistic talent in themselves, try to put themselves under the training of some great artist? It is that the power of the master-artist may be reproduced in themselves, that they may sing as with his voice, or touch the canvass as with the touch of his hand. So is it our high privilege to put ourselves in the hands of Him who alone can perfect in us the purpose of His grace. We bear a good deal in these days about divine interest and endeavor.

Baptist Notes

The Baptist churches of Canada raised last year for all purposes $1,282,905.00. Sunday, July 13 is Judaea Day, just one hundred years since Adoniram Judson arrived in Burma. Great strides have been made in mission work since then.

The American Baptist Publication Society has just closed a successful year. Total sales amounted to $749,700. The profits from this organization are used for missionary purposes.

Dr. Len G. Broughton, in his appeal for the use of the tract says, many years ago a brilliant young American actor received a tract from a lady, as he was making his way to the theatre in one of the western States. Putting it into his pocket he read it next day. It led him to abandon the stage and become a Baptist minister. It was Dr. Lorimer, now one of our mighty dead.

When Gaston Avenue Church, of Dallas, Texas, first called Dr. Porter, a salary of $5000 was offered. In answer to the second call, he accepted on condition that the salary be $4,000, instead of $5,000.

In a recent note from Bolivia, it has been learned that the Anti-Slavery League, in April, Rev. Mr. Reekie, our missionary at Cochabamba, baptised a very promising young man who has been attending the services for about a year.

Rev. I. D. Little, a recent graduate of Colgate Seminary has been supplying the pulpit of the Anti-Slavery League, our New York Baptist paper, The Examiner gives us the following encouraging note on temperance work:

A very impressive exhibit of the liquor forces is that contained in a map issued by the Anti-Slavery League, showing the wet and dry territory of the United States. Investigations following the municipal elections of last year show that of the 2,978,830 square miles of territory in the United States the saloons are now forbidden in 2,132,746 square miles.

It is to be seen that we ourselves are the objects of God's chief concern. Not our service but ourselves. For that we may enrich Him but for that He may enrich us. We are of account to God. All of us, any of us, the least of us if there is any least.

What a piece of work is man! How noble in reason! How infinite in faculties! In form and moving, how express and admirable! In action, how like an angel! In apprehension, how like a god! BUTTONS THAT YOU CAN MAKE

Call for Variety on This Season's Garments

The use of buttons has been continued on the season's dresses, and as a decorative feature of importance it should be recognized by all women who are clever enough to emphasize little things. Buttons in the wonderful variety of forms are attractive, but they need not be bought if you are skillful enough with your eyes and your needle.

Molds are purchasable in all sizes and shapes. If it is to have a collection of them always at hand, for frequently one or two are necessary to finish a dress, a wash or a hand, says the Philadelphia North American.

When covering a button mold, cut a disk of material of the diameter of the mold. Gather the edges, draw up, clip the mold into the little bag and sew on the wrong side over and over. Do not have the material so large that a lump is formed in the center of the under side, as this prevents a flat adjustment on the dress.

Many little ways of decorating these hand covered buttons are yours if you will heed the notes on effective gowns.

One type of ruff-covered form has a double row of stitches around the edge, made of coarse silk in two colors. This gives a beautiful effect.

French knots, made before the mold is covered, are easily applied, and in either one color or a combination of shades make quick decoration.

The spider web is a covering which is made as you have no doubt frequently worked in the renaissance work so much in vogue years ago.

On the covered mold make crossed lines that resemble spokes of a wheel, catch the lines of thread together and weave the remaining thread under and over the spokes, going around the center until you have formed a solid woven disk as large as you wish.

Net or lace covering satin molds of a contrasting color make a lovely background for quick embroidery. One exquisite mold of flowered voile has a USEFUL RECIPES.

Angel's Delight.

This is an imitation of brick ice-cream, and for the hostess who desires something delicious and inexpensive in the way of desserts this recipe is highly recommended: Moisten four tablespoonfuls of gelatin with a little water. When dissolved add two cupfuls of boiling water and six table-spoonfuls of sugar. Let the mixture come to a boil, then beat in the whites of six eggs, beaten to a froth. Beat until partially cool and stiff; divide into three sections. Flavor section one with vanilla and spread in a layer mold, sprinkling the top with fruit or vegetable coloring, flavor with strawberry or lemon and spread over section one, sprinkling with nuts. Flavor section three with vanilla and spread over section two. Set on ice till firm and serve with whipped cream. This recipe will serve eight, and will make a delicious dessert for Sunday dinner.

A Short "Common" Dish.

Put any cold meat you may have through a mincer and add pepper, salt, and (if desired) a little powdered poultry dressing; to this add enough boiling water to make a stiff paste. Some rice nicely boiled in slightly salted water; put the meat in a deep dish (keeping back as much as possible of the gravy), cover the top with the rice, and pour the gravy over it.

This is a delicious and economical dish which I have used many times. I suggest "short commons" in that line, if warmed over alone. The high price of meat, and the difficulty of obtaining really good meat, especially in the country, should be an incentive to the thrifty housewife to try combinations.

Fairy Cakes.

One-quarter cupful of butter, one-half cupful of sugar, one-quarter cupful of milk, seven-eighths cupful of bread flour, one-half teaspoonful vanilla. Cream butter and sugar. Add the milk, drop by drop. Then stir in the flour and add vanilla. Spread the batter thinly on the bottom side of a dripping-pan or square shallow cake-pan, being careful to have the tin well greased. Bake in slow oven to a delicate brown. While still hot roll into cornucopias. When cool they will become too hard to roll easily. Place them in the oven a moment and they will become soft and pliable. Fill with jelly or whipped cream and the wish ready. These are always successful when carefully cooked.

Strawberry Shortcake.

One cupful sugar with one-half cupful of butter, three eggs, six ounces flour, one-half teaspoonful pure baking powder, three ounces candied cherries, and the rind of one lemon. Sift flour and baking powder together and add the grated lemon-rind. Chop the cherries fine, cream the butter and sugar, then mix and add the eggs one at a time, beating thoroughly. Add the mixed flour and cherries and stir all together lightly. Have ready panty-pans well greased and half fill with the mixture. Bake in a moderate oven from fifteen to twenty minutes.

Nut Loaf Cake.

Put in a bowl and stir together three-fourths cupful of butter, and one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, one cupful of milk, one and one-half cupfuls of chopped pecan nuts, four eggs, the rind of one-lemon, grated, two and one-half cupfuls of flour, and two good teaspoonfuls of baking powder. For the frosting grate the rind of one orange, then squeeze all the juice, then add about one-half pound of pulverized sugar, so you can spread smoothly on cake. Decorate top and sides of cake with whole pieces of nuts. English walnuts make a very good showing.

PAPER PARASOLS FOR THE SUMMER

The summer girl who has an eye for the picturesque will get herself one of the "really, truly" Japanese parasols, for they are the most effective-looking things imaginable. Under one of these a pretty face looks its best, and even a plain-face acquires charm. These parasols are very durable, although made of paper. They are dark in color except for a semi-transparent ring about two inches wide, which is seen near the top of the parasol. The light shining through this ring gives almost the effect of a halo about the head—so, girls, here's a chance to pose as the angel "be" they say you are. These Japanese parasols have another advantage—they are waterproof, so you may look picturesque under them, whether in sun or shower.

Have you seen the lawn parasols of this Japanese water-proof paper?

BOUDOIR HINTS.

Soap Jelly.

Pare one cake of castile soap into two cups of water to which has been added one teaspoonful of powdered borax. Boil until mixture jellies. Put in covered glass jar and use as wanted.

To Make Shoulders Plump.

Cocoa butter rubbed into the hollows of your neck and shoulders will help to make them plump. Coconut oil is also good. Massage with the warm cocoa butter or coconut oil each night when retiring. Keep up the practice of deep breathing. This will also help to round out the throat and fill in the hollows of the neck.

For Chapped Hands.

When the hands are sore and chapped do not use soap and water on them, for this is trying and will make them worse. Cleanse the hands with olive oil or a good cold cream. This will supply oil to the hands and will make them soft. At night when retiring cover the hands with almond oil, and then put on an old pair of socks or put the hands in bed. This will soften the hands and the oil is healing. For brittle fingernails, hold them in olive oil or almond oil for a few minutes each day. This will supply the oil that is lacking and will make them soft.

To Banish Blackheads.

Blackheads are a great trial, but daily treatment will finally banish them. Never forget to wash your face at night before retiring with hot, soapy water and a rough cloth. After this, rub in a little boracic powder, and if this smart the skin massage in cold cream. Every other night scrub blackheads with a soft, soapy nail brush, after bathing the face and before the boracic powder is rubbed in. Scrub very lightly, else the skin will be irritated. Once a week, after the face has been washed with steam over a basin of boiling water and spread over a handful of soap jelly. After ten minutes wash this off and massage for several minutes. (Or, this might omit the boracic powder.)

LOVERS ARE LUNATICS.

Into what morass of undistributed innocuous expression of opinion. But what shall we say of this utterance of another delegate?

It is awkward to accuse a healthy young woman of insanity when she is sitting in the moonlight beside a man of mediocre mentality whom she believes to a tin god. But nevertheless it is a species of lunacy which prompts this young woman's heart to flutter and her eyes to shine. Likewise the young man is a victim of the same hallucination.

And then this:

Love is only secondary in matters of matrimony. Two healthy, similarly proportioned persons with similar tastes should get married whether they are in love or not.

All this is merely another attempt on the part of soured spinsters and woman-haters to justify their own useless and miserable calling by mixing up terms and calling themselves wise. Of course men and women are mad when they fall in love. No normal person, those who have passed through the sickness as well as those who are trying to catch it, has ever denied it. What is more, we are mad on purpose. When we are sitting beside him or her in the moonlight we want to be a lunatic—we will be a lunatic and nobody shall stop us.

The world would wag wearily without a lunatic or two, of the sort whereof we speak.

WHIPPING CREAM RULES.

The factors necessary to get cream to whip well are to have it thick, cold and a little sour.

This cream, that is cream containing less than 35 per cent of butter fat, is nearly impossible to whip when the temperature is above 50 degrees F. Sign-milk can be whipped to a froth when the temperature is near the freezing point. This can be noticed when freezing ice cream or lacto, and shows the cohesive influence of the albumen and casein upon the viscous

This cream will whip easily near the freezing point on account of the increased viscosity which aids in incorporating the air.

If cream is allowed to sour, it will thicken somewhat owing to the curdling of the casein. This collects the fat globules together and together forming this cream for a day or two will allow it to whip much more readily.

Thick cream or cream containing from 35 per cent—40 per cent of butter fat will whip quite readily at 50 degrees F, even when rather sweet, yet better results are obtained after it has soured a little.

Separate cream often gives trouble in whipping on account of being used too soon after skimming—too sweet. It will whip as readily as any other cream when it contains over 35 per cent of butter fat and is cold. The tendency is to get separator cream rather thin—usually about 20 per cent, hence the difficulty in whipping. Sa-

AGRICULTURE EGG DEALERS PLAN RADICAL CHANGE

Would Abolish "Case Count" and Buy on Basis of Quality.

That the system known as the "case count" which has prevailed in the egg trade for a number of years provides no discrimination whatever, and that under it the producer, with no reflection on the hen, is not encouraged to market an article of high quality, was the decision come to recently in the rooms of the Board of Trade, at a largely attended meeting of the egg dealers of the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec. The remedy for this state of affairs was suggested as taking the form of an Egg Marks Act, similar to the act governing fruit. The formation of a new produce association was also proposed.

Determining means whereby consumers and merchants could be protected against the marketing of stale and rotten eggs was the primary object of the meeting. Under the present system when bad eggs are found in the cases, there is no recourse for the dealer to take, and the opinion of the meeting was that the "case count"—where a flat rate is quoted, stale and bad eggs commanding just as high a price as those of the highest grade—is equivalent to placing a premium on careless and dilatory methods in the production and care of this product. Moreover, it was pointed out that the country storekeeper received no encouragement to market an article of high quality. The opinion was unanimous that legislation should be secured to prevent the sale of such products, and full approval was given to the proposal to adopt a new system whereby due discrimination should be made between good and bad eggs. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:— Resolved, "That it is the consensus of opinion of those assembled in this meeting that the greatest need of the Canadian Egg Trade at the present time is the passage by the Federal Parliament of an Egg Marks Act; such act to make unlawful the buying, selling or trading in rotten eggs, and to include such other regulations as may be thought desirable to promote the best interests of all concerned. Resolved, "That the egg dealers assembled here unanimously approve of the proposal to change on June 1, 1913, from the present system of buying eggs to a system of buying only on the basis of quality, and further, we disapprove of paying for any rotten eggs in our receipts after that date. Resolved, "That the chairman appoint a committee to draft a constitution and to take steps in connection with the trade in other provinces to form an association to be known as "The Canadian Produce Association," with a view to bringing together the city and county wholesale produce dealers, and further, that a meeting be called in Toronto at an early date to give effect to this resolution.

WAYS OF KEEPING A HOUSE COOL.

Aids to Comfort During Summer Days.

Keeping the house cool in summer is not always an easy problem to solve. People who have large houses and money enough to equip them with electric fans and other appliances can, of course, keep very comfortable, but it is more difficult to manage it in small houses. Windows must be shaded with blinds, shutters, or awnings, and be well screened. All the heavy hangings should be removed and where possible the carpets should be taken up and cool colors, such as white, gray, light greens and blues, should take the place of the warmer colors. These white muslin curtains screen the light, though many people object to even that much drapery, says the New York Tribune.

The coolest hours of summer are the night hours. Therefore the night air should be allowed to circulate freely through every part of the house. The best circulation is obtained by having windows open at the top and bottom instead of entirely at the bottom. This lets out the hot air and lets in the cool. When this method is followed put the screen in the lower sash of one window of each room and in the upper sash of another.

As it is important that sunlight, too, should enter the house at some time of the day, open all the blinds and windows in the early morning for a little while. Then darken the house for the rest of the day. It is especially important that the attic and cellar should have proper ventilation. In the former a skylight or window should be kept open night and day; except, of course, when it rains. The cellar windows should be open only at night when it is comparatively cool. Open them at sundown and close them at 6 o'clock in the morning. Never attempt to take steps in the cellar causes a great deal of trouble during the hot weather. If the windows are not closed, the heat of the day the warm, moisture-laden air cures the cellar and condenses on walls, pipes, metals, etc. The colder the surface the more moisture is condensed. Several devices may be used to cool the air. A modified form of the tattis, employed in India for this purpose, could be used in any house. Make frames the same as for window screens and tack on enough narrow tapes to form a support for a thick bed of grass. Now cover with long grass fastened to the frame by sewing with twine. These frames should be placed in the windows and kept wet. The air passing through them is cooled. A garden syringe may be used to spray them with water. As these screens are not especially ornamental they should be placed in windows that are not exposed to view. Three or four of these screens will do a great deal toward keeping the air in the house cool and fresh.

"MUTTON AND ITS VALUE IN THE DIET"

This subject is discussed in Farmers' Bulletin 126, which may be obtained of the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for five cents. The authors, Dr. C. F. Langworthy and Miss Caroline Hunt, refer to the freedom of the sheep from disease and render most undesirable, and to the more economical use which can be made of the mutton carcasses than of the beef carcasses in the ordinary household with its limited refrigerating facilities. The general belief that all kinds of mutton fat are unsuitable for culinary purposes is combated and methods of eliminating the objectionable features of this fat—its flavor and its hardness—are suggested. A large number of carefully edited recipes for mutton dishes are given.

WE quote the paragraph on Judging Mutton and Care of Mutton in the Home. JUDGING MUTTON.—There are a number of points which should be borne in mind when purchasing mutton for the table. The lean portion of the meat should be firm, finely grained, and of a deep red color. The fat should be well distributed. The leg should be nearly covered with a layer of fat and there should also be a thick layer over the back. This side layer is often in the trade referred to as the "covering." The fat itself should be white, hard, brittle, and flaky. The "mottling" of the flesh with fat, which is so important a sign of good quality in beef, is considered of less importance in connection with mutton. For superior quality, lean and fat should be well distributed. I. e., the lean portion should contain a fair percentage of fat, and the fat should be distributed wholly or in part by a reasonable layer of fat. The right distribution of fat is important, since it affects both flavor and quality. If the meat is too lean, it is not so palatable when cooked; if too fat, it is not economical, since the excessive quantity would remain uneaten, and when purchased in the form of an expensive roast, it is likely to become scorched and to affect the flavor of the meat itself.

CARE OF MUTTON IN THE HOME.—Because of the facility with which mutton absorbs odors and flavors, special care should be taken of it in the home. When it comes into the house it should be wiped thoroughly with a damp cloth, and all portions that have the slightest unpleasant odor about them should be cut off. Such portions are most likely to be found where the layer of meat is thin, as for example, on the lower end of the leg, in the flank and on the ribs. When a large piece of mutton is bought these facts should be kept in mind in determining which part should be used first. It is well to attempt to remove the flank end of the loin and part of the rib bones first, and use them for soups or stews. The removal of the membrane and the red skin from the surface of the meat before it is cooked is also desirable. In roasting mutton, many housekeepers believe that it is well to keep the meat well up from the pan by means of a rack, for if this is not done the fat of the meat is likely to become scorched and to affect the flavor of the meat itself.

THE BELGIAN HORSE

Belgium as a horse-breeding country has a reputation extending to remote times. Remains of the horse have been found showing the association of man with this animal in that country back in the early ages. It has even been assumed that perhaps a greater part of the Roman cavalry consisted of Belgian horses, and, as was the case with many other countries when more modern contrivances of war were invented, the use of the horse was largely directed to agricultural pursuits.

Modern horse-breeding in that country is comparatively recent, and wonderful strides have been made in recent years. The Government has done much in the promotion of the industry by way of subsidies and inspection. A breed of a rather rough conformation, lacking in smoothness and levelness particularly on top line, has been improved and selected until these deficiencies although still quite evident have been overcome to a great extent, resulting in the largest, most massive breed of draft horses we have.

to improve and strengthen the offspring considerably. Belgian geldings and cross-bred Belgians in the United States today on the city markets appear to be of good value, possessing the thick blocky type so desired for city street work. This breed is not characterized by any particular color, we not infrequently find solid colored individuals of browns, bay browns and some combination of colors resulting in roans. The distribution of the Belgian draft horse is comparatively widespread, particularly in European Countries. United States have buyers in the Belgian market, and in 1903 some three hundred were shipped to that country. Canada as yet has done very little importing of this class of draft.

PROFITABLE VS. UNPROFITABLE COWS

The Farmer's Review says Prof. Farrington of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture made some startling statements at the late meeting of the Illinois Dairyman's Association. The statements were as follows:— "A cow which produces 10,000 pounds of milk a year can produce it for 20 cents a hundred pounds, while the cow which produces only 3,000 pounds of milk cannot produce it for less than $1.70 a hundred pounds." Also: "The cow which produces 4,000 pounds of milk a year just breaks even with her owner and does not yield him a profit. The cow which produces 6,000 pounds of milk a year pays her owner a profit of $20.25. The cow which produces her owner 8,000 pounds of milk in one year clears him $50 above expenses."
