DOUBLE OUTPUT OF WAR MUNITIONS IN FEW WEEKS LLOYD GEORGE SAYS

TWENTY-SIX NATIONAL FACTORIES WILL BE TURNING OUT SHELLS BEFORE ANOTHER MONTH.

Ten New Plants Under Way—Thousands of Men and Women Added to Ranks of Munitions Workers and Supply Sufficient to Enable British to "Cleave Way to Victory" Will Soon Be Available, is Encouraging Report of Minister of Munitions.

London, July 28.—Sixteen national munitions factories have been established in England, and after consultation with the French ministry, the British government has decided to set up an additional ten large establishments.

This announcement was made in the House of Commons this evening by the minister of Munitions, David Lloyd George, who told of the progress made by his department in overcoming the shortage in shells that had prevented the army on the continent from doing all it might otherwise have done.

These new factories are being erected in the vicinity of the arsenals and the existing armament establishments, and, according to Mr. Lloyd George, when the government has completed, in a few weeks, the developments it is now engaged in, the supply of shells will be doubled.

"This," said the minister, "will not merely enable us to support our men, but will enable them to cleave their way through to victory."

Mr. Lloyd George explained that until the new factories are built to the ranks of the workers connected with armaments, and they were pouring in further supplies.

His department had also enrolled one hundred thousand volunteers, but it had been found difficult to remove the majority of these from their present employment. However, scores of thousands of skilled men who had enlisted had been traced, and arrangements were made with the War Office for the return of these men to the factories.

While the trade union leaders had been asked to increase the supply of machine guns and hand-grenades for trench warfare, the country had been divided into two great co-operative areas, so that all available machinery could be used for turning out supplies.

The national factories erected and those to be erected would be under government control, and he believed that this would have an influence on the men, who would not object to a temporary relaxation of their trade union rules when the government and not an individual was profiting.

The government had taken over the control of the machine tool factories, so that no delay would arise in equipping the new establishments.

This would tax the engineering resources of the country, but, when all was completed, within a few months, the government would be able to equip the armies in a way which would leave them in no way inferior to the best equipped armies on the continent.

RUSSIANS DROP DEFENSIVE FIGHTING AT TWO POINTS AND DELIVER TELLING BLOWS

Attack Enemy North of Maidane and South of Sokal — Teutons Finding Russians Impassible Barrier Along Remainder of Front.

Petrograd, July 28, via London, July 28.—The following official communication was issued today: "On the Narew front there has been a violent artillery fire on the left bank of the river up to the River Pruth. Stubborn fighting took place but did not result in any change. On the line of the front of the right bank of the Narew we repulsed six attacks near the village of Budy (south-west of Pultusk). "North of Maidane we assumed the offensive and captured 1,500 prisoners. "South of Sokal we have assumed the offensive against the enemy, who is crossing the river near Porietzk."

London, July 28. (10.10 p. m.)—Although the Germans are using very strong reinforcements of men and guns they have not yet succeeded in breaking the Russian resistance, either around Warsaw or in Kovno and Courland provinces, in each of which sectors heavy fighting has been in progress for nearly a fortnight.

Except for the capture of the village of Goworow, on the Narew front, and a number of prisoners and machine guns at that point and between Mitau and the Niemen, the German official report issued today does not claim any advance.

In fact, General Von Buelow, in the north, and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, who crossed the Narew at some points, are being held up by the Russian counter-attacks, which, although probably costly to the Russians, show that there is still plenty of fight left in them.

In the southeast, Field Marshal Von Mackensen's attack on the Lublin-Cholm railway seems for the moment to have come to a standstill, although he, too, is receiving reinforcements and assistance from the Austrians who succeeded in crossing the Bug at Sokal.

To the west of Warsaw the Germans announce the capture of the village of Piorunow, which is about fifteen miles west of the first line of the city, so that not much progress has been made on this front.

Outlook Much Brighter. There is a good deal in the Russian and German official report which cannot be reconciled, but, on the whole, the British critics are more hopeful than for some days that the Russians will succeed in withstanding this effort to capture Warsaw, as they did

FREEDOM OF THE CITY OF LONDON WILL BE CONFERRED ON PREMIER BORDEN TODAY

London, July 28.—(Gazette Cable.)—All the members of the cabinet have promised to be present at the Guild Hall tomorrow, when Sir Robert Borden receives the freedom of the City of London. It is expected that the occasion will give rise to another public celebration of the great part taken by Canada in the war. Sir Robert will be introduced by the Master of the Leather Seller Company, of which he is a member.

The last Canadian presentation of the freedom of the city was when Earl Grey received it on relinquishing to the Duke of Connaught the governor-generalship of the Dominion. Sir Wilfrid Laurier received the same honor eight years ago, during the Colonial conference, but the presence of Hon. Louis Botha in the capital of the Empire, for the first time following the Boer war, somewhat discounted Canada's prominence on that occasion.

Following up the recent invitation to attend the cabinet meeting, Sir Robert today was present at the meeting of the Privy Council.

Taking a different line from the other papers, the Statist minimizes the importance of the Canadian Premier's attendance at the cabinet meeting. The Statist argues that when the war is over the people of Britain will be too much occupied in picking up trade and reducing the huge war debt to give any attention to the re-organization of the Empire. To this the Globe retorts: "If this is so, we shall deserve not only to lose the Empire in the near future, but to go down in the present war."

in the war zone up to the 25th of July, 233 English vessels, thirty other hostile ships and six neutral craft. The latter, the message says, were sent to the bottom by mistake. Twenty-seven additional neutral vessels, the despatch adds, were examined and sunk because they carried contraband.

OPPOSITION IN NEW ZEALAND VOTES DOWN COALITION

Wellington, N. Z., July 29, via London.—The opposition today rejected the government's proposal for the formation of a coalition government in New Zealand.

WELL KNOWN MONTREAL NEWSPAPERMAN ENLISTS

Montreal, July 28.—Charles Cavers, a well known Canadian newspaperman, for some years on the staff of the Toronto World and later editor of the defunct Sunday edition of the Montreal Herald, and still later editor of the Montreal Standard, was sworn in today as a recruit of the 60th Regiment of this city, now being formed for overseas service.

WILL ASK BERLIN RIGHT TO BLOCKADE A NEUTRAL PORT TO PAY DAMAGES

Washington Will Demand Indemnity for Sinking of American Steamer Leelanaw—Note Under Preparation.

Washington, July 28.—With the receipt late today of a practically complete report of the torpedoing of the American steamer Leelanaw by a German submarine, State Department officials began the preparation of a note to Germany, requesting the payment of damages on the ground that the Prussian-American treaty of 1825 had been violated.

A report from American Consul Dennison at Dundee, Scotland, brought to light the fact that the captain of the Leelanaw attempted to escape but submitted to visit and search after warning shots were fired. The right to escape, officials declared, is conceded by international law, only repeated attempts to evade capture or forcible resistance being regarded as affecting the case.

Unofficial reports that the German submarine commander was unwilling to jettison the cargo of the Leelanaw and to allow her to proceed, as the treaty of 1825 provides, cleared up doubts here on this point. The material necessary for the presentation of a claim similar to that made in the case of the William P. Frye was, therefore, practically ready for consideration tonight.

The retention by the German submarine commander of the ship's papers brings up a point that has never been definitely settled, but in the present war there have been many such cases, as when the William P. Frye was sunk by the Prinz Eitel Friedrich. This point probably will not be disputed. American naval commanders in the past have been instructed to keep the papers of any prizes destroyed for later consideration by prize courts.

CHRISTIANS MASSACRED IN GREAT NUMBERS

British Foreign Office Learns of Wholesale Killing in Armenia Under Guise of Enforced Evacuation.

London, July 28.—The Earl of Crewe, Lord President of the Council, replying to the House of Lords today to a question by Viscount Bryce concerning the killing of Christians in Armenia by the Turks, said that information received at the Foreign Office showed that such crimes lately had increased, both in number and in degree of atrocity. They included, he declared, both wholesale massacres and wholesale deportations, which were carried out under the guise of enforced evacuation. Similar crimes, he added, had been committed by the Turks against Christians on the Persian border.

The presence of Germans and the influence they exercised had been, the Earl of Crewe continued, "an absolute and unmitigated curse, both to the Christian and Moslem population. They have shown a most complete cynical disregard for the country and the people who inhabit it."

The Lord President of the Council said he regretted that it was impossible to take immediate steps for the suppression of such atrocities, but that those responsible for them ultimately would receive just punishment.

Gunboat Trims Corbett's Protege. New York, July 28.—Gunboat Smith, of San Francisco, defeated Tom Cowler, of Vancouver, B. C., James J. Corbett's protege, in a ten round bout here tonight. Cowler put up a good fight, having the better of the first three rounds. Smith's experience and ring generalship won for him. Smith weighed 182; Cowler, 205 pounds.

ANOTHER NEUTRAL SHIP TORPEDOED

Swedish Bark Victim of German Pirates — British Steamer Sunk Near Lowestoft.

London, July 28, 6.10 p. m.—The crew of the Swedish bark Saganaden, which was set on fire by a German submarine in the North Sea, arrived at Grimsby today.

The crew of the Lowestoft smack Westward Ho, sunk by a German submarine, also was landed today.

British Steamer Sunk. London, July 28, 8.50 p. m.—The British steamer Mangara, of Glasgow, bound from Balboa for Hartlepool, has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine near Lowestoft. Eight members of her crew were saved.

The Mangara was a vessel of 1,827 tons, and belonged to the Mangara Steamship Company of Glasgow.

DEATH TOLL IN TYPHOON IN CHINA ENORMOUS

Scores of Native Boats Wrecked—Property Damage Along Coast Will be Great.

Shanghai, China, July 28.—The force of the great typhoon which sprang up along the Chinese coast Monday night appears to have been centered in Hang Chow Bay, to the south of Shanghai. Communication between Shanghai and Hang Chow has been severed. The toll of lives, it is believed, will be heavy, and considerable damage is known to have been done to native craft.

Fifty large junks were sunk during the storm in the Woesung river, ten miles north of Shanghai, impeding navigation.

Peterboro, Ont., July 28.—Y. H. Burnham, M. P., was today chosen candidate for the House of Commons at the West Peterboro Conservative convention.

ITALIANS CONTROL LOWER ISONZO

Hold All Dominating Positions and in Face of Stubborn Opposition are Steadily Pushing Enemy Back—Monks Acquitted on Charge of Signalling Austrian Warships.

Rome, July 28.—A Daily Mail despatch from Chiasso says: "The Italians now are masters of the lower Isonzo and they hold all the dominating points on the Western Carso from which the Austrians could disturb the passage of the river."

"After the occupation of Mount San Michele, on the northern ridge of the Carso Plateau, they now have conquered Mount Sei Busia, four hundred feet high, on the southern ridge."

Rome, July 28.—The following official statement was issued last night at the headquarters of the Italian general staff:

"In the Alente Valley we now are in full possession of the heights on the right slope, having occupied Monte Lavanesch and the Pisona crest. From points dominating the opposite slope, the enemy's artillery attempted to hinder our operations, but without success. After a long preparation by artillery of medium calibre, the enemy attacked, during the night of the 26th. Although supported by numerous machine guns, these troops were repulsed."

"In the Monte Nero region, the struggle continues unabated, notwithstanding a fog, which prevents the artillery from assisting in the operations."

"At Piava, the second operation undertaken to enlarge the bridgehead is developing favorably. The struggle continues unabated, notwithstanding a fog, which prevents the artillery from assisting in the operations."

"On the Carso Plateau the battle continued yesterday. Our troops advanced along the whole front, with great dash and boldness, conquering towards the left wing a strong position on San Michele, commanding the greater part of the plateau. After being subjected, however, to a violent crossfire from the enemy's artillery of all calibres, our forces were obliged to fall back below the crest, where they are maintaining their positions."

"On the centre we progressed to-

BECKER MUST PAY PENALTY IN DEATH CHAIR TOMORROW

APPEAL FOR NEW TRIAL REFUSED AND WILL LIKELY DIE FRIDAY FOR INSTIGATING MURDER OF ROSENTHAL, THE GAMBLER—TWICE CONVICTED AFTER SENSATIONAL TRIAL.

CHARLES BECKER

New York, July 28.—Justice John Ford of the Supreme Court tonight denied a new trial to Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant, under sentence of death for instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler. This decision means that Becker must be executed on Friday.

The opinion dismissed the affidavits as immaterial and incompetent. Justice Ford was asked about a possible appeal by Becker from his (the justice's) decision, but he declined to say whether Becker can appeal. Justice Ford's decision means that Becker will undoubtedly be put to death in the electric chair shortly after daybreak Friday morning for a crime for which he was twice convicted, after two sensational trials which attracted widespread interest.

The decision dispenses of the latest effort to save Becker, begun last Friday, when Supreme Court Justice Phillips granted an order for the district attorney to show cause why a new trial should not be granted.

Hoped Against Hope.

Ossining, N. Y., July 28.—Charles Becker, in the death house at Sing Sing prison, tonight received calmly the news that his appeal for a new trial had been denied. Deputy Warden Johnson told him of the failure of the appeal. Warden T. H. Osborne was much affected by the news.

Becker had been waiting for some news, and the deputy warden reached his cell, inquired: "Have I lost?"

Mr. Johnson replied: "Yes, Charlie, I am very sorry to say you have."

Becker's voice was thick as he said: "I had been hoping against hope that I would win, and I am disappointed. I am not afraid to die."

CAPE BRETON SENT 1,600 MEN

To Fight for Empire—Campaign to Raise Fund for Machine Guns is Meeting With Success.

Sydney, N. S., July 28.—As the result of a campaign started less than a week ago in Sydney funds for the purchase of eight machine guns are now in sight. F. A. Crowell, a public spirited merchant, undertook a few days ago to raise subscriptions, and the following result was announced today as a beginning: Crowell Limited, one gun; Henry McLeod, of Glace Bay, one gun; F. A. Crowell, one gun; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McLellan, one gun; J. F. Miles and F. A. DeYoung, one gun; J. F. Irwin, Port Morien, half gun; Isaac Greenwell, $100; Robert Ford, $50.

In addition to these the Royal Cape Breton Yacht Club and the local I. O. L. lodges have also decided to contribute machine guns.

Cape Breton will also supply her quota of men. A recruiting office has been opened in Sydney, and the results already are gratifying. A contingent of 44 men, largely from Glace Bay and the colliery towns, was despatched on Monday night and another detachment will be sent probably before the week is out.

Enlistments from Cape Breton since the beginning of the war total 1530 men. This estimate is based on careful enquiries. The majority of enlistments in this vicinity were made by officers of the 94th Regiment and included men for the 25th Regiment now at Shorncliffe, England, and the 40th Regiment and 6th Mounted Rifles, both at Valcartier camp. These enlistments total 1334 men. In addition there was the 17th Field Battery (now the 6th Battery, second artillery brigade), Major H. G. McLeod commanding, left here on August 28th last 153 strong, and which has been fighting in France for many months, and which is the only distinctly Nova Scotian unit to reach the firing line. Besides the enlistments for the corps just named, 40 men were enlisted here for the 24th Battery, Major Ingraham commanding, now at Shorncliffe.

FIRM MEASURES BY UNITED STATES IN HAITI

Will Likely Compel Observance of Law and Order and Insist on Proposals Made Some Weeks Ago.

Washington, July 28.—American marines were landed today at Port Au Prince, Haiti, to protect the lives and property of Americans and other foreigners. Rear Admiral Caperton advised the Navy Department late tonight that he had sent a force ashore from the cruiser Washington. Rear Admiral Benson, acting secretary of the navy, declined to make the message public, but said: "Admiral Caperton now has the situation in hand."

The situation at Port Au Prince is reported as being "very grave." The State Department received messages from Charge D'Affaires Davis telling of the assassination of President Guillaume by a mob which broke into the French legation, shot the Chief Executive and dismembered his body.

This violation of the diplomatic immunity which foreign legations enjoy would be regarded ordinarily as a serious affront, but in view of the absence of an established government, and the generally turbulent conditions, the incident probably will not complicate the situation. It had the effect, however, of stimulating the American government to take immediate steps to restore order.

President Wilson has been giving serious consideration to the situation in Haiti for several weeks. Paul Fuller, Jr., sent to investigate conditions there, recently returned with a report showing that it was impossible for him to negotiate a proposed treaty with President Guillaume because of the latter's fears that the populace would rise against him if he signed the pact.

It was considered very probable, in

CONTINUE ARGUMENT FOR INJUNCTION TO HAITI

Winnipeg Inquire

Winnipeg, July 28.—"Where is the crime? The charge in the Royal Commission is that Kelly made an arrangement with the late government whereby he was to get overpayment of money and hand it back. Where is the crime?"

"It is charged that he defrauded the province. Where is the crime?"

"It is a case for a civil suit, but not necessarily criminal. There are many forms of fraud that are not criminal."

This was the statement of Chief Justice Howell, supported by Mr. Justice Proulx, in the Court of Appeal today, when Edward Anderson, K. C., was continuing his argument for an injunction restraining the Mathers Commission from proceeding and from calling Kelly as a witness. Mr. Anderson contended that the object of the Mathers Commission was to inquire into a crime.

That the Lieutenant-Governor Manitoba has as great powers within this province as have the lieutenant-governors of the old eastern provinces, as great powers in his own jurisdiction as has the governor-general of Canada or the King of England himself, was the contention made most strenuously before the Court of Appeal this morning by C. P. Wilson, K. C., who began a reply to the argument of Edward Anderson, K. C., counsel for Thomas Kelly and Sons, contractors on the new parliament buildings, who is asking for a reversal of the judgment of Mr. Justice Prendergast in the matter of a request for an injunction to restrain the Mathers Commission from further proceedings.

Diplomatic quarters tonight, that the American government now would insist on its original proposals before withdrawing its forces and to compel an observance of law and order.

NEWFOUNDLAND IS OVER-SUBSCRIBED

More Than Sufficient to Buy Two Aeroplanes—Use Surplus to Purchase Machine Guns.

St. John's, Nfld., July 28.—Governor Davidson at a meeting of the Patriotic Association tonight announced that the sum provided for providing two aeroplanes by public subscription from the colony for imperial service, $20,000 had been largely over-subscribed.

This is in addition to a third aeroplane which is the joint gift of the Reid Brothers, railway contractors. The collections will not close until August 4th and the amounts from the outlying places are not yet known, but it is hoped there will realize at least $5,000 more which money will be applied to purchasing machine guns the first for the Newfoundland regiment, and any in excess to be presented to the British government.

The Newfoundland regiment has already two machine guns the gift of Mr. William Duff Reid, president of the Reid Railway Concern. Subscriptions by the Reid employees for aeroplane fund will now be encouraged for two more machine guns. Sir Edgar Bowring, president of the Bowring Bros. Steamship Company, announced last night the gift of two machine guns from his company. The employees of Hammersworth Paper Mills, at Grand Falls, in the interior of Newfoundland, will provide two more machine guns and the employees of the Dominion and Nova Scotia Steel Company's mines at Wabana, are each pledged for one thousand dollars, which will be devoted to machine guns also.

This will give the battalion at least ten machine guns.

CHICAGO IN MOURNING

Chicago, July 28.—With a verdict all but formulated, according to the foreman, A. E. Evans, the coroner's jury investigating the deaths of a thousand or more excursionists who lost their lives when the steamer Eastland capsized in the Chicago river Saturday, tonight called in Secretary of Commerce Redfield, George Uhler, inspector general of the steamship inspection service and A. L. Thurman, special solicitor for the Department of Justice, Washington, for a private conference. After these federal officers had been closeted with the jurors for more than two hours, the examination of witnesses was resumed.

Secretary Redfield said he could not speak of what he told the coroner's jury.

The county grand jury tonight adjourned till tomorrow without returning indictments against anyone.

A dozen members of the Eastland's crew testified before the grand jury, but added nothing, it is said, to evidence adduced by coroner Hoffman's investigation by a federal grand jury and by the Steamship Inspection Service will start tomorrow.

Funerals of 200 victims of the Eastland catastrophe were held today, while the whole city was in mourning. The funeral proclamation by Mayor Thompson, who returned from San Francisco and took charge of the relief work.

The work of raising the Eastland was begun, but it will be at least ten days before the steamer is placed on its keel again and the search for the missing resumed.

Jury Places Blame.
A coroner's jury tonight returned a verdict, placing the blame for the loss of hundreds of lives by the capsizing of the steamer Eastland in six men: William H. Hull, general manager of the Chicago-St. Joseph Steamship Company, owner of the Eastland; Captain Harry Pedersen of the Eastland; J. M. Erickson, engineer; Robert Reed, federal inspector of steamships, who gave the Eastland license to carry 2,500 passengers July 2; J. C. Bokkitt, federal inspector of steamships; W. K. Greenbaum, general manager of the Indiana Transportation Company, lessee of the Eastland.

The jury recommended that these men be held for a grand jury for indictment on charges of manslaughter.

GETS $5,000 FROM DOUBLE LIABILITY POLICY

London, Ont., July 28.—After making strong representations which were based upon a clause in the policy providing for the payment of double liability should the holder "meet death through the wreck of a boat carrying passengers," George S. Gibbons, barrister of this city, today received from the Travellers' Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., a check for $5,000 for Mrs. William Wright, being double liability on a Traveller's accident policy taken out by her husband, who was lost when the Lugtania was torpedoed.

Steps to contest the case had been taken by Toronto lawyers, representing the insurance company, who based their claims upon a clause in the policy which stipulated that payment of double liability should not be made whether the holder "meets death wholly or partially from explosives of any kind in war or riot."

York, who was employed by a Brantford firm, paid $2 for his $2,500 policy as a precautionary measure just before taking the steamer at New York.

IN THIS SWEETEST OF ALL PLAYS little Miss Clark is at her very best. From one end of flandom to the other, wherever motion pictures are shown, she has made herself famous in this characterization. Many of the largest theatres repeated the photoplay more than once. The story is so pure and natural, the action so much in keeping with the story. A drama of the lights and shadows of the sun-kissed forest and the depths and shallows of human life "Wildflower" will make a lasting impression, will create a demand for more and still more of such delightful little tales.

Miss Clark is supported in this play by Harold Lockwood, James Cooley, E. L. Davenport and Jack Pickford.

He was arrested on the arrival of the train here and taken before the magistrate and sentenced.

DETROIT MAN IS NAMED IN DYNAMITE PLOT

Windsor, Ont., July 28.—Albert Kahschmidt, a Detroit business man, was named in a conspiracy charge read against Wm. Leifer of Windsor, when the latter was arraigned before a justice at Sandwich, Ont., today charged with attempting to dynamite the plant of the Peabody Manufacturing Company at Walkerville, several weeks ago.

Three charges were made against Leifer. The first alleged that he was responsible for the explosion at the Peabody plant. To this he pleaded not guilty. The second count charged that he conspired with Kahschmidt and a man named Schmidt to dynamite the Peabody buildings and the Windsor armory. He was accused in the third count of being accessory to the keeping of explosives to be used for unlawful purposes.

Leifer did not answer the second and third charges.

A motion to quash them was taken under advisement. He was held for trial on the first count.

Premier Asquith Says Seas Are Clear of Enemy's Ships and Britain Can Laugh at Fear of Invasion—Confident of Success in Dardanelles and Urges That Pessimists be Discouraged—Commons Adjourns Until Sept. 14.

London, July 28.—The war has become and is likely to continue for some time, a contest of endurance, Premier Asquith told the House of Commons this afternoon, while making a general review in moving the adjournment of parliament from tomorrow until September 14.

"We should be ungrateful and insensitive indeed, if we did not recognize at this moment the indescribably gallant efforts being made by our Russian allies to stem the tide of invasion, and retain inviolate the integrity of their possessions.

"I don't think in the whole of military history there has been a more magnificent example of discipline and endurance and of both individual and collective initiative than has been shown by the Russian army in the last seven weeks.

Confidence of Success in the Dardanelles.

"Our new allies, Italy, are, with carefully prepared movements, steadily gaining ground, making their way towards the objective which we believe in a very short time will be within their reach."

The Premier declared that the British government's confidence in the results of the Dardanelles operations was undiminished.

The Premier emphasized his confidence in the unity of both the French and British armies engaged in the western field.

Referring to the fact that next week would see the completion of a year of war, Mr. Asquith remarked that the world never had seen a more miraculous transformation in this country; not in its spirit and heart, but in the outward manifestations of its life, that had taken place here in those twelve months.

The British fleet today was far stronger, the Premier continued, than at the beginning of the war, and to its quiet and unobserved and ubiquitous and all powerful activity is due the fact that the seas are clear, or substantially clear.

"For, after all," said the Premier, "this submarine menace, serious as it has appeared to be, is not going to inflict fatal or substantial injury on British trade. The seas are clear. We have our supplies of food and raw materials, upon which we and the rest of the country depend, floating in upon us in the same abundance and with the same freedom; and I may say,

"Don't let us give any encouragement to the faint-hearted, and still less to the back-biters who are disheartening our allies and encouraging our enemies," he said. "Let us in this House and in the country at large with the same spirit of energy and determination continue to persist and persevere to an inevitable triumphant issue."

Sir Henry Dalziel, Liberal member for Kirkcaldy Burghs, moved and Sir Arthur B. Markham, Liberal member for the Mansfield division of Nottinghamshire, seconded an amendment that adjournment should be only for four weeks.

Criticism of Government

Sir Henry explained that he did this because he was not satisfied with the situation in Flanders, where it had been understood there was to be a great advance during the spring and summer.

In the Dardanelles, too, he wanted to know why such notice had been given to the enemy by a bombardment on the part of the fleet without the cooperation of the land forces.

Sir Henry said he could keep silent no longer, as he had not the confidence in the government that he had nine months ago. He could not understand why the industries of the country had not been mobilized, and he wanted to know whether any one at the War Office had been cashiered for the failure to supply sufficient munitions.

He also criticized the government's delay in using gas against the Germans, and he suggested that the reason for the failure to do this was a breakdown in the arrangements.

Sir Henry concluded that the discontent among the workers was due to the failure of the government to deal with the question of food supplies, which, he contended, was responsible for the increase in the cost of living.

Sir Arthur Markham said the public had lost all confidence in the War Office, which had proved miserably inefficient in its conduct of the war.

Sir Henry Dalziel did not press his amendment, and Premier Asquith's motion that parliament be adjourned from July 29 until September 14 was carried.

WITHIN SOUNDS OF BATTLE WARSAW SHOWS NO SIGNS OF TERROR

An eye-witness of recent events in Eastern War zone Describes Conditions in Polish Capital.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, July 27.—The story of the siege of Warsaw is told for the first time by a Polish gentleman, son of a large landowner in the outskirts of the city, who has just arrived here, and who speaks as an eye-witness fresh from the scene, his estate being today the artillery park of the Russian center from which their heavy field guns are manœuvred for the defense of the city. His recital for The Associated Press is a record of his own personal observations and he scrupulously refrains from any reference to general conditions coming under his own eye.

"Warsaw! Is it a city of terror and confusion, people ask me. Not at all; human relations go on as usual, and human nature finds its usual outlet. Warsaw is the background for a million Russian troops. This makes it the centre for a great number of Russian officers and strangers who give it a cosmopolitan appearance of animation and even of gaiety. The well-to-do people living east of the city have passed through the points of safety in the west. The landowning class in Poland the peasants own land—have not the means of flight and are stranded in the city, but keep out of sight. So that the city, with its many officers in gay uniform, its strangers and refugees, is transformed from its usual peaceful aspect and has taken on the appearance of a metropolis.

"The streets are thronged. The theatres are open and crowded. The restaurants have throngs at their tables and on the street terraces. The cinematograph shows are packed. There are bands and concerts. The feeling of terror does not seem to have struck the crowds. It is like the life of London, which goes on with little thought of Zeppelins. Only once has there been panic—when the Russian bank closed its doors and all other banks followed. Ready money could not be had, and everyone was in dread of the stoppage of funds and the interruption of the usual means of business and exchange. But that panic period has passed, the banks are open and business is proceeding normally, but with a terrible economic change in prices, particularly in food-stuffs. Warsaw is absolutely dependent for its food supplies on two railways. But these are now in the hands of the military, who need them for the movement of troops, and the food for the troops. Poland itself supplies nothing for the fields are burned and nothing.

"Frijoles Seweryn Czetwertynski has taken the land in grappling the problems confronting the city—first to get enough food, and next public health and sanitation, combatting the cholera plague which carried off hundreds outside the city with two cases in Warsaw, and reburying the masses of soldier dead who had been hastily thrown together in shallow surface graves. He is a man of great executive ability, one of the grand exponents of Poland, and is at the head of Warsaw's Central Committee which deals with all emergencies.

"His first effort was for the food to meet the imperative needs of the city and surrounding country, chiefly corn, flour and prime necessities. The Russian authorities were favorable, but the military requirements came first, and, besides, the urgent need led to bribery among the petty railway officials, so that cars could not be got or moved without large payments. I myself saw 500 rubles of bribery exacted for moving a car of fish. So that Warsaw's stock of food has been getting scarcer and prices are mounting. Bread is double and triple the usual price. Eggs which sold for two cents are now six. At Easter each Russian soldier received four eggs—a million soldiers around Warsaw meant four million eggs—and the country was stripped of eggs. There is absolutely no beef and a pound of poor meat now costs 60 copecks against the usual price of 24 copecks—the poorest quality of steppes.

"Meantime the army is very well fed, but back of the army is the vast hemmed-in population and peasantry practically living on the leavings of the army.

teaching Belgium the duties of a neutral nation.

During that particular period the majority of neutrals was horrified at what seemed then a heartless procedure on the part of Germany. None shared to a greater degree in the general detestation than did Thomas Shaw, a Briton by birth. It was not difficult for Shaw, a Briton, to find a point of difference with any German or pro-German, and the delicatessen shop proprietor offered large opportunities.

The evidence would seem to indicate that Shaw was in a peevish mood, and if Michael Manners was not in a truculent humor he was, at least, in a non-receptive state concerning the views of Shaw.

However, the next morning in the police court, after a night in jail, the pair were led before Judge Borden to be neutralized. When the two belligerents had related just what occurred, the judge dismissed the charges and sentenced them to go to the front, each on his respective side.

Manners went back to the delicatessen shop, but Shaw left Asbury Park. Yesterday Frank Turner, of No. 721 Cookman avenue, received a letter from the Briton. He had taken the words of Judge Borden literally, leaving here to go to Canada, where he enlisted, was sent to the front and was seriously wounded in the left shoulder by a shell.

"Give my regards to Judge Borden," writes Shaw in his letter. "Tell him I'm still in the land of the living and that the Germans with all their guns couldn't kill me.

"This war is hell, and that's a very ladylike and genteel way of putting it. I was in two bayonet charges. Having mad, I was, while they were on. I mustn't try to say what they were like. For days I couldn't get over the first one. Afterward in the trenches I couldn't close my eyes for a single minute.

Judge Borden, when informed of Shaw's message and letter, said: "When I sentenced the two men to go to the front I had in mind that Shaw was an old army man, but of course I meant the sentence in a jocular way only. I was exceedingly grieved when I heard that Shaw had gone to the war and I am even more regretful to hear that he has been wounded."

The collier Jason, with one hundred additional marines, was ordered from Guantanamo to arrive at Port Au Prince tonight.

CONSCRIPTION FOR CANADA NOT CONSIDERED

Postmaster General Says Question Never Discussed by Government and No Likelihood of Compulsory Service.

Ottawa, July 28.—Hon. T. Chase Casgrain, postmaster general, stated today that the government has never considered or discussed the question of conscription in Canada. "I am pretty accurate in my political predictions," he said, "and I can say that there will be no conscription in Canada."

He said that the government is well satisfied with the way the appeals for recruits are being met in Canada.

SHIP FUND IN NEWFOUNDLAND IS OVER-SUBSCRIBED

More Than Sufficient to Buy Two Aeroplanes—Use Surplus to Purchase Machine Guns.

St. John's, Nfld., July 28.—Governor Davidson at a meeting of the Patriotic Association last night announced that the sum provided for providing two aeroplanes by public subscription from the colony for imperial service, $20,000 had been largely over-subscribed. This is in addition to a third aeroplane which is the joint gift of the Reid Brothers, railway contractors. The collections will not close until August 4th and the amounts from the outlying places are not yet known, but it is hoped there will realize at least $5,000 more which money will be applied to purchasing machine guns the first for the Newfoundland regiment, and any in excess to be presented to the British government.

The Newfoundland regiment has already two machine guns the gift of Mr. William Duff Reid, president of the Reid Railway Concern. Subscriptions by the Reid employees for aeroplane fund will now be earmarked for two more machine guns. Sir Edgar Bowring, president of the Bowring Bros. Steamship Company, announced last night the gift of two machine guns from his company. The employees of Hammersworth Paper Mills, at Grand Falls, in the interior of Newfoundland, will provide two more machine guns and the employees of the Dominion and Nova Scotia Steel Company's mines at Wabana, are expected to pledge for one thousand dollars, which will be devoted to machine guns also.

This will give the battalion at least ten machine guns.

DETROIT MAN IS NAMED IN DYNAMITE PLOT

Windsor, Ont., July 28.—Albert Kahlschmidt, a Detroit business man, was named in a conspiracy charge read against Wm. Leifer of Windsor, when the latter was arraigned before a justice at Sandwich, Ont., today charged with attempting to dynamite the plant of the Peabody Manufacturing Company at Walkerville, several weeks ago.

Three charges were made against Leifer. The first alleged that he was responsible for the explosion at the Peabody plant. To this he pleaded not guilty.

The second count held that he conspired with Kahlschmidt and a man named Schmidt to dynamite the Peabody buildings and the Windsor armory. He was accused in the third count of being accessory to the keeping of explosives to be used for unlawful purposes.

Leifer did not answer the second and third charges.

A motion to quash them was taken under advisement. He was held for trial on the first count.

ST. JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY, JULY 29, 1916.

"We are fighting for a worthy purpose, and we shall not lay down our arms until that purpose has been fully achieved"—H. M. The King.

REASONS FOR CONFIDENCE

An English writer, in the July Fort nightly, takes the ground that to date Germany has been more successful than the Allies in the prosecution of the world war. On the Russian front, he argues, the Germans have shown a force and dash entirely unexpected. On the Western front, in France and Flanders, the forces of the Kaiser are holding their own, although it was expected that long before this they would have been driven back over their own borders and our soldiers well on their way to Berlin.

one evidence more of what sea-power means, and it is also a far-sighted movement which, if pushed to success, may prove far more important than any battle fought in Galicia or in France. With Constantinople captured, Russia free to come and go in the Black Sea and the Mediterranean, and all the Balkan states wheeling into line with the Allies, the German cause would have suffered a fatal blow. In that case, the Allies, too, would have their giant pincers, closing upon Germany from the North Sea and from the Bosphorus.

USING SAILS AGAIN.

Is it to be back to the "wind-jammer" as a result of the war, or at least until the demand of the Empire has been satisfied? Those citizens who have observed conditions in the harbor of St. John during the past few weeks would be inclined to answer in the affirmative, for the fine old sailing vessels are to be seen here once more. Time was when St. John knew the sailing vessel, the old "square rigger," with a more intimate knowledge than most ports on this side of the Atlantic. In that period this old port boasted of the wooden tonnage owned here, and that same wooden tonnage, either in its construction or operation, laid the foundation of more than one local fortune.

After the days of wooden shipbuilding had passed for ever, when propulsion by steam came to be preferred to the old fashioned method of utilizing Heaven's breezes, when St. John commenced to hold ambitions of winter port prominence and dreamed her dreams in terms of passenger lines, quick mail runs and mammoth cargo carriers, when the grain elevators and the Sand Point wharves materialized the old "wind jammer" neared the end of her career as a first class cargo boat. Finally, and not so long ago either, it came to be that the sight of a "square rigger" in St. John harbor was sufficiently a novelty to call for comment in the newspapers.

During the past few weeks, however, conditions have changed; steam tonnage has not come to St. John and there is known to be a great shortage of steamers, a fact which, coupled with high freight rates, may cause inconvenience to shippers of lumber. On the other hand there has been a notable increase in the number of square rigged sailing vessels coming to this port. And St. John is not alone in this regard. The shortage in ocean tonnage caused by the requisition of so many liners by the British Admiralty for use as troop ships and in the national service, has resulted in many a fine old sailing ship being rediscovered and placed in the trade routes.

Referring to this development the Montreal Herald of recent date said: "The re-appearance of these vessels is emphasizing the remarkable cheapness with which they can be run. One sailing vessel recently in the port of Montreal had auxiliary engines to supply power in calm weather and for hoisting and lowering the sails. Her crew consisted of seven men! Yet she carried a remarkably large cargo, and one day made over two hundred knots. Steamship men scorn the idea that the re-discovery of the sailing ship may mean more than a passing reappearance of them on the Atlantic lanes. But the men who run the sailing ships equipped with auxiliary power declare that this style of ship would appear in great numbers if ship designers would only give attention to their construction on modern scientific lines."

It is not likely that St. John will ever return to the position she once occupied as the home port of wooden ships, but the exigence of war may cause them to be used for many months. In the meantime it is rather pleasant to have in the harbor the white winged reminders of a glory that has passed.

Sir Sandford Fleming (July 23, 1915)

Down by the sea, he loved so well, he lies,
This great old Scotch-Canadian;
Death at last
Leads him to loftier efforts from our skies,
All life's great projects, her stern duties past.
Song in sad accents, chants his deathless fame
This rugged Scotsman, whose whole life was toil;
Wrestling with New-World problems, his great name
Unshrunk, unswayed, 'mid the mad turmoil.

Our great Road-builder, greatest of his time,
Who rose to the stars, those who
And, binding our land in one in every clime,
Made possible our mighty Commonwealth.
Few of our titans had their whole, long life
So linked to all our progress as this man;
Who rose to greater dreams about our strife,
In one vast link, Imperial thoughts to span.

No grimmet barriers ever daunted him,
This firm Ulysses of these later days;
High peaks of efforts his mind's wings did skim,
Challenging Life's Cyclops through its haze.
Keeping his mind forever on the true, the plain,
The simple, of men's larger needs;
Forever greater with his life he grew,
Marking our national milestones by his deeds.

Though deep engrossed in life's material schemes,
Of railways, cables, planet-sphere'd firm;
No poet's mind had truer, loftier dreams,
No sweeter, gentler soul e'er walked this earth.
To those who knew him, loved him, he was one,
Ever for peace and kindness, and those deeds
That bind men to their fellows 'neath the sun,
Larger than hate and our dividing creeds.

Scooner of ostentation and that pride,
That marks pony sul in hut or hall;
He loved simplicity and his own fire-side,
Nature's gentleman, courteous unto all.
No truer knight his Monarch ever made
(On such 'tis meet that kindly honors fall),
Than this old Scot, whose being,
Was ever at his King's and Empire's call.

This lives of such men justify this
Mid all its falseness, evil, dread and drear,
God grant him rest; this great soul,
Who from birth
To age and death, lived life's simplicity.
—WILFRED CAMPBELL.

Kitchener's Coming Hour!

(By A. G. Hales, in John Bull, London.)
The hour is pregnant with great news. It will not be long before our land will ring from coast to coast with a splendid story of triumph and daring, and men will bare their heads and thank God for giving us the grim granite man who sits like a sphinx at the head of our armies, and works night and day with locked mouth, for his country's salvation. I have searched the pages of history, and searched in vain, for a case parallel to his. Day in and day out a gigantic press organization attacks him, seeking to nullify his almost superhuman efforts. The spirit behind the attacks may be one of mistaken patriotism—I hope it is so. Let the gods judge. But the hour of his vindication is near at hand; his triumph will be so immense, so overwhelming, that we shall be able to pity those who sought his ruin; their humiliation will be utter and complete; they have tried to "draw" the great field-marshal and make him show his hand, though by so doing he would have to place his cards face upwards on the table for the German War Council to see and understand. They jeered at his soldierly qualities, as a hundred years ago a foe jeered at Wellington, calling the Iron Duke a "Sepoy General," forgetting that nearly every great military reputation the world is cognizant of was made, or solidified, in the East. Knowing what I do know, I can write today more in pity than in anger concerning Lord Kitchener's enemies within the gate; they are going to drink of the cup of derision which the British people will fill to the brim, and they will have to drain it to the dregs, whilst a wondering world shouts his name to the quivering skies. There are no sands in Britain deep enough for them to hide their heads in when he makes his move and plays his hand. The thing I know I have known for some little time past—as the editor of the journal has known it for a longer time. Let Britain possess her soul in patience—the world's greatest soldier has not

TRAINED MEN HANGING BACK.
(Toronto World.)
There has been a good deal of private comment and correspondence appearing in some of the newspapers about men who fail to go to the front after having had years of training at the expense of their country. It cannot be said that such men should be immune from criticism when the effect of their remaining at home is considered on other men who might go but for the bad example set. These men, who have enjoyed for years the training intended to make them fit for just such emergencies as the present, when they hang back have a potent influence in restraining others who might have gone but for the want of an inspiring lead. This particularly is true of officers who for no particular reason stay at home while their former colleagues are doing service at the front.

BEEKEEPERS HOLD PICNIC AT WOODSTOCK

Some hints to those interested in Bees and Exhibitions — How to handle swarms.

The beekeepers' field day and picnic at Woodstock was a grand success. Over two hundred persons attended, among whom were a large percentage of active beekeepers. The demonstration and discussions were closely followed and many questions asked and answered.

The field day at the yard of L. T. Floyd, Central Norton, was also highly successful. Many were there from distant points and all enjoyed the demonstrations and lectures as well as the kind hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd.

The next event for the beekeepers to look forward to is the exhibition and show the public what he has succeeded in producing as well as to himself, see the demonstrations in the handling of bees. Mr. Duront, instructor in bee-culture, will be there to show how bees may be handled and give instruction to interested parties. For the benefit of those who will exhibit (we hope the number will be large) we should like to explain several of the sections of the prize list just a little more fully than it is possible to do in the list itself.

Section 5 calls for a display of honey prepared for market. The very broadest interpretation of this is desirable. The idea is to bring out the best assortment of glass and tin and these packed in such packing cases and in such manner as to insure safe shipment both to a local, and to an outside market. The section honey will also be packed and made ready for shipment. Any ideas for "counter display" will also be classed here.

Section six — "The object to encourage bringing the sections to market in the super as some practice. This should show the proper preparation of the super for the hive, and the careful management of the colony to ensure the filling and capping of the sections clear to outside. Do not remove a particle of bur-comb or wax from the super; leave it just as it is when lifted from the hive. In all Sections 14 and 15 do not call for full colonies of bees. The words "single-frame" were omitted, but this is what is desired.

WEDDINGS.

Stackhouse-Dunlop.
A wedding of popular interest took place yesterday morning at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ida J. Dunlop, 137 Metcalfe street, when her daughter, Miss Annie J. Dunlop, became the bride of George Albert Stackhouse, Rev. R. P. McKim officiated in the presence of relatives and friends. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Walter S. Dunlop, was prettily attired in a grey travelling suit with hat to correspond. She was unattended. The wedding march was played by Miss Helen Miller. Following the ceremony, a dainty wedding breakfast was served, after which the bride and groom left on a motor trip through the New England States. They will remain there about a week, and on returning will go to Loch Lomond, before taking up their residence in Bridge street. Many useful and handsome wedding remembrances were received. The bride is a former member of the staff of Wm. Thomson & Co., while the groom is a member of the engineering staff of the Atlantic Sugar Refineries. Both enjoy the best wishes of many friends for future happiness.

Among the guests at the wedding was Gordon Stackhouse of East Brantree, Mass., brother of the groom.

AMERICAN GIRL, NOW A PRINCESS, MAY BE QUEEN OF POLAND IF ALLIES WIN

PRINCESS PONIATOWSKI.

The name of Prince Poniatowski has been mentioned frequently as the future King of Poland in case the Allies should win, but some foes are already making strong objections, as his wife is an American (formerly Miss Helen Sperry, of Stockton, Cal.), and they argue, would not do as the Queen of Poland. The Princess has been very popular in Europe, and influential friends are already congratulating her on her possible new honor. There is no doubt that the elevation of Prince Poniatowski to the throne of Poland would have the indorsement of the French people.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSO. HAD A VERY SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Annual report has been printed and distributed — A review of the history of the Association given in pamphlet.

The forty-eighth annual report of the local Young Men's Christian Association has been printed and distributed. The financial statement shows that $15,743.82 had been handed during the year and there was left a balance of $23,455.

The year at present seven hundred members, four hundred men and three hundred boys. One hundred and ten men made up the dormitories. One hundred and forty-two boys attended the weekly Bible study groups, and forty-eight wrote the national Bible study examinations.

There was a total attendance of 10,384 men and boys in the physical department. The first Y.M.C.A. was organized in St. John in 1854, and a public meeting to establish it on a permanent basis was held in St. David's church on November 28th, 1857.

Meetings were held there for a number of months and then for a short time in the schoolroom of St. John's Episcopal church, when the Association moved to rooms now occupied by Marr Millinery Co., and which they occupied until 1872. In 1869 the Inter-Provincial Convention was held in St. John, which gave an impetus and inspiration to the local work. A public meeting was held and $8,000 in subscriptions pledged. A building committee was appointed and a site on Charlotte street purchased. Plans were proposed by M. Stoad and a building costing $25,000 undertaken with subscription list of $12,170, of which at the time of opening $9,595 was paid. P. McConnell and Silas Brown were the builders. Building was formally decided on May 27th, 1873.

In 1900 it was decided that the Association needed a new home and in 1904 the old building on Charlotte street was sold and vacated April 30, 1905.

From May 1st, 1905, until October 31st, 1908, the Association occupied a couple of rented rooms and on July 31, 1907, the corner stone of the new and present building was laid with appropriate ceremonies by His Worship Mayor Sears. On November 19th, 1908, the building was formally opened and dedicated, costing with site and furnishings, $65,000. G. Ernest Fairweather was the architect.

SCOTT IS SUED.

Chicago, July 20.—Miss Mabel Mac Bailey, a manuree, has sued James Scott, White Sox pitcher, for $25,000, charging breach of promise to marry her.

Only the promise to the suit was filed by her attorney, George C. Guthrie, and he refused to discuss the case. It became known, however, that the lawyer decided to sue only after he had presented evidence to the federal bureau of investigation in an effort to find out if Scott had violated the Mann act. It is understood the federal officials refused to take action.

PATRIOTIC FUND NOT A CHARITY, SAYS SECRETARY

Sir Herbert Ames, Honorary Secretary of the Fund, Speaks on This Idea

It has been thought by many who are not fully acquainted with the objects of the Canadian Patriotic Fund that the organization is a charitable one. In this connection the following explanation recently given by Sir Herbert Ames, M. P., honorary secretary of the fund, will be read with interest:

The Patriotic Fund is not a charity and ought not to be regarded as such. Every loyal Canadian today should ask himself, "Shall I fight or pay?" If he cannot do the former, he should try to do the latter to the extent of his ability. Let it be remembered that the soldier's wife must give her consent before her husband may go to the front. She knowingly agrees to take the risk of becoming a widow or having an invalid husband to look after for the rest of her life. True, the Canadian government will, if she becomes a widow, grant her a pension or, if her husband becomes disabled, he will receive an allowance according to the extent of his disability; but the maximum in either case will furnish but a bare subsistence.

The men may be heroes, but the women are likely to be the martyrs of this war, and their sacrifice should be valued accordingly. In a few cases where local committees have undertaken to spend "their own funds in their own way" there has been a tendency to treat the soldier's wife in the same way as the down-and-outs of the town, giving them clothes, groceries, or coal in small amounts and making them feel that they are objects of charity. Against this attitude on the part of the organizations, happily few in number, the Canadian Patriotic Fund has always strongly protested.

The national organization insists that local relief of the unemployed be kept wholly separate from supplementary assistance rendered the soldiers' wives; those of the former class may be the recipients of charity, the latter are but permitting the man who stays at home to take the place financially of the one who fights.

THEIVING FROM FISHERMEN.

In a continued process of theiving from fishermen seeking to make an honest dollar about the harbor at Indiantown, nets and other gear valued roughly at $300 have been stolen lately. Some of the nets have been taken from poles where they had been hung to be dried or repaired, others were taken from boats, and even from the water where they had been set.

On Monday the latest theft occurred when two nets were taken from some men in the Narrows. Wm. Eagles of Indiantown lost one valued at $60 a short while ago, it being stolen from his premises. He placed the matter in the hands of the police; detectives scoured parts where the nets might have been in use, but neither this nor those owned by others could be found. Fishermen having motor boats complain not only of the loss of nets, but also of having had engine equipment stolen.

There has been a suspicion that someone has been taking the nets, big and small, and then, after making certain changes, re-selling them, but thus far there is no clue.

BAND CONCERTS.

St. Mary's Band has volunteered to render a free band concert in King Square this evening. The band has also offered to participate in a regular series of band concerts, the money which was voted for this purpose by the city to be paid to the Red Cross and other patriotic organizations instead of to the band. It is possible that other bands may fall in with this patriotic suggestion. The matter was informally discussed by some of the commissioners yesterday morning and the idea met with general approval.

The programme for tonight is as follows:
O Canada ..... Lavallee
March, Neels Fashion Plate ..... Thomas
Overture, Light Cavalry ..... Suppe
Selection, American Alma Mackie-Beyer
Waltz, Columbine ..... Gardner
Song, When You Wore a Tulip ..... Wenrich
Selection, From the Opera "Maritana" ..... Wallace
Waltz, Impassioned Dream, Job Roosa
Selection, "Round the World, in a Regular March, Le Florentine ..... G. Allier

THE RUSSIANS' FAITH IN OUTCOME OF WAR UNSHAKEN

People Are Confident Spite of the Recent Setback.

EXPECT TO GET GALICIA AGAIN

Economic Gains When People Look for Peace Comes Serving Strong Incentive to Recruiting.

By Byron Lomax. Petrograd, July 12.—Russia's faith in the outcome of the war is unshaken.

Everyone hopes for and is convinced that profits will be reaped from war. It is the same whether they are going well or ill.

It is the same whether they are going well or ill, of late they have been going ill, but faith is as strong as ever.

Some people have faith because they do not know the vast stakes to success; the good leaders of good spirit and tremendous will are as good as lost.

Some have faith in spite of knowing the obvious Russia has lost Przemysl and Lemberg and lost Warsaw.

But faith is the same as in November, when General Duke Nicholas marched to near Posen and said he would march on Berlin.

On the 8th of May, a week after Mackensen's storming of the Danube lines, the czar sent Duke Nicholas a decoration inscribed "Galicia's Liberator."

To cynics it seemed incongruous, because Galicja was as good as lost. But Russia does not lose faith; she says she will win.

Among the "Intelligentsia" the universal faith takes form in plans of political and racial reconstruction.

Among the dark-skinned peasants, comes out in queer actions, impossible things, shadowy adumbrations of things which are not likely to come.

When the Germans are beaten, only they were beaten. In their minds are concentrated on the end of the war, on success, and on a few, the minds of soldiers and officers, are concentrated on the war itself, on the majority, is all right.

Reason the majority, is all right. Be certain of victory; have sturdy faith; and the battle will care for itself.

The chief thing after faith is war is to make your plans for peace. This the Black Earthers have decided to help them to land. Their wages will be increased. There will be Prussian and Austrian territory going. It will be divided between them, and every man will have ten acres at least.

Moujiks Are Volunteering. This expectation is having fruitful results for the war. It is inspiring moujiks to volunteer. They want to help to win Prussian and Austrian territory, so that every man may have at least ten acres.

The prophet of the expected man, Basil Delyanoff, recruited thirty thousand. "There will be a czar's paper," he said. "A czar's paper is a manifesto. The czar's paper will give particulars of the lands to be distributed when the Germans are beaten. It will show how much each man will get. I am to get four acres, as I already have six. I shall be able to get more. He added that the men volunteered to fight would come off best.

The Chief of Optimists. The chief of the other economic optimists is an ex-valet of Count Witte, who has swallowed Count Witte's economic truths. Only victory is needed to realize the truths.

Works in the North. He says that when the Germans are beaten, "and that is not far off," everything will be cheap. Before the war food was overpriced in Russia and was cheap. Manufactured goods, being unproduced, and imported against high tariffs, were dear.

Most of the small imported things were German, and much of the agricultural machinery was American. The ex-valet has arranged a remedy. Russia will take the whole of the Upper Silesia iron and coal mines; and the smelting furnaces and rolling shops; she may take all of Silesia and the manufacturing part of Saxony.

In this way Russia will get a great manufacturing center; and henceforth things will be cheap. The peasants, as consumers of mass-produced things, will profit. They will profit doubly because they will sell their produce to the industrial population of the new Russian territory. Steady faith is shown in such speculations.

Sure of Success. In amateur political and diplomatic circles, everyone is sure that the war will soon end successfully and that the time is ripe for reconstruction.

THE RUSSIANS' FAITH IN OUTCOME OF WAR UNSHAKABLE

People Are Confident in Spite of the Recent Setback.

EXPECT TO GET GALICIA AGAIN

Economic Gains Which People Look for when Peace Comes Serving as Strong Incentive to Recruiting.

By Byron Lomax. Petrograd, July 12.—Russia's faith is imperturbable. Nothing shakes it. Everyone hopes for and is convinced that profits will be reaped from the war. It is the same whether things are going well or ill; of late they have been going ill, but faith is as strong as ever. Some people have faith because they do not know the vast obstacles to success; the good leadership, good equipment and tremendous supplies of the Germans. Some have faith in spite of knowing the obstacles Russia has lost Przemysl and Libau, and may lose Warsaw. But faith is the same as in November, when Grand Duke Nicholas marched to near Posen, and said he would march on Berlin. Nicholas II. has faith. On the 8th of May, a week after Mackensen stormed the Dunajec lines, the czar sent Grand Duke Nicholas a decoration inscribed "Galicia's Liberator." To cynics that seemed incongruous, because Galicia was as good as lost. But Russia does not lose faith; she says she will get Galicia again.

Faith which moves mountains is now moving men who in peace-time are as inert as mountains. All through Czar Nicholas's empire is a ferment of hope, and infinite expectations of profits from the war. Profits territorial, monetary, moral, religious. The rich, educated "intelligents" expect them; and the poor, illiterate peasant expects them. Men who do not know the cause of the war, and who could not tell Germany from Portugal, know that Russia will win, and that Russia will profit.

Russians Have Faith. Among the "intelligents" the universal faith takes form in plans of political and racial reconstruction. Among the dark-minded peasants, it comes out in queer actions, impossible expectations, shadowy adumbrations of things which are not likely to come. When the Germans are beaten, if only they were beaten. In this way, most minds are concentrated on the end of the war, on success, and only a few, the minds of soldiers and diplomats, are concentrated on the war itself, on the way to success. The war, reason the majority, is all right. Be certain of victory; have sturdy faith; and the battle will care for itself. The chief thing after faith in war is to make your plans for peace. The Black Earth mortals have decided that the war is being waged to help them to land. Their land holdings will be increased. There will be Prussian and Austrian territory going; it will be divided between them, and every man will have ten acres at least.

Moujiks Are Volunteering. This expectation is having fruitful results for the war. It is inspiring moujiks to volunteer. They want to help to win Prussian and Austrian territory, so that every man may have at least ten acres. The prophet of the expectant men, Delyanoff, recruited thirty thousand. "There will be a Czar's Paper," he said. "A Czar's Paper is a manifesto. 'The Czar's Paper' will give particulars of the lands to be distributed when the Germans are beaten. It will show how much each man will get. I am to get four acres; as I already have six, I shall be a rich man." He added that the men volunteered to fight would come off best.

The Chief of Optimists. The chief of the other economic optimists is an ex-vaiet of Count Witte, who has swallowed Count Witte's economic truths. Only victory is needed to realize the truths. The ex-vaiet works in the North. He says that when the Germans are beaten, "and that is not far off," everything will be cheap. Before the war food was cheap. Manufactured goods, being unproduced, and imported against high tariffs, were dear. Most of the small imported things were German, and much of the agricultural machinery was American. The ex-vaiet has arranged a remedy. Russia will take the whole of the Upper Silesia iron and coal mines; and the smelting furnaces and rolling shops; she may take all of Saxony. In this way Russia will get a great manufacturing centre; and henceforth things will be cheap. The peasants, as consumers of manufactured things, will profit. They will profit doubly because they will sell at high prices their farm produce to the industrial population of the new Russian territory. Steady faith is shown in such speculations.

Sure of Success. In amateur political and diplomatic circles, everyone is sure that the war will soon end successfully, and that the time is ripe for reconstruction schemes. It is roughly known what territory Russia will get. The questions of the organization of these acquired territories, of the Russian State's relation to local administrations, to customs, religions, languages, are much alive. Disputes are raging about the details, though no dispute is admitted about the main question: that Russia will get the goods.

A War About Languages. Hard is the trouble about languages. A fierce war is raging as to how far the Polish and Little Russian languages shall be tolerated. Loss of most of Galicia has not affected this feud. Everyone is sure that Galicia will be taken back. The part lost is inhabited by Poles and Jews. The part still in Russian hands is the Ukrainian part. As Russians are sure they will get back the Polish part, they are busy settling details about this; also about Masuria, East Prussia, West Prussia, Prussian Silesia, Austrian Silesia, Moravia and North Hungary.

Make Light of Darkest Facts. Faith in these matters transcends the blackest facts. Grand Duke Nicholas' armies have been twice in Masuria; once in August, once later until February. The August invasion ended with the disaster of Tannenberg. The five corps were more or less wiped out. General Samsonoff was killed. The second invasion ended with the winter battle of the Masurian Lakes, which was fought in February, and brought destruction, more or less complete, to the Tenth Army of Baron von Sievers. Since then the Russians have been in East Prussia, and Hindenburg has pushed his East Prussian wing north as far as Libau. There is now no sign of a fresh Russian offensive against East Prussia. That is impossible while Libau is held by Hindenburg, and Libau would be hard to take. The Germans have fortified it and could base their defence on the sea. Libau would be a base for a flank attack against a Russian army invading East Prussia. In this time there is no chance of Russia again occupying East Prussia. But no Russian cares about this. There is the universal faith. M. Kielecky is printing a series of learned papers on what will happen in Masuria. The Masurian language is being investigated. The Masurians speak a dialect of Polish and they are Lutherans. Meetings are held to settle whether the dialect should be by Russia as a language and how the Orthodox Church should relate to a new flood of Protestant subjects of the Czar.

Poland's Reconstruction. Poland's reconstruction revolves round the question of a Polish sovereign. At present none of Prussian Poland is in Russian hands, and none of Austrian Poland. East Galicia is in Polish hands, but it is not clear that both these Poland will be Russian soil. The new Poland will consist of Russian Poland; part of Galicia, Upper Silesia, and parts of Posen and West Prussia; also the Masurian fringe of East Prussia. This would mean 17,000,000 of Poles. Poles themselves claim Lithuania, part of White Russia, and part of the Ukraine, but there they are in a minority. In the new Poland will be many Germans and about four million Jews. It will not be homogeneous, but, so say enthusiasts, it can stand well under the aegis of the Russian State. This will be achieved a year hence. Of this few doubt.

Poland has been promised union and home rule. It has already been given self-government of towns, but unhelped by most of the towns are now being governed by Germans. When the country is taken back and held by Russia there will be a Polish parliament. The Czar would remain as he is, "Czar Polski" which is King of Poland. Some Poles do not want this. They think that there should be an outward sign of Poland's resurrection. They want a separate prince, czar, or king of Poland.

The New Czar of Poland. Confident Petrograd people say that the new Czar of Poland will be Grand Duke Nicholas. This is fitting, for if Poland is united at all, it can only be by Grand Duke Nicholas's arm. The new Poland would be independent with its own stamps and money and flag, but under the Russian Czar's suzerainty. In Petrograd meetings are held to discuss this plan. Grand Duke Nicholas's wife, a daughter of Nicholas of Montenegro, wants this. She is a clever, ambitious woman; and for years she has been behind the Pan-Slav policy which led Russia to intervene for Serbia against Austria. Confidence and faith are strongest in the Grand Duchess. She is a masculine lady, as is right in the posterity of masculine Nicholas. She wanted to organize in one hand the four hundred Amazons who in separate battalions and squadrons are fighting for Russia. She told the president of Kharhoff Zernatov that Russia will win. "There are ten good reasons, and I have an eleventh." "I know the ten,"

FAMOUS AND TYPICAL PASS ON THE ITALIAN FRONTIER

THE WINDINGS OF THE ROAD THROUGH STELVIO PASS, HIGHEST CARRIAGE ROAD IN EUROPE

In the days when Milan and Northern Italy were in the possession of Austria—before the advent of railways—by high-headed methods they attempted to construct one through Grisons (Switzerland), Italy and Austria. It was lower and the difficulties of construction and cost would be less. This attempt was successfully resisted by the warlike inhabitants, and the Austrians were thus left with the only alternative, the Stelvio—or, as they call it, in fact, in the world, it is the raison d'être of the far famed Stelvio Pass, the highest carriage road in Europe, and, in fact, in the world. It was made throughout by hand, and, alike in the difficulty of construction, perfection of surface and beauty of scenery, it is without a rival. The height of the summit of the pass is 9,041 feet and is reached by an average gradient of 1 in 11. The number of hairpin bends is eighty, thirty-four on the Italian side and the last four miles to the top on the latter side form a veritable ladder.

result of previous fighting, still remained in the hands of the French. We captured four machine guns. "In the Voeges, on the Linge-kopf-Barrankopf line, severe fighting took place. After four hours of hand-to-hand conflict, the French attacks were repulsed by our counter-attacks. We recaptured the trenches on Linge-kopf which we lost the day before yesterday, with the exception of one small portion. "Eastern war theatre: "Between Mitau and the Niemen we yesterday captured about 1,000 scattered Russians. East of Rozan our attacks are proceeding. Goworowo (east of Rozan) was captured. "North of Sereok, on both banks of the Narwa the Russian counter-attacks failed. The enemy here and near Rozan lost 2,500 men who were taken prisoners and seven machine guns. "Before Warsaw, west of Blonow, we captured the village of Pionrow. "In the district to the southwest of Gorak-Kawarya fighting is proceeding. "In the southeastern war theatre the situation of the German troops generally is unchanged." Note—Pionrow is situated fifteen miles west of the Warsaw fort line.

JONES A TOPNOTCHER AS A BASEBALL PILOT

At Bridwell, veteran ballplayer, now a member of the St. Louis Federals, is as well qualified to speak of the merits of the modern day managers as any other tesser at present engaged in the three major leagues.

Of course, thousands of fans over the country did not need Bridwell's word on this subject to have the same opinion, for Jones made a brilliant reputation for himself several years ago when he won a world's championship with the Chicago Americans.

Bridwell himself has been a member of championship teams, played under several managers, the esteemed John J. McGraw being one and he has always been considered one of the brainy ballplayers of the present age.

It was from the Cubs that the St. Louis Federals secured the veteran infielder. McGraw, who was selected in the early part of 1914 to be the manager of the St. Louis third leaguers, lassoed Bridwell and Ward Miller from the Chicago Nationals.

Of course, says Bridwell, the general scheme of the majority of managers is very similar, but it is in the finer points of the game that the manager differs from the average leaders.

He is a strategist when it comes to handling men, who stand out on the field, and it is in the finer points of the game that the manager differs from the average leaders.

GOSSIP OF THE DIAMOND

Harry Smith, the catcher, has been released outright by the Giants. He asked for his release and it was given to him.

Dan Murphy, once with the Athletics, but who, this season, signed with the Brooklyn Federal League club, having made a pretty good contract, is still on the payroll of the Brookies, but he is now a scout.

Well, "Hub," what's new? asked Babe Adams of Perthie while the Cardinals were in Pittsburg. "There ain't a thing new on the old National league horizon."

Three minor leagues, the Bi-State, the Southern Michigan and the Rio Grand, toss up the sponge and some others are said to be close on the heels.

George Kelly, first baseman of the Victoria club of the Northwestern League, who has been secured for the Giants, by scout Dick Kinsella, is a nephew of Bill Lange, the old Chicago outfielder.

Roger Bresnahan is in favor of a rule to bar coaches in the bases. "These runners do not have to be coached," says Bresnahan, according to an exchange.

It is to be feared that if some of them used their own judgment they would frequently have a lot of trouble fixing up an alibi that would go with it.

Everybody likes Fielder. He is one of us as well as our leader, and it is his sociability and personality that gives Jones a big advantage.

That guy oughta been a general. If he wasn't a general he was damned near the job.

"HOME RUN" BAKER.

Stateville, N. C., July 24.—Manager Winston of the Morganton Club of the Western Carolina Sempro Association, has announced that he has signed Frank "Home Run" Baker, who will report next Monday.

The Morganton fans are elated, and the fact that Baker will draw $50 a day as salary simply increases the enthusiasm that is running riot in the little mountain town.

Baker is with a club in the Delaware County League, which closes this week. When Mr. Kistler first communicated with him he asked him to name his own price.

This is a four-club circuit and is not within the fold of O. B. The first half of the season has just closed with Stateville and Morganton tied for first honors, which had more to do with the signing of the slug artist than anything else.

In addition to Baker, the Morganton management is signing the cream of the Sally League.

His Honor the Lieutenant Governor respectfully requests that Wednesday, the fourth day of August, be observed throughout the Province as the first anniversary of Great Britain's declaration of war against Germany and that on that day clergymen of the several churches and others in sermons and addresses impress upon their hearers the determination to continue to victory the struggle for justice and liberty in which our nation and her allies are engaged.

SOLDIERS AND RED CROSS WILL RECEIVE MONEY. Tea and Sale at Westfield Realized Good Amount.

All roads led to the Chimney Corner Tea Room at Westfield yesterday. The Misses Stewart and Collins had loaned their pretty little tea room, with its old fashioned fireplace, to the patriotic workers of the district for the purpose of raising funds for the Red Cross and Soldiers' Comfort League.

Judging by the crowds, which came by autos, carriages, steamers, motor boats and walking, our soldier boys will have good cause to thank those who made this tea a success.

The decorations were elaborate and appropriate. In the evening with the Chinese lantern lighted, the place resembled a fairy grotto.

Mrs. Geo. McAvity and Mrs. Frank Peters poured and were assisted by the Misses Ethel Jarvis, Dorothy Brown, Eileen Keefe, Nora Thompson, Marion Frink, Gertrude Gaultier, Margaret Evans (Hallifax), Sallie Collins and Nora Stewart, and Mrs. Ned Jarvis, Mrs. Frank Robertson, Mrs. D. Ledingham and the Misses Estey, Cameron, Hammond, Evans and Ella Smith.

The flower table was looked after by Mrs. Roland Skinner, Miss Helen Church and Mrs. Ronald Machum.

How sweet and pretty Mary Pickford photo-plays may be or pictures in which such favorite players as Norma Talmadge, Edith Storey, Anita Stewart and others have appeared, none have yet surpassed and very few equalled the charming merit of Marguerite Clark's portrayal of Letty in the innocent little country girl in Mary Germaine's entrancing story "Wildflower," shown at the Imperial yesterday and to be continued today.

At a meeting of the Daughters of the Empire yesterday morning in the Red Cross rooms, the members decided to ask Mayor Frink to allow a program to be decided upon for the anniversary of August 4. ST. JOHN RIVER COMMISSION IN SESSION HERE

Consideration of Report to be Submitted to the Governments of the Two Countries.

The members of the St. John River Commission met in the Royal Hotel here yesterday and had under consideration the report to be made to the governments of the two countries. It is expected that several sessions will be necessary to complete the work.

In Hamilton last week two witnesses were called to testify, S. J. Chaplain, a member of the board of consulting engineers appointed by the commission, and Marcus H. Ranney, an engineer who had charge of the field work done by the engineering party for the commission in 1911 and 1912, which resulted in one of the most complete and comprehensive reports ever made on a Maine river.

The commissioners are finding that there are matters which both sides are willing to agree upon, and on which the report can be made with but little trouble, but there are other questions in which the interests are divided between the two nations, and these will be fought out in the arguments.

THE MYSTERY SAID TO HAVE BEEN SOLVED

Aeroplane seen up river really a kite attached to a fast motor boat.

A few days ago reports came from up river in the vicinity of the Public Landing, that the residents were quite alarmed at seeing an aeroplane flying about. Where the aircraft came from or where it went the farmers and others were at a loss to know. A young man, who has been up the river on a cruise, arrived in the city yesterday, and settled the uneasy minds of some who believed that there was an aeroplane about. He said that a young man, who owned a motorboat, was flying a large kite. He had the cord attached to the stern of his boat and as the craft would speed about the river the kite would follow in the air. It was great amusement to the young yachtsman, and he little dreamed that by flying a kite he would alarm the farmers.
