GRAPHIC STORY IS TOLD BY OFFICER OF TORPEDO BOAT TIGER

Suddenly the Torpedo Boat Destroyer Was Struck By the Big British Cruiser Berwick.

SECOND ACCIDENT

PORTSMOUTH, Saturday.—An officer, who was an eye witness of the sinking of the torpedo boat destroyer "Tiger," in the collision with the British cruiser "Berwick," yesterday, gave the following account of the accident: "The first we knew that anything had happened was when we saw a flash and heard a loud report. This, we supposed to be a gun. In reality, however, the flash and the report resulted from the sea water reaching the boiler room of the 'Tiger.' This caused an escape of steam, which must have scalded to death everyone in the water. Many of the men went under just as help was within their reach. I do not think there is any hope of raising the 'Tiger' or recovering the bodies, as the wreck lies in too deep water."

The "Tiger" was in a serious accident last September, when during the night manoeuvres she pulled herself up on the Portland Breakwater.

A stoker, rescued from the "Tiger," gave a vivid account of the accident.

MONTREAL, Saturday.—Kilgip, who is wanted in France on a charge of robbing $12,000 from the American Express Company in 1901, will have to fight against extradition. (Canadian Associated Press.)
LONDON, Monday.—The court has reserved judgement in the action wherein 100,000 pounds depended upon the question of the legitimacy of Richard Sterling, son of Walter Sterling and the divorced wife of George A. ## JOHN SMITH, AGENT BEHIND IN BOARD FARES ON POLICE

Landlady Swore Out Warrant And Police Were Serving it When Smith Opened Fire—Chief Detective Carpenter one of the Injured—Smith also Injured.

ALL NOW IN HOSPITAL

(Special to the Morning Graphic.)
MONTREAL, Monday.—One of the most remarkably tragic affairs that has ever happened in this city was enacted this evening and as a result, one policeman is dead, shot through the heart, two more policemen are seriously wounded, Chief Detective Carpenter was shot in the thigh and received a serious wound, and the man who did the shooting was finally shot himself and badly wounded and taken to the hospital. The man is John Smith, a book agent of 60 years of age who boarded with Miss Pritchard at 34 Mace street in the centre of the city where the affair took place. Smith got behind in his board and when expostulated with

SO NEW YORK STUDENTS STRIKE

pended and Others Would

HAZED ANOTHER

(Special to the Morning Graphic.)
NEW YORK, Monday.—The entire student body of New York University went on strike recently and refused to attend their recitations to voice a protest against the suspension of Alfred Young, president of the Junior class. Young's suspension was the result of the hazing of Henry Bloch, a freshman, who was ducked in the campus fountain. Bloch has been unpopular, and it is said that some of the students have asked his father to take him out of the university.

OLD MEMBER DIED RECENTLY

(Special to the Morning Graphic.)
TILLSONBURG, Saturday.—The funeral of a member of the Dominion's first parliament after confederation, took place today when the late T. W. Dobbs was buried. The late Mr. Dobbs represented East Elgin in the House of Commons and was for many years a prominent lumberman and later a civil engineer. He was 73 years of age and is survived by his widow and one daughter.

Bill—I was a celebrated pianist and a great success with the public, confided the sad eyed man to his companion. But I had a misfortune which threw me out of favor with the audiences and cut off my revenue as a performer.

What was your misfortune? asked his friend.

My hair fell out.

DALHOUSIE ELECTIONS WILL BE HELD SOON

Old Board of Aldermen Are Seeking Re-election—Other Interesting News.

A NEW FIRM

DALHOUSIE, Monday.—The election for Mayor and Aldermen for the town of Dalhousie will be held on Tuesday, 21st day of April. Several names are mentioned as probable candidates seeking town honors. The following persons have issued cards to the electors of the town: for Mayor, W. S. Montgomery; Aldermen, Daniel McDonald, B. J. Chiverton, W. C. Armstrong, Dugald D. Stewart, Edward Giesler, Henry H. McNeil, P. M. Shannon, John McNeil. The above ratepayers were all members of the present town council except D. G. Stewart, who will replace Alderman Colquhoun, who has left for British Columbia.

The appeal that the present board is making to the electors for re-election is that they are deeply interested in the successful completion of the water system of the town as speciously as possible, and the organization of a good and efficient fire company which is already started.

The full vote for town election according to law, list will be over 200.

Another valuable property has changed hands here recently. The removal of Mr. Benjamin Windose to New York where he is to take charge of his late brother's business has brought about the sale of the large store on William Street, which contains a very comfortable dwelling, large front store and office below and tin shop in the rear with lots of yard room. The lucky purchaser is Mr. Geo. E. Mercer, who will form a company with his son-in-law, J. Valentine, Mace, barrister, now residing in St. John. Mr. Mercer in addition to his practice of law in Dalhousie will conduct a company business among the lines of established successfully by Mr. Wind-

MANY NEW REGULATIONS FOR MARRIAGES AMONG CATHOLICS

After Easter Engagements of Catholics and Protestants Must be in Black and White to be Binding.

IN FORCE AFTER LENT

Many of our readers will be interested in the new regulations with regard to marriages, in the Roman Catholic Church, which were read in the churches some time ago and will come into force at the end of Lent.

Mixed marriages are not forbidden, except when they are performed by clergymen of other denominations or public officials, but in the marriages between Catholics the proposals of marriage have to be made in writing and duly attested to before witnesses, and as far as possible, the contracting parties must be married in the parish in which they live.

Some of the important clauses in the marriage regulations are:

"The marriage of all Catholics (both parties being Catholics) before a minister or a civil magistrate will be no marriage at all."

"Marriage of fallen-away Catholics (who have become Protestants or infidels) before a minister or civil magistrate will be no marriage at all."

"The marriage of all Catholics (both parties being Catholics) before a minister or a civil magistrate will be no marriage at all."

"Marriage of fallen-away Catholics (who have become Protestants or infidels) before a minister or civil magistrate will be no marriage at all."

"There will be no marriage at all unless there are two witnesses with the priest."

"Bishops and priests should not witness marriages until they are morally certain that the parties to be married are free to enter the matrimonial state hence as far as possible dispensation from the publication of the marriage banns should not be sought."

"The bishop outside his diocese or the priest outside his parish cannot validly marry their own or other subjects without due authorization."

"When the contracting parties are to be married in a church where they were not baptized, they should before marriage secure their baptismal certificates."

"If for an entire month parties cannot secure baptism, parish priest or any priest appointed by either of these, they may in the presence of these witnesses, declare their consent to marry."

CALLANT RESCUE OF SHIPWRECKED FISHERMEN BY S. S. TURCOMAN

PORTLAND, Maine, Monday.—The Dominion Line steamship Turcoman, which arrived here this afternoon reports a thrilling rescue of the French barquentine Beam et Bretagne which was out on a five months' fishing trip, bound for Newfoundland banks. On the morning of the 27th the Turcoman saw the signals of distress which the Bretagne was flying and on bearing down on her found that the latter, a craft of 600 tons with 25 men on board, was in a sinking condition. The seas were rolling mountains high and the wind was blowing a gale. The vessel's foremast had been carried away and before the steamer could reach her the main and mizzen masts were overboard. The vessel had sprung a leak and the efforts to keep her afloat with the pump were fast becoming fruitless. The Turcoman's crew made several trips in small boats and each man had to be hoisted on board of the steamer with a rope but in spite of the terrible conditions, Chief Officer P. P. Williams and his four assistants rescued the men.

CANADIAN REPORTERS.

Kipling Says They Talk Better Than They Write.

LONDON, Saturday.—Kipling discusses on the Journalist in the Morning Post this week. He says in Canada it is always delightful to meet reporters for they are men interested in their land, with the keen unselfish interest one finds in young house surgeons or civilians. One felt at every turn of their quick sentences to be dealing with made and trained players in a game; balanced men who believed in decency not to be disregarded; confidences not to be violated; honor not to be mocked. Yet, while the men talked so good and new their written word seemed cast in conventional moulds. One hates to think of these splendid people using second-class words to express first-class emotions.

PURCHASED PROPERTY AT NIAGARA

TORONTO, Saturday.—The Dominion government has purchased an additional three hundred acres at Niagara-on-the-Lake for military training purposes, thus insuring a permanent camp on these historic grounds.

"The idea of stopping your machine to flirt with me!" said the pretty little widow at the crossroads. "Why, you missed a mile in the race."

"Oh, I don't mind that," laughed the handsome young man in the big racing machine. "You know a miss is as good as a mile."

The little widow laughed merrily. "That may be," she hastened, "but I am not a miss, I'm a widow."

TREATY DRAFTS ARE SATISFACTORY

(Special to the Morning Graphic.)
LONDON, Monday.—The foreign office recently received drafts of treaties having as their object the settlement of questions pending between the United States and Canada. These treaties were considered satisfactory with the exception of a few minor points which were referred back to Ottawa and it is fully expected that a complete agreement was about to be reached. The news cabled from the United States, however, of which the foreign office has unofficial advice, that a dead lock exists over the disposition of power from the Niagara Falls, came as a surprise to the officials. Negotiations for the submission of the Newfoundland fisheries dispute have made little progress owing to the difficulty of reconciling the views of Canada and Newfoundland and there is talk of renewing the dispute.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS.

France has moved in the direction of recognizing the right of workers incapacitated by age to the reasonable sustenance for life. The measure adopted is a compromise between the view that the worker is entitled to a living in his old age, and the more individualistic view that he is paid in full for his services from day to day and has no other claim on the community. The fund from which the pensions are to be paid will be made up by a contribution of 2 per cent. of the wages of the workers, and an equal percentage from their employers. The balance to be made good by the public. The present limit of the public contribution is $25,000,000, and the limit contemplated in the future is $50,000,000. The pensions now to be paid will be limited according to the funds available, but the rate contemplated when the system is in operation is $72 per annum. The public burden of such a pension is apt to be exaggerated. As but few aged workers are now allowed to starve the public already bears the burden of their maintenance in some form. If all contributed equally, and all were equally pensioned, it would be no public burden whatever, though it would make an immense addition to the yearly record of expenditures. The people would merely be receiving back their increased payment to the treasury. This condition largely obtains in a general pension scheme, and it helps to explain the small economic injury following such a pension scheme as that of the United States. The pension does not make the whole people poorer, but it takes from the more fortunate and gives to the more in need. While the protection system and the subsidy system tend to build up big fortunes at the expense of the general public, the old-age pension has a contrary effect, tending to help those most in need and generally to diffuse wealth at the expense of the larger contributors to the public revenue. The pension is not a public burden that leaves the people poorer, but an interference with economic distribution benefitting some at the expense of others. As the benefits are small and local they do not promote the drain of absenteeism which follows the building up of the large fortunes. The French government must have a comparatively clear conception of economic relationship in entering freely on so ambitious a project.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

While we have been strangely blind to the attractions and possibilities of our Eastern Provinces, others at a distance are beginning to learn something of the advantages which these Provinces present to those seeking homes within our borders. The British periodical, Canada, published in London, which has been studying conditions there through a representative says: "No better or more fertile area is to be found for general or mixed farming exist in Canada. No better yields per acre on the average can be found in Canada for hay, oats, wheat, barley, flax, corn etc., while in the vegetable and fruit lines the growths are rapid and yields good in every case. No better chances exist in Canada for the raising of horses, cattle, hogs, sheep etc., and in fact there are sections in all three Provinces where sheep-raising could be made one of the most profitable enterprises that men with fair capital would engage in. I am now speaking of the farm advantages of the Maritime Provinces; but on the other hand the chances of lumbering, fishing and mining, are many, and in the matter of industrialism, though the populations may be the Maritime Provinces are making rapid strides along these lines, and it is by many confidently predicted that with their enormous quantity of coal, iron, water power and shipping advantages, the Maritime Provinces are destined to be a great manufacturing centre."—Toronto Presbyterian.

The Baptist church was crowded last evening to hear Rev. P. J. Stackhouse, B. D., discuss the question "Do we need more liquor saloons in Campbellton?" In his sermon he spoke of the elements that enter into the development and prosperity of a town and showed that the liquor saloon was an enemy to all that made a town great and prosperous. In his conclusion which was a summary of the arguments used by him against the saloon he said: "I have shown that night that the saloon instead of being a factor in the development and prosperity of a town is one of its greatest enemies. It strips the wage-earner of his hard earned savings and renders him incapable mentally and physically of doing his best work. Over one third of the poverty that exists is due directly or indirectly to its influence. I have shown that it is an enemy to the welfare of the town in that it strikes a blow at that relationship which is most fundamental and sacred, viz., the family life. That is why almost every wife and mother hates the saloon with a deadly hatred and at the same time fears it as she would fear a rattlesnake. As her husband she is plotting against the peace of her bright-eyed boys. For the saloon can no more go along without boys than one of our mills could get along without logs. The boys are the raw material. The drunkard the finished product. I have shown that the saloon is a factor for the manufacture of drunkards and criminals. Viewed from any standpoint the liquor saloon is a menace to the prosperity of the town."

Again I raise the question, "Do we need more liquor saloons in Campbellton?" Personally, and I believe I voice the opinion of the great majority of the citizens of our town when I answer that question in the negative. Instead of needing more saloons in Campbellton we need less. I believe public opinion would be back of the commissioners if on the 20th of April instead of increasing they decrease the number of saloons. The commissioners must be aware of the fact that a great wave of temperance sentiment is sweeping over the entire English speaking world. The English government has very recently introduced a drastic temperance law which will have the effect of putting thousands of saloons out of business. In the U. S. the solid south is almost dry. In the New England and Western States they are extending the local option act all over the country. Here in Canada the sentiment against the saloon is as strongly marked. Great gains have recently been made in the province of Ontario. A temperance revival is going on in Quebec led by the priests and Holy men. P. E. Island has set an example to the rest of Canada by passing a Provincial prohibitory law. In Nova Scotia the people are demanding a provincial law with unanimity and insistence that will not take for an answer. In New Brunswick the agitation against the liquor traffic is going on and that agitation must express itself in temperance legislation.

The commissioners must be aware of the facts of the great change in public sentiment towards the liquor traffic. They must also know Campbellton has already more saloons than she ought to have. They must know that if they grant any new licenses they will be granting them in the very teeth of public opinion. Instead of increasing the number of licenses let them decrease the number. And there are certain saloons which have broken the license law during the past year? Let the commissioners refuse to renew the licenses of such saloons. Let all liquor dealers clearly understand that if they break the license law either by selling after hours or to minors or to interdicts that it will mean no license for the coming year. If the commissioners will take that stand I am assured that they will be strongly upheld by the majority of the citizens of Campbellton.

After Mr. Stackhouse had finished his sermon the following resolution was moved by Judge McLatchey and seconded by W. W. P. Sturatt. It was put to the meeting and carried unanimously.

Whereas application has been made to the Board of Liquor License Commissioners of the Town of Campbellton for a license to sell intoxicating liquors in the Joseph Shupe building situated in the immediate vicinity of the Baptist church.

Resolved that the Board of Liquor License Commissioners of the Town of Campbellton do hereby refuse to grant such license.

church. And whereas the open sale of intoxicating liquors in said premises will be a constant menace to the Christian work which this church stands for, and must greatly retard and embarrass the members of this church and congregation in their advocacy of temperance reform.

Therefore resolved that we do unreservedly condemn and disapprove of this application and pledge ourselves to oppose by all legitimate means the granting of a license to sell intoxicating liquors at our very church door.

After the meeting was concluded over one hundred adult members of the congregation signed the following petition which is to be circulated in the town and forwarded to the commissioners before the meeting on April 30th.

To the Board of License Commissioners under "The Liquor License Act" for the Town of Campbellton in the County of Restigouche:

That the undersigned residents of the said Town of Campbellton, do hereby petition you for the revocation of the license granted to the said premises situated in Ward Two of the said Town of Campbellton, described as follows:—South side of Water Street, building known as Shupe's restaurant, situated next door to the Baptist church.

That your petitioners object to the granting of a license to the said premises, situated in the immediate vicinity of a place of public worship, viz., the Baptist church, that a tavern license is not required in that neighborhood, and that the quiet of the place in which said premises are situated will be disturbed if a tavern license is granted therefor.

That for the above reasons your petitioners submit that no tavern license ought to be granted to the said applicant or to any person for the above mentioned and described premises, and we the said petitioners protest and object to a tavern license being granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in the premises situated at the above place, and do request you to refuse the application and as in duty bound will ever pray.

It is felt by many citizens that drunkenness is becoming too common in the town and there is a movement on the part of some to attempt to bring on local option. If any new licenses are granted it is almost certain that such a movement will be inaugurated and as temperance sentiment is running high in the town such a movement would likely meet with success.

(From Saturday's Graphic.) A meeting of the Town Council was held last night. Mayor Murray presiding. Comrs. McLean, Andrew, Mowat, Miller and Doherty were in attendance.

The greater part of the session was taken up in consideration of by-laws, those relating to fire protection and regulating the running at large of horses and cattle being passed in committee of the whole and recommended to the council for enactment.

A letter was read from James Baird signifying his willingness to enter into contract for the supplying of water to vessels as per town's offer at $150.00 per year, and the council ordered that the agreement be entered into.

Wm. Taylor's resignation as street commissioner and caretaker of the town horses was referred to the Public Property and Streets committee.

Town solicitor McKenzie submitted proposed new agreement between A. E. Alexander and the Town in re sale of $10,000 debt. The agreement calls for the payment of five percent interest instead of four as formerly.

James Cantwell was appointed fireman at the power house in place of Thos. Day resigned.

Some accounts were passed.

GUN TO SHOOT FROM LONDON TO PARIS.

New Invention of Scotsman Will Throw 2000 Pound Projectile.

LONDON, Friday.—Col. F. W. Maude, in the April Contemporary Review, describes a gun which is in existence and can impart, by the application of electricity, an initial velocity of 30,000 feet a second to projectiles of all dimensions, and which can dilute and on board ship or permanent defences. Projectiles of 2,000 pounds weight lie fairly within these limits.

In a succeeding passage he declares that if the rule with velocities up to 2,500 feet a second, viz., that resistance increases as the square of velocity holds good at the higher rates, then there is practically nothing to prevent these weapons from throwing shells from London to Paris or vice versa at the rate of a few thousand a day. The inventor is W. S. Simpson, a Scotsman.

J. S. SENATOR IN A LIVELY SCRAP.

Jeff Davis and Attorney Helm Mix it Up in Street of Little Rock, Ark.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Thursday.—United States Senator Jeff Davis and Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Helm became involved in an altercation on the street yesterday. Helm, it is said, struck Davis, and the latter went to his office. Davis soon reappeared and bystanders claim that he was looking for Helm.

Senator Davis was arrested on a warrant charging him with carrying a revolver with murderous intent. The case was docketed in the police court. In a statement Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Helm says that he, Davis, on the street and accosted him, the latter having slandered him during the recent campaign. Helm says that he struck Davis twice in the face and subsequently chased him into his office.

Later Senator Davis made the following statement: "He attacked me from the rear as I was going to my office, hitting me with a loaded bat, which was attached to his wrist by thongs of leather."

HOPEWELL, CAPE, Albert Co., Saturday.—Ever since the Times and Telegraph published the story that Thomas F. Collins confessed to his spiritual adviser that he murdered Mary Ann McAuley, at New Ireland, on the 20th of August, 1906, there has been a feeling among many that the complete confession as to how the crime was committed, should be given to the public.

There never was any doubt in the mind of the great majority of people who followed the case as to the ends of justice being served in the execution of Collins, but the story of the tragedy which shocked this county, and the province at large, was incomplete in the absence of details of Collins' confession.

We clip the following from the statement:

Caught in the Act of Robbery.

While Miss McAuley was temporarily absent from the house that fatal Monday morning, Collins was proceeding to carry out his plans of robbing the house, when he was caught in the act. Then the trouble which ended in the tragedy began.

Collins was accused of theft and being caught in the act could not deny it. The situation prompted him to a desperate act. He went to the woodshed, armed himself with the axe and returned to the house.

He sought the house-keeper in her room and then a terrible scene followed.

Victim Fled For Her Life.

Collins said the terror-stricken woman fled screaming down stairs, and attempted to escape from the house, while he was in close pursuit.

She had reached the outer door of the woodshed, when the murderer, with uplifted axe, caught her and from behind felled her with a blow of the axe in the head. The bit of the axe crashed deep into the woman's skull, but Collins said that he made sure of the job. He deliberately slashed the throat of the dead woman with the sharp bladed axe, coolly wiped the blood off on a pair of the priest's overalls, hanging in the shed, and then dragged the body to a place of concealment in the woodpile.

Your correspondent in conversation with the honorable gentleman was given to understand that there was not a word of truth in the statement. The representative for Bonaventure will remain such still and will be a candidate at the next general election if he is again to be a candidate.

Grants in aid to Bonaventure county and Northern New Brunswick will be placed to learn this, and that Mr. Maclellan still wishes to remain in public life.

We are always glad to publish items of news, but not the kind of items mentioned above. Please bear this in mind.

(Special to the Morning Graphic.)
CALLOA, Saturday.—One man was killed and two received serious injuries as the result of an explosion yesterday aboard the British steamer Belle of Scotland. The steamer arrived here March 16 for New York and Baltimore.

MR. CLARKE'S CHANCES.
The St. Andrew's Beacon sympathizes warmly with Mr. Clarke, M. P. P., because Mr. Hazen preferred Mr. Grimmer for a cabinet position. It was rough house for the St. Stephen editor to be so ruthlessly turned down, but the speaker is still unworried, and Mr. Clarke should be able to beat out Donald Morrison in the race. If Mr. Clarke gets left again he will feel like returning to his former political friends. There was no more enthusiastic supporter of the Blair and Mr. J. J. ministries than Mr. Clarke.

Afterwards the underwriter official visited the pumping station and witnessed the working of the pumps. Today he will visit the cotton mill and other industrial establishments. Mr. Clinch is making an inspection of different water services in the province. He came down from Campbellton yesterday.

HAS RESIGNED.
Mr. Ernest Golding, who has been editor of the Morning Graphic since its first issue in November, and who was previously in charge of the editorial work on the "Events," has resigned his position on the Graphic and left Monday morning for St. John. Later Mr. Golding will leave for the west, where he has the offer of a good position. Many friends here miss his every success in his new field.

PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT.
The entertainment by Miss Pauline Johnston and Mr. Walter McKaye in the Opera House last evening drew a fair house, and those present enjoyed a rare treat. Miss Johnston in native costume gave several legends of early Indian history punctuated by many catchy little stories. Mr. McKaye in the Drummond folk songs and stories of the French Canadians was loudly applauded. It is seldom that Campbellton people have an opportunity of hearing such clever entertainers as those who have missed last evening's entertainment missed something not heard here very often.

The Graphic's advertising rates are, considering its circulation, fair and reasonable, and advertising will bring results if the right kind of copy is used. Try it.

FOLLOW—GILKER.
A very pretty wedding took place at the bride's home in Marfa on Wednesday, March 18th, when Jagie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gilker was married to Mr. Evelyn Follow of New Richmond. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Alice, and Mr. Allan Follow, brother of the groom was best man. The single ring service was used and the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. B. McCallum.

Dinner was served at six o'clock and after a social evening being spent the bride couple accompanied by their many friends drove to the home in New Richmond, where luncheon was served.

The many pretty and valuable presents received showed the high esteem in which the bride was held by her many friends. We all join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Follow a long and happy journey through life.

CAMPBELLTON VS. MONCTON.
The hockey match at the rink last evening drew a large crowd and a fair game was put on, although at times a little rough. The score at the conclusion of the game was 4-2 in favor of Campbellton. Spectators were of the opinion that the referee was not as impartial as he should have been, being inclined to favor the home team.

MANY NEW REGULATIONS.
ry. They are then in the eyes of the church and before God, married. As soon after as possible they should send their names to the parish priest for registration, and do whatever is required to have their marriage legally recognized by the state.

ENGAGEMENTS.
Every matrimonial engagement after Easter must be written although there is no necessity of obligation to enter into formal engagements before marriage.

Before God private betrothal after Easter between Catholic parties or between fallen away Catholics begets no matrimonial obligation whatsoever, because the ecclesiastical courts can annul a nuptial contract is void unless it is written and duly attested.

These engagements should be encouraged. If made some months before marriage they will be able to slip hasty alliances which are the cause of so many divorces outside the church and of so many unhappy marriages among Catholics.

All fallen away Catholics, whatever they have become Protestants or infidels, are bound by the law. The church, like the state, can bind her refractory subjects.

Germany is Immune.
This new legislation is contained in the decree Ne Temere, which has been issued by the sacred congregation of the council, in conjunction with the pontifical commission which was appointed four years ago by Pius X for the edification of canon law. It is perhaps the most important disciplinary publication since the council of Trent, and applies to the whole world with the exception of Germany, which is immune through a previous arrangement with the Holy See. Its object is to render easier for the church a substantial form of matrimony, to reduce the number of clandestine marriages which are so numerous in many places, and to make provision so that the ecclesiastical courts can determine without any doubt whether there has been an engagement or not.

The new regulations come into force at midnight on Saturday, preceding Easter Sunday, and all customs, no matter how long standing, contrary to this decree, are absolutely abolished. The enactment of the new rules will entail a great deal more work for the priests, who in future, will solemnize the marriage. It is provided that in cases where the parties do not reside in the parish in which the ceremony is to be performed, they shall produce their baptismal certificates, and that after the marriages are performed the priest of the parish in which either of the bride or groom resides shall have to be notified so that he can record the marriage. This will mean that the priests will in many cases have to communicate with their brethren in foreign lands, where different languages are spoken and a great deal of clerical work will be required to keep the records.

For Clergy Aligned.
The new regulations are a lengthy document and has been circulated among the clergy in book form. Much of it is addressed to the clergy alone, being strictly for their guidance, and the other portions of it are of such a nature as to require explanation to the people. The necessity of having promises of marriage duly drawn up, signed by the parties and witnesses is accounted for by the fact of their being so many promises of marriage which are not consummated and which result in much evil. The evils of these engagements, the clergy claim, have been revealed to them after years of experience in the confessional, the details of which were their lips not sealed, would amaze the lay world. It is also claimed that these engagements open the way for the nefarious practices of unscrupulous men who take advantage of unsuspecting girls, and who after keeping company with them for years, perhaps, cast them aside for some other. Hence it is that the church requires henceforth that engagements shall be in writing and attested to in the presence of witnesses. In short, the main object of the church authorities is to make the marriage state holy and to elevate it to that plane from which it is claimed it has dropped in late years.

The mixed marriage regulations are merely an enforcement of the rules enacted by the council of Trent, but which have not been enforced in their entirety owing to dispensations. As the church considers marriages by two Catholics and members of other religious denominations non-conducive to the proper religious education of the children and their holiness of the parties as man and wife, this is but a continuance of the old idea.

"Pa," sobbed the beautiful girl, "where is my precious?"
"I just put him out," snorted the angry sire.
"But—but pa, I didn't think you had the heart to put him out!"
"But I may not have had the heart but I had the foot!"
